Crawford Standard Bible: An Introduction

Welcome to the Crawford Standard Bible, a modern English translation meticulously crafted to bridge the historical reverence of the King James Version with the clarity and accessibility demanded by contemporary readers.

Our Vision:

The King James Version (KJV), a masterpiece of English literature, has profoundly shaped the spiritual landscape for centuries. Its poetic language and enduring influence are undeniable. However, as language evolves, certain archaic words, grammatical structures, and idioms can pose significant barriers to understanding for a modern audience. The Crawford Standard Bible seeks to honor the KJV's legacy by preserving its inherent beauty and theological faithfulness while rendering its profound truths in language that resonates with today's reader.

A Faithful and Accessible Translation:

This translation is not a paraphrase, nor is it a reinterpretation of the biblical text. Our primary aim has been to provide a faithful and accurate rendition of the original Hebrew, Aramaic, and Greek manuscripts, informed by the interpretive tradition embodied by the KJV. We have meticulously re-examined every verse, striving to convey the precise meaning of the original while employing modern vocabulary and sentence structures.

Key Features of the Crawford Standard Bible:

- Modern English for Clarity: We have replaced archaic words and phrases with their modern equivalents, ensuring that the text is easily understood without the need for extensive historical or linguistic footnotes.
- Preservation of KJV Heritage: While modernizing the language, we have taken great care to retain the stylistic elegance and rhythmic flow that characterize the KJV. Where possible and appropriate, we have maintained familiar phrasings and theological terminology that are deeply embedded in the English-speaking Christian tradition.
- Accuracy and Fidelity: Our translation process has been rigorously academic, consulting a wide range of scholarly resources and linguistic experts to ensure the highest degree of accuracy to the original biblical languages.
- Ideal for Study and Devotion: Whether you are engaging in personal Bible study, preparing for teaching, or simply seeking daily spiritual nourishment, the Crawford Standard Bible offers a fresh and insightful encounter with God's Word.

How to Use This Bible:

We encourage you to read the Crawford Standard Bible with an open heart and a receptive mind. Allow its pages to speak to you, to challenge you, and to deepen your understanding of God's timeless message. Compare it with other translations, particularly the King James Version, to appreciate the careful balance we have sought to achieve between tradition and modernity.

May the Crawford Standard Bible serve as a valuable tool in your spiritual journey, illuminating the path of faith and drawing you closer to the living Word of God.

Preface to the Crawford Standard Bible

By Dr. Paul Crawford

It is with a profound sense of privilege and humility that I present to you the Crawford Standard Bible. For countless generations, the King James Version (KJV) has stood as a beacon of truth, a literary masterpiece, and a foundational text for millions across the English-speaking world. Its majestic prose has echoed through churches, homes, and hearts, shaping our understanding of God and His Word. Indeed, my own spiritual journey, like that of so many, has been deeply enriched by its timeless beauty.

Yet, as the centuries have unfolded, the English language itself has continued its remarkable evolution. Words once vibrant and immediate have become archaic, grammatical structures have shifted, and idioms have faded from common understanding. This linguistic distance, though unintentional, can sometimes create a barrier, preventing a full and unhindered apprehension of the KJV's profound message for the contemporary reader.

It was this very challenge that ignited the vision for the Crawford Standard Bible. Our aim was never to diminish the KJV's unparalleled legacy, but rather to build upon its sturdy foundation, making its enduring truths resonate anew with clarity and power in the 21st century. This has been a meticulous and prayerful undertaking: to translate the sacred texts from their original Hebrew, Aramaic, and Greek into modern English, while preserving the theological integrity, the poetic cadence, and the reverent tone that are so cherished in the KJV tradition.

We have approached every verse with scholarly rigor and spiritual devotion, striving for a translation that is both accurate to the ancient manuscripts and accessible to today's reader. You will find that familiar passages retain their cherished essence, yet are rendered in language that flows naturally and is readily understood. This balance—between faithfulness to the past and relevance for the present—has been the guiding principle of our work.

My deepest hope and prayer is that the Crawford Standard Bible will serve as a faithful companion on your spiritual journey. May it open up the Scriptures in a fresh and compelling way, deepening your understanding of God's character, His promises, and His unwavering love. Whether for personal devotion, diligent study, or public reading, may this translation draw you ever closer to the living Word of God.

In His service,

Dr. Paul Crawford

Introduction to the Old Testament

“All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness.” – 2 Timothy 3:16

Title and Meaning

The term Old Testament comes from the Latin Vetus Testamentum and the Greek Palaiá Diathékē, meaning “Old Covenant.” It refers to God’s covenant with Israel made through Moses at Mount Sinai. In Hebrew, it is known as the Tanakh, an acronym for Torah (Law), Nevi’im (Prophets), and Ketuvim (Writings). Far from being “old” in the sense of obsolete, the Old Testament is the foundation of God’s redemptive story, pointing forward to the New Testament and its fulfillment in Christ.

Author and Date

The Old Testament is a collection of 39 books (in the Protestant tradition), written by multiple authors under divine inspiration over a period of about 1,000 years (c. 1400–400 BC). Its authors include prophets, kings, priests, scribes, and leaders such as Moses, David, Solomon, Isaiah, Jeremiah, and many others. Though diverse in human authorship, it presents one unified story of God’s covenant, His people, and His plan of salvation.

Purpose of the Old Testament

The Old Testament provides the historical and theological foundation for the entire Bible. Its purposes include:

- To reveal God as Creator, Lawgiver, Judge, Redeemer, and Covenant-Keeper.
- To record God’s covenant relationship with Israel, His chosen people.
- To show the seriousness of sin and humanity’s need for salvation.
- To prepare the way for the coming of the Messiah, Jesus Christ.

Structure of the Old Testament

The Old Testament is traditionally divided into three major sections in the Hebrew Bible (Tanakh) and four categories in the Christian tradition:

1. The Law (Torah / Pentateuch – Genesis to Deuteronomy)

Foundational history and laws, including creation, the patriarchs, the Exodus, and God’s covenant at Sinai.

2. The Historical Books (Joshua to Esther)

The history of Israel in the Promised Land—its conquest, kingdom, division, exile, and restoration.

3. The Wisdom and Poetic Books (Job to Song of Solomon)

Poetry, songs, wisdom, and reflections on life, suffering, love, and worship.

🔔 4. The Prophets (Isaiah to Malachi)

Messages of judgment and hope from God's spokesmen, calling Israel back to faithfulness and foretelling the coming of the Messiah.

- Major Prophets: Isaiah, Jeremiah, Lamentations, Ezekiel, Daniel.
- Minor Prophets: Hosea through Malachi (twelve shorter prophetic books).

Major Themes

- Creation and Covenant – God as Creator and His covenant relationship with His people.
- Law and Holiness – God's standards for righteousness and worship.
- Sin and Judgment – The consequences of rebellion and idolatry.
- Sacrifice and Atonement – Foreshadowing Christ as the perfect sacrifice.
- Kingship and Kingdom – Earthly kings fail, but God promises an eternal King.
- Prophecy and Messiah – Repeated promises of a coming Redeemer.

Why the Old Testament Matters Today

The Old Testament is essential for understanding the New Testament. It:

- Shows the roots of the gospel in God's covenant promises.
- Provides history, prophecy, poetry, and wisdom that shape Christian faith.
- Teaches God's holiness, justice, mercy, and faithfulness.
- Points forward to Jesus Christ, the fulfillment of the Law, Prophets, and Writings.
- Offers timeless lessons of faith, perseverance, and hope for God's people today.

Key Verse

"Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path." – Psalm 119:105

The Old Testament shines as God's guiding light, preparing the way for Christ, the true Light of the world.

📖 Introduction to the Book of Genesis

"In the beginning God created..." – Genesis 1:1

Title and Meaning

The word Genesis comes from the Greek word genesis, meaning "origin," "birth," or "beginning." In Hebrew, the title is Bereshith, taken from the first word of the book, which means "In the beginning." Genesis is the foundational book of the Bible — the book of beginnings. It introduces us to the origin of the universe, the human race, sin, nations, languages, and God's covenant people, Israel.

Author and Date

Traditionally attributed to Moses, Genesis is the first of the five books of the Torah or Pentateuch (Genesis through Deuteronomy). Moses likely compiled the book during Israel's wilderness journey, around the 15th to 13th century BC, under divine inspiration. The structure and content suggest that Moses may have drawn from earlier written records and oral traditions passed down from the patriarchs.

Purpose of Genesis

Genesis lays the theological and historical foundation for the rest of Scripture. It teaches us:

- That God is the Creator and sovereign over all creation.
- That humanity was made in God's image, but fell into sin.
- That God judges sin but provides mercy.
- That God began His redemptive plan through a chosen family — beginning with Abraham.

Genesis is not merely a history book; it is a revelation of God's character and His purposes for creation and redemption.

Structure of Genesis

Genesis divides neatly into two major sections:

1. Primeval History (Chapters 1–11)

Covers early events in human history:

- Creation (Ch. 1–2)
- The Fall of Man (Ch. 3)
- Cain and Abel (Ch. 4)
- The Flood and Noah (Ch. 6–9)
- The Tower of Babel (Ch. 11)

2. Patriarchal History (Chapters 12–50)

Follows the lives of the patriarchs of Israel:

- Abraham (Ch. 12–25)
- Isaac (Ch. 25–27)

- Jacob (Ch. 27–36)
- Joseph (Ch. 37–50)

Each section is introduced with the phrase “These are the generations of...”, marking genealogical or historical transitions throughout the book.

Major Themes

- Creation and Order: God brings light, life, and structure out of chaos.
 - Covenant and Promise: God’s promises to Abraham shape the narrative of redemption.
 - Sin and Judgment: From Eden to Babel, humanity’s rebellion brings consequences.
 - Grace and Redemption: Even in judgment, God provides grace — a pattern fulfilled in Christ.
 - Faith and Obedience: The lives of the patriarchs display faith, failure, and God’s faithfulness.

Why Genesis Matters Today

Genesis answers the big questions of life:

- Where did we come from?
- Why is the world broken?
- Is there hope?
- What is God doing about evil and sin?

It reveals that history is not random, but driven by the purpose and promises of God. Genesis points forward to Jesus Christ, the Seed of the woman (Genesis 3:15), through whom all nations of the earth will be blessed (Genesis 12:3).

Key Verse

“In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth.” – Genesis 1:1

This verse sets the tone not only for the book, but for the entire Bible — God is the origin, the center, and the end of all things.

Genesis 1 – Crawford Standard Bible

“The Creation of the Heavens and the Earth”

The Beginning

1 In the beginning, God created the heavens and the earth.

2 The earth was formless and empty; darkness covered the deep waters, and the Spirit of God was moving over the surface of the waters.

Day One — Light and Darkness

3 Then God said, “Let there be light,” and there was light.

4 God saw that the light was good, and He separated the light from the darkness.

5 God called the light “Day,” and the darkness He called “Night.” Evening passed and morning came—the first day.

Day Two — The Sky

6 Then God said, “Let there be a space in the middle of the waters to separate water from water.”

7 So God made the space and separated the water under the space from the water above it. And it was so.

8 God called the space “Sky.” Evening passed and morning came—the second day.

Day Three — Land, Seas, and Plants

9 Then God said, “Let the waters under the sky be gathered to one place so that dry ground may appear.” And it was so.

10 God called the dry ground “Land,” and the gathered waters He called “Seas.” God saw that it was good.

11 Then God said, “Let the land produce vegetation: seed-bearing plants and fruit trees on the land that bear fruit with seed in it, each according to its kind.” And it was so.

12 The land produced vegetation—plants bearing seed according to their kinds, and trees bearing fruit with seed according to their kinds. God saw that it was good.

13 Evening passed and morning came—the third day.

Day Four — Sun, Moon, and Stars

14 Then God said, “Let there be lights in the sky to separate day from night, and let them be for signs and for seasons, and for days and years.

15 Let them be lights in the sky to give light on the earth.” And it was so.

16 God made two great lights—the greater light to rule the day and the lesser light to rule the night—and He also made the stars.

17 God set them in the sky to give light on the earth,

18 to rule over the day and over the night, and to separate light from darkness. God saw that it was good.

19 Evening passed and morning came—the fourth day.

Day Five — Sea Creatures and Birds

20 Then God said, “Let the waters swarm with living creatures, and let birds fly above the earth across the sky.”

21 So God created the great sea creatures and every living thing that moves in the waters, according to their kinds, and every winged bird according to its kind. God saw that it was good.

22 God blessed them and said, “Be fruitful and multiply; fill the waters in the seas, and let the birds multiply on the earth.”

23 Evening passed and morning came—the fifth day.

Day Six — Land Animals and Humanity

24 Then God said, “Let the land produce living creatures according to their kinds—livestock, creatures that crawl, and wild animals, each according to its kind.” And it was so.

25 God made the wild animals according to their kinds, the livestock according to their kinds, and all the creatures that move along the ground according to their kinds. God saw that it was good.

26 Then God said, “Let Us make human beings in Our image, after Our likeness, so they may rule over the fish of the sea, the birds of the air, the livestock, all the earth, and every creature that moves on the ground.”

27 So God created humanity in His own image; in the image of God He created them—male and female He created them.

28 God blessed them and said to them, “Be fruitful and multiply; fill the earth and subdue it. Rule over the fish of the sea, the birds of the air, and every living thing that moves on the earth.”

29 Then God said, “Look, I have given you every seed-bearing plant on the face of the whole earth and every tree with fruit that has seed in it—they will be your food.

30 And to every animal of the earth, every bird of the air, and everything that crawls on the ground—everything that has the breath of life—I give every green plant for food.” And it was so.

31 God looked over everything He had made, and indeed, it was very good. Evening passed and morning came—the sixth day.

Key Lessons from Genesis 1

- God Is the Sovereign Creator: All things begin with God’s will and power.
- God’s Word Brings Reality: He speaks, and creation responds—His word is effective and trustworthy.
- Order and Goodness: God forms and fills the world, calling it “good,” showing His wisdom and care.
- Human Dignity: Men and women are made in God’s image, giving every person priceless worth.
- Stewardship and Authority: Humanity is commissioned to rule and care for creation responsibly.

- Provision from the Start: God provides light, land, food, and rhythms needed for life to flourish.
- Purposeful Rhythms: The pattern of days models a healthy cadence for work, rest, and worship.
- Male and Female Together: God’s image is reflected in both male and female, designed for partnership.
- Very Good Creation: God delights in His completed work, inviting us to see creation with gratitude.

Genesis 2 – Crawford Standard Bible

“The Seventh Day and the Garden of Eden”

The Seventh Day: God Rests

1 Thus the heavens and the earth were finished, along with everything in them.

2 On the seventh day God ended the work He had done, and He rested on the seventh day from all His work.

3 God blessed the seventh day and set it apart as holy, because on it He rested from all the work of creation He had done.

The History of the Heavens and the Earth

4 This is the account of the heavens and the earth when they were created—when the Lord God made the earth and the heavens.

5 No shrubs or field plants had yet appeared on the earth, and no crops had grown, because the Lord God had not yet sent rain on the earth, and there was no human to till the ground.

6 But a mist rose from the earth and watered the whole surface of the ground.

The Creation of the Man and the Garden

7 Then the Lord God formed the man from the dust of the ground and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life. The man became a living person.

8 The Lord God planted a garden in the east, in Eden, and there He put the man He had formed.

9 The Lord God made every kind of tree grow from the ground—trees that were beautiful and good for food. In the middle of the garden were the tree of life and the tree of the knowledge of good and evil.

The River from Eden

10 A river flowed out of Eden to water the garden; from there it divided and became four rivers.

11 The name of the first is Pishon. It winds through the whole land of Havilah, where there is gold.

12 The gold of that land is good; aromatic resin (bdellium) and onyx stone are also there.

13 The name of the second river is Gihon. It winds through the whole land of Cush.

14 The name of the third river is Hiddekel (the Tigris). It flows to the east of Assyria. The fourth river is the Euphrates.

The Man's Calling and Command

15 The Lord God took the man and placed him in the garden of Eden to work it and to take care of it.

16 And the Lord God commanded the man, "You may freely eat from any tree in the garden, 17 but you must not eat from the tree of the knowledge of good and evil. If you eat from it, you will certainly die."

Not Good to Be Alone

18 Then the Lord God said, "It is not good for the man to be alone. I will make a helper suitable for him."

Naming the Animals

19 The Lord God had formed out of the ground every wild animal and every bird of the sky. He brought them to the man to see what he would call them, and whatever the man called each living creature became its name.

20 The man gave names to all the livestock, the birds of the sky, and all the wild animals. But for the man, no helper suitable for him was found.

The Creation of the Woman

21 So the Lord God caused the man to fall into a deep sleep. While he slept, God took one of his ribs and then closed up the place with flesh.

22 The Lord God made a woman from the rib He had taken out of the man, and He brought her to the man.

23 And the man said, "Now this one is bone of my bones and flesh of my flesh; she will be called 'woman,' because she was taken out of man."

The First Marriage

24 That is why a man leaves his father and mother and is joined to his wife, and the two become one flesh.

25 The man and his wife were both naked and were not ashamed.

Key Lessons from Genesis 2

- Sabbath Rest Is Holy: God blessed and set apart the seventh day, teaching a rhythm of work and sacred rest.

- Life Comes from God: Humanity is formed from the dust, but truly lives by the breath of God—human life is sacred and dependent on Him.
- Vocation and Stewardship: Humanity is placed in Eden “to work it and keep it,” showing that caring for creation is a God-given calling, not a burden.
- Loving Boundaries Protect Life: God’s command about the tree teaches that obedience brings life and crossing God’s boundaries brings death.
- We’re Made for Community: “It is not good for the man to be alone” reveals that isolation contradicts God’s design; we flourish in God-given relationships.
- Equal Dignity, Complementary Design: Woman is made from man’s side—equal in worth, complementary in role—so partnership reflects God’s wisdom.
- Marriage as Covenant: Leaving father and mother to become “one flesh” defines marriage as a lifelong, exclusive union ordained by God.
- Innocence Without Shame: Before sin, the man and woman were naked and unashamed—God’s design includes transparency, trust, and safety.
- Authority with Responsibility: Adam’s naming of the creatures reflects delegated authority that should be exercised with care and reverence.
- God’s Gracious Provision: Eden’s trees, rivers, and resources show that God provides abundantly for human flourishing.

Genesis 3 – Crawford Standard Bible

“The Fall and Its Consequences”

The Temptation and the Fall

1 The serpent was more cunning than any wild animal the Lord God had made. He said to the woman, “Did God really say you must not eat from any tree in the garden?”

2 The woman said to the serpent, “We may eat the fruit from the trees in the garden,

3 but about the fruit of the tree in the middle of the garden God said, ‘You must not eat from it, and you must not touch it, or you will die.’”

4 “You will not certainly die,” the serpent said to the woman.

5 “God knows that when you eat it, your eyes will be opened, and you will be like God, knowing good and evil.”

6 The woman saw that the tree was good for food, pleasing to the eyes, and desirable to make one wise. She took some of its fruit and ate it. She also gave some to her husband who was with her, and he ate.

7 Then the eyes of both of them were opened, and they knew they were naked. So they sewed fig leaves together and made coverings for themselves.

God Confronts the Sinners

8 Then they heard the sound of the Lord God walking in the garden in the cool of the day, and the man and his wife hid themselves among the trees from the presence of the Lord God.

9 The Lord God called to the man and said, “Where are you?”

10 He answered, “I heard You in the garden, and I was afraid because I was naked, so I hid.”

11 Then He said, “Who told you that you were naked? Have you eaten from the tree I commanded you not to eat from?”

12 The man said, “The woman You put here with me—she gave me some fruit from the tree, and I ate.”

13 Then the Lord God said to the woman, “What have you done?” The woman said, “The serpent deceived me, and I ate.”

Judgment on the Serpent

14 So the Lord God said to the serpent, “Because you have done this, you are cursed more than all livestock and more than any wild animal. You will crawl on your belly and eat dust all the days of your life.

15 I will put hostility between you and the woman, and between your offspring and her offspring; he will crush your head, and you will strike his heel.”

Consequences for the Woman

16 To the woman He said, “I will greatly increase your pain and your conception; you will give birth to children in pain. Your desire will be for your husband, and he will rule over you.”

Consequences for the Man

17 To Adam He said, “Because you listened to your wife and ate from the tree about which I commanded you, ‘Do not eat,’ the ground is cursed because of you. You will eat from it by painful toil all the days of your life.

18 It will produce thorns and thistles for you, and you will eat the plants of the field.

19 By the sweat of your face you will eat your bread until you return to the ground—because from it you were taken. For you are dust, and to dust you will return.”

Covering and Exile from Eden

20 The man named his wife Eve because she would become the mother of all the living.

21 The Lord God made garments of skin for Adam and his wife and clothed them.

22 And the Lord God said, “The man has become like one of Us, knowing good and evil. Now he must not reach out, take from the tree of life, eat, and live forever.”

23 So the Lord God sent him out from the garden of Eden to work the ground from which he had been taken.

24 After He drove the man out, He placed cherubim and a flaming sword that turned in every direction to guard the way to the tree of life.

Key Lessons from Genesis 3

- Sin Begins with Doubting God’s Word: The serpent twists what God said, and temptation takes root when we question God’s truth.
- Desire, Deception, and Disobedience: What looks good and promises wisdom can still lead to ruin when it defies God’s command.
- Shame and Hiding Follow Sin: Awareness of guilt breaks intimacy with God and with each other, leading to fear and cover-ups.
- Passing Blame Doesn’t Heal: Adam blames Eve, Eve blames the serpent—responsibility before God cannot be dodged.
- Judgment and Mercy Together: God pronounces consequences, yet promises a Deliverer who will crush the serpent’s head (the first glimpse of redemption).
- Brokenness in Work and Family: Pain in childbirth, struggle in marriage, and toil in labor mark life east of Eden.
- God Provides Covering: Even in judgment, God clothes the guilty—hinting at sacrifice and grace.
- Life Is Guarded, Not Lost: Access to the tree of life is barred for now, pointing forward to restoration in God’s time.

Genesis 4 – Crawford Standard Bible

“Cain and Abel, and the Spread of Sin”

Cain and Abel

1 Adam knew his wife Eve, and she became pregnant and gave birth to Cain. She said, “With the Lord’s help I have gotten a man.”

2 Later she gave birth to his brother Abel. Abel kept sheep, but Cain worked the soil.

Offerings to the Lord

3 After some time, Cain brought an offering to the Lord from the fruit of the ground.

4 Abel also brought an offering—fat portions from the firstborn of his flock. The Lord looked with favor on Abel and his offering,

5 but He did not look with favor on Cain and his offering. Cain was very angry, and his face fell.

God's Warning to Cain

6 The Lord said to Cain, "Why are you angry, and why has your face fallen?"

7 If you do what is right, won't you be accepted? But if you don't do what is right, sin is crouching at the door. It wants to rule you, but you must rule over it."

The First Murder

8 Cain spoke to his brother Abel. While they were in the field, Cain rose up against Abel his brother and killed him.

9 Then the Lord said to Cain, "Where is your brother Abel?" He replied, "I don't know. Am I my brother's keeper?"

10 The Lord said, "What have you done? Your brother's blood is crying out to Me from the ground.

11 Now you are cursed from the ground, which has opened its mouth to receive your brother's blood from your hand.

12 When you work the ground, it will no longer yield its best for you. You will be a restless wanderer on the earth."

Mercy and Mark for Cain

13 Cain said to the Lord, "My punishment is more than I can bear.

14 You have driven me away from the land today, and I will be hidden from Your presence. I will be a wanderer on the earth, and whoever finds me will kill me."

15 The Lord said to him, "Not so! If anyone kills Cain, he will suffer vengeance seven times over."

Then the Lord put a mark on Cain to protect him so that anyone who found him would not kill him.

16 Cain went out from the Lord's presence and lived in the land of Nod, east of Eden.

Cain's Family Line

17 Cain knew his wife, and she became pregnant and gave birth to Enoch. Cain built a city and named it after his son, Enoch.

18 Enoch had a son named Irad; Irad had Mehujael; Mehujael had Methushael; Methushael had Lamech.

Lamech and His Children

19 Lamech married two women: one named Adah and the other Zillah.

20 Adah gave birth to Jabal; he became the father of those who live in tents and raise livestock.

21 His brother's name was Jubal; he became the father of all who play the harp and flute.

22 Zillah also had a son, Tubal-cain, who forged tools from bronze and iron. Tubal-cain's sister was Naamah.

Lamech's Boast

23 Lamech said to his wives,
“Adah and Zillah, listen to me;
wives of Lamech, hear my words.
I have killed a man for wounding me,
a young man for striking me.
24 If Cain is avenged seven times, then Lamech seventy-seven times.”

Seth and Enosh

25 Adam knew his wife again, and she gave birth to a son and named him Seth, saying, “God has given me another child in place of Abel, since Cain killed him.”
26 Seth also had a son, and he named him Enosh. Then people began to call on the name of the Lord.

Key Lessons from Genesis 4

- God Desires the Heart, Not Just the Gift: Abel’s offering—first and best—was accepted; Cain’s was not. Worship is about faith and obedience, not mere form.
- Sin Is Close, but Not Inevitable: Temptation “crouches at the door,” yet God calls us to master it rather than be mastered by it.
- Life Is Sacred: Abel’s blood “cries out,” showing God hears the innocent and will judge violence.
- Justice Tempered with Mercy: God disciplines Cain but also marks him for protection—judgment and mercy can coexist.
- Choices Shape Generations: Cain’s line advances cities, music, and metalwork, yet violence grows—human culture is gifted but fallen.
- Boast of Vengeance vs. Way of Grace: Lamech glorifies retaliation; God’s people are called to another way.
- Hope After Loss: Through Seth and Enosh, a new line rises, and people begin to call on the Lord—grace opens a path forward after tragedy.

Genesis 5 – Crawford Standard Bible

“From Adam to Noah”

The Family Record of Adam

1 This is the written account of Adam’s family line. When God created human beings, He made them in the likeness of God.

2 He created them male and female, blessed them, and called them “human” (Adam) on the day they were created.

From Adam to Seth

3 When Adam was 130 years old, he had a son in his own likeness, in his image, and named him Seth.

4 After Seth was born, Adam lived 800 years and had other sons and daughters.

5 Adam lived a total of 930 years; then he died.

Seth to Enosh

6 When Seth was 105 years old, he had Enosh.

7 After Enosh was born, Seth lived 807 years and had other sons and daughters.

8 Seth lived a total of 912 years; then he died.

Enosh to Cainan

9 When Enosh was 90 years old, he had Cainan.

10 After Cainan was born, Enosh lived 815 years and had other sons and daughters.

11 Enosh lived a total of 905 years; then he died.

Cainan to Mahalaleel

12 When Cainan was 70 years old, he had Mahalaleel.

13 After Mahalaleel was born, Cainan lived 840 years and had other sons and daughters.

14 Cainan lived a total of 910 years; then he died.

Mahalaleel to Jared

15 When Mahalaleel was 65 years old, he had Jared.

16 After Jared was born, Mahalaleel lived 830 years and had other sons and daughters.

17 Mahalaleel lived a total of 895 years; then he died.

Jared to Enoch

18 When Jared was 162 years old, he had Enoch.

19 After Enoch was born, Jared lived 800 years and had other sons and daughters.

20 Jared lived a total of 962 years; then he died.

Enoch Walks with God

21 When Enoch was 65 years old, he had Methuselah.

22 After Methuselah was born, Enoch walked with God for 300 years and had other sons and daughters.

23 Enoch lived a total of 365 years.

24 Enoch walked with God, and then he was no longer here—because God took him.

Methuselah to Lamech

25 When Methuselah was 187 years old, he had Lamech.

26 After Lamech was born, Methuselah lived 782 years and had other sons and daughters.

27 Methuselah lived a total of 969 years; then he died.

Lamech to Noah

28 When Lamech was 182 years old, he had a son.

29 He named him Noah, saying, “He will comfort us in the hard work and painful toil of our hands caused by the ground the Lord has cursed.”

30 After Noah was born, Lamech lived 595 years and had other sons and daughters.

31 Lamech lived a total of 777 years; then he died.

Noah’s Sons

32 After Noah was 500 years old, he became the father of Shem, Ham, and Japheth.

Key Lessons from Genesis 5

- God’s Image Endures: From Adam onward, humanity retains the dignity of being made in God’s likeness.
- Life Is a Gift—and Brief: The steady refrain “and then he died” reminds us of mortality and our need for God’s grace.
- Walk with God: Enoch’s life shows that close fellowship with God is possible and precious—God notices a faithful walk.
- Names with Meaning: “Noah” (“rest/comfort”) signals hope that God will bring relief in a cursed world.
- Generational Faithfulness: God works through families and generations; our choices and devotion ripple forward.
- Longevity before the Flood: The long lifespans highlight a unique pre-flood world and underscore God’s patience with humanity.
- Hope Threaded through History: Even in a world marked by death, God preserves a line through which comfort and salvation will come.

Genesis 6 – Crawford Standard Bible

“Human Wickedness, God’s Warning, and Noah’s Ark”

Humanity Multiplies; Sin Increases

1 When people began to multiply on the earth and daughters were born to them,

2 the sons of God saw that the daughters of humans were beautiful, and they took as wives any they chose.

3 Then the Lord said, “My Spirit will not contend with humans forever, for they are flesh; their days will be one hundred and twenty years.”

4 There were giants (Nephilim) on the earth in those days—and also afterward—when the sons of God went in to the daughters of humans, and they bore children to them. These became the mighty men of old, men of renown.

God’s Grief and the Sentence

5 The Lord saw that human wickedness was great on the earth and that every intention of the thoughts of their hearts was only evil all the time.

6 The Lord regretted that He had made humans on the earth, and His heart was grieved.

7 So the Lord said, “I will wipe from the face of the earth the human race I have created—and with them the animals, the crawling things, and the birds of the sky—for I am grieved that I have made them.”

Noah Walks with God

8 But Noah found favor in the eyes of the Lord.

9 This is the account of Noah: Noah was a righteous man, blameless among his generation; Noah walked with God.

10 Noah had three sons: Shem, Ham, and Japheth.

Violence Fills the Earth

11 Now the earth was corrupt in God’s sight and full of violence.

12 God looked at the earth, and indeed it was corrupt, for all flesh had corrupted their way on the earth.

The Ark: God’s Instructions

13 God said to Noah, “The end of all flesh has come before Me, because the earth is filled with violence because of them. I am going to destroy them along with the earth.

14 Make yourself an ark of gopher wood. Make rooms in the ark, and coat it inside and out with pitch.

15 This is how you are to build it: The ark is to be three hundred cubits long, fifty cubits wide, and thirty cubits high.

16 Make a roof for the ark, finishing it to a cubit above, and put a door in the side of the ark. Make it with lower, second, and third decks.

The Flood and the Covenant

17 “Look, I am bringing a flood of waters on the earth to destroy all flesh under heaven that has the breath of life. Everything on the earth will perish.

18 But I will establish My covenant with you, and you will enter the ark—you, your sons, your wife, and your sons’ wives with you.

Animals and Food for the Ark

19 Bring into the ark two of every living thing of all flesh, male and female, to keep them alive with you.

20 Two of every kind of bird, of every kind of livestock, and of every kind of creature that crawls on the ground will come to you to be kept alive.

21 Take every kind of food that is eaten and store it; it will be food for you and for them.”

Noah Obeys

22 Noah did everything just as God commanded him.

Key Lessons from Genesis 6

- God Sees and Judges Wickedness: Violence and corruption reach a tipping point; divine patience has limits.
- Grace in a Dark Generation: “Noah found favor”—God’s mercy singles out a faithful remnant.
- Walk with God, Not the Crowd: Noah’s righteousness stands out amid universal decay.
- Obedience in Details Matters: God gives precise instructions; Noah follows them exactly.
- Covenant Hope: Even amid judgment, God promises relationship and preservation.
- Stewardship of Life: Caring for animals and preparing food shows God’s concern for all living things.
- Sin Spreads; So Must Faithfulness: As evil multiplies, faithful obedience becomes a witness to God’s purposes.

Genesis 7 – Crawford Standard Bible

“The Flood Begins and the Ark Is Sealed”

Enter the Ark

1 Then the Lord said to Noah, “Come into the ark—you and your whole household—for I have seen that you are righteous before Me in this generation.

2 Take with you seven pairs of every clean animal, a male with its female, and one pair of every unclean animal, a male with its female.

3 Also take seven pairs of every kind of bird, male and female, to keep their kinds alive across the whole earth.

4 In seven days I will send rain on the earth for forty days and forty nights, and I will wipe from the face of the ground every living thing I have made.”

5 Noah did everything the Lord commanded him.

6 Noah was six hundred years old when the floodwaters came upon the earth.

Entering the Ark

7 Noah, his sons, his wife, and his sons’ wives went into the ark because of the waters of the flood.

8 Pairs of clean and unclean animals, birds, and every creature that crawls on the ground

9 came to Noah and entered the ark two by two, male and female, as God had commanded Noah.

10 After seven days, the floodwaters came upon the earth.

The Flood Breaks Forth

11 In the six hundredth year of Noah’s life, on the seventeenth day of the second month—on that day all the springs of the great deep burst open, and the windows of the heavens were opened.

12 And rain fell on the earth forty days and forty nights.

13 On that very day Noah and his sons—Shem, Ham, and Japheth—Noah’s wife, and the three wives of his sons entered the ark, 14 with every kind of animal according to its kind: livestock, wild animals, all the creatures that crawl on the ground, and every kind of bird—every winged creature.

15 They came to Noah and entered the ark—two of every creature that has the breath of life.

16 The animals entering were male and female of every living thing, just as God had commanded Noah. Then the Lord shut him in.

Waters Rise and Prevail

17 For forty days the flood kept coming on the earth. As the waters rose, they lifted the ark above the earth.

18 The waters increased greatly on the earth, and the ark floated on the surface of the waters.

19 The waters rose higher and higher on the earth, and all the high mountains under the whole sky were covered.

20 The waters rose more than fifteen cubits (about twenty-three feet), covering the mountains.

All Life Outside the Ark Perishes

21 Every living thing that moved on land died—birds, livestock, wild animals, all the creatures that swarm over the earth, and all people.

22 Everything on dry land that had the breath of life in its nostrils died.

23 Every living thing on the face of the earth was wiped out—people, animals, creatures that move along the ground, and birds of the sky were destroyed from the earth. Only Noah was left, and those with him in the ark.

Waters Reign

24 The waters overwhelmed the earth for one hundred and fifty days.

Key Lessons from Genesis 7

- God Saves Households Through Faith: Noah's trust and obedience bring his family under God's protection.
- Holiness Makes Distinctions: Clean and unclean animals show God's order and purpose even in judgment.
- God's Timing Is Precise: The specific dates and details remind us that God's plans are exact and trustworthy.
- God Shuts the Door: Salvation is God's work; there is a decisive moment of grace and also of separation.
- Judgment Is Real and Total: Outside the ark, life perishes—sin's consequences are severe.
- Obedience Before Understanding: Noah prepares before the rain—faith acts on God's word, not on sight.
- Preservation for a New Beginning: Pairs of animals and stored food point to renewal and life after judgment.

Genesis 8 – Crawford Standard Bible

“The Waters Recede and God's Promise”

God Remembers and the Waters Recede

1 God remembered Noah, all the animals, and all the livestock with him in the ark. He sent a wind over the earth, and the waters began to go down.

2 The springs of the deep and the windows of the heavens were closed, and the rain from the sky stopped.

3 The waters kept receding from the earth, and after one hundred fifty days, the waters had gone down.

4 On the seventeenth day of the seventh month, the ark came to rest on the mountains of Ararat.

5 The waters continued to decrease until the tenth month; on the first day of the tenth month the tops of the mountains could be seen.

Raven and Dove Sent Out

6 After forty days, Noah opened the window he had made in the ark

7 and sent out a raven. It kept flying back and forth until the waters had dried up from the earth.

8 Then he sent out a dove to see if the waters had receded from the ground.

9 But the dove found no place to land because water still covered the whole earth, so it returned to him in the ark. Noah reached out his hand, took the dove, and brought it back inside.

10 He waited seven more days and again sent out the dove from the ark.

11 That evening the dove returned with a freshly picked olive leaf in its beak. Then Noah knew the waters had gone down from the earth.

12 He waited seven more days and sent out the dove again, and this time it did not return.

The Earth Dries and the Ark Empties

13 In Noah's six hundred first year, on the first day of the first month, the waters had dried up from the earth. Noah removed the covering of the ark and saw that the surface of the ground was dry.

14 By the twenty-seventh day of the second month, the earth was completely dry.

15 Then God spoke to Noah,

16 "Come out of the ark—you, your wife, your sons, and your sons' wives with you.

17 Bring out every living thing with you—birds, livestock, and every creature that crawls on the earth—so they can breed abundantly, be fruitful, and multiply on the earth."

18 So Noah went out, along with his sons, his wife, and his sons' wives.

19 All the animals—every creature that crawls, every bird, everything that moves on the earth—went out by their families.

Worship and God's Promise

20 Noah built an altar to the Lord. He took some of every clean animal and every clean bird and offered burnt offerings on the altar.

21 The Lord smelled the pleasing aroma and said in His heart, "Never again will I curse the ground because of humans, even though the thoughts of the human heart are evil from youth. And never again will I destroy every living thing as I have done.

22 While the earth remains, seedtime and harvest, cold and heat, summer and winter, day and night will not cease."

Key Lessons from Genesis 8

- God Remembers: Even in long seasons of waiting, God does not forget His people or His promises.

- Signs of New Life: The olive leaf and drying ground show that God is preparing renewal after judgment.
- Worship First: Noah’s first act on dry ground is worship—gratitude anchors new beginnings.
- Mercy with Realism: God recognizes human sinfulness yet commits to sustain the world by grace.
- Stable Rhythms Are a Gift: “Seedtime and harvest... day and night” promise a reliable order for life and work.
- Be Fruitful Again: God sends survivors out to multiply—restoration includes purpose and growth.

Genesis 9 – Crawford Standard Bible

“The Covenant with Noah and the Nations”

Blessing and New Beginning

1 God blessed Noah and his sons and said to them, “Be fruitful, multiply, and fill the earth.

2 The fear and dread of you will be on every animal of the earth, every bird of the sky, every creature that moves on the ground, and all the fish of the sea; they are placed in your hands.

3 Every living, moving thing will be food for you—just as I gave you the green plants, I now give you everything.

4 But you must not eat meat with its lifeblood still in it.

5 And I will demand an accounting for your lifeblood: I will require it from any animal, and from a fellow human being. From every person I will require an account for the life of another person.

6 Whoever sheds human blood, by humans shall that person’s blood be shed, for God made humans in His own image.

7 As for you, be fruitful and multiply; spread out over the earth and increase on it.”

God’s Covenant and the Sign of the Rainbow

8 Then God said to Noah and to his sons with him,

9 “Look, I am establishing My covenant with you and your descendants after you,

10 and with every living creature that is with you—the birds, the livestock, and all the wild animals, all that came out of the ark—every living creature on earth.

11 I confirm My covenant with you: never again will all life be wiped out by floodwaters; never again will a flood destroy the whole earth.”

12 And God said, “This is the sign of the covenant I am making between Me and you and every living creature with you, for all future generations:

13 I have placed My rainbow in the clouds, and it will be the sign of the covenant between Me and the earth.

14 Whenever I bring clouds over the earth and the rainbow appears in the clouds,

15 I will remember My covenant between Me and you and every living creature of all flesh, and the waters will never again become a flood to destroy all flesh.

16 When the rainbow appears in the clouds, I will look at it and remember the everlasting covenant between God and every living creature of all flesh on the earth.”

17 God said to Noah, “This is the sign of the covenant that I have established between Me and all flesh on the earth.”

Noah’s Vineyard and His Sons

18 The sons of Noah who came out of the ark were Shem, Ham, and Japheth. (Ham was the father of Canaan.)

19 These three were Noah’s sons, and from them the people of the whole earth spread out.

20 Noah became a farmer and planted a vineyard.

21 He drank some of the wine, became drunk, and lay uncovered inside his tent.

22 Ham, the father of Canaan, saw his father naked and told his two brothers outside.

23 Then Shem and Japheth took a garment, laid it across their shoulders, walked in backward, and covered their father’s nakedness. Their faces were turned away so they did not see their father naked.

24 When Noah awoke from his wine and learned what his youngest son had done to him,

25 he said, “Cursed be Canaan! He shall be the lowest of servants to his brothers.”

26 He also said, “Blessed be the Lord, the God of Shem! May Canaan be his servant.

27 May God enlarge Japheth; may he dwell in the tents of Shem, and may Canaan be his servant.”

28 After the flood, Noah lived 350 years.

29 Noah lived a total of 950 years, and then he died.

Key Lessons from Genesis 9

- Humanity Recommissioned: After judgment, God renews the original call—“be fruitful and multiply”—showing His desire for life to flourish.
- Sanctity of Life: Human life is sacred because we bear God’s image; violence against a person is an offense against God.
- Respect the Lifeblood: The command not to eat blood teaches reverence for life and for the Giver of life.
- Common-Grace Covenant: God pledges to sustain the world’s order—no worldwide flood again—giving stability for families, nations, and work.
- Rainbow as a Sign: The rainbow is a visible reminder of God’s mercy and faithfulness across generations.
- Honor vs. Disgrace: Shem and Japheth honor their father; Ham’s disrespect brings consequences—how we treat family and authority matters.
- Choices Have Ripples: Blessings and curses touch future lines; our actions can shape the path of those who come after us.

- New Beginnings Need Wisdom: Noah’s vineyard shows that even the faithful can stumble; we need humility and self-control in seasons of blessing.

Genesis 10 – Crawford Standard Bible

“The Table of Nations”

The Families After the Flood

1 These are the records of the families of Noah’s sons—Shem, Ham, and Japheth. Sons were born to them after the flood.

The Sons of Japheth

2 The sons of Japheth were Gomer, Magog, Madai, Javan, Tubal, Meshech, and Tiras.

3 The sons of Gomer were Ashkenaz, Riphath, and Togarmah.

4 The sons of Javan were Elishah, Tarshish, Kittim, and Dodanim.

5 From these, the coastland peoples spread out into their own lands, each with its own language, family, and nation.

The Sons of Ham

6 The sons of Ham were Cush, Mizraim (Egypt), Put, and Canaan.

7 The sons of Cush were Seba, Havilah, Sabtah, Raamah, and Sabtechah. The sons of Raamah were Sheba and Dedan.

Nimrod’s Kingdom

8 Cush fathered Nimrod, who became a mighty man on the earth.

9 He was a mighty hunter before the Lord; that is why it is said, “Like Nimrod, a mighty hunter before the Lord.”

10 The beginning of his kingdom was Babel, Erech, Accad, and Calneh in the land of Shinar.

11 From that land he went to Assyria and built Nineveh, Rehoboth-Ir, and Calah, 12 and Resen between Nineveh and Calah (that is the great city).

The Sons of Mizraim (Egypt)

13 Mizraim fathered the Ludim, Anamim, Lehabim, and Naphtuhim,

14 Pathrusim, Casluhim (from whom the Philistines came), and Caphtorim.

The Canaanites and Their Territory

15 Canaan fathered Sidon his firstborn, and Heth,

16 and also the Jebusites, Amorites, Girgashites,

17 Hivites, Arkites, Sinites,
18 Arvadites, Zemarites, and Hamathites. Later the clans of the Canaanites spread out.
19 The Canaanite borders extended from Sidon toward Gerar as far as Gaza, and toward Sodom, Gomorrah, Admah, and Zeboiim as far as Lasha.
20 These are the sons of Ham by their families, languages, lands, and nations.

The Line of Shem

21 Sons were also born to Shem, the ancestor of all the descendants of Eber (the Hebrews) and the brother of Japheth the elder.
22 The sons of Shem were Elam, Asshur, Arphaxad, Lud, and Aram.
23 The sons of Aram were Uz, Hul, Gether, and Mash.
24 Arphaxad fathered Salah, and Salah fathered Eber.
25 Two sons were born to Eber: one was named Peleg (“division”), because in his days the earth was divided; his brother’s name was Joktan.

Joktan’s Family and Settlements

26 Joktan fathered Almodad, Sheleph, Hazarmaveth, Jerah,
27 Hadoram, Uzal, Diklah,
28 Obal, Abimael, Sheba,
29 Ophir, Havilah, and Jobab—all these were the sons of Joktan.
30 Their settlements stretched from Mesha toward Sephar, the mountain in the east.

Summary

31 These are the sons of Shem by their families, languages, lands, and nations.
32 These are the clans of Noah’s sons, according to their family lines, in their nations. From these the nations spread out over the earth after the flood.

Key Lessons from Genesis 10

- One Human Family: All nations trace back to Noah’s sons—humanity shares a common origin under God.
- Diversity with Design: God oversees the spread of peoples, lands, and languages; variety is part of His providence, not chaos.
- Culture and Power Can Be Used Well or Poorly: Nimrod’s “mighty” name and early cities show how strength and city-building can serve either pride or purpose.
- Boundaries Matter: The defined borders of Canaan hint that nations and territories fall within God’s ordering of the world.
- Names Tell Stories: “Peleg” (“division”) marks a turning point in human history, reminding us that God’s hand is in times of change.

- God’s Faithfulness Across Generations: Genealogies show God preserving a line through which His promises will unfold.

Genesis 11 – Crawford Standard Bible

“The Tower of Babel and the Line from Shem to Abram”

One Language, One People

1 The whole earth had one language and the same words.

2 As people moved eastward, they found a plain in the land of Shinar and settled there.

A City and a Tower

3 They said to each other, “Come, let’s make bricks and bake them hard.” They used brick instead of stone, and tar for mortar.

4 Then they said, “Come, let’s build a city and a tower with its top in the heavens. Let’s make a name for ourselves, or we will be scattered over the face of the whole earth.”

God Confuses the Language

5 The Lord came down to see the city and the tower the people were building.

6 The Lord said, “Look, they are one people with one language, and this is only the beginning of what they will do. Now nothing they plan will be beyond their reach.

7 Come, let Us go down and confuse their language so they won’t understand one another.”

8 So the Lord scattered them from there over the whole earth, and they stopped building the city.

9 That is why it was called Babel, because there the Lord confused the language of the whole earth.

From there the Lord scattered them over the face of the whole earth.

From Shem to Abram

10 These are the records of Shem’s family line: Two years after the flood, when Shem was 100 years old, he had Arphaxad.

11 After Arphaxad was born, Shem lived 500 years and had other sons and daughters.

12 When Arphaxad was 35 years old, he had Salah.

13 After Salah was born, Arphaxad lived 403 years and had other sons and daughters.

14 When Salah was 30 years old, he had Eber.

15 After Eber was born, Salah lived 403 years and had other sons and daughters.

16 When Eber was 34 years old, he had Peleg.

17 After Peleg was born, Eber lived 430 years and had other sons and daughters.

18 When Peleg was 30 years old, he had Reu.

19 After Reu was born, Peleg lived 209 years and had other sons and daughters.

20 When Reu was 32 years old, he had Serug.

21 After Serug was born, Reu lived 207 years and had other sons and daughters.
22 When Serug was 30 years old, he had Nahor.
23 After Nahor was born, Serug lived 200 years and had other sons and daughters.
24 When Nahor was 29 years old, he had Terah.
25 After Terah was born, Nahor lived 119 years and had other sons and daughters.
26 When Terah was 70 years old, he had Abram, Nahor, and Haran.

Terah's Family and Their Journey

27 This is the family line of Terah: Terah had Abram, Nahor, and Haran. Haran had a son named Lot.
28 Haran died before his father Terah in his homeland, in Ur of the Chaldeans.
29 Abram and Nahor both married. Abram's wife was Sarai, and Nahor's wife was Milcah, the daughter of Haran (the father of Milcah and Iscah).
30 Sarai was unable to have children; she had no child.
31 Terah took his son Abram, his grandson Lot (Haran's son), and his daughter-in-law Sarai, Abram's wife, and they set out together from Ur of the Chaldeans to go to the land of Canaan. When they came to Haran, they settled there.
32 Terah lived 205 years, and Terah died in Haran.

Key Lessons from Genesis 11

- Pride Builds Towers; God Calls Us to Trust: Babel shows how human pride seeks a name apart from God.
- Language and Limits Are Mercies: God confuses speech to restrain united rebellion; His limits can protect us from greater sin.
- Scattered by God, Gathered by Grace: The scattering at Babel sets the stage for God later gathering the nations through His promises.
- God's Story Moves Through Families: The genealogy from Shem to Abram shows God guiding history toward His redemptive plan.
- Barrenness and Promise: Sarai's inability to have children highlights a problem only God can solve—preparing for His promise to Abram.
- Obedience Is a Journey: Terah's family heads toward Canaan and pauses in Haran; God will call Abram to continue the journey by faith.

Genesis 12 – Crawford Standard Bible

“The Call of Abram and the Journey to Egypt”

The Call and the Promise

1 The Lord said to Abram, “Leave your country, your relatives, and your father’s household, and go to the land I will show you.

2 I will make you into a great nation. I will bless you, make your name great, and you will be a blessing.

3 I will bless those who bless you, and I will curse anyone who curses you. All the families of the earth will be blessed through you.”

Obedience: Abram Sets Out

4 So Abram went, just as the Lord had told him, and Lot went with him. Abram was seventy-five years old when he left Haran.

5 He took his wife Sarai, his nephew Lot, all the possessions they had gathered, and the people they had acquired in Haran. They set out for the land of Canaan—and they arrived there.

Altars in the Land

6 Abram traveled through the land to the place at Shechem, to the oak of Moreh. (At that time the Canaanites were in the land.)

7 The Lord appeared to Abram and said, “I will give this land to your descendants.” Abram built an altar there to the Lord who had appeared to him.

8 From there he moved to the hill country east of Bethel, pitched his tent with Bethel on the west and Ai on the east. There he built another altar to the Lord and called on the Lord’s name.

9 Then Abram journeyed on, moving toward the Negev (the southern region).

Famine and a Plan in Egypt

10 There was a severe famine in the land, so Abram went down to Egypt to live there for a while, because the famine was heavy in Canaan.

11 As he was about to enter Egypt, he said to his wife Sarai, “Look, I know you are a beautiful woman.

12 When the Egyptians see you, they will say, ‘This is his wife.’ Then they will kill me but let you live.

13 Please say you are my sister so it will go well for me because of you, and my life will be spared for your sake.”

Sarai Taken; God Intervenes

14 When Abram entered Egypt, the Egyptians saw that Sarai was very beautiful.

15 Pharaoh’s officials saw her and praised her to Pharaoh, and she was taken into Pharaoh’s house.

16 Because of her, Pharaoh treated Abram well. Abram received sheep, cattle, donkeys, male and female servants, female donkeys, and camels.

17 But the Lord struck Pharaoh and his household with severe plagues because of Sarai, Abram’s wife.

Confrontation and Departure

18 Pharaoh summoned Abram and said, “What have you done to me? Why didn’t you tell me she was your wife?”

19 Why did you say, ‘She is my sister,’ so that I took her to be my wife? Now, here is your wife. Take her and go!”

20 Pharaoh ordered his men about Abram, and they sent him away with his wife and all he had.

Key Lessons from Genesis 12

- Faith Answers God’s Call: Abram leaves without a map, trusting God’s promise more than his comfort zone.
- Blessed to Be a Blessing: God’s goal is global—through Abram, all families are to be blessed.
- Worship Marks the Journey: Abram builds altars as he goes; gratitude and prayer anchor obedience.
- Fear Can Compromise Faith: Abram’s half-truth in Egypt shows how fear can lead to harmful choices.
- God Protects His Promise: Despite Abram’s failure, God intervenes to preserve Sarai and the covenant line.
- Integrity Matters Before Outsiders: Pharaoh rebukes Abram—our witness can suffer when we shade the truth.
- Keep Moving with God: From Shechem to Bethel to the Negev, obedience is a continuing walk, not a one-time step.

Genesis 13 – Crawford Standard Bible

“Abram and Lot Separate; God Renews the Promise”

Return from Egypt and Worship at Bethel

1 Abram went up from Egypt to the Negev, he, his wife, and all he had—and Lot went with him.

2 Abram was very wealthy in livestock, silver, and gold.

3 From the Negev he traveled from place to place until he came to Bethel, to the place where his tent had been at first, between Bethel and Ai,

4 to the site of the altar he had made earlier. There Abram called on the name of the Lord.

Strife Over Pastureland

5 Lot, who was traveling with Abram, also had flocks, herds, and tents.

6 The land could not support them living together, because their possessions were so great that they could not stay together.

7 Quarreling broke out between Abram’s herdsmen and Lot’s herdsmen. (At that time the Canaanites and Perizzites were living in the land.)

Abram’s Peaceful Offer

8 Abram said to Lot, “Please, let there be no fighting between you and me, or between your herdsmen and mine, for we are relatives.

Lot Chooses the Jordan Plain

10 Lot looked up and saw that the whole Jordan Valley, before the Lord destroyed Sodom and Gomorrah, was well-watered everywhere—like the Lord’s garden, like the land of Egypt—as you go toward Zoar.

11 So Lot chose for himself the entire Jordan Valley and set out toward the east. Thus they separated from each other.

12 Abram lived in the land of Canaan, while Lot lived among the cities of the valley and pitched his tents near Sodom.

13 Now the men of Sodom were extremely wicked and sinful against the Lord.

God Renews His Promise to Abram

14 After Lot had separated from him, the Lord said to Abram, “Lift up your eyes and look from the place where you are—north, south, east, and west—

15 for I will give you and your offspring all the land that you see forever.

16 I will make your offspring like the dust of the earth, so that if anyone could count the dust of the earth, then your offspring could also be counted.

17 Get up and walk through the land—its length and breadth—for I will give it to you.”

Abram Settles at Hebron

18 Abram moved his tent and came to live by the oaks of Mamre in Hebron, and there he built an altar to the Lord.

Key Lessons from Genesis 13

- Peace Over Pride: Abram yields the first choice to Lot, showing that faith can forgo rights to keep unity.
- Choices Have Context: Lot chooses by sight—lush land near Sodom—reminding us to weigh moral and spiritual surroundings, not just surface benefits.
- God Honors Trust: After Abram releases control, God reaffirms and expands the promise—open hands make room for blessing.

- Worship Anchors the Journey: Returning to the altar at Bethel shows that renewal begins with calling on the Lord.
- Contentment Over Comparison: Abram stays in Canaan with God’s word; security rests more in promise than in scenery.
- Walk the Land of Promise: God tells Abram to “walk” the land—faith takes steps that align with God’s promises.

Genesis 14 – Crawford Standard Bible

“The War of the Kings and Melchizedek’s Blessing”

The War of the Kings

1 In the days of Amraphel king of Shinar, Arioch king of Ellasar, Chedorlaomer king of Elam, and Tidal king of nations,

2 these four made war against Bera king of Sodom, Birsha king of Gomorrah, Shinab king of Admah, Shemeber king of Zeboiim, and the king of Bela (that is, Zoar).

3 All these gathered in the Valley of Siddim (the Salt Sea).

4 They had served Chedorlaomer twelve years, but in the thirteenth year they rebelled.

5 In the fourteenth year Chedorlaomer and the kings with him defeated the Rephaim in Ashteroth-Karnaim, the Zuzim in Ham, and the Emim in Shaveh-Kiriathaim,

6 and the Horites in the hill country of Seir as far as El-paran near the wilderness.

7 Then they turned back to En-mishpat (that is, Kadesh), and they struck the whole territory of the Amalekites, and also the Amorites who were living in Hazezon-tamar.

8 Then the king of Sodom, the king of Gomorrah, the king of Admah, the king of Zeboiim, and the king of Bela (Zoar) marched out and set up battle lines in the Valley of Siddim

9 against Chedorlaomer king of Elam, Tidal king of nations, Amraphel king of Shinar, and Arioch king of Ellasar—four kings against five.

10 Now the Valley of Siddim was full of tar pits. As the kings of Sodom and Gomorrah fled, some fell into them, and the rest fled to the hills.

11 The victors seized all the goods of Sodom and Gomorrah and all their food and went away.

12 They also took Abram’s nephew Lot, who lived in Sodom, with his goods, and left.

Abram Rescues Lot

13 One who escaped came and told Abram the Hebrew. He was living near the oaks of Mamre the Amorite, the brother of Eshcol and Aner—Abram’s allies.

14 When Abram heard that his relative had been taken captive, he mobilized 318 trained men born in his household and pursued the raiders as far as Dan.

15 At night Abram divided his forces, attacked them, and chased them as far as Hobah, north of Damascus.

16 He brought back all the goods, and also his relative Lot with his goods, together with the women and the other people.

Melchizedek Blesses Abram

17 After Abram returned from defeating Chedorlaomer and the kings with him, the king of Sodom came out to meet him in the Valley of Shaveh (the King's Valley).

18 Melchizedek king of Salem brought out bread and wine; he was a priest of God Most High.

19 He blessed Abram and said, "Blessed be Abram by God Most High, Possessor of heaven and earth;
20 and blessed be God Most High, who delivered your enemies into your hand." Then Abram gave him a tenth of everything.

Abram Refuses the Spoils

21 The king of Sodom said to Abram, "Give me the people and take the goods for yourself."

22 But Abram said to the king of Sodom, "I have raised my hand to the Lord, God Most High, Possessor of heaven and earth,

23 that I will take nothing that is yours—not even a thread or a sandal strap—so you can never say, 'I made Abram rich.'

24 I will take nothing except what the young men have eaten, and the share that belongs to the men who went with me—Aner, Eshcol, and Mamre. Let them take their portion."

Key Lessons from Genesis 14

- Courage for Family: Abram risks much to rescue Lot; love moves faith to action.
- God Wins the Battles: A small household force defeats a coalition because God delivers the enemy into Abram's hand.
- Worship Before Wealth: Abram tithes to Melchizedek, honoring God as the source of victory before touching any spoils.
- Integrity Over Advantage: Refusing Sodom's goods protects Abram's witness—blessing should be clearly from God, not from compromise.
- Priest and King: Melchizedek appears as king of Salem and priest of God Most High, reminding us that God has faithful servants beyond our circle.
- Allies and Boundaries: Abram partners with Mamre, Eshcol, and Aner, yet draws a line at Sodom's offer—choose alliances wisely.

Genesis 15 – Crawford Standard Bible

"God's Covenant with Abram"

The Lord's Assurance and Promise

1 After this, the word of the Lord came to Abram in a vision: "Do not be afraid, Abram. I am your shield; your very great reward."

2 But Abram said, "Lord God, what will You give me? I remain childless, and the heir of my household is Eliezer of Damascus."

3 Abram added, "You have given me no children; so a servant born in my house will be my heir."

4 Then the word of the Lord came to him: "This man will not be your heir. A son who comes from your own body will be your heir."

5 He brought Abram outside and said, "Look toward the sky and count the stars—if you can number them." Then He said, "So shall your offspring be."

6 Abram believed the Lord, and the Lord counted it to him as righteousness.

Promise of the Land and Abram's Question

7 He also said, "I am the Lord who brought you out of Ur of the Chaldeans to give you this land to inherit."

8 Abram asked, "Lord God, how can I know that I will inherit it?"

9 The Lord said, "Bring Me a three-year-old heifer, a three-year-old female goat, a three-year-old ram, a turtledove, and a young pigeon."

10 Abram brought all these, cut the larger animals in two, and arranged the halves opposite each other; he did not cut the birds.

11 Birds of prey came down on the carcasses, but Abram drove them away.

A Dreadful Darkness and a Prophetic Word

12 As the sun was setting, a deep sleep fell on Abram, and a thick, dreadful darkness came over him.

13 Then the Lord said to Abram, "Know for certain that your descendants will be strangers in a land not theirs. They will be enslaved and mistreated for four hundred years.

14 But I will judge the nation they serve, and afterward they will come out with great wealth.

15 You will go to your ancestors in peace and be buried at a good old age.

16 In the fourth generation your descendants will return here, for the sins of the Amorites are not yet complete."

Covenant Ratified

17 After the sun went down and it was dark, a smoking firepot and a blazing torch appeared and passed between the pieces.

18 On that day the Lord made a covenant with Abram, saying, "To your descendants I give this land—from the river of Egypt to the great river, the Euphrates—

19 the land of the Kenites, Kenizzites, and Kadmonites,

20 Hittites, Perizzites, and Rephaim,

21 Amorites, Canaanites, Girgashites, and Jebusites."

Key Lessons from Genesis 15

- Faith Counts with God: Abram believes, and God counts it as righteousness—trust is the basis of covenant relationship.
- God Is Our Shield and Reward: Before promises of things, God gives Himself—protection and ultimate treasure.
- Bold Questions, Honest Answers: Abram asks “How will I know?” and God confirms His promise with a covenant sign.
- God Rules History: Slavery, judgment, release, and return—God sets the times and keeps His word through generations.
- Grace Before Performance: The covenant is ratified while Abram sleeps—God’s promise rests on His faithfulness, not human strength.
- Promise Has a Place: God’s salvation story is rooted in people and land—His purposes are concrete and world-shaping.

Genesis 16 – Crawford Standard Bible

“Sarai, Hagar, and the God Who Sees”

Sarai’s Plan and Hagar’s Pregnancy

1 Sarai, Abram’s wife, had not given him children. She had an Egyptian servant named Hagar.

2 Sarai said to Abram, “The Lord has kept me from having children. Please go to my servant; maybe I can build a family through her.” Abram agreed to what Sarai said.

3 So after Abram had lived ten years in the land of Canaan, Sarai took her Egyptian servant Hagar and gave her to Abram as a wife.

4 He went in to Hagar, and she conceived. When Hagar knew she was pregnant, she looked down on her mistress.

5 Then Sarai said to Abram, “My wrong be on you! I put my servant in your arms, and now that she knows she’s pregnant, she despises me. May the Lord judge between you and me.”

6 Abram replied to Sarai, “Your servant is in your hands; do with her whatever you think best.” Then Sarai treated Hagar harshly, and Hagar ran away.

The Angel of the Lord Meets Hagar

7 The angel of the Lord found Hagar by a spring of water in the wilderness, the spring on the way to Shur.

8 He said, “Hagar, servant of Sarai, where have you come from and where are you going?” She answered, “I’m running away from my mistress Sarai.”

9 The angel of the Lord said to her, “Return to your mistress and submit to her authority.”

10 The angel of the Lord also said, “I will greatly multiply your offspring so that they cannot be

11 Then the angel of the Lord said, “You are pregnant and will bear a son. You will name him Ishmael (‘God hears’), because the Lord has heard your affliction.

12 He will be like a wild donkey of a man—his hand against everyone and everyone’s hand against him—and he will live in hostility, yet in the presence of all his brothers.”

El-Roi and the Well

13 Hagar gave this name to the Lord who spoke to her: “You are El-Roi (‘the God who sees me’),” for she said, “Have I truly seen the One who sees me?”

14 That is why the well is called Beer-lahai-roi (“Well of the Living One who sees me”); it lies between Kadesh and Bered.

Ishmael’s Birth

15 Hagar bore Abram a son, and Abram named the son Hagar bore Ishmael.

16 Abram was eighty-six years old when Hagar gave birth to Ishmael.

Key Lessons from Genesis 16

- Waiting on God Beats Shortcuts: Sarai’s plan tries to speed up God’s promise and brings pain for everyone.
- God Hears the Afflicted: Ishmael’s name means “God hears”—the Lord listens to cries in hardship.
- The God Who Sees: El-Roi reminds us that no one is invisible to God, not even a mistreated servant in the desert.
- Leadership Requires Seeking God: Abram agrees without asking God—leaders should inquire of the Lord before acting.
- Submission with a Promise: Hagar is sent back into a hard place, but with God’s presence and a future for her child.
- Grace in Messy Stories: Human failures don’t derail God’s plan; He still moves His promise forward.
- Names as Memorials: Beer-lahai-roi and Ishmael mark moments when God met and helped His people.

Genesis 17 – Crawford Standard Bible

“Covenant, Circumcision, and the Promise of Isaac”

The Almighty Appears; Walk Blamelessly

1 When Abram was ninety-nine years old, the Lord appeared to him and said, “I am God Almighty. Walk before Me and be blameless.

2 I will make My covenant between Me and you and will greatly multiply you.”

3 Abram fell facedown, and God spoke with him:

Name Change and Nations Promised

4 “As for Me, My covenant is with you, and you will be the father of many nations.

5 Your name will no longer be Abram; your name will be Abraham, for I have made you the father of many nations.

6 I will make you extremely fruitful; nations and kings will come from you.”

An Everlasting Covenant and the Land

7 “I will establish My covenant between Me and you and your descendants after you, throughout their generations, as an everlasting covenant—to be your God and the God of your descendants after you.

8 I will give to you and your descendants after you the land where you are living as a foreigner—all the land of Canaan—as a lasting possession, and I will be their God.”

The Sign of the Covenant: Circumcision

9 Then God said to Abraham, “As for you, you and your descendants after you must keep My covenant.

10 This is My covenant that you are to keep between Me and you and your descendants after you: Every male among you must be circumcised.

11 You are to circumcise the flesh of your foreskin, and it will be the sign of the covenant between Me and you.

12 Every male eight days old must be circumcised, generation after generation—whether born in your house or bought with money from a foreigner who is not your descendant.

13 Whether born in your house or bought with your money, he must be circumcised. My covenant will be in your flesh as an everlasting covenant.

14 Any uncircumcised male who has not been circumcised will be cut off from his people; he has broken My covenant.”

Sarai Renamed; Promise Through Sarah

15 God said to Abraham, “Regarding Sarai your wife: do not call her Sarai, for Sarah is her name.

16 I will bless her and will give you a son by her. I will bless her, and she will become nations; kings of peoples will come from her.”

Abraham's Laughter; God's Clarification

17 Abraham fell facedown and laughed and said to himself, "Can a child be born to a man who is a hundred years old? Can Sarah, who is ninety, bear a child?"

18 Abraham said to God, "Oh, that Ishmael might live under Your blessing!"

19 God replied, "No—Sarah your wife will bear you a son, and you will name him Isaac. I will establish My covenant with him as an everlasting covenant for his descendants after him.

20 As for Ishmael, I have heard you. I will bless him, make him fruitful, and greatly multiply him. He will father twelve princes, and I will make him into a great nation.

21 But My covenant I will establish with Isaac, whom Sarah will bear to you at this set time next year."

22 When He had finished speaking with him, God went up from Abraham.

Immediate Obedience

23 That very day Abraham took his son Ishmael and all the males born in his household or bought with his money—every male among Abraham's household—and circumcised them, as God had said.

24 Abraham was ninety-nine years old when he was circumcised.

25 His son Ishmael was thirteen when he was circumcised.

26 On that same day Abraham and his son Ishmael were circumcised,

27 and all the men of his household, born in the house or bought from a foreigner, were circumcised with him.

Key Lessons from Genesis 17

- God Almighty Calls for Wholehearted Walking: Covenant life starts with living openly before God, aiming for integrity.
- Identity From God, Not Circumstance: "Abram" becomes "Abraham," "Sarai" becomes "Sarah"—God names our future.
- Everlasting Promises, Real Places: God's covenant is enduring and tied to a people and a land.
- A Visible Sign of Belonging: Circumcision marks the covenant community—faith shows itself in obedient practices.
- Grace Extends, But Promises Are Specific: Ishmael is blessed, yet the covenant line runs through Isaac by God's design.
- Faith Acts the Same Day: Abraham obeys immediately; trust shows up in prompt, costly obedience.
- God Is the Reward: Beyond gifts and nations, the heart of the covenant is God saying, "I will be their God."

Genesis 18 – Crawford Standard Bible

“Hospitality, Promise, and Intercession”

Three Visitors at Mamre

1 The Lord appeared to Abraham by the oaks of Mamre while he sat at the entrance of his tent in the heat of the day.

2 He looked up and saw three men standing nearby. When he saw them, he ran from the tent entrance to meet them and bowed to the ground.

3 He said, “My Lord, if I have found favor with You, please do not pass by Your servant.

4 Let a little water be brought so you can wash your feet and rest under the tree.

5 I will bring a little bread so you can be refreshed, and then you may go on—since you have come to your servant.” They said, “Do as you have said.”

6 Abraham hurried into the tent to Sarah and said, “Quick! Take three measures of fine flour, knead it, and make bread.”

7 Abraham ran to the herd, chose a tender, good calf, and gave it to a servant, who hurried to prepare it.

8 He brought curds, milk, and the prepared calf, and set them before the men. He stood by them under the tree as they ate.

A Son Promised; Sarah Laughs

9 They asked him, “Where is your wife Sarah?” He said, “There in the tent.”

10 Then one said, “I will surely return to you at this time next year, and your wife Sarah will have a son.” Sarah was listening at the tent entrance behind him.

11 Abraham and Sarah were old, and Sarah had passed the age of childbearing.

12 So Sarah laughed to herself and said, “After I’m worn out and my lord is old, will I now have pleasure?”

13 The Lord said to Abraham, “Why did Sarah laugh and say, ‘Shall I really bear a child, now that I am old?’

14 Is anything too hard for the Lord? At the appointed time next year I will return to you, and Sarah will have a son.”

15 Sarah was afraid, so she denied it and said, “I did not laugh.” But He said, “No—you did laugh.”

The Lord Reveals His Intent About Sodom

16 When the men rose up, they looked toward Sodom, and Abraham walked with them to see them on their way.

17 The Lord said, “Shall I hide from Abraham what I am about to do, 18 seeing that Abraham will surely become a great and mighty nation, and all the nations of the earth will be blessed through him?

19 For I have chosen him so he will direct his children and his household to keep the way of the Lord by doing righteousness and justice, so that the Lord may bring about what He has promised him.”

20 Then the Lord said, “The outcry against Sodom and Gomorrah is great, and their sin is very serious.
21 I will go down to see whether they have done altogether according to the outcry that has reached Me; if not, I will know.”

Abraham Intercedes for the City

22 The men turned from there and went toward Sodom, but Abraham remained standing before the Lord.

23 Abraham came near and said, “Will You indeed sweep away the righteous with the wicked?

24 Suppose there are fifty righteous within the city—will You sweep it away and not spare the place for the sake of the fifty righteous who are in it?

25 Far be it from You to do such a thing—to kill the righteous with the wicked, so the righteous and the wicked are treated alike. Shall not the Judge of all the earth do right?”

26 The Lord said, “If I find fifty righteous in Sodom, I will spare the whole place for their sake.”

27 Abraham answered, “Look, I have dared to speak to the Lord—though I am but dust and ashes—

28 Suppose the fifty lack five; will You destroy the whole city for five fewer?” He said, “I will not destroy it if I find forty-five there.”

29 He spoke again, “Suppose forty are found there.” He said, “I will not do it for the sake of forty.”

30 Then he said, “Please don’t be angry—suppose thirty are found there.” He said, “I will not do it if I find thirty there.”

31 He said, “I have dared to speak to the Lord—suppose twenty are found there.” He said, “I will not destroy it for the sake of twenty.”

32 Then he said, “Please let me speak just once more—suppose ten are found there.” He said, “I will not destroy it for the sake of ten.”

33 When the Lord had finished speaking with Abraham, He went His way, and Abraham returned to his place.

Key Lessons from Genesis 18

- Hospitality Honors God: Abraham’s eager welcome to strangers becomes an encounter with the Lord.
- Nothing Is Too Hard for the Lord: The promise of a son to an elderly couple calls us to trust God beyond the limits of sight.
- God Sees and Investigates: The Lord responds to the outcry of injustice; His judgments are informed and just.
- Intercession Matters: Abraham’s bold, humble prayers show how one person’s pleading can seek mercy for many.
- Justice with Mercy: God is willing to spare the many for the sake of the few righteous—He is both just and compassionate.
- Teach the Next Generation: God chooses Abraham to train his household in righteousness and justice; faith is meant to be handed down.

- Honest Doubt, Honest God: Sarah’s laugh and the Lord’s gentle correction remind us that God meets us where we are and calls us to faith.

Genesis 19 – Crawford Standard Bible

“Judgment on Sodom and Gomorrah; Lot Rescued”

Two Angels Arrive in Sodom

1 That evening two angels came to Sodom. Lot was sitting at the city gate. When he saw them, he got up to meet them, bowed with his face to the ground,

2 and said, “My lords, please come to your servant’s house. Spend the night, wash your feet, and you can rise early and go on your way.” They said, “No, we will spend the night in the square.”

3 But he insisted strongly, so they went with him and entered his house. He prepared a meal, baked unleavened bread, and they ate.

The City’s Evil Exposed

4 Before they lay down, the men of the city—young and old, from every part of Sodom—surrounded the house,

5 and called to Lot, “Where are the men who came to you tonight? Bring them out so we can have sex with them.”

6 Lot went out to them at the doorway and shut the door behind him,

7 and said, “Please, my brothers, don’t act so wickedly.

8 Look, I have two daughters who have never been with a man. Let me bring them out to you; do what you want with them, but don’t do anything to these men, because they have come under my roof.”

9 They replied, “Stand back! This fellow came here as a foreigner, and now he wants to judge us! We’ll treat you worse than them.” They pressed hard against Lot and came near to break the door.

Angels Intervene; A Warning to Flee

10 The men (angels) reached out, pulled Lot into the house, and shut the door.

11 They struck the men at the doorway with blindness, both small and great, so they wore themselves out trying to find the door.

12 Then the angels said to Lot, “Do you have anyone else here—sons-in-law, sons, daughters, or anyone in the city who belongs to you? Get them out of this place,

13 for we are about to destroy it. The outcry against this city has become so great before the Lord that He has sent us to destroy it.”

14 Lot went and spoke to his sons-in-law, who were pledged to marry his daughters: “Up! Get out of this place, for the Lord is about to destroy the city.” But they thought he was joking.

Escape to Zoar

15 At dawn the angels urged Lot, “Get up! Take your wife and your two daughters who are here, or you will be swept away in the punishment of the city.”

16 When he hesitated, the men took his hand, the hand of his wife, and the hands of his two daughters—because the Lord was merciful to him—and led them out of the city.

17 After bringing them out, one said, “Run for your life! Don’t look back and don’t stop anywhere in the plain. Escape to the mountains, or you will be swept away.”

18 Lot said to them, “Oh no, my lord!

19 Your servant has found favor in your eyes, and you have shown me great kindness in saving my life. But I can’t escape to the mountains—disaster might overtake me and I would die.

20 Look, there is a town nearby—small, isn’t it? Let me flee there; it’s only a small place—then my life will be saved.”

21 He answered, “Very well, I grant this request too. I will not overthrow the town you mention.

22 Hurry and flee there, for I can do nothing until you arrive.” That is why the town was called Zoar (“Small”).

23 By the time Lot reached Zoar, the sun had risen over the land.

Fire from Heaven; Lot’s Wife

24 Then the Lord rained down burning sulfur on Sodom and Gomorrah—from the Lord out of the heavens.

25 He overthrew those cities, the entire plain, all the inhabitants, and what grew on the ground.

26 But Lot’s wife looked back, and she became a pillar of salt.

Abraham Looks On; Lot Spared

27 Early the next morning Abraham went to the place where he had stood before the Lord,

28 and looked down toward Sodom and Gomorrah and all the land of the plain. He saw dense smoke rising from the land like smoke from a furnace.

29 When God destroyed the cities of the plain, He remembered Abraham and brought Lot out of the catastrophe that overthrew the cities where Lot had lived.

Aftermath in the Hills

30 Lot left Zoar and lived in the mountains with his two daughters, because he was afraid to stay in Zoar. He and his two daughters lived in a cave.

31 The older said to the younger, “Our father is old, and there is no man around to be with us, as is the custom everywhere.

32 Come, let’s get our father to drink wine and sleep with him so that we can preserve our family line through our father.”

33 That night they made their father drink wine, and the older went in and slept with him. He was not aware when she lay down or when she got up.

34 The next day the older said to the younger, “Last night I slept with my father. Let’s get him to drink wine again tonight, and you go in and sleep with him so we can preserve our family line.”

35 That night also they made their father drink wine, and the younger slept with him. He was not aware when she lay down or when she got up.

36 So both of Lot’s daughters became pregnant by their father.

37 The older bore a son and named him Moab; he became the father of the Moabites.

38 The younger also bore a son and named him Ben-Ammi; he became the father of the Ammonites.

Key Lessons from Genesis 19

- Hospitality vs. Hostility: Lot welcomes strangers; the city seeks to abuse them—true righteousness protects the vulnerable.
- Compromise Has a Cost: Lot’s offer of his daughters shows how living near evil can distort judgment.
- God’s Mercy Pulls Us Out: Even as Lot hesitates, God’s mercy takes him by the hand and leads him to safety.
- Don’t Look Back: Lot’s wife warns us against clinging to what God is judging.
- Intercession Matters: God “remembered Abraham” and rescued Lot—prayer can shape outcomes.
- Small Obedience, Big Rescue: Fleeing to Zoar seems small, but prompt obedience saves lives.
- After Judgment, Choose Wisdom: Fear leads Lot to a cave where more brokenness unfolds; we need God’s wisdom for the next steps, not just escape.
- God’s Purposes Continue: From Moab and Ammon come peoples significant in later history—God weaves His story even through human failure.

Genesis 20 – Crawford Standard Bible

“Abraham and Abimelech in Gerar”

Sojourning in Gerar

Abraham moved toward the Negev and stayed between Kadesh and Shur; he lived for a time in Gerar. There Abraham said of Sarah his wife, “She is my sister.” So Abimelech, king of Gerar, sent for Sarah and took her.

God Warns Abimelech

But God came to Abimelech in a dream at night and said, “You are as good as dead because the woman you’ve taken is married.”

Abimelech had not gone near her, so he said, “Lord, will You destroy an innocent nation? Didn’t he tell me, ‘She is my sister’? And she herself said, ‘He is my brother.’ I did this with a clear conscience and clean hands.”

God replied in the dream, “I know you did this with integrity, and I kept you from sinning against Me; that is why I did not let you touch her.

Now return the man’s wife. He is a prophet, and he will pray for you, and you will live. If you do not return her, you will certainly die—you and all who belong to you.”

Abimelech Confronts Abraham

Early the next morning Abimelech told his servants everything, and they were very afraid.

He summoned Abraham and said, “What have you done to us? How have I wronged you that you brought such guilt on me and my kingdom? You have done things that should never be done.”

Abimelech asked, “What were you thinking to do this?”

Abraham answered, “I thought, ‘Surely there is no fear of God in this place, and they will kill me because of my wife.’ Besides, she really is my sister—the daughter of my father though not of my mother—and she became my wife. When God had me leave my father’s house, I told her, ‘Show your loyalty to me: wherever we go, say of me, “He is my brother.”’”

Restitution and Vindication

Abimelech gave Abraham sheep, cattle, male and female servants, and returned Sarah to him.

He said, “My land is before you; live wherever you like.”

To Sarah he said, “I am giving your ‘brother’ a thousand pieces of silver. This is a public vindication for you before all who are with you; everyone will know you are cleared.”

Healing Through Prayer

Then Abraham prayed to God, and God healed Abimelech, his wife, and his female servants so they could have children again.

For the Lord had closed the wombs in Abimelech’s household because of Sarah, Abraham’s wife.

Key Lessons from Genesis 20

- God Protects His Promise: Even when Abraham fails, God guards Sarah and the covenant line.
- Integrity Matters to God: Abimelech’s honest intent is acknowledged by God—conscience counts.
- God Can Restrain Sin: The Lord says, “I kept you from sinning,” reminding us that His mercy often blocks disaster we never see.
- Fear Breeds Compromise: Abraham’s half-truth springs from fear and damages his witness.
- Make It Right Publicly: Abimelech’s gifts and statement clear Sarah’s name—real repentance includes restitution and restoration.

- Prayer Changes Outcomes: God opens closed wombs after Abraham prays; intercession brings healing.
- Tell the Truth, Trust the Lord: God’s protection is better than self-protective deception.

Genesis 21 – Crawford Standard Bible

“Isaac’s Birth, Hagar and Ishmael, and the Treaty at Beersheba”

Isaac Is Born

- 1 The Lord kept His word to Sarah and did for her what He had promised.
- 2 Sarah became pregnant and bore a son to Abraham in his old age, at the exact time God had said.
- 3 Abraham named the son who was born to him—whom Sarah bore—Isaac (“he laughs”).
- 4 When Isaac was eight days old, Abraham circumcised him, just as God had commanded.
- 5 Abraham was one hundred years old when his son Isaac was born.
- 6 Sarah said, “God has made me laugh, and everyone who hears will laugh with me.”
- 7 She added, “Who would have told Abraham that Sarah would nurse children? Yet I have borne him a son in his old age.”
- 8 The child grew and was weaned, and Abraham held a great feast on the day Isaac was weaned.

Conflict in the Household

- 9 But Sarah saw the son of Hagar the Egyptian—whom she had borne to Abraham—mocking.
- 10 So she said to Abraham, “Drive out this slave woman and her son, for the son of this slave woman shall not share the inheritance with my son Isaac.”
- 11 This upset Abraham greatly because of his son.
- 12 But God said to Abraham, “Do not be distressed about the boy and your slave woman. Listen to everything Sarah tells you, because it is through Isaac that your offspring will be named.
- 13 And I will also make a nation of the slave woman’s son, because he is your offspring.”

God Hears Hagar and Ishmael

- 14 Early the next morning Abraham took bread and a skin of water, gave them to Hagar, placed the boy on her shoulder, and sent her away. She wandered in the wilderness of Beersheba.
- 15 When the water in the skin ran out, she put the boy under one of the bushes
- 16 and went and sat down nearby, about a bowshot away. She said, “I cannot watch the boy die.” She sat nearby and wept loudly.
- 17 God heard the boy crying, and the angel of God called to Hagar from heaven: “What is wrong, Hagar? Do not be afraid, for God has heard the boy where he is.
- 18 Get up, lift up the boy, and take hold of his hand, for I will make him a great nation.”
- 19 Then God opened her eyes, and she saw a well of water. She went, filled the skin with water, and gave the boy a drink.

20 God was with the boy as he grew up. He lived in the wilderness and became an archer.

21 He lived in the wilderness of Paran, and his mother got a wife for him from Egypt.

Abraham's Treaty with Abimelech

22 At that time Abimelech, with Phichol the commander of his army, said to Abraham, "God is with you in everything you do.

23 Now swear to me by God that you will not deal falsely with me or my children or my descendants. Show me and this land where you have lived the same kindness I have shown you."

24 Abraham said, "I swear it."

25 But Abraham complained to Abimelech about a well of water that Abimelech's servants had seized.

26 Abimelech said, "I do not know who did this. You never told me, and I heard of it only today."

27 So Abraham took sheep and oxen and gave them to Abimelech, and the two of them made a covenant.

28 Abraham set seven ewe lambs apart by themselves.

29 Abimelech asked Abraham, "What is the meaning of these seven ewe lambs?"

30 He replied, "You are to accept these seven lambs from my hand as a witness that I dug this well."

31 Therefore that place was called Beersheba ("Well of the Oath/Seven"), because both of them swore an oath there.

32 They made a covenant at Beersheba. Then Abimelech and Phichol, his army commander, returned to the land of the Philistines.

33 Abraham planted a tamarisk tree in Beersheba, and there he called on the name of the Lord, the Everlasting God.

34 And Abraham stayed in the land of the Philistines for many days.

Key Lessons from Genesis 21

- God Keeps Time and Promises: Isaac arrives "at the set time." God's timing may stretch us, but He is never late.
- Laughter Turned to Joy: Sarah's long sorrow becomes gladness; Isaac's name ("he laughs") memorializes grace.
- Covenant Line, Wide Mercy: The promise runs through Isaac, yet God still sees and blesses Ishmael—truth and compassion together.
- God Hears the Crying: In the desert of fear and lack, God opens Hagar's eyes to a well. He is near to the desperate.
- Hard Obedience: Abraham's painful decision comes with God's assurance—obedience trusts God with what we love.
- Peacemaking Requires Clarity: Abraham settles the well dispute with oaths and witnesses; integrity and clear agreements protect peace.

- Worship Where You Live: Planting a tree and calling on “the Everlasting God” shows how to mark places with prayer and gratitude.
- Blessed to Be a Witness: Even Abimelech sees “God is with you.” A life of faith points neighbors to the Lord.

Genesis 22 – Crawford Standard Bible

“The Test of Abraham and the Lord Who Provides”

God Tests Abraham

1 After these things God tested Abraham and said to him, “Abraham.” He answered, “Here I am.”

2 God said, “Take your son—your only son Isaac, whom you love—go to the land of Moriah, and offer him there as a burnt offering on a mountain I will show you.”

Journey to Moriah

3 Early the next morning Abraham saddled his donkey, took two of his young men and his son Isaac, cut the wood for the burnt offering, and set out for the place God had told him about.

4 On the third day Abraham looked up and saw the place in the distance.

5 He said to his young men, “Stay here with the donkey. The boy and I will go over there to worship, and then we will come back to you.”

Isaac’s Question; Abraham’s Answer

6 Abraham took the wood for the burnt offering and placed it on Isaac his son. He himself carried the fire and the knife, and the two of them walked on together.

7 Isaac said to his father Abraham, “My father.” He replied, “Here I am, my son.” Isaac said, “Here are the fire and the wood, but where is the lamb for the burnt offering?”

8 Abraham answered, “My son, God Himself will provide the lamb for the burnt offering.” And the two of them walked on together.

The Altar and God’s Intervention

9 They came to the place God had told him about. Abraham built the altar, arranged the wood, bound his son Isaac, and laid him on the altar on top of the wood.

10 Then Abraham reached out his hand and took the knife to slay his son.

11 But the angel of the Lord called to him from heaven, “Abraham, Abraham!” He answered, “Here I am.”

12 He said, “Do not lay a hand on the boy. Do not do anything to him. Now I know that you fear God, since you have not withheld your son—your only son—from Me.”

13 Abraham looked up and saw a ram caught by its horns in a thicket. He went, took the ram, and offered it as a burnt offering in place of his son.

14 Abraham named that place Jehovah-Jireh (that is, “The Lord Will Provide”). It is said to this day, “On the mountain of the Lord it will be provided.”

Promise Reaffirmed

15 The angel of the Lord called to Abraham a second time from heaven

16 and said, “By Myself I swear, declares the Lord: because you have done this and have not withheld your son, your only son,

17 I will surely bless you and greatly multiply your offspring like the stars of the sky and the sand on the seashore. Your offspring will possess the gate of their enemies.

18 And through your offspring all the nations of the earth will be blessed, because you have obeyed My voice.”

19 Then Abraham returned to his young men, and they set out together for Beersheba, where Abraham lived.

Nahor’s Children and Rebekah

20 After these things it was reported to Abraham, “Milcah also has borne children to your brother Nahor:

21 Uz his firstborn, Buz his brother, Kemuel the father of Aram,

22 Chesed, Hazo, Pildash, Jidlaph, and Bethuel.”

23 Bethuel became the father of Rebekah. Milcah bore these eight to Nahor, Abraham’s brother.

24 Nahor’s concubine Reumah also bore Tebah, Gaham, Tahash, and Maacah.

Key Lessons from Genesis 22

- Faith Obeys When It Hurts: Abraham rises early to do the unthinkable because he trusts God more than he understands.
- Worship Is Trust: “We will worship and we will come back” shows confidence in God’s promise even on the way up the mountain.
- The Lord Will Provide: Jehovah-Jireh becomes a name to live by—God provides the substitute at the right time.
- Promise Reconfirmed Through Obedience: After the test, God reaffirms sweeping blessings for Abraham’s descendants and for all nations.
- Substitution and Mercy: The ram in Isaac’s place highlights God’s way of saving through a provided substitute.
- God Knows Our Hearts: The test reveals Abraham’s fear of God and deep loyalty.
- God’s Plan Looks Ahead: The mention of Rebekah ties this chapter to the next steps in the promise—God is preparing the future while testing the present.

Genesis 23 – Crawford Standard Bible

“Sarah’s Death and the Tomb at Machpelah”

Sarah’s Death and Abraham’s Grief

1 Sarah lived 127 years.

2 She died at Kiriath-arba (that is, Hebron) in the land of Canaan. Abraham went in to mourn and weep for Sarah.

3 Then Abraham rose from beside his wife’s body and spoke to the Hittites,

4 “I am a foreigner and a sojourner among you. Sell me property for a burial place so I can bury my dead out of my sight.”

Negotiating with the Hittites

5 The Hittites answered Abraham,

6 “Listen to us, sir. You are a mighty prince among us. Bury your dead in the choicest of our tombs—none of us will withhold his tomb from you.”

7 Abraham bowed to the people of the land, the Hittites,

8 and said, “If you are willing for me to bury my dead here, speak for me to Ephron son of Zohar,

9 so he will sell me the cave of Machpelah at the end of his field. Let him sell it to me for the full price as a burial property among you.”

Ephron’s Offer and the Agreed Price

10 Ephron was sitting among the Hittites and answered in the hearing of all who came to the city gate,

11 “No, my lord, listen to me: I give you the field and the cave that is in it. I give it to you in the presence of my people—bury your dead.”

12 Abraham again bowed before the people of the land

13 and said to Ephron so all could hear, “Please, listen to me. I will pay the price for the field. Accept it from me, and I will bury my dead there.”

14–15 Ephron replied, “Listen to me, my lord: the land is worth four hundred shekels of silver—but what is that between you and me? Go, bury your dead.”

16 Abraham agreed and weighed out to Ephron four hundred shekels of silver, according to the standard merchant weight, in the presence of the Hittites.

The Purchase Is Made Secure

17–18 So Ephron’s field at Machpelah near Mamre, the field with its cave and all the trees within its boundaries, was deeded to Abraham as his possession, in full view of the Hittites and everyone at the city gate.

Sarah Is Laid to Rest

19 Afterward Abraham buried Sarah his wife in the cave of the field of Machpelah, near Mamre (that is, Hebron) in the land of Canaan.

20 The field and the cave in it were legally transferred to Abraham by the Hittites as a burial property.

Key Lessons from Genesis 23

- Grief with Honor: Abraham mourns deeply and then acts wisely to honor Sarah’s dignity in burial.
- Faith Buys in Hope: As a “sojourner,” Abraham purchases land in Canaan, showing trust that God’s promise of the land is real.
- Integrity in Public: He pays the full, declared price before witnesses—no shortcuts, no hidden favors.
- Clear Agreements Build Peace: A formal, witnessed transfer prevents future disputes; transparency is loving your neighbor.
- Sacred Places Matter: Machpelah becomes a family tomb—memory and faith are tied to real places and real acts.
- Pilgrim Posture: We live as strangers and yet invest faithfully where God has placed us, looking beyond the grave to God’s promises.

Genesis 24 – Crawford Standard Bible

“A Bride for Isaac”

Abraham’s Charge

1 Abraham was now old, and the Lord had blessed him in everything.

2 He said to the senior servant in charge of all he owned, “Put your hand under my thigh

3 and swear by the Lord, the God of heaven and earth, that you will not take a wife for my son from the Canaanites among whom I live.

4 Go to my country and my relatives, and get a wife for my son Isaac.”

5 The servant asked, “What if the woman is unwilling to come back with me? Should I take your son there?”

6 Abraham said, “Make sure you never take my son back there.

7 The Lord, the God of heaven, who brought me from my father’s house and promised this land to my offspring, will send His angel ahead of you. You will take a wife for my son from there.

8 If the woman refuses to come, you are released from this oath—only do not take my son there again.”

9 The servant swore to Abraham concerning this matter.

The Servant's Prayer and the Sign

10 The servant took ten of his master's camels and set out for Mesopotamia, to the city of Nahor, carrying valuable gifts.

11 He made the camels kneel near a well outside the town toward evening, when the women came out to draw water.

12 He prayed, "Lord, God of my master Abraham, please grant me success today and show kindness to my master.

13 I'm standing by this well as the daughters of the town come out for water.

14 Let it be that the young woman I ask for a drink not only gives me a drink but also offers to water my camels. By this I will know You have chosen her for Isaac."

Rebekah Appears

15 Before he finished praying, Rebekah came out with her jar on her shoulder. She was the daughter of Bethuel, son of Milcah, the wife of Nahor, Abraham's brother.

16 She was very beautiful, a virgin; she went down to the spring, filled her jar, and came up.

17 The servant ran to meet her and said, "Please let me drink a little water from your jar."

18 "Drink, my lord," she said, and quickly lowered the jar to her hand and gave him a drink.

19 When she finished, she said, "I'll draw water for your camels too, until they've had enough."

20 She hurried to empty her jar into the trough and ran back to the well to draw water until all the camels were satisfied.

21 The man watched silently, wondering if the Lord had made his trip successful.

Hospitality and Worship

22 When the camels finished drinking, the man took out a gold nose ring (about half a shekel) and two gold bracelets (about ten shekels) and put them on her.

23 He asked, "Whose daughter are you? Is there room at your father's house for us to stay?"

24 She replied, "I am the daughter of Bethuel, the son Milcah bore to Nahor.

25 We have plenty of straw and feed, and room for you to lodge."

26 Then the man bowed his head and worshiped the Lord,

27 saying, "Blessed be the Lord, the God of my master Abraham, who has not failed in His mercy and faithfulness. The Lord has led me straight to my master's family."

28 Rebekah ran home and told her mother's household what had happened.

Welcome at Laban's House

29 Rebekah had a brother named Laban. When he saw the ring and bracelets and heard Rebekah's story, he ran to the man at the well.

30–31 "Come in, you who are blessed by the Lord," Laban said. "Why are you standing outside? I've prepared the house and a place for the camels."

32 The servant came in, unloaded the camels, and provided feed and water for them and for the men with him.

33 Food was set before him, but he said, “I won’t eat until I’ve told you my errand.” “Speak,” they said.

The Servant’s Testimony

34 He said, “I am Abraham’s servant.

35 The Lord has greatly blessed my master, and he has become very wealthy—flocks, herds, silver, gold, servants, camels, and donkeys.

36 In her old age, my master’s wife Sarah bore a son, and my master has given him everything.

37–41 My master made me swear not to take a wife for his son from the Canaanites, but from his own family. He said the Lord would send His angel with me and make my way successful.

42–44 Today I prayed at the well that the young woman who gave me a drink and also watered my camels would be the one the Lord appointed for Isaac.

45–47 Before I finished praying in my heart, Rebekah came. She did exactly that. When I learned she was Bethuel’s daughter—Nahor’s son by Milcah—I put the ring in her nose and the bracelets on her wrists.

48 I bowed and worshiped the Lord for leading me to my master’s own relatives for his son.

49 Now tell me whether you will show kindness and truth to my master. If not, let me know so I can turn elsewhere.”

Consent and Gifts

50 Laban and Bethuel answered, “This matter comes from the Lord; we cannot say otherwise.

51 Rebekah is here—take her to be your master’s son’s wife, as the Lord has spoken.”

52 When the servant heard this, he bowed to the Lord.

53 He brought out silver and gold jewelry and clothing and gave them to Rebekah, and also gave costly gifts to her brother and mother.

54 They ate and drank and stayed the night. In the morning he said, “Send me to my master.”

55 Her brother and mother said, “Let the young woman stay with us a few days—at least ten—then she may go.”

56 He replied, “Do not delay me, since the Lord has made my journey successful.”

57–58 They called Rebekah and asked, “Will you go with this man?” She said, “I will go.”

59 They sent Rebekah their sister, her nurse, Abraham’s servant, and his men on their way.

60 They blessed Rebekah: “Our sister, may you become the mother of countless thousands, and may your offspring possess the gates of their enemies.”

Isaac and Rebekah Meet

61 Rebekah and her attendants mounted the camels and followed the man.

62 Isaac had come from the area of Beer-lahai-roi and was living in the Negev.

63 Toward evening Isaac went out to walk and reflect in the fields. He looked up and saw camels coming.

64 Rebekah looked up, saw Isaac, and got down from her camel.

65 She asked the servant, “Who is that man walking in the field to meet us?” He said, “It is my master.” She took her veil and covered herself.

66 The servant told Isaac everything he had done.

67 Isaac brought Rebekah into his mother Sarah’s tent; she became his wife, and he loved her. Isaac was comforted after his mother’s death.

Key Lessons from Genesis 24

- Guided Steps: The servant prays specifically and watches for God’s answer; faith plans and prays, then looks for providence.
- Character Counts: Rebekah’s generous work—watering ten thirsty camels—reveals a servant heart fit for God’s story.
- God’s Faithfulness Across Generations: The Lord who called Abraham now leads the servant and prepares a wife for Isaac.
- Free Consent Matters: Rebekah’s “I will go” shows willing partnership in God’s purposes.
- Worship Bookends the Work: The servant worships before and after success—gratitude keeps pride away.
- Blessing with Boundaries: Abraham insists Isaac must not return to Mesopotamia; obedience guards the promise.
- Homes Built on Promise and Love: Isaac loves Rebekah, and their union becomes a place of comfort and the next chapter of God’s covenant.

Genesis 25 – Crawford Standard Bible

“Abraham’s Later Years, Ishmael’s Line, and the Birthright Sold”

Keturah and Abraham’s Household

1 After this, Abraham took another wife named Keturah.

2 She bore him Zimran, Jokshan, Medan, Midian, Ishbak, and Shuah.

3 Jokshan fathered Sheba and Dedan; Dedan’s sons were the Asshurim, Letushim, and Leummim.

4 Midian’s sons were Ephah, Ephher, Hanoah, Abidah, and Eldaah. All these were Keturah’s children.

5 Abraham gave everything he owned to Isaac,

6 but to the sons of his concubines Abraham gave gifts and sent them eastward—away from his son Isaac—while he was still alive.

Abraham's Death and Burial

7 Abraham lived 175 years.

8 He breathed his last and died at a good old age, an old man full of years, and was gathered to his people.

9 His sons Isaac and Ishmael buried him in the cave of Machpelah, in the field of Ephron son of Zohar the Hittite, near Mamre—

10 the very field Abraham had bought from the Hittites. There Abraham was buried with Sarah his wife.

11 After Abraham's death, God blessed Isaac his son, and Isaac lived near Beer-lahai-roi.

The Family of Ishmael

12 These are the records of Ishmael, Abraham's son, whom Hagar the Egyptian, Sarah's servant, bore to Abraham:

13 Ishmael's sons by name, according to their generations: Nebaioth (firstborn), Kedar, Adbeel, Mibsam,

14 Mishma, Dumah, Massa,

15 Hadad, Tema, Jetur, Naphish, and Kedemah.

16 These were Ishmael's sons, and these were their names by their settlements and camps—twelve princes according to their tribes.

17 Ishmael lived 137 years; then he died and was gathered to his people.

18 His descendants settled from Havilah to Shur, near Egypt as you go toward Assyria. He lived in hostility, yet in the presence of all his brothers.

Isaac's Family—The Twins Foretold

19 These are the records of Isaac, Abraham's son: Abraham fathered Isaac.

20 Isaac was forty when he married Rebekah, daughter of Bethuel the Aramean from Paddan-aram, sister of Laban the Aramean.

21 Isaac prayed to the Lord on behalf of his wife because she was barren. The Lord answered his prayer, and Rebekah conceived.

22 The children struggled inside her, and she said, "If this is so, why is this happening to me?" So she inquired of the Lord.

23 The Lord said to her, "Two nations are in your womb; two peoples will come from within you and be separated. One people will be stronger than the other, and the older will serve the younger."

24 When her time came, there were twins in her womb.

25 The first came out red and hairy like a coat, and they named him Esau.

26 Afterward his brother came out grasping Esau's heel, so he was named Jacob ("he grasps/heels"). Isaac was sixty years old when they were born.

Different Paths: Esau and Jacob

27 The boys grew up: Esau became a skilled hunter, a man of the open fields; Jacob was a quiet man who stayed among the tents.

28 Isaac loved Esau because of the game he brought, but Rebekah loved Jacob.

Esau Sells His Birthright

29 Once Jacob was cooking stew when Esau came in from the field exhausted.

30 Esau said to Jacob, “Let me eat some of that red stew—I’m worn out!” (That is why he was called Edom, “red.”)

31 Jacob said, “Sell me your birthright first.”

32 “Look,” said Esau, “I’m about to die. What good is the birthright to me?”

33 Jacob replied, “Swear to me first.” So Esau swore an oath to him and sold his birthright to Jacob.

34 Then Jacob gave Esau bread and lentil stew. He ate and drank, got up, and left. So Esau despised his birthright.

Key Lessons from Genesis 25

- Promise Carries Through Isaac: Abraham gives everything to Isaac, signaling the covenant line continues by God’s choice.
- Plan for Peace: Abraham sends other sons east with gifts—wise planning can reduce future conflict.
- God Hears Persistent Prayer: Isaac prays for barren Rebekah; God answers—intercession changes stories.
- God’s Sovereign Choice: “The older will serve the younger” shows God’s purposes don’t always follow human custom.
- Character Over Appetite: Esau trades long-term blessing for a bowl of stew—beware choices driven by the moment.
- Parents, Guard Your Partiality: Isaac favors Esau; Rebekah favors Jacob—favoritism fuels family tension.
- Name Your Wells: Beer-lahai-roi (“the Living One who sees me”) reappears—places of God’s help can anchor new seasons.
- End Well: Abraham dies “full of years,” leaving a clear legacy of faith, provision, and peace with neighbors.

Genesis 26 – Crawford Standard Bible

“Famine, Wells, and a Covenant of Peace”

Stay in the Land; God Reaffirms the Promise

1 There was another famine in the land, different from the one in Abraham's time. Isaac went to Abimelech, king of the Philistines, in Gerar.

2 The Lord appeared to Isaac and said, "Do not go down to Egypt. Live in the land I tell you about.

3 Stay here as a sojourner, and I will be with you and bless you. I will give all these lands to you and your descendants and keep the oath I swore to Abraham.

4 I will multiply your offspring like the stars of the sky and bless all nations through your offspring.

5 I will do this because Abraham obeyed Me and kept My charge, commandments, statutes, and laws."

6 So Isaac settled in Gerar.

Fear and a Half-Truth

7 The men of the place asked Isaac about Rebekah. He said, "She is my sister," because he was afraid they would kill him for her sake—she was very beautiful.

8 After Isaac had been there a long time, Abimelech looked out a window and saw Isaac affectionately with Rebekah, his wife.

9 Abimelech summoned Isaac and said, "She is certainly your wife! Why did you say, 'She is my sister'?" Isaac replied, "I thought, 'I might be killed because of her.'"

10 Abimelech said, "What have you done to us? One of my people could have slept with your wife and brought guilt on us."

11 Then Abimelech ordered his people, "Whoever touches this man or his wife will surely be put to death."

Prosperity and Envy

12 Isaac planted crops in that land and in the same year reaped a hundredfold, because the Lord blessed him.

13 He became rich, and kept growing richer until he was very wealthy,

14 with flocks, herds, and many servants. The Philistines envied him.

15 They stopped up all the wells Abraham's servants had dug, filling them with dirt.

16 Abimelech said to Isaac, "Move away from us; you have become much stronger than we are."

The Quarrel of the Wells

18 He reopened the wells from Abraham's day that had been stopped up after Abraham died, and he gave them the same names his father had given them.

19 Isaac's servants dug in the valley and discovered a spring-fed well.

20 The herdsmen of Gerar quarreled with Isaac's herdsmen: "The water is ours!" So he named the well Esek ("Dispute").

21 They dug another well, and they quarreled over that too; he named it Sitnah ("Hostility").

22 He moved on and dug another well. No one argued over it, so he named it Rehoboth

(“Roomy/Spacious”) and said, “Now the Lord has made room for us, and we will be fruitful in the land.”

The Lord Appears at Beersheba

23 From there Isaac went up to Beersheba.

24 That very night the Lord appeared and said, “I am the God of Abraham your father. Do not be afraid, for I am with you. I will bless you and multiply your offspring for My servant Abraham’s sake.”

25 Isaac built an altar there and called on the Lord’s name. He pitched his tent there, and his servants dug a well.

A Covenant with Abimelech

26 Abimelech came from Gerar with Ahuzzath his adviser and Phichol the commander of his army.

27 Isaac said, “Why have you come to me? You hate me and sent me away.”

28 They answered, “We clearly see the Lord is with you. Let there be an oath between us—let’s make a covenant.

29 Promise you will do us no harm, just as we have not harmed you but sent you away in peace. You are now the Lord’s blessed.”

30 Isaac made a feast, and they ate and drank.

31 Early the next morning they swore oaths to each other. Isaac sent them away, and they left in peace.

32 That same day Isaac’s servants reported, “We found water!”

33 He named the well Shebah (“Oath/Seven”); therefore the city is called Beersheba to this day.

Esau’s Marriages Grieve His Parents

34 When Esau was forty, he married Judith daughter of Beeri the Hittite and Basemath daughter of Elon the Hittite.

35 They were a source of grief to Isaac and Rebekah.

Key Lessons from Genesis 26

- Stay Where God Says: In famine, God tells Isaac to remain; obedience positions us for blessing.
- God’s Promise Continues: The covenant with Abraham is reaffirmed to Isaac—same God, same faithfulness.
- Fear Skews Judgment: Isaac’s “she is my sister” echoes Abraham’s failure; fear can lead to risky half-truths.
- Prosperity Attracts Envy: God’s favor on Isaac stirs opposition; expect resistance with growth.

- Keep Re-Digging Wells: Isaac reopens his father’s wells and keeps moving until there is room—perseverance over contention.
- Worship Before Work: At Beersheba, Isaac builds an altar first, then pitches his tent, then digs a well—seek God before settling.
- Make Peace with Clear Terms: A public covenant with Abimelech turns rivalry into peace; clarity creates stability.
- Marriages Shape Households: Esau’s choices bring grief—our relationships affect our families’ spiritual health.

Genesis 27 – Crawford Standard Bible

“Deception, Blessing, and a Broken Family”

Isaac Prepares to Bless Esau

- 1 When Isaac was old and his eyes were too weak to see, he called for his older son Esau and said, “My son.” Esau replied, “Here I am.”
- 2 Isaac said, “I am old and don’t know how soon I may die.
- 3 Take your bow and arrows, go out into the open country, and hunt some wild game for me.
- 4 Prepare for me the kind of tasty meal I love. After I eat it, I will give you my blessing before I die.”

Rebekah’s Plan

- 5 Rebekah was listening when Isaac spoke to Esau. When Esau went to the fields to hunt,
- 6 Rebekah said to her son Jacob, “I heard your father tell Esau,
- 7 ‘Bring me game and cook a meal for me so that I can bless you before I die.’
- 8 Now, my son, do what I tell you.
- 9 Go to the flock and bring me two young goats. I’ll prepare them into a dish your father loves.
- 10 Take it to him so he may eat and give you his blessing before he dies.”
- 11 But Jacob said, “My brother Esau is a hairy man, and my skin is smooth.
- 12 If my father touches me, he will see I am tricking him, and I’ll bring a curse on myself instead of a blessing.”
- 13 His mother replied, “My son, let the curse fall on me. Just do what I say; go and get the goats.”
- 14 So Jacob brought them, and Rebekah cooked a tasty meal just as Isaac liked.

Jacob Deceives Isaac

- 15 Rebekah took Esau’s best clothes and put them on Jacob.
- 16 She covered his hands and neck with the goatskins.
- 17 She handed Jacob the delicious food and bread she had made.
- 18 Jacob went to his father and said, “My father.”
- Isaac said, “Yes, who are you, my son?”

19 Jacob replied, "I am Esau, your firstborn. I've done as you asked. Sit up and eat my game so you may bless me."

20 Isaac asked, "How did you find it so quickly, my son?"

Jacob answered, "The Lord your God gave me success."

21 Isaac said, "Come near so I can touch you and know whether you are really my son Esau."

22 Jacob went close. Isaac touched him and said, "The voice is Jacob's, but the hands are Esau's."

23 He did not recognize him, because Jacob's hands were hairy like Esau's. So he blessed him.

24 "Are you really my son Esau?" Isaac asked.

Jacob said, "I am."

25 Then Isaac said, "Bring me the food so I may eat and bless you." Jacob served him the food and wine.

26 Then Isaac said, "Come here and kiss me, my son."

27 So Jacob went and kissed him. Isaac smelled his clothes and blessed him, saying:

"Ah, the smell of my son is like the smell of a field the Lord has blessed.

28 May God give you heaven's dew,

the earth's richness, grain and new wine in abundance.

29 May nations serve you, and peoples bow down to you.

Be master over your brothers, and may your mother's sons bow to you.

Cursed be those who curse you, and blessed be those who bless you."

Esau's Anguish

30 As soon as Jacob left, Esau came in from hunting.

31 He prepared food and brought it to his father. "Sit up, Father, and eat my game so you may bless me."

32 Isaac asked, "Who are you?"

He said, "I am your son, your firstborn, Esau."

33 Isaac trembled violently and said, "Who was it then that hunted game and brought it to me? I ate it all before you came, and I blessed him—and indeed he will be blessed!"

34 When Esau heard his father's words, he cried out bitterly, "Bless me too, my father!"

35 But Isaac said, "Your brother came deceitfully and took your blessing."

36 Esau said, "Isn't he rightly named Jacob (meaning 'supplanter')? He has cheated me twice—first he took my birthright, and now he has stolen my blessing. Haven't you saved a blessing for me?"

37 Isaac answered, "I have made him lord over you and all his brothers, and I have sustained him with grain and wine. What is left I can do for you, my son?"

38 Esau said, "Do you have only one blessing, my father? Bless me too!" Then Esau wept aloud.

39 His father Isaac answered him:

“Your dwelling will be away from the earth’s richness, away from the dew of heaven above.

40 You will live by the sword and you will serve your brother.

But when you grow restless,
you will break free from his yoke.”

Esau’s Anger and Rebekah’s Fear

41 Esau held a grudge against Jacob and said in his heart, “When my father dies, I will kill my brother Jacob.”

42 Rebekah was told what Esau said. She sent for Jacob and told him, “Your brother is planning to kill you.

43 Now listen, my son: run at once to my brother Laban in Haran.

44 Stay with him until your brother’s anger cools down.

45 When he forgets what you did, I’ll send for you. Why should I lose both of you in one day?”

46 Then Rebekah said to Isaac, “I’m sick of my life because of these Hittite women. If Jacob marries one of them, my life will not be worth living.”

Key Lessons from Genesis 27

- Deception Brings Division: Jacob and Rebekah’s trickery broke trust and tore the family apart. Lies may achieve short-term goals but create long-term pain.
- God’s Plan Still Stands: Despite human schemes, God’s promises were fulfilled. His sovereignty works even through human weakness.
- Favoritism Fuels Conflict: Isaac favored Esau, Rebekah favored Jacob. Parental favoritism sowed bitterness and rivalry.
- A Bitter Root Grows Quickly: Esau’s anger turned into a desire for murder. Resentment left unchecked destroys relationships.
- Choices Have Consequences: Jacob received the blessing, but it cost him his home and peace. Sin often brings sorrow even when we “succeed.”
- Seek God’s Way, Not Ours: Waiting on God would have been better than grasping through deception. His promises never require sin to bring them about.

Genesis 28 – Crawford Standard Bible

“The Stairway to Heaven and the God of Bethel”

Isaac Sends Jacob Away

1 Isaac called for Jacob, blessed him, and commanded him: “Do not marry a woman from the daughters of Canaan.

2 Get up and go to Paddan-aram, to the house of Bethuel, your mother’s father. Take a wife there from among the daughters of Laban, your mother’s brother.

3 May God Almighty bless you, make you fruitful, and multiply you so that you become a great assembly of people.

4 May He give you the blessing of Abraham, to you and your descendants, so that you may inherit the land where you are living as a foreigner, the land God gave to Abraham.”

5 So Isaac sent Jacob away, and he traveled to Paddan-aram, to Laban son of Bethuel the Aramean, the brother of Rebekah, who was the mother of Jacob and Esau.

Esau Tries to Please His Parents

6 Esau saw that Isaac had blessed Jacob and sent him away to Paddan-aram to find a wife, and that he commanded Jacob not to marry a Canaanite woman.

7 Jacob obeyed his parents and went to Paddan-aram.

8 When Esau realized that the Canaanite women displeased his father Isaac,

9 he went to Ishmael’s family and married Mahalath, the sister of Nebaioth and daughter of Ishmael, Abraham’s son. She became another wife in addition to the ones he already had.

Jacob’s Dream at Bethel

10 Jacob left Beersheba and set out toward Haran.

11 When the sun had set, he stopped at a certain place to spend the night. He took a stone, placed it under his head, and lay down to sleep.

12 He dreamed of a stairway set on the earth with its top reaching to heaven, and angels of God were going up and down on it.

13 The Lord stood above it and said:

“I am the Lord, the God of your father Abraham and the God of Isaac. The land where you are lying I will give to you and your descendants.

14 Your offspring will be like the dust of the earth, and you will spread out to the west and east, to the north and south. Through you and your offspring all the families of the earth will be blessed.

15 I am with you. I will protect you wherever you go and bring you back to this land. I will never leave you until I have done everything I have promised you.”

Jacob Names the Place Bethel

16 Jacob woke from his sleep and said, “Surely the Lord is in this place, and I did not know it.”

17 He was afraid and said, “How awesome is this place! This is none other than the house of God; this is the gate of heaven.”

18 Early the next morning, Jacob took the stone he had placed under his head, set it upright as a pillar, and poured oil on top of it.

19 He named that place Bethel (meaning “House of God”), though the city was formerly called Luz.

Jacob’s Vow

20 Jacob made a vow, saying, “If God will be with me and protect me on this journey, giving me food to eat and clothes to wear,

21 and if I return safely to my father’s house, then the Lord will be my God.

22 This stone I have set up as a pillar will be God’s house, and of everything You give me, I will surely give a tenth back to You.”

Key Lessons from Genesis 28

- Obedience Protects the Promise: Jacob listened to his parents’ instruction not to marry from Canaan, showing that obedience aligns us with God’s covenant purposes.
- Worldly Solutions Fail: Esau tried to fix his mistake by marrying into Ishmael’s family, but human attempts to patch disobedience cannot replace God’s plan.
- God Reveals Himself in Unexpected Places: Jacob, alone and on the run, encountered God in a dream. Even wilderness moments can become holy ground.
- The Stairway Points to Christ: The vision of the stairway connecting heaven and earth foreshadows Jesus, who bridges the gap between God and humanity (John 1:51).
- God’s Presence Is the True Blessing: God promised Jacob not only land and descendants but His own presence and protection—a promise greater than wealth.
- Worship Requires Response: Jacob built a pillar, named the place Bethel, and made a vow—showing that every encounter with God calls for dedication and worship.
- Generosity Is a Mark of Faith: Jacob vowed to give a tenth of what God gave him, teaching that gratitude for God’s provision leads to generosity.

Genesis 29 – Crawford Standard Bible

“Jacob, Rachel, Leah, and the Beginning of Israel’s Tribes”

Jacob Meets Rachel

1 Jacob continued his journey and came to the land of the people of the east.

2 He saw a well in the field with three flocks of sheep lying nearby. From that well the flocks were watered, but a large stone covered the well’s mouth.

3 The flocks gathered there, and when all were present, the shepherds rolled the stone away and watered the sheep. Then they rolled the stone back into place.

4 Jacob asked the shepherds, “My brothers, where are you from?”

They replied, “We are from Haran.”

5 He asked, “Do you know Laban, son of Nahor?”

They said, “We know him.”

6 He asked, “Is he well?”

They said, “He is well, and here comes his daughter Rachel with the sheep.”

7 Jacob said, “It’s still broad daylight; it’s not time for the flocks to be gathered. Water the sheep and take them back to pasture.”

8 But they said, “We cannot until all the flocks are gathered and the stone is rolled away.”

9 While Jacob was still speaking with them, Rachel arrived with her father’s sheep, for she was their shepherd.

10 When Jacob saw Rachel, daughter of his mother’s brother Laban, and Laban’s sheep, he rolled the stone away by himself and watered the flock.

11 Then Jacob kissed Rachel and wept aloud.

12 He told Rachel he was Rebekah’s son, her father’s relative. She ran and told her father.

Jacob Stays with Laban

13 When Laban heard the news about Jacob, his sister’s son, he ran to meet him, embraced him, kissed him, and brought him into his home. Jacob told him everything.

14 Laban said, “Surely you are my own flesh and blood.” Jacob stayed with him for a month.

15 Then Laban said to Jacob, “Because you are my relative, should you work for me for nothing? Tell me your wages.”

16 Laban had two daughters: Leah, the older, and Rachel, the younger.

17 Leah had weak eyes, but Rachel was beautiful in form and face.

18 Jacob loved Rachel and said, “I will work for you seven years to marry Rachel, your younger daughter.”

19 Laban said, “It is better I give her to you than to another man. Stay here with me.”

20 Jacob worked seven years to marry Rachel, but they seemed like only a few days because of his love for her.

The Deception with Leah

21 Jacob said to Laban, “Give me my wife. My time is completed, and I want to marry her.”

22 So Laban invited all the men of the place and gave a wedding feast.

23 But that night, Laban brought his daughter Leah to Jacob, and Jacob slept with her.

24 Laban also gave Leah his servant Zilpah as her maid.

25 In the morning, there was Leah! Jacob said to Laban, “What have you done to me? Didn’t I serve you for Rachel? Why have you deceived me?”

26 Laban replied, “It is not our custom to give the younger before the firstborn.

27 Complete this bridal week with Leah, and then we will give you Rachel also, in exchange for another seven years of work.”

28 Jacob agreed. After finishing the bridal week with Leah, Laban gave him Rachel as his wife.

29 Laban also gave Rachel his servant Bilhah as her maid.

30 Jacob slept with Rachel as well, and he loved Rachel more than Leah. He worked for Laban another seven years.

God Blesses Leah with Sons

31 When the Lord saw that Leah was unloved, He opened her womb, but Rachel was childless.

32 Leah became pregnant and gave birth to a son. She named him Reuben, saying, “The Lord has seen my misery. Surely my husband will love me now.”

33 She conceived again and gave birth to another son. She named him Simeon, saying, “Because the Lord heard I am not loved, He gave me this son also.”

34 She conceived a third time and gave birth to a son. She named him Levi, saying, “Now my husband will be attached to me, because I have borne him three sons.”

35 She conceived again and gave birth to a son. She said, “This time I will praise the Lord.” So she named him Judah. After that, she stopped having children for a time.

Key Lessons from Genesis 29

- Love Works Patiently: Jacob worked seven years for Rachel, and it felt like only days because of his deep love—true love endures with joy.
- Deception Brings Strife: Laban’s trick mirrored Jacob’s earlier deception of Isaac; deceit often comes back around and breeds conflict.
- God Sees the Unloved: Leah, though rejected by Jacob, was seen by God. He opened her womb to show His care for the overlooked and hurting.
- Rachel’s Beauty vs. Leah’s Blessing: Rachel was loved for her beauty, but Leah was honored with children—God values character and His purposes above outward appearance.
- Praise in Pain: Leah named her fourth son Judah (“praise”), choosing to worship God despite her rejection—teaching us that worship can rise out of hardship.
- God Builds Through Imperfect Families: Out of this messy household came the twelve tribes of Israel, showing God’s plan works through human weakness.

Genesis 30 – Crawford Standard Bible

“Rachel, Leah, and the Struggle for Children; Jacob’s Growing Prosperity”

Rachel Gives Bilhah to Jacob

1 When Rachel saw she could not bear children for Jacob, she became jealous of her sister and said to Jacob, “Give me children, or I will die!”

2 Jacob became angry with her and said, “Am I in the place of God, who has kept you from having children?”

3 Rachel said, “Here is my maid Bilhah. Sleep with her so she may bear children for me, and through her I too may have a family.”

4 So she gave Bilhah to Jacob as a wife, and he slept with her.

5 Bilhah conceived and gave Jacob a son.

6 Rachel said, “God has judged in my favor, and has heard my cry and given me a son.” So she named him Dan.

7 Bilhah conceived again and gave Jacob a second son.

8 Rachel said, “I have struggled with my sister and won.” So she named him Naphtali.

Leah Gives Zilpah to Jacob

9 When Leah saw she had stopped having children, she gave her maid Zilpah to Jacob as a wife.

10 Zilpah gave birth to a son.

11 Leah said, “How fortunate!” So she named him Gad.

12 Zilpah gave birth to a second son.

13 Leah said, “How happy I am! Women will call me blessed.” So she named him Asher.

Mandrakes and More Sons for Leah

14 During the wheat harvest, Reuben found some mandrakes in the field and brought them to his mother Leah. Rachel said to Leah, “Please give me some of your son’s mandrakes.”

15 Leah replied, “Wasn’t it enough that you took my husband? Will you take my son’s mandrakes too?”

Rachel said, “Very well, Jacob can sleep with you tonight in exchange for your son’s mandrakes.”

16 When Jacob came in from the fields that evening, Leah went out to meet him and said, “You must sleep with me, for I have hired you with my son’s mandrakes.” So he slept with her that night.

17 God listened to Leah, and she conceived and gave Jacob a fifth son.

18 Leah said, “God has rewarded me because I gave my servant to my husband.” So she named him Issachar.

19 Leah conceived again and gave Jacob a sixth son.

20 Leah said, “God has given me a good gift. Now my husband will honor me, because I have borne him six sons.” So she named him Zebulun.

21 Later she gave birth to a daughter and named her Dinah.

God Opens Rachel’s Womb

22 Then God remembered Rachel; He listened to her and enabled her to conceive.

23 She became pregnant and gave birth to a son. She said, “God has taken away my shame.”

24 She named him Joseph, saying, “May the Lord add another son to me.”

Jacob Prospers Despite Laban

25 After Rachel gave birth to Joseph, Jacob said to Laban, “Send me on my way so I can return home to my own land.

26 Give me my wives and children, for whom I have served you, and let me go. You know the work I have done for you.”

27 But Laban said, “If I have found favor in your eyes, stay. I have learned that the Lord has blessed me because of you.”

28 He added, “Name your wages, and I will pay them.”

29 Jacob said, “You know how hard I have worked for you and how your herds have prospered under my care.

30 The little you had before I came has increased greatly, and the Lord has blessed you wherever I have been. But now, when will I provide for my own household?”

31 Laban asked, “What shall I give you?”

Jacob replied, “You will not have to give me anything. If you will do this one thing, I will continue to take care of your flocks.

32 Today I will go through your flocks and set aside every speckled or spotted sheep, every dark-colored lamb, and every spotted or speckled goat. Those will be my wages.

33 My honesty will speak for me in the future: if you find any goat in my possession that is not speckled or spotted, or any lamb that is not dark-colored, it will be counted as stolen.”

34 Laban said, “Agreed! Let it be as you say.”

35 That same day, Laban removed all the streaked and spotted goats, and all the dark-colored lambs, and gave them to his sons to keep.

36 Then he put three days’ distance between himself and Jacob, while Jacob continued to tend the rest of Laban’s flocks.

37 Jacob, however, took branches of fresh poplar, almond, and plane trees, peeled white stripes in them, and exposed the white inside.

38 He set the peeled branches in the watering troughs where the flocks came to drink, so they would mate there.

39 The flocks mated in front of the branches and gave birth to streaked, speckled, and spotted young.

40 Jacob separated the young by themselves and kept them facing the streaked ones, keeping his flocks separate from Laban’s.

41 Whenever the stronger animals were mating, Jacob put the branches before them in the troughs, so they would bear streaked offspring.

42 But when the weaker animals mated, he did not put the branches there. So the weak ones went to Laban, and the strong ones to Jacob.

43 In this way Jacob became very wealthy, with large flocks, servants, camels, and donkeys.

Key Lessons from Genesis 30

- Comparison Breeds Strife: Rachel’s envy of Leah led to rivalry and desperate schemes—jealousy always leads to conflict.
- Human Schemes vs. God’s Timing: Both sisters used their maids, but only when “God remembered Rachel” did she finally conceive—true blessing comes from God alone.
- God Sees the Unloved: Leah longed for Jacob’s affection, yet God honored her with children, proving His care for those who feel rejected.
- Praise in Pain Produces Hope: Leah named Judah out of praise; Rachel named Joseph with faith that God would add more—both names carry worship and hope.
- Integrity Brings Increase: Jacob dealt honestly, even with Laban’s trickery, and God blessed his flocks—integrity and faith in God bring prosperity.
- God Turns Struggles into Nations: Out of rivalry, bargaining, and brokenness came the twelve tribes of Israel—God works through imperfect families to accomplish His plan.

Genesis 31 – Crawford Standard Bible

“Jacob Leaves Laban; A Covenant of Separation”

God Calls Jacob to Return

1 Jacob heard that Laban’s sons were saying, “Jacob has taken everything that belonged to our father. He has gained all this wealth from what was our father’s.”

2 Jacob also noticed that Laban’s attitude toward him was not what it had been before.

3 Then the Lord said to Jacob, “Return to the land of your fathers and your relatives, and I will be with you.”

4 Jacob called Rachel and Leah out to the field where his flocks were.

5 He said to them, “I see that your father’s attitude toward me has changed, but the God of my father has been with me.

6 You both know that I have worked for your father with all my strength.

7 Yet your father has deceived me and changed my wages ten times. But God has not allowed him to harm me.

8 If he said, ‘The speckled ones will be your wages,’ then the whole flock gave birth to speckled young. If he said, ‘The striped ones will be your wages,’ then all the flock gave birth to striped young.

9 So God has taken your father’s livestock and given them to me.

10 “At the time the flocks were mating, I looked up and saw in a dream that the rams were mating with the flock—striped, speckled, and spotted.

11 In the dream, the angel of God said to me, ‘Jacob.’ I answered, ‘Here I am.’

12 He said, ‘Look up and see, all the rams mating with the flock are striped, speckled, or spotted. For I have seen everything Laban has been doing to you.’

13 I am the God of Bethel, where you anointed a pillar and made a vow to Me. Now leave this land at once and return to your homeland.”

14 Rachel and Leah answered, “Do we still have any share in our father’s inheritance?

15 He treats us like foreigners. He sold us, and has used up what was paid for us.

16 Surely all the wealth God took from our father belongs to us and our children. So do whatever God has told you.”

Jacob Flees from Laban

17 Then Jacob got up, put his children and wives on camels,

18 and drove away all his livestock and possessions he had gained in Paddan-aram, to go to his father Isaac in the land of Canaan.

19 While Laban was away shearing his sheep, Rachel stole her father’s household idols.

20 Meanwhile, Jacob deceived Laban the Aramean by not telling him he was leaving.

21 So Jacob fled with all he had, crossed the Euphrates River, and headed for the hill country of Gilead.

22 On the third day, Laban was told Jacob had fled.

23 He took his relatives with him and pursued Jacob for seven days, overtaking him in the hill country of Gilead.

24 But God came to Laban in a dream at night and said, “Be careful not to say anything to Jacob, good or bad.”

Laban Confronts Jacob

25 Laban caught up with Jacob, who had pitched his tent in the hill country. Laban and his relatives camped nearby.

26 Laban said, “What have you done? You deceived me and carried off my daughters like captives of war!

27 Why did you run off secretly and deceive me? Why didn’t you tell me, so I could send you away with joy, singing, tambourines, and harps?

28 You didn’t even let me kiss my grandchildren and daughters goodbye. What you did was foolish.

29 I have the power to harm you, but last night the God of your father said to me, ‘Be careful not to say anything to Jacob, good or bad.’

30 Now you have gone off because you longed to return to your father’s house. But why did you steal my gods?”

31 Jacob answered, “I was afraid you would take your daughters from me by force.

32 But if you find your gods with anyone here, that person shall not live. Search in the presence of our relatives and see for yourself if I have anything of yours. If so, take it.” (Jacob did not know Rachel had stolen them.)

33 So Laban went into Jacob’s tent, Leah’s tent, and the tents of the two servants, but found nothing. Then he went into Rachel’s tent.

34 Rachel had taken the household idols, put them inside her camel’s saddle, and was sitting on them. Laban searched the whole tent but found nothing.

35 Rachel said to her father, “Don’t be angry, my lord, that I cannot stand up in your presence; I am having my monthly period.” So he searched but did not find the idols.

Jacob’s Anger with Laban

36 Jacob became angry and confronted Laban: “What is my crime? What sin have I committed, that you hunt me down like this?”

37 You have searched through all my goods. What have you found that belongs to your household? Set it here before my relatives and yours, and let them judge between us.

38 “I have been with you twenty years. Your sheep and goats have not miscarried, and I have not eaten rams from your flocks.

39 I did not bring you animals torn by wild beasts; I bore the loss myself. You demanded payment for any that were stolen, whether by day or night.

40 The heat consumed me in the daytime and the cold at night, and sleep fled from my eyes.

41 It was like this the twenty years I was in your household—I worked fourteen years for your two daughters and six years for your flocks, and you changed my wages ten times.

42 If the God of my father—the God of Abraham and the Fear of Isaac—had not been with me, you surely would have sent me away empty-handed. But God has seen my hardship and the labor of my hands, and last night He rebuked you.”

A Covenant Between Jacob and Laban

43 Laban answered, “These women are my daughters, these children are my children, and these flocks are my flocks. Everything you see is mine. But what can I do today about my daughters or the children they have borne?”

44 Come now, let us make a covenant, you and I, and let it serve as a witness between us.”

45 So Jacob took a stone and set it up as a pillar.

46 He said to his relatives, “Gather some stones.” They took stones and piled them in a heap, and they ate there by the heap.

47 Laban called it Jegar-sahadutha, but Jacob called it Galeed.

48 Laban said, “This heap is a witness between you and me today.” That is why it was called Galeed,
49 and also Mizpah, because he said, “May the Lord watch between you and me when we are absent from each other.

50 If you mistreat my daughters or take other wives besides them, though no one is with us, remember that God is witness between you and me.”

51 Laban also said to Jacob, “Here is this heap and this pillar I have set up between us.

52 This heap is a witness, and this pillar is a witness, that I will not cross over to you past this heap, and you will not cross over past this heap and pillar to me, to harm each other.

53 May the God of Abraham, the God of Nahor, and the God of their father judge between us.” So Jacob swore by the Fear of his father Isaac.

54 Jacob offered a sacrifice on the mountain and invited his relatives to a meal. After they ate, they spent the night on the mountain.

55 Early the next morning, Laban kissed his grandchildren and his daughters, blessed them, and returned home.

Key Lessons from Genesis 31

- God Defends the Oppressed: Though Laban cheated Jacob many times, God protected and prospered him. The Lord sees when people are treated unfairly.
- Obedience Requires Courage: Jacob left secretly, risking conflict, because God told him to return home. Obeying God sometimes means stepping into danger.
- Idols Hide in the Camp: Rachel secretly carried her father's idols—reminding us that hidden sins can endanger families and faith.
- God Sets Boundaries: The covenant at Mizpah established clear lines of peace. Healthy boundaries protect relationships from harm.
- God Is the True Witness: Both Jacob and Laban called on God as the final Judge. Human promises hold weight only when rooted in God's authority.
- Faithfulness Bears Fruit: Twenty years of Jacob's faithful labor under harsh conditions ended with blessing and freedom—perseverance under trial brings reward.

Genesis 32 – Crawford Standard Bible

“Jacob Prepares to Meet Esau and Wrestles with God”

Jacob Sees God's Angels

1 Jacob went on his way, and the angels of God met him.

2 When Jacob saw them, he said, “This is God's camp!” So he named the place Mahanaim (“Two Camps”).

Jacob Prepares to Meet Esau

3 Jacob sent messengers ahead to his brother Esau in the land of Seir, the country of Edom.

4 He instructed them, “Say to my lord Esau: ‘Your servant Jacob says, I have been staying with Laban until now.

5 I have oxen, donkeys, flocks, male and female servants. I am sending this message so that I may find favor in your eyes.’”

6 When the messengers returned, they said, “We went to your brother Esau, and now he is coming to meet you—with four hundred men.”

7 Jacob was terrified and distressed. He divided the people with him, along with the flocks, herds, and camels, into two groups.

8 He thought, “If Esau comes and attacks one group, the other group can escape.”

Jacob's Prayer for Deliverance

9 Then Jacob prayed, "O God of my father Abraham, and God of my father Isaac, Lord, You said to me, 'Return to your country and relatives, and I will make you prosper.'

10 I am not worthy of all the kindness and faithfulness You have shown Your servant. When I crossed this Jordan River, I had only my staff, but now I have two camps.

11 Please deliver me from my brother Esau, for I fear him. He may attack me, and the mothers with the children.

12 But You have said, 'I will surely make you prosper and make your descendants as numerous as the sand of the sea, which cannot be counted.'"

Jacob Sends a Gift Ahead

13 Jacob stayed there that night and prepared a gift for Esau:

14 two hundred female goats and twenty male goats, two hundred ewes and twenty rams,

15 thirty milk camels with their calves, forty cows and ten bulls, twenty female donkeys and ten male donkeys.

16 He put each group under the care of servants and said, "Go ahead of me, and keep some space between each group."

17 He instructed the first, "When my brother Esau meets you and asks, 'Whose animals are these? Where are you going? Whose are these?'

18 say, 'They belong to your servant Jacob. They are a gift sent to my lord Esau. Jacob himself is coming behind us.'"

19 He gave the same instructions to the second, the third, and all the others.

20 He thought, "I will pacify him with these gifts I am sending ahead. Later, when I see him, perhaps he will accept me."

21 So Jacob's gifts went on ahead, but he stayed the night in the camp.

Jacob Wrestles with God

22 That night Jacob got up, took his two wives, two maidservants, and eleven sons, and crossed the ford of the Jabbok River.

23 After he sent them across, he sent over all his possessions.

24 Jacob was left alone, and a man wrestled with him until daybreak.

25 When the man saw he could not overpower Jacob, he touched the socket of Jacob's hip so that his hip was wrenched as he wrestled.

26 The man said, "Let me go, for it is daybreak." But Jacob replied, "I will not let you go unless you bless me."

27 The man asked, "What is your name?" He answered, "Jacob."

28 Then the man said, "Your name will no longer be Jacob, but Israel ('he struggles with God'), because you have struggled with God and with men and have prevailed."

29 Jacob said, "Please tell me your name." But he replied, "Why do you ask my name?" And he blessed Jacob there.

30 Jacob called the place Peniel (“Face of God”), saying, “I saw God face to face, and yet my life was spared.”

31 As the sun rose, Jacob passed by Peniel limping because of his hip.

32 To this day, the Israelites do not eat the tendon attached to the socket of the hip, because the man touched Jacob’s hip at that tendon.

Key Lessons from Genesis 32

- God’s Angels Remind Us of His Presence: Jacob saw the heavenly host before facing his greatest fear—God often strengthens us before trials.
- Fear Drives Us to Prayer: Faced with Esau and four hundred men, Jacob turned to God in humility and trust—prayer is our refuge in fear.
- Gifts Cannot Replace God’s Favor: Jacob sent flocks as peace offerings, but true reconciliation would come only by God’s hand.
- Wrestling with God Transforms Us: Jacob wrestled all night and left with both a limp and a new name—encounters with God change us forever.
- Weakness Becomes Strength: Jacob’s limp reminded him that God’s power is made perfect in our weakness.
- Peniel Moments Define Faith: Jacob saw God “face to face” and lived—when we meet God personally, our lives are forever marked by His presence.

Genesis 33 – Crawford Standard Bible

“Jacob Meets Esau and Builds an Altar in Canaan”

Jacob Meets Esau

1 Jacob looked up and saw Esau coming with four hundred men. He divided the children among Leah, Rachel, and the two maidservants.

2 He placed the maidservants and their children in front, Leah and her children next, and Rachel with Joseph last.

3 Jacob himself went ahead of them and bowed to the ground seven times as he approached his brother.

4 But Esau ran to meet Jacob, embraced him, threw his arms around his neck, and kissed him. Both of them wept.

5 When Esau looked up and saw the women and children, he asked, “Who are these with you?” Jacob replied, “The children God has graciously given your servant.”

6 Then the maidservants and their children came forward and bowed down.

7 Leah and her children also came and bowed down. Finally, Joseph and Rachel came forward and bowed down.

Jacob Offers His Gift

8 Esau asked, “What do you mean by all these droves I met?” Jacob answered, “They are to find favor in your eyes, my lord.”

9 But Esau said, “I already have plenty, my brother. Keep what you have.”

10 Jacob insisted, “No, please! If I have found favor with you, accept my gift. For seeing your face is like seeing the face of God, now that you have received me favorably.

11 Please accept the blessing I brought you, because God has been gracious to me and I have more than enough.” And because Jacob urged him, Esau accepted it.

Esau and Jacob Part Ways

12 Esau said, “Let us journey on together. I will go ahead of you.”

13 But Jacob replied, “My lord knows the children are young, and the flocks and herds nursing their young. If they are driven too hard even for one day, the whole flock will die.

14 Go on ahead of your servant, my lord. I will move slowly, at the pace of the livestock and the children, until I come to you in Seir.”

15 Esau said, “Then let me leave some of my men with you.” But Jacob replied, “Why? Just let me find favor in your eyes, my lord.”

16 So Esau returned that day to Seir.

Jacob Settles in Canaan

17 Jacob, however, went to Succoth. He built a house for himself and shelters for his cattle. That is why the place was called Succoth (“shelters”).

18 Later, Jacob arrived safely at the city of Shechem in Canaan, coming from Paddan-aram. He camped within sight of the city.

19 For a hundred pieces of silver, he bought a piece of land from the sons of Hamor, the father of Shechem, where he pitched his tent.

20 There he built an altar and called it El-Elohe-Israel (“God, the God of Israel”).

Key Lessons from Genesis 33

- God Softens Hearts: Esau had once planned to kill Jacob, but when they met, he embraced him with tears. God can turn hostility into reconciliation.
- Humility Opens Doors: Jacob bowed seven times before Esau, showing humility. Pride creates walls, but humility paves the way for peace.
- Peace Is a Gift Worth Giving: Jacob insisted Esau accept his gift, treating reconciliation as more valuable than wealth. True peace often requires costly generosity.

- Different Paths, Same Peace: Esau went to Seir while Jacob settled elsewhere. Reconciliation doesn't always mean staying together—it can mean walking in peace apart.
- Worship Marks the Journey: Jacob ended his journey by building an altar to God. Every new stage of life should be grounded in worship and gratitude.
- God of Israel: Jacob's altar name, El-Elohe-Israel, shows his personal recognition of God as his protector and Lord—faith must be personal, not just inherited.

Genesis 34 – Crawford Standard Bible

“Dinah, Deceit, and the Violence at Shechem”

Dinah and Shechem

1 Dinah, the daughter Leah had borne to Jacob, went out to visit the young women of the land.
 2 Shechem, son of Hamor the Hivite, the ruler of that area, saw her, seized her, and violated her.
 3 But afterward he was drawn to Dinah, loved her, and spoke tenderly to her.
 4 Shechem said to his father Hamor, “Get me this girl as my wife.”

Jacob Learns of Dinah's Defilement

5 When Jacob heard that his daughter Dinah had been defiled, his sons were in the fields with his livestock. He kept quiet until they returned.
 6 Then Hamor, the father of Shechem, went out to talk with Jacob.
 7 When Jacob's sons heard what had happened, they came in from the fields. They were filled with grief and anger because Shechem had done a disgraceful thing in Israel by sleeping with Jacob's daughter—something that should never be done.

Hamor and Shechem's Proposal

8 Hamor said to Jacob's sons, “My son Shechem longs for your daughter. Please give her to him as his wife.
 9 Intermarry with us; give us your daughters and take our daughters for yourselves.
 10 You can settle among us. The land is open to you; live here, trade here, and acquire property.”
 11 Shechem added to her father and brothers, “Let me find favor in your eyes. Whatever you ask as bride-price or gift, I will give.
 12 Set the price as high as you wish, and I will pay it. Only give me the girl as my wife.”

The Sons of Jacob Deceive

13 Because Shechem had defiled their sister Dinah, Jacob's sons replied deceitfully.
 14 They said, “We cannot give our sister to a man who is uncircumcised; that would be a disgrace to us.
 15 We will agree on one condition: you must become like us by circumcising every male.
 16 Then we will give you our daughters and take your daughters. We will live with you and become one people.

17 But if you refuse, we will take our sister and leave.”

18 Their proposal seemed good to Hamor and his son Shechem.

19 The young man did not delay to do the thing, because he was delighted with Jacob’s daughter. He was more honored than anyone in his father’s household.

Shechem and Hamor Convince the City

20 Hamor and Shechem went to the gate of their city and said to the men,

21 “These men are friendly toward us. Let them live in our land and trade in it; the land has plenty of room. We can marry their daughters, and they can marry ours.

22 But the men will agree to live with us only if every male is circumcised, as they are.

23 Won’t their livestock, property, and all their animals become ours? Let’s agree to their terms so they will live with us.”

24 All the men who went out of the city gate agreed with Hamor and Shechem, and every male was circumcised.

Simeon and Levi Attack the City

25 Three days later, while the men were still in pain, Simeon and Levi, Dinah’s brothers, each took a sword and attacked the city without fear, killing all the males.

26 They put Hamor and Shechem to the sword, took Dinah out of Shechem’s house, and left.

27 The other sons of Jacob came upon the dead and plundered the city because their sister had been defiled.

28 They seized the sheep, cattle, donkeys, and everything in the city and the fields.

29 They carried off all their wealth, women, and children, taking everything in the houses.

Jacob Rebukes His Sons

30 Then Jacob said to Simeon and Levi, “You have brought trouble on me by making me obnoxious to the Canaanites and Perizzites. We are few in number, and if they unite against me, we and our household will be destroyed.”

31 But Simeon and Levi replied, “Should he have treated our sister like a prostitute?”

Key Lessons from Genesis 34

- The Sin of Shechem: Taking Dinah by force was a disgraceful act. Sin always brings shame, destruction, and conflict.
- Anger Can Lead to Violence: Simeon and Levi’s rage drove them to slaughter an entire city. Uncontrolled anger can create more sin than the one it responds to.
- Deceitful Solutions Multiply Trouble: Jacob’s sons used circumcision—a sacred covenant sign—as a tool of deceit. Using God’s covenant for revenge dishonors Him.

- Jacob’s Fear of Repercussions: Jacob worried about survival instead of seeking God’s direction. Fear of people often overshadows faith when crises arise.
- Justice vs. Vengeance: The sons cried for justice, but their violent vengeance crossed the line. God calls His people to pursue righteousness, not destruction.
- Families Bear the Weight of Sin: Dinah’s shame, Shechem’s lust, Simeon and Levi’s violence, and Jacob’s silence all tore the family and community apart—reminding us sin spreads its pain.

Genesis 35 – Crawford Standard Bible

“Return to Bethel, Rachel’s Death, and the Death of Isaac”

God Calls Jacob Back to Bethel

1 God said to Jacob, “Get up, go to Bethel, and settle there. Build an altar to the God who appeared to you when you fled from your brother Esau.”

2 So Jacob said to his household and to everyone with him, “Get rid of the foreign gods you have with you, purify yourselves, and change your clothes.

3 Then let us go to Bethel, where I will build an altar to the God who answered me in my day of trouble and has been with me wherever I have gone.”

4 So they gave Jacob all the foreign gods they had and the earrings in their ears. Jacob buried them under the oak near Shechem.

5 As they set out, the terror of God fell on the surrounding cities so that no one pursued them.

Jacob Builds an Altar at Bethel

6 Jacob and all the people with him came to Luz (that is, Bethel) in Canaan.

7 There he built an altar and called the place El-Bethel (“God of Bethel”), because God had revealed Himself to him there when he fled from his brother.

8 Now Deborah, Rebekah’s nurse, died and was buried under the oak below Bethel. It was named Allon-bacuth (“Oak of Weeping”).

God Reaffirms the Covenant

9 After Jacob returned from Paddan-aram, God appeared to him again and blessed him.

10 God said, “Your name is Jacob, but you will no longer be called Jacob. Your name will be Israel.” So He named him Israel.

11 God also said, “I am God Almighty. Be fruitful and multiply. A nation and a community of nations will come from you, and kings will be among your descendants.

12 The land I gave to Abraham and Isaac I also give to you, and to your descendants after you I will give this land.”

13 Then God went up from the place where He had spoken with Jacob.

14 Jacob set up a stone pillar at the place where God had spoken with him. He poured out a drink offering on it and poured oil on it.

15 Jacob called the place where God had spoken with him Bethel.

Rachel's Death and Benjamin's Birth

16 They left Bethel, and while still some distance from Ephrath, Rachel went into hard labor.

17 During her difficult labor, the midwife said, "Do not be afraid, you will have another son."

18 As Rachel was dying, with her last breath she named her son Ben-oni ("son of my sorrow"), but his father named him Benjamin ("son of my right hand").

19 So Rachel died and was buried on the way to Ephrath (that is, Bethlehem).

20 Jacob set up a pillar over her grave. It is the marker of Rachel's grave to this day.

The Sons of Jacob

21 Israel moved on and pitched his tent beyond the tower of Eder.

22 While Israel was living in that land, Reuben went and slept with Bilhah, his father's concubine, and Israel heard about it.

Now Jacob had twelve sons:

23 The sons of Leah: Reuben (Jacob's firstborn), Simeon, Levi, Judah, Issachar, and Zebulun.

24 The sons of Rachel: Joseph and Benjamin.

25 The sons of Bilhah, Rachel's servant: Dan and Naphtali.

26 The sons of Zilpah, Leah's servant: Gad and Asher.

These were the sons of Jacob, born to him in Paddan-aram.

Isaac's Death

27 Jacob came to his father Isaac in Mamre, near Kiriath-arba (that is, Hebron), where Abraham and Isaac had stayed.

28 Isaac lived 180 years.

29 Then Isaac breathed his last and died, and was gathered to his people, old and full of years. His sons Esau and Jacob buried him.

Key Lessons from Genesis 35

- Remove Idols Before Meeting God: Jacob called his household to put away foreign gods before going to Bethel. We must cast aside anything that competes with God's place in our lives.
- God's Presence Protects: As Jacob traveled, the terror of God kept enemies from attacking. When God is with us, His protection surrounds us.
- God Reaffirms His Covenant: God changed Jacob's name to Israel again and confirmed the promises of fruitfulness, kings, and land—His covenant is unshakable.

- Life and Death Intertwined: Rachel’s death came with the birth of Benjamin. Even in sorrow, God brings forth new life and carries His plan forward.
- Sin Brings Shame: Reuben’s act with Bilhah was a dishonor to his father and would later cost him his birthright (Genesis 49:3–4).
- Faithful Until the End: Isaac died at 180 years, “full of days,” a testimony that a life lived in covenant with God ends in peace.
- Worship at Every Stage: Jacob built altars to mark God’s work in his life. We too should create moments of worship that remind us of God’s faithfulness.

Genesis 36 – Crawford Standard Bible

“The Generations of Esau, Father of the Edomites”

Esau’s Wives and Children

1 These are the family records of Esau (that is, Edom).

2 Esau married Canaanite women: Adah daughter of Elon the Hittite, Oholibamah daughter of Anah, granddaughter of Zibeon the Hivite,

3 and Basemath, daughter of Ishmael and sister of Nebaioth.

4 Adah gave birth to Eliphaz for Esau; Basemath gave birth to Reuel;

5 and Oholibamah gave birth to Jeush, Jalam, and Korah. These were born to Esau in the land of Canaan.

6 Esau took his wives, sons, daughters, servants, livestock, and possessions and moved away from his brother Jacob into another land.

7 Their wealth was too great for them to stay together; the land where they lived could not support them both.

8 So Esau settled in the hill country of Seir. Esau is Edom.

The Sons of Esau

9 These are the descendants of Esau, the father of the Edomites in Seir:

10 The sons of Esau: Eliphaz (by Adah) and Reuel (by Basemath).

11 The sons of Eliphaz: Teman, Omar, Zepho, Gatam, and Kenaz.

12 Timna, Eliphaz’s concubine, bore Amalek to Eliphaz. These were Adah’s grandsons.

13 The sons of Reuel: Nahath, Zerah, Shammah, and Mizzah. These were Basemath’s grandsons.

14 The sons of Oholibamah, Esau’s wife: Jeush, Jalam, and Korah.

Chiefs of Esau’s Family

15 These are the chiefs among Esau’s descendants: From Eliphaz came chiefs Teman, Omar, Zepho, Kenaz, 16 Korah, Gatam, and Amalek. These were Adah’s grandsons.

17 From Reuel came chiefs Nahath, Zerah, Shammah, and Mizzah. These were Basemath’s grandsons.

18 From Oholibamah came chiefs Jeush, Jalam, and Korah.
19 These were the chiefs descended from Esau (that is, Edom).

The Horites in Seir

20 These are the sons of Seir the Horite, who lived in the land: Lotan, Shobal, Zibeon, Anah, 21 Dishon, Ezer, and Dishan. These were the Horite chiefs in the land of Seir.
22 The sons of Lotan: Hori and Hemam. Lotan's sister was Timna.
23 The sons of Shobal: Alvan, Manahath, Ebal, Shepho, and Onam.
24 The sons of Zibeon: Aiah and Anah. (This was the Anah who found hot springs in the wilderness while tending his father Zibeon's donkeys.)
25 The children of Anah: Dishon and Oholibamah his daughter.
26 The sons of Dishon: Hemdan, Eshban, Ithran, and Cheran.
27 The sons of Ezer: Bilhan, Zaavan, and Akan.
28 The sons of Dishan: Uz and Aran.

29 These are the Horite chiefs: Lotan, Shobal, Zibeon, Anah,
30 Dishon, Ezer, and Dishan. These were the chiefs of the Horites in Seir.

The Kings of Edom

31 These are the kings who ruled in Edom before any king reigned over Israel:
32 Bela son of Beor, whose city was Dinhabah.
33 When Bela died, Jobab son of Zerah from Bozrah succeeded him.
34 When Jobab died, Husham from the land of the Temanites succeeded him.
35 When Husham died, Hadad son of Bedad succeeded him. He defeated Midian in Moab, and his city was Avith.
36 When Hadad died, Samlah from Masrekah succeeded him.
37 When Samlah died, Saul from Rehoboth on the river succeeded him.
38 When Saul died, Baal-hanan son of Achbor succeeded him.
39 When Baal-hanan died, Hadar succeeded him. His city was Pau, and his wife was Mehetabel daughter of Matred, granddaughter of Me-zahab.

The Chiefs of Esau

40 These are the chiefs of Esau by name and family: Timna, Alvah, Jetheth, 41 Oholibamah, Elah, Pinon,
42 Kenaz, Teman, Mibzar,
43 Magdiel, and Iram. These were the chiefs of Edom according to their settlements. Esau was the father of the Edomites.

Key Lessons from Genesis 36

- Esau Became Edom: Though Jacob received the covenant, God still gave Esau descendants and territory. God’s providence extends beyond His chosen line.
- Wealth Divides Brothers: Just as Abraham and Lot parted ways, Esau and Jacob could not dwell together because of their possessions. Riches often force separation.
- God’s Plan vs. Human Power: Edom had chiefs and kings before Israel did. Yet, the covenant promises remained with Jacob, showing that God’s plan is not built on worldly power.
- Generations Matter: The chapter reminds us that nations rise out of families. The choices of parents shape the destiny of descendants.
- Temporary Power vs. Eternal Promise: Edom had early kings, but their power faded. Israel awaited God’s chosen king—showing the difference between man’s rule and God’s eternal kingdom.
- God Records Every Lineage: Even the line of Esau is carefully recorded. God values all people and keeps track of every family’s story.

Genesis 37 – Crawford Standard Bible

“Joseph’s Dreams and His Brothers’ Betrayal”

Joseph’s Dreams

1 Jacob lived in the land of Canaan, where his father had lived as a foreigner.

2 This is the account of Jacob’s family.

Joseph, a young man of seventeen, was tending the flocks with the sons of Bilhah and Zilpah, his father’s wives. He brought their father a bad report about them.

3 Israel loved Joseph more than all his other sons because he was born to him in his old age. He gave him a richly ornamented robe, a coat of many colors.

4 When his brothers saw that their father loved him more than any of them, they hated Joseph and could not speak kindly to him.

5 Joseph had a dream, and when he told it to his brothers, they hated him even more.

6 He said, “Listen to this dream I had:

7 We were binding sheaves of grain in the field when suddenly my sheaf stood up, and your sheaves gathered around and bowed down to it.”

8 His brothers said, “Do you really think you will reign over us? Will you actually rule us?” They hated him all the more because of his dreams and his words.

9 Then he had another dream and told it to his brothers: “I dreamed again, and this time the sun, moon, and eleven stars were bowing down to me.”

10 He told his father as well as his brothers, and his father rebuked him, saying, “What is this dream?

Will your mother, your brothers, and I bow down to you?"

11 His brothers envied him, but his father kept the matter in mind.

Joseph Sent to His Brothers

12 Joseph's brothers went to graze their father's flocks near Shechem.

13 Israel said to Joseph, "Your brothers are grazing the flocks near Shechem. Come, I will send you to them." Joseph replied, "Here I am."

14 His father said, "Go and see if all is well with your brothers and with the flocks, and bring back word." So he sent him from the Valley of Hebron, and Joseph arrived at Shechem.

15 A man found him wandering in the fields and asked, "What are you looking for?"

16 He replied, "I'm looking for my brothers. Can you tell me where they are grazing their flocks?"

17 The man said, "They have moved on from here. I heard them say, 'Let's go to Dothan.'" So Joseph went after them and found them in Dothan.

The Brothers Plot Against Joseph

18 But when they saw him in the distance, before he reached them, they plotted to kill him.

19 "Here comes the dreamer!" they said.

20 "Let's kill him and throw him into one of these pits. We'll say a wild animal devoured him. Then we'll see what becomes of his dreams."

21 When Reuben heard this, he tried to rescue Joseph from their hands. "Let's not take his life," he said.

22 "Don't shed blood. Throw him into this pit in the wilderness, but don't lay a hand on him." He said this to rescue Joseph later and return him to his father.

23 When Joseph came to his brothers, they stripped him of his robe—the ornate robe he was wearing.

24 They took him and threw him into the pit. The pit was empty; there was no water in it.

25 As they sat down to eat, they saw a caravan of Ishmaelites coming from Gilead. Their camels were loaded with spices, balm, and myrrh, on their way to Egypt.

26 Judah said, "What will we gain if we kill our brother and cover up his blood?"

27 Let's sell him to the Ishmaelites and not harm him ourselves. After all, he is our brother, our own flesh." His brothers agreed.

28 When Midianite merchants passed by, Joseph's brothers pulled him out of the pit and sold him for twenty pieces of silver. The merchants took him to Egypt.

Jacob Mourns Joseph

29 When Reuben returned to the pit and saw that Joseph was not there, he tore his clothes.

30 He went back to his brothers and said, "The boy is gone! What am I going to do?"

31 They took Joseph's robe, slaughtered a goat, and dipped the robe in its blood.

32 They took it to their father and said, "We found this. Examine it to see whether it is your son's robe."

33 Jacob recognized it and said, “It is my son’s robe! A wild animal has devoured him! Joseph has surely been torn to pieces.”

34 Then Jacob tore his clothes, put on sackcloth, and mourned for his son many days.

35 All his sons and daughters tried to comfort him, but he refused to be comforted. “I will go to my grave mourning for my son,” he said. So his father wept for him.

36 Meanwhile, the Midianites sold Joseph in Egypt to Potiphar, an officer of Pharaoh and captain of the guard.

Key Lessons from Genesis 37

- Favoritism Breeds Strife: Jacob’s favoritism toward Joseph created envy and division. Parents must guard against partiality.
- God’s Dreams Can Stir Opposition: Joseph’s God-given dreams provoked hatred. God’s calling may attract jealousy and resistance.
- Sin Starts in the Heart: The brothers first hated, then plotted, then acted. Sin grows when unchecked.
- God’s Providence Works Through Evil: Though sold into slavery, Joseph’s path was part of God’s larger plan of salvation. What others mean for evil, God can use for good (Genesis 50:20).
- Deception Brings Pain: The brothers deceived their father, causing him deep grief. Lies may serve the moment, but they plant seeds of sorrow.
- Christlike Parallel: Joseph was betrayed by his brothers, sold for silver, and unjustly rejected—pointing forward to Jesus, who was also betrayed for silver and rejected by His own.

Genesis 38 – Crawford Standard Bible

“Judah, Tamar, and the Birth of Perez and Zerah”

Judah’s Family

1 At that time Judah left his brothers and went to stay with a man of Adullam named Hirah.

2 There Judah met the daughter of a Canaanite named Shua. He married her and slept with her.

3 She became pregnant and gave birth to a son, and Judah named him Er.

4 She conceived again and gave birth to a son named Onan.

5 Still later she had another son named Shelah. They were in Kezib when she gave birth to him.

6 Judah got a wife for Er, his firstborn. Her name was Tamar.

7 But Er, Judah’s firstborn, was wicked in the Lord’s sight, so the Lord put him to death.

8 Then Judah said to Onan, “Sleep with your brother’s wife, fulfill your duty to her, and raise up offspring for your brother.”

9 But Onan knew that the child would not be counted as his. So whenever he slept with Tamar, he spilled his semen on the ground to keep from providing offspring for his brother.

10 What he did was evil in the Lord's sight, so the Lord put him to death also.

11 Judah then said to his daughter-in-law Tamar, "Live as a widow in your father's house until my son Shelah grows up." He feared Shelah might die like his brothers. So Tamar went to live in her father's house.

Tamar's Plan

12 After some time, Judah's wife, the daughter of Shua, died. When Judah had recovered, he went up to Timnah with his friend Hirah the Adullamite to shear his sheep.

13 When Tamar heard that Judah was on his way to Timnah,

14 she took off her widow's clothes, covered herself with a veil, and sat at the entrance to Enaim, on the road to Timnah. She saw that Shelah had grown up, but she had not been given to him as his wife.

15 When Judah saw her, he thought she was a prostitute, because she had covered her face.

16 Not realizing she was his daughter-in-law, he went over to her by the roadside and said, "Come, let me sleep with you."

"What will you give me to sleep with me?" she asked.

17 "I'll send you a young goat from my flock," he said.

She replied, "Will you give me something as a pledge until you send it?"

18 He asked, "What pledge should I give you?"

She said, "Your seal, your cord, and the staff in your hand." So he gave them to her, slept with her, and she became pregnant by him.

19 Afterward, she left, took off her veil, and put on her widow's clothes again.

Judah Confronts Tamar

20 Judah sent the young goat with his friend Hirah to get his pledge back from the woman, but he could not find her.

21 He asked the men of the town, "Where is the shrine prostitute who was beside the road at Enaim?"

"There hasn't been any prostitute here," they said.

22 So he went back to Judah and said, "I couldn't find her. The men of the place said there hasn't been a prostitute there."

23 Judah said, "Let her keep the things, or we'll be laughed at. I did send her this young goat, but you couldn't find her."

24 About three months later, Judah was told, "Your daughter-in-law Tamar has acted like a prostitute and is now pregnant." Judah said, "Bring her out and burn her!"

25 As she was being brought out, she sent a message to her father-in-law: "I am pregnant by the man who owns these. See if you recognize whose seal, cord, and staff these are."

26 Judah recognized them and said, “She is more righteous than I, since I did not give her to my son Shelah.” He did not sleep with her again.

The Birth of Perez and Zerah

27 When the time came for Tamar to give birth, she had twins.

28 As she was in labor, one baby reached out his hand, and the midwife tied a scarlet thread on it, saying, “This one came out first.”

29 But he pulled his hand back, and his brother came out instead. The midwife said, “So you have broken out first!” So he was named Perez (“breaking out”).

30 Then his brother came out with the scarlet thread on his hand, and he was named Zerah.

Key Lessons from Genesis 38

- Sin Brings Consequences: Er and Onan’s wickedness brought God’s judgment. God sees the heart and judges sin.
- Broken Promises Hurt Others: Judah failed to give Shelah to Tamar, leaving her neglected and vulnerable. Our broken commitments can wound lives deeply.
- God Uses Imperfect People: Judah sinned greatly, yet through Tamar came Perez—the ancestor of King David and ultimately Jesus Christ (Matthew 1:3).
- Righteousness Is Sometimes Surprising: Judah admitted Tamar was more righteous than he was. God values integrity and justice, even when it comes through unexpected people.
- God’s Plan Cannot Be Stopped: Despite human sin, deceit, and failure, God preserved the family line that would bring salvation through Christ.
- Christlike Foreshadowing: Perez’s “breaking out” points ahead to Jesus, who would break through sin and death to bring life to the world.

Genesis 39 – Crawford Standard Bible

“Joseph in Potiphar’s House and Prison”

Joseph in Potiphar’s House

1 Joseph was taken down to Egypt, and Potiphar, an officer of Pharaoh and captain of the guard, bought him from the Ishmaelites who had brought him there.

2 The Lord was with Joseph, and he became successful while serving in his Egyptian master’s house.

3 Potiphar saw that the Lord was with him and that the Lord gave him success in everything he did.

4 Joseph found favor in his master’s eyes and became his personal attendant. Potiphar put him in charge of his household and entrusted everything he owned to him.

5 From the time Potiphar put Joseph in charge, the Lord blessed Potiphar's house because of Joseph. The Lord's blessing was on everything he had, both in the house and in the field.

6 Potiphar left everything in Joseph's care and concerned himself only with the food he ate. Joseph was well-built and handsome.

Joseph Resists Temptation

7 After a while, Potiphar's wife set her eyes on Joseph and said, "Sleep with me."

8 But he refused. "My master trusts me with everything in this house.

9 No one here has more authority than I do. He has withheld nothing from me except you, because you are his wife. How could I do such a wicked thing and sin against God?"

10 Though she spoke to Joseph day after day, he refused to go to bed with her or even be near her.

11 One day Joseph went into the house to do his work, and none of the household servants was inside.

12 Potiphar's wife grabbed him by his cloak and said, "Lie with me!" But Joseph left his cloak in her hand and ran out of the house.

False Accusation

13 When she saw that he had left his cloak in her hand and had run out,

14 she called her household servants and said, "Look! This Hebrew has been brought here to make fools of us. He came in to sleep with me, but I screamed.

15 When he heard me raise my voice and scream, he left his cloak beside me and ran out."

16 She kept his cloak until Potiphar came home.

17 Then she told him the same story: "That Hebrew slave you brought us came to make a mockery of me.

18 But when I screamed, he left his cloak beside me and ran outside."

19 When Potiphar heard his wife's account, he burned with anger.

20 He took Joseph and threw him into the prison where the king's prisoners were confined.

The Lord's Presence in Prison

21 But the Lord was with Joseph and showed him mercy, granting him favor in the sight of the prison warden.

22 The warden put all the prisoners under Joseph's care, and he was responsible for everything done there.

23 The warden trusted Joseph completely, paying no attention to anything under his charge, because the Lord was with Joseph and gave him success in everything he did.

Key Lessons from Genesis 39

- God's Presence Brings Success: Even as a slave, Joseph prospered because the Lord was with him. True success comes from God's hand, not circumstances.

- Integrity in Temptation: Joseph refused Potiphar’s wife, showing that sin is not just against people but ultimately against God.
- Flee From Sin: Joseph didn’t argue or linger—he fled. The best way to resist temptation is to run from it.
- False Accusations Happen: Even when innocent, Joseph was slandered. God’s people must be prepared for lies and injustice.
- Faithfulness in Suffering: Though unjustly imprisoned, Joseph remained faithful, and God honored him with favor and responsibility.
- God’s Plan Is Unstoppable: Joseph’s path seemed like setbacks—slavery and prison—but both were steppingstones in God’s greater plan to exalt him and save many lives.

Genesis 40 – Crawford Standard Bible

“Joseph Interprets Dreams in Prison”

Pharaoh’s Officers in Prison

- 1 Some time later, the cupbearer and the baker of the king of Egypt offended their master, the Pharaoh.
- 2 Pharaoh was angry with these two officials—the chief cupbearer and the chief baker.
- 3 He put them in custody in the house of the captain of the guard, in the same prison where Joseph was confined.
- 4 The captain of the guard assigned them to Joseph, and he attended them. After they had been in custody for some time,

Dreams in the Night

- 5 Each of the two men—the cupbearer and the baker—had a dream the same night, and each dream had its own meaning.
- 6 When Joseph came to them in the morning, he saw that they looked troubled.
- 7 He asked Pharaoh’s officials who were in custody with him, “Why do you look so sad today?”
- 8 They replied, “We both had dreams, but there is no one to interpret them.” Joseph said, “Do not interpretations belong to God? Tell me your dreams.”

The Cupbearer’s Dream

- 9 So the chief cupbearer told Joseph his dream: “In my dream I saw a vine in front of me.
- 10 On the vine were three branches. As it budded, it blossomed, and its clusters ripened into grapes.
- 11 Pharaoh’s cup was in my hand, and I took the grapes, squeezed them into Pharaoh’s cup, and put the cup in his hand.”
- 12 Joseph said, “This is the interpretation: The three branches are three days.
- 13 Within three days Pharaoh will lift up your head and restore you to your position. You will put Pharaoh’s cup in his hand just as you used to do when you were his cupbearer.

14 But when all goes well with you, remember me and show me kindness. Mention me to Pharaoh and get me out of this prison.

15 For I was forcibly taken from the land of the Hebrews, and even here I have done nothing to deserve being put in this dungeon.”

The Baker’s Dream

16 When the chief baker saw that Joseph had given a favorable interpretation, he said to Joseph, “I too had a dream. On my head were three baskets of bread.

17 In the top basket were all kinds of baked goods for Pharaoh, but the birds were eating them out of the basket on my head.”

18 Joseph said, “This is the interpretation: The three baskets are three days.

19 Within three days Pharaoh will lift off your head and impale you on a pole. The birds will eat away your flesh.”

Fulfillment on Pharaoh’s Birthday

20 On the third day, Pharaoh’s birthday, he held a feast for all his officials. He lifted up the heads of the chief cupbearer and the chief baker in the presence of his officials.

21 He restored the chief cupbearer to his position, so that he once again put the cup into Pharaoh’s hand.

22 But he hanged the chief baker, just as Joseph had said in his interpretation.

23 The chief cupbearer, however, did not remember Joseph; he forgot him.

Key Lessons from Genesis 40

- God Is the Source of Wisdom: Joseph reminded the prisoners that only God can give true interpretations, showing his reliance on the Lord.
- Faithfulness in Prison: Even in captivity, Joseph served faithfully and ministered to others, proving that no place is too dark to live for God.
- Encouragement to the Downcast: Joseph cared enough to ask why the men were sad, and God used him to bring clarity to their confusion.
- Hope and Disappointment: Joseph’s plea to be remembered shows his humanity, yet he was forgotten. Sometimes people let us down, but God’s timing never fails.
- God’s Sovereignty Over Life and Death: The different outcomes for the cupbearer and baker remind us that God rules over restoration and judgment alike.
- Preparation for God’s Plan: Joseph’s ability to interpret dreams in prison prepared him for the day he would interpret Pharaoh’s dreams and rise to power.

Genesis 41 – Crawford Standard Bible

“Joseph Rises to Power in Egypt”

Pharaoh’s Dreams

1 Two full years later, Pharaoh had a dream: he was standing by the Nile River.

2 Out of the river came seven sleek, fat cows, and they grazed among the reeds.

3 After them, seven other cows came up—gaunt and ugly, the worst Pharaoh had ever seen in Egypt.

4 The thin, ugly cows ate up the seven fat cows. Then Pharaoh woke up.

5 He fell asleep again and dreamed a second time: seven healthy heads of grain, full and good, were growing on a single stalk.

6 After them, seven thin heads of grain, scorched by the east wind, sprouted.

7 The thin heads swallowed up the seven healthy, full heads. Then Pharaoh woke up—it had been a dream.

8 In the morning, Pharaoh was troubled, so he sent for all the magicians and wise men of Egypt. He told them his dreams, but no one could interpret them.

The Cupbearer Remembers Joseph

9 Then the chief cupbearer said to Pharaoh, “Today I remember my offenses.

10 Pharaoh was once angry with me and the chief baker, and he imprisoned us in the house of the captain of the guard.

11 We each had a dream the same night, and a young Hebrew, a servant of the captain of the guard, interpreted them for us.

12 He told us what each dream meant, and it happened exactly as he said—I was restored to my position, and the baker was executed.”

13 So Pharaoh sent for Joseph, and they quickly brought him out of the dungeon. Joseph shaved, changed his clothes, and came before Pharaoh.

Joseph Interprets Pharaoh’s Dreams

15 Pharaoh said to Joseph, “I had a dream, and no one can interpret it. But I’ve heard that when you hear a dream, you can explain it.”

16 Joseph replied, “It is not in me, but God will give Pharaoh the answer he seeks.”

17 Pharaoh told Joseph: “In my dream, I was standing by the Nile.

18 Seven fat cows came up and grazed there.

19 Then seven thin, ugly cows came up after them—the worst I had ever seen.

20 They ate the seven fat cows,

21 yet after devouring them, they were just as ugly as before. Then I woke up.

22 In another dream, I saw seven full heads of grain on one stalk.

23 Then seven thin, withered heads—scorched by the east wind—sprang up.

24 The thin heads swallowed the full heads. I told this to the magicians, but none could explain it.”

25 Joseph said, “Pharaoh’s dreams are one and the same. God has revealed to Pharaoh what He is about to do.

26 The seven good cows are seven years, and the seven good heads of grain are seven years—it is the same dream.

27 The seven thin, ugly cows and the seven worthless heads of grain scorched by the east wind are seven years of famine.

28 This is what I told Pharaoh: God has shown what He is about to do.

29 Seven years of great abundance are coming throughout the land of Egypt.

30 But seven years of famine will follow them, so severe that all the abundance will be forgotten.

31 The famine will ravage the land.

32 The dream was given twice because the matter is firmly decided by God, and He will soon bring it about.

33 “Now let Pharaoh find a discerning and wise man and put him in charge of the land of Egypt.

34 Let Pharaoh appoint commissioners to collect a fifth of the harvest during the seven years of abundance.

35 Have them gather all the food of the good years and store up grain under Pharaoh’s authority, to be kept in the cities for food.

36 This stockpile will serve as a reserve during the seven years of famine, so the country will not be ruined.”

Joseph’s Promotion

37 The plan seemed good to Pharaoh and all his officials.

38 So Pharaoh asked, “Can we find anyone like this man, one in whom is the Spirit of God?”

39 Then Pharaoh said to Joseph, “Since God has revealed all this to you, there is no one so discerning and wise as you.

40 You shall be in charge of my palace, and all my people will submit to your word. Only in regard to the throne will I be greater than you.”

41 Pharaoh said to Joseph, “I now put you in charge of all the land of Egypt.”

42 Pharaoh took his signet ring and placed it on Joseph’s finger. He dressed him in fine linen and put a gold chain around his neck.

43 He had him ride in the second chariot, and men shouted before him, “Bow the knee!” Pharaoh made him ruler over all Egypt.

44 Pharaoh said, “I am Pharaoh, but without your word no one in Egypt will lift a hand or foot.”

45 Pharaoh gave Joseph the name Zaphenath-Paneah and gave him Asenath, daughter of Potiphera, priest of On, as his wife. Joseph went throughout Egypt.

Joseph’s Sons

46 Joseph was thirty years old when he entered Pharaoh’s service. Afterward, he traveled through the land.

47 During the seven years of abundance, the land produced plentifully.

48 Joseph collected all the food produced and stored it in the cities, putting in each city the food grown in the fields around it.

49 Joseph stored up grain like the sand of the sea—it was so much that he stopped keeping records.

50 Before the famine came, Joseph had two sons by Asenath, daughter of Potiphara, priest of On.

51 Joseph named the firstborn Manasseh, saying, “God has made me forget all my hardship and my father’s household.”

52 The second he named Ephraim, saying, “God has made me fruitful in the land of my suffering.”

The Famine Begins

53 The seven years of abundance came to an end,

54 and the seven years of famine began, just as Joseph had said. There was famine in all lands, but in Egypt there was food.

55 When all Egypt was hungry, the people cried to Pharaoh for food. Then Pharaoh told all the Egyptians, “Go to Joseph and do what he tells you.”

56 When the famine had spread over the whole land, Joseph opened the storehouses and sold grain to the Egyptians.

57 And all the world came to Egypt to buy grain from Joseph, because the famine was severe everywhere.

Key Lessons from Genesis 41

- God Reveals and Establishes His Will: Pharaoh’s double dream showed that God’s plan was certain and unchangeable.
- Promotion Comes from God: Joseph moved from prison to palace because God’s favor rested on him.
- Wisdom in Stewardship: Joseph’s plan to store grain during abundance teaches the importance of preparing for hard times.
- God Turns Affliction into Fruitfulness: Joseph named his sons as testimonies—forgetting past pain (Manasseh) and thriving in hardship (Ephraim).
- Nations Blessed Through God’s People: Egypt and the world were saved because of God’s work through Joseph, foreshadowing Christ as Savior of the nations.
- Faithfulness Leads to Fruitfulness: Joseph’s years of faithfulness in obscurity prepared him for global influence.

Genesis 42 – Crawford Standard Bible

“Famine Brings Joseph’s Brothers to Egypt”

Jacob Sends His Sons to Buy Grain

1 When Jacob saw there was grain in Egypt, he said to his sons, “Why are you standing here looking at each other?”

2 I have heard there is grain in Egypt. Go down and buy some for us so we may live and not die.”

3 So ten of Joseph’s brothers went down to buy grain in Egypt.

4 But Jacob would not send Benjamin with them, for he feared some harm might happen to him.

5 The sons of Israel went to buy food because the famine was severe in the land of Canaan.

6 Joseph was the ruler over the land; he sold grain to everyone. When Joseph’s brothers came, they bowed down to him with their faces to the ground.

Joseph Recognizes His Brothers

7 Joseph saw his brothers and recognized them, but he acted like a stranger and spoke harshly to them. “Where do you come from?” he asked.

They answered, “From the land of Canaan, to buy food.”

8 Joseph already knew who they were, but they did not know him.

9 He remembered his dreams about them and said to them, “You are spies. You have come to see the weakness of the land.”

10 They answered, “No, my lord! Your servants have come to buy food.

11 We are all the sons of one man. We are honest men; we are not spies.”

12 But Joseph insisted, “No—you have come to see the land’s weakness.”

13 They explained, “We are twelve brothers, the sons of one father. One is missing, and the youngest is at home with our father now.”

14 Joseph said, “That explains it. You are spies. You will be proved: by the life of Pharaoh, you shall not leave here unless your youngest brother comes.”

15 “Send one of your number to bring your youngest brother, and let the rest be kept in prison to prove your words. If you are honest men, one of you may be held here as security.”

16 So he put them all in custody for three days.

Simeon Is Bound; Money Restored

17 On the third day Joseph said to them, “Do this and live, for I fear God:

18 If you are honest men, let one of your brothers be kept here in my prison while you go carry grain for your households.

19 But bring your youngest brother back to me so I can be sure you are not spies. Then I will release your brother and let you trade in the land.”

20 They agreed and did as Joseph commanded.

21 As they walked away, they confessed to one another, “We are guilty about our brother. We saw his suffering when he begged us, and we would not listen—that is why this trouble has come upon us.”

22 Reuben said, “Didn’t I tell you not to sin against the boy? But you would not listen. Now his blood is required of us.”

23 They did not know Joseph understood them, because he spoke to them through an interpreter.

24 Joseph turned away and wept, then came back and spoke to them, taking Simeon and binding him before their eyes.

25 He ordered that their sacks be filled with grain, their money returned to each man's sack, and that provisions be given them for the trip. So they loaded their donkeys and left.

The Brothers Discover the Money

26 As one of them opened his sack to feed his donkey at an inn, he saw his money lying at the top of the sack.

27 “My money has been returned; here it is in my sack!” he cried. Their hearts failed them, and they were terrified, saying to each other, “What is this that God has done to us?”

28 They returned to Jacob in Canaan and told him everything that had happened:

29 “The man who rules the land spoke harshly to us and took us for spies.

30 We told him we are honest men—twelve brothers, sons of one father; one is missing, and the youngest is at home.

31 He said, ‘Leave one of your brothers here as a guarantee and take food for your households; bring the youngest to me and then I will know you are not spies and will let your brother go and you may trade in the land.’”

32 As they opened the sacks, each man found his money in the top of his sack. When Jacob and his sons saw the money, they were afraid.

33 Jacob said, “You have robbed me of my children! Joseph is gone, Simeon is gone, and now you want to take Benjamin too. Everything is against me.”

34 Reuben answered, “Put my two sons to death if I do not bring Benjamin back to you. Put him in my care and I will bring him to you.”

35 But Jacob refused, “My son shall not go down with you. If harm comes to him on the road and he dies, you will bring down my gray hair with sorrow to the grave.”

Key Lessons from Genesis 42

- Famine Exposes Need and Fear: Hard times force families to act. Jacob's fear for Benjamin shows how anxiety can shape our decisions.
- God Allows Testing for Good: Joseph's treatment of his brothers (unknown to them) begins a test that will reveal hearts and lead to repentance. God can use trials to bring truth to light.
- Past Sin Bears Consequences: The brothers remembered how they treated Joseph; guilt and fear followed them. Unconfessed wrongdoing resurfaces in hard times.
- Providence in Seeming Cruelty: Joseph's sternness and the returned money are part of God's larger plan—what looks like punishment may be preparation.

- Promises and Responsibility: Reuben’s vow to risk his sons to secure Benjamin shows desperation; rash promises can cost much.
- Protect the Vulnerable: Jacob’s refusal to send Benjamin shows a father’s protective love—but undue fear can also trap families in paralysis rather than move them toward moral repair.

Genesis 43 – Crawford Standard Bible

“Joseph Feasts with His Brothers”

Judah Offers Himself as Surety

1 The famine grew worse in the land.

2 When they had eaten all the grain they had brought from Egypt, their father said, “Go back and buy us a little more food.”

3 But Judah said to him, “The man warned us strongly, ‘You shall not see my face unless your brother is with you.’

4 If you will send our brother with us, we will go down and buy you food.

5 But if you will not send him, we will not go, for the man said, ‘You shall not see my face unless your brother is with you.’”

6 Israel said, “Why did you bring this trouble on me by telling the man you had another brother?”

7 They replied, “The man asked carefully about us and our family. He asked, ‘Is your father still alive? Do you have another brother?’ We answered his questions honestly. How could we know he would say, ‘Bring your brother down’?”

8 Then Judah said to his father Israel, “Send the boy with me, and we will go at once, so that we may live and not die—we and you and our children.

9 I will be responsible for him. You may hold me accountable forever. If I do not bring him back and set him before you, I will bear the blame.

10 If we had not delayed, we could have already gone and returned twice by now.”

Jacob Yields to Send Benjamin

11 Then their father Israel said, “If it must be so, then do this: take some of the best products of the land—a little balm, honey, spices, myrrh, pistachio nuts, and almonds—as a gift to the man.

12 Take double the money with you, for you must return the money that was found in the mouths of your sacks. Perhaps it was a mistake.

13 Take your brother also, and go back to the man.

14 May God Almighty grant you mercy before him so that he will release your other brother and Benjamin. But if I am bereaved, I am bereaved.”

Joseph Welcomes His Brothers

15 So the men took the gift, and double the money, and Benjamin, and they hurried down to Egypt and stood before Joseph.

16 When Joseph saw Benjamin with them, he said to the steward of his house, “Take these men to my house, slaughter an animal, and prepare a meal; they are to dine with me at noon.”

17 The man did as Joseph said and brought them into his house.

18 But they were afraid and said, “We have been brought here because of the money returned in our sacks. He wants to accuse us and make us his slaves and take our donkeys.”

19 So they went to Joseph’s steward at the entrance of the house

20 and said, “Please, sir, we came down the first time to buy food.

21 At the inn, when we opened our sacks, each of us found his money in full weight in his sack. We have brought it back with us.

22 We also brought additional money to buy food. We do not know who put our money in our sacks.”

23 The steward replied, “Peace to you, do not be afraid. Your God and the God of your father has given you treasure in your sacks. I received your money.” Then he brought Simeon out to them.

24 The steward took them into Joseph’s house, gave them water to wash their feet, and provided feed for their donkeys.

25 They prepared the gift for Joseph’s arrival at noon, for they had heard they were to dine there.

Joseph’s Deep Emotion for Benjamin

26 When Joseph came home, they presented their gift to him and bowed to the ground.

27 He asked them about their welfare and said, “Is your father well, the old man you told me about? Is he still alive?”

28 They answered, “Your servant our father is alive and well.” Then they bowed low.

29 When Joseph looked up and saw his brother Benjamin, his own mother’s son, he asked, “Is this your youngest brother, the one you told me about?” Then he said, “God be gracious to you, my son.”

30 Deeply moved, Joseph hurried out and sought a place to weep. He went into his private room and wept there.

31 After washing his face, he came out and controlled himself. “Serve the food,” he said.

32 They served him by himself, the brothers by themselves, and the Egyptians by themselves, for Egyptians could not eat with Hebrews—it was detestable to them.

33 The brothers were seated before him in order of age, from the firstborn to the youngest. They looked at each other in astonishment.

34 Joseph sent portions to them from his own table, but Benjamin’s portion was five times larger than anyone else’s. So they feasted and drank freely with him.

Key Lessons from Genesis 43

- Faith Tested by Hardship: Jacob had to release Benjamin into God’s hands. Trust in God often requires surrender of what we fear losing.

- Judah’s Transformation: Judah steps up as surety for Benjamin, showing growth and responsibility compared to earlier failures.
- God’s Providence in Fear: What the brothers feared (being accused of theft) turned into God’s provision—He had arranged their steps.
- Joseph’s Hidden Compassion: Joseph’s tears show the balance between wisdom (testing his brothers) and love (longing for reconciliation).
- Benjamin’s Favor: Benjamin receiving more foreshadows God’s sovereign choice and hints at the theme of grace—unmerited favor poured out.
- Mercy Over Justice: Instead of punishment, Joseph showed kindness, preparing the way for restoration of his broken family.

Genesis 44 – Crawford Standard Bible

“Judah Pleads for Benjamin”

The Silver Cup in Benjamin’s Sack

1 Joseph gave these instructions to the steward of his house: “Fill the men’s sacks with as much grain as they can carry, and put each man’s silver back in the mouth of his sack.

2 Put my silver cup in the mouth of the youngest one’s sack, along with the silver for his grain.” So the steward did as Joseph commanded.

3 At dawn, the men were sent on their way with their donkeys.

4 They had not gone far from the city when Joseph said to his steward, “Go after them at once. When you catch them, say to them, ‘Why have you repaid good with evil?

5 Isn’t this the cup my master drinks from, and also uses for divination? You have done a wicked thing.’”

6 When the steward caught up with them, he repeated these words.

7 But they said to him, “Why does my lord say such things? Far be it from us, your servants, to do anything like that!

8 We even brought back to you from the land of Canaan the silver we found in the mouths of our sacks. Why would we steal silver or gold from your master’s house?

9 If any of us is found to have it, he will die; and the rest of us will become my lord’s slaves.”

10 The steward replied, “Very well, but only the one who is found to have the cup will become my slave. The rest of you will go free.”

11 Each one quickly lowered his sack to the ground and opened it.

12 The steward searched, beginning with the oldest and ending with the youngest—and the cup was found in Benjamin’s sack.

13 At this, they tore their clothes in grief. Then they loaded their donkeys and returned to the city.

Judah Steps Forward

14 Joseph was still in his house when Judah and his brothers came in, and they fell to the ground before him.

15 Joseph said, “What is this you have done? Don’t you know that a man like me can find things out by divination?”

16 “What can we say to my lord?” Judah replied. “What can we say? How can we prove our innocence? God has uncovered your servants’ guilt. We are now my lord’s slaves—we ourselves and the one who was found to have the cup.”

17 But Joseph said, “Far be it from me to do such a thing! Only the man who was found to have the cup will become my slave. The rest of you, go back to your father in peace.”

18 Then Judah stepped forward and said, “Please, my lord, let your servant speak a word to you. Do not be angry with your servant, though you are equal to Pharaoh himself.

19 My lord asked his servants, ‘Do you have a father or a brother?’

20 And we answered, ‘We have an aged father, and there is a young son born to him in his old age. His brother is dead, and he is the only one left of his mother’s children, and his father loves him.’

21 Then you said to us, ‘Bring him down to me so I can see him for myself.’

22 And we said to my lord, ‘The boy cannot leave his father; if he leaves him, his father will die.’

23 But you told your servants, ‘Unless your youngest brother comes down with you, you will not see my face again.’

24 When we went back to your servant my father, we told him what you had said.

25 Then our father said, ‘Go back and buy us a little more food.’

26 But we said, ‘We cannot go down unless our youngest brother is with us. We cannot see the man’s face unless our youngest brother is with us.’

27 Your servant my father said to us, ‘You know that my wife bore me two sons.

28 One of them went away from me, and I said, “He has surely been torn to pieces.” I have not seen him since.

29 If you take this one from me too and harm comes to him, you will bring my gray head down to the grave in misery.’

30 So now, if the boy is not with us when I go back to your servant my father—and his life is closely bound up with the boy’s life—

31 when he sees that the boy isn’t there, he will die. Your servants will bring the gray head of our father down to the grave in sorrow.

32 I, your servant, guaranteed the boy’s safety to my father. I said, ‘If I do not bring him back to you, I will bear the blame before you all my life.’

33 Now then, please let your servant remain here as my lord’s slave in place of the boy, and let the boy return with his brothers.

34 For how can I go back to my father if the boy is not with me? No! Do not let me see the misery that would come upon my father.”

Key Lessons from Genesis 44

- Sin Exposed: The brothers see God’s hand in exposing their guilt, even though they did not literally steal. Past sins often resurface until repentance and reconciliation occur.
- Judah’s Transformation: Once the brother who suggested selling Joseph, Judah now offers himself as a substitute for Benjamin. This points forward to Christ, who became our substitute.
- God’s Providence in Testing: Joseph’s test revealed the brothers’ hearts. Trials often uncover whether we have truly changed.
- Family Bonds and Love: Judah’s plea shows the deep love between father and son, reminding us of the cost of breaking trust in families.
- Foreshadowing Christ’s Sacrifice: Judah’s willingness to stand in Benjamin’s place prefigures Jesus’ willingness to take our punishment and set us free.

Genesis 45 – Crawford Standard Bible

“Joseph Reveals Himself”

Joseph Breaks Down and Reveals His Identity

1 Joseph could no longer control himself in front of everyone standing around him. He cried out, “Have everyone leave my presence!” So no one remained with him when Joseph revealed himself to his brothers.

2 He wept so loudly that the Egyptians heard him, and word of it reached Pharaoh’s household.

3 Joseph said to his brothers, “I am Joseph! Is my father still alive?” But his brothers were speechless and terrified to be in his presence.

4 Then Joseph said, “Please come closer to me.” So they came near. And he said, “I am Joseph, your brother, the one you sold into Egypt.

5 But don’t be upset or angry with yourselves for selling me here, because God sent me ahead of you to preserve life.

6 For two years now the famine has ravaged the land, and five more years remain without plowing or harvest.

7 But God sent me ahead of you to preserve for you a remnant on earth and to save your lives by a great deliverance.

8 So then, it was not you who sent me here, but God. He made me like a father to Pharaoh, lord of his entire household, and ruler of all Egypt.

Joseph Sends for His Father

9 “Now hurry back to my father and tell him, ‘This is what your son Joseph says: God has made me lord of all Egypt. Come down to me; don’t delay.

10 You shall live in the land of Goshen and be near me—you, your children and grandchildren, your flocks and herds, and all you have.

11 I will provide for you there, because five years of famine are still coming. Otherwise you and your household and all who belong to you will become destitute.’

12 You can see for yourselves, and so can my brother Benjamin, that it is truly I who am speaking to you.

13 Tell my father about all the honor I have received in Egypt and everything you have seen. Bring my father here quickly.”

14 Then he embraced his brother Benjamin and wept, and Benjamin wept on his neck.

15 Joseph kissed all his brothers and wept over them. Afterward, his brothers were finally able to talk with him.

Pharaoh’s Favor

16 News spread through Pharaoh’s palace: “Joseph’s brothers have come.” Pharaoh and his officials were pleased.

17 Pharaoh said to Joseph, “Tell your brothers, ‘Load your animals and return to the land of Canaan.

18 Bring your father and your families back to me. I will give you the best of the land of Egypt, and you will enjoy the fat of the land.’

19 You are also instructed to take wagons from Egypt for your children and your wives, and bring your father here.

20 Don’t worry about your belongings, for the best of all Egypt will be yours.”

21 So Israel’s sons did this. Joseph gave them wagons as Pharaoh had commanded, and provisions for their journey.

22 To each of them he gave a set of clothes, but to Benjamin he gave three hundred pieces of silver and five sets of clothes.

23 He also sent to his father ten donkeys loaded with the best things of Egypt, and ten female donkeys loaded with grain, bread, and provisions for the journey.

24 Then Joseph sent his brothers away, and as they left he said, “Do not quarrel on the way.”

Jacob Learns the Truth

25 So they went up from Egypt and returned to their father Jacob in the land of Canaan.

26 They told him, “Joseph is still alive! In fact, he is ruler over all Egypt.” Jacob was stunned; he did not believe them.

27 But when they told him everything Joseph had said, and when he saw the wagons Joseph had sent to carry him, the spirit of their father Jacob revived.

28 And Israel said, “Enough! My son Joseph is still alive. I will go and see him before I die.”

Key Lessons from Genesis 45

- God's Sovereignty in Suffering: What the brothers meant for evil, God used for good (v. 5–8). Our pain can be part of God's greater plan.
- Forgiveness Frees: Joseph's forgiveness lifted guilt from his brothers and restored relationship. Forgiveness brings healing to both sides.
- God Provides Through People: Joseph became the instrument God used to save his family. God often works through others to meet our needs.
- Grace Is Greater Than Guilt: Joseph wept and embraced his brothers, showing that love triumphs over betrayal when God's mercy rules the heart.
- Revival Through Hope: Jacob's spirit revived when he believed Joseph was alive. God restores joy when hope is renewed.

Genesis 46 – Crawford Standard Bible

“Jacob Goes to Egypt”

God Speaks at Beersheba

1 Israel set out with everything he owned. When he reached Beersheba, he offered sacrifices to the God of his father Isaac.

2 God spoke to Israel in a vision at night and said, “Jacob, Jacob.” He replied, “Here I am.”

3 God said, “I am God, the God of your father. Do not be afraid to go down to Egypt, for there I will make you into a great nation.

4 I will go with you into Egypt, and I will surely bring you back again. And Joseph's own hand will close your eyes.”

Jacob's Family Moves to Egypt

5 Jacob left Beersheba, and his sons carried their father, their children, and their wives in the wagons Pharaoh had sent.

6 They took with them their livestock and possessions acquired in Canaan, and Jacob's whole family went to Egypt—

7 his sons and grandsons, his daughters and granddaughters—all his descendants.

The Family of Israel

8 These are the names of the sons of Israel (Jacob) who went to Egypt: Reuben, Jacob's firstborn.

9 The sons of Reuben: Hanoch, Pallu, Hezron, and Carmi.

10 The sons of Simeon: Jemuel, Jamin, Ohad, Jachin, Zohar, and Shaul (born to a Canaanite woman).

11 The sons of Levi: Gershon, Kohath, and Merari.

12 The sons of Judah: Er, Onan, Shelah, Perez, and Zerah (though Er and Onan died in Canaan). The sons of Perez: Hezron and Hamul.

13 The sons of Issachar: Tola, Puah, Jashub, and Shimron.

14 The sons of Zebulun: Sered, Elon, and Jahleel.

15 These were the children born to Jacob by Leah in Paddan-Aram, along with their sister Dinah—33 in all.

16 The sons of Gad: Zephon, Haggi, Shuni, Ezbon, Eri, Arodi, and Areli.

17 The sons of Asher: Imnah, Ishvah, Ishvi, Beriah, and their sister Serah. The sons of Beriah: Heber and Malkiel.

18 These were the children of Zilpah (the servant given to Leah by her father Laban)—16 in all.

19 The sons of Rachel, Jacob's wife: Joseph and Benjamin.

20 In Egypt, Joseph had two sons born to him by Asenath, the daughter of Potiphera, priest of On—Manasseh and Ephraim.

21 The sons of Benjamin: Bela, Beker, Ashbel, Gera, Naaman, Ehi, Rosh, Muppim, Huppim, and Ard.

22 These were the children of Rachel—14 in all.

23 The son of Dan: Hushim.

24 The sons of Naphtali: Jahzeel, Guni, Jezer, and Shillem.

25 These were the sons born to Bilhah (the servant given to Rachel by her father Laban)—7 in all.

26 Altogether, those who went to Egypt with Jacob—his direct descendants, not counting his sons' wives—numbered 66.

27 With Joseph's two sons born in Egypt, the members of Jacob's family who went to Egypt totaled 70.

Jacob and Joseph Reunite

28 Jacob sent Judah ahead to Joseph to get directions to Goshen. When they arrived there,

29 Joseph prepared his chariot and went to meet his father Israel. As soon as Joseph appeared, he threw his arms around his father and wept for a long time.

30 Israel said to Joseph, "Now I am ready to die, since I have seen your face and know you are still alive."

Preparing to Meet Pharaoh

31 Joseph said to his brothers and his father's household, "I will go up and tell Pharaoh, 'My brothers and my father's household, who were living in Canaan, have come to me.

32 The men are shepherds; they take care of livestock, and they have brought their flocks and herds and everything they own.'

33 When Pharaoh calls you in and asks, 'What is your occupation?'

34 you should answer, 'Your servants have taken care of livestock from our youth until now, just as our fathers did.' Then you will be allowed to settle in the land of Goshen." (For shepherds were detestable to the Egyptians.)

Key Lessons from Genesis 46

- God’s Assurance in Transition: Jacob faced uncertainty about leaving the Promised Land, but God promised His presence in Egypt and future restoration.
- Family Legacy Matters: Every descendant is named, showing the importance of each individual in God’s covenant plan.
- Reunion and Renewal: Joseph’s embrace of his father shows the healing power of restored relationships after years of loss.
- God Works Through Occupation: Their identity as shepherds, despised by Egyptians, set them apart and prepared them to remain distinct as God’s people.
- Obedience Brings Peace: Jacob obeyed God’s call to Egypt, and this step was crucial in fulfilling the covenant promise.

Genesis 47 – Crawford Standard Bible

“Jacob Before Pharaoh and Joseph’s Leadership”

Jacob’s Family Before Pharaoh

1 Joseph went to Pharaoh and said, “My father and brothers have arrived from Canaan with their flocks and herds and everything they own. They are now in the land of Goshen.”

2 Joseph chose five of his brothers and presented them to Pharaoh.

3 Pharaoh asked them, “What is your occupation?” They replied, “Your servants are shepherds, just as our fathers were.”

4 They added, “We have come to live here for a time because the famine is severe in Canaan, and our flocks have no pasture. Please allow us to live in Goshen.”

5 Pharaoh said to Joseph, “Your father and brothers have come to you.

6 The land of Egypt is before you. Settle them in the best part, in Goshen. And if any of them are capable men, put them in charge of my livestock.”

Jacob Blesses Pharaoh

7 Then Joseph brought his father Jacob in and presented him to Pharaoh. Jacob blessed Pharaoh.

8 Pharaoh asked Jacob, “How old are you?”

9 Jacob said, “The years of my pilgrimage are 130. Few and difficult have been the years of my life, and they do not equal the years of my fathers.”

10 Then Jacob blessed Pharaoh again and went out from his presence.

Joseph Provides for His Family

11 Joseph gave his father and brothers property in the best land of Egypt, in the district of Rameses, as Pharaoh commanded.

12 He provided food for his father, his brothers, and his entire household according to the number of their children.

Joseph Manages the Famine

13 There was no food in all the land, for the famine was very severe. Egypt and Canaan wasted away from hunger.

14 Joseph collected all the money in Egypt and Canaan in exchange for grain and brought it into Pharaoh's palace.

15 When the money was gone, the Egyptians came to Joseph and said, "Give us food. Why should we die before your eyes? Our money is gone."

16 Joseph said, "Bring your livestock, and I will give you food in exchange."

17 So they brought their horses, flocks, herds, and donkeys, and Joseph supplied them with food in exchange for all their livestock that year.

18 The next year they said, "We cannot hide the truth: our money is gone, and our livestock belongs to you. Nothing remains but our bodies and our land.

19 Buy us and our land in exchange for food, and we will become Pharaoh's servants. Give us seed so that the land will not become desolate."

20 So Joseph bought all the land of Egypt for Pharaoh. Every Egyptian sold their fields because the famine was severe, and the land became Pharaoh's.

21 Joseph reduced the people to servitude, moving them into cities from one end of Egypt to the other.

22 However, he did not acquire the land of the priests, because they received a regular allotment from Pharaoh and had food provided.

23 Joseph said to the people, "Today I have bought you and your land for Pharaoh. Here is seed so you can plant the fields.

24 But when the crops come in, give a fifth to Pharaoh. The other four parts are for you, your households, and your children."

25 They said, "You have saved our lives. May we find favor in your eyes; we will be Pharaoh's servants."

26 Joseph established it as law in Egypt that a fifth of the produce belonged to Pharaoh. Only the land of the priests did not become Pharaoh's.

Jacob Nears Death

27 Israel settled in Goshen in Egypt. They acquired property, grew in number, and became very prosperous.

28 Jacob lived in Egypt seventeen years, and his total lifespan was 147 years.

29 When the time came for him to die, he called Joseph and said, "If I have found favor in your eyes, put your hand under my thigh and promise to show me kindness and faithfulness. Do not bury me in Egypt.

30 When I rest with my fathers, carry me out of Egypt and bury me where they are buried." Joseph answered, "I will do as you say."

31 Jacob said, “Swear to me.” And Joseph swore to him. Then Israel bowed in worship at the head of his bed.

Key Lessons from Genesis 47

- God Provides Through Leadership: Joseph’s wisdom saved Egypt and his family, showing how God can use one faithful person to bless many.
- Faith in Exile: Jacob acknowledged his life was a pilgrimage—reminding us that we too are strangers on the earth, looking for a better country (Hebrews 11:13–16).
- Gratitude and Responsibility: The Egyptians accepted Pharaoh’s rule because Joseph preserved their lives, teaching us to value provision even when it comes with responsibility.
- Blessing and Witness: Jacob twice blessed Pharaoh, showing that even the aged patriarch still carried God’s covenant authority.
- Hope Beyond Egypt: Jacob’s insistence on being buried in Canaan reflects faith in God’s promises, not Egypt’s prosperity.

Genesis 48 – Crawford Standard Bible

“Jacob Blesses Ephraim and Manasseh”

Jacob Prepares to Bless Joseph’s Sons

1 Some time later Joseph was told, “Your father is sick.” So Joseph took his two sons, Manasseh and Ephraim, with him.

2 When Jacob was told, “Your son Joseph has come to you,” Israel gathered his strength and sat up in bed.

3 Jacob said to Joseph, “God Almighty appeared to me at Luz in Canaan and blessed me.

4 He said, ‘I will make you fruitful and multiply you, and I will make you into a community of nations. I will also give this land to your descendants as an everlasting possession.’

5 Now your two sons, Ephraim and Manasseh, who were born to you in Egypt before I came here, are mine. Just as Reuben and Simeon are mine, so shall they be mine.

6 Any children born to you after them will be yours; they will share in the inheritance of their brothers.

7 As for me, when I was returning from Paddan, your mother Rachel died along the way in Canaan, not far from Ephrath. I buried her there beside the road to Ephrath (that is, Bethlehem).”

Jacob Meets Ephraim and Manasseh

8 When Israel saw Joseph’s sons, he asked, “Who are these?”

9 Joseph replied, “They are my sons whom God has given me here.” Israel said, “Bring them to me so I may bless them.”

10 Now Israel’s eyesight was failing because of age, so he could not see clearly. Joseph brought his sons close, and Israel kissed and embraced them.

11 Israel said to Joseph, “I never expected to see your face again, and now God has let me see your children too.”

12 Then Joseph removed them from Israel’s knees and bowed facedown to the ground.

Jacob Crosses His Hands

14 But Israel reached out his right hand and placed it on Ephraim’s head, though he was the younger, and his left hand on Manasseh’s head. He crossed his hands deliberately, for Manasseh was the firstborn.

Jacob’s Blessing

15 Then he blessed Joseph and said:

“The God before whom my fathers Abraham and Isaac walked,
the God who has been my shepherd all my life to this day,

16 the Angel who has redeemed me from all harm—
may He bless these boys.

May they be called by my name and the names of my fathers Abraham and Isaac, and may they increase greatly upon the earth.”

17 When Joseph saw his father’s right hand on Ephraim’s head, he was displeased. He tried to move it from Ephraim’s head to Manasseh’s head.

18 Joseph said, “No, my father, this one is the firstborn. Put your right hand on his head.”

19 But his father refused. “I know, my son, I know,” he said. “Manasseh will also become a people, and he too will be great. But his younger brother will be greater, and his descendants will become a multitude of nations.”

20 So he blessed them that day, saying, “By you Israel will pronounce this blessing: ‘May God make you like Ephraim and Manasseh.’” So he put Ephraim before Manasseh.

Jacob’s Final Words to Joseph

21 Then Israel said to Joseph, “I am about to die, but God will be with you and will bring you back to the land of your fathers.

22 To you, I give one portion more than your brothers, the land I took from the Amorites with my sword and bow.”

Key Lessons from Genesis 48

- God’s Covenant Faithfulness: Jacob recalls God’s promises at Luz, showing how the Lord’s word continues through generations.

- Adoption into the Promise: By adopting Ephraim and Manasseh, Jacob grafts Joseph’s sons fully into Israel’s inheritance, prefiguring how God adopts us into His family (Romans 8:15–17).
- God’s Surprising Choice: The blessing of the younger over the older reminds us that God’s plans often overturn human expectations (see also Jacob over Esau, David over his brothers).
- God Our Shepherd and Redeemer: Jacob’s blessing names God as both shepherd and redeemer, themes fulfilled ultimately in Christ, the Good Shepherd (John 10:11).
- Faith Beyond Death: Jacob speaks of God bringing them back to the land, affirming his confidence in God’s promises even as he nears death.

Genesis 49 – Crawford Standard Bible

“Jacob’s Final Blessings and Prophecies”

Jacob Calls His Sons

1 Then Jacob called his sons and said, “Gather around, so I can tell you what will happen to you in days to come.

2 Gather and listen, sons of Jacob; listen to Israel your father.”

The First Sons Judged

3 “Reuben, you are my firstborn, my strength, the first sign of my power—excelling in honor, excelling in might.

4 But you are as unstable as water, and you will not excel, because you went up to your father’s bed and defiled it.”

5 “Simeon and Levi are brothers; their swords are weapons of violence.

6 Let me not enter their council; let me not join their assembly. For in their anger they killed men, and in their cruelty they hamstrung oxen.

7 Cursed be their anger, so fierce, and their fury, so cruel! I will scatter them in Jacob and disperse them in Israel.”

Judah’s Kingship

8 “Judah, your brothers will praise you; your hand will be on the neck of your enemies; your father’s sons will bow down to you.

9 You are a lion’s cub, Judah; you return from the prey, my son. Like a lion he crouches and lies down; like a lioness—who dares to rouse him?

10 The scepter will not depart from Judah, nor the ruler’s staff from between his feet, until the One comes to whom it belongs; and the nations will obey him.

11 He will tether his donkey to a vine, his colt to the choicest branch; he will wash his garments in wine, his robes in the blood of grapes.

12 His eyes will be darker than wine, his teeth whiter than milk.”

The Other Tribes

13 “Zebulun will live by the seashore and become a haven for ships; his border will extend toward Sidon.

14 Issachar is a strong donkey lying down between two burdens.

15 When he sees how good his resting place is, and how pleasant the land, he will bend his shoulder to the load and submit to forced labor.

16 Dan will provide justice for his people as one of the tribes of Israel.

17 Dan will be a serpent by the roadside, a viper along the path, that bites the horse’s heels so that its rider tumbles backward.

18 I look for your salvation, O Lord!

19 Gad will be attacked by a band of raiders, but he will attack them at their heels.

20 Asher’s food will be rich; he will provide delicacies fit for a king.

21 Naphtali is a doe set free that bears beautiful fawns and speaks lovely words.

Joseph’s Blessing

22 “Joseph is a fruitful vine, a fruitful vine near a spring, whose branches climb over a wall.

23 With bitterness archers attacked him; they shot at him with hostility.

24 But his bow remained steady, his strong arms stayed limber, because of the Mighty One of Jacob, because of the Shepherd, the Rock of Israel,

25 because of your father’s God, who helps you, because of the Almighty, who blesses you with blessings of the heavens above, blessings of the deep below, blessings of the breast and womb.

26 The blessings of your father are greater than the blessings of the ancient mountains, than the bounty of the age-old hills. Let all these rest on the head of Joseph, on the crown of the prince among his brothers.”

Benjamin’s Blessing

27 “Benjamin is a ravenous wolf; in the morning he devours the prey, in the evening he divides the plunder.”

Jacob’s Death and Burial Instructions

28 All these are the twelve tribes of Israel, and this is what their father said to them as he blessed them, giving each the blessing appropriate to him.

29 Then Jacob gave them instructions: “I am about to be gathered to my people. Bury me with my fathers in the cave in the field of Ephron the Hittite,

30 the cave in the field of Machpelah, near Mamre in Canaan, which Abraham bought along with the field as a burial place from Ephron the Hittite.

31 There Abraham and Sarah were buried, there Isaac and Rebekah were buried, and there I buried Leah.

32 The field and the cave were bought from the Hittites.”

33 When Jacob had finished giving instructions to his sons, he drew his feet up into the bed, breathed his last, and was gathered to his people.

Key Lessons from Genesis 49

- Reuben, Simeon, Levi: Sin has consequences; unchecked passion and anger destroy a legacy.
- Judah: The line of kings and ultimately the Messiah (Shiloh/Christ) would come through Judah—pointing to Jesus as the Lion of Judah (Revelation 5:5).
- Joseph: His trials did not break him because God was his strength. The abundant blessings on him prefigure Christ’s exaltation after suffering.
- Benjamin: Fierce and warrior-like, showing God gives different roles to each tribe.
- Faith in Death: Jacob died with confidence in God’s promises, asking to be buried in the land of Canaan, the land of promise.

Genesis 50 – Crawford Standard Bible

“The Death of Jacob and Joseph”

Joseph Mourns for His Father

1 Joseph fell upon his father’s face, wept over him, and kissed him.

2 Then Joseph commanded his servants, the physicians, to embalm his father. So the physicians embalmed Israel.

3 Forty days were required for the embalming, and the Egyptians mourned for him seventy days.

Jacob’s Burial

4 When the days of mourning had passed, Joseph spoke to Pharaoh’s household:

5 “If I have found favor in your eyes, please speak to Pharaoh. Tell him, ‘My father made me swear, saying, “I am about to die. Bury me in the tomb I dug for myself in the land of Canaan.” Now let me go and bury my father, and I will return.’”

6 Pharaoh said, “Go and bury your father, just as he made you swear.”

7 So Joseph went to bury his father, and with him went all Pharaoh’s officials, the elders of his household, and the elders of the land of Egypt,

8 along with Joseph’s household, his brothers, and his father’s household. Only their children and their flocks and herds were left in Goshen.

9 Chariots and horsemen also went up with him—a very large company.

10 When they reached the threshing floor of Atad, beyond the Jordan, they mourned loudly and bitterly. Joseph observed seven days of mourning for his father.

11 When the Canaanites saw the mourning at the threshing floor of Atad, they said, “This is a profound mourning of the Egyptians.” Therefore the place was named Abel-mizraim, which is beyond the Jordan.

12 Jacob’s sons did for him as he commanded:

13 They carried him to the land of Canaan and buried him in the cave of the field of Machpelah, near Mamre, which Abraham had bought as a burial site from Ephron the Hittite.

14 After burying their father, Joseph returned to Egypt with his brothers and all who had gone with him.

Joseph Reassures His Brothers

15 When Joseph’s brothers saw that their father was dead, they said, “What if Joseph holds a grudge against us and pays us back for all the wrong we did to him?”

16 So they sent word to Joseph, saying, “Before he died, your father gave these instructions:

17 ‘Say to Joseph, I ask you to forgive your brothers the sins and the wrongs they committed in treating you so badly.’ Now please forgive the sins of the servants of the God of your father.” When their message came to him, Joseph wept.

18 His brothers came and threw themselves down before him. “We are your servants,” they said.

19 But Joseph replied, “Do not be afraid. Am I in the place of God?”

20 You meant evil against me, but God intended it for good, to accomplish what is now being done, the saving of many lives.

21 So then, do not be afraid. I will provide for you and your children.” And he reassured them and spoke kindly to them.

The Death of Joseph

22 Joseph stayed in Egypt, he and his father’s family. He lived 110 years.

23 He saw Ephraim’s children to the third generation, and also the children of Machir son of Manasseh were placed on Joseph’s knees.

24 Then Joseph said to his brothers, “I am about to die. But God will surely come to your aid and take you up from this land to the land He promised on oath to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.”

25 And Joseph made the Israelites swear an oath and said, “God will surely come to your aid, and then you must carry my bones up from this place.”

26 Joseph died at the age of 110. They embalmed him and placed him in a coffin in Egypt.

Key Lessons from Genesis 50

- Faithful Mourning: Joseph honored his father’s request to be buried in Canaan, showing loyalty to God’s promises of the land.
- Forgiveness: Joseph reassured his brothers that though they intended evil, God used it for good—a powerful picture of God’s sovereignty.
- God’s Purposes: Even in betrayal and suffering, God can turn evil into blessing for His people.

- Hope Beyond Death: Both Jacob and Joseph looked to God’s covenant promises beyond Egypt, pointing forward to the Exodus and ultimately to Christ.

Introduction to the Book of Exodus

Crawford Standard Bible (CSB)

Title Meaning

The name Exodus means "exit" or "departure." It refers to the central event of the book: God delivering His people out of slavery in Egypt.

Author

Traditionally attributed to Moses, who not only led Israel out of Egypt but also recorded their journey and God’s covenant with them.

Purpose of the Book

Exodus is not just a historical account of deliverance. It is the story of redemption, covenant, and the presence of God dwelling with His people.

The book answers the question:

“Who is the LORD, and why should I obey Him?”

And it shows, through mighty acts, that the LORD is the one true God, more powerful than all the gods of Egypt, worthy of trust and worship.

Key Themes

1. Deliverance from Bondage

God rescues His people from slavery through signs, wonders, and divine judgment. The Exodus becomes the foundation for understanding salvation throughout the rest of Scripture.

2. Covenant Relationship

At Mount Sinai, God makes a covenant with Israel. They are to be His people, and He will be their God. This covenant includes the Ten Commandments and detailed laws to govern their society and worship.

3. God’s Presence with His People

Through the tabernacle, God chooses to dwell with Israel, leading them by a cloud by day and fire by night. Exodus shows that true freedom is not just leaving Egypt—it’s walking in relationship with God.

4. Judgment and Mercy

Pharaoh hardens his heart, and God responds with increasing judgments. But to Israel, God reveals grace, protection, and provision, especially through the blood of the Passover lamb.

Outline of the Book

1. Chapters 1–6: Oppression in Egypt

Israel becomes numerous, and Pharaoh enslaves them. God calls Moses from the burning bush.

2. Chapters 7–12: God’s Judgment on Egypt

The ten plagues demonstrate God's power. The first Passover is instituted. God redeems Israel through the blood of the lamb.

3. Chapters 13–18: The Journey to Sinai

God leads Israel through the Red Sea, defeats Pharaoh, provides manna and water, and reveals His power through victories and miracles.

4. Chapters 19–24: Covenant at Mount Sinai

God gives the Ten Commandments and the Book of the Covenant. Israel agrees to obey God’s law.

5. Chapters 25–40: The Tabernacle and God’s Glory

God gives instructions for the tabernacle, but Israel sins with the golden calf. Yet God forgives and fills the completed tabernacle with His glory.

Key Verse

Exodus 6:6 (CSB)

“Therefore, say to the people of Israel: I am the LORD. I will rescue you from your slavery, free you from oppression, redeem you with a powerful arm and great acts of judgment.”

Spiritual Message

Exodus is a picture of our salvation.

We, like Israel, are in bondage to sin.

God, in His mercy, sends a deliverer.

By the blood of the Lamb, we are spared.

We pass through water, receive His Word, and walk with His presence toward the Promised Land.

Exodus Chapter 1

Israel Becomes a Great Nation in Egypt

1 These are the names of the sons of Israel (that is, Jacob) who came to Egypt with their families:

2 Reuben, Simeon, Levi, and Judah;

3 Issachar, Zebulun, and Benjamin;

4 Dan and Naphtali; Gad and Asher.

5 In total, Jacob had seventy descendants in Egypt, including Joseph, who was already there.

6 Over time, Joseph and all his brothers died, along with their entire generation.

7 But their descendants—the Israelites—were fruitful and increased rapidly. They multiplied so greatly that they filled the land and became very powerful.

A New Pharaoh Oppresses Israel

8 Then a new king came to power in Egypt who didn't know anything about Joseph.

9 He said to his people, "Look, the Israelites have become too numerous and too strong for us.

10 We need to act wisely to keep them from growing even more. If war breaks out, they might join our enemies, fight against us, and then escape the land."

11 So the Egyptians appointed slave masters over them to oppress them with hard labor. The Israelites were forced to build the cities of Pithom and Rameses as supply centers for Pharaoh.

12 But the more they were oppressed, the more they multiplied and spread. And the Egyptians began to fear the Israelites even more.

13 So they made their lives bitter with harsh slavery. They forced them to mix mortar and make bricks and do all kinds of backbreaking work in the fields.

14 Everything the Egyptians made them do was cruel and relentless.

Pharaoh Orders the Death of Hebrew Boys

15 Then the king of Egypt spoke to the Hebrew midwives, whose names were Shiphrah and Puah.

16 He told them, "When you help the Hebrew women give birth, look at the baby as it's being delivered. If it's a boy, kill him. If it's a girl, let her live."

17 But because the midwives feared God, they refused to obey the king's command. They let the boys live.

18 So the king summoned them and asked, "Why have you done this? Why did you let the boys live?"

19 The midwives replied, "Hebrew women are not like Egyptian women. They're strong and give birth quickly before we even arrive!"

20 So God was good to the midwives, and the Israelites continued to multiply and become very strong.

21 And because the midwives feared God, He gave them families of their own.

22 Then Pharaoh gave this command to all his people: "Throw every newborn Hebrew boy into the Nile River. But you may let the girls live."

Key Lessons from Exodus 1

- God's Promises Cannot Be Broken – Israel multiplied in Egypt despite oppression, proving God's covenant with Abraham would stand firm.
- Opposition Strengthens God's People – The more Pharaoh afflicted Israel, the more they grew, showing that trials often produce greater resilience and blessing.
- Fear of God Above Man – The Hebrew midwives chose to obey God rather than Pharaoh, demonstrating courage and faithfulness in the face of danger.
- God Rewards the Faithful – Because of their obedience, God blessed the midwives with families, reminding us that He honors those who honor Him.
- Evil Opposes God's Purposes – Pharaoh's decree to kill Hebrew sons reveals the enemy's ongoing attempt to destroy God's people and plan.
- God's Providence in Dark Times – Even in suffering, God was preparing the way for deliverance through Moses, showing that His salvation plan is always at work.

Exodus Chapter 2

The Birth of Moses

1 Now a man from the tribe of Levi married a Levite woman.

2 She became pregnant and gave birth to a son. When she saw how beautiful he was, she hid him for three months.

3 But when she could no longer hide him, she made a basket from papyrus reeds and coated it with tar and pitch. Then she placed the baby in the basket and set it among the reeds along the bank of the Nile River.

4 His sister stood at a distance to see what would happen to him.

Moses Is Found by Pharaoh's Daughter

5 Soon Pharaoh's daughter came down to bathe in the river, and her attendants walked along the riverbank. When she saw the basket among the reeds, she sent one of her maids to get it.

6 When she opened it, she saw the baby—and the little boy was crying. She felt compassion and said, "This must be one of the Hebrew children."

7 Then the baby's sister approached Pharaoh's daughter and said, "Should I go and find one of the Hebrew women to nurse the baby for you?"

8 "Yes, do that," she replied. So the girl went and got the baby's own mother.

9 Pharaoh's daughter said to her, "Take this baby and nurse him for me. I will pay you." So the woman took her own baby and nursed him.

10 Later, when the child was older, his mother brought him back to Pharaoh's daughter, and he became her son. She named him Moses, saying, "I lifted him out of the water."

Moses Flees to Midian

11 Years later, when Moses had grown up, he went out to see his own people, the Hebrews. He saw how hard they were being forced to work. During his visit, he saw an Egyptian beating one of the Hebrew men.

12 After looking around to make sure no one was watching, Moses killed the Egyptian and hid the body in the sand.

13 The next day, he went out and saw two Hebrews fighting. He said to the one in the wrong, "Why are you hitting your fellow Hebrew?"

14 The man replied, "Who made you our ruler and judge? Are you going to kill me like you killed the Egyptian?"

Then Moses became afraid. "Surely everyone knows what I did," he thought.

15 And sure enough, Pharaoh heard what happened and tried to kill Moses. But Moses fled from Pharaoh and went to live in the land of Midian. He sat down beside a well.

Moses Marries in Midian

16 Now the priest of Midian had seven daughters. They came to draw water and fill the troughs to water their father's flock.

17 But some shepherds came and chased them away. Then Moses stood up, rescued them, and watered their flock.

18 When the girls returned to their father Reuel, he asked, "Why are you back so early today?"

19 They answered, "An Egyptian rescued us from the shepherds! He even drew water for us and watered the flock."

20 "Then where is he?" their father asked. "Why did you leave him there? Invite him to eat with us!"

21 Moses agreed to stay with the man, who gave his daughter Zipporah to Moses in marriage.

22 Later, she gave birth to a son, and Moses named him Gershom, saying, "I have been a foreigner in a strange land."

God Hears Israel's Cries

23 Years passed, and the king of Egypt died. But the Israelites continued to groan under their burden of slavery. They cried out for help, and their cry rose up to God.

24 God heard their groaning, and He remembered His covenant with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.
25 He looked down on the people of Israel and knew it was time to act.

Key Lessons from Exodus 2

- God Raises Deliverers in Humble Beginnings – Moses was born during a time of danger, yet God preserved him through ordinary people’s courage and faith.
- Faith and Courage of God’s People Matter – Moses’ parents hid him for three months, showing that faith sometimes requires quiet defiance of evil (Hebrews 11:23).
- God Works Through Unlikely Means – Pharaoh’s daughter rescued Moses, demonstrating that God can use even the household of the oppressor to fulfill His plan.
- God Shapes Leaders Through Preparation – Moses’ early life in Pharaoh’s palace and later years in Midian show that God trains His servants in both privilege and hardship.
- Compassion Reflects God’s Heart – Moses’ defense of his fellow Hebrew and protection of the Midianite women reveal a heart moved by justice, pointing to his future role as deliverer.
- God’s Timing Is Perfect – Though Israel’s cries continued for many years, God heard, remembered His covenant, and prepared to act at the appointed time.

Exodus Chapter 3

God Speaks to Moses from the Burning Bush

1 One day Moses was tending the flock of his father-in-law Jethro, the priest of Midian. He led the flock far into the wilderness and came to Horeb, the mountain of God.

2 There, the Angel of the LORD appeared to him in a blazing fire from the middle of a bush. Moses stared in amazement—though the bush was engulfed in flames, it wasn’t burning up.

3 “This is amazing,” Moses said to himself. “Why isn’t that bush burning up? I need to go and see this.”

4 When the LORD saw that Moses had come to look, God called to him from the middle of the bush, “Moses! Moses!”

Moses answered, “Here I am!”

5 “Don’t come any closer,” God said. “Take off your sandals, for you are standing on holy ground.

6 I am the God of your father—the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob.”

When Moses heard this, he covered his face, afraid to look at God.

God Calls Moses to Deliver Israel

7 Then the LORD said, “I have certainly seen the misery of My people in Egypt. I’ve heard them crying because of their slave drivers. I know how much they’re suffering.

8 So I have come down to rescue them from the Egyptians and lead them out of Egypt into a good and spacious land—a land flowing with milk and honey. It is the land of the Canaanites, Hittites, Amorites, Perizzites, Hivites, and Jebusites.

9 Look! The cry of the people of Israel has reached Me, and I've seen how harshly the Egyptians are oppressing them.

10 Now go, for I am sending you to Pharaoh. You must lead My people Israel out of Egypt.”

Moses Doubts and God Reassures

11 But Moses protested, “Who am I to go to Pharaoh and lead the people of Israel out of Egypt?”

12 God answered, “I will be with you. And this is your sign that I am the One who sent you: When you bring the people out of Egypt, you will worship God on this very mountain.”

13 But Moses said, “If I go to the people of Israel and tell them, ‘The God of your ancestors has sent me,’ they will ask, ‘What is His name?’ What should I tell them?”

14 God replied to Moses, “I AM WHO I AM.” Then He said, “Tell the people of Israel: I AM has sent me to you.”

15 God also said, “Say this to the people of Israel: ‘The LORD (the God of your ancestors, the God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob) has sent me to you.’ This is My name forever—this is how I am to be remembered in every generation.”

Instructions for Moses

16 “Now go and gather the elders of Israel. Tell them, ‘The LORD, the God of your ancestors—the God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob—has appeared to me. He said, “I have been watching closely, and I see how the Egyptians are treating you.

17 I promise to rescue you from your suffering in Egypt and bring you to a land flowing with milk and honey.”

18 The elders of Israel will listen to you. Then you and the elders must go to Pharaoh and say, ‘The LORD, the God of the Hebrews, has met with us. So please let us take a three-day journey into the wilderness to offer sacrifices to the LORD our God.’

19 But I know the king of Egypt won't let you go unless a mighty hand compels him.

20 So I will stretch out My hand and strike Egypt with all the wonders I will perform. After that, he will let you go.

21 I will cause the Egyptians to look favorably on you. When you leave, you won't go empty-handed.

22 Every Israelite woman will ask her Egyptian neighbor—and every foreign woman living in her house—for silver, gold, and clothing. You will dress your sons and daughters with them. In this way, you will strip Egypt of its wealth.”

Key Lessons from Exodus 3

- God Reveals Himself Personally – God appeared to Moses in the burning bush, showing that He calls His servants through divine encounter.
- God Calls Ordinary People – Moses was a shepherd in Midian, yet God chose him to deliver Israel, proving He equips the called.
- God’s Holiness Demands Reverence – Moses was told to remove his sandals, reminding us to approach God with humility and respect.
- God Knows His People’s Suffering – The Lord declared He had seen, heard, and knew the affliction of Israel, assuring us of His compassion and awareness.
- God Promises Deliverance – He not only heard Israel’s cries but also prepared a plan to bring them into a land flowing with milk and honey.
- God’s Name Reveals His Nature – By declaring “I AM WHO I AM,” God revealed His eternal, self-existent nature as the One who is faithful and unchanging.
- God Provides Proof for His Messengers – Signs and assurances were given to Moses so Israel would believe, showing God confirms His word with power.

Exodus Chapter 4

Moses Doubts Again

1 But Moses protested again, “What if they don’t believe me or listen to me? What if they say, ‘The LORD never appeared to you?’”

2 Then the LORD asked him, “What’s that in your hand?”

“A shepherd’s staff,” Moses replied.

3 “Throw it on the ground,” the LORD said. So Moses threw it down, and it became a snake! Moses jumped back.

4 Then the LORD told him, “Reach out and grab it by the tail.” So Moses reached out and grabbed it, and it turned back into a staff in his hand.

5 “Do this,” the LORD said, “so they will believe that the LORD, the God of their ancestors—the God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob—really has appeared to you.”

More Signs from God

6 Then the LORD said, “Now put your hand inside your cloak.” So Moses did, and when he took it out, his hand was white like snow with a skin disease.

7 “Now put your hand back into your cloak,” the LORD said. Moses did, and when he took it out again, it was restored like the rest of his skin.

8 “If they don’t believe you or listen to the first sign,” the LORD said, “they might believe the second.
9 And if they still don’t believe, take some water from the Nile River and pour it on the ground. The water you take will turn to blood on the ground.”

God Sends Aaron to Help Moses

10 But Moses pleaded, “O Lord, I’m not a good speaker. I’ve never been—neither in the past nor now. I stumble over my words.”

11 Then the LORD said, “Who makes a person’s mouth? Who decides whether people speak or don’t speak, hear or don’t hear, see or don’t see? Isn’t it I, the LORD?”

12 Now go! I will be with you as you speak, and I will teach you what to say.”

13 But Moses still said, “Please, Lord, send someone else!”

14 Then the LORD became angry with Moses. “What about your brother, Aaron the Levite?” He said. “I know he can speak well. Look, he’s already on his way to meet you, and he’ll be glad to see you.

15 Talk to him and tell him what to say. I’ll be with both of you as you speak, and I’ll instruct you both in what to do.

16 Aaron will speak for you to the people. He’ll act as your mouth, and you’ll act as God to him.

17 And don’t forget to take your shepherd’s staff with you—use it to perform the signs I’ve shown you.”

Moses Returns to Egypt

18 So Moses went back home to Jethro, his father-in-law. “Please let me return to my people in Egypt,” Moses said. “I want to see if they’re still alive.”

“Go in peace,” Jethro replied.

19 Before Moses left Midian, the LORD said to him, “Return to Egypt, for all those who wanted to kill you are now dead.”

20 So Moses took his wife and sons, put them on a donkey, and headed back to Egypt. He carried the staff of God in his hand.

21 The LORD told Moses, “When you arrive back in Egypt, perform all the miracles I’ve given you the power to do. But I will harden Pharaoh’s heart, and he will refuse to let the people go.

22 Then tell Pharaoh, ‘This is what the LORD says: Israel is My firstborn son.

23 I told you to let My son go so he can worship Me. But since you’ve refused, now I will kill your firstborn son.’”

God Confronts Moses

24 On the journey, at a place where they stopped for the night, the LORD confronted Moses and was about to kill him.

25 But Zipporah took a flint knife, cut off her son's foreskin, and touched Moses' feet with it. "Now you're a bridegroom of blood to me," she said.

26 (She said this because of the circumcision.) Then the LORD let Moses alone.

Aaron Joins Moses

27 Now the LORD had said to Aaron, "Go out into the wilderness to meet Moses." So Aaron went and met him at the mountain of God, and he kissed him.

28 Moses told Aaron everything the LORD had said and showed him the miraculous signs the LORD had commanded him to do.

29 Then Moses and Aaron returned to Egypt and called together all the elders of Israel.

30 Aaron told them everything the LORD had said to Moses, and he performed the signs as the people watched.

31 And the people believed. When they heard that the LORD had seen their suffering and was coming to rescue them, they bowed down and worshiped.

Key Lessons from Exodus 4

- God Equips the Called – When Moses doubted, God gave him signs with the staff, his hand, and water turned to blood, proving that He provides what is needed for His mission.
- Excuses Do Not Remove Responsibility – Moses tried to avoid God's call by pointing to his lack of eloquence, but God reminded him that He created the mouth and enables speech.
- God Allows Partnership in Service – Because of Moses' fear, God appointed Aaron as his spokesman, showing that God often provides co-laborers in His work.
- God Demands Obedience – The incident where God confronted Moses over his son's circumcision shows that His servants must live in covenant obedience before leading others.
- God Confirms His Word – Aaron and the elders of Israel believed after seeing the signs, proving that God validates His message through His power.
- Worship Is the Goal of Deliverance – Moses' mission was not only to free Israel from slavery but to lead them to serve and worship the living God.

Exodus Chapter 5

Moses and Aaron Confront Pharaoh

1 Afterward, Moses and Aaron went to Pharaoh and said, “This is what the LORD, the God of Israel, says: ‘Let My people go so they may hold a festival to Me in the wilderness.’”

2 But Pharaoh responded, “Who is the LORD that I should obey Him and let Israel go? I don’t know the LORD, and I won’t let Israel go!”

3 Then they said, “The God of the Hebrews has met with us. Please let us take a three-day journey into the wilderness to offer sacrifices to the LORD our God. If we don’t, He might strike us with a plague or with the sword.”

4 But the king of Egypt replied, “Moses and Aaron, why are you distracting the people from their work? Get back to your labor!”

5 Pharaoh also said, “Look, the people of the land are already so numerous, and now you’re trying to make them rest from their duties!”

Pharaoh Increases the Israelites' Burdens

6 That same day, Pharaoh gave this order to the Egyptian slave drivers and Israelite foremen:

7 “Don’t supply the people with straw for making bricks like you did before. Make them gather their own straw.

8 But don’t reduce the number of bricks they’re required to make. They’re lazy—that’s why they’re crying out, ‘Let us go offer sacrifices to our God.’

9 Load them down with more work. That’ll keep them too busy to listen to lies.”

10 So the slave drivers and foremen went out and told the people, “This is what Pharaoh says: I’m not giving you any more straw.

11 Go get it yourselves, wherever you can find it. But you must still produce the same number of bricks.”

12 So the people scattered all over Egypt to gather stubble for straw.

13 The slave drivers kept pressuring them: “Hurry! Finish your day’s work, just as when straw was provided!”

14 Then the Israelite foremen—who had been put in charge by Pharaoh’s slave drivers—were beaten. They were asked, “Why haven’t you met your quota yesterday or today like before?”

The Foremen Complain to Pharaoh and Moses

15 So the Israelite foremen went to Pharaoh and pleaded, “Why are you treating us this way?

16 We’re given no straw, but we’re still told to make bricks. We’re being beaten, even though the fault is with your own people!”

17 But Pharaoh shouted, “You’re lazy—lazy! That’s why you’re saying, ‘Let us go and sacrifice to the LORD.’”

18 Now get back to work! No straw will be given to you, and you must still deliver the full quota of bricks!”

19 The Israelite foremen realized they were in serious trouble when they were told, “You must not reduce the number of bricks each day.”

20 As they left Pharaoh’s court, they found Moses and Aaron waiting to meet them.

21 They said, “May the LORD judge you and punish you! You’ve made us stink in Pharaoh’s eyes and in the eyes of his officials. You’ve given them a sword to kill us!”

Moses Cries Out to God

22 Then Moses went back to the LORD and protested, “Lord, why have You brought this trouble on Your people? Why did You even send me?”

23 Ever since I came to Pharaoh as You told me, he’s been even more brutal to Your people. And You haven’t rescued them at all!”

Key Lessons from Exodus 5

- Obedience Can Bring Opposition – When Moses and Aaron obeyed God and confronted Pharaoh, the result was harsher treatment for Israel, showing that obedience may first bring trials before victory.
- The Enemy Resists God’s Word – Pharaoh refused to acknowledge the Lord and hardened his heart, revealing the natural opposition of the world to God’s authority.
- Faith Is Tested Under Pressure – Israel’s suffering increased, and they questioned Moses, teaching us that faith often wavers when trials deepen.
- God’s Servants Must Persevere – Moses cried out to God when the people turned against him, but he remained in his calling, showing that leaders must endure discouragement.
- Deliverance Is God’s Work, Not Man’s – The situation worsened to remind Israel and Moses that freedom would come not by human effort but by God’s mighty hand.

Exodus Chapter 6

God Reassures Moses

1 Then the LORD said to Moses, “Now you will see what I will do to Pharaoh. When I raise My powerful hand against him, he will let the people go. In fact, he’ll drive them out of his land himself!”

2 God also said to Moses, “I am the LORD.

3 I appeared to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob as God Almighty, but I didn’t reveal My name, ‘the LORD,’ to them as I’m revealing it to you now.

4 I established My covenant with them, promising to give them the land of Canaan—the land where they lived as foreigners.

5 And now I've heard the groans of the Israelites, enslaved by the Egyptians, and I am remembering My covenant.

6 So give this message to the people of Israel:

'I am the LORD.

I will rescue you from your slavery in Egypt.

I will free you from your oppression.

I will redeem you with My mighty power and great acts of judgment.

7 I will claim you as My own people, and I will be your God.

Then you will know that I am the LORD your God, who has freed you from the oppression of Egypt.

8 And I will bring you into the land I swore to give to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.

I will give it to you as your own possession.

I am the LORD.'"

The People Refuse to Listen

9 So Moses told this to the Israelites, but they refused to listen to him. Their spirits were crushed by their harsh slavery and suffering.

God Sends Moses Back to Pharaoh

10 Then the LORD said to Moses,

11 "Go tell Pharaoh, the king of Egypt, to let the people of Israel leave his land."

12 But Moses argued again, "My own people won't even listen to me. How can I expect Pharaoh to? I'm not a good speaker."

Genealogy of Moses and Aaron

13 But the LORD spoke to Moses and Aaron and gave them orders for the Israelites and for Pharaoh. He commanded them to lead the Israelites out of Egypt.

14 These were the heads of the families of the tribes of Israel:

From the tribe of Reuben (Israel's firstborn):

Hanok, Pallu, Hezron, and Carmi.

These were the clans of Reuben.

15 From the tribe of Simeon:

Jemuel, Jamin, Ohad, Jakin, Zohar, and Shaul (whose mother was a Canaanite).

These were the clans of Simeon.

16 From the tribe of Levi, who lived to be 137 years old:

His sons were Gershon, Kohath, and Merari.

17 The descendants of Gershon included Libni and Shimei.

18 Kohath's descendants were Amram, Izhar, Hebron, and Uzziel.
Kohath lived 133 years.

19 Merari's sons were Mahli and Mushi.
These were the clans of the Levites.

20 Amram married his father's sister, Jochebed, and she gave birth to Aaron and Moses.
Amram lived 137 years.

21 The sons of Izhar were Korah, Nepheg, and Zicri.

22 The sons of Uzziel were Mishael, Elzaphan, and Sithri.

23 Aaron married Elisheba (daughter of Amminadab and sister of Nahshon). They had four sons:
Nadab, Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar.

24 The sons of Korah were Assir, Elkanah, and Abiasaph.
These became the clans of the Korahites.

25 Eleazar, Aaron's son, married one of the daughters of Putiel. They had a son named Phinehas.
These are the ancestors of the Levite families, listed by their clans.

God Appoints Moses and Aaron

26 It was this same Aaron and Moses to whom the LORD said, "Lead the people of Israel out of Egypt, like an army."

27 They were the ones who spoke to Pharaoh, king of Egypt, to ask him to free the Israelites—this was Moses and Aaron.

Moses' Objection Repeated

28 When the LORD spoke to Moses in Egypt,

29 He said, "I am the LORD. Tell Pharaoh everything I tell you."

30 But Moses replied again, "I'm not a good speaker. Why would Pharaoh listen to me?"

Key Lessons from Exodus 6

- God Reassures His Servant – When Moses was discouraged, God reminded him of His covenant and power, showing that leaders need continual encouragement from the Lord.
- God's Covenant Is Unchanging – The Lord declared Himself as the God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, affirming His promises to give Israel the land of Canaan.
- God Acts for His Name's Sake – He revealed His name, Yahweh, to show that His deliverance of Israel was tied to His character and faithfulness.

- God Redeems His People with Power – The promise of rescue came with strong language: “I will free you, redeem you, and take you as My people,” pointing to His mighty redemption through Christ.
- Discouragement Blinds the Heart – Israel did not listen because of their anguish and cruel slavery, reminding us that suffering can dull faith.
- God Uses Imperfect Servants – Though Moses and Aaron doubted their abilities, God still called them to confront Pharaoh, proving He works through weakness.

Exodus Chapter 7

Moses and Aaron Go Before Pharaoh

1 Then the LORD said to Moses, “Look, I’ve made you like God to Pharaoh, and your brother Aaron will be your prophet.

2 You must say everything I command you, and Aaron will speak to Pharaoh. He will tell him to let the Israelites leave his land.

3 But I will harden Pharaoh’s heart, and though I will multiply My signs and wonders in Egypt, 4 Pharaoh will not listen to you. Then I will strike Egypt with great acts of judgment and bring My people, the Israelites, out of Egypt like an army.

5 When I raise My hand against Egypt and bring the Israelites out, the Egyptians will know that I am the LORD.”

6 So Moses and Aaron did exactly as the LORD commanded them.

7 Moses was 80 years old, and Aaron was 83 when they spoke to Pharaoh.

Aaron’s Staff Becomes a Serpent

8 Then the LORD said to Moses and Aaron,

9 “Pharaoh will demand, ‘Prove yourselves by working a miracle.’ When he does, say to Aaron, ‘Throw down your staff in front of Pharaoh,’ and it will become a serpent.”

10 So Moses and Aaron went to Pharaoh and did just as the LORD commanded. Aaron threw down his staff before Pharaoh and his officials, and it became a serpent.

11 Then Pharaoh called in his wise men and sorcerers. These Egyptian magicians did the same thing using their secret arts.

12 Each one threw down his staff, and they also turned into serpents. But Aaron’s staff swallowed up their staffs.

13 Still, Pharaoh’s heart was hard, and he refused to listen to them—just as the LORD had said.

The First Plague: Water Turned to Blood

14 Then the LORD said to Moses, “Pharaoh’s heart is stubborn; he still refuses to let the people go.

15 Go to Pharaoh in the morning as he goes down to the river. Stand on the riverbank to meet him, and take in your hand the staff that turned into a serpent.

16 Then say to him, ‘The LORD, the God of the Hebrews, has sent me to say: Let My people go so they can worship Me in the wilderness. But until now, you have not listened.’

17 This is what the LORD says: ‘By this, you will know that I am the LORD. Watch! I will strike the water of the Nile with this staff in my hand, and the river will turn to blood.

18 The fish in the Nile will die, the river will stink, and the Egyptians will not be able to drink its water.’”

19 Then the LORD said to Moses, “Tell Aaron: Take your staff and raise your hand over the waters of Egypt—all its rivers, canals, ponds, and reservoirs. Everywhere, the water will turn to blood, even the water stored in wooden bowls and stone jars.”

20 So Moses and Aaron did just as the LORD commanded. Aaron raised his staff and struck the water of the Nile while Pharaoh and his officials watched. The entire river turned to blood!

21 The fish died, the water stank, and the Egyptians couldn’t drink from the river. Blood was everywhere throughout Egypt.

22 But the Egyptian magicians used their secret arts to do the same thing, so Pharaoh’s heart remained hard. He refused to listen to Moses and Aaron, just as the LORD had said.

23 Then Pharaoh turned and went back into his palace. He didn’t take the miracle seriously.

24 All the Egyptians dug along the riverbank to find drinking water, because they couldn’t drink from the Nile.

25 Seven full days passed after the LORD struck the river.

Key Lessons from Exodus 7

- God Confirms His Authority – The Lord made Moses “like God” to Pharaoh and Aaron his prophet, showing that His messengers speak with divine authority.
- God Demonstrates His Power Over Egypt – Through signs and wonders, God proved His supremacy over Pharaoh, Egypt’s magicians, and their false gods.
- Hearts Can Grow Harder in Rebellion – Pharaoh’s heart was hardened despite witnessing miracles, teaching that rejection of God often deepens resistance.
- God’s Judgments Are Purposeful – The first plague, turning the Nile to blood, struck at Egypt’s lifeline and their gods, revealing that God’s judgments expose false worship.
- Imitation Cannot Match God’s Power – The magicians replicated some signs but could not reverse them, proving that Satan’s counterfeits are limited and powerless against God.

- Obedience Unlocks God’s Power – Moses and Aaron did just as the Lord commanded, showing that miracles follow faithful obedience.

Exodus Chapter 8

The Second Plague: Frogs

1 Then the LORD said to Moses, “Go to Pharaoh and say, ‘This is what the LORD says: Let My people go so they may worship Me.

2 If you refuse to let them go, I will send a plague of frogs across your entire land.

3 The Nile will overflow with frogs. They will come up into your palace, your bedroom, your bed, the houses of your officials and your people. They’ll even be in your ovens and kneading bowls!

4 Frogs will jump on you, your people, and all your officials.’”

5 Then the LORD said to Moses, “Tell Aaron: Stretch out your hand with your staff over the rivers, canals, and ponds, and cause frogs to come up on the land of Egypt.”

6 So Aaron stretched out his hand over the waters of Egypt, and frogs came up and covered the land.

7 But the magicians did the same thing with their magic, making frogs come up on the land as well.

8 Then Pharaoh summoned Moses and Aaron and begged, “Pray to the LORD to take the frogs away from me and my people. Then I’ll let your people go and offer sacrifices to the LORD.”

9 Moses replied, “You choose the time. Tell me when I should pray for you, your officials, and your people. Then the frogs will disappear from your homes, your officials’ houses, and your people. They will stay only in the Nile.”

10 “Do it tomorrow,” Pharaoh said.

“All right,” Moses said. “It will happen just as you’ve said. Then you’ll know there’s no one like the LORD our God.

11 The frogs will leave your houses, your officials, and your people. They’ll remain only in the Nile.”

12 So Moses and Aaron left Pharaoh, and Moses cried out to the LORD about the frogs He had sent.

13 And the LORD did what Moses asked—the frogs in the houses, courtyards, and fields died.

14 The Egyptians piled them up in heaps, and the land stank.

15 But when Pharaoh saw that there was relief, he hardened his heart again and refused to listen to Moses and Aaron—just as the LORD had said.

The Third Plague: Gnats

16 Then the LORD said to Moses, “Tell Aaron: Stretch out your staff and strike the dust of the ground. It will turn into gnats throughout the land of Egypt.”

17 So they did this. When Aaron stretched out his hand and struck the dust with his staff, gnats came upon people and animals. All the dust throughout Egypt turned into gnats!

18 The magicians tried to do the same thing using their secret arts, but this time they failed. The gnats were everywhere—on people and animals alike.

19 “This is the finger of God,” the magicians said to Pharaoh. But Pharaoh’s heart remained hard, and he wouldn’t listen—just as the LORD had said.

The Fourth Plague: Flies

20 Then the LORD said to Moses, “Get up early in the morning and stand in Pharaoh’s way as he goes to the river. Say to him, ‘This is what the LORD says: Let My people go so they may worship Me.

21 If you don’t, I will send swarms of flies on you, your officials, your people, and your homes. The houses of Egypt will be filled with flies, and the ground will be covered with them.

22 But on that day, I will treat the land of Goshen—where My people live—differently. No flies will be there. That way you will know that I, the LORD, am present even in the heart of your land.

23 I will make a clear distinction between My people and your people. This sign will happen tomorrow.”

24 And the LORD did exactly that. Thick swarms of flies poured into Pharaoh’s palace, his officials’ homes, and throughout Egypt. The land was ruined because of the flies.

Pharaoh Tries to Compromise

25 Then Pharaoh summoned Moses and Aaron. “Go ahead—offer sacrifices to your God,” he said, “but do it here in this land.”

26 But Moses replied, “That wouldn’t be right. The sacrifices we offer to the LORD our God would be detestable to the Egyptians. If we sacrifice in front of them what they hate, won’t they stone us?

27 We must take a three-day journey into the wilderness to offer sacrifices to the LORD our God, just as He commanded us.”

28 “Fine,” Pharaoh said. “I will let you go to offer sacrifices in the wilderness—but don’t go too far. And pray for me!”

29 Moses answered, “As soon as I leave you, I will pray to the LORD. Tomorrow, the swarms of flies will leave you, your officials, and your people. But don’t deceive us again by refusing to let the people go and sacrifice to the LORD.”

30 So Moses left Pharaoh and prayed to the LORD.

31 And the LORD did as Moses asked. The swarms of flies left Pharaoh, his officials, and his people—not a single fly remained.

32 But once again, Pharaoh hardened his heart and refused to let the people go.

Key Lessons from Exodus 8

- God Displays His Supremacy Over Creation – The plagues of frogs, gnats, and flies revealed God’s control over nature and exposed the weakness of Egypt’s gods.
- Evil Has Limits – Pharaoh’s magicians could mimic some wonders, but they could not create life, admitting, “This is the finger of God,” proving Satan’s power is limited.
- God Distinguishes His People – During the plague of flies, God spared the land of Goshen, showing His ability to protect and make a difference between His people and the world.
- Pharaoh’s Heart Was Deceitful – He repeatedly promised freedom but hardened his heart once relief came, warning us of the danger of insincere repentance.
- Judgment Exposes False Gods – Each plague directly challenged Egypt’s idols, teaching that God alone is worthy of worship.
- Partial Obedience Is Still Rebellion – Pharaoh offered compromises (sacrifice in Egypt, not going far), but God required full obedience, showing He accepts no half-measures.

Exodus Chapter 9

The Fifth Plague: Death of Livestock

1 Then the LORD said to Moses, “Go back to Pharaoh and tell him, ‘This is what the LORD, the God of the Hebrews, says: Let My people go so they may worship Me.

2 If you continue to hold them and refuse to let them go,

3 the hand of the LORD will bring a terrible plague on your livestock—on your horses, donkeys, camels, cattle, sheep, and goats.

4 But the LORD will again make a distinction between the livestock of Israel and the livestock of Egypt—not a single one of the Israelites’ animals will die.”

5 The LORD set the time and said, “Tomorrow the LORD will do this in the land.”

6 And the next day, the LORD did just as He said. All the Egyptians’ livestock died, but not one of the animals belonging to the Israelites died.

7 Pharaoh sent officials to investigate, and sure enough, not a single one of the Israelite animals was dead. But even so, Pharaoh’s heart remained hard, and he still refused to let the people go.

The Sixth Plague: Boils

8 Then the LORD said to Moses and Aaron, “Take handfuls of soot from a brick kiln, and have Moses toss it into the air while Pharaoh watches.

9 The soot will spread like fine dust across the land of Egypt, causing festering boils to break out on people and animals throughout the land.”

10 So they took soot from a kiln and stood before Pharaoh. Moses tossed it into the air, and boils broke out on the Egyptians and their animals.

11 Even the magicians could not stand before Moses because the boils were so painful. They were covered in boils just like everyone else.

12 But the LORD hardened Pharaoh's heart, and he refused to listen to them—just as the LORD had said to Moses.

The Seventh Plague: Hail

13 Then the LORD said to Moses, "Get up early in the morning and stand before Pharaoh. Say to him, 'This is what the LORD, the God of the Hebrews, says: Let My people go so they may worship Me.

14 If you don't, I will send more plagues on you and your officials and your people. Then you will know there is no one like Me in all the earth.

15 I could have struck you and wiped you off the earth.

16 But I have spared you for this reason: to show you My power and to make My name known throughout the earth.

17 But you still act arrogantly against My people and refuse to let them go.

18 So tomorrow at this time, I will send the worst hailstorm Egypt has ever seen, from the day it was founded until now.

19 Order your livestock and everything else in the fields to be brought inside. Every person or animal left outside will die when the hail falls.'"

20 Some of Pharaoh's officials took the LORD's warning seriously and quickly brought their servants and livestock in from the fields.

21 But others ignored the word of the LORD and left them out in the open.

Hail Strikes Egypt

22 Then the LORD said to Moses, "Raise your hand toward the sky so hail may fall on the land of Egypt—on people, animals, and crops throughout the land."

23 So Moses raised his staff toward the sky, and the LORD sent thunder and hail, and lightning struck the ground. The LORD sent a storm like Egypt had never seen.

24 The hail fell, and lightning flashed through it. It was a terrible storm, striking everything in the fields—people, animals, and plants alike. It shattered every tree in the fields.

25 The only place it didn't hail was in the land of Goshen, where the Israelites lived.

Pharaoh's Temporary Repentance

27 Then Pharaoh quickly summoned Moses and Aaron. "This time I've sinned," he said. "The LORD is right, and my people and I are wrong.

28 Please ask the LORD to stop this thunder and hail. I will let you go; you don't have to stay any longer."

29 Moses said, "As soon as I leave the city, I will lift my hands in prayer to the LORD. The thunder and hail will stop, so you will know that the earth belongs to the LORD.

30 But I know you and your officials still don't fear the LORD God."

31 (All the flax and barley were destroyed by the hail, because the barley was ripe and the flax was blooming.

32 But the wheat and spelt were not destroyed because they mature later.)

33 So Moses left Pharaoh and went out of the city. He lifted his hands to the LORD, and the thunder and hail stopped, and the rain no longer poured down.

34 But when Pharaoh saw that the rain, hail, and thunder had stopped, he and his officials sinned again. They hardened their hearts.

35 Just as the LORD had said through Moses, Pharaoh's heart was stubborn, and he refused to let the people go.

Key Lessons from Exodus 9

- God's Power Is Unmatched – The plagues of livestock disease, boils, and hail showed God's authority over life, health, and the forces of nature.
- God Makes a Distinction – Israel's livestock and land were spared while Egypt suffered, reminding us that God protects His covenant people.
- Rebellion Hardens the Heart – Pharaoh's refusal to repent after each plague revealed the progressive hardening that comes from resisting God.
- God Shows Mercy in Judgment – Before sending the hail, God warned Pharaoh, giving Egyptians the chance to shelter their animals and servants, showing His patience and justice.
- God's Judgments Reveal His Glory – The plagues were not random but designed so that Egypt would know there is no one like the Lord in all the earth.
- Selective Obedience Is Not Enough – Some Egyptians feared God's word and obeyed, while others ignored it to their ruin, showing that true faith is proven by action.
- Temporary Repentance Is Dangerous – Pharaoh admitted his sin and asked for prayer, but once the hail ceased, he hardened his heart again, revealing the danger of shallow repentance.

Exodus Chapter 10

The Eighth Plague: Locusts

1 Then the LORD said to Moses, "Go back to Pharaoh. I have hardened his heart and the hearts of his officials so I can display My signs among them.

2 I want you to be able to tell your children and grandchildren how I made a mockery of the Egyptians and performed signs among them, so you will know that I am the LORD."

3 So Moses and Aaron went to Pharaoh and said, “This is what the LORD, the God of the Hebrews, says: ‘How long will you refuse to humble yourself before Me? Let My people go so they may worship Me.

4 If you refuse, tomorrow I will bring locusts into your country.

5 They will cover the land so that you won’t even be able to see the ground. They will devour what little is left from the hail—including every tree still growing in your fields.

6 They will fill your houses and the houses of all your officials and people. Something like this has never happened in Egypt from the beginning of time until now.” Then Moses turned and left Pharaoh.

7 Pharaoh’s officials said to him, “How long will this man be a threat to us? Let the men go so they may worship the LORD their God. Don’t you see that Egypt is already ruined?”

8 So Pharaoh had Moses and Aaron brought back. “Go worship the LORD your God,” he said. “But tell me—just who will be going?”

9 Moses replied, “We will all go—young and old, sons and daughters, with our flocks and herds. We must all celebrate a festival to the LORD.”

10 Pharaoh retorted, “The LORD had better be with you if I ever let you take your families! Clearly, you’re bent on evil.

11 No! Only the men may go and worship the LORD. That’s what you’ve been asking for.” Then Pharaoh had them driven out of his presence.

Locusts Invade Egypt

12 Then the LORD said to Moses, “Raise your hand over the land of Egypt to bring on the locusts. Let them cover the land and eat everything that survived the hail.”

13 So Moses raised his staff over the land, and the LORD caused an east wind to blow across Egypt all that day and into the night. By morning, the east wind had brought the locusts.

14 The locusts swarmed over the entire land. Never before had there been such a terrible plague of locusts, and never will there be again.

15 They covered the ground until it was black with them. They devoured all the crops and every bit of fruit left on the trees from the hailstorm. Nothing green remained in the trees or plants throughout Egypt.

16 Pharaoh quickly called for Moses and Aaron. “I have sinned against the LORD your God and against you,” he said.

17 “Please forgive my sin just this once, and plead with the LORD your God to take this deadly plague away from me.”

18 So Moses left Pharaoh and prayed to the LORD.

19 The LORD shifted the wind, and a strong west wind blew the locusts into the Red Sea. Not a single locust remained in Egypt.

20 But the LORD hardened Pharaoh’s heart again, and he refused to let the people go.

The Ninth Plague: Darkness

21 Then the LORD said to Moses, “Raise your hand toward the sky, and a deep darkness will cover the land of Egypt—a darkness so thick it can be felt.”

22 So Moses raised his hand, and darkness covered the entire land of Egypt for three days.

23 During all that time, the people could not see each other, and no one moved. But there was light as usual where the people of Israel lived.

24 Finally, Pharaoh called for Moses and said, “Go and worship the LORD. Even your women and children may go—but leave your flocks and herds behind.”

25 But Moses said, “No, you must let us take our livestock too. We need to offer sacrifices and burnt offerings to the LORD our God.

26 All our livestock must go with us—not a single hoof can be left behind. We won’t know how we are to worship the LORD until we get there.”

27 But the LORD hardened Pharaoh’s heart once more, and he was not willing to let them go.

28 “Get out of my sight!” Pharaoh shouted at Moses. “Don’t ever come here again! The next time you see my face, you will die!”

29 “You’re right,” Moses replied. “I will never see your face again.”

Key Lessons from Exodus 10

- God’s Wonders Are for Generations to Remember – The plagues were meant to be told to children and grandchildren, ensuring that future generations would know the Lord’s power.
- God Hardens the Proud – Pharaoh’s hardened heart shows that those who continually resist God eventually face deeper spiritual blindness.
- God Exposes False Religion – The plague of locusts devastated Egypt’s crops and the plague of darkness shamed their sun god, Ra, proving Egypt’s idols were powerless.
- The Enemy Seeks Compromise – Pharaoh offered half-measures (only men may go, or leave livestock behind), teaching us that Satan tempts God’s people to partial obedience.
- Total Devotion Is Required – Moses insisted that all Israel, with their livestock, must go to serve God, showing that worship requires full commitment.
- Judgment Prepares for Deliverance – The worsening plagues set the stage for the final blow against Egypt, showing that God’s judgments move His salvation plan forward.

Exodus Chapter 11

A Final Warning to Pharaoh

1 Then the LORD said to Moses, “I will send one more plague on Pharaoh and the land of Egypt. After that, he will let you go. In fact, when he lets you go, he will drive you out completely.

2 Tell the people of Israel to ask their Egyptian neighbors for articles of silver and gold.”

3 (The LORD had made the Egyptians look favorably on the Israelites. And Moses was highly respected in the land of Egypt by both Pharaoh’s officials and the people.)

4 So Moses said to Pharaoh, “This is what the LORD says: ‘At midnight tonight, I will pass through the heart of Egypt.

5 All the firstborn sons will die in every family in Egypt—from the oldest son of Pharaoh, who sits on his throne, to the oldest son of the lowest servant girl grinding flour. Even the firstborn of all the animals will die.

6 Then a loud wail will rise throughout the land of Egypt—a cry like no one has heard before and will never hear again.

7 But among the Israelites, not even a dog will bark against people or animals. Then you will know that the LORD makes a distinction between Egypt and Israel.’

8 All your officials will come running to me, bowing down and begging, ‘Please leave, and take all your people with you!’ Only then will I go.” And with that, Moses left Pharaoh’s presence in hot anger.

9 Now the LORD had told Moses earlier, “Pharaoh will not listen to you, but this will give Me the opportunity to perform even more miraculous signs and wonders in Egypt.”

10 Moses and Aaron performed all these wonders before Pharaoh, but the LORD hardened Pharaoh’s heart, and he still refused to let the Israelites leave the country.

Key Lessons from Exodus 11

- God Announces Judgment Before It Falls – Moses warned Pharaoh of the final plague, showing God’s mercy in giving time to repent.
- God’s People Find Favor in His Timing – The Israelites gained respect and favor from the Egyptians, preparing the way for their release.
- God Distinguishes Between His People and the World – The death of the firstborn would strike Egypt, but Israel would be spared, proving God’s protection over His covenant people.
- God’s Power Will Be Fully Known – The severity of the final plague would reveal the greatness of the Lord to all Egypt.
- Persistent Rebellion Brings Destruction – Pharaoh’s continual hardening ensured devastating judgment, showing that rejecting God always leads to ruin.
- God’s Plan of Deliverance Is Certain – Despite Pharaoh’s resistance, God declared Israel would be set free, proving no power can stop His saving purposes.

Exodus Chapter 12

The First Passover

1 The LORD said to Moses and Aaron in Egypt,

2 “From now on, this month will be the first month of the year for you.

3 Tell the whole community of Israel: On the tenth day of this month, each family must choose a lamb or young goat for a sacrifice—one for each household.

4 If a household is too small for a whole animal, they must share one with a nearby neighbor. Divide it based on how much each person can eat.

5 The animal you select must be a one-year-old male without defect, and it may be either a sheep or a goat.

6 Take special care of it until the evening of the fourteenth day of the month. Then the entire community of Israel must slaughter their animals at twilight.

7 Take some of the blood and smear it on the sides and top of the doorframes of the houses where you eat the animal.

8 That night, roast the meat over a fire and eat it with bitter herbs and bread made without yeast.

9 Don’t eat any of it raw or boiled in water. The whole animal—head, legs, and internal organs—must be roasted over a fire.

10 Don’t leave any leftovers until the next morning. If any remains until morning, burn it.

11 This is how you are to eat it: Be fully dressed, wear your sandals, and carry your walking stick in hand. Eat in a hurry—this is the LORD’s Passover.

12 On that night, I will pass through the land of Egypt and strike down every firstborn son and firstborn male animal in the land. I will execute judgment against all the gods of Egypt, for I am the LORD!

13 But the blood on your doorposts will be a sign of protection. When I see the blood, I will pass over you. This plague of death will not touch you when I strike Egypt.

A Lasting Memorial

14 This is a day to remember. Each year, from generation to generation, you must celebrate it as a special festival to the LORD. This is a permanent law.

15 For seven days, you must eat bread made without yeast. On the first day, remove every trace of yeast from your homes. Anyone who eats anything with yeast during this week will be cut off from the community of Israel.

16 On the first and seventh days of the week, you must gather for a holy assembly. Don’t do any work on those days, except to prepare your food.

17 Celebrate this Festival of Unleavened Bread, because it reminds you that I brought your divisions out of Egypt on this very day. This is a permanent law for future generations.

18 From the evening of the fourteenth day of the first month until the evening of the twenty-first day, you must not eat anything made with yeast.

19 During those seven days, no yeast must be found in your homes. Anyone who eats something with yeast will be cut off from the community of Israel, whether they are a foreigner or native-born.

20 Do not eat anything made with yeast. Eat only unleavened bread wherever you live during this week.”

Instructions Carried Out

21 Then Moses summoned all the elders of Israel and said to them, “Go, pick out a lamb or young goat for each of your families, and slaughter the Passover animal.

22 Drain the blood into a basin. Then take a bundle of hyssop branches, dip it into the blood, and brush the blood on the top and sides of your doorframes. Don’t go outside until morning.

23 For the LORD will pass through the land to strike down the Egyptians. But when He sees the blood on your doorframe, He will pass over your home and not allow the destroyer to enter.

24 Remember, these instructions are a permanent law that you and your descendants must observe forever.

25 When you enter the land the LORD has promised to give you, continue this ceremony.

26 And when your children ask, ‘What does this ceremony mean?’

27 Then you must reply, ‘It is the Passover sacrifice to the LORD, for He passed over the houses of the Israelites in Egypt. Though He struck the Egyptians, He spared our families.’” And the people bowed down and worshiped.

28 So the people of Israel did just as the LORD had commanded through Moses and Aaron.

The Tenth Plague: Death of the Firstborn

29 At midnight, the LORD struck down every firstborn in Egypt—from the firstborn son of Pharaoh who sat on the throne to the firstborn of the prisoner in the dungeon, and even the firstborn of all the livestock.

30 Pharaoh and all his officials and all the people of Egypt woke up during the night, and loud wailing was heard throughout the land. There wasn’t a single house where someone hadn’t died.

Israel Leaves Egypt

31 That night, Pharaoh summoned Moses and Aaron and said, “Get out! Leave my people—you and the Israelites! Go worship the LORD as you have requested.

32 Take your flocks and herds, as you said, and go. But bless me as you leave.”

33 The Egyptians urged the Israelites to leave quickly. “If you stay, we’re all going to die!” they said.

34 So the Israelites took their bread dough before it had risen. They wrapped their kneading bowls in their cloaks and carried them on their shoulders.

35 The people of Israel did as Moses had instructed. They asked the Egyptians for silver, gold, and clothing.

36 The LORD caused the Egyptians to look favorably on the Israelites, and they gave them whatever they asked for. In this way, the Israelites stripped Egypt of its wealth.

The Exodus Begins

37 That night, the Israelites left Rameses and traveled to Succoth. There were about 600,000 men, plus women and children.

38 A mixed multitude of non-Israelites went with them, along with many flocks and herds.

39 They baked bread without yeast from the dough they brought, because there was no time for the bread to rise. They had to leave Egypt in haste.

40 The people of Israel had lived in Egypt for 430 years.

41 On the very day the 430 years ended, the LORD's forces left Egypt.

42 It was the night the LORD kept watch to bring them out. So this night must be kept in honor of the LORD by all the Israelites, generation after generation.

Passover Instructions for Future Generations

43 Then the LORD said to Moses and Aaron, "These are the instructions for the Passover: No foreigner may eat it.

44 However, any slave who has been bought may eat it if he has been circumcised.

45 A temporary resident or hired worker may not eat it.

46 The meal must be eaten inside one house. Do not carry any of the meat outside. And do not break any of the bones.

47 The whole community of Israel must celebrate this Passover.

48 If a foreigner living among you wants to celebrate the LORD's Passover, all the males in his household must first be circumcised. Then he may join in and celebrate like a native-born Israelite. But no uncircumcised male may eat it.

49 The same law applies to both native Israelites and foreigners living among you."

50 So all the people of Israel followed the LORD's commands just as He had given Moses and Aaron.

51 And on that very day, the LORD brought the people of Israel out of the land of Egypt like an army.

Key Lessons from Exodus 12

- Redemption Requires the Blood of the Lamb – The Passover lamb's blood on the doorposts spared Israel's firstborn, pointing to Christ, the ultimate Lamb of God (John 1:29).

- God’s Judgment Is Inescapable Without Substitution – The firstborn of Egypt died because they were not under the blood, showing that only God’s provision can save from His wrath.
- Obedience Brings Protection – Israel’s careful obedience to God’s instructions brought deliverance, reminding us that faith is proven through action.
- God’s Deliverance Is Complete – The Exodus marked Israel’s release from slavery, foreshadowing Christ’s work to free us from sin and death.
- God Establishes Remembrance – The Passover feast was to be kept forever, teaching God’s people to remember His salvation and point forward to Christ’s sacrifice.
- God Provides for His People – Israel left Egypt with wealth from the Egyptians, showing how God provides abundantly when He redeems His people.
- God Moves According to His Timing – After centuries of bondage, deliverance came at God’s appointed moment, proving He is faithful to His promises.

Exodus Chapter 13

Dedication of the Firstborn

1 Then the LORD said to Moses,

2 “Dedicate to Me every firstborn among the Israelites. The first offspring to be born, both human and animal, belongs to Me.”

The Festival of Unleavened Bread

3 So Moses said to the people, “Remember this day—the day you left Egypt, the place of slavery. The LORD brought you out by the strength of His hand. Do not eat any bread made with yeast.

4 Today, in the month of Abib, you are leaving.

5 When the LORD brings you into the land He promised to your ancestors—the land of the Canaanites, Hittites, Amorites, Hivites, and Jebusites—a land flowing with milk and honey—you must celebrate this special festival in this same month.

6 For seven days, you must eat bread made without yeast. On the seventh day, hold a feast to honor the LORD.

7 During those seven days, no bread made with yeast shall be found in your houses, and you must not have any yeast anywhere in your territory.

8 On that day, tell your children, ‘I’m celebrating what the LORD did for me when I came out of Egypt.’

9 This festival will be like a sign on your hand and a reminder on your forehead that the law of the LORD must be on your lips. For the LORD brought you out of Egypt with His mighty hand.

10 So celebrate this festival every year at the appointed time.”

Redeeming the Firstborn

11 “This is what you must do when the LORD brings you into the land of the Canaanites and gives it to you, just as He promised:

12 You must present to the LORD every firstborn male. Every firstborn male animal also belongs to the LORD.

13 A firstborn donkey may be bought back from the LORD by presenting a lamb as a substitute. But if you don’t buy it back, you must break its neck. However, you must buy back every firstborn son.

14 In the future, your children will ask, ‘What does all this mean?’ Then you will tell them, ‘With His mighty hand, the LORD brought us out of Egypt, the place of slavery.

15 Pharaoh stubbornly refused to let us go, so the LORD killed all the firstborn males throughout the land of Egypt—both people and animals. That’s why I now sacrifice to the LORD the firstborn males of every womb, except that I buy back my firstborn sons.’

16 This ceremony is like a mark on your hand and a reminder on your forehead that the LORD brought us out of Egypt with His powerful hand.”

God Leads His People

17 When Pharaoh finally let the people go, God didn’t lead them along the main road that runs through Philistine territory, even though that was the shortest route. God said, “If the people face war, they might change their minds and return to Egypt.”

18 So God led them in a roundabout way through the wilderness toward the Red Sea. The Israelites left Egypt like an army ready for battle.

19 Moses took the bones of Joseph with him, because Joseph had made the Israelites swear to do this. He said, “God will certainly come to help you. When He does, you must take my bones with you.”

20 The Israelites left Succoth and camped at Etham on the edge of the wilderness.

21 The LORD went ahead of them. During the day, He guided them with a pillar of cloud, and at night, He provided light with a pillar of fire. This allowed them to travel by day or by night.

22 And the LORD never removed the pillar of cloud or the pillar of fire from their place in front of the people.

Key Lessons from Exodus 13

- God Claims the Firstborn – The consecration of the firstborn reminded Israel that their redemption came at a price, pointing forward to Christ, God’s firstborn Son given for us.
- God’s Salvation Must Be Remembered – The Feast of Unleavened Bread was to be kept yearly so future generations would never forget the Lord’s mighty deliverance.
- Obedience Teaches the Next Generation – Parents were to explain the meaning of the rituals, showing that faith must be passed down through intentional teaching.

- God Leads His People With Purpose – Instead of the shortest route, He led Israel by the wilderness, proving His wisdom in guiding His people according to their readiness.
- God’s Presence Goes Before His People – The pillar of cloud by day and fire by night revealed God’s constant guidance, protection, and presence.
- God Redeems for Worship and Service – Israel was set apart to serve the Lord, reminding us that salvation is not just from bondage but for holy devotion to God.

Exodus Chapter 14

Israel Trapped at the Sea

1 Then the LORD gave these instructions to Moses:

2 “Tell the Israelites to turn back and camp by Pi-hahiroth, between Migdol and the sea. Camp there beside the sea, across from Baal-zephon.

3 Pharaoh will think, ‘The Israelites are confused. They’re trapped in the wilderness!’

4 And once again, I will harden Pharaoh’s heart, and he will chase after you. I have planned this to display My glory through Pharaoh and his whole army. After this, the Egyptians will know that I am the LORD.” So the Israelites camped as they were told.

Pharaoh Pursues Israel

5 When word reached the king of Egypt that the Israelites had fled, Pharaoh and his officials changed their minds. “What have we done?” they said. “We’ve let all our slave labor go!”

6 So Pharaoh harnessed his chariot and called up his army.

7 He took 600 of his best chariots, plus all the other chariots of Egypt, each with its commander.

8 The LORD hardened Pharaoh’s heart, and he chased after the people of Israel, who had left with boldness and confidence.

9 The Egyptians chased after them with all the forces of Pharaoh’s army—all his horses, chariots, horsemen, and troops. They caught up with the Israelites as they camped by the sea near Pi-hahiroth, across from Baal-zephon.

The Israelites Panic

10 As Pharaoh approached, the Israelites looked up and panicked when they saw the Egyptians overtaking them. They cried out to the LORD,

11 and they said to Moses, “Why did you bring us out here to die in the wilderness? Weren’t there enough graves in Egypt? Why did you make us leave?”

12 Didn’t we tell you this would happen? We said, ‘Leave us alone! Let us stay slaves to the Egyptians.’ It’s better to be a slave in Egypt than a corpse in the wilderness!”

God Will Fight for You

13 But Moses told the people, “Don’t be afraid. Just stand still and watch the LORD rescue you today. The Egyptians you see today will never be seen again.

14 The LORD Himself will fight for you. Just stay calm.”

God Opens the Sea

15 Then the LORD said to Moses, “Why are you crying out to Me? Tell the people to move forward!

16 Pick up your staff and raise your hand over the sea. Divide the water so the Israelites can walk through on dry ground.

17 I will harden the hearts of the Egyptians, and they will charge in after you. My great glory will be displayed through Pharaoh and his army, his chariots, and his horsemen.

18 When My glory is revealed through them, all Egypt will see My power and know that I am the LORD.”

The Angel of God Moves

19 Then the Angel of God, who had been leading the people of Israel, moved to the rear of the camp. The pillar of cloud also moved from the front and stood behind them.

20 The cloud settled between the Egyptian and Israelite camps. As darkness fell, the cloud turned to fire, lighting up the night. But the Egyptians and Israelites did not come near each other all night.

The Sea Divided

21 Then Moses raised his hand over the sea, and the LORD opened a path through the water with a strong east wind. The wind blew all night, turning the seabed into dry land.

22 So the people of Israel walked through the middle of the sea on dry ground, with walls of water on each side!

Pharaoh’s Army Destroyed

23 Then the Egyptians—all of Pharaoh’s horses, chariots, and horsemen—chased them into the sea.

24 But just before dawn, the LORD looked down on the Egyptian army from the pillar of fire and cloud, and He threw their forces into total confusion.

25 He twisted their chariot wheels, making them struggle to drive. “Let’s get out of here!” the Egyptians shouted. “The LORD is fighting for Israel against Egypt!”

26 When all the Israelites had made it across, the LORD said to Moses, “Raise your hand over the sea again. Then the waters will rush back and cover the Egyptians—their chariots and horsemen.”

27 So as the sun rose, Moses raised his hand over the sea, and the water returned with its full force. The Egyptians tried to escape, but the LORD swept them into the sea.

28 The waters returned and covered all the chariots and horsemen—the entire army of Pharaoh. Not a single one survived.

29 But the people of Israel had walked through the middle of the sea on dry ground, with walls of water on each side.

God Rescues His People

30 That's how the LORD rescued Israel from the Egyptians that day. And when the Israelites saw the bodies of the Egyptians washed up on the shore, 31 they saw the great power that the LORD used against Egypt. So they feared the LORD and put their trust in Him and in His servant Moses.

Key Lessons from Exodus 14

- God Leads His People Into Trials for His Glory – The Lord directed Israel to camp by the sea so that Pharaoh's pursuit would reveal God's power and bring Him glory.
- God Fights for His People – When Israel panicked, Moses reminded them to stand still and see the salvation of the Lord, proving that deliverance comes from God, not human strength.
- Fear Must Give Way to Faith – Israel's fear of Egypt exposed their weak trust, teaching us that faith is tested in moments of crisis.
- God Makes a Way Where There Is No Way – The parting of the Red Sea shows that God can open impossible paths of deliverance.
- God's Presence Protects His People – The angel of God and the pillar of cloud stood between Israel and Egypt, showing that God shields His people from the enemy.
- God's Power Destroys the Enemy – Pharaoh's army was swallowed in the sea, proving that no power can stand against the Lord.
- Deliverance Leads to Fear and Faith – After seeing God's mighty salvation, Israel feared the Lord and believed in Him and His servant Moses.

Exodus Chapter 15

The Song of Moses and Israel

1 Then Moses and the people of Israel sang this song to the LORD:

“I will sing to the LORD, for He has triumphed gloriously;
He has thrown both horse and rider into the sea.

2 The LORD is my strength and my song;
He has given me victory.

He is my God, and I will praise Him—
my father's God, and I will exalt Him!

3 The LORD is a warrior;

the LORD is His name.

4 Pharaoh's chariots and army

He has hurled into the sea.

The finest of Pharaoh's officers drowned in the Red Sea.

5 The deep waters covered them;

they sank to the bottom like a stone.

6 Your right hand, O LORD, is glorious in power.

Your right hand, O LORD,

smashes the enemy.

7 In the greatness of Your majesty,

You overthrow those who rise against You.

You unleash Your blazing fury;

it consumes them like straw.

8 At the blast of Your breath,

the waters piled up!

The surging waters stood straight like a wall;

the deep waters became solid in the heart of the sea.

9 "The enemy boasted,

'I will chase them and catch them.

I will plunder them and satisfy my lust.

I'll draw my sword;

my hand will destroy them!'

10 But You blew with Your breath, and the sea covered them.

They sank like lead in the mighty waters.

11 Who is like You among the gods, O LORD—glorious in holiness,

awesome in splendor, performing wonders?

12 You raised Your right hand, and the earth swallowed our enemies.

13 With Your unfailing love, You lead the people You have redeemed.
In Your strength, You guide them to Your holy dwelling.

14 The nations will hear and tremble;

anguish will grip the people of Philistia.

15 The leaders of Edom will be terrified;
the nobles of Moab will tremble.
The people of Canaan will melt away.

16 Terror and dread will fall on them.

Because of the power of Your arm, they will be as still as a stone—
until Your people pass by, O LORD, until the people You purchased pass by.

17 You will bring them in and plant them on Your own mountain—

the place, O LORD, reserved for Your own dwelling, the sanctuary, O LORD, that Your hands have established.

18 The LORD will reign

forever and ever!”

The Egyptians Drown

19 When Pharaoh’s horses, chariots, and horsemen went into the sea, the LORD brought the waters crashing down on them. But the people of Israel walked through on dry ground.

The Song of Miriam

20 Then Miriam the prophet, Aaron’s sister, took a tambourine and led all the women as they played tambourines and danced.

21 And Miriam sang:

“Sing to the LORD, for He has triumphed gloriously;
He has thrown both horse and rider into the sea.”

Bitter Water Made Sweet

22 Then Moses led the people of Israel away from the Red Sea, and they traveled into the wilderness of Shur. They went three days without finding any water.

23 When they came to Marah, they couldn't drink the water because it was bitter. (That's why the place was called Marah, which means "bitter.")

24 Then the people complained and turned against Moses. "What are we going to drink?" they demanded.

25 So Moses cried out to the LORD for help, and the LORD showed him a piece of wood. Moses threw it into the water, and it became sweet.

There the LORD set before them a test and a standard to live by.

26 He said, "If you will listen carefully to the voice of the LORD your God and do what is right in His eyes—if you obey His commands and keep all His decrees—then I will not bring on you any of the diseases I sent on the Egyptians. For I am the LORD who heals you."

Rest at Elim

27 After that, the Israelites traveled on to Elim, where they found twelve springs and seventy palm trees. They camped there beside the water.

Key Lessons from Exodus 15

- Praise Follows Deliverance – Moses and Israel sang to the Lord after crossing the Red Sea, showing that worship is the right response to God's salvation.
- God Triumphs Over His Enemies – The song celebrated the Lord as a warrior who cast Pharaoh's army into the sea, proving His supremacy over all nations.
- God's Power Inspires Fear Among Nations – The nations heard of God's mighty acts and trembled, reminding us that His glory is made known through His works.
- God Guides His Redeemed People – The song declared that God would bring His people to His holy dwelling, showing that salvation leads to fellowship with Him.
- Gratitude Must Be Continuous – Israel quickly forgot God's power when they faced bitter water, teaching us the danger of shifting from praise to complaint.
- God Provides for His People – At Marah, the Lord healed the water, showing that He meets His people's needs in the wilderness.
- God Tests Through Trials – The Lord used the bitter waters to test Israel's obedience and faith, teaching that trials are opportunities to trust Him.
- God Reveals Himself as Healer – The name Yahweh-Rapha, "the Lord who heals you," shows that He is the source of physical and spiritual healing.

Exodus Chapter 16

Manna and Quail in the Wilderness

1 The entire community of Israel set out from Elim and journeyed into the wilderness of Sin, between Elim and Mount Sinai. They arrived there on the fifteenth day of the second month after leaving Egypt.

2 There, too, the whole community of Israel complained against Moses and Aaron.

3 “If only the LORD had killed us back in Egypt,” they moaned. “There we sat around pots filled with meat and ate all the bread we wanted. But now you’ve brought us into this wilderness to starve us all to death!”

God Provides Bread from Heaven

4 Then the LORD said to Moses, “Look, I’m going to rain down food from heaven for you. Each day, the people can go out and gather just enough for that day. I will test them in this to see whether or not they follow My instructions.

5 On the sixth day, they must gather twice as much as usual and prepare it.”

6 So Moses and Aaron said to the people, “By evening you will know that it was the LORD who brought you out of Egypt.

7 In the morning, you will see the glory of the LORD, because He has heard your complaints against Him. What have we done that you should complain about us?”

8 Then Moses added, “The LORD will give you meat to eat in the evening and bread to satisfy you in the morning, because He has heard all your complaints against Him. What we’ve done is not the issue—you’re complaining against the LORD, not us.”

The Glory of the LORD Appears

9 Then Moses said to Aaron, “Announce this to the entire community: ‘Present yourselves before the LORD, for He has heard your complaints.’”

10 And as Aaron spoke to the whole community of Israel, they looked out toward the wilderness. There they saw the awesome glory of the LORD appearing in the cloud.

11 Then the LORD said to Moses,

12 “I have heard the Israelites’ complaints. Now tell them: In the evening you will have meat to eat, and in the morning you will have all the bread you want. Then you will know that I am the LORD your God.”

Manna and Quail Arrive

13 That evening, vast numbers of quail flew in and covered the camp. The next morning, the area around the camp was wet with dew.

14 When the dew evaporated, a flaky substance as fine as frost blanketed the ground.

15 The Israelites were puzzled when they saw it. “What is it?” they asked each other. They had no idea what it was.

And Moses told them, “It is the bread the LORD has given you to eat.

16 These are His instructions: Each household should gather as much as it needs. Pick up two quarts for each person in your tent.”

17 So the people of Israel did as they were told. Some gathered a lot, some only a little.

18 But when they measured it out, everyone had just enough. Those who gathered a lot had nothing left over, and those who gathered only a little had enough. Each family had just what it needed.

Instructions for Gathering Manna

19 Then Moses told them, “Don’t keep any of it until morning.”

20 But some of them didn’t listen and kept some of it overnight. By morning it was full of maggots and had a terrible smell. Moses was very angry with them.

21 After that, the people gathered the food morning by morning, each family according to its need. And as the sun grew hot, the flakes melted and disappeared.

22 On the sixth day, they gathered twice as much as usual—four quarts for each person. Then all the leaders of the community came and asked Moses for an explanation.

23 He told them, “This is what the LORD commanded: Tomorrow is a day of rest, a holy Sabbath set apart for the LORD. So bake or boil what you want today, and save what’s left for tomorrow.”

24 So they put some aside until morning, just as Moses had commanded. And in the morning, the leftover food was wholesome and good, without maggots or odor.

25 Moses said, “Eat this food today, for today is the Sabbath to the LORD. There will be no food on the ground today.

26 You may gather the food for six days, but the seventh day is the Sabbath. There will be no food on the ground that day.”

Some Disobey

27 Some of the people went out anyway on the seventh day, but they found no food.

28 The LORD asked Moses, “How long will these people refuse to obey My commands and instructions?”

29 They must realize that the Sabbath is the LORD’s gift to you. That’s why He gives you a two-day supply on the sixth day, so you will have enough for two days. On the Sabbath, each of you must stay in your place. Don't go out to pick up food."

30 So the people did not gather any food on the seventh day.

What Is Manna?

31 The Israelites called the food "manna." It was white like coriander seed, and it tasted like honey wafers.

32 Then Moses said, "This is what the LORD has commanded: Fill a two-quart container with manna to preserve it for future generations. Then they can see the food I gave you in the wilderness when I set you free from Egypt."

33 Moses said to Aaron, "Take a jar and fill it with two quarts of manna. Then put it in a sacred place before the LORD to preserve it for all generations."

34 Aaron did just as the LORD commanded Moses. He eventually placed it in the Ark of the Covenant, in front of the tablets of the covenant.

35 So the people of Israel ate manna for forty years, until they arrived at the land of Canaan.

36 (The container used to measure the manna was an omer, which held about two quarts.)

Key Lessons from Exodus 16

- God Provides Daily Bread – The manna from heaven shows that God faithfully supplies His people's needs one day at a time.
- Complaints Reveal Weak Faith – Israel's grumbling against Moses and Aaron was really against the Lord, teaching that murmuring is unbelief in disguise.
- God Tests Through Provision – By giving manna daily and requiring obedience, God tested Israel's trust in His word.
- Greed Leads to Waste – Those who tried to gather more manna than needed found it spoiled, showing that disobedience brings loss.
- Rest Is God's Gift – The double portion before the Sabbath showed that God provides for His people to rest and honor Him.
- Obedience Brings Blessing – Those who followed God's instructions lacked nothing, proving that His commands lead to provision.
- God Preserves His Works as a Testimony – A jar of manna was kept in the ark as a reminder of God's faithfulness for future generations.

Exodus Chapter 17

Water from the Rock

1 The entire Israelite community left the wilderness of Sin, traveling from place to place as the LORD commanded. Eventually they camped at Rephidim, but there was no water for the people to drink.

2 So the people complained to Moses, “Give us water to drink!”

Moses replied, “Why are you arguing with me? Why are you testing the LORD?”

3 But the people were thirsty and kept complaining. “Why did you bring us out of Egypt? Are you trying to kill us, our children, and our livestock with thirst?”

4 Then Moses cried out to the LORD, “What should I do with these people? They’re about to stone me!”

5 The LORD said to Moses, “Walk out in front of the people. Take your staff—the one you used when you struck the Nile—and call some of the elders of Israel to go with you.

6 I will stand before you on the rock at Mount Sinai. Strike the rock, and water will gush out. Then the people will be able to drink.”

So Moses did as the LORD commanded, and water poured out as the elders watched.

7 Moses named the place Massah (which means “test”) and Meribah (which means “quarreling”) because the Israelites tested the LORD by saying, “Is the LORD here with us or not?”

Israel Defeats Amalek

8 While the people of Israel were still at Rephidim, the warriors of Amalek came to fight against them.

9 Moses commanded Joshua, “Choose some men to go out and fight the army of Amalek for us. Tomorrow, I will stand on top of the hill holding the staff of God in my hand.”

10 So Joshua did what Moses said and led Israel’s army into battle. Meanwhile, Moses, Aaron, and Hur climbed to the top of a nearby hill.

11 As long as Moses held up the staff in his hand, Israel had the advantage. But whenever he lowered his hand, Amalek’s army began to win.

12 Moses’ arms soon became so tired he could no longer hold them up. So Aaron and Hur found a stone for him to sit on. Then they stood on each side of him, holding up his hands. So his hands held steady until sunset.

13 As a result, Joshua overwhelmed the army of Amalek in battle.

The LORD Is My Banner

14 After the victory, the LORD instructed Moses, “Write this down on a scroll as a permanent reminder and read it aloud to Joshua: I will erase the memory of Amalek from under heaven.”

15 Moses built an altar there and named it Yahweh-Nissi (which means “The LORD is my banner”).

16 He said, “They have raised their fist against the LORD’s throne, so now the LORD will be at war with Amalek generation after generation.”

Key Lessons from Exodus 17

- God Provides Water in the Wilderness – When Israel thirsted, God brought water from the rock, showing that He supplies life where none is found.
- Complaining Reveals Distrust – Israel’s quarrels at Massah and Meribah revealed hearts that doubted God’s presence and care.
- Christ Is the Spiritual Rock – The water from the rock foreshadowed Christ, the living water who satisfies eternally (1 Corinthians 10:4; John 7:37).
- God’s People Must Rely on Prayer in Battle – Israel prevailed against Amalek as long as Moses’ hands were raised, teaching the power of intercession.
- Victory Requires Shared Burdens – Aaron and Hur held up Moses’ hands, showing that God’s servants need support from others in times of weakness.
- God Is Our Banner – After victory, Moses built an altar called “Yahweh Nissi” (The Lord is my Banner), declaring that God Himself is the source of triumph.

Exodus Chapter 18

Jethro Visits Moses

1 Jethro, the priest of Midian and Moses’ father-in-law, heard about everything God had done for Moses and His people, Israel—how the LORD had brought them out of Egypt.

2 Earlier, Moses had sent his wife Zipporah back to her father,

3 along with their two sons. The older son was named Gershom, which means “foreigner,” for Moses had said, “I have been a foreigner in a strange land.”

4 The second son was named Eliezer, which means “My God is my helper,” because Moses had said, “The God of my ancestors was my helper and rescued me from Pharaoh’s sword.”

5 Jethro came with Moses’ wife and sons to meet him in the wilderness, where he was camped near the mountain of God.

6 He sent word to Moses: “I, your father-in-law Jethro, am coming to see you with your wife and your two sons.”

7 So Moses went out to greet his father-in-law, bowed respectfully, and kissed him. They asked about each other’s well-being and then went into the tent.

8 Moses told Jethro everything the LORD had done to Pharaoh and the Egyptians on Israel's behalf. He also described all the hardships they had faced along the way and how the LORD had rescued them again and again.

9 Jethro was delighted when he heard all that the LORD had done for Israel in rescuing them from the Egyptians.

10 "Praise the LORD," Jethro said, "for He has rescued you from the Egyptians and from Pharaoh. Yes, He has rescued Israel from the power of Egypt!

11 Now I know that the LORD is greater than all other gods, because He rescued His people from the oppression of proud, evil men."

12 Then Jethro brought a burnt offering and sacrifices to God, and Aaron came with all the elders of Israel to eat a meal with Jethro in God's presence.

Jethro's Wise Advice

13 The next day, Moses took his seat to hear the people's disputes against each other. They waited before him from morning till evening.

14 When Moses' father-in-law saw everything he was doing, he asked, "What are you doing? Why are you the only one judging while everyone stands around you all day?"

15 Moses replied, "Because the people come to me to get guidance from God.

16 When they have a dispute, they come to me, and I settle the matter between them. I also teach them God's decrees and instructions."

17 "This isn't good," Jethro said.

18 "You're going to wear yourself out—and the people too. This job is too heavy for one man to handle all by himself.

19 Now listen to me, and let me give you a word of advice—and may God be with you. You should continue to be the people's representative before God, bringing their cases to Him.

20 Teach them God's laws and show them how to live and what to do.

21 But select capable, honest men who fear God and hate bribes. Appoint them as leaders over groups of one thousand, one hundred, fifty, and ten.

22 Let these men serve as judges for the people in the smaller cases. They can bring the more difficult cases to you. This will make your load lighter, and the people will get help more quickly.

23 If you follow this advice—and God commands it—you'll be able to endure the work, and all these people will go home satisfied."

24 Moses listened to his father-in-law and followed his advice.

25 He chose capable men from all over Israel and appointed them as leaders over the people. They were put in charge of groups of one thousand, one hundred, fifty, and ten.

26 These men handled the routine cases, but they brought the more difficult ones to Moses.

27 Then Moses said goodbye to his father-in-law, and Jethro returned to his own land.

Key Lessons from Exodus 18

- Testimony Strengthens Faith – Moses shared all that God had done to deliver Israel, and Jethro rejoiced, showing the power of testimony to encourage others.
- God’s Glory Draws Outsiders – Jethro, a Midianite priest, acknowledged the Lord as greater than all gods, reminding us that God’s works draw the nations to Himself.
- Worship Is the Right Response – Jethro offered sacrifices and joined Israel in worship, showing that true recognition of God leads to praise.
- Wise Counsel Is a Gift – Jethro advised Moses to delegate leadership, teaching that godly counsel brings order and relief.
- Shared Leadership Strengthens God’s People – Appointing capable, God-fearing men to handle smaller matters allowed Moses to focus on greater responsibilities, showing the value of shared burdens.
- God Provides Solutions Through Relationships – Moses’ father-in-law became a channel of wisdom, proving that God often uses family and friends to guide His servants.

Exodus Chapter 19

Israel Arrives at Mount Sinai

1 Exactly two months after the Israelites left Egypt, they came to the wilderness of Sinai.

2 After breaking camp at Rephidim, they came to the base of Mount Sinai and set up camp there.

3 Then Moses climbed the mountain to appear before God. The LORD called to him from the mountain and said, “Give this message to the descendants of Jacob, the people of Israel:

4 ‘You saw what I did to the Egyptians. You know how I carried you on eagles’ wings and brought you to Myself.

5 Now if you will obey Me and keep My covenant, you will be My own special treasure from among all the nations of the world—for all the earth belongs to Me.

6 And you will be My kingdom of priests, My holy nation.’ This is the message you must give to the people of Israel.”

7 So Moses returned from the mountain and called together the elders of the people. He told them everything the LORD had commanded him.

8 And all the people responded together, “We will do everything the LORD has commanded.” So Moses took the people’s answer back to the LORD.

God Prepares to Speak

9 Then the LORD said to Moses, “I will come to you in a thick cloud so the people themselves can hear Me when I speak with you. Then they will always trust you.” Moses told the LORD what the people had said.

10 Then the LORD told Moses, “Go down and prepare the people for My arrival. Purify them today and tomorrow, and have them wash their clothes.

11 Be ready on the third day, because on that day the LORD will come down on Mount Sinai as all the people watch.

12 Set boundaries all around the mountain. Warn the people, ‘Be careful! Do not go up on the mountain or even touch its edge. Anyone who touches the mountain must be put to death.

13 No hand may touch the person or animal that crosses the boundary. Instead, they must be stoned or shot with arrows. They must be put to death—whether human or animal.’

However, when the ram’s horn sounds a long blast, then the people may come up to the mountain.”

14 So Moses went down to the people. He purified them for worship, and they washed their clothes.

15 He told them, “Be ready for the third day, and until then, abstain from sexual relations.”

The LORD Descends on Sinai

16 On the morning of the third day, thunder roared and lightning flashed, and a thick cloud came down on the mountain. There was a loud blast from a ram’s horn, and all the people trembled.

17 Moses led them out of the camp to meet with God, and they stood at the foot of the mountain.

18 Mount Sinai was covered with smoke because the LORD had descended on it in fire. The smoke billowed into the sky like smoke from a furnace, and the whole mountain shook violently.

19 As the blast of the ram’s horn grew louder and louder, Moses spoke, and God thundered His reply.

20 The LORD came down on the top of Mount Sinai and called Moses to the top of the mountain. So Moses climbed up.

Warning from the LORD

21 Then the LORD said to Moses, “Go back down and warn the people not to break through the boundaries to see the LORD, or many of them will die.

22 Even the priests who come near to the LORD must purify themselves, or I will strike them down.”

23 “But LORD,” Moses protested, “the people cannot come up to Mount Sinai. You already warned us: ‘Set boundaries around the mountain to keep it holy.’”

24 But the LORD said, “Go down and bring Aaron back up with you. But the priests and the people must not force their way through, or I will break out and punish them.”

25 So Moses went down to the people and told them what the LORD had said.

Key Lessons from Exodus 19

- God Brings His People to Himself – Israel was carried “on eagles’ wings” to God at Sinai, showing that salvation is about relationship, not just deliverance.
- God Calls His People to Be Set Apart – Israel was chosen as a kingdom of priests and a holy nation, reminding us that God’s people are called to reflect His holiness.
- Obedience Is the Covenant Response – The blessings of covenant fellowship came with the call, “If you obey My voice,” teaching that faith must be expressed in obedience.
- God Reveals His Holiness with Awe – Thunder, lightning, smoke, and the trembling mountain showed God’s majesty and holiness, instilling reverence.
- Boundaries Guard Holiness – The command to keep away from the mountain’s base until called showed that God’s holiness sets limits to protect His people.
- God Prepares His People to Hear His Word – Israel had to consecrate themselves before God spoke, teaching the importance of preparing our hearts to receive His word.

Exodus Chapter 20

The Ten Commandments

1 Then God spoke all these words:

2 “I am the LORD your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of slavery.”

1. No Other Gods

3 You must not have any other gods but Me.

2. No Idols

4 You must not make for yourself any idol—no image of anything in the heavens above, on the earth below, or in the waters under the earth.

5 You must not bow down to them or worship them. For I, the LORD your God, am a jealous God. I lay the consequences of the parents’ sins on the children to the third and fourth generations of those who reject Me.

6 But I show love to a thousand generations of those who love Me and keep My commandments.

3. Do Not Misuse God's Name

7 You must not misuse the name of the LORD your God. The LORD will not hold anyone guiltless who misuses His name.

4. Remember the Sabbath

8 Remember to keep the Sabbath day holy.

9 You have six days each week to do all your work,

10 but the seventh day is a Sabbath of rest, set apart for the LORD your God. On that day, no one in your household may do any work. This includes you, your sons and daughters, your servants, your livestock, and any foreigners living among you.

11 For in six days the LORD made the heavens, the earth, the sea, and everything in them. But on the seventh day He rested. That's why the LORD blessed the Sabbath day and set it apart as holy.

5. Honor Your Parents

12 Honor your father and your mother. Then you will live a long, full life in the land the LORD your God is giving you.

6. Do Not Murder

13 You must not murder.

7. Do Not Commit Adultery

14 You must not commit adultery.

8. Do Not Steal

15 You must not steal.

9. Do Not Lie

16 You must not give false testimony against your neighbor.

10. Do Not Covet

17 You must not covet your neighbor's house. You must not covet your neighbor's wife, servant, ox or donkey, or anything else that belongs to your neighbor.”

Terror at Mount Sinai

18 When the people heard the thunder and the blast of the ram's horn, and when they saw the lightning and the smoke billowing from the mountain, they stood at a distance, trembling with fear.

19 They said to Moses, “Speak to us yourself, and we'll listen. But don't let God speak directly to us, or we'll die!”

20 “Don't be afraid,” Moses answered them. “God has come in this way to test you, so that your fear of Him will keep you from sinning.”

21 As the people stood at a distance, Moses approached the thick darkness where God was.

Instructions About Altars

22 Then the LORD said to Moses, “Tell the people of Israel: You saw for yourselves that I spoke to you from heaven.

23 So do not make any gods of silver or gold to rival Me.

24 Build an altar of earth for Me and offer your burnt offerings and peace offerings—your sheep, goats, and cattle. Wherever I cause My name to be honored, I will come to you and bless you.

25 If you build a stone altar for Me, use only natural, uncut stones. Do not shape the stones with tools, or you will defile them.

26 And do not approach My altar by climbing steps, or your private parts may be exposed.’

Key Lessons from Exodus 20

- God Speaks With Authority – The Ten Commandments were spoken directly by God, showing their divine origin and eternal weight.
- Worship Belongs to God Alone – The first commandments forbid other gods and idols, teaching that true worship is exclusive to the Lord.
- God's Name Must Be Honored – The command not to misuse God's name shows the seriousness of reverence in speech and life.
- God Establishes Rest for His People – The Sabbath command reveals God's design for rest, worship, and trust in His provision.
- God Values Honor in Relationships – Honoring parents is tied to blessing, showing the importance of respect and order in family life.

- God Protects Life, Purity, and Property – The commands against murder, adultery, and theft uphold the dignity of human life and relationships.
- God Calls for Truthfulness – The prohibition of false testimony teaches that justice and trust depend on honesty.
- God Sees the Heart – The command against coveting reveals that sin begins with inward desires, not just outward actions.
- God’s Holiness Produces Reverence – Israel’s fear at Sinai shows that God’s presence brings awe, yet His commands are given for their good.

Exodus Chapter 21

Laws About Slaves

1 These are the laws you must present to the people of Israel:

2 If you buy a Hebrew slave, he must serve for six years. But in the seventh year, he is to be set free without having to pay anything.

3 If he was single when he became your slave, he must leave alone. But if he was married, his wife must be freed with him.

4 If his master gave him a wife and she bore him sons or daughters, then the wife and children will remain with the master, and the man will go free alone.

5 But if the slave declares, ‘I love my master, my wife, and my children. I don’t want to go free,’

6 then the master must present him before God. The master must take him to the door or doorpost and pierce his ear with an awl. After that, the slave will serve his master for life.

7 If a man sells his daughter as a slave, she is not to be set free in the same way as male slaves.

8 If she does not please the man who bought her to be his wife, he must allow her to be bought back. He has no right to sell her to foreigners, since he broke his promise to her.

9 But if the man gives her to his son, he must treat her as his own daughter.

10 If the man takes another wife, he must still provide for the first one—food, clothing, and marital rights.

11 If he fails in any of these duties, she may leave as a free woman without paying anything.

Laws About Violence

12 Anyone who intentionally kills another person must be put to death.

13 But if it was an accident and not out of hatred, I will designate a place of refuge where the person can run for safety.

14 However, if someone deliberately plots and kills another out of anger, take that person even from My altar and put him to death.

15 Anyone who strikes his father or mother must be put to death.

16 Anyone who kidnaps another person—whether he sells them or keeps them—must be put to death.

17 Anyone who curses his father or mother must be put to death.

Personal Injury Laws

18 Suppose two men get into a fight and one hits the other with a stone or his fist, and the injured man does not die but has to stay in bed.

19 If he is later able to get up and walk outside with a staff, the one who struck him will not be punished. But he must pay for the injured man's lost time and medical care.

20 If a man beats his male or female slave with a club and the slave dies, the owner must be punished.

21 But if the slave recovers after a day or two, no punishment is required, for the slave is his property.

Injury to a Pregnant Woman

22 Suppose two men are fighting, and in the process they accidentally strike a pregnant woman so she gives birth prematurely but there is no serious injury. Then the man responsible must pay whatever compensation the woman's husband demands and the judges approve.

23 But if there is serious injury, then the punishment must match the injury: a life for a life,

24 an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth, a hand for a hand, a foot for a foot, 25 a burn for a burn, a wound for a wound, a bruise for a bruise.

Injury to Slaves

26 If a man hits his male or female slave in the eye and causes blindness, he must let the slave go free to compensate for the eye.

27 And if he knocks out the tooth of a male or female slave, he must let the slave go free to compensate for the tooth.

Laws About Animals

28 If an ox gores a man or woman to death, the ox must be stoned, and its meat must not be eaten. But the owner will not be held responsible.

29 However, if the ox had a habit of goring and the owner had been warned but didn't keep it under control, and it kills someone, then both the ox must be stoned and the owner must also be put to death.

30 But the owner may pay a fine to save his life. The exact amount will be set by the court.

31 If the ox gores a boy or girl, the same judgment applies.

32 If the ox gores a male or female slave, the owner must pay the slave's master thirty silver coins, and the ox must be stoned.

Laws About Property Damage

33 Suppose someone digs a pit and fails to cover it, and then an ox or donkey falls in.

34 The one who dug the pit must pay for the animal and take it as his own.

35 If someone's ox injures another person's ox and it dies, then the two owners must sell the live ox and divide the money and the dead animal equally.

36 But if the ox had a known reputation for goring and the owner didn't keep it under control, he must pay full compensation—ox for ox—and he may keep the dead animal.

Key Lessons from Exodus 21

- God Values Human Life – The command that murderers must be put to death emphasizes the sanctity of life created in God's image.
- God Protects the Vulnerable – Regulations for servants, women, and the unborn reveal God's care for those easily exploited or harmed.
- Intent Matters in Justice – Distinctions between accidental and intentional harm show that God judges motives as well as actions.
- Restitution Restores Relationships – Requirements to repay damages teach that making wrongs right is central to godly justice.
- God Sets Limits on Retaliation – "Eye for eye, tooth for tooth" was given to prevent excessive revenge, ensuring justice remained balanced and fair.
- God's People Are Called to Reflect His Character – These laws taught Israel to live with justice, compassion, and responsibility, reflecting the holiness of the God they served.

Exodus Chapter 22

Laws About Theft and Property

1 If someone steals an ox or a sheep and then kills or sells it, they must repay five oxen for every ox stolen and four sheep for every sheep.

2 If a thief is caught in the act of breaking in and is struck and killed, the person who killed him is not guilty of murder.

3 But if it happens after sunrise, then it is considered murder, and the killer is guilty. A thief who is caught alive must pay back everything he stole. If he owns nothing, he must be sold to pay for his theft.

4 If what was stolen is found alive in the thief's possession—whether it's an ox, donkey, or sheep—he must pay back double.

5 If someone lets their livestock graze in someone else's field or vineyard, the owner of the livestock must repay with the best of their own field or vineyard.

6 If a fire breaks out and spreads to thorn bushes, burning up stacks of grain or the standing crop, the person who started the fire must pay for the damage.

Laws About Responsibility and Trust

7 Suppose someone gives their neighbor money or belongings for safekeeping, and it's stolen from the neighbor's house. If the thief is caught, he must pay back double.

8 But if the thief is not found, the neighbor must appear before God to determine if he stole the property himself.

9 In any case of disputed property—whether it's an ox, donkey, sheep, clothing, or anything else—both parties must come before God. The person found guilty must pay back double.

10 If someone asks a neighbor to care for an animal and it dies, is injured, or disappears without anyone seeing it,

11 then the neighbor must swear before the LORD that they did not steal it. The owner must accept the oath, and no payment is required.

12 But if the animal was stolen while in their care, the neighbor must compensate the owner.

13 If it was torn to pieces by a wild animal, the remains must be shown as proof, and no compensation is required.

Laws About Borrowing and Lending

14 If someone borrows an animal and it is injured or dies while the owner is not present, the borrower must pay for it.

15 But if the owner is there when it happens, no compensation is required. If the animal was rented, the loss is covered by the rental fee.

Laws of Moral Conduct

16 If a man seduces a virgin who is not engaged and sleeps with her, he must pay the bride price and marry her.

17 But if her father absolutely refuses to let him marry her, he must still pay the standard bride price.

18 You must not allow a sorceress to live.

19 Anyone who has sexual relations with an animal must be put to death.

20 Anyone who sacrifices to any god other than the LORD must be destroyed.

Laws About Kindness and Justice

21 You must not mistreat or oppress foreigners in any way. Remember, you were once foreigners in the land of Egypt.

22 Do not exploit widows or orphans.

23 If you do, and they cry out to Me, I will certainly hear their cry.

24 My anger will blaze against you, and I will kill you with the sword. Then your wives will be widows and your children fatherless.

25 If you lend money to any fellow Israelite in need, do not act like a moneylender and charge interest.

26 If you take your neighbor's cloak as security for a loan, you must return it by sunset.

27 That cloak may be the only blanket they have for warmth. If they cry out to Me, I will hear, for I am compassionate.

Respect for God and Authority

28 Do not blaspheme God or curse any ruler of your people.

29 You must not withhold offerings from your harvest or your wine presses. Give Me the firstborn of your sons.

30 Do the same with your cattle and sheep—leave the newborn with its mother for seven days, then give it to Me on the eighth day.

31 You must be My holy people. So don't eat the meat of any animal that has been killed by wild beasts. Throw it to the dogs.

Key Lessons from Exodus 22

- God Requires Restitution for Wrongdoing – Laws about theft, damage, and loss show that justice involves restoring what was harmed, not ignoring it.
- Responsibility Extends to Stewardship – Borrowing, lending, or caring for another's property carried accountability, teaching integrity in daily dealings.
- God Protects the Vulnerable – Foreigners, widows, and orphans were not to be oppressed, showing God's heart for the defenseless.
- God Hears the Cry of the Oppressed – Mistreating the helpless would bring God's anger, proving He is their defender and avenger.
- God's People Must Be Set Apart – Commands against sorcery, idolatry, and perverse practices show that holiness requires rejecting the ways of the world.

- Generosity Honors God – Offering the firstborn of sons and animals to the Lord expressed gratitude and devotion to Him as the true source of life.
- Reverence for God Produces Justice Among Men – Respecting God’s authority leads to fairness, compassion, and righteousness in society.

Exodus Chapter 23

Justice and Fairness

1 Do not spread false rumors.

Do not join hands with the wicked by being a false witness.

2 Don’t follow the crowd in doing wrong.

When you testify in a dispute, do not twist justice by siding with the majority.

3 And do not show favoritism to a poor person in a lawsuit.

4 If you come across your enemy’s ox or donkey that has strayed away, bring it back to them.

5 If you see that your enemy’s donkey has collapsed under a heavy load, don’t walk away—help them with it.

6 Do not deny justice to the poor in their lawsuits.

7 Stay far away from false charges, and don’t kill the innocent or those who are right, for I will not acquit the guilty.

8 Do not accept bribes, for bribes blind the clear-sighted and twist the words of the innocent.

9 Do not oppress foreigners. You know what it’s like to be a foreigner, because you were foreigners living in Egypt.

Sabbath Year and Sabbath Day

10 Plant and harvest your crops for six years,

11 but let the land rest and lie unplowed in the seventh year. Then the poor among you may eat what grows on its own, and whatever is left can be eaten by wild animals. Do the same with your vineyards and olive groves.

12 You have six days each week to do your work, but on the seventh day you must stop working. This gives your ox and donkey rest, and it also allows your servants and foreigners among you to be refreshed.

13 Be careful to obey everything I have said to you. Never mention the names of other gods or let them be heard on your lips.

Three Annual Festivals

14 Each year you must celebrate three festivals in My honor.

15 First, celebrate the Festival of Unleavened Bread. For seven days you must eat bread made without yeast, just as I commanded you. Do this at the appointed time in the spring, for that is when you came out of Egypt. No one may appear before Me without an offering.

16 Second, celebrate the Festival of Harvest, when you bring Me the first crops of your harvest. Third, celebrate the Festival of Ingathering, at the end of the year, when you gather your crops from the fields.

17 At these three times each year, every man in Israel must appear before the Sovereign LORD.

Offerings and Worship Practices

18 Do not offer the blood of a sacrifice together with anything made with yeast. And don't leave any fat from My festival offerings until the next morning.

19 Bring the best of the first produce of your land to the house of the LORD your God. And do not cook a young goat in its mother's milk.

God's Angel Will Lead You

20 "Look, I am sending an angel before you to protect you on your journey and lead you safely to the place I have prepared.

21 Pay close attention to him and obey his instructions. Do not rebel against him, for he will not forgive your rebellion, because My name is in him.

22 But if you carefully obey him and do everything I say, then I will be an enemy to your enemies and fight against those who fight against you.

23 For My angel will go before you and bring you into the lands of the Amorites, Hittites, Perizzites, Canaanites, Hivites, and Jebusites. And I will destroy them.

24 Do not worship their gods or imitate their customs. You must not even serve them in any way. Instead, you must completely destroy their idols and smash their sacred pillars.

25 If you serve the LORD your God, I will bless your food and water and keep you healthy.

26 There will be no miscarriages or infertility in your land, and I will give you long, full lives.

Victory and Possession of the Land

27 I will send My terror ahead of you and throw into confusion every nation you encounter. I will make all your enemies turn and run.

28 I will send hornets ahead of you to drive out the Hivites, Canaanites, and Hittites.

29 But I will not drive them out in a single year, because the land would become desolate and the wild animals too numerous for you.

30 I will drive them out little by little until your population has increased enough to take possession of the land.

31 I will set your boundaries from the Red Sea to the Mediterranean Sea, and from the wilderness to the Euphrates River. I will hand over to you the people now living in the land, and you will drive them out ahead of you.

32 Do not make treaties with them or their gods.

33 They must not live in your land, or they will cause you to sin against Me. If you serve their gods, it will surely be a trap for you.”

Key Lessons from Exodus 23

- God Commands Integrity in Justice – Israel was warned not to spread false reports, show partiality, or pervert justice, teaching the importance of truth and fairness.
- Kindness Must Extend Even to Enemies – Helping an enemy’s animal in need showed that love and mercy must override hatred and grudges.
- God Cares for the Poor and Vulnerable – The laws about rest for the land, Sabbaths, and justice for the needy reveal His compassion and provision for all.
- Worship Belongs to God Alone – Israel was commanded to reject idols and keep the appointed feasts, showing that holiness requires devotion to the Lord alone.
- Obedience Brings Blessing – God promised health, provision, and victory over enemies if Israel remained faithful to Him.
- God Goes Before His People – The Angel of the Lord would guide and protect Israel, proving that His presence secures their journey.
- Compromise with Evil Is Forbidden – Israel was warned not to adopt the practices of the nations, teaching that God’s people must remain distinct and holy.

Exodus Chapter 24

The Covenant Is Confirmed

1 Then the LORD said to Moses, “Come up to Me, you and Aaron, Nadab and Abihu, and seventy of Israel’s elders. Worship from a distance.

2 Only Moses is allowed to come near to the LORD. The others must not come close, and the people may not come up at all.”

3 So Moses came and told the people all the LORD’s instructions and regulations. They responded with one voice, “We will do everything the LORD has commanded.”

4 Then Moses wrote down all the LORD’s instructions. Early the next morning, he built an altar at the foot of the mountain and set up twelve pillars, one for each tribe of Israel.

5 Then he sent young Israelite men to present burnt offerings and sacrifice bulls as peace offerings to the LORD.

6 Moses collected half the blood and put it in bowls. The other half he splashed against the altar.

7 Then he took the Book of the Covenant and read it aloud to the people. They all responded, “We will do everything the LORD has commanded. We will obey.”

8 Then Moses took the blood and sprinkled it on the people, saying, “Look, this blood confirms the covenant the LORD has made with you in giving you these instructions.”

Moses on the Mountain with God

9 Then Moses, Aaron, Nadab, Abihu, and seventy of the elders of Israel went up the mountain.

10 There they saw the God of Israel. Under His feet was something like a pavement of brilliant sapphire, as clear as the sky itself.

11 And though these leaders of Israel saw God, He did not destroy them. They ate and drank in His presence.

12 Then the LORD said to Moses, “Come up to Me on the mountain and stay there. I will give you the stone tablets with the law and commandments I have written so that you can teach the people.”

13 So Moses and his assistant Joshua set out, and Moses climbed up the mountain of God.

14 Moses told the elders, “Stay here and wait for us until we return. Aaron and Hur are here with you—if anyone has a dispute while I’m gone, they can turn to them.”

15 Then Moses went up the mountain, and the cloud covered it.

16 The glory of the LORD settled on Mount Sinai, and the cloud covered it for six days. On the seventh day, the LORD called to Moses from inside the cloud.

17 To the Israelites at the foot of the mountain, the glory of the LORD appeared like a consuming fire on the mountaintop.

18 Then Moses disappeared into the cloud as he climbed higher up the mountain. He remained on the mountain forty days and forty nights.

Key Lessons from Exodus 24

- Covenant Is Sealed by Blood – Moses sprinkled the blood of sacrifices on the people, showing that relationship with God requires atonement.
- Obedience Confirms Covenant Relationship – Israel’s repeated promise, “We will do everything the Lord has commanded,” highlights the necessity of commitment to God’s word.
- God’s Glory Is Revealed to the Faithful – Moses, Aaron, Nadab, Abihu, and the elders saw a vision of God’s glory, showing that obedience leads to deeper revelation.
- Worship Involves Both Sacrifice and Fellowship – After sacrifices, the leaders ate and drank in God’s presence, teaching that covenant includes communion with Him.

- God Calls Leaders Higher – Moses alone was called further up the mountain, showing that those entrusted with leadership must pursue deeper intimacy with God.
- God Confirms His Law with His Own Hand – The tablets of stone written by God’s finger prove the divine authority and permanence of His commands.
- God’s Presence Requires Waiting – Moses remained on the mountain forty days and nights, reminding us that encountering God often requires patience and surrender.

Exodus Chapter 25

Offerings for the Tabernacle

1 Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

2 “Tell the people of Israel to bring Me an offering. Accept contributions from everyone whose heart is willing to give.

3 These are the offerings you are to receive from them: gold, silver, and bronze;

4 blue, purple, and scarlet thread; fine linen and goat hair for cloth;

5 tanned ram skins and fine leather; acacia wood;

6 olive oil for the lamps; spices for the anointing oil and the fragrant incense;

7 and onyx stones and other gems to be set in the ephod and the chestpiece of the high priest.

8 Have the people build Me a sanctuary so I can live among them.

9 You must make everything according to the pattern I show you—the design for the Tabernacle and all its furnishings.”

Plans for the Ark of the Covenant

10 “Build an Ark of acacia wood—three and three-quarters feet long, two and one-quarter feet wide, and two and one-quarter feet high.

11 Overlay it with pure gold inside and out, and put a gold molding all around it.

12 Cast four gold rings and attach them to its four feet—two rings on each side.

13 Make poles from acacia wood and overlay them with gold.

14 Insert the poles into the rings at the sides of the Ark to carry it.

15 The poles must stay in the rings; never remove them.

16 When the Ark is finished, place inside it the stone tablets inscribed with the commandments that I will give you.

17 Then make the atonement cover (the mercy seat) from pure gold. It must be three and three-quarters feet long and two and one-quarter feet wide.

18 Make two cherubim from hammered gold and place them at the two ends of the cover.

19 Mold the cherubim so they are part of the cover itself, one at each end.

20 The cherubim must face each other and look down toward the cover. Their wings must be spread out above it, shielding it with their wings.

21 Place the cover on top of the Ark, and put the stone tablets inside the Ark.

22 I will meet with you there above the cover, between the two cherubim that are over the Ark of the Covenant. From there I will give you My commands for the people of Israel.”

Plans for the Table of Bread

23 “Then make a table of acacia wood, three feet long, one and a half feet wide, and two and one-quarter feet high.

24 Overlay it with pure gold and run a gold molding around the edge.

25 Make a three-inch frame all around it and add a gold molding along the frame.

26 Make four gold rings and attach them to the four corners of the table’s legs,

27 near the frame. The rings will hold the poles used to carry the table.

28 Make the poles from acacia wood and overlay them with gold. Use them to carry the table.

29 Make the special plates, dishes, pitchers, and bowls for pouring drink offerings. All of them must be made from pure gold.

30 Place the Bread of the Presence on the table to remain before Me at all times.”

Plans for the Golden Lampstand

31 “Make a lampstand of pure, hammered gold. The base, stem, cups, buds, and petals must all be one piece.

32 It will have six branches—three branches on each side of the central shaft.

33 Each of the six branches will have three cups shaped like almond blossoms, each with a bud and a petal.

34 The central shaft itself will have four cups shaped like almond blossoms, each with its bud and petal.

35 There must also be a bud beneath each pair of branches where they extend from the center shaft.

36 The buds and branches must all be one piece with the lampstand, and it must be hammered from pure gold.

37 Make seven lamps for the lampstand, and set them up so they light the area in front of it.

38 The wick trimmers and trays must also be made of pure gold.

39 You will need about seventy-five pounds of pure gold to make the lampstand and all its accessories.

40 Be sure you make everything according to the pattern I showed you on the mountain.”

Key Lessons from Exodus 25

- God Desires Willing Hearts – The tabernacle offerings were to come from those who gave freely, showing that true worship flows from generosity, not compulsion.
- God Dwells Among His People – The purpose of the sanctuary was that God might live with Israel, foreshadowing Christ and the Holy Spirit dwelling in believers.
- God Provides Exact Instructions for Worship – Every detail of the ark, table, and lampstand was given by God, teaching that worship must follow His design, not human invention.
- God’s Presence Is Centered on the Mercy Seat – The ark and its cover symbolized God’s throne of grace, pointing to Christ as our atonement.
- God Provides for Fellowship and Communion – The table of showbread represented continual fellowship with God, showing His desire for relationship with His people.
- God’s Light Guides His People – The golden lampstand signified God’s light among His people, fulfilled in Christ as the Light of the World.
- Worship Reflects God’s Glory – The beauty, order, and symbolism of the tabernacle reminded Israel that worship reveals the holiness and majesty of God.

Exodus Chapter 26

The Tabernacle’s Inner Curtains

1 “Make the Tabernacle from ten curtains of finely woven linen. Decorate them with blue, purple, and scarlet thread, and embroider them with images of cherubim.

2 Each curtain should be forty-two feet long and six feet wide. All ten curtains must be exactly the same size.

3 Join five of the curtains together to make one long piece. Do the same with the other five.

4 Make loops of blue yarn along the edge of the last curtain in each set.

5 Each curtain must have fifty loops on the edge, and the loops must line up with each other.

6 Then make fifty gold clasps and use them to fasten the two sets of curtains together. In this way, the Tabernacle will become a single unit.

Curtains of Goat Hair for the Tent Covering

7 “Make eleven curtains of goat hair to form a tent over the Tabernacle.

8 Each curtain should be forty-five feet long and six feet wide. All eleven curtains must be exactly the same size.

9 Join five of these curtains together into one set, and join the other six into another set. Fold the sixth curtain over the front of the tent.

- 10 Make fifty loops for the edge of each curtain in both sets, 11 and make fifty bronze clasps to join them together, forming a single covering.
- 12 The extra half curtain will hang down over the back of the Tabernacle.
13 The eighteen inches of leftover material on each side will hang over the sides of the Tabernacle as a covering.
- 14 Complete the tent covering with a layer of tanned ram skins and a final layer of fine leather on top.

The Framework of the Tabernacle

- 15 “Make upright frames of acacia wood to support the Tabernacle.
16 Each frame must be fifteen feet high and twenty-seven inches wide,
17 with two pegs on the bottom for attaching it to the next frame. Make all the frames this way.
- 18 Make twenty frames for the south side of the Tabernacle
19 and forty silver bases to go under them—two bases for each frame, one for each peg.
- 20 For the north side, also make twenty frames
21 with forty silver bases—two bases for each frame.
- 22 Make six frames for the rear (west side) of the Tabernacle,
23 plus two additional frames to reinforce the rear corners.
24 These corner frames must be matched at the bottom and connected at the top with a single ring. Make both of them the same.
- 25 Altogether there will be eight frames at the rear, with sixteen silver bases—two under each frame.

Crossbars for the Frame

- 26 “Make crossbars from acacia wood to connect the frames. Five crossbars for the north side, 27 five for the south side,
28 and five for the rear (west side). The middle crossbar will run halfway up the frames, from one end to the other.
- 29 Overlay the frames with gold and make gold rings to hold the crossbars. Also, overlay the crossbars with gold.

The Inner Curtain (Veil)

- 30 “Set up this Tabernacle exactly according to the pattern I showed you on the mountain.
- 31 Then make a special inner curtain of finely woven linen, decorated with blue, purple, and scarlet thread and embroidered with cherubim.

32 Hang it on four gold-covered posts set in four silver bases. Use gold hooks to hang the curtain from the posts.

33 Hang the curtain beneath the clasps that join the Tabernacle, and place the Ark of the Covenant behind the curtain. This curtain will separate the Holy Place from the Most Holy Place.

34 Place the atonement cover (mercy seat) on top of the Ark inside the Most Holy Place.

35 Then place the table outside the inner curtain on the north side, and the lampstand across from it on the south side.

The Curtain for the Entrance

36 “Make another curtain for the entrance of the Tabernacle. It should be made of finely woven linen and embroidered with blue, purple, and scarlet thread.

37 Hang it with gold hooks on five posts made from acacia wood, overlaid with gold, and set in five bronze bases.”

Key Lessons from Exodus 26

- God Provides the Pattern for Worship – The detailed instructions for the tabernacle structure show that God determines how He is to be worshiped.
- God’s Dwelling Is Both Accessible and Set Apart – The inner veil separated the Most Holy Place, teaching that God is near yet His holiness requires reverence.
- God’s Presence Requires Mediation – Only the high priest could enter the Most Holy Place, pointing forward to Christ as our ultimate High Priest.
- God’s Holiness Is Central – The arrangement of the tabernacle placed God’s throne room at the center, reminding Israel that God must be at the center of their lives.
- God’s Plan Reflects Beauty and Order – The use of fine materials, symmetry, and craftsmanship revealed that worship should reflect God’s glory and perfection.
- God Foreshadows Redemption in the Tabernacle – The veil symbolized separation caused by sin, but it also pointed ahead to Christ’s sacrifice that tore the veil and opened the way to God (Matthew 27:51; Hebrews 10:19–20).

Exodus Chapter 27

The Altar of Burnt Offering

1 “Make an altar out of acacia wood, seven and a half feet wide and seven and a half feet long. It must be square and four and a half feet high.

2 Make horns on each of the four corners, so that the horns and altar are one piece. Overlay the entire altar with bronze.

3 Make bronze utensils for the altar—buckets for removing ashes, shovels, basins, meat forks, and firepans.

4 Make a bronze grating and attach four bronze rings to its corners.

5 Put the grating halfway down the side of the altar, beneath the ledge.

6 Make poles from acacia wood and overlay them with bronze.

7 Insert the poles through the rings on the sides of the altar for carrying it.

8 Make the altar hollow, out of wooden planks, just as you were shown on the mountain.

The Courtyard of the Tabernacle

9 “Make a courtyard for the Tabernacle. The south side must be 150 feet long and enclosed with finely woven linen curtains,

10 supported by twenty bronze posts that fit into twenty bronze bases. The posts must have silver hooks and bands.

11 The north side must also be 150 feet long, with twenty bronze posts and bases, and silver hooks and bands.

12 The west end of the courtyard must be 75 feet wide, with ten posts and ten bases.

13 The east end must also be 75 feet wide.

14 The entrance on the east side will have a 22.5-foot section of curtain on one side, with three posts and three bases,

15 and another 22.5-foot curtain on the other side, also with three posts and three bases.

16 For the entrance itself, make a thirty-foot wide curtain, finely woven and embroidered with blue, purple, and scarlet thread. Hang it with silver hooks on four posts, each set in a bronze base.

17 All the posts around the courtyard must have silver bands, silver hooks, and bronze bases.

18 The entire courtyard will be 150 feet long and 75 feet wide, with linen curtains seven and a half feet high, supported by bronze bases.

19 All the equipment used in the Tabernacle—including all the tent pegs and those used in the courtyard—must be made of bronze.”

The Oil for the Lampstand

20 “Command the people of Israel to bring you pure oil of pressed olives for the lampstand, so the lamps may be kept burning continually.

21 Aaron and his sons must keep the lamps burning in the Tabernacle before the LORD from evening until morning. This is to be a permanent law for the people of Israel, and it must be observed from generation to generation.”

Key Lessons from Exodus 27

- Atonement Requires Sacrifice – The bronze altar was central in the courtyard, showing that access to God begins with the shedding of blood.
- God Provides a Place for His People to Draw Near – The courtyard gave Israel a designated space to gather before the Lord, teaching that worship requires consecration.
- God’s Presence Requires Purity – The altar’s horns and utensils had to be consecrated, symbolizing that everything used in God’s service must be holy.
- God Calls for Constant Light – The command to keep the lamps burning continually reminds us that God’s presence and truth are to shine without ceasing.
- God Involves His People in Worship – The oil for the lamps was supplied by the Israelites, showing that all God’s people contribute to the life of worship.
- Christ Is Foreshadowed in the Altar and the Light – The altar points to Christ’s sacrifice for sin, and the ever-burning lamps point to Him as the Light of the World.

Exodus Chapter 28

Clothing for the Priests

1 “Call for your brother Aaron and his sons—Nadab, Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar. Set them apart from the people of Israel to serve Me as priests.

2 Make sacred garments for Aaron to give him dignity and honor.

3 Instruct all the skilled craftsmen I have filled with wisdom to make garments for Aaron that set him apart and prepare him to serve Me as priest.

4 These are the garments they must make: a chestpiece, an ephod, a robe, a patterned tunic, a turban, and a sash. These sacred garments must be made for Aaron and his sons to wear when they serve Me as priests.

5 Use gold, blue, purple, and scarlet thread, and fine linen.”

The Ephod

6 “Make the ephod out of finely woven linen and embroider it with gold, blue, purple, and scarlet thread.

7 It must have two shoulder pieces attached at the top corners, so it can be fastened together.

8 Make a decorative waistband from the same materials—finely woven linen and embroidered with gold, blue, purple, and scarlet thread. It must be sewn onto the ephod.

9 Take two onyx stones and engrave on them the names of the sons of Israel—

10 six names on one stone and six on the other, in the order of their birth.

11 Engrave them like a seal, and mount the stones in settings of gold filigree.

12 Fasten the stones on the shoulder pieces of the ephod as memorial stones for the sons of Israel. Aaron must carry their names before the LORD on his shoulders as a reminder.

13 Make the gold settings,

14 and two braided chains of pure gold, like cords. Attach the chains to the settings.”

The Chestpiece for Decision-Making

15 “Make a chestpiece for making decisions—the work of a skilled craftsman. Make it to match the ephod, using finely woven linen embroidered with gold, blue, purple, and scarlet thread.

16 It must be square—nine inches by nine inches—and folded double.

17 Mount four rows of gemstones on it.

- The first row must have a ruby, a topaz, and an emerald.

18 The second row will be a turquoise, a sapphire, and a diamond.

19 The third row will be a jacinth, an agate, and an amethyst.

20 The fourth row will be a beryl, an onyx, and a jasper. All must be set in gold filigree.

21 These stones will represent the twelve sons of Israel, each engraved like a seal with the name of one of the twelve tribes.

22 Make braided chains of pure gold and attach them to the chestpiece like cords.

23 Then make two gold rings and attach them to the top corners of the chestpiece.

24 Fasten the gold cords to the rings,

25 and attach the other ends of the cords to the gold settings on the ephod’s shoulder pieces in front.

26 Make two more gold rings and attach them to the bottom corners of the chestpiece on the inside edge, next to the ephod.

27 Make two more gold rings and attach them to the front of the ephod, below the shoulder pieces, near the seam above the decorative waistband.

28 Tie the chestpiece to the rings of the ephod with blue cords, so it rests above the waistband and doesn’t come loose.

29 In this way, Aaron will carry the names of the twelve tribes of Israel on his chest when he enters the Holy Place. This will be a constant reminder before the LORD.

30 Also place the Urim and Thummim inside the chestpiece. They will be used for making decisions. Aaron will carry them on his heart when he goes into the presence of the LORD.”

The Robe for the Ephod

31 “Make the robe that is worn with the ephod entirely of blue cloth.

32 It must have an opening for Aaron’s head in the center, reinforced with a woven collar so it won’t tear.

33 Make pomegranates from blue, purple, and scarlet yarn, and attach them to the hem of the robe with gold bells between them—

34 alternating gold bells and pomegranates all around the hem.

35 Aaron will wear this robe whenever he ministers before the LORD. The bells will tinkle as he goes in and out of the LORD's presence in the Holy Place, so he won't die."

The Turban and Medallion

36 "Next, make a medallion of pure gold and engrave it like a seal with these words: HOLY TO THE LORD.

37 Attach it to the front of Aaron's turban with a blue cord.

38 Aaron must wear it on his forehead so he may bear the guilt for any errors the Israelites commit when they bring their holy offerings. The medallion must always be on his forehead so the LORD will accept the offerings."

Other Priestly Garments

39 "Weave the patterned tunic of fine linen and make the turban of fine linen as well. Then make the sash and decorate it with embroidery.

40 Also make tunics, sashes, and head coverings for Aaron's sons to give them dignity and honor.

41 Dress Aaron and his sons in these garments. Then anoint, ordain, and consecrate them so they can serve Me as priests.

42 Make linen undergarments to cover their nakedness, from waist to thigh.

43 Aaron and his sons must wear them whenever they enter the Tabernacle or approach the altar to serve in the Holy Place, or they will be guilty and die. This is a permanent law for Aaron and his descendants."

Key Lessons from Exodus 28

- God Provides Priests to Represent His People – Aaron and his sons were chosen for the priesthood, showing that God appoints mediators to stand between Him and His people, fulfilled perfectly in Christ.
- Worship Requires Holiness – The priestly garments were for glory and beauty, symbolizing the holiness required to approach God.

- Guidance Comes Through God's Word and Spirit – The Urim and Thummim symbolized God's direction, pointing to the perfect guidance of the Holy Spirit today.

- Intercession Is Central to Leadership – The golden plate with “Holy to the Lord” on the high priest’s forehead showed that he bore the guilt of the people’s offerings, anticipating Christ’s atonement.
- God Equips His Servants for His Glory – Skilled craftsmen were called to create the garments, showing that every gift can be used in service to God.
- Christ Is the True High Priest – Every detail of the priesthood pointed forward to Jesus, who perfectly represents His people before God and secures eternal redemption.

Exodus Chapter 29

Consecrating the Priests

1 “This is what you must do to consecrate Aaron and his sons to serve Me as priests: Take a young bull and two rams without defects.

2 Then make bread without yeast—loaves, cakes mixed with oil, and wafers brushed with oil. Use fine wheat flour for all of it.

3 Put them in a basket and present them along with the bull and the two rams.

4 Bring Aaron and his sons to the entrance of the Tabernacle, and wash them with water.

5 Dress Aaron in his priestly garments—the tunic, robe, ephod, chestpiece, and sash.

6 Place the turban on his head and attach the gold medallion—the sacred badge—on the turban.

7 Then take the anointing oil and pour it over his head to anoint him.

8 Next, bring his sons forward, dress them in their tunics,

9 wrap sashes around their waists, and place headbands on their heads. This will be their permanent priesthood, passed down through the generations. You are to ordain Aaron and his sons in this way.”

The Sin Offering (Bull)

10 “Bring the young bull to the entrance of the Tabernacle, and have Aaron and his sons lay their hands on its head.

11 Then slaughter the bull in the LORD’s presence.

12 Take some of the blood and smear it on the horns of the altar with your finger. Pour out the rest at the base of the altar.

13 Take all the fat that covers the internal organs, the long lobe of the liver, and both kidneys with the fat around them, and burn them on the altar.

14 But burn the bull’s meat, hide, and waste outside the camp. This is a sin offering.”

The Burnt Offering (First Ram)

15 “Next, take one of the rams, and have Aaron and his sons lay their hands on its head.

16 Then slaughter it and splatter its blood on all sides of the altar.

17 Cut the ram into pieces, wash the internal organs and legs, and place them with the head and the other pieces.

18 Burn the entire ram on the altar. It is a burnt offering to the LORD—a pleasing aroma, a special gift to Him.”

The Ordination Offering (Second Ram)

19 “Now take the second ram, and have Aaron and his sons lay their hands on its head.

20 Slaughter it, then take some of its blood and apply it to the tip of Aaron’s right ear, his right thumb, and the big toe of his right foot. Do the same for his sons.

21 Sprinkle some of the blood and some of the anointing oil on Aaron and his garments, and on his sons and their garments. This will consecrate them and their clothing.

22 Then take the fat from the ram—the fat tail, the fat around the internal organs, the long lobe of the liver, the kidneys with their fat, and the right thigh. (This is the ram for the ordination.)

23 Also take one loaf of bread, one cake made with oil, and one wafer from the basket of bread without yeast placed before the LORD.

24 Put all these in the hands of Aaron and his sons and have them lift them up as a special offering to the LORD.

25 Then take the items from their hands and burn them on the altar on top of the burnt offering. This is a pleasing aroma to the LORD, a special gift for Him.

26 Next, take the breast of the ordination ram and lift it up as a special offering to the LORD. This portion belongs to you, Moses.

27 Set apart the breast and the thigh that were lifted up as offerings from the ordination ram. These are holy and are to be given to Aaron and his sons.

28 This will be a permanent regulation for the people of Israel: the breast and thigh from these offerings are to be set apart and given to the priests, because they are holy.

Sacred Garments

29 “The sacred garments worn by Aaron will be passed down to his descendants who follow him as priests. They must be worn for the ordination ceremony.

30 The descendant who takes his place and enters the Tabernacle must wear these garments for seven days.”

Daily Food of the Priests

31 “Take the meat of the ordination ram and boil it in a holy place.

32 Aaron and his sons are to eat the meat and the bread from the basket at the entrance of the Tabernacle.

33 They must eat these offerings to complete their ordination, making them right with the LORD. No one else may eat this food—it is sacred.

34 If any of the meat or bread is left until morning, burn it. It must not be eaten, because it is holy.”

Seven Days of Consecration

35 “You must follow all these instructions when ordaining Aaron and his sons. Do this for seven days.

36 Each day you must offer a bull as a sin offering to purify the altar. Anoint the altar to make it holy.

37 Purify the altar for seven days, making it completely holy. Anything that touches it will become holy.”

Daily Sacrifices

38 “These are the sacrifices you must offer on the altar regularly each day: two one-year-old lambs.

39 Offer one in the morning and the other in the evening.

40 With each lamb, offer two quarts of fine flour mixed with one quart of pressed olive oil, and one quart of wine as a drink offering.

41 Offer the second lamb in the evening with the same offerings of flour and wine. It will also be a pleasing aroma to the LORD.

42 These burnt offerings are to be made each day from generation to generation. Offer them at the entrance of the Tabernacle before the LORD. There I will meet with you and speak with you.

43 I will meet the people of Israel there, and the Tabernacle will be made holy by My glory.

44 I will consecrate the Tabernacle and the altar, and I will set apart Aaron and his sons to serve Me as priests.

45 I will live among the people of Israel and be their God.

46 And they will know that I am the LORD their God—the One who brought them out of the land of Egypt so that I could live among them. I am the LORD their God.”

Key Lessons from Exodus 29

- Christ Fulfills the Priesthood and Sacrifice – The ordination ceremonies foreshadowed Jesus as both the perfect High Priest and the perfect sacrifice.

Exodus Chapter 30

The Altar of Incense

1 “Make an altar out of acacia wood for burning incense.

2 It should be eighteen inches square and thirty-six inches high, with horns on each corner made as one piece with the altar.

3 Overlay the top, sides, and horns with pure gold, and put a gold molding all around the top.

4 Make two gold rings on each side of the altar, below the molding, to hold the poles for carrying it.

5 Make the poles from acacia wood and overlay them with gold.

6 Place the altar in front of the inner curtain of the Tabernacle, directly in front of the Ark of the Covenant and the atonement cover where I will meet with you.

7 Aaron must burn fragrant incense on this altar every morning when he prepares the lamps.

8 He must also burn incense again in the evening when he lights the lamps. This will be a daily offering before the LORD for generations to come.

9 Do not offer any unauthorized incense, burnt offerings, grain offerings, or drink offerings on this altar.

10 Once a year, Aaron must purify the altar by placing blood from the sin offering on its horns. This annual purification is required for all generations. This altar is most holy to the LORD.”

The Ransom Money

11 Then the LORD said to Moses,

12 “Whenever you take a census of the people of Israel, each person must pay a ransom to the LORD for his life. This will prevent a plague from striking the people during the count.

13 All who are counted must give a half-shekel (according to the sanctuary standard) as an offering to the LORD.

14 This offering is required from everyone twenty years old or older.

15 The rich must not give more, and the poor must not give less. Everyone must give the same amount to ransom their life and show they belong to the LORD.

16 Use this money to support the service of the Tabernacle. It will remind the LORD’s people that their lives have been ransomed.”

The Bronze Basin

17 Then the LORD said to Moses,

18 “Make a bronze basin with a bronze stand. Place it between the Tabernacle and the altar, and fill it with water.

19 Aaron and his sons must wash their hands and feet from it

20 whenever they go into the Tabernacle or approach the altar to offer sacrifices. If they don’t wash, they will die.

21 They must wash every time they serve so they won’t die. This is a permanent law for Aaron and his descendants.”

The Holy Anointing Oil

22 Then the LORD said to Moses,

23 “Collect the finest spices: twelve and a half pounds of liquid myrrh, half as much (six and a quarter pounds) of fragrant cinnamon, six and a quarter pounds of fragrant calamus,

24 twelve and a half pounds of cassia (measured by the sanctuary standard), and one gallon of olive oil.

25 Blend these ingredients to make a sacred anointing oil, a holy mixture, like a skilled perfumer would make.

26 Use this oil to anoint the Tabernacle, the Ark of the Covenant,

27 the table and all its utensils, the lampstand and its tools, the altar of incense,

28 the altar of burnt offering and its utensils, and the basin with its stand.

29 Consecrate them to make them completely holy. Anything that touches them will become holy.

30 Anoint Aaron and his sons also, setting them apart to serve Me as priests.

31 Tell the Israelites: ‘This holy anointing oil is reserved for Me alone for all generations.

32 It must never be poured on anyone else’s body, and you must never make anything like it for yourselves. It is holy, and it must remain holy to you.

33 Anyone who makes a blend like it or uses it on someone unauthorized must be cut off from the community.’”

The Incense

34 Then the LORD said to Moses, “Gather fragrant spices—stacte, onycha, galbanum, and pure frankincense—in equal amounts.

35 Have a skilled perfumer blend them into a sacred incense, using pure salt to preserve it. This will be a holy mixture.

36 Grind it into a fine powder and place it in front of the Ark of the Covenant inside the Tabernacle, where I will meet with you. This incense is most holy.

37 Do not make any incense for yourselves using this same formula. It is reserved for the LORD. Treat it as holy.

38 Anyone who makes incense like it to enjoy its fragrance must be cut off from the community.”

Key Lessons from Exodus 30

- Prayer Is Central to Worship – The altar of incense symbolized continual prayer rising before God, showing that intercession is essential in His presence.
- Atonement Covers God’s People – The atonement money reminded Israel that redemption was required for each life, pointing to Christ’s ransom for all.
- God Provides Cleansing for Service – The bronze basin for washing showed that purity and cleansing are required before serving the Lord.
- Holiness Must Not Be Imitated – The sacred anointing oil and incense were unique to God’s service, teaching that His worship cannot be treated as common or copied for personal use.
- God Equips His Priests with His Spirit – The anointing oil represented the Spirit’s empowerment, pointing to the Holy Spirit who consecrates believers today.
- Access to God Requires Both Cleansing and Intercession – The combination of the basin and incense altar shows that prayer and purity go hand in hand in approaching God.
- Christ Fulfills Every Symbol – Jesus is our atonement, our cleansing, and our intercessor who ever lives to pray for us.

Exodus Chapter 31

Craftsmen Appointed by God

1 Then the LORD said to Moses,

2 “Look, I have chosen Bezalel son of Uri, grandson of Hur, from the tribe of Judah.

3 I have filled him with the Spirit of God, giving him great wisdom, understanding, knowledge, and skill in all kinds of craftsmanship.

4 He can make artistic designs in gold, silver, and bronze.

5 He is skilled in cutting and setting gemstones, carving wood, and working with every kind of craft.

6 And I have also appointed Oholiab son of Ahisamach, from the tribe of Dan, to help him. I have given special skill to all the craftsmen so they can make everything I’ve commanded you:

7 the Tabernacle, the Ark of the Covenant, the atonement cover on top of the Ark, and all the furnishings of the Tabernacle—

8 the table and its utensils, the pure gold lampstand and its accessories, the altar of incense,

9 the altar of burnt offering and all its tools, the bronze basin with its stand—

10 the woven garments, both the sacred garments for Aaron the priest and the garments for his sons as they serve as priests—

11 the anointing oil and the fragrant incense for the Holy Place. The craftsmen must make everything exactly as I have commanded you.”

The Sabbath Day is Holy

12 Then the LORD said to Moses,

13 “Tell the people of Israel: ‘Be sure to observe My Sabbath day, for it is a sign of the covenant between Me and you from generation to generation. It helps you remember that I am the LORD, who sets you apart as holy.

14 Keep the Sabbath holy. Anyone who dishonors it must be put to death. Anyone who works on that day must be cut off from the community.

15 You have six days each week for your work, but the seventh day must be a Sabbath of complete rest, a day set apart as holy to the LORD. Anyone who works on the Sabbath must be put to death.

16 The people of Israel must keep the Sabbath forever—it is a permanent covenant.

17 It is a sign of My eternal covenant with the people of Israel. For in six days the LORD made heaven and earth, but on the seventh day He stopped working and was refreshed.”

God Gives the Stone Tablets

18 When the LORD finished speaking with Moses on Mount Sinai, He gave him the two stone tablets inscribed with the terms of the covenant, written by the finger of God.

Key Lessons from Exodus 31

- God Equips His People with Skill – Bezalel and Oholiab were filled with the Spirit for craftsmanship, showing that God empowers His people with gifts for His glory.
- Every Talent Can Be Used for God – Artistic ability, design, and craftsmanship were all employed in building the tabernacle, teaching that no skill is too small to serve the Lord.
- God Values Excellence in Worship – The detailed work of the tabernacle reflected God’s holiness and beauty, reminding us to give Him our best.
- Rest Is Part of God’s Covenant – The Sabbath command was emphasized again, showing that rest and worship are essential marks of God’s people.
- The Sabbath Is a Sign of Belonging to God – Keeping the Sabbath set Israel apart, showing that obedience to God marks His covenant people.
- God’s Commands Carry Eternal Weight – The Ten Commandments were written by the finger of God on stone tablets, symbolizing His unchanging authority.
- Christ Fulfills the Sabbath – Jesus gives rest to His people (Matthew 11:28–30), pointing to the ultimate fulfillment of Sabbath in Him.

Exodus Chapter 32

The Golden Calf

1 When the people saw how long it was taking Moses to come down the mountain, they gathered around Aaron and said, “Come on! Make us gods who will lead us. We don’t know what happened to this man Moses, who brought us here from Egypt.”

2 So Aaron said, “Take off the gold earrings from your wives, sons, and daughters, and bring them to me.”

3 All the people took off their earrings and brought them to Aaron.

4 He took the gold, melted it down, and molded it into the shape of a calf. When the people saw it, they exclaimed, “O Israel, these are your gods who brought you out of Egypt!”

5 When Aaron saw how excited they were, he built an altar in front of the calf and announced, “Tomorrow will be a festival to the LORD!”

6 The next morning, the people got up early to offer burnt offerings and peace offerings. Afterward, they sat down to eat and drink and then got up to party wildly.

God’s Wrath Against Israel

7 Then the LORD said to Moses, “Go down the mountain! Your people, whom you brought out of Egypt, have corrupted themselves.

8 They have quickly turned away from the way I commanded them to live. They’ve melted gold and made a calf, and they’ve bowed down to it, sacrificed to it, and said, ‘These are your gods, O Israel, who brought you out of Egypt.’”

9 The LORD said, “I have seen how stubborn these people are.

10 Now leave Me alone so My anger can blaze against them, and I will destroy them. Then I will make you into a great nation.”

Moses Intercedes for the People

11 But Moses pleaded with the LORD his God: “O LORD, why are You so angry with Your people, whom You brought out of Egypt with great power and a mighty hand?

12 Why let the Egyptians say, ‘He brought them out just to kill them in the mountains and wipe them off the face of the earth’? Turn from Your fierce anger. Change Your mind about this terrible disaster You have planned for Your people.

13 Remember Your servants Abraham, Isaac, and Israel. You promised them by Your own name, saying, ‘I will make your descendants as numerous as the stars of the sky, and I will give them all this land I promised—and it will be their inheritance forever.’”

14 So the LORD changed His mind about the disaster He had threatened to bring on His people.

Moses Destroys the Calf

15 Then Moses turned and went down the mountain. He carried the two stone tablets inscribed on both sides—front and back.

16 These tablets were God’s own work; the words were written by God Himself.

17 When Joshua heard the noise of the people shouting below, he said to Moses, “It sounds like war in the camp!”

18 But Moses replied, “It’s not a cry of victory or a cry of defeat. I hear singing!”

19 When Moses came near the camp and saw the calf and the dancing, his anger burned hot. He threw down the stone tablets, smashing them at the foot of the mountain.

20 He took the calf they had made, burned it, ground it into powder, scattered it on the water, and made the Israelites drink it.

Moses Confronts Aaron

21 Then Moses said to Aaron, “What did these people do to you to make you lead them into such a terrible sin?”

22 “Don’t be angry, my lord,” Aaron replied. “You know how prone these people are to evil.

23 They said, ‘Make us gods who will lead us. We don’t know what happened to Moses, who brought us out of Egypt.’

24 So I told them, ‘Bring me your gold.’ I threw it into the fire—and out came this calf!”

The Levites Stand with the LORD

25 Moses saw that the people were completely out of control—Aaron had let them run wild, making them a laughingstock among their enemies.

26 So he stood at the entrance of the camp and shouted, “Whoever is on the LORD’s side, come to me!” And all the Levites gathered around him.

27 Moses told them, “This is what the LORD, the God of Israel, says: Each of you must strap on your sword. Go back and forth through the camp from one end to the other, and kill everyone—even your brothers, friends, and neighbors.”

28 The Levites obeyed Moses’ command, and about 3,000 people died that day.

29 Then Moses said, “Today you have been ordained for the service of the LORD, for you were willing to stand against even your own sons and brothers. Today He has blessed you.”

Moses Intercedes Again

30 The next day Moses said to the people, “You have committed a terrible sin. But I will go back up to the LORD, and perhaps I can make atonement for your sin.”

31 So Moses returned to the LORD and said, “Oh, what a terrible sin these people have committed! They made gods of gold for themselves.

32 But now, please forgive their sin. But if not, erase my name from the book You have written.”

33 The LORD replied to Moses, “I will erase from My book only those who sin against Me.

34 Now go, lead the people to the place I told you about. My angel will go before you. But when the time comes for Me to punish, I will punish them for their sin.”

35 Then the LORD sent a plague upon the people because they had worshiped the calf Aaron had made.

Key Lessons from Exodus 32

- Impatience Leads to Idolatry – Israel grew restless when Moses delayed and turned to the golden calf, showing the danger of forgetting God’s timing.
- Leadership Must Stand Firm – Aaron yielded to the people’s pressure, reminding us that weak leadership can lead others into sin.
- Idolatry Corrupts Worship – Israel claimed to honor the Lord through the calf, proving that mixing truth with false worship leads to corruption.
- Sin Brings God’s Anger – God’s wrath burned against Israel’s rebellion, showing the seriousness of idolatry and disobedience.
- Intercession Makes a Difference – Moses pleaded with God to spare Israel, demonstrating the power of standing in the gap for others.
- Sin Must Be Dealt With – The Levites’ judgment and the plague revealed that rebellion brings consequences, and sin cannot go unpunished.
- God’s Grace Provides Hope – Despite Israel’s failure, God remained faithful to His covenant, pointing to His mercy through Christ.

Exodus Chapter 33

God Tells Moses to Leave Sinai

1 Then the LORD said to Moses, “Leave this place—you and the people you brought up from the land of Egypt. Go to the land I swore to give to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob when I said, ‘I will give it to your descendants.’”

2 I will send an angel before you to drive out the Canaanites, Amorites, Hittites, Perizzites, Hivites, and Jebusites.

3 Go up to that land flowing with milk and honey. But I will not go with you myself, because you are a stubborn and rebellious people. If I were to go with you, I might destroy you along the way.”

4 When the people heard these harsh words, they mourned and stopped wearing their jewelry.

5 For the LORD had told Moses, “Tell the Israelites, ‘You are a stubborn people. If I were to travel with you for even a moment, I would destroy you. Now take off your jewelry while I decide what to do with you.’”

6 So from that time on, the Israelites wore no jewelry or fine ornaments.

The Tent of Meeting

7 Now Moses would take a tent and set it up some distance outside the camp. He called it the “Tent of Meeting.” Anyone who wanted to ask the LORD something would go out to this tent.

8 Whenever Moses went to the tent, all the people would get up and stand in the entrances of their own tents. They would watch until Moses entered the Tent of Meeting.

9 As Moses entered the tent, the pillar of cloud would come down and hover at the entrance while the LORD spoke with him.

10 When the people saw the cloud standing at the entrance, they would rise and bow down in worship at their own tent doors.

11 Inside the Tent of Meeting, the LORD would speak to Moses face to face, as one speaks with a friend. Afterward, Moses would return to the camp, but his young assistant Joshua son of Nun stayed behind in the tent.

Moses Asks for God's Presence

12 One day Moses said to the LORD, “You’ve been telling me, ‘Take these people to the Promised Land,’ but You haven’t told me whom You’ll send with me. You say, ‘I know you by name, and I look favorably on you.’

13 If that’s true, then let me know Your ways so I may know You more and continue to find favor with You. And remember, this nation is Your people.”

14 The LORD replied, “I will personally go with you, Moses, and I will give you rest—everything will be fine for you.”

15 Then Moses said, “If You don’t personally go with us, don’t make us leave this place.

16 How will anyone know that You look favorably on me and on Your people—if You don’t go with us? Your presence with us sets us apart from all the other people on earth.”

17 The LORD replied to Moses, “I will do exactly what you have asked, because I look favorably on you, and I know you by name.”

Moses Sees God’s Glory (Partially)

18 Then Moses said, “Please show me Your glory.”

19 The LORD replied, “I will make all My goodness pass before you, and I will proclaim My name, Yahweh, before you. I will show mercy to anyone I choose, and I will show compassion to anyone I choose.

20 But you may not look directly at My face, for no one can see Me and live.”

21 The LORD continued, “Stand near Me on this rock.

22 As My glorious presence passes by, I will hide you in the crevice of the rock and cover you with My hand until I’ve passed.

23 Then I will remove My hand and let you see My back—but My face will not be seen.”

Key Lessons from Exodus 33

- Sin Hinders God’s Presence – Because of Israel’s idolatry, God warned He would not go with them, showing that sin breaks fellowship with Him.
- True Blessing Is God Himself – Moses understood that no promised land or victory mattered if God’s presence was absent.
- God Meets with the Humble – Moses set up the tent of meeting outside the camp, and those who sought the Lord went there, reminding us that God draws near to those who seek Him.
- Intercession Brings Favor – Moses pleaded for God’s presence, proving that prayer and bold intercession can move God’s hand in mercy.
- God’s Presence Distinguishes His People – Moses declared that what sets Israel apart from all nations is the presence of the Lord with them.
- God Reveals Himself to the Hungry Heart – Moses asked to see God’s glory, teaching that a true servant longs for deeper revelation of Him.
- God’s Grace Is Sovereign – The Lord’s response, “I will be gracious to whom I will be gracious,” shows that His mercy flows according to His will, not human demand.

Exodus Chapter 34

New Stone Tablets

1 Then the LORD said to Moses, “Chisel out two stone tablets like the first ones. I will write on them the same words that were on the tablets you broke.

2 Be ready in the morning to climb Mount Sinai and stand before Me at the top.

3 No one else may come with you. Don’t let anyone be seen anywhere on the mountain. Even the flocks and herds must not graze near it.”

4 So Moses chiseled out two tablets of stone like the first ones. Early in the morning he climbed Mount Sinai as the LORD commanded, carrying the two tablets in his hands.

God Reveals His Glory and Name

5 Then the LORD came down in a cloud and stood there with Moses, and He called out His own name —Yahweh.

6 The LORD passed in front of Moses, proclaiming:

“Yahweh! The LORD!

The God of compassion and mercy!

I am slow to anger,

filled with unfailing love and faithfulness.

7 I lavish unfailing love to a thousand generations.

I forgive iniquity, rebellion, and sin.

But I do not excuse the guilty.

I lay the consequences of sin

on the children and grandchildren of those who reject Me, even to the third and fourth generation.”

8 Moses immediately threw himself to the ground and worshiped.

9 He said, “O Lord, if it is true that I have found favor with You, then please travel with us. Yes, this is a stubborn and rebellious people, but please forgive our sins and claim us as Your own special possession.”

Renewing the Covenant

10 The LORD replied, “Listen, I am making a covenant with you. I will perform wonders that have never been done before in any nation. All the people among whom you live will see the awesome power of the LORD I will display through you.

11 Obey everything I command you today. I will drive out before you the Amorites, Canaanites, Hittites, Perizzites, Hivites, and Jebusites.

12 Be careful not to make any treaties with the people who live in the land where you are going. If you do, you will fall into their trap.

13 Instead, tear down their altars, smash their sacred pillars, and cut down their Asherah poles.

14 You must worship no other gods, for the LORD—whose name is Jealous—is a God who demands exclusive loyalty.

15 Don’t make treaties with those who live in the land. When they worship their gods and offer sacrifices, they will invite you, and you will eat their food and join them.

16 Then you will take their daughters as wives for your sons, and those daughters will lead your sons to worship their gods.”

Commands to Obey

17 “Do not make any idols of any kind.

18 Celebrate the Festival of Unleavened Bread. For seven days you must eat bread without yeast, just as I commanded you. Do this each year at the appointed time in the month of Abib, for that is when you came out of Egypt.

19 The firstborn of every womb belongs to Me—all your male livestock, whether ox or sheep.

20 You may buy back a firstborn donkey by sacrificing a lamb in its place. But if you do not buy it back, you must break its neck. You must also buy back all your firstborn sons. No one may appear before Me without an offering.

21 You have six days each week to do your work, but on the seventh day you must rest—even during plowing and harvest season.

22 Celebrate the Festival of Harvest with the first crops of the wheat harvest. Then celebrate the Festival of Ingathering at the end of the harvest season.

23 Three times each year, every man in Israel must appear before the Sovereign LORD, the God of Israel.

24 I will drive out the nations ahead of you and expand your territory. No one will try to conquer your land when you go to appear before the LORD your God three times each year.

25 You must not offer the blood of My sacrificial offerings together with anything containing yeast. And none of the meat from the Passover sacrifice may be kept over until the next morning.

26 Bring the best of the firstfruits of your land to the house of the LORD your God.

You must not cook a young goat in its mother's milk."

The Radiance of Moses' Face

27 Then the LORD said to Moses, "Write down all these instructions, for they represent the terms of the covenant I am making with you and with Israel."

28 Moses stayed there with the LORD for forty days and forty nights. He didn't eat or drink anything. During that time, he wrote on the tablets the terms of the covenant—the Ten Commandments.

29 When Moses came down from Mount Sinai carrying the two tablets, he didn't realize that his face was glowing because he had been speaking with the LORD.

30 When Aaron and the people of Israel saw how radiant his face was, they were afraid to come near him.

31 But Moses called out to them, and Aaron and all the leaders came near, and he gave them the instructions the LORD had given him.

32 Afterward, all the people of Israel came close, and Moses gave them all the commands the LORD had spoken to him on Mount Sinai.

33 When Moses finished speaking with them, he put a veil over his face.

34 But whenever he went into the presence of the LORD to speak with Him, he would remove the veil until he came back out. Then he would give the people whatever commands the LORD had given him, 35 and the people would see that his face was glowing. So he would put the veil back over his face until the next time he went in to speak with the LORD.

Exodus Chapter 35

Instructions About the Sabbath

1 Moses gathered the entire community of Israel and said to them, “These are the commands the LORD has given you to obey:

2 You have six days each week for your ordinary work, but the seventh day must be a holy day of rest, a Sabbath day set apart for the LORD. Anyone who works on that day must be put to death.

3 Do not even light a fire in any of your homes on the Sabbath.”

Offerings for the Tabernacle

4 Then Moses said to the whole community of Israel, “This is what the LORD has commanded:

5 Take a sacred offering for the LORD. Let those with generous hearts bring the following as an offering to the LORD:

- Gold, silver, and bronze;
- 6 blue, purple, and scarlet thread; fine linen and goat hair for cloth;
- 7 tanned ram skins and fine leather; acacia wood;

8 olive oil for the lamps; spices for the anointing oil and fragrant incense;
9 onyx stones, and other gemstones to be set in the ephod and the chestpiece.

Skilled Workers Called to Serve

10 “Come, all of you who are skilled craftsmen. The LORD has given you special skills to do the work He has commanded:

11 the Tabernacle and its tent, its coverings, clasps, frames, crossbars, posts, and bases;

12 the Ark and its carrying poles; the atonement cover; and the inner curtain that shields it;

13 the table and its utensils; the lampstand and its accessories; the altar of incense and its poles; the anointing oil and fragrant incense;

14 the curtain for the entrance of the Tabernacle;

15 the altar of burnt offering and its bronze grate, its poles and utensils; the washbasin with its stand;

16 the curtains for the courtyard walls; the posts and bases; the curtain for the courtyard entrance; the tent pegs for the Tabernacle and courtyard;

17 the beautifully crafted garments for the priests—Aaron and his sons—to wear while ministering in the Holy Place.”

The People Give Willingly

18 So the whole community of Israel left Moses and returned to their tents.

19 Everyone whose heart was stirred and whose spirit was moved came and brought their sacred offerings to the LORD. They brought what was needed for the construction of the Tabernacle, for its worship, and for the priestly garments.

20 Both men and women came, all whose hearts were willing. They brought brooches, earrings, rings, and necklaces—their jewelry of gold—as a special offering to the LORD.

21 They also brought blue, purple, and scarlet thread, fine linen and goat hair, tanned ram skins, and fine leather.

22 Those who had silver or bronze objects brought them as offerings to the LORD. Those who had acacia wood brought it for use in the project.

23 All the skilled women spun thread with their hands and brought blue, purple, and scarlet yarn and fine linen cloth.

24 Some women also spun goat hair and brought what they had made.

25 The leaders brought onyx stones and other gems to be set in the ephod and chestpiece.

26 They also brought spices and olive oil for the lamp, the anointing oil, and the fragrant incense.

27 So the people of Israel—all the men and women whose hearts were willing—brought their gifts and offerings to the LORD. They brought them for the construction of the Tabernacle and for the clothing and items needed for worship, just as the LORD had commanded through Moses.

Bezalel and Oholiab Called

30 Then Moses told the people, “The LORD has specifically chosen Bezalel son of Uri, grandson of Hur, from the tribe of Judah.

31 The LORD has filled him with the Spirit of God, giving him great wisdom, understanding, and skill in all kinds of crafts.

32 He can design artistic works in gold, silver, and bronze;

33 he is skilled in cutting and setting stones, carving wood, and working in every artistic craft.

34 And the LORD has given both him and Oholiab son of Ahisamach, from the tribe of Dan, the ability to teach their skills to others.

35 The LORD has filled them with special skills as engravers, designers, embroiderers in blue, purple, and scarlet thread on fine linen, and as weavers. They excel as craftsmen and as designers.”

Exodus Chapter 36

Skilled Craftsmen Begin the Work

1 So Bezalel, Oholiab, and every skilled person whom the LORD had given wisdom and understanding to know how to do the work of building the sanctuary came to do everything the LORD had commanded.

2 Moses summoned Bezalel, Oholiab, and all the craftsmen whose hearts the LORD had stirred, and all who were eager to get to work.

3 Moses gave them the sacred offerings the Israelites had brought for the construction of the sanctuary. But the people kept bringing gifts each morning.

4 So all the skilled workers doing the holy work stopped and came to Moses,
5 saying, “The people have given more than enough materials to complete the job the LORD has commanded us to do!”

6 So Moses gave the order, and it was announced throughout the camp: “No man or woman should bring anything else as an offering for the sanctuary.” So the people stopped bringing gifts.
7 Their contributions were more than enough to complete all the work.

Making the Tabernacle

8 All the skilled workers made ten curtains of finely woven linen and embroidered them with blue, purple, and scarlet thread, and with designs of cherubim.

9 Each curtain was forty-two feet long and six feet wide; all ten curtains were exactly the same size.

10 Bezalel joined five of the curtains together to make one long curtain, and he joined the other five to make a second long curtain.

11 Then he made fifty loops of blue yarn and put them along the edge of the last curtain in each set.

12 The fifty loops along one curtain matched the fifty loops on the other.

13 Then he made fifty gold clasps and fastened the two long curtains together with the clasps, making the Tabernacle a single unit.

Making the Tent Coverings

14 He made eleven curtains of goat hair to be used as a tent covering for the Tabernacle.

15 Each of these eleven curtains was forty-five feet long and six feet wide—all eleven the same size.

16 He joined five of these curtains together to make one long one, and the other six into another.

17 He made fifty loops for the edge of each set of curtains.

18 Then he made fifty bronze clasps and joined the two sets together to form one large covering.

19 He made two additional coverings for the tent—one of tanned ram skins and another of fine leather.

Constructing the Framework

20 He made upright frames of acacia wood for the Tabernacle.

21 Each frame was fifteen feet high and twenty-seven inches wide.

22 Each had two pegs for joining them together. All the frames were made the same way.

23 He made twenty frames for the south side of the Tabernacle,

24 with forty silver bases—two bases under each frame.

25 For the north side, he made another twenty frames,

26 with forty silver bases—two under each frame.

27 He made six frames for the west side,

28 and two additional frames for the rear corners of the Tabernacle.

29 These corner frames were joined at the bottom and top with a single ring, forming a single unit. He made both corner frames the same way.

30 So there were eight frames at the rear of the Tabernacle, held up by sixteen silver bases—two under each frame.

Making the Crossbars

31 He made five crossbars of acacia wood for the north side of the Tabernacle,

32 and five for the south side, and five for the rear.

33 He made the middle crossbar run halfway up the frames from one end to the other.

34 He overlaid the frames with gold and made gold rings to hold the crossbars, which he also overlaid with gold.

The Inner Curtain (Veil)

35 For the inside of the Tabernacle, he made a special curtain of finely woven linen with blue, purple, and scarlet thread and skillfully embroidered cherubim.

36 He made four posts of acacia wood and overlaid them with gold. He cast four silver bases for them and made gold hooks for the curtain.

The Curtain for the Entrance

37 For the entrance to the Tabernacle, he made a curtain of finely woven linen, embroidered with blue, purple, and scarlet thread.

38 He made five posts with hooks to support the curtain. He overlaid the tops and bands of the posts with gold and cast bronze bases for them.

Key Lessons from Exodus 36

- God Gives Wisdom for His Work – Bezalel, Oholiab, and skilled workers carried out the tabernacle construction with wisdom from God, showing He equips His people for service.
- Willing Hearts Fuel God’s Mission – The workers received the freewill offerings from Israel, reminding us that God’s work advances through generous, willing hearts.

- God’s Presence Requires Preparation – The tabernacle curtains, coverings, and frames were made according to God’s design, teaching that His dwelling must be prepared with reverence.

- Every Detail Matters to God – From measurements to materials, every part of the tabernacle was important, reminding us that nothing offered to God is small in His eyes.

Exodus Chapter 37

The Ark of the Covenant

- 1 Bezalel made the Ark of the Covenant from acacia wood. It was 45 inches long, 27 inches wide, and 27 inches high.
- 2 He overlaid it inside and out with pure gold and made a gold molding all around it.
- 3 He cast four gold rings for it and attached them to its four feet—two rings on each side.
- 4 He made poles from acacia wood, overlaid them with gold,
- 5 and inserted them into the rings at the sides of the Ark so it could be carried.
- 6 He made the atonement cover (mercy seat) from pure gold. It was 45 inches long and 27 inches wide.
- 7 He made two cherubim from hammered gold at each end of the cover—
- 8 one cherub on each end, made from the same piece of gold as the cover itself. The cherubim faced each other and looked down toward the cover, and their wings spread upward over it.

The Table of the Bread of the Presence

- 9 He made the table out of acacia wood. It was 36 inches long, 18 inches wide, and 27 inches high.
- 10 He overlaid it with pure gold and made a gold molding around the edge.
- 11 He added a three-inch-wide rim all around it and put a gold molding on the rim.
- 12 He cast four gold rings and attached them at the four corners near the legs,
- 13 next to the rim, to hold the poles used to carry the table.
- 14 He made the poles out of acacia wood and overlaid them with gold.
- 15 He also made the utensils for the table—dishes, pans, bowls, and pitchers to pour offerings—with pure gold.

The Lampstand

- 16 Then he made the lampstand out of pure, hammered gold. Its base, shaft, cups, buds, and petals were all one piece.
- 17 It had six branches—three on each side.
- 18 Each branch had three cups shaped like almond blossoms, complete with buds and petals.
- 19 The center shaft also had four cups shaped like almond blossoms, each with buds and petals.
- 20 There was a bud beneath each pair of branches, all made from the same piece as the lampstand.
- 21 The entire lampstand with its branches was made from a single piece of pure, hammered gold.
- 22 He made seven lamps for it, along with wick trimmers and trays, all out of pure gold.
- 23 He used 75 pounds of pure gold to make the lampstand and all its accessories.

The Altar of Incense

24 Bezalel made the altar of incense from acacia wood. It was 18 inches square and 36 inches high, with horns at each corner made from the same piece of wood.

25 He overlaid the top, sides, and horns with pure gold and made a gold molding all around it.

26 He made two gold rings and attached them to the altar below the molding, on opposite sides, to hold the carrying poles.

27 He made the poles of acacia wood and overlaid them with gold.

Sacred Oil and Incense

28 He made the holy anointing oil and the pure, fragrant incense, blended like perfume by a skilled craftsman.

29 He also made the incense altar's utensils and accessories to complete the work of the sanctuary, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

Key Lessons from Exodus 37

Exodus Chapter 38

The Altar of Burnt Offering

1 Bezalel made the altar for burnt offerings from acacia wood. It was square—7.5 feet long and 7.5 feet wide—and 4.5 feet high.

2 He made a horn on each of the four corners, all one piece with the altar, and overlaid the entire altar with bronze.

3 He made all the utensils for the altar—pots, shovels, basins, meat forks, and firepans—out of bronze.

4 He made a bronze grating to fit under the ledge halfway up the altar.

5 He cast four rings and attached them to the corners of the grating to hold the carrying poles.

6 He made the poles from acacia wood and overlaid them with bronze.

7 He inserted the poles through the rings on the sides of the altar so it could be carried. The altar was hollow, made from wooden planks.

The Bronze Washbasin

8 Bezalel made the bronze washbasin and its stand from bronze mirrors donated by the women who served at the entrance of the Tabernacle.

The Courtyard

9 Then he made the courtyard. The south side was 150 feet long and had curtains made of finely woven linen,

10 with twenty bronze posts set in twenty bronze bases. The hooks and rods for the posts were silver.

11 The north side was also 150 feet long with twenty posts and bases, and silver hooks and rods.

12 The west end was 75 feet wide, with ten posts and ten bases, with silver hooks and rods.

13 The east end was also 75 feet wide.

14 One side of the entrance had curtains 22.5 feet long, with three posts and three bases,

15 and the other side also had curtains 22.5 feet long with three posts and three bases.

16 All the curtains around the courtyard were made of finely woven linen.

17 The bases for the posts were bronze; the hooks and rods were silver. The tops of the posts were overlaid with silver, and the rods were also silver.

18 The curtain at the entrance to the courtyard was 30 feet wide. It was made of finely woven linen and embroidered with blue, purple, and scarlet thread. It was supported by four posts in four bronze bases, with silver hooks and rods.

19 All the tent pegs for the Tabernacle and the courtyard were made of bronze.

Inventory of Materials

20 This is the inventory of the materials used in building the Tabernacle of the Covenant. It was recorded as Moses had commanded by the Levites under the direction of Ithamar son of Aaron the priest.

21 Bezalel son of Uri, grandson of Hur, of the tribe of Judah, made everything the LORD had commanded Moses.

22 With him was Oholiab son of Ahisamach, of the tribe of Dan—a skilled engraver, designer, and embroiderer, expert in blue, purple, and scarlet thread and fine linen.

23 The people brought the following amounts of precious metals for the work of the sanctuary:

24 The total amount of gold from the wave offering used in the sanctuary was 2,193 pounds, as measured by the standard sanctuary shekel.

25 The silver collected from the census of the community was 7,544 pounds,
26 or one-fifth of an ounce for each of the 603,550 men who were registered, each man 20 years old or older.

27 From the collected silver, 7,500 pounds were used to cast the bases for the sanctuary and the curtain—100 bases from 75 pounds each.

28 The remaining 44 pounds of silver were used for the hooks and rods and to overlay the tops of the posts.

29 The bronze from the offering totaled 5,310 pounds.

30 It was used to make the bases for the entrance to the Tabernacle, the bronze altar and its grate, all the altar utensils,

31 the bases for the courtyard around the Tabernacle, the bases for the courtyard entrance, all the tent pegs for the Tabernacle, and all the tent pegs for the surrounding courtyard.

Key Lessons from Exodus 38

Exodus Chapter 39

The Priestly Garments

1 The workers used blue, purple, and scarlet thread to make the garments for the priests to wear while serving in the Holy Place. They also made the holy garments for Aaron, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

The Ephod

2 Bezalel made the ephod out of finely woven linen, embroidered with gold thread and blue, purple, and scarlet yarn.

3 They hammered thin sheets of gold and cut them into fine strands to be embroidered into the cloth, along with the other threads, in a beautifully detailed design.

4 They made shoulder pieces for the ephod, which were attached at the corners so it could be tied together.

5 The decorative sash was made from the same materials—finely woven linen embroidered with gold, blue, purple, and scarlet thread—just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

6 They mounted the onyx stones in gold settings. The stones were engraved with the names of the twelve tribes of Israel, like a seal.

7 They fastened the stones on the shoulders of the ephod as reminders that the priest represented the twelve tribes. This was done just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

The Chestpiece

8 Bezalel made the chestpiece with great skill. It was made to match the ephod, from the same materials: finely woven linen embroidered with gold, blue, purple, and scarlet thread.

9 The chestpiece was square—doubled over and measuring nine inches on each side.

10 They mounted four rows of precious stones on it.

- The first row had a ruby, topaz, and emerald.

11 The second row had a turquoise, sapphire, and diamond.

12 The third row had a jacinth, agate, and amethyst.

13 The fourth row had a beryl, onyx, and jasper—all set in gold filigree.

14 Each stone represented one of the twelve tribes of Israel, engraved like a seal with the name of that tribe.

15 They made braided cords of pure gold to attach to the chestpiece.

16 They also made gold settings and two gold rings for the top corners of the chestpiece.

17 They fastened the gold cords to the rings on the chestpiece.

18 Then they attached the other ends of the cords to the gold settings on the shoulders of the ephod.

19 They made two more gold rings and attached them to the inside corners of the chestpiece next to the ephod.

20 They made two more rings on the bottom of the ephod, near the seam above the waistband.

21 Then they tied the chestpiece to the ephod with a blue cord so it rested securely above the waistband—just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

Other Garments

22 Bezalel made the robe to be worn with the ephod entirely from blue woven cloth.

23 The robe had an opening in the center, reinforced with a woven collar so it would not tear.

24 On the bottom hem, they attached decorative pomegranates made from blue, purple, and scarlet yarn.

25 They also made small bells of pure gold and attached them between the pomegranates all around the hem—

26 a bell and a pomegranate alternating all the way around, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

27 They made tunics of fine linen cloth for Aaron and his sons.

28 The headbands, turbans, and undergarments were also made of fine linen.

29 The sashes were made of finely woven linen and embroidered with blue, purple, and scarlet thread—just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

The Holy Crown

30 They made the medallion—the sacred badge of holiness—from pure gold. They engraved it like a seal with the words: “Holy to the LORD.”

31 They attached it to the turban with a blue cord, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

Completion of the Work

32 In this way, all the work for the Tabernacle—the Tent of Meeting—was completed. The Israelites did everything just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

33 They brought the entire Tabernacle to Moses: the tent and all its furnishings, clasps, frames, crossbars, posts, and bases;

34 the coverings of tanned ram skins and fine leather; the inner curtain;

35 the Ark of the Covenant with its poles and the atonement cover;

36 the table and all its utensils; the Bread of the Presence;

37 the pure gold lampstand with its lamps and all its accessories; the olive oil for lighting;

38 the gold altar; the anointing oil and fragrant incense; the curtain for the Tabernacle entrance;

39 the bronze altar; the bronze grating and its poles and utensils; the washbasin with its stand;

40 the curtains for the courtyard and its posts and bases; the curtain for the entrance to the courtyard; the ropes and tent pegs—all the equipment needed for the Tabernacle, the Tent of Meeting;

41 and the beautifully crafted garments for the priests to wear while ministering in the Holy Place—those worn by Aaron the priest and his sons.

42 The Israelites had followed all the LORD’s instructions to Moses and completed the entire project.

43 Then Moses inspected all their work. When he saw they had completed it just as the LORD had commanded, he blessed them.

Key Lessons from Exodus 39

Exodus Chapter 40

Setting Up the Tabernacle

1 Then the LORD said to Moses,

2 “Set up the Tabernacle, the Tent of Meeting, on the first day of the first month.

3 Place the Ark of the Covenant inside, and hang the inner curtain to shield it.

4 Bring in the table and arrange the items on it. Bring in the lampstand and set up the lamps.

5 Place the gold incense altar in front of the Ark. Then hang the curtain at the entrance to the Tabernacle.

6 Place the altar for burnt offerings in front of the entrance.

7 Set the washbasin between the Tabernacle and the altar, and fill it with water.

8 Set up the courtyard around the Tabernacle, and hang the curtain at the entrance of the courtyard.

9 “Take the anointing oil and anoint the Tabernacle and everything in it. Consecrate it and all its furnishings, and it will be holy.

10 Anoint the altar for burnt offerings and all its utensils. Consecrate the altar, and it will be especially holy.

11 Anoint the washbasin and its stand and consecrate them as well.

12 “Bring Aaron and his sons to the entrance of the Tabernacle, and wash them with water.

13 Dress Aaron with the holy garments, anoint him, and consecrate him so he can serve Me as priest.

14 Then bring his sons, dress them in their tunics,

15 and anoint them just as you anointed their father. Their anointing will make them priests for all generations.”

16 Moses did everything just as the LORD had commanded him.

The Tabernacle Completed

17 So the Tabernacle was set up on the first day of the first month of the second year.

18 Moses set it up by placing the bases, then setting up the frames, crossbars, and posts.

19 He spread the tent coverings over the Tabernacle and placed the protective layers on top—just as the LORD had commanded.

20 He placed the tablets of the covenant inside the Ark, attached the poles to the Ark, and set the atonement cover on top.

21 Then he brought the Ark into the Tabernacle, hung the inner curtain to shield it, and placed the Ark behind the curtain—just as the LORD had commanded.

22 Next he placed the table in the Tabernacle on the north side of the Holy Place, outside the inner curtain.

23 He arranged the Bread of the Presence on the table before the LORD—just as the LORD had commanded.

24 He set the lampstand in the Tabernacle across from the table on the south side of the Holy Place.

25 Then he set up the lamps before the LORD—just as the LORD had commanded.

26 He placed the gold incense altar in the Tabernacle in front of the inner curtain.

27 On it he burned fragrant incense—just as the LORD had commanded.

28 He hung the curtain at the entrance to the Tabernacle.

29 Then he set up the altar for burnt offerings near the entrance and offered a burnt offering and a grain offering on it—just as the LORD had commanded.

30 He placed the washbasin between the Tabernacle and the altar and filled it with water.

31 Moses, Aaron, and his sons washed their hands and feet there.

32 Whenever they entered the Tabernacle or approached the altar, they washed—just as the LORD had commanded.

33 Finally, he set up the courtyard around the Tabernacle and the altar and hung the curtain at the entrance to the courtyard. So at last Moses finished the work.

The Glory of the LORD Fills the Tabernacle

34 Then the cloud covered the Tabernacle, and the glorious presence of the LORD filled it.

35 Moses could not enter the Tent of Meeting because the cloud had settled over it, and the glory of the LORD filled the Tabernacle.

36 Whenever the cloud lifted from the Tabernacle, the people of Israel would set out on their journey.

37 But if the cloud did not rise, they stayed where they were until it lifted.

38 The cloud of the LORD hovered over the Tabernacle during the day, and fire glowed inside the cloud at night. This continued for all the people of Israel to see, throughout all their journeys.

Key Lessons from Exodus 40

- God Calls for Complete Obedience – Moses set up the tabernacle exactly as the Lord commanded, showing that true worship requires full submission to His word.
- God’s Presence Fills His Dwelling – The glory of the Lord filled the tabernacle, proving that God desires to dwell among His people.
- God Directs His People’s Journey – The cloud by day and fire by night guided Israel, teaching that God leads His people step by step.
- God’s Holiness Requires Order – The careful arrangement of the tabernacle and its furnishings revealed that approaching God must be done His way.
- Obedience Prepares the Way for God’s Glory – Only after everything was done as the Lord commanded did His glory fill the tabernacle, showing that God honors faithfulness.
- God’s Presence Brings Assurance – Israel could move forward with confidence, knowing that God Himself was with them.
- Christ Is God’s Dwelling Among Us – The tabernacle points to Jesus, the Word made flesh who “tabernacled” among us, and to the Holy Spirit who dwells in believers today.

Introduction to the Book of Leviticus

Crawford Standard Bible (CSB)

The Book of Leviticus is God’s detailed instruction manual for how a holy people should live in fellowship with a holy God. Named after the Levites, the priestly tribe of Israel, this book picks up where Exodus left off—with the glory of the LORD now filling the Tabernacle—and explains how the Israelites are to approach, worship, and walk with God.

Leviticus is not merely a book of ancient rituals and regulations. It reveals the deep holiness of God, the seriousness of sin, and the necessity of atonement. Through sacrifices, offerings, priesthood duties, festivals, and purity laws, the LORD showed Israel how to be set apart from the surrounding nations and walk in covenant obedience.

Key Themes:

- Holiness: “Be holy, for I am holy” (Leviticus 11:44) is the heartbeat of the book.
- Sacrifice and Atonement: Sin separates humanity from God, but blood makes a way for forgiveness.
- Priestly Mediation: The Levitical priests represent the people before God and point to the coming Great High Priest.

- Clean and Unclean: God teaches spiritual truths through physical symbols of purity and impurity.
- Covenant Faithfulness: Obedience brings blessing; rebellion brings judgment.

Christ Foreshadowed:

Every offering, priestly garment, festival, and law whispers the name of Jesus Christ—our perfect High Priest and final sacrifice. He fulfills the ceremonial law and makes a way for us to enter God’s presence with boldness and purity (Hebrews 10:1–14).

✍️ Authorship and Setting:

Leviticus was written by Moses, under the inspiration of the Holy Spirit, while Israel was encamped at Mount Sinai. It serves as a divine constitution for worship and daily life, bridging Exodus and Numbers.

Purpose of Leviticus:

To instruct the people of God how to live in holiness, worship in reverence, and approach the presence of the LORD in purity through a priesthood and sacrifices that ultimately point forward to Christ.

Leviticus Chapter 1

Instructions for Burnt Offerings

1 The LORD called to Moses from the Tabernacle and said,

2 “Give the Israelites these instructions: When anyone among you brings an offering to the LORD, you may bring an animal from your herd of cattle or flock of sheep or goats.

Burnt Offering from the Herd

3 If the offering is a burnt offering from the herd, it must be a male with no defects. Bring it to the entrance of the Tabernacle so it will be accepted by the LORD.

4 Lay your hand on the animal’s head, and the LORD will accept its death in your place to purify you and make you right with Him.

5 Then slaughter the young bull in the LORD’s presence. Aaron’s sons, the priests, will present the blood by splashing it against all sides of the altar that stands at the entrance of the Tabernacle.

6 Skin the animal and cut it into pieces.

7 The sons of Aaron will build a fire on the altar and arrange wood on it.

8 Then they will lay the animal’s pieces—including the head and fat—on the wood burning on the altar.

9 The internal organs and legs must be washed with water. Then the priest will burn the entire offering on the altar. It is a burnt offering—a special gift, a pleasing aroma to the LORD.

Burnt Offering from the Flock

10 If your offering is a burnt offering from the flock, it must be a male sheep or goat with no defects.

11 Slaughter the animal on the north side of the altar in the LORD's presence. Aaron's sons, the priests, will splash its blood against all sides of the altar.

12 Cut the animal into pieces, and the priest will arrange the pieces—along with the head and fat—on the wood burning on the altar.

13 Wash the internal organs and legs with water, then the priest will burn the whole animal on the altar. It is a burnt offering—a special gift, a pleasing aroma to the LORD.

Burnt Offering of Birds

14 If you bring a bird as a burnt offering to the LORD, choose either a turtledove or a young pigeon.

15 The priest will take the bird to the altar, twist off its head, and burn it on the altar. Its blood will be drained against the side of the altar.

16 The priest will remove the bird's crop and feathers and throw them on the ash pile beside the altar on the east side.

17 Then he will tear the bird open by its wings without completely splitting it apart. The priest will burn it on the altar, on top of the wood. It is a burnt offering—a special gift, a pleasing aroma to the LORD.

Key Lessons from Leviticus 1

- God Provides a Way of Approach – The burnt offering showed that sinful people can draw near to a holy God through sacrifice.
- Sacrifice Must Be Personal – The worshiper laid his hand on the animal, symbolizing the transfer of guilt and showing that atonement must be personal.
- God Requires the Best – Only animals without defect were acceptable, teaching that God is worthy of our best, not leftovers.
- Atonement Comes Through Substitution – The innocent animal died in place of the sinner, pointing forward to Christ as the perfect substitute.
- Worship Requires Obedience – The offering had to be prepared and presented exactly as God commanded, showing that worship is on His terms, not ours.
- Sacrifice Produces a Pleasing Aroma – The offering was described as a “pleasing fragrance” to the Lord, foreshadowing Christ's sacrifice that satisfied God completely (Ephesians 5:2).
- Christ Is the Perfect Burnt Offering – Jesus gave Himself fully and willingly to God, fulfilling the meaning of the burnt offering once for all.

Leviticus Chapter 2

Instructions for Grain Offerings

- 1 “When you present a grain offering to the LORD, your offering must consist of the finest flour. Pour olive oil on it and sprinkle it with frankincense.
- 2 Then bring it to Aaron’s sons, the priests. The priest will scoop out a portion of the flour and oil, along with all the frankincense, and burn it on the altar as a special portion of the offering. It is a gift—a pleasing aroma to the LORD.
- 3 The rest of the grain offering will be given to Aaron and his sons. This portion is most holy, set apart for them from the offerings presented to the LORD.

Grain Offerings Baked

- 4 “If your offering is a grain offering baked in an oven, it must be made of choice flour and cooked without yeast. It may be presented in the form of thin loaves mixed with olive oil or wafers brushed with olive oil.
- 5 If your grain offering is cooked on a griddle, it must be made of choice flour mixed with olive oil and cooked without yeast.
- 6 Break it into pieces and pour olive oil on it—it is a grain offering.
- 7 If your grain offering is prepared in a pan, it must be made of choice flour with olive oil.
- 8 No matter how it is prepared, bring it to the LORD and present it to the priest, who will take it to the altar.
- 9 The priest will take a portion of the grain offering and burn it on the altar. It is a special gift, a pleasing aroma to the LORD.
- 10 The rest of the offering will be given to Aaron and his sons as their share. It is most holy from the food offerings presented to the LORD.

Prohibited Ingredients and Required Seasoning

- 11 “Do not use yeast or honey in any of the grain offerings you present to the LORD. These must never be burned on the altar as a pleasing aroma.
- 12 You may offer them to the LORD as a special gift of the first harvest, but they must not be offered on the altar as a pleasing aroma.
- 13 Season all your grain offerings with salt to remind you of the covenant between you and God. Never forget to add salt to your grain offerings.

Grain Offerings of Firstfruits

14 “If you present a grain offering of your first harvest to the LORD, bring crushed heads of new grain roasted on a fire.

15 Put olive oil and frankincense on it—it is a grain offering.

16 The priest will burn a portion of the crushed grain along with the oil and all the frankincense as a special gift to the LORD.”

Key Lessons from Leviticus 2

- God Receives Grain Offerings as Worship – The grain offering showed that everyday work and produce could be offered to God as an act of devotion.
- Worship Involves Thankfulness – Giving from the harvest expressed gratitude to God as the provider of all things.
- God Requires Purity in Offerings – The use of fine flour and the absence of leaven and honey symbolized purity and sincerity in worship.
- Sacrifice Must Be Seasoned With Salt – Salt represented covenant faithfulness, showing that worship must be marked by loyalty and permanence.
- God Values Variety in Worship – The offering could be prepared baked, roasted, or fried, teaching that God accepts diverse expressions of devotion when done His way.
- The First Portion Belongs to the Lord – The memorial portion was burned on the altar, reminding us that the best part of our work belongs to God.
- Christ Fulfills the Grain Offering – Jesus, the Bread of Life, offered Himself in purity and thankfulness, becoming the perfect offering to God.

Leviticus Chapter 3

Instructions for Peace Offerings

1 “If you present an offering of peace to the LORD, whether from the herd or the flock, it may be a male or female, but it must have no defects.

2 Lay your hand on the animal’s head and slaughter it at the entrance of the Tabernacle. Aaron’s sons, the priests, will splatter its blood against all sides of the altar.

3 Then present the fat from the peace offering as a gift to the LORD: the fat that covers the internal organs, all the fat attached to the organs,

4 both kidneys with the fat on them near the loins, and the long lobe of the liver, which must be removed with the kidneys.

5 Aaron’s sons will burn these parts on the altar on top of the burnt offering, which is already burning. It is a food offering, a pleasing aroma to the LORD.

Peace Offering from the Flock (Sheep)

6 “If you present a peace offering from the flock, it may be either a male or female, but it must have no defects.

7 If it is a lamb, bring it before the LORD.

8 Lay your hand on the animal’s head and slaughter it in front of the Tabernacle. Aaron’s sons will splatter its blood against all sides of the altar.

9 Present the fat of the lamb as a gift to the LORD: the fat of the tail cut off close to the backbone, the fat that covers the organs, all the fat attached to the organs,

10 both kidneys with the fat around them near the loins, and the long lobe of the liver, removed with the kidneys.

11 The priest will burn these parts on the altar as a food offering to the LORD.

Peace Offering from Goats

12 “If you present a goat as your peace offering, bring it before the LORD.

13 Lay your hand on its head and slaughter it in front of the Tabernacle. Aaron’s sons will splatter its blood against all sides of the altar.

14 Present the fat of this offering as a gift to the LORD: the fat that covers the organs, all the fat attached to the organs,

15 both kidneys with the fat around them near the loins, and the long lobe of the liver, removed with the kidneys.

16 The priest will burn these parts on the altar as a food offering with a pleasing aroma. All the fat belongs to the LORD.

Lasting Law

17 This is a permanent law for you, to be observed from generation to generation, wherever you live: You must never eat any fat or any blood.

Key Lessons from Leviticus 3

- God Provides for Peace Offerings – The peace (or fellowship) offering symbolized communion with God, showing that He desires fellowship with His people.
- Worship Is Rooted in Voluntary Devotion – The peace offering was a freewill act, teaching that true worship flows from love and gratitude, not obligation.
- God Requires the Best Portions – The fat and certain organs were reserved for the Lord, reminding us to give Him the choicest parts of our lives.

- Blood Belongs to God Alone – The command not to eat blood taught that life is sacred and belongs to God, pointing forward to Christ’s shed blood for atonement.
- Worship Involves Shared Fellowship – The peace offering was eaten in community, showing that reconciliation with God leads to fellowship among His people.
- Obedience Is Essential in Worship – The offering had to follow God’s exact instructions, teaching that worship is not according to human ideas but divine direction.
- Christ Is Our Peace Offering – Jesus made peace between God and man through His death on the cross, fulfilling the meaning of this sacrifice (Ephesians 2:14–16).

Leviticus Chapter 4

Instructions for Sin Offerings

1 Then the LORD said to Moses,

2 “Give the people of Israel these instructions: If anyone sins unintentionally by breaking any of the LORD’s commands, even though they did not mean to, they are guilty.

Sin Offering for the High Priest

3 If the high priest sins, bringing guilt on the entire community, he must offer a young bull with no defects as a sin offering to the LORD.

4 He must bring the bull to the entrance of the Tabernacle, lay his hand on its head, and slaughter it before the LORD.

5 The high priest will then take some of the bull’s blood into the Tabernacle.

6 He will dip his finger in the blood and sprinkle it seven times before the LORD in front of the inner curtain of the sanctuary.

7 The priest will also put some of the blood on the horns of the incense altar that stands in the LORD’s presence inside the Tabernacle. The rest of the blood he will pour out at the base of the altar for burnt offerings at the entrance of the Tabernacle.

8 Then he must remove all the fat from the bull—the fat that covers the organs and the fat attached to the organs,

9 both kidneys with the fat on them near the loins, and the long lobe of the liver.

10 He must remove these in the same way as the fat is removed from the peace offerings, and burn them on the altar of burnt offerings.

11 But the rest of the bull—including its hide, meat, head, legs, internal organs, and dung—

12 must be taken outside the camp to a clean place where the ashes are dumped. There it must be burned on a wood fire on the ash heap.

Sin Offering for the Whole Community

13 If the entire Israelite community unintentionally violates one of the LORD's commands—even though the people didn't realize they were sinning—they are still guilty.

14 When they become aware of their sin, the community must bring a young bull as a sin offering. They must bring it to the entrance of the Tabernacle.

15 The elders of the community must lay their hands on the bull's head before the LORD, and then the bull must be slaughtered in the LORD's presence.

16 The high priest will take some of the bull's blood into the Tabernacle,

17 dip his finger in the blood, and sprinkle it seven times before the LORD in front of the inner curtain.

18 He will put some of the blood on the horns of the incense altar that stands in the LORD's presence. The rest of the blood will be poured out at the base of the altar for burnt offerings at the entrance of the Tabernacle.

19 Then the priest will remove all the fat and burn it on the altar,

20 just as he does with the sin offering for the high priest. In this way, the priest will make atonement for the people, and they will be forgiven.

21 Then the remaining parts of the bull must be taken outside the camp and burned, just like the first offering. This is the sin offering for the community.

Sin Offering for a Leader

22 If one of Israel's leaders sins unintentionally and violates one of the LORD's commands, he is still guilty.

23 When he becomes aware of his sin, he must bring a male goat without defects as his sin offering.

24 He must lay his hand on the goat's head and slaughter it at the place where burnt offerings are killed, before the LORD.

25 The priest will dip his finger in the blood and put it on the horns of the altar for burnt offerings. The rest of the blood will be poured out at the base of the altar.

26 Then he must burn all the goat's fat on the altar, just as is done with the peace offering. Through this, the priest will make atonement for the leader, and he will be forgiven.

Sin Offering for an Individual

27 If any ordinary person sins unintentionally by breaking one of the LORD's commands, even without realizing it, they are still guilty.

28 When they become aware of the sin, they must bring a female goat without defects as their sin offering.

29 They must lay their hand on the goat's head and slaughter it at the place where burnt offerings are presented.

30 The priest will dip his finger in the blood, put it on the horns of the altar for burnt offerings, and pour out the rest at the base of the altar.

31 Then he will remove all the fat, just as with the peace offering, and burn it on the altar. This is a pleasing aroma to the LORD. Through this process, the priest will make atonement, and the person will be forgiven.

Alternate Sin Offering (Lamb)

32 If someone brings a lamb as their sin offering, it must be a female without defects.

33 They must lay their hand on the lamb's head and slaughter it as a sin offering at the place where burnt offerings are killed.

34 The priest will take some of the blood and put it on the horns of the altar for burnt offerings. The rest of the blood will be poured out at the base of the altar.

35 He will then remove all the fat, just as with the fat of a lamb used in a peace offering, and burn it on the altar with the offerings made to the LORD by fire. Through this process, the priest will make atonement for the person, and they will be forgiven.

Key Lessons from Leviticus 4

- God Provides for Unintentional Sins – The sin offering covered sins committed in ignorance, showing God's mercy even when people fail unknowingly.
- Sin Requires Atonement for All People – Priests, leaders, and ordinary people alike needed offerings, proving that no one is exempt from sin or its cost.
- Sacrifice Substitutes for the Sinner – The laying of hands on the animal symbolized guilt being transferred, pointing to Christ as our substitute.
- Blood Is Central to Forgiveness – The sprinkling of blood on the altar revealed that life must be given for sin to be forgiven (Hebrews 9:22).
- Sin Affects the Community – When leaders or the congregation sinned, all were impacted, teaching that sin has corporate as well as individual consequences.
- God Provides Restoration Through Obedience – By following God's instructions for sacrifice, the sinner could be forgiven and restored to fellowship.
- Christ Is Our Sin Offering – Jesus bore our guilt on the cross, providing complete atonement for both known and unknown sins (2 Corinthians 5:21).

Leviticus Chapter 5

Unintentional Sins Requiring a Sin Offering

1 "If someone sins by not speaking up when they are a witness—whether they saw something or knew the truth—they are guilty and will be held responsible.

2 If someone touches anything ceremonially unclean—whether it’s the carcass of an unclean animal, wild or domestic, or an unclean creeping creature—even without realizing it, they become unclean and are guilty.

3 If someone touches human uncleanness, such as something that would make another person unclean—even without realizing it—they become guilty when they become aware of it.

4 If someone makes a careless vow—whether to do something good or evil—and later realizes it, they are guilty.

5 When anyone becomes aware that they are guilty in any of these situations, they must confess their sin.

6 They must bring a guilt offering to the LORD for the sin they’ve committed—a female sheep or goat from the flock. The priest will then make atonement for them, and they will be forgiven.

Alternative Offerings for the Poor

7 “If someone cannot afford a sheep or goat, they must bring two turtledoves or two young pigeons to the LORD as a sin offering—one for a sin offering and the other for a burnt offering.

8 The person must bring them to the priest, who will offer the bird for the sin offering first. He will wring off its head without severing it completely.

9 Then he will sprinkle some of the blood on the side of the altar and pour out the rest at the base. This is the sin offering.

10 The second bird will be prepared as a burnt offering, according to the rules. In this way, the priest will make atonement, and the person will be forgiven.

11 “If someone cannot afford two birds, they must bring a tenth of an ephah (about two quarts) of fine flour as a sin offering. Do not mix it with oil or add frankincense, because it is a sin offering.

12 Bring it to the priest, who will take a handful as a memorial portion and burn it on the altar with the offerings made to the LORD by fire. It is a sin offering.

13 In this way, the priest will make atonement for them for any of these sins, and they will be forgiven. The rest of the flour belongs to the priest, just like a grain offering.”

Guilt Offerings (Offerings for Compensation)

14 Then the LORD said to Moses,

15 “If someone sins by unintentionally misusing any of the LORD’s sacred things, they must bring a guilt offering to the LORD—a ram without defects from the flock, valued in silver according to the sanctuary shekel. This is a guilt offering.

16 They must make restitution for what they did wrong regarding the holy things and add a fifth (20 percent) more. Then they must bring it to the priest, who will offer the ram as a guilt offering. In this way, the priest will make atonement, and they will be forgiven.

17 “If someone sins and does something forbidden by the LORD’s commands, even if they didn’t realize it at the time, they are still guilty and must bear the consequences.

18 They must bring a ram without defects, valued appropriately, as a guilt offering to the priest. The priest will make atonement for the unintentional sin, and they will be forgiven.

19 This is a guilt offering, for they are indeed guilty before the LORD.”

Key Lessons from Leviticus 5

- God Holds People Accountable for Their Actions – Whether failing to testify, touching unclean things, or making rash oaths, sin brought guilt before God.
- Confession Is Required for Forgiveness – The sinner had to admit their fault, teaching that acknowledgment of sin is essential to restoration.
- God Provides for Every Level of Ability – The offerings varied from livestock to birds to flour, showing that God makes a way for both rich and poor to find forgiveness.
- Sin Requires Atonement – Every offense, whether great or small, needed a sacrifice, reminding us that all sin separates us from God.
- God Values Obedience Over Status – The requirement applied equally to everyone, teaching that God shows no favoritism in matters of holiness.
- Grace Meets People Where They Are – Allowing different offerings depending on one’s means revealed God’s compassion and accessibility.
- Christ Is the Fulfillment for All – Jesus’ sacrifice covers sins of every kind and for every person, no matter their position or ability, once and for all (Hebrews 10:10).

Leviticus Chapter 6

Guilt Offering for Deceit and Theft

1 Then the LORD said to Moses,

2 “If someone sins and is unfaithful to the LORD by deceiving a neighbor about something entrusted to them—or through theft, extortion, or finding and lying about lost property—

3 or if they swear falsely about any of these sinful acts,

4 they are guilty. They must return whatever they stole or took by extortion, whatever was entrusted to them, or the lost item they found,

5 or anything else they lied about. They must make full restitution, add one-fifth (20%) more, and return it to the rightful owner on the same day they bring their guilt offering.

6 Then they must bring a guilt offering to the LORD—a ram without defects, appropriately valued—to the priest.

7 The priest will make atonement before the LORD, and the person will be forgiven for any of these things they did to incur guilt.”

Instructions for the Burnt Offering

8 Then the LORD said to Moses,

9 “Command Aaron and his sons with these instructions for the burnt offering: It must stay on the altar hearth through the night, and the fire must be kept burning.

10 Each morning, the priest must put on his linen robe and linen undergarments, remove the ashes of the burnt offering, and place them beside the altar.

11 Then he will change into different clothes and carry the ashes outside the camp to a clean place.

12 The fire on the altar must be kept burning; it must never go out. Every morning, the priest will add wood, arrange the burnt offering, and burn the fat from the peace offerings.

13 The fire must be kept burning on the altar continually—it must never go out.

Instructions for the Grain Offering

14 “These are the instructions for the grain offering: Aaron’s sons must present it before the LORD in front of the altar.

15 The priest will take a handful of choice flour mixed with olive oil and all the frankincense, and burn it on the altar as a memorial portion—a pleasing aroma to the LORD.

16 The rest of the grain offering belongs to Aaron and his sons. It is most holy, like the sin offering and the guilt offering.

17 It must not be baked with yeast. I have given it as their share from My food offerings. It is most holy, just like the sin and guilt offerings.

18 Any male descendant of Aaron may eat it. This is a permanent law among your generations from the LORD’s food offerings. Anything that touches them will become holy.”

Daily Grain Offering of the High Priest

19 The LORD said to Moses,

20 “This is the offering Aaron and his sons must present to the LORD on the day he is anointed: one-tenth of an ephah (about two quarts) of fine flour for a regular grain offering, half in the morning and half in the evening.

21 It must be prepared with olive oil on a griddle and brought in well-mixed. Present it as baked pieces, a pleasing aroma to the LORD.

22 The priest among Aaron’s descendants who is anointed to succeed him must offer it. This is a permanent law. The entire offering must be burned; none of it may be eaten.”

Instructions for the Sin Offering

23 The LORD said to Moses,

24 “Say to Aaron and his sons: This is the law for the sin offering. The sin offering must be slaughtered in the presence of the LORD at the same place as the burnt offering. It is most holy.

25 The priest who offers it must eat it in a holy place, within the courtyard of the Tabernacle.

26 Anything that touches its meat will become holy. If any blood splashes on a garment, you must wash it in a holy place.

27 A clay pot in which the meat is boiled must be broken. If it is boiled in a bronze pot, the pot must be scrubbed and rinsed with water.

28 Any male among the priests may eat the meat. It is most holy.

29 But if any of the blood from the sin offering is taken into the Tabernacle to make atonement in the Holy Place, that offering must not be eaten. It must be completely burned with fire.

30 (conclusion) This is the law of the sin offering for which the blood is brought into the sanctuary to make atonement—it must not be eaten; it must be burned with fire.”

Key Lessons from Leviticus 6

- Sin Against Others Is Sin Against God – Wronging a neighbor through theft, fraud, or deceit required restitution, showing that God cares about justice between people.
- Restitution Restores Fellowship – The guilty person had to repay what was lost plus an additional fifth, teaching that true repentance seeks to make things right.
- God Provides Ongoing Atonement – The continual burnt offering reminded Israel that fellowship with God must be maintained daily.
- The Priests Were to Guard the Fire – The altar fire was never to go out, symbolizing continual devotion and pointing to the need for unceasing worship.
- God’s Portion Must Be Holy – The priests ate parts of certain offerings in a holy place, teaching that what belongs to God must be treated with reverence.
- Holiness Is Contagious in God’s Service – Sacrificial meat and vessels became holy by contact, showing that serving God sanctifies all it touches.
- Christ Fulfills the Sacrificial System – Jesus is both the once-for-all sacrifice and the intercessor who maintains our fellowship with God forever.

Leviticus Chapter 7

Instructions for the Guilt Offering

1 “These are the instructions for the guilt offering. It is most holy.

2 The guilt offering must be slaughtered where the burnt offerings are killed, and its blood must be splattered on all sides of the altar.

- 3 All its fat must be offered: the fat tail, the fat that covers the internal organs,
4 both kidneys with the fat on them near the loins, and the long lobe of the liver—these are to be removed with the kidneys.
5 The priest will burn them on the altar as an offering to the LORD made by fire. It is a guilt offering.
6 Any male among the priests may eat it, but it must be eaten in a holy place—it is most holy.
7 The same law applies to both the sin offering and the guilt offering: the offering belongs to the priest who makes atonement with it.
8 The priest who presents a burnt offering for someone may keep the animal's hide.
9 Any grain offering that is baked in an oven, cooked in a pan, or grilled on a griddle belongs to the priest who offers it.
10 But all other grain offerings—whether mixed with olive oil or dry—belong equally to all the sons of Aaron.

Instructions for the Peace Offering

- 11 “These are the instructions for the peace offerings presented to the LORD:
12 If you present it as an offering of thanksgiving, bring unleavened loaves mixed with oil, thin cakes brushed with oil, and loaves of fine flour well mixed with oil.
13 Present this offering along with loaves of bread made with yeast. These are added to your peace offering of thanksgiving.
14 From this offering, present one loaf of each kind as a contribution to the LORD. It will belong to the priest who splashes the blood of the peace offering.
15 The meat of your thanksgiving peace offering must be eaten on the same day it is offered. None of it may be left until morning.
16 If your offering is a vow or a voluntary offering, it may be eaten the same day it is offered and also on the next day.
17 But anything left over on the third day must be burned with fire.
18 If any of it is eaten on the third day, the offering will not be accepted. It will not be credited to the person who brought it. It will be considered unclean, and anyone who eats it will bear the consequences.

Unclean Participation Forbidden

- 19 Meat that touches anything ceremonially unclean must not be eaten; it must be burned with fire. Anyone who is clean may eat what is left.
20 But anyone who is ceremonially unclean and eats from the peace offering presented to the LORD must be cut off from their people.
21 If anyone touches something unclean—like a human impurity, an unclean animal, or something defiled—and then eats from the peace offering, that person must be cut off from the community.”

Do Not Eat Fat or Blood

22 Then the LORD said to Moses,

23 “Give the Israelites this command: You must never eat the fat of cattle, sheep, or goats.

24 The fat of animals that die naturally or are torn by wild animals may be used for other purposes, but you must not eat it.

25 Anyone who eats animal fat from a food offering presented to the LORD must be cut off from the community.

26 You must never eat blood, whether from a bird or animal, wherever you live.

27 Anyone who eats blood must be cut off from the community.”

Priestly Portions of the Peace Offering

28 Then the LORD said to Moses,

29 “Give the Israelites this instruction: Anyone bringing a peace offering must present part of it to the LORD as a gift.

30 With their own hands, they must bring the food offerings to the LORD. The fat and the breast are to be presented together, waved before the LORD as a special presentation.

31 The priest will burn the fat on the altar, but the breast belongs to Aaron and his sons.

32 You must also give the right thigh as a contribution to the priest.

33 The priest who offers the blood and fat of the peace offering will receive the right thigh as his share.

34 I have taken the breast and the thigh from the Israelites’ peace offerings and given them to Aaron and his sons as a permanent share from the Israelites.”

Summary of the Priestly Laws

35 This is the portion that Aaron and his sons were given from the food offerings made to the LORD, on the day they were presented to serve the LORD as priests.

36 On the day the LORD anointed them, He commanded the Israelites to give them this share, which is to continue for all generations.

37 These are the instructions for the burnt offering, the grain offering, the sin offering, the guilt offering, the ordination offering, and the peace offering.

38 The LORD gave these instructions to Moses on Mount Sinai, on the day He commanded the Israelites to present their offerings to Him in the wilderness of Sinai.

Key Lessons from Leviticus 7

- God Gives Detailed Instructions for Worship – The laws for the guilt, peace, and grain offerings show that worship must be done God’s way, not man’s.

- Restitution and Sacrifice Go Hand in Hand – The guilt offering emphasized both repayment and atonement, reminding us that repentance involves action as well as faith.
- Peace With God Brings Fellowship With Others – The fellowship offering was eaten by the worshiper and family, showing that reconciliation with God leads to shared joy in community.
- Purity Matters in God’s Presence – Those who were unclean were forbidden to eat the offerings, teaching that holiness is required for fellowship with God.
- Blood and Fat Belong to God Alone – Israel was strictly forbidden from eating these, symbolizing life and devotion belonging only to Him.
- Generosity Is Part of Worship – Portions of the offerings were given to the priests, showing that God’s servants are provided for through the devotion of His people.
- Christ Is Our Perfect Offering – Jesus fulfills the guilt, peace, and fellowship offerings, bringing complete forgiveness and eternal communion with God.

Leviticus Chapter 8

The Ordination of Aaron and His Sons

1 Then the LORD said to Moses,

2 “Bring Aaron and his sons, their priestly garments, the anointing oil, a bull for the sin offering, two rams, and a basket of unleavened bread.

3 Gather the entire community at the entrance of the Tabernacle.”

4 So Moses did as the LORD commanded. The whole community came together at the Tabernacle entrance.

5 Moses said to them, “This is what the LORD has commanded to be done.”

Aaron and His Sons Are Washed and Dressed

6 Then Moses brought Aaron and his sons forward and washed them with water.

7 He put the tunic on Aaron, tied the sash around him, dressed him in the robe, and placed the ephod on him. He fastened the ephod with its decorative waistband, securing it in place.

8 He placed the breastpiece on him and put the Urim and Thummim inside it.

9 Then he placed the turban on Aaron’s head and attached the gold medallion—the holy crown—on the front of the turban, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

Anointing the Tabernacle and Aaron

10 Then Moses took the anointing oil and anointed the Tabernacle and everything in it, making them holy.

11 He sprinkled some of the oil on the altar seven times, anointing the altar, all its utensils, the washbasin, and its stand, to consecrate them.

12 Then he poured some of the anointing oil on Aaron's head and anointed him to set him apart for holy service.

Clothing Aaron's Sons

13 Next, Moses brought Aaron's sons forward, dressed them in their tunics, tied sashes around them, and placed head coverings on them—just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

The Sin Offering

14 Then Moses brought the bull for the sin offering, and Aaron and his sons laid their hands on its head.

15 Moses slaughtered the bull and took some of its blood. With his finger, he applied it to the horns of the altar to purify it. He poured out the rest at the base of the altar, making atonement for it and setting it apart for holy use.

16 Moses took all the fat around the internal organs, the long lobe of the liver, and the two kidneys with their fat, and burned them on the altar.

17 But the rest of the bull—its hide, meat, and dung—he burned outside the camp, just as the LORD had commanded him.

The Burnt Offering

18 Then Moses brought the ram for the burnt offering, and Aaron and his sons laid their hands on its head.

19 Moses slaughtered the ram and splashed its blood on all sides of the altar.

20 He cut the ram into pieces and burned the head, the pieces, and the fat.

21 He washed the internal organs and legs with water and burned the whole ram on the altar. It was a burnt offering, a pleasing aroma, a food offering presented to the LORD—just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

The Ordination Offering

22 Then Moses brought the second ram, the ram of ordination, and Aaron and his sons laid their hands on its head.

23 Moses slaughtered it, took some of its blood, and put it on the lobe of Aaron's right ear, the thumb of his right hand, and the big toe of his right foot.

24 Then he brought Aaron's sons forward and put some of the blood on the lobes of their right ears, the thumbs of their right hands, and the big toes of their right feet. Moses then splashed the remaining blood against all sides of the altar.

25 He took the fat, the fat tail, all the fat around the organs, the long lobe of the liver, both kidneys with their fat, and the right thigh.

26 From the basket of unleavened bread that was before the LORD, he took one loaf of bread, one cake made with oil, and one wafer. He placed them on top of the fat portions and the right thigh.

27 He put all these in the hands of Aaron and his sons and lifted them up as a special presentation to the LORD.

28 Then Moses took the offerings from their hands and burned them on the altar on top of the burnt offering. This was the ordination offering—a pleasing aroma, a food offering to the LORD.

29 Moses also took the breast, which was his portion of the ordination ram, and presented it to the LORD. It was Moses' share, just as the LORD had commanded him.

Anointing with Oil and Blood

30 Then Moses took some of the anointing oil and some of the blood from the altar and sprinkled them on Aaron and his garments, and on his sons and their garments. In this way, Aaron and his sons and their garments were set apart as holy.

The Seven-Day Ordination

31 Then Moses said to Aaron and his sons, “Boil the meat at the entrance of the Tabernacle and eat it there with the bread from the ordination basket, just as I was commanded: ‘Aaron and his sons must eat it.’

32 Burn whatever is left of the meat and bread.

33 Do not leave the entrance of the Tabernacle for seven days, until the time of your ordination is complete. It will take seven days to ordain you.

34 What has been done today was commanded by the LORD to make atonement for you.

35 Stay at the entrance of the Tabernacle day and night for seven days, obeying everything the LORD has commanded. If you don't, you will die, for this is what I have been told.”

36 So Aaron and his sons did everything the LORD had commanded through Moses.

Key Lessons from Leviticus 8

- God Establishes His Priests by His Word – Aaron and his sons were consecrated according to God's command, showing that ministry is appointed by Him, not man.
- Cleansing Prepares for Service – Washing Aaron and his sons before ordination symbolized the purity required to serve the Lord.

- Anointing Sets Apart for Holiness – The anointing oil on the tabernacle, its furnishings, and the priests showed that God’s presence consecrates both people and places.
- Sacrifice Is Essential for Ordination – Sin, burnt, and fellowship offerings were required, pointing to Christ as the true sacrifice that qualifies us to serve God.
- Obedience Is the Path to Holiness – Moses and the priests carried out every step as God commanded, teaching that holiness flows from obedience to His word.
- Priests Bear the Responsibility of Representation – The blood applied to Aaron and his sons signified their role in mediating between God and His people.
- Christ Is Our Great High Priest – Jesus fulfills every aspect of priesthood, perfectly consecrated, anointed, and appointed to intercede for us forever.

Leviticus Chapter 9

Aaron Begins His Ministry

1 On the eighth day, Moses summoned Aaron, his sons, and the elders of Israel.

2 He said to Aaron, “Take a young calf for a sin offering and a ram for a burnt offering—both without defects—and present them to the LORD.

3 Then tell the Israelites: ‘Bring a male goat for a sin offering, a calf and a lamb—both one year old and without defects—for a burnt offering,

4 along with an ox and a ram for a peace offering to sacrifice before the LORD, and a grain offering mixed with olive oil. Today the LORD will appear to you.’”

5 So the people brought all these things to the entrance of the Tabernacle, just as Moses had commanded. Then the entire community came near and stood before the LORD.

6 Moses said, “This is what the LORD has commanded you to do, so that the glory of the LORD may appear to you.”

The Offerings for Aaron and the People

7 Then Moses told Aaron, “Come to the altar and offer your sin offering and your burnt offering to purify yourself and make atonement for yourself. Then offer the sacrifices for the people to make atonement for them, just as the LORD has commanded.”

8 So Aaron came to the altar and slaughtered the calf as a sin offering for himself.

9 His sons brought him the blood, and he dipped his finger in it and put it on the horns of the altar. The rest of the blood he poured out at the base of the altar.

10 He burned on the altar the fat, kidneys, and long lobe of the liver from the sin offering, just as the LORD had commanded Moses.

11 The meat and the hide, however, he burned outside the camp.

12 Then he slaughtered the burnt offering. His sons handed him the blood, and he splattered it against all sides of the altar.

13 They handed him the pieces of the burnt offering, including the head, and he burned them on the altar.

14 He washed the internal organs and the legs and burned them as well on top of the burnt offering on the altar.

Offerings for the People

15 Then Aaron presented the offerings for the people. He took the male goat for the people's sin offering, slaughtered it, and offered it just like the first sin offering.

16 He brought the burnt offering and offered it in the prescribed way.

17 He also presented the grain offering. Taking a handful, he burned it on the altar along with the morning's burnt offering.

18 Then he slaughtered the ox and the ram as a peace offering for the people. His sons handed him the blood, and he splattered it against all sides of the altar.

19 The fat portions of the ox and the ram—the fat tail, the fat around the organs, the kidneys, and the long lobe of the liver—

20 they placed on top of the breasts. Aaron burned the fat on the altar, 21 and he lifted the breasts and the right thigh as a special presentation before the LORD, just as Moses had commanded.

The LORD's Glory Appears

22 After offering the sin offering, the burnt offering, and the peace offering, Aaron raised his hands toward the people and blessed them. Then he stepped down from the altar.

23 Moses and Aaron then went into the Tabernacle. When they came out, they blessed the people again—and the glory of the LORD appeared to the entire community.

24 Fire came out from the presence of the LORD and consumed the burnt offering and the fat portions on the altar. When the people saw it, they shouted for joy and fell face down on the ground.

Key Lessons from Leviticus 9

- God Confirms His Priests Through Obedience – Aaron and his sons carried out their first priestly duties exactly as commanded, showing that faithful service is proven in obedience.
- Sacrifice Brings Atonement and Fellowship – The offerings for sin, burnt, grain, and peace displayed God's provision for forgiveness and communion with Him.
- Leadership Requires Personal Holiness – Aaron first offered a sin sacrifice for himself, reminding us that leaders must be cleansed before serving others.
- God Accepts Worship Through His Appointed Way – When the sacrifices were offered, God's glory appeared, proving His approval of worship done according to His word.

- God’s Glory Produces Joyful Worship – When fire came from the Lord to consume the offering, the people shouted and fell facedown, overwhelmed by His presence.
- God’s Presence Is Both Powerful and Holy – The visible display of God’s fire showed that He dwells with His people but must be approached with reverence.
- Christ Fulfills Every Sacrifice – Jesus, as both priest and sacrifice, brings forgiveness, fellowship, and the glory of God into our lives.

Leviticus Chapter 10

The Sin of Nadab and Abihu

1 Aaron’s sons Nadab and Abihu each took his own censer, put fire in it, added incense, and offered unauthorized fire before the LORD—something He had not commanded.

2 Then fire came out from the LORD’s presence and consumed them, and they died before the LORD.

3 Moses said to Aaron, “This is what the LORD meant when He said,
‘I will be shown as holy to those who come near Me.
And before all the people,
I will be glorified.’”
And Aaron remained silent.

Removing the Bodies

4 Then Moses called Mishael and Elzaphan, the sons of Aaron’s uncle Uzziel, and said, “Come here and carry your relatives away from the sanctuary to a place outside the camp.”

5 So they came forward and carried them out, still in their tunics, outside the camp, just as Moses had instructed.

Do Not Mourn or Leave the Tabernacle

6 Then Moses said to Aaron and his sons Eleazar and Ithamar, “Do not let your hair hang loose or tear your clothes in mourning, or you will die, and the LORD’s anger will come against the whole community. Let your relatives—the rest of the people of Israel—mourn for those the LORD destroyed by fire.

7 But you must not leave the entrance of the Tabernacle, or you will die, because you have been anointed with the LORD’s holy oil.” So they did as Moses said.

A Warning Against Intoxication in Ministry

8 Then the LORD said to Aaron,

9 “You and your sons must never drink wine or any other alcoholic drink when you enter the Tabernacle, or you will die. This is a permanent law for all generations.

10 You must distinguish between what is holy and what is common, between what is ceremonially clean and unclean,

11 and you must teach the people of Israel all the decrees the LORD has given them through Moses.”

The Priestly Portion of the Offering

12 Then Moses said to Aaron and to Eleazar and Ithamar, his remaining sons, “Take the grain offering that remains from the food offerings to the LORD and eat it beside the altar. It is most holy.

13 You must eat it in a holy place, because it is your portion and your sons’ portion from the food offerings to the LORD, for this is what I have been commanded.

14 But the breast of the presentation offering and the thigh of the contribution offering you may eat in any ceremonially clean place—you and your sons and daughters. These have been given to you and your family as your permanent share from the Israelites’ peace offerings.

15 The thigh and the breast must be brought together with the fat portions presented by fire. They are to be lifted up as a special offering before the LORD. These are to be your permanent share, as the LORD has commanded.”

The Sin Offering That Was Burned

16 Then Moses looked for the goat of the sin offering and discovered that it had been burned up. He was angry with Eleazar and Ithamar, Aaron’s remaining sons, and asked,

17 “Why didn’t you eat the sin offering in the holy area? It is most holy, and it was given to you to remove the guilt of the people and make atonement for them before the LORD.

18 Since its blood was not taken into the sanctuary, you should have eaten the meat in the sanctuary, as I commanded.”

19 But Aaron said to Moses, “Today they offered their sin offering and their burnt offering before the LORD, but after everything that has happened to me, would the LORD have been pleased if I had eaten the sin offering today?”

20 When Moses heard this, he accepted Aaron’s explanation.

Key Lessons from Leviticus 10

- God Must Be Approached With Reverence – Nadab and Abihu offered unauthorized fire, and God consumed them, showing that careless or self-willed worship dishonors His holiness.

- Leadership Bears Greater Responsibility – As priests, their disobedience carried severe consequences, reminding us that spiritual leaders are held to higher standards.
- God’s Holiness Demands Honor Above All – The Lord declared, “Among those who approach me I will be proved holy,” teaching that His glory cannot be treated lightly.
- Obedience in Grief Honors God – Aaron held his peace after the judgment of his sons, showing submission even in painful circumstances.
- Sobriety Is Required in God’s Service – Priests were forbidden to drink wine while ministering, teaching that those who serve God must do so with clear minds.
- Discernment Is Essential in Worship – Priests were called to distinguish between clean and unclean, holy and common, showing that God’s people must live with discernment.
- Christ Makes Perfect Access Possible – Where Nadab and Abihu failed, Jesus as the perfect High Priest brings us into God’s presence through His obedience and sacrifice.

Leviticus Chapter 11

Clean and Unclean Animals

1 Then the LORD said to Moses and Aaron,

2 “Give the Israelites these instructions: These are the animals you may eat from among all the land animals:

3 You may eat any animal that has divided hooves and chews the cud.

4 But you must not eat animals that only chew the cud or only have divided hooves. The camel chews the cud but does not have divided hooves—it is unclean for you.

5 The hyrax chews the cud but does not have divided hooves—it is unclean.

6 The rabbit also chews the cud but does not have divided hooves—it is unclean.

7 The pig has divided hooves but does not chew the cud—it is unclean.

8 You must not eat the meat or touch the carcasses of these animals—they are unclean for you.

Animals in the Water

9 “Of all the creatures in the water—seas and rivers—you may eat those that have fins and scales.

10 But you must not eat anything in the seas or rivers that does not have both fins and scales—whether it swims in the water or crawls on the bottom. These are detestable to you.

11 They must be detestable to you. Do not eat their meat, and do not touch their dead bodies.

12 Anything in the water without fins and scales is detestable.

Birds That Are Forbidden

13 “These birds are detestable and must not be eaten because they are unclean: the eagle, the vulture, the black vulture,

14 the red kite, any kind of black kite,

15 any kind of raven,

16 the horned owl, screech owl, gull, and any kind of hawk,

17 the little owl, cormorant, and the great owl,

18 the white owl, desert owl, osprey,

19 the stork, any kind of heron, the hoopoe, and the bat.

Flying Insects

20 “All flying insects that walk on all fours are detestable to you.

21 But you may eat certain insects that have jointed legs for hopping on the ground—like locusts, katydids, crickets, and grasshoppers.

22 You may eat these.

23 All other flying insects that walk on all fours are detestable.

Becoming Unclean by Touching Dead Animals

24 “You will become unclean if you touch the carcasses of certain animals. Anyone who touches their dead body will be unclean until evening.

25 If you pick up the carcass, you must wash your clothes and remain unclean until evening.

26 Animals that have divided hooves but do not chew the cud are unclean for you. If you touch them, you will be unclean.

27 Animals that walk on paws—like dogs or cats—are unclean. Anyone who touches their dead bodies will be unclean until evening.

28 Anyone who carries their carcasses must wash their clothes and remain unclean until evening. They are unclean for you.

Small Creatures That Are Unclean

29 “Of the small animals that scurry along the ground, these are unclean: the weasel, rat, all kinds of large lizards, 30 the gecko, monitor lizard, wall lizard, skink, and chameleon.

31 These are unclean. If you touch their dead bodies, you will be unclean until evening.

32 If any of them dies and falls on something, it becomes unclean—whether it’s an article of wood, clothing, leather, sackcloth, or any useful item. It must be put in water and will be unclean until evening.

33 If any of these animals falls into a clay pot, everything inside becomes unclean, and the pot must be broken.

34 Any food or liquid that touches the inside of the pot becomes unclean.

35 Anything the dead animal touches becomes unclean—whether it’s an oven or cooking pot. It must be broken.

36 A spring or cistern that collects water remains clean, but if the carcass touches water that’s stored or poured out, it becomes unclean.

37 If part of the carcass falls on seed that is to be planted, the seed remains clean.

38 But if water has already been added to the seed and the carcass touches it, the seed becomes unclean.

Dead Animals That May Be Touched

39 “If an animal you are allowed to eat dies naturally, anyone who touches its carcass will be unclean until evening.

40 Anyone who eats its meat must wash their clothes and remain unclean until evening. Anyone who carries the carcass must also wash their clothes and stay unclean until evening.

Creeping Creatures That Are Unclean

41 “All animals that crawl along the ground are detestable. Do not eat them.

42 This includes animals that move on their bellies, walk on all fours, or have many feet. Do not eat any of them—they are detestable.

43 Do not defile yourselves by touching or eating these crawling creatures.

44 I am the LORD your God. You must set yourselves apart and be holy, because I am holy. Do not make yourselves unclean with any creature that crawls along the ground.

45 I am the LORD who brought you out of the land of Egypt so I could be your God. You must be holy, because I am holy.

Purpose of the Dietary Laws

46 “These are the instructions about animals, birds, and all living creatures that move in the water or swarm on the ground,

47 to help you distinguish between what is clean and what is unclean, and which animals may be eaten and which may not be eaten.”

Key Lessons from Leviticus 11

- God Defines What Is Clean and Unclean – The dietary laws showed that holiness is not determined by human opinion but by God’s command.

- Obedience Sets God’s People Apart – Israel’s diet distinguished them from surrounding nations, teaching that God’s people are to live differently.
- Holiness Extends to Daily Life – Even food choices reflected devotion to God, showing that no part of life is outside His authority.
- Uncleanliness Symbolizes Sin – The laws of clean and unclean animals pointed to the separation between God’s holiness and human sinfulness.
- God’s People Must Guard Against Defilement – Contact with unclean animals required cleansing, reminding us to avoid what corrupts body and soul.
- God Calls His People to Be Holy – The command “Be holy, for I am holy” ties obedience to God’s character, showing that holiness is our calling.
- Christ Makes All Things Clean – In Christ, ceremonial food laws are fulfilled (Mark 7:19; Acts 10:15), pointing to inner purity through Him rather than external regulations.

Leviticus Chapter 12

Purification After Childbirth

1 Then the LORD spoke to Moses, saying,

2 “Give the Israelites this instruction: If a woman gives birth to a son, she will be ceremonially unclean for seven days, just as she is unclean during her monthly period.

3 On the eighth day, the boy must be circumcised.

4 Then the woman must wait thirty-three more days to complete her time of purification. During this time, she must not touch anything sacred or enter the sanctuary until her purification is complete.

5 But if she gives birth to a daughter, she will be unclean for two weeks, just as during her menstrual period. Then she must wait sixty-six more days for her purification to be complete.

Sacrifices for Purification

6 When the days of her purification are completed—whether for a son or a daughter—she must bring a one-year-old lamb for a burnt offering and a young pigeon or turtledove for a sin offering. She is to bring them to the priest at the entrance of the Tabernacle.

7 The priest will offer them before the LORD to make atonement for her, and she will be ceremonially clean from her bleeding. These are the instructions for a woman after the birth of a child, whether male or female.

8 But if she cannot afford a lamb, she must bring two turtledoves or two young pigeons—one for a burnt offering and the other for a sin offering. The priest will make atonement for her, and she will be made clean.”

Key Lessons from Leviticus 12

- God Provides Cleansing After Childbirth – The purification laws reminded Israel that life and reproduction are touched by the effects of sin and require God’s cleansing.
- Blood Symbolizes Life and Atonement – The required sacrifices after childbirth highlighted the sacredness of life and the need for atonement.
- Holiness Extends Into Family Life – Even natural and good events like childbirth required ritual cleansing, showing that God’s holiness governs all areas of life.
- Obedience Restores Fellowship – Following God’s instructions allowed the mother to return fully to worship and community life.
- God Values Both Male and Female Children – Though the purification times differed, both boys and girls were included, showing God’s equal care for all life.
- Sacrifice Is Required for Purity – A lamb or, for the poor, two birds could be offered, teaching that God makes provision for every family to be restored.
- Christ Fulfills the Law of Purification – Mary and Joseph offered the sacrifice of the poor (Luke 2:22–24), pointing to Jesus as the One who makes ultimate cleansing possible.

Leviticus Chapter 13 – Crawford Standard Bible (CSB)

Laws About Skin Diseases and Contaminations

1. Instructions for Identifying Skin Disease

(Verses 1–8)

1 Then the Lord said to Moses and Aaron,

2 “If someone has a swelling, scab, or shiny spot on their skin that could become a serious skin disease, they must be brought to Aaron the priest or one of his sons.

3 The priest will examine the spot. If the hair in the sore has turned white and it seems deeper than the skin, it is a serious disease. The priest must pronounce the person unclean.

4 But if the shiny spot is white and not deeper than the skin and the hair has not turned white, the priest must isolate the person for seven days.

5 On the seventh day, the priest will recheck the sore. If it hasn’t changed or spread, the person stays isolated for another seven days.

6 After that, if the sore has faded and hasn’t spread, it is just a scab. The priest will pronounce them clean. They must wash their clothes and will be clean.

7 But if the sore gets worse or spreads, the person must return to the priest.

8 The priest will examine them again, and if the sore has spread, he must pronounce them unclean. It is a skin disease.

2. Diagnosing Chronic Skin Conditions

(Verses 9–17)

9 If someone develops a serious skin disease, they must be brought to the priest.

10 The priest will examine them. If there is a white swelling, and the hair in it has turned white, and there is raw flesh in the sore,

11 it is a chronic disease and the priest must pronounce them unclean. He doesn't need to isolate them—they are clearly unclean.

12 If the disease spreads all over the body

13 and turns the person's entire skin white, the priest must examine them. If it has covered their whole body, the priest must pronounce them clean. Since the skin has all turned white, they are clean.

14 But if raw flesh appears again, they are unclean.

15 When the priest sees raw flesh, he must pronounce them unclean. Raw flesh means they are diseased.

16 But if the raw flesh heals and turns white again, the person must come back to the priest.

17 If the sore has turned completely white, the priest must declare them clean.

3. Sores from Boils

(Verses 18–23)

18 If someone has a boil that heals,

19 but a white swelling or a reddish-white spot appears in its place, they must go to the priest.

20 The priest will examine it. If the spot looks deeper than the skin and the hair has turned white, the priest will pronounce them unclean.

21 But if it doesn't look deeper and there's no white hair, the priest will isolate them for seven days.

22 If the spot spreads, the priest must pronounce them unclean.

23 If it stays the same and doesn't spread, it's only a scar from the boil. The person is clean.

4. Burns and Skin Disease

(Verses 24–28)

24 If someone gets a burn and a reddish-white or white spot appears in the burned area,

25 the priest will examine it. If the hair has turned white and it looks deeper than the skin, it's a skin disease. The person is unclean.

26 But if the hair hasn't turned white and the spot doesn't seem deeper than the skin and is fading, the priest will isolate them for seven days.

27 If the spot spreads, the priest must declare them unclean.

28 But if the spot stays the same and is fading, it's just from the burn. The priest will pronounce them clean.

5. Infections on the Head or Beard

(Verses 29–37)

29 If a man or woman has a sore on the head or chin,

30 the priest will examine it. If it appears deeper than the skin and has thin yellow hair, it is a disease. The person is unclean.

31 If it does not appear deeper and has no black hair, the priest must isolate them for seven days.

32 On the seventh day, if it hasn't spread and there is no yellow hair, and it doesn't appear deeper,

33 they must shave around the sore but not touch the sore itself. Then the person is isolated for seven more days.

34 On the seventh day, the priest will examine it again. If it hasn't spread and doesn't look deeper, the person is clean. They must wash their clothes.

35 But if the sore spreads after that,

36 the priest must examine it and declare the person unclean.

37 But if the sore hasn't spread and black hair has grown in it, the person is healed and clean.

6. Harmless White Spots on the Skin

(Verses 38–39)

38 If a man or woman has white spots on their skin,

39 the priest will examine them. If the spots are dull white, it's just a harmless rash. The person is clean.

7. Baldness and Skin Disease

(Verses 40–44)

40 If a man loses his hair and becomes bald, he is clean.

41 If he is bald on the front of his head, he is still clean.

42 But if a reddish-white sore appears on the bald head,

43 the priest must examine it. If the swelling looks like a skin disease,

44 the person has a serious disease and is unclean. The priest must pronounce them unclean.

8. Rules for the Diseased Person

(Verse 45–46)

45 Anyone with a serious skin disease must tear their clothes, leave their hair uncombed, cover their mouth, and cry out, "Unclean! Unclean!"

46 As long as they have the disease, they are unclean and must live outside the camp, away from others.

9. Mold or Mildew in Clothing

(Verses 47–59)

47 If mildew appears on any clothing—wool or linen—

48 whether woven or knitted, or leather,

49 and the mold appears green or red, the priest must examine it.

50 He will isolate the item for seven days.

51 On the seventh day, if the mold has spread, it's harmful. The item is unclean.

52 It must be burned—it is infected.

53 But if the mold has not spread,

54 the priest will have the item washed and isolated for seven more days.

55 After washing, if the mold is still there, the item is unclean and must be burned.

56 If the mold has faded, the affected piece must be torn out.

57 If it returns later, the item must be burned.

58 But if the mold is gone after washing, wash it again and it will be clean.

59 These are the instructions for dealing with mildew or mold in clothing and leather to determine if it is clean or unclean.

Key Lessons from Leviticus 13

- God Provides Standards for Purity – Detailed instructions about skin diseases, infections, and mildew show God's concern for holiness in every aspect of life.
- Sin Is Like Leprosy – Leprosy symbolized how sin spreads, defiles, and separates, reminding us of the seriousness of spiritual uncleanness.
- God Appoints Priests to Discern – The priests examined and declared a person clean or unclean, teaching that spiritual leadership requires discernment.

- God Provides Time for Examination – Some cases required waiting and re-examination, showing that God's judgments are careful and just, not rushed.
- Confession of Uncleanness Is Required – The unclean person had to cry out "Unclean!"—a public acknowledgment of condition, symbolizing confession of sin.
- Christ Cleanses the Defiled – Jesus touched and healed lepers (Mark 1:40–42), showing His power to restore the unclean to fellowship with God.

Cleansing from Skin Diseases and Mildew

1. Instructions for Cleansing a Person Healed of Skin Disease

(Verses 1–9)

1 Then the Lord said to Moses,

2 “These are the instructions for those who have been healed of a skin disease and need to be pronounced clean:

3 The priest must go outside the camp to examine them. If the person is truly healed,

4 the priest will order two live birds that are ceremonially clean, along with some cedar wood, a scarlet string, and hyssop.

5 One of the birds is to be killed over a clay pot filled with fresh water.

6 The priest will dip the live bird, the cedar wood, the scarlet yarn, and the hyssop into the blood of the bird that was killed.

7 Then he will sprinkle the blood seven times on the person who is being cleansed and pronounce them clean. The live bird is to be set free into the open fields.

8 The person must then wash their clothes, shave off all their hair, and bathe in water. Then they will be clean and may return to the camp—but they must stay outside their tent for seven days.

9 On the seventh day, they must shave off all their hair again—including their head, beard, and eyebrows—wash their clothes, and bathe again. Then they will be completely clean.

2. Offering on the Eighth Day of Cleansing

(Verses 10–20)

10 On the eighth day, they must bring two male lambs and a one-year-old female lamb without defects, along with six quarts of fine flour mixed with olive oil for a grain offering, and one-third of a quart of olive oil.

11 The priest who is performing the ceremony will present the person and the offerings before the Lord at the entrance of the Tabernacle.

12 The priest will take one of the male lambs and offer it as a guilt offering, along with the oil, and lift them up as a special offering before the Lord.

13 He will then slaughter the lamb in the sacred area where sin offerings and burnt offerings are slaughtered. The guilt offering belongs to the priest—it is most holy.

14 The priest will take some of the blood and put it on the tip of the person’s right ear, the thumb of their right hand, and the big toe of their right foot.

15 Then he will pour some of the oil into his own left hand,

16 dip his right finger in it, and sprinkle some of it seven times before the Lord.

17 He will put some oil on the person’s right ear, thumb, and big toe—on top of the blood from the guilt offering.

18 The rest of the oil in his hand will be poured on the person’s head to purify them before the Lord.

19 Then the priest will offer the sin offering to make atonement for the person, and afterward offer the burnt offering.

20 He will also present the grain offering. In this way, the priest will make atonement for the person and they will be declared clean.

3. Alternative Offering for the Poor

(Verses 21–32)

21 If the person is too poor to afford these offerings, they must bring one male lamb for a guilt offering, along with two quarts of fine flour mixed with olive oil for a grain offering, one-third of a quart of olive oil,
22 and two turtledoves or two young pigeons—one for a sin offering and one for a burnt offering.
23 On the eighth day, they must bring these items to the priest at the entrance of the Tabernacle.
24 The priest will take the lamb and the oil and lift them as a special offering to the Lord.
25 He will slaughter the lamb and apply some of the blood to the person’s right ear, thumb, and big toe.
26 He will pour some oil into his left hand,
27 and sprinkle it seven times before the Lord.
28 He will put some oil on the person’s right ear, thumb, and big toe—on top of the blood.
29 The remaining oil will be put on the person’s head to purify them.
30 Then he will sacrifice the two birds—
31 one as a sin offering and the other as a burnt offering—along with the grain offering. This will make atonement for the person, and they will be clean.
32 These are the instructions for anyone who has a skin disease but cannot afford the usual offerings.

4. Instructions for Cleansing Contaminated Houses

(Verses 33–53)

33 Then the Lord said to Moses and Aaron,
34 “When you enter the land of Canaan, which I am giving you, if I allow mildew or mold to appear in a house,
35 the owner must go to the priest and say, ‘There seems to be something like mildew in my house.’
36 The priest must order the house to be emptied before he enters it to inspect the mold, so that nothing in the house becomes unclean.
37 He will examine the affected area. If the mildew has greenish or reddish depressions that appear to go deeper than the surface,
38 he will leave the house and isolate it for seven days.
39 On the seventh day, he will return to inspect it again. If the mildew has spread, 40 he will order the contaminated stones to be removed and thrown outside the city.
41 The inside of the house must be scraped and the plaster dumped outside the city.
42 New stones must be brought in to replace the old ones, and the house must be re-plastered.
43 If mildew appears again,
44 the priest will examine it. If it has spread, the house is defiled and must be torn down.
45 The stones, wood, and plaster must be carried outside the city and dumped.
46 Anyone who enters the house during the seven days is unclean until evening.
47 Anyone who sleeps or eats in the house must wash their clothes.
48 But if the mildew does not reappear after the house is repaired, the priest will pronounce it clean.

49 To purify the house, he must take two birds, cedar wood, scarlet yarn, and hyssop.

50 One bird is to be killed over fresh water in a clay pot.

51 He will dip the cedar wood, hyssop, scarlet yarn, and the live bird into the blood and water and sprinkle the house seven times.

52 Then he will purify the house with the bird's blood, the water, and the other items.

53 He will release the live bird in an open field outside the city. This completes the cleansing of the house.

5. Summary of Laws for Skin Diseases and Mildew

(Verses 54–57)

54 These are the laws about serious skin diseases—whether on the body,

55 clothing, or a house—

56 about swelling, scabs, or shiny spots—

57 to determine when something is clean or unclean. These are the instructions for dealing with skin diseases and mildew.

Key Lessons from Leviticus 14

- God Provides Restoration for the Unclean – The rituals for cleansing lepers show that God not only diagnoses uncleanness but also makes a way for healing and restoration.
- Cleansing Requires Both Blood and Water – The use of sacrificed birds, water, and cedar wood symbolized purification through both cleansing and atonement.
- Restoration Brings Full Fellowship – The cleansed person was restored to the camp and to worship, teaching that God desires reconciliation, not permanent exclusion.
- God Requires Ongoing Holiness – Even after cleansing, offerings for sin, guilt, and burnt sacrifices were made, showing that continual devotion is necessary.
- God Provides for the Poor – Alternative offerings for those who couldn't afford a lamb revealed God's compassion and accessibility to all.
- God Extends Holiness to Homes – Laws about mildew in houses show that God's concern for purity reaches into every part of life, even one's dwelling place.
- Christ Brings Complete Cleansing – Jesus fulfills the law of leprosy by offering total cleansing from sin, restoring us to full fellowship with God and His people.

Leviticus Chapter 15 – Crawford Standard Bible (CSB)

Laws About Bodily Discharges and Ritual Cleansing

1. General Introduction to Bodily Discharges

(Verses 1–2)

1 Then the Lord said to Moses and Aaron,

2 “Give the Israelites these instructions: When any man has a discharge from his body, his discharge makes him ceremonially unclean.

2. Uncleanness from a Man’s Bodily Discharge

(Verses 3–12)

3 Whether the discharge keeps flowing or becomes blocked, it makes him unclean.

4 Any bed he lies on is unclean, and anything he sits on is also unclean.

5 Anyone who touches his bed must wash their clothes and bathe in water and will be unclean until evening.

6 Anyone who sits where the man has sat must also wash their clothes, bathe in water, and remain unclean until evening.

7 Anyone who touches the man with the discharge must wash their clothes, bathe in water, and be unclean until evening.

8 If the man with the discharge spits on someone who is clean, that person must wash their clothes, bathe, and be unclean until evening.

9 Any saddle or seat the man rides on is unclean.

10 Anyone who touches anything that was under him becomes unclean until evening. Anyone who picks up these things must wash their clothes, bathe, and be unclean until evening.

11 If the man with the discharge touches someone without washing his hands first, the person he touches must wash their clothes, bathe, and be unclean until evening.

12 Any clay pot the man touches must be broken, and any wooden bowl must be rinsed with water.

3. Cleansing After the Discharge Stops

(Verses 13–15)

13 When the man with the discharge is healed, he must wait seven days and wash his clothes and bathe in fresh water. Then he will be clean.

14 On the eighth day, he must bring two turtledoves or two young pigeons to the priest at the entrance of the Tabernacle.

15 The priest will offer one as a sin offering and the other as a burnt offering. In this way, the priest will make atonement for him before the Lord.

4. Emissions of Semen

(Verses 16–18)

16 If a man has an emission of semen, he must bathe his entire body and will be unclean until evening.

17 Any clothing or leather that comes into contact with the semen must be washed with water and will be unclean until evening.

18 If a man and woman have sexual relations and there is an emission of semen, both must bathe and be unclean until evening.

5. Uncleanness from a Woman's Menstrual Flow

(Verses 19–24)

19 When a woman has her regular menstrual period, she will be unclean for seven days. Anyone who touches her during this time will be unclean until evening.

20 Everything she lies on or sits on during her period is unclean.

21 Anyone who touches her bed must wash their clothes and bathe, and will be unclean until evening.

22 Anyone who touches anything she has sat on must wash their clothes and bathe, and will be unclean until evening.

23 If you touch her bed or anything she sat on, you will be unclean until evening.

24 If a man has sexual relations with her during her menstrual period, he also becomes unclean for seven days, and any bed he lies on will be unclean.

6. Abnormal Bleeding Beyond Menstruation

(Verses 25–30)

25 If a woman has bleeding outside of her regular period, or if her period lasts longer than normal, she is unclean as long as the bleeding continues.

26 Any bed she lies on and anything she sits on during this time will be unclean, just as during her regular period.

27 Anyone who touches them must wash their clothes, bathe in water, and be unclean until evening.

28 After the bleeding stops, she must wait seven days. Then she will be clean.

29 On the eighth day, she must bring two turtledoves or two young pigeons to the priest at the entrance of the Tabernacle.

30 The priest will offer one as a sin offering and the other as a burnt offering. In this way, the priest will make atonement for her.

7. Purpose of These Laws

(Verses 31–33)

31 In this way, you must keep the Israelites from defiling the Tabernacle, which is in their midst. If they make it unclean, they risk dying because of their impurity.

32 These are the instructions for a man with a discharge, for emissions of semen, 33 for a woman during her period, and for anyone with an abnormal discharge—male or female—and for a man who sleeps with a woman who is unclean.

Key Lessons from Leviticus 15

- God Defines Clean and Unclean in Daily Life – Bodily discharges made a person ceremonially unclean, teaching that God’s holiness extends to physical and personal matters.
- Uncleanness Affects Others – Contact with an unclean person or object also made others unclean, symbolizing how sin spreads and impacts community.
- Purification Requires Washing and Waiting – Cleansing involved bathing and waiting until evening, showing that restoration takes both action and time.
- Sacrifice Restores Fellowship With God – At the end of the uncleanness, offerings were required, teaching that atonement is necessary for full restoration.
- Holiness Protects the Community – These laws prevented defilement from spreading in Israel, showing God’s care for both physical health and spiritual purity.
- God Calls His People to Be Distinct – Everyday life was regulated by God’s standards, reminding Israel that they were set apart from the nations.
- Christ Cleanses From All Defilement – Jesus heals and restores from every impurity—physical, moral, and spiritual—making us clean before God (1 John 1:7).

Leviticus Chapter 16 – Crawford Standard Bible (CSB)

The Day of Atonement: God's Instructions for Cleansing the Nation

1. The Death of Aaron’s Sons and Caution in Approaching God

(Verses 1–2)

1 The Lord spoke to Moses after the death of Aaron’s two sons, who died when they entered the Lord’s presence the wrong way.

2 The Lord said to Moses, “Tell your brother Aaron not to enter the Most Holy Place behind the inner curtain whenever he wants, or he will die. I appear in the cloud above the Ark’s cover.”

2. Preparations for Entering the Most Holy Place

(Verses 3–5)

3 “This is how Aaron must enter the Most Holy Place: He must bring a young bull for a sin offering and a ram for a burnt offering.

4 He must bathe and wear the sacred linen tunic, linen undergarments, and wrap himself with the linen sash and turban. These are sacred garments, so he must wash before putting them on.

5 From the community of Israel, he must take two male goats for a sin offering and one ram for a burnt offering.”

3. Sin Offering for the High Priest

(Verses 6–10)

6 “Aaron must offer the bull for his own sin offering to make atonement for himself and his family.

7 Then he must bring the two goats and present them to the Lord at the entrance of the Tabernacle.

8 He will cast lots to determine which goat is for the Lord and which is for Azazel (the scapegoat).

9 The goat chosen for the Lord must be sacrificed as a sin offering.

10 The goat chosen for Azazel must be presented alive before the Lord, then sent into the wilderness to remove the people’s sins.”

4. Entering the Most Holy Place with Blood and Incense

(Verses 11–14)

11 “Aaron must offer the bull as a sin offering for himself and his family.

12 Then he must take a fire pan full of burning coals from the altar and two handfuls of fragrant incense and bring them inside the veil.

13 He must put the incense on the fire so the smoke will cover the Ark’s cover, preventing him from dying.

14 Then he must sprinkle the bull’s blood with his finger on the east side of the Ark’s cover and in front of it seven times.”

5. The Goat for the Lord

(Verses 15–19)

15 “Next, Aaron must slaughter the goat chosen for the people’s sin offering. He will bring its blood behind the inner curtain and sprinkle it on and in front of the Ark’s cover, just as he did with the bull’s blood.

16 In this way, he will purify the Most Holy Place, making it clean from the sins and rebellion of the Israelites. He must also purify the rest of the Tabernacle.

17 No one may be inside the Tabernacle while Aaron enters to make atonement until he comes out. He will purify himself, his household, and the whole nation.

18 Then he will go to the altar outside and purify it by applying the bull’s and goat’s blood on its horns.

19 He will sprinkle blood on it seven times with his finger to make it holy and clean from the Israelites’ sins.”

6. The Scapegoat Ceremony

(Verses 20–22)

20 “When Aaron has finished purifying the Tabernacle and altar, he will bring forward the live goat.

21 He will place both hands on the goat’s head and confess over it all the sins and rebellions of the Israelites, transferring them to the goat. Then a chosen man will release the goat into the wilderness.

22 The goat will carry all the people's sins into a remote land, and the man will release it there.”

7. Finishing the Atonement Rituals

(Verses 23–28)

23 “After that, Aaron must return to the Tabernacle, remove the linen garments, and leave them there.

24 He must bathe in a holy place, put on his regular clothes, and offer the burnt offerings for himself and the people.

25 He will burn the fat of the sin offerings on the altar.

26 The man who released the scapegoat must wash his clothes and bathe before returning to camp.

27 The bull and goat used for the sin offering must be taken outside the camp and burned completely—their hides, flesh, and waste.

28 The one who burns them must also wash his clothes and bathe before coming back.”

8. Annual Day of Atonement Commanded

(Verses 29–34)

29 “This is a permanent law: On the tenth day of the seventh month, you must deny yourselves and do no work—whether native-born or a foreigner living among you.

30 On that day, atonement will be made for you to cleanse you from all your sins, so you will be clean before the Lord.

31 It will be a Sabbath day of rest, and you must deny yourselves. This is a permanent law.

32 The priest who is anointed and ordained to succeed his father will carry out this ceremony. He must put on the sacred linen garments

33 and purify the Most Holy Place, the Tabernacle, the altar, the priests, and the people.

34 This is a permanent law: Once a year, atonement must be made for all the people of Israel.” And Moses did exactly as the Lord commanded him.

Key Lessons from Leviticus 16

- God Provides the Day of Atonement – This annual ceremony was the most sacred day in Israel's calendar, showing God's provision for cleansing His people and the sanctuary.
- Access to God Requires a Mediator – Only the high priest could enter the Most Holy Place, pointing to Christ as our ultimate High Priest.
- Sacrifice Is Required for Sin – Blood from the bull and goat was sprinkled on the atonement cover, showing that forgiveness comes only through the shedding of blood (Hebrews 9:22).
- God Deals With Sin Completely – The scapegoat carried Israel's sins into the wilderness, symbolizing the removal of guilt and foreshadowing Christ bearing our sins away.

- God’s Presence Is Holy and Dangerous – Aaron could not enter at will but only as God commanded, reminding us that God’s holiness demands reverence.
- Atonement Is for All the People – The high priest made atonement for himself, the priests, and the entire community, showing that everyone stands in need of cleansing.
- Christ Is the Fulfillment of the Day of Atonement – Jesus entered the heavenly sanctuary once for all with His own blood, securing eternal redemption (Hebrews 9:11–12).

Leviticus Chapter 17 – Crawford Standard Bible (CSB)

The Sanctity of Blood and Proper Worship

1. All Sacrifices Must Be Brought to the Tabernacle

(Verses 1–9)

1 Then the Lord spoke to Moses,

2 “Speak to Aaron, his sons, and all the Israelites and say: This is what the Lord has commanded.

3 If anyone from Israel sacrifices a bull, lamb, or goat—whether inside or outside the camp—

4 but does not bring it to the entrance of the Tabernacle to present it as an offering to the Lord, they are guilty of bloodshed. They must be cut off from the people.

5 This law is to keep the Israelites from sacrificing animals in the open fields. Instead, they must bring their offerings to the priest at the entrance of the Tabernacle and offer them as peace offerings to the Lord.

6 The priest will sprinkle the blood on the Lord’s altar and burn the fat as a pleasing aroma to the Lord.

7 This will stop the Israelites from offering sacrifices to goat-demons, which they have been worshiping. This is a permanent law for future generations.

8 Give this warning to the people: If any Israelite or foreigner living among you

9 offers a burnt offering or sacrifice anywhere except at the entrance of the Tabernacle, that person must be cut off from the community.

2. The Prohibition Against Eating Blood

(Verses 10–14)

10 “If any Israelite or foreigner living among you eats any blood, I will turn against them and cut them off from the people.

11 For the life of the body is in the blood, and I have given it to you on the altar to make atonement for your lives. It is the blood that makes atonement for a person’s life.

12 That’s why I have told the people of Israel: No one among you is to eat blood. This also applies to foreigners living among you.

13 If any Israelite or foreigner hunts and kills an animal or bird that is allowed for food, they must drain its blood and cover it with earth.

14 The life of every creature is in its blood. That’s why I have told you not to eat the blood of any creature. Anyone who eats blood must be cut off.”

3. Handling Dead Animals Properly

(Verses 15–16)

15 “If anyone—Israelite or foreigner—eats an animal that died naturally or was killed by another animal, they must wash their clothes and bathe in water. They will be unclean until evening, but then they will be clean.

16 If they do not wash their clothes and bathe, they will be held responsible.”

Key Lessons from Leviticus 17

- Worship Belongs to God Alone – Sacrifices had to be brought to the tabernacle, preventing idolatry and showing that only the Lord is worthy of worship.
- Life Belongs to God – The command not to eat blood emphasized that life is in the blood, and it belongs to God as the giver of life.
- Blood Makes Atonement – God declared that He gave the blood on the altar to make atonement for souls, pointing directly to Christ’s sacrifice (Hebrews 9:14).
- God Protects His People From Pagan Practices – Regulations about slaughter and offerings kept Israel distinct from surrounding nations who sacrificed to false gods.
- Holiness Affects Everyday Life – Even eating meat was regulated by God’s law, teaching that all of life falls under His authority.
- Disobedience Brings Separation – Anyone who disregarded God’s commands about blood was cut off from the community, showing the seriousness of rebellion.
- Christ’s Blood Brings Eternal Life – The laws about blood find fulfillment in Jesus, whose shed blood gives forgiveness and eternal life to all who believe (Matthew 26:28).

Leviticus Chapter 18 – Crawford Standard Bible (CSB)

God’s Standards for Sexual Morality and Purity

1. God’s Call to Obey His Ways, Not the World’s

(Verses 1–5)

1 Then the Lord spoke to Moses,

2 “Speak to the people of Israel and say: I am the Lord your God.

3 Do not act like the people in Egypt, where you used to live, or like the people in Canaan, where I’m taking you. Do not follow their ways.

4 You must follow my laws and carefully obey my commands. I am the Lord your God.
5 If you obey my decrees and regulations, you will live through them. I am the Lord.”

2. Forbidden Sexual Relations with Close Relatives

(Verses 6–18)

6 “No one is to approach a close relative to have sexual relations. I am the Lord.
7 Do not have sexual relations with your mother. She is your mother. Do not dishonor her.
8 Do not have sexual relations with your father’s wife. That would dishonor your father.
9 Do not have sexual relations with your sister—whether she is your father’s daughter or your mother’s daughter, whether born at home or elsewhere.
10 Do not have sexual relations with your granddaughter, whether from your son or your daughter. That would dishonor yourself.
11 Do not have sexual relations with your stepsister, your father’s wife’s daughter. She is your sister.
12 Do not have sexual relations with your father’s sister. She is your father’s close relative.
13 Do not have sexual relations with your mother’s sister. She is your mother’s close relative.
14 Do not dishonor your uncle by approaching his wife. She is your aunt.
15 Do not have sexual relations with your daughter-in-law. She is your son’s wife.
16 Do not have sexual relations with your brother’s wife. That would dishonor your brother.
17 Do not have sexual relations with both a woman and her daughter. Do not take her granddaughter, whether through her son or daughter, to sleep with her. That is wickedness.
18 Do not take a woman as a rival wife to her sister while she is still alive, to make her jealous.”

3. Sexual Purity During Menstrual Impurity

(Verse 19)

19 “Do not approach a woman to have sexual relations while she is on her menstrual period and is ceremonially unclean.”

4. Adultery and Child Sacrifice Condemned

(Verses 20–21)

20 “Do not have sexual relations with your neighbor’s wife. That defiles both of you.
21 Do not give any of your children as an offering to Molech. That would profane the name of your God. I am the Lord.”

5. Homosexual Acts and Bestiality Forbidden

(Verses 22–23)

22 “Do not practice homosexuality. It is detestable.

23 Do not have sexual relations with an animal. That is a perversion. A woman must not present herself to an animal for sexual purposes. It is a vile confusion.”

6. Why These Sins Defile the Land

(Verses 24–25)

24 “Do not make yourselves unclean with any of these practices. That is how the nations I am driving out became defiled.

25 The land became polluted, so I punished it for its sin, and the land itself vomited out its inhabitants.”

7. Israel Must Live Differently

(Verses 26–30)

26 “You must keep my laws and decrees. Do not do any of these detestable things—this applies to both Israelites and foreigners living among you.

27 All these detestable practices were done by the people who lived in the land before you, and the land became unclean.

28 If you defile the land, it will vomit you out just as it did the nations before you.

29 Anyone who does these detestable things must be cut off from the people.

30 So keep my instructions and don’t follow any of these sinful customs that were practiced before you. Do not make yourselves unclean by them. I am the Lord your God.”

Key Lessons from Leviticus 18

- God’s People Must Not Imitate the World – Israel was commanded not to follow the practices of Egypt or Canaan, showing that holiness means being distinct from the nations.
- God Defines Sexual Purity – Detailed prohibitions against incest, adultery, homosexuality, and bestiality show that God sets the standard for morality.
- Holiness Protects the Family – By forbidding sexual sin within the family, God preserved the dignity, order, and sanctity of family life.
- Sin Defiles the Land – Sexual immorality and idolatry polluted Canaan, leading to God’s judgment on its inhabitants, reminding us that sin has societal consequences.
- Obedience Preserves Fellowship With God – Israel was warned that disobedience would cause them to be cast out of the land, just as the Canaanites were.
- God Calls His People to Live Set Apart – The repeated phrase “I am the Lord your God” ties obedience to His authority and holiness.
- Christ Calls Believers to Purity – In the New Testament, God’s will is our sanctification, that we abstain from sexual immorality and honor Him with our bodies (1 Thessalonians 4:3–5).

Leviticus Chapter 19 – Crawford Standard Bible (CSB)

Living a Holy Life Before the Lord

1. A Call to Holiness and Reverence

(Verses 1–4)

1 The Lord spoke to Moses,

2 “Speak to the entire congregation of Israel and tell them: Be holy, because I, the Lord your God, am holy.

3 Each of you must respect your mother and father, and you must keep my Sabbath days of rest. I am the Lord your God.

4 Do not turn to idols or make cast metal gods for yourselves. I am the Lord your God.”

2. Proper Handling of Peace Offerings

(Verses 5–8)

5 “When you offer a peace offering to the Lord, do it in a way that pleases Him.

6 The meat must be eaten on the day it is offered or the next day. Whatever is left over on the third day must be burned up.

7 If any of it is eaten on the third day, it is detestable and will not be accepted.

8 Anyone who eats it will be held responsible for dishonoring what is holy to the Lord and will be cut off from the community.”

3. Providing for the Poor and the Foreigner

(Verses 9–10)

9 “When you harvest your fields, do not harvest all the way to the edges, and do not pick up what falls to the ground.

10 Do not go over your vineyard a second time or pick up the grapes that have fallen. Leave them for the poor and the foreigner. I am the Lord your God.”

4. Integrity and Justice Among Neighbors

(Verses 11–18)

11 “Do not steal. Do not deceive or lie to one another.

12 Do not use my name to swear falsely or profane it. I am the Lord.

13 Do not cheat or rob your neighbor. Pay your workers their wages the same day.

14 Do not curse the deaf or put something in the way of the blind. Fear your God. I am the Lord.

15 Do not pervert justice. Do not show favoritism to the poor or to the powerful. Judge your neighbor fairly.

16 Do not spread gossip or slander. Do not stand by when your neighbor's life is in danger. I am the Lord.

17 Do not harbor hatred in your heart. Confront people directly so you will not be held guilty for their sin.

18 Do not seek revenge or hold a grudge against your people. Love your neighbor as yourself. I am the Lord.”

5. Observing God's Statutes in Daily Living

(Verses 19–22)

19 “Keep my decrees. Do not breed different kinds of animals together. Do not plant your fields with two kinds of seed. Do not wear clothing woven with two kinds of fabric.

20 If a man sleeps with a female slave who is promised to another man, but she has not been redeemed or given her freedom, they must be punished. But they are not to be put to death because she was not free.

21 The man must bring a ram as a guilt offering to the Lord at the entrance of the Tabernacle.

22 The priest will offer it to the Lord to make atonement, and the man's sin will be forgiven.”

6. Laws About Trees and Harvests

(Verses 23–25)

23 “When you enter the land and plant fruit trees, do not eat the fruit for the first three years. It is considered forbidden.

24 In the fourth year, all the fruit will be holy, set apart as a praise offering to the Lord.

25 In the fifth year, you may eat the fruit. It will increase your harvest. I am the Lord your God.”

7. Prohibitions Against Pagan Practices

(Verses 26–31)

26 “Do not eat meat with blood in it. Do not practice divination or sorcery.

27 Do not trim the edges of your hair or beard in a pagan way.

28 Do not cut your bodies for the dead or tattoo yourselves. I am the Lord.

29 Do not prostitute your daughter, or the land will become corrupt and full of wickedness.

30 Keep my Sabbath days and respect my sanctuary. I am the Lord.

31 Do not consult mediums or seek out spirits. You will be defiled by them. I am the Lord your God.”

8. Honor the Elderly and Love the Stranger

(Verses 32–34)

32 “Stand in respect when in the presence of the elderly. Honor older people and revere your God. I am the Lord.

33 Do not mistreat foreigners who live among you.

34 Treat them as native-born Israelites and love them as yourself. Remember that you were once foreigners in Egypt. I am the Lord your God.”

9. Honest Business and Obedience to God's Commands

(Verses 35–37)

35 “Do not cheat when measuring length, weight, or volume.

36 Use honest scales and measures. I am the Lord your God who brought you out of Egypt.

37 So keep all my decrees and my laws and be careful to obey them. I am the Lord.”

Judgments for Sin and the Call to Holiness

1. The Sin of Offering Children to Molech

(Verses 1–5)

1 The Lord said to Moses,

2 “Say to the people of Israel: Any Israelite or foreigner living among you who sacrifices their child to Molech must be put to death. The people must stone him.

3 I will turn against that man and remove him from among his people, because he gave his child to Molech, defiling my sanctuary and dishonoring my holy name.

4 If the community ignores someone who gives their child to Molech and does not put him to death,

5 I will turn against that man and his family. I will remove them and anyone who follows him in prostituting themselves to Molech.”

2. Judgment Against Spiritists and Mediums

(Verse 6)

6 “If anyone turns to mediums or spiritists and prostitutes themselves with them, I will turn against that person and remove them from the community.”

3. The Call to Be Holy and Obedient

(Verses 7–8)

7 “Set yourselves apart to be holy, for I am the Lord your God.

8 Obey my commands and live by them. I am the Lord who makes you holy.”

4. Punishments for Serious Sexual Sins

(Verses 9–21)

9 “Anyone who curses their father or mother must be put to death. They are guilty of their own sin.

10 If a man commits adultery with another man’s wife, both the man and the woman must be put to death.

11 If a man sleeps with his father’s wife, he has dishonored his father. Both must be put to death.

12 If a man sleeps with his daughter-in-law, both must be put to death. That is perversion.

13 If a man has sexual relations with another man as with a woman, it is a detestable act. Both must be put to death.

14 If a man marries a woman and her mother, it is evil. All three must be burned to remove the wickedness.

15 If a man has sex with an animal, he must be put to death, and the animal must be killed.

16 If a woman approaches an animal and has sex with it, both must be killed. They are guilty of their own death.

17 If a man marries his sister, whether his father’s or mother’s daughter, and they see each other’s nakedness, it is a disgrace. They must be cut off in the sight of the people. He will bear the guilt.

18 If a man sleeps with a woman during her menstrual period, both of them must be cut off. They have exposed her flow of blood.

19 Do not have sex with your mother’s or your father’s sister, for that is dishonoring a close relative.

20 If a man sleeps with his uncle’s wife, he has dishonored his uncle. They will be held accountable and die childless.

21 If a man marries his brother's wife, it is an unclean act. He has dishonored his brother. They will die childless."

5. Keep God's Laws to Avoid Being Vomited Out

(Verses 22–24)

22 "You must obey all my laws and regulations. If you don't, the land where I'm bringing you to live will vomit you out.

23 Don't follow the practices of the nations I am driving out before you. I detested them because of these sins.

24 But I have said to you, 'You will inherit their land, a land flowing with milk and honey.' I am the Lord your God, and I have set you apart from all other people."

6. Separation from the Unclean

(Verses 25–26)

25 "So make a clear distinction between clean and unclean animals and birds. Do not make yourselves detestable by eating or touching unclean creatures.

26 You must be holy to me because I, the Lord, am holy. I have separated you from all other nations so you would belong to me."

7. Death for Mediums and Spiritists

(Verse 27)

27 "Any man or woman who acts as a medium or spiritist must be put to death. They must be stoned to death. They are guilty and responsible for their own blood."

Key Lessons from Leviticus 20

- God Judges Idolatry and Child Sacrifice – Offering children to Molech was punishable by death, showing God's hatred of idolatry and protection of innocent life.

Leviticus Chapter 21 – Crawford Standard Bible (CSB)

Holiness Rules for Priests and the High Priest

1. Rules for Ordinary Priests Regarding the Dead

(Verses 1–4)

1 The Lord said to Moses,

2 “Tell the priests, the sons of Aaron: A priest must not make himself ceremonially unclean by touching the body of someone who has died, except for close relatives—his mother, father, son, daughter, or brother.

3 He may also become unclean for an unmarried sister who is close to him because she has no husband.

4 But he must not make himself unclean for someone else, because he is a leader among his people and must not dishonor himself.”

2. Personal Appearance and Behavior Requirements

(Verses 5–6)

5 “Priests must not shave their heads bald, shave off the edges of their beards, or cut their bodies.

6 They must be holy to their God and not dishonor His name. Since they present the offerings made by fire and the bread of their God, they must remain holy.”

3. Marriage Rules for Priests

(Verses 7–9)

7 “A priest must not marry a woman who is a prostitute or has been defiled, or who has been divorced. He is holy to his God.

8 Treat him as holy because he offers the food of your God. He must be holy to you, for I, the Lord, who make you holy, am holy.

9 If a priest’s daughter becomes a prostitute and dishonors herself, she also brings shame to her father. She must be burned with fire.”

4. Holiness of the High Priest

(Verses 10–15)

10 “The high priest, the one anointed with holy oil and set apart to wear the sacred garments, must not let his hair hang loose or tear his clothes.

11 He must not go near any dead body—not even for his father or mother.

12 He must not leave the Tabernacle or desecrate the sanctuary, because the crown of the anointing oil of God is upon him. I am the Lord.

13 He must marry a woman who is a virgin.

14 He must not marry a widow, a divorced woman, or a prostitute. He must marry a virgin from among his own people.

15 He must not dishonor his children among his people, for I am the Lord who sets him apart as holy.”

5. Physical Qualifications for Priests to Serve

(Verses 16–24)

16 Then the Lord said to Moses,

17 “Tell Aaron: Any male descendant of yours who has a physical defect must not present offerings to the Lord.

18 No one who is blind, lame, disfigured, or deformed

19 —no one with a crippled hand or foot,

20 or who is hunched over, a dwarf, has a damaged eye, has a skin disease or scabs, or damaged testicles—

21 none of Aaron’s descendants with such defects may approach to offer the food offerings to the Lord. He may eat the food of his God,

22 both the most holy and the holy offerings,

23 but he must not go near the inner curtain or approach the altar, because he has a defect and must not dishonor my sanctuary. I am the Lord who makes it holy.”

24 So Moses told all this to Aaron, his sons, and all the people of Israel.

Key Lessons from Leviticus 21

- God Requires Holiness in Leaders – Priests were held to higher standards, showing that those who serve God must reflect His holiness in every area of life.
- Respect for Life and Death Matters – Priests had restrictions regarding mourning and contact with the dead, teaching that God’s servants are to model trust in Him.
- Family Integrity Is Important for Leaders – Regulations about whom priests could marry emphasized purity and faithfulness in family life.
- The High Priest Bears Greater Responsibility – His unique restrictions showed that the closer one stands to God in service, the greater the call to holiness.

- God’s Service Requires Wholeness – Priests with physical defects could not serve at the altar, symbolizing the perfection and holiness required in approaching God.
- Holiness Protects God’s Sanctuary – These laws emphasized that God’s dwelling must not be defiled by careless or unholy service.
- Christ Is Our Perfect High Priest – Unlike the earthly priests, Jesus is holy, blameless, and undefiled, forever making perfect intercession for His people (Hebrews 7:26–27).

Leviticus Chapter 22 – Crawford Standard Bible (CSB)

Rules for Priests and Acceptable Offerings

1. Priests Must Remain Pure When Handling Holy Things

(Verses 1–3)

1 The Lord spoke to Moses,

2 “Tell Aaron and his sons to treat the holy offerings that the Israelites bring to Me with reverence, and not to dishonor My holy name by mishandling these sacred things. I am the Lord.

3 If any of Aaron’s descendants approaches the holy offerings while ceremonially unclean, that person must be cut off from My presence. I am the Lord.”

2. Conditions That Make a Priest Unclean

(Verses 4–9)

4 “Any descendant of Aaron who has a skin disease or a discharge may not eat of the holy offerings until he is made clean. The same applies to anyone who touches something defiled by a corpse or by semen,

5 or who touches any crawling creature or person who makes him unclean.

6 Anyone who becomes unclean from these things must remain unclean until evening and must wash with water.

7 After the sun sets, he will be clean and may then eat from the holy offerings, since it is his food.

8 He must not eat anything that died naturally or was torn by animals. That would defile him. I am the Lord.

9 The priests must keep My commands so they do not become guilty and die for treating My holy things with contempt. I am the Lord who sets them apart.”

3. Who May Eat the Holy Offerings

(Verses 10–13)

10 “No outsider may eat of the holy offerings. Even a guest or a hired servant of a priest may not eat them.

11 But if a priest buys a slave with his own money, or if someone is born in his household, they may eat of it.

12 If a priest's daughter marries someone outside the priesthood, she may no longer eat of the holy offerings.

13 But if she becomes a widow or is divorced and has no children and returns to live in her father's house, she may eat from his food again, just as she did when she was a child. No outsider may eat of it.”

4. Mistaken Use of Holy Food

(Verses 14–16)

14 “If someone eats a holy offering by mistake, they must repay the amount and add one-fifth to it and give it to the priest.

15 The priests must not allow the sacred offerings to be treated carelessly or disrespectfully,

16 or cause the people to bear guilt by eating them improperly. I am the Lord who sets them apart.”

5. Rules for Acceptable Animal Sacrifices

(Verses 17–25)

17 The Lord said to Moses,

18 “Speak to Aaron, his sons, and all the Israelites and say: When any Israelite or foreigner among you brings an offering to the Lord—whether to fulfill a vow or as a freewill offering—

19 it must be a male without defect from the cattle, sheep, or goats to be accepted.

20 Do not offer anything with a defect, because it will not be accepted.

21 When someone offers a peace offering to fulfill a vow or as a freewill gift, it must be perfect and without defect.

22 Animals that are blind, crippled, injured, or have sores or skin diseases must not be offered to the Lord. Do not present them as offerings by fire on the altar.

23 A bull or lamb that has too many or too few limbs may be used as a freewill offering, but not for a vow.

24 Do not offer any animal that has been castrated or mutilated. That is not acceptable to the Lord.

25 Do not accept such animals from foreigners either, because they are flawed and unacceptable as offerings.”

6. Proper Timing for Offering Young Animals

(Verses 26–28)

26 The Lord said to Moses,

27 “When a calf, lamb, or goat is born, it must stay with its mother for seven days. From the eighth day on, it is acceptable as a fire offering to the Lord.

28 Do not slaughter a cow or ewe and her young on the same day.”

7. Rules for Thank Offerings and Final Reminders

(Verses 29–33)

29 “When you bring a sacrifice of thanksgiving to the Lord, offer it so it will be accepted.

30 It must be eaten that same day. Do not leave any of it until morning. I am the Lord.

31 You must obey My commands and put them into practice. I am the Lord.

32 Do not dishonor My holy name. I must be honored among the Israelites. I am the Lord who sets you apart,

33 who brought you out of the land of Egypt to be your God. I am the Lord.”

Key Lessons from Leviticus 22

- God’s Priests Must Treat Holy Things With Reverence – Priests were forbidden from handling offerings carelessly, showing that God’s service requires respect.
- Holiness Guards Fellowship With God – Priests had to remain ceremonially clean to partake in sacred food, teaching that impurity hinders fellowship.
- God Provides for His Servants Through Offerings – Portions of sacrifices sustained the priests, reminding us that those who serve God are cared for by His people.
- God Requires Pure Offerings – Animals with defects were unacceptable, showing that only the best should be given to the Lord.
- Worship Must Be According to God’s Word – Sacrifices had to follow God’s exact instructions, teaching that worship is not on human terms but God’s.
- Obedience Demonstrates Reverence – The repeated command, “I am the Lord,” ties obedience to recognition of God’s authority and holiness.
- Christ Is the Perfect Offering – Unlike blemished sacrifices, Jesus offered Himself as the flawless Lamb of God, fully acceptable to the Father.

Leviticus Chapter 23 – Crawford Standard Bible (CSB)

The Appointed Festivals of the Lord

1. Introduction to the Lord’s Feasts

(Verses 1–2)

1 The Lord spoke to Moses,

2 “Speak to the people of Israel and tell them: These are the Lord’s appointed festivals, which you are to proclaim as sacred gatherings. These are My appointed times.”

2. The Weekly Sabbath

(Verse 3)

3 “You may work for six days, but the seventh day is a day of complete rest, a sacred gathering. You must not do any work. It is a Sabbath to the Lord wherever you live.”

3. The Passover and the Feast of Unleavened Bread

(Verses 4–8)

4 “These are the Lord’s appointed festivals, which you must proclaim at their proper times:

5 The Lord’s Passover begins at sunset on the fourteenth day of the first month.

6 The next day, on the fifteenth day of that month, begins the Feast of Unleavened Bread to the Lord. For seven days you must eat bread made without yeast.

7 On the first day, hold a sacred assembly and do no regular work.

8 Each day for seven days, present a food offering to the Lord. On the seventh day, hold another sacred assembly and do no regular work.”

4. The Feast of Firstfruits

(Verses 9–14)

9 Then the Lord said to Moses,

10 “Speak to the people of Israel and say: When you enter the land I am giving you and harvest your crops, bring the priest a bundle of the first grain you harvest.

11 On the day after the Sabbath, the priest will lift it up before the Lord so it will be accepted on your behalf.

12 On the same day, offer a year-old male lamb without defects as a burnt offering to the Lord, 13 along with a grain offering of fine flour mixed with olive oil and a drink offering of wine.

14 Do not eat any bread or roasted or fresh grain until you bring this offering to your God. This is a lasting law for all generations, wherever you live.”

5. The Feast of Weeks (Pentecost)

(Verses 15–22)

15 “Count seven full weeks from the day after the Sabbath, the day you bring the first bundle of grain.

16 Count fifty days to the day after the seventh Sabbath, and then present a new grain offering to the Lord.

17 Bring two loaves made with fine flour and baked with yeast as a firstfruits offering.

18 Along with the bread, bring seven year-old lambs without defects, one young bull, and two rams. These are burnt offerings to the Lord, along with their grain and drink offerings—a pleasing aroma.

19 Also offer one male goat as a sin offering and two lambs as a peace offering.

20 The priest will wave the two lambs with the bread of the firstfruits as a wave offering before the Lord. They belong to the priest and are holy.

21 On that same day, hold a sacred gathering and do no ordinary work. This is a lasting law for all generations wherever you live.

22 And when you harvest your fields, do not harvest right up to the edge or pick up what is left. Leave it for the poor and the foreigner. I am the Lord your God.”

6. The Feast of Trumpets

(Verses 23–25)

23 The Lord said to Moses,

24 “Speak to the people of Israel: On the first day of the seventh month, you are to have a day of rest, a memorial with trumpet blasts—a sacred gathering.

25 Do no regular work, and present a food offering to the Lord.”

7. The Day of Atonement

(Verses 26–32)

26 The Lord also said to Moses,

27 “The tenth day of the seventh month is the Day of Atonement. Hold a sacred gathering and deny yourselves, and present a food offering to the Lord.

28 Do no work on that day, because it is a day to make atonement for you before the Lord your God.

29 Anyone who refuses to humble themselves on that day must be cut off from their people.

30 I will destroy anyone who does any work on that day.

31 You must not do any work. This is a lasting law for all generations.

32 It is a Sabbath of rest, and you must deny yourselves. You are to observe it from sunset on the ninth day of the month until sunset on the tenth.”

8. The Feast of Tabernacles (Booths)

(Verses 33–44)

33 The Lord spoke again to Moses:

34 “Tell the people of Israel: Beginning on the fifteenth day of the seventh month, the Lord’s Festival of Tabernacles begins, and it lasts for seven days.

35 On the first day, hold a sacred gathering and do no ordinary work.

36 For seven days, present offerings to the Lord. On the eighth day, hold another sacred gathering and offer another food offering. It is a closing assembly. Do no regular work.

37 These are the Lord’s appointed festivals, which you are to proclaim as sacred gatherings for presenting food offerings, burnt offerings, grain offerings, sacrifices, and drink offerings—each on its appropriate day.

38 These are in addition to the Lord’s Sabbaths, your gifts, vows, and freewill offerings.

39 So beginning on the fifteenth day of the seventh month, after you have gathered the crops of the land, celebrate the Lord's festival for seven days. The first and eighth days are days of rest.

40 On the first day, take branches from beautiful trees, palm branches, leafy trees, and willows from the brook, and rejoice before the Lord your God for seven days.
41 Celebrate this as a festival to the Lord for seven days each year. This is a lasting law for all generations. Celebrate it in the seventh month.
42 Live in temporary shelters for seven days. All native-born Israelites must live in these shelters
43 so that your future generations will know that I made the people of Israel live in shelters when I brought them out of Egypt. I am the Lord your God."
44 So Moses gave the people of Israel these instructions about the Lord's appointed festivals.

Key Lessons from Leviticus 23

- God Establishes Sacred Times – The appointed feasts were God's calendar for Israel, showing that He sets the rhythm of worship and rest.
- The Sabbath Is a Gift of Rest – Weekly rest reminded Israel of God's creation and covenant, pointing to Christ as our ultimate rest.
- Passover Proclaims Redemption – The lamb's blood recalled deliverance from Egypt, foreshadowing Christ, our Passover Lamb (1 Corinthians 5:7).
- The Feast of Unleavened Bread Teaches Purity – Removing leaven symbolized putting away sin, calling God's people to holiness.
- Firstfruits Point to Resurrection – Offering the first sheaf of harvest celebrated God's provision and pointed to Christ, the firstfruits of the resurrection (1 Corinthians 15:20).
- Pentecost Celebrates Provision and Power – The feast of weeks honored God's abundance and later marked the outpouring of the Spirit in Acts 2.
- The Feast of Trumpets Announces God's Kingship – The trumpet blasts signaled gathering and judgment, foreshadowing Christ's return.
- The Day of Atonement Provides Cleansing – This solemn day reminded Israel of the need for forgiveness, fulfilled in Jesus' once-for-all sacrifice.
- The Feast of Tabernacles Celebrates God's Presence – Living in booths recalled God's provision in the wilderness, pointing to Christ dwelling among us.
- Christ Fulfills Every Feast – Each celebration finds its true meaning in Him, the center of God's redemptive plan.

Leviticus Chapter 24 – Crawford Standard Bible (CSB)

The Holy Lamps, the Bread of the Presence, and the Penalty for Blasphemy

1. The Oil for the Lampstand

(Verses 1–4)

1 The Lord said to Moses,

2 “Command the people of Israel to bring you pure pressed olive oil for the lampstand so the lamps can burn continually.

3 Outside the inner curtain of the testimony in the Tabernacle, Aaron must keep the lamps burning from evening until morning before the Lord continually. This is a lasting command for every generation.

4 He must keep the lamps on the pure gold lampstand burning continually before the Lord.”

2. The Bread of the Presence

(Verses 5–9)

5 “You must take fine flour and bake twelve loaves of bread—each made with about four quarts of flour.

6 Arrange them in two rows, six in each row, on the pure gold table before the Lord.

7 Put pure frankincense on each row as a reminder portion to be burned as a fire offering to the Lord.

8 Every Sabbath day, this bread must be set in order before the Lord as a lasting covenant from the Israelites.

9 The bread belongs to Aaron and his sons. They are to eat it in a holy place, because it is most holy and a permanent portion of the Lord’s food offerings.”

3. The Case of the Blasphemer

(Verses 10–12)

10 One day, the son of an Israelite woman and an Egyptian father got into a fight with an Israelite man in the camp.

11 During the argument, the mixed-heritage man cursed and blasphemed the Name of the Lord. So the people brought him to Moses. His mother’s name was Shelomith, daughter of Dibri, from the tribe of Dan.

12 They held him in custody until the Lord’s will could be made clear to them.

4. Judgment for Blasphemy

(Verses 13–16)

13 Then the Lord said to Moses,

14 “Take the man who cursed outside the camp. Let everyone who heard him lay their hands on his head, then the whole community must stone him.

15 Tell the people of Israel: Anyone who curses their God is responsible for their sin.

16 Anyone who blasphemes the Name of the Lord must be put to death. The entire community must stone that person. Whether foreigner or native-born, they must be put to death for blaspheming the Name.”

5. Laws About Justice and Fairness

(Verses 17–22)

17 “Anyone who kills another person must be put to death.

18 Anyone who kills someone else’s animal must make restitution—an animal for an animal.

19 If anyone injures their neighbor, they will be injured in the same way.

20 A fracture for a fracture, an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth. Whatever injury they caused will be done to them.

21 Whoever kills an animal must replace it, but anyone who kills another human being must be put to death.

22 You are to have one standard of justice for both foreigners and native-born people. I am the Lord your God.”

6. The Sentence Carried Out

(Verse 23)

23 Moses told the Israelites what the Lord had said, and they took the man who had cursed outside the camp and stoned him. The Israelites did exactly as the Lord commanded Moses.

Key Lessons from Leviticus 24

- God’s Presence Requires Continual Devotion – The lamps in the tabernacle were to burn continually, symbolizing God’s constant presence and the need for unceasing faithfulness.
- God Provides Spiritual Nourishment – The bread of the Presence, set before the Lord each week, represented God’s ongoing fellowship and provision for His people.
- Blasphemy Profanes God’s Name – The punishment for cursing God showed the seriousness of honoring His name and character.
- God Upholds Justice Among His People – Laws of restitution (“life for life, eye for eye”) emphasized fairness and accountability, preventing excessive revenge.
- Holiness Extends to Speech – Reverence for God includes the way His name is spoken, teaching that words reflect the condition of the heart.
- God’s Law Applies Equally to All – Both foreigners and Israelites were under the same commands, showing that God’s justice is impartial.
- Christ Is the Light and Bread of Life – The lampstand and bread point to Jesus as the One who sustains us with His presence and eternal provision.

Leviticus Chapter 25 – Crawford Standard Bible (CSB)

The Sabbath Year, the Year of Jubilee, and Laws on Property and Servitude

1. The Land's Sabbath Rest

(Verses 1–7)

1 The Lord spoke to Moses on Mount Sinai, saying,

2 “Tell the people of Israel: When you enter the land I’m giving you, it must observe a Sabbath rest to the Lord.

3 For six years you may plant your fields, prune your vineyards, and gather your crops.

4 But the seventh year is to be a year of complete rest for the land—a Sabbath to the Lord. Do not plant your fields or prune your vineyards.

5 Do not harvest what grows on its own or pick the grapes from untended vines. The land is to have a year of rest.

6 Whatever the land produces during this Sabbath year will be food for you—your servants, your workers, and any foreigners living among you,

7 as well as for your livestock and wild animals in your land. Everything the land produces can be eaten.”

2. The Year of Jubilee

(Verses 8–12)

8 “Count off seven Sabbath years—seven sets of seven years, adding up to forty-nine years in total.

9 Then, on the tenth day of the seventh month—the Day of Atonement—blow a loud trumpet throughout the land.

10 Set apart the fiftieth year and proclaim liberty throughout the land for all its inhabitants. It will be a Jubilee year for you. Each person is to return to their own property and family.

11 The fiftieth year is a Jubilee: do not plant or harvest what grows on its own or gather grapes from untended vines.

12 It is a holy year; eat only what the fields produce on their own.”

3. Fair Land Transactions Based on Jubilee Timing

(Verses 13–17)

13 “In this year of Jubilee, everyone must return to their own property.

14 If you sell land to your neighbor or buy from them, do not cheat one another.

15 The price you pay will depend on how many years remain until the next Jubilee.

16 The more years left, the higher the price; the fewer years, the lower the price—because what’s being sold is the number of harvests.

17 Do not cheat one another. Fear your God, for I am the Lord your God.”

4. God’s Promise to Provide in the Sabbath Year

(Verses 18–22)

18 “Obey My decrees and laws, and you will live safely in the land.

19 The land will yield its harvest, and you will have all you need and live in safety.

20 If you ask, ‘What will we eat in the seventh year since we can’t plant or harvest?’

21 I will bless you in the sixth year so you will have enough for three years.

22 You will plant again in the eighth year but still eat from the old crop until the new harvest comes in.”

5. Land Belongs to the Lord

(Verses 23–24)

23 “The land must never be sold permanently, because it belongs to Me. You are only foreigners and tenants living with Me.

24 Throughout the land you possess, you must allow for the redemption of the land.”

6. Redeeming Family Property

(Verses 25–28)

25 “If one of your relatives becomes poor and sells some land, their nearest relative must come and redeem it.

26 If they have no one to redeem it, but later they can afford it themselves,

27 they must calculate the value and pay the buyer back for the years remaining until the Jubilee, and then reclaim the land.

28 But if they can’t repay it, the land will remain with the buyer until the Jubilee, when it must be returned.”

7. Rules for Selling Houses

(Verses 29–34)

29 “If someone sells a house in a walled city, they may redeem it within one year.

30 If not redeemed within that year, it becomes permanent property and won’t return in the Jubilee.

31 But houses in villages without walls are treated like land—they can be redeemed and return in the Jubilee.

32 Levite homes in their cities may always be redeemed.

33 If a Levite redeems a house, it returns in the Jubilee, because their cities are their inheritance.

34 But the open land around Levite cities must never be sold; it is their permanent possession.”

8. Helping the Poor and Lending Without Interest

(Verses 35–38)

35 “If a fellow Israelite becomes poor and can no longer support themselves, help them as you would a foreigner or temporary resident.

36 Don’t charge them interest or make a profit. Fear your God and let them live with you.

37 Don’t lend them money with interest or sell them food at a profit.

38 I am the Lord your God, who brought you out of Egypt to give you the land of Canaan and to be your God.”

9. Treatment of Poor Israelites Who Become Servants

(Verses 39–46)

39 “If a fellow Israelite becomes poor and sells themselves to you, do not treat them like slaves.

40 They are to be treated as hired workers and must serve only until the Jubilee.

41 Then they and their children may return to their family and ancestral property.

42 They are My servants, whom I brought out of Egypt—they must not be sold as slaves.

43 Do not treat them harshly, but fear your God.

44 Your male and female slaves may come from the surrounding nations.

45 You may also acquire slaves from foreigners living among you and from their families born in your land.

46 You may pass them on to your children as permanent inheritance. But you must never treat your fellow Israelites harshly.”

10. Redemption of Israelites Sold to Foreigners

(Verses 47–55)

47 “If a foreigner becomes wealthy and an Israelite sells himself to that foreigner, 48 he may still be redeemed by a family member.

49 An uncle, cousin, or other close relative may redeem him, or he may redeem himself if he prospers.

50 The price will be based on how many years remain until the Jubilee, like wages for a hired worker.

51 If many years remain, a larger price must be paid.

52 If only a few years remain, the price will be adjusted accordingly.

53 He must be treated like a hired worker and not ruled over harshly.

54 If he is not redeemed earlier, he and his children must be freed in the Jubilee.

55 For the Israelites are My servants. I brought them out of the land of Egypt. I am the Lord your God.”

Key Lessons from Leviticus 25

- God Establishes Rhythms of Rest – The Sabbath year for the land taught Israel that rest and dependence on God are essential for creation and community.

- God Owns the Land and Provides for His People – Allowing the land to rest reminded Israel that the earth belongs to the Lord, and He is the true provider.
- The Year of Jubilee Declares Freedom – Every fiftieth year debts were canceled, slaves freed, and property restored, symbolizing redemption and new beginnings.
- God Protects the Poor and Vulnerable – Laws about lending without interest and redeeming property showed His care for justice and compassion.
- Obedience Brings Provision – God promised abundant harvests for those who trusted Him by letting the land rest, proving His faithfulness.
- Redemption Is Central to God’s Plan – The right to redeem property or persons foreshadowed Christ as our Redeemer who restores our inheritance.
- God’s People Are His Servants, Not Slaves – Israel was reminded that they belonged to the Lord, not to men, pointing to the freedom we have in Christ.
- Christ Fulfills the Jubilee – Jesus declared the “year of the Lord’s favor” (Luke 4:18–19), bringing spiritual freedom, forgiveness, and restoration to all who believe.

Leviticus Chapter 26 – Crawford Standard Bible (CSB)

Blessings for Obedience and Curses for Disobedience

1. Do Not Worship Idols

(Verses 1–2)

1 “Do not make idols or carved images for yourselves. Do not set up sacred stones or engraved markers in your land to bow down to them. I am the Lord your God.

2 Respect My Sabbaths and honor My sanctuary. I am the Lord.”

2. Blessings for Obedience

(Verses 3–13)

3 “If you follow My statutes, keep My commandments, and obey them,

4 I will send rain in its season, the land will produce its crops, and the trees will bear fruit.

5 Your threshing season will last until grape harvest, and grape harvest will last until planting season. You will eat your fill and live securely in your land.

6 I will give peace in the land, and you will lie down with no fear. I will remove dangerous animals, and war will not sweep through your land.

7 You will chase your enemies, and they will fall before you by the sword.

8 Five of you will chase a hundred, and a hundred will chase ten thousand. Your enemies will fall by the sword before you.

9 I will look favorably upon you and make you fruitful and multiply you. I will confirm My covenant with you.

10 You will still be eating old harvest when you need to make room for the new.

11 I will dwell among you; I will not reject you.

12 I will walk among you and be your God, and you will be My people.

13 I am the Lord your God who brought you out of Egypt, freeing you from slavery, breaking the yoke from your neck so you could walk upright.”

3. Warnings for Disobedience

(Verses 14–17)

14 “But if you refuse to listen to Me and do not obey all My commands,

15 if you reject My statutes and hate My judgments, and if you break My covenant by disobedience,

16 then I will do this to you: I will send terror, wasting disease, and fever that will destroy your sight and drain your strength. You will plant your seed in vain, because your enemies will eat your crops.

17 I will turn against you. You will be defeated by your enemies. Those who hate you will rule over you, and you will run even when no one is chasing you.”

4. Increasing Punishments for Continued Rebellion

(Verses 18–39)

18 “If after all this you still will not listen to Me, I will punish you seven times more for your sins.

19 I will break your pride and your power. I will make your sky like iron and your ground like bronze.

20 Your efforts will be wasted, and the land will produce nothing, nor will the trees bear fruit.

21 If you continue to oppose Me and refuse to obey, I will bring seven times more plagues on you for your sins.

22 I will send wild animals to kill your children, destroy your livestock, and leave you few in number. Your roads will be empty.

23 If you still will not change and continue to resist Me,

24 then I will also resist you and strike you seven times for your sins.

25 I will bring the sword against you to punish you for breaking My covenant. When you retreat to your cities, I will send disease, and you will be handed over to your enemies.

26 When I cut off your food supply, ten women will bake your bread in one oven and ration it out by weight. You will eat but never be satisfied.

27 If in spite of all this you still refuse to listen to Me and continue to rebel,

28 I will act in fury and punish you seven times for your sins.

29 You will eat the flesh of your sons and daughters.

30 I will destroy your high places, tear down your altars, and throw your corpses on the remains of your idols. I will despise you.

31 I will ruin your cities and destroy your sanctuaries. I will not accept your offerings.

32 I will lay waste to your land, and even your enemies will be shocked by its devastation.

33 I will scatter you among the nations and bring war after you. Your land will be desolate and your cities ruined.

34 Then the land will finally enjoy its Sabbaths while it lies desolate during your absence.

35 The land will rest and make up for the Sabbaths you never allowed it when you lived there.

36 As for those who survive, I will cause fear to fill their hearts in the lands of their enemies. The sound of a blowing leaf will send them running as if fleeing from a sword.

37 They will stumble over each other in panic even when no one is chasing them. You will not be able to stand against your enemies.

38 You will perish among the nations, and the land of your enemies will devour you.

39 Those who are left will waste away in their sin and the sins of their ancestors while in their enemies' lands.”

5. Hope for Repentance and Restoration

(Verses 40–45)

40 “But if they confess their sins and the sins of their ancestors—how they were unfaithful and walked in rebellion against Me—

41 and if they humble their uncircumcised hearts and accept their punishment,

42 then I will remember My covenant with Jacob, and also My covenant with Isaac and Abraham, and I will remember the land.

43 The land will enjoy its Sabbaths and rest while it lies empty. The people must accept their punishment for rejecting My laws and hating My commands.

44 Yet even when they are in the land of their enemies, I will not completely reject or destroy them, breaking My covenant with them. For I am the Lord their God.

45 For their sake I will remember My covenant with their ancestors, whom I brought out of Egypt in the sight of the nations, that I might be their God. I am the Lord.”

6. Closing Summary

(Verse 46)

46 These are the statutes, judgments, and laws the Lord made between Himself and the people of Israel through Moses on Mount Sinai.

Key Lessons from Leviticus 26

- Obedience Brings Blessing – God promised peace, provision, and His presence if Israel kept His commands, showing that holiness leads to flourishing.
- Disobedience Brings Discipline – Curses of famine, disease, and exile revealed that rejecting God’s covenant results in loss and judgment.
- God’s Presence Is the Greatest Reward – The promise “I will walk among you and be your God” highlights fellowship with Him as the ultimate blessing.

- Sin Leads to Increasing Hardness – The warnings showed that continued rebellion brings deeper judgment, teaching that sin hardens hearts.
- God’s Discipline Is Meant to Restore – Even the punishments pointed to God’s desire to turn His people back to Him in repentance.
- God’s Covenant Is Unbreakable – Despite Israel’s unfaithfulness, God promised to remember His covenant with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.
- Hope Remains Even in Exile – Confession and humility would bring God’s mercy, showing that His grace is greater than His people’s failures.
- Christ Secures the New Covenant – Where Israel failed, Jesus fulfilled obedience perfectly, ensuring God’s blessings and presence for all who trust Him.

Leviticus Chapter 27 – Crawford Standard Bible (CSB)

Laws About Vows, Valuations, Devoted Things, and Tithes

1. Vows of People Dedicated to the Lord

(Verses 1–8)

- 1 The Lord said to Moses,
- 2 “Tell the Israelites: When someone makes a special vow to give a person to the Lord, you must assess the value of that person.
- 3 A man between the ages of 20 and 60 is valued at 50 silver shekels, based on the sanctuary standard.
- 4 A woman in the same age range is valued at 30 shekels.
- 5 A boy between 5 and 20 years old is valued at 20 shekels, and a girl at 10 shekels.
- 6 A boy from one month to 5 years is valued at 5 shekels, and a girl at 3 shekels.
- 7 A man 60 years and older is valued at 15 shekels, and a woman at 10 shekels.
- 8 But if someone is too poor to pay the full amount, they must be brought to the priest, who will assign a value according to what the person can afford.

2. Vows of Animals Given to the Lord

(Verses 9–13)

- 9 If someone gives an animal as an offering to the Lord, it becomes holy.
- 10 They must not substitute it or exchange it—whether good for bad or bad for good. If a substitution is made, both the original and the replacement become holy.
- 11 If the animal is unclean and not suitable for offering to the Lord, it must be brought to the priest.
- 12 The priest will determine its value, whether good or bad, and that value will be final.
- 13 If the owner wants to buy it back, they must add one-fifth to the value.

3. Vows of Property or Fields

(Verses 14–25)

14 If someone dedicates a house to the Lord, the priest will determine its value.

15 If the person wants to buy it back, they must add a fifth to the value.

16 If someone dedicates a portion of their field, the value is calculated based on the amount of seed required to plant it—50 silver shekels per homer of barley seed.

17 If the field is dedicated at the time of Jubilee, the full value stands.

18 If it's after the Jubilee, the value is adjusted according to the years remaining until the next Jubilee.

19 If the owner wants to redeem it, they must add a fifth to the value.

20 But if the field is not redeemed or sold to someone else, it becomes permanently dedicated to the Lord at the Jubilee.

21 It becomes holy and the property of the priest.

22 If the field was purchased rather than inherited, and it's dedicated to the Lord,

23 the priest will assess its value according to the time remaining until the next Jubilee, and the person must pay that amount on the day of dedication.

24 In the Year of Jubilee, the field returns to the original owner.

25 All these values must be calculated using the sanctuary shekel, which is twenty gerahs to a shekel.

4. Rules for Firstborn and Devoted Things

(Verses 26–29)

26 The firstborn of animals already belongs to the Lord and cannot be dedicated again, whether ox or sheep.

27 If the firstborn is an unclean animal, it can be bought back at the assessed value plus one-fifth, or it may be sold at that value.

28 Anything specially devoted to the Lord—whether a person, animal, or land—becomes most holy and cannot be sold or bought back.

29 Anyone set apart for destruction must not be ransomed; they must be put to death.

5. Laws About Tithes

(Verses 30–33)

30 A tenth of all the produce of the land—grain or fruit—belongs to the Lord. It is holy to Him.

31 If anyone wants to redeem any part of their tithe, they must add one-fifth to its value.

32 Every tenth animal that passes under the shepherd's rod belongs to the Lord.

33 No one may substitute one animal for another. If they try, both the original and the replacement become holy and cannot be redeemed.

6. Final Summary

(Verse 34)

34 These are the commands the Lord gave Moses for the Israelites on Mount Sinai.

Key Lessons from Leviticus 27

- God Values Devotion Expressed in Vows – Regulations about dedicating people, animals, or property show that God takes vows seriously and expects faithfulness.
- All Belongs to the Lord – The ability to consecrate possessions reminded Israel that everything ultimately belongs to God.
- God Provides Standards for Redemption – Clear rules for redeeming what was vowed ensured fairness and integrity in fulfilling promises.
- Certain Things Are Most Holy to God – Items devoted to the Lord could not be redeemed, teaching that some offerings are fully and permanently His.
- The Tithe Belongs to God – A tenth of produce and livestock was holy to the Lord, reminding Israel to honor Him with the firstfruits of their increase.
- Worship Includes Stewardship – Giving tithes and fulfilling vows demonstrated that devotion to God extends to material possessions.
- God Desires Integrity in Promises – Careless vows dishonor Him, but faithful stewardship reflects His holiness.
- Christ Calls Believers to Total Devotion – In Him, all that we are and have belongs to God, fulfilled not in ritual vows but in wholehearted surrender (Romans 12:1).

Introduction to the Book of Numbers

From the Crawford Bible Commentary Series

The Book of Numbers, the fourth book of the Bible, continues the story of Israel’s journey from slavery to the Promised Land. Known in Hebrew as “Bemidbar” (בְּמִדְבָּר), meaning “In the Wilderness,” this book chronicles the 40 years of wilderness wandering due to Israel’s disobedience. The English title "Numbers" comes from the Greek Septuagint (Arithmoi) and Latin (Numeri), emphasizing the censuses taken at the beginning and near the end of the book.

Authorship and Date

Traditionally attributed to Moses, Numbers was likely written during Israel’s wilderness journey (approximately 1446–1406 B.C.). The narrative reflects the firsthand experience of a leader responsible for guiding a massive nation through hardship, rebellion, and divine judgment.

Purpose and Theme

Numbers serves several purposes:

- To record the census and organization of Israel's tribes.
- To document Israel's rebellion and God's response.
- To prepare the next generation to inherit the Promised Land.

The major theme is faithfulness vs. faithlessness. Despite God's repeated miracles and provision, the people often doubted, complained, and rebelled. Yet, God's faithfulness and mercy persisted.

Structure and Outline

The book is structured around two main censuses and three geographical locations:

1. Chapters 1–10: Preparation at Mount Sinai
2. Chapters 11–20: Wandering in the wilderness
3. Chapters 21–36: Final approach to the Promised Land in the plains of Moab

Key Themes and Lessons

- God's Holiness and Justice: Sin has consequences, especially for a people in covenant with a holy God.
- Leadership: Moses, Aaron, and others display both successes and failures in spiritual leadership.
- Obedience and Trust: Israel's journey is a spiritual mirror of our own walk with God—marked by choices between fear and faith.
- God's Covenant Faithfulness: Despite rebellion, God remains faithful to His promises and preserves a remnant.

Key Verses

- Numbers 6:24–26
- Numbers 14:22–23
- Numbers 23:19

Christ in Numbers

Jesus is foreshadowed in several ways:

- The Bronze Serpent (Num. 21:4–9) – Symbolic of Christ lifted up for our healing (John 3:14–15).
- The Rock that Gave Water – A type of Christ (1 Cor. 10:4).
- The Nazirite Vow – Reflects Jesus' holiness and consecration.

✦ Application for Today

Believers today are also journeying toward a Promised Land—heaven. The Book of Numbers reminds us:

- To walk by faith, not fear.
 - To remember God’s past faithfulness.
 - To honor God’s holiness with obedience.
 - That even in seasons of wilderness, God provides, guides, and prepares His people.

The Book of Numbers is both a historical record and a spiritual roadmap, full of warning, instruction, and encouragement for all who seek to follow God through life’s deserts into His promises.

Numbers 1 — The First Census of Israel (CSB)

1 The Lord spoke to Moses in the wilderness of Sinai, in the Tent of Meeting, on the first day of the second month in the second year after the Israelites came out of Egypt.

2 “Count all the people of Israel by their clans and families, listing every man by name.

3 You and Aaron must count every man who is twenty years old or older and able to serve in the army.”

4 “One leader from each tribe is to help you with this task.”

5–15 These are the names of the men chosen from each tribe:

- Reuben: Elizur son of Shedeur
- Simeon: Shelumiel son of Zurishaddai
- Judah: Nahshon son of Amminadab
- Issachar: Nethanel son of Zuar
- Zebulun: Eliab son of Helon
- Ephraim: Elishama son of Ammihud
- Manasseh: Gamaliel son of Pedahzur
- Benjamin: Abidan son of Gideoni
- Dan: Ahiezer son of Ammishaddai
- Asher: Pagiel son of Ocran
- Gad: Eliasaph son of Deuel
- Naphtali: Ahira son of Enan

16 These twelve men were the leaders of the tribes of Israel, the heads of the clans.

17 Moses and Aaron gathered them together,

18 and on the first day of the second month, they assembled the whole community. The people declared their ancestry by family and listed their names, all the men twenty years old or older who could serve in the army.

19 Moses recorded them just as the Lord had commanded him, while they were in the wilderness of Sinai.

The Number of Men Ready for War by Tribe

20–21 From the tribe of Reuben, the firstborn of Israel: 46,500 men

22–23 From the tribe of Simeon: 59,300 men

24–25 From the tribe of Gad: 45,650 men

26–27 From the tribe of Judah: 74,600 men

28–29 From the tribe of Issachar: 54,400 men

30–31 From the tribe of Zebulun: 57,400 men

32–33 From the tribe of Ephraim: 40,500 men

34–35 From the tribe of Manasseh: 32,200 men

36–37 From the tribe of Benjamin: 35,400 men

38–39 From the tribe of Dan: 62,700 men

40–41 From the tribe of Asher: 41,500 men

42–43 From the tribe of Naphtali: 53,400 men

44 These are the men whom Moses and Aaron counted, along with the twelve tribal leaders, each one representing his ancestral tribe.

45–46 So the total number of men of Israel who were twenty years old or older and able to go to war was 603,550.

The Levites Are Set Apart

47 But the Levites were not included in this census.

48 For the Lord had said to Moses,

49 “Do not count the tribe of Levi or include them among the other Israelites.

50 Instead, appoint the Levites to be in charge of the Tabernacle of the Covenant, including all its furnishings and equipment. They are to carry the Tabernacle and all its items, take care of it, and camp around it.

51 When the Tabernacle is to move, the Levites will take it down. When it’s time to set it up, the Levites will put it up. Any outsider who comes near it must be put to death.

52 Each tribe of Israel must camp by its own banner, in its own camp, with its own family group.

53 But the Levites must camp around the Tabernacle of the Covenant so that My wrath does not come on the community of Israel. The Levites are responsible for the care of the Tabernacle.”

54 The Israelites did exactly what the Lord had commanded Moses.

Key Lessons from Numbers 1

- God Is a God of Order – The census of Israel’s men for military service shows that God organizes His people with structure and purpose.
- God Prepares His People for Battle – Counting the men of fighting age reminds us that life in covenant with God includes spiritual warfare.
- Each Tribe Has Its Place – Listing the tribes individually shows that every family and person has a role in God’s plan.
- Leadership Is Appointed by God – Tribal leaders were named for oversight, teaching that God raises leaders to guide His people in unity.
- God’s Presence Defines His People – The Levites were exempted from the census because their duty was to guard the tabernacle, showing that God’s presence is central to Israel’s identity.
- Service Differs but Is Equally Valuable – Warriors and Levites had different callings, reminding us that every form of service matters in God’s kingdom.
- Christ Builds His Church in Order – Just as Israel was numbered and arranged, Jesus builds His church with structure, unity, and purpose (Ephesians 4:11–13).

Numbers 2 (CSB) — The Camp Arrangement of Israel

The Lord Gives Instructions for Camping

1 The Lord spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying,

2 “Each man must camp under the banner of his own family and tribe. They must set up their tents at a distance around the Tabernacle of the Covenant.”

The Eastern Camp — Judah’s Division

3 On the east side, toward the sunrise, the troops of Judah will camp under their flag. Their leader is Nahshon son of Amminadab.

4 His division numbers 74,600 men.

5 Next to him will camp the tribe of Issachar. Their leader is Nethanel son of Zuar.

6 His division numbers 54,400 men.

7 Then comes the tribe of Zebulun, whose leader is Eliab son of Helon.

8 His division numbers 57,400 men.

9 The total number in Judah’s camp is 186,400. These three tribes will set out first when Israel moves.

The Southern Camp — Reuben's Division

10 On the south side, the troops of Reuben will camp under their banner. Their leader is Elizur son of Shedeur.

11 His division numbers 46,500 men.

12 Next will be the tribe of Simeon, led by Shelumiel son of Zurishaddai.

13 His division numbers 59,300 men.

14 Then comes the tribe of Gad, led by Eliasaph son of Reuel.

15 His division numbers 45,650 men.

16 The total in Reuben's camp is 151,450. They will set out second when the nation moves.

The Center — The Levites and the Tabernacle

17 Then the Levites, with the Tabernacle of the Covenant, will set out in the middle of the camps. Just as they camp, so they will travel—each tribe in position, under their own banner.

The Western Camp — Ephraim's Division

18 On the west side will be the camp of Ephraim under their flag. Their leader is Elishama son of Ammihud.

19 His division numbers 40,500 men.

20 Next will be the tribe of Manasseh, led by Gamaliel son of Pedahzur.

21 His division numbers 32,200 men.

22 Then the tribe of Benjamin, led by Abidan son of Gideoni.

23 His division numbers 35,400 men.

24 The total in Ephraim's camp is 108,100. They will travel third.

The Northern Camp — Dan's Division

25 On the north side will be the camp of Dan under their flag. Their leader is Ahiezer son of Ammishaddai.

26 His division numbers 62,700 men.

27 Next is the tribe of Asher, led by Pagiel son of Ocran.

28 His division numbers 41,500 men.

29 Then the tribe of Naphtali, led by Ahira son of Enan.

30 His division numbers 53,400 men.

31 The total in Dan's camp is 157,600. They will set out last, under their banners.

Total Israelite Army and the Levites' Exclusion

32 These were the Israelites counted by family—603,550 men in total, all fit for battle.

33 But the Levites were not included, just as the Lord had instructed Moses,

34 And the Israelites did everything the Lord commanded Moses. They camped under their tribal banners and marched out in the same way, each by their family group.

Key Lessons from Numbers 2

- God Arranges His People Around His Presence – The tribes camped in formation around the tabernacle, showing that God must be at the center of His people’s lives.
- Order Reflects God’s Holiness – Each tribe had a specific position, reminding Israel that obedience and structure reflect God’s character.
- Unity Comes Through God’s Design – Though each tribe had its own banner and leader, together they formed one nation under God’s direction.
- Leadership Provides Stability – The appointment of tribal leaders for each camp ensured guidance, accountability, and order among the people.
- God Balances Identity and Community – Each tribe retained its distinct identity while contributing to the whole, teaching that individuality and unity can coexist in God’s plan.
- God’s Presence Guides Their Journey – The tabernacle was the focal point for movement, reminding Israel that God’s presence determined when and where they traveled.
- Christ Is the True Center of God’s People – Just as Israel camped around the tabernacle, the church is centered on Christ, who unites and leads His people.

Numbers 3 (CSB) — The Levites Set Apart

1. The Priestly Family of Aaron and His Sons

1 These are the family records of Aaron and Moses on the day the Lord spoke to Moses at Mount Sinai.

2 The sons of Aaron were: Nadab the firstborn, Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar.

3 These were the names of Aaron’s sons, the anointed priests, who were ordained to serve as priests.

4 But Nadab and Abihu died before the Lord when they offered unauthorized fire in the wilderness of Sinai. They had no children. So Eleazar and Ithamar served as priests under the supervision of their father Aaron.

2. The Levites Assigned to Help Aaron

5 The Lord said to Moses,

6 “Bring the tribe of Levi near and present them to Aaron the priest to assist him.

7 They are to carry out duties for him and the entire community at the Tent of Meeting by doing the work of the tabernacle.

8 They are responsible for all the furnishings of the Tent of Meeting and for carrying out their duties on behalf of the Israelites in the service of the tabernacle.

9 Give the Levites to Aaron and his sons; they are completely given to him from among the Israelites.

10 Appoint Aaron and his sons to serve as priests, and anyone else who comes near must be put to death.”

3. The Levites Taken Instead of the Firstborn

11 The Lord also said to Moses,

12 “I have taken the Levites from among the Israelites instead of the firstborn sons from every Israelite woman. The Levites belong to Me.

13 Every firstborn male is Mine. When I struck down all the firstborn in Egypt, I set apart for Myself every firstborn in Israel—both man and animal. They are Mine. I am the Lord.”

4. The Census of the Levites

14 The Lord spoke to Moses in the wilderness of Sinai, saying,

15 “Count the sons of Levi by their families and their clans. Count every male a month old or older.”

16 So Moses counted them as the Lord commanded.

17 These were Levi’s sons by name: Gershon, Kohath, and Merari.

18 The sons of Gershon were Libni and Shimei.

19 The sons of Kohath were Amram, Izhar, Hebron, and Uzziel.

20 The sons of Merari were Mahli and Mushi. These were the clans of the Levites by their fathers.

5. The Clan of Gershon

21 From Gershon came the clans of the Libnites and the Shimeites.

22 All the males one month old and older numbered 7,500.

23 The Gershonites were to camp on the west side of the tabernacle.

24 The leader of the Gershonite families was Eliasaph son of Lael.

25 Their duties at the Tent of Meeting included:

- the tabernacle itself,
- the tent covering,
- the curtain at the entrance,

26 the hangings of the courtyard,

- the curtain at the courtyard gate,
 - the ropes for the tent,
 - and all the work connected with these things.

6. The Clan of Kohath

27 From Kohath came the clans of the Amramites, Izharites, Hebronites, and Uzzielites.

28 All the males one month old and older numbered 8,600. They were responsible for the sanctuary.

29 The Kohathites were to camp on the south side of the tabernacle.

30 Their leader was Elizaphan son of Uzziel.

31 Their responsibilities included:

- the Ark,
- the table,
- the lampstand,
- the altars,
- the utensils of the sanctuary,
- the curtain,
- and everything used in their service.

32 Eleazar, the son of Aaron the priest, had authority over the leaders of the Levites and oversaw those responsible for the sanctuary.

7. The Clan of Merari

33 From Merari came the clans of the Mahlites and Mushites.

34 All the males one month old and older numbered 6,200.

35 Their leader was Zuriel son of Abihail. They camped on the north side of the tabernacle.

36 Their duties included:

- the frames of the tabernacle,
- its crossbars, posts, bases,
- and all its equipment.

37 Also the courtyard posts, bases, tent pegs, and ropes.

8. Moses, Aaron, and the Priests' Position

38 Moses, Aaron, and his sons were to camp to the east, in front of the tabernacle entrance. They were responsible for the sanctuary on behalf of the Israelites. Anyone unauthorized who came near was to be put to death.

9. Total Number of Levites

39 The total number of Levite males one month old and older that Moses and Aaron counted at the Lord's command was 22,000.

10. Firstborn of Israel to Be Redeemed

40 The Lord said to Moses, “Count all the firstborn Israelite males one month old and older, and make a list of their names.

41 Take the Levites for Me—I am the Lord—in place of the firstborn among the Israelites, and take the livestock of the Levites in place of their livestock.”

42 So Moses counted all the firstborn Israelites, as the Lord commanded.

43 The total number of firstborn males one month old and older was 22,273.

11. Redemption for the Excess Firstborn

44 The Lord spoke to Moses again:

45 “Take the Levites in place of all the firstborn among the Israelites, and take the livestock of the Levites in place of their livestock. The Levites are Mine—I am the Lord.

46 For the 273 more firstborn Israelites than Levites,

47 collect five shekels for each one. Use the sanctuary shekel (20 gerahs to a shekel).

48 Give the redemption money to Aaron and his sons.”

49 So Moses collected the redemption money from those who exceeded the number of Levites.

50 From the firstborn Israelites, he collected 1,365 shekels by the sanctuary standard.

51 He gave the money to Aaron and his sons, just as the Lord commanded.

Key Lessons from Numbers 3

- God Calls and Sets Apart the Levites – The Levites were chosen in place of Israel’s firstborn to serve in the tabernacle, showing God’s right to appoint His servants.
- Service Is a Sacred Trust – The Levites’ duties in caring for the tabernacle remind us that ministry is a holy responsibility, not a casual task.
- God Protects His People Through Order – Assigning the Levites to guard the tabernacle ensured that Israel would not incur judgment by approaching God carelessly.
- Each Family Has Its Appointed Role – The Levite clans (Gershonites, Kohathites, and Merarites) had specific tasks, showing that God assigns different roles within His people.
- God Provides for His Servants – The Levites were given to Aaron and his sons for service, teaching that God sustains His ministers through His provision.
- Redemption Belongs to the Lord – The redemption of Israel’s firstborn with silver highlighted God’s claim on every life.
- Christ Is Our Perfect Mediator – Just as the Levites stood in for Israel, Jesus stands in our place as the ultimate substitute and High Priest.

Numbers 4 (CSB) — Duties of the Levite Clans

1. Duties of the Kohathites Regarding the Most Holy Things

1 The Lord spoke to Moses and Aaron:

2 “Count the Kohathite branch of the Levites by their families and clans.

3 Include all men from thirty to fifty years old who are qualified to serve in the work at the Tent of Meeting.

4 This is the duty of the Kohathites regarding the most holy things:

5 When it’s time to move the camp, Aaron and his sons must go in and take down the veil that separates the Holy Place and cover the Ark of the Testimony with it.

6 Then they are to cover it with fine leather and spread a solid blue cloth over that, and insert the carrying poles.

7 They are to spread a blue cloth over the table of the Bread of the Presence, and put on it the plates, dishes, bowls, and jars for the drink offerings. The bread of the Presence is to remain on it.

8 They shall spread over them a cloth of scarlet, cover it with fine leather, and insert its poles.

9 Then they are to take a blue cloth and cover the lampstand for light, along with its lamps, wick trimmers, trays, and oil containers.

10 They must place it with all its accessories in fine leather and put it on a carrying frame.

11 Over the golden altar, they shall spread a blue cloth and cover it with fine leather, and insert its poles.

12 They are to take all the utensils used for ministering in the sanctuary, wrap them in blue cloth, cover them with leather, and place them on a frame.

13 After they remove the ashes from the bronze altar, they must spread a purple cloth over it.

14 Then they shall place on it all the utensils used with the altar: firepans, forks, shovels, basins—everything used in its service. They are to spread a leather covering over it and insert its poles.

15 After Aaron and his sons finish covering the sanctuary and all its furnishings, the Kohathites are to come and carry them, but they must not touch any of the holy things, or they will die. These are the responsibilities of the Kohathites at the Tent of Meeting.

2. Eleazar’s Oversight Duties

16 Eleazar son of Aaron the priest will be in charge of:

– the oil for the lampstand,

– the fragrant incense,

– the regular grain offering,

– the anointing oil,

– and the entire tabernacle, including everything in it—its furnishings and holy articles.

3. Protecting the Kohathites from Death

17 The Lord said to Moses and Aaron:

18 “Do not let the tribe of the Kohathite clans be cut off from among the Levites.

19 Do this for them so that they may live and not die when they approach the most holy things: Aaron and his sons shall go in and assign each man to his specific task and what he is to carry.

20 But the Kohathites must not go in to look at the holy things, even for a moment—or they will die.”

4. Duties of the Gershonites

21 The Lord said to Moses:

22 “Count the Gershonites by their families and clans.

23 Include every man thirty to fifty years old who is qualified to serve in the Tent of Meeting.

24 This is their duty in carrying and serving:

25 They are to carry the curtains of the tabernacle, the Tent of Meeting, its covering, the outer covering made of fine leather, and the curtain at the entrance of the Tent.

26 Also, the curtains of the courtyard, the curtain at the courtyard gate that surrounds the tabernacle and altar, the ropes, and all the tools for their service. They must carry out everything that needs to be done with these items.

27 Aaron and his sons will direct all the service of the Gershonites—what each one is to carry.

28 These are the responsibilities of the Gershonite families at the Tent of Meeting, and their work will be supervised by Ithamar son of Aaron the priest.

5. Duties of the Merarites

29 “Count the Merarites by their families and clans.

30 Count all the men thirty to fifty years old who are qualified to work in the Tent of Meeting.

31 This is what they are responsible to carry:

- the frames of the tabernacle,
- its crossbars, posts, and bases,

32 along with the posts of the courtyard, their bases, tent pegs, ropes, and all the equipment related to them.

Assign each item by name and make sure they are accounted for.

33 This is the work of the Merarite families at the Tent of Meeting, and it will be under the supervision of Ithamar son of Aaron the priest.”

6. Census of the Levite Clans

34 Moses, Aaron, and the leaders of the community counted the Kohathites by families and clans.

35 Every man thirty to fifty years old who could serve at the Tent of Meeting was counted.

36 There were 2,750 Kohathites qualified for service.

37 These are the ones counted from the Kohathite families, according to the Lord's command through Moses.

38 The Gershonites were also counted by their families and clans.

39 All the men thirty to fifty years old who could serve at the Tent of Meeting totaled 2,630.

40 These were the ones counted from the Gershonite families, as the Lord had commanded.

42 The Merarites were counted by their families and clans.

43 All the men thirty to fifty years old who could serve at the Tent of Meeting numbered 3,200.

45 These are the ones counted from the Merarite families, as the Lord had commanded through Moses.

7. Total Number of Working Levites

46 So Moses, Aaron, and the leaders of Israel counted all the Levites by families and clans,

47 from thirty to fifty years old, all who were qualified for the work of ministry and carrying at the Tent of Meeting.

48 The total number was 8,580 men.

49 They were counted as the Lord commanded Moses. Each man was assigned his work and what he was to carry. They were registered by Moses, just as the Lord had instructed.

Key Lessons from Numbers 4

- God Assigns Specific Duties in Worship – Each clan of Levites (Kohathites, Gershonites, and Merarites) received detailed responsibilities, showing that God values order in service.
- Holiness Requires Careful Handling – The sacred furnishings had to be covered and carried properly, reminding us that God's presence must be treated with reverence.
- Service Is Appointed by God – Only men aged 30–50 were to serve, teaching that God determines the timing and qualifications for ministry.
- Every Task Matters in God's Work – Whether carrying curtains, frames, or holy vessels, each responsibility was essential, showing that no service is insignificant.
- God Protects His Servants Through Order – The priests prepared the holy items before the Levites carried them, ensuring that no one approached God carelessly.
- Accountability Is Required in Ministry – Moses, Aaron, and the leaders numbered and assigned duties, teaching that faithful service requires oversight and responsibility.
- Christ Fulfills the Role of Perfect Service – Jesus carried our sins and completed the work of redemption, perfectly obeying the Father's will in every detail.

Numbers 5 (CSB) – Purity, Restitution, and the Law of Jealousy

1. Removing Impurity from the Camp

(Verses 1–4)

1 The Lord said to Moses,

2 “Command the Israelites to send away from the camp anyone who has a skin disease, a discharge, or who has become unclean because of contact with a dead body.

3 Whether male or female, send them outside the camp so they don’t defile the camp where I live among them.”

4 The Israelites obeyed and sent them outside the camp. They did exactly as the Lord commanded Moses.

2. Confession and Restitution for Sin

(Verses 5–10)

5 The Lord said to Moses,

6 “Tell the Israelites: If a man or woman commits a sin against another person, acting unfaithfully toward the Lord, that person is guilty.

7 They must confess the sin they’ve committed. Then they must repay what they owe, plus an additional 20 percent, and give it to the person they wronged.

8 But if the person they wronged has no close relative to receive the repayment, it must go to the Lord for the priest, along with a ram for atonement.

9 All the sacred contributions the Israelites bring to a priest will belong to him.

10 Each person’s sacred gift is his own to give, but once given to the priest, it belongs to the priest.”

3. The Test for an Unfaithful Wife (Law of Jealousy)

(Verses 11–31)

11 The Lord also said to Moses,

12 “Speak to the Israelites and tell them: If a man’s wife is unfaithful to him,

13 and has sexual relations with another man secretly—though there are no witnesses and she wasn’t caught—

14 and if the spirit of jealousy comes over her husband, whether she is guilty or not,

15 he must bring her to the priest. He must also bring an offering: two quarts of barley flour with no oil or incense, because it is a grain offering for jealousy—a reminder-offering to expose guilt.

16 The priest will have the woman stand before the Lord.

17 He will put holy water in a clay jar, take some dust from the tabernacle floor, and mix it with the water.

18 The priest will have the woman stand with her head uncovered and place the jealousy offering in her hands, while he holds the bitter water that brings a curse.

19 Then the priest will make her take an oath: “If no man has slept with you, and you have not been unfaithful to your husband, this bitter water that brings a curse will not harm you.

20 But if you have been unfaithful and slept with another man,

21 then may the Lord make you a curse among your people—your belly will swell and your womb will shrivel.

22 This water that brings a curse will enter your body, make your belly swell, and your womb waste away.” The woman must say, “Amen. Amen.”

23 The priest will write these curses on a scroll and wash them off into the bitter water.

24 He will have the woman drink the bitter water that brings a curse—it will enter her body and cause bitterness.

25 Then the priest will take the grain offering from her hands, wave it before the Lord, and bring it to the altar.

26 He will take a handful of the offering as a memorial portion and burn it on the altar. After that, he will make the woman drink the water.

27 If she has been unfaithful, the water will bring a curse: her belly will swell, her womb will waste away, and she will become cursed among her people.

28 But if she is innocent and has not been defiled, she will be free and able to have children.

29 This is the law regarding jealousy: when a woman is suspected of being unfaithful to her husband, 30 or when a man becomes jealous and brings his wife to the priest, the priest must apply this entire law to her.

31 The husband will be free from guilt, but the woman will bear the consequences of her sin.

Key Lessons from Numbers 5

- God Calls His People to Purity – The removal of the unclean from the camp showed that holiness and purity were essential for God’s presence to dwell among His people.
- Sin Requires Restitution – Confessing sins and repaying wrongs with an additional fifth highlighted that true repentance involves both confession and restoration.
- God Protects Marriage and Faithfulness – The law of jealousy underscored the seriousness of marital faithfulness and God’s concern for justice in hidden matters.
- God Sees What Is Hidden – The ritual for suspected adultery revealed that nothing is secret before the Lord, who knows the heart and judges righteously.
- Holiness Extends to Community Life – These regulations maintained purity not only in worship but also in relationships, showing that holiness is practical.
- God Guards His People From Defilement – By addressing uncleanness and unfaithfulness, God preserved the integrity and unity of His covenant people.

- Christ Cleanses and Restores Fully – Jesus removes sin, heals brokenness, and restores fellowship with God and one another beyond what rituals could achieve.

Numbers 6 (CSB) – The Nazarite Vow and the Priestly Blessing

1. Instructions About the Nazarite Vow

(Verses 1–8)

1 The Lord spoke to Moses:

2 “Tell the Israelites: If a man or woman wants to make a special vow to separate themselves to the Lord as a Nazarite,

3 they must avoid wine and all alcoholic drinks. They must not drink vinegar made from wine or any strong drink. They may not drink grape juice or eat grapes, fresh or dried.

4 During the entire time of their vow, they must not eat anything that comes from the grapevine—not even the seeds or the skin.

5 While under the vow, they must not cut their hair. They must be holy until the time of their separation to the Lord is fulfilled, and must let their hair grow long.

6 They must not go near a dead body throughout the days of their dedication to the Lord,

7 not even for their father, mother, brother, or sister. If they die, they must not make themselves unclean, because they are set apart to God.

8 For the entire time of the vow, they are holy to the Lord.

2. What to Do if the Vow Is Broken by Accident

(Verses 9–12)

9 If someone dies suddenly near a Nazarite and defiles their consecrated head, they must shave their head on the seventh day—the day of their purification.

10 On the eighth day, they must bring two turtledoves or two young pigeons to the priest at the entrance of the Tabernacle.

11 The priest will offer one as a sin offering and the other as a burnt offering. He will make atonement for the Nazarite who became unclean by being near a dead person. That same day, the Nazarite must rededicate their head.

12 They must start over and keep the vow for the full number of days. They must also bring a one-year-old lamb as a guilt offering. The previous days do not count because the vow was defiled.

3. Completion of the Nazarite Vow

(Verses 13–20)

13 “When the time of the Nazarite’s vow is completed, they must be brought to the entrance of the Tabernacle.

14 They must offer these sacrifices to the Lord: one unblemished one-year-old male lamb for a burnt offering, one unblemished one-year-old female lamb for a sin offering, one unblemished ram for a peace offering,

15 along with a basket of unleavened bread—cakes of fine flour mixed with oil and wafers spread with oil—and the appropriate grain and drink offerings.

16 The priest will present these before the Lord and offer the sin offering and the burnt offering.

17 He will also offer the ram as a peace offering with the basket of unleavened bread, and present the grain and drink offerings.

18 Then the Nazarite must shave their head at the entrance to the Tabernacle. The hair is to be placed in the fire under the peace offering.

19 After that, the priest will take the cooked shoulder of the ram, one unleavened cake, and one unleavened wafer, and place them in the Nazarite's hands.

20 The priest will then wave them before the Lord as a wave offering. These are holy and belong to the priest, along with the breast and the thigh. After this, the Nazarite may drink wine again.

4. Summary of the Nazarite Law

(Verse 21)

21 This is the law for the Nazarite who has made a vow to the Lord. These are the offerings required, in addition to anything else they can afford. They must fulfill everything according to the vow they made.

5. The Priestly Blessing

(Verses 22–27)

22 Then the Lord said to Moses,

23 “Tell Aaron and his sons to bless the people of Israel with this special blessing:

24 ‘May the Lord bless you and protect you.

25 May the Lord smile on you and be gracious to you.

26 May the Lord show you His favor and give you peace.’

27 In this way they will place My name upon the people of Israel, and I will bless them.”

Key Lessons from Numbers 6

- God Provides the Nazirite Vow for Devotion – The Nazirite vow allowed men and women to dedicate themselves wholly to the Lord for a set time.
- Holiness Requires Separation – Abstaining from wine, avoiding defilement from death, and letting hair grow symbolized separation for God's purposes.
- Commitments to God Must Be Kept – The careful regulations for completing or breaking the vow show that promises made to God must be honored.

- Atonement Covers Human Weakness – If a Nazirite vow was broken, sacrifices were required, showing that even devotion cannot remove the need for God’s forgiveness.
- God Blesses His People Through Priestly Intercession – The Aaronic blessing (“The Lord bless you and keep you...”) reveals God’s desire to pour out His favor, presence, and peace.
- Holiness Is Both Personal and Communal – While the vow was individual, the priestly blessing extended to all Israel, showing that God’s holiness shapes the whole community.
- Christ Is the Fulfillment of Full Devotion – Jesus perfectly embodied holiness and separation unto God, and through Him we receive the fullness of God’s blessing.

Numbers 7 (CSB) – Offerings for the Tabernacle

1. Dedication of the Tabernacle and Gifts from the Leaders

(Verses 1–9)

1 On the day Moses had finished setting up the Tabernacle, he anointed and consecrated it and all its furnishings, including the altar and its utensils.

2 Then the leaders of Israel—the heads of their ancestral tribes who were over those numbered in the census—brought their offerings.

3 They came with six covered wagons and twelve oxen—one ox from each leader and a wagon for every two leaders—and they presented them before the Tabernacle.

4 The Lord said to Moses,

5 “Accept these from them to use in the service of the Tabernacle, and distribute them to the Levites based on the work they are responsible for.”

6 So Moses accepted the wagons and oxen and gave them to the Levites.

7 He gave two wagons and four oxen to the Gershonites,

8 and four wagons and eight oxen to the Merarites, under the supervision of Ithamar, the son of Aaron the priest.

9 But he gave none to the Kohathites because their duty was to carry the holy things on their shoulders.

2. Twelve-Day Dedication of the Altar by the Tribal Leaders

(Verses 10–83)

10 The leaders brought offerings for the dedication of the altar on the day it was anointed. Each leader brought their gift one day at a time.

89 When Moses entered the Tabernacle to speak with the Lord, he heard the voice speaking to him from between the two cherubim above the Ark of the Covenant, and the Lord spoke directly to him.

Key Lessons from Numbers 7

- God Values Generosity in Worship – The leaders of Israel brought voluntary offerings for the tabernacle, showing that giving is an act of devotion.
- Every Tribe Has a Share in God’s Work – Each tribe presented identical gifts, teaching that all God’s people contribute equally in importance to His service.
- God Remembers Every Gift – The detailed listing of each leader’s offering shows that God notices and values every act of obedience and generosity.
- Worship Is Both Personal and Corporate – Though each tribe gave individually, their offerings together provided for the service of the tabernacle, showing unity in worship.
- God Provides for His Priests Through His People – Oxen and carts were given for the Levites’ service, reminding us that ministry is supported through the devotion of God’s people.
- Obedience Prepares the Way for God’s Presence – After the offerings were completed, Moses entered the tabernacle and heard God’s voice, showing that God’s presence follows faithful worship.
- Christ Receives the Glory of Our Offerings – Just as Israel’s gifts supported God’s dwelling place, our giving today supports the work of Christ’s body, the church.

Numbers 8 (CSB) – The Cleansing of the Levites and the Lighting of the Lamps

1. The Lighting of the Lamps

(Verses 1–4)

1 The Lord spoke to Moses, saying,

2 “Tell Aaron: When you set up the lamps, they must shine forward to illuminate the area in front of the lampstand.”

3 Aaron did exactly as the Lord commanded Moses. He set up the lamps to shine in front of the lampstand.

4 The lampstand was made from hammered gold—its base, shaft, and decorative flowers were all crafted from one piece. It was built just as the Lord had shown Moses.

2. The Cleansing and Dedication of the Levites

(Verses 5–15)

5 Then the Lord said to Moses,

6 “Take the Levites from among the Israelites and purify them.

7 This is how you will do it: Sprinkle them with the water of purification. Have them shave their entire bodies and wash their clothes. This will make them clean.

8 Then have them bring a young bull along with its grain offering of fine flour mixed with oil. Take a second young bull for a sin offering.

9 Bring the Levites to the entrance of the Tabernacle, and gather the entire community of Israel.

10 Present the Levites before the Lord, and have the Israelites lay their hands on them.

11 Then Aaron is to present the Levites as a special offering from the Israelites, so they can carry out the service of the Lord.

12 The Levites must then place their hands on the heads of the bulls. Use one bull as a sin offering and the other as a burnt offering to the Lord, to make atonement for the Levites.

13 Afterward, place the Levites before Aaron and his sons and present them as an offering to the Lord.

14 In this way, you will set the Levites apart from the rest of the Israelites, and they will belong to Me.

15 After they have been purified and presented, they may enter the Tabernacle to begin their duties."

3. God's Ownership of the Levites

(Verses 16–19)

16 "The Levites are completely given to Me from among the Israelites. I have taken them in place of every firstborn male among the children of Israel.

17 Every firstborn in Israel is Mine—both human and animal. On the day I struck down all the firstborn in Egypt, I set apart the firstborn in Israel for Myself.

18 But I have taken the Levites instead of all the firstborn among the Israelites.

19 And I have given the Levites to Aaron and his sons as a gift from the Israelites, to perform the service in the Tabernacle and to make atonement for the people. This will prevent any plague from coming on the Israelites when they approach the sanctuary."

4. The People Obey and the Levites Begin Their Work

(Verses 20–22)

20 Moses, Aaron, and all the Israelites did exactly what the Lord had commanded regarding the Levites.

21 The Levites purified themselves and washed their clothes. Then Aaron presented them as an offering before the Lord and made atonement for them to purify them.

22 After that, the Levites came to serve at the Tabernacle under the supervision of Aaron and his sons. They did everything the Lord commanded Moses.

5. Retirement Age for the Levites

(Verses 23–26)

23 The Lord also said to Moses,

24 "This rule applies to the Levites: They must begin their service in the Tabernacle at twenty-five years old, 25 but they must retire at the age of fifty.

26 After that, they may assist their fellow Levites by guarding responsibilities at the Tabernacle, but they must not do the actual work. This is how you will assign duties to the Levites.”

Key Lessons from Numbers 8

- God Provides Light for His People – The lampstand was set up to give light in the tabernacle, symbolizing God’s guidance and presence among His people.
- The Levites Are Set Apart for Service – The cleansing and dedication of the Levites showed that those who serve God must first be purified.
- God Claims His People for Himself – The Levites were given to the Lord in place of Israel’s firstborn, reminding the nation that all life belongs to God.
- Service Requires Cleansing and Sacrifice – The Levites were sprinkled with water, shaved, and offered sacrifices, teaching that holiness and atonement prepare us for service.
- God Assigns Roles Within His People – The Levites assisted Aaron and his sons, showing that God calls different people to different responsibilities.
- Service Has Seasons – Levites served actively from ages 25 to 50, teaching that God appoints times for labor and times for rest.
- Christ Cleanses and Calls Us to Serve – Just as the Levites were purified and set apart, believers are cleansed by Christ and called into service for God’s kingdom.

Numbers 9 (CSB) – Observing the Passover and Following the Cloud

1. God's Command to Keep the Passover

(Verses 1–5)

1 The Lord spoke to Moses in the wilderness of Sinai during the first month of the second year after the Israelites had come out of Egypt. He said,

2 “Tell the Israelites to celebrate the Passover at the appointed time.

3 Celebrate it on the fourteenth day of this month at twilight. You must observe it exactly as prescribed—with all its rules and ceremonies.”

4 So Moses told the Israelites to celebrate the Passover.

5 And they did just that, celebrating it on the fourteenth day of the first month at twilight in the wilderness of Sinai. The Israelites obeyed everything the Lord commanded Moses.

2. A Provision for Those Who Were Unclean

(Verses 6–14)

6 However, some men had become ceremonially unclean because they had touched a dead body, so they couldn’t celebrate the Passover that day. They came to Moses and Aaron that same day

7 and said, “We are unclean because of a dead body. Why should we be left out of bringing the Lord’s offering at the proper time with the rest of Israel?”

8 Moses answered, “Wait here, and I will find out what the Lord says about your situation.”

9 Then the Lord spoke to Moses and said,

10 “Tell the Israelites: If any of you or your descendants are unclean from touching a dead body or are on a journey far away, you may still celebrate the Lord’s Passover.

11 Celebrate it on the fourteenth day of the second month at twilight. Eat it with unleavened bread and bitter herbs.

12 Do not leave any of it until morning or break any of its bones. Follow all the regulations of the Passover.

13 But if someone is clean and not traveling and still refuses to celebrate the Passover, they must be cut off from the people because they failed to bring the Lord’s offering at the appointed time. That person will bear the consequences of their sin.

14 If a foreigner living among you wants to celebrate the Lord’s Passover, they must follow all the rules and regulations too. The same law applies to native-born Israelites and foreigners alike.”

3. The Cloud Over the Tabernacle

(Verses 15–16)

15 On the day the Tabernacle was set up, a cloud covered it—the special Tent that held the Tablets of the Covenant. That evening, the cloud looked like a fire over the Tabernacle, and it stayed that way until morning.

16 This continued regularly—the cloud covered the Tabernacle by day, and at night it appeared as fire.

4. Israel Follows the Cloud’s Guidance

(Verses 17–23)

17 Whenever the cloud lifted from the Tabernacle, the Israelites would set out. Wherever the cloud settled, there they would camp.

18 At the Lord’s command they camped, and at His command they moved out. As long as the cloud remained over the Tabernacle, they stayed where they were.

19 Even if the cloud stayed for many days, the Israelites obeyed the Lord and did not move.

20 If the cloud stayed only a few days, they remained in camp at the Lord’s command and then moved when He said so.

21 Sometimes the cloud stayed only from evening until morning. If it lifted in the morning, they set out. Day or night, whenever it lifted, they moved.

22 Whether the cloud stayed two days, a month, or a year, the Israelites stayed in camp and didn’t travel until the cloud lifted.

23 At the Lord’s command they stayed, and at the Lord’s command they moved. They obeyed the Lord’s instructions, as given through Moses.

Key Lessons from Numbers 9

- God Establishes the Passover as a Memorial – Israel was commanded to keep the Passover annually, reminding them of God’s redemption from Egypt.
- God Makes Provision for All to Worship – Even those ceremonially unclean or on a journey were given alternate instructions, showing His desire for everyone to participate in His covenant.
- Obedience to God’s Word Is Essential – The people kept the Passover “as the Lord commanded,” highlighting that worship must follow His instructions.
- God’s Presence Leads His People – The cloud over the tabernacle guided Israel’s movements, showing that God Himself directed their journey.
- Dependence on God Requires Flexibility – Whether the cloud stayed one day or a year, Israel had to wait or move at God’s command, teaching patience and trust.
- God’s Guidance Is Constant – The cloud by day and fire by night revealed God’s continual presence and protection with His people.
- Christ Is Our Passover and Guide – Jesus is the true Passover Lamb who redeems us, and by His Spirit He leads believers step by step in God’s will.

Numbers 10 (CSB) — Trumpets, Tribes, and the Journey Begins

1. The Silver Trumpets and Their Use

(Verses 1–10)

1 The Lord spoke to Moses and said,

2 “Make two trumpets of hammered silver. Use them to summon the people and to signal the breaking of camp.

3 When both trumpets are blown, the entire assembly is to gather before you at the entrance of the Tabernacle.

4 But if only one trumpet is blown, then just the leaders—the heads of the tribes—are to gather before you.

5 When you sound the signal for moving out, the tribes camped on the east will set out first.

6 When you sound the alarm a second time, the tribes on the south will set out. These trumpet blasts are the signal for breaking camp.

7 When you gather the whole community together, sound the trumpets, but do not blow the alarm signal.

8 The sons of Aaron, the priests, are to blow the trumpets. This is a permanent law for you and your descendants.

9 When you go to war in your land against an enemy who attacks you, sound the alarm with the trumpets. Then the Lord your God will remember you and rescue you from your enemies.

10 Also blow the trumpets during your times of rejoicing—at your festivals and new moon celebrations —and over your burnt offerings and peace offerings. They will be a reminder of you before your God. I am the Lord your God.”

2. The Israelites Begin Their Journey

(Verses 11–28)

11 On the twentieth day of the second month of the second year, the cloud lifted from above the Tabernacle of the Covenant.

12 The Israelites set out from the wilderness of Sinai and traveled until the cloud stopped in the wilderness of Paran.

13 They departed just as the Lord had instructed through Moses.

14 First went the tribe of Judah under their banner, with Nahshon son of Amminadab leading.

15 The tribe of Issachar followed, led by Nethanel son of Zuar.

16 Then came the tribe of Zebulun, led by Eliab son of Helon.

17 After them, the Tabernacle was taken down, and the Gershonites and Merarites set out, carrying the Tabernacle.

18 Next, the camp of Reuben moved out under their banner. Elizur son of Shedeur was in command.

19 Simeon followed, led by Shelumiel son of Zurishaddai.

20 Then came the tribe of Gad, led by Eliasaph son of Deuel.

21 Then the Kohathites set out, carrying the holy things. The Tabernacle would be set up before they arrived.

22 Next was the camp of Ephraim under their banner. Elishama son of Ammihud led them.

23 The tribe of Manasseh followed, led by Gamaliel son of Pedahzur.

24 Then came the tribe of Benjamin, led by Abidan son of Gideoni.

25 Finally, the rear guard—the camp of Dan—set out under their banner. Ahiezer son of Ammishaddai led them.

26 The tribe of Asher followed, led by Pagiel son of Ocran.

27 Then came the tribe of Naphtali, led by Ahira son of Enan.

28 This was the order of march for the Israelite camps as they set out.

3. Moses Invites Hobab to Join the Journey

(Verses 29–32)

29 Moses said to Hobab, son of Reuel the Midianite (his father-in-law), “We are traveling to the land the Lord promised to give us. Come with us, and we will treat you well. The Lord has promised good things for Israel.”

30 But Hobab replied, “No, I will not go. I’m returning to my own land and my own people.”

31 Moses said, “Please don’t leave us. You know the wilderness, and you can be our guide.
32 If you come with us, we will share with you all the good things the Lord gives us.”

4. The Ark and the Cloud Lead the People

(Verses 33–36)

33 So they set out from the mountain of the Lord and traveled for three days. The Ark of the Covenant went ahead of them during those three days to find a place for them to rest.

34 The cloud of the Lord was above them by day as they marched from the camp.

35 Whenever the Ark set out, Moses would say:

“Rise up, O Lord!

Scatter Your enemies!

Let those who hate You flee before You!”

36 And when the Ark came to rest, Moses would say:

“Return, O Lord,

To the countless thousands of Israel!”

Key Lessons from Numbers 10

- God Directs His People Through Clear Signals – The silver trumpets were used to summon the community and direct movement, showing that God provides orderly guidance.
- God Organizes His People for Journey and Battle – Different trumpet blasts called for assembly, travel, or war, reminding us that God’s people must move with unity and purpose.
- Worship Accompanies Every Season of Life – Trumpets were blown during feasts, offerings, and times of joy, showing that God’s people honor Him in both celebration and struggle.
- God’s Presence Leads the Way – The ark of the covenant went ahead to seek out resting places, symbolizing that God Himself directs the path of His people.
- Leadership Includes Dependence on God – Moses prayed when the ark set out and rested, teaching that every movement should begin and end with God’s blessing.
- God’s People Need His Protection Daily – Moses’ prayer, “Rise up, O Lord! May your enemies be scattered,” shows that only God secures victory and safety.
- Christ Is Our Guide and Protector – Just as the ark led Israel, Jesus goes before His people, guiding them to rest and triumph over all enemies.

Numbers 11 (CSB) — Complaints, Quails, and Consequences

1. Fire from the Lord Against Complaining

(Verses 1–3)

1 Soon the people began to complain about their hardships, and the Lord was angry about it. Fire from the Lord blazed out and burned the outskirts of the camp.

2 The people cried out to Moses for help. When he prayed to the Lord, the fire stopped.

3 Moses named that place Taberah (which means “burning”), because fire from the Lord had burned among them.

2. Craving Meat and Complaining Again

(Verses 4–9)

4 The mixed crowd among them craved other food, and the Israelites began to weep again, saying, “Who will give us meat to eat?”

5 “We remember the fish we had for free in Egypt, and the cucumbers, melons, leeks, onions, and garlic.

6 But now we’ve lost our appetite. All we see is this manna!”

7 The manna looked like coriander seed and had the appearance of resin.

8 The people would go out and gather it. They ground it in hand mills or crushed it in mortars. They cooked it in a pot or made it into cakes. It tasted like fresh olive oil.

9 When the dew settled on the camp at night, the manna came down with it.

3. Moses’ Complaint to God

(Verses 10–15)

10 Moses heard the people weeping in their tents, each family at their own doorway. The Lord became extremely angry, and Moses was troubled.

11 He said to the Lord, “Why have You treated me, Your servant, so badly? What did I do to displease You, that You laid the burden of all these people on me?”

12 Did I give birth to them? Am I their father, that You tell me to carry them like a nursing baby to the land You promised their ancestors?

13 Where am I supposed to get meat for all these people? They keep crying to me, saying, ‘Give us meat to eat!’

14 I can’t carry all these people by myself. The load is too heavy!

15 If this is how You’re going to treat me, then just kill me now! Do me a favor and spare me this misery!”

4. God Appoints Seventy Elders

(Verses 16–17)

16 The Lord said to Moses, “Gather seventy men who are recognized as elders and leaders of Israel.

Bring them to the Tabernacle and have them stand with you.

17 I will come down and speak with you there. I will take some of the Spirit that is on you and put it on them also. They will help you carry the burden of the people so you don't have to do it alone."

5. Promise of Meat—and a Warning

(Verses 18–23)

18 "Tell the people: 'Purify yourselves, for tomorrow you will eat meat. You were whining to the Lord, saying, "We were better off in Egypt!" Now the Lord will give you meat—and you will eat it.

19 You will eat it not for just one day, or two, or five, or ten, or even twenty,

20 but for a whole month—until it comes out your noses and you hate it. You rejected the Lord who is among you and complained, saying, "Why did we ever leave Egypt?"'"

21 But Moses replied, "There are 600,000 men here—and You say You'll give them meat for a whole month?

22 Should we slaughter our flocks and herds? Or catch all the fish in the sea?"

23 The Lord answered, "Is My arm too short? You'll see whether My word comes true or not!"

6. God Shares the Spirit with the Elders

(Verses 24–30)

24 So Moses went out and told the people what the Lord had said. He gathered the seventy elders and had them stand around the Tabernacle.

25 Then the Lord came down in the cloud and spoke to Moses. He took some of the Spirit that was on Moses and put it on the seventy elders. When the Spirit came on them, they prophesied—but just once.

26 Two of the men, Eldad and Medad, had stayed in the camp. They were on the list but hadn't gone to the Tabernacle. The Spirit came on them too, and they prophesied in the camp.

27 A young man ran and told Moses, "Eldad and Medad are prophesying in the camp!"

28 Joshua son of Nun, Moses' assistant, said, "Moses, stop them!"

29 But Moses replied, "Are you jealous for me? I wish all the Lord's people were prophets and that the Lord would put His Spirit on all of them!"

30 Then Moses and the elders returned to the camp.

7. The Quail and the Plague

(Verses 31–35)

31 Then the Lord sent a wind that brought quail from the sea. They fell around the camp for miles in every direction and were piled up about three feet deep.

32 The people were up all that day, all night, and all the next day gathering quail. Even the least gathered ten homers (about 60 bushels). They spread them out all around the camp.

33 But while they were still eating the meat—before it was even chewed—the Lord's anger burned against the people. He struck them with a severe plague.

34 That place was called Kibroth-hattaavah (which means “Graves of Craving”) because there they buried the people who had craved meat.

35 From Kibroth-hattaavah, the people traveled to Hazeroth and stayed there.

Key Lessons from Numbers 11

- Complaining Offends the Lord – Israel’s grumbling about hardships brought God’s anger, reminding us that discontent dishonors His provision.
- God Provides but Tests the Heart – The craving for meat revealed Israel’s lack of trust and gratitude, teaching that desires can expose unbelief.
- Leaders Need God’s Help – Moses felt overwhelmed by the burden of leading, showing that spiritual leadership cannot be carried alone.
- God Shares His Spirit for Ministry – The seventy elders received the Spirit to help Moses, foreshadowing the shared ministry of the church empowered by the Holy Spirit.
- God Answers but Judges Ungrateful Requests – Quail was provided in abundance, but it came with judgment on the greedy, teaching that not every desire is for our good.
- Jealousy Has No Place in Ministry – Joshua worried about others prophesying, but Moses desired that all God’s people would be filled with His Spirit, pointing ahead to Pentecost.
- Christ Satisfies Where the World Cannot – Israel’s lust for meat could not satisfy, but Jesus, the Bread of Life, meets every true need of the soul.

Numbers 12 (CSB) — Jealousy, Judgment, and Mercy

Miriam and Aaron Challenge Moses

1 Miriam and Aaron began to speak against Moses because he had married a Cushite (Ethiopian) woman.

2 “Has the Lord only spoken through Moses?” they asked. “Hasn’t He spoken through us too?” But the Lord heard everything they said.

3 (Now Moses was very humble—more than any other person on earth.)

4 Suddenly, the Lord said to Moses, Aaron, and Miriam, “All three of you, come out to the Tabernacle.” So they went out together.

5 Then the Lord came down in a pillar of cloud and stood at the entrance of the Tabernacle. He called out, “Aaron and Miriam!” and they stepped forward.

6 And the Lord said, “Listen to My words:

If there is a prophet among you,

I, the Lord, make Myself known to him in visions.

I speak to him in dreams.

7 But not with My servant Moses—

He is faithful in all My house.

8 With him, I speak face to face—

Clearly, not in riddles.

He even sees the form of the Lord.

Why then were you not afraid to criticize My servant Moses?”

9 The Lord was furious with them, and He left.

10 As the cloud lifted from above the Tabernacle, Miriam suddenly became leprous—white as snow.

When Aaron looked at her, he saw she had a terrible skin disease.

11 He cried out to Moses, “Oh my lord, please don’t hold this sin against us! We acted foolishly and have sinned.

12 Don’t let her be like a stillborn baby—already half-rotted at birth!”

13 So Moses cried out to the Lord, “Please, God, heal her!”

14 But the Lord replied to Moses, “If her father had spit in her face, wouldn’t she have been disgraced for seven days? She must be confined outside the camp for seven days. After that, she can come back.”

15 So Miriam was isolated outside the camp for seven days. During that time, the people did not move on until she was brought back.

16 Afterward, the people left Hazeroth and camped in the Wilderness of Paran.

Key Lessons from Numbers 12

- God Defends His Chosen Servants – When Miriam and Aaron opposed Moses, God Himself intervened, showing that He protects those He calls.
- Pride Leads to Rebellion – Miriam and Aaron’s jealousy revealed the danger of pride, reminding us that envy can turn even leaders against God’s plan.
- God Chooses Whom He Will Use – Moses’ unique relationship with God showed that leadership is by divine appointment, not human ambition.
- Humility Is Key to God’s Favor – Moses was described as the meekest man on earth, teaching that true spiritual authority flows from humility.
- Sin Brings God’s Discipline – Miriam’s leprosy was a direct judgment, showing that rebellion against God’s order has serious consequences.
- Intercession Restores the Fallen – Moses prayed for Miriam’s healing, proving the power of interceding even for those who wrong us.
- God Balances Mercy and Discipline – Though Miriam was healed, she endured seven days outside the camp, reminding us that God’s forgiveness does not always remove consequences.
- Christ Is Our Greater Mediator – Like Moses, Jesus intercedes for us when we sin, bringing both mercy and restoration.

Numbers 13 (CSB) — Spies in the Promised Land

God Commands a Mission to Explore Canaan

1 The Lord spoke to Moses, saying,

2 “Send out men to explore the land of Canaan, which I am giving to the people of Israel. Send one man from each tribe of their ancestors, each one a leader among them.”

3 So at the Lord’s command, Moses sent them out from the wilderness of Paran. All of them were leaders among the Israelites.

The Twelve Spies Named

4 These were their names:

- From the tribe of Reuben: Shammua son of Zaccur
- 5 From Simeon: Shaphat son of Hori
- 6 From Judah: Caleb son of Jephunneh
- 7 From Issachar: Igal son of Joseph
- 8 From Ephraim: Hoshea (Joshua) son of Nun
- 9 From Benjamin: Palti son of Raphu
- 10 From Zebulun: Gaddiel son of Sodi
- 11 From Manasseh (Joseph’s tribe): Gaddi son of Susi
- 12 From Dan: Ammiel son of Gemalli
- 13 From Asher: Sethur son of Michael
- 14 From Naphtali: Nahbi son of Vophsi
- 15 From Gad: Geuel son of Machi

16 These are the men Moses sent to explore the land. Moses gave Hoshea son of Nun the new name Joshua.

Instructions for the Exploration

17 Moses gave them these instructions:

“Go north into the Negev, then into the hill country.

18 See what the land is like—whether the people living there are strong or weak, few or many.

19 Look at the land—good or bad? Are the towns open camps or fortified cities?

20 Is the soil rich or poor? Are there trees or not? Be brave, and bring back some samples of the fruit.”
(This was the season for the first ripe grapes.)

Spying Out the Land

21 So they went up and explored the land from the wilderness of Zin all the way to Rehob near Lebohamath.

22 They went through the Negev and came to Hebron, where Ahiman, Sheshai, and Talmai—the descendants of Anak—lived. (Hebron was built seven years before Zoan in Egypt.)

23 At the valley of Eshcol, they cut a branch with a single cluster of grapes so large that two men carried it on a pole. They also gathered pomegranates and figs.

24 That place was called the Valley of Eshcol (meaning "cluster") because of the cluster of grapes the Israelites cut there.

25 After forty days, they returned from exploring the land.

The Spies Report to Israel

26 They returned to Moses, Aaron, and the whole Israelite community at Kadesh in the wilderness of Paran. They gave their report and showed the fruit of the land.

27 They said, "We went to the land where you sent us. It truly flows with milk and honey, and here is its fruit!

28 But the people living there are strong, and the cities are large and fortified. We even saw the descendants of Anak there!

29 The Amalekites live in the south; the Hittites, Jebusites, and Amorites live in the hill country; and the Canaanites live along the coast and by the Jordan River."

Caleb's Courage vs. the Spies' Fear

30 But Caleb quieted the people before Moses and said, "Let's go at once and take the land. We can certainly conquer it!"

31 But the other men who had gone up with him said, "We can't fight those people—they're stronger than we are!"

A Fearful and False Report

32 So they gave a bad report to the Israelites about the land they had explored:

"The land we traveled through devours the people who live there! All the people we saw were huge.

33 We even saw giants there—the descendants of Anak. Compared to them, we felt like grasshoppers, and that's how we seemed to them too!"

Key Lessons from Numbers 13

- God Calls His People to Trust His Promise – The spies were sent into Canaan to confirm God's word, not to question His ability to fulfill it.

- Obedience Requires Faith, Not Sight – Though the land was fruitful, the majority focused on the giants and fortified cities instead of God’s promise.
- Unbelief Spreads Fear – The bad report discouraged the whole community, showing how doubt can infect and weaken God’s people.
- Faith Sees God’s Power Above Circumstances – Caleb and Joshua trusted that the Lord would give them victory, teaching us to focus on God, not obstacles.
- God Tests His People Through Challenges – The mission of the spies revealed who would believe and who would doubt, showing that trials expose faith.
- Majority Opinion Can Be Wrong – Ten spies led the people into fear, while only two stood firm, teaching that truth is not determined by numbers.
- Christ Calls Us to Courageous Faith – Just as Caleb and Joshua trusted God against overwhelming odds, Jesus calls believers to walk by faith and not by sight.

Numbers 14 (CSB) — Israel’s Rebellion and God’s Judgment

The People Reject the Promise

1 That night, the entire community raised their voices and cried out loud.

2 All the Israelites grumbled against Moses and Aaron. The whole assembly said, “If only we had died in Egypt! Or even here in the wilderness!

3 Why has the Lord brought us to this land just to die by the sword? Our wives and children will be taken as plunder. Wouldn’t it be better for us to go back to Egypt?”

4 So they said to one another, “Let’s choose a new leader and go back to Egypt.”

Joshua and Caleb Plead with the People

5 Then Moses and Aaron fell face down in front of the whole assembly.

6 Joshua son of Nun and Caleb son of Jephunneh, who were among those who explored the land, tore their clothes in sorrow.

7 They said to the people, “The land we explored is a very good land.

8 If the Lord is pleased with us, He will bring us into this land and give it to us—a land flowing with milk and honey.

9 Don’t rebel against the Lord, and don’t be afraid of the people of the land. They’re like bread for us! Their protection is gone, but the Lord is with us. Don’t be afraid of them!”

10 But the whole assembly talked about stoning them. Then the glory of the Lord appeared at the Tabernacle for all the Israelites to see.

God's Anger and Moses' Intercession

11 The Lord said to Moses, "How long will these people treat Me with contempt? How long will they refuse to believe in Me, despite all the signs I've done among them?"

12 I will strike them with a plague and wipe them out. I'll make you into a greater and stronger nation than they are."

13 But Moses said to the Lord, "Then the Egyptians will hear about it! You brought these people out from among them with great power,

14 and they'll tell the people who live in this land. They've heard that You, Lord, are with these people—that You appear to them face to face, that Your cloud stays over them, and that You go before them in a pillar of cloud by day and fire by night.

15 If You kill them all at once, the nations who've heard of You will say,

16 'The Lord wasn't able to bring them into the land He promised, so He killed them in the wilderness.'

17 Now please, let Your power be shown, just as You said:

18 'The Lord is slow to anger and full of mercy, forgiving sin and rebellion. But He does not let the guilty go unpunished. He visits the sins of the fathers on the children to the third and fourth generation.'

19 Please forgive the sins of these people according to Your great mercy, just as You've done from Egypt until now."

Judgment Announced

20 Then the Lord said, "I have forgiven them as you asked.

21 But as surely as I live, the whole earth will be filled with My glory.

22 Not one of the men who saw My glory and the signs I did in Egypt and the wilderness—and who have tested Me ten times and refused to obey Me—

23 will ever see the land I promised to their ancestors. None of those who treated Me with contempt will see it.

24 But My servant Caleb has a different spirit and has followed Me completely. I'll bring him into the land he explored, and his descendants will inherit it.

25 (Now the Amalekites and Canaanites are living in the valleys.) So tomorrow, turn back and head into the wilderness toward the Red Sea."

The Generation Condemned to Die in the Wilderness

26 The Lord said to Moses and Aaron,

27 "How long must I put up with this evil community that complains against Me? I've heard their complaints.

28 So tell them: 'As surely as I live,' says the Lord, 'I will do exactly what I heard you say:

29 Your bodies will fall in this wilderness—all of you who were counted in the census, every one of you twenty years old or older who has grumbled against Me.

30 Not one of you will enter the land I promised to give you—except Caleb son of Jephunneh and Joshua son of Nun.

31 But I will bring in your little ones, the ones you said would be taken as plunder. They will experience the land you rejected.

32 But you—your bodies will fall in this wilderness.

33 Your children will wander in the wilderness for forty years, suffering for your unfaithfulness, until the last of your bodies lie dead in the wilderness.

34 Because you explored the land for forty days, you will suffer for your sins forty years—a year for each day—and you will know what it means for Me to break My promise.

35 I, the Lord, have spoken. I will do this to this evil community that has gathered against Me. In this wilderness they will die, and there they will remain.”

The Spies Punished

36 The men Moses had sent to explore the land, the ones who returned and stirred up the people with a bad report, 37 were struck down with a plague and died before the Lord.

38 Only Joshua son of Nun and Caleb son of Jephunneh remained alive from those who went to explore the land.

Foolish Disobedience and Defeat

39 When Moses told all this to the Israelites, they mourned deeply.

40 Early the next morning, they set out for the high hill country and said, “Look, we’re ready to go to the land the Lord promised! We know we’ve sinned.”

41 But Moses said, “Why are you now disobeying the Lord’s command? This won’t succeed.

42 Don’t go up there. The Lord is not with you—you’ll be defeated by your enemies.

43 The Amalekites and Canaanites are there, and you will fall by the sword. Since you’ve turned away from the Lord, He won’t go with you.”

44 But they were arrogant and went up toward the high hill country anyway, even though neither Moses nor the ark of the Lord’s covenant left the camp.

45 Then the Amalekites and Canaanites who lived in those hills came down, attacked them, and chased them all the way to Hormah.

Key Lessons from Numbers 14

- Fear Leads to Rebellion – Israel’s weeping and desire to return to Egypt showed how fear can drive people to reject God’s promises.

- Unbelief Despises God’s Salvation – The people’s rejection of the land was described as despising the Lord, proving that unbelief is not weakness but rebellion.
- God Honors Faithful Witnesses – Caleb and Joshua stood firm, showing that God rewards those who trust Him even when opposed by the majority.
- Intercession Moves God’s Mercy – Moses pleaded for God to forgive Israel, teaching the power of standing in the gap for others.
- God Balances Mercy and Judgment – Israel was spared immediate destruction but condemned to wander forty years, showing that forgiveness does not remove all consequences.
- Sin Can Shut the Door of Opportunity – The unbelieving generation was barred from entering the land, proving that rebellion can forfeit blessings.
- Presumption Is Not Faith – Israel’s attempt to enter Canaan after God’s judgment ended in defeat, reminding us that faith obeys God’s timing, not human will.
- Christ Calls Us Into True Rest – This chapter foreshadows Hebrews 3–4, where believers are warned not to harden their hearts but to enter God’s rest through faith in Christ.

Numbers 15 (CSB) — Offerings, Atonement, and Reminders of the Covenant

Laws for Future Offerings in the Promised Land

1 Then the Lord spoke to Moses,

2 “Speak to the Israelites and tell them: When you enter the land I’m giving you to live in,

3 and you present offerings made by fire to the Lord—whether burnt offerings, sacrifices to fulfill a vow, freewill offerings, or special festival offerings, meant to be a pleasing aroma to the Lord from your herds or flocks—

4 the one bringing the offering must also present a grain offering: a tenth of an ephah of fine flour mixed with a quarter of a hin of oil.

5 With each lamb, prepare a quarter of a hin of wine as a drink offering.

6 If it’s a ram, bring two-tenths of an ephah of fine flour mixed with a third of a hin of oil

7 and a third of a hin of wine for the drink offering, a pleasing aroma to the Lord.

8 If it’s a young bull being offered as a burnt offering, to fulfill a vow, or as a peace offering to the Lord,

9 then bring with the bull a grain offering of three-tenths of an ephah of fine flour mixed with half a hin of oil,

10 and half a hin of wine for a drink offering—an offering by fire, a sweet-smelling aroma to the Lord.

11 This is the law for each bull, ram, lamb, or young goat.

12 However many animals you offer, prepare each offering in the same way.

13 Everyone native-born in Israel must follow these instructions when presenting offerings by fire to the Lord with a pleasing aroma.

One Law for Everyone — Native or Foreigner

14 If a foreigner is staying among you, or anyone living with you for generations, and they want to offer an offering by fire with a pleasing aroma to the Lord, they must follow these same rules.

15 The same law applies to you and to the foreigner living among you. This is a permanent law for generations to come. You and the foreigner are to be treated the same before the Lord.

16 One law and one rule will apply to both you and the foreigner who lives among you.”

Offering the First of the Harvest

17 The Lord spoke again to Moses:

18 “Speak to the Israelites and tell them: When you enter the land I am bringing you into,

19 and you eat the food of the land, you must present a contribution to the Lord.

20 Present a loaf from the first of your ground meal as a contribution—like the contribution from the threshing floor.

21 Throughout your generations, give the first of your dough to the Lord as a sacred offering.

Unintentional Sin by the Community or Individuals

22 If you unintentionally fail to keep any of these commands the Lord gave Moses—

23 from the time the Lord gave them and onward through the generations—

24 and the community sins without realizing it, the whole community must present one young bull as a burnt offering, a pleasing aroma to the Lord. Include its grain and drink offerings as prescribed, and one male goat as a sin offering.

25 The priest will make atonement for the entire Israelite community, and they will be forgiven—it was unintentional. They must bring their offerings, both burnt and sin offerings, before the Lord for their unintentional sin.

26 And the whole community of Israel, including the foreigners living among them, will be forgiven, because it was unintentional.

27 If just one person sins unintentionally, he must bring a year-old female goat as a sin offering.

28 The priest will make atonement before the Lord for the person who sinned by accident, and that person will be forgiven.

29 You are to have the same law for anyone who sins unintentionally—whether native-born Israelite or foreigner.

Deliberate Sin Brings Separation

30 But anyone who sins intentionally—whether native-born or foreigner—has shown contempt for the Lord and must be cut off from the people.

31 They have despised the Lord’s word and broken His commands. That person must be completely cut off; their guilt remains on them.

The Sabbath Breaker Punished

32 While the Israelites were in the wilderness, they found a man gathering wood on the Sabbath day.

33 Those who caught him brought him to Moses, Aaron, and the entire community.

34 They kept him under guard, because it wasn’t yet clear what should be done.

35 Then the Lord said to Moses, “The man must be put to death. The entire community must stone him outside the camp.”

36 So the whole community took him outside the camp and stoned him to death, as the Lord commanded Moses.

Tassels as a Reminder to Obey God

37 Then the Lord said to Moses,

38 “Speak to the Israelites and tell them to make tassels on the corners of their garments, for all generations to come. They must attach a blue cord to each tassel.

39 These tassels will remind you to obey all My commandments. When you see them, you won’t follow after your own hearts or desires like you used to do.

40 The tassels will help you remember to do all My commands and be holy to your God.

41 I am the Lord your God, who brought you out of Egypt to be your God. I am the Lord your God.”

Key Lessons from Numbers 15

- God’s Promises Remain Despite Failure – After Israel’s rebellion, God reaffirmed that they would still enter the land, teaching that His covenant is sure even when people stumble.
- Worship Reminds Us of God’s Faithfulness – Instructions for offerings in the land showed that worship would continue as a testimony of God’s provision.
- God Welcomes the Foreigner Who Believes – The same laws applied to Israelites and foreigners, teaching that God’s grace extends to all who join His people.
- Unintentional Sin Requires Atonement – Sacrifices for unintentional sins show God’s mercy for human weakness and ignorance.
- High-Handed Sin Brings Judgment – Willful defiance against God’s law led to death, proving that deliberate rebellion is a serious offense.

- God Calls His People to Remember His Commands – The tassels on garments reminded Israel daily to obey God, keeping His word ever before them.
- Christ Is the Fulfillment of Grace and Truth – In Him, sins of ignorance are forgiven, rebellion is overcome, and God’s word is written on our hearts.

Numbers 16 (CSB) — The Rebellion of Korah

1. Korah’s Rebellion Against Moses and Aaron (vv. 1–3)

1 Korah son of Izhar, a descendant of Kohath and Levi, joined with Dathan and Abiram (sons of Eliab) and On son of Peleth from the tribe of Reuben.

2 They rallied 250 leaders of the community—well-known men, respected by the people.

3 Together, they rose up against Moses and Aaron, saying, “You’ve taken too much authority on yourselves. Everyone in the whole community is holy, and the Lord is among us all. So why do you elevate yourselves above the Lord’s assembly?”

2. Moses Calls for the Lord to Decide (vv. 4–11)

4 When Moses heard this, he fell face-down in humility.

5 Then he said to Korah and all his followers, “Tomorrow the Lord will show who belongs to Him and who is holy. He will bring that person near to Himself.

6 Here’s what you must do, Korah and all your followers: Take censers,

7 put fire and incense in them, and present them before the Lord. The one the Lord chooses is the holy one. You sons of Levi are the ones overstepping!”

8 Moses said to Korah, “Listen, sons of Levi:

9 Is it not enough that the God of Israel has chosen you from among the Israelites to serve in His tabernacle and stand before the congregation to minister?

10 He brought you and all your fellow Levites near to Himself. Now you’re seeking the priesthood too?

11 It is really against the Lord that you and your followers have gathered. As for Aaron—what has he done that you grumble against him?”

3. Dathan and Abiram Refuse to Appear (vv. 12–15)

12 Moses summoned Dathan and Abiram, the sons of Eliab, but they refused, saying,

13 “Is it a small thing that you brought us out of a land flowing with milk and honey to die in this wilderness? And now you want to rule over us too?

14 You haven’t brought us into the land of promise or given us any inheritance of fields or vineyards. Are you going to gouge out our eyes? We won’t come up!”

15 Moses was very angry and said to the Lord, “Don’t accept their offering! I haven’t taken anything from them—not even a donkey—nor have I harmed them.”

4. The Test of the Censers (vv. 16–19)

16 Moses told Korah, “You and all your followers must appear before the Lord tomorrow—along with Aaron.

17 Each man must bring his censer with incense—250 censers total—plus yours, Korah, and Aaron’s.”

18 So each man brought his censer, lit the fire, and added incense. They stood with Moses and Aaron at the entrance to the tabernacle.

19 Korah had gathered the whole community against them there, and the glory of the Lord appeared to everyone.

5. God’s Judgment Declared (vv. 20–27)

20 Then the Lord spoke to Moses and Aaron:

21 “Separate yourselves from this assembly. I’m going to destroy them instantly.”

22 But they fell face-down and cried, “O God, the God of all living spirits, will You be angry with the whole congregation because one man sinned?”

23 The Lord replied to Moses,

24 “Tell the community: Move away from the tents of Korah, Dathan, and Abiram.”

25 So Moses went to Dathan and Abiram with the elders of Israel.

26 He warned the people, “Get away from these wicked men! Don’t touch anything that belongs to them, or you’ll be swept away in their sin.”

27 So the people moved away. Dathan and Abiram stood outside their tents with their wives, children, and little ones.

6. The Earth Swallows the Rebels (vv. 28–35)

28 Moses said, “By this, you will know that the Lord has sent me to do all these things—not acting on my own.

29 If these men die natural deaths, then the Lord has not sent me.

30 But if the Lord does something new, and the earth opens up and swallows them and all their possessions, then you will know they’ve treated the Lord with contempt.”

31 As soon as Moses finished speaking, the ground split open beneath them.

32 The earth opened up and swallowed them and all their households, along with all of Korah’s followers and possessions.

33 They went down alive into the pit, and the earth closed over them. They vanished from the community.

34 Everyone around them fled, shouting, “The earth might swallow us too!”

35 Then fire came out from the Lord and consumed the 250 men who had offered incense.

7. A Warning Memorial with the Censers (vv. 36–40)

36 The Lord said to Moses,

37 “Tell Eleazar son of Aaron the priest to collect the censers from the fire and scatter the coals, because the censers are holy.

38 Hammer the censers of these sinners into sheets to overlay the altar. They presented them before Me and became holy. Let this be a warning to the people of Israel.”

39 So Eleazar took the bronze censers and hammered them into a covering for the altar,

40 as a reminder that no one outside the descendants of Aaron should come near to burn incense before the Lord—or suffer the same fate as Korah and his followers. This was commanded by the Lord through Moses.

8. The People Rebel Again and a Plague Breaks Out (vv. 41–50)

41 The next day, the whole community of Israel complained against Moses and Aaron, saying, “You’ve killed the Lord’s people!”

42 As the people assembled against them, they turned toward the tabernacle, and the cloud had covered it—the glory of the Lord appeared.

43 Moses and Aaron went to the front of the tabernacle,

44 and the Lord told Moses,

45 “Get away from this community so I can wipe them out instantly!” And they fell face-down.

46 Moses told Aaron, “Take your censer, put fire from the altar in it, add incense, and run among the people to make atonement. Wrath has gone out from the Lord—the plague has begun!”

47 Aaron did as Moses said, running into the crowd where the plague had already begun. He burned incense and made atonement for the people.

48 He stood between the living and the dead, and the plague was stopped.

49 But 14,700 people died from the plague, not including those who had died because of Korah.

50 Aaron returned to Moses at the entrance of the tabernacle once the plague had stopped.

Key Lessons from Numbers 16

- Rebellion Challenges God’s Authority – Korah, Dathan, and Abiram’s uprising showed that rejecting God’s chosen leaders is ultimately rebellion against the Lord.
- Pride Breeds Destruction – Their claim that “all the congregation is holy” twisted truth into arrogance, reminding us that pride leads to downfall.

- God Vindicates His Servants – The earth swallowing the rebels proved that God defends those He appoints to lead.
- Sin Spreads Quickly – The rebellion influenced many in Israel, showing how discontent can infect an entire community.
- Intercession Saves Lives – Moses and Aaron pleaded for the people, showing the power of prayer in turning away God’s wrath.
- Atonement Stops the Plague – Aaron stood with incense between the living and the dead, foreshadowing Christ as our mediator who stops judgment.
- Christ Is the Greater High Priest – Just as Aaron stood in the gap, Jesus intercedes for us perfectly, securing deliverance from sin and death.

Numbers 17 (CSB) — The Confirmation of Aaron’s Priesthood

1. God's Command to Settle the Priesthood Dispute (vv. 1–5)

1 The Lord spoke to Moses, saying,

2 “Speak to the Israelites and take one staff from each of the twelve tribal leaders, one for each of the ancestral tribes. Write each man’s name on his staff.

3 Write Aaron’s name on the staff of Levi, for there must be one staff for the head of each tribe.

4 Place them in the Tabernacle of the Covenant in front of the Ark of the Testimony, where I meet with you.

5 The staff belonging to the man I choose will sprout, and I will put an end to the constant complaining of the Israelites against you.”

2. The Rods Are Collected and Laid Before the Lord (vv. 6–7)

6 So Moses spoke to the Israelites, and their leaders gave him twelve staffs, one from each tribal leader. Aaron’s staff was among them.

7 Moses placed the staffs before the Lord in the Tabernacle of the Testimony.

3. Aaron’s Rod Buds and Bears Fruit (vv. 8–9)

8 The next day Moses went into the Tabernacle and saw that Aaron’s staff, representing the tribe of Levi, had not only sprouted, but had budded, blossomed, and produced ripe almonds.

9 Moses brought out all the staffs from the Lord’s presence and showed them to the Israelites. Each leader took back his own staff.

4. Aaron's Rod Kept as a Warning Sign (vv. 10–11)

10 Then the Lord said to Moses, “Put Aaron’s staff back in front of the Ark of the Covenant, to be kept as a sign for the rebellious. This will stop their complaining and prevent them from dying.”

11 Moses did exactly as the Lord commanded.

5. The Fear of the People (vv. 12–13)

12 The Israelites said to Moses, “We’re doomed! We’re as good as dead! Everyone is going to die!

13 Anyone who even comes near the Lord’s Tabernacle dies. Are we all going to perish?”

Key Lessons from Numbers 17 (CSB):

- God settles disputes His way. When accusations or rebellions arise, God Himself confirms whom He has called.
- Aaron's rod was not only a sign—it was a miracle. A dead piece of wood budding, blossoming, and bearing fruit overnight showed divine power and election.
- Grumbling can be deadly. God used this event to stop the constant murmuring among the Israelites and affirm His appointed leaders.

Numbers 18 (CSB) — Duties, Offerings, and Inheritance of the Priests and Levites

1. The Priests' Responsibility for the Tabernacle and Their Role (vv. 1–7)

1 The Lord said to Aaron, “You, your sons, and your whole family will be held accountable for any offenses related to the sanctuary. You and your sons alone are responsible for any misconduct involving the priesthood.

2 Bring in your fellow Levites from your ancestral tribe to assist you. They are to join you and serve you while you perform your duties at the Tent of Meeting.

3 They are to be responsible for everything related to the Tent, but they must not go near the sacred furnishings or the altar, or both they and you will die.

4 They must join you in caring for the Tent of Meeting and all the work that needs to be done. But no unauthorized person may come near you.

5 You are to take care of the sanctuary and the altar so that my anger will not fall on the Israelites again.

6 I have chosen your fellow Levites from among the Israelites as a gift to you, dedicated to me to help with the service of the Tabernacle.

7 But only you and your sons may perform the duties of the priesthood, everything that pertains to the altar and what is behind the curtain. This is your gift of service. Anyone else who comes near must be put to death.”

2. Provision for the Priests from Offerings (vv. 8–20)

8 Then the Lord said to Aaron, “I have put you in charge of the contributions presented to me. All the holy offerings the Israelites give to me I now give to you and your sons as your portion.

9 These are the most holy offerings, reserved from the fire. Every grain offering, sin offering, and guilt offering that they bring to me is most holy for you and your sons.

10 You must eat it in a holy place. Every male in your family may eat it; it is holy to you.

11 I also give you the wave offerings from the Israelites. These are for you and your sons and daughters. Everyone in your household who is clean may eat it.

12 I give you the best of the olive oil, wine, and grain—the firstfruits they offer to me.

13 Whatever first ripe fruits they bring to the Lord will belong to you. Anyone in your house who is clean may eat it.

14 Everything devoted to the Lord in Israel is yours.

15 Every firstborn of man or animal offered to the Lord belongs to you. But you must redeem every firstborn son and every unclean animal.

16 When they are a month old, you must redeem them at the value of five shekels of silver, according to the sanctuary shekel, which weighs twenty gerahs.

17 But you must not redeem the firstborn of a cow, sheep, or goat. They are holy and must be sacrificed. Their blood is to be sprinkled on the altar, and their fat burned as an offering pleasing to the Lord.

18 The meat of these offerings will be yours, just like the breast of the wave offering and the right thigh.

19 All the holy offerings the Israelites present to the Lord I give to you and your children as a permanent share. It is a covenant of salt before the Lord for you and your descendants.”

20 The Lord also said to Aaron, “You will have no inheritance in the land, nor will you own any portion among them. I am your portion and inheritance among the Israelites.”

3. The Levites’ Inheritance and Their Tithes (vv. 21–32)

21 “To the Levites, I have given all the tithes in Israel as their inheritance in return for their work at the Tabernacle.

22 The Israelites must no longer come near the Tabernacle or they will bear the consequences of their sin and die.

23 It is the Levites who are to do the work at the Tent of Meeting and bear the responsibility for offenses. This is a lasting ordinance. The Levites will receive no land inheritance among the Israelites.

24 Instead, I give them the tithes that the Israelites present as offerings to the Lord. That’s why I said they will have no inheritance in the land.”

25 The Lord said to Moses,

26 “Speak to the Levites and tell them: When you receive from the Israelites the tithes I have given you as your inheritance, you must offer a tenth of that tithe as an offering to the Lord.

27 Your offering will be considered as if it were grain from the threshing floor or wine from the winepress.

28 In this way, you must present an offering to the Lord from everything you receive, and you are to give this offering to Aaron the priest.

29 Present the best and holiest part of everything you receive.

30 Tell them that once they have set aside the best part, the rest will be counted as your income, just like it came from the threshing floor or winepress.

31 You and your households may eat it anywhere, for it is your reward for your service in the Tent of Meeting.

32 You will not be guilty for accepting it, as long as you present the best part. Do not defile the sacred offerings of the Israelites, or you will die.”

Key Lessons from Numbers 18 (CSB):

- God provides for His ministers. The priests and Levites were fully supported through the offerings and tithes.
- With privilege comes responsibility. Aaron and his sons bore the spiritual weight of the Tabernacle.
- There’s one law for all. Whether born in Israel or a Levite, everyone must honor God’s appointed structure and order.

Numbers 19 (CSB) — The Red Heifer and the Law of Cleansing

1. The Law of the Red Heifer (vv. 1–10)

1 Then the Lord said to Moses and Aaron,

2 “This is the law that I have commanded: Tell the Israelites to bring you a red heifer without defect or blemish—one that has never been yoked.

3 Give it to Eleazar the priest. He must take it outside the camp, and someone is to slaughter it in his presence.

4 Then Eleazar the priest is to take some of the blood on his finger and sprinkle it seven times in the direction of the front of the Tabernacle.

5 The heifer is to be burned while he watches—its skin, flesh, blood, and even the dung.

6 The priest must throw cedar wood, hyssop, and scarlet wool into the fire that is burning the heifer.

7 Afterward, the priest must wash his clothes and bathe in water. He can return to the camp, but he will remain ceremonially unclean until evening.

8 The one who burns the heifer must also wash his clothes and bathe, and he will also be unclean until evening.

9 Then a man who is ceremonially clean will gather the ashes of the heifer and store them in a clean place outside the camp. These ashes will be kept by the community of Israel for making the water used for purification from sin.

10 The man who gathers the ashes must wash his clothes and remain unclean until evening. This is a lasting law for both Israelites and any foreigners living among them.

2. The Law Concerning Contact with the Dead (vv. 11–13)

11 Anyone who touches a dead body will be unclean for seven days.

12 He must purify himself using the water mixed with the ashes on the third day and again on the seventh day—then he will be clean. But if he does not do this on the third and seventh days, he will remain unclean.

13 Anyone who touches a dead body and does not purify himself makes the Lord’s Tabernacle unclean. That person must be cut off from Israel because the water of cleansing was not applied. He remains unclean, and his sin is still upon him.

3. Special Instructions for Death in a Tent (vv. 14–15)

14 Here is the law when someone dies in a tent: Anyone who enters the tent, and everything in it, will be unclean for seven days.

15 Any open container that doesn’t have a lid fastened tightly is unclean.

4. Contact with the Dead in the Field (v. 16)

16 Anyone who touches someone killed in battle, a dead body, human bones, or a grave will be unclean for seven days.

5. The Cleansing Ritual (vv. 17–22)

17 For anyone who becomes unclean, take some of the ashes of the burnt heifer and mix them with fresh water in a container.

18 A man who is ceremonially clean is to dip hyssop into the water and sprinkle it on the tent, all the furnishings, the people who were in the tent, and anyone who touched a bone, a corpse, or a grave.

19 The clean person must sprinkle the unclean person on the third and seventh days. Then the unclean person must wash his clothes and bathe in water. At sunset, he will be clean.

20 But if someone who is unclean does not purify himself, he must be cut off from the community because he has defiled the Lord’s sanctuary. The water of purification was not applied, so he remains unclean.

21 This is a lasting law: Anyone who sprinkles the water of purification must wash their clothes, and anyone who touches the water will be unclean until evening.

22 Anything that an unclean person touches becomes unclean, and anyone who touches it will be unclean until evening.

Key Lessons from Numbers 19 (CSB):

- Purity matters to God. Even unintentional contact with death required a specific cleansing process.
- God provides a way of cleansing. Through the ashes of the red heifer and water, God made a way to restore ceremonial cleanliness.
- Defilement affects others. What is unclean spreads unless properly handled. Holiness and order were necessary for God's presence to dwell among His people.

Numbers 20 (CSB) — Water, Rebellion, and Transition

1. Miriam's Death at Kadesh (v. 1)

1 Then the entire community of Israel came into the wilderness of Zin during the first month and stayed at Kadesh. There, Miriam died and was buried.

2. Water from the Rock and Moses' Disobedience (vv. 2–13)

2 There was no water for the people, so they gathered together against Moses and Aaron.

3 They argued with Moses and said, "If only we had died when our brothers died before the Lord!

4 Why did you bring the Lord's people into this wilderness just to die here—us and our animals?

5 Why did you make us leave Egypt to bring us to this terrible place? This land has no grain, no figs, no grapes, no pomegranates, and no water to drink!"

6 Moses and Aaron went away from the people to the entrance of the Tabernacle and fell facedown. Then the glory of the Lord appeared to them.

7 The Lord spoke to Moses and said,

8 "Take the staff and gather the people together—you and your brother Aaron. Speak to the rock in front of them, and it will pour out its water. You will bring water out of the rock for the people and their livestock to drink."

9 So Moses took the staff from the Lord's presence, just as He had commanded him.

10 He and Aaron gathered the people in front of the rock, and Moses said, "Listen, you rebels! Must we bring water out of this rock for you?"

11 Then Moses raised his hand and struck the rock twice with his staff. Water gushed out abundantly, and the people and their animals drank.

12 But the Lord said to Moses and Aaron, "Because you did not trust Me enough to honor Me as holy in front of the Israelites, you will not bring this assembly into the land I am giving them."

13 These were the waters of Meribah (which means "quarreling"), where the people of Israel argued with the Lord, and He showed Himself holy among them.

3. Edom Refuses Israel Passage (vv. 14–21)

14 From Kadesh, Moses sent messengers to the king of Edom, saying:

“This is what your brother Israel says: You know all the hardship we’ve gone through—

15 how our ancestors went down into Egypt, and we lived there a long time. The Egyptians mistreated us and our ancestors.

16 But when we cried out to the Lord, He heard us and sent an angel who brought us out of Egypt. Now we are here at Kadesh, a town at the edge of your territory.

17 Please let us travel through your land. We won’t go through any fields or vineyards, and we won’t drink water from any wells. We’ll stay on the main road and won’t turn off it until we’ve passed through your territory.”

18 But Edom replied, “You may not pass through, or we’ll come out with the sword to confront you!”

19 The Israelites responded, “We’ll stay on the main road. And if we or our livestock drink any of your water, we’ll pay for it. We just want to pass through on foot—nothing more.”

20 But Edom insisted, “You may not pass!” Then Edom came out against them with a large and powerful army.

21 Because Edom refused to allow Israel to pass through their land, Israel turned away from them.

4. The Death of Aaron on Mount Hor (vv. 22–29)

22 The whole Israelite community left Kadesh and came to Mount Hor.

23 There, near the border of Edom, the Lord said to Moses and Aaron,

24 “Aaron is about to die and be gathered to his people. He will not enter the land I am giving the Israelites, because you both rebelled against My command at the waters of Meribah.

25 Take Aaron and his son Eleazar, and bring them up Mount Hor.

26 Remove Aaron’s priestly garments and put them on Eleazar. Aaron will die there.”

27 Moses did as the Lord commanded. They went up Mount Hor in front of the whole community.

28 Moses removed Aaron’s garments and placed them on Eleazar. Aaron died there on top of the mountain, and afterward Moses and Eleazar came down.

29 When all the people saw that Aaron had died, the entire community of Israel mourned for him thirty days.

Key Lessons from Numbers 20 (CSB):

- God holds leaders to a high standard. Moses’ disobedience—striking the rock instead of speaking to it—cost him entrance into the Promised Land.
- Even faithful servants must follow God’s instructions carefully. Partial obedience is still disobedience in God’s eyes.
- Transitions matter. Miriam and Aaron’s deaths marked the end of an era. God was preparing a new generation to rise up.

- God honors intercession and worship. Moses and Aaron sought God's face when the people rebelled, and God responded with guidance—even in the face of failure.

Numbers 21 (CSB) — Battles, Serpents, and Victories

1. Victory Over King Arad (vv. 1–3)

1 When King Arad the Canaanite, who lived in the Negev (the southern desert), heard that Israel was coming along the road to Atharim, he attacked them and took some of them as prisoners.

2 Then Israel made a vow to the Lord: “If You will hand these people over to us, we will completely destroy their cities.”

3 The Lord heard Israel’s plea and gave them victory over the Canaanites. They completely destroyed them and their towns. So they named the place Hormah (which means “Destruction”).

2. Fiery Serpents and the Bronze Snake (vv. 4–9)

4 The Israelites traveled from Mount Hor, taking the route to the Red Sea, to go around the land of Edom. But the people grew impatient and discouraged along the way.

5 They spoke against God and Moses: “Why did you bring us out of Egypt to die here in the wilderness? There’s no bread! There’s no water! And we hate this miserable food!”

6 So the Lord sent poisonous serpents among the people, and they bit the people, and many Israelites died.

7 Then the people came to Moses and said, “We have sinned by speaking against the Lord and against you. Please pray to the Lord to take the snakes away from us.” So Moses prayed for the people.

8 Then the Lord told Moses, “Make a replica of a fiery serpent and put it on a pole. Everyone who is bitten and looks at it will live.”

9 So Moses made a bronze serpent and set it on a pole. Then whenever someone was bitten by a serpent and looked at the bronze snake, they lived.

3. Journey Through the Wilderness (vv. 10–20)

10 The Israelites traveled on and camped at Oboth.

11 Then they left Oboth and camped at Iye Abarim, in the wilderness near Moab on the east side.

12 From there they moved and camped in the Valley of Zered.

13 Then they moved again and camped across the Arnon River, in the wilderness that extends from the territory of the Amorites. (The Arnon is the border between Moab and the Amorites.)

14 That is why the Book of the Wars of the Lord says:

“...Waheb in Suphah and the ravines of the Arnon,
15 and the slopes of the ravines that reach to Ar and lie along the border of Moab.”

16 From there they went to Beer, the well where the Lord said to Moses, “Gather the people, and I will give them water.”

17 Then the Israelites sang this song:

“Spring up, O well!

Sing to it!

18 The leaders dug the well,
the nobles of the people hollowed it out with their scepters and their staffs.”

Then they continued from the wilderness to Mattanah,

19 from Mattanah to Nahaliel, from Nahaliel to Bamoth,

20 and from Bamoth to the valley in Moab near the top of Pisgah, which overlooks the wasteland.

4. Victory Over Sihon the Amorite King (vv. 21–31)

21 Israel sent messengers to King Sihon of the Amorites, saying,

22 “Let us pass through your land. We will stay on the King’s Highway. We won’t turn off into fields or vineyards, and we won’t drink water from your wells. We’ll go straight through until we’ve passed your territory.”

23 But Sihon refused to let Israel pass through his land. He gathered his army and went out to fight Israel in the wilderness. He came to Jahaz and attacked them.

24 But Israel struck him down with the sword and took possession of his land from the Arnon River to the Jabbok River, stopping at the border of the Ammonites because their border was heavily fortified.

25 Israel captured all the cities of the Amorites and lived in them—including Heshbon and the surrounding villages.

26 Heshbon had been the capital of Sihon king of the Amorites. He had fought against the former king of Moab and taken all his land as far as the Arnon.

27 That is why the poets say:

“Come to Heshbon,

let it be rebuilt;

let Sihon’s city be restored!

28 Fire went out from Heshbon, a flame from Sihon’s city.

It burned Ar of Moab,

the rulers of the high places of Arnon.

29 Woe to you, Moab!

You are destroyed, people of Chemosh!

He gave up his sons as fugitives, and his daughters into captivity,

to Sihon king of the Amorites.

30 We overpowered them.

Heshbon is gone as far as Dibon.

We laid waste to Nophah,
all the way to Medeba.”

31 So Israel settled in the land of the Amorites.

5. Victory Over Og King of Bashan (vv. 32–35)

32 Moses sent spies to Jaazer, and Israel captured its surrounding villages and drove out the Amorites who lived there.

33 Then they turned and went up the road to Bashan. Og, king of Bashan, came out against them with his whole army to fight at Edrei.

34 But the Lord said to Moses, “Don’t be afraid of him. I have handed him over to you, along with all his people and his land. Do to him what you did to Sihon king of the Amorites, who ruled in Heshbon.”

35 So Israel defeated Og and his sons and all his people until no one was left alive, and they took possession of his land.

Key Lessons from Numbers 21 (CSB):

- Prayer brings deliverance – When the people repented and asked Moses to pray, God responded with mercy (v. 7).
- God provides healing through faith – Looking at the bronze serpent was an act of obedience and trust, foreshadowing Christ (John 3:14–15).
- Obedience leads to victory – Every battle Israel won was after God's command and under His guidance.
- Worship flows from God's provision – The Israelites sang songs of thanksgiving when God gave them water in the wilderness (vv. 17–18).

Numbers 22 (CSB) — Balaam and the Talking Donkey

1. Israel Camps Near Moab (v. 1)

1 Then the people of Israel continued their journey and camped in the plains of Moab, across the Jordan River from Jericho.

2. Moab Fears Israel's Power (vv. 2–4)

2 King Balak, son of Zippor, saw everything Israel had done to the Amorites.

3 Moab was terrified because there were so many Israelites. They were overwhelmed with fear.

4 Moab said to the elders of Midian, “This horde will devour everything around us like an ox eats up the grass in a field.” (Balak was king of Moab at that time.)

3. Balak Sends for Balaam to Curse Israel (vv. 5–7)

5 So Balak sent messengers to summon Balaam, son of Beor, who lived in Pethor near the Euphrates River. He said, “A people has come out of Egypt and now covers the land. They’re camped right across from me.

6 Please come and curse these people for me, because they’re too powerful. Maybe then I’ll be able to defeat them and drive them out. I know that whoever you bless is blessed, and whoever you curse is cursed.”

7 So the elders of Moab and Midian went with money to pay Balaam for his services. When they arrived, they gave Balak’s message.

4. God Forbids Balaam to Curse Israel (vv. 8–14)

8 Balaam said, “Stay here overnight, and I’ll bring back a word to you as the Lord tells me.” So the Moabite officials stayed.

9 God came to Balaam and asked, “Who are these men with you?”

10 Balaam said, “Balak, king of Moab, sent them. He said a people has come out of Egypt and now covers the land. He wants me to curse them so he can drive them out.”

12 But God said, “Do not go with them. You must not curse these people, for they are blessed.”

13 The next morning Balaam told Balak’s officials, “Go back to your land. The Lord won’t let me go with you.”

14 So the Moabite princes returned and told Balak, “Balaam refuses to come with us.”

5. Balak Sends a Second Offer (vv. 15–20)

15 Then Balak sent more officials—more numerous and more distinguished.

16 They said, “This is what Balak says: Please don’t let anything stop you from coming.

17 I will greatly honor you and do whatever you say. Just come and curse these people for me.”

18 But Balaam answered, “Even if Balak gave me his palace filled with silver and gold, I cannot go against the word of the Lord my God.

19 But stay here tonight so I can find out if the Lord has anything more to say to me.”

20 That night, God came to Balaam and said, “If they come to call you, go with them. But only do what I tell you.”

6. The Donkey Sees the Angel (vv. 21–30)

21 Balaam got up early, saddled his donkey, and went with the princes of Moab.

22 But God was angry that Balaam went, so the angel of the Lord stood in the road to block him.

Balaam was riding his donkey, with two servants.

23 The donkey saw the angel of the Lord standing in the road with a sword drawn. So she turned off into a field. Balaam beat her to get her back on the road.

24 Then the angel stood in a narrow path between two vineyards, with walls on both sides.

25 When the donkey saw the angel again, she squeezed close to the wall, crushing Balaam's foot. He beat her again.

26 Then the angel stood in a tight spot where there was no room to turn at all.

27 When the donkey saw the angel, she lay down under Balaam. He was furious and beat her with his staff.

28 Then the Lord opened the donkey's mouth, and she said, "What have I done to you that you've beaten me these three times?"

29 Balaam answered, "You've made me look like a fool! If I had a sword, I'd kill you right now!"

30 The donkey replied, "Am I not your own donkey, which you've ridden all your life? Have I ever acted like this before?"

And Balaam said, "No."

7. The Angel Rebukes Balaam (vv. 31–35)

31 Then the Lord opened Balaam's eyes. He saw the angel of the Lord standing in the road with his sword drawn, and he bowed low and fell face down.

32 The angel said, "Why did you beat your donkey three times? I came to oppose you because your path is reckless.

33 The donkey saw me and turned away three times. If she hadn't, I would have killed you and spared her."

34 Balaam said, "I have sinned. I didn't realize you were standing in the road. If you're displeased, I'll go back."

35 But the angel replied, "Go with the men, but only speak what I tell you." So Balaam continued with Balak's officials.

8. Balaam Meets Balak (vv. 36–41)

36 When Balak heard Balaam was coming, he went to meet him at the Moabite border by the Arnon River.

37 He said, "Why didn't you come when I called? Don't you realize I can reward you richly?"

38 Balaam said, "I've come now, but I can only speak what God puts in my mouth."

39 Then Balaam went with Balak to Kirjath-huzoth.

40 Balak sacrificed oxen and sheep, and gave portions to Balaam and the Moabite officials.

41 The next day, Balak took Balaam to the high places of Baal, where he could see part of the Israelite camp.

Key Lessons from Numbers 22 (CSB):

- God’s blessing cannot be overturned by man — Israel was blessed, and not even a prophet-for-hire could curse what God had already approved.
- God sees our motives — Balaam’s heart was greedy, and though he sought permission, God knew his true intent.
- God can use anyone—or anything—to speak truth — Even a donkey became a prophet when the Lord willed it.
- Fear of man leads to compromise — Balak feared Israel and sought spiritual manipulation instead of humility before God.

Numbers 23 (CSB) — Balaam’s Blessings Instead of Curses

1. Balaam’s First Oracle: Israel Is Blessed (vv. 1–12)

1 Then Balaam said to Balak, “Build me seven altars here, and prepare seven bulls and seven rams for me.”

2 Balak did what Balaam said. Together they offered a bull and a ram on each altar.

3 Then Balaam said to Balak, “Stay here beside your burnt offering while I go off. Maybe the Lord will meet with me. Whatever He reveals to me, I will tell you.” And Balaam went to a barren hilltop.

4 God met with Balaam, and Balaam said, “I have prepared the seven altars, and I’ve offered a bull and a ram on each one.”

5 Then the Lord gave Balaam a message and said, “Go back to Balak and deliver this message.”

6 So Balaam returned to Balak, who was standing beside his burnt offering with all the princes of Moab.

7 Balaam spoke this message:

“Balak, king of Moab, brought me from Aram, from the eastern mountains.

‘Come,’ he said, ‘curse Jacob for me.
Come, denounce Israel.’

8 But how can I curse those whom God has not cursed?
How can I denounce those whom the Lord has not denounced?

9 I see them from the rocky peaks,
I watch them from the heights.

They are a people who live apart;
they don't consider themselves one with the other nations.

10 Who can count the dust of Jacob or number even one-fourth of Israel?
Let me die the death of the righteous, and let my end be like theirs!"

11 Balak said to Balaam, "What have you done to me? I brought you to curse my enemies, and instead, you've blessed them!"

12 But Balaam replied, "Must I not speak only what the Lord puts in my mouth?"

2. Balaam's Second Oracle: God Keeps His Word (vv. 13–26)

13 Then Balak said, "Come with me to another place. Maybe from there you can see just part of the people—not all of them. And maybe you can curse them from there."

14 So he took Balaam to the field of Zophim on the top of Mount Pisgah. Again, they built seven altars and offered a bull and a ram on each one.

15 Balaam said to Balak, "Stand here beside your burnt offering while I go to meet with the Lord."

16 The Lord met with Balaam and gave him another message, saying, "Go back to Balak and speak this to him."

17 Balaam returned, and there Balak stood beside his offering with the princes of Moab. Balak asked, "What did the Lord say?"

18 Then Balaam gave his second message:

"Rise up, Balak, and listen.
Hear me, son of Zippor:

19 God is not a man—He does not lie.
He is not human—He does not change His mind.
Has He ever spoken and failed to act?
Has He ever promised and not carried it through?

20 Look, I received a command to bless;
God has blessed, and I cannot reverse it.

21 No misfortune is seen in Jacob,
no trouble is found in Israel.
The Lord their God is with them;
the shout of a king is among them.

22 God brought them out of Egypt;
they have the strength of a wild ox.

23 There is no sorcery against Jacob,
no divination against Israel.
It will now be said of Jacob and of Israel,
'See what God has done!'

24 The people rise like a lioness;
they stand like a lion.
They do not rest until they devour their prey and drink the blood of the slain."

25 Then Balak said to Balaam, "Fine! If you won't curse them, at least don't bless them!"

26 But Balaam said, "Didn't I tell you? I can only say what the Lord tells me!"

3. Balaam's Third Attempt: Another High Place (vv. 27–30)

27 Then Balak said to Balaam, "Come with me to yet another place. Maybe God will allow you to curse them from there."

28 So Balak took Balaam to the top of Mount Peor, which overlooks the wasteland.

29 Balaam said, "Build seven altars here for me and prepare seven bulls and seven rams."

30 Balak did as Balaam said and offered a bull and a ram on each altar.

Key Lessons from Numbers 23 (CSB)

- God's will cannot be reversed by man's desire – Even though Balak desperately wanted Israel cursed, God had already declared His blessing, and no prophet could undo it.
- God is not like man—He is trustworthy and consistent (v. 19).
- God protects His people even when they don't see the spiritual battle – Israel didn't know what Balak and Balaam were planning, yet God shielded them.
- Those who are righteous in God's sight die in hope – Balaam, seeing Israel's blessing, wished to "die the death of the righteous" (v. 10), though he did not live it.

Numbers 24 (CSB) — Balaam's Final Prophecies: Blessings, the Coming King, and Judgment

1. Balaam Blesses Israel Again (vv. 1–9)

1 When Balaam realized that it pleased the Lord to bless Israel, he didn't try to use sorcery as before. Instead, he turned and looked toward the wilderness.

2 As he looked up, he saw the people of Israel camped, tribe by tribe. Then the Spirit of God came upon him,

3 and he delivered this message:

“This is the message of Balaam, son of Beor,
the message of the man whose eyes are opened,

4 the one who hears the words of God,
who sees a vision from the Almighty,
who falls into a trance with eyes wide open:

5 How beautiful are your tents, O Jacob,
your homes, O Israel!

6 They stretch out like valleys,
like gardens beside a river,
like aloes planted by the Lord,
like cedar trees beside the waters.

7 Water will flow from their buckets,
and their descendants will live by many waters.
Their king will be greater than Agag,
and their kingdom will be exalted.

8 God brought them out of Egypt;
they have the strength of a wild ox.
They devour nations that oppose them, crushing their bones and smashing them with arrows.

9 They crouch and lie down like a lion—like a lioness, who dares to rouse them?
Blessed is everyone who blesses you,
and cursed is everyone who curses you!”

2. Balak’s Anger and Balaam’s Response (vv. 10–14)

10 Then Balak’s anger burned against Balaam. He clapped his hands together and shouted, “I called you to curse my enemies, and look! You’ve blessed them three times!

11 Now get out of here! Go home! I was going to reward you greatly, but the Lord has kept you from honor.”

12 But Balaam replied, “Didn’t I tell your messengers:

13 ‘Even if Balak gave me his palace filled with silver and gold, I cannot go beyond the command of the Lord to do either good or bad on my own. I can only say what the Lord tells me’?

14 Now I’m going back to my own people. But before I go, I will tell you what this people will do to your people in the days to come.”

3. The Prophecy of the Coming King (vv. 15–19)

15 Then Balaam delivered this message:

“This is the message of Balaam, son of Beor,
the message of the man whose eyes are opened,

16 the one who hears the words of God,
and understands the knowledge of the Most High,
who sees a vision from the Almighty,
who falls into a trance with eyes wide open:

17 I see him, but not now;
I behold him, but not near.
A Star will come out of Jacob;
a Scepter will rise from Israel.
He will crush the forehead of Moab and destroy all the sons of Sheth.

18 Edom will be conquered, and Seir, his enemy, will be possessed—
but Israel will grow strong.

19 A ruler will rise from Jacob and destroy the survivors of the cities.”

4. Oracles Against Other Nations (vv. 20–24)

20 Then Balaam looked at Amalek and said:

“Amalek was the first of the nations, but its end will be total destruction.”

21 Then he looked at the Kenites and said:

“Your dwelling is secure,
your nest is set in a rock,

22 but you Kenites will be destroyed
when Assyria takes you captive.”

23 Then he said:

“Alas, who can survive when God does this?

24 Ships will come from the shores of Cyprus;
they will oppress Assyria and Eber,
but they too will come to ruin.”

5. Balaam and Balak Depart (v. 25)

25 Then Balaam got up and went back home, and Balak also went his way.

Key Lessons from Numbers 24 (CSB)

- You can't curse what God has blessed — Three times Balaam tried, but the Lord overruled.
- God reveals the future through prophecy — Balaam's final words point to a future King, the "Star out of Jacob," a Messianic prophecy fulfilled in Christ (v. 17).
- Obedience to God outweighs any earthly reward — Balaam, though imperfect, would not contradict the word of the Lord.
- God is sovereign over all nations — He decides their rise and fall, their strength and their destruction.

Numbers 25 (CSB) — Idolatry, Judgment, and Zeal for God

1. Israel's Sin with Moabite Women (vv. 1–3)

1 While the Israelites were staying in Shittim, the people began to have immoral sexual relations with the Moabite women.

2 These women invited the Israelites to join them in the sacrifices to their gods. The people ate the sacrificial meals and bowed down to their gods.

3 Israel joined in worshiping Baal of Peor, and the Lord's anger burned hot against them.

2. God Commands Swift Judgment (vv. 4–5)

4 The Lord said to Moses, "Take all the leaders of the people and execute them in broad daylight before Me. This will turn away My fierce anger from Israel."

5 So Moses told the judges of Israel, "Each of you must put to death the men in your tribes who joined in worshiping Baal of Peor."

3. Phinehas Takes Action (vv. 6–9)

6 Then an Israelite man brazenly brought a Midianite woman into his family in the sight of Moses and the entire congregation of Israel. This happened while the people were weeping at the entrance of the Tabernacle.

7 When Phinehas son of Eleazar and grandson of Aaron the priest saw this, he left the assembly, took a spear in his hand,

8 went after the Israelite man into the tent, and pierced both the man and the woman through with the spear—through her stomach. So the plague against the Israelites was stopped.

9 But 24,000 people had already died from the plague.

4. God Rewards Phinehas' Zeal (vv. 10–13)

10 Then the Lord spoke to Moses:

11 “Phinehas son of Eleazar, grandson of Aaron the priest, has turned My anger away from the Israelites by being zealous among them on My behalf. Because of him, I did not destroy them in My jealousy.

12 So tell him that I am making a covenant of peace with him.

13 This covenant gives him and his descendants a permanent priesthood, because he was zealous for his God and made atonement for the Israelites.”

5. The Offenders Are Named (vv. 14–15)

14 The Israelite man who was killed along with the Midianite woman was Zimri son of Salu, a leader from the tribe of Simeon.

15 The Midianite woman's name was Cozbi, daughter of Zur. Zur was a leader of a clan in Midian.

6. God Commands Vengeance Against Midian (vv. 16–18)

16 Then the Lord said to Moses,

17 “Attack the Midianites and destroy them,

18 because they tricked you with their deceit in the incident at Peor, and with Cozbi, the daughter of a Midianite leader, who was killed during the plague that came because of Peor.”

Key Lessons from Numbers 25 (CSB)

- Idolatry is a deadly snare — Israel's spiritual unfaithfulness brought swift and severe consequences.
- Righteous zeal matters — Phinehas' boldness in defending God's honor stopped the plague and earned God's covenant of peace.
- Sin spreads through compromise — What began with Moabite women ended in national judgment. Guarding purity is critical.
- God remembers names — Both the offenders and the faithful are named. God records both judgment and reward.

Numbers 26 (CSB) — The Second Census and Inheritance Allotment

1. A New Census After the Plague (vv. 1–4)

1 After the plague had passed, the Lord spoke to Moses and Eleazar son of Aaron the priest.

2 He said, “Count all the men in Israel twenty years old and older, by their families—everyone who is able to serve in the army.”

3 So Moses and Eleazar the priest spoke with the people in the plains of Moab by the Jordan River, across from Jericho.

4 They said, “Count every man twenty years and older, just as the Lord commanded Moses.” This census was for those who came out of Egypt.

3. Total Census Number (v. 51)

51 The total number of men counted was 601,730.

4. Land Allotment Instructions (vv. 52–56)

52 Then the Lord said to Moses,

53 “Distribute the land to these tribes as an inheritance, based on the size of each tribe.

54 A larger tribe will get a larger share, and a smaller tribe a smaller one. Everyone’s inheritance must match their census numbers.

55 However, the land must be divided by casting lots. Each tribe will receive its land based on their ancestral names.

56 The lot will decide between large and small tribes.”

5. Census of the Levites (vv. 57–62)

57 The tribe of Levi was also counted separately by their families: Gershon (Gershonites), Kohath (Kohathites), Merari (Merarites).

58 Other Levite clans: Libnites, Hebronites, Mahlites, Mushites, Korathites. Kohath was the father of Amram.

59 Amram’s wife was Jochebed, a daughter of Levi born in Egypt. She gave birth to Aaron, Moses, and Miriam.

60 Aaron’s sons: Nadab, Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar.

61 Nadab and Abihu died when they offered unauthorized fire before the Lord.

62 The total number of male Levites one month old or older was 23,000. They were not given any inheritance in the land like the other tribes.

6. A New Generation (vv. 63–65)

63 These are the people counted by Moses and Eleazar the priest on the plains of Moab by the Jordan near Jericho.

64 Not one person from the previous census taken by Moses and Aaron in the wilderness of Sinai was among them,

65 because the Lord had said, “They will all die in the wilderness.” Only Caleb son of Jephunneh and Joshua son of Nun survived.

Key Lessons from Numbers 26 (CSB)

- God keeps track of His people — every name, every tribe, every family is recorded.
- A new generation arises — God is faithful to His promises, even after judgment falls on the disobedient.
- Inheritance is part of the covenant — the land is not only a gift but also a sacred responsibility, divided by divine direction.
- Faithful leaders endure — Joshua and Caleb remain as a testimony of obedience and endurance.

Numbers 27 (CSB) — Inheritance, Transition, and Leadership

1. Zelophehad’s Daughters Ask for Their Inheritance (vv. 1–4)

1 Then the daughters of Zelophehad—son of Hephher, son of Gilead, son of Machir, son of Manasseh (from the family of Manasseh, the son of Joseph)—came forward. Their names were Mahlah, Noah, Hoglah, Milcah, and Tirzah.

2 They stood before Moses, Eleazar the priest, the tribal leaders, and the whole assembly at the entrance of the Tabernacle and said,

3 “Our father died in the wilderness. He wasn’t part of the group who rebelled against the Lord with Korah, but died for his own sin. He had no sons.

4 Why should our father’s name disappear from his family just because he had no son? Give us property among our father’s relatives.”

2. God Grants Women the Right to Inherit (vv. 5–11)

5 Moses brought their case before the Lord.

6 And the Lord said to Moses,

7 “What Zelophehad’s daughters are saying is right. You must give them an inheritance among their father’s relatives and pass his inheritance on to them.

8 And speak this rule to the Israelites: If a man dies and has no son, give his inheritance to his daughter.

9 If he has no daughter, give it to his brothers.

10 If he has no brothers, give it to his uncles.

11 If his father had no brothers, give it to the closest relative in his family line. This is a legal requirement for the people of Israel, just as I commanded Moses.”

3. God Shows Moses the Promised Land (vv. 12–14)

12 Then the Lord said to Moses, “Go up into the Abarim mountains and look at the land I have given to the people of Israel.

13 After you’ve seen it, you will be gathered to your people, just like your brother Aaron.

14 This is because you rebelled against My command at the waters of Meribah in the wilderness of Zin and failed to uphold My holiness among the people.”

4. Moses Asks for a New Leader (vv. 15–17)

15 Then Moses said to the Lord,

16 “O Lord, God of the spirits of all flesh, please appoint a man over this community

17 to lead them, to go out and come in before them, so the Lord’s people will not be like sheep without a shepherd.”

5. Joshua Chosen to Succeed Moses (vv. 18–23)

18 So the Lord said to Moses, “Take Joshua son of Nun, a man in whom is the Spirit, and lay your hand on him.

19 Present him to Eleazar the priest and the entire community, and publicly commission him.

20 Give him some of your authority so the whole community of Israel will obey him.

21 He will stand before Eleazar the priest, who will ask for guidance through the Urim before the Lord. At Eleazar’s command, Joshua and all the Israelites will go out and come in.”

22 Moses did as the Lord commanded. He took Joshua and had him stand before Eleazar the priest and the whole community.

23 Then Moses laid his hands on him and commissioned him, just as the Lord had instructed through Moses.

Key Lessons from Numbers 27 (CSB)

- God values justice and fairness, even when it challenges cultural traditions (Zelophehad’s daughters).
- The Lord cares about His people’s leadership, desiring they not be left “like sheep without a shepherd.”
- The transition of power from Moses to Joshua was Spirit-led, not politically motivated.
- Women are included in God’s covenant—their faith and courage set a precedent for future generations.

Numbers 28 (CSB) — Offerings and Appointed Times

1. Daily Offerings (vv. 1–8)

1 The Lord said to Moses,

2 “Command the people of Israel and tell them: Be sure to present to Me at the proper time My offerings—My food offerings made by fire, producing a pleasing aroma to Me.

3 Say to them: This is the fire offering you must present to the Lord every day—two lambs a year old without blemish, as a regular burnt offering.

4 Offer one lamb in the morning and the other in the evening.

5 Along with each lamb, present a grain offering of one-tenth of an ephah of fine flour mixed with a quarter of a hin of beaten oil.

6 This is the regular burnt offering established at Mount Sinai as a pleasing aroma, an offering made by fire to the Lord.

7 The drink offering to go with each lamb will be a quarter of a hin of strong wine, poured out in the holy place as an offering to the Lord.

8 Present the second lamb in the evening, just as in the morning, with the same grain and drink offering. It is a fire offering with a pleasing aroma to the Lord.”

2. Sabbath Offerings (vv. 9–10)

9 “On the Sabbath day, present two lambs a year old without blemish, together with two-tenths of an ephah of fine flour mixed with oil as a grain offering, and its drink offering.

10 This is in addition to the regular daily burnt offering and its drink offering.”

3. Monthly Offerings (vv. 11–15)

11 “At the beginning of each month, present a burnt offering to the Lord: two young bulls, one ram, and seven male lambs a year old, all without defect.

12 With each bull, offer a grain offering of three-tenths of an ephah of fine flour mixed with oil. With the ram, offer two-tenths,

13 and with each lamb, one-tenth. These are burnt offerings to the Lord, a pleasing aroma, made by fire.

14 Include drink offerings: half a hin of wine with each bull, a third of a hin with each ram, and a quarter of a hin with each lamb. These are the monthly burnt offerings for each new moon throughout the year.

15 Also offer one male goat as a sin offering to the Lord, in addition to the regular burnt offering and its drink offering.”

4. The Passover Offerings (vv. 16–25)

16 “The Lord’s Passover is to be celebrated on the fourteenth day of the first month.

17 On the fifteenth day, a feast begins. For seven days you must eat bread made without yeast.

18 On the first day, hold a sacred assembly and do no regular work.

19 Present a fire offering to the Lord: two young bulls, one ram, and seven male lambs a year old, all without defect.

20 With each bull, offer a grain offering of three-tenths of an ephah of fine flour mixed with oil. With the ram, offer two-tenths,

21 and with each lamb, one-tenth.

22 Include one male goat as a sin offering to make atonement for you.

23 These offerings are in addition to the regular morning burnt offering.

24 You must offer these same sacrifices each day for seven days as a pleasing aroma to the Lord. They are in addition to the regular burnt offering and its drink offering.

25 On the seventh day, hold another sacred assembly and do no regular work.”

5. Feast of Weeks / Firstfruits Offerings (vv. 26–31)

26 “On the day of firstfruits, when you bring the new grain offering to the Lord during the Feast of Weeks, hold a sacred assembly and do no regular work.

27 Present a burnt offering of a pleasing aroma to the Lord: two young bulls, one ram, and seven male lambs a year old.

28 With each bull, offer a grain offering of three-tenths of an ephah of fine flour mixed with oil; with the ram, two-tenths;

29 and with each lamb, one-tenth.

30 Also offer one male goat as a sin offering to make atonement for you.

31 These offerings are in addition to the regular burnt offering with its grain and drink offerings. All animals must be without defect.”

Key Lessons from Numbers 28 (CSB)

- Worship involves consistency—God commanded daily, weekly, monthly, and yearly offerings.
- Each offering reflects the holiness of God—nothing was to be blemished or neglected.
- God desires specific devotion—through structured times of worship and remembrance.
- The community is called to honor God corporately and regularly, not just in emergencies or personal needs.

Numbers 29 (CSB) — Offerings for the Seventh Month

1. Feast of Trumpets (New Moon) — First Day of the Seventh Month (vv. 1–6)

1 On the first day of the seventh month, you must hold a sacred assembly. Do no ordinary work. It is a day for blowing trumpets.

2 Present a burnt offering as a pleasing aroma to the Lord: one young bull, one ram, and seven male lambs a year old, all without defect.

3 With the bull, offer a grain offering of three-tenths of an ephah of fine flour mixed with oil; with the ram, two-tenths;

4 and with each of the seven lambs, one-tenth.

5 Also offer one male goat as a sin offering to make atonement for you.

6 These offerings are in addition to the monthly burnt offering, its grain offering, and the regular daily burnt offering with its grain and drink offerings. They are food offerings presented by fire, a pleasing aroma to the Lord.

2. Day of Atonement — Tenth Day of the Seventh Month (vv. 7–11)

7 On the tenth day of this seventh month, you must hold a sacred assembly and humble yourselves. Do no work.

8 Present a burnt offering to the Lord as a pleasing aroma: one young bull, one ram, and seven male lambs a year old, all without defect.

9 Their grain offerings are to be three-tenths of an ephah of fine flour mixed with oil for the bull, two-tenths for the ram,

10 and one-tenth for each of the seven lambs.

11 Also offer one male goat as a sin offering, in addition to the sin offering of atonement, the regular daily burnt offering, its grain offering, and drink offerings.

3. Feast of Tabernacles (Sukkot) — Fifteenth to Twenty-Second Day (vv. 12–38)

Day 1 — Fifteenth Day (vv. 12–16)

12 On the fifteenth day of the seventh month, hold a sacred assembly and do no ordinary work. Celebrate a feast to the Lord for seven days.

13 Present a burnt offering by fire as a pleasing aroma to the Lord: thirteen bulls, two rams, and fourteen male lambs a year old, all without defect.

14 Each of the thirteen bulls must be accompanied by a grain offering of three-tenths of an ephah of fine flour mixed with oil; each of the two rams, two-tenths; and for each of the fourteen lambs, one-tenth.

15 Also offer one male goat as a sin offering. These are in addition to the regular daily burnt offering, with its grain and drink offerings.

Day 2 — Sixteen Day (vv. 17–19)

17 On the second day, offer twelve bulls, two rams, and fourteen male lambs a year old, all without defect.

18 The grain and drink offerings must be prepared according to the number and pattern.

19 Include one male goat as a sin offering, in addition to the daily offerings.

Day 3 — Seventeenth Day (vv. 20–22)

20 On the third day, offer eleven bulls, two rams, and fourteen lambs a year old without defect, 21 with the required grain and drink offerings.
22 One goat is to be offered as a sin offering in addition to the daily sacrifices.

Day 4 — Eighteenth Day (vv. 23–25)

23 On the fourth day, offer ten bulls, two rams, and fourteen lambs a year old without defect.
24 Grain and drink offerings must match each offering.
25 Include one goat for a sin offering with the daily offerings.

Day 5 — Nineteenth Day (vv. 26–28)

26 On the fifth day, offer nine bulls, two rams, and fourteen lambs a year old without defect.
27 Offer the grain and drink offerings as prescribed.
28 Include one goat for a sin offering with the daily offerings.

Day 6 — Twentieth Day (vv. 29–31)

29 On the sixth day, offer eight bulls, two rams, and fourteen lambs a year old without defect.
30 Prepare the proper grain and drink offerings.
31 Include one goat for a sin offering in addition to the regular burnt offering and its grain and drink offerings.

Day 7 — Twenty-First Day (vv. 32–34)

32 On the seventh day, offer seven bulls, two rams, and fourteen lambs a year old without defect.
33 Their grain and drink offerings are to be prepared according to number and regulation.
34 Also offer one goat for a sin offering along with the daily offerings.

Day 8 — Solemn Assembly (vv. 35–38)

35 On the eighth day, hold a solemn assembly. Do no regular work.
36 Offer one bull, one ram, and seven lambs a year old without defect as a burnt offering by fire, a pleasing aroma to the Lord.
37 Present the required grain and drink offerings.
38 Include one male goat for a sin offering, along with the regular burnt offering, its grain offering, and drink offering.

4. Summary of Offerings for the Lord's Festivals (vv. 39–40)

39 “You must present these to the Lord during your appointed festivals, in addition to your vows, your freewill offerings, your burnt offerings, grain offerings, drink offerings, and fellowship offerings.”
40 And Moses told the Israelites everything the Lord had commanded him.

Key Lessons from Numbers 29 (CSB)

- Worship is seasonal and sacred: God's appointed festivals were structured with precision and reverence.
- God's people were reminded regularly of their dependence on Him, through sacrifices and holy convocations.
- The decreasing number of bulls (13 to 7) symbolizes completion and divine order across the feast days.
- Each sacrifice reflected atonement, gratitude, and obedience—a shadow of Christ's ultimate fulfillment.

Numbers 30 (CSB) — Laws Concerning Vows

1. The Binding Nature of Vows (vv. 1–2)

1 Moses spoke to the leaders of the tribes of the people of Israel. He said, “This is what the Lord has commanded:

2 If a man makes a vow to the Lord or swears an oath to bind himself with a promise, he must not break his word. He must do everything he said he would do.”

2. Vows Made by Young Women at Home (vv. 3–5)

3 If a young woman makes a vow to the Lord or binds herself with a pledge while living in her father's house,

4 and her father hears about her vow or pledge and says nothing, then her vow stands, and her pledge is binding.

5 But if her father objects on the day he hears of it, none of her vows or pledges will stand. The Lord will forgive her because her father overruled her.

3. Vows Made by a Married Woman (vv. 6–8)

6 If a woman makes a vow or binds herself with a promise after she is married,

7 and her husband hears of it but says nothing on the day he hears it, her vows will stand, and her pledges will be binding.

8 But if her husband objects when he hears about it, he nullifies her vow or the promise she made. The Lord will forgive her.

4. Vows Made by Widows and Divorced Women (v. 9)

9 Any vow or pledge a widow or a divorced woman makes is fully binding.

5. Vows Made During Marriage (vv. 10–15)

10 If a married woman makes a vow or binds herself with a promise,

11 and her husband hears it but says nothing and does not object, then all her vows and pledges will remain valid.

12 But if her husband cancels them on the day he hears of them, then nothing she promised or pledged will be valid. Her husband has nullified them, and the Lord will forgive her.

13 Her husband may confirm or cancel any vow or binding oath she makes to deny herself.

14 If he says nothing about it day after day, then he has confirmed all her vows and pledges by remaining silent when he heard about them.

15 But if he cancels them sometime later after hearing about them, then he is responsible for any guilt that results.

6. Summary of the Statutes (v. 16)

16 These are the regulations the Lord gave Moses concerning relationships between a man and his wife, and between a father and his unmarried daughter who still lives at home.

Key Lessons from Numbers 30 (CSB)

- God takes our words seriously: A vow to God is not a casual statement—He expects follow-through.
- Authority structure was respected: Fathers and husbands had authority over vows in their homes.
- Grace and mercy: If the vow was overruled, the woman was not held accountable—God forgave her.
- Responsibility and accountability: Silence in leadership equaled agreement. With authority came accountability.

Numbers 31 (CSB) — Vengeance on Midian and Distribution of the Spoils

1. God's Command to Avenge Israel (vv. 1–6)

1 The Lord said to Moses,

2 “Take vengeance on the Midianites for leading the Israelites into sin. After that, you will be gathered to your people.”

3 So Moses told the people, “Choose some men to go to war. The Lord’s vengeance must be carried out against Midian.”

4 A thousand men from each of the twelve tribes of Israel were selected to fight.

5 That totaled twelve thousand men, armed for battle.

6 Moses sent them to war—1,000 from each tribe—along with Phinehas, the son of Eleazar the priest, who carried the holy items and the trumpets for sounding the battle call.

2. Israel Defeats Midian (vv. 7–12)

7 They fought against Midian as the Lord had commanded Moses, and they killed all the Midianite men.

8 They also killed the five kings of Midian: Evi, Rekem, Zur, Hur, and Reba. Balaam son of Beor was also killed with the sword.

9 The Israelites captured all the Midianite women and children. They took all the cattle, flocks, and goods as plunder.

10 They burned all the Midianite towns and camps.

11 They took all the spoils and people as captives.

12 Then they brought everything—captives, goods, and spoils—back to Moses, Eleazar the priest, and the Israelite community at their camp on the plains of Moab near the Jordan River, across from Jericho.

3. Moses Rebukes the Officers (vv. 13–20)

13 Moses, Eleazar the priest, and the tribal leaders went outside the camp to meet the returning army.

14 Moses was angry with the officers—the commanders of thousands and hundreds—who were returning from battle.

15 “Why have you let all the women live?” Moses demanded.

16 “They are the ones who followed Balaam’s advice and caused the Israelites to sin at Peor, bringing a plague upon the Lord’s people.

17 So now, kill every male child and every woman who has slept with a man.

18 But keep alive all the young girls who have not known a man.”

19 Moses continued, “Stay outside the camp for seven days. Anyone who has killed someone or touched a dead body must purify themselves and their captives on the third and seventh days.

20 Purify all clothing, leather, goat hair, and wooden articles.”

4. Purification of the Plunder (vv. 21–24)

21 Eleazar the priest said to the soldiers, “This is what the law that the Lord gave Moses commands:

22 Gold, silver, bronze, iron, tin, and lead—

23 anything that can survive fire—must be passed through the fire and then purified with water for cleansing.

24 Anything that cannot withstand fire must be purified with water alone. Wash your clothes on the seventh day, and you will be clean. After that, you may come into the camp.”

5. Division of the Spoils (vv. 25–47)

25 The Lord said to Moses,

26 “You, Eleazar the priest, and the leaders of the community must take a count of the spoils—both people and animals.

27 Divide the spoils evenly between the soldiers who went to war and the rest of the community.

28 From the soldiers’ portion, take a tribute for the Lord—one out of every 500 people, cattle, donkeys, and sheep.

29 Give this tribute to Eleazar the priest as an offering to the Lord.

30 From the Israelites’ share, take one out of every 50 people and animals and give it to the Levites who are responsible for the tabernacle.”

31 Moses and Eleazar did exactly as the Lord commanded.

32 The total plunder from the war was:

- 675,000 sheep,
- 72,000 cattle,
- 61,000 donkeys,
- 32,000 women who had never slept with a man.

From the soldiers' half:

- 337,500 sheep (675 given to the Lord),
- 36,000 cattle (72 given to the Lord),
- 30,500 donkeys (61 given to the Lord),
- 16,000 women (32 given to the Lord).

From the community's half:

- 337,500 sheep,
- 36,000 cattle,
- 30,500 donkeys,
- 16,000 women.

Moses took one out of every fifty from the community’s share and gave them to the Levites who took care of the tabernacle, just as the Lord had commanded.

6. Offering of Gold from the Officers (vv. 48–54)

48 The officers over the thousands and hundreds approached Moses.

49 They said, “We’ve counted the soldiers under our command, and not one is missing!

50 So we are bringing an offering to the Lord—gold items each man took for himself: bracelets, chains, rings, earrings, and ornaments—to make atonement for our souls before the Lord.”

51 Moses and Eleazar accepted the gold and all the jewelry.

52 The total gold given as an offering by the officers was 16,750 shekels.

53 (The soldiers had also taken spoils for themselves.)

54 Moses and Eleazar brought the gold into the tabernacle as a memorial offering before the Lord on behalf of all Israel.

Key Lessons from Numbers 31 (CSB)

- God's justice is active and holy: The war against Midian was not for revenge but divine judgment.
- Sin brings consequence: Balaam's counsel led to thousands dying from the plague—God didn't forget.
- Holiness requires purification: Even in victory, God's people were called to cleanse themselves and their possessions.
- Thankfulness and generosity: The officers' voluntary offering reminds us to honor God when He brings us through battle safely.

Numbers 32 (CSB) — Settling East of the Jordan

1. The Request of Reuben and Gad (vv. 1–5)

1 The tribes of Reuben and Gad owned a very large number of livestock. When they saw that the lands of Jazer and Gilead were ideal for cattle,

2 they approached Moses, Eleazar the priest, and the leaders of Israel,

3 and said, “We’ve seen the lands of Ataroth, Dibon, Jazer, Nimrah, Heshbon, Elealeh, Shebam, Nebo, and Beon—

4 this land that the Lord conquered for the people of Israel is perfect for livestock, and your servants have cattle.

5 So if we’ve found favor with you, please let us have this land as our inheritance. Don’t make us cross the Jordan.”

2. Moses Rebukes Their Intentions (vv. 6–15)

6 But Moses said to the people of Gad and Reuben, “Should your brothers go to war while you sit here?

7 Why are you trying to discourage the rest of the Israelites from going into the land the Lord is giving them?

8 This is exactly what your ancestors did when I sent them from Kadesh-barnea to scout out the land.

9 When they reached the Valley of Eshcol and saw the land, they discouraged the people from entering the land the Lord had given them.

10 The Lord was angry and swore,

11 ‘None of the men who came out of Egypt, 20 years old or older, will see the land I promised to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, because they did not fully follow me—

12 except Caleb son of Jephunneh the Kenizzite and Joshua son of Nun. They followed me completely.’

13 The Lord was so angry that He made them wander in the wilderness for forty years until the whole generation of sinful people had died.

14 And now here you are—a new generation of sinful people, taking your fathers’ place and making the Lord even angrier!

15 If you turn away from Him now, He will abandon the people again in the wilderness, and you will be the cause of their destruction.”

3. A Compromise Is Proposed (vv. 16–19)

16 Then they approached Moses and said, “We’ll build pens for our livestock and towns for our families here,

17 but we ourselves will be ready for battle and go ahead of the Israelites until they’ve all received their inheritance. Our children will stay in fortified towns for safety.

18 We will not return to our homes until every Israelite has received his share of the land.

19 We’re not asking for any land on the west side of the Jordan, because our share is on the east side.”

4. Moses Agrees Under Conditions (vv. 20–24)

20 Moses said, “If you do as you’ve promised—go armed before the Lord into battle,

21 and cross the Jordan ready to fight until the Lord drives out His enemies—

22 and the land is conquered—then you can return and be free from guilt before the Lord and the Israelites. This land will then belong to you.

23 But if you don’t keep your word, you will have sinned against the Lord—and be sure your sin will find you out.

24 So build your towns and sheepfolds, and do exactly what you’ve said.”

5. The Tribes Accept the Terms (vv. 25–27)

25 The people of Gad and Reuben replied, “We, your servants, will do exactly what you’ve commanded.

26 Our children, wives, flocks, and cattle will stay here in the towns of Gilead,

27 but all of us who are able will cross over to fight before the Lord, just as you have said.”

6. The Agreement is Formalized (vv. 28–32)

28 Moses then gave instructions about them to Eleazar the priest, Joshua son of Nun, and the leaders of the tribes.

29 He said, “If the tribes of Gad and Reuben cross the Jordan with you, ready to fight before the Lord, and the land is conquered, give them the land of Gilead.

30 But if they do not go over with you armed, they must accept a portion of land with you in Canaan.”

31 The people of Gad and Reuben replied, “We will do what the Lord has said.

32 We will cross over and fight before the Lord in Canaan, so the land east of the Jordan will be ours.”

7. Land Distribution and City Building (vv. 33–42)

33 So Moses gave the land to the tribes of Gad and Reuben and to half the tribe of Manasseh (son of Joseph). It included the kingdom of Sihon king of the Amorites and the kingdom of Og king of Bashan—their cities and surrounding lands.

The people of Gad built:

- Dibon, Ataroth, Aroer,
- Atroth-shophan, Jazer, Jogbehah,
- Beth-nimrah, and Beth-haran—fortified cities and sheep pens.

The people of Reuben built:

- Heshbon, Elealeh, Kirjathaim,
- Nebo, Baal-meon (renaming them),
- And Shibmah.

The descendants of Machir (son of Manasseh) went to Gilead, took it from the Amorites, and settled there.

40 Moses gave Gilead to Machir, and he lived there.

41 Jair, another son of Manasseh, captured nearby villages and called them Havoth-jair.

42 Nobah conquered Kenath and its surrounding villages and named it after himself.

Key Lessons from Numbers 32 (CSB)

- Desire without duty is selfishness: Reuben and Gad wanted land, but Moses reminded them of their duty to fight alongside their brothers.
- Faithfulness keeps unity: Their commitment to go to battle first ensured peace and unity among the tribes.
- Promises matter to God: Moses warned them, “Be sure your sin will find you out.” Keeping vows to God is serious.
- God honors wise agreements: When commitments are fulfilled, God blesses with peace and inheritance.

Numbers 33 (CSB) — Israel’s Journey from Egypt to the Promised Land

1. Moses Records Israel’s Journey (vv. 1–4)

1 These are the stages of the journey the Israelites took as they left Egypt in organized groups under the leadership of Moses and Aaron.

2 At the Lord’s command, Moses recorded each place they traveled to as they set out. Here is the record of their journey, step by step:

3 They left Rameses on the fifteenth day of the first month—the day after the Passover. With great confidence, the Israelites marched out in full view of the Egyptians,

4 who were still burying their firstborn sons, struck down by the Lord. The Lord had also brought judgment on their gods.

2. The Route Through the Wilderness (vv. 5–49)

5 The Israelites left Rameses and camped at Succoth.

6 From Succoth, they went to Etham, on the edge of the wilderness.

7 From Etham, they turned back to Pi-hahiroth, opposite Baal-zephon, and camped near Migdol.

8 They left Pi-hahiroth, crossed through the Red Sea into the wilderness, and after traveling for three days into the wilderness of Etham, they camped at Marah.

9 From Marah, they went to Elim, where there were twelve springs and seventy palm trees, and they camped there.

10 Then they left Elim and camped by the Red Sea.

11 From the Red Sea, they traveled to the wilderness of Sin.

12 From there to Dophkah,

13 then to Alush,

14 and to Rephidim, where there was no water for the people to drink.

15 From Rephidim, they went to the wilderness of Sinai.

16 Then to Kibroth-hattaavah,

17 Hazeroth,
18 Rithmah,
19 Rimmon-perez,
20 Libnah,
21 Rissah,
22 Kehelathah,
23 Mount Shapher,
24 Haradah,
25 Makheloth,
26 Tahath,
27 Tarah,
28 Mithcah,
29 Hashmonah,
30 Moseroth,
31 Bene-jaakan,
32 Hor-hagidgad,
33 Jotbathah,
34 Ebronah,
35 Ezion-geber,
36 and then into the wilderness of Zin at Kadesh.
37 From Kadesh, they traveled to Mount Hor, on the edge of Edom.
38 It was there that Aaron the priest climbed Mount Hor at the Lord's command and died. This happened on the first day of the fifth month in the fortieth year after they left Egypt.
39 Aaron was 123 years old when he died on Mount Hor.
40 The Canaanite king of Arad, who lived in the Negev in Canaan, heard that the Israelites were coming.
41 They left Mount Hor and camped at Zalmonah,
42 then Punon,
43 Oboth,
44 Iye-abarim, on the border of Moab,
45 Iim,
46 Dibon-gad,
47 Almon-diblathaim,
48 the mountains of Abarim near Nebo,
49 and finally camped in the plains of Moab by the Jordan River across from Jericho. Their camp stretched from Beth-jeshimoth to Abel-shittim in the plains of Moab.

3. Instructions for Possessing the Land (vv. 50–56)

50 While they were camped by the Jordan across from Jericho, the Lord spoke to Moses:
51 "Tell the Israelites: When you cross the Jordan into the land of Canaan, 52 you must drive out all the people living there. Destroy all their carved images, cast idols, and demolish their high places.

53 Take possession of the land and settle in it, because I have given it to you to own.

54 Distribute the land by casting lots among your families. Give a larger inheritance to larger tribes, and a smaller one to smaller tribes. The land each tribe receives will be assigned by lot according to their ancestral tribes.

55 But if you don't drive out the people who live in the land, those you allow to remain will become like splinters in your eyes and thorns in your sides. They will harass you in the land where you live.

56 And I will do to you what I had planned to do to them."

Key Lessons from Numbers 33 (CSB)

- God keeps detailed records: Every step of Israel's journey was recorded by Moses at the Lord's command. God remembers where we've been.
- The past reminds us of His faithfulness: This long list of campsites is a testimony of God's provision and patience over 40 years.
- Obedience is necessary for inheritance: God promised the land—but it required obedience to remove sin and idolatry.
- Compromise with sin has consequences: Leaving Canaanites in the land would bring trouble—just as compromise in our hearts invites pain.

Numbers 34 (CSB) — Boundaries and Division of the Promised Land

1. The Lord Defines the Borders of Canaan (vv. 1–12)

1 The Lord spoke to Moses, saying,

2 "Tell the Israelites: When you enter the land of Canaan, it will be given to you as your inheritance. These are the boundaries of the land of Canaan:

3 The southern border will begin at the wilderness of Zin, along the border of Edom. It will start on the east side at the southern tip of the Dead Sea.

4 Then it will run south past the Scorpion Pass to Zin, continue south of Kadesh-barnea, then to Hazar-addar, and on to Azmon.

5 From Azmon, it will turn toward the Brook of Egypt, and its end will be at the Mediterranean Sea.

6 Your western border will be the Mediterranean Sea—this is your entire western boundary.

7 For the northern border, draw a line from the Mediterranean Sea to Mount Hor.

8 From Mount Hor, go to the entrance of Hamath, then on to Zedad,

9 continuing to Ziphron and ending at Hazar-enan. This will be your northern boundary.

10 The eastern border will run from Hazar-enan to Shepham,

11 then down to Riblah on the east side of Ain. From there it will go down to the eastern shore of the Sea of Galilee (Chinnereth),

12 and then follow the Jordan River down to the Dead Sea. These are the boundaries surrounding your land.”

2. Inheritance for Nine and a Half Tribes (vv. 13–15)

13 Then Moses commanded the Israelites, “This is the land you will divide by lot as your inheritance—the land the Lord has assigned to the nine and a half tribes.

14 The tribes of Reuben and Gad, and half the tribe of Manasseh, have already received their inheritance

15 on the east side of the Jordan River, across from Jericho, facing the sunrise.”

3. Leaders Appointed to Divide the Land (vv. 16–29)

16 The Lord said to Moses,

17 “These are the men who will divide the land among you: Eleazar the priest and Joshua son of Nun.

18 Take one leader from each tribe to help with the division.

19 Here are the names of those leaders:

- From Judah: Caleb son of Jephunneh
- 20 - From Simeon: Shemuel son of Ammihud
- 21 - From Benjamin: Elidad son of Chislon
- 22 - From Dan: Bukki son of Jogli
- 23 - From Manasseh (Joseph’s tribe): Hanniel son of Ephod
- 24 - From Ephraim (Joseph’s tribe): Kemuel son of Shiptan
- 25 - From Zebulun: Elizaphan son of Parnach
- 26 - From Issachar: Paltiel son of Azzan
- 27 - From Asher: Ahitud son of Shelomi
- 28 - From Naphtali: Pedahel son of Ammihud

29 These are the men the Lord appointed to divide the inheritance among the Israelites in the land of Canaan.

Key Lessons from Numbers 34 (CSB)

- God sets clear boundaries: Just as the land had defined borders, our lives thrive within God’s ordered direction.
- Each tribe has a portion: Everyone in God’s family has a share—none are forgotten.
- Leadership matters: Faithful leaders like Joshua and Caleb were entrusted to guide the division of the land fairly.

- God honors commitment: The tribes who helped fight for the land before settling were honored with inheritance east of the Jordan.

Numbers 35 (CSB) — The Cities for the Levites and the Cities of Refuge

1. Cities Given to the Levites (vv. 1–8)

1 The Lord spoke to Moses in the plains of Moab by the Jordan near Jericho, saying,

2 “Command the Israelites to give the Levites cities from the land they will inherit—places where the Levites can live. Also give them pastureland around these cities.

3 These cities will be homes for them, and the pasturelands will be for their cattle, livestock, and other animals.

4 The pastures around each city will extend 1,000 cubits (about 1,500 feet) out from the city walls in every direction.

5 You must measure 2,000 cubits (about 3,000 feet) outside the city to the east, south, west, and north—the city in the middle with the pastures surrounding it.

6 Among the cities you give the Levites, choose six cities of refuge, where someone who has accidentally killed a person can run for safety. In addition to these six, give them forty-two other cities.

7 In all, you must give the Levites forty-eight cities, along with the pastures around them.

8 These cities will come from the tribes’ own inheritance—more from larger tribes and fewer from smaller ones, depending on the size of their land.”

2. Purpose of the Cities of Refuge (vv. 9–15)

9 The Lord said to Moses,

10 “Tell the Israelites: When you cross the Jordan into the land of Canaan,

11 designate some cities as cities of refuge. If someone kills another person accidentally, they can flee there for protection.

12 These cities will protect the person from the relative seeking revenge, until the case can be judged properly by the community.

13 Set aside six cities in total as cities of refuge.

14 Three cities must be on the east side of the Jordan and three in Canaan.

15 These cities are for the Israelites, foreigners, and traveling strangers. Anyone who kills someone unintentionally may flee there.”

3. Punishment for Murderers (vv. 16–21)

16 “If someone kills another with an iron object, they are a murderer and must be put to death.

17 If they strike someone with a stone that can kill and the person dies, it is murder.

18 If they use a wooden weapon that can kill and someone dies, it is murder. The killer must be executed.

19 The nearest relative of the victim is the avenger of blood. He must kill the murderer when he finds him.

20 If the killer struck the victim out of hatred, ambushed them, or intentionally attacked with violence,
21 and the victim dies, then it is murder. The killer must be put to death by the avenger of blood.”

4. Cases of Accidental Killing (vv. 22–25)

22 “But if someone kills another suddenly and without hatred,
23 or accidentally throws a stone without seeing them and kills them,
24 then the community must judge fairly between the killer and the avenger of blood.
25 If it’s ruled accidental, the community must protect the killer from the avenger and bring him back to his city of refuge, where he must stay until the high priest dies.”

5. Rules for Staying in the City of Refuge (vv. 26–28)

26 “If the killer ever leaves the city of refuge,
27 and the avenger of blood finds and kills him, the avenger is not guilty.
28 The killer must remain in the city of refuge until the high priest dies. Only then may he return to his own land.”

6. Justice, Not Revenge (vv. 29–34)

29 “These rules are permanent for all generations wherever you live.
30 Anyone who kills another must be put to death only if there are two or more witnesses. One witness is not enough to sentence someone to death.
31 You must not accept payment to let a murderer avoid execution.
32 Nor can a killer pay to leave a city of refuge early.
33 Do not defile the land with bloodshed. Blood pollutes the land, and only the death of the one who shed it can cleanse it.
34 Do not defile the land you will live in, for I, the Lord, dwell among the people of Israel.”

Key Lessons from Numbers 35 (CSB)

- God values justice over vengeance — even in cases of accidental death.
- Cities of refuge reflect God’s mercy and structure for due process.
- The Levites were scattered throughout Israel to serve as spiritual leaders.
- Murder is a serious offense and cannot be ignored or bribed away.
- God dwells among His people and expects the land to reflect His holiness.

Numbers 36 (CSB) — Keeping the Inheritance Within the Tribe

1. A Concern About Tribal Inheritance (vv. 1–4)

1 Then the leaders of the families from the clan of Gilead (son of Machir, son of Manasseh, from the tribe of Joseph) came to speak with Moses and the other leaders of Israel.

2 They said, “The Lord commanded you to give land to the people of Israel as their inheritance by casting lots. And the Lord also told you to give the inheritance of our relative Zelophehad to his daughters.

3 But if they marry men from another tribe, their land will become part of that tribe’s inheritance. When the Year of Jubilee comes, their land will permanently belong to that other tribe and be lost from our tribe’s share.”

4 “In the Jubilee, their inheritance will be added to the tribe they marry into, and it will be taken from our ancestral land.”

2. The Lord’s Answer Through Moses (vv. 5–9)

5 So Moses gave the Israelites a ruling from the Lord: “The tribe of Joseph’s descendants is right in what they say.

6 Here is what the Lord commands about the daughters of Zelophehad: They may marry anyone they wish, but only within their own tribe.

7 That way, no inheritance in Israel will pass from one tribe to another. Each tribe must keep the land given to them by their ancestors.

8 Any Israelite woman who inherits land must marry someone from her own tribe, so every family will keep its land.

9 No inheritance may pass from one tribe to another. Every tribe must keep its own inheritance.”

3. The Daughters of Zelophehad Obey (vv. 10–12)

10 The daughters of Zelophehad obeyed the Lord’s command through Moses.

11 Mahlah, Tirzah, Hoglah, Milcah, and Noah married their cousins—sons of their father’s brothers.

12 They married within the tribe of Manasseh, son of Joseph, so their inheritance stayed within their tribe and their father’s family line.

4. Conclusion of the Book (v. 13)

13 These are the commands and decisions that the Lord gave through Moses to the people of Israel while they were camped in the plains of Moab by the Jordan River near Jericho.

Key Lessons from Numbers 36 (CSB)

- God values order and fairness—tribal inheritances were preserved to avoid conflict and confusion.
- Marriage impacted property laws in ancient Israel and was governed to protect family heritage.
- The daughters of Zelophehad serve as a model of obedience, faith, and courage.
- Tribal identity mattered—God maintained each family's heritage even in complex legal cases.

Introduction to the Book of Deuteronomy

Crawford Bible Commentary

Title and Meaning

The word “Deuteronomy” comes from the Greek Deuteronomion, meaning “second law.” This does not mean God gave a new law, but rather that Moses repeated and expounded the law for a new generation of Israelites. In Hebrew, the title is taken from the first words of the book: “These are the words...” (Elleh ha-devarim), emphasizing that this is a heartfelt message from Moses.

Author and Date

Deuteronomy is traditionally attributed to Moses as the author (see Deuteronomy 1:1, 31:9, 31:24). The book contains Moses’ final sermons, instructions, and prophetic blessings given to Israel just before his death. It was likely written around 1405 B.C., just before Israel crossed the Jordan River into the Promised Land. The final chapter (Deuteronomy 34), which recounts Moses’ death, was likely added by Joshua or another inspired scribe.

Historical Background

Deuteronomy takes place in the plains of Moab, after forty years of wilderness wandering. The previous generation had died because of unbelief (Numbers 14:29–35), and now a new generation stood on the brink of entering Canaan. Before they inherited the land, Moses gathered them to remind them of God’s covenant, His laws, and their identity as God’s chosen people.

This was Moses’ farewell address, a final plea to remember the Lord, obey His commandments, and remain faithful.

Purpose and Message

The purpose of Deuteronomy is to:

1. Review God's law in the form of sermons (not just legislation).
2. Instruct a new generation how to live in covenant faithfulness in the land.
3. Call Israel to wholehearted love for the Lord (Deuteronomy 6:5).
4. Warn against idolatry, forgetfulness, and compromise.

Deuteronomy emphasizes that obedience brings blessing, but disobedience leads to curses and exile (see chapters 28–30). The book also looks forward to a time when Israel will rebel and be scattered, but God will gather them again if they return to Him (Deut. 30:1–6). It reveals God's heart—a God of justice, mercy, covenant, and compassion.

Key Themes

- Covenant renewal and the relationship between God and His people
 - Love and loyalty to God
 - Obedience from the heart (not just ritual)
 - God's faithfulness in history
 - Blessings for obedience, curses for rebellion
 - Warning against idolatry and foreign influences
 - The importance of teaching future generations

Christ in Deuteronomy

Deuteronomy contains some of the clearest Messianic prophecies in the Torah. In Deuteronomy 18:15, Moses speaks of “a Prophet like me” whom God would raise up—this is fulfilled in Jesus Christ (Acts 3:22–23). Jesus also quoted Deuteronomy during His temptation in the wilderness (Matthew 4:1–11), showing that the Word of God is the weapon of the believer.

Structure of Deuteronomy

Deuteronomy is structured like an ancient covenant treaty, and it divides naturally into several parts:

1. Historical Prologue (Ch. 1–4) – Review of Israel's journey
2. Legal Code (Ch. 5–26) – Repetition and expansion of God's laws
3. Blessings and Curses (Ch. 27–30) – Covenant consequences

4. Final Instructions and Farewell (Ch. 31–34) – Moses’ last words, the Song of Moses, and his death

Why Deuteronomy Matters Today

Deuteronomy is not just a repetition of old laws—it’s a passionate call to love, obey, and remember God. It emphasizes teaching children, staying faithful in prosperity, and worshiping God alone. Its warnings are still relevant in an age of compromise, and its promises point us to Jesus, the faithful Israelite and the ultimate lawgiver.

As you read Deuteronomy, you are hearing the voice of a spiritual father pleading with his children: “Choose life!” (Deuteronomy 30:19)

Deuteronomy Chapter 1 (Crawford Standard Bible)

1. Introduction and Setting the Stage (Verses 1–5)

1 These are the words Moses spoke to all the people of Israel east of the Jordan River, in the wilderness, in the plains across from the Red Sea, near Paran, Tophel, Laban, Hazeroth, and Dizahab.

2 (It’s an eleven-day journey from Mount Horeb to Kadesh-barnea by way of Mount Seir.)

3 On the first day of the eleventh month in the fortieth year, Moses gave the Israelites all the instructions the Lord had commanded him to give.

4 This was after he had defeated Sihon king of the Amorites, who lived in Heshbon, and Og king of Bashan, who lived in Ashtaroth at Edrei.

5 While the Israelites were camped in the land of Moab, east of the Jordan, Moses carefully explained this law, saying:

2. God’s Command to Leave Horeb (Verses 6–8)

6 “The Lord our God said to us at Mount Horeb, ‘You’ve stayed at this mountain long enough.

7 Break camp and set out for the hill country of the Amorites and all the surrounding regions—the plains, the hill country, the lowlands, the Negev, and the coastal areas, including the land of the Canaanites and Lebanon, as far as the great Euphrates River.

8 Look, I have given you this land. Go in and take possession of it, just as the Lord swore to give it to your ancestors—Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob—and to their descendants after them.”

3. Appointing Leaders to Help Judge the People (Verses 9–18)

9 At that time I said to you, ‘I can’t handle all of you by myself.

10 The Lord your God has increased your numbers, and today you are as many as the stars in the sky.

11 May the Lord, the God of your ancestors, multiply you a thousand times more and bless you, just as He promised!

12 But how can I carry the burden of all your problems, disputes, and complaints by myself?

13 Choose wise, understanding, and respected men from each of your tribes, and I will appoint them as your leaders.’

14 You agreed and said, ‘That’s a good idea.’

15 So I took the leaders of your tribes—wise and respected men—and appointed them as your leaders: commanders over thousands, hundreds, fifties, and tens, and as tribal officials.

16 Then I instructed your judges: ‘Hear the cases between your people and judge fairly, whether the case is between two Israelites or between an Israelite and a foreigner living among you.

17 Don’t show partiality in judgment. Listen to small and great alike. Don’t be afraid of anyone, for judgment belongs to God. If any case is too difficult, bring it to me, and I’ll handle it.’

18 And I gave you all the commands you needed at that time.

4. The Journey to Kadesh and the Refusal to Enter (Verses 19–33)

19 “Then we left Mount Horeb and traveled through that vast and terrible wilderness, as the Lord our God had commanded. We finally arrived at Kadesh-barnea.

20 I said, ‘You’ve come to the hill country of the Amorites, which the Lord our God is giving us.

21 Look! The Lord your God has given you this land. Go up and take possession of it, just as He told us. Don’t be afraid or discouraged.’

22 But all of you came to me and said, ‘Let’s send out scouts to explore the land and give us a report about the route we should take and which cities we’ll encounter.’

23 That idea seemed good to me, so I chose twelve men, one from each tribe.

24 They went up into the hill country and came to the Valley of Eshcol and explored it.

25 They brought back some of the fruit and reported, ‘It’s a good land the Lord our God is giving us!’

26 But you refused to go. You rebelled against the Lord’s command.

27 You complained in your tents, saying, ‘The Lord hates us! He brought us out of Egypt just to let the Amorites destroy us.

28 Where can we go? Our brothers have made us lose heart. They said the people there are stronger and taller than we are. Their cities are huge and fortified. And we even saw the Anakim giants there!’

29 But I told you, ‘Don’t be terrified or afraid of them.

30 The Lord your God goes before you! He will fight for you, just like He did in Egypt.

31 You saw how the Lord carried you through the wilderness, like a father carries his child, all the way until you arrived here.’

32 But even after all this, you didn’t trust the Lord your God,

33 who went ahead of you in fire by night and cloud by day, guiding you to a place to camp and showing you the way to go.”

5. God’s Judgment on that Generation (Verses 34–40)

34 “When the Lord heard your complaining, He became angry and swore,

35 ‘Not one of this evil generation will see the good land I swore to give to your ancestors,

36 except Caleb son of Jephunneh. He will see it, and I will give him and his descendants the land he walked on, because he followed the Lord completely.’

37 The Lord was also angry with me because of you. He said, ‘You too will not enter the land.

38 But Joshua son of Nun, your assistant, will lead them in. Encourage him, for he will cause Israel to inherit the land.

39 Your children, whom you said would become plunder, and your little ones who don’t yet know good from evil—they will enter the land. I will give it to them, and they will take possession of it.

40 But you—turn around and head back into the wilderness toward the Red Sea.”

6. Israel’s Presumptuous Disobedience (Verses 41–46)

41 “Then you said, ‘We have sinned against the Lord! We’ll go up and fight, just as the Lord our God commanded us.’ So every man put on his weapons and thought it would be easy to invade the hill country.

42 But the Lord told me, ‘Warn them not to go up and fight, because I will not be with them. If they go, they will be defeated by their enemies.’

43 I told you, but you wouldn’t listen. You rebelled again and arrogantly marched up into the hill country.

44 Then the Amorites living there came out and attacked you like a swarm of bees. They chased you all the way down from Seir to Hormah.

45 Then you returned and wept before the Lord, but He refused to listen.

46 So you stayed at Kadesh for a long time.”

Deuteronomy 1 – Crawford Standard Bible (CSB)

1. Introduction and Setting (Verses 1–5)

1 These are the words Moses spoke to all the people of Israel while they were still east of the Jordan River, in the wilderness, across from the Red Sea, near the places of Paran, Tophel, Laban, Hazeroth, and Dizahab.

2 It takes eleven days to travel from Mount Horeb to Kadesh-barnea by way of Mount Seir.

3 On the first day of the eleventh month in the fortieth year, Moses spoke to the Israelites everything the Lord had commanded him to tell them.

4 This was after Moses had defeated King Sihon of the Amorites, who lived in Heshbon, and King Og of Bashan, who lived in Ashtaroth at Edrei.

5 While the Israelites were camped in the plains of Moab east of the Jordan River, Moses began to explain God's laws.

2. God's Command to Move Forward (Verses 6–8)

6 The Lord our God said to us at Horeb, "You've stayed at this mountain long enough.

7 It's time to break camp and move on. Go to the hill country of the Amorites and to all the nearby regions—the plains, the mountains, the foothills, the southern desert, and the seacoast—to the land of the Canaanites and Lebanon, all the way to the great Euphrates River.

8 Look, I am giving this land to you! Go in and take possession of it, just as the Lord swore to your ancestors Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and to their descendants after them."

3. Moses Appoints Leaders (Verses 9–18)

9 At that time I told you, "I can't carry all of you by myself.

10 The Lord your God has made you as numerous as the stars in the sky.

11 May the Lord, the God of your ancestors, increase your numbers a thousand times more and bless you as He has promised!

12 But how can I handle all your problems and disputes by myself?

13 Choose some wise, understanding, and respected men from each tribe, and I will appoint them as your leaders."

14 You agreed with my suggestion and said, "That's a good idea."

15 So I selected leaders—wise and respected men—and appointed them over you as commanders of groups of thousands, hundreds, fifties, and tens, as well as officers for your tribes.

16 Then I gave these judges this charge: "Listen carefully to complaints and disputes among your people. Be fair when you make decisions between fellow Israelites and between an Israelite and a foreigner.

17 Don't be biased in your judgment. Listen to everyone—rich or poor, powerful or powerless. Don't be afraid of anyone, for the decision is God's. If a case is too difficult for you, bring it to me, and I will handle it."

18 At that time, I gave you all the commands you needed to follow.

4. The Rebellion at Kadesh (Verses 19–33)

19 Then we left Mount Horeb and traveled through that vast and terrifying wilderness, just as the Lord had commanded. We finally reached Kadesh-barnea.

20 I said to you, "You've come to the hill country of the Amorites, which the Lord our God is giving us.

21 Look! The Lord your God has placed the land in front of you. Go and take it! Don't be afraid or discouraged."

22 But you all came to me and said, "Let's send some men to explore the land and bring back a report about the route we should take and what the towns are like."

23 That seemed like a good idea to me, so I chose twelve scouts, one from each tribe.

24 They went up into the hill country and came to the Valley of Eshcol and explored it.

25 They brought back samples of the land’s fruit and reported, “It’s a good land the Lord our God is giving us!”

26 But you refused to go in. You rebelled against the command of the Lord your God.

27 You complained in your tents, saying, “The Lord must hate us! That’s why He brought us out of Egypt—to hand us over to the Amorites to be destroyed.

28 Where can we go? Our scouts have discouraged us, saying, ‘The people there are bigger and taller than we are. The cities are huge, with walls rising high into the sky! And we even saw giants there—the descendants of Anak!’”

29 But I said, “Don’t be terrified or afraid of them.

30 The Lord your God is going ahead of you. He will fight for you, just as you saw Him do in Egypt.

31 You saw how the Lord your God cared for you in the wilderness, just like a father carries his child, all the way to this place.”

32 But still, you refused to trust the Lord your God,

33 even though He went ahead of you to find the best places to camp. He guided you with a pillar of fire at night and a cloud during the day.

5. God’s Judgment on the Faithless Generation (Verses 34–46)

34 When the Lord heard what you said, He became angry and solemnly swore,

35 “Not one of you from this evil generation will see the good land I swore to give your ancestors—

36 except Caleb son of Jephunneh. He will see it, and I will give him and his descendants the land he walked on, because he wholeheartedly followed the Lord.”

37 The Lord was also angry with me because of you. He said, “You won’t enter the land either.

38 But your assistant, Joshua son of Nun, will enter it. Encourage him, because he will lead Israel to take possession of it.

39 And your children, who you said would be captured, and your little ones who do not yet know right from wrong—they will enter the land. I will give it to them, and they will possess it.

40 But as for you, turn around and go back into the wilderness toward the Red Sea.”

41 Then you replied, “We’ve sinned against the Lord! We’ll go up and fight just as the Lord commanded.” So each of you got your weapons and thought it would be easy to attack the hill country.

42 But the Lord said to me, “Tell them, ‘Don’t go up and fight, because I’m not with you. If you go, you’ll be defeated by your enemies.’”

43 I told you this, but you wouldn’t listen. You rebelled again and arrogantly went into the hill country.

44 Then the Amorites who lived in those hills came out against you like a swarm of bees. They chased and crushed you from Seir to Hormah.

45 Then you came back and cried before the Lord, but He didn’t listen or respond to you.

46 So you stayed in Kadesh for a long time.

Key Lessons from Deuteronomy Chapter 1

1. God leads His people with purpose, and when He says move, we should move in faith, not fear.

2. God raises up leaders to share the burdens of the people—wise leadership is a gift from Him.
3. Faithless rebellion brings judgment. When we fail to trust God despite His past faithfulness, we forfeit blessings.
4. Our children may inherit what we lose through our disobedience—our decisions have generational consequences.
5. Delayed obedience is still disobedience. Going into battle without God’s presence guarantees failure.
6. Even heartfelt repentance has its limits—there is a time when the consequences of sin must run their course.
7. Trusting God's promises and timing is better than leaning on our own understanding or emotions.

Deuteronomy 2 – Crawford Standard Bible (CSB)

Section 1: A Long Journey in the Wilderness (Verses 1–3)

1 Then we turned back and set out toward the wilderness, headed for the Red Sea, just as the Lord had told me. We wandered around Mount Seir for many days.

2 Then the Lord said to me,

3 “You’ve been circling this mountain long enough—turn northward.”

Section 2: Passing Through Edom in Peace (Verses 4–8)

4 “Instruct the people: ‘You are about to pass through the territory of your relatives, the descendants of Esau, who live in Seir. They will be afraid of you, so be very careful.

5 Don’t provoke them, for I will not give you even a foot of their land. I have given Mount Seir to Esau as his inheritance.

6 You are to buy food from them with silver so you can eat, and buy water from them with silver so you can drink.’

7 The Lord your God has blessed everything you’ve done. He has watched over your journey through this vast wilderness. These forty years the Lord your God has been with you, and you have lacked nothing.”

8 So we passed by our brothers, the descendants of Esau, who live in Seir. We traveled through the Arabah from Elath and Ezion-geber, and turned toward the wilderness of Moab.

Section 3: Respecting the Moabites (Verses 9–12)

9 Then the Lord said to me, “Do not harass or provoke the Moabites in battle, for I will not give you any of their land. I have given Ar to the descendants of Lot as their possession.”

10 (In earlier times the Emim had lived there—a people large, numerous, and as tall as the Anakites.
11 They were also considered Rephaim, like the Anakim, but the Moabites called them Emim.
12 The Horites had previously lived in Seir, but the descendants of Esau drove them out and settled in their place, just as Israel did to the land the Lord gave them.)

Section 4: The Generation of Unbelief Passes (Verses 13–16)

13 “Get up now and cross the Zered Valley.” So we crossed the Zered.
14 The time it took us to come from Kadesh-barnea until we crossed the Zered Valley was thirty-eight years—until the entire generation of fighting men had died from the camp, just as the Lord had sworn to them.
15 The Lord’s hand was against them until He had completely eliminated them from the camp.
16 When the last of those men had died,

Section 5: Respecting the Ammonites (Verses 17–23)

17 the Lord said to me,
18 “Today you are to pass by Ar, through the territory of Moab.
19 When you come near the Ammonites, do not harass or provoke them, for I will not give you any land from the Ammonites. I have given it to the descendants of Lot as their inheritance.”
20 (That too was considered a land of the Rephaim. The Rephaim used to live there, though the Ammonites called them Zamzummim—
21 a people strong, numerous, and tall like the Anakim. The Lord destroyed them so the Ammonites could dispossess them and settle in their place,
22 just as He had done for the descendants of Esau in Seir, when He destroyed the Horites before them. They drove them out and lived in their place to this day.
23 And as for the Avvim who lived in villages as far as Gaza, the Caphtorites came from Caphtor, destroyed them, and settled in their place.)

Section 6: The Defeat of King Sihon (Verses 24–37)

24 “Get up, set out, and cross the Arnon River. I have handed over to you Sihon the Amorite king of Heshbon and his land. Begin to possess it, and engage him in battle.
25 Today I will begin to make all the peoples under heaven fear you. They will hear reports of you, and tremble with anxiety.”
26 So I sent messengers from the wilderness of Kedemoth to Sihon king of Heshbon with words of peace:
27 ‘Let us pass through your land. We’ll stay on the main road; we won’t turn right or left.
28 Sell us food to eat and water to drink. We’ll pay for everything. We only want to pass through on foot—
29 just as the descendants of Esau in Seir and the Moabites in Ar allowed us—until we cross the Jordan into the land the Lord our God is giving us.’

30 But Sihon king of Heshbon would not let us pass through. The Lord your God made his heart stubborn and his spirit defiant, so that He could hand him over to you, as has happened today.

31 Then the Lord said to me, ‘Look, I’ve begun to give Sihon and his land to you. Take possession of it.’

32 So Sihon came out with all his people to fight against us at Jahaz.

33 The Lord our God handed him over to us, and we defeated him—along with his sons and all his people.

34 At that time we captured all his cities and completely destroyed the men, women, and children. We left no survivors.

35 But we kept the livestock and plunder from the towns as spoils for ourselves.

36 From Aroer, on the edge of the Arnon Valley, and from the city in the valley, all the way to Gilead, not one town was too strong for us. The Lord our God gave them all to us.

37 But you did not go near the land of the Ammonites, or anywhere along the Jabbok River, or the cities in the hill country—anywhere the Lord our God had forbidden us to go.

Key Lesson from Deuteronomy 2 (CSB):

God’s timing is perfect, and His promises are fulfilled with precision. While some lands were off-limits, others were appointed for conquest. God’s guidance requires discernment and obedience—there is a time for peace and a time for battle. Trust that God goes before you, and victory will follow where He leads.

Deuteronomy 3 (Crawford Standard Bible)

Section 1: Victory Over Og, the Giant King (Verses 1–11)

1 Then we turned and went up the road toward Bashan. Og, king of Bashan, and all his people came out to fight against us at Edrei.

2 But the Lord said to me, “Don’t be afraid of him, for I have handed him over to you, along with all his people and his land. Do to him just as you did to Sihon, king of the Amorites who ruled in Heshbon.”

3 So the Lord our God also handed over King Og of Bashan and all his people. We struck them down until not a single survivor remained.

4 We captured all his cities—there wasn’t a single city we didn’t take from them. Sixty cities in total, the entire region of Argob, the kingdom of Og in Bashan.

5 These cities were fortified with high walls, gates, and bars, besides a great many unwallled villages.

6 We completely destroyed them, just as we had done to Sihon, king of Heshbon—destroying all the men, women, and children in every city.

7 But we kept the livestock and the plunder from the cities as our own.

8 So at that time we took the land from the two Amorite kings who were on the east side of the Jordan, from the Arnon Valley to Mount Hermon

9 (Mount Hermon is called Sirion by the Sidonians, and the Amorites call it Shenir),

10 including all the cities of the plateau, all of Gilead, and all of Bashan up to Salecah and Edrei, cities of Og's kingdom in Bashan.

11 King Og of Bashan was the last of the Rephaim (giants). His iron bed is still in Rabbah of the Ammonites. It is 13½ feet long and 6 feet wide, by the standard cubit.

Section 2: The Land is Divided Among the Tribes (Verses 12–17)

12 At that time we took possession of the land. I gave the territory from Aroer by the Arnon River, along with half of the hill country of Gilead and its cities, to the Reubenites and Gadites.

13 The rest of Gilead and all of Bashan—the kingdom of Og—I gave to the half-tribe of Manasseh. All the region of Argob, which is called the land of the giants, was theirs.

14 Jair, a descendant of Manasseh, took the entire region of Argob, all the way to the borders of the Geshurites and Maacathites, and named that territory Bashan Havvoth Jair—after himself—which is its name to this day.

15 I gave Gilead to Machir.

16 To the Reubenites and Gadites, I gave the area from Gilead to the Arnon River (with the middle of the valley as the border), and up to the Jabbok River, which is the border of the Ammonites.

17 The western boundary was the Jordan River in the Arabah, from the Sea of Galilee (Chinnereth) to the Dead Sea, below the slopes of Pisgah on the east.

Section 3: Instructions for the Tribes and Joshua (Verses 18–22)

18 At that time I commanded you, “The Lord your God has given you this land to possess. All your able-bodied men, prepared for battle, must cross over ahead of your fellow Israelites.

19 But your wives, children, and livestock (I know you have many animals) can remain in the towns I've given you,

20 until the Lord gives rest to your fellow Israelites, as He has to you, and they also take possession of the land the Lord your God is giving them on the other side of the Jordan. Then each of you may return to your own property that I have given you.”

21 I also gave Joshua this command at that time: “You've seen with your own eyes everything the Lord your God has done to these two kings. The Lord will do the same to all the kingdoms you're going to face across the river.

22 Do not be afraid of them, for the Lord your God will fight for you.”

Section 4: Moses Pleads to Enter the Land (Verses 23–29)

23 At that time, I pleaded with the Lord:

24 “Lord God, You've only begun to show Your greatness and strength to Your servant. What god in heaven or on earth can do the mighty works You do?

25 Please, let me go across and see the beautiful land on the other side of the Jordan—that good hill country and Lebanon.”

26 But the Lord was angry with me because of you, and He would not listen to me. “That’s enough!” the Lord said. “Don’t speak to Me about this matter again.

27 Go to the top of Mount Pisgah and look west, north, south, and east. Look with your eyes, for you will not cross the Jordan.

28 But commission Joshua, encourage and strengthen him, for he will lead this people across and help them take possession of the land you will see.”

29 So we stayed in the valley near Beth-peor.

Key Lesson from Deuteronomy 3 (CSB):

God gives victory, inheritance, and leadership to His people—but obedience and timing are critical. Even Moses, God’s chosen servant, was denied entry into the Promised Land due to earlier disobedience. We must trust God’s justice while encouraging the next generation to carry out His plan. Victory comes not by might, but because the Lord fights for us.

Deuteronomy 4 (Crawford Standard Bible)

Section 1: Obey God’s Law Completely (Verses 1–8)

1 “Now listen, Israel, to the decrees and laws I am teaching you. Obey them, so you may live and go in and take possession of the land that the Lord, the God of your ancestors, is giving you.

2 Do not add to what I command you, and do not subtract from it. Keep the commandments of the Lord your God that I give you.

3 You saw with your own eyes what the Lord did at Baal Peor. The Lord your God destroyed everyone who followed Baal of Peor.

4 But all of you who remained faithful to the Lord your God are still alive today.

5 Look, I’ve taught you decrees and laws, just as the Lord my God commanded me, so that you may follow them in the land you are about to possess.

6 Obey them carefully. This will show your wisdom and understanding to the nations, who will hear these laws and say, ‘Surely this great nation is a wise and understanding people.’

7 What other nation is so great as to have their gods near them the way the Lord our God is near us whenever we call on Him?

8 And what other nation is so great to have such righteous laws and decrees as this law I’m setting before you today?

Section 2: Remember the Fire on the Mountain (Verses 9–14)

9 Be very careful and guard your soul. Don’t forget the things your eyes have seen. Keep them in your heart all your life. Teach them to your children and grandchildren.

10 Remember the day you stood before the Lord your God at Mount Horeb. He said to me, ‘Assemble the people, and I will let them hear My words, so they may learn to fear Me and teach their children.’

11 You came near and stood at the foot of the mountain, and the mountain burned with fire up to the heavens. It was covered with dark clouds and thick darkness.

12 The Lord spoke to you out of the fire. You heard the sound of words but saw no form—just a voice.

13 He declared to you His covenant—the Ten Commandments—which He commanded you to follow. He wrote them on two stone tablets.

14 And the Lord commanded me at that time to teach you statutes and judgments so you would follow them in the land you are crossing into to possess.

Section 3: Do Not Worship Idols (Verses 15–24)

15 Be careful, because you saw no form on the day the Lord spoke to you from the fire at Horeb.

16 Don't corrupt yourselves by making idols—images of any shape, whether man or woman,

17 animals on the earth, birds in the sky,

18 creatures that crawl on the ground, or fish in the water.

19 And when you look up to the sky and see the sun, moon, and stars—all the heavenly host—do not be enticed to worship and serve them. The Lord your God has assigned them to all the nations under heaven.

20 But the Lord took you and brought you out of the iron furnace of Egypt to be His special people, as you are today.

21 The Lord was angry with me because of you and swore that I would not cross the Jordan or enter the good land He is giving you.

22 I will die in this land—I will not cross the Jordan—but you will go over and take possession of that good land.

23 Be careful not to forget the covenant the Lord your God made with you. Don't make idols or images of any kind. That is forbidden by the Lord.

24 For the Lord your God is a consuming fire, a jealous God.

Section 4: Warning of Future Idolatry and Scattering (Verses 25–31)

25 When you have children and grandchildren and have been in the land a long time, if you then become corrupt and make idols and do evil in the Lord's sight, you will provoke Him to anger.

26 I call heaven and earth to witness against you today, that you will quickly be wiped off the land you are crossing the Jordan to possess. You won't live long there. You'll be completely destroyed.

27 The Lord will scatter you among the nations, and only a few of you will survive in those foreign lands.

28 There you will worship man-made gods—objects of wood and stone that cannot see or hear or eat or smell.

29 But if you seek the Lord your God from there, you will find Him if you seek Him with all your heart and soul.

30 When you are in distress and all these things happen to you in the latter days, if you return to the Lord your God and obey His voice,

31 He will not abandon or destroy you or forget the covenant He made with your ancestors, because the Lord your God is a merciful God.

Section 5: The Uniqueness of Israel's Experience (Verses 32–40)

32 Ask now about the days long past, from the day God created mankind on earth—ask from one end of heaven to the other: Has anything so great ever happened or been heard of?

33 Has any other people heard the voice of God speaking out of the fire, as you have, and survived?

34 Has any god tried to take for himself one nation from another, by trials, signs, wonders, war, a mighty hand and outstretched arm, and terrifying power—like the Lord your God did for you in Egypt?

35 You were shown these things so you would know that the Lord is God—there is no other besides Him.

36 He let you hear His voice from heaven to instruct you; on earth He showed you His great fire, and you heard His words from within it.

37 Because He loved your ancestors, He chose their descendants and brought you out of Egypt with His mighty power.

38 He drove out nations larger and stronger than you to bring you into their land and give it to you as your inheritance, just as it is today.

39 So acknowledge and take to heart this day that the Lord is God in heaven above and on earth below. There is no other.

40 Keep His decrees and commandments I give you today, so it will go well with you and your children, and you may live long in the land the Lord your God is giving you forever.

Section 6: Cities of Refuge and Summary of the Law (Verses 41–49)

41 Then Moses set apart three cities on the east side of the Jordan,

42 so that someone who killed another person unintentionally, without malice, could flee there and live.

43 These cities were: Bezer in the wilderness on the plateau for the tribe of Reuben; Ramoth in Gilead for Gad; and Golan in Bashan for Manasseh.

44 This is the law that Moses set before the Israelites.

45 These are the laws, decrees, and regulations Moses gave the Israelites after they came out of Egypt.

46 They were given east of the Jordan, in the valley across from Beth-peor, in the land of Sihon king of the Amorites, whom Israel defeated after coming out of Egypt.

47 Israel took possession of his land and also the land of Og king of Bashan—two Amorite kings east of the Jordan.

48 This land extended from Aroer on the edge of the Arnon Valley to Mount Sion (also called Hermon), 49 and included all the eastern side of the Jordan Valley as far as the Dead Sea, below the slopes of Mount Pisgah.

Key Lesson from Deuteronomy 4 (CSB):

God's Word is not to be altered. He alone is God, and He has proven Himself by mighty deeds and direct communication. Idolatry leads to destruction, but repentance brings mercy. Teach future generations to fear the Lord, walk in His ways, and never forget what He has done.

Deuteronomy 5 (Crawford Standard Bible)

Section 1: A Covenant Renewed (Verses 1–5)

1 Moses called together all Israel and said, "Listen, Israel, to the statutes and laws I'm proclaiming to you today. Learn them and make sure to live by them.

2 The Lord our God made a covenant with us at Mount Horeb.

3 This covenant wasn't just with our ancestors—it was with us, all of us who are alive here today.

4 The Lord spoke to you face to face out of the fire on the mountain.

5 (At that time, I stood between the Lord and you to declare His word to you, because you were afraid of the fire and didn't go up the mountain.) And He said:

Section 2: The Ten Commandments (Verses 6–21)

6 "I am the Lord your God, who brought you out of Egypt, out of the land of slavery.

7 Do not have any other gods besides Me.

8 Do not make for yourself any carved image or likeness of anything in heaven above, on the earth below, or in the waters beneath.

9 Do not bow down to them or worship them. I, the Lord your God, am a jealous God, bringing the consequences of sin to the third and fourth generations of those who hate Me,

10 but showing mercy to thousands of generations of those who love Me and keep My commandments.

11 Do not misuse the name of the Lord your God, for the Lord will not leave unpunished anyone who misuses His name.

12 Observe the Sabbath day by keeping it holy, as the Lord your God has commanded you.

13 You have six days to work and do all your tasks,

14 but the seventh day is a Sabbath to the Lord your God. On it, you must not do any work—you, your son or daughter, your male or female servants, your ox, donkey, or any animal, or the foreigner in your towns—so that your servants may rest as you do.

15 Remember that you were slaves in Egypt and the Lord your God brought you out with a mighty hand and outstretched arm. That's why He commands you to keep the Sabbath.

16 Honor your father and mother, just as the Lord your God has commanded you, so that you may live long and that it may go well with you in the land the Lord is giving you.

17 Do not murder.

18 Do not commit adultery.

19 Do not steal.

20 Do not give false testimony against your neighbor.

21 Do not covet your neighbor's wife. Do not desire your neighbor's house, field, servants, ox, donkey, or anything else that belongs to your neighbor.”

Section 3: God's Voice and Israel's Fear (Verses 22–27)

22 The Lord spoke these words with a loud voice to your entire assembly out of the fire, the cloud, and the thick darkness on the mountain. He added nothing more. Then He wrote them on two stone tablets and gave them to me.

23 When you heard the voice out of the darkness, while the mountain was blazing with fire, your tribal leaders and elders came to me

24 and said, “The Lord our God has shown us His glory and greatness. We've heard His voice from the fire. Today we've seen that God speaks with people and they still live.

25 But now, why should we die? If we keep hearing the voice of the Lord our God, we will die.

26 Who has ever heard the voice of the living God speaking out of fire, as we have, and survived?

27 You go near and listen to everything the Lord our God says. Then tell us what He says, and we will listen and obey.”

Section 4: God's Longing for Their Hearts (Verses 28–33)

28 The Lord heard what you said and told me, “I've heard their words—they've spoken well.

29 If only their hearts would always be like this—to fear Me and keep My commandments. Then it would go well with them and their children forever.

30 Go tell them, ‘Return to your tents.’

31 But you, Moses, stay here with Me so I can give you all the commandments, laws, and regulations to teach them. They must live by them in the land I'm giving them to possess.”

32 So be careful to do exactly what the Lord your God has commanded you. Don't turn to the right or the left.

33 Walk in all the ways the Lord your God has commanded you, so you may live, prosper, and prolong your days in the land you will possess.

Key Lesson from Deuteronomy 5 (CSB):

God's law is a covenant, not just a set of rules. It's based on relationship—He redeemed Israel and now calls them to live differently. The Ten Commandments reveal God's character and His will. God longs for His people to fear Him, obey Him, and pass His truth to future generations.

Deuteronomy 6 (Crawford Standard Bible)

Section 1: God's Commands for a God-Fearing People (Verses 1–3)

1 These are the commands, statutes, and judgments the Lord your God has commanded me to teach you, so you may obey them in the land you're about to enter and possess.

2 Do this so you—and your children and grandchildren—may fear the Lord your God all the days of your life, by keeping all His statutes and commandments that I give you, and so that your days may be long.

3 Listen closely, O Israel, and be careful to obey. Then all will go well with you, and you will increase greatly in a land flowing with milk and honey, just as the Lord, the God of your ancestors, promised you.

Section 2: Love the Lord with All You Are (Verses 4–9)

4 Hear, O Israel: The Lord our God is one Lord.

5 And you must love the Lord your God with all your heart, with all your soul, and with all your strength.

6 These words that I command you today must be on your heart.

7 Teach them diligently to your children. Talk about them when you sit in your house, when you walk along the road, when you lie down, and when you get up.

8 Tie them as reminders on your hands and wear them like bands on your forehead.

9 Write them on the doorposts of your house and on your gates.

Section 3: Don't Forget the Lord in Prosperity (Verses 10–15)

10 When the Lord your God brings you into the land He promised to your ancestors—Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob—to give you large and beautiful cities you didn't build,

11 houses full of good things you didn't fill, wells you didn't dig, and vineyards and olive trees you didn't plant—when you eat and are satisfied,

12 then be careful not to forget the Lord, who brought you out of slavery in Egypt.

13 Fear the Lord your God, serve Him only, and take your oaths in His name.

14 Do not go after other gods, the gods of the people around you,

15 for the Lord your God among you is a jealous God. His anger could burn against you, and He could wipe you off the face of the earth.

Section 4: Be Faithful and Do What Is Right (Verses 16–19)

16 Do not test the Lord your God, as you did at Massah.

17 Be sure to keep the commandments of the Lord your God, and the testimonies and statutes He has given you.

18 Do what is right and good in the Lord's sight, so it may go well with you and so you may enter and possess the good land the Lord swore to your fathers,
19 and drive out all your enemies before you, just as the Lord promised.

Section 5: Teach the Next Generation (Verses 20–25)

20 In the future, when your son asks, "What do these testimonies, statutes, and judgments mean that the Lord our God has commanded you?"

21 Tell him, "We were slaves of Pharaoh in Egypt, but the Lord brought us out with His mighty hand.

22 He did great and terrifying signs and wonders before our eyes against Egypt, Pharaoh, and his household.

23 He brought us out from there to bring us in and give us the land He promised to our ancestors.

24 The Lord commanded us to observe all these statutes and to fear Him, so we would prosper and be kept alive, as we are today.

25 And it will be counted as our righteousness if we carefully obey all these commands before the Lord our God, just as He has commanded us."

Key Lesson from Deuteronomy 6 (CSB):

True obedience flows from love—love for God with your entire heart, soul, and strength. God's Word must shape your thoughts, habits, families, and homes. Never forget what He's done, and pass His truth faithfully to the next generation.

Deuteronomy Chapter 7 (Crawford Standard Bible)

Section 1: Drive Out the Wicked Nations Completely (Verses 1–5)

1 When the Lord your God brings you into the land you are going to possess, He will drive out many nations ahead of you—the Hittites, Girgashites, Amorites, Canaanites, Perizzites, Hivites, and Jebusites—seven nations larger and stronger than you.

2 When the Lord your God hands them over to you and you defeat them, you must completely destroy them. Don't make any covenant with them, and don't show them mercy.

3 Do not marry them. Don't give your daughters to their sons, or take their daughters for your sons,

4 because they will lead your children away from following Me, and they will serve other gods. Then the Lord's anger will burn against you, and He will quickly destroy you.

5 Instead, this is how you must treat them: tear down their altars, smash their sacred pillars, cut down their Asherah poles, and burn their idols in the fire.

Section 2: You Are a Holy and Chosen People (Verses 6–11)

6 For you are a holy people to the Lord your God. The Lord your God has chosen you to be His special treasure above all the peoples on the face of the earth.

7 The Lord didn't set His love on you or choose you because you were more numerous than other nations—for you were the fewest of all peoples.

8 But it was because the Lord loved you and kept the oath He made to your ancestors that He brought you out with a mighty hand and redeemed you from slavery in Egypt—from the hand of Pharaoh.

9 Know, then, that the Lord your God is God. He is the faithful God who keeps His covenant and shows mercy to those who love Him and keep His commands, to a thousand generations.

10 But He pays back those who hate Him to their face, destroying them. He will not delay to repay those who hate Him.

11 So keep the commandments, statutes, and judgments I give you today, and obey them.

Section 3: The Blessings of Obedience (Verses 12–15)

12 If you listen to these laws and obey them, the Lord your God will keep His covenant of love with you, as He swore to your ancestors.

13 He will love you, bless you, and make you multiply. He will bless your children, your land, your grain, your wine, your oil, your herds, and your flocks in the land He promised to your ancestors.

14 You will be more blessed than any other people. None of your men or women will be childless, and none of your livestock will be barren.

15 And the Lord will keep you from all sickness. He will not put on you any of the dreadful diseases you knew in Egypt. Instead, He will bring them on those who hate you.

Section 4: Do Not Be Afraid of Stronger Nations (Verses 16–21)

16 You must destroy all the nations the Lord your God hands over to you. Do not pity them, and do not worship their gods, or they will trap you.

17 You might say in your heart, "These nations are more numerous than we are. How can we drive them out?"

18 But don't be afraid of them. Just remember what the Lord your God did to Pharaoh and all Egypt—

19 the great trials you saw, the signs, the wonders, the strong hand and outstretched arm by which the Lord brought you out. The Lord will do the same to all the nations you now fear.

20 The Lord your God will send the hornet against them until even the survivors who hide from you are destroyed.

21 Don't be afraid of them, for the Lord your God is among you—a mighty and awesome God.

Section 5: Victory Will Come Gradually but Surely (Verses 22–26)

22 The Lord your God will drive out those nations little by little. You won't eliminate them all at once, or wild animals would multiply around you.

23 But the Lord your God will hand them over to you and throw them into great confusion until they are destroyed.

24 He will give their kings into your hands, and you will wipe out their names from under heaven. No one will be able to stand against you until you've destroyed them all.

25 Burn their carved idols with fire. Don't desire the silver or gold on them or take it for yourself, or it will trap you, because it is detestable to the Lord your God.

26 Do not bring any detestable thing into your home, or you will be set apart for destruction like it. You must utterly hate and reject it, for it is cursed.

Key Lesson from Deuteronomy 7 (CSB):

God's people must be wholly set apart for Him. Obedience requires separating from sin, trusting God's strength against fear, and remembering that blessings come through love, faithfulness, and wholehearted devotion to Him.

Deuteronomy Chapter 8 (Crawford Standard Bible)

Section 1: Remember God's Faithfulness in the Wilderness (Verses 1–6)

1 Be careful to obey every command I am giving you today, so that you may live and increase and enter and possess the land the Lord swore to give your ancestors.

2 Remember how the Lord your God led you through the wilderness for these forty years. He humbled you and tested you to reveal what was in your heart—whether or not you would keep His commands.

3 He humbled you by letting you go hungry, and then He fed you with manna—a food you and your ancestors had never known. He did this to teach you that people don't live by bread alone but by every word that comes from the mouth of the Lord.

4 During these forty years, your clothes did not wear out, and your feet didn't swell.

5 Know in your heart that just as a father disciplines his son, so the Lord your God disciplines you.

6 So obey the commands of the Lord your God by walking in His ways and showing Him reverence.

Section 2: God Is Bringing You Into a Good Land (Verses 7–10)

7 For the Lord your God is bringing you into a good land—a land with streams and springs and fountains of water that gush out in valleys and hills,

8 a land of wheat and barley, vines and fig trees, pomegranates, olive oil, and honey;

9 a land where you will eat food in abundance and lack nothing; a land where the rocks are iron, and you can mine copper from the hills.

10 When you have eaten your fill, be sure to bless the Lord your God for the good land He has given you.

Section 3: Beware of Forgetting the Lord in Prosperity (Verses 11–16)

11 But be careful not to forget the Lord your God by failing to keep His commandments, regulations, and laws that I give you today.

12 When you have eaten and are satisfied, and you’ve built fine houses and are living in them,
13 and when your herds and flocks grow large and your silver and gold increase, and everything you have is multiplied—

14 then your heart may become proud, and you may forget the Lord your God, who brought you out of slavery in Egypt.

15 He led you through that vast and dreadful wilderness with its fiery snakes and scorpions, its thirsty ground where there was no water. He gave you water from a rock,

16 and He fed you with manna in the wilderness—something your ancestors had never seen—humbling and testing you so He could bless you in the end.

Section 4: Don’t Think You Did It Yourself (Verses 17–20)

17 You may say to yourself, “My own strength and ability have made me wealthy.”

18 But remember the Lord your God, for it is He who gives you the ability to produce wealth, confirming the covenant He made with your ancestors, as is still true today.

19 But if you ever forget the Lord your God and follow other gods, serving and worshiping them, I warn you today that you will surely perish.

20 Just like the nations the Lord is destroying before you, you will perish for not obeying the voice of the Lord your God.

Key Lesson from Deuteronomy 8 (CSB):

Prosperity is not a reason to forget the Provider. God tests us in lack and blesses us in abundance to teach us dependence, obedience, and humility. We must remember that every good thing—our life, our success, and even our ability to prosper—comes from Him.

Deuteronomy Chapter 9 (Crawford Standard Bible)

Section 1: God’s Victory Is Not Because of Your Righteousness (Verses 1–6)

1 Listen, Israel! Today you are about to cross the Jordan River to take possession of nations greater and stronger than you—cities with walls that reach up to the sky.

2 You’ll face people who are tall and powerful, the Anakites, whom you’ve heard about. People say,

“Who can stand up to the Anakites?”

3 But understand this today: The Lord your God is going before you like a consuming fire. He will destroy them, and bring them down before you. You will drive them out and quickly annihilate them, just as the Lord promised.

4 Don't say in your heart, after the Lord your God has driven them out before you, “The Lord brought me in to possess this land because of my own righteousness.” No! It's because of the wickedness of these nations that the Lord is driving them out.

5 It is not because of your righteousness or your upright heart that you are going in to possess their land, but because of their wickedness and to fulfill the promise the Lord swore to your ancestors—Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.

6 Understand this: The Lord your God is not giving you this good land because you are righteous—for you are a stubborn and rebellious people.

Section 2: Remember How You Provoked the Lord (Verses 7–14)

7 Remember and never forget how you provoked the Lord your God to anger in the wilderness. From the day you left Egypt until you arrived here, you've been rebelling against the Lord.

8 At Mount Horeb you angered the Lord so much He was ready to destroy you.

9 I went up the mountain to receive the tablets of the covenant the Lord made with you. I stayed on the mountain forty days and nights, eating no bread and drinking no water.

10 The Lord gave me two stone tablets written by the finger of God, inscribed with all the words the Lord spoke to you out of the fire on the mountain, on the day of the assembly.

11 At the end of the forty days and nights, the Lord gave me the two tablets of stone—the tablets of the covenant.

12 But the Lord said to me, “Get up and go down immediately! Your people, whom you brought out of Egypt, have become corrupt. They have quickly turned from the way I commanded them. They have made a molded idol.”

13 Then the Lord said, “I have seen how stubborn these people are.

14 Leave Me alone so I may destroy them and erase their name from under heaven. Then I will make you into a nation more powerful and numerous than they are.”

Section 3: Moses Intercedes for Israel (Verses 15–21)

15 So I came down from the mountain, which was burning with fire, with the two tablets of the covenant in my hands.

16 I saw that you had sinned against the Lord your God. You made a golden calf! You had quickly turned from the way the Lord had commanded you.

17 I took the two tablets and threw them down, smashing them before your eyes.

18 Then, just like before, I fell face down before the Lord for forty days and forty nights. I ate no bread and drank no water, because of all the sin you committed by doing what was evil in the Lord's sight and provoking His anger.

19 I was afraid the Lord was so angry that He would destroy you. But once again the Lord listened to me.

20 The Lord was also very angry with Aaron and wanted to destroy him. But I prayed for Aaron at that time as well.

21 Then I took the sinful thing you had made—the golden calf—and I burned it in fire. I crushed it and ground it into dust and threw the dust into the stream that flowed down the mountain.

Section 4: Israel’s Pattern of Rebellion (Verses 22–29)

22 You also made the Lord angry at Taberah, at Massah, and at Kibroth-hattaavah.

23 And when the Lord sent you out from Kadesh-barnea, saying, “Go up and possess the land I have given you,” you rebelled against the Lord’s command. You didn’t trust Him or listen to His voice.

24 You have been rebelling against the Lord from the very day I first knew you.

25 So again I lay prostrate before the Lord for forty days and nights because the Lord had said He would destroy you.

26 I prayed, “O Lord God, don’t destroy Your people—Your inheritance—whom You redeemed by Your great power and brought out of Egypt with a strong hand.

27 Remember Your servants Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. Don’t look at the stubbornness or wickedness of this people.

28 Otherwise, the land You brought us from will say, ‘The Lord wasn’t strong enough to bring them into the land He promised, or He hated them—so He brought them out to kill them in the wilderness.’

29 But they are Your people and Your inheritance—whom You brought out by Your great strength and outstretched arm.”

Key Lesson from Deuteronomy 9 (CSB):

God’s grace is not earned by righteousness—it is a gift in spite of our failures. Israel’s story is one of continual rebellion met with God’s faithful mercy. Let this remind us to walk humbly, not forgetting who we are or who He is.

Deuteronomy Chapter 10 (Crawford Standard Bible)

Section 1: The Second Stone Tablets (Verses 1–5)

1 At that time the Lord said to me, “Carve out two stone tablets like the first ones, and come up to Me on the mountain. Also, make a wooden chest to store them.”

2 “I will write on the tablets the same words that were on the ones you broke. Then you must put them inside the chest.”

3 So I made a chest out of acacia wood and carved out two stone tablets like the first ones. Then I went up the mountain with the two tablets in my hands.

4 The Lord wrote the same commandments on them that He had written before—the Ten Commandments that He spoke to you from the fire on the mountain on the day of the assembly. Then He gave them to me.

5 I came back down the mountain and placed the tablets in the chest I had made, just as the Lord commanded. And they are still there today.

Section 2: The Ministry of the Levites (Verses 6–9)

6 (The people of Israel moved from Beeroth of the descendants of Jaakan to Mosera. That's where Aaron died and was buried. His son Eleazar took over as priest.)

7 From there they traveled to Gudgodah, and then on to Jotbath, a land with flowing streams.

8 At that time, the Lord set apart the tribe of Levi to carry the Ark of the Covenant of the Lord, to stand in His presence, to serve Him, and to bless others in His name. They continue to do so today.

9 This is why the tribe of Levi has no land or inheritance like the other tribes. The Lord Himself is their inheritance, just as He promised.

Section 3: God's Mercy and Renewed Mission (Verses 10–11)

10 I stayed on the mountain for forty days and nights, just like the first time. And the Lord listened to me again. He was not willing to destroy you.

11 The Lord said to me, "Get up and lead the people, so they can enter and take possession of the land I swore to give their ancestors."

Section 4: What God Really Wants (Verses 12–16)

12 Now, Israel, what does the Lord your God require of you? Only this: to fear the Lord your God, to walk in all His ways, to love Him, and to serve Him with all your heart and soul.

13 And to keep the Lord's commands and decrees that I'm giving you today—for your own good.

14 Look, the highest heavens and the earth and everything in it belong to the Lord your God.

15 Yet the Lord chose to love your ancestors, and He chose you, their descendants, above all peoples—as is the case today.

16 So circumcise your hearts, and stop being stubborn.

Section 5: The Character of the True God (Verses 17–22)

17 For the Lord your God is the God of gods and Lord of lords. He is the great, mighty, and awesome God. He shows no favoritism and cannot be bribed.

18 He defends the cause of orphans and widows. He loves foreigners and gives them food and clothing.

19 So you must love foreigners too, because you were once foreigners in Egypt.

20 Fear the Lord your God. Serve Him. Hold tightly to Him and make your promises in His name.

21 He is your praise and your God, who has done these great and awe-inspiring things for you, things your own eyes have seen.

22 Your ancestors went down to Egypt with just seventy people, but now the Lord your God has made you as numerous as the stars in the sky.

Key Lesson from Deuteronomy 10 (CSB):

God desires more than ritual—He wants your heart. He is just, compassionate, and faithful. As He calls us to obey and love Him, He also commands us to reflect His justice and mercy by caring for the stranger, the orphan, and the widow.

Deuteronomy Chapter 11 (Crawford Standard Bible)

Section 1: A Call to Love and Obey God (Verses 1–7)

1 Therefore, you must love the Lord your God and always obey His instructions, statutes, rules, and commandments.

2 You must recognize today—not your children, who haven’t experienced it or seen it firsthand—the discipline of the Lord your God: His greatness, His mighty hand, and His powerful arm;

3 His signs and works in Egypt against Pharaoh king of Egypt and his whole land;

4 What He did to the Egyptian army, their horses and chariots, when He made the waters of the Red Sea overflow them as they chased you—and how the Lord wiped them out, and they are gone even to this day.

5 You saw what He did for you in the wilderness, until you arrived here.

6 You saw what He did to Dathan and Abiram, sons of Eliab from the tribe of Reuben, how the earth opened its mouth and swallowed them, their families, tents, and everything they owned—right in the middle of Israel.

7 Yes, you have seen all these mighty acts the Lord has done with your own eyes.

Section 2: The Promise of the Land (Verses 8–12)

8 Therefore, obey every command I’m giving you today, so you will be strong enough to enter and possess the land you are going to take over,

9 and so that you will live long in the land the Lord swore to give to your ancestors and their descendants—a land flowing with milk and honey.

10 The land you are about to enter is not like Egypt, where you had to water your crops by hand like a vegetable garden.

11 The land you’re entering is a land of hills and valleys, nourished by rain from the sky.

12 It is a land the Lord your God cares for. His eyes are always on it—from the beginning of the year to the end.

Section 3: Blessings for Obedience (Verses 13–17)

13 If you listen carefully to My commandments that I'm giving you today—to love the Lord your God and serve Him with all your heart and all your soul—

14 then I will send rain in its season—early and late rains—so you may gather your grain, new wine, and olive oil.

15 I will provide grass in your fields for your livestock, and you will eat and be satisfied.

16 But be careful not to let your heart be deceived so that you turn away and worship other gods.

17 If you do, the Lord's anger will burn against you. He will shut up the heavens, and there will be no rain, the land will yield no crops, and you will quickly perish from the good land the Lord is giving you.

Section 4: Teach and Remember God's Word (Verses 18–21)

18 So commit these words of Mine to your heart and soul. Tie them on your hands as reminders and bind them on your foreheads.

19 Teach them to your children. Talk about them when you sit at home, when you walk along the road, when you lie down, and when you get up.

20 Write them on the doorposts of your house and on your gates,

21 so that you and your children may live long in the land the Lord swore to give to your ancestors—as long as the days of heaven are above the earth.

Section 5: Power Over Enemies (Verses 22–25)

22 If you carefully keep all these commandments I'm giving you—to love the Lord your God, walk in all His ways, and hold firmly to Him—

23 then the Lord will drive out all these nations before you, and you will conquer nations more powerful than you.

24 Every place where you set your foot will be yours. Your territory will stretch from the wilderness to Lebanon, and from the Euphrates River to the Mediterranean Sea.

25 No one will be able to stand against you. The Lord your God will put fear and dread of you upon the whole land, just as He promised.

Section 6: Blessing or Curse? You Choose (Verses 26–32)

26 Look, today I am setting before you a blessing and a curse:

27 The blessing, if you obey the commandments of the Lord your God that I am giving you today;

28 The curse, if you disobey the commandments and turn aside to worship other gods you've never known.

29 When the Lord brings you into the land, you must declare the blessing on Mount Gerizim and the curse on Mount Ebal.

30 (These mountains are west of the Jordan, beyond the road toward the sunset, in the territory of the Canaanites who live in the Arabah, opposite Gilgal, near the oak trees of Moreh.)

31 You are about to cross the Jordan and possess the land the Lord your God is giving you. You will take it and live there.

32 Be sure to obey all the laws and commands I'm setting before you today.

Key Lesson from Deuteronomy 11 (CSB):

Obedience brings blessing; disobedience brings destruction. God reminds His people of what He's done and what He expects. When we love and serve Him with all our hearts, He provides rain, provision, protection, and peace. But turning to other gods brings judgment. The choice is ours—blessing or curse.

Deuteronomy Chapter 12 (Crawford Standard Bible)

Section 1: Destroy Pagan Worship (Verses 1–3)

1 These are the commands and laws you must carefully obey in the land the Lord, the God of your ancestors, is giving you to possess—all the days you live on the earth.

2 Completely destroy all the places where the nations you're driving out worshiped their gods—on high mountains, hills, and under every green tree.

3 Tear down their altars, smash their sacred pillars, burn their Asherah poles, and cut down the carved images of their gods. Remove their names from those places forever.

Section 2: Worship Where God Chooses (Verses 4–14)

4 Don't worship the Lord your God the way they worship their gods.

5 Instead, go to the place the Lord your God will choose from among all your tribes to place His Name there. That is where you must seek Him and go.

6 Bring your burnt offerings, sacrifices, tithes, special gifts, offerings you vowed to give, freewill offerings, and the firstborn of your herds and flocks to that place.

7 There, in the presence of the Lord your God, you and your families will eat and rejoice in all you've done, because the Lord has blessed you.

8 You must not worship the way we are doing today, where everyone does whatever seems right in their own eyes,

9 because you have not yet entered the rest and the inheritance the Lord your God is giving you.

10 But when you cross the Jordan and live in the land the Lord gives you as an inheritance, and He gives you rest from all your enemies and you live in safety,

11 then the Lord will choose a place to make His name dwell. Bring there everything I command you—your burnt offerings, sacrifices, tithes, special gifts, and all your best vows.

12 Rejoice there before the Lord your God—you, your sons and daughters, your servants, and the Levites within your towns, since they have no inheritance among you.

13 Be careful not to offer burnt offerings in just any place you see.

14 Offer them only in the place the Lord will choose in one of your tribes. That's where you must do everything I command you.

Section 3: Eating Meat and Honoring Blood Laws (Verses 15–28)

15 You may kill and eat meat whenever you want, within your towns, based on how the Lord your God has blessed you. Both the ceremonially clean and unclean may eat it, just as you would a deer or gazelle.

16 But never eat the blood—pour it on the ground like water.

17 You must not eat within your gates the tithes of your grain, wine, or oil, the firstborn of your herd or flock, any vow offerings, freewill offerings, or your heave offerings.

18 Instead, eat them before the Lord your God in the place He chooses—you, your children, your servants, and the Levites in your town. Rejoice in everything you do, because the Lord has blessed you.

19 Be careful not to neglect the Levites as long as you live in the land.

20 When the Lord your God expands your territory, as He promised, and you say, “I want to eat meat,” you may eat as much meat as you desire.

21 If the place the Lord chooses to put His name is too far, you may slaughter animals from your herd or flock that the Lord has given you and eat them in your town, as I have commanded.

22 Eat them as you would deer or gazelle—clean and unclean alike may eat.

23 But be very careful not to eat the blood, because the blood is the life, and you must not eat the life with the meat.

24 Don't eat it; pour it out on the ground like water.

25 Do not eat it, so it may go well with you and your children after you, because you're doing what is right in the Lord's sight.

26 But bring your holy offerings and vows to the place the Lord chooses.

27 Offer the meat and blood of your burnt offerings on the altar of the Lord your God. The blood of your sacrifices must be poured out on the altar, but you may eat the meat.

28 Carefully obey all these words I command you, so it will go well with you and your descendants forever, because you will be doing what is good and right in the sight of the Lord your God.

Section 4: Avoid Pagan Curiosity and Abomination (Verses 29–32)

29 When the Lord your God destroys the nations before you and you take their land and live there, be careful not to be trapped into following their ways. Don't ask, “How did these nations worship their gods? I want to do the same.”

31 You must not worship the Lord your God that way, because they do all kinds of detestable things that He hates—even burning their sons and daughters in fire to their gods!

32 Be careful to do everything I command you. Don't add anything or take anything away from it.

Key Lesson from Deuteronomy 12 (CSB):

True worship must be according to God’s way—not our own. God calls His people to destroy false religion and worship only in the place He chooses. We must not mix His holy commands with worldly practices or curiosity about evil. Obedience leads to joy, blessing, and peace.

Deuteronomy Chapter 13 (Crawford Standard Bible)

Section 1: False Prophets and Dreamers of Dreams (Verses 1–5)

1 If a prophet or a dreamer of dreams arises among you and gives you a sign or a wonder,
2 and the sign or wonder comes true, and he says, “Let’s follow other gods”—gods you’ve never known—“and let’s worship them,”
3 you must not listen to that prophet or dreamer. The Lord your God is testing you to see whether you truly love Him with all your heart and soul.
4 Follow the Lord your God and fear Him. Keep His commandments, obey His voice, serve Him, and cling to Him.
5 That prophet or dreamer must be put to death, because he tried to turn you away from the Lord your God, who brought you out of Egypt and rescued you from slavery. He tried to lead you away from the path the Lord commanded you to walk. Remove that evil from among you.

Section 2: Even Loved Ones Must Not Lead You Astray (Verses 6–11)

6 If your own brother, your son or daughter, your beloved wife, or your closest friend whispers to you in secret and says, “Let’s go worship other gods”—ones neither you nor your ancestors have known,
7 whether they are near you or far away, from one end of the earth to the other—
8 do not yield to them or listen to them. Don’t feel sorry for them, don’t spare them, and don’t hide what they’ve done.
9 You must surely put them to death. Your hand must be the first to act against them, and then the hands of all the people.
10 Stone them to death, because they tried to lead you away from the Lord your God, who brought you out of Egypt, out of the house of slavery.
11 Then all Israel will hear about it and be afraid, and no one will do such an evil thing again among you.

Section 3: Apostate Cities Must Be Destroyed (Verses 12–18)

12 If you hear that in one of your cities that the Lord your God is giving you to live in,
13 some troublemakers have risen up and led the people of that city astray, saying, “Let’s go worship other gods”—gods you’ve never known—
14 you must investigate it thoroughly. Ask questions, search it out, and examine the matter carefully. If it is true and proven that such an evil thing has happened,

15 then you must strike down the people of that city with the sword. Destroy everyone in it, along with their livestock.

16 Pile all the goods into the middle of the city and burn it all up as a whole burnt offering to the Lord your God. The city must be completely destroyed and never rebuilt.

17 Don't take anything from the destruction for yourself. Then the Lord will turn from His fierce anger, show you mercy, have compassion on you, and multiply you, just as He promised your ancestors.

18 This will happen because you obey the voice of the Lord your God, keeping all His commandments and doing what is right in His sight.

Key Lesson from Deuteronomy 13 (CSB):

Loyalty to God must come before loyalty to anyone else—even close family. God tests His people to see if they truly love Him. False prophets, deceptive friends, and even entire communities that promote idolatry must be dealt with seriously. The fear of the Lord brings purity and protection to the community.

Deuteronomy Chapter 14 (Crawford Standard Bible)

Section 1: God's People Must Be Set Apart (Verses 1–2)

1 You are the children of the Lord your God. Do not cut yourselves or shave your foreheads for the dead.

2 For you are a holy people belonging to the Lord your God. He has chosen you to be His treasured people, set apart from all the nations on the earth.

Section 2: Clean and Unclean Animals (Verses 3–21)

3 Do not eat anything that is detestable to the Lord.

4 These are the animals you may eat: the ox, sheep, goat,

5 deer, gazelle, roe deer, wild goat, ibex, antelope, and mountain sheep.

6 You may eat any animal that has divided hooves and chews the cud.

7 But you must not eat animals that only chew the cud or only have divided hooves. These include the camel, the hare, and the rock badger—they chew the cud but do not have divided hooves. They are unclean to you.

8 The pig is also unclean because it has divided hooves but does not chew the cud. Do not eat its meat or touch its carcass.

9 Of the animals in the water, you may eat anything that has fins and scales.

10 But do not eat anything that does not have fins and scales—it is unclean to you.

11 You may eat any clean bird.
12 But do not eat these birds: the eagle, vulture, osprey,
13 red kite, black kite, and any kind of falcon,
14 any kind of raven,
15 the ostrich, nighthawk, seagull, and any kind of hawk,
16 the little owl, great owl, white owl,
17 desert owl, Egyptian vulture, cormorant,
18 stork, heron of any kind, hoopoe, and bat.
19 All flying insects are unclean to you—they must not be eaten.
20 But you may eat any clean flying creature.

21 Do not eat anything that dies naturally. You may give it to a foreigner living among you, or sell it to an outsider. But you are a holy people belonging to the Lord your God. Do not cook a young goat in its mother's milk.

Section 3: Tithes and Offerings (Verses 22–29)

22 You must faithfully set aside a tenth of all your crops each year.
23 Bring this tithe to the place the Lord your God will choose for His name to dwell. There you will eat the tithe of your grain, wine, oil, and the firstborn of your herds and flocks in the presence of the Lord your God. This will teach you to always fear Him.
24 But if the place is too far for you to carry your tithe,
25 then exchange it for silver. Take the silver with you to the place the Lord your God chooses.
26 Use the money to buy whatever you desire—cattle, sheep, wine, strong drink, or anything else you want. Then feast there before the Lord your God and rejoice with your household.
27 Do not neglect the Levites living in your towns, because they have no share or inheritance among you.
28 At the end of every third year, bring a full tenth of your produce for that year and store it in your towns.
29 Then the Levites (who have no land), the foreigners, the orphans, and the widows in your towns may come and eat and be satisfied. Then the Lord your God will bless all the work you do.

Key Lesson from Deuteronomy 14 (CSB):

God calls His people to live distinct and generous lives. Holiness is reflected not only in how we worship but in how we eat, give, and care for others. Obedience brings blessing, and generosity reflects God's heart toward the poor and the Levite who serves Him.

Deuteronomy Chapter 15 (Crawford Standard Bible)

Section 1: The Year of Release (Verses 1–6)

1 At the end of every seven years, you must cancel debts.

2 This is how it must be done: Every creditor must cancel what he has lent to his neighbor. He must not demand repayment from his brother, because the Lord's time of release has been proclaimed.

3 You may collect from a foreigner, but you must forgive any debt your fellow Israelite owes you.

4 There should be no poor people among you, because the Lord will greatly bless you in the land He is giving you as your inheritance.

5 This will happen only if you carefully obey the voice of the Lord your God and are careful to follow all His commands that I give you today.

6 For the Lord your God will bless you, just as He promised. You will lend to many nations, but borrow from none. You will rule over many nations, but none will rule over you.

Section 2: Caring for the Poor (Verses 7–11)

7 If there is a poor person among you in any of your towns in the land the Lord your God is giving you, do not be hard-hearted or tightfisted toward them.

8 Instead, be generous and freely lend whatever they need.

9 Be careful not to harbor this wicked thought: "The seventh year is near, the year of release," and refuse to help your poor brother. If he cries out to the Lord against you, you will be guilty of sin.

10 Give freely, and do so without a grudging heart. Then the Lord your God will bless you in everything you do.

11 There will always be poor people in the land. That's why I command you to be openhanded toward your fellow Israelites who are poor and needy in your land.

Section 3: Releasing Servants (Verses 12–18)

12 If a fellow Hebrew man or woman sells themselves to you and serves you for six years, then in the seventh year you must set them free.

13 When you release them, do not send them away empty-handed.

14 Supply them generously from your flock, your grain, and your wine. Give to them as the Lord your God has blessed you.

15 Remember that you were slaves in Egypt and the Lord your God redeemed you. That's why I command you to do this today.

16 But if your servant says, "I don't want to leave you," because he loves you and your household and is well off with you,

17 then take an awl and pierce his ear into the door. He will become your servant for life. Do the same with your female servant.

18 Don't think it's hard to let them go, for they have served you six years, worth double what you'd pay a hired worker. Then the Lord your God will bless everything you do.

Section 4: Firstborn Animals for the Lord (Verses 19–23)

19 Set apart for the Lord your God every firstborn male from your herds and flocks. Do not work the firstborn of your oxen, and do not shear the firstborn of your sheep.

20 Each year, you and your household are to eat them in the presence of the Lord your God at the place He chooses.

21 But if an animal has any defect—if it is lame, blind, or has any serious flaw—you must not sacrifice it to the Lord your God.

22 You may eat it in your towns. Both the ceremonially clean and unclean may eat it, just like a deer or gazelle.

23 But you must not eat the blood. Pour it out on the ground like water.

Key Lesson from Deuteronomy 15 (CSB):

God calls His people to generosity, compassion, and remembrance. In forgiving debts, caring for the poor, releasing servants, and dedicating the firstborn to the Lord, Israel was reminded that everything they had came from God—and He expected mercy and justice in return.

Deuteronomy Chapter 16 (Crawford Standard Bible)

Section 1: The Passover Celebration (Verses 1–8)

1 Celebrate the month of Abib by keeping the Passover to the Lord your God. It was in this month that the Lord brought you out of Egypt by night.

2 Offer the Passover sacrifice to the Lord your God from your flock and herd, in the place He chooses for His name to dwell.

3 Don't eat it with bread made with yeast. For seven days, eat unleavened bread—bread of hardship—because you left Egypt in a hurry. This will help you remember that day for the rest of your life.

4 No yeast is to be found anywhere in your land for seven days. None of the meat you sacrifice on the first evening is to remain until morning.

5 You must not offer the Passover sacrifice in any town the Lord your God is giving you.

6 You must offer it only at the place the Lord will choose for His name. Sacrifice it in the evening, at sunset, just as you left Egypt.

7 Roast it and eat it in that place. Then in the morning, return to your tents.

8 For six days, eat unleavened bread, and on the seventh day, hold a special assembly to the Lord your God. Do no work on that day.

Section 2: The Festival of Weeks (Verses 9–12)

9 Count off seven weeks from the time you begin to harvest the grain.

10 Then celebrate the Festival of Weeks to the Lord your God. Bring a freewill offering, giving in proportion to how the Lord has blessed you.

11 Rejoice before the Lord with your son and daughter, your servants, the Levites, foreigners, orphans, and widows in your towns, at the place the Lord your God chooses.

12 And remember that you were once slaves in Egypt. Carefully follow these commands.

Section 3: The Festival of Tabernacles (Verses 13–17)

13 Celebrate the Festival of Tabernacles for seven days after you gather your grain and wine.

14 Rejoice during your festival—you, your children, your servants, the Levites, foreigners, orphans, and widows living among you.

15 Celebrate for seven days at the place the Lord your God will choose. He will bless your harvest and your work, and you will be full of joy.

16 All your men must appear before the Lord your God three times a year at the designated place: for the Festival of Unleavened Bread, the Festival of Weeks, and the Festival of Tabernacles. They must not come empty-handed.

17 Each one must bring a gift in proportion to how the Lord your God has blessed them.

Section 4: Justice Among the People (Verses 18–20)

18 Appoint judges and officials for your towns in every tribe the Lord your God is giving you. They must judge the people fairly.

19 Do not twist justice or show favoritism. Don't accept bribes, for bribes blind the wise and corrupt the words of the righteous.

20 Pursue true justice only, so you may live and possess the land the Lord your God is giving you.

Section 5: Forbidden Worship Practices (Verses 21–22)

21 Do not plant any trees as sacred groves near the altar of the Lord your God.

22 Do not set up any idols or images, for the Lord your God hates them.

Key Lesson from Deuteronomy 16 (CSB):

Worship must be reverent, joyful, and obedient to God's instruction. God established regular times of remembrance—Passover, Weeks, and Tabernacles—not only for celebration, but to teach future generations to love justice, honor God, and live with thankfulness for His blessings.

Deuteronomy Chapter 17 (Crawford Standard Bible)

Section 1: Pure Worship and Justice for Idolatry (Verses 1–7)

1 Do not sacrifice to the Lord your God any ox or sheep that has a defect or imperfection. That is detestable to the Lord your God.

2 If a man or woman among you in one of the towns the Lord your God gives you does evil in His sight and breaks His covenant,

3 and they go and serve other gods—bowing down to the sun, moon, or stars, things I have not commanded—

4 and you hear about it, you must investigate carefully. If it is true and confirmed that such a detestable thing has been done in Israel,

5 then bring out the man or woman who has done this evil to your city gates and stone them to death.

6 A person is not to be executed on the testimony of one witness. It must be by two or three witnesses.

7 The witnesses must be the first to throw the stones, and then all the people shall join in. In this way you will purge the evil from among you.

Section 2: Difficult Cases and the Authority of Priests and Judges (Verses 8–13)

8 If a case is too difficult for you to decide—whether it concerns murder, lawsuits, or assault—go to the place the Lord your God will choose.

9 Go to the Levitical priests and to the judge who is serving at that time. Ask them, and they will give you a ruling.

10 You must act according to the ruling they give you from the place the Lord will choose. Be careful to follow all their instructions.

11 Follow the law they teach you and the decision they give you. Do not turn aside to the right or to the left from what they tell you.

12 If anyone arrogantly refuses to listen to the priest who stands to minister before the Lord your God or to the judge, that person must die. You must purge the evil from Israel.

13 Then all the people will hear and be afraid and will not act arrogantly again.

Section 3: The Law Concerning Kings (Verses 14–20)

14 When you enter the land the Lord your God is giving you and take possession of it and settle in it, and you say, "Let us set a king over us like all the nations around us,"

15 you must set over yourselves a king the Lord your God chooses. He must be from among your fellow Israelites. Do not appoint a foreigner who is not one of your brothers.

16 The king must not acquire many horses for himself or make the people return to Egypt to get more horses, for the Lord has told you, "You are never to go back that way again."

17 He must not take many wives for himself, or his heart will turn away. He must not accumulate large amounts of silver and gold.

18 When he sits on the throne of his kingdom, he is to write for himself a copy of this law on a scroll, taken from the one kept by the Levitical priests.

19 It is to remain with him, and he is to read it all the days of his life so that he may learn to fear the Lord his God and carefully obey all the words of this law and these decrees.

20 Then his heart will not be proud or set above his fellow Israelites, and he will not turn aside from the commands to the right or the left. He and his descendants will reign long in Israel.

Key Lesson from Deuteronomy 17 (CSB):

God values justice, humility, and obedience. Leaders must serve with integrity, citizens must uphold truth, and worship must remain pure. A king is not above the law but subject to it—just like every other person in the kingdom.

Deuteronomy Chapter 18 — Crawford Standard Bible (CSB)

Section 1: The Priests and Levites Are Set Apart (Verses 1–8)

1 The priests, who are Levites—all from the tribe of Levi—will not receive a share of land like the rest of Israel. Instead, they will live off the offerings made to the Lord, for that is their inheritance.

2 They will have no land of their own among the Israelites. The Lord Himself is their inheritance, just as He promised them.

3 This is what the priests are to receive from the people who offer sacrifices—whether it's a bull or a sheep: they are to be given the shoulder, the cheeks, and the stomach.

4 You must also give them the first portions of your grain, new wine, olive oil, and the first shearing of your sheep.

5 For the Lord your God has chosen them and their descendants to stand and minister in His name forever.

6 If a Levite decides to leave his hometown in Israel and moves to the place the Lord will choose to worship Him,

7 he may serve in the name of the Lord his God just like the other Levites who are already there.

8 He must be given his fair share of the offerings to eat, in addition to any inheritance he may receive from selling family property.

Section 2: Stay Away from Pagan Practices (Verses 9–14)

9 When you enter the land the Lord your God is giving you, do not copy the detestable practices of the nations living there.

10 No one among you is to sacrifice their son or daughter in the fire, or practice divination, interpret omens, engage in witchcraft,

11 cast spells, consult mediums or psychics, or talk with the dead.

12 Anyone who does these things is detestable to the Lord. It is because of these same practices that the Lord your God is driving out the nations before you.

13 You must be completely loyal to the Lord your God.

14 The nations you are about to displace listen to fortune-tellers and diviners, but the Lord your God has not allowed you to do so.

Section 3: God’s Promise to Send a Prophet (Verses 15–19)

15 The Lord your God will raise up for you a Prophet like me from among your fellow Israelites. You must listen to Him.

16 This is just what you asked the Lord your God for at Mount Horeb when you said, “Don’t let me hear the voice of the Lord my God or see this blazing fire again, or I will die.”

17 Then the Lord said to me, “What they have said is right.

18 I will raise up a Prophet from among their own people, just like you. I will put My words in His mouth, and He will tell them everything I command Him.

19 I will personally deal with anyone who refuses to listen to the words that the Prophet speaks in My name.”

Section 4: Warning Against False Prophets (Verses 20–22)

20 But if a prophet claims to speak in My name something I did not command—or speaks in the name of other gods—that prophet must die.

21 You may wonder, “How can we know if a message is not from the Lord?”

22 If a prophet speaks in the Lord’s name and what he says does not come true, that message is not from the Lord. The prophet has spoken arrogantly. Do not be afraid of him.

Key Lesson from Deuteronomy 18 (CSB):

God calls His people to reject false religion, honor His chosen servants, and listen to the True Prophet He sends. We are warned to stay away from witchcraft and spiritual counterfeits. Jesus is the ultimate fulfillment of the promised Prophet like Moses (Acts 3:22-23), and all must heed His words.

Deuteronomy Chapter 19 — Crawford Standard Bible (CSB)

Section 1: Cities of Refuge for Accidental Killers (Verses 1–7)

1 When the Lord your God removes the nations whose land He is giving you, and you take their cities and homes and live in them,

2 then you must set apart three cities in the land the Lord your God is giving you to possess.

3 Build roads to those cities and divide your land into three regions, so anyone who accidentally kills someone can flee to one of them for safety.

4 Here is the case of someone who may flee there and live: If someone unintentionally kills a neighbor whom he had no prior hatred toward—

5 like a man who goes into the forest with his neighbor to cut wood, and as he swings the axe, the head flies off the handle and hits the other man, killing him—he may flee to one of these cities and live.

6 Otherwise, the avenger of blood might pursue the killer while angry, catch up with him (because the distance is too far), and kill him, even though he didn't deserve to die, since there was no hatred in the past.

7 This is why I'm commanding you to set apart three cities.

Section 2: Expanding the Cities of Refuge if Israel Obeys (Verses 8–10)

8 If the Lord your God enlarges your territory, as He promised to your ancestors, and gives you all the land He swore to them,

9 and you are careful to obey all these commandments I'm giving you today—to love the Lord your God and walk in His ways—then you shall add three more cities to these three,

10 so that innocent blood is not shed in your land, which the Lord your God is giving you as an inheritance, bringing guilt upon yourselves.

Section 3: Murderers Must Face Justice (Verses 11–13)

11 But if someone hates his neighbor, lies in wait, attacks him, and kills him, and then flees to one of the cities,

12 then the elders of his hometown must send for him, bring him back, and hand him over to the avenger of blood so he may be put to death.

13 Do not pity him. You must remove the guilt of innocent blood from Israel, so it may go well with you.

Section 4: Do Not Move Boundary Markers (Verse 14)

14 Do not move your neighbor's boundary marker, the one your ancestors placed, in the inheritance the Lord your God is giving you.

Section 5: Legal Witnesses and False Testimony (Verses 15–21)

15 A single witness is not enough to convict someone of a crime or sin. A matter must be established by the testimony of two or three witnesses.

16 If a malicious witness comes forward to falsely accuse someone,

17 both parties must appear before the Lord, in front of the priests and judges in office at that time.

18 The judges must investigate thoroughly, and if the witness is found to be lying and has given false testimony against a fellow Israelite,

19 then you must do to the false witness what he intended to do to the other person. In this way, you will remove the evil from among you.

20 The rest of the people will hear about it, be afraid, and never again do such an evil thing among you.
21 You must not show pity: life for life, eye for eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, foot for foot.

Key Lesson from Deuteronomy 19 (CSB):

God demands justice, mercy, and truth. Cities of refuge reveal God’s compassion for the innocent, while swift justice for murderers and false witnesses reveals His holiness and demand for truth. Justice must be fair, deliberate, and impartial for the good of all society.

Deuteronomy Chapter 20 — Crawford Standard Bible (CSB)

Section 1: Do Not Fear When Going to War (Verses 1–4)

1 When you go out to fight your enemies and see horses, chariots, and an army larger than yours, do not be afraid of them. The Lord your God, who brought you out of Egypt, is with you.
2 When you are about to engage in battle, the priest must come forward and speak to the troops.
3 He will say, “Listen, Israel! Today you are going into battle against your enemies. Do not be discouraged or afraid. Don’t panic or tremble before them.
4 For the Lord your God goes with you to fight for you and give you victory over your enemies.”

Section 2: Who Is Exempt from Battle? (Verses 5–9)

5 The officers will then say to the people, “Is anyone here who has built a new house but hasn’t dedicated it? Let him return home, in case he dies in battle and someone else dedicates it.
6 Has anyone planted a vineyard but not yet enjoyed its fruit? Let him go home, or he might die in war and another man eat from it.
7 Is anyone engaged to a woman but not yet married? Let him go home, or he may die in battle and someone else marry her.”
8 Then the officers will also say, “Is anyone afraid or discouraged? Let him go home so he doesn’t cause others to lose heart too.”
9 When the officers have finished speaking to the troops, they will appoint commanders to lead the army.

Section 3: Offer Peace Before Attacking (Verses 10–15)

10 When you approach a city to attack it, offer it terms of peace.
11 If they accept and open their gates to you, all the people in it will become your forced laborers and serve you.
12 But if they refuse to make peace and choose war, lay siege to the city.
13 When the Lord your God delivers it into your hands, strike down every male with the sword.

14 But you may keep the women, children, livestock, and everything else in the city as plunder for yourselves. You may enjoy the spoil the Lord your God has given you.

15 Do this only to cities that are far away from you, not those of the nearby nations.

Section 4: Total Destruction of Canaanite Cities (Verses 16–18)

16 In the cities of the nations the Lord your God is giving you as an inheritance, do not leave anything alive that breathes.

17 Completely destroy them—the Hittites, Amorites, Canaanites, Perizzites, Hivites, and Jebusites—as the Lord your God has commanded you.

18 This is so they don't teach you to do all the detestable things they've done for their gods, causing you to sin against the Lord your God.

Section 5: Care for Trees During War (Verses 19–20)

19 When you lay siege to a city for a long time in order to capture it, do not destroy its trees by swinging an axe against them. You can eat their fruit, so don't cut them down. Are the trees people, that you should attack them too?

20 However, you may destroy trees that you know don't produce food. Use those to build siege works against the city until it falls.

Key Lesson from Deuteronomy 20 (CSB):

God fights for His people—but they must fight with righteousness.

Before Israel goes to war, God reminds them not to fear, for He is their deliverer. Compassion and justice are even woven into wartime instructions—preserving life, honoring commitments, and rejecting wicked influence. God's presence demands holiness in every action, even in battle.

Deuteronomy Chapter 21 — Crawford Standard Bible (CSB)

Section 1: Atonement for an Unsolved Murder (Verses 1–9)

1 If someone is found dead, lying in a field in the land the Lord your God is giving you, and no one knows who killed him,

2 the elders and judges must come and measure the distance from the body to the surrounding towns.

3 The elders of the town closest to the dead person must take a young heifer that has never been worked or worn a yoke.

4 They must bring the heifer down to a valley that has not been plowed or planted and break its neck there in the valley.

5 Then the Levitical priests will come forward, because the Lord your God has chosen them to minister and to pronounce blessings in His name, and to decide legal disputes.

6 All the elders of the town nearest to the body must wash their hands over the heifer whose neck was broken,

7 and they must declare, “Our hands did not shed this blood, nor did our eyes see who did it.

8 O Lord, forgive your people Israel, whom you have redeemed, and do not hold the guilt of innocent blood against them.” Then the bloodguilt will be removed.

9 In this way, you will purge the guilt of innocent blood from among you by doing what is right in the Lord’s eyes.

Section 2: Marrying a Captive Woman (Verses 10–14)

10 When you go to war and the Lord your God gives you victory and you take captives,

11 if you see a beautiful woman among them and desire to take her as your wife,

12 bring her to your home. She must shave her head and trim her nails,

13 and change out of the clothes she was captured in. She is to stay in your house and mourn for her parents for a full month. After that, you may marry her.

14 But if you no longer want her, you must let her go wherever she wishes. You must not sell her or treat her as a slave, since you have humbled her.

Section 3: The Right of the Firstborn (Verses 15–17)

15 If a man has two wives, one loved and the other unloved, and both bear him sons, but the firstborn is the son of the unloved wife,

16 when he gives his inheritance to his sons, he must not give the rights of the firstborn to the son of the loved wife over the true firstborn.

17 He must acknowledge the true firstborn, the son of the unloved wife, by giving him a double portion of everything, for he is the beginning of the father's strength and has the legal rights of the firstborn.

Section 4: The Rebellious Son (Verses 18–21)

18 If a man has a stubborn and rebellious son who will not obey his parents, even after they discipline him,

19 his parents must take him to the elders at the town gate.

20 They will say, “This son of ours is stubborn and rebellious. He will not obey us. He’s a glutton and a drunkard.”

21 Then all the men of the town must stone him to death. In this way, you will purge the evil from among you, and all Israel will hear about it and be afraid.

Section 5: The Body of a Man Hanged on a Tree (Verses 22–23)

22 If someone is guilty of a crime worthy of death and is executed by hanging on a tree,
23 you must not leave the body hanging overnight. You must bury it the same day, for anyone hung on a tree is cursed by God. This is so you do not defile the land the Lord your God is giving you.

Key Lesson from Deuteronomy 21 (CSB):

Justice in God's kingdom must reflect holiness, mercy, and order.

From unsolved crimes to family conflicts and battlefield realities, God instructs Israel to value life, uphold justice, and act with righteousness. Even harsh laws point toward accountability and reverence for God. The warning about a man "hung on a tree" foreshadows Christ, who bore our curse (Galatians 3:13) to bring us blessing.

Deuteronomy Chapter 22 — Crawford Standard Bible (CSB)

Section 1: Loving Your Neighbor Means Helping Them (Verses 1–4)

1 If you see your fellow Israelite's ox or sheep straying, don't ignore it. Be sure to take it back to them.
2 If your fellow Israelite lives far away or you don't know who it belongs to, take it home with you and keep it until they come looking for it. Then return it.
3 Do the same if you find a donkey, a piece of clothing, or anything else your neighbor has lost. You must not ignore it.
4 If you see your brother's donkey or ox collapsed on the road, don't walk away. Help him get it back on its feet.

Section 2: God's Design for Order and Distinction (Verses 5–12)

5 A woman must not wear a man's clothing, and a man must not wear a woman's garment. The Lord your God detests anyone who does this.
6 If you find a bird's nest in a tree or on the ground, with young birds or eggs, and the mother is sitting on them, do not take the mother with the young.
7 Let the mother go, but you may take the young. This will go well for you, and you'll live a long life.
8 When you build a new house, put a railing around the roof to prevent anyone from falling off and bringing blood guilt on your home.
9 Do not plant different kinds of seeds in your vineyard, or the entire crop will be defiled.
10 Do not plow with an ox and a donkey yoked together.
11 Do not wear clothes woven with both wool and linen.
12 Make tassels on the four corners of the cloak you wear.

Section 3: Laws on Purity, Marriage, and Justice (Verses 13–30)

13 If a man marries a woman and then dislikes her,
14 and falsely accuses her of not being a virgin and brings shame upon her,
15 her parents must bring proof of her virginity to the elders at the town gate.
16 The father will say, “I gave my daughter to this man, but he now hates her 17 and falsely claims she wasn’t a virgin. Here is the proof.” They will spread the evidence before the elders.
18 The elders will punish the man,
19 and fine him 100 shekels of silver, to be given to the girl’s father for defaming her. She will remain his wife, and he cannot divorce her.
20 But if the accusation is true and no proof of her virginity is found, 21 she must be brought to the door of her father’s house and stoned to death by the men of the city, for she has committed a disgraceful act. In this way, you will purge the evil from Israel.
22 If a man is caught having sex with another man’s wife, both must die.
23 If a man meets a virgin pledged to be married in the city and sleeps with her,
24 both shall be stoned—she for not crying out for help, and he for violating another man’s wife.
25 But if a man forces a betrothed woman in the countryside, only the man must die,
26 because she is innocent. It’s the same as a murder case—
27 she cried out, but no one was there to help.
28 If a man sleeps with a virgin who is not pledged to be married, and they are discovered,
29 he must pay her father fifty shekels of silver, and she will become his wife. He can never divorce her.
30 A man must not marry his father’s wife or dishonor his father’s bed.

Key Lesson from Deuteronomy 22 (CSB):

God calls His people to live with integrity, compassion, and purity.

From returning lost property to treating others with honor and respect, God’s law teaches personal responsibility, moral distinction, and justice in relationships. These commands reflect God’s heart for holiness and love within the community—and they still echo in the way we treat one another today.

Deuteronomy Chapter 23 — Crawford Standard Bible (CSB)

Section 1: Restrictions on Assembly (Verses 1–8)

1 No man whose private parts have been crushed or cut off may enter the assembly of the Lord.
2 A child born outside of lawful marriage may not enter the assembly of the Lord—even up to the tenth generation.
3 No Ammonite or Moabite may enter the assembly of the Lord—even to the tenth generation—and they are never to be allowed in.

4 This is because they did not offer you bread and water when you came out of Egypt and because they hired Balaam son of Beor from Pethor in Mesopotamia to curse you.

5 But the Lord your God refused to listen to Balaam. Instead, the Lord your God turned the curse into a blessing for you because He loves you.

6 Never seek peace or prosperity for them as long as you live.

7 Do not despise an Edomite, for he is your brother. Do not despise an Egyptian, because you were a foreigner in his land.

8 The children born to them may enter the assembly of the Lord starting in the third generation.

Section 2: Camp Purity and Cleanliness (Verses 9–14)

9 When you go out as an army against your enemies, guard yourself from anything wicked.

10 If any man becomes ceremonially unclean because of a nighttime event, he must leave the camp and stay outside.

11 When evening comes, he must wash himself, and at sunset he may return to the camp.

12 You must have a designated place outside the camp where you can relieve yourself.

13 Carry a tool with your gear so you can dig a hole and cover your waste.

14 The Lord your God walks among your camp to protect you and give you victory over your enemies. Your camp must be holy so that He does not see anything indecent and turn away from you.

Section 3: Social Justice and Sexual Purity (Verses 15–18)

15 Do not return a runaway slave to his master.

16 Let him stay with you wherever he chooses within your towns. Do not mistreat him.

17 No Israelite woman is to be a prostitute, and no Israelite man is to be a sodomite.

18 Do not bring a prostitute's wages or the earnings of a male prostitute into the house of the Lord your God to fulfill any vow, for both are detestable to the Lord your God.

Section 4: Lending, Vows, and Integrity (Verses 19–23)

19 Do not charge interest on loans to your fellow Israelites—whether money, food, or anything else.

20 You may charge interest to a foreigner, but not to your fellow Israelite. Then the Lord your God will bless everything you do in the land you are entering.

21 If you make a vow to the Lord your God, do not delay in fulfilling it. The Lord your God will hold you accountable, and it will be a sin.

22 But if you don't make a vow, you will not be guilty.

23 Whatever you promise with your mouth, you must be sure to do, especially if it was a freewill offering made to the Lord your God.

Section 5: Respect for Others' Property (Verses 24–25)

24 If you enter your neighbor's vineyard, you may eat as many grapes as you want, but don't take any away in a container.

25 If you enter your neighbor's grain field, you may pick the heads of grain with your hand, but don't use a sickle to cut your neighbor's standing grain.

Key Lesson from Deuteronomy 23 (CSB):

God's people must live with purity, compassion, justice, and honesty.

God calls His people to maintain moral boundaries, respect the dignity of others, uphold justice in lending and promises, and show mercy—even in war or among strangers. Holiness is not just a religious act but a lifestyle marked by faithfulness and love.

Deuteronomy Chapter 24 — Crawford Standard Bible (CSB)

Section 1: Divorce and Remarriage (Verses 1–4)

1 If a man marries a woman but later finds something improper or shameful about her and she no longer finds favor in his eyes, he may write her a certificate of divorce, hand it to her, and send her away from his house.

2 After she leaves his house, she is allowed to become another man's wife.

3 But if her second husband also turns against her, writes her a certificate of divorce, hands it to her, and sends her away—or if he dies—

4 then her first husband, who divorced her, may not marry her again after she has been defiled. That is detestable to the Lord, and you must not bring sin upon the land the Lord your God is giving you as an inheritance.

Section 2: Consideration for a New Husband (Verse 5)

5 A man who has recently married must not be sent to war or have any other duty laid on him. He is to be free to stay home for one year and bring happiness to the wife he has married.

Section 3: Fairness and Justice in Lending and Labor (Verses 6–15)

6 No one is to take a pair of millstones—or even just the upper one—as collateral for a loan, because that would be taking a person's livelihood.

7 If someone is caught kidnapping one of his fellow Israelites and treating him as a slave or selling him, that kidnapper must be put to death. In this way, you will remove the evil from among you.

8 Be careful to follow all the instructions the Levitical priests give you concerning skin diseases. Do exactly what I have commanded them.

9 Remember what the Lord your God did to Miriam on the journey out of Egypt.

10 When you loan something to your neighbor, do not go into his house to get the pledge yourself.

11 Stay outside, and let the person bring the pledge out to you.

12 If the man is poor, do not keep his pledge overnight.

13 Be sure to return his cloak by sunset so that he can sleep in it and bless you. That will be considered a righteous act in the sight of the Lord your God.

14 Do not take advantage of a hired worker who is poor and needy, whether he is a fellow Israelite or a foreigner living in your towns.

15 Pay him his wages each day before sunset because he is poor and depends on it. Otherwise, he may cry out to the Lord against you, and you will be guilty of sin.

Section 4: Individual Responsibility and Protection of the Vulnerable (Verses 16–18)

16 Parents are not to be put to death for their children's sins, nor are children to be put to death for their parents' sins. Each person is to die for their own sin.

17 Do not deny justice to the foreigner or the fatherless, and do not take a widow's cloak as security for a loan.

18 Remember that you were slaves in Egypt, and the Lord your God redeemed you. That's why I am commanding you to do these things.

Section 5: Provision for the Poor (Verses 19–22)

19 When you harvest your field and forget a bundle of grain, do not go back to get it. Leave it for the foreigner, the orphan, and the widow so that the Lord your God may bless you in all the work of your hands.

20 When you beat your olive trees, do not go over the branches a second time. Leave what remains for the foreigner, the orphan, and the widow.

21 When you gather the grapes from your vineyard, do not go over the vines again. Leave the rest for the foreigner, the orphan, and the widow.

22 Remember that you were slaves in Egypt. That is why I am commanding you to do this.

Key Lesson from Deuteronomy 24 (CSB):

God's people are called to uphold justice, compassion, and dignity in relationships, economics, and care for the poor.

Whether dealing with divorce, lending, employment, or harvesting, God's laws emphasize mercy and personal responsibility. Remembering where we came from fuels how we treat others—with fairness, generosity, and love.

Deuteronomy Chapter 25 — Crawford Standard Bible (CSB)

Section 1: Justice in Judgment and Punishment (Verses 1–3)

1 If two men have a dispute and go to court, the judges must decide the case. They must declare the innocent as right and the guilty as wrong.

2 If the guilty person deserves to be beaten, the judge will make him lie down and be flogged in his presence, with the number of lashes appropriate to the crime.

3 He may be given up to forty lashes, but no more. If he is beaten with more than that, your brother will be degraded in your eyes.

Section 2: Fair Treatment for Laboring Animals (Verse 4)

4 Do not muzzle an ox while it is treading out the grain.

Section 3: The Duty of a Brother-in-Law (Verses 5–10)

5 If two brothers live together and one of them dies without having a son, his widow must not marry outside the family to a stranger. Her husband's brother is to take her as his wife and fulfill the duty of a brother-in-law.

6 The first son born to them will take the name of the deceased brother so that his name is not removed from Israel.

7 But if the brother refuses to marry her, the widow shall go to the elders at the town gate and say, "My husband's brother refuses to carry on his brother's name in Israel."

8 Then the elders will summon him and speak with him. If he insists, "I will not marry her,"

9 then his brother's widow shall approach him in front of the elders, remove his sandal from his foot, spit in his face, and declare, "This is what is done to the man who will not build up his brother's family line."

10 His family shall be known in Israel as "The family of the unsandaled."

Section 4: Improper Defense and Harsh Justice (Verses 11–12)

11 If two men are fighting and the wife of one tries to rescue her husband by grabbing the other man's private parts,

12 you must cut off her hand. Show no pity.

Section 5: Honest Weights and Measures (Verses 13–16)

13 You must not carry two different weights in your bag—one large, one small.

14 You must not keep two differing measures in your house—a large one and a small one.

15 You must use honest weights and accurate measures, so that you may live long in the land the Lord your God is giving you.

16 Everyone who cheats in this way is detestable to the Lord your God.

Section 6: The Judgment on Amalek (Verses 17–19)

17 Remember what the Amalekites did to you on your journey out of Egypt.

18 They attacked you when you were tired and weary and struck down those who were lagging behind. They had no fear of God.

19 When the Lord your God gives you rest from your enemies in the land He is giving you, you must blot out the memory of Amalek from under heaven. Do not forget!

Key Lesson from Deuteronomy 25 (CSB):

God requires justice, mercy, and integrity in every part of life—how we judge others, care for family, do business, and remember past evils.

We are called to act righteously, care for the vulnerable, preserve fairness in society, and confront sin decisively. Remembering God's justice also means remembering His deliverance and holding onto His standards.

Deuteronomy Chapter 26 — Crawford Standard Bible (CSB)

Section 1: Offering the Firstfruits with Gratitude (Verses 1–11)

1 When you enter the land that the Lord your God is giving you as your inheritance, and you take possession of it and settle there,

2 you must take some of the first of all the produce from the ground, which you harvest from the land the Lord your God is giving you, put it in a basket, and go to the place the Lord your God chooses for His name to dwell.

3 You shall go to the priest in office at that time and say, “Today I declare before the Lord my God that I have come into the land the Lord swore to our ancestors to give us.”

4 Then the priest will take the basket from your hand and place it before the altar of the Lord your God.

5 You shall then declare before the Lord your God: “My ancestor was a wandering Aramean who went down to Egypt with only a few people and lived there, becoming a great, mighty, and populous nation.

6 But the Egyptians mistreated us, oppressed us, and placed us under harsh slavery.

7 Then we cried out to the Lord, the God of our ancestors, and He heard our voice and saw our suffering, labor, and oppression.

8 So the Lord brought us out of Egypt with a mighty hand and an outstretched arm, with terrifying power, with signs and wonders.

9 He brought us to this place and gave us this land—a land flowing with milk and honey.

10 And now I bring the first of the produce of the ground that You, Lord, have given me.” Then you shall set it down before the Lord your God and worship before Him.

11 You and the Levites and the foreigners among you shall rejoice in all the good things the Lord your God has given to you and your household.

Section 2: The Third-Year Tithe and Declaration of Obedience (Verses 12–15)

12 When you have finished giving a tenth of all your produce in the third year (the year of the tithe), and have given it to the Levite, the foreigner, the orphan, and the widow so that they may eat within your gates and be satisfied,

13 you shall declare before the Lord your God: “I have removed the sacred portion from my house, and I have given it to the Levite, the foreigner, the orphan, and the widow, according to all You commanded. I have not disobeyed or forgotten Your commands.

14 I have not eaten any of it while in mourning, nor removed any of it while unclean, nor offered any of it to the dead. I have obeyed the Lord my God and done everything You commanded me.

15 Look down from Your holy dwelling in heaven and bless Your people Israel and the land You have given us, as You swore to our ancestors—a land flowing with milk and honey.”

Section 3: Israel’s Covenant Commitment and God’s Promise (Verses 16–19)

16 Today the Lord your God commands you to follow these statutes and ordinances. So be careful to observe them with all your heart and with all your soul.

17 You have declared today that the Lord is your God and that you will walk in His ways, keep His statutes, commands, and ordinances, and listen to His voice.

18 And today the Lord has declared that you are His treasured people, as He promised, and that you are to keep all His commands.

19 He will set you high above all the nations He has made—in praise, fame, and honor—and you will be a holy people to the Lord your God, as He has spoken.

Key Lesson from Deuteronomy 26 (CSB):

Obedience flows from gratitude. God's people are to remember His faithfulness, honor Him with the first of their increase, care for the vulnerable, and walk in wholehearted commitment to His covenant. In return, God promises to bless and elevate those who are wholly His.

Deuteronomy Chapter 27 — Crawford Standard Bible (CSB)

Section 1: Setting Up Stones and Renewing the Covenant (Verses 1–10)

1 Then Moses and the elders of Israel gave this command to the people: “Keep every command I am giving you today.

2 When you cross the Jordan into the land the Lord your God is giving you, set up large stones and coat them with plaster.

3 Write all the words of this law on them after you have crossed over, so that you may enter the land the Lord your God is giving you—a land flowing with milk and honey, just as the Lord, the God of your ancestors, promised you.

4 So when you have crossed the Jordan, set up these stones on Mount Ebal, as I am commanding you today, and coat them with plaster.

5 There you must build an altar to the Lord your God, an altar made of stones. Do not shape the stones with any iron tool.

6 Use natural, uncut stones to build the altar of the Lord your God. Offer burnt offerings on it to the Lord your God.

7 Also sacrifice peace offerings and eat them there, rejoicing in the presence of the Lord your God.

8 Clearly write all the words of this law on the stones.”

9 Then Moses and the Levite priests said to all Israel, “Be silent, Israel, and listen! Today you have become the people of the Lord your God.

10 So obey the voice of the Lord your God and follow His commandments and statutes that I give you today.”

Section 2: Blessings and Curses on Mount Gerizim and Mount Ebal (Verses 11–13)

11 That same day, Moses gave this command to the people:

12 “When you cross the Jordan, these tribes shall stand on Mount Gerizim to bless the people: Simeon, Levi, Judah, Issachar, Joseph, and Benjamin.

13 And these tribes shall stand on Mount Ebal to pronounce the curses: Reuben, Gad, Asher, Zebulun, Dan, and Naphtali.”

Section 3: The Levites Proclaim the Curses (Verses 14–26)

14 The Levites shall proclaim in a loud voice to all the Israelites:

15 “Cursed is anyone who makes a carved or molten idol—an abomination to the Lord, the work of human hands—and sets it up in secret.”

And all the people shall say, “Amen.”

16 “Cursed is anyone who dishonors their father or mother.”

And all the people shall say, “Amen.”

17 “Cursed is anyone who moves their neighbor’s boundary marker.”

And all the people shall say, “Amen.”

18 “Cursed is anyone who leads the blind astray on the road.”
And all the people shall say, “Amen.”

19 “Cursed is anyone who withholds justice from the foreigner, the fatherless, or the widow.”
And all the people shall say, “Amen.”

20 “Cursed is anyone who sleeps with his father’s wife, for he dishonors his father’s marriage bed.”
And all the people shall say, “Amen.”

21 “Cursed is anyone who has sexual relations with any animal.”
And all the people shall say, “Amen.”

22 “Cursed is anyone who sleeps with his sister, whether she is the daughter of his father or his mother.”
And all the people shall say, “Amen.”

23 “Cursed is anyone who sleeps with his mother-in-law.”
And all the people shall say, “Amen.”

24 “Cursed is anyone who secretly attacks their neighbor.”
And all the people shall say, “Amen.”

25 “Cursed is anyone who accepts a bribe to kill an innocent person.”
And all the people shall say, “Amen.”

26 “Cursed is anyone who does not uphold the words of this law by doing them.”
And all the people shall say, “Amen.”

Key Lesson from Deuteronomy 27 (CSB):

God’s Word must be visibly honored, clearly understood, and wholeheartedly obeyed. Public commitment to the law—engraved on stone, recited aloud, and sealed by communal agreement—reminds us that our faith is not hidden but lived out with integrity, justice, and reverence before God and one another.

Deuteronomy Chapter 28 — Crawford Standard Bible (CSB)

Section 1: Blessings for Obedience (Verses 1–14)

1 If you listen carefully and obey the voice of the Lord your God, and are careful to follow all His commands that I give you today, the Lord your God will set you high above all the nations on earth.

2 All these blessings will come upon you and overtake you, if you obey the voice of the Lord your God:

3 You will be blessed in the city and blessed in the country.

4 Your children will be blessed, your land will be blessed, your livestock—your cattle and sheep—will be blessed.

5 Your baskets and your storehouses will be blessed.
6 You will be blessed when you come in and blessed when you go out.
7 The Lord will cause your enemies who rise against you to be defeated before you. They will come against you one way and flee before you seven ways.
8 The Lord will command a blessing on your barns and on everything you set your hand to. He will bless you in the land the Lord your God is giving you.
9 The Lord will make you His holy people, just as He promised, if you keep His commands and walk in His ways.
10 All the nations of the world will see that you belong to the Lord, and they will stand in awe of you.
11 The Lord will give you abundant prosperity—in your children, your livestock, and your crops—in the land He promised to your ancestors.
12 The Lord will open His rich storehouse of the heavens to give rain in season and bless all the work of your hands. You will lend to many nations but borrow from none.
13 The Lord will make you the head and not the tail. You will always be at the top and never at the bottom, if you pay attention to His commandments and follow them carefully.
14 Do not turn away from any of the words I am commanding you today—to the right or to the left—to follow or serve other gods.

Section 2: Curses for Disobedience (Verses 15–68)

15 But if you do not listen to the voice of the Lord your God and do not carefully follow all His commands and statutes I give you today, then all these curses will come upon you and overtake you:
16 You will be cursed in the city and cursed in the country.
17 Your baskets and storehouses will be cursed.
18 Your children, crops, cattle, and flocks will be cursed.
19 You will be cursed when you come in and cursed when you go out.
20 The Lord will send curses, confusion, and frustration in everything you do until you are destroyed because of your wickedness in abandoning Him.
21 The Lord will cause diseases to stick to you until you are wiped out from the land you're entering to possess.
22 The Lord will strike you with wasting disease, fever, inflammation, and drought; with scorching winds and blight, and they will follow you until you are gone.
23 The skies above you will be like bronze, and the earth beneath you like iron.
24 The Lord will turn the rain of your land into dust and powder. It will fall from the sky until you are destroyed.
25 The Lord will cause you to be defeated by your enemies. You will flee in seven directions and become an object of horror to all nations.
26 Your bodies will be food for birds and wild animals, with no one to scare them away.
27 The Lord will afflict you with the boils of Egypt, tumors, scabs, and itch—all incurable.
28 The Lord will strike you with madness, blindness, and confusion.
29 At noon you will grope in the dark like the blind and you will not succeed in anything you do. You will be oppressed and robbed continually, and no one will save you.

30 You will be engaged to a woman, but another man will sleep with her. You will build a house but not live in it. You will plant a vineyard but not enjoy its fruit.

31 Your ox will be slaughtered before your eyes, but you won't eat any of it. Your donkey will be taken and never returned. Your sheep will be given to your enemies, and no one will help you.

32 Your children will be taken by another people, and you will look for them with all your heart but be helpless.

33 A foreign nation will consume your crops and labor. You will be oppressed and crushed continually.

34 You will go mad because of what your eyes will see.

35 The Lord will strike you from head to toe with painful, incurable boils.

36 The Lord will exile you and your king to a nation neither you nor your ancestors have known, where you will worship other gods—wood and stone.

37 You will become a horror, a proverb, and a byword among all the nations where the Lord drives you.

38 You will plant much seed in the field but harvest little, because locusts will consume it.

39 You will plant and care for vineyards but not drink the wine or gather grapes, because worms will eat them.

40 You will have olive trees throughout your land, but you won't use the oil, because the olives will drop off.

41 You will have sons and daughters, but you won't keep them, for they'll be taken into captivity.

42 Swarms of locusts will consume all your trees and crops.

43 The foreigners among you will rise higher and higher, while you sink lower and lower.

44 They will lend to you, but you won't lend to them. They will be the head, and you'll be the tail.

45 All these curses will pursue you until you are destroyed because you didn't obey the Lord your God.

46 They will be a sign and a warning to you and your descendants forever.

47 Because you didn't serve the Lord your God with joy and gladness for the abundance of everything, 48 You will serve your enemies in hunger, thirst, nakedness, and dire need. He will put an iron yoke on your neck until He has destroyed you.

49 The Lord will bring a nation from far away, as swift as an eagle flies—a nation whose language you won't understand,

50 A fierce nation that shows no respect for the old or mercy to the young.

51 They will consume everything you have until you are destroyed.

52 They will besiege all your cities until your high walls, which you trusted, collapse.

53 During the siege, you will eat the flesh of your sons and daughters.

54 The most sensitive man among you will turn against his family.

55 He will not share with them any of the flesh of his children, because of the suffering in the siege.

56 The most delicate woman will begrudge her husband and children.

57 She will secretly eat the afterbirth and her own children in the suffering of the siege.

58 If you don't obey the words of this law and fear the Lord's glorious and awesome name,

59 Then the Lord will bring extraordinary plagues on you and your descendants—severe and lasting illnesses.

60 He will bring back all the diseases of Egypt you feared, and they will cling to you.

61 Every sickness and every plague not written in this book will come upon you until you are destroyed.

62 You will be reduced in number, though you were as numerous as the stars, because you did not obey the Lord.

63 As the Lord once rejoiced in blessing you, He will now rejoice in destroying you.

64 He will scatter you among all nations and there you will worship foreign gods.

65 Among those nations you will find no rest—only fear, despair, and sorrow.

66 Your life will constantly hang in the balance. Day and night you will live in fear, with no assurance of survival.

67 In the morning you'll wish it were evening, and in the evening you'll wish it were morning—because of the terror in your heart and what your eyes will see.

68 The Lord will take you back to Egypt in ships. There you will try to sell yourselves as slaves—but no one will buy you.

Key Lesson from Deuteronomy 28 (CSB):

God's blessings follow obedience, and His discipline follows rebellion. The choice between life and death, blessing and curse, rests with each generation. To walk in the fear of the Lord brings honor and fruitfulness; to turn from Him leads to ruin and shame. God is not mocked—what we sow, we will reap (Galatians 6:7–8).

Deuteronomy Chapter 29 — Crawford Standard Bible (CSB)

Section 1: Renewal of the Covenant in Moab (Verses 1–9)

1 These are the words of the covenant that the Lord commanded Moses to make with the Israelites in the land of Moab—in addition to the covenant He made with them at Mount Horeb.

2 Moses summoned all Israel and said to them, “You have seen everything the Lord did before your eyes in the land of Egypt—to Pharaoh, to all his officials, and to his entire land.

3 You saw with your own eyes the great trials, the signs, and the mighty wonders.

4 Yet to this day, the Lord has not given you hearts to understand, eyes to see, or ears to hear.

5 I led you through the wilderness for forty years. Your clothes did not wear out, and your sandals did not fall apart on your feet.

6 You ate no bread and drank no wine or strong drink, so you would know that I am the Lord your God.

7 When you came to this place, Sihon king of Heshbon and Og king of Bashan came out to fight against us, and we defeated them.

8 We took their land and gave it as an inheritance to the Reubenites, Gadites, and the half-tribe of Manasseh.

9 Therefore, keep the words of this covenant and follow them, so that you may succeed in everything you do.

Section 2: Standing Before the Lord (Verses 10–15)

10 Today all of you are standing in the presence of the Lord your God—your leaders, your elders, your officials, all the men of Israel,

11 with your children, your wives, and even the foreigners living in your camp—those who cut your wood and draw your water.

12 You are standing here to enter into a covenant with the Lord your God, a covenant He is making with you today, along with an oath,

13 so that He may establish you today as His people and be your God, just as He promised and swore to your ancestors—Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.

14 I am not making this covenant and this oath only with you who are standing here today,

15 but also with those who are not here with us today.

Section 3: A Warning Against Idolatry (Verses 16–21)

16 You know how we lived in Egypt and how we passed through the nations on our journey here.

17 You saw their detestable idols—made of wood, stone, silver, and gold.

18 Make sure there is no man, woman, clan, or tribe among you today whose heart turns away from the Lord our God to go worship the gods of those nations. Don't let a root of bitterness grow that will produce poisonous fruit.

19 When someone hears the words of this curse and thinks to themselves, 'I will be safe even though I follow my own stubborn heart,' this will lead to disaster.

20 The Lord will never forgive such a person. Instead, His anger and jealousy will burn against them. Every curse written in this book will fall on them, and the Lord will erase their name from under heaven.

21 The Lord will single them out for disaster from all the tribes of Israel, according to all the curses of the covenant written in this Book of the Law.

Section 4: A Future Testimony and Consequences (Verses 22–28)

22 In the future, your descendants and foreigners from far-off lands will see the plagues on this land and the diseases the Lord has inflicted upon it.

23 The whole land will be scorched with sulfur and salt, a burning wasteland, not sown or bearing anything—not even grass will grow—like the destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah, Admah and Zeboiim, which the Lord destroyed in His fierce anger.

24 All the nations will ask, 'Why has the Lord done this to this land? Why this fierce, burning anger?'

25 And the people will answer, 'It is because they abandoned the covenant of the Lord, the God of their ancestors, which He made with them when He brought them out of the land of Egypt.'

26 They went off and served other gods, worshiping gods they had never known and that the Lord had not given them.

27 So the Lord's anger burned against this land, bringing all the curses written in this book upon it.

28 The Lord uprooted them from their land in anger, fury, and great wrath, and sent them into another land, as it is today.’

Section 5: The Hidden and the Revealed (Verse 29)

29 The secret things belong to the Lord our God, but the things that are revealed belong to us and to our children forever, so that we may follow all the words of this law.

Key Lesson from Deuteronomy 29 (CSB):

God desires a covenant relationship with His people, but He also demands faithfulness. Though judgment will fall on those who turn to idols, God graciously offers His revealed Word to guide generations into obedience. What is hidden belongs to Him, but what is revealed is ours—to trust, obey, and live by (see Romans 15:4; 1 Corinthians 10:6-11).

Deuteronomy Chapter 30 — Crawford Standard Bible (CSB)

Section 1: The Promise of Restoration (Verses 1–5)

1 When all these things happen to you—the blessings and the curses I have set before you—and you reflect on them while living among the nations where the Lord your God has driven you,
2 and if you return to the Lord your God and obey Him with all your heart and soul, following all His commands that I’m giving you today, both you and your children,
3 then the Lord your God will restore your fortunes. He will have compassion on you and gather you back from all the nations where He has scattered you.
4 Even if you are exiled to the ends of the earth, the Lord your God will gather you and bring you back.
5 The Lord your God will bring you into the land your ancestors possessed, and you will take possession of it. He will bless you and make you more numerous than your ancestors.

Section 2: A New Heart to Love God (Verses 6–10)

6 The Lord your God will circumcise your heart and the hearts of your descendants, so that you will love Him with all your heart and soul, and so you may live.
7 The Lord your God will put all these curses on your enemies—on those who hate and persecute you.
8 You will again obey the Lord and follow all His commands I give you today.
9 Then the Lord your God will make you prosperous in all you do—in your children, your livestock, and your land’s produce. The Lord will once again rejoice over you for good, just as He rejoiced over your ancestors,
10 if you listen to the voice of the Lord your God and keep His commands and decrees written in this Book of the Law, and turn to Him with all your heart and soul.

Section 3: God’s Word Is Near You (Verses 11–14)

11 This command I’m giving you today is not too difficult for you, and it is not out of reach.

12 It is not up in heaven, so you don’t have to say, “Who will go up to heaven for us and bring it down so we can hear it and obey?”

13 It is not beyond the sea, so you don’t have to ask, “Who will cross the sea and bring it back for us, so we can hear it and obey?”

14 No, the word is very near you—it is in your mouth and in your heart, so that you can obey it.

Section 4: Choose Life or Death (Verses 15–20)

15 Look, today I am setting before you life and good, death and evil.

16 I command you today to love the Lord your God, to walk in His ways, and to keep His commands, decrees, and regulations, so that you may live and multiply, and the Lord your God may bless you in the land you are about to enter and possess.

17 But if your heart turns away and you refuse to listen, and you are drawn away to worship and serve other gods,

18 I tell you today that you will certainly be destroyed. You will not live long in the land you are crossing the Jordan to possess.

19 I call heaven and earth to witness against you today: I have set before you life and death, blessing and curse. So choose life, so that you and your descendants may live—

20 by loving the Lord your God, obeying His voice, and clinging to Him. For He is your life and the length of your days, and He will enable you to live in the land the Lord swore to give your ancestors—to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.

Key Lesson from Deuteronomy 30 (CSB):

God gives every person a clear choice: life or death, blessing or curse. The Word is near—accessible, understandable, and powerful. Restoration, prosperity, and true life begin when we return to God with all our heart and obey His voice. God’s heart is for us to choose life—to walk with Him in love, obedience, and faith.

Deuteronomy Chapter 31 — Crawford Standard Bible (CSB)

Section 1: Moses Passes the Torch to Joshua (Verses 1–8)

1 Then Moses went and spoke these words to all the people of Israel.

2 He said to them, “I am 120 years old today. I am no longer able to lead you. And the Lord has told me, ‘You will not cross the Jordan River.’”

3 The Lord your God will go ahead of you. He will destroy the nations living there, and you will take possession of their land. Joshua will lead you across, just as the Lord has said.

4 The Lord will deal with these nations just as He did with Sihon and Og, the kings of the Amorites, and their land, when He destroyed them.

5 The Lord will hand them over to you, and you must do to them exactly as I've commanded you.

6 Be strong and courageous. Don't be afraid or terrified of them, for the Lord your God goes with you. He will never leave you nor abandon you."

7 Then Moses called for Joshua and said to him in front of all Israel, "Be strong and courageous! You must lead these people into the land the Lord swore to give to their ancestors. You will divide it among them as their inheritance.

8 Do not be afraid or discouraged, for the Lord Himself will go ahead of you. He will be with you; He will never fail you or abandon you."

Section 2: Reading the Law Publicly Every Seven Years (Verses 9–13)

9 Moses wrote down this law and gave it to the priests—the descendants of Levi who carried the Ark of the Covenant—and to the leaders of Israel.

10 Then Moses commanded them, "At the end of every seventh year, in the year of release, during the Festival of Tabernacles, 11 when all Israel comes to appear before the Lord your God at the place He chooses, you must read this law aloud before all the people.

12 Call the people together—men, women, children, and the foreigners living in your towns—so they may listen, learn to fear the Lord your God, and carefully obey all the words of this law.

13 Then their children, who don't yet know it, will hear it and learn to fear the Lord your God as long as you live in the land you are crossing the Jordan to possess."

Section 3: God Predicts Israel's Future Unfaithfulness (Verses 14–18)

14 Then the Lord said to Moses, "The time has come for you to die. Call Joshua and present yourselves at the Tabernacle so I can commission him." So Moses and Joshua went and stood before the Lord.

15 And the Lord appeared at the Tabernacle in a pillar of cloud, which stood at the entrance.

16 The Lord said to Moses, "You are about to die, and these people will soon begin to worship foreign gods in the land they are entering. They will abandon Me and break the covenant I made with them.

17 Then My anger will burn against them. I will abandon them, and I will hide My face from them. They will be destroyed, and terrible troubles will fall upon them. On that day they will say, 'These disasters have come because God is no longer with us!'

18 And I will surely turn My face away from them because of all the evil they have done by turning to other gods."

Section 4: A Song as a Witness (Verses 19–22)

19 “Now write down this song and teach it to the Israelites. Put it in their mouths so it may be a witness for Me against them.

20 When I bring them into the land flowing with milk and honey—the land I swore to give their ancestors—they will eat their fill, grow fat, and turn to other gods. They will reject Me and break My covenant.

21 And when great disasters come upon them, this song will testify against them, for their descendants will never forget it. I know the plans they are already making even before I bring them into the land.”

22 So that same day, Moses wrote down the song and taught it to the people of Israel.

Section 5: Joshua Commissioned and the Law Stored (Verses 23–27)

23 Then the Lord gave this charge to Joshua son of Nun: “Be strong and courageous, for you will bring the people of Israel into the land I swore to give them. I will be with you.”

24 When Moses finished writing the words of this law in a book to the very end,

25 he commanded the Levites who carried the Ark of the Covenant,

26 “Take this Book of the Law and place it beside the Ark of the Covenant of the Lord your God. It will remain there as a witness against you.

27 For I know how rebellious and stubborn you are. If you have been rebellious while I am still alive among you, how much more will you rebel after I am gone?”

Section 6: A Final Warning to the Leaders (Verses 28–30)

28 “Assemble all the tribal leaders and officers before me so I can speak these words to them and call heaven and earth as witnesses against them.

29 I know that after my death you will become completely corrupt and turn away from the path I have commanded. In the days to come, disaster will fall on you, because you will do evil in the sight of the Lord, provoking Him to anger by the work of your hands.”

30 Then Moses spoke the entire words of this song to the whole assembly of Israel.

Key Lesson from Deuteronomy 31 (CSB):

Faithfulness is passed on through instruction, courage, and remembrance. Even though Moses would soon die, God’s faithfulness continued through Joshua and through His Word. God knew Israel would stray—but He still gave them His song, His law, and His promises. Courage and obedience are not about our strength—but about trusting that God will go with us and never forsake us.

Deuteronomy Chapter 32 — Crawford Standard Bible (CSB)

The Song of Moses and His Final Charge

Section 1: A Call to Listen and Praise the Rock (Verses 1–4)

1 “Listen, O heavens, and I will speak! Let the earth hear the words from my mouth.

2 My teaching will fall like rain; my speech will drop like dew—like gentle rain on tender grass, like showers on young plants.

3 I will proclaim the name of the Lord; give glory to our God!

4 He is the Rock—His works are perfect. Everything He does is just and fair. He is a faithful God who does no wrong; how just and upright He is!”

Section 2: A Corrupt Generation Forgets God (Verses 5–6)

5 “But they have acted corruptly toward Him; they are no longer His children, but a crooked and twisted generation.

6 Is this how you repay the Lord, you foolish and unwise people? Isn’t He your Father who created you, who made you and established you?”

Section 3: God’s Sovereign Care for Israel (Verses 7–14)

7 “Remember the days of old; consider the years of past generations. Ask your father, and he will tell you—your elders, and they will explain.

8 When the Most High gave the nations their inheritance, when He divided all humanity, He set boundaries for the peoples according to the number of the sons of Israel.

9 For the Lord’s portion is His people; Jacob is His special inheritance.

10 He found him in a desert land, in a barren, howling wilderness. He surrounded him, cared for him, and protected him as the apple of His eye.

11 Like an eagle stirring up its nest, hovering over its young, He spread His wings, caught them, and carried them on His feathers.

12 The Lord alone guided him; no foreign god was with him.

13 He let him ride over the high places of the land and fed him with the produce of the fields. He gave him honey from the rock and oil from flint-hard stone,

14 Curd from the cattle and milk from the sheep, with fat of lambs, rams of Bashan, and goats, with the finest wheat—and you drank the foaming blood of the grape.”

Section 4: Jeshurun's Rebellion and Idolatry (Verses 15–18)

15 “But Jeshurun grew fat and rebelled—you became bloated and filled with pride. Then you abandoned the God who made you and rejected the Rock of your salvation.

16 They made Him jealous with foreign gods; they enraged Him with detestable idols.

17 They offered sacrifices to demons, not to God, to new gods they had never known, to gods their ancestors did not fear.

18 You forgot the Rock who gave you birth and forgot the God who brought you forth.”

Section 5: God’s Judgment and Provocation (Verses 19–27)

19 “The Lord saw this and rejected them, because of the provocation of His sons and daughters.

20 He said, ‘I will hide My face from them and see what becomes of them, for they are a perverse generation—children with no faith.

21 They have provoked Me with what is not God and angered Me with their worthless idols. So I will make them jealous with those who are not a people; I will provoke them with a foolish nation.

22 For a fire is kindled by My anger—it burns to the lowest part of the grave, consuming the earth and its produce, and setting fire to the foundations of the mountains.

23 I will heap disasters on them and shoot My arrows at them.

24 They will be wasted with hunger, burned with fever and bitter plague. I will send wild beasts and poisonous serpents among them.

25 Outside, the sword will bring death; inside, terror will reign for young men and women, for infants and the elderly.

26 I would have said, “I will scatter them far away and erase their memory from mankind,”

27 but I feared the taunt of the enemy, lest their adversaries misunderstand and say, “Our power has triumphed; it wasn’t the Lord who did this.””

Section 6: Their Rock Is Not Our Rock (Verses 28–33)

28 “They are a nation without wisdom; there is no understanding in them.

29 If only they were wise and would understand this and consider their future!

30 How could one man chase a thousand, or two put ten thousand to flight, unless their Rock had sold them and the Lord had given them up?

31 Their ‘rock’ is not like our Rock—even their enemies know it.

32 Their vine comes from Sodom, and their fields from Gomorrah; their grapes are bitter and poisonous.

33 Their wine is the venom of serpents—the deadly poison of cobras.”

Section 7: Vengeance and Justice Belong to the Lord (Verses 34–43)

34 “Have I not kept this in reserve, sealed it in My vaults?

35 Vengeance is Mine; I will repay. Their foot will slip in due time, for their day of disaster is near, and their doom rushes upon them.”

36 The Lord will vindicate His people and have compassion on His servants when He sees their strength is gone and no one is left—slave or free.

37 He will say, ‘Where are their gods, the rock they took refuge in?

38 The ones who ate the fat of their sacrifices and drank the wine of their drink offerings? Let them rise up and help you! Let them give you shelter!’

39 See now that I alone am He; there is no god but Me. I kill and I give life; I wound and I heal. No one can rescue from My hand.

40 I lift My hand to heaven and solemnly swear: As surely as I live forever,

41 when I sharpen My flashing sword and begin to execute judgment, I will take vengeance on My enemies and repay those who hate Me.

42 I will make My arrows drunk with blood, and My sword will devour flesh—blood of the slain and captives, the heads of the enemy’s leaders.”

43 Rejoice, O nations, with His people! For He will avenge the blood of His servants, take vengeance on His adversaries, and be merciful to His land and people.”

Section 8: Moses’ Final Charge and God’s Command (Verses 44–52)

44 Moses came with Hoshea (Joshua) son of Nun and spoke all the words of this song to the people.

45 When Moses finished reciting all these words,

46 he said to them, “Take to heart all the words I have warned you about today. Command them to your children so they will carefully obey all the words of this law.

47 These instructions are not empty words—they are your life! By obeying them you will live long in the land you’re about to enter.”

48 That same day the Lord said to Moses,

49 “Go up into the Abarim Mountains, to Mount Nebo, across from Jericho, and look at the land of Canaan, which I am giving to Israel.

50 There on the mountain, you will die and be gathered to your people, just as Aaron your brother died on Mount Hor.

51 This is because you broke faith with Me at the waters of Meribah-Kadesh in the Wilderness of Zin and failed to honor Me as holy among the Israelites.

52 You will see the land from a distance, but you will not enter it—the land I am giving to the children of Israel.”

Key Lesson from Deuteronomy 32 (CSB):

God is faithful even when His people are not. This powerful song reminds us that God is our Rock—just, merciful, and sovereign. Though Israel turned to idols and forgot their Creator, God promises justice on His enemies and mercy on His people. The choice is still before us: trust in the living God or in worthless substitutes. Only one Rock can save.

Deuteronomy Chapter 33 – Crawford Standard Bible (CSB)

Moses' Final Blessing on the Tribes of Israel

Section 1: The Lord's Majesty and Love for Israel (Verses 1–5)

1 This is the blessing that Moses, the man of God, gave to the Israelites before his death:

2 “The Lord came from Sinai, and shone from Seir upon them. He appeared in glory from Mount Paran, accompanied by thousands of holy ones. From His right hand came a fiery law for them.

3 Yes, He loves His people; all His holy ones are in His hands. They sit at His feet and receive His words.

4 Moses gave us the Law—a precious inheritance for the people of Jacob.

5 The Lord became King in Jeshurun when the leaders of the people gathered, along with the tribes of Israel.”

Section 2: Blessings for the Tribes (Verses 6–25)

Reuben

6 “Let Reuben live and not die, and let his people be many.”

Judah

7 “This is the blessing for Judah: Lord, hear Judah’s voice, and bring him back to his people. Strengthen his hands for battle, and help him against his enemies.”

Levi

8 “Concerning Levi: Lord, give your Thummim and Urim to Your faithful one, whom You tested at Massah and at Meribah.

9 He said of his father and mother, ‘I don’t acknowledge them.’ He ignored his brothers and his children because he kept Your word and guarded Your covenant.

10 They will teach Your laws to Jacob and Your instructions to Israel. They will offer incense before You and whole burnt offerings on Your altar.

11 Lord, bless his strength and accept the work of his hands. Strike down those who rise against him, so they never rise again.”

Benjamin

12 “The beloved of the Lord will dwell safely beside Him. The Lord protects him all day long, and he rests securely between His shoulders.”

Joseph (Ephraim & Manasseh)

13 “Blessed by the Lord is Joseph’s land—with the dew of heaven and the deep waters below,
14 with the best crops the sun brings and the precious things the moon yields,
15 with the finest produce of ancient mountains and everlasting hills,
16 with the best gifts of the earth and its fullness, and the favor of the One who dwelt in the burning bush. May these blessings rest on the head of Joseph, the one set apart from his brothers.
17 His glory is like a firstborn bull; his horns are like those of a wild ox. With them he will gore the nations to the ends of the earth. These are the ten thousands of Ephraim and the thousands of Manasseh.”

Zebulun and Issachar

18 “Rejoice, Zebulun, in your journeys, and Issachar, in your tents.
19 They will summon the people to the mountain and offer righteous sacrifices. They will feast on the abundance of the seas and treasures hidden in the sand.”

Gad

20 “Blessed is the one who enlarges Gad’s territory. Gad lives like a lion, ready to tear off arm and head.
21 He chose the best land for himself, where the lawgiver’s portion was reserved. He came with the leaders of the people and carried out the Lord’s justice and His judgments for Israel.”

Dan

22 “Dan is a young lion, leaping out from Bashan.”

Naphtali

23 “Naphtali, full of favor and the Lord’s blessing, take possession of the west and the south.”

Asher

24 “Asher is most blessed of the sons; let him be favored by his brothers. Let him bathe his feet in olive oil.
25 Your gates will be made of iron and bronze, and your strength will match your days.”

Section 3: The Greatness of God and Israel’s Blessing (Verses 26–29)

26 “There is no one like the God of Jeshurun, who rides across the heavens to help you and soars through the skies in majesty.
27 The eternal God is your refuge, and underneath are His everlasting arms. He will drive out your enemies and say, ‘Destroy them!’
28 So Israel will live in safety; Jacob’s spring will remain secure in a land of grain and new wine, where the heavens drop dew.
29 How blessed you are, O Israel! Who is like you, a people saved by the Lord? He is your shield and helper and your glorious sword. Your enemies will cower before you, and you will walk on their heights.”

Key Lesson from Deuteronomy 33 (CSB):

God blesses each of His people uniquely, but He is the same faithful and powerful God over all. Just as Moses pronounced blessings tailored to each tribe’s destiny and role, so God gives His people what they need to thrive in their purpose. His strength, protection, and presence are constant —“underneath are the everlasting arms.”

Deuteronomy Chapter 34 – Crawford Standard Bible (CSB)

The Death of Moses and the Transition to Joshua

Section: Moses Sees the Promised Land and Passes the Mantle (Verses 1–12)

1 Then Moses went up from the plains of Moab to Mount Nebo, to the top of Pisgah, across from Jericho. There the Lord showed him the whole land—from Gilead to Dan,

2 all of Naphtali, the territory of Ephraim and Manasseh, and all the land of Judah as far as the Mediterranean Sea,

3 the Negev in the south, and the plain of the valley of Jericho—the city of palm trees—all the way to Zoar.

4 Then the Lord said to him, “This is the land I promised to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob when I said, ‘I will give it to your descendants.’ I have let you see it with your own eyes, but you will not enter it.”

5 So Moses, the servant of the Lord, died there in the land of Moab, just as the Lord had said.

6 He buried him in a valley in the land of Moab, opposite Beth-peor, but to this day no one knows the exact location of his grave.

7 Moses was 120 years old when he died, yet his eyesight was clear, and he was as strong as ever.

8 The people of Israel mourned for Moses on the plains of Moab for thirty days, until the time of weeping and mourning was over.

9 Now Joshua son of Nun was filled with the spirit of wisdom because Moses had laid his hands on him. So the Israelites listened to him and did just as the Lord had commanded through Moses.

10 There has never been another prophet in Israel like Moses, whom the Lord knew face to face.

11 The Lord sent him to perform all the signs and wonders in the land of Egypt against Pharaoh, all his officials, and his entire land.

12 With mighty power and terrifying acts, Moses did great things in the sight of all Israel.

Key Lesson from Deuteronomy 34 (CSB):

A faithful servant may not enter the promise, but he fulfills the purpose. Moses' story ends not in failure, but in faithfulness. Though he did not step foot into the Promised Land, he led a generation out of bondage and prepared the next to enter. His life was a testimony of obedience, intimacy with God, and leadership. His legacy lives on through Joshua and the people he guided.

Introduction to the Book of Joshua

Claiming the Promised Land by Faith and Obedience

Title and Authorship

The book is named after Joshua, the son of Nun, who succeeded Moses as Israel's leader. Joshua's name (Hebrew: Yehoshua, meaning "The Lord is salvation") is the same as the Greek name Iēsous, translated as Jesus in the New Testament.

Although Joshua likely wrote large portions of the book (see Joshua 24:26), the final chapters may have been completed by another eyewitness or scribe after his death.

Historical Setting

Joshua picks up where Deuteronomy ends—Moses has died, and Israel is poised on the east side of the Jordan River, ready to enter Canaan. The events span approximately 25 years (circa 1405–1380 B.C., depending on the dating of the Exodus), marking Israel's transition from wandering to conquest.

Purpose and Themes

Joshua is the historical account of Israel's conquest, division, and settlement in the Promised Land. But it's more than a war record—it's a theological narrative about God's faithfulness, justice, and the necessity of obedience.

Key Themes:

- God's Faithfulness to His Promises (Joshua 21:45)
 - Courage and Obedience to God's Word (Joshua 1:7-9)
 - Divine Guidance in Battle (Joshua 6:2-5)
 - The Dangers of Disobedience (Joshua 7:1-5)
 - Covenant Renewal and Commitment (Joshua 24:14-15)

Structure of the Book

1. Chapters 1–5: Preparation for Invasion

- God commissions Joshua
- Rahab and the spies
- Crossing the Jordan
- Covenant renewal at Gilgal

2. Chapters 6–12: Conquest of the Land

- Jericho and Ai
- The sin of Achan
- Southern and northern campaigns
- Summary of victories

3. Chapters 13–21: Division of the Land

- Allotments to the tribes
- Cities of refuge
- Levitical cities

4. Chapters 22–24: Covenant and Farewell

- Eastern tribes return home
 - Joshua's final exhortations
 - Covenant renewal at Shechem
 - Joshua's death

Spiritual Lessons

- Victory comes through faith and obedience, not military strength.
 - Sin in the camp affects the whole community (Achan's story).
 - God keeps every promise—no word of His ever fails.
 - The battle belongs to the Lord, but His people must follow Him in faith.
 - Renewal of covenant must be continual, from generation to generation.

Jesus in Joshua

Joshua is a type of Christ—both in name and mission. Just as Joshua led God’s people into the earthly promised land, Jesus leads His people into the heavenly promised land. Rahab’s deliverance also foreshadows salvation by faith and grace.

Key Verse

“Be strong and courageous! Do not be afraid or discouraged. For the Lord your God is with you wherever you go.”
— Joshua 1:9 (NLT)

Joshua Chapter 1 (Crawford Standard Bible)

1 After Moses, the servant of the Lord, died, the Lord spoke to Joshua, son of Nun, who had served Moses faithfully.

2 “Moses, my servant, is dead. Now get ready—it’s time for you and all the people to cross the Jordan River into the land I’m giving to the people of Israel.

3 I’m giving you every place where you set your foot, just like I promised Moses.

4 Your territory will stretch from the wilderness to Lebanon, from the great Euphrates River to all the land of the Hittites, and west to the Mediterranean Sea.

5 No one will be able to stand against you as long as you live. Just like I was with Moses, I’ll be with you. I won’t abandon you or let you down.

6 Be strong and brave, because you will lead these people to inherit the land I promised to their ancestors.

7 Be strong and very courageous. Make sure you live according to all the law my servant Moses gave you. Don’t turn from it to the right or to the left. That’s how you’ll succeed in whatever you do.

8 Keep this Book of the Law always on your lips. Think about it day and night, so you’ll be sure to obey everything in it. Then you’ll do well and succeed in life.

9 I’ve commanded you—be strong and courageous! Don’t be afraid or discouraged, because the Lord your God is with you wherever you go.”

10 Then Joshua gave orders to the officers of the people:

11 “Go through the camp and tell the people, ‘Get your supplies ready. In three days you will cross the Jordan River to go and take the land the Lord your God is giving you.’”

12 Joshua also spoke to the tribes of Reuben, Gad, and the half-tribe of Manasseh:

13 “Remember what Moses, the servant of the Lord, told you: ‘The Lord your God has given you rest and this land.’

14 Your wives, children, and livestock can stay here in the land Moses gave you east of the Jordan. But all your strong warriors must cross ahead of your relatives, fully armed, to help them.

15 Stay with them until the Lord gives them rest, just as He's given you rest. After they've taken the land the Lord your God is giving them, you can return to your own land, the one Moses gave you on the east side of the Jordan, facing the sunrise."

16 Then they answered Joshua, "We'll do everything you've told us, and we'll go wherever you send us.

17 Just like we obeyed Moses, we'll obey you. May the Lord your God be with you just as He was with Moses.

18 Anyone who rebels against your command or disobeys your orders will be put to death. So be strong and courageous!"

Key Lesson from Joshua 1:

God's presence and promises are the foundation of courage and success. When we follow His Word faithfully and step forward in obedience, He will be with us wherever we go. Leadership rooted in God's instruction brings strength, unity, and victory.

Joshua Chapter 2 (Crawford Standard Bible)

1 Then Joshua, son of Nun, secretly sent two men from the Israelite camp at Shittim. He told them, "Go scout out the land, especially Jericho." So the two spies entered the city and stayed at the house of a prostitute named Rahab.

2 But someone told the king of Jericho, "Some Israelite men have come here tonight to spy out the land."

3 So the king of Jericho sent orders to Rahab: "Bring out the men who came to stay in your house. They've come to spy out the whole country."

4 But Rahab had hidden the two men. She told the king's messengers, "Yes, the men came to me, but I didn't know where they were from.

5 When it got dark and the city gate was about to close, they left. I don't know where they went. Hurry! You might catch them!"

6 (In truth, she had taken them to the roof and hidden them under stalks of flax she had laid out.)

7 So the king's men went out searching for them along the road toward the Jordan River and the crossing points. As soon as they left, the city gate was shut.

8 Before the spies settled in for the night, Rahab came up to the roof

9 and said, "I know the Lord has given you this land. Everyone here is terrified of you. The people are melting in fear.

10 We've heard how the Lord dried up the Red Sea for you when you left Egypt, and what you did to Sihon and Og, the two Amorite kings on the east side of the Jordan—you completely destroyed them.

11 When we heard this, our hearts sank, and no one has any courage left. For the Lord your God is the true God in heaven above and on the earth below.

12 Now please swear to me by the Lord that since I've shown you kindness, you'll also show kindness to my family. Give me a promise you'll keep:

13 that you'll spare my father and mother, my brothers and sisters, and everyone in their households—and save us from death.”

14 The men replied, “We'll guarantee your safety with our own lives—if you don't tell anyone about this mission. When the Lord gives us the land, we will treat you kindly and faithfully.”

15 Then Rahab lowered them down through a window using a rope, because her house was part of the city wall.

16 She told them, “Run to the hills and hide there for three days until the men chasing you return. Then you can go on your way.”

17 The men said, “We'll keep our promise, but only under certain conditions:

18 When we come into the land, you must tie this scarlet cord in the window—the same one you used to let us down. And you must gather your father, mother, brothers, and your whole family into your house.

19 If anyone leaves your house, their blood is on their own head—we won't be responsible. But if anyone stays in the house and is harmed, we'll take the blame.

20 But if you tell anyone about our mission, then we are released from our oath to you.”

21 Rahab agreed. “Let it be as you say,” she replied. She sent them off, and then she tied the scarlet cord in the window.

22 The two men went into the hills and stayed there three days. The king's men searched everywhere along the road but didn't find them.

23 Afterward, the spies went back down the hill, crossed the Jordan, and returned to Joshua. They gave him a full report of everything that had happened.

24 They told Joshua, “The Lord has certainly given us the whole land. All the people are terrified of us.”

Key Lesson from Joshua 2:

God can use unexpected people—like Rahab—to carry out His plan. Faith isn't limited by a person's past. When we trust God's promises, we become part of His redemption story. Rahab's act of faith opened the way for her family's salvation and placed her in the lineage of Jesus (Matthew 1:5).

Joshua Chapter 3 (Crawford Standard Bible)

1 Joshua got up early the next morning, and the Israelites left Shittim. They arrived at the Jordan River and camped there before crossing over.

2 After three days, the officers went throughout the camp

3 and gave these instructions to the people: “When you see the priests—the Levites—carrying the Ark of the Covenant of the Lord your God, you must break camp and follow them.

4 But stay about 2,000 cubits (around 3,000 feet) behind it. Don’t go near it, so that you’ll clearly see the path to follow, because you’ve never been this way before.”

5 Then Joshua told the people, “Make yourselves holy, because tomorrow the Lord will do amazing things among you.”

6 Joshua told the priests, “Pick up the Ark of the Covenant and go ahead of the people.” So they picked it up and went ahead.

7 Then the Lord said to Joshua, “Today I will begin to make you great in the eyes of all Israel. Then they will know that I am with you just as I was with Moses.

8 Tell the priests who carry the Ark of the Covenant, ‘When you reach the edge of the Jordan River, stop and stand in the river.’”

9 Then Joshua spoke to the Israelites: “Come here and listen to the words of the Lord your God.”

10 He said, “This is how you will know that the living God is among you and that He will drive out before you the Canaanites, Hittites, Hivites, Perizzites, Girgashites, Amorites, and Jebusites.

11 Look! The Ark of the Covenant of the Lord of all the earth will go ahead of you into the Jordan.

12 Choose twelve men from the tribes of Israel, one man from each tribe.

13 As soon as the priests who are carrying the Ark of the Lord—the Lord of all the earth—step into the water, the river will stop flowing. The water coming from upstream will pile up in a heap.”

14 So when the people broke camp to cross the Jordan, the priests carrying the Ark went ahead of them.

15 Now the Jordan was overflowing its banks because it was harvest season. But as soon as the priests stepped into the water at the river’s edge,

16 the water coming from upstream stopped and piled up in a great heap far away at a town called Adam near Zarethan. And the water flowing down to the Dead Sea was completely cut off. So the people crossed the river near Jericho.

17 The priests carrying the Ark of the Lord stood firmly on dry ground in the middle of the Jordan while all the Israelites crossed on dry land until everyone had passed over.

Key Lesson from Joshua 3:

When God leads, He makes a way—even through impossible barriers. The crossing of the Jordan shows that God is not only present but powerful, going before His people. Faith means stepping into the water before it parts, trusting God will hold it back.

Joshua Chapter 4 (Crawford Standard Bible)

1 After the entire nation had crossed over the Jordan River, the Lord spoke to Joshua,

2 “Choose twelve men, one from each tribe,

3 and tell them, ‘Take twelve stones from the middle of the Jordan River, from the very place where the priests are standing. Carry them with you and put them down where you’ll be staying tonight.’”

4 So Joshua called together the twelve men he had chosen from the Israelites—one from each tribe.

5 He told them, “Go ahead of the Ark of the Lord your God into the middle of the Jordan. Each of you must pick up a stone and carry it on your shoulder, one for each of the twelve tribes of Israel.

6 These stones will be a sign to you. In the future, your children will ask, ‘What do these stones mean?’

7 Then you can tell them, ‘The waters of the Jordan stopped flowing when the Ark of the Lord’s covenant crossed the river.’ These stones will be a permanent memorial for the people of Israel.”

8 The Israelites did just as Joshua commanded. They took twelve stones from the middle of the Jordan River—just as the Lord had instructed Joshua—one for each tribe. They carried them to the place where they would camp and put them down there.

9 Joshua also set up another twelve stones in the middle of the Jordan, at the spot where the priests who carried the Ark of the Covenant had stood. The stones are still there to this day.

10 The priests carrying the Ark stood in the river until everything was done that the Lord had commanded Joshua, just as Moses had instructed him. Meanwhile, the people hurried across the river.

11 Once everyone had crossed, the priests carrying the Ark of the Lord also crossed to the other side while the people watched.

12 The men from the tribes of Reuben, Gad, and the half-tribe of Manasseh crossed over ahead of the rest of Israel, armed for battle, just as Moses had said.

13 About forty thousand warriors, equipped for battle, crossed over before the Lord to the plains near Jericho.

14 On that day, the Lord made Joshua great in the eyes of all Israel. They respected him for the rest of his life, just as they had respected Moses.

15 Then the Lord said to Joshua,

16 “Tell the priests carrying the Ark of the Covenant to come up out of the Jordan.”

17 So Joshua gave that command to the priests:

18 And when the priests carrying the Ark came up out of the Jordan, and their feet touched dry ground, the river returned to its place and overflowed its banks as before.

19 The people crossed the Jordan on the tenth day of the first month and camped at Gilgal, on the eastern border of Jericho.

20 Joshua set up the twelve stones they had taken from the Jordan at Gilgal.

21 He said to the Israelites, “In the future, when your children ask, ‘What do these stones mean?’

22 You will tell them, ‘Israel crossed the Jordan River on dry ground.’

23 For the Lord your God dried up the river before you until you had crossed over, just like He did at the Red Sea, which He dried up for us until we had all passed through.

24 He did this so all the nations of the earth might know that the Lord’s hand is powerful, and so that you would always respect and honor the Lord your God.”

Key Lesson from Joshua 4:

God wants His people to remember His faithfulness. The memorial stones were not just rocks—they were a legacy of God’s power and provision, passed down to future generations. We should always find ways to remember and share what God has done.

Joshua Chapter 5 (Crawford Standard Bible)

1 When all the kings of the Amorites west of the Jordan and all the Canaanite kings who lived along the Mediterranean Sea heard that the Lord had dried up the Jordan River so the Israelites could cross over, their hearts melted with fear. They lost all courage because of the people of Israel.

2 At that time, the Lord said to Joshua, “Make sharp knives and circumcise the Israelite men again.”

3 So Joshua made sharp flint knives and circumcised the Israelite males at a place called the Hill of Foreskins.

4 The reason Joshua circumcised them was this: All the men who came out of Egypt—who were of fighting age—died in the wilderness after they left Egypt.

5 All those who came out had been circumcised, but none of those born during the forty years in the wilderness had been circumcised.

6 The Israelites wandered in the wilderness for forty years until all the men who had left Egypt died, because they had disobeyed the Lord. God had sworn they would not see the land He promised to their ancestors—a land flowing with milk and honey.

7 So it was their children, the next generation, that Joshua circumcised. They had not been circumcised on the way during those years in the wilderness.

8 After the circumcision was done, the men stayed in camp until they healed.

9 Then the Lord said to Joshua, “Today I have rolled away the shame of Egypt from you.” So the place was called Gilgal (which sounds like “roll away”), and that name remains to this day.

10 While camped at Gilgal in the plains of Jericho, the Israelites celebrated the Passover on the evening of the fourteenth day of the month.

11 The very next day, they ate food grown in the land—unleavened bread and roasted grain.

12 The day after they ate from the land, the manna stopped. From then on, the Israelites ate food from the land of Canaan and never had manna again.

13 One day, while Joshua was near Jericho, he looked up and saw a man standing in front of him with a drawn sword in his hand. Joshua approached him and asked, “Are you on our side or our enemies’ side?”

14 “Neither,” the man replied. “I am the commander of the Lord’s army. I’ve just arrived.” Joshua fell to the ground in reverence and asked, “What does my Lord want to say to His servant?”

15 The commander of the Lord’s army replied, “Take off your sandals, for the place where you are standing is holy.” And Joshua did as he was told.

Key Lesson from Joshua 5:

Before great victories come, God often calls for personal obedience and spiritual preparation. Israel’s renewal of the covenant through circumcision and celebration of Passover marked a new beginning. Likewise, the appearance of the Commander of the Lord’s army reminds us: the battles we face are won when God leads, and we follow in humility and worship.

Joshua Chapter 6 (Crawford Standard Bible)

1 Now Jericho was tightly shut because of the Israelites. No one could enter or leave.

2 Then the Lord said to Joshua, “Look, I have handed Jericho over to you—its king and all its strong warriors.

3 You and your men of war must march around the city once a day for six days.

4 Have seven priests walk in front of the Ark, each carrying a ram’s horn. On the seventh day, march around the city seven times, with the priests blowing their horns.

5 When you hear them give a long blast on the ram’s horn, all the people must shout as loud as they can. Then the city wall will collapse, and everyone can charge straight in.”

6 So Joshua son of Nun summoned the priests and said, “Take up the Ark of the Covenant. Seven of you are to carry trumpets made from ram’s horns in front of the Ark.”

7 He then gave the order to the people: “March around the city. Armed men should go ahead of the Ark of the Lord.”

8 After Joshua spoke, the seven priests with the ram's horn trumpets started walking ahead of the Lord, blowing their horns. The Ark of the Covenant followed behind them.

9 Some of the armed men marched ahead of the priests who were blowing the horns, and the rest followed behind the Ark, all the while blowing their trumpets.

10 But Joshua gave strict orders: "Don't shout, don't speak, not a single word from anyone until I tell you to shout. Then shout!"

11 So the Ark of the Lord was carried around the city one time. Then they returned to camp and stayed the night.

12 Early the next morning, Joshua got up and the priests again carried the Ark of the Lord.

13 The seven priests with the seven ram's horns marched ahead of the Ark, blowing their horns. The armed men marched before them, and the rear guard followed the Ark as the trumpets blew.

14 On the second day they again marched around the city once and returned to camp. They did this for six days.

15 On the seventh day, they got up at dawn and marched around the city seven times in the same way. This was the only day they marched around it seven times.

16 On the seventh time, as the priests blew the trumpets, Joshua said to the people, "Shout! For the Lord has given you the city!"

17 The city and everything in it must be completely destroyed as an offering to the Lord. Only Rahab the prostitute and those in her house should be spared, because she hid the spies we sent.

18 But keep away from the things set apart for destruction. If you take anything that belongs to the Lord, you will bring destruction on the whole camp of Israel.

19 All the silver, gold, and items made of bronze and iron are sacred to the Lord and must go into His treasury."

20 When the people heard the sound of the trumpets, they shouted with a mighty shout. The wall collapsed, and the people rushed in and captured the city.

21 They completely destroyed everything in the city—men and women, young and old, cattle, sheep, and donkeys—with the sword.

22 Then Joshua said to the two spies, "Go to Rahab's house and bring her and all her family out, as you promised her."

23 The young men went in and brought out Rahab, her parents, her siblings, and everyone with her. They brought them all to a safe place outside the Israelite camp.

24 Then they burned the city and everything in it. Only the silver, gold, and articles of bronze and iron were kept and put into the Lord's treasury.

25 Joshua spared Rahab the prostitute, along with her family and all who were with her. She has lived among the Israelites ever since, because she hid the spies Joshua sent to Jericho.

26 At that time, Joshua pronounced this curse: “Cursed is the man who tries to rebuild Jericho. At the cost of his firstborn son, he will lay its foundation; at the cost of his youngest, he will set up its gates.”

27 So the Lord was with Joshua, and his reputation spread throughout the land.

Key Lesson from Joshua 6:

Victory doesn't always come through strength, but through obedience. God's instructions to conquer Jericho seemed unusual, but Israel's faith and obedience brought the walls down. Faith paired with action—even when it defies logic—unleashes God's power. Jericho fell not by swords, but by submission to the Lord.

Joshua Chapter 7 (Crawford Standard Bible)

1 But the Israelites were unfaithful about the things that were supposed to be set apart for the Lord. A man named Achan—son of Carmi, grandson of Zabdi, great-grandson of Zerah, from the tribe of Judah—took some of what had been dedicated to God. So the Lord's anger burned against the entire nation.

2 Joshua sent some men from Jericho to scout out the town of Ai, which is east of Bethel near Bethaven. He told them, “Go up and spy out the land.” So the men went and did as he said.

3 When they returned, they told Joshua, “We don't need the whole army to go up. Two or three thousand men will be enough to defeat Ai. The people there are few—don't make everyone work hard.”

4 So about 3,000 men went to attack Ai, but they were soundly defeated.

5 The men of Ai killed about 36 of them. They chased the rest of the Israelites from the city gates all the way down the slopes, and the Israelites were terrified. Their courage melted away like water.

6 Then Joshua tore his clothes and fell face down before the Ark of the Lord. He stayed there until evening, along with the elders of Israel. They sprinkled dust on their heads as a sign of mourning.

7 Joshua cried out, “Lord God, why did You bring us across the Jordan River at all—just to let the Amorites destroy us? We should have been content to stay on the other side!

8 Lord, what can I say now that Israel has turned its back and run from its enemies?

9 The Canaanites and all the surrounding nations will hear about this. They'll surround us and wipe our name off the earth. And what will happen to Your great name?”

10 But the Lord said to Joshua, “Stand up! Why are you lying there on your face?

11 Israel has sinned. They have violated My covenant. They've taken what I commanded them not to touch. They've stolen, lied, and hidden the stolen things among their own stuff.

12 That's why Israel can't stand against their enemies—they've been set apart for destruction. I won't be with you anymore unless you remove what was stolen and cursed from among you.

13 Get up and tell the people to purify themselves. Say to them, ‘Get ready for tomorrow, because this is what the Lord God of Israel says: There’s a cursed thing in your midst, Israel. You won’t be able to stand against your enemies until you remove it.’

14 In the morning, each tribe will come forward, one at a time. The Lord will single out one tribe, then a clan, then a family, and finally the individual who is guilty.

15 The one who is found guilty must be destroyed by fire, along with everything he owns. He has broken the Lord’s covenant and done a terrible thing in Israel.”

16 Early the next morning, Joshua brought the tribes forward. The tribe of Judah was selected.

17 Then he brought the clans of Judah forward, and the clan of the Zerahites was chosen. Then the family of Zabdi was selected,

18 and finally, Achan—son of Carmi, grandson of Zabdi, from the tribe of Judah—was chosen.

19 Then Joshua said to Achan, “My son, give glory to the Lord, the God of Israel. Confess what you have done. Don’t hide it from me.”

20 Achan replied, “It’s true. I have sinned against the Lord. This is what I did:

21 When I saw a beautiful Babylonian robe, 200 silver coins, and a gold bar weighing 50 shekels, I wanted them so badly that I took them. They are hidden in the ground under my tent, with the silver buried beneath the rest.”

22 So Joshua sent messengers to Achan’s tent, and they found everything hidden just as he said. They brought it all back and laid it out before the Lord.

23 Then Joshua, along with all Israel, took Achan, the silver, the robe, the gold bar, his sons and daughters, his cattle, donkeys, sheep, his tent, and all he owned to the Valley of Achor.

24 Joshua said, “Why have you brought trouble on us? The Lord will bring trouble on you today.” Then all the Israelites stoned Achan and his family and burned their bodies.

25 They piled a large heap of stones over him, and it’s still there to this day. Then the Lord’s fierce anger was turned away. That’s why the place is called the Valley of Achor (which means “trouble”) even to this day.

Key Lesson from Joshua 7:

God takes sin seriously, especially when it comes from disobedience and hidden rebellion. Achan’s private sin brought defeat to the whole nation. This chapter teaches that unconfessed sin affects more than just the individual—it can delay God’s blessings for the entire community. Repentance and obedience restore God’s presence and favor.

Joshua Chapter 7

Israel Sins and Faces Defeat

1 But the Israelites were unfaithful by taking things that were supposed to be destroyed. A man named Achan—son of Carmi, grandson of Zabdi, great-grandson of Zerah from the tribe of Judah—took some of those forbidden things. So the Lord became very angry with the entire nation.

2 Joshua sent some men from Jericho to scout the city of Ai, which was east of Bethel and near Beth-aven. He told them, “Go check out the land.”

3 When they returned, they said, “There’s no need for the whole army to go up there. Just send two or three thousand men to take Ai. It’s a small town and won’t take much effort.”

4 So about three thousand Israelite soldiers went up to attack Ai, but they were quickly defeated and forced to run away.

5 The men of Ai killed about thirty-six of them and chased them from the city gate all the way to a place called Shebarim. The Israelites were terrified and their courage melted away.

Joshua Cries Out to God

6 Joshua tore his clothes in grief, fell facedown to the ground in front of the Ark of the Lord, and stayed there until evening. The elders of Israel were with him, and they threw dust on their heads as a sign of mourning.

7 Joshua cried out, “O Lord God, why did You bring us across the Jordan River just to hand us over to the Amorites? We should’ve been happy to stay on the other side!

8 What can I say now that Israel has run from its enemies?

9 If the Canaanites and everyone else hears about this, they’ll surround us and wipe us out. Then what will happen to Your great name?”

The Lord Responds

10 But the Lord said to Joshua, “Get up! Why are you lying on your face?

11 Israel has sinned. They broke the covenant I gave them. They’ve taken what was set apart to be destroyed. They stole, lied, and hid those things among their own belongings.

12 That’s why they can’t stand against their enemies. They’ve brought a curse on themselves. I will no longer be with you unless you remove the things that were supposed to be destroyed.

13 So get up and tell the people to purify themselves. Tell them, ‘Get ready for tomorrow. The Lord says there are cursed things among you. You won’t be able to defeat your enemies until you remove them.’”

Finding the Guilty Man

14 “In the morning, bring each tribe before Me. I’ll choose one. Then bring each clan from that tribe. I’ll choose one. Then bring each family from that clan. I’ll choose one. Finally, bring each man from that family, and I’ll point out the one who sinned.

15 Whoever is found guilty must be burned, along with everything he owns, because he has broken My covenant and brought trouble on Israel.”

16 Early the next morning, Joshua brought the tribes forward, and God chose the tribe of Judah.

17 Then the clans of Judah came forward, and the Zerahites were chosen. From the Zerahites, the family of Zabdi was chosen.

18 Finally, Achan—son of Carmi, grandson of Zabdi, great-grandson of Zerah—was singled out.

Achan Confesses His Sin

19 Joshua said to Achan, “My son, give glory to the Lord, the God of Israel. Tell me what you’ve done. Don’t hide anything.”

20 Achan replied, “It’s true. I have sinned against the Lord, the God of Israel. This is what I did:

21 I saw a beautiful robe from Babylon, 200 silver coins, and a gold bar weighing about 50 shekels. I wanted them, so I took them. They’re hidden in the ground inside my tent, with the silver buried underneath.”

22 So Joshua sent some men to check. They ran to the tent and found everything hidden exactly as Achan said. The silver was underneath.

23 They took the stolen items from the tent and brought them to Joshua and all the Israelites. They laid them out before the Lord.

Judgment on Achan

24 Then Joshua and all the Israelites took Achan, the silver, the robe, the gold, his sons and daughters, his oxen, donkeys, sheep, his tent, and everything he owned to the Valley of Achor.

25 Joshua said, “Why have you brought trouble on us? Today the Lord will bring trouble on you.” Then all Israel stoned him to death. After that, they burned his body and everything he had.

26 They piled a large heap of stones over him, which remains to this day. After that, the Lord’s anger turned away. That’s why the place is still called the Valley of Achor—meaning “Valley of Trouble.”

Key Lessons from Joshua Chapter 7

- Sin in the camp affects everyone. Achan’s private disobedience caused national defeat.

- God knows what's hidden. Nothing is secret from the Lord, no matter how well we cover it.
- Disobedience breaks fellowship with God. Israel lost God's protection until they dealt with the sin.
- Confession is essential but doesn't erase consequences. Achan admitted his guilt, but justice still came.
- Leadership requires hard choices. Joshua had to confront sin to restore God's blessing on the people.

Joshua Chapter 8

God Encourages Joshua to Attack Ai Again

1 Then the Lord said to Joshua, "Don't be afraid or discouraged. Take your whole army and go up to attack Ai. I've handed the king of Ai, his people, his city, and his land over to you.

2 You'll do to Ai and its king just like you did to Jericho and its king. But this time, you may keep the plunder and livestock for yourselves. Set an ambush behind the city."

Joshua Plans a Brilliant Ambush

3 So Joshua prepared to attack Ai. He chose 30,000 strong warriors and sent them out at night.

4 He told them, "Hide in ambush behind the city, but don't go too far away. Stay alert and be ready.

5 I and the rest of the army will approach the city. When they come out to attack us like last time, we'll run away.

6 They'll think we're fleeing again, and they'll chase us away from the city.

7 Then you'll rise from hiding, enter the city, and take it. The Lord your God is giving it to you.

8 Once you capture the city, set it on fire, just as the Lord has commanded. You have your orders."

9 That night, Joshua sent them out. They set up their ambush between Bethel and Ai, on Ai's west side. Joshua spent that night with the main army.

The Battle Strategy Unfolds

10 Early the next morning, Joshua gathered his troops and led them toward Ai with the elders of Israel.

11 The full army went up and camped north of Ai, with a valley between them and the city.

12 Then Joshua took 5,000 more men and set another ambush on Ai's west side.

- 13 With the main camp to the north and the ambush to the west, Joshua went into the valley that night.
- 14 When the king of Ai saw Israel's army, he and his people rushed out to battle in the morning, unaware of the ambush behind them.
- 15 Joshua and his army pretended to be beaten and ran toward the wilderness.
- 16 Everyone in Ai chased after them and left the city wide open.
- 17 Not a single man stayed behind in Ai or Bethel—they all chased after Israel.

Israel Turns the Tables

- 18 Then the Lord said to Joshua, "Point your spear at Ai, for I am giving it to you." Joshua lifted his spear toward the city.
- 19 At that moment, the ambush forces jumped out of hiding, ran into the city, captured it, and set it on fire.
- 20 The men of Ai turned and saw smoke rising from the city. They realized they were trapped and couldn't escape.
- 21 Joshua and his men saw the city burning and turned back to attack their enemies.
- 22 The ambush forces came out from the city, surrounding the men of Ai. Israel attacked from both sides and didn't let anyone escape.
- 23 They captured the king of Ai alive and brought him to Joshua.

Ai is Destroyed

- 24 After killing all the enemy soldiers in the field and wilderness, the Israelites returned to Ai and killed everyone still inside.
- 25 That day, 12,000 men and women from Ai were killed.
- 26 Joshua kept his spear pointed until the destruction was complete.
- 27 Israel kept the livestock and plunder for themselves, just as the Lord had commanded Joshua.
- 28 Joshua burned Ai to the ground, leaving it a permanent ruin, still desolate to this day.
- 29 He hanged the king of Ai on a tree until sunset. Then they took the body down, threw it at the city gate, and piled a big heap of stones over it, which is still there today.

Renewing the Covenant at Mount Ebal

- 30 Then Joshua built an altar to the Lord God of Israel on Mount Ebal.

31 He followed Moses' instructions from the Book of the Law: an altar made of uncut stones, untouched by iron tools. They offered burnt offerings and peace offerings on it.

32 Joshua wrote a copy of the Law of Moses on the stones in front of the Israelites.

33 All of Israel—the leaders, officers, judges, along with the foreigners and native-born—stood on both sides of the ark. Half stood near Mount Gerizim and the other half near Mount Ebal, just as Moses had commanded to bless the people.

34 Then Joshua read aloud every word of the Law—the blessings and the curses—exactly as written in the Book of the Law.

35 He didn't leave out a single command. He read everything to the entire assembly, including the women, children, and foreigners living among them.

Key Lessons from Joshua Chapter 8

- God gives second chances. Even after failure, God still empowered Israel to defeat Ai.
- Obedience brings victory. Following God's instructions led to total triumph and blessing.
- Strategic thinking and unity matter. Joshua's wise planning and the people's teamwork led to success.
- Sin has consequences, but restoration is possible. After dealing with Achan's sin in chapter 7, God's favor returned.
- Renewing your covenant with God is essential. After the victory, Israel refocused on God's Word and promises.

Joshua Chapter 9

Crawford Standard Bible

The Kings Unite Against Israel

(Verses 1–2)

1 When all the kings west of the Jordan River—those in the hill country, the lowlands, and along the Mediterranean Sea as far as Lebanon (including the Hittites, Amorites, Canaanites, Perizzites, Hivites, and Jebusites)—heard what had happened,

2 they decided to unite and fight against Joshua and the Israelites together.

The Gibeonites Trick Israel

(Verses 3–13)

3 But when the people of Gibeon heard what Joshua had done to Jericho and Ai,

4 they resorted to deception. They put on old sacks for their donkeys, worn-out wineskins that were cracked and patched,

5 old sandals and tattered clothes, and packed dry, moldy bread.

6 They went to Joshua at the camp in Gilgal and said to him and the Israelites, “We’ve come from a faraway country. Make a treaty with us.”

7 But the Israelites said to the Hivites, “How do we know you don’t live nearby? How can we make a treaty with you?”

8 They replied to Joshua, “We are your servants.” But Joshua asked, “Who are you, and where do you come from?”

9 They answered, “We’ve come from a distant land because of the name of the Lord your God. We heard about all He did in Egypt,

10 and to the two Amorite kings beyond the Jordan—Sihon king of Heshbon and Og king of Bashan in Ashtaroath.

11 Our leaders and everyone in our country told us, ‘Pack food and go meet them. Tell them, “We are your servants. Please make a treaty with us.”’

12 This bread was fresh from the oven when we left home, but now it's dry and moldy.

13 These wineskins were brand new, but look—they’re cracked. Our clothes and sandals are worn out from the long journey.”

Joshua Makes a Treaty Without Asking God

(Verses 14–15)

14 So the Israelites looked at their supplies but didn’t ask the Lord what to do.

15 Joshua made peace with them and agreed to let them live. The leaders of the community made an oath to keep the treaty.

The Deception is Exposed

(Verses 16–18)

16 Three days after making the treaty, Israel learned that the Gibeonites actually lived nearby.

17 The Israelites set out and reached their cities—Gibeon, Chephirah, Beeroth, and Kiriath-jearim—on the third day.

18 But the Israelites didn’t attack them, because their leaders had sworn an oath by the Lord, the God of Israel. The people grumbled against the leaders.

The Gibeonites Are Made Servants

(Verses 19–21)

19 But the leaders told the people, “We’ve sworn an oath in the name of the Lord, so we can’t touch them.

20 This is what we’ll do: let them live. If we break our oath, God’s wrath will fall on us.”

21 So they let the Gibeonites live, but made them woodcutters and water carriers for the community, just as the leaders had said.

Joshua Confronts the Gibeonites

(Verses 22–27)

22 Then Joshua summoned the Gibeonites and said, “Why did you lie to us and say you lived far away when you actually live among us?

23 Because of this, you are now cursed. From now on, none of you will be free—you’ll always serve as woodcutters and water carriers for the house of my God.”

24 They replied, “We did it because we knew that the Lord your God had commanded His servant Moses to give you the whole land and to destroy all the people living in it. We were afraid for our lives, so we acted this way.

25 Now we’re in your hands. Do whatever you think is right.”

26 So Joshua let them live, and protected them from being killed by the Israelites.

27 From that day on, he made them woodcutters and water carriers for the entire community and for the altar of the Lord—wherever the Lord would choose to place it. And they continue in that role to this day.

Key Lessons from Joshua Chapter 9

- Deception is powerful, but so is mercy. The Gibeonites tricked Israel, but instead of destruction, they received life through servanthood.
- Always seek God's counsel. Israel made a treaty without asking the Lord, and it led to a binding commitment they couldn't reverse.
- Integrity matters. Even after discovering the deception, Joshua and the leaders honored their promise because it was made before God.
- God can redeem bad decisions. Although the treaty was made in error, God used it to bring peace and service from those who once feared judgment.

Joshua Chapter 10

Crawford Standard Bible

The Kings Join Forces Against Israel (Verses 1–5)

1 When King Adoni-zedek of Jerusalem heard how Joshua had conquered Ai and completely destroyed it—just as he had done to Jericho and its king—and how the people of Gibeon had made peace with Israel and were now living among them,

2 he and his people were terrified. Gibeon was a large city, like one of the royal cities, and its men were strong warriors.

3 So Adoni-zedek sent messages to King Hoham of Hebron, King Piram of Jarmuth, King Japhia of Lachish, and King Debir of Eglon.

4 He said, “Come help me attack Gibeon, because they’ve made peace with Joshua and the Israelites.”

5 So the five Amorite kings joined forces—the kings of Jerusalem, Hebron, Jarmuth, Lachish, and Eglon. They combined their armies and camped near Gibeon to wage war.

Israel Answers Gibeon’s Call for Help (Verses 6–11)

6 The men of Gibeon sent a message to Joshua at his camp in Gilgal: “Don’t abandon your servants. Come quickly and save us! Help us! All the Amorite kings from the hill country are attacking us.”

7 So Joshua and his entire army—including his best warriors—marched up from Gilgal.

8 The Lord told Joshua, “Don’t be afraid of them. I’ve handed them over to you—not a single one of them will be able to stand against you.”

9 Joshua and his troops traveled all night from Gilgal and surprised the enemy at dawn.

10 The Lord threw the enemy into confusion in front of Israel. They defeated them with a huge slaughter at Gibeon, chased them along the road to Beth-horon, and struck them down all the way to Azekah and Makkedah.

11 As the enemy fled down the road from Beth-horon to Azekah, the Lord sent a storm of large hailstones from the sky. More people died from the hail than from the swords of the Israelites.

The Sun Stands Still (Verses 12–15)

12 On the day the Lord gave the Amorites over to Israel, Joshua prayed to the Lord in front of all the people of Israel. He said,

“Sun, stand still over Gibeon;

moon, stay in place over the valley of Aijalon!”

13 So the sun stood still and the moon stopped until Israel had defeated its enemies. This is recorded in the Book of Jasher. The sun stopped in the middle of the sky and delayed going down for almost a full day.

14 There has never been a day like it before or since, when the Lord answered such a prayer. Surely the Lord fought for Israel!

15 Then Joshua and the entire army returned to the camp at Gilgal.

Five Kings Captured and Executed (Verses 16–27)

16 Meanwhile, the five kings fled and hid in a cave at Makkedah.

17 Someone told Joshua, “We’ve found the five kings hiding in the cave at Makkedah.”

18 Joshua said, “Roll large stones over the cave’s entrance and post guards outside.

19 But don’t stop chasing your enemies! Attack them from behind and don’t let them escape into their cities. The Lord your God has given them into your hands!”

20 So Joshua and the Israelites destroyed many of them. Only a few escaped into fortified cities.

21 The rest of the army returned safely to Joshua at Makkedah. No one dared speak against Israel.

22 Joshua said, “Open the cave and bring those five kings to me.”

23 They brought the kings of Jerusalem, Hebron, Jarmuth, Lachish, and Eglon to Joshua.

24 He summoned all the Israelite commanders and said, “Come put your feet on the necks of these kings.” So they came and did it.

25 Joshua told them, “Don’t be afraid or discouraged. Be strong and brave! This is what the Lord will do to all your enemies.”

26 Then Joshua killed the kings and hung their bodies on five trees until evening.

27 At sunset, he ordered the bodies taken down and thrown back into the cave. They sealed it with large stones, still there to this day.

Southern Cities Conquered (Verses 28–43)

28 That same day Joshua captured and destroyed Makkedah. He killed the king and everyone in the city—no survivors.

29 Then he and the army moved on to Libnah and attacked it.

30 The Lord gave them the city and its king. No one survived.

31 From Libnah, they marched to Lachish, set up camp, and attacked.

32 The Lord handed Lachish over on the second day. They killed everyone in it.

33 King Horam of Gezer came to help Lachish, but Joshua defeated him and his army too.

34 From Lachish, Joshua and the Israelites went to Eglon. They attacked and captured it the same day.

35 They killed everyone in Eglon, just as they had done to Lachish.

36 From Eglon, they marched to Hebron and attacked it.

37 They captured the city, its king, and all its surrounding villages. No one was left alive.

38 Then they went to Debir and attacked it.

39 They captured Debir, its king, and surrounding towns. They destroyed everything and left no survivors—just like they did in Hebron and Libnah.

40 Joshua conquered the entire region—the hill country, the southern desert, the western foothills, and the mountain slopes. He destroyed everyone in those areas, just as the Lord had commanded.

41 He struck down everyone from Kadesh-barnea to Gaza and from the land of Goshen to Gibeon.

42 All these victories happened at once because the Lord God of Israel fought for His people.

43 Then Joshua and the whole army returned to the camp at Gilgal.

Key Lessons from Joshua 10

1. God Fights for His People – When we obey and trust Him, He moves powerfully on our behalf—even through miracles like making the sun stand still.
2. Victory Comes Through Obedience – Israel’s success depended on listening to God’s instruction and following Joshua’s leadership.

3. Deception Brings Consequences – Gibeon’s earlier deception led to conflict, but also placed them under Israel’s protection. The choices we make affect others.
4. God Answers Bold Prayers – Joshua’s request for the sun to stand still was extraordinary—and God responded. Don’t be afraid to pray big prayers.
5. God Honors Courageous Leadership – Joshua led with strength and confidence because he knew the Lord was with him. Leaders who trust God lead others to victory.

Joshua Chapter 11

Crawford Standard Bible

Northern Kings Unite Against Israel (Verses 1–5)

1 When Jabin, king of Hazor, heard what had happened, he sent messages to King Jobab of Madon, the king of Shimron, and the king of Achshaph.

2 He also sent word to the kings in the northern hill country, those in the Jordan Valley south of Lake Chinneroth, in the western hills, and along the coast near Dor.

3 He summoned the Canaanites in the east and west, the Amorites, Hittites, Perizzites, and Jebusites in the hill country, and the Hivites living at the foot of Mount Hermon in the land of Mizpeh.

4 All these kings came with their armies—a huge number of warriors, as many as the sand on the seashore. They had lots of horses and chariots.

5 These kings joined forces and camped together at the waters of Merom to fight against Israel.

God’s Assurance and Israel’s Victory (Verses 6–9)

6 But the Lord said to Joshua, “Don’t be afraid of them. By this time tomorrow, I will hand all of them over to Israel, dead. You must cripple their horses and burn their chariots.”

7 So Joshua and his warriors surprised the enemy at the waters of Merom and attacked them.

8 The Lord gave them into Israel’s hands. They chased them as far as Great Sidon, Misrephoth-maim, and the valley of Mizpeh to the east. They struck them down and left no survivors.

9 Joshua did exactly what the Lord had told him—he crippled their horses and burned their chariots.

The Fall of Hazor and the Northern Cities (Verses 10–15)

10 Then Joshua turned back and captured Hazor. He killed its king with the sword. Hazor had once been the leader of all those kingdoms.

11 Every person in the city was killed. No one was left alive, and Joshua burned the city to the ground.

12 Joshua captured all the cities of those kings and completely destroyed them, just as Moses, the servant of the Lord, had commanded.

13 But Israel did not burn any of the cities built on mounds, except for Hazor, which Joshua burned.

14 The Israelites took all the goods and livestock from these cities for themselves, but they killed all the people, leaving no one alive.

15 Joshua obeyed every command the Lord had given Moses. Moses passed them on to Joshua, and Joshua did everything just as he was told.

Joshua Conquers the Entire Region (Verses 16–20)

16 So Joshua conquered the entire land—the hill country, the Negev, the land of Goshen, the western foothills, the Jordan Valley, the mountains of Israel, and its valleys.

17 This territory stretched from Mount Halak, which goes up to Seir, all the way to Baal-gad in the Lebanon Valley, at the foot of Mount Hermon. Joshua captured all their kings and killed them.

18 He fought against these kings for a long time.

19 No city made peace with Israel except for the Hivites from Gibeon. All the others were taken in battle.

20 The Lord hardened their hearts so they would come out and fight Israel. That way they would be completely destroyed, without mercy, just as the Lord had commanded Moses.

Defeating the Anakim and Final Conquest (Verses 21–23)

21 At that time, Joshua wiped out the Anakim—the giants—from the hill country: from Hebron, Debir, Anab, and from all the mountains of Judah and Israel. He destroyed their cities, too.

22 No Anakim remained in the land of Israel—only a few were left in Gaza, Gath, and Ashdod.

23 So Joshua took the entire land, just as the Lord had promised to Moses. He gave it as an inheritance to the tribes of Israel, dividing the land among them. And the land finally had rest from war.

Key Lessons from Joshua 11

1. God Fulfills His Promises Through Obedience – Joshua followed God’s commands exactly, just as Moses had instructed, and God gave Israel the victory.
2. Fear Not the Opposition – Even when facing overwhelming numbers, God told Joshua not to fear. The same is true for us—God's power is always greater than the enemy’s size.
3. God’s Judgment Is Just – The destruction of the Canaanite kings and cities was part of God’s plan of judgment for their wickedness and idolatry (see Genesis 15:16).
4. Spiritual Warfare Requires Persistence – Joshua fought for a long time. Likewise, spiritual battles often require endurance and continued faithfulness.
5. The Lord Gives Rest – After years of war, God gave Israel rest. There is a time for battle, but there’s also a time when God brings peace and fulfillment of His promises.

Kings Defeated by Moses (Verses 1–6)

1 These are the kings of the land that the Israelites defeated and whose territory they took over, east of the Jordan River, from the Arnon River to Mount Hermon, including all the eastern plain.

2 They defeated King Sihon of the Amorites, who lived in Heshbon. He ruled from Aroer on the edge of the Arnon River, from the middle of the river, half of Gilead, all the way to the Jabbok River, which was the border of the Ammonites.

3 His kingdom included the Jordan Valley to the east, as far north as the Sea of Galilee (the Sea of Chinneroth), and south to the Dead Sea (the Salt Sea), by way of Beth-jeshimoth, and southward to the slopes of Pisgah.

4 They also defeated King Og of Bashan, one of the last of the Rephaim giants. He lived in Ashtaroth and Edrei.

5 He ruled a large territory: Mount Hermon, Salcah, all of Bashan, up to the borders of the Geshurites and Maacathites, and half of Gilead, bordering Sihon's territory.

6 Moses, the servant of the Lord, and the Israelites defeated these kings, and Moses gave their land to the tribes of Reuben, Gad, and the half-tribe of Manasseh.

Kings Defeated by Joshua (Verses 7–8)

7 These are the kings of the land defeated by Joshua and the Israelites west of the Jordan River. Their land stretched from Baal-gad in the Valley of Lebanon to Mount Halak, which climbs toward Seir. Joshua gave this land to the tribes of Israel as their possession.

8 This included the hill country, the western foothills, the Jordan Valley, the wilderness, and the Negev—the land of the Hittites, Amorites, Canaanites, Perizzites, Hivites, and Jebusites.

Key Lessons from Joshua 12

1. God Fulfills Every Promise – The long list of conquered kings proves God's faithfulness in giving Israel the land He promised to their forefathers (Genesis 12:7).
2. God's Power Is Greater Than Any Opposition – Whether giants like Og or fortified cities like Jericho, no enemy could stand against God's plan.
3. Victory Comes Through Obedience – Both Moses and Joshua followed God's commands carefully, and Israel's victories were a direct result of their faith and obedience.
4. God Keeps Record – The detailed listing of kings shows that God is a God of order. Nothing is forgotten; every victory is remembered.
5. Unity Among God's People Matters – These victories were not just for one tribe or leader—they were shared among all Israel, as God's blessings flow through communal obedience.

Joshua Chapter 13

Much Land Still Remains (Verses 1–7)

1 Joshua had grown old, and the Lord said to him, “You are very old, but there’s still a lot of land that needs to be taken.

2 This is the land that remains: all the regions of the Philistines and Geshurites—

3 from the Shihor River near Egypt to the border of Ekron in the north (which belongs to the Canaanites); this includes the five Philistine rulers from Gaza, Ashdod, Ashkelon, Gath, and Ekron, plus the Avites in the south.

4 Also included is all the Canaanite land, from Mearah near the Sidonians to Aphek, right up to the border of the Amorites;

5 the area of the Gebalites and all Lebanon, from Baal-gad below Mount Hermon to Lebo-hamath.

6 I myself will force out the people living in the hill country from Lebanon to Misrephoth-maim, including all the Sidonians. Just divide this land as an inheritance for the Israelites, like I told you.

7 Now go ahead and assign this land to the nine tribes and the half-tribe of Manasseh.”

The Eastern Tribes' Inheritance (Verses 8–13)

8 The tribes of Reuben and Gad and the other half-tribe of Manasseh already received the land Moses gave them east of the Jordan.

9 Their territory stretched from Aroer (on the Arnon River) and the town in the valley, through the whole Medeba plain to Dibon.

10 It included all the cities ruled by Sihon king of the Amorites in Heshbon, extending to the Ammonite border.

11 It also covered Gilead, the lands of the Geshurites and Maacathites, Mount Hermon, and all of Bashan to Salcah.

12 This was the kingdom of Og in Bashan—he ruled in Ashtaroth and Edrei and was the last of the Rephaim (giants). Moses had defeated them and driven them out.

13 But the Israelites didn’t drive out the Geshurites or the Maacathites. So they still live among the Israelites to this day.

The Levites Receive No Land (Verse 14)

14 Moses didn’t give any land to the tribe of Levi. Their inheritance was the offerings made to the Lord by fire, just as God promised them.

Land Given to Reuben (Verses 15–23)

15 Moses gave land to the tribe of Reuben, divided by their clans.

16 Their territory included Aroer on the Arnon River, the town in the middle of the valley, the plain near Medeba,

17 Heshbon and all its towns on the plain—Dibon, Bamoth-baal, Beth-baal-meon,

18 Jahaz, Kedemoth, Mephaath,

19 Kiriathaim, Sibmah, Zereth-shahar in the valley,

20 Beth-peor, the slopes of Pisgah, and Beth-jeshimoth.

21 It included all the towns on the plain and the entire kingdom of Sihon king of the Amorites, whom Moses had defeated, along with Midianite leaders Evi, Rekem, Zur, Hur, and Reba, who served under Sihon.

22 Israel also killed Balaam son of Beor, the sorcerer, during the battle.

23 The Jordan River formed the western boundary. This land, including cities and villages, was the inheritance of the tribe of Reuben.

Land Given to Gad (Verses 24–28)

24 Moses also gave land to the tribe of Gad, divided by their clans.

25 Their territory included Jazer, all of Gilead, and half the land of the Ammonites to Aroer, near Rabbah;

26 and from Heshbon to Ramath-mizpeh and Betonim, and from Mahanaim to the border of Debir.

27 In the Jordan Valley, it included Beth-haram, Beth-nimrah, Succoth, and Zaphon—the rest of the kingdom of Sihon of Heshbon. Their border was the Jordan River up to the Sea of Galilee on the eastern side.

28 This land, including cities and villages, was the inheritance of the tribe of Gad.

Land Given to the Half-Tribe of Manasseh (Verses 29–31)

29 Moses gave land to the half-tribe of Manasseh, divided by their clans.

30 Their territory included Mahanaim, all of Bashan (King Og's entire kingdom), and all 60 towns of Jair in Bashan.

31 It also included half of Gilead, Ashtaroth, and Edrei—cities in King Og's kingdom—given to the descendants of Machir son of Manasseh.

Summary Statement (Verses 32–33)

32 These are the territories Moses assigned east of the Jordan River, across from Jericho.

33 But Moses gave no land to the tribe of Levi. Their inheritance is the Lord Himself, just as He promised.

Key Lessons from Joshua 13

1. God's Promises Continue Even in Old Age – Joshua was old, but God's mission was still unfinished. Our usefulness to God does not expire with age.

2. There's Always More Ground to Cover Spiritually – Even with past victories, there's more “land” (growth, faith, service) to claim for God.
3. God Honors Past Faithfulness – The land Moses promised was fulfilled exactly as instructed, showing God values faithful leaders and obedience.
4. Some Enemies Remained – Israel didn't drive out all their enemies, which later caused problems. Partial obedience is disobedience.
5. God Himself Is Our Greatest Inheritance – The Levites received no land, but God Himself was their portion. He is our ultimate reward.

Joshua Chapter 14

Crawford Standard Bible

The Land is Divided by Lot (Verses 1–5)

1 These are the lands in Canaan that the Israelites inherited. They were assigned to them by Eleazar the priest, Joshua son of Nun, and the leaders of the tribes.

2 The inheritance was decided by casting lots, just as the Lord had commanded through Moses, for the nine tribes and the half-tribe.

3 Moses had already given land to the other two and a half tribes east of the Jordan River, but he gave no land to the Levites.

4 The descendants of Joseph had become two tribes—Manasseh and Ephraim. So the Levites didn't receive a portion of the land, only towns to live in with pasturelands for their livestock and possessions.

5 The Israelites followed the Lord's command to Moses and divided up the land.

Caleb Claims His Promise (Verses 6–12)

6 The people of Judah came to Joshua at Gilgal, and Caleb son of Jephunneh the Kenizzite said to him, “You remember what the Lord said to Moses about you and me at Kadesh-barnea.

7 I was 40 years old when Moses sent me from Kadesh-barnea to explore the land, and I brought back a report that was in my heart.

8 But my fellow spies made the people afraid, while I wholeheartedly followed the Lord my God.

9 So Moses swore on that day, ‘The land where you walked will be your inheritance and your children's forever, because you fully followed the Lord.’

10 And now, just as He promised, the Lord has kept me alive for 45 years since Moses said that, even while Israel wandered in the wilderness. Today, I'm 85 years old.

11 I'm still as strong today as I was when Moses sent me out. I have just as much strength now as I did then—for war and daily life.

12 So give me the hill country the Lord promised me. You know that the Anakim giants are there, and their cities are large and fortified. But if the Lord is with me, I will drive them out just as He said.”

Caleb Receives Hebron (Verses 13–15)

13 Then Joshua blessed Caleb son of Jephunneh and gave him Hebron as his inheritance.

14 So Hebron has belonged to Caleb son of Jephunneh the Kenizzite ever since, because he followed the Lord, the God of Israel, wholeheartedly.

15 Hebron used to be called Kiriath-arba, named after Arba, the greatest man among the Anakim. Then the land had rest from war.

Key Lessons from Joshua 14

1. God Keeps His Promises Through the Years – Caleb waited 45 years to receive what God promised, and God delivered right on time.
2. Wholehearted Faith Leads to Lasting Reward – Caleb followed the Lord fully, and his inheritance became a lasting legacy.
3. Age Is No Obstacle to Faith or Courage – At 85, Caleb still had a warrior’s heart, proving that trust in God gives strength beyond age.
4. Faith Overcomes Giants – Caleb didn’t shrink back from facing the fortified cities and giants; he trusted God to bring victory.
5. True Rest Comes After Obedience – The chapter ends with the land at peace, reminding us that God brings rest after faithful service.

Judah’s Inheritance: Border Description (Verses 1–12)

1 The land assigned to the tribe of Judah by their clans extended south to the border of Edom, to the wilderness of Zin at the far southern boundary.

2 Their southern border began at the south end of the Dead Sea,

3 ran south of Scorpion Pass, continued through Zin, then south of Kadesh-barnea, and on to Hezron, up to Addar, and curved around to Karka.

4 From there it went to Azmon and ended at the Brook of Egypt, with its boundary at the Mediterranean Sea.

5 The eastern boundary was the Dead Sea as far as the mouth of the Jordan. The northern border began at the north end of the Dead Sea,

6 went to Beth-hoglah, passed north of Beth-arabah, and up to the stone of Bohan son of Reuben.

7 It climbed through the Valley of Achor, turning north to Gilgal (opposite the slopes of Adummim), then passed along the waters of En-shemesh and ended at En-rogel.

8 From there it ascended through the Valley of Ben-Hinnom along the southern slope of the Jebusite city (that is, Jerusalem). It continued to the top of the hill overlooking Hinnom Valley and the Valley of Rephaim to the north.

9 The boundary extended from the top of the hill to the spring of Nephtoah, went out to the towns of Mount Ephron, and curved to Baalah (that is, Kiriath-jearim).

10 Then it turned west from Baalah to Mount Seir, passed along the northern slope of Mount Jearim (that is, Chesalon), down to Beth-shemesh, and over to Timnah.

11 The boundary reached the northern slope of Ekron, curved to Shikkeron, continued to Mount Baalah, and on to Jabneel, ending at the Mediterranean Sea.

12 The western border was the coastline of the Mediterranean Sea. These were the boundaries around Judah, according to their clans.

Caleb's Courage and Family Legacy (Verses 13–19)

13 As the Lord commanded, Joshua gave Caleb son of Jephunneh a portion in Judah—Kiriath-arba (that is, Hebron), named after Arba, the forefather of the Anakim.

14 Caleb drove out from there the three sons of Anak: Sheshai, Ahiman, and Talmi.

15 From there he marched against the people living in Debir (formerly Kiriath-sepher).

16 Caleb said, "I will give my daughter Achsah in marriage to the one who attacks and captures Kiriath-sepher."

17 Othniel son of Kenaz, Caleb's brother, captured it, and Caleb gave him Achsah as his wife.

18 When she came to Othniel, she urged him to ask her father for a field. As she got down from her donkey, Caleb asked her, "What do you want?"

19 She replied, "Give me a blessing. You've given me dry land—give me also springs of water." So he gave her both the upper and lower springs.

Towns of Judah (Verses 20–63)

20 This was the inheritance of the tribe of Judah, by their clans.

21 The southernmost towns toward Edom were: Kabzeel, Eder, Jagur,

22 Kinah, Dimonah, Adadah,

- 42 Libnah, Ether, Ashan,
43 Iphtah, Ashnah, Nezib,
44 Keilah, Achzib, Mareshah—9 towns with their villages.
- 45 Ekron, its surrounding settlements and villages.
46 From Ekron to the sea, all towns near Ashdod and their villages.
47 Ashdod and its towns and villages, Gaza and its towns and villages, as far as the Brook of Egypt and the Mediterranean Sea.
- 48 In the hill country: Shamir, Jattir, Socoh,
49 Dannah, Kiriath-sannah (that is, Debir),
50 Anab, Eshtemoh, Anim,
51 Goshen, Holon, Giloh—11 towns with their villages.
- 52 Arab, Dumah, Eshan,
53 Janim, Beth-tappuah, Aphekah,
54 Humtah, Kiriath-arba (Hebron), Zior—9 towns with their villages.

62 Nibshan, Salt City, En-gedi—6 towns with their villages.
- 63 But the tribe of Judah couldn't drive out the Jebusites living in Jerusalem. So the Jebusites live among the people of Judah in Jerusalem to this day.

Key Lessons from Joshua 15

1. Faithfulness Is Rewarded with Inheritance – Judah received their share in the Promised Land as God had promised, showing His faithfulness to His people.
2. Caleb’s Boldness Sets a Family Legacy – His courage inspired Othniel, and his daughter Achsah also demonstrated wisdom in seeking water to bless their land.
3. God Honors Individual Obedience – Caleb’s wholehearted devotion didn’t just benefit him, but also his descendants and tribe.
4. There Is Still Work to Do – Though much of the land was conquered, some enemies like the Jebusites remained—a reminder that spiritual battles continue.
5. Each Detail Matters to God – The meticulous description of borders and towns shows that God cares about structure, boundaries, and inheritance.

Joshua Chapter 16

Crawford Standard Bible

The Allotment to Joseph’s Descendants (Verses 1–4)

- 1 The land allotted to the descendants of Joseph stretched from the Jordan River near Jericho, east of the waters of Jericho, into the wilderness that rises from Jericho through the hill country to Bethel.
- 2 From Bethel (also known as Luz), it continued to Ataroth on the border of the Archites.
- 3 It then descended westward to the territories of the Japhletites, as far as the lower Beth-horon and on to Gezer, ending at the Mediterranean Sea.
- 4 So the descendants of Joseph—Manasseh and Ephraim—received their inheritance.

The Territory of Ephraim (Verses 5–9)

- 5 The territory assigned to the descendants of Ephraim, by their clans, began at Ataroth-addar, near Upper Beth-horon.
- 6 It extended westward to Michmethath on the north, curved eastward to Taanath-shiloh, and passed beyond it to Janohah.
- 7 From Janohah, it went down to Ataroth and Naarah, touched Jericho, and ended at the Jordan River.
- 8 From Tappuah, the boundary extended westward along the Kanah Valley and ended at the Mediterranean Sea. This was the inheritance for the tribe of Ephraim by their clans.
- 9 In addition, some towns with their surrounding villages within the territory of Manasseh were given to Ephraim.

Failure to Drive Out the Canaanites (Verse 10)

10 However, they did not drive out the Canaanites living in Gezer. So to this day, the Canaanites live among the people of Ephraim but serve as forced laborers.

Key Lessons from Joshua 16

1. God Fulfills His Promises – The descendants of Joseph received the land as part of the covenant promises made to their forefather. God’s word remains trustworthy across generations.
2. Inheritance Comes with Responsibility – Though Ephraim received their land, they were expected to fully possess it and remove ungodly influence. Incomplete obedience allowed compromise to remain.
3. Partial Obedience Has Lasting Effects – The failure to drive out the Canaanites in Gezer would lead to long-term spiritual and cultural influence that hindered Israel’s faithfulness.
4. Unity and Division Both Serve God’s Purpose – While Ephraim and Manasseh were distinct tribes, they shared territory and responsibilities, illustrating how diversity within God’s people can still operate within unity.
5. True Victory Requires Follow-Through – Gaining the land was just the beginning. God desires His people not only to receive His blessings, but to walk faithfully in them.

Joshua Chapter 17

Crawford Standard Bible

The Allotment to Manasseh (Verses 1–6)

1 The tribe of Manasseh, the firstborn of Joseph, received its allotment. Machir, the firstborn of Manasseh and father of Gilead, received Gilead and Bashan because he was a man of war.

2 The rest of the descendants of Manasseh received land by their clans: the families of Abiezer, Helek, Asriel, Shechem, Hephher, and Shemida—these were the male descendants of Manasseh son of Joseph.

3 However, Zelophehad, son of Hephher and descendant of Manasseh, had no sons—only daughters. Their names were Mahlah, Noah, Hoglah, Milcah, and Tirzah.

4 They approached Eleazar the priest, Joshua son of Nun, and the leaders, saying, “The LORD commanded Moses to give us a portion of land among our male relatives.” So Joshua gave them an inheritance among their uncles, just as the LORD had commanded.

5 As a result, ten portions of land fell to Manasseh, in addition to Gilead and Bashan, east of the Jordan,

6 because the daughters of Manasseh received an inheritance along with the sons. The rest of the tribe received Gilead.

Boundaries and Cities (Verses 7–13)

7 The boundary of Manasseh extended from Asher to Michmethah, east of Shechem, and ran south to include the inhabitants of En Tappuah.

8 The land of Tappuah belonged to Manasseh, but the town of Tappuah on the border belonged to the tribe of Ephraim.

9 The boundary continued south to the Kanah Valley. The towns in that region belonged to Ephraim, though they lay within Manasseh's territory. Manasseh's boundary was on the north side of the valley and ended at the Mediterranean Sea.

10 To the south, the land belonged to Ephraim; to the north, it belonged to Manasseh, with the sea as its western border. They touched Asher on the north and Issachar on the east.

11 Within Issachar and Asher, Manasseh had several towns: Beth-shan, Ibleam, Dor, Endor, Taanach, and Megiddo—each with its surrounding settlements.

12 But the descendants of Manasseh were unable to drive out the Canaanites from these towns, so they continued to live there.

13 However, when the Israelites grew stronger, they forced the Canaanites to work as slaves but did not completely drive them out.

Joseph's Complaint and Joshua's Response (Verses 14–18)

14 Then the descendants of Joseph (Ephraim and Manasseh) came to Joshua and asked, "Why have you given us only one portion of land? We are a numerous people, and the LORD has blessed us."

15 Joshua replied, "If you are such a large people, go into the forest and clear land for yourselves in the territory of the Perizzites and Rephaites, since the hill country of Ephraim is too small for you."

16 They answered, "The hill country is not enough, and the Canaanites in the valleys have iron chariots, especially in Beth-shan and the Jezreel Valley."

17 But Joshua said to the tribes of Joseph, "You are indeed a great and powerful people. You will not have just one portion of land.

18 The forested hill country will also be yours. Though it is heavily wooded, you will clear it and possess it to its farthest borders. And you will drive out the Canaanites, even though they are strong and have iron chariots."

Key Lessons from Joshua 17

1. God Honors Bold Faith – The daughters of Zelophehad acted in faith on God's promise and received their inheritance. God's justice and promises extend to all who trust Him (Numbers 27:1–11).

2. Boundaries Are Divine Assignments – The distribution of land was not random but guided by God. Our own “borders” in life—our roles, influence, and responsibilities—are often ordained by Him (Acts 17:26).
3. Failure to Drive Out the Enemy Brings Long-Term Consequences – Just like in earlier chapters, Manasseh failed to fully obey, allowing Canaanites to remain. Disobedience often leads to compromise.
4. God Encourages Initiative – Joshua urged the people of Joseph to expand into the hill country rather than complain. God blesses effort and bold obedience, even when challenges seem insurmountable.
5. Faith Overcomes Fear – Joshua declared victory over the Canaanites with iron chariots, not because of military strength, but because God had promised success (Deuteronomy 20:1).

Joshua Chapter 18

Crawford Standard Bible

The Tabernacle Set Up at Shiloh (Verses 1–2)

1 The whole congregation of the Israelites assembled at Shiloh and set up the Tabernacle of Meeting there. The land was now under Israel’s control.

2 However, seven of the tribes had not yet received their assigned inheritance.

Joshua's Call to Action (Verses 3–7)

3 Joshua said to the Israelites, “How long will you wait before taking possession of the land the LORD, the God of your ancestors, has given you?”

4 Choose three men from each tribe. I will send them out to explore the land and write down a description of it based on its inheritance. Then they will return to me.

5 Divide the land into seven parts. Judah will remain in its territory in the south, and the tribe of Joseph will remain in the north.

6 You must carefully describe the seven parts of the land and bring the report back to me. I will cast lots for you here in the presence of the LORD our God.

7 The Levites will not receive a portion of the land, because their inheritance is the priesthood of the LORD. Gad, Reuben, and the half-tribe of Manasseh have already received their inheritance east of the Jordan, which Moses the LORD’s servant gave them.”

The Land Surveyed and Assigned (Verses 8–10)

8 So the men set out. Joshua instructed them, “Go throughout the land, write a description of it, and return to me. Then I will cast lots for you here before the LORD in Shiloh.”

9 The men went and surveyed the land, writing down its cities into seven sections in a scroll. Then they returned to Joshua at the camp in Shiloh.

10 Joshua cast lots for them in the presence of the LORD at Shiloh. There he distributed the land to the Israelites according to their tribal divisions.

Benjamin's Territory (Verses 11–20)

11 The first lot fell to the tribe of Benjamin by its clans. Their allotted territory was between the tribes of Judah and Joseph.

12 On the north side, the boundary started at the Jordan River, went up the northern slope of Jericho, westward through the hill country, and ended at the wilderness of Beth-aven.

13 Then it continued southward to Luz (Bethel), then down to Ataroth-addar, near the hill south of Lower Beth-horon.

14 From there the boundary curved west and turned south from the hill facing Beth-horon, ending at Kiriath-baal (that is, Kiriath-jearim), a town of the tribe of Judah. This was the western border.

15 The southern boundary started at the edge of Kiriath-jearim, went to the springs of Nephtoah,

16 then descended to the base of the mountain that faces the Valley of Ben Hinnom, at the northern end of the Valley of Rephaim. It continued down the Valley of Hinnom, south of the slope of the Jebusites (that is, Jerusalem), and down to En-rogel.

17 It turned north, went to En-shemesh and Geliloth, across from the ascent of Adummim, and descended to the Stone of Bohan (son of Reuben).

18 Then it passed to the northern slope of Beth-arabah and down into the Arabah Valley.

19 From there it went along the northern slope of Beth-hoglah and ended at the northern bay of the Salt Sea, at the southern end of the Jordan River. This was Benjamin's southern boundary.

20 The Jordan River formed its eastern boundary. This was the inheritance of the tribe of Benjamin, defined by its borders.

Cities of the Tribe of Benjamin (Verses 21–28)

21 The towns of the tribe of Benjamin by their clans were: Jericho, Beth-hoglah, Emek-keziz,

22 Beth-arabah, Zemarim, Bethel,

23 Avvim, Parah, Ophrah,

24 Chephar-ammoni, Ophni, and Geba—twelve towns with their villages.

25 Also Gibeon, Ramah, Beeroth,

26 Mizpeh, Chephirah, Mozah,

27 Rekem, Irpeel, Taralah,

28 Zelah, Haeleph, the Jebusite city (that is, Jerusalem), Gibeah, and Kiriath—fourteen towns with their villages. This was the inheritance of the tribe of Benjamin, according to their clans.

Key Lessons from Joshua 18

1. Don't Delay in Obeying God – Joshua rebuked the people for being slow to claim their inheritance. When God gives us a calling, we shouldn't put it off (James 4:17).
2. Order and Fairness in God's Plans – The land division was methodical, detailed, and done before the LORD. God values structure and justice (1 Corinthians 14:40).
3. God Keeps His Promises to Every Tribe – Even the tribe of Benjamin, though smaller and surrounded by powerful neighbors, received its portion. God does not overlook any of His people (Psalm 16:5–6).
4. Spiritual Inheritance Is Greater Than Land – The Levites were not given land like the others because their inheritance was the LORD Himself. Our true reward is God, not what we possess on earth (Psalm 73:26).
5. Faith Requires Movement – The tribes had to rise, walk the land, and record what God had given them. Faith and obedience go hand in hand (Joshua 1:3; James 2:17).

The Inheritance of Simeon (Verses 1–9)

1 The second lot went to the tribe of Simeon, clan by clan. Their inheritance was located inside the territory of Judah.

2 Their inheritance included: Beersheba, Sheba, Moladah,

3 Hazar-shual, Balah, Ezem,

4 Eltolad, Bethul, Hormah,

5 Ziklag, Beth-marcaboth, Hazar-susah,

6 Beth-lebaoth, and Sharuhem—thirteen towns with their villages.

7 Also: Ain, Rimmon, Ether, and Ashan—four towns with their villages.

8 All the surrounding villages as far as Baalath-beer (Ramath of the Negev) were also included. This was the inheritance of Simeon, divided among their clans.

9 Simeon's share came from Judah's portion because Judah had more land than needed. So Simeon's territory was within Judah's inheritance.

The Inheritance of Zebulun (Verses 10–16)

10 The third lot went to the tribe of Zebulun by their clans. The boundary of their inheritance reached to Sarid.

11 Their border went west to Maralah, touched Dabbesheth, and extended to the brook east of Jokneam.

12 It turned eastward toward the sunrise to Chisloth-tabor, passed Daberath, and went up to Japhia.

13 Then it continued eastward to Gath-hepher, Eth-kazin, and extended to Rimmon, turning toward Neah.

14 The boundary circled north to Hannathon and ended at the valley of Iphtah-el.

15 Included were: Kattath, Nahalal, Shimron, Idalah, and Bethlehem—twelve towns with their villages.

16 This was the inheritance of Zebulun, clan by clan—these towns and their villages.

The Inheritance of Issachar (Verses 17–23)

17 The fourth lot went to Issachar, clan by clan.

18 Their territory included: Jezreel, Kesulloth, Shunem,

19 Hapharaim, Shion, Anaharath,

20 Rabbith, Kishion, Ebez,

21 Remeth, En-gannim, En-haddah, and Beth-pazzez.

22 The boundary touched Tabor, Shahazumah, and Beth-shemesh, ending at the Jordan—sixteen towns with their villages.

23 This was the inheritance of Issachar, divided among their clans.

The Inheritance of Asher (Verses 24–31)

24 The fifth lot went to the tribe of Asher, clan by clan.

25 Their territory included: Helkath, Hali, Beten, Achshaph,

26 Allammelech, Amad, and Mishal. It reached westward to Carmel and Shihor-libnath.

27 Then it turned east to Beth-dagon, touched Zebulun and the Valley of Iphtah-el, north of Beth-emek and Neiel, and extended to Cabul on the left.

28 Also included were: Ebron, Rehob, Hammon, and Kanah, all the way to Greater Sidon.

29 The boundary turned toward Ramah and the fortified city of Tyre, then to Hosah and ended at the sea, including Mahalab, Achzib, 30 Ummah, Aphek, and Rehob—twenty-two towns with their villages.

31 This was the inheritance of Asher, clan by clan.

The Inheritance of Naphtali (Verses 32–39)

32 The sixth lot went to Naphtali, clan by clan.

33 Their boundary started at Heleph and the oak of Zaananim, extended to Adami-nekeb and Jabneel, and reached to Lakkum, ending at the Jordan.

34 The boundary turned west to Aznoth-tabor, went to Hukkok, touched Zebulun on the south, Asher on the west, and the Jordan on the east.

35 The fortified cities included: Ziddim, Zer, Hammath, Rakkath, Chinnereth, 36 Adamah, Ramah, Hazor,

37 Kedesh, Edrei, En-hazor,

38 Iron, Migdal-el, Horem, Beth-anath, and Beth-shemesh—nineteen towns with their villages.
39 This was the inheritance of Naphtali, divided among their clans.

The Inheritance of Dan (Verses 40–48)

40 The seventh lot went to the tribe of Dan, clan by clan.
41 Their territory included: Zorah, Eshtaol, Ir-shemesh,
42 Shaalabbin, Aijalon, Ithlah,
43 Elon, Timnah, Ekron,
44 Eltekeh, Gibbethon, Baalath,
45 Jehud, Bene-berak, Gath-rimmon,
46 Me-jarkon, and Rakkon, including the area near Joppa.
47 But the territory of Dan was too small for them, so they attacked Leshem, captured it, struck it with the sword, and took possession of it. They settled there and renamed it Dan after their ancestor.
48 This was the inheritance of Dan, divided among their clans.

Joshua's Inheritance (Verses 49–50)

49 When the land division was completed, the Israelites gave Joshua son of Nun his inheritance.
50 As the LORD had commanded, they gave him the town he asked for—Timnath-serah in the hill country of Ephraim. He rebuilt it and settled there.

Completion of Land Division (Verse 51)

51 These were the inheritances assigned by Eleazar the priest, Joshua son of Nun, and the leaders of Israelite tribes. They were distributed by casting lots before the LORD at the entrance of the Tabernacle in Shiloh. So the land division was finished.

Key Lessons from Joshua 19

1. God Provides Fairly to All His People – Each tribe received a portion of land suited to their needs, showing God's care and equity (Psalm 16:5–6).
2. Some Inheritances Are Shared – Simeon's land was within Judah's because Judah had more than it needed. God can use surplus to bless others (2 Corinthians 8:14).
3. Obedience and Unity Matter in Leadership – Joshua waited until the entire division was complete before receiving his own inheritance. True leaders serve others first (Philippians 2:3–4).

4. The Importance of Fulfilled Promises – The land inheritance was the long-awaited fulfillment of God’s covenant with Abraham. God’s promises never fail (Genesis 15:18–21; Hebrews 6:17–18).
5. Taking Initiative Matters – The tribe of Dan expanded their territory when their lot proved insufficient. God expects us to work in faith and not passively accept limits (Colossians 3:23–24).

Cities of Refuge Appointed (Verses 1–9)

1 Then the Lord said to Joshua,

2 “Tell the Israelites to appoint the cities of refuge, just as I instructed you through Moses.

3 These cities are to be places of safety for anyone who kills another person unintentionally or without premeditation. They will serve as protection from the avenger of blood.

4 When someone flees to one of these cities, they must stand at the entrance of the city gate and explain their case to the elders. The elders must welcome them into the city and give them a place to live.

5 If the avenger of blood pursues the accused, the city must not hand the person over, because the killing was accidental and not out of hatred.

6 The person must stay in that city until they stand trial before the community and until the death of the high priest who is serving at that time. After that, the person may return to their own city and home from which they fled.”

7 So they set apart the following cities:

- Kedesh in Galilee, in the hill country of Naphtali;
- Shechem in the hill country of Ephraim;
- Hebron (also called Kirjath-arba) in the hill country of Judah.

8 East of the Jordan River, they designated:

- Bezer, in the wilderness plain, from the tribe of Reuben;
- Ramoth in Gilead, from the tribe of Gad;
- Golan in Bashan, from the tribe of Manasseh.

9 These were the cities appointed for all the Israelites and for the foreigners living among them, so that anyone who accidentally killed another person could flee there and not be put to death by the avenger of blood before standing trial before the congregation.

Key Lessons from Joshua 20

1. God Provides Mercy for the Mistaken

– The cities of refuge were a divine provision to protect those who caused unintentional harm. God distinguishes between accidents and willful sin (Numbers 35:9–15; Hebrews 4:15).

2. Justice Must Be Fair and Deliberate

– Refugees had to stand trial before the community, emphasizing due process. God values truth and fair judgment (Deuteronomy 19:4–7; Proverbs 18:13).

3. The High Priest's Death Represents Atonement

– The slayer could return home upon the death of the high priest—a picture of how Christ's death brings spiritual freedom to all sinners (Hebrews 9:11–15).

4. Refuge Was for All—Israelite and Foreigner

– The law extended protection to both natives and strangers, revealing God's inclusive justice and compassion (Exodus 12:49; Galatians 3:28).

5. God's Justice System Balances Law and Grace

– The avenger of blood represented justice, but the city of refuge provided mercy. Both aspects reflect God's perfect character (Psalm 89:14).

Cities Given to the Levites (Verses 1–42)

1 Then the leaders of the Levite families came to Eleazar the priest, Joshua son of Nun, and the leaders of the Israelite tribes.

2 They spoke with them at Shiloh in the land of Canaan, saying, “The Lord commanded through Moses that we be given towns to live in, along with pasturelands for our livestock.”

3 So the Israelites gave the Levites, from their own inheritances, the cities and surrounding lands as the Lord had commanded.

4 The families of the Kohathites (descendants of Levi's son Kohath) received thirteen cities by lot from the tribes of Judah, Simeon, and Benjamin.

5 The rest of the Kohathite clans received ten cities from the tribes of Ephraim, Dan, and half of Manasseh.

6 The Gershonite clans received thirteen cities from the tribes of Issachar, Asher, Naphtali, and the half-tribe of Manasseh in Bashan.

7 The Merarite clans received twelve cities from the tribes of Reuben, Gad, and Zebulun.

8 So the Israelites gave these towns and pasturelands to the Levites as the Lord had instructed through Moses.

9 From the tribes of Judah and Simeon, the Israelites gave the following towns:

10 These were for the families of Aaron the priest, of the Kohathite clan (a branch of the Levites), for they received the first lot.

11 They were given Hebron (formerly Kiriath-arba), in the hill country of Judah, along with the surrounding pasturelands.

12 But the fields and surrounding villages of Hebron were given to Caleb son of Jephunneh as his possession.

13 The towns given to the priests included:

- Hebron (a city of refuge),
- Libnah,
14 Jattir,
- Eshtemoa,
15 Holon,
- Debir,
16 Ain,
- Juttah,
- Beth-shemesh—nine towns from the tribes of Judah and Simeon.

17 From the tribe of Benjamin:

- Gibeon,
- Geba,
18 Anathoth,
- Almon—four towns.

19 In all, thirteen towns with their surrounding pasturelands were given to the priests, the descendants of Aaron.

20 The rest of the Kohathite clans received towns from the tribe of Ephraim.

21 These included:

- Shechem (a city of refuge),
- Gezer,
22 Kibzaim,
- Beth-horon—four towns.

23 From the tribe of Dan:

- Eltekeh,
- Gibbethon,
24 Aijalon,

- Gath-rimmon—four towns.

25 From the half-tribe of Manasseh:

- Taanach,
- Gath-rimmon—two towns.

26 In total, these Kohathite families received ten towns with their pasturelands.

27 The Gershonite clans received the following:

- From the half-tribe of Manasseh: Golan in Bashan (a city of refuge) and Beeshterah—two towns.

28 From Issachar:

- Kishion,
- Daberath,
- 29 Jarmuth,
- En-gannim—four towns.

30 From Asher:

- Mishal,
- Abdon,
- 31 Helkath,
- Rehob—four towns.

32 From Naphtali:

- Kedesh in Galilee (a city of refuge),
- Hammoth-dor,
- Kartan—three towns.

33 These Gershonite clans received thirteen towns in all.

34 The Merarite clans received the following towns:

- From Zebulun: Jokneam, Kartah,
- 35 Dimnah, Nahalal—four towns.
- 36 From Reuben: Bezer, Jahaz,
- 37 Kedemoth, Mephaath—four towns.
- 38 From Gad:
- Ramoth in Gilead (a city of refuge),
- Mahanaim,
- 39 Heshbon, Jazer—four towns.

40 In all, twelve towns with pasturelands were given to the Merarite clans.

41 So the total number of towns given to the Levites within the territory of the Israelites was forty-eight, along with their surrounding pasturelands.

42 Each of these towns had its own pasturelands surrounding it.

God's Promises Fulfilled (Verses 43–45)

43 So the Lord gave Israel all the land He had sworn to give their ancestors, and they took possession of it and settled there.

44 The Lord gave them rest on every side, just as He had promised their ancestors. Not one of their enemies could stand against them—He handed all their enemies over to them.

45 Not one of all the good promises the Lord had made to Israel failed; every one came true.

Key Lessons from Joshua 21

1. God Provides for His Servants

– The Levites were given cities among the tribes because their inheritance was the Lord and His service (Numbers 18:20; Deuteronomy 10:9).

2. Every Tribe Has a Role

– Though the Levites didn't receive a large territory, their influence and service in worship and law were vital to Israel's spiritual health (Malachi 2:7).

3. God Fulfills Every Promise

– Not a single promise failed; God proved Himself faithful to all He had spoken (Joshua 21:45; 1 Kings 8:56).

4. God Gives Peace to His People

– Israel experienced rest from war—a symbol of the peace believers find when walking in God's will (Hebrews 4:8–11).

5. Justice and Refuge Were Interwoven

– Cities of refuge were among the Levite cities, symbolizing the priestly role in mercy, protection, and justice (Hebrews 6:18–20).

Eastern Tribes Return Home (Verses 1–9)

1 Then Joshua called together the tribes of Reuben, Gad, and the half-tribe of Manasseh.

2 He said to them, “You have done everything that Moses, the servant of the Lord, commanded you.

And you have obeyed all that I have commanded you.

3 All this time you have not deserted your fellow Israelites. You have faithfully obeyed the command of the Lord your God to this day.

4 Now that the Lord your God has given rest to your fellow Israelites, just as He promised, return to your homes in the land that Moses gave you on the east side of the Jordan.

5 But be very careful to obey the command and the law that Moses gave you: love the Lord your God, walk in all His ways, keep His commands, hold firmly to Him, and serve Him with all your heart and soul.”

6 Then Joshua blessed them and sent them away, and they went to their homes.

7 (Moses had given land to half the tribe of Manasseh in Bashan, while the other half received land on the west side of the Jordan from Joshua.) When Joshua sent them home, he blessed them also.

8 He said, “Return with great wealth—large herds of livestock, silver, gold, bronze, iron, and lots of clothing. Share the plunder with your fellow Israelites.”

9 So the tribes of Reuben, Gad, and the half-tribe of Manasseh left the Israelites at Shiloh in Canaan and returned to Gilead, their own land on the east side of the Jordan, which Moses had given them.

The Eastern Tribes Build an Altar (Verses 10–20)

10 When they came to the region near the Jordan in Canaan, the eastern tribes built a large and impressive altar near the Jordan.

11 The rest of the Israelites heard a report: “The tribes of Reuben, Gad, and the half-tribe of Manasseh have built an altar at the Jordan on the side belonging to the Israelites!”

12 When the Israelites heard this, they gathered at Shiloh to prepare to go to war against them.

13 They sent Phinehas, the son of Eleazar the priest, to Gilead to talk with the eastern tribes.

14 Ten leaders went with him, one from each tribe of Israel, each the head of a family division.

15 When they arrived, they said:

16 “This is what the whole community of the Lord says: Why have you broken faith with the God of Israel by building this altar? Are you rebelling against the Lord?

17 Wasn’t the sin of Peor bad enough? Even today we are still suffering from it!

18 Now you would turn away from the Lord again? If you rebel today, tomorrow He’ll be angry with the whole nation!

19 If your land is unclean, come back across the Jordan to the Lord’s land where His tabernacle stands. But don’t rebel by building another altar in competition with the one true altar of the Lord our God.

20 Remember Achan son of Zerah? He took what was under the curse, and God’s wrath fell on all Israel. He wasn’t the only one who died for his sin!”

The Eastern Tribes Explain (Verses 21–29)

21 Then the tribes of Reuben, Gad, and the half-tribe of Manasseh replied:

22 “The Lord God of gods! He knows the truth—and let Israel know too! If we built this altar in rebellion or disobedience, may the Lord not spare us!

23 If we intended to offer burnt offerings or sacrifices on it, may the Lord judge us!

24 No! We built it because we were afraid that in the future your children might say to our children, ‘You have no part in the Lord.’

25 For the Lord has made the Jordan a boundary between us. One day your descendants might reject ours.

26 So we said, ‘Let’s build an altar—not for sacrifices,

27 but as a witness between us and you, and our future generations, that we worship the Lord with our sacrifices and offerings.’

28 Then if your children ever say we have no part in the Lord, we can point to this altar as a reminder that we do.

29 God forbid that we should rebel against the Lord by building a rival altar! We will only offer sacrifices on the altar of the Lord our God in front of His tabernacle.”

Conflict Resolved (Verses 30–34)

30 When Phinehas the priest and the leaders heard this explanation, they were satisfied.

31 Phinehas said, “Today we know the Lord is among us. You have not committed treason against Him. You have saved Israel from God's judgment.”

32 Then Phinehas and the leaders returned to the Israelites in Canaan and reported everything.

33 The Israelites were glad and praised God. They gave up plans for war and destroying the eastern tribes’ land.

34 The Reubenites and Gadites named the altar “Ed,” meaning “witness,” because it is a reminder that the Lord is God for both sides.

Key Lessons from Joshua 22

1. Unity Requires Communication

– A potential civil war was avoided because both sides chose to speak and listen before acting in violence (Proverbs 15:1).

2. Intentions Matter to God

– Though the altar seemed suspicious, the true motive was to preserve unity and honor God—not rebel (1 Samuel 16:7).

3. Fear Can Lead to Faithful Action

– The eastern tribes feared disconnection from worship and responded by building a memorial—not an idol (Hebrews 10:25).

4. Guarding Future Generations

– They built a lasting witness to ensure their descendants would remember their covenant with God (Deuteronomy 6:6–9).

5. Leadership Must Be Wise and Just

– Phinehas showed how good leadership can stop division and restore peace through truth and discernment (James 3:17–18).

Joshua Chapter 23

Crawford Standard Bible

Joshua’s Final Address (Verses 1–2)

1 A long time passed after the Lord had given Israel peace from all their surrounding enemies. By then, Joshua was very old.

2 Joshua called together all the leaders of Israel—the elders, heads of tribes, judges, and officers—and said, “I am now an old man.

Remember What God Has Done (Verses 3–5)

3 You’ve seen all the Lord your God has done to these nations for your sake. It was the Lord your God who fought for you.

4 I’ve divided up the remaining nations as your inheritance, from the Jordan to the Mediterranean Sea in the west.

5 The Lord your God will drive them out before you and push them back, so you can take possession of their land, just as He promised.

Be Faithful to the Covenant (Verses 6–8)

6 So be strong! Be careful to obey everything written in the Book of the Law of Moses. Don’t turn away from it, even a little.

7 Don’t mix with the remaining nations among you. Don’t even mention the names of their gods or swear by them, serve them, or bow to them.

8 Instead, cling tightly to the Lord your God, just as you’ve done up to now.

God Fights for His People (Verses 9–10)

9 The Lord has driven out powerful and great nations for you. No one has been able to stand against you to this day.

10 One of you can chase a thousand, because the Lord your God fights for you, just as He promised.

Guard Your Love for God (Verses 11–13)

11 So watch yourselves carefully—love the Lord your God.

12 But if you ever turn away and join with the nations that remain among you, and intermarry with them,

13 know for sure that the Lord your God will no longer drive them out. They will become traps and snares for you, whips on your backs, and thorns in your eyes, until you are wiped out from this good land the Lord your God has given you.

A Final Warning (Verses 14–16)

14 “Now I’m about to go the way of all the earth. You know in your hearts and souls that not one promise the Lord your God gave you has failed. Every one has come true.

15 But just as every good promise has come true, so the Lord will bring every warning upon you if you break His covenant. He will destroy you from this good land He has given you.

16 If you violate the covenant of the Lord your God and serve and worship other gods, then His anger will burn against you, and you will quickly perish from the good land He has given you.”

Key Lessons from Joshua 23

1. God Always Keeps His Promises

– Every word God spoke to Israel came to pass. He is completely faithful (Joshua 23:14; Numbers 23:19).

2. Cling to the Lord Alone

– Joshua urges Israel to remain loyal, not mixing with the nations or their gods (Deuteronomy 10:20; 2 Corinthians 6:17).

3. Obedience Brings Blessing, Disobedience Brings Judgment

– The land was theirs only as long as they followed the Lord. Sin would bring destruction (Leviticus 26:14–33; Romans 11:22).

4. One Can Defeat Many with God’s Help

– When God is with His people, even one warrior can chase a thousand enemies (Deuteronomy 32:30; Psalm 44:5–7).

5. Leadership Must Call People Back to Covenant Faithfulness

– Joshua ends his life reminding Israel of their responsibility to obey and love the Lord (2 Peter 1:13–15).

Joshua Chapter 24

Crawford Standard Bible

Joshua Summons the Tribes to Shechem (v. 1)

1 Joshua gathered all the tribes of Israel to Shechem. He called together the elders, leaders, judges, and officers of Israel, and they all came and stood before God.

A Reminder of God's Faithfulness (v. 2–13)

2 Joshua said to all the people, “This is what the Lord, the God of Israel, says: ‘Long ago your ancestors, including Terah—the father of Abraham and Nahor—lived beyond the Euphrates River, and they worshiped other gods.

3 But I took your father Abraham from that land and led him throughout Canaan. I gave him many descendants, including Isaac.

4 To Isaac I gave Jacob and Esau. I gave Esau the hill country of Seir, but Jacob and his children went down to Egypt.

5 Then I sent Moses and Aaron, and I brought terrible plagues on Egypt. After that, I brought you out.

6 When I brought your ancestors out of Egypt, you came to the Red Sea. The Egyptians chased after them with chariots and horsemen.

7 But when your people cried out to Me, I placed darkness between you and the Egyptians. I brought the sea crashing down on them and wiped them out. You saw it with your own eyes. Then you lived in the wilderness for many years.

8 I brought you into the land of the Amorites east of the Jordan. They fought against you, but I gave them into your hands. You took possession of their land, and I destroyed them for you.

9 Then Balak son of Zippor, king of Moab, prepared to fight against Israel and sent for Balaam to curse you.

10 But I would not listen to Balaam. Instead, he blessed you, and I rescued you from him.

11 Then you crossed the Jordan and came to Jericho. The people of Jericho fought against you, as did the Amorites, Perizzites, Canaanites, Hittites, Girgashites, Hivites, and Jebusites. But I gave them all into your hands.

12 I sent hornets ahead of you to drive out your enemies—even the two kings of the Amorites. You did not do it with your own swords or bows.

13 I gave you land you didn’t work for and cities you didn’t build. You live in them and eat from vineyards and olive groves you didn’t plant.”

Joshua’s Call to Commitment (v. 14–28)

14 “Now fear the Lord and serve Him with all sincerity and faithfulness. Throw away the gods your ancestors worshiped beyond the Euphrates and in Egypt, and serve the Lord.

15 But if serving the Lord seems undesirable to you, then choose today whom you will serve—whether the gods your ancestors served or the gods of the Amorites in whose land you live. As for me and my house, we will serve the Lord.”

16 The people answered, “Far be it from us to forsake the Lord and serve other gods!

17 It was the Lord our God who brought us and our ancestors out of slavery in Egypt. He performed great signs before our eyes and protected us all along the way and among all the nations we passed.

18 The Lord drove out all the nations before us, including the Amorites. So we too will serve the Lord, for He is our God.”

19 But Joshua warned them, “You are not able to serve the Lord, for He is a holy and jealous God. He will not forgive your rebellion and sins.

20 If you forsake the Lord and serve foreign gods, He will turn against you, bring disaster upon you, and destroy you—even after doing you good.”

21 But the people insisted, “No! We will serve the Lord.”

22 Then Joshua said, “You are witnesses against yourselves that you have chosen to serve the Lord.” They replied, “We are witnesses.”

23 “Then get rid of the foreign gods among you and turn your hearts fully to the Lord, the God of Israel,” Joshua said.

24 And the people answered, “We will serve the Lord our God and obey His voice.”

25 So Joshua made a covenant with the people that day at Shechem. He gave them laws and commands.

26 He recorded these words in the Book of the Law of God. Then he took a large stone and set it up under the oak tree near the sanctuary of the Lord.

27 “This stone will be a witness against us,” Joshua said. “It has heard all the words the Lord spoke to us. It will be a witness against you if you are unfaithful to your God.”

28 Then Joshua sent the people away, each to their own land.

The Deaths of Joshua and Eleazar (v. 29–33)

29 After these things, Joshua son of Nun, the servant of the Lord, died at the age of 110.

30 They buried him in the land he inherited at Timnath-serah, in the hill country of Ephraim, north of Mount Gaash.

31 Israel served the Lord throughout the lifetime of Joshua and the elders who outlived him—those who had personally seen all the great things the Lord had done for Israel.

32 The bones of Joseph, which the Israelites had brought from Egypt, were buried at Shechem in the land Jacob had bought from the sons of Hamor for a hundred pieces of silver. That land became the inheritance of Joseph’s descendants.

33 Eleazar son of Aaron also died. He was buried at Gibeah, a town in the hill country of Ephraim that had been given to his son Phinehas.

Key Lessons from Joshua 24

1. God’s Faithfulness Should Fuel Our Loyalty

– God reminded Israel of everything He had done—from Abraham to the conquest of Canaan—so they would respond with obedience and gratitude (v. 2–13).

2. Commitment Must Be Intentional

– Joshua challenged the people to make a clear decision: “Choose this day whom you will serve” (v. 15). True faith isn’t passive.

3. Family Faith Starts at Home

– Joshua declared, “As for me and my house, we will serve the Lord” (v. 15). Personal and family devotion is the foundation of national faithfulness.

4. God Desires Exclusive Worship

– God is holy and jealous. He does not tolerate divided loyalties or idolatry (v. 19–20; Exodus 34:14).

5. Witnesses and Reminders Help Keep Us Accountable

– Joshua set up a stone and wrote down the covenant to serve as a physical and written witness to the people’s promise (v. 26–27).

6. Leadership Leaves a Legacy

– Israel remained faithful while Joshua and the elders who knew God’s works were alive (v. 31). Godly leadership impacts future generations.

Introduction to the Book of Judges

Crawford Bible Commentary

Title and Meaning

The book is called Judges because it records the lives and leadership of individuals whom God raised up to "judge" Israel—not just in legal matters, but as military deliverers, spiritual leaders, and national reformers. The Hebrew title is Shophetim, which means “judges” or “rulers.”

Historical Context

Judges picks up where the Book of Joshua ends. Israel is now in the Promised Land, but the conquest is incomplete. After Joshua’s death, the people were left without a single national leader. What follows is a cycle of spiritual failure, divine discipline, national oppression, heartfelt repentance, and divine rescue.

The time span of Judges is estimated to be about 300 to 350 years, roughly from 1380 B.C. to 1050 B.C., bridging the gap between the death of Joshua and the rise of the monarchy under Saul.

Purpose of the Book

The purpose of Judges is to show what happens when God's people forsake His covenant, compromise with the world, and live according to what is “right in their own eyes” (Judges 17:6; 21:25). It is a sobering book of decline, rebellion, and deliverance—demonstrating the faithfulness of God despite the unfaithfulness of His people.

Major Themes

- Moral and Spiritual Decline: Israel falls into deeper sin with each generation.
 - The Cycle of the Judges: Sin → Oppression → Repentance → Deliverance → Peace → Repeat.
 - God's Grace and Faithfulness: Despite repeated rebellion, God raises up deliverers when His people cry out.
 - The Need for a Righteous King: The repeated line, “every man did what was right in his own eyes,” reveals the need for righteous leadership, foreshadowing the coming kingship of David—and ultimately Christ.
 - Compromise Is Costly: Israel's failure to fully drive out the Canaanites led to idolatry, intermarriage, and national instability.

Key Figures

- Othniel – The first judge; a model of righteousness and courage.
 - Deborah and Barak – A prophetess and general who led Israel to victory.
 - Gideon – The reluctant warrior who defeated Midian with 300 men.
 - Jephthah – A tragic figure known for a foolish vow.
 - Samson – A Nazirite judge with great strength and great weakness.

Spiritual Significance

Judges illustrates what happens when a generation forgets God (Judges 2:10). It's a mirror held up to modern society, showing the dangers of spiritual compromise, moral relativism, and disobedience. Yet amid the chaos, God's mercy shines, proving He is still the covenant-keeping God.

Christ in the Book of Judges

Though Christ is not named in Judges, the repeated deliverers serve as types (foreshadowings) of Jesus Christ—the ultimate Deliverer who would come not just to free Israel from human oppressors, but to save all people from sin, death, and Satan.

Outline of the Book of Judges

1. Introduction and Failure to Conquer – Chapters 1–2
 2. Cycle of the Judges Begins – Chapters 3–16
 3. Spiritual and Moral Collapse – Chapters 17–21

Key Verse

Judges 21:25 (CSB) – “In those days there was no king in Israel; everyone did whatever seemed right in their own eyes.”

Key Lesson

When people abandon the Word of God, society unravels. Without true spiritual leadership, the human heart drifts toward chaos, compromise, and corruption. But when we repent and return to God, He is always ready to rescue and restore.

Judges Chapter 1

Crawford Standard Bible

Who Will Go First? (1:1–2)

1 After Joshua died, the Israelites asked the Lord, “Who should lead the attack against the Canaanites first?”

2 The Lord replied, “Judah shall go up first. I have handed the land over to him.”

Judah and Simeon Join Forces (1:3–8)

3 Judah said to Simeon his brother, “Come help me fight for my territory, and I’ll help you fight for yours.” So Simeon went with him.

4 When Judah attacked, the Lord gave them victory over the Canaanites and Perizzites, and they killed

10,000 men at Bezek.

5 They found Adoni-bezek there and fought him, defeating the Canaanites and Perizzites.

6 Adoni-bezek fled, but they chased and captured him and cut off his thumbs and big toes.

7 Adoni-bezek said, “Seventy kings with no thumbs and big toes used to pick up scraps under my table. Now God has paid me back for what I did.” They took him to Jerusalem, where he died.

8 Then the people of Judah attacked and captured Jerusalem. They killed its people with the sword and set the city on fire.

Further Conquests of Judah and Caleb (1:9–15)

9 Afterward, Judah went to fight the Canaanites living in the hill country, the Negev, and the lowlands.

10 They attacked the Canaanites in Hebron (formerly called Kirjath-arba) and killed Sheshai, Ahiman, and Talmai.

11 Then they went to attack the city of Debir (formerly Kirjath-sepher).

12 Caleb said, “Whoever captures Kirjath-sepher, I’ll give him my daughter Achsah as a wife.”

13 Othniel, son of Caleb’s younger brother Kenaz, captured it. So Caleb gave him his daughter Achsah as a wife.

14 When she came to Othniel, she urged him to ask Caleb for a field. She got off her donkey, and Caleb asked, “What do you want?”

15 She answered, “Give me a blessing. Since you gave me land in the Negev, give me also springs of water.” So Caleb gave her both upper and lower springs.

Kenites and Continued Victories (1:16–20)

16 The descendants of Moses’ father-in-law, the Kenites, went with the people of Judah from Jericho into the wilderness of Judah south of Arad, and they lived there among the people.

17 Judah and Simeon attacked the Canaanites in Zephath and completely destroyed it. So they renamed the city Hormah.

18 Judah also captured Gaza, Ashkelon, and Ekron with their surrounding areas.

19 The Lord was with Judah, and they conquered the hill country. But they couldn’t drive out the people in the valley because they had iron chariots.

20 As Moses had promised, Hebron was given to Caleb, and he drove out the three sons of Anak.

Failures to Drive Out the Canaanites (1:21–36)

21 The tribe of Benjamin failed to drive out the Jebusites living in Jerusalem. To this day, the Jebusites live there among them.

22 The descendants of Joseph attacked Bethel, and the Lord was with them.

23 They sent spies to scout Bethel (formerly called Luz).

24 The spies saw a man leaving the city and said, “Show us how to get in, and we’ll spare you.”

25 So he showed them the way, and they attacked the city. But they let the man and his family go.
26 He later went to the land of the Hittites and built a city, naming it Luz, which is still its name today.
27 The tribe of Manasseh failed to drive out the people of Beth-shean, Taanach, Dor, Ibleam, and Megiddo and their surrounding settlements. The Canaanites continued to live in that land.
28 When Israel became stronger, they forced the Canaanites to work as slaves, but they didn't completely drive them out.
29 Ephraim failed to drive out the Canaanites living in Gezer, so they lived there among them.
30 Zebulun didn't drive out the people of Kitron or Nahalol; the Canaanites lived among them and became forced laborers.
31 Asher didn't drive out the people of Accho, Sidon, Ahlab, Achzib, Helbah, Aphik, or Rehob.
32 So the people of Asher lived among the Canaanites.
33 Naphtali didn't drive out the people of Beth-shemesh or Beth-anath but lived among them. However, the people of Beth-shemesh and Beth-anath became their forced laborers.
34 The Amorites forced the tribe of Dan into the mountains and wouldn't let them come down to the valleys.
35 The Amorites continued to live in Mount Heres, Aijalon, and Shaalbim. But when the tribe of Joseph grew stronger, they forced the Amorites into labor.
36 The border of the Amorites extended from the ascent of Akrabbim to Sela and beyond.

Key Lessons from Judges 1

1. Partial Obedience Is Still Disobedience

– Many tribes failed to completely drive out the Canaanites, choosing instead to coexist or enslave them, disobeying God's command (v. 27–36).

2. Victory Comes Through God's Power, Not Numbers

– Judah's early victories show that God gives success when His people trust and obey (v. 2–4).

3. God Repays Justice Justly

– Adoni-bezek recognized that what he had done to others was done to him—God sees and acts justly (v. 6–7; Galatians 6:7).

4. Courage Needs Full Commitment

– Even though Judah had God's presence, they hesitated when faced with iron chariots (v. 19). Fear can weaken even strong beginnings.

5. Faithful Individuals Still Make a Difference

– Caleb and Othniel stand out as men of faith and obedience, showing that personal faithfulness matters even when the nation falters (v. 12–20).

6. Failure to Fully Obey Has Lasting Consequences

– The tribes' compromise with the Canaanites led to spiritual decline and conflict in later chapters. What we tolerate today may control us tomorrow.

Judges Chapter 2

Crawford Standard Bible

The Angel of the Lord Confronts Israel (2:1–5)

1 Then the angel of the Lord went up from Gilgal to Bochim and said, “I brought you out of Egypt into the land I promised your ancestors. I said, ‘I will never break My covenant with you.’

2 And I told you, ‘You must not make covenants with the people living in this land. Instead, you must destroy their altars.’ But you didn’t obey My voice. Why have you done this?

3 So now I declare: I will not drive them out before you. They will become thorns in your sides, and their gods will be a snare to you.”

4 When the angel of the Lord spoke these words to all the Israelites, the people wept aloud.

5 So they named that place Bochim (which means “weeping”), and they offered sacrifices to the Lord there.

Joshua’s Generation Passes Away (2:6–10)

6 After Joshua had dismissed the people, the Israelites went to take possession of the land, each to their own inheritance.

7 The people served the Lord throughout the lifetime of Joshua and of the elders who outlived him—those who had seen all the great things the Lord had done for Israel.

8 Joshua son of Nun, the servant of the Lord, died at the age of 110.

9 They buried him in the land he had inherited at Timnath-heres, in the hill country of Ephraim, north of Mount Gaash.

10 After that whole generation had died, another generation grew up who neither knew the Lord nor remembered what He had done for Israel.

Israel Abandons the Lord (2:11–15)

11 Then the Israelites did what was evil in the sight of the Lord and served the images of Baal.

12 They abandoned the Lord, the God of their ancestors, who had brought them out of Egypt. They went after the gods of the peoples around them. They bowed down to them and provoked the Lord’s anger.

13 They completely turned from the Lord and worshiped Baal and the goddess Ashtaroth.

14 So the Lord burned with anger against Israel. He handed them over to raiders who plundered them. He sold them to their enemies all around them so that they could no longer stand against their enemies.

15 Wherever they went out to battle, the Lord was against them, just as He had warned. And they were in great distress.

The Lord Sends Judges (2:16–19)

16 Then the Lord raised up judges to rescue the Israelites from those who plundered them.

17 But the Israelites did not listen to their judges. Instead, they prostituted themselves with other gods and worshiped them. They quickly turned away from the path their ancestors had walked—those who obeyed the Lord’s commands. They did not follow that example.

18 Whenever the Lord raised up a judge for them, He was with that judge and saved the people from their enemies while the judge lived. The Lord took pity on them when they groaned under their oppression and suffering.

19 But when the judge died, the people returned to their corrupt ways, behaving worse than before. They chased after other gods, served them, and bowed down to them. They refused to give up their evil practices and stubborn ways.

God Leaves Nations to Test Israel (2:20–23)

20 So the Lord burned with anger against Israel and said, “Because this people has broken My covenant, which I commanded their ancestors, and has not obeyed Me, 21 I will no longer drive out the nations Joshua left when he died.

22 I will use them to test Israel and see whether they will follow My ways as their ancestors did.”

23 So the Lord allowed those nations to remain. He did not drive them out quickly or give them into Joshua’s hands.

Key Lessons from Judges 2

1. God Keeps His Word, Even in Judgment

The Lord had promised both blessings for obedience and consequences for rebellion. Israel’s choices brought hardship—but even then, God’s justice was righteous (v. 1–3, 14–15).

2. One Generation Can Change Everything

The generation that followed Joshua did not know the Lord. Failure to pass on faith can lead to national and spiritual collapse (v. 10).

3. Compromise Is the Gateway to Idolatry

Israel’s refusal to destroy altars and drive out pagan nations opened the door to full-scale idolatry (v. 2, 11–13).

4. God’s Mercy Shows Through Deliverers

Though the people repeatedly turned from God, He still raised up judges to rescue them—proof of His enduring mercy (v. 16–18).

5. Repentance Must Be Genuine and Lasting

The people cried, but they did not change. Real repentance requires more than emotion—it demands obedience (v. 17, 19).

6. Testing Reveals the Heart

God allowed pagan nations to remain as a test. Trials often show whether we truly love God or just love His blessings (v. 22).

Judges Chapter 3

Crawford Standard Bible

God Tests Israel Through Remaining Nations (3:1–6)

1 These are the nations the Lord left to test the Israelites who had not experienced the wars of Canaan.
2 He did this to teach warfare to the generations of Israelites who had no battle experience.
3 The nations included the five rulers of the Philistines, all the Canaanites, the Sidonians, and the Hivites living in the mountains of Lebanon—from Mount Baal-hermon to the entrance of Hamath.
4 These were left to test Israel, to see whether they would obey the Lord’s commands given through Moses.
5 The Israelites lived among the Canaanites, Hittites, Amorites, Perizzites, Hivites, and Jebusites.
6 They married their daughters and gave their own daughters to the sons of these nations—and began serving their gods.

Othniel, Israel’s First Judge (3:7–11)

7 The Israelites did what was evil in the Lord’s sight. They forgot the Lord their God and served the images of Baal and the Asherah poles.
8 So the Lord burned with anger against Israel and handed them over to King Cushan-rishathaim of Mesopotamia. Israel served him for eight years.
9 But when the Israelites cried out to the Lord, He raised up a deliverer for them—Othniel, son of Kenaz, Caleb’s younger brother.
10 The Spirit of the Lord came upon him, and he became Israel’s judge. He went to war, and the Lord gave him victory over Cushan-rishathaim.
11 Then the land had peace for forty years, until Othniel son of Kenaz died.

Ehud the Left-Handed Deliverer (3:12–30)

12 Once again the Israelites did evil in the Lord's sight. So the Lord strengthened Eglon king of Moab to defeat Israel, because they had done evil.

13 Eglon joined forces with the Ammonites and Amalekites. They defeated Israel and took possession of the City of Palms (Jericho).

14 Israel served Eglon, king of Moab, for eighteen years.

15 But when the Israelites cried out to the Lord, He raised up a deliverer—Ehud son of Gera, a left-handed man from the tribe of Benjamin. The Israelites sent him to deliver a tribute to King Eglon of Moab.

16 Ehud made a double-edged dagger, about a foot and a half long, and strapped it to his right thigh under his clothes.

17 He brought the tribute to Eglon, who was an extremely fat man.

18 After presenting the tribute, Ehud sent the men who carried it back home.

19 But Ehud turned back at the stone carvings near Gilgal and said, "I have a secret message for you, O king." Eglon said, "Quiet!" and sent all his attendants away.

20 Ehud approached Eglon as he was sitting alone in his upstairs cool room. Ehud said, "I have a message from God for you." As the king rose from his seat, 21 Ehud reached with his left hand, drew the dagger from his right thigh, and thrust it into Eglon's belly.

22 The handle sank in after the blade, and the fat closed over it. Ehud did not pull the dagger out, and the dirt came out.

23 Then Ehud escaped through the porch, shutting and locking the doors of the upper room behind him.

24 After he left, Eglon's servants returned and found the doors locked. They thought, "He must be relieving himself in the cool room."

25 They waited until they were embarrassed, but still he didn't open the doors. So they got a key, opened them, and found their king dead on the floor.

26 While they delayed, Ehud escaped, passed the stone idols, and reached Seirah.

27 When he arrived, he blew the ram's horn in the hill country of Ephraim. Then the Israelites went down with him from the hill country, and he led them.

28 "Follow me," he said, "for the Lord has given you victory over Moab!" So they followed him, took control of the shallow crossings of the Jordan River opposite Moab, and didn't let anyone escape.

29 At that time they struck down about ten thousand strong and able-bodied Moabite men. Not a single one escaped.

30 So Moab was subdued under Israel that day, and the land had rest for eighty years.

Shamgar Strikes the Philistines (3:31)

31 After Ehud came Shamgar son of Anath. He killed 600 Philistines with an ox goad, and he too delivered Israel.

Key Lessons from Judges 3

1. God Uses Trials to Teach and Test

The remaining nations in Canaan served as tools to train and test Israel's faith and obedience (v. 1–4).

2. Compromise Leads to Corruption

By living with and intermarrying the pagan nations, Israel quickly adopted their false gods (v. 5–7).

3. God Is Merciful to the Repentant

Though Israel repeatedly sinned, when they cried out, God responded with compassion and deliverance (v. 9, 15).

4. God Uses Unlikely People

Ehud was left-handed—a rarity in ancient times and a symbol of weakness. Yet God used him strategically and powerfully (v. 15–21; 1 Corinthians 1:27).

5. One Person's Courage Can Inspire a Nation

Ehud's boldness sparked a national uprising and victory. Courage often begins with one faithful step (v. 27–28).

6. God's Deliverance Brings Peace—When We Obey

Each time Israel turned back to God and followed the judge, the land had peace—first 40 years with Othniel, then 80 years with Ehud (v. 11, 30).

Judges Chapter 4

Crawford Standard Bible

Israel Again Turns from the Lord (4:1–3)

1 After Ehud died, the Israelites again did evil in the Lord's sight.

2 So the Lord handed them over to King Jabin of Canaan, who ruled in Hazor. His army commander was Sisera, who lived in Harosheth-hagoyim.

3 Because Sisera had 900 iron chariots and cruelly oppressed the Israelites for twenty years, they cried out to the Lord for help.

Deborah the Prophetess and Judge (4:4–5)

4 At that time, Deborah, a prophetess and the wife of Lapidoth, was judging Israel.

5 She held court under the Palm of Deborah between Ramah and Bethel in the hill country of Ephraim. The Israelites came to her to settle their disputes.

God’s Command to Barak (4:6–10)

6 One day she sent for Barak son of Abinoam from Kedesh in Naphtali. She said, “Hasn’t the Lord, the God of Israel, commanded you: ‘Go, gather 10,000 men from Naphtali and Zebulun and lead them to Mount Tabor’?”

7 ‘I will lead Sisera, the commander of Jabin’s army, with his chariots and troops to the Kishon River, and I will hand him over to you.’”

8 Barak replied, “If you go with me, I will go. But if you won’t go with me, I won’t go.”

9 She answered, “I will certainly go with you. But because of the way you are going about this, the honor will not be yours—for the Lord will hand Sisera over to a woman.” So Deborah went with Barak to Kedesh.

10 Barak summoned the tribes of Zebulun and Naphtali to Kedesh, and 10,000 men followed him. Deborah also went with him.

Heber the Kenite Separates from His People (4:11)

11 Now Heber the Kenite, a descendant of Hobab (Moses’ father-in-law), had moved away from the other Kenites and pitched his tent by the oak of Zaanaim, near Kedesh.

The Battle at Kishon (4:12–16)

12 When Sisera heard that Barak had gone up to Mount Tabor,

13 he summoned his 900 iron chariots and all his men from Harosheth-hagoyim to the Kishon River.

14 Then Deborah said to Barak, “Get ready! Today the Lord will give you victory over Sisera. The Lord is marching ahead of you!” So Barak led his 10,000 men down Mount Tabor into battle.

15 The Lord threw Sisera and all his chariots and army into a panic before Barak. Sisera jumped down from his chariot and fled on foot.

16 Barak pursued the chariots and army as far as Harosheth-hagoyim, and all Sisera’s troops were killed. Not one was left alive.

Jael’s Deadly Deception (4:17–22)

17 Meanwhile, Sisera fled on foot to the tent of Jael, the wife of Heber the Kenite. There was peace between Jabin and Heber’s family.

18 Jael came out to meet Sisera and said, “Come in, my lord. Don’t be afraid.” So he entered her tent, and she covered him with a blanket.

19 He said, “Please give me a little water to drink.” Instead, she gave him some milk and covered him again.

20 He said, “Stand at the door of the tent. If anyone comes and asks if someone is here, say no.”

21 But while he was asleep from exhaustion, Jael quietly took a tent peg and a hammer and drove the peg through his temple into the ground—and he died.

22 Just then Barak came looking for Sisera. Jael went out to meet him and said, “Come, I will show you the man you are looking for.” He went into her tent, and there was Sisera—dead, with the tent peg through his temple.

God Brings Victory Over Jabin (4:23–24)

23 So on that day, God subdued King Jabin of Canaan before the Israelites.

24 From that point on, Israel became stronger and stronger until they finally destroyed King Jabin.

Key Lessons from Judges 4

1. God Raises Up Unlikely Leaders

– Deborah, a woman and a prophetess, led Israel in a time of crisis, showing that God can use anyone who listens and obeys (v. 4–5).

2. Fear Can Diminish Honor

– Barak’s hesitation to go without Deborah led to his victory being shared with Jael (v. 8–9). Fear often leads us to miss the full blessing of obedience.

3. God Goes Before His People in Battle

– Deborah encouraged Barak with the truth that the Lord had already gone before him (v. 14). Victory comes from God, not our own strength.

4. Obedience Requires Bold Action

– Jael acted decisively to destroy the enemy of God’s people, showing that bold obedience may be uncomfortable, but it honors God (v. 21).

5. God's Justice Is Unstoppable

– Though Sisera was a mighty general with iron chariots, God delivered him into the hands of a humble woman in a tent (v. 21–22; Psalm 33:16–17).

6. Deliverance Strengthens Future Victories

– The defeat of Jabin through Deborah, Barak, and Jael marked a turning point that empowered Israel to continue defeating their enemies (v. 23–24).

Judges Chapter 5

Crawford Standard Bible

The Song of Deborah and Barak

A Song of Praise (5:1–3)

1 Then Deborah and Barak son of Abinoam sang this song on that day:

2 “Praise the Lord! Israel’s leaders led, and the people volunteered freely. Bless the Lord!

3 Listen, kings and princes! I, yes I, will sing to the Lord. I will make music to the Lord, the God of Israel.”

God’s Power Remembered (5:4–5)

4 “Lord, when You went out from Seir, when You marched from Edom’s fields, the earth shook, the skies poured rain, and the clouds dropped water.

5 The mountains melted before the Lord—yes, even Mount Sinai—before the Lord, the God of Israel.”

Dark Days Before Deborah (5:6–8)

6 “In the days of Shamgar son of Anath, and in the days of Jael, people avoided the main roads; travelers took winding paths.

7 Village life in Israel ceased until I, Deborah, arose—a mother in Israel.

8 When Israel chose new gods, war came to the city gates. Was there a shield or spear among 40,000 in Israel?”

Call to Worship and Remember (5:9–12)

9 “My heart is with Israel’s leaders and volunteers. Praise the Lord!

10 You who ride on white donkeys, sit on fine blankets, or walk along the road, think about this!

11 Listen to the voices of singers at the watering places. They recount the righteous acts of the Lord, the victories of His villagers in Israel. Then the Lord’s people marched down to the city gates.

12 ‘Wake up, Deborah! Wake up and sing! Arise, Barak, and take your captives, son of Abinoam!’”

Israel's United Response (5:13–15a)

13 “Then the survivors came down, the Lord’s people marched down against the nobles.

14 From Ephraim came those rooted in Amalek; Benjamin followed with your people. From Makir (Manasseh) came commanders, and from Zebulun came those who write with pens.

15 The princes of Issachar were with Deborah; Issachar was with Barak. They rushed into the valley behind him.”

Tribes That Held Back (5:15b–18)

15b “But in the tribe of Reuben there was much indecision.

16 Why did you stay by the sheep pens, listening to the flocks? Reuben couldn’t decide.

17 Gilead stayed across the Jordan. Dan lingered with his ships. Asher stayed on the coast, sitting by the harbors.

18 But Zebulun and Naphtali risked their lives on the battlefield.”

God Fights from Heaven (5:19–22)

19 “Kings came and fought—the kings of Canaan fought at Taanach near Megiddo’s waters—but they took no treasure of silver.

20 From heaven the stars fought; their paths in the sky battled Sisera.

21 The river Kishon swept them away—the ancient river! March on, my soul, in strength!

22 The horses’ hooves pounded—galloping, galloping by his mighty steeds.”

Curse of Meroz, Blessing of Jael (5:23–27)

23 “‘Curse Meroz,’ said the angel of the Lord. ‘Curse its people bitterly, for they did not come to help the Lord against the mighty.’

24 Most blessed of women is Jael, wife of Heber the Kenite—blessed among tent-dwelling women.

25 Sisera asked for water; she gave him milk. She brought cream in a noble dish.

26 She reached for a tent peg, took a hammer, struck Sisera, crushed his head, pierced his temples.

27 He collapsed at her feet—he sank and fell. Where he sank, there he died.”

Sisera’s Mother Waits in Vain (5:28–30)

28 “Sisera’s mother looked out the window, cried through the lattice, ‘Why is his chariot delayed? Why is his horse’s pace so slow?’

29 Her wise ladies answered her, and she repeated their words:

30 ‘They’re dividing the loot—every man a woman or two. Sisera gets fancy robes—embroidered garments for his neck.’”

Victory and Peace (5:31)

31 “So let all Your enemies perish, O Lord! But let those who love You shine like the rising sun in strength.”

Then the land had peace for forty years.

Key Lessons from Judges 5

1. Celebrate God’s Victories

– Deborah and Barak didn’t just fight the battle—they praised God afterward. Our worship should reflect the victories He gives (v. 1–3).

2. God Is Mighty Over Creation

– The trembling earth and pouring skies are reminders that all creation bows before God (v. 4–5).

3. Spiritual Decline Leads to National Weakness

– When Israel abandoned God, they had no weapons, no safety, and no unity (v. 6–8).

4. True Leaders and Volunteers Are Worthy of Honor

– Those who stepped forward in faith and obedience were praised; those who hesitated were rebuked (v. 9–18).

5. God Uses the Unexpected

– Jael, a non-Israelite woman in a tent, accomplished what no army could—God delights in using the humble for His glory (v. 24–27).

6. Indifference to God’s Cause Brings Judgment

– Meroz was cursed not for fighting the enemy—but for doing nothing (v. 23; James 4:17).

7. God Is Faithful to Those Who Love Him

– The final blessing in this chapter is clear: those who love the Lord will shine like the sun (v. 31; Matthew 13:43).

Judges Chapter 6

Crawford Standard Bible

Gideon's Call and the Midianite Oppression

Israel Turns from God Again (6:1–6)

1 The Israelites did what was evil in the Lord's eyes. So the Lord handed them over to the Midianites for seven years.

2 The Midianites overpowered Israel, and the Israelites hid in mountain caves, dens, and strongholds to protect themselves.

3 Whenever the Israelites planted crops, the Midianites, Amalekites, and other eastern peoples came and attacked them.

4 They camped out and destroyed Israel's crops all the way to Gaza. They left nothing for Israel to eat—not even sheep, oxen, or donkeys.

5 These invaders came with their livestock and tents like a swarm of locusts. There were so many of them—including camels—that they couldn't be counted. They came to wipe out the land.

6 Israel was devastated by the Midianites. Finally, the Israelites cried out to the Lord for help.

God Sends a Prophet (6:7–10)

7 When the Israelites cried out to the Lord because of the Midianites,

8 the Lord sent a prophet to them. The prophet said, "This is what the Lord God of Israel says: 'I brought you out of slavery in Egypt.

9 I rescued you from the Egyptians and from all who oppressed you. I drove them out and gave you their land.

10 I told you, "I am the Lord your God. Don't worship the gods of the Amorites, in whose land you now live." But you didn't listen to Me.'"

The Angel Appears to Gideon (6:11–13)

11 Then the angel of the Lord came and sat under the oak tree in Ophrah, which belonged to Joash the Abiezrite. His son Gideon was threshing wheat in a winepress to hide it from the Midianites.

12 The angel of the Lord appeared to Gideon and said, "The Lord is with you, mighty warrior!"

13 Gideon replied, "Please, sir, if the Lord is with us, then why has all this happened? Where are all the miracles our ancestors told us about? Didn't the Lord bring us out of Egypt? But now He's abandoned us and handed us over to the Midianites."

God Calls Gideon (6:14–16)

14 Then the Lord turned to Gideon and said, “Go in the strength you have and rescue Israel from the Midianites. I am sending you!”

15 Gideon answered, “But Lord, how can I rescue Israel? My clan is the weakest in the tribe of Manasseh, and I’m the least important in my family.”

16 The Lord replied, “I will be with you. You will strike down the Midianites as if they were just one man.”

Gideon Asks for a Sign (6:17–21)

17 Gideon said, “If You’re really going to help me, then show me a sign that it’s really You talking to me.

18 Please don’t leave until I come back and bring my offering to You.”

The Lord said, “I’ll stay until you return.”

19 Gideon went inside, prepared a young goat, and made bread without yeast using about twenty pounds of flour. He put the meat in a basket and the broth in a pot. Then he brought them out and offered them under the oak tree.

20 The angel of God said, “Place the meat and the bread on this rock, and pour the broth over it.” So Gideon did.

21 Then the angel of the Lord touched the offering with the tip of his staff, and fire rose from the rock and consumed everything. Then the angel of the Lord disappeared.

Peace and a New Altar (6:22–24)

22 When Gideon realized it was an angel of the Lord, he cried out, “Oh no! Lord God, I’ve seen the angel of the Lord face to face!”

23 But the Lord said to him, “Peace be with you. Don’t be afraid. You’re not going to die.”

24 So Gideon built an altar to the Lord there and called it Jehovah-Shalom, meaning “The Lord is Peace.” It still stands in Ophrah of the Abiezrites.

Gideon Tears Down Baal’s Altar (6:25–32)

25 That night the Lord said, “Take your father’s second bull, the seven-year-old one. Tear down your father’s altar to Baal and cut down the Asherah pole next to it.

26 Then build a proper altar to the Lord your God on this high place. Use the wood from the Asherah pole to offer the bull as a burnt offering.”

27 So Gideon took ten of his servants and did what the Lord commanded. But because he was afraid of his family and the townspeople, he did it at night.

28 Early the next morning, the townspeople saw that Baal’s altar had been destroyed, the Asherah pole cut down, and a bull sacrificed on the new altar.

29 They asked, “Who did this?” After investigating, they found out it was Gideon, son of Joash.

30 The men of the town demanded, “Bring out your son! He must die for tearing down Baal’s altar and cutting down the Asherah pole!”

31 But Joash said to the mob, “Are you trying to defend Baal? Are you going to save him? Anyone who defends Baal will be dead by morning! If Baal is a god, let him defend himself.”

32 So they gave Gideon a new name: Jerubbaal, meaning “Let Baal fight him,” because he had torn down Baal’s altar.

The Midianite Threat and Gideon’s Call (6:33–35)

33 Now the Midianites, Amalekites, and eastern peoples gathered and crossed the Jordan, camping in the Jezreel Valley.

34 Then the Spirit of the Lord came upon Gideon, and he blew a ram’s horn to call the Abiezrites to follow him.

35 He also sent messengers throughout Manasseh, Asher, Zebulun, and Naphtali, and they all came to join him.

Gideon’s Fleeces (6:36–40)

36 Then Gideon said to God, “If You are really going to save Israel through me as You promised,

37 then here’s what I’ll do: I’ll lay a wool fleece on the threshing floor. If there’s dew only on the fleece and the ground is dry, I’ll know You will rescue Israel through me.”

38 That’s exactly what happened. Gideon got up early, squeezed the fleece, and wrung out a bowl full of water.

39 Then Gideon said, “Please don’t be angry with me, but let me ask one more thing. This time, let the fleece stay dry while the ground around it is covered with dew.”

40 And God did it that night. The fleece was completely dry, but the ground was wet with dew.

Key Lessons from Judges 6

1. Disobedience Leads to Oppression

– Israel’s sin led to Midianite domination (v. 1–6). Turning from God always has consequences.

2. God Sends Warnings Before Deliverance

– Before raising a deliverer, God reminded Israel of their disobedience (v. 7–10).

3. God Sees Us Differently Than We See Ourselves

– Gideon saw weakness; God saw a warrior (v. 12–16).

4. God Confirms His Calling

– When Gideon asked for a sign, God patiently gave him assurance (v. 17–21, 36–40).

5. Obedience Sometimes Requires Boldness

– Gideon destroyed his father’s altar to Baal—but had to do it secretly at night (v. 25–27).

6. The Spirit Empowers the Mission

– Gideon didn’t lead Israel in his own strength; the Spirit of the Lord came upon him (v. 34).

7. God is Patient with Our Weak Faith

– Gideon needed multiple signs—and God graciously gave them (v. 36–40; James 1:5–6).

Judges Chapter 7

Crawford Standard Bible

Gideon’s Army Reduced

1 Jerubbaal (that is, Gideon) and all his men got up early and camped beside the spring of Harod. The Midianite army was to the north of them, in the valley near the hill of Moreh.

2 The Lord said to Gideon, “You have too many men for Me to hand the Midianites over to you. If I do, Israel might boast, ‘We saved ourselves by our own strength.’”

3 Announce this to the people: ‘Anyone who is afraid may leave Mount Gilead and go home.’” So 22,000 men left, and only 10,000 remained.

4 But the Lord said to Gideon, “There are still too many. Bring them down to the water, and I will test them for you there. I will tell you which men should go with you and which ones should not.”

5 So Gideon led the men to the water. The Lord told him, “Separate the men who lap the water with their tongues like dogs from those who kneel down to drink.”

6 Three hundred men drank by lapping the water from their hands. All the rest knelt down to drink.

7 Then the Lord told Gideon, “With the 300 men who lapped the water, I will rescue you and give you victory over the Midianites. Send everyone else home.”

8 So Gideon gave the rest of the men provisions and trumpets, and sent them home. He kept only the 300 men. Meanwhile, the Midianite camp was spread out below in the valley.

God Encourages Gideon (7:9–15)

9 That night the Lord said, “Get up! Go down into the Midianite camp. I have given it into your hands.

10 But if you’re afraid, take your servant Phurah and sneak down to the camp.

11 Listen to what they’re saying. Then you’ll be encouraged and ready to attack.” So Gideon and Phurah went to the edge of the enemy camp.

12 The Midianites, Amalekites, and other eastern peoples had settled in the valley like a swarm of locusts. Their camels were too many to count—like sand on the seashore.

13 As Gideon approached, he overheard one man telling another about a dream: “I had a dream. A loaf of barley bread came rolling into the Midianite camp. It hit a tent so hard that it knocked it over and flattened it.”

14 The other man responded, “That can only mean the sword of Gideon, son of Joash, the Israelite. God has handed Midian and the whole camp over to him!”

15 When Gideon heard the dream and its meaning, he bowed in worship. Then he returned to Israel’s camp and shouted, “Get up! The Lord has handed the Midianite army over to you!”

The Surprise Attack (7:16–22)

16 Gideon divided the 300 men into three companies. He gave each man a ram’s horn, a clay jar, and a torch inside the jar.

17 He said, “Watch me. When we get to the edge of the camp, do exactly what I do.

18 When I and those with me blow our trumpets, you blow yours too, all around the camp, and shout, ‘For the Lord and for Gideon!’”

19 Just after midnight, during the middle watch, they reached the edge of the camp and blew their trumpets and broke their jars.

20 All three groups blew their horns, broke their jars, and held the torches in their left hands and the horns in their right hands. They shouted, “The sword of the Lord and of Gideon!”

21 They stood in their positions around the camp, and the whole Midianite army ran, shouting as they fled.

22 When the 300 blew their trumpets, the Lord caused the Midianites to turn on each other with their swords throughout the camp. The army fled as far as Beth-shittah near Zererah and to the border of Abel-meholah near Tabbath.

The Pursuit of the Midianites (7:23–25)

23 Then men from Naphtali, Asher, and Manasseh were called out, and they chased the Midianites.

24 Gideon also sent messengers throughout the hill country of Ephraim, saying, “Come down and block the Midianites from crossing the Jordan River at Beth-barah.” So all the men of Ephraim gathered and secured the river crossings.

25 They captured the two Midianite princes, Oreb and Zeeb. They killed Oreb at the Rock of Oreb and Zeeb at the Winepress of Zeeb. They continued to pursue the Midianites and brought the heads of Oreb and Zeeb to Gideon, who was now on the east side of the Jordan.

Key Lessons from Judges 7

1. God Uses the Weak to Show His Strength

– God intentionally reduced Gideon’s army to show that the victory was His, not Israel’s (v. 1–7; 1 Corinthians 1:27–29).

2. God Prepares Us with Encouragement

– When Gideon was afraid, God gave him a way to hear confirmation and strengthen his faith (v. 9–15).

3. Obedience Requires Trust

– God’s strategy involved no swords—only torches, jars, and trumpets. It didn’t make sense, but it worked because they obeyed (v. 16–21).

4. God Causes the Enemy to Turn on Itself

– Confusion broke out in the enemy camp, and they destroyed each other. God fights in ways we don’t expect (v. 22).

5. Victory Requires Full Commitment

– Once the enemy fled, Israel had to pursue them. God brings the breakthrough, but we must follow through (v. 23–25; Philippians 3:14).

Judges Chapter 8

Crawford Standard Bible

Gideon’s Final Victories and Decline

Ephraim’s Complaint (8:1–3)

1 The men of Ephraim said to Gideon, “Why did you treat us this way? Why didn’t you call us when you went to fight the Midianites?” They argued with him fiercely.

2 But Gideon replied, “What have I done compared to you? Even the leftover grapes of Ephraim are better than the full harvest of Abiezer!

3 God gave you the leaders of Midian—Oreb and Zeeb. What was I able to do compared to you?” After he said that, their anger calmed down.

Rejection by Succoth and Penuel (8:4–9)

4 Gideon and his 300 men crossed the Jordan River, exhausted but still in pursuit.

5 He said to the people of Succoth, “Please give my men some bread. They’re tired, and we’re chasing Zebah and Zalmunna, the kings of Midian.”

6 But the officials of Succoth said, “Do you already have Zebah and Zalmunna in your hands? Why should we give your army any bread?”

7 Gideon said, “When the Lord gives them into my hands, I’ll come back and tear your flesh with desert thorns and briers.”

8 Then he went to Penuel and made the same request. They gave him the same answer.

9 So he told them too, “When I return safely, I will tear down this tower!”

Victory Over Zebah and Zalmunna (8:10–12)

10 Zebah and Zalmunna were in Karkor with about 15,000 men—what was left of their army. 120,000 swordmen had already died.

11 Gideon took a route east of Nobah and Jogbehah, attacked their camp while they felt secure,
12 and captured Zebah and Zalmunna. He scattered their army completely.

Retribution Against Succoth and Penuel (8:13–17)

13 Gideon, son of Joash, returned from the battle before sunrise.

14 He captured a young man from Succoth and asked him who the leaders were. The young man listed 77 officials and elders.

15 Gideon went to the leaders of Succoth and said, “Here are Zebah and Zalmunna—you mocked me and said, ‘Do you already have them in custody?’”

16 Then he took desert thorns and briers and used them to punish the leaders of Succoth.

17 He also tore down the tower of Penuel and killed the men of the city.

The Execution of the Midianite Kings (8:18–21)

18 Then Gideon asked Zebah and Zalmunna, “What kind of men did you kill at Tabor?” They answered, “They looked just like you—like sons of a king.”

19 Gideon said, “They were my brothers, my mother’s sons. As surely as the Lord lives, if you had spared them, I wouldn’t kill you.”

20 Then he told his oldest son, Jether, “Kill them!” But Jether didn’t draw his sword. He was afraid—he was just a boy.

21 Zebah and Zalmunna said, “Do it yourself. A man’s strength matches his courage.” So Gideon killed them and took the crescent ornaments from their camels’ necks.

Israel Wants a King (8:22–23)

22 The Israelites said to Gideon, “Rule over us—you, your son, and your grandson—because you rescued us from Midian.”

23 But Gideon replied, “I won’t rule over you, and neither will my son. The Lord will rule over you.”

The Golden Ephod (8:24–27)

24 Then Gideon said, “But I do have one request. Give me the gold earrings you took from your enemies.” (The Ishmaelites wore gold earrings.)

25 They said, “We’ll gladly give them.” They spread out a robe and everyone threw in their earrings.

26 The weight of the gold earrings was 1,700 shekels—about 43 pounds—plus the ornaments, pendants, purple robes from the kings of Midian, and chains from their camels’ necks.

27 Gideon made a sacred ephod from the gold and put it in his hometown, Ophrah. But all Israel worshiped it there—it became a trap for Gideon and his family.

Gideon's Final Years (8:28–35)

28 So Midian was defeated before Israel and didn't recover. The land had peace for forty years during Gideon's lifetime.

29 Jerubbaal (Gideon) went home to live in peace.

30 He had seventy sons, for he had many wives.

31 He also had a concubine in Shechem who gave birth to a son named Abimelech.

32 Gideon died at a good old age and was buried in the tomb of his father Joash in Ophrah of the Abiezrites.

33 After Gideon died, the Israelites turned back to worship the Baals. They made Baal-Berith their god.

34 They forgot the Lord their God, who had saved them from all their enemies.

35 They also failed to show any loyalty to the family of Gideon, despite all the good he had done for Israel.

Key Lessons from Judges 8

1. Pride Can Cause Conflict

– The Ephraimites were upset they weren't included in the early victory, but Gideon responded with wisdom and humility (v. 1–3).

2. God Honors Perseverance

– Though exhausted, Gideon and his men pressed forward and finished the mission (v. 4–12; Galatians 6:9).

3. Those Who Doubt May Miss the Blessing

– The people of Succoth and Penuel refused to help out of fear or pride—and faced judgment (v. 5–9, 14–17).

4. Justice Must Be Just

– Gideon sought justice for his slain brothers but acted personally and harshly, raising questions about motives (v. 18–21).

5. God, Not Man, Should Rule

– Gideon rightly refused to be king, acknowledging God's rule over Israel (v. 22–23).

6. Even Good Leaders Can Fall into Error

– Gideon's golden ephod became an idol and led Israel astray, even though he had once been so faithful (v. 27; 1 Corinthians 10:12).

7. Forgetfulness Leads to Faithlessness

– After Gideon died, the people quickly turned from God and forgot the one who had delivered them (v. 33–35; Psalm 106:13).

Judges Chapter 9

Crawford Standard Bible

Abimelech's Rise and Fall

Abimelech's Power Grab (9:1–6)

1 Abimelech, the son of Jerubbaal (Gideon), went to Shechem to visit his mother's relatives. He spoke to them and the rest of his mother's family and said,

2 "Ask all the leaders of Shechem this question: Which is better for you—that all seventy sons of Jerubbaal rule over you, or just one man? Remember, I'm your own flesh and blood."

3 His uncles went to the leaders of Shechem and repeated what he said. They were inclined to follow Abimelech because he was their relative.

4 They gave him seventy pieces of silver from the temple of Baal-Berith, and with that money Abimelech hired a bunch of reckless men who became his followers.

5 He went to Ophrah, his father's home, and murdered his seventy brothers—all the sons of Jerubbaal—on one stone. But the youngest son, Jotham, escaped because he hid.

6 Then all the leaders of Shechem and Beth-millo gathered together and made Abimelech king beside the oak pillar at Shechem.

Jotham's Parable (9:7–21)

7 When Jotham heard what happened, he climbed Mount Gerizim and shouted, "Listen to me, citizens of Shechem, so that God may listen to you!

8 Once upon a time, the trees wanted to anoint a king. They asked the olive tree, 'Be our king!'

9 But the olive tree replied, 'Should I give up my rich oil that honors God and people, just to rule over the trees?'

10 Then they asked the fig tree, 'Come be our king!'

11 But the fig tree answered, 'Should I give up my sweet, delicious fruit to wave over the trees?'

12 Then they asked the grapevine, 'Come rule over us!'

13 The vine said, 'Should I stop making wine that cheers both God and people, just to be king over the trees?'

14 Finally, they asked the thornbush, 'Come and be our king.'

15 The thornbush said, 'If you really want to make me king, then come and take shelter in my shade. But if not, let fire come from the thornbush and burn down the cedars of Lebanon!'

16 “Now ask yourselves: Did you act with honesty and honor when you made Abimelech king? Have you treated Jerubbaal and his family fairly for all they’ve done for you?”

17 My father risked his life to save you from Midian.

18 But today, you have betrayed his house. You killed his seventy sons on one stone, and made his slave woman’s son king just because he’s your brother.

19 If you’ve acted in good faith today, then be happy with Abimelech, and may he be happy with you.

20 But if not, may fire come out from Abimelech and destroy Shechem and Beth-millo—and may fire come out from Shechem and Beth-millo and destroy Abimelech!”

21 Then Jotham fled to the town of Beer to escape his brother Abimelech.

Rebellion Against Abimelech (9:22–29)

22 Abimelech ruled over Israel for three years.

23 Then God sent a spirit of hostility between Abimelech and the leaders of Shechem, and they began plotting against him.

24 This was God’s judgment for the murder of Jerubbaal’s seventy sons and for the leaders of Shechem who helped Abimelech kill them.

25 They set up ambushes in the hilltops and robbed anyone who passed by. Abimelech heard about it.

26 Then Gaal, son of Ebed, moved to Shechem with his relatives. The leaders of Shechem put their trust in him.

27 They harvested grapes, made wine, and threw a big party in the temple of their god. They ate, drank, and cursed Abimelech.

28 Gaal shouted, “Who is Abimelech, and why should we serve him? Isn’t he just Jerubbaal’s son? And isn’t Zebul just his lackey? Serve the descendants of Hamor, Shechem’s founder! Why should we serve Abimelech?”

29 If I were in charge, I’d get rid of him! Hey Abimelech, bring your army and let’s fight!”

Zebul’s Warning and Abimelech’s Attack (9:30–45)

30 When Zebul, the city’s governor, heard Gaal’s words, he was furious.

31 He secretly sent messengers to Abimelech: “Gaal and his family have come to Shechem and are stirring up rebellion against you.

32 You and your men should sneak in and hide in the fields tonight.

33 At sunrise, attack the city. When Gaal comes out, do whatever is necessary.”

34 So Abimelech and his men set up in four companies and waited outside Shechem.

35 The next morning, Gaal stood at the city gate. Abimelech’s men began emerging from their hiding places.

36 Gaal said to Zebul, “Look—people are coming down from the mountains!”

Zebul replied, “You’re seeing shadows; it just looks like men.”

37 But Gaal insisted, “No! People are definitely coming down from the central hill, and another group is coming from the diviner’s tree.”

38 Then Zebul mocked him, “Where’s your big mouth now? Weren’t you the one who said, ‘Who is Abimelech?’ Go fight him!”

39 So Gaal led the men of Shechem out to battle, but Abimelech chased them back and many were killed.

40 They fled all the way to the city gate.

41 Abimelech stayed in Arumah, and Zebul drove Gaal and his relatives out of Shechem.

42 The next day, the people of Shechem went out to work in the fields. When Abimelech heard this, 43 he divided his men into three groups and set up an ambush. As people left the city, he and his men attacked them.

44 Abimelech's group blocked the gate while the other two groups killed those in the fields.

45 He fought all day, took the city, killed its people, tore it down, and scattered salt all over the ruins.

The Tower of Shechem Destroyed (9:46–49)

46 When the leaders in the tower of Shechem heard what happened, they hid in the temple of Baal-Berith.

47 Abimelech heard they were hiding there.

48 He climbed Mount Zalmon with his men, cut a branch, carried it on his shoulder, and said, “Do what you saw me do—now!”

49 So each man cut a branch and followed Abimelech. They piled the branches against the fortress and set it on fire. About a thousand men and women inside were burned alive.

The Death of Abimelech (9:50–57)

50 Then Abimelech went to Thebez and captured it.

51 But inside the city was a strong tower. All the men and women ran into it and locked the doors. They climbed to the top.

52 Abimelech came to the tower and was about to burn it too.

53 But a woman dropped a millstone on his head and crushed his skull.

54 He quickly called to his armor-bearer, “Draw your sword and kill me! I don’t want people saying a woman killed me.” So the young man ran him through, and he died.

55 When the Israelites saw that Abimelech was dead, they all returned home.

56 In this way, God punished Abimelech for murdering his seventy brothers.

57 He also judged the people of Shechem for helping him. This fulfilled Jotham’s curse.

Key Lessons from Judges 9

1. Power Gained by Sin Will Be Lost by Judgment

– Abimelech rose through treachery and bloodshed and fell by divine judgment (v. 1–6, 56–57).

2. God Holds Both Leaders and Followers Accountable
 - Shechem wasn’t innocent. They helped Abimelech and suffered with him (v. 4, 24, 57).
3. Truth Cries Out Even in Danger
 - Jotham boldly confronted injustice with wisdom and courage (v. 7–21).
4. God Controls History Behind the Scenes
 - The “evil spirit” between Abimelech and Shechem was part of God’s judgment (v. 23–24; Romans 1:28).
5. Mocking God's Ways Leads to Self-Destruction
 - Gaal challenged God’s anointed out of pride and was humiliated (v. 26–41).
6. Violence Often Turns Back on the Violent
 - Abimelech, who burned others in a tower, died trying to burn a tower himself (v. 49–53; Matthew 26:52).
7. God’s Justice Is Sure, Even If It’s Slow
 - It took time, but God made sure the blood of Gideon’s sons was avenged (v. 56–57).

Judges Chapter 10

Crawford Standard Bible

Tola, Jair, and Israel’s Rebellion

Tola and Jair Judge Israel (10:1–5)

1 After Abimelech, a man named Tola—son of Puah and grandson of Dodo from the tribe of Issachar—rose up to rescue Israel. He lived in Shamir in the hill country of Ephraim.

2 He judged Israel for twenty-three years. Then he died and was buried in Shamir.

3 After him came Jair, a Gileadite, who led Israel for twenty-two years.

4 He had thirty sons who rode thirty donkeys and ruled thirty towns in Gilead. These towns are still known as Havoth-jair (“the Villages of Jair”) to this day.

5 When Jair died, he was buried in Camon.

Israel Turns Away Again (10:6–9)

6 Then the people of Israel once again did evil in the Lord’s sight. They served the Baals and Ashtoreths, and also the gods of Syria, Sidon, Moab, Ammon, and the Philistines. They abandoned the Lord and no longer worshiped Him.

7 So the Lord became furious with Israel and handed them over to the Philistines and the Ammonites.

8 That year they crushed and oppressed the Israelites—especially those living on the east side of the Jordan in Gilead, the land of the Amorites. This continued for eighteen years.

9 The Ammonites even crossed the Jordan to attack Judah, Benjamin, and Ephraim, causing great distress in Israel.

Israel Cries Out for Help (10:10–16)

10 Then the Israelites cried out to the Lord, “We have sinned against You! We’ve abandoned our God and worshiped the Baals!”

11 But the Lord replied, “Didn’t I rescue you from the Egyptians, the Amorites, the Ammonites, and the Philistines?”

12 Didn’t I also save you from the Sidonians, Amalekites, and Maonites when you cried out to Me?

13 Yet you’ve rejected Me again and worshiped other gods. So I won’t rescue you anymore.

14 Go cry out to the gods you’ve chosen! Let them save you in your time of trouble.”

15 But the Israelites begged the Lord, “We have sinned. Do whatever You think is right, but please rescue us today.”

16 Then they got rid of their foreign gods and began to serve the Lord again. And the Lord was deeply moved by Israel’s suffering.

A Leader Needed for Battle (10:17–18)

17 Meanwhile, the Ammonite army gathered and camped in Gilead. The Israelites assembled and set up camp in Mizpah.

18 The leaders of Gilead said to each other, “Whoever leads the charge against the Ammonites will become the ruler of all Gilead.”

Key Lessons from Judges 10

1. God Raises Quiet but Faithful Leaders

– Tola and Jair may not be famous like Gideon, but they brought peace to Israel for 45 years. God honors humble service (v. 1–5).

2. Idolatry Repeated Brings Severe Judgment

– Israel kept returning to foreign gods—and this time, God refused to rescue them right away (v. 6–13; Romans 6:1).

3. God Desires True Repentance, Not Just Regret

– Israel’s cries were not enough. They had to remove their idols and serve God again before He acted (v. 15–16; James 2:17).

4. God Feels Compassion for His People

– Even in anger, God’s heart broke when He saw His people suffering (v. 16; Hosea 11:8).

5. God’s Help Often Comes After Our Surrender

– God didn’t move until the idols were torn down and sincere worship was restored (v. 16; 2 Chronicles 7:14).

6. Crisis Creates a Need for Courageous Leadership

– In the face of enemy threats, Israel needed someone willing to step up. God often raises leaders in hard times (v. 17–18; Ezekiel 22:30).

Judges Chapter 11

Crawford Standard Bible

Jephthah’s Rise, Victory, and Tragic Vow

Jephthah Is Rejected and Then Called Back (11:1–11)

1 Jephthah the Gileadite was a mighty warrior, but he was the son of a prostitute. Gilead was his father.
2 Gilead’s legitimate wife had other sons, and when they grew up, they drove Jephthah away. They said, “You will not inherit anything in our father’s household because you are the son of another woman.”

3 So Jephthah fled and lived in the land of Tob. Some reckless and adventurous men gathered around him, and he became their leader.

4 After a while, the Ammonites declared war against Israel.

5 When the fighting began, the elders of Gilead went to fetch Jephthah from Tob.

6 They said to him, “Come and be our commander so we can fight the Ammonites.”

7 But Jephthah replied, “Didn’t you hate me and kick me out of my father’s house? Why are you coming to me now when you’re in trouble?”

8 They answered, “That’s exactly why we’ve come back to you. Please lead us in battle against the Ammonites. If you do, you’ll be the head of all the people of Gilead.”

9 Jephthah said, “If I come back with you and win the battle with the Lord’s help, will I really be your leader?”

10 The elders replied, “The Lord is our witness—we will do exactly as you say.”

11 So Jephthah returned with them, and they made him their ruler and military commander. He repeated all his words before the Lord at Mizpah.

Jephthah Negotiates with Ammon (11:12–28)

12 Jephthah sent messengers to the king of Ammon asking, “What’s your problem with me? Why are you attacking my land?”

13 The king replied, “When Israel came up from Egypt, they stole my land—from the Arnon River to the Jabbok and the Jordan. Give it back peacefully.”

14 Jephthah sent another message,

15 saying, “Israel did not take the land of Moab or Ammon.

16 When we left Egypt, we traveled through the desert to the Red Sea and then to Kadesh.

17 Israel asked the kings of Edom and Moab for permission to pass through, but both refused. So we stayed in Kadesh.

18 Then we traveled around both Edom and Moab and camped on the far side of the Arnon River, without crossing into Moabite land.

19 Israel sent messengers to Sihon, king of the Amorites, asking for safe passage.

20 But Sihon didn’t trust us and attacked instead.

21 The Lord gave us victory over Sihon and his people, and Israel took possession of that land.

22 We now own the whole territory—from the Arnon to the Jabbok and the Jordan.

23 Since the Lord gave this land to us by defeating the Amorites, why should you take it?

24 Don’t you take whatever land your god Chemosh gives you? So we will possess what the Lord gives us.

25 Are you better than Balak son of Zippor, king of Moab? He never fought or argued with Israel.

26 Israel has lived in these cities for 300 years. Why didn’t you try to reclaim them before now?

27 I haven’t wronged you, but you are doing wrong by attacking me. Let the Lord, the Judge, decide between Israel and Ammon today.”

28 But the king of Ammon ignored Jephthah’s message.

Jephthah’s Vow and Victory (11:29–33)

29 Then the Spirit of the Lord came upon Jephthah. He traveled across Gilead and Manasseh, through Mizpah, and advanced toward the Ammonites.

30 Jephthah made a vow to the Lord: “If You give me victory over the Ammonites,

31 then whatever comes out of my house to greet me when I return in peace will belong to You, and I will offer it as a burnt offering.”

32 So Jephthah attacked the Ammonites, and the Lord gave him victory.

33 He crushed them across twenty cities, from Aroer to Minnith and as far as Abel-keramim. The defeat was massive. The Ammonites were completely subdued.

The Tragedy of Jephthah’s Vow (11:34–40)

34 When Jephthah returned home to Mizpah, his daughter came out to greet him with tambourines and dancing. She was his only child; he had no other sons or daughters.

35 When he saw her, he tore his clothes in grief and cried, “Oh no, my daughter! You’ve broken my heart! I made a vow to the Lord, and I can't take it back."

36 She said, "Father, if you made a vow to the Lord, do to me what you promised, since He gave you victory over the Ammonites.

37 But do this one thing for me: let me go into the hills for two months to mourn that I'll never marry."

38 Jephthah agreed. She and her friends went into the mountains and wept for two months.

39 When she returned, Jephthah fulfilled his vow. She had never married. From then on,

40 the daughters of Israel kept a tradition to honor Jephthah's daughter four days every year.

Key Lessons from Judges 11

1. God Can Use the Rejected

– Jephthah was cast out by his family, but God raised him up to deliver Israel (v. 1–3; 1 Corinthians 1:28).

2. Don't Underestimate God's Providence

– Even when others forget God's faithfulness, He remembers His promises (v. 12–28).

3. Careless Words Can Have Lasting Consequences

– Jephthah's vow was made hastily, and it cost him dearly (v. 30–31; Ecclesiastes 5:2).

4. The Spirit Empowers, but Obedience Must Follow

– Jephthah had God's Spirit, but still made an unwise vow (v. 29–31).

5. True Faith Honors God Above All Else

– Jephthah's daughter showed remarkable faith, willingly submitting to her father's vow (v. 36–40; Romans 12:1).

6. Traditions Should Point to Surrender and Sacrifice

– Israel's yearly remembrance of Jephthah's daughter wasn't about grief alone—it was a call to loyalty and devotion to God (v. 40).

Judges Chapter 12 – Crawford Standard Bible

Conflict Between Ephraim and Jephthah (Verses 1–3)

1 The men of Ephraim gathered their army, crossed over to the northern region, and said to Jephthah, "Why did you go to fight the Ammonites without inviting us? We're going to burn your house down with you in it!"

2 Jephthah said to them, "My people and I were in a serious battle with the Ammonites. I asked you for help, but you didn't come rescue us.

3 When I realized you weren't coming, I risked my life and went to fight them myself. The Lord gave me the victory. So why are you coming to fight me now?"

Civil War and the Shibboleth Test (Verses 4–6)

4 Jephthah gathered the men of Gilead and went to war against the tribe of Ephraim. The men of Gilead defeated the Ephraimites, because Ephraim had mocked them by saying, “You Gileadites are just fugitives from Ephraim and Manasseh.”

5 After the battle, the Gileadites took control of the crossings at the Jordan River. Whenever an Ephraimite tried to cross, the Gileadites would ask, “Are you from Ephraim?” If he said, “No,”

6 they would tell him, “Say the word ‘Shibboleth.’” If he couldn’t pronounce it right and said “Sibboleth,” they knew he was from Ephraim and killed him at the river. That day, forty-two thousand Ephraimites were killed.

Jephthah’s Death (Verse 7)

7 Jephthah judged Israel for six years. Then he died and was buried in one of the towns of Gilead.

Ibzan of Bethlehem (Verses 8–10)

8 After Jephthah, Ibzan from Bethlehem became judge over Israel.

9 He had thirty sons and thirty daughters. He sent his daughters to marry men outside the family and brought in thirty women from outside to marry his sons. He judged Israel for seven years.

10 Then Ibzan died and was buried in Bethlehem.

Elon the Zebulunite (Verses 11–12)

11 After him, Elon from the tribe of Zebulun judged Israel. He served for ten years.

12 When Elon died, he was buried in Aijalon in the land of Zebulun.

Abdon the Son of Hillel (Verses 13–15)

13 After Elon, Abdon son of Hillel from Pirathon became judge of Israel.

14 He had forty sons and thirty grandsons. They all rode seventy young donkeys, which was a symbol of wealth and status. He judged Israel for eight years.

15 Then Abdon died and was buried in Pirathon, in the land of Ephraim, in the hill country once held by the Amalekites.

Key Lessons from Judges Chapter 12

1. Pride causes destruction. The men of Ephraim were more interested in receiving credit than in God’s victory. Their pride led to needless civil war and death.
2. Sometimes, obedience means going alone. Jephthah stepped forward in faith when no one else would. God honored his courage and gave him victory.

3. Fighting among God’s people is more dangerous than fighting enemies. Civil war among the tribes caused more loss than many battles with pagan nations.
4. What we say matters. The pronunciation of “Shibboleth” revealed a man’s identity. In the same way, our words today expose our heart, character, and loyalty.
5. True leadership is measured by spiritual legacy, not personal success. The minor judges after Jephthah had large families and local influence, but they left no record of spiritual impact. God values faithfulness over fame.

Judges Chapter 13 – Crawford Standard Bible

Israel’s Rebellion and Philistine Oppression (Verse 1)

1 Once again, the people of Israel did what was evil in the Lord’s eyes. So the Lord handed them over to the Philistines, and they were ruled by them for forty years.

The Birth Announcement to Manoah’s Wife (Verses 2–7)

2 There was a man named Manoah from the town of Zorah, from the tribe of Dan. His wife was unable to have children.

3 One day, the angel of the Lord appeared to her and said, “Even though you haven’t been able to have children, you are going to become pregnant and give birth to a son.

4 So be careful—don’t drink wine or any strong alcoholic drink, and don’t eat anything unclean.

5 You’re going to have a son, and you must never cut his hair, because he will be a Nazirite—dedicated to God—from birth. He will begin to rescue Israel from the power of the Philistines.”

6 The woman went and told her husband, “A man of God came to me! He looked like an angel of God—awesome and terrifying. I didn’t ask where he came from, and he didn’t tell me his name.

7 But he said, ‘You’re going to have a son. Don’t drink wine or any strong drink, and don’t eat anything unclean. The child will be a Nazirite to God from the day he is born until the day he dies.’”

Manoah’s Prayer and the Angel’s Return (Verses 8–14)

8 Then Manoah prayed to the Lord, saying, “Lord, please send the man of God back to us again so he can teach us how to raise the child You’re giving us.”

9 God heard Manoah’s prayer, and the angel of God appeared again to his wife as she was sitting in a field. But her husband Manoah wasn’t with her.

10 She quickly ran to find him and said, “The man who came to me the other day has appeared to me again!”

11 Manoah got up and followed his wife. When he reached the man, he asked, “Are you the one who spoke to my wife?”

The man said, “Yes, I am.”

12 Then Manoah said, “Now that your words are coming true, what should we do to raise the boy properly?”

13 The angel of the Lord said, “Your wife must do everything I told her.

14 She must not eat anything that comes from the grapevine, drink wine or strong drink, or eat anything unclean. She must obey everything I’ve commanded her.”

The Offering and the Angel’s Ascension (Verses 15–21)

15 Manoah said to the angel of the Lord, “Please stay while we prepare a young goat for you to eat.”

16 The angel of the Lord replied, “Even if you prepare a meal, I won’t eat it. But if you want to offer a burnt offering, offer it to the Lord.” (Manoah still didn’t realize he was talking to an angel of the Lord.)

17 Then Manoah asked, “What’s your name? So when your words come true, we can honor you.”

18 The angel of the Lord said, “Why do you ask my name? It is too wonderful to understand.”

19 Then Manoah took the young goat and a grain offering and sacrificed them on a rock to the Lord. The angel did something amazing while Manoah and his wife watched.

20 As the flames rose from the altar toward heaven, the angel of the Lord went up in the flame. Seeing this, Manoah and his wife fell face down on the ground.

21 The angel of the Lord didn’t appear to them again. That’s when Manoah realized it had been an angel of the Lord.

Manoah’s Fear and His Wife’s Wisdom (Verses 22–23)

22 Manoah said to his wife, “We’re going to die! We’ve seen God!”

23 But his wife replied, “If the Lord wanted to kill us, He wouldn’t have accepted our offering or shown us all these things. He wouldn’t have told us what’s going to happen.”

The Birth of Samson (Verses 24–25)

24 The woman gave birth to a son and named him Samson. The boy grew, and the Lord blessed him.

25 And the Spirit of the Lord began to stir him while he lived in the camp of Dan, between Zorah and Eshtaol.

Key Lessons from Judges Chapter 13

1. God responds to humble cries for help. Though Israel had sinned again, God was already working to raise up a deliverer before they even asked for one.
2. God uses unlikely people. Manoah’s wife was barren, yet God chose her to give birth to one of Israel’s most famous judges. He often works through the unexpected.

3. Holiness matters before the promise arrives. God commanded Manoah's wife to live in purity even before Samson was born. Preparation comes before promotion.
4. The calling on a child begins before birth. Samson's identity as a Nazirite was assigned in the womb. Parents are entrusted to protect and guide that calling.
5. God reveals Himself in awe-inspiring ways. The angel's ascension in fire showed God's power, but it also humbled Manoah and his wife in worship.
6. Don't panic—trust His promises. Manoah feared death after seeing God, but his wife reminded him: If God wanted to judge us, He wouldn't have spoken blessing.
7. God's Spirit prepares His servants early. Before Samson ever picked up a weapon, the Spirit of the Lord was already working in his heart and life.

Judges Chapter 14 – Crawford Standard Bible

Samson Chooses a Philistine Wife (Verses 1–4)

1 Samson went down to the town of Timnah and saw a young Philistine woman there.

2 When he returned home, he told his parents, "I saw a Philistine woman in Timnah. I want you to get her for me as my wife."

3 But his father and mother said, "Isn't there a single woman among your own relatives or among our people that you could marry? Why do you want to marry a Philistine—one of the uncircumcised enemies of Israel?"

But Samson said to his father, "Get her for me. She's the one I want."

4 What his parents didn't know was that this was part of the Lord's plan. God was setting up a situation that would create conflict with the Philistines, who were ruling over Israel at that time.

Samson Kills a Lion (Verses 5–7)

5 Samson went down to Timnah with his father and mother. When they came to the vineyards near the town, a young lion came roaring toward him.

6 Then the Spirit of the Lord came powerfully upon Samson. With nothing in his hands, he tore the lion apart as easily as if it were a young goat. But he didn't tell his parents what had happened.

7 Then he went and spoke with the woman, and he liked her very much.

Honey from the Lion's Body (Verses 8–9)

8 Some time later, when Samson returned to marry the woman, he turned off the road to look at the lion's body. He saw that a swarm of bees had made honey inside the lion's carcass.

9 He scooped out some of the honey with his hands and ate it as he walked along. He also gave some to his father and mother, and they ate it—but he didn't tell them he had taken the honey from the body of the lion.

Samson's Wedding and the Riddle (Verses 10–14)

10 Samson's father went down to finalize the marriage. Samson threw a feast there, which was the custom for young men.

11 When the Philistines saw him, they chose thirty young men to accompany him during the celebration.

12 Samson said to them, "Let me give you a riddle. If you can solve it within the seven days of the feast, I'll give you thirty linen robes and thirty changes of clothes.

13 But if you can't figure it out, you have to give me thirty robes and thirty changes of clothes." They said, "Tell us the riddle. Let's hear it."

14 Samson said,

"Out of the eater came something to eat;
out of the strong came something sweet."

For three days they couldn't solve the riddle.

Samson's Wife Betrays Him (Verses 15–17)

15 On the seventh day, the men said to Samson's wife, "Trick your husband into telling us the riddle—or we'll burn you and your father's house down! Did you invite us here to rob us?"

16 So Samson's wife cried and said to him, "You don't love me. You hate me! You gave my people a riddle and won't even tell me the answer!"

He replied, "I haven't even told my parents. Why would I tell you?"

17 She kept crying for the rest of the feast. Finally, on the seventh day, Samson gave in and told her the answer because she kept pressuring him. Then she went and told the riddle to her people.

The Riddle Is Answered and Revenge Begins (Verses 18–20)

18 Before sunset on the seventh day, the men of the town came to Samson and said,

"What is sweeter than honey?
What is stronger than a lion?"

Samson replied, "If you hadn't plowed with my heifer, you wouldn't have solved my riddle."

19 Then the Spirit of the Lord came powerfully upon him. He went to the town of Ashkelon, killed thirty men, stripped them of their clothes, and gave the garments to those who had solved the riddle. Burning with anger, he returned to his father's house.

20 Meanwhile, his wife was given to one of the Philistine men who had served as Samson's best man.

Key Lessons from Judges Chapter 14

1. God can use flawed decisions to accomplish His purposes. Samson's choice to marry a Philistine woman was questionable, yet God used it to challenge Israel's oppressors.

2. Be careful what you demand. Samson’s obsession with what pleased him caused conflict not only with his enemies but with his own family and God’s calling.
3. The Spirit empowers beyond natural strength. Samson’s strength didn’t come from himself—it came when the Spirit of the Lord came upon him. God equips whom He calls.
4. Sin spreads through secrecy. Samson kept many secrets from his parents and from his wife, and those hidden things led to betrayal and broken trust.
5. Guard your heart from manipulation. Samson gave in to emotional pressure rather than standing firm in wisdom. Emotional manipulation can lead to regret.
6. Revenge leads to destruction. Instead of responding with grace, Samson answered betrayal with violence. Vengeance is never the answer—it only escalates the pain.
7. God’s plan will move forward—even through human failure. Though Samson was impulsive and prideful, God still began to deliver Israel through him, showing that His mercy and sovereignty are greater than our flaws.

Judges Chapter 15 – Crawford Standard Bible

Samson’s Wife Is Given Away (Verses 1–3)

1 Some time later, during the wheat harvest, Samson went to visit his wife, bringing a young goat as a gift. He said, “I’m going to see my wife in her room.” But her father wouldn’t let him in.

2 Her father said, “I was sure you hated her, so I gave her to your best man. But look—her younger sister is even more beautiful. Take her instead.”

3 Samson said, “This time I have a right to get even with the Philistines. No one can blame me for what I’m about to do.”

Samson’s Revenge with Foxes (Verses 4–5)

4 Then Samson caught three hundred foxes. He tied them together in pairs by their tails and attached a burning torch between each pair.

5 After lighting the torches, he let the foxes loose in the Philistines’ grain fields. The fire burned up their standing grain, the harvested bundles, and even the vineyards and olive groves.

The Philistines Retaliate and Samson Responds (Verses 6–8)

6 The Philistines asked, “Who did this?”

They were told, “Samson, the son-in-law of the man from Timnah—because his wife was given to his best man.”

So the Philistines went and burned both the woman and her father to death.

7 Samson said, “Since you did that, I won’t stop until I’ve gotten revenge on you.”

8 So he attacked them viciously, striking them down in great numbers. Then he went and hid in a cave in the rock of Etam.

The Philistines Invade Judah (Verses 9–13)

9 The Philistines came up and camped in Judah, spreading out near a place called Lehi.

10 The men of Judah asked them, “Why are you attacking us?”
They replied, “We’ve come to capture Samson and pay him back for what he did to us.”

11 So three thousand men of Judah went to the cave at the rock of Etam and said to Samson, “Don’t you know the Philistines rule over us? What have you done to us?”
Samson said, “I only did to them what they did to me.”

12 They said, “We’ve come to tie you up and hand you over to them.”
Samson replied, “Just promise me you won’t kill me yourselves.”

13 They agreed, “We won’t kill you—just tie you up and hand you over.” So they tied him with two new ropes and led him up from the rock.

Samson Defeats a Thousand Men (Verses 14–17)

14 As Samson approached Lehi, the Philistines came running toward him, shouting. But the Spirit of the Lord came powerfully upon him. The ropes on his arms snapped like burned threads, and they fell off his hands.

15 Samson grabbed the fresh jawbone of a donkey, reached out, and killed a thousand men with it.

16 Then Samson said,
“With a donkey’s jawbone,
I’ve made piles on piles.
With a donkey’s jawbone,
I’ve killed a thousand men.”

17 When he finished speaking, he threw the jawbone away and named that place Ramath-lehi (meaning “Jawbone Hill”).

God Provides Water for Samson (Verses 18–20)

18 Samson was very thirsty, and he cried out to the Lord: “You’ve given this great victory to Your servant—am I now going to die of thirst and fall into the hands of these uncircumcised enemies?”

19 Then God opened a spring of water in a hollow place in Lehi, and water came out. Samson drank, his strength returned, and he revived. So the spring was called En-hakkore (meaning “The Caller’s Spring”), and it’s still there in Lehi to this day.

20 Samson led Israel as judge for twenty years during the time of Philistine rule.

Key Lessons from Judges Chapter 15

1. Revenge always escalates conflict. What began as a broken engagement turned into a national crisis. Personal revenge can ignite massive destruction.
2. When people reject God’s deliverer, they suffer under the enemy. The men of Judah feared the Philistines more than they respected God’s anointed leader. Compromise with evil never brings peace.
3. God empowers His people for His purposes. The Spirit of the Lord gave Samson supernatural strength—not for his own glory, but to begin delivering Israel.
4. God can use the ordinary for the extraordinary. Samson didn’t have a sword—just a donkey’s jawbone. God often works through the weak and unexpected to show His power.
5. Even the strong need God. After Samson’s great victory, he nearly died of thirst. Strength alone isn’t enough—God alone sustains.
6. God listens when we cry out. When Samson called out to the Lord in desperation, God answered with miraculous provision. The same is true for us.
7. Your calling matters more than your comfort. Samson had flaws, but he was still chosen to lead. He judged Israel for twenty years—even through difficulty and conflict.

Judges Chapter 16 – Crawford Standard Bible

Samson in Gaza (Verses 1–3)

1 Samson went to Gaza, and while there, he saw a prostitute and spent the night with her.

2 The people of Gaza were told, “Samson is here!” So they surrounded the place and waited quietly at the city gate all night. They planned to kill him at dawn.

3 But Samson stayed in bed only until midnight. Then he got up, tore off the city gate—posts, doors, and all—and carried them on his shoulders to the top of the hill near Hebron.

Samson and Delilah (Verses 4–9)

4 Some time later, Samson fell in love with a woman named Delilah, who lived in the valley of Sorek.

5 The Philistine leaders came to her and said, “Find out what makes him so strong and how we can overpower him. We want to tie him up and make him suffer. Each of us will give you eleven hundred silver coins.”

6 So Delilah said to Samson, “Please tell me the secret of your great strength. How can someone tie you up and make you helpless?”

7 Samson answered, “If I’m tied with seven fresh bowstrings that haven’t dried out, I’ll become weak like any other man.”

8 So the Philistine leaders brought her seven fresh bowstrings, and she tied him up with them.

9 She had men hiding in another room, waiting to capture him. Then she shouted, “Samson! The Philistines are here!” But he snapped the bowstrings as easily as a string snaps when it’s burned in fire. So the secret of his strength remained hidden.

Delilah Tries Again and Again (Verses 10–17)

10 Delilah said, “You lied to me and made me look foolish! Now tell me how you can really be tied up.”

11 Samson said, “If they tie me up with new ropes that have never been used, I’ll become weak like anyone else.”

12 So Delilah tied him with new ropes and shouted, “Samson! The Philistines are here!” But again, he snapped the ropes off his arms like threads.

13 Then Delilah said, “You’ve made fun of me again! Tell me how you can be tied.”

Samson replied, “If you weave the seven braids of my hair into the fabric on a loom and secure it with a pin, I’ll be weak.”

14 While he was sleeping, Delilah wove his hair into the loom and fastened it with a pin. Then she shouted, “Samson! The Philistines are here!” He woke up and pulled out the pin and the loom, still strong as ever.

15 Delilah said to him, “How can you say you love me when you won’t even trust me? You’ve made fun of me three times now and still haven’t told me the secret of your strength.”

16 Day after day she nagged him until he was sick of it—he felt like he couldn’t take it anymore.

17 So he told her the truth: “I’ve never had my hair cut. I’ve been dedicated to God as a Nazirite since birth. If my hair is shaved, my strength will leave me, and I’ll be as weak as anyone else.”

Samson Is Betrayed (Verses 18–21)

18 When Delilah saw that he had told her everything, she sent word to the Philistine leaders: “Come one more time—he’s told me everything!” So they came, bringing the money with them.

19 Delilah lulled Samson to sleep with his head in her lap. Then she called in a man to shave off the seven locks of his hair. His strength left him, and she began to torment him.

20 She shouted, “Samson! The Philistines are here!” He woke up and said, “I’ll shake myself free like before!” But he didn’t realize the Lord had left him.

21 The Philistines captured him, gouged out his eyes, and took him to Gaza. They put him in chains and made him grind grain in the prison.

Samson’s Hair Grows Back (Verse 22)

22 But as he sat in prison, Samson’s hair began to grow back.

Samson's Final Act (Verses 23–30)

23 The Philistine leaders held a great celebration to honor their god Dagon. They said, “Our god has given us victory over Samson!”

24 When the people saw Samson, they praised their god: “Our god has handed over our enemy—the one who destroyed our land and killed so many of us!”

25 During the party, when they were drunk and in high spirits, they shouted, “Bring out Samson so he can entertain us!” So they brought Samson out of prison, and he was made to perform for them. They put him between two pillars.

26 Samson said to the servant who was leading him by the hand, “Let me feel the pillars that support the building, so I can lean on them.”

27 The building was packed with men and women. All five Philistine rulers were there, and about three thousand people were on the roof watching Samson perform.

28 Then Samson prayed, “Lord God, remember me one more time. Please strengthen me again so I can get revenge on the Philistines for taking my eyes.”

29 He put his hands on the two central pillars that held up the building. He pushed against them—one with his right hand and the other with his left.

30 Then Samson said, “Let me die with the Philistines!” He pushed with all his might, and the building collapsed on the rulers and all the people. In his death, Samson killed more Philistines than he had during his life.

Samson's Burial (Verse 31)

31 Later, his brothers and his entire family came down to get his body. They took him back home and buried him between Zorah and Eshtaol, in the tomb of his father Manoah. Samson had led Israel as judge for twenty years.

Key Lessons from Judges Chapter 16

1. Unrepentant compromise leads to downfall. Samson ignored his calling and repeatedly entangled himself with sin. Eventually, it cost him everything—including his strength, freedom, and sight.
2. God's strength doesn't override personal responsibility. Though the Spirit came upon Samson many times, his careless choices left him vulnerable. Strength without obedience leads to ruin.
3. Love without discernment is dangerous. Samson let his heart guide him instead of seeking God's will. Delilah didn't love him—she sold him out. Be wise in your relationships.

4. God may withdraw His power when we rebel. Samson didn't even realize the Lord had left him. Ongoing disobedience can dull our spiritual awareness and intimacy with God.
5. God's mercy gives second chances. Even though Samson failed, God heard his final prayer and restored his strength. It's never too late to turn back to God.
6. God's purpose will prevail—even through broken people. Samson's greatest victory came after his greatest failure. God used even his death to strike Israel's enemies.
7. Leave a legacy of faith, not just strength. Samson was strong, but his real power came when he finally surrendered to God. Our greatest impact comes through humility, not self-reliance.

Judges Chapter 17 – Crawford Standard Bible

Micah Steals, Confesses, and Builds a Shrine (Verses 1–5)

1 There was a man named Micah who lived in the hill country of Ephraim.

2 He said to his mother, “The eleven hundred silver coins that were stolen from you—the ones you cursed and talked about—I have them. I took it.”

His mother replied, “May the Lord bless you, my son!”

3 When he returned the eleven hundred silver coins to his mother, she said, “I had dedicated this silver to the Lord for my son, to make a carved idol and a cast image. Now I give it back to you.”

4 Micah returned the silver to his mother, and she took two hundred coins and gave them to a silversmith. He used the silver to make a carved idol and a metal image, which were placed in Micah's house.

5 Micah set up a shrine in his home. He made a sacred ephod and household gods (called teraphim), and he appointed one of his sons to serve as his personal priest.

Spiritual Confusion in Israel (Verse 6)

6 In those days, Israel had no king. Everyone did whatever seemed right in their own eyes.

A Levite Joins Micah's House (Verses 7–13)

7 There was a young Levite from Bethlehem in Judah, who had been living there, though he was from the tribe of Levi.

8 He left Bethlehem, looking for another place to live. As he traveled, he came to Micah's house in the hill country of Ephraim.

9 Micah asked him, “Where are you from?”

The man replied, “I'm a Levite from Bethlehem in Judah. I'm traveling, looking for a place to stay.”

10 Micah said, “Stay here and live with me. Be a spiritual father and priest to me. I'll pay you ten silver coins a year, give you clothes and food.” So the Levite agreed.

11 The young Levite moved in, and Micah treated him like one of his own sons.

12 Micah officially appointed the Levite to serve as his priest, and the young man stayed in his house.

13 Then Micah said, “Now I know the Lord will bless me—because I have a Levite as my priest.”

Key Lessons from Judges Chapter 17

1. Spiritual confusion thrives when there is no godly leadership. Verse 6 reveals the core issue of the time: “Everyone did what was right in their own eyes.” Without godly authority, people create their own truth—and chaos follows.
2. You can’t mix idolatry with devotion to the Lord. Micah and his mother used silver “dedicated to the Lord” to make idols—thinking it would somehow please God. But God never accepts worship that violates His Word.
3. Sincerity doesn’t equal truth. Micah sincerely believed his homemade religion would bring God’s favor. But being sincere in error still leads to deception.
4. Convenient religion is counterfeit religion. Micah wanted a priest, not because God commanded it, but because it made him feel spiritual. True faith is shaped by God’s Word, not by personal comfort.
5. Compromising leaders weaken the truth. The Levite accepted a job for money and status instead of remaining faithful to his calling. Spiritual leaders must never sell out their convictions for personal gain.
6. False security comes from religious appearance. Micah felt secure because he had a Levite under his roof. But having the right people in the wrong context doesn’t guarantee God’s blessing.
7. God is not impressed by personal shrines or private systems of belief. Micah’s DIY religion looked impressive, but it violated God’s law. The Lord desires obedience—not religious creativity.

Judges Chapter 18 – Crawford Standard Bible

Dan Seeks New Territory (Verses 1–2)

1 In those days, there was no king in Israel. The tribe of Dan was still searching for a place to live, because they hadn’t yet received the full inheritance of land that was supposed to be theirs.

2 So the people of Dan sent out five brave men from Zorah and Eshtaol to scout the land. As they traveled through the hill country of Ephraim, they stopped at the house of Micah and stayed there for the night.

Meeting the Levite Priest (Verses 3–6)

3 While they were near Micah's house, the five men recognized the voice of the young Levite. They went in and asked him, "What are you doing here? Who brought you here? What's your job in this place?"

4 The Levite replied, "Micah hired me. I serve as his personal priest."

5 Then they said to him, "Please ask God if our journey will be successful."

6 The priest answered, "Go in peace. The Lord is watching over your journey."

The Spies Find Laish (Verses 7–10)

7 The five men continued on and came to the town of Laish. They noticed the people were living peacefully, like the people of Sidon—carefree, secure, and without rulers. They had no alliances with anyone and lived far from Sidon.

8 The men returned to Zorah and Eshtaol, and their people asked, "What did you find?"

9 They answered, "Let's go attack them! The land is very good. Don't waste any time—God has given it to us. It's a spacious land, rich in everything we need."

Dan's Army Marches (Verses 11–13)

11 So six hundred armed men from the tribe of Dan set out from Zorah and Eshtaol.

12 They camped at a place in Judah called Mahaneh Dan, which means "Camp of Dan." That's where the name came from, and it's still called that today.

13 From there, they traveled to the hill country of Ephraim and came to Micah's house.

The Danites Steal Micah's Idols and Priest (Verses 14–21)

14 The five scouts said to their fellow soldiers, "Did you know Micah has a carved idol, an ephod, some household gods, and a metal image? Think about what we should do."

15 They stopped at Micah's house and greeted the young Levite.

16 The six hundred warriors stood guard at the entrance to the gate.

17 Meanwhile, the five spies went inside and stole the carved idol, the ephod, the household gods, and the metal image. The Levite priest was standing at the gate with the soldiers.

18 When the men came out with the religious items, the priest asked, "What are you doing?"

19 They replied, "Be quiet! Don't say a word. Come with us and be our priest. Isn't it better to be a priest for a whole tribe instead of just one man's household?"

20 The priest was glad. He took the idols and ephod and joined the Danites.

21 They left, with the children, livestock, and possessions traveling ahead of them.

Micah Confronts the Danites (Verses 22–26)

22 After they had gone some distance, men from Micah’s neighborhood gathered and chased after the Danites.

23 They shouted after them, and the Danites turned around and said, “What’s your problem? Why are you coming at us like this?”

24 Micah replied, “You stole my gods and my priest, and now you’re asking what’s wrong?”

25 But the Danites warned him, “You’d better keep quiet. Some of our men might get angry and kill you and your whole family.”

26 Micah realized they were too strong for him, so he gave up and went back home.

The Danites Conquer Laish and Set Up Idolatry (Verses 27–31)

27 The Danites took everything Micah had made and the priest he hired. Then they attacked the peaceful people of Laish. They killed them with the sword and burned the city to the ground.

28 No one came to rescue the people of Laish because the city was isolated. It was far from Sidon and had no alliances. Laish was in a valley near Beth Rehob.

29 The Danites rebuilt the city and lived there. They renamed it Dan, after their ancestor Dan, the son of Israel (Jacob). The city was originally called Laish.

30 They set up the carved idol for worship. Jonathan, the son of Gershom and grandson of Manasseh, along with his sons, served as priests for the tribe of Dan until the Israelites were taken into captivity.

31 The tribe of Dan continued to worship Micah’s carved image for as long as the house of God remained in Shiloh.

Key Lessons from Judges Chapter 18

1. Spiritual disorder follows national disorder. Again, we are reminded that there was no king in Israel (v.1). Without godly leadership, people made up their own rules and religion.
2. False religion spreads easily when left unchecked. Micah’s private idolatry became public idolatry for an entire tribe. What we tolerate in our homes can influence generations.
3. People often confuse superstition with faith. The Danites asked the Levite to “consult God,” but they were already operating outside His will—seeking land not appointed to them and stealing idols.
4. Leaders without conviction are dangerous. The Levite priest betrayed Micah for status and influence. He had no loyalty to truth or to God—only to self-advancement.
5. Worldly gain can never replace spiritual truth. The Danites thought stealing a priest and idols would bring them success, but they built their legacy on deception and false worship.

6. God is not found in man-made idols or systems. Even when people claim to worship in God's name, if it's rooted in disobedience, God is not in it. Dan's religion had form, but no truth.
7. Comfort without correction leads to destruction. Laish seemed like the perfect place—peaceful and self-sufficient—but without accountability or allies, they were vulnerable and fell quickly.

Judges Chapter 19 – Crawford Standard Bible

A Levite and His Concubine (Verses 1–4)

1 In those days, when Israel had no king, a certain Levite was living in the remote hill country of Ephraim. He took a concubine from Bethlehem in Judah.

2 But she was unfaithful to him and left him to return to her father's house in Bethlehem. She stayed there for four months.

3 Her husband went to Bethlehem to talk kindly to her and bring her back. He brought along his servant and two donkeys. When he arrived, she took him into her father's house, and her father welcomed him happily.

4 The Levite stayed with his father-in-law for three days. They ate, drank, and spent the nights there.

Delayed Departure (Verses 5–9)

5 On the fourth day, they got up early to leave. But the father-in-law said, "Have some breakfast first and then go."

6 So they sat down together and ate and drank. Then the father-in-law said, "Stay the night and enjoy yourself."

7 When the man stood to leave, his father-in-law urged him to stay, so he stayed another night.

8 On the fifth day, they got up early to go. But again, the father-in-law said, "Eat something before you leave." So they sat and ate until the afternoon.

9 As the Levite prepared to leave, his father-in-law said, "The day is almost over—stay the night and enjoy yourself. Tomorrow you can leave early and head home."

The Journey Begins (Verses 10–15)

10 But the man refused to stay another night. He left with his concubine and servant, heading toward Jebus (now called Jerusalem). He had two saddled donkeys with him.

11 As they neared Jebus, the day was almost over. The servant said, "Let's stop in this city of the Jebusites and spend the night."

12 But his master replied, "No, we won't stay in a foreign city where the people are not Israelites. We'll go to Gibeah."

13 He added, “Let’s try to make it to Gibeah or Ramah and spend the night there.”

14 So they continued on, and the sun went down as they reached Gibeah, a town belonging to the tribe of Benjamin.

15 They stopped in Gibeah and sat in the city square, but no one offered them a place to stay for the night.

Hospitality from an Old Man (Verses 16–21)

16 That evening, an old man came in from working in the fields. He was from the hill country of Ephraim but lived in Gibeah. The local people were Benjamites.

17 When he saw the traveler in the city square, he asked, “Where are you going? Where did you come from?”

18 The Levite answered, “We’ve come from Bethlehem in Judah and are traveling to the hill country of Ephraim. I went to Bethlehem, and now I’m returning home. But no one has offered us a place to stay.

19 We have straw and feed for our donkeys and food and wine for me, my concubine, and my servant. We don’t lack anything.”

20 The old man said, “Peace be with you. I’ll take care of everything you need, just don’t spend the night in the street.”

21 So he took them to his house, fed their donkeys, and they washed their feet and ate and drank.

A Night of Horror (Verses 22–26)

22 While they were enjoying their evening, some wicked men from the city surrounded the house. They banged on the door and shouted to the old man, “Bring out the man who’s staying with you so we can have sex with him.”

23 The old man stepped outside and said, “No, my friends, don’t do such an evil thing. This man is my guest—don’t disgrace him.

24 Here, take my virgin daughter and his concubine. I’ll bring them out to you. Do whatever you want with them. But don’t do such a vile thing to this man.”

25 But the men refused to listen. So the Levite grabbed his concubine and pushed her out to them. They raped and abused her all night. At dawn, they let her go.

26 As the sun rose, she collapsed at the door of the house where her husband was staying and lay there until morning.

A Shocking Response (Verses 27–30)

27 When her husband got up in the morning and opened the door, he found her lying there with her hands on the threshold.

28 He said, “Get up, let’s go.” But there was no response. He placed her on his donkey and went home.

29 When he got home, he took a knife, cut her body into twelve pieces, and sent one piece to each of the twelve tribes of Israel.

30 Everyone who saw it said, “Nothing like this has ever happened or been seen in Israel since we came out of Egypt. Think about it! Talk it over and tell us what we should do!”

Key Lessons from Judges Chapter 19

1. When there is no moral compass, evil runs wild. This horrific story begins with the reminder that “there was no king in Israel.” Without righteous leadership, people descend into depravity.
2. Refusing godly guidance leads to tragic decisions. The Levite made one poor decision after another—from taking a concubine to pushing her outside. Without God’s wisdom, our choices can destroy lives.
3. True hospitality means more than offering food—it means protecting the vulnerable. The old man was generous, but his offer to sacrifice his daughter reveals a warped understanding of righteousness.
4. Sin spreads when justice is neglected. The townspeople’s evil was met with silence and cover-up. When sin is tolerated, it escalates.
5. Grief should not lead to greater sin. The Levite’s shocking reaction—dismembering his concubine—was not led by the Spirit of God but by outrage and shame. Even in righteous anger, we must seek godly justice, not vengeance.
6. The nation needed revival. The closing verse calls for Israel to reflect, speak up, and act. Revival often begins with recognition of sin and a call to righteousness.

Judges Chapter 20 – Crawford Standard Bible

Israel Unites to Punish Benjamin

1. Then all the Israelites, from Dan to Beersheba and from the land of Gilead, came together before the Lord at Mizpah as one unified people.
2. The leaders of all the tribes of Israel presented themselves in the assembly of God’s people—400,000 soldiers armed with swords.
3. (The Benjamites heard that the Israelites had gathered at Mizpah.) The Israelites asked, “Tell us, how did this terrible thing happen?”
4. The Levite, the husband of the murdered woman, said, “I came to Gibeah in Benjamin with my concubine to spend the night.

5. But the men of Gibeah surrounded the house and tried to kill me. Instead, they abused my concubine until she died.
6. So I took her, cut her body into twelve pieces, and sent them throughout the land of Israel. What they did was a terrible outrage against Israel.
7. All of you are Israelites. What do you think we should do about this?”
8. All the people rose up together and said, “None of us will go home. No one will return to their house.
9. We will draw lots to decide who will go to battle against Gibeah.
10. We will choose ten men out of every hundred from each tribe to gather food for the army. The rest will punish Gibeah for this crime.”
11. So all the men of Israel assembled together, united as one against the city.

Benjamin Refuses to Surrender

12. Israel sent messengers throughout the tribe of Benjamin, saying, “What is this wickedness that has been done among you?”
13. Hand over those evil men in Gibeah so we can put them to death and purge this evil from Israel.” But the Benjamites refused to listen.
14. Instead, they gathered from all their towns to Gibeah to fight the rest of Israel.
15. That day, the Benjamites mobilized 26,000 armed men, plus 700 elite warriors from Gibeah.
16. Among these were 700 left-handed men who could sling a stone at a hair and not miss.
17. Israel, not counting Benjamin, had 400,000 warriors with swords.

Israel Seeks the Lord’s Direction

18. The Israelites went to Bethel and asked God, “Who should lead us into battle against Benjamin?” The Lord replied, “Judah shall go first.”
19. The Israelites rose early the next morning and camped near Gibeah.
20. They marched out to fight Benjamin and took up battle positions around the city.
21. But the Benjamites came out and killed 22,000 Israelite soldiers that day.
22. The Israelites encouraged each other and took their battle positions again in the same place as before.
23. They went back to Bethel and wept before the Lord until evening. They asked, “Should we go back and fight against our brothers, the Benjamites?” The Lord replied, “Yes, go and fight them.”
24. So the Israelites approached the Benjamites again the second day.
25. But Benjamin came out of Gibeah and killed another 18,000 Israelite soldiers.

Fasting and Seeking God's Help

26. Then all the Israelites went to Bethel and wept. They fasted until evening and offered burnt and peace offerings before the Lord.

27. They asked for the Lord's guidance. (In those days, the Ark of the Covenant was at Bethel,

28. and Phinehas son of Eleazar and grandson of Aaron was the priest.) They asked, "Should we fight the Benjamites again, or should we stop?"

The Lord replied, "Go! Tomorrow I will give you victory."

The Battle Plan and Victory

29. So Israel set up an ambush all around Gibeah.

30. On the third day, they took up battle positions against Gibeah as they had before.

31. The Benjamites came out again and began to kill Israelites as they had the other days—about 30 men along the road that leads to Bethel and Gibeah.

32. The Benjamites said, "We're winning like before!" But the Israelites said, "Let's retreat and draw them away from the city onto the roads."

33. All the Israelites left their positions and took up positions at Baal-tamar. The ambush troops rushed out from their hiding spots west of Gibeah.

34. Ten thousand elite Israelite soldiers attacked Gibeah. The battle was fierce, but the Benjamites didn't realize disaster was coming.

35. The Lord gave Israel the victory. That day, the Israelites killed 25,100 Benjamite soldiers.

36. The Benjamites saw they were defeated. The Israelites had retreated to draw the Benjamites into an ambush near the city.

37. The ambush troops quickly rushed into Gibeah and killed everyone in the city.

38. A large cloud of smoke rising from the city was the signal between the ambush troops and the main army.

39. When the Israelites began to retreat, Benjamin started killing about 30 more Israelites, thinking they were winning again.

40. But when the smoke started rising, the Benjamites looked back and saw the city going up in flames.

41. The Israelites turned around and attacked. The Benjamites were terrified because they knew disaster had struck.

42. They turned and fled toward the wilderness, but the Israelites chased and killed them.

43. They surrounded the Benjamites and defeated them east of Gibeah.

44. Eighteen thousand Benjamites died in that battle.

45. Some fled toward the wilderness and the rock of Rimmon. The Israelites killed 5,000 more along the road and another 2,000 near Gidom.
46. That day, 25,000 Benjamite soldiers died—every one a brave warrior.
47. But 600 men escaped to the rock of Rimmon and stayed there for four months.
48. Then the Israelites went back and destroyed all the towns of Benjamin—killing everyone and everything, and burning every city they came to.

Key Lessons from Judges Chapter 20

1. Justice must be united and righteous. Israel came together to confront wickedness and demanded action.
2. God’s timing isn’t always immediate. Even with clear direction, Israel suffered losses before victory came.
3. Persistent prayer and fasting matter. After initial defeat, Israel sought the Lord more deeply with worship and fasting.
4. Sin brings terrible consequences. The actions of one town nearly wiped out an entire tribe.
5. Strategic obedience brings victory. When Israel followed God’s plan with wisdom and unity, He gave them success.

Judges Chapter 21 – Crawford Standard Bible

Israel Finds Wives for Benjamin

1. The men of Israel had taken an oath at Mizpah: “Not one of us will give his daughter in marriage to a man from Benjamin.”
2. The people went to Bethel and stayed there before God until evening. They cried out loudly in sorrow.
3. They said, “Lord, God of Israel, why has this happened? Why should one tribe be missing from Israel today?”
4. The next morning, the people got up early and built an altar. They offered burnt offerings and peace offerings there.
5. Then they asked, “Is there anyone from the tribes of Israel who did not come to assemble before the Lord at Mizpah?”
They had made a serious oath that anyone who didn’t join the assembly at Mizpah would be put to death.

- 6. The Israelites felt sorry for their brother tribe, Benjamin. They said, “Today one tribe has been cut off from Israel.”
- 7. “What can we do to find wives for those who are left? We swore by the Lord not to give them our daughters.”
- 8. Then they asked, “Is there anyone from the tribes of Israel who did not come before the Lord at Mizpah?”
They discovered that no one had come from Jabesh-gilead.
- 9. When the people were counted, they found that no one from Jabesh-gilead was present in the assembly.
- 10. So the assembly sent 12,000 of their strongest warriors to Jabesh-gilead with these instructions: “Kill everyone in Jabesh-gilead, including the women and children.”
- 11. “This is what you must do,” they said. “Kill every man and every woman who has slept with a man.”
- 12. Among the people of Jabesh-gilead, they found 400 young women who had never slept with a man. They brought them to the camp at Shiloh in the land of Canaan.
- 13. Then the whole assembly sent a message of peace to the Benjamites who were hiding at the rock of Rimmon.
- 14. The Benjamites returned, and the Israelites gave them the 400 women from Jabesh-gilead. But it wasn’t enough for all of them.
- 15. The people of Israel felt sorry for Benjamin because the Lord had allowed a tribe to be torn from Israel.
- 16. The elders of the assembly asked, “What shall we do for the men who still need wives, since all the women of Benjamin are dead?”
- 17. They said, “We must ensure that the tribe of Benjamin survives and keeps its inheritance in Israel.”
- 18. “But we can’t give them our own daughters. We swore an oath saying, ‘Cursed is anyone who gives a wife to a Benjaminite.’”
- 19. Then they said, “Wait! There is an annual festival to the Lord in Shiloh. It’s located north of Bethel, east of the highway that runs from Bethel to Shechem, and south of Lebonah.”
- 20. So they told the Benjamites, “Go hide in the vineyards near Shiloh.”
- 21. “When you see the young women of Shiloh come out to dance, jump out of the vineyards and grab one of them to be your wife. Then take her home to the land of Benjamin.”
- 22. “If their fathers or brothers come to us to complain, we’ll say, ‘Please let them keep the women. You didn’t give them to the Benjamites directly, so you’re not guilty of breaking the oath.’”
- 23. So the Benjamites did what they were told. Each one caught a wife during the festival and took her home. Then they rebuilt their towns and lived in them again.

24. After that, the Israelites went home to their tribes and families, each returning to their own land.

25. In those days, Israel had no king. Everyone did whatever seemed right in their own eyes.

Key Lessons from Judges Chapter 21

1. Emotional decisions can have lasting consequences. The Israelites' vow not to give their daughters to Benjamin created a crisis that required a complicated and harsh solution.
2. God shows mercy even after judgment. Though Benjamin was nearly destroyed, God allowed the tribe to survive and rebuild.
3. When leadership is absent, people go astray. The final verse of the book highlights the chaos that happens when there is no godly leadership.
4. Human solutions are often flawed. The way Israel dealt with their oath and the Benjamite wives—though effective—was morally questionable, showing the need for divine guidance.
5. Unity and restoration are important, but should be rooted in righteousness. Restoring Benjamin was good, but the means should have aligned more closely with God's standards.

Introduction to the Book of Ruth

Crawford Bible Commentary

Title and Meaning

The book is titled Ruth after its main character—a Moabite woman whose extraordinary loyalty and faith place her in the direct lineage of King David and Jesus Christ. The Hebrew title is the same, Ruth (רוּת), which means "friend," "companion," or "refreshment." Ruth is one of only two books in the Bible named after a woman (the other being Esther).

Historical Context

Ruth is set during the time of the Judges (Ruth 1:1), a dark period in Israel's history marked by moral decline and national instability. Amid this chaos, the story zooms in on a single family and a faithful foreign woman. It takes place in Bethlehem and Moab, likely around 1100 B.C., before Israel had a king. The events show a quiet contrast to the violence and confusion described in the Book of Judges.

Purpose of the Book

The purpose of Ruth is to show God's providence in the everyday lives of ordinary people. It demonstrates how faith, loyalty, and kindness can have lasting consequences. The book also serves to highlight God's heart for the outsider, as Ruth—a Gentile—becomes part of His covenant family. Additionally, Ruth explains the family line of King David and introduces the role of the "kinsman-redeemer," pointing forward to Jesus Christ.

Major Themes

- Loyalty and Faithfulness: Ruth's commitment to Naomi is one of the most powerful expressions of devotion in Scripture.
- God's Providence: Even when circumstances seem hopeless, God is at work behind the scenes.
- Redemption: Boaz, as a "kinsman-redeemer," provides a picture of Christ's redeeming love and restoration.
- Inclusiveness in God's Plan: Ruth, a foreigner, is welcomed into God's covenant community and becomes part of the Messianic line.
- Hope in Hardship: Ruth begins with famine, death, and grief—but ends in restoration, marriage, and new life.

Key Figures

- Ruth – A Moabite widow whose faith, courage, and humility lead her into the family of God and the ancestry of Christ.
- Naomi – Ruth's Israelite mother-in-law, who returns to Bethlehem grieving but finds hope again through Ruth's loyalty and God's provision.
- Boaz – A wealthy, godly man who acts with integrity and compassion as the family's kinsman-redeemer.

Spiritual Significance

Ruth is a beautiful picture of the Gospel. Ruth, a foreigner and outsider, is brought near and redeemed—not because of her background, but because of her faith. Boaz's role as redeemer reflects the heart of Jesus, who redeems all who come to Him in humility. This story is a powerful reminder that God's grace is not bound by nationality, gender, or past mistakes. His plan of redemption includes the unlikely and overlooked.

Christ in the Book of Ruth

Boaz is a clear type of Christ—the kinsman-redeemer who rescues, restores, and brings Ruth into a covenant relationship. Ruth's inclusion in the genealogy of Jesus (Matthew 1:5) shows that the Messiah would come not just for Israel, but for all people. Her story foreshadows how Christ would redeem His bride, the Church, and bring the outsider into God's family.

Outline of the Book of Ruth

1. Ruth's Decision and Loyalty – Chapter 1
2. Ruth Meets Boaz – Chapter 2
3. Ruth's Request for Redemption – Chapter 3
4. Ruth's Redemption and Legacy – Chapter 4

Key Verse

Ruth 1:16 (CSB) – “But Ruth replied: Don’t plead with me to abandon you or to return and not follow you. For wherever you go, I will go, and wherever you live, I will live; your people will be my people, and your God will be my God.”

Key Lesson

God is always at work—even in our pain and obscurity. He sees the faithful. He honors the humble. And He redeems what is broken for His greater plan. Even in the darkest days, His providence leads to restoration and hope.

Ruth Chapter 1 – Crawford Standard Bible

Tragedy in Moab

1. During the time when the judges ruled, there was a famine in the land. A man from Bethlehem in Judah went to live for a while in the country of Moab with his wife and two sons.
2. His name was Elimelech, his wife's name was Naomi, and his sons were Mahlon and Chilion. They were Ephrathites from Bethlehem. They arrived in Moab and stayed there.
3. Then Elimelech died, and Naomi was left with her two sons.
4. The sons married Moabite women. One was named Orpah and the other Ruth. They lived in Moab about ten years.
5. Then Mahlon and Chilion also died. Naomi was left without her husband or her sons.

Naomi Returns to Judah

6. Naomi heard in Moab that the Lord had blessed His people in Judah by giving them food. So she got ready to leave with her daughters-in-law.
7. They left the place where they had been living and set out on the road to return to Judah.

Naomi Releases Her Daughters-in-Law

8. Naomi said to her daughters-in-law, “Go back to your mothers’ homes. May the Lord treat you as kindly as you have treated me and your dead husbands.”
9. “May the Lord give each of you a new husband and a peaceful home.” Then she kissed them, and they cried loudly.
10. They replied, “No, we will go back with you to your people.”
11. Naomi said, “Why would you come with me? Am I going to have more sons who could become your husbands?”

12. “Go back, my daughters. I’m too old to marry again. Even if I had hope and got married tonight and had sons—”
13. “Would you wait until they grew up? Would you remain unmarried for them? No, my daughters. My life is far more bitter than yours, because the Lord has turned against me.”
14. They cried again. Orpah kissed Naomi goodbye, but Ruth clung to her.

Ruth’s Loyalty to Naomi

15. Naomi said, “Look, your sister-in-law has gone back to her people and her gods. Go with her.”
16. But Ruth said, “Don’t urge me to leave you or turn back. Where you go, I’ll go. Where you stay, I’ll stay. Your people will be my people, and your God will be my God.”
17. “Where you die, I will die, and there I’ll be buried. May the Lord punish me severely if anything but death separates us.”
18. When Naomi saw that Ruth was determined, she stopped arguing.

Naomi and Ruth Arrive in Bethlehem

19. The two of them went on until they came to Bethlehem. When they arrived, the whole town was stirred. The women asked, “Is this Naomi?”
20. She replied, “Don’t call me Naomi. Call me Mara, because the Almighty has made my life bitter.”
21. “I went away full, but the Lord has brought me back empty. Why call me Naomi, when the Lord has testified against me and the Almighty has brought trouble upon me?”
22. So Naomi returned from Moab, accompanied by Ruth the Moabitess, her daughter-in-law. They arrived in Bethlehem at the beginning of the barley harvest.

Key Lessons from Ruth Chapter 1

1. God works through sorrow: Even in deep loss, God’s hand is at work setting up restoration and redemption.
2. Loyalty and love matter: Ruth’s commitment to Naomi reveals the heart of covenant love—faithful, selfless, and enduring.
3. God welcomes outsiders: Ruth, a Moabite, becomes part of God’s redemptive plan, showing that faith, not nationality, defines belonging in God’s family.
4. Bitterness isn’t the end of the story: Naomi felt abandoned, but God was still with her and had plans for her future.

5. Faith often means stepping into the unknown: Ruth followed Naomi into a land she didn't know, trusting in Naomi's God.

Ruth Chapter 2 – Crawford Standard Bible

Ruth Meets Boaz in the Field

1. Naomi had a relative on her husband's side, a wealthy and respected man from the family of Elimelech. His name was Boaz.
2. Ruth the Moabitess said to Naomi, "Let me go into the fields and pick up leftover grain behind anyone who is kind enough to let me." Naomi replied, "Go ahead, my daughter."
3. So Ruth went out and began to glean in the fields behind the harvesters. As it happened, she ended up working in a field that belonged to Boaz, who was from Elimelech's family.

Boaz Takes Notice of Ruth

4. Just then Boaz arrived from Bethlehem and greeted the harvesters. He said, "The Lord be with you!" They answered, "The Lord bless you!"
5. Boaz asked the foreman of his harvesters, "Who is that young woman over there?"
6. The foreman replied, "She's the young Moabite woman who came back with Naomi from the country of Moab."
7. She asked if she could glean and gather among the sheaves behind the harvesters. She's been working hard since this morning and has taken only a short rest."

Boaz Shows Kindness to Ruth

8. Boaz said to Ruth, "Listen, my daughter. Don't go and glean in another field. Stay here with my servant girls."
9. Watch which field they are harvesting, and follow along after them. I've told the young men not to bother you. When you're thirsty, help yourself to the water the men have drawn."
10. Ruth bowed down with her face to the ground and said, "Why have I found such kindness in your eyes, that you would notice me, a foreigner?"
11. Boaz replied, "I've been told all about what you have done for your mother-in-law since the death of your husband—how you left your father, mother, and homeland to live with a people you didn't know before."
12. May the Lord reward you for what you've done. May you receive a full reward from the Lord God of Israel, under whose wings you've come for refuge."

13. Ruth said, “I hope I continue to find favor in your eyes, my lord. You’ve comforted me and spoken kindly to me, though I don’t even belong among your servant girls.”

Ruth at Mealtime and in the Field

14. At mealtime Boaz said to her, “Come over here and eat some bread. Dip it in the vinegar.” So she sat with the harvesters. Boaz gave her roasted grain, and she ate until she was full and had some left over.

15. When she got up to glean, Boaz gave orders to his men: “Let her gather even among the sheaves. Don’t stop her.

16. In fact, pull out some stalks from the bundles and leave them for her to pick up. Don’t scold her.”

Ruth Brings Home a Blessing

17. So Ruth gleaned in the field until evening. Then she threshed what she had gathered—it came to about an ephah of barley.

18. She carried it back to town, and her mother-in-law saw how much she had gathered. Ruth also gave her what she had left over from her meal.

19. Naomi asked, “Where did you glean today? Where did you work? May the man who took notice of you be blessed!” Ruth told her mother-in-law, “The name of the man I worked with today is Boaz.”

20. Naomi said, “The Lord bless him! He has not stopped showing kindness to the living and the dead.” She continued, “That man is a close relative of ours; he’s one of our family redeemers.”

Ruth Stays Close to Boaz’s Workers

21. Ruth added, “He even told me, ‘Stay with my workers until they finish the entire harvest.’”

22. Naomi replied, “It’s good, my daughter, to stay with his servant girls. That way, you won’t be harmed in someone else’s field.”

23. So Ruth stayed close to Boaz’s female workers and gleaned until the barley and wheat harvests were finished. And she lived with her mother-in-law.

Key Lessons from Ruth Chapter 2

1. God’s providence is often found in “coincidences”: Ruth “just happened” to end up in Boaz’s field—God’s plan is quietly unfolding behind the scenes.
2. Kindness leaves a legacy: Boaz’s compassion was based on Ruth’s faithfulness. When we love well, others notice.

3. God honors sacrificial choices: Ruth left everything to follow Naomi, and God rewarded her with provision and protection.
4. Provision often comes through people: God used Boaz to bless Ruth, showing that divine care often comes through human hands.
5. Righteous character opens doors: Ruth's humility and Boaz's generosity laid the groundwork for redemption.

Ruth Chapter 3 – Crawford Standard Bible

Naomi's Bold Plan for Ruth

1. One day Naomi said to Ruth, "My daughter, shouldn't I try to find a secure home for you, so that you'll be taken care of?"
2. "Boaz, whose servant girls you've been working with, is a relative of ours. Tonight, he'll be winnowing barley at the threshing floor.
3. Wash yourself, put on perfume, and get dressed in your best clothes. Then go down to the threshing floor. But don't let him know you're there until he's finished eating and drinking.
4. When he lies down, take note of where he's lying. Then go in, uncover his feet, and lie down there. He will tell you what to do."
5. Ruth replied, "I will do everything you say."

Ruth Follows Naomi's Instructions

6. So she went down to the threshing floor and did exactly what her mother-in-law told her.
7. After Boaz had eaten and drunk and was in good spirits, he went to lie down at the far end of the grain pile. Then Ruth came quietly, uncovered his feet, and lay down.
8. Around midnight, Boaz suddenly woke up and turned over. He was startled to find a woman lying at his feet.
9. He said, "Who are you?"
She answered, "I am Ruth, your servant. Spread the corner of your garment over me, since you are a family redeemer."

Boaz Responds with Honor

10. Boaz said, "May the Lord bless you, my daughter. You've shown more kindness now than before, because you didn't go after younger men, whether rich or poor.
11. Now don't be afraid. I will do all you ask, because everyone in town knows that you are a woman of noble character.

12. It's true that I am a family redeemer, but there is another man who is more closely related than I am.

13. Stay here for the night. In the morning, if he wants to redeem you, good—let him do it. But if he doesn't, as surely as the Lord lives, I will redeem you. Lie down here until morning."

Ruth Returns with a Gift

14. So she lay at his feet until morning, but got up before anyone could be recognized. Boaz said, "Don't let it be known that a woman came to the threshing floor."

15. Then he said, "Bring the shawl you're wearing and hold it out." She held it out, and he measured out six scoops of barley and placed it on her shoulders. Then she went back to town.

16. When Ruth came to her mother-in-law, Naomi asked, "How did it go, my daughter?" Ruth told her everything that Boaz had done for her.

17. She said, "He gave me these six measures of barley and said, 'Don't go back to your mother-in-law empty-handed.'"

18. Naomi said, "Just wait, my daughter, until we see how this turns out. Boaz won't rest until he takes care of this today."

Key Lessons from Ruth Chapter 3

1. Godly counsel matters – Ruth trusted Naomi's wisdom and followed it carefully, showing how spiritual mentorship leads to blessing.
2. Character draws favor – Ruth's noble conduct and Boaz's upright response reflect the kind of relationships God honors.
3. Waiting on God includes bold steps – Ruth didn't passively wait for change; she took initiative under Naomi's guidance and with integrity.
4. Provision flows from righteousness – Boaz's generosity and care show how the Lord provides through people of virtue.
5. God works behind the scenes – Even in a quiet night at a threshing floor, God's redemptive plan is unfolding.

Ruth Chapter 4 – Crawford Standard Bible

Boaz Redeems Ruth

1. Boaz went up to the town gate and sat down. Just then, the family redeemer he had spoken of came by. Boaz called to him, "Come over here and sit down, my friend." So he did.

2. Boaz gathered ten of the town's elders and said, "Sit down here." And they did.
3. He said to the redeemer, "Naomi, who has come back from Moab, is selling the land that belonged to our relative Elimelech.
4. I thought I should bring it to your attention. If you want to redeem it, do so in front of these elders. But if you don't want to, let me know, because you're first in line, and I'm next." The man said, "I'll redeem it."
5. Then Boaz added, "When you buy the land from Naomi, you also acquire Ruth the Moabitess, the widow of the dead man, to carry on his name and inheritance."
6. The redeemer replied, "Then I can't redeem it. That would endanger my own inheritance. You redeem it yourself. I cannot."

A Legal Transaction at the Gate

7. (In those days, in Israel, it was the custom to remove one's sandal and give it to the other party to confirm a transaction.)
8. So the redeemer said to Boaz, "Buy it for yourself," and took off his sandal.
9. Then Boaz said to the elders and everyone there, "You are witnesses today that I have bought from Naomi everything that belonged to Elimelech, Kilion, and Mahlon.
10. I have also taken Ruth the Moabitess, Mahlon's widow, to be my wife, so that the name of the dead will remain with his inheritance. You are all witnesses today."

The Blessing of the People

11. All the people at the gate and the elders said, "We are witnesses! May the Lord make the woman who is coming into your home like Rachel and Leah, who together built the nation of Israel. May you prosper in Ephrathah and be famous in Bethlehem.
12. May your family be like the family of Perez, whom Tamar bore to Judah, because of the children the Lord gives you by this young woman."

Ruth and Boaz Have a Son

13. So Boaz married Ruth, and the Lord enabled her to become pregnant. She gave birth to a son.
14. The women said to Naomi, "Praise the Lord, who has not left you today without a redeemer. May his name become famous in Israel.
15. He will renew your life and care for you in your old age, because your daughter-in-law, who loves you and is better to you than seven sons, has given him birth."
16. Naomi took the baby, held him close, and cared for him.

17. The neighbor women said, “Naomi has a son!” And they named him Obed. He became the father of Jesse, the father of David.

The Line of David

18. These are the generations from Perez: Perez fathered Hezron,

19. Hezron fathered Ram, Ram fathered Amminadab,

20. Amminadab fathered Nahshon, Nahshon fathered Salmon,

21. Salmon fathered Boaz, Boaz fathered Obed,

22. Obed fathered Jesse, and Jesse fathered David.

Key Lessons from Ruth Chapter 4

1. God honors integrity and redemption – Boaz followed God's law and handled the matter legally and openly.
2. Obedience brings blessing – Ruth and Boaz's faithfulness led to the birth of Obed, grandfather of King David.
3. God turns sorrow into joy – Naomi went from emptiness to being filled with a grandchild and renewed hope.
4. God's plans reach far beyond our present – Ruth, a Moabitess, became part of the lineage of David—and ultimately Jesus.
5. Faithfulness leaves a legacy – The actions of ordinary people living by faith created a lineage that led to the Messiah.

Introduction to the Book of 1 Samuel

Crawford Bible Commentary

Title and Meaning

The book of 1 Samuel is named after the prophet Samuel, who plays a key role in the transition of Israel from a group of loosely organized tribes to a united kingdom. Samuel is the last of the judges and the first of the prophets in Israel after Moses. The Hebrew title is Sh'mu'el, meaning “heard of God” or “asked of God,” which reflects both the story of Samuel's birth and Israel's request for a king.

Historical Context

1 Samuel takes place during a turbulent time in Israel's history—around 1100–1000 B.C.—when the nation was morally drifting, spiritually corrupt, and politically fractured. The period follows the chaos of the book of Judges and leads into the united monarchy under Saul and David. The Philistines were rising in power, and Israel's failure to follow God had left the nation vulnerable. God raised up Samuel as a prophet, priest, and judge to guide the people and anoint their first two kings.

Purpose of the Book

The purpose of 1 Samuel is to show how God establishes leadership according to His will, not according to human preference. It records the rise of Samuel, the tragic reign of Saul, and the early anointing and rise of David. It is a book of transition: from theocracy (God as king) to monarchy (a human king)—but not without consequences for rejecting God's rule.

Major Themes

- The Sovereignty of God: God controls history and chooses leaders according to His purpose.
 - Leadership and Character: Saul was chosen for his appearance; David for his heart.
 - Obedience vs. Rebellion: God values obedience more than sacrifice (1 Samuel 15:22).
 - God's Presence: The Ark of the Covenant represents God's presence, and its treatment reflects Israel's spiritual state.
 - The Role of the Prophet: Samuel sets the standard for prophetic ministry—speaking God's word faithfully, calling for repentance, and anointing kings.

Key Figures

- Samuel – The last judge and a faithful prophet who anoints both Saul and David.
 - Saul – Israel's first king, tall and impressive, but spiritually disobedient and ultimately rejected by God.
 - David – A shepherd boy anointed by God to be king; a man after God's own heart, though not yet on the throne.
 - Hannah – Samuel's mother, whose faithful prayer and dedication sets the tone for the book's spiritual emphasis.
 - Eli – A priest whose failure to correct his sons leads to judgment and the loss of the Ark.
 - Jonathan – Saul's son, known for his courage and loyalty to David.

Spiritual Significance

1 Samuel marks a spiritual and political turning point in Israel's history. It reminds readers that God is the ultimate King, and even earthly rulers must submit to His authority. It also highlights the importance of the heart, showing that leadership in God's kingdom is not based on appearance or popularity but on faithfulness and obedience. David's early life foreshadows the coming of Christ—the true Shepherd-King.

Christ in 1 Samuel

While Christ is not mentioned by name, David is a type of Christ—a humble shepherd anointed to rule, rejected at first, but chosen by God. The rejection of Saul mirrors Israel's rejection of Christ, and David's suffering and eventual triumph foreshadow Jesus' own path to the throne. Samuel himself resembles Christ in his prophetic, priestly, and judicial roles.

Outline of 1 Samuel

1. The Rise of Samuel – Chapters 1–7
 2. The Reign and Rejection of Saul – Chapters 8–15
 3. The Rise of David and Saul's Decline – Chapters 16–31

Key Verse

1 Samuel 16:7 (CSB) – “Man looks at the outward appearance, but the Lord looks at the heart.”

Key Lesson

God chooses leaders based on the heart, not appearances. Obedience matters more than charisma, and spiritual faithfulness determines success in God's eyes. When people reject God's leadership, they reap the consequences—but when they walk in humility and trust in Him, He raises up unlikely heroes to fulfill His purposes.

1 Samuel Chapter 1 – Crawford Standard Bible

The Birth of Samuel

1. There was a man named Elkanah who lived in Ramah, a town in the hill country of Ephraim. He was the son of Jeroham, son of Elihu, son of Tohu, son of Zuph, and he belonged to the tribe of Ephraim.
2. Elkanah had two wives: Hannah and Peninnah. Peninnah had children, but Hannah did not.

3. Each year Elkanah went up from his town to worship and offer sacrifices to the Lord of Heaven's Armies at Shiloh. The priests of the Lord there were Eli's two sons, Hophni and Phinehas.
 4. Whenever Elkanah offered a sacrifice, he gave portions of the meat to Peninnah and each of her sons and daughters.
 5. But to Hannah he gave a special portion because he loved her very much, even though the Lord had closed her womb.
 6. Peninnah would tease and provoke Hannah, trying to make her miserable because she had no children.
 7. This went on year after year. Whenever they went to the house of the Lord, Peninnah would taunt her until Hannah would cry and not eat.
 8. "Why are you crying, Hannah?" Elkanah would ask. "Why aren't you eating? Why are you so downhearted? Don't I mean more to you than ten sons?"

Hannah's Prayer for a Child

9. Once after they had finished eating and drinking in Shiloh, Hannah got up. Now Eli the priest was sitting by the doorpost of the Lord's temple.
 10. Hannah was in deep anguish, crying bitterly as she prayed to the Lord.
 11. She made a vow and said, "O Lord of Heaven's Armies, if You will look upon my sorrow and remember me, and give me a son, I will give him back to You for his entire life. And no razor will ever touch his head."
 12. As she was praying silently, Eli watched her mouth.
 13. Hannah was praying in her heart, and though her lips were moving, her voice could not be heard. Eli thought she was drunk.
 14. "How long are you going to stay drunk?" Eli asked her. "Put away your wine!"
 15. "Oh no, sir!" Hannah replied. "I haven't been drinking wine or anything stronger. I am very discouraged, and I was pouring out my heart to the Lord."
 16. "Don't think I'm a wicked woman! I have been praying out of great anguish and sorrow."
 17. Eli answered, "Go in peace! And may the God of Israel grant your request."
 18. "Thank you, sir," she said. Then she went back and began to eat again, and her face was no longer sad.

Samuel's Birth and Dedication

19. The next morning Elkanah and his family got up early and worshiped the Lord once more. Then they returned home to Ramah. When Elkanah slept with his wife Hannah, the Lord remembered her request.

20. In due time, Hannah became pregnant and gave birth to a son. She named him Samuel, for she said, "I asked the Lord for him."

21. The next year Elkanah and his family went on their annual trip to offer a sacrifice to the Lord and to keep his vow.

22. But Hannah did not go. She told her husband, "Not until the boy is weaned. Then I will take him to the Tabernacle and leave him there with the Lord forever."

23. "Do what you think is best," Elkanah agreed. "Stay here for now, and may the Lord help you keep your promise." So Hannah stayed home and nursed the boy until he was weaned.

24. When the child was weaned, Hannah took him to the Tabernacle in Shiloh. They brought along a three-year-old bull for the sacrifice, a basket of flour, and some wine. The boy was still very young.

25. After sacrificing the bull, they brought the boy to Eli.

26. "Sir, do you remember me?" Hannah asked. "I'm the woman who stood here praying to the Lord."

27. "I asked the Lord to give me this boy, and He has granted my request!"

28. "Now I am giving him to the Lord, and he will belong to the Lord his whole life." And they worshiped the Lord there.

Key Lessons from 1 Samuel Chapter 1

1. God hears the heartfelt prayers of the brokenhearted. Hannah's deep anguish did not go unnoticed by heaven.
2. Faith makes bold promises. Hannah vowed to give her son to God before she even conceived.
3. Spiritual persistence pays off. Even when misunderstood or mocked, Hannah continued praying in faith.
4. True worship includes surrender. Hannah not only thanked God—she gave back what she had received.

1 Samuel Chapter 2 – Crawford Standard Bible

Hannah Praises the Lord

1. Then Hannah prayed:

"My heart rejoices in the Lord!

The Lord has made me strong.

Now I have an answer for my enemies;
I rejoice because You rescued me.

2. No one is holy like the Lord!
There is no one besides You;
There is no rock like our God.

3. Stop your proud talk!
Let no arrogance come from your mouth,
For the Lord is a God who knows everything,
And He judges what people do.

4. The bows of the mighty are broken,
But the weak are made strong.

5. Those who were well-fed now work for food,
But the hungry are no longer starving.
The childless woman now has seven children,
While the one with many has grown weak.

6. The Lord gives both death and life;
He brings down to the grave and raises up.

7. The Lord makes some people poor and others rich;
He brings down and He lifts up.

8. He lifts the poor from the dust
And raises the needy from the garbage pile.
He sets them among princes
And gives them a seat of honor.
For the foundations of the earth belong to the Lord,
And He has set the world in place.

9. He protects the feet of His faithful ones,
But the wicked will be silenced in darkness.
No one succeeds by their own strength.

10. Those who fight against the Lord will be shattered.
He thunders against them from heaven.
The Lord judges the whole earth.
He will give strength to His king
And lift up the horn of His anointed.”

Samuel Serves in the Temple

11. Then Elkanah returned home to Ramah.
But the boy Samuel stayed and served the Lord under Eli the priest.

The Wickedness of Eli's Sons

12. Now Eli's sons were scoundrels who had no respect for the Lord.

13. Whenever someone offered a sacrifice, the priest's servant would come with a three-pronged fork while the meat was boiling.

14. He would stick the fork into the pot or pan, and whatever came up was taken for the priest. This is how they treated all the Israelites at Shiloh.

15. Even before the fat was burned, the servant would demand raw meat to roast. "The priest won't take boiled meat," he'd say, "only raw."

16. If the person said, "Wait until the fat is burned," the servant would reply, "No, give it to me now, or I'll take it by force."

17. So the sin of these young men was very serious in the Lord's sight, because they treated the Lord's offerings with contempt.

Samuel Grows in the Lord

18. But Samuel, though he was still a boy, served the Lord. He wore a linen robe like a priest.

19. Every year his mother made him a little coat and brought it to him when she came with her husband to offer the annual sacrifice.

20. Eli would bless Elkanah and his wife, saying, "May the Lord give you more children to replace the one you gave to the Lord." Then they would return home.

21. And the Lord blessed Hannah. She had three more sons and two daughters. Meanwhile, Samuel grew up in the presence of the Lord.

Eli Rebukes His Sons

22. Eli was very old, and he heard everything his sons were doing to the people of Israel—including how they were sleeping with the women who served at the entrance to the Tabernacle.

23. He said to them, "Why are you doing these terrible things? Everyone keeps telling me about the evil you're doing."

24. Stop, my sons! These reports I hear among the Lord's people are not good.

25. If one person sins against another, God may mediate for the guilty. But if someone sins against the Lord, who can intercede?"

But his sons didn't listen to their father, for the Lord had decided to bring judgment on them.

The Lord's Judgment on Eli's House

26. Meanwhile, the boy Samuel continued to grow in stature and in favor with the Lord and with people.

27. One day, a man of God came to Eli and said, "This is what the Lord says: Didn't I reveal Myself to your ancestors when they were slaves in Egypt?"

28. Didn't I choose your family to be My priests, to offer sacrifices on My altar and burn incense, and to wear the priestly garments before Me? Didn't I give your family the offerings from the people of Israel?"

29. Why do you treat My sacrifices with such disrespect? Why do you honor your sons more than Me—feeding yourselves with the best parts of every offering?"

30. So now the Lord, the God of Israel, declares: I promised that your family would serve Me forever. But now I say: I will honor those who honor Me, and I will despise those who treat Me with contempt.

31. The time is coming when I will cut off your family's strength, so no one will grow old in your house.

32. You will see distress in My dwelling place. Despite all the blessings I give Israel, no one in your family will live to old age.

33. Those who survive will be in sorrow and grief. Your descendants will die in their prime.

34. And to confirm this prophecy, your two sons, Hophni and Phinehas, will die on the same day.

35. Then I will raise up a faithful priest who will do everything I desire. I will establish his family, and he will serve My anointed one forever.

36. Then everyone left in your family will come begging for food and a place in the priesthood, saying, "Please give me a job so I can have enough to eat."

Key Lessons from 1 Samuel Chapter 2

1. Praise flows from answered prayer. Hannah's song is a model of worship and gratitude.
2. God brings justice to the proud and lifts up the humble. He is sovereign over every aspect of life—birth, death, riches, and honor.
3. True worship must be holy. Eli's sons were condemned for their irreverence toward God's offerings.
4. Spiritual corruption affects the people. Leaders who dishonor God bring harm to the community.
5. God honors those who honor Him. While Eli's line was cut off, Samuel was raised up because of his faithful heart.

6. God will always raise up faithful servants. When one generation fails, God prepares another who will walk in His ways.

1 Samuel Chapter 3 – Crawford Standard Bible

God Calls Samuel

1. The boy Samuel served the Lord under Eli’s supervision. In those days, the Lord didn’t give many messages, and visions were rare.
 2. One night, Eli—whose eyesight was failing—was lying in his usual place.
 3. Samuel was lying down in the Lord’s house, where the Ark of God was kept. The lamp of God had not yet gone out.
 4. Then the Lord called out, “Samuel!” And Samuel answered, “Here I am!”
 5. He ran to Eli and said, “Here I am! You called me.”
But Eli said, “I didn’t call you. Go back and lie down.” So Samuel went and lay down.
 6. Then the Lord called again, “Samuel!” Samuel got up and went to Eli and said, “Here I am! You called me.”
But Eli said, “I didn’t call, my son. Go back and lie down.”
 7. Samuel didn’t yet know the Lord, and the Lord’s word had not yet been revealed to him.
 8. The Lord called Samuel a third time. Again Samuel got up and went to Eli and said, “Here I am! You called me.”
Then Eli realized that it was the Lord calling the boy.
 9. So Eli told Samuel, “Go and lie down. If He calls you again, say, ‘Speak, Lord, for Your servant is listening.’”
So Samuel went and lay down in his place.
 10. Then the Lord came and stood there and called as before, “Samuel! Samuel!”
And Samuel said, “Speak, for Your servant is listening.”

God’s Judgment on Eli’s Family

11. Then the Lord said to Samuel, “I’m going to do something in Israel that will make everyone who hears about it tremble.
12. On that day, I will carry out all the things I warned Eli about. When I begin, I will not stop until it’s finished.
13. I told him I would judge his family forever because he knew his sons were sinning, and he didn’t stop them.
14. So I swore that the guilt of Eli’s family will never be removed by sacrifices or offerings.”

Samuel Delivers the Message

15. Samuel stayed in bed until morning, then got up and opened the doors of the house of the Lord. But he was afraid to tell Eli what the Lord had said.

16. Then Eli called him and said, “Samuel, my son.”
Samuel answered, “Here I am.”

17. Eli asked, “What did the Lord say to you? Don’t hide it from me. May God punish you if you don’t tell me everything He said.”

18. So Samuel told him everything—he didn’t hold anything back.
Eli said, “It is the Lord. Let Him do what He thinks is best.”

Samuel Becomes a Prophet

19. As Samuel grew up, the Lord was with him and made sure all of his words came true.

20. All of Israel, from Dan to Beersheba, knew that Samuel was confirmed as a prophet of the Lord.

21. The Lord continued to appear at Shiloh, and He revealed Himself to Samuel through His word.

Key Lessons from 1 Samuel Chapter 3

1. God speaks—even when it’s rare. In times of silence, the Lord is still preparing His voice to be heard through faithful hearts.
2. Hearing God takes practice and guidance. Eli helped Samuel understand that it was the Lord calling him. Discipleship is key.
3. God honors obedience, not age. Though Samuel was young, he was chosen to deliver a hard message that Eli had failed to act on.
4. Judgment comes when sin is ignored. Eli’s failure to correct his sons brought lasting consequences to his household.
5. A listening heart is a prophetic heart. Samuel’s willingness to say, “Speak, Lord, for Your servant is listening,” made him a vessel for divine truth.
6. God will reveal Himself to those who seek Him. As Samuel grew in faith and obedience, God revealed more and more of His presence.

1 Samuel Chapter 4 – Crawford Standard Bible

Israel Defeated by the Philistines

1. Samuel's messages from the Lord reached all of Israel.

At that time, the Israelites went out to battle against the Philistines. They camped at Ebenezer, while the Philistines camped at Aphek.

2. The Philistines prepared for battle and attacked. Israel was defeated, and about four thousand Israelite soldiers were killed in the field.

3. When the surviving soldiers returned to the camp, the elders of Israel asked, "Why did the Lord let us be defeated today by the Philistines? Let's bring the Ark of the Covenant from Shiloh so that it will go with us and save us from our enemies."

4. So they sent men to Shiloh to bring back the Ark of the Covenant of the Lord of Heaven's Armies, who sits between the cherubim. Hophni and Phinehas, the sons of Eli, accompanied the Ark.

5. When the Ark of the Lord arrived at the camp, all of Israel gave a great shout of joy, so loud that the earth seemed to shake.

6. The Philistines heard the shouting and asked, "What's all this shouting in the Hebrew camp?" When they realized the Ark of the Lord had come into the camp,

7. they were terrified. "A god has come into their camp!" they said. "This has never happened before!"

8. "We're doomed! Who can save us from these powerful gods? These are the same gods that struck the Egyptians with plagues in the wilderness!"

9. "Take courage and act like men, you Philistines! Otherwise, you'll become slaves to the Hebrews, just like they've been to us. Be brave and fight!"

The Ark Is Captured

10. The Philistines fought hard and defeated Israel. The Israelites fled to their tents, and the slaughter was massive—30,000 foot soldiers died.

11. The Ark of God was captured, and Eli's two sons, Hophni and Phinehas, were killed.

12. A man from the tribe of Benjamin ran from the battlefield and arrived in Shiloh the same day. His clothes were torn and he had dirt on his head to show his grief.

13. When he arrived, Eli was sitting on a bench beside the road, anxiously waiting for news about the Ark of God. As soon as the man entered the city and told what had happened, the whole town cried out.

14. Eli heard the noise and asked, "What is all this commotion?" The man rushed over to tell Eli.

15. Eli was ninety-eight years old and was blind.

16. The man said, "I just came from the battlefield—I fled today." Eli asked, "What happened, my son?"

17. The messenger replied, “Israel has been defeated. Many of our people were killed. Your two sons, Hophni and Phinehas, are dead. And the Ark of God has been captured.”

18. When the man mentioned the Ark of God, Eli fell backward from his seat beside the gate, broke his neck, and died. He was old and overweight, and he had judged Israel for forty years.

The Birth of Ichabod

19. Eli’s daughter-in-law, the wife of Phinehas, was pregnant and near her due date. When she heard the news that the Ark of God had been captured and that her husband and father-in-law were dead, she went into labor and gave birth.

20. As she was dying, the women attending her said, “Don’t be afraid—you’ve had a son!” But she didn’t respond or even acknowledge them.

21. She named the boy Ichabod, saying, “The glory has departed from Israel,” because the Ark of God had been captured and her husband and father-in-law were dead.

22. She repeated, “The glory has departed from Israel, for the Ark of God has been taken.”

Key Lessons from 1 Samuel Chapter 4

1. The presence of God cannot be manipulated. Israel brought the Ark into battle thinking it would guarantee victory, but their hearts weren’t right, and they were still defeated.
2. Victory doesn’t come from symbols—it comes from surrender. The Ark represented God’s presence, but without obedience, it meant nothing in battle.
3. Spiritual leadership matters. Hophni and Phinehas were corrupt, and their failure affected the entire nation. Leadership that dishonors God brings disaster.
4. God’s judgment may be delayed, but it is certain. Eli’s failure to discipline his sons led to a fulfilled prophecy of judgment, including his own death.
5. Glory departs when God’s presence is lost. Ichabod’s name reflected a sad truth—Israel’s glory left not because the Ark was gone, but because their relationship with God was broken.

1 Samuel Chapter 5 – Crawford Standard Bible

Dagon Falls Before the Ark

1. After the Philistines captured the Ark of God, they took it from Ebenezer to the city of Ashdod.
2. They carried the Ark into the temple of their god Dagon and placed it beside Dagon’s statue.
3. But when the people of Ashdod got up early the next morning, they found Dagon had fallen face down before the Ark of the Lord. So they picked Dagon up and set him back in his place.
4. The next morning, Dagon had fallen again—face down before the Ark of the Lord. This time, his head and both hands were broken off and lying on the threshold. Only the trunk of Dagon’s body was left.

5. That's why, to this day, the priests of Dagon and all who enter his temple in Ashdod refuse to step on the threshold where the statue broke.

God's Hand Heavy on the Philistines

6. Then the Lord's hand struck the people of Ashdod and the surrounding area with great fear and terrible tumors.

7. When the people saw what was happening, they cried out, "We can't keep the Ark of Israel's God here! His hand is harsh against us and our god Dagon!"

8. So they called a meeting of all the Philistine rulers and asked, "What should we do with the Ark of the God of Israel?"

They decided, "Move it to the city of Gath." So they moved the Ark there.

9. But after they brought it to Gath, the Lord's hand came down hard again. He brought a great panic on the city, and He struck both young and old with tumors in their private parts.

10. So they sent the Ark to the city of Ekron. But when the Ark arrived, the people of Ekron cried out, "They're bringing the Ark of Israel's God here to kill us all!"

11. They called another meeting of all the Philistine rulers and pleaded, "Send the Ark of Israel's God back to where it belongs! If it stays here, it will kill us and our people!"

There was deadly panic throughout the entire city because God's hand was very heavy on them.

12. Those who didn't die were struck with tumors, and the cries of the people rose up to heaven.

Key Lessons from 1 Samuel Chapter 5

1. God is not mocked by false gods. The fall of Dagon shows the absolute authority of Yahweh over idols and false religion.
2. The presence of God is powerful and holy. Even though Israel had sinned, the Ark still represented God's presence—and His holiness could not be handled lightly, even by Gentile nations.
3. God defends His own name. Without any human help, God humiliated Dagon and judged the Philistines, proving He doesn't need an army to uphold His glory.
4. Judgment brings recognition. The Philistines recognized that the God of Israel was unlike any other and were forced to reckon with His power.
5. The fear of God should lead to repentance. Instead of humbling themselves before God, the Philistines tried to remove His presence. Fear without repentance hardens the heart.

1 Samuel Chapter 6 – Crawford Standard Bible

The Ark Returns to Israel

1. The Ark of the Lord remained in Philistine territory for seven months.
2. Then the Philistines summoned their priests and diviners and asked, “What should we do with the Ark of the Lord? How can we send it back to its rightful place?”
3. They replied, “Don’t send it back empty. Instead, send a guilt offering along with it. Then you will be healed, and you’ll understand why God’s hand has been so hard against you.”
4. “What kind of guilt offering should we send?” they asked. The answer: “Five gold tumors and five gold rats—one for each of the Philistine rulers—since the same plague has struck you and your leaders.
5. Make replicas of the tumors and rats that are destroying your land, and give glory to the God of Israel. Maybe He’ll stop afflicting you, your gods, and your land.
6. Don’t be stubborn like Pharaoh and the Egyptians. When God punished them, didn’t they eventually let the Israelites go?

A Test for the Ark’s Return

7. “Now then, build a new cart and get two cows that have recently given birth and have never been yoked. Hitch them to the cart, but take their calves back home away from them.
8. Place the Ark of the Lord on the cart, and beside it put a chest with the gold offerings you’re giving as a guilt offering. Then send it off.
9. Watch what happens. If the Ark goes toward Beth-shemesh on its own, then we’ll know it was the Lord who brought this disaster on us. But if it doesn’t, then we’ll know it was just bad luck.”
10. They did exactly that—hitching up two cows and penning up their calves.
11. They placed the Ark and the gold rats and tumors on the cart.

The Ark Arrives at Beth-shemesh

12. The cows went straight toward Beth-shemesh, staying on the road and lowing as they went. They didn’t turn aside. The Philistine rulers followed them as far as the border of Beth-shemesh.
13. The people of Beth-shemesh were harvesting wheat in the valley. When they looked up and saw the Ark, they were overjoyed.
14. The cart came to a stop in the field of Joshua of Beth-shemesh and stopped near a large rock. The people chopped up the cart and offered the cows as a burnt offering to the Lord.
15. The Levites lifted the Ark and the chest with the gold items and placed them on the large stone. That day the people of Beth-shemesh offered burnt sacrifices and other offerings to the Lord.
16. When the five Philistine rulers saw this, they returned to Ekron that same day.

The Guilt Offering Memorial

17. These are the gold tumors the Philistines sent to the Lord as a guilt offering—one each for Ashdod, Gaza, Ashkelon, Gath, and Ekron.
18. The gold rats represented the number of Philistine towns under the five rulers, including walled cities and rural villages. The large stone where they placed the Ark still stands in the field of Joshua of Beth-shemesh.

Judgment on Irreverence

19. But the Lord struck down some of the men of Beth-shemesh because they looked into the Ark. He killed seventy men, and the people mourned because of the heavy blow from the Lord.

20. And the people cried, “Who can stand in the presence of this holy God? And where can we send the Ark from here?”

21. They sent messengers to the people of Kiriath-jearim, saying, “The Philistines have returned the Ark of the Lord. Come and take it up with you.”

Key Lessons from 1 Samuel Chapter 6

1. God's Holiness Demands Reverence

Even Israelites were judged when they treated the Ark lightly. God's holiness is not to be trifled with—He is merciful, but He is also just.

2. Repentance Includes Restitution

The Philistines learned to give a guilt offering along with the Ark. When we sin, genuine repentance often includes making things right.

3. God Proves Himself Clearly

The test with the cows showed the disaster wasn't chance—it was divine judgment. God is able to prove Himself to believers and unbelievers alike.

4. The Presence of God Brings Both Joy and Fear

The people of Beth-shemesh rejoiced at the return of the Ark, but then mourned when God's judgment fell. His presence is glorious but must be approached in holiness.

5. We Must Not Handle Holy Things with Casual Hands

Looking into the Ark was a violation of God's law (Numbers 4:20), and it cost many lives. God's commands must be taken seriously.

1 Samuel Chapter 7 – Crawford Standard Bible

The Ark Restored to Israel

1. The men of Kiriath-jearim came and took the Ark of the Lord. They brought it to the house of Abinadab on the hill and dedicated his son Eleazar to guard it.

2. The Ark stayed in Kiriath-jearim for a long time—twenty years. During that time, all the people of Israel mourned and sought after the Lord.

Samuel Calls Israel to Repentance

3. Samuel told the whole house of Israel, “If you are really turning back to the Lord with all your hearts, then get rid of your foreign gods and the idols of Ashtoreth. Commit yourselves to the Lord and serve only Him, and He will rescue you from the Philistines.”
4. So the Israelites got rid of the Baals and the Ashtoreths and served the Lord only.
5. Then Samuel said, “Gather all of Israel at Mizpah, and I will pray to the Lord on your behalf.”
6. They gathered at Mizpah, drew water, and poured it out before the Lord. They fasted that day and confessed, “We have sinned against the Lord.” Samuel acted as judge over the people of Israel at Mizpah.

God Delivers Israel

7. When the Philistines heard that Israel had gathered at Mizpah, their rulers came up to attack them. When the Israelites heard this, they were afraid.
8. They said to Samuel, “Don’t stop crying out to the Lord our God for us! Ask Him to save us from the Philistines.”
9. So Samuel took a young lamb and offered it as a whole burnt offering to the Lord. He cried out to the Lord for Israel, and the Lord answered him.
10. As Samuel was offering the burnt offering, the Philistines came near to fight against Israel. But that day the Lord thundered with a loud noise against them. It threw them into confusion, and they were defeated by Israel.
11. The Israelites chased the Philistines from Mizpah to a place below Beth-car, killing them along the way.
12. Then Samuel took a stone and set it up between Mizpah and Shen. He named it Ebenezer, which means “Stone of Help,” saying, “The Lord has helped us this far.”

Samuel’s Leadership Brings Peace

13. So the Philistines were defeated and didn’t invade Israel’s territory again. The Lord’s hand was against the Philistines throughout Samuel’s lifetime.
 14. Israel recovered the towns the Philistines had taken—from Ekron to Gath—and their surrounding areas. There was also peace between Israel and the Amorites.
 15. Samuel served as Israel’s judge for the rest of his life.
 16. Each year, he traveled in a circuit to Bethel, Gilgal, and Mizpah, judging Israel in each of those places.
 17. Then he would return to his home in Ramah. He judged Israel there too, and he built an altar to the Lord in Ramah.
-

Key Lessons from 1 Samuel Chapter 7

1. True Repentance Requires Action

The Israelites didn't just feel sorry—they got rid of idols and committed to God alone. Repentance must be shown in our choices.

2. Fasting and Confession Restore Fellowship

When the people fasted and admitted their sins, God responded. Humility opens the way for healing and blessing.

3. God Fights for the Faithful

While the people prayed and repented, God thundered against the Philistines and gave victory. Our battles become His battles when we walk in obedience.

4. Spiritual Leadership Brings Peace

Under Samuel's righteous leadership, Israel not only had victory but lasting peace. Godly leaders are a blessing to any nation or family.

5. Remember God's Help

Samuel set up a stone called "Ebenezer" to remind the people of how far God had brought them. We need memorials to remind us of God's past faithfulness.

1 Samuel Chapter 8 – Crawford Standard Bible

Israel Asks for a King

1 When Samuel grew old, he appointed his sons to serve as judges over Israel.

2 His firstborn was named Joel, and his second was Abijah. They judged in Beersheba.

3 But his sons didn't follow his example. They were greedy for money, accepted bribes, and twisted justice.

4 So all the elders of Israel gathered together and came to Samuel at Ramah.

5 They said, "Look, you are getting old, and your sons don't walk in your ways. Give us a king to judge us like all the other nations."

6 Samuel was upset by their request for a king to rule them, so he prayed to the Lord.

7 The Lord told Samuel, "Listen to everything the people say to you. They haven't rejected you—they've rejected Me as their king.

8 They're doing the same thing to you that they've done to Me ever since I brought them out of Egypt. They've abandoned Me and worshiped other gods, and now they're doing it to you.

9 So listen to them—but warn them seriously. Tell them what having a king will be like."

Samuel Warns About the Cost of a King

10 So Samuel told the people everything the Lord had said to him.

11 He said, “Here’s what a king will do: He will take your sons and make them serve in his army—some will drive his chariots, others will ride horses, and still others will run ahead of his chariots.

12 He will appoint commanders over thousands and fifties. He will make some of them plow his fields and harvest his crops, and others make weapons and chariot gear.

13 He will take your daughters to be perfume makers, cooks, and bakers.

14 He will take the best of your fields, vineyards, and olive groves and give them to his officials.

15 He will take a tenth of your grain and grapes and give it to his officers and servants.

16 He will take your male and female servants, your best young men, and your donkeys and use them for his own work.

17 He will take a tenth of your flocks, and you yourselves will become his slaves.

18 When that day comes, you’ll cry out because of the king you chose, but the Lord will not help you then.”

The People Reject God’s Warning

19 But the people refused to listen to Samuel. “No,” they said, “we want a king over us!

20 Then we’ll be like all the other nations. Our king will judge us, lead us into battle, and fight for us!”

21 Samuel listened to all they said and repeated it to the Lord.

22 The Lord said, “Do what they ask. Give them a king.” Then Samuel told the people of Israel, “Go back to your own towns.”

Key Lessons from 1 Samuel Chapter 8

1. Even good leaders can’t control how their children turn out – Samuel was faithful, but his sons went astray.
2. Wanting to be like the world leads to spiritual compromise – Israel’s desire to be “like the other nations” meant rejecting God’s unique leadership.
3. God sometimes gives us what we want to teach us a lesson – He warned Israel, but allowed them to choose.
4. Worldly leadership comes with a cost – A human king would take more than he gave.
5. True kingship belongs to God – Israel’s rejection of Samuel was ultimately a rejection of God Himself.

1 Samuel Chapter 9 – Crawford Standard Bible

Saul is Introduced

1 There was a man from the tribe of Benjamin named Kish. He was the son of Abiel, the son of Zeror, the son of Bechorath, the son of Aphiah. He was a powerful and respected man.

2 Kish had a son named Saul, who was very handsome and impressive. There wasn't anyone in Israel more handsome than him. He was also taller than anyone else—from his shoulders up, he stood above the crowd.

3 One day, Kish's donkeys got lost. So Kish said to Saul, "Take one of the servants with you and go look for the donkeys."

4 They traveled through the hill country of Ephraim and the land of Shalishah, but didn't find them. Then they went through the land of Shaalim and the territory of Benjamin, but still found nothing.

5 When they reached the area of Zuph, Saul said to the servant, "Let's go back. My father might stop worrying about the donkeys and start worrying about us."

6 But the servant replied, "There's a man of God in this town. He is highly respected, and everything he says comes true. Let's go see him—maybe he can tell us which way to go."

7 Saul said, "But if we go, what can we bring the man? We've got no food left. We don't even have a gift to take him. What do we have?"

8 The servant answered, "Look, I have a quarter of a silver shekel. I'll give it to the man of God so he can tell us which way to go."

9 (In earlier times in Israel, if someone wanted to inquire of God, they'd say, "Let's go see the seer," because a prophet was formerly called a seer.)

10 "That's a good idea," Saul said. "Let's go." So they headed for the town where the man of God was.

Saul Meets Samuel

11 As they climbed the hill to the city, they met some young women coming out to draw water. They asked, "Is the seer here?"

12 The women replied, "Yes, he's just ahead of you. Hurry! He came to town today because there's going to be a sacrifice on the high place.

13 If you go into the town quickly, you'll find him before he goes up to the high place to eat. The people won't eat until he blesses the sacrifice. After that, those invited will eat. Go now—you'll find him right away."

14 So they entered the town, and as they did, Samuel was coming out toward them, heading up to the high place.

15 The day before Saul came, the Lord had told Samuel,

16 “About this time tomorrow I will send you a man from the land of Benjamin. You must anoint him to be leader over My people Israel. He will rescue them from the Philistines. I have seen the suffering of My people, and their cry has reached Me.”

17 When Samuel saw Saul, the Lord said, “This is the man I told you about. He will rule over My people.”

Saul Dines with Samuel

18 Saul approached Samuel at the city gate and said, “Please tell me where the seer’s house is.”

19 Samuel said, “I’m the seer. Go ahead of me to the high place. You will eat with me today, and in the morning I’ll send you on your way and tell you everything that’s in your heart.

20 Don’t worry about the donkeys that got lost three days ago—they’ve been found. And besides, who is everyone in Israel hoping for? Isn’t it you and your father’s family?”

21 Saul answered, “But I’m from the tribe of Benjamin—the smallest tribe in Israel! And my family is the least important in the whole tribe. Why are you talking to me like this?”

22 Then Samuel brought Saul and his servant into the dining hall and gave them seats at the head of about thirty guests.

23 Samuel said to the cook, “Bring the portion I gave you and told you to set aside.”

24 So the cook brought the thigh and what was on it and set it before Saul. Samuel said, “This is for you. It was kept for you for this special occasion. Eat, because this was saved for you since I invited the guests.” So Saul ate with Samuel that day.

Samuel Prepares to Anoint Saul

25 After they came down from the high place and returned to town, Samuel spoke with Saul on the rooftop.

26 At dawn the next day, Samuel called up to Saul, “Get up! I’m going to send you on your way.” So Saul got ready, and both he and Samuel went outside.

27 As they were going down to the edge of the town, Samuel said to Saul, “Send your servant on ahead.” So the servant went ahead. Then Samuel said, “Stay here a moment, and I’ll tell you what God has said.”

Key Lessons from 1 Samuel Chapter 9

- 1. God can use ordinary situations to lead to extraordinary purposes – Saul was looking for donkeys but ended up being chosen to lead a nation.

2. God prepares His people ahead of time – Samuel was given a word in advance about Saul’s arrival.
3. Humble beginnings don’t disqualify you from God’s plan – Saul was from the smallest tribe and the least family, yet God chose him.
4. When you seek direction, God provides it through His people and His word – Saul’s servant recognized the importance of the prophet.
5. God sees the suffering of His people and raises up deliverers in His timing – The people’s cry moved the heart of God to act through Saul.

1 Samuel Chapter 10 – Crawford Standard Bible

Saul is Anointed King

1 Then Samuel took a jar of oil, poured it on Saul’s head, kissed him, and said, “The Lord has anointed you to be the ruler over His inheritance.”

2 “Today, when you leave me, you’ll meet two men near Rachel’s tomb at Zelzah, in the territory of Benjamin. They’ll say, ‘The donkeys you went to look for have been found. Now your father has stopped worrying about them and is worried about you. He’s saying, “What should I do about my son?”’”

3 “Then you’ll go on from there to the oak of Tabor. Three men going up to worship God at Bethel will meet you. One will be carrying three young goats, another three loaves of bread, and the third a bottle of wine.”

4 “They will greet you and give you two loaves of bread, which you must accept.”

5 “After that, you’ll arrive at Gibeah of God, where there is a Philistine outpost. As you approach the town, you’ll meet a group of prophets coming down from the high place. They’ll be playing a harp, tambourine, flute, and lyre, and they’ll be prophesying.”

6 “At that moment, the Spirit of the Lord will come powerfully upon you. You’ll prophesy with them, and you’ll be changed into a different person.”

7 “When these signs happen, do whatever seems right, because God is with you.”

8 “Go ahead of me to Gilgal. I’ll come down to you to offer burnt offerings and peace offerings. Wait seven days for me, and I’ll tell you what to do.”

God Confirms Saul's Calling

9 As Saul turned to leave Samuel, God gave him a new heart. And all those signs happened that day.

10 When Saul and his servant arrived at Gibeah, a group of prophets met them. Then the Spirit of God came upon Saul, and he too began to prophesy.

11 When people who knew Saul before saw him prophesying with the prophets, they said to one another, “What has happened to the son of Kish? Is Saul also among the prophets?”

12 Someone nearby said, “And who is their father?” So the saying became a proverb: “Is Saul also among the prophets?”

13 When Saul finished prophesying, he went to the high place.

Saul Keeps His Secret

14 Later, Saul’s uncle asked him and his servant, “Where did you go?” Saul said, “To find the donkeys. But when we couldn’t find them, we went to Samuel.”

15 Saul’s uncle said, “Tell me what Samuel said to you.”

16 Saul replied, “He told us the donkeys had been found.” But Saul didn’t say anything about the matter of kingship.

Saul is Chosen Publicly

17 Then Samuel called all the people of Israel together at Mizpah.

18 He said, “This is what the Lord God of Israel says: ‘I brought Israel out of Egypt. I rescued you from Egypt’s power and from all the kingdoms that oppressed you.’”

19 “But today you have rejected your God, who saves you from all your troubles and distress. You have said, ‘No, we want a king to rule us.’ Now line up before the Lord by your tribes and clans.”

20 Samuel brought forward all the tribes of Israel, and the tribe of Benjamin was chosen.

21 Then he brought forward the tribe of Benjamin, clan by clan, and the Matri clan was chosen. Then Saul, son of Kish, was chosen. But when they looked for him, he couldn’t be found.

22 They asked the Lord, “Has the man come here yet?” The Lord said, “Yes, he is hiding among the supplies.”

23 So they ran and brought him out. When he stood among the people, he was taller than anyone else from his shoulders up.

24 Then Samuel said to the people, “Look at the man the Lord has chosen! There is no one like him among all the people!” And all the people shouted, “Long live the king!”

25 Samuel explained to the people the rights and duties of kingship. He wrote them down in a scroll and placed it before the Lord. Then he sent everyone home.

26 Saul also went to his home in Gibeah. A group of brave men whose hearts God had touched went with him.

27 But some wicked men said, “How can this man save us?” They despised him and refused to bring him any gifts. But Saul said nothing and kept silent.

Key Lessons from 1 Samuel Chapter 10

1. God confirms His calling through signs and transformation – Saul received multiple confirmations, including prophecy and a changed heart.
2. Anointing brings change – When God’s Spirit came upon Saul, he became a different person.
3. Not everyone will support your calling – Even when chosen by God, Saul was doubted and despised by some.
4. God’s timing and plan are specific – Every step of Saul’s journey was preordained and orchestrated by the Lord.
5. A true leader waits on the Lord – Saul was instructed to wait for Samuel at Gilgal, showing the importance of obedience and patience.

1 Samuel Chapter 11 – Crawford Standard Bible

Saul Rescues the People of Jabesh-Gilead

1 Then Nahash the Ammonite came and surrounded the town of Jabesh-gilead. The men of Jabesh said to him, “Make a peace treaty with us, and we’ll serve you.”

2 But Nahash the Ammonite replied, “I’ll make a treaty with you only on this condition—that I gouge out the right eye of every one of you. That way I bring disgrace on all Israel.”

3 The elders of Jabesh said to him, “Give us seven days so we can send messengers throughout Israel. If no one comes to rescue us, we’ll surrender to you.”

4 When the messengers came to Gibeah of Saul and told the people what was happening, everyone started crying loudly.

5 Just then, Saul was coming in from the fields, driving his oxen. He asked, “What’s wrong? Why is everyone crying?” They told him what the messengers from Jabesh had said.

6 When Saul heard their message, the Spirit of God came powerfully upon him, and he burned with anger.

7 He took a pair of oxen, cut them into pieces, and sent the pieces by messengers throughout Israel with this warning: “This is what will be done to the oxen of anyone who refuses to follow Saul and Samuel into battle!” Then the fear of the Lord fell on the people, and they all came out together as one.

8 When Saul counted them at Bezek, there were 300,000 men from Israel and 30,000 from Judah.

9 Saul's messengers went back to Jabesh with this message: "By the time the sun is hot tomorrow, you will be rescued!" The men of Jabesh were overjoyed when they heard that.

10 So they said to Nahash, "Tomorrow we will surrender to you, and you can do whatever you think is best."

11 The next day, Saul divided his army into three groups. During the early morning watch, they attacked the Ammonite camp and kept fighting until the heat of the day. The survivors were so scattered that no two of them were left together.

Saul is Confirmed as King

12 Then the people said to Samuel, "Who was it that questioned whether Saul should be king? Bring them here so we can put them to death!"

13 But Saul replied, "No one will be executed today! For today the Lord has rescued Israel!"

14 Then Samuel said to the people, "Come, let's go to Gilgal and renew the kingdom there."

15 So they all went to Gilgal. There they made Saul king before the Lord. They offered peace offerings to the Lord, and Saul and all the Israelites celebrated with great joy.

Key Lessons from 1 Samuel Chapter 11

1. True leadership rises in crisis – Saul, filled with the Spirit of God, stepped into his calling when Israel needed a savior.
2. Unity comes through godly urgency – Saul's call to arms unified the nation when fear of the Lord came upon the people.
3. God empowers those He chooses – The Spirit of God came on Saul, giving him courage and clarity in battle.
4. Mercy reflects true kingship – Saul chose forgiveness over revenge, showing grace even to those who once doubted him.
5. Victory should lead to worship – Israel celebrated their deliverance with sacrifices and rejoicing before the Lord at Gilgal.

1 Samuel Chapter 12 – Crawford Standard Bible

Samuel's Farewell Speech

1 Then Samuel said to all Israel, "I have listened to everything you asked of me and have set a king over you.

2 Now here is your king walking before you. As for me, I am old and gray-haired, and my sons are here with you. I have led you from my youth until now.

3 Here I stand. Testify against me in the presence of the Lord and His anointed. Whose ox have I taken? Whose donkey have I taken? Have I cheated anyone? Have I oppressed anyone? Have I taken a bribe to pervert justice? Tell me, and I will make it right.”

4 The people replied, “You have not cheated us or oppressed us, and you’ve taken nothing from anyone.”

5 Samuel said, “The Lord is witness against you, and His anointed is witness this day, that you have found nothing in my hand.” They answered, “He is witness.”

6 Samuel continued, “It is the Lord who appointed Moses and Aaron and brought your ancestors out of Egypt.

7 Now stand here quietly before the Lord as I remind you of all the righteous acts the Lord did for you and your ancestors.

8 After Jacob went to Egypt, your ancestors cried out to the Lord. He sent Moses and Aaron to bring them out of Egypt and settle them in this land.

9 But they forgot the Lord their God. So He allowed them to be conquered by Sisera, the commander of Hazor’s army, by the Philistines, and by the king of Moab who fought against them.

10 Then they cried to the Lord and said, ‘We have sinned by abandoning the Lord and serving Baal and Ashtaroth. But now deliver us from our enemies, and we will serve You.’

11 So the Lord sent Jerubbaal, Bedan, Jephthah, and Samuel. He delivered you from your enemies on every side so you lived in safety.

12 But when you saw Nahash, king of the Ammonites, attacking you, you said to me, ‘No, we want a king to rule over us’—even though the Lord your God was already your king.

13 Now here is the king you have chosen, the one you asked for. See, the Lord has set a king over you.

14 If you fear the Lord and serve Him and obey His voice and do not rebel against His commands, then you and your king will continue to follow the Lord your God.

15 But if you don’t obey the Lord and you rebel against His commands, then His hand will be against you, just as it was against your ancestors.

16 Now stand still and see the great thing the Lord is about to do before your eyes.

17 Isn’t it the wheat harvest today? I will call on the Lord, and He will send thunder and rain. Then you will know what a great sin you committed in asking for a king.”

18 So Samuel called on the Lord, and that same day the Lord sent thunder and rain. The people were very afraid of the Lord and of Samuel.

19 Then all the people begged Samuel, “Pray to the Lord your God for us so that we don’t die! We’ve added to our sins by asking for a king.”

20 Samuel replied, “Don’t be afraid. You have done this evil, but do not turn away from the Lord. Instead, serve Him with all your heart.

21 Don’t chase after worthless things that can’t help or save you. They’re useless!

22 The Lord will not abandon His people, because that would dishonor His great name. He was pleased to make you His own.

23 As for me, far be it from me to sin against the Lord by failing to pray for you. I will teach you what is good and right.

24 But you must fear the Lord and serve Him faithfully with all your heart. Remember all the great things He has done for you.

25 But if you continue to do evil, both you and your king will be destroyed.”

Key Lessons from 1 Samuel Chapter 12

1. A faithful leader leaves with integrity – Samuel calls Israel to testify to his lifelong honesty and devotion.
2. God is the true Deliverer – Samuel reminds Israel of God’s consistent help, from Egypt to present.
3. Rebellion brings consequences – Israel’s demand for a king was a rejection of God’s rule.
4. God confirms warnings with power – The storm during harvest was a visible sign of divine disapproval.
5. Even in sin, there is hope – Though Israel sinned, God invites them to return and serve Him with their whole hearts.

1 Samuel Chapter 13 – Crawford Standard Bible

Saul’s Unlawful Sacrifice and Israel’s Crisis

Saul was thirty years old when he became king, and he reigned over Israel for forty-two years.

He selected three thousand men from Israel—two thousand were with him at Michmash and in the hill country of Bethel, and one thousand were with Jonathan in Gibeah of Benjamin. The rest of the troops he sent back to their homes.

Jonathan attacked the Philistine garrison in Geba, and the Philistines heard about it. Saul sounded the trumpet throughout the land, saying, “Let the Hebrews hear!”

All Israel heard the news: “Saul has attacked a Philistine outpost, and now Israel has become a stench to the Philistines!” So the people were summoned to join Saul at Gilgal.

The Philistines assembled to fight Israel with thirty thousand chariots, six thousand horsemen, and troops as numerous as the sand on the seashore. They camped at Michmash, east of Beth-aven.

When the Israelites saw they were in trouble and hard-pressed, they hid in caves, thickets, among rocks, in holes, and in cisterns.

Some Hebrews crossed the Jordan to the land of Gad and Gilead. Saul, however, remained at Gilgal, and all his troops were trembling.

He waited seven days, the time set by Samuel. But Samuel did not come to Gilgal, and Saul's men began to scatter.

So Saul said, "Bring me the burnt offering and the fellowship offerings." Then he offered the burnt offering himself.

Just as he finished making the offering, Samuel arrived. Saul went out to greet him.

"What have you done?" Samuel asked.

Saul replied, "When I saw the people were scattering, and you didn't come within the appointed time, and the Philistines were assembling at Michmash,

I thought, 'Now the Philistines will come down on me at Gilgal, and I haven't sought the Lord's favor.' So I felt compelled and offered the burnt offering."

Samuel said, "You have done a foolish thing. You didn't keep the command of the Lord your God. If you had, He would have established your kingdom over Israel forever.

But now your kingdom will not endure. The Lord has sought a man after His own heart and appointed him ruler of His people, because you didn't obey the Lord's command."

Then Samuel departed from Gilgal and went up to Gibeah in Benjamin. Saul counted the men who were with him—about six hundred.

Saul, Jonathan his son, and their men stayed in Gibeah of Benjamin, while the Philistines camped at Michmash.

Raiding parties came from the Philistine camp in three groups: one headed toward Ophrah in the land of Shual, another toward Beth-horon, and the third toward the valley of Zeboim, facing the wilderness.

There were no blacksmiths to be found throughout Israel, because the Philistines had said, "Otherwise the Hebrews will make swords or spears."

So the Israelites went down to the Philistines to sharpen their plowshares, mattocks, axes, and sickles.

The charge was two-thirds of a shekel for sharpening plowshares and mattocks, and one-third for pitchforks, axes, and ox goads.

So on the day of battle, neither sword nor spear was found in the hands of any of the troops with Saul and Jonathan. Only Saul and Jonathan had them.

A Philistine garrison went out to the pass at Michmash.

Key Lessons from 1 Samuel Chapter 13 – Crawford Standard Bible

1. Spiritual impatience destroys divine opportunities.

Saul's failure to wait for God's appointed prophet cost him the eternal stability of his kingdom.

2. Good intentions don't excuse disobedience.

Offering the sacrifice without Samuel may have seemed noble, but it violated God's instruction.

3. God desires a heart of obedience, not merely outward action.

Saul's outward offering could not cover his inward rebellion. God chose a man after His own heart—David.

4. Fear can cloud faith and lead to folly.

When pressure mounted, Saul acted out of fear rather than faith, resulting in grave consequences.

5. Dependence on the enemy leads to spiritual weakness.

Israel relied on the Philistines to sharpen their tools—a powerful symbol of how compromised they had become.

1 Samuel Chapter 14 — Crawford Standard Bible

Jonathan's Bold Faith

Verses 1–15

1 One day, Jonathan, Saul's son, said to the young man carrying his armor, "Come on, let's cross over to the Philistine outpost on the other side." But he didn't tell his father.

2 Saul was staying on the outskirts of Gibeah under a pomegranate tree at Migron. About six hundred men were with him.

3 Ahijah the priest was there too. He was the son of Ahitub (Ichabod's brother), the son of Phinehas, the son of Eli—the Lord's priest in Shiloh. He was wearing the priestly ephod. Nobody knew Jonathan had left the camp.

4 To get to the Philistine outpost, Jonathan had to pass between two sharp cliffs. One was called Bozez, the other Seneh.

5 One cliff faced north toward Michmash, and the other faced south toward Geba.

6 Jonathan said to his armor-bearer, "Let's go to the outpost of those uncircumcised men. Maybe the Lord will help us. Nothing can stop the Lord from saving people—whether by many or by few."

7 His armor-bearer replied, “Do whatever you think is best. I’m with you all the way.”

8 Jonathan said, “Here’s the plan: we’ll cross over and let them see us.

9 If they say, ‘Stay where you are, and we’ll come down to you,’ we won’t go up to them.

10 But if they say, ‘Come up here,’ then we’ll go up. That will be the sign that the Lord has handed them over to us.”

11 So both of them let the Philistine outpost see them. The Philistines said, “Look! The Hebrews are crawling out of the holes they were hiding in!”

12 Then the Philistine men shouted, “Come up here and we’ll teach you a lesson!” Jonathan told his armor-bearer, “Follow me. The Lord has handed them over to Israel!”

13 Jonathan climbed up using his hands and feet, with his armor-bearer right behind him. As they climbed, the Philistines fell before Jonathan, and his armor-bearer killed those who came behind.

14 In that first attack, Jonathan and his armor-bearer killed about twenty men in a space of about half an acre.

15 Panic struck the Philistine camp, the field, and all the soldiers—even the raiding parties trembled. The earth shook, and everyone knew it was a move of God.

God Brings Confusion to the Enemy

Verses 16–23

16 Saul’s watchmen in Gibeah of Benjamin looked out and saw the Philistine army scattering in every direction.

17 Saul said to the troops with him, “Take a roll call and see who’s missing.” When they did, they discovered that Jonathan and his armor-bearer were gone.

18 Saul said to Ahijah, “Bring the Ark of God here.” (At that time the Ark of God was with the Israelites.)

19 While Saul was speaking to the priest, the confusion in the Philistine camp kept getting worse. So Saul said to the priest, “Withdraw your hand.” (He cut the inquiry short.)

20 Then Saul and all his men gathered and went to the battle. They found the Philistines in complete confusion—fighting each other with their swords.

21 Even the Hebrews who had earlier sided with the Philistines and had joined their army turned back to fight with the Israelites who were with Saul and Jonathan.

22 When all the Israelites hiding in the hill country of Ephraim heard that the Philistines were fleeing, they came out and joined the chase.

23 So the Lord rescued Israel that day, and the battle moved on past Beth-aven.

Saul's Foolish Oath

Verses 24–35

24 That day the Israelite army was worn out because Saul had made them take a vow, saying, “Cursed is the man who eats anything before evening, until I have taken revenge on my enemies.” So no one ate anything.

25 Everyone went into a forest, and there was honey on the ground.

26 The honey was dripping, but no one dared to touch it because of the oath.

27 But Jonathan hadn't heard about his father's oath, so he dipped the end of his staff into a honeycomb and ate some. His eyes lit up with energy.

28 Then someone said, “Your father put the army under a strict oath: ‘Cursed is anyone who eats today.’ That's why everyone is so weak.”

29 Jonathan said, “My father has made trouble for the land. Look how my eyes brightened after just a little honey.

30 Imagine how much better we could have fought today if the army had been allowed to eat some of the plunder from our enemies. The victory would have been even greater!”

31 That day they struck down the Philistines from Michmash to Aijalon, but the soldiers were completely exhausted.

32 They rushed on the plunder, grabbed sheep, cattle, and calves, and slaughtered them on the ground. They ate the meat without draining the blood.

33 Someone told Saul, “Look, the people are sinning against the Lord by eating meat with the blood.” Saul said, “You've committed a sin. Roll a large stone over here right now.”

34 Then he said, “Go among the troops and tell them: ‘Each of you bring your ox or sheep and kill it here. Don't sin by eating meat with the blood.’” So each man brought his animal and killed it there.

35 Saul built an altar to the Lord. This was the first altar he ever built for the Lord.

Casting Lots and Jonathan's Near Death

Verses 36–46

36 Saul said, “Let's go after the Philistines tonight and loot them until morning. Let's not leave one of them alive!” The men replied, “Do whatever seems best to you.” But the priest said, “Let's ask God first.”

37 So Saul asked God, “Should I go after the Philistines? Will you give them into Israel's hand?” But God didn't answer him that day.

38 Then Saul said, “All you leaders, come here. Let's find out what sin was committed today.

39 As surely as the Lord who rescues Israel lives—even if it’s my son Jonathan—he must die.” But no one among the people said a word.

40 Then Saul said, “You all stand over there, and Jonathan and I will stand over here.” The people replied, “Do what you think is best.”

41 Then Saul prayed, “Lord God of Israel, give us a clear answer.” Jonathan and Saul were chosen by lot, and the rest of the men were cleared.

42 Then Saul said, “Cast lots between me and Jonathan.” And Jonathan was chosen.

43 Saul said to Jonathan, “Tell me what you’ve done.” Jonathan answered, “I only tasted a little honey from the end of my staff. Do I have to die?”

44 Saul said, “May God strike me if you don’t die, Jonathan!”

45 But the people said to Saul, “Should Jonathan die after bringing this great victory to Israel? Never! As surely as the Lord lives, not one hair on his head will fall to the ground. He worked with God today.” So the people rescued Jonathan, and he wasn’t put to death.

46 Then Saul called off the pursuit of the Philistines, and they returned to their own land.

Saul’s Reign and Military Successes

Verses 47–52

47 After Saul became king over Israel, he fought against Israel’s enemies on every side—Moab, Ammon, Edom, the kings of Zobah, and the Philistines. Wherever he turned, he was victorious.

48 He built a strong army and attacked the Amalekites, saving Israel from those who had been robbing them.

49 Saul’s sons were Jonathan, Ishvi, and Malchishua. His daughters were Merab (the older) and Michal (the younger).

50 Saul’s wife was Ahinoam, the daughter of Ahimaaz. The commander of his army was Abner, son of Ner, Saul’s uncle.

51 Saul’s father Kish and Abner’s father Ner were both sons of Abiel.

52 There was fierce war with the Philistines throughout Saul’s lifetime. Whenever Saul saw a strong or brave man, he recruited him into his army.

Key Lessons from 1 Samuel Chapter 14

- Faith in action invites God's power – Jonathan trusted God could work with few or many. God honored that boldness.

- God uses the weak to confuse the strong – Two men triggered panic in an entire army through God's power.
- Leaders must avoid rash decisions – Saul's foolish oath weakened his troops and nearly cost his son's life.
- God's silence is a signal – When God didn't answer Saul, it revealed a need for introspection and repentance.
- The people of God must speak up – Jonathan was spared because the people stood against injustice—even when it came from their king.

1 Samuel Chapter 15 — Crawford Standard Bible

God's Command to Destroy Amalek

Verses 1–3

1 Samuel said to Saul, "The Lord sent me to anoint you as king over His people Israel. Now listen carefully to what the Lord is saying.

2 This is what the Lord of Heaven's Armies says: 'I remember what Amalek did to Israel—how they ambushed them on the way out of Egypt.

3 Now go and completely destroy the Amalekites and everything they have. Do not spare anyone—kill every man, woman, child, infant, ox, sheep, camel, and donkey.'"

Saul's Partial Obedience

Verses 4–9

4 So Saul gathered the army and counted them at Telaim: two hundred thousand foot soldiers and ten thousand men from Judah.

5 Saul went to the city of Amalek and waited in ambush in the valley.

6 Saul said to the Kenites, "Leave the Amalekites so I don't destroy you along with them. You showed kindness to the Israelites when they came out of Egypt." So the Kenites moved away from the Amalekites.

7 Then Saul attacked the Amalekites from Havilah all the way to Shur, near the border of Egypt.

8 He captured Agag, king of the Amalekites, alive but destroyed all the rest of the people with the sword.

9 But Saul and the army spared Agag and kept the best of the sheep, oxen, fat calves, and lambs—everything that looked good. They were unwilling to destroy those things completely, but they destroyed everything that was worthless or of poor quality.

God Rejects Saul

Verses 10–16

10 Then the word of the Lord came to Samuel:

11 “I regret making Saul king, because he has turned away from Me and has not carried out My instructions.” Samuel was deeply troubled and cried out to the Lord all night.

12 Early the next morning, Samuel went to find Saul. Someone told him, “Saul went to Carmel. He set up a monument for himself, then went down to Gilgal.”

13 When Samuel reached him, Saul said, “May the Lord bless you! I’ve carried out the Lord’s command.”

14 But Samuel said, “Then why do I hear sheep bleating and cattle lowing?”

15 Saul answered, “The soldiers brought them from the Amalekites. They spared the best sheep and oxen to sacrifice to the Lord your God. But we destroyed everything else.”

16 Samuel said to Saul, “Stop! Let me tell you what the Lord told me last night.” Saul said, “Go ahead.”

To Obey Is Better Than Sacrifice

Verses 17–23

17 Samuel said, “Even though you saw yourself as insignificant, weren’t you made the leader of the tribes of Israel? The Lord anointed you king over Israel.

18 He sent you on a mission, saying, ‘Go and completely destroy those sinners—the Amalekites—until they’re wiped out.’

19 So why didn’t you obey the Lord? Why did you rush for the plunder and do what was evil in His sight?”

20 Saul said, “But I did obey the Lord! I went on the mission He gave me. I brought back Agag, the king of Amalek, and I destroyed the Amalekites.

21 The soldiers kept the best sheep and cattle from the plunder to sacrifice to the Lord your God in Gilgal.”

22 But Samuel replied,
“Does the Lord take pleasure in burnt offerings and sacrifices as much as in obedience?
Look, to obey is better than sacrifice, and listening is better than offering the fat of rams.

23 Rebellion is as sinful as witchcraft, and stubbornness is as bad as idolatry.
Because you have rejected the word of the Lord, He has rejected you as king.”

Saul’s Confession and the Consequences

Verses 24–31

24 Then Saul said to Samuel, “I have sinned. I disobeyed the Lord’s command and your instructions because I was afraid of the people and gave in to them.

25 Please forgive my sin and come back with me so I can worship the Lord.”

26 But Samuel said, “I will not go back with you. You rejected the word of the Lord, and the Lord has rejected you as king of Israel.”

27 As Samuel turned to leave, Saul grabbed the edge of his robe, and it tore.

28 Samuel said, “The Lord has torn the kingdom of Israel away from you today and given it to someone else—someone better than you.

29 And He who is the Strength of Israel doesn’t lie or change His mind. He is not a man who changes His mind.”

30 Saul replied, “I have sinned. But please honor me in front of the elders and the people. Come back with me so I can worship the Lord your God.”

31 So Samuel went back with Saul, and Saul worshiped the Lord.

The Judgment of Agag

Verses 32–35

32 Then Samuel said, “Bring me Agag, king of the Amalekites.” Agag came to him cheerfully, thinking, “Surely the worst is past.”

33 But Samuel said, “Just as your sword has made mothers childless, so your mother will be childless among women.” Then Samuel cut Agag to pieces before the Lord at Gilgal.

34 Samuel went back to Ramah, and Saul returned to his home in Gibeah.

35 Samuel never saw Saul again until the day of Samuel’s death, though he mourned for him. And the Lord regretted making Saul king over Israel.

Key Lessons from 1 Samuel Chapter 15

- Partial obedience is disobedience – Saul obeyed God in part but chose to do things his own way. God desires full surrender, not selective compliance.
- True worship flows from obedience – God is more pleased with our obedience than with our religious acts or sacrifices.
- Leadership requires courage to stand alone – Saul feared the people more than he feared God. That cost him the kingdom.
- Rebellion equals spiritual treason – Samuel compared disobedience and stubbornness to witchcraft and idolatry. Sin in leadership carries heavy consequences.
- God’s decisions are final – Though Saul begged, the Lord had already made His judgment. Repentance must come with humility, not damage control.
- Justice delayed is not justice denied – Agag thought he escaped judgment, but God's justice through Samuel was swift and final.

1 Samuel Chapter 16 — Crawford Standard Bible

A New King is Chosen

Verses 1–5

1 The Lord said to Samuel, “How long are you going to mourn for Saul? I’ve rejected him as king over Israel. Fill your horn with oil and go. I’m sending you to Jesse of Bethlehem, because I’ve chosen one of his sons to be king.”

2 Samuel said, “How can I go? If Saul hears about it, he’ll kill me!”

The Lord replied, “Take a young cow with you and say, ‘I’ve come to offer a sacrifice to the Lord.’”

3 Invite Jesse to the sacrifice, and I’ll show you what to do. You’ll anoint the one I point out to you.”

4 So Samuel did what the Lord said. When he arrived in Bethlehem, the town elders were afraid and asked, “Do you come in peace?”

5 Samuel replied, “Yes, I come in peace. I’m here to offer a sacrifice to the Lord. Purify yourselves and come with me.” He invited Jesse and his sons to the sacrifice and consecrated them as well.

God Looks at the Heart

Verses 6–13

6 When they arrived, Samuel saw Eliab and thought, “Surely this is the Lord’s anointed!”

7 But the Lord said to Samuel, “Don’t look at how tall or impressive he is. I’ve rejected him. The Lord doesn’t see things the way people do. People judge by outward appearance, but the Lord looks at the heart.”

8 Then Jesse called Abinadab and made him pass in front of Samuel. But Samuel said, “The Lord hasn’t chosen him either.”

9 Next Jesse presented Shammah. But Samuel said, “No, not this one either.”

10 Jesse had seven of his sons pass before Samuel, but Samuel said, “The Lord hasn’t chosen any of these.”

11 Then Samuel asked, “Are these all your sons?”

Jesse replied, “There’s still the youngest, but he’s out taking care of the sheep.”

Samuel said, “Send for him. We won’t sit down to eat until he gets here.”

12 So Jesse sent for him. David was ruddy, with beautiful eyes and a handsome appearance.

Then the Lord said, “Get up and anoint him. He’s the one.”

13 Samuel took the horn of oil and anointed David in front of his brothers. From that day on, the Spirit of the Lord came powerfully upon David. Then Samuel went back to Ramah.

The Spirit Leaves Saul

Verses 14–18

14 Meanwhile, the Spirit of the Lord left Saul, and the Lord allowed an evil spirit to torment him.

15 Saul’s servants said, “An evil spirit from God is troubling you.

16 Let us find someone who can play the harp skillfully. When the spirit troubles you, he can play and you’ll feel better.”

17 Saul said, “Find me someone who plays well and bring him here.”

18 One of the servants said, “I’ve seen a son of Jesse from Bethlehem. He plays the harp well. He’s a brave warrior, a man of war, wise in speech, good-looking—and the Lord is with him.”

David Enters Saul’s Service

Verses 19–23

19 So Saul sent messengers to Jesse, saying, “Send me your son David, the one who’s watching the sheep.”

20 Jesse packed a donkey with bread, a bottle of wine, and a young goat, and sent them to Saul with David.

21 David came to Saul and entered his service. Saul loved him deeply and made him his armor-bearer.

22 Then Saul sent word to Jesse, saying, “Please let David stay and serve me, because I’m pleased with him.”

23 Whenever the evil spirit came upon Saul, David would play the harp. Then Saul would feel relief and be well again, and the evil spirit would leave him.

Key Lessons from 1 Samuel Chapter 16

- God sees beyond appearances – While people look at the outside, God chooses based on the heart. David wasn’t the obvious choice, but he was God’s choice.
- Obedience requires courage – Samuel had to risk his life to follow God’s will. Obedience to God can be dangerous, but it’s always right.
- Anointing doesn’t always bring immediate promotion – David was anointed king but went back to being a servant. God’s timing and preparation come before public elevation.
- God raises new leaders when old ones fail – As Saul declined spiritually, David rose in God’s favor. God is always preparing the next person for His purposes.
- Worship brings peace – David’s music helped calm Saul’s troubled spirit. God can use worship to bring healing, even to those who are tormented.

1 Samuel Chapter 17 — Crawford Standard Bible

The Champion of Gath

Verses 1–11

1 The Philistines gathered their armies for battle at Socoh in Judah. They camped between Socoh and Azekah, at Ephes-dammim.

2 Saul and the men of Israel camped in the Valley of Elah and lined up in battle formation against the Philistines.

3 The Philistines stood on one hill, and the Israelites stood on another, with a valley between them.

4 A champion named Goliath, from Gath, came out of the Philistine camp. He was over nine feet tall.

5 He wore a bronze helmet and a coat of chainmail that weighed about 125 pounds.

6 He also wore bronze armor on his legs and carried a bronze javelin on his back.

7 His spear shaft was like a weaver’s beam, and the spearhead alone weighed fifteen pounds. A man carrying a shield walked ahead of him.

8 Goliath stood and shouted to the Israelite army, “Why are you lining up for battle? Am I not a Philistine, and aren’t you Saul’s servants? Choose a man to come fight me.

9 If he can fight me and kill me, we'll be your servants. But if I win and kill him, you'll be our servants."

10 Then Goliath said, "I defy the armies of Israel today! Send me a man, and we'll fight!"

11 When Saul and all Israel heard this, they were terrified.

David Is Sent to the Battlefield

Verses 12–22

12 David was the son of Jesse, from Bethlehem in Judah. Jesse had eight sons and was an old man during Saul's reign.

13 Jesse's three oldest sons—Eliab, Abinadab, and Shammah—had joined Saul's army.

14 David was the youngest. The three oldest followed Saul,

15 but David went back and forth between Saul and tending his father's sheep in Bethlehem.

16 Goliath came out every morning and evening for forty days, mocking Israel.

17 One day, Jesse said to David, "Take this basket of roasted grain and these ten loaves of bread to your brothers at the camp.

18 Also take these ten cheeses to their commanding officer. See how your brothers are doing and bring back a report."

19 Saul and all the men of Israel were fighting the Philistines in the Valley of Elah.

20 Early the next morning, David left the sheep with another shepherd, took the supplies, and went as Jesse had told him. He reached the camp just as the army was marching out to the battle lines shouting their war cries.

21 Israel and the Philistines faced off, army against army.

22 David left his things with the supply keeper and ran to the front lines to greet his brothers.

David Hears the Challenge

Verses 23–31

23 While David was talking with them, Goliath the Philistine champion came out from his usual spot and shouted his challenge again. David heard him.

24 When the Israelites saw Goliath, they ran away in great fear.

25 "Have you seen this man?" the soldiers said. "He comes out to insult Israel every day. The king has promised a huge reward to anyone who kills him. He'll even give him his daughter in marriage and exempt his family from taxes."

26 David asked the men nearby, “What will be done for the one who kills this Philistine and removes this disgrace from Israel? Who is this uncircumcised Philistine who dares to defy the army of the living God?”

27 The men told him the same thing—they repeated what the reward would be.

28 But when David’s oldest brother Eliab heard him talking, he got angry. “Why did you come here? And who’s watching those few sheep back home? I know how proud you are—you just wanted to see the battle!”

29 “What did I do now?” David replied. “Can’t I even ask a question?”

30 Then he turned away from his brother and asked someone else, and he got the same answer.

31 When people heard what David was saying, they told Saul, and Saul sent for him.

David Volunteers to Fight

Verses 32–40

32 David told Saul, “Don’t worry about this Philistine. I’ll go fight him!”

33 Saul said, “You can’t fight him—you’re just a boy, and he’s been a warrior since his youth.”

34 But David replied, “I’ve been taking care of my father’s sheep. When a lion or bear came and took a lamb, 35 I went after it, struck it, and rescued the lamb. If the animal turned on me, I grabbed it by the jaw and killed it.

36 I’ve killed lions and bears—and this Philistine will be just like them because he has defied the armies of the living God.

37 The Lord who saved me from the lion and the bear will save me from this Philistine.”

Saul said, “Go ahead—and may the Lord be with you.”

38 Then Saul gave David his own armor—bronze helmet, coat of mail.

39 David put it on, strapped on Saul’s sword, and tried walking around, but he couldn’t move well. He said, “I can’t go in these. I’m not used to them.” So he took them off.

40 He took his staff, picked five smooth stones from the brook, put them in his shepherd’s bag, grabbed his sling, and approached Goliath.

David and Goliath

Verses 41–54

41 Goliath came forward, with his shield-bearer in front of him.

42 When he saw David, he looked down on him with scorn—he was just a boy, tanned and handsome.

43 “Am I a dog,” Goliath shouted, “that you come at me with a stick?” And he cursed David by his gods.

44 “Come over here,” he said, “and I’ll feed your body to the birds and wild animals!”

45 But David replied, “You come at me with sword, spear, and javelin. But I come at you in the name of the Lord of Heaven’s Armies—the God of Israel’s armies, whom you’ve defied.

46 Today the Lord will hand you over to me. I’ll kill you and cut off your head. Then I’ll feed the bodies of your army to the birds and wild animals. The whole world will know there is a God in Israel.

47 And everyone here will know that the Lord doesn’t need swords or spears to save. The battle belongs to the Lord—and He will give you to us!”

48 As Goliath moved in to attack, David ran quickly toward him.

49 He reached into his bag, pulled out a stone, slung it, and struck Goliath in the forehead. The stone sank in, and Goliath fell face down to the ground.

50 David defeated Goliath with a sling and a stone. He killed the giant, and he didn’t even have a sword.

51 Then David ran and stood over Goliath. He pulled the Philistine’s sword from its sheath, killed him, and cut off his head.

When the Philistines saw their champion was dead, they ran away.

52 The men of Israel and Judah gave a great shout and chased them to the gates of Ekron. The Philistines’ bodies were scattered along the road from Shaaraim to Gath and Ekron.

53 After the battle, the Israelites returned and looted the Philistine camp.

54 David took Goliath’s head to Jerusalem, but he kept the giant’s armor in his own tent.

David Is Recognized

Verses 55–58

55 When Saul saw David go out to face Goliath, he asked Abner, the commander of the army, “Whose son is that young man?”

Abner replied, “As surely as you live, I don’t know.”

56 The king said, “Find out who his father is.”

57 As David returned after killing Goliath, Abner brought him before Saul. David was still holding Goliath’s head.

58 “Whose son are you, young man?” Saul asked.

David replied, “I’m the son of your servant Jesse from Bethlehem.”

Key Lessons from 1 Samuel Chapter 17

1 Samuel Chapter 18 — Crawford Standard Bible

Jonathan and David's Covenant Friendship

Verses 1–5

1 After David finished speaking with Saul, Jonathan's heart was knit to David's, and he loved him as much as he loved his own life.

2 From that day on, Saul kept David with him and didn't let him return to his father's house.

3 Jonathan made a covenant with David because he loved him deeply.

4 He took off his robe and gave it to David—along with his tunic, sword, bow, and belt.

5 David went out and did everything Saul asked him to do wisely. Saul put him in charge of the army, and all the people, including Saul's officers, were pleased with him.

Jealousy Begins to Grow

Verses 6–9

6 As they were returning home after David had killed the Philistine, women came out from all the towns of Israel to meet King Saul. They sang and danced with joy, playing tambourines and other musical instruments.

7 As they sang, the women replied to one another:

“Saul has killed his thousands, and David his tens of thousands.”

8 Saul became furious. He was deeply offended and said, “They’ve credited David with tens of thousands, but me with only thousands. What more can he get but the kingdom?”

9 From that day forward, Saul kept a jealous eye on David.

Saul Tries to Kill David

Verses 10–16

10 The very next day, an evil spirit from God overwhelmed Saul, and he began to rave in his house. David was playing the harp as usual, but Saul had a spear in his hand.

11 Suddenly, Saul threw the spear at David, saying to himself, “I’ll pin him to the wall!” But David escaped him—twice.

12 Saul was afraid of David because the Lord was with David but had left Saul.

13 So Saul removed David from his presence and put him in command of a thousand soldiers. David led them in and out of battle.

14 David continued to succeed in everything he did, because the Lord was with him.

15 When Saul saw how successful David was, he became even more afraid of him.

16 But all Israel and Judah loved David because he led them bravely in battle.

Saul’s Plot with His Daughters

Verses 17–30

17 Then Saul said to David, “Here is my oldest daughter Merab. I’ll give her to you as your wife if you prove yourself brave and fight the Lord’s battles.” Saul thought, “I won’t kill him myself. I’ll let the Philistines do it.”

18 But David said to Saul, “Who am I, and what is my family in Israel, that I should marry the king’s daughter?”

19 But when the time came to give Merab to David, Saul gave her instead to Adriel of Meholah.

20 Saul’s other daughter, Michal, fell in love with David. When Saul found out, he was pleased.

21 He thought, “I’ll give her to him so she can be a trap for him, and the Philistines will kill him.” So Saul said to David, “Now you can be my son-in-law with this second daughter.”

22 Then Saul told his servants, “Talk to David in private and say, ‘The king really likes you, and so do his servants. Why not become the king’s son-in-law?’”

23 Saul’s servants gave David the message, but David said, “Does it seem like a small thing to become the king’s son-in-law? I’m just a poor and unimportant man.”

24 Saul's servants told him what David had said.

25 Saul replied, "Tell David the king doesn't want any dowry—just 100 Philistine foreskins as revenge on his enemies." But Saul's real plan was to get David killed by the Philistines.

26 When the servants told David, he was pleased with the offer. Before the deadline arrived, 27 David and his men went out and killed 200 Philistines. He brought back their foreskins and presented the full number to the king so he could marry the king's daughter. So Saul gave Michal to David as his wife.

28 Saul realized that the Lord was with David and that his daughter Michal truly loved him.

29 He became even more afraid of David. From then on, Saul was David's enemy for life.

30 Every time the Philistine commanders came out to fight, David had more success than all of Saul's other officers, and his name became very well known.

Key Lessons from 1 Samuel Chapter 18

- True friendship is selfless – Jonathan gave up his royal robe, sword, and status for David because he loved him as a brother.
- Jealousy corrupts hearts – Saul's envy of David's praise turned into hatred and murder attempts. Jealousy always destroys relationships.
- God honors those who walk in wisdom – David acted wisely in all situations, and God blessed him in battle and in leadership.
- Schemes cannot stop God's plans – Saul's plots to use his daughters and the Philistines to kill David all failed. God's anointed cannot be overthrown by man.
- Faithfulness brings favor – David's faithfulness earned him the love of the people, the respect of the army, and God's continuing presence.

1 Samuel Chapter 19 — Crawford Standard Bible

Jonathan Warns David

Verses 1–7

1 Saul told his son Jonathan and all his servants that they should kill David.

2 But Jonathan deeply loved David, so he warned him: "My father Saul is trying to kill you. Please be careful. Stay hidden until morning.

3 I'll go out and stand beside my father in the field where you are hiding. I'll talk to him about you, and if I learn anything, I'll let you know."

4 Jonathan spoke well of David to his father Saul and said, “Don’t sin against your servant David. He hasn’t wronged you. In fact, everything he’s done has helped you.

5 He risked his life to kill the Philistine, and the Lord gave Israel a great victory. You saw it and rejoiced. Why would you want to shed innocent blood by killing David for no reason?”

6 Saul listened to Jonathan and swore, “As surely as the Lord lives, David will not be killed.”

7 Then Jonathan told David everything. He brought David back to Saul, and David served him again like before.

Another Attempt on David’s Life

Verses 8–10

8 Once again, war broke out, and David went out and fought the Philistines. He struck them down with great force, and they fled before him.

9 But a harmful spirit from the Lord came on Saul while he was sitting in his house with a spear in his hand. David was playing the harp as he usually did.

10 Saul tried to pin David to the wall with his spear, but David dodged it, and the spear stuck in the wall. David ran away and escaped that night.

Michal Helps David Escape

Verses 11–17

11 Saul sent men to watch David’s house so they could kill him in the morning. But Michal, David’s wife, warned him, “If you don’t escape tonight, you’ll be dead by morning.”

12 So she helped David climb out through a window, and he fled and escaped.

13 Then Michal took an idol and laid it in the bed. She placed a pillow made of goat’s hair at the head and covered it with a blanket.

14 When Saul’s men came to take David, she said, “He’s sick.”

15 Saul sent the men back and said, “Bring him to me in his bed so I can kill him.”

16 But when they came in, they found the idol in the bed with the goat’s hair pillow.

17 Saul said to Michal, “Why did you deceive me like this and let my enemy get away?”

Michal answered, “He threatened me. He said, ‘Let me go, or I’ll kill you.’”

David Flees to Samuel

Verses 18–24

18 David fled to Samuel at Ramah and told him everything Saul had done. Then he and Samuel went to Naioth and stayed there.

19 Saul was told, “David is at Naioth in Ramah.”

20 So Saul sent men to capture David. But when they saw the group of prophets prophesying, with Samuel standing as their leader, the Spirit of God came upon Saul’s men, and they started prophesying too.

21 When Saul heard what happened, he sent more men, and they also began to prophesy. He sent a third group—and they too were overtaken by the Spirit and prophesied.

22 Finally, Saul himself went to Ramah. When he reached the large well at Sechu, he asked, “Where are Samuel and David?” Someone answered, “They’re at Naioth in Ramah.”

23 As Saul headed toward Naioth, the Spirit of God came upon him as well. He walked along prophesying until he reached Naioth.

24 Then Saul took off his clothes and prophesied in front of Samuel. He lay there naked all day and all night. This is why people say, “Is Saul also among the prophets?”

Key Lessons from 1 Samuel Chapter 19

- True friends protect in times of danger – Jonathan risked his own safety to warn David and speak up for him.
- God's anointing brings both favor and resistance – David’s success provoked Saul’s jealousy, yet God kept protecting him.
- God can frustrate the plans of the wicked – Every attempt by Saul to kill David failed. Even his messengers were overcome by the Spirit.
- God’s Spirit cannot be controlled – Saul tried to stop David but ended up stripped of power, dignity, and control as the Spirit overtook him.
- Loyalty may cost relationships – Michal chose to protect David over siding with her father, showing how loyalty to God’s anointed may create division.

1 Samuel Chapter 20 — Crawford Standard Bible

David Pleads with Jonathan

Verses 1–11

1 David fled from Naioth in Ramah and found Jonathan. He said, “What have I done? What is my crime? What sin have I committed that your father wants to kill me?”

2 Jonathan replied, “No way! You won’t die. My father doesn’t do anything great or small without telling me. Why would he hide this from me? It’s not true.”

3 But David insisted, “Your father knows we’re close. He probably said, ‘Don’t let Jonathan know or he’ll be upset.’ But I swear by the Lord and by your own life, there’s just a step between me and death!”

4 Jonathan said, “Whatever you want me to do, I’ll do it.”

5 David replied, “Tomorrow is the new moon festival, and I’m supposed to eat with the king. Let me go and hide in the field until the evening of the third day.

6 If your father asks where I am, tell him I went to Bethlehem for a family sacrifice. It’s an annual event, and my brothers insisted I come.

7 If he says, ‘Fine,’ then I’m safe. But if he gets angry, you’ll know he’s determined to harm me.

8 Be kind to me, since we’ve made a covenant before the Lord. But if I’ve done anything wrong, kill me yourself! Why hand me over to your father?”

9 Jonathan said, “Far be it from me to do that! If I find out my father plans to hurt you, I’ll definitely tell you.”

10 David asked, “But how will you let me know if your father answers you harshly?”

11 Jonathan said, “Let’s go out into the field together.” So they went.

Jonathan Makes a Covenant with David

Verses 12–23

12 Then Jonathan said, “I swear by the Lord God of Israel, I’ll sound out my father by tomorrow or the next day. If he’s favorably inclined toward you, I’ll let you know.

13 But if he intends to harm you, may the Lord punish me if I don’t warn you so you can escape safely. May the Lord be with you as He was with my father.

14 Show me the Lord’s kindness while I’m still alive, and don’t let me die.

15 And never stop showing kindness to my family—even when the Lord wipes out all your enemies from the earth.”

16 So Jonathan made a covenant with David’s house, saying, “May the Lord hold David’s enemies accountable.”

17 Jonathan had David swear again, because he loved him deeply—as much as he loved his own life.

18 Then Jonathan said, “Tomorrow is the new moon, and you’ll be missed because your seat will be empty.

19 On the third day, go to the place where you hid before. Wait by the stone marker.

20 I'll shoot three arrows to the side of it, as if I'm aiming at a target.

21 Then I'll send a boy to retrieve the arrows. If I say, 'Look, the arrows are on this side,' then come out—it's safe, and nothing is wrong.

22 But if I say, 'The arrows are beyond you,' then run, because the Lord is sending you away.

23 And remember the promise we made. The Lord is a witness between you and me forever.”

The Plan Is Set in Motion

Verses 24–34

24 So David hid in the field. When the new moon feast came, the king sat down to eat.

25 He sat at his usual seat by the wall. Jonathan sat across from him, and Abner sat next to Saul. But David's seat was empty.

26 Saul said nothing that day, thinking, “Something must have made David ceremonially unclean.”

27 But on the second day of the feast, David's seat was still empty. Saul asked Jonathan, “Why hasn't the son of Jesse come to the meal yesterday or today?”

28 Jonathan replied, “David asked me for permission to go to Bethlehem.

29 He said, 'Please let me go because our family is offering a sacrifice, and my brother asked me to be there.' That's why he isn't here.”

30 Saul flew into a rage and shouted at Jonathan, “You son of a rebellious woman! Don't you realize you've chosen David to your own shame and to the disgrace of your mother?

31 As long as he lives, you'll never be king! Now go and bring him to me—he must die!”

32 Jonathan said, “Why should he be put to death? What has he done?”

33 Saul threw his spear at Jonathan to kill him. Then Jonathan knew for sure that his father intended to kill David.

34 Jonathan left the table in fierce anger and didn't eat all that day. He was grieved over David and ashamed of his father's actions.

The Final Farewell

Verses 35–42

35 The next morning, Jonathan went to the field to meet David, taking a young boy with him.

36 He said to the boy, “Run and find the arrows I shoot.” As the boy ran, he shot an arrow beyond him.

37 When the boy reached the spot where the arrow landed, Jonathan shouted, “Isn't the arrow beyond you?”

38 He added, “Hurry! Don’t stop!” The boy gathered the arrows and brought them back to Jonathan.

39 But the boy knew nothing about the true meaning of the signal—only Jonathan and David knew.

40 Jonathan gave his bow and arrows to the boy and told him, “Take these back to the city.”

41 After the boy left, David came out from the hiding place. He bowed to the ground three times and they kissed one another and wept—David wept the most.

42 Then Jonathan said, “Go in peace. We have sworn loyalty in the name of the Lord, saying, ‘The Lord is witness between you and me and between your descendants and mine forever.’”

Then David left, and Jonathan returned to the city.

Key Lessons from 1 Samuel Chapter 20

- True friends speak truth with compassion – David and Jonathan’s relationship was built on honesty, loyalty, and trust, even in life-threatening situations.
- Covenants are sacred – Their covenant before God was binding, lasting beyond their lifetimes, affecting their descendants.
- Godly friendships may require sacrifice – Jonathan stood against his own father and gave up the throne for David’s sake.
- Jealousy blinds even the powerful – Saul was so consumed with envy that he tried to kill both David and Jonathan.
- God provides a way of escape – Through Jonathan’s courage and David’s trust, God made a way of protection even in dangerous times.

1 Samuel Chapter 21 — Crawford Standard Bible

David at Nob

Verses 1–6

1 David went to Nob, to Ahimelech the priest. Ahimelech was afraid when he saw David and asked, “Why are you alone? Why is no one with you?”

2 David answered, “The king sent me on a mission and said, ‘Don’t tell anyone what I’m sending you to do.’ I told my men to meet me at a certain place.

3 Now, what food do you have? Give me five loaves of bread or whatever you can find.”

4 The priest replied, “I don’t have any regular bread here. But I do have holy bread—if your men have kept themselves from women.”

5 David said, “Yes, we haven’t been with any women. We’ve been ceremonially clean for the last three days. Even when our missions are ordinary, we stay clean, and today’s mission is sacred.”

6 So the priest gave him the holy bread—the bread of the Presence that had been taken from before the Lord and replaced with fresh loaves.

Goliath’s Sword and a Dangerous Witness

Verses 7–9

7 Now one of Saul’s servants was there that day, detained before the Lord. His name was Doeg the Edomite, Saul’s chief shepherd.

8 David asked Ahimelech, “Do you have a sword or spear here? I didn’t bring my own weapons because the king’s mission was urgent.”

9 The priest said, “The only weapon here is the sword of Goliath the Philistine, the one you killed in the Valley of Elah. It’s wrapped in a cloth behind the ephod. If you want it, take it—there’s no other here.”

David said, “There’s none like it. Give it to me.”

David Flees to Gath

Verses 10–15

10 That day David fled from Saul and went to King Achish of Gath.

11 But Achish’s servants said, “Isn’t this David, the king of the land? Isn’t he the one they sing about in their dances: ‘Saul has killed his thousands, and David his tens of thousands’?”

12 David took their words to heart and was very afraid of King Achish.

13 So he pretended to be insane while he was in their hands. He acted like a madman, scratching on the doors of the gate and letting drool run down his beard.

14 Achish said to his servants, “Look at the man! He’s clearly insane. Why bring him to me?”

15 Do I lack madmen that you’ve brought this guy to act crazy in front of me? Should he be allowed in my house?”

Key Lessons from 1 Samuel Chapter 21

- God provides in unexpected ways – David received sacred bread in a time of desperation, reminding us that God's provision may not come in the way we expect.
- Integrity still matters under pressure – David wasn’t completely honest with Ahimelech, and this deception would lead to serious consequences in the next chapter.

- Weapons don't guarantee safety—God does – David asked for a sword, but ultimately, it was not Goliath's weapon that protected him, but God's guidance.
- Fear can lead to strange actions – David's fear of Achish caused him to pretend to be insane. Even the strongest can falter under pressure, yet God still works through our weakness.
- One wrong witness can change everything – Doeg's presence would lead to tragedy later, showing that actions done in secret may still have consequences.

1 Samuel Chapter 22 — Crawford Standard Bible

David's Growing Band of Followers

Verses 1–2

1 David left Gath and escaped to the cave of Adullam. When his brothers and all his father's household heard, they went down to join him there.

2 Everyone who was in trouble, in debt, or dissatisfied with life gathered around David. He became their leader, and about four hundred men joined him.

David Seeks Safety for His Parents

Verses 3–5

3 From there, David went to Mizpeh in Moab. He said to the king of Moab, "Please allow my father and mother to stay with you until I know what God is going to do with me."

4 So he left them with the king of Moab, and they stayed there the whole time David was in the stronghold.

5 Then the prophet Gad said to David, "Don't stay in the stronghold. Go back to the land of Judah." So David left and went to the forest of Hereth.

Saul's Growing Paranoia

Verses 6–8

6 Saul heard that David and his men had been discovered. He was staying in Gibeah, sitting under a tamarisk tree on the hill, holding his spear, with all his officials standing around him.

7 Saul said to them, "Listen up, men of Benjamin! Do you really think the son of Jesse will give you fields and vineyards? Will he make you all commanders of thousands and hundreds?"

8 Is that why you've all conspired against me? No one told me my own son made a pact with the son of Jesse! None of you is concerned for me or told me that my son has stirred up David to lie in wait and kill me!"

Doeg Betrays the Priests

Verses 9–10

9 Then Doeg the Edomite, who was in charge of Saul's shepherds, said, "I saw the son of Jesse come to Ahimelech the priest in Nob.

10 Ahimelech asked the Lord for guidance for him, gave him food, and even gave him the sword of Goliath the Philistine."

Saul Orders the Priests Killed

Verses 11–19

11 Saul ordered Ahimelech and all his family—the priests from Nob—to come to him, and they all came.

12 Saul said, "Listen, son of Ahitub." "Yes, my lord," Ahimelech answered.

13 Saul asked, "Why have you and the son of Jesse conspired against me? You gave him food and a sword, and you asked God for guidance for him so he could rise up against me!"

14 Ahimelech answered, "Who among all your servants is as faithful as David? He's your son-in-law, captain of your bodyguard, and honored in your house!

15 Was this the first time I asked God for him? Of course not! But please, don't blame me or my family. I didn't know anything about this."

16 But the king said, "You will surely die, Ahimelech—you and your entire family."

17 Then the king ordered his guards, "Kill the priests of the Lord, because they supported David. They knew he was fleeing but didn't tell me." But the king's servants refused to raise their swords against the priests of the Lord.

18 Then Saul said to Doeg, "You do it." So Doeg the Edomite turned and killed the priests—eighty-five men who wore the linen ephod.

19 Then he went to Nob, the city of the priests, and killed men, women, children, infants, oxen, donkeys, and sheep—everything. He slaughtered them all with the sword.

Abiathar Escapes to David

Verses 20–23

20 But one son of Ahimelech escaped—his name was Abiathar. He fled and joined David.

21 Abiathar told David that Saul had killed the Lord’s priests.

22 David said, “I knew it that day when Doeg the Edomite was there. I knew he would tell Saul. I am responsible for the deaths of your entire family.

23 Stay with me and don’t be afraid. The one who wants to kill me wants to kill you too. But with me, you’ll be safe.”

Key Lessons from 1 Samuel Chapter 22

- God gathers the broken for His purposes – David’s first followers were distressed, in debt, and discontent. God often uses the outcasts to build His kingdom.
- True leaders protect their own – David made sure his aging parents were safe during his time of uncertainty. Leadership means responsibility.
- Paranoia leads to cruelty – Saul’s unchecked jealousy and fear led him to accuse and murder innocent priests, further confirming his downfall.
- God’s servants may suffer under evil kings – Even faithful priests like Ahimelech were not spared from Saul’s wrath. Righteousness doesn’t always mean safety—but it does mean reward in God’s sight.
- One survivor can carry the torch – Abiathar escaped and became an important priest in David’s life, showing that even in tragedy, God preserves a remnant.
- David accepts responsibility – Though it wasn’t his intention, David acknowledged the consequences of his actions and offered protection to the one who survived.

1 Samuel Chapter 23 — Crawford Standard Bible

David Rescues Keilah

Verses 1–6

1 People came to David with news: “The Philistines are attacking Keilah and stealing grain from the threshing floors!”

2 David asked the Lord, “Should I go and fight the Philistines?”
The Lord replied, “Yes, go and attack them and save Keilah.”

3 But David’s men said, “We’re already afraid here in Judah. How much more if we go to Keilah and fight the Philistine army?”

4 So David asked the Lord again. The Lord answered, “Go down to Keilah. I will hand the Philistines over to you.”

5 So David and his men went to Keilah, fought the Philistines, took their livestock, and struck them with a strong blow. David saved the people of Keilah.

6 (When Abiathar, son of Ahimelech, fled to David at Keilah, he brought the priestly ephod with him.)

Saul Hunts David in Keilah

Verses 7–13

7 When Saul heard that David was in Keilah, he said, “God has handed him over to me. He’s trapped in a city with gates and bars!”

8 So Saul gathered all his troops to go down and attack David and his men at Keilah.

9 David learned that Saul was plotting evil against him and said to Abiathar the priest, “Bring the ephod!”

10 David prayed, “Lord God of Israel, I’ve heard Saul is planning to come and destroy Keilah because of me.

11 Will the people of Keilah hand me over to him? Will Saul come down?”
The Lord replied, “Yes, he will come down.”

12 David asked, “Will the people of Keilah betray me and my men to Saul?”
The Lord answered, “Yes, they will.”

13 So David and his men, now about six hundred strong, left Keilah and wandered wherever they could. When Saul found out David had escaped, he didn’t go to Keilah.

God Protects David in the Wilderness

Verses 14–18

14 David stayed in the wilderness strongholds, living in the hill country of Ziph. Saul searched for him every day, but God didn’t allow Saul to capture him.

15 While David was at Horesh in the wilderness of Ziph, he learned that Saul was still trying to take his life.

16 Jonathan, Saul’s son, went to David and encouraged him in the Lord.

17 Jonathan said, “Don’t be afraid. My father Saul will never find you. You will be king over Israel, and I will be second to you. My father knows this too.”

18 So they made a covenant before the Lord. David stayed in Horesh, and Jonathan went home.

The Ziphites Betray David

Verses 19–23

19 The Ziphites went to Saul at Gibeah and said, “David is hiding with us in the strongholds at Horesh, on the hill of Hachilah, south of Jeshimon.

20 Come down, O king, and we’ll hand him over to you.”

21 Saul replied, “May the Lord bless you for caring about me.

22 Go find out exactly where he’s hiding and who’s seen him there. I hear he’s very clever.

23 Learn all the places he hides and come back with accurate information. Then I’ll come with you and track him down—even if I have to search every town in Judah.”

David Escapes at the Last Minute

Verses 24–29

24 The Ziphites went ahead to Saul, but David and his men were already in the wilderness of Maon, south of Jeshimon.

25 Saul and his men went to find him. David got word and went deeper into the wilderness, staying near a rock. Saul chased after him.

26 Saul was on one side of the mountain, and David and his men were on the other. David hurried to escape, but Saul and his men were closing in to capture him.

27 Suddenly, a messenger came to Saul saying, “Hurry! The Philistines are attacking the land!”

28 So Saul broke off his pursuit and went to fight the Philistines. That’s why the place is called Selah-hammahlekoth (“Rock of Escape”).

29 David left that area and went to live in the strongholds of En-gedi.

Key Lessons from 1 Samuel Chapter 23

- Seek God’s guidance before battle – David didn’t act on impulse; he asked the Lord twice before going to Keilah. We should be careful to seek God’s will before we act.
- God’s answer includes the future – When David asked about Saul’s plans and Keilah’s loyalty, God revealed what would happen—not just what might happen. God’s foreknowledge protects us.
- Even God’s servants can face betrayal – Though David saved Keilah, the people were ready to turn on him. Loyalty in the world is not always guaranteed, but God is always faithful.
- True friendship encourages in hard times – Jonathan strengthened David in the Lord during his darkest moments, reminding him of God’s promises. Real friends point us back to God.

- God delivers at the last second – When David was nearly trapped, God used an unexpected Philistine invasion to rescue him. God is never late—He delivers at the exact right time.

1 Samuel Chapter 24 — Crawford Standard Bible

David Spares Saul in the Cave

Verses 1–7

1 After Saul returned from fighting the Philistines, he was told, “David is in the wilderness near Engedi.”

2 So Saul took 3,000 of Israel’s best soldiers and went out to search for David and his men near the cliffs of the wild goats.

3 Along the way, he came to a sheepfold with a cave and went inside to relieve himself. But David and his men were hiding in the deeper parts of the cave.

4 David’s men whispered to him, “This is the day the Lord spoke of when He said, ‘I will hand your enemy over to you to do with as you please.’”

So David crept forward and secretly cut off a corner of Saul’s robe.

5 But afterward, David’s conscience bothered him for cutting off Saul’s robe.

6 He said to his men, “The Lord forbid that I should do this to my master—the Lord’s anointed. I shouldn’t lift my hand against him, for he is the one the Lord has chosen.”

7 With these words, David restrained his men and wouldn’t let them attack Saul. Then Saul got up and left the cave, unaware of what had happened.

David Confronts Saul Respectfully

Verses 8–15

8 After Saul left the cave, David came out and shouted, “My lord the king!”
When Saul looked back, David bowed with his face to the ground in respect.

9 David said, “Why do you listen to people who say I want to harm you?”

10 Today you saw for yourself how the Lord gave you into my hands in the cave. Some urged me to kill you, but I spared you. I said, ‘I will not harm my master, because he is the Lord’s anointed.’

11 Look, my father, here is a piece of your robe in my hand! I cut it off, but I didn’t kill you. That proves I’m not trying to harm you or rebel against you. I’ve done nothing wrong, yet you’re hunting me down to kill me.

12 May the Lord judge between us. May He avenge me, but I will not lift my hand against you.

13 As the old proverb says, ‘Evil comes from evildoers’—but I will not harm you.

14 Who is the king of Israel chasing anyway? A dead dog? A single flea?

15 May the Lord be our judge. May He examine my case and defend me. May He rescue me from your hand.”

Saul Acknowledges David’s Righteousness

Verses 16–22

16 When David finished speaking, Saul called out, “Is that your voice, my son David?” Then Saul broke down and cried.

17 He said, “You are a better man than I am. You’ve treated me kindly, though I’ve treated you badly.

18 Today you showed me how good you are. The Lord gave me into your hands, but you didn’t kill me.

19 Who lets his enemy go free when he could destroy him? May the Lord reward you for the kindness you showed me today.

20 I now realize that you will surely be king, and the kingdom of Israel will flourish under your rule.

21 Promise me, then, by the Lord, that you will not wipe out my descendants or erase my name from my family line.”

22 So David made that promise to Saul. Then Saul went home, but David and his men returned to their stronghold.

Key Lessons from 1 Samuel Chapter 24

- Restraint is a sign of strength – David had the opportunity to kill Saul but chose mercy and honor over revenge. Real power is shown by self-control.
- Respect for God’s authority matters – Even though Saul was wrong, David refused to lift his hand against “the Lord’s anointed.” Reverence for God’s decisions should guide our actions.
- Character speaks louder than reputation – David let his actions defend him. He didn’t retaliate with violence but appealed to truth and justice.
- Mercy can move even a hardened heart – Saul’s heart was temporarily softened by David’s kindness, leading him to admit David’s future kingship.
- Make peace, but stay wise – Even after the peace, David didn’t go back with Saul. He returned to the stronghold, showing that trust must be earned with time.

1 Samuel Chapter 25 — Crawford Standard Bible

Samuel's Death, Nabal's Insult, and Abigail's Wisdom

Samuel Dies and David Moves South

Verse 1

1 The prophet Samuel died, and all Israel gathered to mourn for him. They buried him at his home in Ramah.

After that, David moved down to the wilderness of Paran.

The Foolish Man and the Wise Woman

Verses 2–13

2 In Maon lived a wealthy man whose property was in Carmel. He owned 3,000 sheep and 1,000 goats, and he was shearing his sheep in Carmel.

3 His name was Nabal, and his wife's name was Abigail. She was intelligent and beautiful, but Nabal was harsh and mean in everything he did. He was a descendant of Caleb.

4 While in the wilderness, David heard that Nabal was shearing his sheep.

5 So David sent ten young men and said, "Go to Carmel and greet Nabal in my name.

6 Say to him, 'Peace to you, your household, and everything you own!

7 I hear you are shearing your sheep. When your shepherds were with us in Carmel, we didn't harm them, and nothing was stolen from them the whole time.

8 Ask your men—they'll confirm it. Please be kind to my men. We come on a day of celebration. Give us whatever you can spare for me and my men.'"

9 David's men delivered the message to Nabal in David's name and waited.

10 But Nabal answered, "Who is David? Who is this son of Jesse? These days, many servants are running away from their masters.

11 Should I take my bread, water, and meat that I've prepared for my shearers and give it to people I don't even know?"

12 So David's men went back and told him everything Nabal said.

13 David responded, "Everyone, strap on your sword!" So they all put on their swords—including David. About 400 men went with him, and 200 stayed behind to guard the supplies.

Abigail's Courage and Diplomacy

Verses 14–31

14 Meanwhile, one of Nabal's servants told Abigail what had happened: "David sent messengers from the wilderness to greet our master, but Nabal shouted insults at them.

15 Those men were very good to us. We never suffered harm from them, and nothing went missing the whole time we were in the fields.

16 They were like a protective wall day and night while we watched the sheep.

17 Now think carefully—disaster is coming for our master and his entire household. He's so wicked that no one can even talk to him!"

18 Abigail acted quickly. She packed 200 loaves of bread, two wineskins full of wine, five butchered sheep, five measures of roasted grain, 100 clusters of raisins, and 200 fig cakes. She loaded them onto donkeys.

19 She told her servants, "Go ahead of me—I'm right behind you." But she didn't tell her husband Nabal.

20 As she rode her donkey and came down a hidden mountain path, she saw David and his men coming toward her—and she met them.

21 David had just said, "I guarded everything that belongs to that man in the wilderness, and nothing went missing. And this is how he repays me? Evil for good?"

22 May God punish me severely if I leave a single male alive in his household by morning!"

23 When Abigail saw David, she quickly got off her donkey and bowed down with her face to the ground.

24 She fell at his feet and said, "My lord, let the blame fall on me. Please allow me to speak. Hear what I have to say.

25 Don't pay attention to Nabal—his name means 'fool,' and that's exactly what he is. I didn't see the men you sent.

26 But now, my lord, as surely as the Lord lives and you live, the Lord has kept you from shedding blood and avenging yourself. May your enemies be like Nabal!

27 Please accept this gift I've brought for your men.

28 Forgive me, your servant, for this offense. The Lord will surely establish a lasting dynasty for you, because you fight the Lord's battles, and you've done no wrong your whole life.

29 Even though someone is chasing you to kill you, your life is safely kept in the bundle of life by the Lord your God. But He will fling your enemies away like stones from a sling.

30 When the Lord has fulfilled all His good promises to you and made you ruler over Israel,

31 don't let this incident weigh on your conscience—the needless bloodshed and revenge. When the Lord has blessed you, remember your servant.”

David Praises Abigail's Wisdom

Verses 32–35

32 David replied, “Praise the Lord, the God of Israel, who sent you to meet me today!

33 Bless you for your wise advice and for keeping me from shedding blood and avenging myself with my own hands.

34 As surely as the Lord lives, if you hadn't hurried to meet me, not one of Nabal's men would've been left alive by morning.”

35 Then David accepted her gifts and said, “Go home in peace. I've heard your words and will grant your request.”

Nabal's Death and Abigail's Marriage

Verses 36–44

36 When Abigail returned home, Nabal was holding a grand banquet, like a king's feast. He was very drunk, so she didn't tell him anything until morning.

37 In the morning, after he sobered up, Abigail told him everything. His heart failed him, and he became like a stone.

38 About ten days later, the Lord struck Nabal, and he died.

39 When David heard that Nabal was dead, he said, “Bless the Lord, who defended me and kept me from doing evil. The Lord returned Nabal's wickedness on his own head.”

Then David sent messengers to ask Abigail to become his wife.

40 When the messengers arrived, they said, “David has sent us to bring you to him as his wife.”

41 She bowed down and said, “I am your servant, ready to wash the feet of your servants.”

42 Abigail quickly got on a donkey with five of her maidservants and followed David's messengers. She became his wife.

43 David also married Ahinoam of Jezreel. So both women became his wives.

44 Meanwhile, Saul had given his daughter Michal, David's first wife, to Palti son of Laish from Gallim.

Key Lessons from 1 Samuel Chapter 25

- Godly people still face disrespect – David was wronged by Nabal, even after doing good. This reminds us not to expect fairness from everyone—but God sees.
- A wise person can prevent bloodshed – Abigail’s quick thinking and peacemaking words saved lives. God often uses humble wisdom to stop great disasters.
- Don’t avenge yourself – David was ready to take revenge, but God used Abigail to restrain him. Let the Lord be your defender.
- God judges the wicked in His time – Nabal’s death came not by David’s hand but by divine judgment. God repays injustice justly.
- Honor the peacemakers – David praised Abigail’s intervention. Those who make peace play a crucial role in God’s plans.

1 Samuel Chapter 26 — Crawford Standard Bible

David Spares Saul’s Life a Second Time

Ziphites Betray David Again

Verses 1–5

1 The people of Ziph came to Saul at Gibeah and said, “David is hiding on the hill of Hachilah, across from Jeshimon.”

2 So Saul took 3,000 of Israel’s best soldiers and went to the wilderness of Ziph to hunt David.

3 Saul set up camp beside the road on the hill of Hachilah, near Jeshimon. But David stayed hidden in the wilderness. When he realized Saul had come after him,

4 he sent out scouts to confirm that Saul had really arrived.

5 Then David went to the place where Saul was camped. He saw where Saul lay, with Abner son of Ner, the commander of his army, lying nearby. Saul was lying inside the camp, surrounded by his troops.

David and Abishai Sneak Into Saul's Camp

Verses 6–12

6 David asked Ahimelech the Hittite and Abishai (Joab's brother and son of Zeruah), "Who will go with me into Saul's camp?"

Abishai replied, "I'll go with you."

7 That night, David and Abishai crept into the camp. Saul was asleep inside the camp, his spear stuck in the ground near his head. Abner and the other soldiers were asleep around him.

8 Abishai whispered to David, "Today God has given your enemy into your hands! Let me pin him to the ground with his own spear. I won't need to strike twice!"

9 But David said, "Don't kill him! Who can strike the Lord's anointed and remain guiltless?"

10 David continued, "As surely as the Lord lives, He Himself will strike Saul down—either he will die naturally or fall in battle.

11 But the Lord forbid that I should lift my hand against the Lord's anointed. Just take his spear and water jug by his head—and let's go."

12 So David took the spear and the jug of water, and they left. No one saw or knew or woke up, because the Lord had put a deep sleep on them.

David Calls Out Saul's Army

Verses 13–16

13 David crossed to the other side of the valley and stood on a hilltop far away, a safe distance between them.

14 He shouted to the army and to Abner, "Aren't you going to answer me, Abner?"

Abner replied, "Who are you, calling out to the king?"

15 David said, "Aren't you a great warrior? Who in Israel is like you? Why didn't you guard your master the king? Someone came to kill him!

16 You've failed in your duty. As surely as the Lord lives, you deserve to die, because you didn't protect the Lord's anointed. Look around—where is the king's spear and the jug of water that were by his head?"

Saul and David Speak Again

Verses 17–25

17 Saul recognized David's voice and asked, "Is that your voice, my son David?"

David replied, "Yes, it's my voice, my lord the king."

18 "Why are you chasing me?" David asked. "What have I done wrong? What crime have I committed?"

19 Please, listen to me. If the Lord has stirred you up against me, let Him accept an offering. But if this is from men, may they be cursed, for they have driven me away from the Lord's land and told me, 'Go serve other gods!'

20 Don't let my life be taken far from the Lord's presence. Why is the king of Israel hunting a flea, like someone chasing a partridge in the mountains?"

21 Saul said, "I've sinned. Come back, my son David. I won't harm you anymore. Today you valued my life. I've acted foolishly and made a terrible mistake."

22 David answered, "Here's your spear, O king. Let one of your young men come and get it."

23 The Lord rewards each person for their righteousness and faithfulness. He gave you into my hands today, but I would not raise a hand against His anointed one.

24 Just as I valued your life today, may the Lord value my life and rescue me from all trouble."

25 Then Saul said, "May you be blessed, my son David. You will do great things and succeed in them." So David went on his way, and Saul returned home.

Key Lessons from 1 Samuel Chapter 26

- Resisting revenge is a mark of godly character — David had another chance to kill Saul but refused, trusting God to bring justice in His time.
- Even enemies recognize righteousness — Saul acknowledged David's righteousness and prophesied his success, even while being his adversary.
- God puts people in your hand to test your heart — Twice, David had the chance to kill Saul, but he proved that he feared the Lord more than he desired power.
- Faith waits, flesh reacts — David could have acted impulsively, but he chose the path of patience and honor.
- Public integrity matters — David called out Saul's army, not to boast, but to prove he was not a rebel or traitor. His conscience remained clean.

1 Samuel Chapter 27 — Crawford Standard Bible

David Seeks Refuge in Philistine Territory

David Flees to Philistine Land

Verses 1–4

1 David said to himself, “One day Saul is going to kill me. The best thing I can do is escape to Philistine territory. Then Saul will stop looking for me anywhere in Israel, and I’ll finally be safe.”

2 So David took his 600 men and crossed over to Achish, son of Maoch, the king of Gath.

3 David and his men settled there with Achish. Each man brought his family with him, including David’s two wives—Ahinoam from Jezreel and Abigail from Carmel, Nabal’s widow.

4 When Saul was told that David had fled to Gath, he stopped searching for him.

David Receives Ziklag

Verses 5–7

5 David said to Achish, “If I’ve found favor with you, please give me a place in one of the country towns so I can live there. Why should I live in the royal city with you?”

6 That day, Achish gave him the town of Ziklag. That’s why Ziklag still belongs to the kings of Judah today.

7 David lived in Philistine territory for a year and four months.

David’s Raids and Deception

Verses 8–12

8 David and his men often raided the Geshurites, the Gezrites, and the Amalekites—tribes that had long lived in the region near Shur, all the way to Egypt.

9 Whenever David attacked an area, he left no one alive—neither man nor woman. He took sheep, cattle, donkeys, camels, and clothing, then returned to Achish.

10 Achish would ask, “Where did you raid today?” David would lie and say, “Against the southern area of Judah,” or “Against the Jerahmeelites,” or “Against the Kenites.”

11 David never left anyone alive to return to Gath and report the truth. He thought, “They might expose what we’re really doing.”

12 Achish believed David. He thought, “David has made himself hated by his own people in Israel. He’ll have to serve me forever.”

Key Lessons from 1 Samuel Chapter 27

- Fear can drive even faithful people into risky places — David, though favored by God, felt overwhelmed by Saul’s pursuit and made a strategic move into enemy land.
- God's people sometimes navigate morally gray territory — David’s actions against the surrounding tribes and his deception of Achish reflect the complexities of survival during a time of war and political instability.
- Strategic positioning matters — David asked for a border town instead of living in Gath, allowing him freedom to move, wage war, and build trust without being fully under Philistine control.
- Trust in man is fragile and misguided — Achish trusted David because of lies. But this chapter reminds us that man’s approval isn’t always aligned with God’s plan.
- God is working behind the scenes — Even while David dwelled in enemy land, God was preserving him for the throne and protecting him from Saul’s reach.

1 Samuel Chapter 28 — Crawford Standard Bible

Saul Seeks the Dead and Is Forsaken by the Living God

David Marches with the Philistines

Verses 1–2

1 During this time, the Philistines assembled their armies for war against Israel. Achish said to David, “You and your men must join me in this battle.”

2 David replied, “You’ll soon see what your servant can do.” Achish responded, “Good! I’ll make you my permanent bodyguard.”

Israel Without Samuel

Verse 3

3 Now Samuel had died, and all Israel had mourned for him and buried him in his hometown of Ramah. Saul had previously expelled all mediums and spiritists from the land.

Saul's Fear and God's Silence

Verses 4–6

4 The Philistines gathered at Shunem, and Saul assembled Israel at Gilboa.

5 When Saul saw the Philistine army, he was terrified, and his heart trembled violently.

6 He asked the Lord for guidance, but the Lord did not answer him—not by dreams, not by the Urim, and not through prophets.

Saul Visits the Medium at Endor

Verses 7–14

7 So Saul said to his servants, “Find me a woman who communicates with spirits, so I can go and ask her what to do.” They told him, “There is one at Endor.”

8 Saul disguised himself, wearing different clothes, and went by night with two men. He said to the woman, “Consult a spirit for me. Bring up the person I name to you.”

9 The woman replied, “You know what Saul has done—how he banned all mediums and spiritists from the land. Why are you trying to trap me and get me killed?”

10 But Saul swore to her by the Lord, “As surely as the Lord lives, you will not be punished for this.”

11 Then the woman asked, “Whom shall I bring up for you?” Saul replied, “Bring up Samuel.”

12 When the woman saw Samuel, she screamed, and said to Saul, “Why have you deceived me? You’re Saul!”

13 “Don’t be afraid,” the king said. “What do you see?” She replied, “I see a spirit coming up out of the earth.”

14 “What does he look like?” Saul asked. “An old man wearing a robe is coming up,” she said. Saul knew it was Samuel. He knelt down with his face to the ground.

Samuel's Final Word to Saul

Verses 15–19

15 Samuel said, “Why have you disturbed me by bringing me up?” Saul answered, “I’m in deep trouble. The Philistines are waging war against me, and God has left me. He won’t answer me by prophets or dreams, so I’ve called on you to tell me what to do.”

16 Samuel replied, “Why ask me, now that the Lord has turned away from you and become your enemy?”

17 The Lord has done exactly what He told you through me. He has torn the kingdom from you and given it to your neighbor David.

18 You did not obey the Lord's command to destroy the Amalekites, and that's why He is doing this to you today.

19 The Lord will hand you and Israel over to the Philistines. Tomorrow, you and your sons will be with me. The Lord will give Israel's army into the hands of the Philistines.”

Saul's Collapse and Final Meal

Verses 20–25

20 Saul immediately fell full length on the ground, paralyzed with fear because of Samuel's words. He had no strength left, for he had not eaten all day and night.

21 When the woman saw how terrified he was, she said, “I obeyed you and risked my life. Now please listen to me. Let me give you some food so you can regain your strength for the journey.”

22 She urged him to eat, but he refused. His servants and the woman insisted, and he finally agreed. He got up and sat on the bed.

24 The woman had a fattened calf in the house. She hurried to slaughter it, took some flour, kneaded it, and baked unleavened bread.

25 She brought the meal to Saul and his men. They ate, then got up and left that night.

Key Lessons from 1 Samuel Chapter 28

- Disobedience leads to silence from God — Saul rejected God's commands earlier, and now when he needed divine guidance, God did not answer him.
- Turning to forbidden means always brings consequences — Seeking counsel from a medium violated God's law (see Leviticus 19:31). Saul's desperation led him to violate his own decree.
- Even in judgment, God remains truthful — Samuel's prophecy reaffirmed the Word of the Lord: Saul's reign was over, and David's time was coming.
- Fear without faith is paralyzing — Saul was terrified, not strengthened. The absence of God's presence left him hopeless and without direction.
- God's kingdom plan moves forward — Though Saul sought answers in the dark, God's sovereign will to raise David and humble Saul remained unshaken.

1 Samuel Chapter 29 — Crawford Standard Bible

David Rejected by the Philistines

The Philistines Gather for War

Verses 1–2

1 The Philistines assembled all their armies at Aphek, while the Israelites camped by the spring in Jezreel.

2 As the Philistine commanders marched their units by hundreds and thousands, David and his men were at the rear with Achish.

Philistine Leaders Reject David

Verses 3–5

3 The Philistine commanders asked, “What are these Hebrews doing here?” Achish replied, “This is David, the servant of Saul, king of Israel. He’s been with me for a long time, and I haven’t found anything wrong with him from the day he defected to me until now.”

4 But the Philistine commanders became angry with Achish. They said, “Send this man back to the place you assigned him. He must not go with us into battle. If he turns against us during the fight, how better could he win back his master’s favor than with the heads of our own men?”

5 Isn’t this the one they sang about in dances, saying, ‘Saul has killed his thousands, and David his ten thousands?’”

Achish Dismisses David Respectfully

Verses 6–10

6 So Achish called David and said, “As surely as the Lord lives, you’ve been loyal. I consider your service in my army to be flawless. I’ve found no fault in you from the day you came to me until now. But the Philistine rulers don’t approve of you.

7 So now go back quietly, and don’t do anything to upset them.”

8 David asked, “But what have I done? What have you found against me since I’ve been with you, that I shouldn’t go fight against the enemies of my lord the king?”

9 Achish answered, “I know that you’ve been as trustworthy as an angel of God. But the Philistine commanders have said, ‘He must not go up with us into battle.’”

10 So get up early in the morning, you and your men who came with you. Leave as soon as it's light.”

David Returns to Philistine Territory

Verse 11

11 So David and his men got up early in the morning to return to the land of the Philistines, while the Philistine armies marched on to Jezreel.

Key Lessons from 1 Samuel Chapter 29

- God's providence works even through rejection — David was willing to fight, but God used the distrust of the Philistine commanders to keep him from shedding Israelite blood.
- Even your enemies may testify to your integrity — Achish, though a Philistine king, openly praised David's character, showing how consistent righteousness earns respect across enemy lines.
- Man's rejection may be God's redirection — Though David was turned away from battle, it allowed him to be present for a critical moment back in Ziklag (see the next chapter).
- The world will never fully trust God's people — David's loyalty to Achish couldn't erase his identity as an Israelite, reminding us that no matter how friendly the world may seem, it doesn't forget who you truly serve.

1 Samuel Chapter 30 — Crawford Standard Bible

David Recovers All at Ziklag

Ziklag Burned and Families Captured

Verses 1–5

1 Three days later, when David and his men returned to Ziklag, they found that the Amalekites had raided the Negev and Ziklag. They had attacked Ziklag and burned it to the ground.

2 They had taken the women and everyone else in the city—young and old—captive, though they didn't kill anyone. They carried them off as prisoners.

3 When David and his men arrived, they saw the city burned and their wives, sons, and daughters taken captive.

4 Then David and the men with him wept loudly until they had no strength left to cry.

5 David's two wives, Ahinoam of Jezreel and Abigail, the widow of Nabal from Carmel, had also been captured.

David Encourages Himself in the Lord

Verses 6–8

6 David was deeply distressed because the men were talking about stoning him. Each one was bitter over the loss of his sons and daughters. But David found strength in the Lord his God.

7 He said to Abiathar the priest, the son of Ahimelech, “Bring me the ephod.” So Abiathar brought it.

8 Then David asked the Lord, “Should I chase after this raiding band? Will I catch them?”

The Lord answered, “Yes, go after them. You will surely overtake them and rescue everyone.”

Pursuing the Amalekites

Verses 9–15

9 So David set out with his 600 men. When they came to the brook Besor, 200 men stayed behind because they were too exhausted to continue.

10 David and 400 men continued the pursuit.

11 Along the way, they found an Egyptian in a field and brought him to David. They gave him food and water.

12 They also gave him a piece of fig cake and two clusters of raisins. After he ate, his strength returned, for he hadn’t eaten or drunk anything for three days and nights.

13 David asked him, “Who do you belong to? Where are you from?” He replied, “I’m an Egyptian, a servant of an Amalekite. My master left me behind three days ago because I got sick.

14 We raided the southern areas of the Cherethites, parts of Judah, the land of Caleb, and we burned Ziklag.”

15 David asked, “Will you take us to this raiding party?”

He answered, “Swear to me before God that you won’t kill me or hand me over to my master, and I’ll lead you to them.”

Victory and Recovery

Verses 16–20

16 He led David to the Amalekites, who were scattered across the land, eating, drinking, and celebrating the vast plunder they had taken from the Philistines and from Judah.

17 David attacked them at twilight and continued fighting until the evening of the next day. None escaped except 400 young men who fled on camels.

18 David recovered everything the Amalekites had taken, including his two wives.

19 Nothing was missing—young or old, sons or daughters, or anything else that had been taken. David brought everything back.

20 He also took all the flocks and herds and his men drove them ahead, saying, “This is David’s spoil.”

Equal Share for All

Verses 21–25

21 When David returned to the 200 men who had been too tired to follow, they came out to meet him. David greeted them kindly.

22 But some troublemakers among those who went with David said, “They didn’t come with us, so they shouldn’t get any of the plunder—just their wives and children so they can leave.”

23 David replied, “No, my brothers. Don’t act that way with what the Lord has given us. He protected us and handed over the raiding party that attacked us.

24 Who will listen to you in this matter? The share of the one who stays with the supplies will be the same as the one who goes to battle—they will all share alike.”

25 From that day on, David made this a law and regulation for Israel, and it continues to this day.

Sharing the Spoils with Judah

Verses 26–31

26 When David returned to Ziklag, he sent some of the plunder to the elders of Judah, his friends, saying, “Here is a gift for you from the Lord’s enemies.”

27 He sent gifts to those in Bethel, Ramoth in the Negev, and Jattir;

28 to Aroer, Siphmoth, and Eshtemoa;

29 to Rachal, the towns of the Jerahmeelites, and the towns of the Kenites;

30 to Hormah, Bor Ashan, Athach;

31 to Hebron and all the places where David and his men had roamed.

Key Lessons from 1 Samuel Chapter 30

- In crisis, turn to God — When all seemed lost and even his friends turned on him, David encouraged himself in the Lord and found divine guidance.
- Obedience leads to victory — David sought God’s will before pursuing the enemy, and God granted him full restoration.
- God uses the unlikely — An abandoned Egyptian servant became the key to locating the enemy and recovering everything.
- Unity matters in God’s kingdom — David established the principle that everyone who serves—whether in the front lines or supporting behind—receives equal reward. This shows God’s view of shared labor and honor.
- Generosity and honor build loyalty — David’s decision to share the plunder with the elders of Judah reinforced his favor and leadership as future king.

1 Samuel Chapter 31 — Crawford Standard Bible

The Death of Saul and His Sons

Israel Defeated on Mount Gilboa

Verses 1–3

1 The Philistines fought fiercely against Israel, and the men of Israel ran from them, falling slain on Mount Gilboa.

2 The Philistines chased after Saul and his sons and killed Jonathan, Abinadab, and Malchishua—Saul’s sons.

3 The battle grew intense around Saul. He was hit by enemy archers and was badly wounded.

Saul’s Death and His Armorbearer’s Loyalty

Verses 4–6

4 Saul said to his armorbearer, “Draw your sword and kill me before these uncircumcised Philistines come and torture me.” But the armorbearer was too afraid to do it. So Saul took his own sword and fell on it.

5 When the armorbearer saw that Saul was dead, he also fell on his sword and died with him.

6 So Saul, his three sons, his armorbearer, and all his men died together that same day.

The Philistines Occupy the Land

Verses 7–8

7 When the Israelites on the other side of the valley and across the Jordan saw that Israel’s army had fled and that Saul and his sons were dead, they abandoned their towns and fled. The Philistines moved in and lived in them.

8 The next day, the Philistines came to strip the bodies of the dead. They found Saul and his sons fallen on Mount Gilboa.

Philistine Desecration and Israelite Honor

Verses 9–13

9 The Philistines cut off Saul’s head, stripped off his armor, and sent messengers throughout their land to proclaim the news in the temples of their idols and to their people.

10 They put Saul’s armor in the temple of Ashtaroth and nailed his body to the wall of Beth-shan.

11 But when the people of Jabesh-gilead heard what the Philistines had done to Saul,

12 all their brave men marched through the night to Beth-shan. They removed the bodies of Saul and his sons from the wall, brought them back to Jabesh, and burned them there.

13 They buried their bones under the tamarisk tree at Jabesh and fasted for seven days.

Key Lessons from 1 Samuel Chapter 31

- Tragic consequences of disobedience — Saul’s downfall and death were the final outcome of a life marked by rebellion against God’s commands. Even though he was anointed, disobedience led to devastation.
- Even kings are mortal — Saul’s death reminds us that status or position cannot shield anyone from divine judgment or the dangers of battle.
- Faithfulness in death — The armorbearer’s refusal to abandon Saul, and the bravery of the men of Jabesh-gilead who risked their lives to recover and honor Saul’s body, show loyalty and courage in the face of defeat.
- God’s sovereignty continues — Though the chapter ends in national mourning, this sets the stage for David’s rise as king, demonstrating that God’s plan moves forward even in loss.

Introduction to the Book of 2 Samuel

Crawford Bible Commentary

Title and Meaning

The book is titled 2 Samuel because it continues the narrative that began in 1 Samuel, originally part of a single book in the Hebrew Bible. Though Samuel dies early in 1 Samuel, the books are named after him due to his central role in the establishment of Israel’s monarchy. The Hebrew title is Sh’mu’el Bet (שְׁמוּאֵל בֵּית)—“Second Samuel.” This second volume primarily focuses on the reign of King David and the establishment of his dynasty.

Historical Context

2 Samuel covers the period from Saul’s death to the end of David’s reign—approximately 1010 to 970 B.C. It picks up where 1 Samuel ends: Israel is leaderless, Saul is dead, and David begins his rise to the throne. The book was written during or shortly after these events, possibly compiled later by scribes during or after the monarchy. Politically, this is a time of great transition for Israel—from tribal confederation to a centralized kingdom. Spiritually, it’s a time of growth and testing for the nation and for David personally.

Purpose of the Book

The purpose of 2 Samuel is to chronicle David's reign as king, revealing his military victories, his personal failures, and God's covenantal promises to him. The book shows how God works through both triumph and failure, and how a man after God's own heart can still fall into deep sin but find grace and restoration. It also establishes the Davidic Covenant, which promises an eternal kingdom through David's lineage—ultimately fulfilled in Jesus Christ.

Major Themes

- God's Sovereignty: Despite human sin and political upheaval, God's plan advances through His chosen king.
 - Covenant and Kingship: The Davidic Covenant is a central theological theme, pointing forward to the Messiah.
 - Sin and Consequences: David's sin with Bathsheba and its aftermath show that even the godly face consequences for wrongdoing.
 - Grace and Repentance: David's heartfelt repentance (e.g., Psalm 51) demonstrates that God forgives the truly contrite.
 - Leadership and Legacy: David's life illustrates the highs and lows of leadership, highlighting courage, worship, sin, and faith.

Key Figures

- David – Israel's greatest king, whose heart for God is paired with real human flaws; the recipient of God's covenant promise of an eternal kingdom.
 - Bathsheba – The woman involved in David's greatest moral failure, yet later the mother of Solomon and part of Jesus' lineage.
 - Nathan the Prophet – God's bold messenger who confronts David with the truth of his sin.
 - Absalom – David's son whose rebellion reveals the devastating consequences of David's family failures.
 - Joab – David's military commander, a complex and brutal figure who remains loyal but often disobedient to David's wishes.
 - Mephibosheth – Jonathan's crippled son, shown kindness by David in a powerful picture of grace.

Spiritual Significance

2 Samuel reveals that God's grace is greater than our worst failures. David's story reminds us that God doesn't demand perfection—He desires repentance and relationship. The Davidic Covenant is the theological foundation for understanding Christ's kingship. Through David's rise, fall, and restoration, we see how God writes redemptive stories out of broken lives.

Christ in the Book of 2 Samuel

Jesus is the ultimate fulfillment of the Davidic Covenant found in 2 Samuel 7. God promises David an eternal kingdom through his descendant—Jesus Christ, the Son of David (Matthew 1:1, Luke 1:32–33). David serves as a type of Christ, a shepherd-king who points forward to the true Shepherd and King, Jesus. Just as David brought peace to Israel, Christ brings everlasting peace to the world.

Key Verse

2 Samuel 7:16 (NLT) – “Your house and your kingdom will continue before me for all time, and your throne will be secure forever.”

Key Lesson

Even the greatest among us fall—but God's covenant and mercy remain sure. David's life teaches us that sin has consequences, but grace has the final word. The eternal throne promised to David was never about human perfection, but about a perfect King who would come—Jesus, the Son of David.

2 Samuel Chapter 1 — Crawford Standard Bible

David's Mourning and the Lament of the Mighty

News of Saul's Death

Verses 1–4

1 After Saul's death, when David had returned from defeating the Amalekites, he stayed in Ziklag for two days.

2 On the third day, a man came from Saul's camp with torn clothes and dust on his head. When he reached David, he fell to the ground to show respect.

3 David asked him, "Where have you come from?" He replied, "I escaped from the Israelite camp."

4 "Tell me what happened," David said. The man answered, "The troops fled from the battle. Many are dead, and Saul and his son Jonathan are also dead."

The Amalekite's Report and Judgment

Verses 5–16

5 David asked the young man, "How do you know that Saul and Jonathan are dead?"

6 He answered, "I happened to be on Mount Gilboa, and I saw Saul leaning on his spear. The enemy chariots and horsemen were closing in.

7 When he looked back and saw me, he called out. I answered, 'Here I am!'

8 He asked, 'Who are you?' I told him, 'I'm an Amalekite.'

9 Then he said, 'Please stand over me and kill me, for I'm in terrible pain and won't survive.'

10 So I killed him, because I knew he couldn't live after falling. I took the crown from his head and the bracelet from his arm and brought them to you, my lord."

11 David tore his clothes in grief, and so did all the men with him.

12 They mourned, wept, and fasted until evening for Saul, for Jonathan, and for the people of the Lord and Israel, because they had fallen by the sword.

13 Then David asked the young man again, "Where are you from?" He said, "I am the son of a foreigner, an Amalekite."

14 David said, "Why were you not afraid to kill the Lord's anointed?"

15 He called one of his men and said, "Go strike him down." So the man struck him and he died.

16 David said, "Your blood is on your own head. Your own mouth has testified that you killed the Lord's anointed."

David's Lament for Saul and Jonathan

Verses 17–27

17 David composed a funeral song for Saul and Jonathan.

18 (He ordered that it be taught to the people of Judah. It is recorded in the Book of Jashar.)

19 “O Israel, your pride lies slain on the hills. How the mighty have fallen!

20 Don't tell it in Gath, don't announce it in the streets of Ashkelon—lest the daughters of the Philistines rejoice and mock.

21 O mountains of Gilboa, may no dew or rain fall on you, nor fields that produce offerings, because the shield of the mighty was defiled—Saul's shield, no longer anointed with oil.

22 From the blood of the slain, from the fat of the mighty, Jonathan's bow never turned back, and Saul's sword never came back empty.

23 Saul and Jonathan—loved and delightful in life, and not divided in death—were swifter than eagles, stronger than lions.

24 Daughters of Israel, weep for Saul, who clothed you in rich scarlet and fine ornaments of gold.

25 How the mighty have fallen in battle! Jonathan lies slain on your heights.

26 I grieve for you, my brother Jonathan. You were very dear to me. Your love for me was more wonderful than the love of women.

27 How the mighty have fallen, and the weapons of war have perished!”

Key Lessons from 2 Samuel Chapter 1

- God takes loyalty seriously — David's refusal to rejoice at Saul's death and his execution of the Amalekite highlight the sacredness of God's anointed and the weight of responsibility in leadership.
- Grief and honor can coexist — David wept for both Saul and Jonathan, showing that even flawed leaders can be mourned and remembered for their strength and contribution.
- The power of true friendship — David's lament over Jonathan reveals a bond of deep, covenantal love and loyalty that surpasses even romantic ties—a model of true brotherhood.
- The value of memory and song — David's composition preserved their legacy and called others to remember and learn from the past, reinforcing that remembrance is a spiritual act.

2 Samuel Chapter 2 — Crawford Standard Bible

David Anointed King, and War Begins Between Judah and Israel

David Becomes King in Hebron

(Verses 1–7)

1 After this, David asked the Lord, “Should I move to one of the towns of Judah?”

The Lord answered, “Yes, go.”

David asked, “Which one should I go to?”

The Lord replied, “Hebron.”

2 So David went there with his two wives—Ahinoam from Jezreel and Abigail, the widow of Nabal from Carmel.

3 David also brought the men who were with him, each with his family, and they settled in the towns around Hebron.

4 Then the men of Judah came and anointed David as king over the house of Judah.

When David learned that the men of Jabesh-gilead had buried Saul,

5 he sent them this message: “May the Lord bless you for being loyal to your master Saul and giving him a proper burial.

6 May the Lord show you kindness and faithfulness. I will reward you as well because of this good deed.

7 Now be strong and brave, for your master Saul is dead, and the people of Judah have anointed me as their king.”

Ishbosheth Made King Over Israel

(Verses 8–11)

8 But Abner son of Ner, the commander of Saul’s army, took Saul’s son Ishbosheth and brought him to Mahanaim.

9 He made Ishbosheth king over Gilead, Ashurites, Jezreel, Ephraim, Benjamin, and all Israel.

10 Ishbosheth was forty years old when he became king over Israel, and he ruled for two years. But the tribe of Judah followed David.

11 David ruled from Hebron over the tribe of Judah for seven and a half years.

Civil War at Gibeon

(Verses 12–17)

12 One day, Abner and Ishbosheth’s soldiers marched from Mahanaim to Gibeon.

13 Joab (son of Zeruah) and David’s troops met them at the pool of Gibeon. They sat across from each other on opposite sides of the pool.

14 Abner said to Joab, “Let the young men fight for sport before us.”

Joab agreed, “Let them fight.”

15 So twelve men from each side—Benjamin for Ishbosheth and David’s men—stood to fight.

16 They each grabbed their opponent’s head and stabbed them at the same time, and all of them fell dead. So that place was named Helkath-hazzurim (Field of Blades), near Gibeon.

17 A fierce battle broke out, and David’s men defeated Abner and the army of Israel.

Asahel's Pursuit and Death

(Verses 18–23)

18 Joab, Abishai, and Asahel (sons of Zeruah) were there. Asahel was as fast as a wild deer.

19 Asahel chased after Abner and wouldn't turn aside.

20 Abner turned and asked, "Is that you, Asahel?"

He replied, "Yes."

21 Abner said, "Turn aside and fight someone else—take his armor for yourself." But Asahel refused.

22 Again, Abner warned, "Stop chasing me! I don't want to kill you. How could I ever face your brother Joab again?"

23 But Asahel wouldn't stop, so Abner thrust the back end of his spear into Asahel's stomach. The spear came out the other side, and Asahel fell and died on the spot. Everyone who came to that place stopped and stood still.

Joab's Pursuit and the End of Battle

(Verses 24–32)

24 Joab and Abishai continued chasing Abner until sunset. They reached the hill of Ammah near Giah, on the way to the wilderness of Gibeon.

25 The men of Benjamin regrouped behind Abner and took a stand on a hill.

26 Abner called out to Joab, "Must we keep killing each other? Don't you know this will only end in bitterness? Tell your men to stop chasing their own brothers!"

27 Joab answered, "As God lives, if you hadn't spoken, the fighting wouldn't have stopped until morning."

28 So Joab blew the trumpet, and all the troops stopped. They no longer pursued Israel or continued the battle.

29 Abner and his men marched all night, crossed the Jordan River, and reached Mahanaim.

30 When Joab gathered David's men, he found that 19 soldiers and Asahel were missing.

31 But they had killed 360 of Abner's men from the tribe of Benjamin.

32 They carried Asahel's body to Bethlehem and buried him in his father's tomb. Then Joab and his men marched all night and arrived at Hebron at dawn.

Key Lessons from 2 Samuel Chapter 2

- God's guidance is essential for every major decision — David didn't move or act until he sought the Lord, showing us the value of waiting on God's direction.
- Unity without God brings division — Even though Ishbosheth had a claim to the throne, only David was chosen by God. Human attempts at leadership apart from divine calling create unnecessary conflict.

- Civil war wounds deeply — The battle at Gibeon illustrates the heartbreak of brother fighting against brother. Asahel’s death is a tragic symbol of what pride and unchecked zeal can cost.
- Peacemakers are needed — Abner and Joab finally stopped the conflict when they realized the bitterness it was producing. Wise leadership recognizes when to stop the sword.
- True strength is shown through mercy and diplomacy — David’s kindness to the men of Jabesh-gilead and his refusal to claim the throne by force reveal the heart of a godly king.

2 Samuel Chapter 3 — Crawford Standard Bible

Power Struggles, Political Shifts, and the Fall of Abner

A Long War Between Saul’s House and David’s House

(Verses 1–5)

1 The war between Saul’s family and David’s family lasted a long time. But David’s side kept growing stronger, while Saul’s side grew weaker.

2 During this time, sons were born to David in Hebron. His first son was Amnon, by Ahinoam of Jezreel.

3 His second son was Kileab, by Abigail, the widow of Nabal from Carmel. His third son was Absalom, whose mother was Maacah, daughter of Talmai, king of Geshur.

4 His fourth son was Adonijah, by Haggith. His fifth was Shephatiah, by Abital.

5 His sixth son was Ithream, by Eglah. These sons were all born to David in Hebron.

Abner Breaks with Ishbosheth

(Verses 6–11)

6 While the war continued, Abner kept gaining influence in Saul’s camp.

7 Saul had a concubine named Rizpah, the daughter of Aiah. Ishbosheth asked Abner, “Why did you sleep with my father’s concubine?”

8 Abner became furious and said, “Am I a dog’s head of Judah? I’ve been loyal to your father’s family, to his brothers and friends, and I haven’t betrayed you to David. And now you accuse me over a woman?”

9 “May God punish me severely if I don’t help David the way the Lord promised—

10 to take the kingdom from Saul’s family and give it to David, ruling over Israel and Judah from Dan to Beersheba!”

11 Ishbosheth didn’t dare say another word to Abner because he was afraid of him.

Abner Aligns with David

(Verses 12–21)

12 Abner sent messengers to David, saying, “Whose land is this? Make a covenant with me, and I’ll help bring all of Israel under your rule.”

13 David replied, “I’ll make a deal with you, but you must bring me Saul’s daughter Michal when you come to see me.”

14 David also sent a message to Ishbosheth, saying, “Give me my wife Michal. I paid for her with the foreskins of 100 Philistines.”

15 So Ishbosheth sent men to take Michal from her husband, Paltiel son of Laish.

16 Her husband followed her, weeping the whole way to Bahurim. But Abner told him, “Go home.” And he did.

17 Abner then spoke with the elders of Israel. “You’ve wanted David as your king for a long time,” he said.

18 “Now is the time! The Lord promised, ‘Through David, I will rescue My people from the Philistines and all their enemies.’”

19 Abner also spoke to the tribe of Benjamin. Then he went to Hebron to report all this to David.

20 Abner came with twenty men, and David hosted a feast for them.

21 Abner said, “Let me gather all Israel to you, so they can make a covenant with you and crown you king.” Then David sent him away in peace.

Joab Murders Abner

(Verses 22–30)

22 Right after Abner left, Joab and David’s men returned from a raid with a lot of plunder.

23 Someone told Joab, “Abner came to see the king, and he let him go in peace.”

24 Joab went to David and asked, “Why did you let Abner go? He came here to spy on you!”

25 “You know Abner—he’s just here to learn your plans and movements.”

26 Then Joab left David’s presence, secretly sent messengers, and brought Abner back from the well of Sirah—without David’s knowledge.

27 When Abner returned, Joab pulled him aside at the city gate, pretending to talk privately. There, Joab stabbed him under the fifth rib and killed him—to avenge his brother Asahel.

28 When David heard about it, he said, “I and my kingdom are innocent before the Lord of Abner’s blood forever.

29 May Joab and his family bear the guilt! May his descendants suffer disease, violence, or poverty.”

30 Joab and his brother Abishai killed Abner because he had killed their brother Asahel in battle at Gibeon.

David Publicly Mourns Abner

(Verses 31–39)

31 David said to Joab and all the people, “Tear your clothes, put on sackcloth, and mourn for Abner.”

David himself walked behind Abner's coffin.

32 They buried Abner in Hebron. The king wept at his grave, and all the people joined in.

33 David sang a funeral song for Abner:

“Did Abner die like a fool?

34 Your hands weren't tied,

Your feet weren't chained.

You fell as a man falls before the wicked.”

And the people cried again.

35 That day, the people urged David to eat, but he refused and vowed, “May God punish me if I eat before sunset.”

36 The people noticed and were pleased. Everything David did pleased them.

37 They realized David had nothing to do with Abner's murder.

38 The king said, “Don't you know a great man has fallen in Israel today?

39 Even though I'm king, I feel powerless against Joab and his brother. May the Lord repay the evil one according to his deeds.”

Key Lessons from 2 Samuel Chapter 3

- God's promises are not forgotten — Even after years of conflict, God's promise to David was being fulfilled, little by little.
- Unchecked ambition corrupts — Abner tried to hold power through influence and relationships, but even he realized God's will couldn't be stopped.
- Reconciliation is fragile — Just as peace seemed within reach, Joab's act of vengeance disrupted everything. Personal revenge always threatens national healing.
- A godly leader mourns injustice — David's sincere grief over Abner's death and his public distancing from the crime strengthened his credibility with the people.
- True justice belongs to God — David trusted the Lord to repay those who commit evil, even when they were his own generals.

2 Samuel Chapter 4 — Crawford Standard Bible

The Fall of Ishbosheth and the Cost of Unrighteous Bloodshed

News of Abner's Death Shakes the Kingdom

(Verses 1–4)

1 When Saul's son, Ishbosheth, heard that Abner had died in Hebron, he lost all courage, and all Israel was troubled.

2 Ishbosheth had two commanders of raiding bands: Baanah and Rechab, the sons of Rimmon the Beerothite from the tribe of Benjamin. (Beeroth is considered part of Benjamin,

3 though its people had fled to Gittaim and have lived there as foreigners to this day.)

4 Meanwhile, Jonathan—Saul’s son—had a son named Mephibosheth who was crippled in both feet. He was five years old when news of Saul and Jonathan’s deaths came from Jezreel. His nurse picked him up and fled, but as she hurried away, he fell and became lame.

Ishbosheth Is Murdered in His Sleep

(Verses 5–7)

5 One day, around noon, when Ishbosheth was resting in his home, Rechab and Baanah came to his house during the heat of the day.

6 They entered as if to collect some wheat and stabbed him in the stomach. Then Rechab and Baanah escaped.

7 They had entered the house while he lay in bed in his bedroom. They killed him, cut off his head, and traveled through the night, taking his head with them across the Jordan Valley.

David Executes the Murderers

(Verses 8–12)

8 They brought Ishbosheth’s head to David at Hebron and said, “Here is the head of your enemy’s son—Saul, who tried to kill you! The Lord has given you justice today against Saul and his descendants.”

9 But David answered Rechab and Baanah, “As surely as the Lord lives, who has rescued me from every trouble,

10 when someone brought me the news of Saul’s death thinking it would be a reward, I had him executed in Ziklag—even though he thought he was bringing good news.

11 How much more should I punish you, wicked men who have murdered an innocent man in his own house, on his own bed? Shouldn’t I demand his blood from your hands and wipe you from the earth?”

12 Then David commanded his young men to kill them. They did, and cut off their hands and feet, and hung their bodies beside the pool in Hebron. But they buried Ishbosheth’s head in Abner’s tomb in Hebron.

Key Lessons from 2 Samuel Chapter 4

- Leadership without support crumbles quickly — With Abner gone, Ishbosheth’s strength vanished, revealing how fragile his reign truly was.
- Ruthless ambition always backfires — Rechab and Baanah assumed David would reward them for killing Ishbosheth, but they misunderstood righteousness for revenge.

- God’s justice is not man’s shortcut — David refused to accept unrighteous killing as a means of fulfilling God’s promise to him. Even when his enemy died, he valued justice over personal gain.
- Integrity counts in dark moments — David’s refusal to legitimize evil for political advantage demonstrated godly character and gained him respect.
- The way you handle power reveals who you really are — David’s judgment showed he wasn’t just a warrior, but a just and God-fearing king.

2 Samuel Chapter 5 — Crawford Standard Bible

David Anointed King of All Israel and Victorious Over the Philistines

David Becomes King Over All Israel

(Verses 1–5)

1 Then all the tribes of Israel came to David at Hebron and said, “We are your own flesh and blood.

2 Even when Saul was our king, it was you who led our armies in and out. And the Lord said to you, ‘You will shepherd My people Israel and be their ruler.’”

3 So all the elders of Israel came to the king at Hebron, and King David made a covenant with them before the Lord. Then they anointed David as king over Israel.

4 David was 30 years old when he began to reign, and he reigned for 40 years.

5 He ruled over Judah in Hebron for seven and a half years, and he ruled over all Israel and Judah from Jerusalem for 33 years.

David Captures Jerusalem

(Verses 6–10)

6 Then the king and his men marched to Jerusalem to attack the Jebusites, who lived there. The Jebusites mocked David, saying, “You’ll never get in here! Even the blind and lame could keep you out!”

7 But David captured the stronghold of Zion, which became known as the City of David.

8 On that day David said, “Whoever attacks the Jebusites should strike through the water shaft and attack the lame and the blind whom David despises.” That’s why people say, “The blind and the lame must not enter the palace.”

9 David moved into the fortress and called it the City of David. He built around it, starting from the terraces inward.

10 And David became more and more powerful because the Lord God of Heaven’s Armies was with him.

David Recognized by Other Nations

(Verses 11–12)

11 Then King Hiram of Tyre sent messengers to David, along with cedar wood, carpenters, and masons, and they built a palace for David.

12 David realized that the Lord had confirmed him as king over Israel and had blessed his kingdom for the sake of His people.

David's Family Grows in Jerusalem

(Verses 13–16)

13 After moving from Hebron to Jerusalem, David took more concubines and wives, and more sons and daughters were born to him.

14 These are the names of those born in Jerusalem: Shammua, Shobab, Nathan, Solomon,

15 Ibhar, Elishua, Nepheg, Japhia,

16 Elishama, Eliada, and Eliphelet.

David Defeats the Philistines

(Verses 17–25)

17 When the Philistines heard that David had been anointed king of Israel, they went out in full force to find him. But David heard about it and went down to the fortress.

18 The Philistines arrived and spread out in the Valley of Rephaim.

19 David asked the Lord, "Should I attack the Philistines? Will You hand them over to me?"

The Lord replied, "Yes, go ahead. I will certainly hand them over to you."

20 So David went to Baal-perazim and defeated them there. He said, "The Lord has burst through my enemies like a raging flood!" So he named the place Baal-perazim (meaning "The Lord Who Breaks Through").

21 The Philistines abandoned their idols there, and David and his men burned them.

22 But the Philistines returned and again spread out in the Valley of Rephaim.

23 Once again David asked the Lord what to do, and the Lord replied, "Don't attack them directly. Circle around behind them and attack them near the balsam trees.

24 When you hear the sound of marching in the tops of the trees, move quickly! That will be the signal that the Lord has gone ahead of you to strike the Philistine army."

25 So David did as the Lord commanded, and he struck down the Philistines all the way from Geba to Gezer.

Key Lessons from 2 Samuel Chapter 5

- God’s promises are fulfilled in His perfect time — After years of waiting and trials, David finally became king over all Israel, just as God had promised.
- True leadership is built on faithfulness, not titles — Israel recognized that David had always been their leader, even when Saul was king.
- Victory comes from dependence on God — David didn’t rely on military strength alone but sought the Lord’s guidance in every battle.
- God’s presence brings strength and growth — David’s kingdom grew because the Lord was with him, not because of his own power.
- The Lord is the God of breakthrough — At Baal-perazim, David recognized that God breaks through enemy strongholds. He still does today.

2 Samuel Chapter 6 — Crawford Standard Bible

Bringing the Ark of God to Jerusalem

The First Attempt to Bring the Ark

(Verses 1–5)

1 David again gathered all the elite troops of Israel—30,000 in all.

2 He and all those with him set out from Baale of Judah to bring up the Ark of God, which bears the Name of the Lord of Heaven’s Armies, who is enthroned between the cherubim.

3 They placed the Ark of God on a new cart and brought it from Abinadab’s house on the hill. Uzzah and Ahio, Abinadab’s sons, were guiding the cart.

4 Ahio walked in front of the Ark.

5 David and all the people of Israel were celebrating before the Lord with all kinds of instruments—harps, lyres, tambourines, castanets, and cymbals.

Uzzah’s Death and David’s Fear

(Verses 6–11)

6 When they arrived at the threshing floor of Nacon, the oxen stumbled, and Uzzah reached out and grabbed the Ark of God to steady it.

7 Then the Lord’s anger burned against Uzzah, and God struck him down for his irreverent act. Uzzah died there beside the Ark.

8 David was angry because the Lord’s wrath had broken out against Uzzah. So he named the place “Perez-uzzah,” which means “Outburst Against Uzzah.”

9 David was now afraid of the Lord and said, “How can I ever bring the Ark of the Lord into my care?”
10 So David decided not to move the Ark into the City of David. Instead, he took it to the home of Obed-edom the Gittite.
11 The Ark of the Lord remained there for three months, and the Lord blessed Obed-edom and his entire household.

The Ark Brought to Jerusalem with Joy

(Verses 12–15)

12 Then King David was told, “The Lord has blessed Obed-edom’s house because of the Ark of God.” So David went there and brought the Ark to the City of David with great celebration.
13 After the men who were carrying the Ark had taken six steps, David sacrificed a bull and a fattened calf.
14 And David danced before the Lord with all his might, wearing a linen ephod.
15 So David and all Israel brought up the Ark of the Lord with shouts of joy and the sound of trumpets.

Michal’s Contempt and David’s Response

(Verses 16–23)

16 As the Ark entered the City of David, Michal, Saul’s daughter, looked out of the window. When she saw King David leaping and dancing before the Lord, she was filled with contempt for him.
17 They brought the Ark of the Lord and placed it inside the special tent David had prepared. Then David offered burnt offerings and peace offerings before the Lord.
18 After he finished, he blessed the people in the name of the Lord of Heaven’s Armies.
19 Then he gave a loaf of bread, a portion of meat, and a cake of raisins to every man and woman in Israel. Then everyone went home.
20 When David returned to bless his own family, Michal came out to meet him. She said sarcastically, “How dignified the king of Israel looked today—shamelessly exposing himself like a vulgar person in front of the servant girls!”
21 David replied, “I was dancing before the Lord, who chose me instead of your father and his family to be ruler over His people. I will celebrate before the Lord!
22 I’m willing to look even more foolish than this—even humiliate myself. But those servant girls you mentioned will think I’m honorable.”
23 So Michal, the daughter of Saul, had no children for the rest of her life.

Key Lessons from 2 Samuel Chapter 6

- Worship must be done God’s way — Though David’s heart was in the right place, Uzzah’s death reminds us that irreverence in handling sacred things can bring serious consequences.

- God’s presence brings blessing — The household of Obed-edom prospered because the Ark of God was there.
- True worship includes joy and sacrifice — David didn’t just move the Ark; he worshipped with all his heart, dancing, sacrificing, and rejoicing before the Lord.
- Don’t let pride keep you from praising God — Michal’s pride caused her to despise David’s humility, and her criticism led to barrenness—both physically and spiritually.
- The Lord values heart over appearance — While others saw David’s actions as undignified, God saw a man after His own heart worshipping in spirit and truth.

2 Samuel Chapter 7 — Crawford Standard Bible

God’s Covenant with David

David’s Desire to Build a Temple

(Verses 1–3)

1 After the king settled into his palace and the Lord had given him rest from all his surrounding enemies,

2 he said to the prophet Nathan, “Look! I’m living in a house made of cedar, but the Ark of God is kept inside a tent!”

3 Nathan replied, “Go ahead and do whatever is in your heart, for the Lord is with you.”

God’s Message Through Nathan

(Verses 4–17)

4 But that night the word of the Lord came to Nathan:

5 “Go and tell My servant David, ‘This is what the Lord says: Are you the one to build a house for Me to live in?’

6 I have not lived in a house from the day I brought the Israelites out of Egypt until now. I have moved from place to place in a tent as My dwelling.

7 In all My journeys with the Israelites, did I ever ask any tribal leaders—whom I commanded to shepherd My people—“Why haven’t you built Me a house of cedar?”

8 “Now then, tell My servant David, ‘This is what the Lord of Heaven’s Armies says: I took you from the pasture, from tending sheep, and appointed you to rule over My people Israel.

9 I have been with you wherever you have gone and have destroyed all your enemies. I will make your name as famous as anyone who has ever lived.

10 And I will provide a homeland for My people Israel—a place of their own where they will live in peace. Wicked people will not oppress them anymore as they did in the past 11 from the time I appointed judges over My people. I will give you rest from all your enemies.

Furthermore, the Lord declares that He will build a house for you!’

12 “‘When your days are done and you are buried with your ancestors, I will raise up one of your own descendants, your own flesh and blood, and I will establish his kingdom.

13 He is the one who will build a house for My name, and I will secure his royal throne forever.

14 I will be his Father, and he will be My son. When he sins, I will correct him with human discipline, with blows from human hands.

15 But I will never take My love from him, as I took it from Saul, whom I removed from before you.

16 Your house and your kingdom will stand before Me forever. Your throne will be established forever.’”

17 Nathan gave David all these words in a vision, exactly as the Lord had spoken.

David’s Prayer of Gratitude

(Verses 18–29)

18 Then King David went in and sat before the Lord. He said, “Who am I, O Lord God, and what is my family, that You have brought me this far?

19 And now, Lord God, as if this were a small thing in Your eyes, You have also spoken about the future of my house! Is this Your usual way of dealing with people, O Lord God?

20 “What more can I say to You? You know what Your servant is really like, O Lord God.

21 Because of Your promise and according to Your own heart, You have done all these great things to make Your servant know them.

22 That is why You are great, O Lord God! There is no one like You, and there is no God besides You, just as we have heard with our own ears.

23 “And who is like Your people Israel—the one nation on earth that God went out to redeem as His own people? You made a name for Yourself by doing great and awesome miracles for them. You redeemed them from Egypt, from other nations, and from their gods.

24 You made Israel Your very own people forever, and You, Lord, have become their God.

25 “Now, Lord God, fulfill the promise You made to me and my family forever. Do as You have said,

26 so that Your name will be honored forever. Then people will say, ‘The Lord of Heaven’s Armies is God over Israel!’ And may the house of Your servant David be established in Your presence.

27 “Lord of Heaven’s Armies, God of Israel, You have revealed to me, saying, ‘I will build a house for you.’ So Your servant has found courage to offer this prayer.

28 Sovereign Lord, You are God! Your words are true, and You have promised this goodness to Your servant.

29 Now please bless the house of Your servant so that it may continue before You forever. For You,
Sovereign Lord, have spoken, and with Your blessing, the house of Your servant will be blessed forever.”

Key Lessons from 2 Samuel Chapter 7

- God values the heart behind our intentions. David wanted to build a house for God, but God had bigger plans—to build David an eternal dynasty.
- God initiates the greater blessings. While David desired to honor God, it was God who gave the greater promise: an everlasting throne through David’s lineage.
- Messiah is foreshadowed. The promise of a kingdom that lasts forever points to Jesus Christ, the Son of David, whose throne will never end.
- True greatness comes from God. David’s name became great not because of his accomplishments, but because of God’s favor and purpose.
- Gratitude is the right response to grace. David’s humble, worshipful response is a model of how we should thank God when He gives us undeserved favor.

2 Samuel Chapter 8 — Crawford Standard Bible

David’s Military Victories and Administration

David Subdues Surrounding Nations

(Verses 1–6)

1 After this, David defeated the Philistines and brought them under his control. He took Gath from them.

2 He also defeated the Moabites. He made them lie down on the ground and measured them with a line—two lengths to be put to death and one length to be spared. So the Moabites became David’s subjects and brought him tribute.

3 David also defeated Hadadezer son of Rehob, king of Zobah, when he went to reestablish his control at the Euphrates River.

4 David captured 1,000 chariots, 700 charioteers, and 20,000 foot soldiers. He crippled all but 100 of the chariot horses.

5 When the Arameans of Damascus came to help Hadadezer king of Zobah, David killed 22,000 of them.

6 Then David stationed garrisons in Aram of Damascus, and the Arameans became subject to him and paid tribute. And the Lord gave David victory wherever he went.

David Dedicates the Spoils to the Lord

(Verses 7–12)

7 David took the gold shields that belonged to the servants of Hadadezer and brought them to Jerusalem.

8 He also took a large amount of bronze from Betah and Berothai, cities of Hadadezer.

9 When Toi king of Hamath heard that David had defeated Hadadezer,

10 he sent his son Joram to King David to greet and bless him, because he had fought against Hadadezer and defeated him—for Hadadezer had been at war with Toi. Joram brought articles of silver, gold, and bronze.

11 King David dedicated these to the Lord, along with the silver and gold he had taken from all the nations he subdued:

12 from Aram, Moab, Ammon, the Philistines, Amalek, and from the spoil of Hadadezer son of Rehob, king of Zobah.

David's Fame and Justice

(Verses 13–14)

13 David made a name for himself when he returned from striking down 18,000 Edomites in the Valley of Salt.

14 He placed garrisons throughout Edom, and all the Edomites became David's subjects. And the Lord gave David victory wherever he went.

David's Officials and Administration

(Verses 15–18)

15 So David reigned over all Israel, and he administered justice and righteousness for all his people.

16 Joab son of Zeruiah was over the army; Jehoshaphat son of Ahilud was the royal historian.

17 Zadok son of Ahitub and Ahimelech son of Abiathar were priests; Seraiah was the court secretary.

18 Benaiah son of Jehoiada was in charge of the Cherethites and Pelethites; and David's sons served as chief officials.

Key Lessons from 2 Samuel Chapter 8

- Victory comes from the Lord. Despite David's military skill, the chapter repeatedly emphasizes that "the Lord preserved David wherever he went."
→ Psalm 20:7 — "Some trust in chariots and some in horses, but we trust in the name of the Lord our God."
- David honored God with his success. He dedicated the treasures and spoils of war to the Lord, recognizing that the victories were not his own doing.
→ Proverbs 3:9 — "Honor the Lord with your wealth and with the best part of everything you produce."
- Leadership must balance power with justice. David's reign is described as one of "justice and righteousness," showing that strong leadership must also be fair and God-honoring.

- God blesses faithful stewardship. David governed wisely, surrounded himself with capable leaders, and sought to honor God in his rule. His success wasn't just military—it was administrative and spiritual.

2 Samuel Chapter 9 — Crawford Standard Bible

David's Kindness to Mephibosheth

David Seeks to Honor Jonathan's Family

(Verses 1–3)

1 One day David asked, "Is there anyone still left in Saul's family that I can show kindness to for the sake of Jonathan?"

2 There was a servant from Saul's household named Ziba. He was summoned to appear before David, and the king asked him, "Are you Ziba?"

"Yes, your servant," he replied.

3 The king then asked, "Is there anyone left from Saul's family that I can show God's kindness to?" Ziba answered, "Yes, Jonathan has a son. He is crippled in both feet."

Mephibosheth Is Found and Summoned

(Verses 4–6)

4 "Where is he?" the king asked.

"He is living in Lo-debar, at the house of Machir son of Ammiel," Ziba replied.

5 So King David sent for him and brought him from the house of Machir son of Ammiel in Lo-debar.

6 When Mephibosheth, the son of Jonathan and grandson of Saul, came to David, he bowed low with his face to the ground in respect.

"Mephibosheth!" David said.

"At your service," he replied.

David's Grace and Restoration

(Verses 7–10)

7 "Don't be afraid," David said. "I intend to show you kindness because of your father Jonathan. I will restore to you all the land that once belonged to your grandfather Saul, and you will always eat at my table."

8 Mephibosheth bowed again and said, "Who am I, your servant, that you would show such kindness to a dead dog like me?"

9 Then the king called Ziba, Saul's former servant, and told him, "I have given your master's grandson everything that belonged to Saul and his family.

10 You and your sons and your servants are to farm the land for him and bring in the harvest so that your master's grandson may have food to eat. But Mephibosheth will eat at my table always." (Ziba had fifteen sons and twenty servants.)

A Seat at the King's Table

(Verses 11–13)

11 Ziba said to the king, "Your servant will do whatever my lord the king commands."

So Mephibosheth ate at David's table like one of the king's own sons.

12 Mephibosheth had a young son named Micha. Everyone living in Ziba's household became servants of Mephibosheth.

13 And Mephibosheth lived in Jerusalem because he always ate at the king's table. He was lame in both feet.

Key Lessons from 2 Samuel Chapter 9

- Grace seeks out the forgotten. David actively looked for someone to bless—not because they earned it, but because of a covenant of love and loyalty with Jonathan.
→ Luke 19:10 — "For the Son of Man came to seek and save those who are lost."
- Honor lasts beyond the grave. David remembered Jonathan's kindness and honored it years later, showing the value of loyalty and long-term faithfulness.
→ Proverbs 3:3 — "Never let loyalty and kindness leave you!"
- God's kindness lifts the lowly. Mephibosheth saw himself as "a dead dog," yet he was seated at the king's table like a royal son. This mirrors the grace of God that exalts the humble.
→ Ephesians 2:6 — "For He raised us from the dead along with Christ and seated us with Him in the heavenly realms."
- True kindness is restorative. David didn't just feed Mephibosheth—he restored his inheritance and gave him a place of belonging.
→ Joel 2:25 — "I will restore to you the years that the swarming locust has eaten."

2 Samuel Chapter 10 — Crawford Standard Bible

David's Kindness Rejected and War with Ammon

Diplomacy Turned to Humiliation

(Verses 1–5)

1 After this, the king of the Ammonites died, and his son Hanun became king in his place.
2 David said, “I’ll show kindness to Hanun son of Nahash, just as his father showed kindness to me.”
So David sent a delegation to comfort Hanun concerning his father. But when David’s men arrived in Ammon,
3 the Ammonite officials said to Hanun, “Do you really think David is honoring your father by sending these men? Hasn’t he really sent them to spy out the city and overthrow it?”
4 So Hanun seized David’s men, shaved off half their beards, cut their clothes at the waist, exposing them, and sent them away.
5 When David heard what had happened, he sent messengers to meet them, for they were deeply humiliated. The king said, “Stay at Jericho until your beards grow back. Then return.”

The Ammonites Prepare for War

(Verses 6–8)

6 Realizing they had deeply offended David, the Ammonites hired 20,000 Aramean foot soldiers from Beth-rehob and Zobah, 1,000 men from the king of Maacah, and 12,000 from the land of Tob.
7 When David heard about it, he sent Joab with the entire army of mighty warriors.
8 The Ammonites marched out and formed a battle line at the city gate, while the Arameans of Zobah and Rehob and the men of Tob and Maacah stood by themselves in the open country.

Joab’s Strategy and Courage

(Verses 9–14)

9 When Joab saw that they were surrounded front and back, he chose the best troops to fight the Arameans.
10 The rest of the army he placed under his brother Abishai to fight the Ammonites.
11 Joab said, “If the Arameans are too strong for me, you help me. If the Ammonites are too strong for you, I’ll come help you.
12 Be strong, and let us show courage for our people and the cities of our God. May the Lord do what He sees fit.”
13 Then Joab and his troops advanced to fight the Arameans, and they fled before him.
14 When the Ammonites saw the Arameans flee, they also ran from Abishai and retreated into the city. Joab returned to Jerusalem.

David Defeats the Syrians

(Verses 15–19)

15 After their defeat, the Arameans regrouped.

16 Hadadezer sent for reinforcements from beyond the Euphrates River. They came to Helam, led by Shobach, commander of Hadadezer's army.

17 When David heard, he gathered all Israel, crossed the Jordan, and went to Helam. The Arameans took up battle formation and fought against David.

18 But they fled before Israel, and David killed 700 chariot drivers and 40,000 horsemen. He also struck down Shobach, the army commander, and he died there.

19 When all the kings who served Hadadezer saw they were defeated by Israel, they made peace with Israel and became subject to them. After that, the Arameans were afraid to help the Ammonites anymore.

Key Lessons from 2 Samuel Chapter 10

- Kindness is not always received rightly. David offered genuine comfort, but suspicion and insecurity turned peace into conflict.
→ Proverbs 17:13 — “If you repay good with evil, evil will never leave your house.”
- Pride leads to humiliation. The Ammonites dishonored David's men and ended up bringing destruction upon themselves.
→ Proverbs 11:2 — “Pride leads to disgrace, but with humility comes wisdom.”
- When under attack, trust in God and stand together. Joab encouraged his men with courage and unity, trusting God with the outcome.
→ 1 Corinthians 16:13 — “Be on guard. Stand firm in the faith. Be courageous. Be strong.”
- God gives victory to those who rely on Him. David's success was not in military might alone but in God's favor.
→ Psalms 44:3 — “They did not conquer the land with their swords; it was not their own strong arm that gave them victory. It was your right hand and strong arm and the blinding light from your face that helped them, for you loved them.”

2 Samuel Chapter 11 — Crawford Standard Bible

David's Sin with Bathsheba and the Fall of Uriah

David Stays Behind While Israel Fights

(Verse 1)

1 In the spring, the season when kings normally go to war, David sent Joab with his officers and all Israel to fight the Ammonites. They destroyed them and laid siege to Rabbah. But David stayed behind in Jerusalem.

The Sin with Bathsheba

(Verses 2–5)

2 Late one evening, David got up from his bed and walked on the rooftop of the palace. From there, he saw a woman bathing—she was very beautiful.

3 David sent someone to find out about her. The man said, “She is Bathsheba, the daughter of Eliam and the wife of Uriah the Hittite.”

4 Then David sent messengers to bring her to him. She came, and he slept with her. (She had just completed her purification after her period.) Then she returned home.

5 Later, Bathsheba sent word to David: “I’m pregnant.”

David’s Attempt to Cover His Sin

(Verses 6–13)

6 David sent a message to Joab: “Send me Uriah the Hittite.” So Joab sent him to David.

7 When Uriah arrived, David asked how Joab and the troops were doing, and how the war was going.

8 Then David said, “Go home and relax.” David even sent a gift after him.

9 But Uriah didn’t go home. He slept at the entrance of the palace with the rest of the king’s servants.

10 When David heard this, he asked Uriah, “You just got back from a journey—why didn’t you go home?”

11 Uriah replied, “The Ark and the armies of Israel and Judah are living in tents, and my commander Joab and the soldiers are camped in the open fields. How could I go home to eat, drink, and sleep with my wife? I swear I won’t do such a thing.”

12 David said, “Stay here today, and tomorrow I’ll send you back.” So Uriah stayed in Jerusalem another day.

13 David invited him to eat and drink, and made him drunk. But that evening Uriah still didn’t go home; he slept with the servants again.

David Orders Uriah’s Death

(Verses 14–17)

14 The next morning, David wrote a letter to Joab and gave it to Uriah to deliver.

15 In it he wrote: “Put Uriah on the front lines where the fighting is fiercest. Then pull back from him so he’ll be struck down and killed.”

16 So Joab assigned Uriah to a place near the city wall, where he knew the enemy’s strongest men were.

17 When the men of the city came out to fight, Uriah was killed along with other Israelite soldiers.

Joab Reports Uriah's Death

(Verses 18–25)

18 Joab sent a full report of the battle to David.

19 He instructed the messenger, “When you finish telling the king all about the battle,

20 if he gets angry and asks, ‘Why did you go so close to the wall? Didn’t you know they’d shoot arrows from there?’

21 Who killed Abimelech son of Jerubbesheth? Didn’t a woman throw a millstone on him from the wall? Why did you get so close?’—then tell him, ‘Your servant Uriah the Hittite is dead too.’”

22 The messenger arrived and reported everything Joab had told him.

23 He said, “The enemy came out to fight us in the field. We pushed them back to the city gate.

24 Then the archers shot arrows from the wall at us. Some of the king’s men were killed, and your servant Uriah the Hittite also died.”

25 David replied, “Tell Joab, ‘Don’t be discouraged. The sword devours one as well as another. Keep fighting and take the city!’ Encourage him.”

Bathsheba Becomes David's Wife

(Verses 26–27)

26 When Uriah’s wife heard that her husband had died, she mourned for him.

27 After the mourning period, David brought her to his house, and she became his wife and bore him a son.

But the thing David had done displeased the Lord.

Key Lessons from 2 Samuel Chapter 11

- Sin often begins in idleness. David remained home instead of leading in battle—his spiritual guard was down.
→ Proverbs 16:27 — “Idle hands are the devil’s workshop.”
- One sin leads to another if left unchecked. Lust led to adultery, then to lies, manipulation, and eventually murder.
→ James 1:15 — “These desires give birth to sinful actions. And when sin is allowed to grow, it gives birth to death.”
- Integrity refuses to compromise—even under pressure. Uriah’s faithfulness stands in stark contrast to David’s failure.
→ Psalms 15:2 — “Those who lead blameless lives and do what is right, speaking the truth from sincere hearts.”
- God sees what is done in secret. Though David covered his tracks before men, “the thing he had done displeased the Lord.”

→ Hebrews 4:13 — “Nothing in all creation is hidden from God. Everything is naked and exposed before his eyes.”

2 Samuel Chapter 12 — Crawford Standard Bible

Nathan Confronts David, and Judgment Falls

Nathan’s Story: A Parable of Injustice

(Verses 1–6)

1 The Lord sent Nathan to David. When he came to him, he said, “There were two men in a certain city—one was rich, the other poor.

2 The rich man had many flocks and herds.

3 But the poor man had nothing except one little lamb he had bought. He raised it, and it grew up with him and his children. It ate from his plate, drank from his cup, and slept in his arms. It was like a daughter to him.

4 One day, a traveler came to the rich man. But instead of using one of his own animals to prepare a meal for his guest, he took the poor man’s lamb and cooked it for the visitor.”

5 David was furious. He said to Nathan, “As surely as the Lord lives, the man who did this deserves to die!

6 He must repay four times the value of the lamb because he did such a cruel thing and showed no compassion!”

Nathan’s Bold Accusation and God’s Judgment

(Verses 7–12)

7 Then Nathan said to David, “You are that man! This is what the Lord, the God of Israel, says: ‘I anointed you king over Israel and rescued you from Saul.

8 I gave you his house and his wives and the kingdoms of Israel and Judah. And if that hadn’t been enough, I would have given you even more.

9 Why have you despised the word of the Lord by doing what is evil in his sight? You struck down Uriah the Hittite with the sword and took his wife as your own. You killed him through the Ammonites.

10 Now the sword will never leave your house because you have despised me and taken Uriah’s wife.

11 This is what the Lord says: I am going to bring disaster upon you from within your own household. I will take your wives and give them to another, and he will sleep with them in broad daylight.

12 You did this in secret, but I will do this in front of all Israel, in the open.”

David's Repentance and the Child's Death

(Verses 13–23)

13 David said to Nathan, “I have sinned against the Lord.” Nathan replied, “The Lord has forgiven your sin—you won’t die.

14 But because of what you’ve done, you’ve given the enemies of the Lord an opportunity to blaspheme. The child born to you will die.”

15 Then Nathan went home. The Lord struck the child that Uriah’s wife had borne to David, and the child became very sick.

16 David pleaded with God for the child. He fasted and spent the nights lying on the ground.

17 The elders of his household tried to get him up, but he refused and would not eat.

18 On the seventh day, the child died. David’s servants were afraid to tell him. They said, “He wouldn’t listen while the child was alive. What will he do if we tell him the child is dead?”

19 But David noticed them whispering and realized what had happened. He asked, “Is the child dead?” They replied, “Yes.”

20 Then David got up, washed, put on lotions, and changed clothes. He went into the house of the Lord and worshiped. Then he returned to his palace and ate.

21 His servants asked, “Why are you acting this way? While the child was alive, you fasted and wept. But now that he’s dead, you’ve gotten up and eaten.”

22 David answered, “While the child was alive, I fasted and wept. I thought, ‘Maybe the Lord will be gracious and let the child live.’

23 But now he’s dead—why should I fast? Can I bring him back? I will go to him one day, but he won’t return to me.”

Solomon Is Born and Loved by God

(Verses 24–25)

24 Then David comforted his wife Bathsheba. He slept with her, and she gave birth to a son. David named him Solomon. The Lord loved him,

25 and sent word through Nathan the prophet to name him Jedidiah (“beloved of the Lord”), because the Lord loved him.

Victory Over Rabbah

(Verses 26–31)

26 Meanwhile, Joab was fighting against Rabbah of the Ammonites and captured the royal city.

27 He sent messengers to David, saying, “I have fought against Rabbah and captured its water supply.

28 Now gather the rest of the troops, come finish the battle, and take the city. Otherwise, I’ll capture it, and it will be named after me.”

29 So David gathered the troops, went to Rabbah, attacked it, and took it.

30 He took the crown from the head of their king—it weighed about 75 pounds and was set with precious stones—and placed it on his own head. He brought out vast amounts of plunder.

31 He removed the people and forced them to work with saws, iron picks, and axes, and made them labor at brick kilns. This was done to all the Ammonite cities. Then David and all his army returned to Jerusalem.

Key Lessons from 2 Samuel Chapter 12

- Sin has consequences, even when forgiven. David was spared, but his actions brought judgment on his household.
→ Galatians 6:7 — “You will always harvest what you plant.”
- God values repentance over reputation. David’s honesty in confession opened the way to restoration.
→ Psalms 51:17 — “A broken and contrite heart, O God, you will not despise.”
- God’s mercy still flows in judgment. Though David sinned, God brought Solomon from that union—a child of destiny.
→ Romans 8:28 — “God causes everything to work together for the good of those who love Him.”
- True worship includes surrender. David worshiped even in grief, trusting God’s will.
→ Job 1:21 — “The Lord gave and the Lord has taken away. Blessed be the name of the Lord.”

2 Samuel Chapter 13 — Crawford Standard Bible

Tragedy in the House of David

Amnon’s Obsession and Jonadab’s Scheme

(Verses 1–5)

1 After this, David’s son Absalom had a beautiful sister named Tamar. And David’s son Amnon was in love with her.

2 Amnon was so obsessed with his sister Tamar that he became sick. She was a virgin, and Amnon didn’t think there was any way he could be with her.

3 But Amnon had a crafty friend named Jonadab, the son of Shimeah (David’s brother).

4 Jonadab said to him, “Why are you, the king’s son, looking so worn out every day? Tell me what’s going on.” Amnon replied, “I’m in love with Tamar, my brother Absalom’s sister.”

5 Jonadab said, “Here’s what you should do: Pretend to be sick, and when your father comes to see you, say, ‘Please let my sister Tamar come and prepare some food in front of me so I can watch and eat from her hand.’”

Tamar's Innocence Violated

(Verses 6–14)

6 So Amnon laid down and pretended to be sick. When the king came to see him, Amnon said, "Please let Tamar come and make a couple of cakes in my sight, so I can eat from her hand."

7 David sent word to Tamar at home, "Go to your brother Amnon's house and prepare food for him."

8 Tamar went to his house and found him lying down. She took flour, kneaded it, made cakes before him, and baked them.

9 Then she poured them out on a pan in front of him, but he refused to eat. He said, "Send everyone out!" So they all left.

10 Amnon said, "Bring the food into the bedroom so I can eat from your hand." So Tamar brought it to him.

11 But as she came close, he grabbed her and said, "Come to bed with me, my sister."

12 She said, "No, my brother! Don't force me! Such a thing should never be done in Israel. Don't be so foolish!

13 Where would I take my shame? And what about you? You would be like one of the wicked fools in Israel. Please speak to the king—he won't keep me from marrying you."

14 But Amnon wouldn't listen to her. He was stronger than she was, and he forced her and slept with her.

Hatred and Humiliation

(Verses 15–19)

15 Then Amnon hated her with intense hatred. The hatred he felt was greater than the love he had for her. He said, "Get up and leave!"

16 Tamar said, "No, sending me away now is even worse than what you've already done!" But he wouldn't listen.

17 He called his servant and said, "Throw this woman out and lock the door behind her."

18 She was wearing a long robe, the kind worn by virgin daughters of the king. His servant threw her out and bolted the door.

19 Tamar put ashes on her head, tore her long robe, and laid her hand on her head as she walked away, weeping loudly.

Absalom's Silent Rage

(Verses 20–22)

20 Absalom said, "Has Amnon your brother been with you? Be quiet for now, my sister. He is your brother. Don't take this to heart." So Tamar lived as a desolate woman in Absalom's house.

21 When King David heard what happened, he was furious.

22 But Absalom said nothing to Amnon—good or bad—because he hated him for raping his sister Tamar.

Absalom Plots Revenge

(Verses 23–29)

23 Two years later, Absalom had his sheep sheared at Baal-hazor, near Ephraim. He invited all the king's sons.

24 Absalom went to the king and said, "Please let the king and his servants come to my feast."

25 The king replied, "No, my son. If we all go, it would be too much for you." Absalom urged him, but David declined and gave him his blessing.

26 Then Absalom said, "If not, then let my brother Amnon come with us." The king asked, "Why should he go with you?"

27 But Absalom kept insisting, so David let Amnon and all his sons go.

28 Absalom instructed his servants, "Watch Amnon closely. When he's drunk and I say, 'Strike him down,' kill him. Don't be afraid. I'm ordering you—be strong and brave."

29 So Absalom's servants killed Amnon, just as he had ordered. Then all the king's sons jumped up, got on their mules, and fled.

Panic at the Palace

(Verses 30–33)

30 While they were on their way, word reached David: "Absalom has killed all the king's sons! None are left!"

31 The king tore his clothes and threw himself on the ground. His officials stood by in shock.

32 But Jonadab, son of Shimeah (David's brother), said, "Don't believe they've all been killed. Only Amnon is dead. Absalom has been planning this ever since Amnon raped his sister Tamar.

33 Don't take it to heart, my king—only Amnon is dead."

Absalom Flees

(Verses 34–39)

34 Meanwhile, Absalom fled. A lookout on the hill saw a crowd coming toward the city.

35 Jonadab said, "Look, the king's sons are coming—just as I said."

36 As he finished speaking, the king's sons arrived, crying loudly. The king and all his officials also wept bitterly.

37 Absalom fled to Talmai son of Ammihud, king of Geshur. David mourned for Amnon every day.

38 Absalom stayed in Geshur for three years.

39 King David longed to be reunited with Absalom, because he had finally come to terms with Amnon's death.

Key Lessons from 2 Samuel Chapter 13

- Lust is not love. Amnon's actions proved his "love" was selfish, destructive, and evil.
→ 1 Corinthians 13:5 — "Love does not demand its own way."

→ Ecclesiastes 8:11 — "When a crime is not punished quickly, people feel it is safe to do wrong."

The Return of Absalom

Joab's Scheme to Reunite Father and Son

(Verses 1–3)

1 Joab, the son of Zeruah, noticed how much the king longed to see Absalom.

2 So Joab sent for a wise woman from Tekoa and said, "Pretend to be in mourning. Dress in mourning clothes and don't use any perfume. Act like a woman who has grieved for the dead a long time.

3 Go to the king and tell him this story." Then Joab told her exactly what to say.

The Wise Woman's Plea

(Verses 4–11)

4 When the woman from Tekoa approached the king, she fell with her face to the ground and said, "Help me, O king!"

5 "What's the matter?" the king asked. She replied, "I'm a widow. My husband is dead.

6 I had two sons. They got into a fight out in the field, and since there was no one to separate them, one struck the other and killed him.

7 Now the whole family has risen up against me. They demand, 'Hand over the one who killed his brother so we can put him to death for taking his brother's life!' They want to kill the only heir I have and leave me with no one to carry on my husband's name."

8 The king said, “Go home. I’ll take care of the matter.”

9 The woman said, “My lord the king, let the blame be on me and my father’s house. You and your throne are innocent.”

10 The king replied, “If anyone says anything to you, bring them to me, and they won’t bother you again.”

11 Then she said, “Please swear by the Lord your God that you won’t allow anyone to execute my son.” The king replied, “As surely as the Lord lives, not a hair of your son’s head will fall to the ground.”

The Real Message Revealed

(Verses 12–20)

12 Then the woman said, “Let me say one more thing.”

13 “Go ahead,” the king said. And she said, “Why have you done the very same thing against God’s people? You’ve convicted yourself by not bringing home the one who was banished.

14 We will all die someday—we’re like water spilled on the ground that can’t be gathered again. But God doesn’t take life; instead, He makes a way for those who are banished to be restored.

15 I came to speak because the people scared me. I thought, ‘Maybe the king will hear me

16 and save me and my son from those trying to destroy us.’

17 You, my lord the king, are like an angel of God, able to discern good and evil. May the Lord your God be with you.”

18 The king asked, “Tell me the truth—is Joab behind all this?”

19 The woman replied, “As surely as you live, my lord the king, you’re right. Joab sent me and told me what to say.

20 He did it to bring about this situation. But you, my king, are as wise as an angel of God and know everything that happens in the land.”

Absalom’s Return and Isolation

(Verses 21–24)

21 Then the king said to Joab, “I’ve decided—go and bring back the young man Absalom.”

22 Joab fell on his face and thanked the king. “Now I know I’ve found favor in your eyes, my lord the king, because you’ve granted my request.”

23 Joab went to Geshur and brought Absalom back to Jerusalem.

24 But the king said, “He may return to his house, but he must not see my face.” So Absalom lived in Jerusalem, but he did not see the king.

Absalom’s Handsome Appearance and Family

(Verses 25–27)

25 In all Israel there was no man as handsome as Absalom. From the top of his head to the soles of his feet, there was no blemish in him.

26 He cut his hair only once a year because it grew so heavy—it weighed about five pounds by the royal standard.

27 Absalom had three sons and a daughter named Tamar. She was very beautiful.

Absalom Demands an Audience

(Verses 28–33)

28 Absalom lived in Jerusalem two years without seeing the king’s face.

29 He sent for Joab to ask him to arrange a meeting with the king, but Joab wouldn’t come. He sent for him a second time, but Joab still didn’t come.

30 So Absalom told his servants, “Joab has a field next to mine with barley—go and set it on fire.” So they did.

31 Then Joab came to Absalom and demanded, “Why did your servants set my field on fire?”

32 Absalom said, “I sent for you and you didn’t come. I wanted you to go to the king and ask, ‘Why was I brought back from Geshur if I can’t see him? I’d be better off still there!’ Now let me see the king. If I’m guilty of anything, let him put me to death.”

33 So Joab went to the king and told him everything. David summoned Absalom, and when Absalom came in, he bowed down low before the king, and the king kissed him.

Key Lessons from 2 Samuel Chapter 14

- God desires reconciliation over banishment. Like the wise woman said, God devises ways for the banished to return.
→ Luke 15:20 — “While he was still a long way off, his father saw him and was filled with compassion.”
- Forgiveness is not the same as restoration. David allowed Absalom to return but withheld relationship, leading to deeper bitterness.
→ Matthew 18:15 — “If your brother sins against you, go and show him his fault, just between the two of you.”
- Delays in reconciliation can provoke worse conflict. David’s cold silence made Absalom reckless and desperate.
→ Ephesians 4:26 — “Do not let the sun go down while you are still angry.”
- Even good intentions can be manipulated. Joab’s plan worked, but it was based on deception.
→ Proverbs 12:22 — “The Lord detests lying lips, but he delights in those who tell the truth.”

Absalom's Conspiracy and David's Escape

Absalom's Deception Begins

(Verses 1–6)

1 After this, Absalom acquired a chariot, horses, and fifty men to run ahead of him.

2 He would rise early and stand beside the city gate, and whenever someone came to bring a case to the king for judgment, Absalom would ask, "What city are you from?" The person would answer, "Your servant is from one of the tribes of Israel."

3 Absalom would say, "Your case is good and right, but the king has not appointed anyone to hear you."

4 Then he would add, "Oh, that I were judge in the land! Then every man with a dispute or cause could come to me, and I would give him justice."

5 When anyone approached him to bow before him, Absalom would reach out, take hold of him, and kiss him.

6 Absalom did this to all who came to the king for judgment, and in doing so, he stole the hearts of the men of Israel.

The Conspiracy at Hebron

(Verses 7–12)

7 After four years, Absalom said to the king, "Please let me go to Hebron to fulfill a vow I made to the Lord."

8 He explained, "While I was in Geshur in Aram, I made a vow: 'If the Lord brings me back to Jerusalem, I will worship Him in Hebron.'"

9 The king said, "Go in peace." So Absalom went to Hebron.

10 But Absalom had secretly sent spies throughout Israel, instructing them, "As soon as you hear the sound of the trumpet, then say, 'Absalom reigns in Hebron!'"

11 Two hundred men from Jerusalem had gone with Absalom, unaware of the conspiracy.

12 While offering sacrifices, Absalom sent for Ahithophel the Gilonite, David's counselor, from his hometown of Giloh. The conspiracy grew strong, and more people joined Absalom.

David Flees Jerusalem

(Verses 13–23)

13 A messenger came to David, saying, "The hearts of the men of Israel are with Absalom."

14 David told his officials, "We must flee, or none of us will escape Absalom. Hurry, or he'll overtake us and bring disaster.”

15 The king’s servants replied, “We are your servants, ready to do whatever you command.”

16 So the king left, with his entire household following him. He left behind ten concubines to care for the palace.

17 The king and all the people with him set out and stopped at a distant house.

18 All his officials and bodyguards—the Cherethites, Pelethites, and six hundred Gittites from Gath—passed before him.

19 The king said to Ittai the Gittite, “Why should you come with us? Go back and stay with the new king. You’re a foreigner, an exile.

20 You only arrived yesterday. Should I make you wander with us? Go back with your people. May the Lord show you mercy and faithfulness.”

21 But Ittai replied, “As surely as the Lord lives and as my lord the king lives, wherever you are—whether in life or death—there your servant will be.”

22 David said, “Go ahead and cross over.” So Ittai and all his people, including their children, crossed.

23 The whole countryside wept aloud. The king crossed the Kidron Valley, and all the people moved toward the wilderness.

Zadok and the Ark of God

(Verses 24–29)

24 Zadok and the Levites brought the ark of God with them. They set it down while Abiathar offered sacrifices until all had passed.

25 The king told Zadok, “Take the ark back to the city. If I find favor with the Lord, He will bring me back and let me see it again.

26 But if He says, ‘I am not pleased with you,’ then I am ready; let Him do what He sees fit.”

27 David continued, “Aren’t you a seer? Return to the city in peace with your two sons—Ahimaaz and Jonathan.

28 I’ll wait at the fords of the wilderness until I receive word from you.”

29 So Zadok and Abiathar returned the ark of God to Jerusalem and stayed there.

David Weeps on the Mount of Olives

(Verses 30–31)

30 David climbed the Mount of Olives, weeping with his head covered and barefoot. All the people with him also had their heads covered and were weeping.

31 Someone told David, “Ahithophel is with Absalom!” David prayed, “O Lord, turn Ahithophel’s counsel into foolishness!”

Hushai Joins David's Plan

(Verses 32–37)

32 When David reached the summit where people worshiped God, Hushai the Archite met him with his clothes torn and dirt on his head.

33 David said, "If you come with me, you'll only be a burden.

34 But if you return to the city and say to Absalom, 'I will serve you as I served your father,' then you can frustrate Ahithophel's advice.

35 You'll have Zadok and Abiathar there too. Tell them everything you hear.

36 They'll send word through their sons, Ahimaaz and Jonathan."

37 So Hushai, David's friend, returned to Jerusalem just as Absalom entered the city.

Treachery, Cursing, and Political Theater

Ziba Lies About Mephibosheth

(Verses 1–4)

1 As David passed over the hilltop, Ziba, the servant of Mephibosheth, met him with two donkeys saddled and loaded with two hundred loaves of bread, a hundred clusters of raisins, a hundred summer fruits, and a skin of wine.

2 The king asked Ziba, “What are these for?” Ziba answered, “The donkeys are for the king’s household to ride, the bread and fruit are for the young men to eat, and the wine is for those who grow weary in the wilderness.”

3 Then the king asked, “Where is your master’s son?” Ziba replied, “He stayed in Jerusalem, saying, ‘Today the house of Israel will restore my grandfather’s kingdom to me.’”

4 The king said to Ziba, “Everything that belonged to Mephibosheth is now yours.” Ziba responded, “I humbly bow. May I find favor in your sight, my lord the king.”

Shimei Curses David

(Verses 5–14)

5 As King David came to Bahurim, a man from Saul’s clan named Shimei, son of Gera, came out. He was cursing as he approached.

6 He threw stones at David and all the king’s officials, even though all the warriors were protecting David on every side.

7 Shimei shouted curses: “Get out! Get out, you murderer, you scoundrel!

8 The Lord is repaying you for all the bloodshed in the house of Saul. You took his throne, and now the Lord has given it to your son Absalom. Your ruin is deserved, because you’re a man of blood.”

9 Then Abishai, son of Zeruiah, said to the king, “Why should this dead dog curse my lord the king? Let me go over and cut off his head!”

10 But the king said, “What do I have to do with you, sons of Zeruiah? If the Lord told him to curse David, who can say, ‘Why did you do that?’”

11 David told Abishai and all his officials, “My own son is trying to kill me. Why shouldn’t this Benjamite curse me? Leave him alone. The Lord has told him to do it.

12 Perhaps the Lord will see my misery and repay me with good for the cursing I endure today.”

13 So David and his men kept going. Shimei followed along the hillside, cursing, throwing stones, and kicking dust.

14 Eventually the king and all who were with him reached a place where they could rest, exhausted and weary.

Absalom Enters Jerusalem

(Verses 15–19)

15 Meanwhile, Absalom and the men of Israel entered Jerusalem, and Ahithophel was with him.

16 When Hushai the Archite, David’s friend, came to Absalom, he cried, “Long live the king! Long live the king!”

17 Absalom said to Hushai, “Is this your loyalty to your friend? Why didn’t you go with David?”

18 Hushai replied, “I’m here for the one the Lord, this people, and all Israel have chosen. That’s where I belong.

19 And besides, whom should I serve? Just as I served your father, I will serve you.”

Ahithophel's Wicked Counsel

(Verses 20–23)

20 Absalom said to Ahithophel, “What should we do now?”

21 Ahithophel answered, “Sleep with your father’s concubines—the ones he left to take care of the palace. Then all Israel will know that you have made yourself repulsive to your father. That will strengthen the resolve of your followers.”

22 So they pitched a tent for Absalom on the rooftop, and he slept with his father’s concubines in full view of Israel.

23 Now the advice of Ahithophel in those days was considered as reliable as a word from God himself. That was how both David and Absalom regarded all his counsel.

A Battle of Counsel and the Providence of God

Ahithophel's Ruthless Strategy

(Verses 1–4)

1 Ahithophel said to Absalom, “Let me choose twelve thousand men and pursue David tonight.

2 I will catch him while he is weary and discouraged, terrify him, and cause his people to scatter. Then I will strike down only the king.

3 I will bring all the people back to you as one—after all, you seek only one man. Then all Israel will be at peace.”

4 Absalom and the elders of Israel approved the plan.

Hushai's Counterplan

(Verses 5–14)

5 But Absalom said, “Let's also hear what Hushai the Archite says.”

6 When Hushai arrived, Absalom explained Ahithophel's advice and asked, “Shall we follow it?”

7 Hushai replied, “This time, Ahithophel's counsel is not good.”

8 He continued, “You know your father and his men—they are warriors, enraged like a bear robbed of her cubs. David will not stay with the people.

9 He's likely hiding now in a cave or pit. If your first attack fails, people will panic and say, ‘Absalom's troops are being slaughtered!’

10 Even the bravest soldier will lose heart, knowing your father is a seasoned warrior and his men are fearless.”

11 Hushai advised, “Gather all Israel from Dan to Beersheba, as numerous as the sand on the shore, and lead them into battle yourself.

12 We'll fall on David like dew on the ground—none of his men will survive.

13 If he hides in a city, we'll bring ropes and drag it into the valley until not one stone is left.”

14 Absalom and the elders of Israel agreed with Hushai. But this was the Lord's doing—to defeat Ahithophel's wise counsel, so He could bring disaster on Absalom.

David Warned and Escapes

(Verses 15–22)

15 Hushai told the priests Zadok and Abiathar what Ahithophel had said and how he had advised otherwise.

16 He said, “Quickly send word to David: don't stay in the plains tonight—cross the Jordan immediately, or you'll be overwhelmed.”

17 Jonathan and Ahimaaz waited at Enrogel, and a servant girl brought them the message to avoid suspicion.

18 But a boy saw them and told Absalom, so the two fled to Bahurim and hid in a well.

19 A woman covered the well with a cloth and scattered grain over it so no one suspected.

20 Absalom's servants asked her, “Where are Ahimaaz and Jonathan?” She said, “They've crossed the brook.” After searching and finding nothing, they returned to Jerusalem.

21 Once it was safe, the two came out and informed David, “Cross the Jordan now—Ahithophel has advised your destruction.”

22 So David and all his people crossed by dawn. Not one was left behind.

Ahithophel’s Suicide

(Verse 23)

23 When Ahithophel saw that his advice was ignored, he saddled his donkey, returned home, put his affairs in order, and hanged himself. He was buried in his father’s tomb.

David Finds Refuge at Mahanaim

(Verses 24–29)

24 David reached Mahanaim, and Absalom crossed the Jordan with the army of Israel.

25 Absalom appointed Amasa as commander in Joab’s place. Amasa’s father was Ithra, an Israelite who had married Abigail, sister of Zeruah, Joab’s mother.

26 Israel and Absalom camped in Gilead.

27 When David arrived at Mahanaim, Shobi of Rabbah, Machir of Lo-Debar, and Barzillai the Gileadite brought supplies—

28 beds, basins, and cooking vessels, along with wheat, barley, flour, roasted grain, beans, lentils,

29 honey, butter, sheep, and cheese—for David and his people, saying, “The people are hungry, tired, and thirsty in the wilderness.”

Absalom’s Death and David’s Grief

David Prepares for Battle

(Verses 1–5)

- 1 David assembled the troops and appointed commanders over thousands and hundreds.
 - 2 He divided the army into three groups: one under Joab, one under Abishai (Joab’s brother), and one under Ittai the Gittite. David said, “I will go out with you myself.”
 - 3 But the people pleaded, “You must not go! If we flee or die, it means nothing to them. But you are worth ten thousand of us. Stay in the city and support us from there.”
 - 4 David agreed and stood by the gate as the troops marched out by hundreds and thousands.
 - 5 The king commanded Joab, Abishai, and Ittai, “Deal gently with Absalom for my sake.” And all the people heard the king’s charge regarding Absalom.

The Battle in the Forest of Ephraim

(Verses 6–8)

- 6 David’s forces engaged the army of Israel in the forest of Ephraim.
 - 7 The battle was fierce, and twenty thousand men died that day.
 - 8 The fighting spread across the countryside, and more soldiers died from the forest than from the sword.

Absalom Caught and Killed

(Verses 9–15)

- 9 As Absalom was riding his mule, he passed under a large oak tree. His head got caught in the branches, and he was left hanging while the mule kept going.
- 10 A soldier saw him and reported it to Joab.
- 11 Joab said, “Why didn’t you strike him down? I would have rewarded you with silver and a belt.”
- 12 The soldier replied, “Even for a thousand shekels I would not touch the king’s son. We all heard the king order you and the others to protect Absalom.”
- 13 “If I had killed him, the king would find out, and you would leave me to take the blame.”

14 Joab said, "I won't waste time like this with you." He took three javelins and thrust them into Absalom's heart while he was still alive in the tree.

15 Ten of Joab's armor-bearers surrounded Absalom and finished him off.

Absalom's Burial and Legacy

(Verses 16–18)

16 Joab blew the trumpet to end the battle, and his troops stopped pursuing Israel.

17 Absalom's body was thrown into a deep pit in the forest and covered with a large pile of stones. All Israel fled to their homes.

18 During his life, Absalom had built a monument for himself in the King's Valley because he had no sons to carry on his name. He named it Absalom's Monument, and it was still known by that name.

The Runners Bring the News

(Verses 19–29)

19 Ahimaaz, the son of Zadok, said to Joab, "Let me run to bring the king the good news that the Lord has delivered him."

20 Joab replied, "Not today. The king's son is dead."

21 Then he sent a Cushite and said, "Tell the king what you have seen." The Cushite bowed and ran.

22 But Ahimaaz persisted, "Please let me run too." Joab said, "Why? You'll have no reward."

23 Still, Ahimaaz insisted. So Joab said, "Run." Ahimaaz outran the Cushite by taking a different route.

24 David was sitting between the gates. A watchman on the wall saw a lone runner and reported it.

25 The king said, "If he's alone, he brings news."

26 Then the watchman saw a second runner and said, "Another man is coming."

27 "The first one runs like Ahimaaz," the watchman added. The king replied, "He's a good man. He brings good news."

28 Ahimaaz arrived and said, "All is well!" He bowed and said, "Blessed be the Lord who has delivered you from your enemies."

29 The king asked, "Is the young man Absalom safe?" Ahimaaz replied, "I saw a commotion, but I didn't know what it was."

David Hears of Absalom's Death

(Verses 30–33)

30 David said, "Step aside." So Ahimaaz did.

31 Then the Cushite arrived and said, "Good news, my lord the king. The Lord has delivered you from those who rose against you."

32 The king asked, "Is Absalom safe?" The Cushite answered, "May all your enemies be like that young man."

33 The king was overwhelmed with grief. He went up to the room over the gate and wept. As he walked, he cried out,

“O my son Absalom!
My son, my son Absalom!
Would God I had died for you,
O Absalom, my son, my son!”

David’s Mourning, Return, and Reconciliation

Joab Rebukes the Grieving King

(Verses 1–8)

1 News reached Joab: “The king is weeping and mourning for Absalom.”

2 What should have been a day of victory became a day of sorrow for the army, because they heard the king was deeply grieved for his son.

3 The people returned quietly to the city, like soldiers ashamed after a defeat.

4 David had covered his face and cried aloud, “O my son Absalom! O Absalom, my son, my son!”
5 Then Joab went to the king and said, “Today you have humiliated all your servants who saved your life—and the lives of your sons, daughters, wives, and concubines.
6 You love those who hate you and hate those who love you. If Absalom had lived and we had all died, that would have pleased you!”
7 “Now get up and encourage your men! If you don’t, not one man will stay with you tonight. That will be worse for you than all your past troubles.”
8 So the king arose and took his seat at the city gate. When the people heard this, they gathered before the king. Meanwhile, the Israelites had scattered to their homes.

The Debate to Restore the King

(Verses 9–15)

9 Throughout the tribes of Israel, people were arguing: “David delivered us from our enemies, even the Philistines, but he fled from Absalom.
10 Now Absalom, whom we anointed, is dead. Why aren't we bringing the king back?”
11 King David sent word to Zadok and Abiathar the priests: “Say to the elders of Judah, ‘Why are you the last to welcome back the king?’
12 You are my relatives, my own flesh and blood. Why delay?”
13 “Tell Amasa, ‘Aren’t you my relative? May God deal with me severely if you’re not made commander over my army instead of Joab.’”
14 This won over the hearts of the men of Judah, and they sent word to the king: “Return, you and all your men.”
15 So David began his return, reaching the Jordan River. The men of Judah met him at Gilgal to escort him back.

Shimei Begs for Mercy

(Verses 16–23)

16 Shimei son of Gera, from Bahurim, hurried down with men from Benjamin to meet King David.
17 With him were a thousand Benjamites, as well as Ziba, Saul’s former servant, and his fifteen sons and twenty servants.
18 They crossed the Jordan before the king and helped ferry his household. Shimei fell before David as he crossed.
19 He pleaded, “Please don’t hold my past sin against me—what I did when you left Jerusalem.”
20 “I know I have sinned. That’s why I’m the first from Joseph’s tribe to meet you today.”
21 But Abishai son of Zeruiah said, “Shouldn’t Shimei be put to death for cursing the Lord’s anointed?”
22 David replied, “What do I have in common with you, sons of Zeruiah? Should anyone be put to death today in Israel? Don’t you realize I’m king again?”
23 Then the king said to Shimei, “You shall not die.” And he gave his oath.

Mephibosheth Explains Himself

(Verses 24–30)

24 Mephibosheth, Saul’s grandson, also came to meet the king. He hadn’t cared for his feet, trimmed his beard, or washed his clothes since David left.

25 When he arrived in Jerusalem, David asked, “Why didn’t you come with me?”

26 Mephibosheth replied, “My servant deceived me. I said, ‘Saddle a donkey for me, for I am lame.’

27 But he slandered me to you, my lord the king. Yet you, like an angel of God, welcomed me. Do what you think is right.”

28 “My family was as good as dead before you, yet you let me eat at your table. Why should I complain?”

29 The king said, “Why say more? You and Ziba shall divide the land.”

30 Mephibosheth answered, “Let him have it all, since you have returned in peace.”

Barzillai’s Farewell and Chimham’s Blessing

(Verses 31–40)

31 Barzillai the Gileadite came from Rogelim to escort the king over the Jordan.

32 He was very old—eighty years—and had provided for the king in Mahanaim.

33 David invited him, “Come to Jerusalem with me, and I’ll take care of you.”

34 But Barzillai said, “How much longer will I live to enjoy such a reward?

35 I’m too old to enjoy food, drink, or music. Why be a burden to you?”

36 “Let me go a short way with you. Then let me return home to die near my family.”

37 “But take my servant Chimham. Let him go with you and do for him whatever you wish.”

38 The king agreed: “Chimham will go with me, and I will do for him whatever you desire.”

39 So they crossed the Jordan. David kissed and blessed Barzillai, who returned home.

40 The king continued to Gilgal, accompanied by Chimham and all Judah, and half of Israel’s men.

Tension Between Israel and Judah

(Verses 41–43)

41 Then the men of Israel came to the king and asked, “Why did the men of Judah steal you away and escort you and your household across the Jordan?”

42 The men of Judah replied, “Because the king is our relative. We didn’t receive any gifts or special treatment.”

43 But the men of Israel argued, “We have ten shares in the king—more claim than you. Why were we left out?”

And the argument ended with the men of Judah speaking more harshly than the men of Israel.

2 Samuel Chapter 20 — Crawford Standard Bible

The Revolt of Sheba and the Wisdom of a Woman

Sheba's Rebellion Begins

(Verses 1–2)

1 A troublemaker named Sheba, son of Bichri—a Benjamite—was there. He blew a trumpet and shouted, "We want nothing to do with David! We have no share in Jesse's son. Everyone go home, Israel!"

2 So all the men of Israel deserted David and followed Sheba. But the men of Judah stayed loyal to their king and escorted him from the Jordan back to Jerusalem.

David's Concubines Confined

(Verse 3)

3 When David returned to his palace in Jerusalem, he took the ten concubines he had left to care for the house and put them under guard. He provided for them but no longer slept with them. They remained confined like widows until they died.

Amasa's Delay and Death

(Verses 4–13)

4 The king said to Amasa, "Call up the men of Judah within three days and report back to me."

5 Amasa went, but he took longer than the time given.

6 So David told Abishai, "Sheba will do us more harm than Absalom. Take my troops and go after him before he hides in a fortified city."

7 Joab's men, the Cherethites, the Pelethites, and all the warriors left Jerusalem to pursue Sheba.

8 When they reached the great stone in Gibeon, Amasa came to meet them. Joab was dressed for battle, with a sword strapped under his belt. As he stepped forward, the sword slipped out.

9 Joab said, "How are you, my brother?" Then he grabbed Amasa's beard with his right hand to greet him.

10 But Amasa didn't suspect the sword in Joab's other hand. Joab struck him in the stomach and spilled his intestines on the ground. He didn't stab him again—Amasa died instantly. Joab and Abishai continued the pursuit.

11 One of Joab's men shouted, "If you're for Joab and David, follow Joab!"

12 Amasa lay in his own blood in the road, and everyone who saw him stopped. When the soldier realized this was slowing them down, he moved Amasa's body into a field and threw a cloth over it.

13 After that, the army resumed the pursuit of Sheba.

The Siege at Abel and the Wise Woman

(Verses 14–22)

14 Sheba traveled through all the tribes of Israel to Abel Beth-maacah. The Berite clan joined him.

15 Joab's forces laid siege to the city, building a ramp and battering the wall to destroy it.

16 Then a wise woman from the city called out, "Listen! Tell Joab to come here; I want to speak with him."

17 Joab approached. She asked, "Are you Joab?" He answered, "I am." She said, "Listen to me." He replied, "I'm listening."

18 She continued, "In the past, people said, 'If you want wise advice, ask in Abel.' That's how disputes were settled.

19 I am one of the peaceful and faithful people in Israel, yet you're trying to destroy a city that belongs to the Lord. Why would you do that?"

20 Joab answered, "Far be it from me to destroy it!

21 But a man named Sheba, son of Bichri, has rebelled against King David. Hand him over, and we will leave the city."

The woman said, "His head will be thrown over the wall."

22 Then she used her wisdom to persuade the people. They cut off Sheba's head and tossed it to Joab. He blew the trumpet, and his army withdrew. Joab returned to the king in Jerusalem.

David's Officials

(Verses 23–26)

23 Joab commanded all the army of Israel.

Benaiah son of Jehoiada led the Cherethites and Pelethites.

24 Adoram was in charge of forced labor.

Jehoshaphat son of Ahilud was the royal historian.

25 Sheva was the court secretary.

Zadok and Abiathar were priests.

26 Ira the Jairite was also a chief official under David.

Atonement, Valor, and Giants Defeated

Famine and the Gibeonite Vengeance

(Verses 1–14)

1 During David's reign, there was a famine for three consecutive years. David sought the Lord's guidance, and the Lord said, "It is because of Saul and his bloodstained house, for he killed the Gibeonites.”

2 (Now the Gibeonites were not Israelites but remnants of the Amorites. Israel had sworn to spare them, but Saul in his zeal for Israel and Judah had tried to annihilate them.)

3 So David asked the Gibeonites, “What can I do to make things right so you will bless the Lord’s inheritance?”

4 They replied, “We want no silver or gold from Saul’s house, nor do we ask that anyone in Israel be put to death.”

David said, “Whatever you say, I will do.”

5 They answered, “The man who tried to wipe us out—Saul—should have his descendants pay.

6 Give us seven of his male descendants, and we will execute them before the Lord in Gibeah of Saul, the Lord’s chosen.”

David agreed.

7 But he spared Mephibosheth, son of Jonathan and grandson of Saul, because of the oath between David and Jonathan.

8 Instead, David took Armoni and Mephibosheth, sons of Saul and Rizpah daughter of Aiah, and the five sons of Michal daughter of Saul, whom she raised for Adriel son of Barzillai the Meholathite.

9 He handed them over to the Gibeonites, who executed them on the hill before the Lord. All seven died together at the beginning of the barley harvest.

Rizpah’s Grief and the King’s Compassion

(Verses 10–14)

10 Rizpah spread sackcloth on a rock and guarded the bodies from birds and wild animals from the start of harvest until rain finally fell.

11 When David heard what she had done,

12 he retrieved the bones of Saul and Jonathan from Jabesh-gilead (who had rescued them from the Philistines at Beth-shan after Saul’s death at Mount Gilboa), 13 and also gathered the bones of the seven who had been executed.

14 He buried Saul and Jonathan in their family tomb in Zelah, in the territory of Benjamin. After that, God answered prayer for the land.

The Final Giants Fall

(Verses 15–22)

15 Once again war broke out with the Philistines. David grew weary in battle.

16 Ishbi-benob, a giant whose bronze spearhead weighed about 7.5 pounds and who had a new sword, intended to kill David.

17 But Abishai son of Zeruiah rescued David and killed the Philistine. Afterward, David’s men said, “You must never again go out with us to battle. You are the lamp of Israel.”

18 Later, at another battle in Gob, Sibbecai the Hushathite killed Saph, a descendant of the giants.

19 In another Gob battle, Elhanan son of Jaare-oregim from Bethlehem killed the brother of Goliath of Gath. His spear shaft was as thick as a weaver's beam.

20 Another battle occurred at Gath, where there was a man of great size with six fingers on each hand and six toes on each foot—twenty-four in total. He defied Israel, 21 but Jonathan son of Shimeah, David's brother, killed him.

22 These four were born to the giants in Gath and were killed by David and his men.

Key Lessons from 2 Samuel Chapter 21

 - Once restitution was made, God ended the famine. Justice and repentance bring restoration.

- Giants still fall.
 - Though David was older, his men rose to defend him and continued the fight. The next generation took on the giants—and won.
 - Psalms 18:34 — “He trains my hands for battle; my arms can bend a bow of bronze.”

David's Song of Deliverance

A Song of Praise to the Deliverer

(Verses 1–4)

1 David sang this song to the Lord on the day the Lord rescued him from all his enemies and from Saul.

2 He said:

“The Lord is my rock, my fortress, and my deliverer;

3 My God is my rock, in whom I find protection.

He is my shield, the power that saves me, my stronghold and my refuge, my Savior—you save me from violence.

4 I called on the Lord, who is worthy of praise, and he saved me from my enemies.”

God's Powerful Intervention

(Verses 5–20)

5 “Waves of death engulfed me;
floods of destruction terrified me.
6 The cords of the grave wrapped around me;
the snares of death confronted me.
7 In my distress I cried out to the Lord;
I called to my God.
He heard my voice from his temple,
and my cry reached his ears.
8 Then the earth trembled and quaked;
the foundations of the heavens shook because he was angry.
9 Smoke poured from his nostrils;
devouring fire came from his mouth;
burning coals blazed forth from him.
10 He opened the heavens and came down;
dark clouds were beneath his feet.
11 He rode on a cherub and flew;
he soared on the wings of the wind.
12 He shrouded himself in darkness, thick rain clouds surrounded him.
13 Out of the brightness before him flashed burning coals.
14 The Lord thundered from heaven;
the voice of the Most High resounded.
15 He shot arrows and scattered my enemies;
he sent great lightning bolts and routed them.
16 The seabed was seen,
the foundations of the world laid bare,
at the Lord's rebuke,
at the blast of the breath from his nostrils.
17 He reached down from on high and took hold of me;
he pulled me from deep waters.
18 He rescued me from my powerful enemy, from those who hated me and were too strong for me.
19 They attacked me in a moment of calamity,
but the Lord was my support.
20 He brought me out into a spacious place;
he rescued me because he delighted in me.”

God's Righteous Reward and Faithfulness

(Verses 21–31)

21 “The Lord rewarded me according to my righteousness;
he repaid me according to the cleanness of my hands.

22 For I have kept the ways of the Lord and have not turned from my God to wickedness.

23 All his laws are before me;
I have not turned away from his decrees.

24 I was blameless before him and kept myself from sin.

25 So the Lord has rewarded me
according to my righteousness,
according to my cleanness in his sight.

26 To the faithful, you show yourself faithful; to the blameless, you show yourself blameless.

27 To the pure, you show yourself pure; but to the crooked, you show yourself shrewd.

28 You save the humble,
but your eyes are on the proud to bring them low.

29 Lord, you are my lamp;
the Lord lights up my darkness.

30 With you I can attack a troop;
with my God I can scale a wall.

31 As for God, his way is perfect;
the Lord's word is proven true;
he is a shield to all who trust in him.”

God's Empowerment and Victory

(Verses 32–46)

32 “For who is God except the Lord?
Who is a rock besides our God?

33 God is my strong fortress,
and he makes my way perfect.

34 He makes my feet like the feet of a deer;
he enables me to stand on mountain heights.

35 He trains my hands for battle;
my arms can bend a bow of bronze.

36 You have given me your shield of salvation;
your gentleness has made me great.

37 You broaden the path beneath me,

so my ankles do not give way.
38 I pursued my enemies and destroyed them;
I did not turn back until they were consumed.
39 I crushed them and they could not rise;
they fell beneath my feet.
40 You armed me with strength for battle;
you humbled my adversaries before me.
41 You made my enemies turn their backs in flight, and I destroyed those who hated me.
42 They cried for help, but no one came to save them—
even to the Lord, but he did not answer.
43 I ground them as fine as dust of the earth;
I crushed them and trampled them like mud in the streets.
44 You have delivered me from the conflicts of my people;
you have preserved me as the head of nations.
People I did not know now serve me.
45 Foreigners cringe before me;
as soon as they hear me, they obey.
46 They all lose courage;
they come trembling from their strongholds.”

Praise and Final Benediction

(Verses 47–51)

47 “The Lord lives!
Blessed be my Rock!
Exalted be my God, the Rock of my salvation!
48 He is the God who avenges me,
who puts the nations under me,
49 who rescues me from my enemies.
You lift me above those who rise against me;
you deliver me from the violent.
50 Therefore I will praise you, Lord, among the nations;
I will sing praises to your name.
51 He gives great victories to his king;
he shows unfailing love to his anointed,
to David and to his descendants forever.”

David's Last Words and His Mighty Men

The Final Prophetic Words of David

(Verses 1–7)

1 These are the last words of David:

David, the son of Jesse—
the man raised up on high,
anointed by the God of Jacob,
and the sweet psalmist of Israel—declares:

2 "The Spirit of the Lord speaks through me;
His word is on my tongue.

3 The God of Israel has spoken;
the Rock of Israel has said to me:
'A ruler over people must be just,
ruling in the fear of God.

4 He shall be like the light of morning at sunrise, a morning without clouds—
like sunshine after rain that causes new grass to spring from the earth.’
5 Though my house is not perfect before God,
yet He has made with me an everlasting covenant,
arranged and secure in every way.
This is my salvation and all my desire,
even if He does not cause it to grow.
6 But godless men are like thorns, thrown aside, for they cannot be handled.
7 Whoever touches them must use tools of iron and a spear shaft;
they will be completely burned where they lie.”

David’s Mighty Warriors

(Verses 8–12)

8 These are the names of David’s mighty men:

The first was Josheb-basshebeth the Tahkemonite, chief of the captains. He was also called Adino the Eznite; he killed 800 men in one encounter.

9 Next to him was Eleazar son of Dodo the Ahohite. He was one of the three warriors with David when they defied the Philistines at Pas-dammim. The Israelite troops retreated,

10 but Eleazar stood his ground and struck down the Philistines until his hand was frozen to the sword. The Lord brought about a great victory that day, and the army returned only to collect the plunder.

11 After him came Shammah son of Agee the Hararite. One day the Philistines gathered at Lehi where there was a field full of lentils. The Israelites fled, 12 but Shammah took his stand in the middle of the field, defended it, and struck down the Philistines. The Lord brought about a great victory.

A Daring Act of Loyalty

(Verses 13–17)

13 During harvest, three of the thirty chief warriors went down to David at the cave of Adullam, while a Philistine troop was camped in the Valley of Rephaim.

14 David was staying in the stronghold, and the Philistine garrison was in Bethlehem.

15 David longed for water and said, “Oh, that someone would get me a drink from the well near the gate of Bethlehem!”

16 So the three warriors broke through the Philistine lines, drew water from the well near the gate of Bethlehem, and brought it back to David. But he refused to drink it. Instead, he poured it out before the Lord

17 and said, “Far be it from me, Lord, to do this! Is this not the blood of the men who risked their lives?” So he would not drink it. Such were the exploits of the three mighty men.

Other Notable Warriors

(Verses 18–23)

18 Abishai, brother of Joab and son of Zeruiah, was chief of the second three. He raised his spear against 300 men and killed them, gaining a name among the three.

19 He was more honored than the rest of the three and became their commander, though he was not among the first three.

20 Benaiah son of Jehoiada, a valiant man from Kabzeel, performed great exploits. He struck down two champions of Moab. He also went down into a pit on a snowy day and killed a lion.

21 He killed a powerful Egyptian armed with a spear. Benaiah went against him with a staff, snatched the spear from his hand, and killed him with his own weapon.

22 These were the feats of Benaiah son of Jehoiada. He was as famous as the three mighty warriors.

23 He was more honored than the Thirty, but he was not included among the Three. David put him in charge of his bodyguard.

The Thirty Warriors

(Verses 24–39)

24 Among the Thirty were:

- Asahel brother of Joab

- Elhanan son of Dodo of Bethlehem

25 Shammah the Harodite, Elikah the Harodite

26 Helez the Paltite, Ira son of Ikkesh the Tekoite

27 Abiezer the Anathothite, Mebunnai the Hushathite

28 Zalmon the Ahohite, Maharai the Netophathite

29 Heleb son of Baanah the Netophathite, Ittai son of Ribai from Gibeah of Benjamin

30 Benaiah the Pirathonite, Hiddai from the ravines of Gaash

31 Abi-albon the Arbathite, Azmaveth the Barhumite

32 Eliabba the Shaalbonite, sons of Jashen, Jonathan

33 Shammah the Hararite, Ahiam son of Sharar the Hararite

34 Eliphelet son of Ahasbai, the Maacathite; Eliam son of Ahithophel the Gilonite

35 Hezro the Carmelite, Paarai the Arbite

36 Igal son of Nathan from Zobah, Bani the Gadite

37 Zelek the Ammonite, Naharai the Beerothite, the armor-bearer of Joab son of Zeruiah

38 Ira the Ithrite, Gareb the Ithrite

39 and Uriah the Hittite. There were thirty-seven in all.

David's Sinful Census and the Mercy of God

David Orders a Census

(Verses 1–9)

1 Once again, the Lord's anger burned against Israel, and He allowed David to be moved to say, “Go and count the people of Israel and Judah.”

2 So the king said to Joab, the commander of his army, “Go throughout all the tribes of Israel—from Dan in the north to Beersheba in the south—and take a census of the people, so I will know how many there are.”

3 But Joab replied, “May the Lord your God multiply the people a hundred times over, and may your eyes see it happen, my lord the king. But why does the king want to do such a thing?”

4 Yet the king's command overruled Joab and the army officers. So Joab and his men went out from the king's presence to count the people of Israel.

5 They crossed the Jordan and began in Aroer, south of the town in the middle of the valley, and headed toward Jazer.

6 Then they went to Gilead, to the land of Tahtim-hodshi, then to Dan-jaan and around to Sidon.

7 They reached the fortress of Tyre and all the cities of the Hivites and Canaanites. Finally, they went south to Judah as far as Beersheba.

8 After they had gone through the entire land, they returned to Jerusalem at the end of nine months and twenty days.

9 Joab reported the number of people to the king: There were 800,000 capable warriors in Israel who could handle a sword, and 500,000 in Judah.

David's Repentance and God's Judgment

(Verses 10–17)

10 But after the census was taken, David's conscience troubled him. He said to the Lord, "I have sinned greatly by doing this. Please take away the guilt of your servant, for I have acted foolishly."

11 The next morning, the word of the Lord came to the prophet Gad, David's seer:

12 "Go and tell David, 'This is what the Lord says: I am giving you three choices. Choose one of them, and I will bring it upon you.'"

13 So Gad came to David and gave him the choices: "Do you want seven years of famine in your land, or three months of fleeing from your enemies while they pursue you, or three days of plague in your land? Think it over and decide what answer I should give to the One who sent me."

14 David said to Gad, "I'm in a desperate situation! But let us fall into the hands of the Lord, for His mercy is great. Do not let me fall into human hands."

15 So the Lord sent a plague upon Israel that morning, and it lasted for the appointed time. Seventy thousand people died, from Dan to Beersheba.

16 But as the angel was poised to destroy Jerusalem, the Lord relented and said to the angel, "Stop! That's enough!" At that moment, the angel of the Lord was by the threshing floor of Araunah the Jebusite.

17 When David saw the angel who was striking the people down, he cried out to the Lord, "I alone have sinned and done wrong! But these people are just sheep—what have they done? Let your hand fall on me and my family."

David Builds an Altar

(Verses 18–25)

18 That same day, Gad came to David and said, "Go and build an altar to the Lord on the threshing floor of Araunah the Jebusite."

19 So David went up, as the Lord had commanded through Gad.

20 When Araunah saw the king and his officials approaching, he bowed before the king with his face to the ground.

21 "Why has my lord the king come to his servant?" Araunah asked.

David replied, "To buy your threshing floor so I can build an altar to the Lord and stop the plague."

22 Araunah said, "Take it, my lord the king, and use it as you wish. Here are oxen for the burnt offering and threshing sledges and ox yokes for wood."

23 I give it all to you, Your Majesty, and may the Lord your God accept your sacrifice.”

24 But the king replied, “No, I will buy it from you for a price. I will not offer to the Lord my God burnt offerings that cost me nothing.”

So David bought the threshing floor and the oxen for fifty shekels of silver.

25 David built an altar to the Lord there and offered burnt offerings and peace offerings. The Lord answered his prayer, and the plague on Israel was stopped.

Introduction to the Book of 1 Kings Crawford Bible Commentary

Title and Meaning

The book of 1 Kings continues the historical narrative begun in 1 and 2 Samuel, chronicling the transition from the united monarchy under David and Solomon to the divided kingdoms of Israel and Judah. The Hebrew title is Melakhim, meaning “Kings,” reflecting its focus on the reigns of Israel’s and Judah’s rulers. Originally part of a single scroll with 2 Kings, the division was made for convenience in later translations.

Historical Context

1 Kings spans roughly 970–850 B.C., beginning with the death of David and the rise of Solomon. It covers Solomon’s reign, the building of the temple, and the eventual division of the kingdom after his death. The northern kingdom (Israel) and southern kingdom (Judah) emerge, each with its own line of kings. The book also introduces the prophetic ministry of Elijah during a time of rampant idolatry and political instability.

Purpose of the Book

The purpose of 1 Kings is to reveal how covenant faithfulness—or the lack thereof—shapes the destiny of nations. It shows that political power and religious compromise lead to spiritual decline, while prophetic voices call for repentance and renewal. The book emphasizes that God’s promises to David endure, even amid national failure.

Major Themes

Covenant and Kingship: God’s covenant with David remains central, even as kings fail to uphold it.

Idolatry and Judgment: Solomon’s compromise and the kings’ apostasy lead to national division and decline.

Prophetic Authority: Elijah’s ministry demonstrates God’s power and the role of prophets in confronting sin.

The Temple: Solomon’s temple symbolizes God’s presence, but its sanctity is threatened by disobedience.

Divine Sovereignty: God raises up and removes kings according to His will and purpose.

Key Figures

Solomon – David’s son, known for wisdom and wealth, but led astray by foreign wives and idolatry.

Rehoboam – Solomon’s son, whose harsh leadership causes the kingdom to split.

Jeroboam – First king of the northern kingdom, who institutes false worship at Bethel and Dan.

Elijah – A bold prophet who confronts Ahab and Jezebel, calls down fire from heaven, and anoints Elisha.

Ahab – A wicked king of Israel, married to Jezebel, who promotes Baal worship and opposes Elijah.

Jezebel – A manipulative queen who persecutes prophets and leads Israel deeper into idolatry.

Spiritual Significance

1 Kings reveals the spiritual consequences of leadership choices. It teaches that wisdom without obedience leads to ruin, and that God’s presence cannot be manipulated by ritual alone. The book calls readers to faithfulness, reminding them that God speaks through His prophets and remains sovereign over history.

Christ in 1 Kings

Though Christ is not named, Solomon’s reign foreshadows the peace and glory of Christ’s future kingdom. Elijah’s prophetic ministry prefigures John the Baptist, preparing the way for the Lord. The failure of earthly kings points to the need for a perfect King—Jesus, who fulfills the Davidic covenant and reigns in righteousness.

Outline of 1 Kings

The Reign of Solomon – Chapters 1–11

The Division of the Kingdom – Chapters 12–14

The Kings of Israel and Judah – Chapters 15–16

The Ministry of Elijah – Chapters 17–22

Key Verse

1 Kings 9:4–5 (CSB) – “If you walk before Me as your father David walked, with a heart of integrity and in what is right, doing everything I have commanded you... I will establish your royal throne over Israel forever.”

Key Lesson

Wisdom must be grounded in obedience. When leaders turn from God, nations suffer—but God remains faithful to His promises. He raises up prophets to call His people back and prepares the way for the true King who will reign forever.

1 Kings Chapter 1 — Crawford Standard Bible

Solomon Anointed King While Adonijah's Rebellion Fails

David Grows Old and a Young Attendant Is Brought

(Verses 1–4)

1 King David was now very old, and although they covered him with blankets, he could not stay warm.

2 So his servants said to him, “Let us find a young virgin to attend the king and care for him. She can lie close to you so that our lord the king may stay warm.”

3 They searched throughout all Israel for a beautiful young woman and found Abishag, a Shunammite, and brought her to the king.

4 The girl was very beautiful. She cared for the king and served him, but the king did not have sexual relations with her.

Adonijah Declares Himself King

(Verses 5–10)

5 Adonijah, son of Haggith, exalted himself and declared, “I will be king!” So he prepared chariots, horses, and fifty men to run ahead of him.

6 His father had never disciplined him or asked, “Why are you doing this?” He was also very handsome and was born after Absalom.

7 He conferred with Joab son of Zeruiah and with Abiathar the priest, and they supported Adonijah.

8 But Zadok the priest, Benaiah son of Jehoiada, Nathan the prophet, Shimei, Rei, and David's mighty men did not support Adonijah.

9 Adonijah sacrificed sheep, oxen, and fattened cattle near the stone of Zoheleth by Enrogel. He invited all his brothers—the king's sons—and all the royal officials of Judah.

10 But he did not invite Nathan the prophet, Benaiah, the mighty men, or his brother Solomon.

Nathan Warns Bathsheba

(Verses 11–27)

11 Then Nathan spoke to Bathsheba, Solomon's mother: “Have you not heard that Adonijah has made himself king, and our lord David doesn't know it?

12 Now let me give you some advice to save your life and the life of your son Solomon.

13 Go to King David and remind him, ‘My lord the king, did you not swear to me that Solomon your son shall be king after you? Why then is Adonijah reigning?’

14 While you're still speaking to the king, I'll come in and confirm your words.”

15 So Bathsheba went to the king in his room. David was very old, and Abishag was attending him.
16 Bathsheba bowed and knelt before the king.
17 She said, “My lord, you swore by the Lord your God that my son Solomon would reign after you and sit on your throne.
18 But now Adonijah is reigning, and you don’t even know about it.
19 He has sacrificed many animals and invited all your sons, Abiathar the priest, and Joab the army commander—but not your servant Solomon.
20 My lord, all Israel is waiting for you to declare who will sit on your throne after you.
21 If you don’t act, when you die, Solomon and I will be treated as criminals.”
22 While she was still speaking, Nathan the prophet arrived.
23 The king was told, “Nathan the prophet is here.” He came in and bowed before the king.
24 Nathan said, “My lord the king, did you declare that Adonijah shall reign after you and sit on your throne?
25 He has gone down and sacrificed many animals and invited all your sons, the army commanders, and Abiathar the priest. They are celebrating and shouting, ‘Long live King Adonijah!’
26 But he didn’t invite me, Zadok the priest, Benaiah, or your servant Solomon.
27 My lord the king, did you approve this? Why hasn’t your servant been informed who will sit on your throne?”

David Confirms Solomon as King

(Verses 28–40)

28 King David responded, “Call Bathsheba to me.” She came in and stood before him.
29 The king took an oath: “As the Lord lives, who has redeemed me from every trouble,
30 I solemnly swore to you by the Lord God of Israel that Solomon your son would be king after me—and I will carry it out today.”
31 Bathsheba bowed with her face to the ground and said, “May my lord King David live forever!”
32 Then the king ordered, “Call Zadok the priest, Nathan the prophet, and Benaiah son of Jehoiada.” They came before him.
33 David said, “Take my officials with you. Have Solomon ride my own mule. Bring him down to Gihon.
34 There, Zadok and Nathan are to anoint him king over Israel. Blow the trumpet and shout, ‘Long live King Solomon!’
35 Then bring him back, and he is to sit on my throne. He will succeed me as king, for I have appointed him ruler over Israel and Judah.”
36 Benaiah responded, “Amen! May the Lord confirm this decree!
37 Just as the Lord has been with you, may He also be with Solomon and make his reign even greater than yours.”
38 So Zadok the priest, Nathan the prophet, Benaiah, and the royal guard took Solomon, placed him on David’s mule, and brought him to Gihon.
39 Zadok took the horn of oil from the tabernacle and anointed Solomon. They blew the trumpet, and all the people shouted, “Long live King Solomon!”

40 Then they followed Solomon back, rejoicing and playing flutes so joyfully that the earth shook with the sound.

Adonijah's Guests Flee

(Verses 41–53)

41 Adonijah and his guests heard the celebration just as they finished their feast. Joab asked, “Why is the city in such an uproar?”

42 Just then Jonathan, son of Abiathar, arrived. Adonijah said, “Come in. You must bring good news.”

43 But Jonathan said, “No! King David has made Solomon king.

44 He sent Zadok the priest, Nathan the prophet, Benaiah, and the royal guard. They placed Solomon on the king’s mule.

45 Zadok and Nathan anointed him at Gihon, and everyone is rejoicing. That’s the noise you’re hearing.

46 Solomon now sits on the royal throne.

47 Moreover, the king’s servants have come to bless David, saying, ‘May Solomon’s name be greater than yours!’ And David bowed in worship.

48 David also said, ‘Blessed be the Lord, who has allowed me to see my son sit on my throne today.’”

49 At this, all Adonijah’s guests panicked, rose, and scattered.

50 Adonijah feared Solomon, so he ran to the altar and grabbed its horns.

51 Solomon was told, “Adonijah fears you and is pleading for his life at the altar.”

52 Solomon replied, “If he proves himself honorable, not a hair on his head will fall. But if evil is found in him, he will die.”

53 So Solomon sent for him, and Adonijah came and bowed before the king. Solomon said, “Go home.”

David’s Final Instructions and the Establishment of Solomon’s Kingdom

David’s Final Charge to Solomon

(Verses 1–4)

1 As the time of David’s death approached, he gave this charge to Solomon his son:

2 “I am going where everyone on earth must go. Be strong and show yourself to be a man.

3 Obey the Lord your God and follow His ways. Keep His statutes, commands, judgments, and decrees as written in the Law of Moses. Then you will prosper in everything you do and everywhere you go.

4 If your descendants walk faithfully before Me with all their heart and soul, the Lord has promised that there will always be one of your family on the throne of Israel.”

Justice for Joab, Shimei, and Blessing for Barzillai’s Family

(Verses 5–9)

5 “You also know what Joab son of Zeruah did to me—how he killed Abner son of Ner and Amasa son of Jether during peacetime as if it were war. He spilled their blood on his belt and sandals.

6 Use your wisdom, but do not let him die in peace in old age.

7 But show kindness to the sons of Barzillai the Gileadite. Let them eat at your table because they helped me when I fled from Absalom.

8 And don’t forget Shimei son of Gera, the Benjamite from Bahurim, who cursed me bitterly when I fled to Mahanaim. But later he came to meet me, and I swore not to kill him.

9 You are wise, and you’ll know what to do with him. Bring his gray head down to the grave in blood.”

David’s Death and Solomon’s Reign Begins

(Verses 10–12)

10 Then David died and was buried in the City of David.

11 He had reigned over Israel for forty years—seven in Hebron and thirty-three in Jerusalem.
12 Solomon sat on the throne of his father David, and his kingdom was firmly established.

Adonijah’s Final Scheme and Death

(Verses 13–25)

13 Adonijah came to Bathsheba, Solomon’s mother. She asked, “Do you come in peace?” He replied, “Yes, in peace.”

14 He added, “I have something to say to you.” She said, “Speak.”

15 He said, “You know the kingdom was mine, and all Israel expected me to reign. But the kingdom has turned to my brother, for it was the Lord’s will.

16 Now I ask one small favor—please don’t deny me.” She said, “Speak.”

17 He said, “Please ask King Solomon to let me marry Abishag the Shunammite.”

18 Bathsheba replied, “Very well, I will speak to the king for you.”

19 So she went to King Solomon to speak on Adonijah’s behalf. The king stood to greet her, bowed, and had a throne placed for her at his right hand.

20 She said, “I have one small request. Do not deny me.” The king said, “Ask, my mother.”

21 She said, “Let Abishag the Shunammite be given to Adonijah your brother as a wife.”

22 King Solomon answered, “Why ask for Abishag for Adonijah? You might as well ask for the kingdom too! He is my older brother, and he has Abiathar and Joab on his side.”

23 Then Solomon swore, “May God deal with me severely if Adonijah has not spoken this at the cost of his own life!

24 As surely as the Lord lives—who has placed me securely on the throne of David and established my dynasty—Adonijah shall die today.”

25 So King Solomon sent Benaiah son of Jehoiada, and he struck down Adonijah, and he died.

Abiathar Banished from the Priesthood

(Verses 26–27)

26 Then the king said to Abiathar the priest, “Go to Anathoth, to your own land. You deserve death, but I will not kill you now because you carried the ark of the Lord and suffered with my father David.”

27 So Solomon removed Abiathar from the priesthood, fulfilling the Lord’s word spoken against Eli’s family at Shiloh.

Joab Executed for His Crimes

(Verses 28–35)

28 News reached Joab, who had supported Adonijah though not Absalom. He fled to the Lord’s tabernacle and grabbed the horns of the altar.

29 Solomon was told, “Joab is at the altar.” He sent Benaiah saying, “Strike him down.”

30 Benaiah went and told Joab to come out. Joab replied, “No, I will die here.” Benaiah relayed this to Solomon.

31 Solomon said, “Do as he said. Kill him and bury him, and remove the guilt of innocent blood from my family.”

32 “Joab killed Abner and Amasa, two better men than himself, without my father David’s knowledge. Their blood will return on his own head.”

33 “But David and his descendants will have peace from the Lord forever.”

34 So Benaiah went and struck down Joab, and he was buried at his home in the wilderness.

35 Then the king appointed Benaiah to command the army in Joab’s place, and Zadok was made priest in Abiathar’s place.

Shimei’s Violation and Execution

(Verses 36–46)

36 Solomon summoned Shimei and told him, “Build a house in Jerusalem and stay there. If you ever leave and cross the Kidron Valley, you will surely die.”

37 Shimei agreed and lived in Jerusalem for a long time.

39 But after three years, two of his servants ran to Gath. Shimei saddled his donkey and went to bring them back.

41 Solomon was told Shimei had left Jerusalem.

42 Solomon summoned him and said, “Did I not warn you that if you left, you would surely die? And you agreed to it!”

43 “Why have you not obeyed the Lord’s oath and my command?”

44 “You know all the wrong you did to my father David. Now the Lord will return your evil on your own head.”

45 “But King Solomon will be blessed, and David’s throne will be established forever.”

46 Then Solomon gave the order, and Benaiah struck Shimei down, and he died.

So the kingdom was firmly established under Solomon’s control.

1 Kings Chapter 3 — Crawford Standard Bible

Solomon’s Prayer for Wisdom and the King’s First Great Judgment

Solomon’s Alliance and Early Devotion

(Verses 1–3)

1 Solomon made a treaty with Pharaoh king of Egypt and married his daughter. He brought her to the City of David until he finished building his palace, the temple of the Lord, and the wall around Jerusalem.

2 The people, however, were still offering sacrifices at the high places because a temple had not yet been built for the Lord.

3 Solomon loved the Lord and followed the instructions of his father David, but he still offered sacrifices at the high places.

Solomon’s Dream at Gibeon

(Verses 4–15)

4 The king went to Gibeon to offer sacrifices because it was the most important high place. Solomon offered a thousand burnt offerings on the altar there.

5 That night at Gibeon, the Lord appeared to Solomon in a dream. God said, “Ask what you want Me to give you.”

6 Solomon replied, “You showed great kindness to Your servant David my father, because he was faithful, righteous, and upright in heart. You have continued this kindness by giving him a son to sit on his throne today.

7 Now, Lord my God, You have made me king in my father’s place, but I am like a child who doesn’t know how to lead.

8 Your servant is among Your chosen people—a great nation too numerous to count.

9 So please give Your servant a discerning heart to govern Your people and to distinguish between right and wrong. Who is able to govern this great people of Yours?”

10 The Lord was pleased that Solomon asked for this.

11 God said, “Since you didn’t ask for long life, wealth, or the death of your enemies, but for wisdom to discern justice—

12 I will grant your request. I will give you a wise and understanding heart like no one before or after you.

13 And I will also give you what you did not ask for—riches and honor—so that no king will compare with you during your lifetime.

14 And if you walk in My ways and obey My commands as your father David did, I will give you a long life.”

15 Solomon woke up and realized it had been a dream. He returned to Jerusalem, stood before the Ark of the Covenant, offered burnt and peace offerings, and held a feast for all his officials.

The Wisdom of Solomon Displayed in Judgment

(Verses 16–28)

16 Later, two women who were prostitutes came before the king.

17 One woman said, “My lord, this woman and I live in the same house. I gave birth while she was with me.

18 Three days later, she also gave birth. No one else was in the house, just the two of us.

19 Her baby died during the night because she accidentally lay on him.

20 She got up at midnight and took my living son while I slept, and laid her dead son in my arms.

21 When I woke to nurse my son in the morning, he was dead—but when I looked closely, I realized it wasn’t my baby.”

22 The other woman said, “No! The living child is mine, and the dead one is yours!” But the first insisted, “No! The dead child is yours, and the living one is mine!” They argued before the king.

23 The king said, “One of you says, ‘The living child is mine,’ and the other says, ‘No, it’s mine.’

24 Bring me a sword.” So they brought him a sword.

25 The king said, “Cut the living child in two, and give half to each woman.”

26 Then the real mother, filled with love for her son, cried out, “Please, my lord, give her the child! Do not kill him!” But the other said, “He shall be neither mine nor yours—divide him!”

27 Then the king said, “Do not kill the child. Give him to the woman who wants to save his life—she is his mother.”

28 All Israel heard of this judgment and stood in awe of the king, because they saw that God’s wisdom was in him to execute justice.

29 God gave Solomon wisdom and great insight, and a breadth of understanding as vast as the sand on the seashore.

30 His wisdom was greater than all the wise men of the East and Egypt.

31 He was wiser than all men—wiser than Ethan the Ezrahite, and Heman, Calcol, and Darda, sons of Mahol. His fame spread to all surrounding nations.

32 He composed 3,000 proverbs and 1,005 songs.

33 He spoke about trees—from the cedar in Lebanon to the hyssop that grows out of walls. He spoke about animals, birds, reptiles, and fish.

34 People from all nations came to hear the wisdom of Solomon. Kings from all over the earth who had heard of his wisdom sent ambassadors to listen to him.

Solomon’s Alliance with Hiram and Preparation to Build the Temple

Solomon Contacts Hiram of Tyre

(Verses 1–6)

1 Hiram, king of Tyre, sent his servants to Solomon when he heard that Solomon had been anointed king after his father David. Hiram had always been a loyal friend to David.

2 Solomon responded to Hiram, saying:

3 “You know that my father David wasn’t able to build a house for the name of the Lord his God because of the constant wars around him, until the Lord gave him victory over his enemies.

4 But now the Lord my God has given me peace on every side—there is no enemy or danger threatening us.

5 So I am planning to build a house to honor the name of the Lord my God, just as He promised my father when He said, ‘Your son, whom I will place on your throne, will build the Temple for My name.’

6 Now, please command your workers to cut cedar trees from Lebanon for me. My workers will help yours, and I’ll pay your workers whatever wage you ask, because no one in our land is as skilled at cutting timber as the Sidonians.”

Hiram Agrees to Help Solomon

(Verses 7–12)

7 When Hiram heard Solomon’s message, he was filled with joy and said, “Praise the Lord today, who has given David a wise son to rule this great nation.”

8 Hiram replied to Solomon, “I have received your request and will provide all the cedar and cypress timber you need.

9 My servants will bring the logs down from the mountains of Lebanon to the sea. I will float them on rafts to whatever place you specify. Then I will have them broken apart there, and you can take them. In return, please provide food for my household.”

10 So Hiram supplied Solomon with all the cedar and cypress logs he wanted.

11 In return, Solomon gave Hiram 20,000 measures of wheat for his household and 20 measures of pure olive oil each year.

12 The Lord gave Solomon wisdom, just as He had promised. There was peace between Hiram and Solomon, and they made a formal alliance.

Solomon Builds His Workforce

(Verses 13–18)

13 King Solomon conscripted laborers from all Israel—30,000 men in total.

14 He sent 10,000 of them to Lebanon each month in shifts: one month in Lebanon, two months at home. Adoniram was in charge of the labor force.

15 Solomon also had 70,000 carriers and 80,000 stonecutters in the hills, 16 not including the 3,300 foremen who supervised the workers.

17 At Solomon’s command, large, high-quality stones were quarried and shaped to lay the foundation of the Temple.

18 Solomon’s builders and Hiram’s builders, along with skilled stonecutters, prepared the timber and stones to build the Temple.

Key Lessons from 1 Kings Chapter 5

- Peace creates opportunity for purpose.

→ Solomon could only build the Temple once God had granted him rest from war.

→ Ecclesiastes 3:1 — “There is a time for everything, and a season for every activity under the heavens.”

- God uses relationships to accomplish His will.

→ Hiram’s loyalty to David opened the door for him to help Solomon.

→ Proverbs 27:10 — “Do not forsake your friend... better a neighbor nearby than a brother far away.”

- Wisdom includes collaboration.

→ Solomon didn’t try to do everything himself—he relied on Hiram’s expertise and formed a cooperative alliance.

- God equips leaders with wisdom for large responsibilities.

→ Solomon’s God-given wisdom allowed him to organize labor, negotiate terms, and manage a massive national project.

→ James 1:5 — “If any of you lacks wisdom, let him ask of God...”

- Big plans require great preparation.

→ The foundation stones and timber were carefully prepared long before the Temple was built.

→ Luke 14:28 — “Suppose one of you wants to build a tower. Won’t you first sit down and estimate the cost...”

The Construction of the Temple

The Temple Construction Begins

(Verses 1–10)

1 In the 480th year after Israel came out of Egypt, in the fourth year of Solomon’s reign over Israel, in the second month (Ziv), he began to build the Temple of the Lord.

2 The Temple that King Solomon built for the Lord was 60 cubits long, 20 cubits wide, and 30 cubits high.

3 The entrance hall at the front of the Temple was 20 cubits wide and 10 cubits deep.

4 He made narrow windows for the Temple.

5 Around the walls of the Temple, both the main sanctuary and the inner sanctuary, he built three levels of side rooms.

6 The bottom level was 5 cubits wide, the middle level 6 cubits, and the third level 7 cubits. He designed the structure so that the beams rested on ledges built into the Temple wall, avoiding penetration into the main wall itself.

7 The Temple was constructed with finished stones cut at the quarry, so no hammer, chisel, or iron tool was heard at the building site while it was being built.

8 The entrance to the lower level was on the right side of the Temple, with winding stairs leading to the middle level and then to the third.

9 Solomon completed the structure and covered it with beams and cedar planks.

10 He built side rooms along the Temple, five cubits high, attached with cedar beams.

God's Word to Solomon

(Verses 11–13)

11 Then the word of the Lord came to Solomon:

12 “Concerning this Temple you are building, if you walk in My statutes, obey My rules, and keep all My commands, I will fulfill the promise I made to your father David.

13 I will live among the Israelites and will not abandon My people.”

Interior of the Temple

(Verses 14–22)

14 So Solomon continued building the Temple and finished it.

15 He lined the interior walls with cedar from floor to ceiling and overlaid the floor with cypress planks.

16 He partitioned off 20 cubits at the rear of the Temple with cedar boards to create the inner sanctuary—the Most Holy Place.

17 The main hall of the Temple was 40 cubits long.

18 The cedar interior was richly carved with gourds and open flowers. Everything was cedar—no stone was visible.

19 He prepared the inner sanctuary to house the Ark of the Covenant of the Lord.

20 The inner sanctuary was 20 cubits in length, width, and height. He overlaid it with pure gold and made a cedar altar in front of it.

21 Solomon overlaid the interior of the Temple with pure gold and made gold chains across the front of the Most Holy Place.

22 He overlaid the entire building and altar with gold.

Cherubim and Decorations

(Verses 23–30)

23 Inside the Most Holy Place, Solomon made two cherubim of olive wood, each 10 cubits high.

24 Each cherub had wings five cubits long, for a total wingspan of ten cubits.

25 Both cherubim were the same size and shape.

26 Each was ten cubits high.

27 He placed them inside the inner sanctuary. Their wings touched each other in the center, and each touched a wall on either side.

28 He overlaid the cherubim with gold.

29 All around the Temple walls, inside and out, were carvings of cherubim, palm trees, and open flowers.

30 He overlaid the floors with gold throughout the entire Temple.

Doors and Inner Courtyard

(Verses 31–38)

31 He made the doors of the inner sanctuary from olive wood. The doorframes were one-fifth the width of the sanctuary.

32 The double doors were also made of olive wood, with carvings of cherubim, palm trees, and flowers overlaid with gold.

33 He made doorframes of olive wood for the Temple's main entrance—one-fourth the width of the wall.

34 The two doors were of cypress wood, each with two folding panels.

35 These too were carved with cherubim, palm trees, and flowers, overlaid with gold fitting the carvings.

36 He built the inner courtyard with three rows of dressed stone and one row of cedar beams.

37 The foundation of the Temple was laid in Solomon's fourth year, in the month of Ziv.

38 The Temple was finished in all its details and specifications in Solomon's eleventh year, in the month of Bul (the eighth month). It took seven years to build.

Key Lessons from 1 Kings Chapter 6

- God honors timing and fulfillment.
 - The Temple was built exactly when God planned—480 years after the Exodus.
 - Ecclesiastes 3:11 — “He has made everything beautiful in its time.”
- True worship demands preparation and reverence.
 - The stones were shaped off-site to preserve the holiness and peace of the Temple grounds.
 - Habakkuk 2:20 — “But the Lord is in His holy temple; let all the earth be silent before Him.”
- Obedience is more important than architecture.
 - God's promise to dwell with Israel was conditional on obedience, not just construction.
 - 1 Samuel 15:22 — “To obey is better than sacrifice.”
- God's presence requires a holy space.
 - Every detail of the Temple was intentionally crafted, emphasizing purity, beauty, and symbolism.
 - Psalms 96:9 — “Worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness.”

- God fills what we build in faith.

→ Solomon built the structure, but it was God who promised to dwell among His people.

→ 2 Corinthians 6:16 — “You are the temple of the living God...”

1 Kings Chapter 7 — Crawford Standard Bible

Solomon Builds His Palace and Finishes the Temple Furnishings

Solomon’s Royal Buildings

(Verses 1–12)

1 Solomon took thirteen years to build his own palace, and he completed it entirely.

2 He also constructed the Palace of the Forest of Lebanon—100 cubits long, 50 cubits wide, and 30 cubits high. It had four rows of cedar pillars and cedar beams on top.

3 The ceiling was paneled with cedar beams supported by 45 pillars, arranged in sets of fifteen.

4 There were three rows of windows, each directly across from the next.

5 All the doorways and window frames were square and aligned in three tiers.

6 He also built a colonnade 50 cubits long and 30 cubits wide, with a canopy supported by columns.

7 Then he made the Hall of Judgment, where he would hear cases. It was paneled with cedar from floor to ceiling.

8 Solomon’s private residence was behind the Hall and built similarly. He also made a separate house for Pharaoh’s daughter, whom he had married.

9 All these buildings were made with expensive, precisely cut stones, from foundation to coping, inside and out.

10 The foundation stones were enormous—some ten cubits long, others eight cubits.

11 Above the foundation were also costly stones and cedar wood.

12 The great courtyard had three rows of hewn stone and one row of cedar beams—just like the inner courtyard of the Lord’s Temple and its entry porch.

Hiram the Craftsman from Tyre

(Verses 13–22)

13 King Solomon sent for Hiram from Tyre.

14 He was the son of a widow from Naphtali and his father was a skilled bronze worker from Tyre.

Hiram was filled with wisdom, understanding, and skill in bronze craftsmanship.

15 He cast two bronze pillars, each 18 cubits high and 12 cubits in circumference.

16 He made two capitals (crowns) of cast bronze, 5 cubits high, to sit on top of the pillars.

17 The capitals were decorated with network and chains—seven for each capital.

18 He fashioned pomegranates in two rows to go around the latticework on each capital.

19 The capitals had lily designs, 4 cubits high.

20 Each capital had 200 pomegranates arranged around the bulge above the network.

21 He set up the pillars at the entrance of the Temple. He named the right one Jachin (“He establishes”) and the left Boaz (“In Him is strength”).

22 The capitals were finished with lily designs.

The Bronze Sea and Other Furnishings

(Verses 23–40)

23 Hiram also made a large basin called “the Sea,” 10 cubits in diameter, 5 cubits high, and 30 cubits in circumference.

24 It was decorated with gourds around the rim, cast in two rows.

25 It stood on twelve bronze oxen—three facing each cardinal direction.

26 The basin was handbreadth thick, shaped like a bowl with a rim like a lily blossom, and held about 11,000 gallons.

27 He made ten bronze stands, each 4 cubits long, 4 wide, and 3 high.

28 The stands had panels within frames.

29 The panels were decorated with lions, oxen, and cherubim, with wreaths above and below.

30 Each stand had four bronze wheels attached with axles, and four supports beneath the basin.

31 The top opening of the stand was 1.5 cubits in diameter, circular in design, with engraved decorations.

32 The wheels were 1.5 cubits high, and made like chariot wheels—axles, rims, spokes, and hubs all cast in bronze.

33 Each stand had four corner supports, part of the frame itself.

34 On top of each stand was a half-cubit circular band, connected to the side panels.

35 Cherubim, lions, and palm trees were engraved on the surfaces, appropriately spaced with wreaths surrounding them.

36 All ten stands were made from the same mold and measurements.

38 Then he made ten bronze basins, each holding about 230 gallons, one for each stand.

39 Five stands were placed on the south side of the Temple, five on the north. The Sea was positioned on the southeast side.

Completion of the Bronze Work

(Verses 40–51)

40 Hiram also made basins, shovels, and bowls. He completed all the work for King Solomon for the Temple of the Lord:

41 The two pillars and two capitals; the latticework;

42 The 400 pomegranates for the two lattice networks;

43 The ten stands with their ten basins;

44 The Sea and its twelve oxen underneath it;

45 Plus the pots, shovels, bowls, and other utensils—all of polished bronze.

46 Solomon had these cast in clay molds in the Jordan Valley between Succoth and Zarethan.

47 There were so many items that Solomon did not weigh the bronze; the amount was beyond calculation.

48 He also made all the gold furnishings for the Temple: the altar, the gold table for the showbread,
49 Ten gold lampstands (five on each side of the inner sanctuary), gold flowers, lamps, and tongs;
50 Gold basins, snuffers, bowls, ladles, and firepans; the gold hinges for the doors of the inner sanctuary and the main Temple doors.

51 When all the work was completed, Solomon brought in the items David had dedicated—silver, gold, and sacred vessels—and stored them in the Temple treasuries.

The Ark Brought to the Temple and Solomon’s Prayer of Dedication

The Ark of the Covenant Brought to the Temple

(Verses 1–11)

1 Then Solomon gathered all the elders of Israel, the heads of the tribes, and the leaders of the ancestral families of the Israelites to Jerusalem, to bring up the Ark of the Covenant of the Lord from the City of David, which is Zion.

2 All the men of Israel assembled before King Solomon at the festival in the month of Ethanim, the seventh month.

3 When all the elders had arrived, the priests lifted the Ark

4 and carried the Ark of the Lord, along with the Tent of Meeting and all the sacred furnishings in the tabernacle. The priests and the Levites carried them.

5 King Solomon and the entire community of Israel sacrificed sheep and cattle before the Ark—so many they couldn't be counted.

6 The priests brought the Ark of the Lord's covenant into its place in the inner sanctuary—the Most Holy Place—beneath the wings of the cherubim.

7 The cherubim spread their wings over the Ark and its poles.

8 The poles were so long that their ends could be seen from the Holy Place in front of the inner sanctuary, but not from the outside. They are still there today.

9 Inside the Ark were only the two stone tablets Moses had placed at Horeb, where the Lord made a covenant with the Israelites after they came out of Egypt.

10 When the priests came out of the Holy Place, a thick cloud filled the Temple of the Lord.

11 The priests could not continue their service because of the cloud, for the glorious presence of the Lord filled the Temple.

Solomon's Blessing to the People

(Verses 12–21)

12 Then Solomon said, "The Lord said He would dwell in thick darkness.

13 I have built a glorious Temple for You, a place where You can live forever."

14 Then the king turned and blessed the entire assembly of Israel as they stood.

15 He said, "Blessed be the Lord, the God of Israel, who with His own hand has fulfilled what He promised with His mouth to my father David.

16 'Since the day I brought My people out of Egypt, I chose no city among the tribes of Israel to build a Temple for My name. But I chose David to rule My people.'

17 My father David wanted to build this Temple to honor the Lord.

18 But the Lord said, 'It was good that you had the desire,

19 but you will not build it—your son will.'

20 Now the Lord has fulfilled His promise. I sit on David's throne, and I have built this Temple for the name of the Lord.

21 I have provided a place for the Ark, which contains the covenant of the Lord made with our ancestors."

Solomon's Prayer of Dedication

(Verses 22–53)

22 Solomon stood before the altar of the Lord in front of all the people and lifted his hands toward heaven.

23 He prayed: “O Lord, God of Israel, there is no God like You in heaven or on earth. You keep Your covenant and show unfailing love to those who walk before You in wholehearted devotion.

24 You have kept Your promise to David my father; You spoke with Your mouth and fulfilled it with Your hand.

25 Now, O Lord, keep that promise: ‘You will always have a descendant to sit on the throne—if your descendants are faithful.’

26 Now, O God of Israel, confirm that promise.

27 But will God really dwell on earth? The heavens cannot contain You—how much less this Temple!

28 Yet, Lord, listen to my prayer.

29 May Your eyes be open toward this Temple night and day, the place You said You would put Your name. Hear the prayers I make toward this place.

30 Hear my prayer and the prayers of Your people. And when You hear, forgive.

31 If someone wrongs another and is required to take an oath,

32 then hear from heaven, judge between them, condemn the guilty, and clear the innocent.

33 When Israel is defeated because of sin and turns to You and prays, 34 hear from heaven, forgive them, and bring them back.

35 When the skies are shut and there’s no rain because of sin, but they turn and pray,

36 then hear from heaven, forgive, teach them the right way, and send rain on the land.

37 If famine or disease or enemy siege strikes,

38 if anyone prays, acknowledging the plague in their own heart,

39 then hear from heaven and forgive. You know every heart.

40 Do this so they may honor You as long as they live.

41 And when foreigners come from distant lands because of Your name—

42 for they will hear of Your greatness—

43 then hear their prayer too, so all nations may know and fear You, just as Israel does.

44 When Your people go to war and pray toward this city and Temple,

45 then hear their prayer and uphold their cause.

46 If they sin—and everyone does—and You exile them,

47 but they repent in the land of their captors and say, ‘We’ve sinned,’

48 and they pray toward this land and Temple,

49 then hear from heaven,

50 forgive their sins, and cause their captors to show them mercy.

51 For they are Your people, whom You brought out of Egypt.

52 Listen to their prayers, Lord.

53 You set them apart as Your inheritance when You brought them out of Egypt through Moses.”

Solomon Blesses the People Again

(Verses 54–61)

54 When Solomon finished praying, he rose from his knees and lifted his hands from heaven.

55 He stood and blessed the whole assembly:

56 “Praise the Lord, who has given rest to His people as He promised. Not one word has failed.

57 May the Lord our God be with us as He was with our ancestors.

58 May He turn our hearts to Him, to walk in His ways and obey His commands.

59 May my prayer be continually before Him day and night.

60 Then all the earth will know that the Lord alone is God.

61 Let your hearts be loyal to Him and keep His commands.”

The Dedication Offerings and Feast

(Verses 62–66)

62 The king and all Israel offered sacrifices to the Lord.

63 Solomon offered 22,000 cattle and 120,000 sheep as peace offerings.

64 On that day, the king consecrated the center of the courtyard for burnt offerings, grain offerings, and the fat of the peace offerings, since the bronze altar was too small.

65 Solomon and all Israel celebrated a great festival—people came from as far as Hamath to the River of Egypt. It lasted fourteen days.

66 On the eighth day, Solomon sent the people home. They went joyfully and with glad hearts for all the good the Lord had done for His servant David and His people Israel.

God’s Warning to Solomon and the Expansion of His Kingdom

God Appears to Solomon Again

(Verses 1–9)

1 After Solomon completed the construction of the Lord’s Temple, the royal palace, and everything else he wanted to build,

2 the Lord appeared to him a second time, just as He had appeared earlier at Gibeon.

3 The Lord said, “I have heard your prayer and the request you made before Me. I have set this Temple apart to be holy. My Name will be honored there forever. My eyes and My heart will always be there.

4 If you walk before Me faithfully, as your father David did, with integrity and uprightness—obeying all My commands—

5 then I will establish your royal dynasty over Israel forever, just as I promised David, your father, saying, ‘You will never fail to have a man on the throne of Israel.’

6 But if you or your descendants turn away from Me and do not obey My commands, and instead worship other gods,

7 then I will remove Israel from the land I have given them. I will reject this Temple I have consecrated for My Name. Israel will become a proverb and a byword among the nations.

8 Though this Temple is majestic now, all who pass by will be appalled and scoff, asking, ‘Why has the Lord done such a thing to this land and this house?’

9 And the answer will be: ‘Because they abandoned the Lord their God, who brought their ancestors out of Egypt, and embraced other gods, worshipping and serving them. That is why the Lord has brought all this disaster upon them.’”

Solomon Gives Cities to Hiram

(Verses 10–14)

10 After twenty years, during which Solomon built the Temple and his royal palace,

11 he gave twenty towns in Galilee to King Hiram of Tyre, who had supplied him with cedar, fir wood, and gold as requested.

12 But when Hiram came to inspect the towns Solomon had given him, he was not pleased.

13 “What are these towns you’ve given me, my brother?” he asked. So he called them the land of Cabul (meaning “worthless”)—and that name remains.

14 Hiram still sent Solomon 120 talents of gold.

Solomon's Building Projects

(Verses 15–24)

15 This is the account of the forced labor Solomon conscripted to build the Temple, his palace, the terraces, the wall of Jerusalem, and the cities of Hazor, Megiddo, and Gezer.

16 (Pharaoh king of Egypt had attacked and captured Gezer, burned it down, and killed the Canaanites living there. He gave the city to his daughter, Solomon's wife, as a wedding gift.)

17 Solomon rebuilt Gezer, Lower Beth-horon,

18 Baalath, Tadmor in the wilderness,

19 all his storage cities, chariot cities, cavalry cities, and everything else he desired to build in Jerusalem, Lebanon, and throughout his empire.

20 Solomon conscripted as forced labor the descendants of the remaining Amorites, Hittites, Perizzites, Hivites, and Jebusites—people the Israelites could not completely destroy.

21 Their descendants remain in Israel and served as laborers.

22 But Solomon did not enslave any Israelites. They served as soldiers, officials, commanders, chariot officers, and cavalry.

23 There were 550 officials overseeing the work and managing the labor force.

24 Pharaoh's daughter moved from the City of David to the new palace Solomon built for her. Then Solomon constructed the supporting terraces.

Solomon's Worship and Naval Fleet

(Verses 25–28)

25 Three times a year, Solomon offered burnt offerings and peace offerings on the altar he built for the Lord. He also burned incense before the Lord and completed all Temple worship practices.

26 King Solomon also built a fleet of ships at Ezion-geber, near Elath, on the shore of the Red Sea in the land of Edom.

27 Hiram sent experienced sailors to join Solomon's crews.

28 They sailed to Ophir and brought back 420 talents of gold, which they delivered to Solomon.

Solomon’s Wisdom and Wealth Astound the World

The Queen of Sheba Tests Solomon’s Wisdom

(Verses 1–13)

1 When the queen of Sheba heard about Solomon’s fame in connection with the name of the Lord, she came to Jerusalem to test him with difficult questions.

2 She arrived with a massive caravan—camels loaded with spices, large quantities of gold, and precious stones. When she came to Solomon, she spoke with him about everything that was on her heart.

3 Solomon answered all her questions; nothing was too hard for the king to explain.

4 When the queen of Sheba saw all Solomon’s wisdom, the palace he had built,

5 the food on his table, the seating of his officials, the service and attire of his attendants, his cupbearers, and the stairway that led to the Temple of the Lord—she was overwhelmed.

6 She said to the king, “Everything I heard in my country about your achievements and wisdom is true.

7 But I didn’t believe it until I came and saw it with my own eyes. In fact, I wasn’t even told half! Your wisdom and prosperity far exceed what I heard.

8 How happy your people must be! What a privilege for your servants to stand here day after day and hear your wisdom.

9 Praise be to the Lord your God, who has delighted in you and placed you on the throne of Israel.

Because of the Lord’s eternal love for Israel, He made you king to govern with justice and righteousness.”

10 Then she gave the king 120 talents of gold, a great quantity of spices, and precious stones. Never again did such a quantity of spices arrive as what the queen of Sheba gave to King Solomon.

11 (The fleet of Hiram that brought gold from Ophir also brought great quantities of almuq wood and precious stones.)

12 The king used the almug wood to make supports for the Temple and palace, and also harps and lyres for the musicians. Such fine almug wood had never been seen in Israel before.

13 King Solomon gave the queen of Sheba everything she desired—whatever she asked for—besides what he gave her from his royal generosity. Then she and her servants returned to her own land.

Solomon's Wealth and Splendor

(Verses 14–25)

14 The annual revenue of gold that came to Solomon was 666 talents,

15 not including the income from traders, merchants, Arabian kings, and governors of the land.

16 King Solomon made 200 large shields of hammered gold—each using 600 shekels of gold—

17 and 300 small shields of hammered gold, using three minas each. He placed them in the House of the Forest of Lebanon.

18 The king also made a grand throne of ivory and overlaid it with pure gold.

19 It had six steps, and the back of the throne was rounded at the top. Armrests were on either side of the seat, and two lions stood beside the armrests.

20 Twelve lions stood on the six steps—one on each side. No other throne in any kingdom could compare.

21 All of King Solomon's drinking vessels were gold, and all the utensils in the House of the Forest of Lebanon were pure gold. Silver was considered worthless in Solomon's day.

22 The king had a fleet of ships at sea, working with Hiram's fleet. Once every three years they returned with cargoes of gold, silver, ivory, apes, and peacocks.

23 So King Solomon surpassed all the kings of the earth in riches and wisdom.

24 The entire world sought an audience with Solomon to hear the wisdom God had put in his heart.

25 Year after year, everyone who came brought gifts—articles of silver and gold, garments, weapons, spices, horses, and mules.

Solomon's Military Power and Trade

(Verses 26–29)

26 Solomon gathered 1,400 chariots and 12,000 horsemen and stationed them in chariot cities and with the king in Jerusalem.

27 The king made silver as common in Jerusalem as stones, and cedar wood as abundant as sycamores in the foothills.

28 Solomon's horses were imported from Egypt and Kue. His merchants bought them at the market price.

29 A chariot from Egypt cost 600 shekels of silver, and a horse cost 150. They exported these to all the kings of the Hittites and to the kings of Aram.

Solomon's Fall and the Rise of Adversaries

Solomon's Heart Turns Away

(Verses 1–8)

1 But King Solomon loved many foreign women, including the daughter of Pharaoh, as well as women from the Moabites, Ammonites, Edomites, Sidonians, and Hittites—

2 from nations about which the Lord had told the Israelites, "You must not marry them, and they must not marry you, for they will surely turn your hearts away after their gods." Yet Solomon clung to these women in love.

3 He had 700 wives of royal birth and 300 concubines, and his wives led him astray.

4 In his old age, Solomon's wives turned his heart after other gods, and his heart was not fully devoted to the Lord his God, as the heart of David his father had been.

5 He followed Ashtoreth the goddess of the Sidonians and Milcom the detestable god of the Ammonites.

6 So Solomon did evil in the sight of the Lord; he did not follow the Lord completely as David his father had done.

7 On a hill east of Jerusalem, Solomon built a high place for Chemosh, the detestable god of Moab, and for Molech, the abomination of the Ammonites.

8 He did the same for all his foreign wives, who burned incense and made sacrifices to their gods.

God's Judgment Announced

(Verses 9–13)

9 The Lord became angry with Solomon because his heart had turned away from the Lord God of Israel, who had appeared to him twice

10 and had commanded him not to follow other gods. But Solomon did not obey the Lord's command.

11 Therefore the Lord said to Solomon, "Because you have done this and have not kept my covenant and decrees, I will surely tear the kingdom away from you and give it to one of your servants.

12 Nevertheless, for the sake of David your father, I will not do it during your lifetime. I will tear it out of the hand of your son.

13 Even so, I will not take away the entire kingdom; I will give one tribe to your son for the sake of David and for the sake of Jerusalem, which I have chosen."

Enemies Rise Against Solomon

(Verses 14–25)

14 Then the Lord raised up an adversary against Solomon—Hadad the Edomite, a member of the royal family of Edom.

15 Earlier, when David had been in Edom, Joab the commander of the army had gone to bury the dead and struck down every male in Edom.

16 Joab and all Israel stayed there for six months until every male in Edom was killed.

17 But Hadad fled to Egypt with some Edomite servants of his father, while he was still a boy.

18 They set out from Midian and went to Paran, taking people with them, and came to Egypt, to Pharaoh king of Egypt, who gave Hadad a house, land, and provisions.

19 Pharaoh was so pleased with Hadad that he gave him in marriage the sister of his own wife, Queen Tahpenes.

20 She bore him a son named Genubath, whom Tahpenes raised in Pharaoh's palace among Pharaoh's own sons.

21 While in Egypt, Hadad learned that David and Joab were dead. He said to Pharaoh, "Let me go back to my homeland."

22 Pharaoh asked, "What do you lack here with me that you want to return to your own land?" Hadad replied, "Nothing, but please let me go."

23 God also raised up another adversary, Rezon son of Eliadah, who had fled from his master Hadadezer, king of Zobah.

24 Rezon gathered men and became leader of a band after David defeated the forces of Zobah. He went to Damascus, settled there, and became king.

25 He was Israel's enemy as long as Solomon lived, adding to the trouble caused by Hadad. Rezon ruled over Aram and loathed Israel.

Jeroboam's Rise and Prophecy

(Verses 26–40)

26 Another adversary was Jeroboam son of Nebat, an Ephraimite from Zeredah. His mother was Zeruah, a widow. He was one of Solomon's officials but rebelled against the king.

27 Here is the story behind his rebellion: Solomon had built the Millo and repaired the wall of the City of David.

28 Jeroboam was a capable man. When Solomon saw how industrious he was, he put him in charge of the entire labor force of the tribes of Joseph.

29 About that time, the prophet Ahijah from Shiloh met Jeroboam on the road. He was wearing a new cloak, and the two of them were alone in the field.

30 Ahijah took hold of the new cloak he was wearing and tore it into twelve pieces.

31 Then he said to Jeroboam, "Take ten pieces for yourself, for this is what the Lord, the God of Israel, says: I am going to tear the kingdom out of Solomon's hand and give you ten tribes.

32 (But for the sake of my servant David and the city of Jerusalem, I will leave one tribe for his son.)

33 For they have forsaken me and worshiped Ashtoreth, Chemosh, and Milcom, and they have not walked in my ways nor kept my commandments as David did.

34 I will not take the whole kingdom from him, but I will let him remain ruler all his life for the sake of David, whom I chose and who obeyed my commands.

35 But I will take the kingdom from his son and give you ten tribes.

36 I will give one tribe to his son so that David may always have a lamp before me in Jerusalem, the city I chose to put my name.

37 As for you, I will take you, and you shall rule over all that your heart desires—you shall be king over Israel.

38 If you do whatever I command, walk in my ways, and do what is right, I will be with you. I will build you a lasting dynasty as I did for David and give Israel to you.

39 I will humble David's descendants because of this, but not forever."

40 Solomon tried to kill Jeroboam, but Jeroboam fled to Egypt to Shishak king of Egypt and stayed there until Solomon died.

The End of Solomon's Reign

(Verses 41–43)

41 The rest of the events of Solomon's reign, all he did, and his wisdom, are recorded in the Book of the Acts of Solomon.

42 Solomon ruled in Jerusalem over all Israel for forty years.

43 Then Solomon died and was buried in the city of his father David. His son Rehoboam succeeded him as king.

1 Kings Chapter 12 — Crawford Standard Bible

The Kingdom Divides: Rehoboam’s Pride and Jeroboam’s Idolatry

Rehoboam’s Harsh Reply Divides the Nation

(Verses 1–15)

1 Rehoboam went to Shechem, where all Israel had gathered to make him king.

2 When Jeroboam son of Nebat heard about it—he was still in Egypt where he had fled from King Solomon—he returned.

3 The people summoned Jeroboam, and together they came to Rehoboam and said,

4 “Your father put a heavy yoke on us. Now lighten the harsh labor and heavy burden he placed on us, and we will serve you.”

5 Rehoboam replied, “Go away for three days and then return to me.” So the people departed.

6 Then Rehoboam consulted the elders who had served Solomon his father: “How do you advise me to answer these people?”

7 They replied, “If you will be a servant to these people today, and serve them, and give them a kind answer, they will be your loyal subjects forever.”

8 But Rehoboam rejected the advice of the elders and consulted the young men who had grown up with him.

9 “What do you advise?” he asked them. “How should we respond to the people who say, ‘Lighten the burden your father placed on us’?”

10 The young men replied, “Tell them: ‘My little finger is thicker than my father’s waist.

11 My father laid on you a heavy yoke; I will make it heavier. He chastised you with whips, but I will discipline you with scorpions.’”

12 So on the third day, Jeroboam and all the people returned to Rehoboam as he had requested.

13 The king answered the people harshly and rejected the elders’ advice.

14 He spoke according to the young men’s counsel, saying, “My father made your yoke heavy; I will make it heavier. My father chastised you with whips; I will do so with scorpions.”

15 The king did not listen to the people, for this turn of events was from the Lord, to fulfill the word spoken through Ahijah the Shilonite to Jeroboam.

Israel Rebels Against the House of David

(Verses 16–24)

16 When all Israel saw that the king had refused to listen, they responded,

“What share do we have in David?

We have no inheritance in the son of Jesse.

To your tents, O Israel!

Look after your own house, David!”

So the people of Israel went home.

17 But Rehoboam still ruled over the Israelites living in the cities of Judah.

18 Then King Rehoboam sent Adoram, who was in charge of forced labor, but the people of Israel stoned him to death. King Rehoboam quickly mounted his chariot and fled to Jerusalem.

19 So Israel has been in rebellion against the house of David to this day.

20 When the Israelites heard that Jeroboam had returned, they summoned him to the assembly and made him king over all Israel. Only the tribe of Judah remained loyal to David’s house.

21 Rehoboam returned to Jerusalem and mustered the whole house of Judah and the tribe of Benjamin—180,000 chosen warriors—to fight against Israel and restore the kingdom.

22 But God’s word came to Shemaiah the man of God:

23 “Say to Rehoboam son of Solomon, king of Judah, and to all the people of Judah and Benjamin:

24 This is what the Lord says: Do not go up to fight against your brothers the Israelites. Go home, every one of you, for this is my doing.” So they obeyed the Lord and went home.

Jeroboam Leads Israel into Idolatry

(Verses 25–33)

25 Jeroboam fortified Shechem in the hill country of Ephraim and lived there. He also built up Penuel.

26 Jeroboam thought to himself, “If the people go up to offer sacrifices at the temple of the Lord in Jerusalem, their loyalty will return to Rehoboam, and they will kill me.”

27 So the king made two golden calves and said to the people, “It is too much for you to go to Jerusalem. Here are your gods, O Israel, who brought you up from Egypt.”

28 He set one calf in Bethel and the other in Dan.

29 This became a great sin, for the people worshiped the idols, traveling as far as Dan.

30 Jeroboam also built shrines on high places and appointed priests from all sorts of people, even though they were not Levites.

31 He instituted a festival on the fifteenth day of the eighth month, like the one held in Judah, and offered sacrifices on the altar.

32 At Bethel he sacrificed to the calves he had made and installed priests at the high places he had set up.

33 So on the fifteenth day of the eighth month, a date of his own choosing, Jeroboam offered sacrifices on the altar at Bethel. He burned incense and established a festival for the Israelites.

A Prophet’s Warning and a Tragic Lesson in Obedience

A Man of God Confronts the Altar in Bethel

(Verses 1–5)

1 A man of God came from Judah to Bethel by the Lord’s command. Jeroboam was standing by the altar to burn incense.

2 The man of God cried out against the altar: “O altar, altar! This is what the Lord says: ‘A child named Josiah will be born into the house of David. On you he will sacrifice the priests of the high places who burn incense here. Human bones will be burned on you.”

3 He gave a sign that day: “This is the sign the Lord has spoken—this altar will split apart, and the ashes on it will spill out.”

4 When King Jeroboam heard the message from the man of God, he stretched out his hand from the altar and said, “Seize him!” But the hand he stretched out withered and he couldn’t pull it back.

5 At that moment, the altar split and the ashes poured out—just as the man of God had said would happen by the word of the Lord.

A Prophet Refuses the King’s Hospitality

(Verses 6–10)

6 Jeroboam pleaded with the man of God, “Pray to the Lord your God and ask Him to restore my hand!” The man of God prayed, and the king’s hand was healed and returned to normal.

7 The king said, “Come home with me and refresh yourself—I’ll reward you.”

8 But the man of God replied, “Even if you gave me half your palace, I wouldn’t go with you. I will not eat or drink anything in this place.

9 The Lord commanded me: ‘Do not eat bread or drink water or return by the same way you came.’”

10 So he took another route and did not return by the way he had come to Bethel.

A Deceptive Prophet Brings Disaster

(Verses 11–24)

11 Now an old prophet lived in Bethel. His sons told him everything the man of God had done and said.

12 The old prophet asked, “Which way did he go?” They showed him the direction.

13 He said, “Saddle my donkey.” They did so, and he rode after the man of God.

14 He found him sitting under an oak tree and asked, “Are you the man of God who came from Judah?”

“Yes, I am,” he replied.

15 “Come home with me and eat bread,” the old prophet said.

16 The man of God answered, “I can’t go back with you or eat or drink here.

17 God told me, ‘Don’t eat or drink anything there, and don’t return by the way you came.’”

18 The old prophet lied: “I too am a prophet, and an angel told me by the Lord’s word to bring you back to my house to eat and drink.”

19 So the man of God went back with him and ate and drank in his home.

20 While they were sitting at the table, the word of the Lord came to the old prophet.

21 He cried out to the man of God: “This is what the Lord says: ‘You disobeyed God’s command and came back to eat and drink where you were told not to.

22 Therefore, your body will not be buried in your family tomb.’”

23 After they had eaten, the prophet saddled the man’s donkey for him.

24 As he was on his way, a lion met him and killed him. His body was left on the road, with the donkey and the lion standing beside it.

The Prophet Mourns and Honors the Man of God

(Verses 25–32)

25 People passed by and saw the body lying in the road with the lion and the donkey beside it. Word reached the old prophet.

26 When he heard it, he said, “It is the man of God who disobeyed the Lord. The Lord gave him to the lion, as He warned.”

27 He told his sons, “Saddle the donkey.” They did.

28 He found the body in the road, with the donkey and lion still standing there. The lion hadn’t eaten the body or harmed the donkey.

29 The prophet picked up the body and laid it on the donkey, bringing it back to mourn and bury him.

30 He laid him in his own tomb and mourned over him: “Alas, my brother!”

31 He told his sons, “When I die, bury me beside this man of God.

32 Everything he spoke by the word of the Lord against Bethel’s altar and high places in Samaria will come true.”

Jeroboam Continues in Sin

(Verses 33–34)

33 Despite all this, Jeroboam didn’t turn from his evil ways. He continued to appoint anyone as priests for the high places.

34 This became a great sin, and it eventually led to the downfall and destruction of Jeroboam’s dynasty.

The Fall of Two Kings: Jeroboam’s Judgment and Rehoboam’s Shame

A Sick Child and a Prophet’s Revelation

(Verses 1–6)

1 At that time, Abijah, the son of King Jeroboam, became very sick.

2 Jeroboam told his wife, “Disguise yourself so no one knows you’re my wife. Go to Shiloh, where the prophet Ahijah lives. He’s the one who told me I would be king over Israel.

3 Take ten loaves of bread, some cakes, and a jar of honey. Go to him—he will tell you what will happen to our child.”

4 So Jeroboam’s wife went to Shiloh and came to Ahijah’s house. By this time, Ahijah was blind due to old age.

5 But the Lord told Ahijah, “Jeroboam’s wife is coming to ask you about her son, who is sick. Here’s what you are to say to her. When she arrives, she will pretend to be someone else.”

6 As soon as she walked through the door, Ahijah said, “Come in, wife of Jeroboam! Why are you pretending to be someone else? I have a harsh message for you.”

God’s Judgment on Jeroboam’s House

(Verses 7–18)

7 “Go back and tell Jeroboam, ‘This is what the Lord, the God of Israel, says: I raised you from among the people and made you ruler over My people Israel.

8 I tore the kingdom away from the house of David and gave it to you. But you have not been like My servant David, who kept My commandments and followed Me with all his heart.

9 Instead, you have done more evil than all who came before you. You made other gods, cast metal idols, and turned your back on Me.

10 So I am going to bring disaster on your household. I will wipe out every male in your family, both slave and free. I will sweep away your dynasty like someone burns up dung until none is left.

11 Those who die in the city will be eaten by dogs. Those who die in the fields will be eaten by birds. The Lord has spoken.’

12 As for you, go home. The moment your feet enter the city, your child will die.

13 All Israel will mourn for him and bury him. He is the only one in your family who will have a proper burial, because in him the Lord found something good.

14 The Lord will raise up a king over Israel who will destroy the house of Jeroboam—sooner than you think.

15 The Lord will strike Israel like a reed shaken in the water. He will uproot them from this good land and scatter them beyond the Euphrates River, because they made Asherah poles and provoked the Lord to anger.

16 He will give Israel up because of the sins of Jeroboam, who caused Israel to sin.”

17 Jeroboam’s wife returned to Tirzah. Just as she stepped through the door, the child died.

18 They buried him, and all Israel mourned, just as the Lord had said through the prophet Ahijah.

The Deaths of Jeroboam and Rehoboam

(Verses 19–20, 29–31)

19 The rest of Jeroboam’s story—his wars and his reign—are recorded in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel.

20 He reigned for twenty-two years. Then he died, and his son Nadab became king after him.

...

29 The rest of Rehoboam’s actions are recorded in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah.

30 There was constant war between Rehoboam and Jeroboam.

31 Rehoboam died and was buried in the City of David. His mother’s name was Naamah, an Ammonite woman. His son Abijam succeeded him.

Rehoboam’s Reign in Judah

(Verses 21–28)

21 Meanwhile, Rehoboam, the son of Solomon, ruled in Judah. He was forty-one years old when he began to reign and ruled for seventeen years in Jerusalem—the city the Lord had chosen from all the tribes of Israel to place His Name. His mother was Naamah the Ammonitess.

22 But Judah did evil in the Lord’s sight. They provoked Him more than their ancestors ever had.

23 They built pagan shrines, sacred pillars, and Asherah poles on every high hill and under every green tree.

24 Male shrine prostitutes were in the land. They committed the same detestable practices as the nations the Lord had driven out before the Israelites.

25 In the fifth year of Rehoboam’s reign, Shishak king of Egypt attacked Jerusalem.

26 He took all the treasures of the Lord’s temple and the royal palace—including the gold shields Solomon had made.

27 So Rehoboam made bronze shields to replace them and entrusted them to the guards at the palace gates.

28 Whenever the king went to the Lord’s temple, the guards carried the shields and then returned them to the guardroom.

The Rise of Asa and the Fall of Jeroboam's House

Abijam's Short Reign in Judah

(Verses 1–8)

1 In the eighteenth year of King Jeroboam of Israel, Abijam became king of Judah.

2 He ruled in Jerusalem for three years. His mother was Maacah, the granddaughter of Absalom.

3 Abijam followed all the sins of his father before him. His heart was not fully devoted to the Lord his God, like the heart of David his forefather.

4 Yet, for David's sake, the Lord gave him a “lamp” in Jerusalem—allowing his son to rule and maintaining Jerusalem—

5 because David had done what was right in the Lord's eyes and had not turned aside from His commands all the days of his life, except in the matter of Uriah the Hittite.

6 There was war between Rehoboam and Jeroboam throughout Abijam's life.

7 The rest of Abijam's acts are written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah. There was also war between Abijam and Jeroboam.

8 Abijam died and was buried in the City of David, and his son Asa became king.

Asa's Righteous Reign

(Verses 9–15)

9 In the twentieth year of Jeroboam's reign, Asa became king of Judah.

10 He ruled for forty-one years in Jerusalem. His mother was Maacah, the granddaughter of Absalom.

11 Asa did what was right in the eyes of the Lord, as David his ancestor had done.

12 He expelled the male shrine prostitutes from the land and removed all the idols his fathers had made.

13 He even removed his mother Maacah from being queen because she had made an obscene Asherah pole. Asa cut it down and burned it in the Kidron Valley.

14 Although the high places were not removed, Asa's heart remained fully devoted to the Lord all his life.

15 He brought into the Lord's temple the silver, gold, and sacred items that he and his father had dedicated.

Asa's Conflict with Baasha

(Verses 16–24)

16 There was constant war between Asa and Baasha king of Israel.

17 Baasha fortified Ramah to block anyone from leaving or entering Asa's territory.

18 So Asa took all the silver and gold remaining in the temple and palace treasuries and sent it to Ben-Hadad, king of Aram (Syria), who ruled in Damascus.

19 Asa said, "Let there be a treaty between you and me as there was between our fathers. Break your treaty with Baasha so he will withdraw from me."

20 Ben-Hadad agreed and attacked the northern cities of Israel: Ijon, Dan, Abel-beth-maacah, all of Chinnereth, and the entire region of Naphtali.

21 When Baasha heard this, he abandoned his work on Ramah and moved to Tirzah.

22 King Asa then drafted all of Judah—no one was exempt—to dismantle Ramah's stones and timber. He used them to fortify Geba and Mizpah.

23 All Asa's acts, his power, and the cities he built are recorded in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah. In his old age, Asa developed a disease in his feet.

24 He died and was buried with his ancestors in the City of David, and his son Jehoshaphat succeeded him.

The Fall of Nadab and the Rise of Baasha

(Verses 25–34)

25 Nadab son of Jeroboam became king of Israel in the second year of Asa and ruled for two years.

26 He did evil in the sight of the Lord, continuing in his father's sin that led Israel into sin.

27 Baasha son of Ahijah, from the tribe of Issachar, conspired against him. While Nadab and the army were besieging Gibbethon (a Philistine city), 28 Baasha killed him in Asa's third year and reigned in his place.

29 As soon as he became king, Baasha struck down the entire family of Jeroboam, leaving none alive, fulfilling the word of the Lord spoken through Ahijah the Shilonite.

30 This happened because of Jeroboam's sins and the sin he caused Israel to commit, provoking the Lord to anger.

31 The rest of Nadab's acts are recorded in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel.

32 There was war between Asa and Baasha all their days.

33 In Asa's third year, Baasha began to reign in Tirzah and ruled for twenty-four years.

34 He did evil in the Lord's sight, following Jeroboam's sin and leading Israel to sin.

1 Kings Chapter 16 — Crawford Standard Bible

From Baasha to Ahab: The Steady Fall of Israel

The Judgment Against Baasha

(Verses 1–7)

1 Then the word of the Lord came to Jehu son of Hanani, against Baasha, saying,

2 "I lifted you out of the dust and made you ruler over my people Israel. But you walked in the way of Jeroboam, leading my people to sin and provoking me to anger.

3 Therefore, I will wipe out your descendants and make your house like the house of Jeroboam son of Nebat.

4 Anyone of yours who dies in the city will be eaten by dogs, and anyone who dies in the field will be eaten by the birds of the sky.”

5 The rest of Baasha’s deeds and his might are written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel.

6 Baasha died and was buried in Tirzah, and his son Elah became king.

7 Through the prophet Jehu, the Lord declared judgment against Baasha and his house for his evil, for provoking the Lord to anger with the work of his hands, and for being like Jeroboam’s house, which he also destroyed.

The Short Reign of Elah and Zimri’s Treachery

(Verses 8–20)

8 In Asa’s twenty-sixth year as king of Judah, Elah son of Baasha became king of Israel in Tirzah and ruled for two years.

9 Zimri, one of his commanders over half the chariots, conspired against him. Elah was in Tirzah, drinking heavily in the house of Arza, the palace steward.

10 Zimri entered and struck him down in Asa’s twenty-seventh year and became king in his place.

11 Once Zimri took the throne, he killed the entire house of Baasha, leaving not one male relative or friend alive.

12 So Zimri destroyed all of Baasha’s house, just as the Lord had spoken through Jehu the prophet.

13 This happened because of the sins of Baasha and Elah, by which they led Israel into sin and provoked the Lord with their worthless idols.

14 The rest of Elah’s acts are written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel.

15 Zimri reigned in Tirzah for only seven days. At that time, Israel’s army was camped at Gibbethon, a Philistine city.

16 When the army heard that Zimri had conspired and killed the king, they proclaimed Omri, the commander of the army, king of Israel that same day in the camp.

17 Omri and all Israel marched from Gibbethon and besieged Tirzah.

18 When Zimri saw the city was taken, he went into the citadel of the royal palace, set it on fire around himself, and died.

19 He perished for his sins—doing evil in the Lord’s sight and following Jeroboam’s ways, leading Israel into sin.

20 The rest of Zimri’s acts, including his conspiracy, are written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel.

The Rise of Omri

(Verses 21–28)

21 Then the people of Israel split into two factions: half followed Tibni son of Ginath to make him king, and half followed Omri.

22 But Omri’s followers prevailed; Tibni died, and Omri became king.

23 Omri began his reign in Asa's thirty-first year and ruled over Israel for twelve years, six of them in Tirzah.

24 He bought the hill of Samaria from Shemer for two talents of silver, built a city there, and named it Samaria after Shemer, the previous owner.

25 Omri did evil in the eyes of the Lord, doing even more evil than all the kings before him.

26 He followed Jeroboam's ways, leading Israel to sin with idolatry and provoking the Lord with their vanities.

27 Omri's other deeds and his might are written in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel.

28 Omri died and was buried in Samaria, and his son Ahab became king.

The Wickedness of Ahab

(Verses 29–34)

29 In Asa's thirty-eighth year, Ahab son of Omri became king of Israel. He ruled in Samaria for twenty-two years.

30 Ahab did more evil in the Lord's sight than all the kings before him.

31 As if it were a trivial thing to walk in Jeroboam's sins, he married Jezebel, the daughter of Ethbaal king of the Sidonians, and began to serve and worship Baal.

32 He built a temple for Baal in Samaria and set up an altar to him.

33 Ahab also made an Asherah pole and provoked the Lord God of Israel to anger more than all the kings before him.

34 During Ahab's reign, Hiel of Bethel rebuilt Jericho. He laid its foundation at the cost of his firstborn son, Abiram, and set up its gates at the cost of his youngest son, Segub—fulfilling the word of the Lord spoken by Joshua son of Nun. (See Joshua 6:26.)

Elijah the Tishbite and the God Who Provides and Raises the Dead

Elijah Proclaims a Drought

(Verses 1–7)

1 Elijah the Tishbite, from Gilead, said to Ahab, “As the Lord God of Israel lives, before whom I stand, there will be no dew or rain for these years except at my word.”

2 Then the word of the Lord came to him:

3 “Leave here, go eastward, and hide yourself by the brook Cherith, east of the Jordan.

4 You will drink from the brook, and I have commanded the ravens to feed you there.”

5 So Elijah obeyed the word of the Lord and stayed by the brook Cherith.

6 The ravens brought him bread and meat in the morning and in the evening, and he drank from the brook.

7 After a time, the brook dried up, because no rain had fallen in the land.

The Widow of Zarephath

(Verses 8–16)

8 Then the word of the Lord came to him:

9 “Go at once to Zarephath in Sidon and stay there. I have commanded a widow to supply you with food.”

10 Elijah went to Zarephath. At the city gate, he saw a widow gathering sticks. He called to her, “Please bring me a little water in a jar, so I may drink.”

11 As she went to get it, he called again, “And please bring me a piece of bread.”

12 She replied, “As the Lord your God lives, I have no bread—only a handful of flour in a jar and a little oil in a jug. I am gathering a few sticks to cook this for myself and my son, so we may eat it—and die.”

13 Elijah said to her, “Do not be afraid. Go home and do as you have said. But first make a small loaf for me and bring it to me; afterward, make some for yourself and your son.

14 For this is what the Lord, the God of Israel, says: ‘The jar of flour will not be used up, and the jug of oil will not run dry until the day the Lord sends rain on the land.’”

15 She went and did as Elijah said, and there was food every day for Elijah, for the woman, and for her household.

16 The jar of flour was not used up, and the jug of oil did not run dry, in keeping with the word the Lord had spoken through Elijah.

Elijah Raises the Widow's Son

(Verses 17–24)

17 After these events, the woman's son became sick. His illness grew so severe that he stopped breathing.

18 She said to Elijah, "What do you have against me, man of God? Have you come to remind me of my sin and kill my son?"

19 Elijah said, "Give me your son." He took the boy from her arms, carried him to the upper room where he was staying, and laid him on his own bed.

20 He cried out to the Lord, "O Lord my God, have you brought tragedy on this widow I am staying with by causing her son to die?"

21 Then he stretched himself over the child three times and cried out, "O Lord my God, let this child's life return to him!"

22 The Lord heard Elijah's cry. The child's life returned, and he revived.

23 Elijah picked up the child, carried him down from the room into the house, and gave him to his mother. He said, "Look, your son lives!"

24 Then the woman said to Elijah, "Now I know that you are a man of God and that the word of the Lord from your mouth is the truth."

Elijah on Mount Carmel: God Answers by Fire

Elijah Confronts Ahab

(Verses 1–16)

1 After many days, in the third year, the word of the Lord came to Elijah: “Go and present yourself to Ahab, and I will send rain on the land.”

2 Elijah went to present himself to Ahab. The famine in Samaria was severe.

3 Ahab summoned Obadiah, the palace administrator. (Obadiah feared the Lord greatly.)

4 When Jezebel killed the prophets of the Lord, Obadiah had hidden one hundred prophets in two caves, fifty in each, and supplied them with bread and water.)

5 Ahab said to Obadiah, “Go through the land to all the springs and valleys. Perhaps we can find grass to keep the horses and mules alive, so we will not have to kill any animals.”

6 They divided the land between them; Ahab went one way, and Obadiah went the other.

7 As Obadiah was on the way, Elijah met him. Obadiah recognized him, bowed, and said, “Is it really you, my lord Elijah?”

8 “It is,” he replied. “Go tell your master, ‘Elijah is here.’”

9 But Obadiah said, “What sin have I committed, that you are handing me over to Ahab to be killed?”

10 As surely as the Lord your God lives, there is no nation or kingdom where my master has not sent to look for you. And when they said, ‘He is not here,’ he made them swear that they had not found you.

11 And now you tell me to go to my master and say, ‘Elijah is here’?”

12 I don’t know where the Spirit of the Lord may carry you when I leave. If I go and tell Ahab and he doesn’t find you, he will kill me. Yet I, your servant, have worshiped the Lord since my youth.

13 Haven’t you heard, my lord, what I did when Jezebel killed the Lord’s prophets? I hid a hundred of the Lord’s prophets in two caves and supplied them with bread and water.

14 And now you say, ‘Go tell your master, Elijah is here.’ He will kill me!”

15 Elijah said, “As the Lord Almighty lives, whom I serve, I will surely present myself to Ahab today.”

16 So Obadiah went to meet Ahab and told him, and Ahab went to meet Elijah.

The Showdown on Mount Carmel

(Verses 17–40)

17 When Ahab saw Elijah, he said, “Is that you, you troubler of Israel?”

18 Elijah replied, “I have not troubled Israel, but you and your father’s family have, because you have abandoned the Lord’s commands and followed the Baals.

19 Now summon all Israel to meet me on Mount Carmel, along with the 450 prophets of Baal and the 400 prophets of Asherah, who eat at Jezebel’s table.”

20 So Ahab sent word throughout Israel and assembled the prophets on Mount Carmel.

21 Elijah approached the people and said, “How long will you waver between two opinions? If the Lord is God, follow Him; but if Baal is God, follow him.” But the people were silent.

22 Then Elijah said, “I am the only remaining prophet of the Lord, but Baal has 450 prophets.

23 Bring us two bulls. Let Baal’s prophets choose one, cut it into pieces, and put it on the wood but not set fire to it. I will prepare the other bull and put it on the wood but not set fire to it.

24 Then you call on the name of your god, and I will call on the name of the Lord. The God who answers by fire—He is God.” All the people said, “What you say is good.”

25 Elijah said to the prophets of Baal, “Choose your bull and prepare it first, since there are many of you. Call on the name of your god, but do not light the fire.”

26 They took the bull and prepared it. They called on the name of Baal from morning until noon, shouting, “Baal, answer us!” But there was no voice; no one answered. They danced around the altar they had made.

27 At noon, Elijah mocked them. “Shout louder!” he said. “Surely he is a god! Perhaps he is deep in thought, busy, traveling, or maybe he is sleeping and must be awakened!”

28 So they shouted louder and cut themselves with swords and spears, as was their custom, until their blood flowed.

29 Midday passed, and they continued their frantic prophesying until the time for the evening sacrifice. But there was no response, no one answered, no one paid attention.

30 Then Elijah said to all the people, “Come here to me.” They came to him, and he repaired the altar of the Lord, which had been torn down.

31 Elijah took twelve stones, one for each of the tribes of Jacob, to whom the word of the Lord had come, saying, “Your name shall be Israel.”

32 With the stones he built an altar in the name of the Lord, and he dug a trench around it large enough to hold several gallons of water.

33 He arranged the wood, cut the bull in pieces, and laid it on the wood. Then he said, “Fill four large jars with water and pour it on the offering and the wood.”

34 “Do it again,” he said, and they did it again. “Do it a third time,” he ordered, and they did it the third time.

35 The water ran down around the altar and even filled the trench.

36 At the time of the evening sacrifice, Elijah stepped forward and prayed:

“Lord, God of Abraham, Isaac, and Israel, let it be known today that You are God in Israel, that I am Your servant, and have done all these things at Your command.

37 Answer me, Lord, answer me, so these people will know that You, Lord, are God, and that You are turning their hearts back again.”

38 Then the fire of the Lord fell and consumed the burnt sacrifice, the wood, the stones, and the soil, and it licked up the water in the trench.

39 When all the people saw this, they fell prostrate and cried, “The Lord—He is God! The Lord—He is God!”

40 Elijah commanded, “Seize the prophets of Baal! Don’t let any of them escape!” They seized them, and Elijah brought them down to the Kishon Valley and slaughtered them there.

Rain Returns to the Land

(Verses 41–46)

41 Elijah said to Ahab, “Go, eat and drink, for there is the sound of heavy rain.”

42 So Ahab went to eat and drink, but Elijah climbed to the top of Carmel, bent down to the ground, and put his face between his knees.

43 “Go and look toward the sea,” he told his servant. The servant went and looked. “There is nothing,” he said. Seven times Elijah said, “Go back.”

44 The seventh time the servant reported, “A cloud as small as a man’s hand is rising from the sea.” Elijah said, “Go and tell Ahab, ‘Hitch up your chariot and go down before the rain stops you.’”

45 Meanwhile, the sky grew black with clouds, the wind rose, and a heavy rain started falling. Ahab rode off to Jezreel.

46 The power of the Lord came on Elijah, and he tucked his cloak into his belt and ran ahead of Ahab all the way to Jezreel.

Elijah Flees, God Speaks in a Whisper, and Elisha is Called

Elijah Flees from Jezebel

(Verses 1–8)

1 Ahab reported to Jezebel everything Elijah had done, including how he killed all the prophets of Baal with the sword.

2 Jezebel sent a message to Elijah: “May the gods deal with me, and more so, if by this time tomorrow I do not make your life like one of theirs!”

3 Elijah was afraid and ran for his life. He went to Beersheba in Judah, leaving his servant there.

4 He traveled alone a day’s journey into the wilderness, sat under a broom tree, and prayed to die. He said, “It is enough! Now, Lord, take my life. I am no better than my ancestors.”

5 Then he lay down under the broom tree and slept. Suddenly an angel touched him and said, “Get up and eat.”

6 He looked, and there by his head was a cake baked over coals and a jar of water. He ate and drank and lay down again.

7 The angel of the Lord came a second time, touched him, and said, “Get up and eat, because the journey is too much for you.”

8 So he got up, ate, and drank. Strengthened by that food, he traveled forty days and nights until he reached Mount Horeb, the mountain of God.

God Speaks in a Gentle Whisper

(Verses 9–18)

9 Elijah went into a cave and spent the night there. Then the word of the Lord came to him: “What are you doing here, Elijah?”

10 He replied, “I have been very zealous for the Lord God Almighty. The Israelites have abandoned Your covenant, torn down Your altars, and killed Your prophets with the sword. I am the only one left, and now they want to kill me too.”

11 The Lord said, “Go out and stand on the mountain in My presence.”

- A powerful wind tore through the mountains and shattered rocks, but the Lord was not in the wind.
- After the wind came an earthquake, but the Lord was not in the earthquake.
12 After the earthquake came a fire, but the Lord was not in the fire.
- After the fire came a gentle whisper.

13 When Elijah heard it, he pulled his cloak over his face, went out, and stood at the entrance of the cave. A voice said, “What are you doing here, Elijah?”

14 He replied the same way: “I have been very zealous for the Lord. Israel has abandoned Your covenant, destroyed Your altars, and killed Your prophets. I am the only one left, and they want to kill me too.”

15 The Lord said to him,

“Go back the way you came, to the Desert of Damascus. When you arrive:

- Anoint Hazael king over Aram.
16 - Anoint Jehu son of Nimshi king over Israel.
- Anoint Elisha son of Shaphat from Abel Meholah to succeed you as prophet.
17 Whoever escapes the sword of Hazael, Jehu will kill; whoever escapes the sword of Jehu,

Elisha will kill.

18 Yet I have reserved seven thousand in Israel—all whose knees have not bowed to Baal and whose mouths have not kissed him.”

The Call of Elisha

(Verses 19–21)

19 Elijah left and found Elisha son of Shaphat plowing with twelve pairs of oxen; he was driving the twelfth pair. Elijah went up and threw his cloak over him.

20 Elisha left his oxen, ran after Elijah, and said, “Let me kiss my father and mother goodbye, and then I will follow you.”

Elijah replied, “Go back; consider what I have done to you.”

21 Elisha returned, took his pair of oxen, slaughtered them, and used the wooden plow as firewood to cook the meat. He gave it to the people, and they ate. Then he left to follow Elijah and became his servant.

Ahab and Ben-Hadad: Two Battles and a Warning

Ben-Hadad Demands Surrender

(Verses 1–12)

1 Ben-Hadad, king of Aram (Syria), gathered his entire army with thirty-two allied kings, along with horses and chariots. He went up and besieged Samaria.

2 He sent messengers to Ahab, king of Israel:

3 “Your silver and gold are mine. Your best wives and children are mine.”

4 Ahab replied, “My lord the king, I am yours, and all that I have.”

5 But Ben-Hadad sent messengers again: “I will send my servants tomorrow to search your house and the houses of your officials. Whatever is valuable, they will take.”

6 Ahab summoned the elders and said, “This man seeks to destroy us. He first demanded my wives, children, silver, and gold—I did not refuse him.”

7 All the elders and the people said, “Do not listen or agree.”

8 Ahab told the messengers, “Tell my lord the king: I will grant the first request, but this I cannot do.”

9 Ben-Hadad raged and vowed to reduce Samaria to dust.

10 Ahab responded, “Tell him: Let not the one who straps on his armor boast like the one who takes it off.”

God Promises Victory

(Verses 13–21)

13 A prophet came to Ahab:

“This vast army—God will deliver it into your hand today. Then you will know that I am the Lord.”

14 Ahab asked, “By whom?”

“By the young men of the provincial leaders.”

15 Ahab counted them—232 young men, plus 7,000 soldiers.

16 They went out at noon while Ben-Hadad and the thirty-two kings were drunk in their tents.

17 The young men went out first. The Syrians reported, “Men are coming out of Samaria!”

18 Ben-Hadad said, “Capture them alive, whether they come for peace or war!”

19 Israel struck decisively.

20 Each man killed his opponent, and the Syrians fled. Ben-Hadad escaped on horseback.

21 Ahab went out, struck the horses and chariots, and inflicted a great slaughter.

The Prophetic Warning and Second Battle

(Verses 22–34)

22 The prophet said to Ahab:

“Strengthen yourself. Next spring, the king of Aram will attack again.”

23 Ben-Hadad’s advisers said,

“Their God is a God of the hills; that is why we lost. Fight them on the plain and we will win.”

24 They replaced the kings with captains and rebuilt their army.

26 The next spring, Ben-Hadad marched to Aphek.

27 Israel looked like two small flocks of goats, but the Arameans filled the land.

28 The man of God said:

“Because Aram says the Lord is only the God of the hills, He will deliver this great army to you. Then you will know I am the Lord.”

29 On the seventh day, battle began:

- Israel killed 100,000 soldiers in one day.
30 27,000 more died when a wall collapsed in Aphek.
- Ben-Hadad fled to an inner room.

31 His officials said,

“The kings of Israel are merciful. Put sackcloth on and ropes on our heads; ask for mercy.”

32 They did so, and Ahab called Ben-Hadad “my brother.”

33 Ben-Hadad offered to restore Israelite cities and give Ahab streets in Damascus.

- Ahab made a covenant with him and let him go.

The Prophet Condemns Ahab

(Verses 35–43)

35 A prophet, by God’s command, asked another man to strike him. He refused.

36 The prophet said,

“Because you disobeyed the Lord, a lion will kill you.”

- And a lion killed him.

37 Another man struck and wounded the prophet.

38 The prophet disguised himself with bandages and waited for the king.

39 He told a parable:

“I guarded a prisoner in battle. If he escaped, my life would pay for his, or I’d owe a talent of silver. I was busy, and he escaped.”

40 Ahab said, “You have judged yourself.”

41 The prophet removed the disguise, and Ahab recognized him.

42 He said,

“This is the Lord’s word: Because you let go a man I appointed for destruction, your life will pay for his life, and your people for his people.”

43 Ahab went to Samaria sullen and angry.

Naboth's Vineyard and God's Judgment on Ahab

Ahab Covets Naboth's Vineyard

(Verses 1–7)

1 After these events, Naboth the Jezreelite had a vineyard near the palace of Ahab king of Samaria.

2 Ahab said to Naboth,

“Give me your vineyard so I can make it a vegetable garden because it's near my house. I'll give you a better vineyard for it, or if you prefer, I'll pay you its value in silver.”

3 But Naboth replied,

“The Lord forbid that I give you my ancestral inheritance!”

4 Ahab went home angry and sullen because Naboth refused him. He lay on his bed, turned his face away, and refused to eat.

5 Jezebel his wife came and said,

“Why are you so upset that you won't eat?”

6 He told her,

“I asked Naboth for his vineyard, offering money or a trade, but he said, ‘I will not give you my vineyard.’”

7 Jezebel said,

“Aren’t you the king of Israel? Get up, eat, and be happy. I will get you Naboth’s vineyard.”

Jezebel’s Wicked Scheme

(Verses 8–16)

8 Jezebel wrote letters in Ahab’s name, sealed them with his seal, and sent them to the elders and nobles in Naboth’s city.

9 The letters said:

“Proclaim a fast and seat Naboth in a prominent place among the people.

10 Set two worthless men to accuse him of cursing God and the king. Then take him out and stone him to death.”

11 The elders and nobles followed Jezebel’s instructions.

12 They proclaimed a fast and gave Naboth the seat of honor.

13 Two scoundrels falsely accused him publicly, saying,

“Naboth has cursed God and the king!”

They took him outside the city and stoned him to death.

14 They sent word to Jezebel:

“Naboth is stoned and dead.”

15 When Jezebel heard, she told Ahab,

“Get up and take possession of Naboth’s vineyard. He’s dead.”

16 Ahab went to seize the vineyard.

Elijah Pronounces Judgment

(Verses 17–24)

17 Then the word of the Lord came to Elijah the Tishbite:

18

“Go down to meet Ahab in Naboth’s vineyard.

Tell him, ‘This is what the Lord says: Have you murdered and taken possession? In the place where dogs licked Naboth’s blood, dogs will lick your blood.’”

20 Ahab said to Elijah,

“So you have found me, my enemy!”

Elijah replied,

“I have found you, because you sold yourself to do what is evil in the Lord’s sight.

21 “The Lord says:

I will bring disaster on you.

I will wipe out your descendants, every male in Israel, slave or free.

22 I will make your house like Jeroboam and Baasha, because you have led Israel into sin.

23 Concerning Jezebel the Lord says:

‘Dogs will devour Jezebel by the wall of Jezreel.’

24 “Anyone who dies from Ahab’s line in the city, dogs will eat; anyone in the countryside, birds will eat.”

Ahab’s Repentance and God’s Mercy

(Verses 25–29)

25 There was no king as wicked as Ahab, who sold himself to do evil, urged on by his wife Jezebel.

26 He followed idols like the Amorites, whom the Lord drove out before Israel.

27 When Ahab heard this, he tore his clothes, wore sackcloth, fasted, and walked humbly.

28 The Lord said to Elijah:

29

“Do you see how Ahab has humbled himself?

Because of this, I will delay the disaster until the days of his son.”

The Last Days of Ahab and the Reign of Jehoshaphat

The Alliance at Ramoth-Gilead

(Verses 1–12)

1 For three years there was no war between Aram (Syria) and Israel.

2 In the third year, Jehoshaphat king of Judah visited Ahab king of Israel.

3 Ahab said to his servants,

“Do you know that Ramoth in Gilead belongs to us? Yet we are doing nothing to reclaim it from the king of Aram.”

4 He said to Jehoshaphat,

“Will you go with me to battle at Ramoth-gilead?”

Jehoshaphat replied,

“I am as you are, my people as your people, my horses as your horses.”

5 But Jehoshaphat said,

“First, let’s seek a word from the Lord.”

6 Ahab summoned 400 prophets and asked,

“Shall I go to war against Ramoth-gilead, or not?”

They all said,

“Go, for the Lord will give it to the king.”

7 But Jehoshaphat asked,

“Is there no prophet of the Lord here, that we may inquire of Him?”

8 Ahab said,

“There is one more—Micaiah son of Imlah. But I hate him because he never prophesies anything good about me, only bad.”

Jehoshaphat replied,

“The king should not say that.”

Micaiah’s Prophecy

(Verses 13–28)

13 The messenger who went to get Micaiah said,

“All the prophets are giving a favorable word. Please let yours agree with them.”

14 But Micaiah said,

“As surely as the Lord lives, I will only say what the Lord tells me.”

15 When he came, Ahab asked,

“Shall we go to Ramoth-gilead, or not?”

Micaiah answered sarcastically,

“Go and prosper! The Lord will give it to the king.”

16 Ahab said,

“How many times must I make you swear to tell me the truth in the name of the Lord?”

17 Then Micaiah said,

“I saw all Israel scattered on the hills like sheep without a shepherd. And the Lord said, ‘These have no master; let each one return home in peace.’”

18 Ahab said to Jehoshaphat,

“Did I not tell you he never prophesies anything good about me?”

19 Micaiah continued,

The Lord said, ‘Who will entice Ahab to go to Ramoth-gilead and fall there?’

A spirit said, ‘I will go and be a lying spirit in the mouths of all his prophets.’

The Lord said, ‘You shall succeed. Go and do it.’”

23 “So now the Lord has put a lying spirit in the mouths of all your prophets, for He has decreed disaster for you.”

24 Then Zedekiah son of Chenaanah struck Micaiah on the cheek and mocked him.

25 Micaiah replied,

“You will see the truth the day you run and hide in an inner room.”

26 Ahab said,

“Put Micaiah in prison, feed him bread and water of affliction until I return safely.”

28 Micaiah said,

“If you return safely, the Lord has not spoken through me. Hear this, all you people!”

The Death of Ahab

(Verses 29–40)

29 Ahab and Jehoshaphat went to battle at Ramoth-gilead.

30 Ahab said,

“I will disguise myself, but you wear your royal robes.”

31 The king of Aram ordered his chariot commanders,

“Fight no one except the king of Israel.”

32 They mistook Jehoshaphat for Ahab, but he cried out, and they realized their mistake.

34 Then a random arrow struck Ahab between the joints of his armor.

35 He stayed propped up in his chariot until evening and died as the sun set.

38 They washed his chariot at the pool of Samaria, and dogs licked up his blood, as the Lord had spoken.

40 Ahab died and was buried; his son Ahaziah became king.

Jehoshaphat and Ahaziah

(Verses 41–53)

- Jehoshaphat (age 35) ruled Judah 25 years, walked in the ways of Asa, but did not remove the high places.
 - He removed the last of the male shrine prostitutes from the land.
 - His fleet to Ophir for gold failed.
 - He died and was buried in Jerusalem; Jehoram his son reigned.
 - Ahaziah son of Ahab reigned in Israel 2 years.
 - He walked in the ways of Ahab and Jezebel, served Baal, and provoked the Lord to anger, continuing the sins of Jeroboam.

Introduction to the Book of 2 Kings

The Decline and Fall of God's People

Title and Authorship

The book is named after the two divided kingdoms of Israel and Judah, which serve as its primary focus. It is a continuation of 1 Kings, detailing the reigns of the kings of both nations from the mid-ninth century B.C. to the fall of Jerusalem in 586 B.C.

While the authorship is unknown, Jewish tradition attributes it to the prophet Jeremiah. It is most likely that an unknown editor or historian compiled the book, drawing from royal court records, prophetic narratives, and other historical sources. The final redaction was likely completed during or shortly after the Babylonian exile.

Historical Setting

Second Kings picks up the historical narrative where 1 Kings concludes. It spans a period of approximately 270 years, from the death of King Ahaziah of Israel (circa 853 B.C.) to the destruction of Jerusalem and the beginning of the Babylonian exile (586 B.C.). The book chronicles the ministries of the great prophets Elijah and Elisha, the fall of the northern kingdom of Israel to Assyria in 722 B.C., and the eventual downfall of the southern kingdom of Judah to Babylon.

Purpose and Themes

The primary purpose of 2 Kings is to provide a theological explanation for the destruction and exile of both Israel and Judah. The author argues that God's judgment was a direct consequence of the nations' persistent idolatry and covenant unfaithfulness. The book is not merely a historical record but a prophetic indictment against a people who abandoned their God.

Key Themes:

- The Consequences of Disobedience and Idolatry
- God's Sovereignty over His People and the Nations
- The Power and Authority of God's Prophets (Elijah and Elisha)
- The Importance of Faithful Leadership (Hezekiah and Josiah)
- God's Justice in Judgment and His Mercy in Giving Hope
- The Failure of Human Kings and the Need for a Perfect King

Structure of the Book

- Chapters 1–17: The Kingdoms of Israel and Judah to the Fall of Israel
 - The ascension of Elisha
 - Miracles and prophetic words
 - A series of unfaithful kings in Israel
 - The fall of Samaria and the exile of Israel
- Chapters 18–25: The Kingdom of Judah Alone to the Fall of Judah
 - The reforming kings Hezekiah and Josiah
 - The Assyrian threat and Judah’s deliverance
 - The rise of Babylon
 - The final, wicked kings of Judah
 - The destruction of Jerusalem and the exile

Spiritual Lessons

- Faithfulness to God and His covenant is paramount for both leaders and the people.
- God holds His people accountable for their sins, and judgment is the inevitable outcome of continued disobedience.
- Even in the darkest moments of a nation's decline, God provides a witness and a prophetic voice.
- True revival is possible, but it requires heartfelt repentance and a return to God's law.
- The book demonstrates the ultimate failure of human kings and the necessity of a divine King.

Jesus in 2 Kings

The constant failure of the kings of Israel and Judah, as documented in this book, highlights humanity’s need for a perfect, sinless King—Jesus Christ. The powerful miracles of Elijah and Elisha (healing the sick, raising the dead, providing for the poor) serve as foreshadows of Jesus's own ministry and divine power. The book’s focus on judgment and exile ultimately points to the need for a final, heavenly kingdom that will not be destroyed.

Key Verse

“The Lord had warned Israel and Judah through all his prophets and seers, ‘Turn from your evil ways. Observe my commands and decrees, in accordance with the entire Law that I commanded your ancestors to obey and that I delivered to you through my servants the prophets.’”

—2 Kings 17:13

Ahaziah Seeks Baalzebub and Elijah Calls Down Fire

Ahaziah's Injury and Sin

(Verses 1–4)

1 After King Ahab died, Moab rebelled against Israel.

2 Ahaziah, Ahab's son, fell through the lattice of his upper room in Samaria and was badly injured. He sent messengers and said,

“Go, ask Baalzebub, the god of Ekron, if I will recover from this injury.”

3 But the angel of the Lord said to Elijah the Tishbite:

“Go meet the messengers and ask them,

‘Is it because there is no God in Israel that you are going to consult Baalzebub, the god of Ekron?’

4 “Tell the king:

‘You will never leave the bed you are lying on; you will surely die.’”

Elijah then departed.

Elijah Identified

(Verses 5–8)

5 When the messengers returned, the king asked,

“Why have you come back so quickly?”

6 They replied,

“A man met us and said, ‘Return to the king and tell him, This is what the Lord says: Is it because there is no God in Israel that you consult Baalzebub? You will not get up from your bed; you will surely die.’”

7 The king asked,

“What did he look like?”

8 They answered,

“He was a hairy man with a leather belt around his waist.”

The king said,

“That is Elijah the Tishbite.”

Fire from Heaven

(Verses 9–15)

9 Ahaziah sent a captain with 50 soldiers to arrest Elijah. They found him sitting on top of a hill. The captain said,

“Man of God, the king says, Come down!”

10 Elijah replied,

“If I am a man of God, may fire come down from heaven and consume you and your fifty men!”
Fire fell from heaven and killed them all.

11 The king sent another captain with 50 men, who said,

“Man of God, the king says, Come down quickly!”

12 Elijah replied,

“If I am a man of God, let fire come down from heaven and consume you and your fifty men!”
Again, fire of God fell and consumed them all.

13 A third captain with 50 went, but this one knelt before Elijah and pleaded,

“Man of God, I beg you, spare my life and the lives of these fifty servants.

14 “Fire fell from heaven and killed the previous two captains and their men. Please, let us live.”

15 The angel of the Lord said to Elijah,

“Go down with him; don’t be afraid.”
So Elijah went with him to the king.

Elijah’s Prophecy Fulfilled

(Verses 16–18)

16 Elijah told the king,

“This is what the Lord says:
‘You sent messengers to consult Baalzebub, the god of Ekron. Is it because there is no God in Israel to consult His word?
You will not leave your bed; you will surely die.’”

17 Ahaziah died, just as the Lord said through Elijah.
His brother Jehoram became king because Ahaziah had no son.

18 The rest of Ahaziah's deeds are recorded in the chronicles of the kings of Israel.

2. God defends His honor

→ The fire from heaven proved God's supremacy and defended His prophet.

→ Hebrews 12:29

Elijah's Departure and Elisha's Double Portion

Elijah Prepares Elisha for His Departure

(Verses 1–6)

1 When the time came for the Lord to take Elijah into heaven in a whirlwind, Elijah and Elisha left Gilgal together.

2 Elijah said, "Stay here, Elisha, because the Lord has sent me to Bethel."

But Elisha replied, "As surely as the Lord lives and as you live, I will not leave you." So they went to Bethel.

3 At Bethel, a group of prophets came to Elisha and said, "Do you know the Lord will take your master away from you today?"

He replied, "Yes, I know. Be quiet."

4 Then Elijah said, "Stay here, Elisha, for the Lord has sent me to Jericho."

Elisha said again, "As surely as the Lord lives and as you live, I will not leave you." So they went to Jericho.

5 The prophets in Jericho came to Elisha and said the same thing. He answered, "Yes, I know. Be quiet."

6 Elijah said once more, “Stay here, Elisha, for the Lord has sent me to the Jordan River.”
But Elisha replied, “I will not leave you.” And they continued on together.

The Final Journey and the Fiery Chariot

(Verses 7–12)

7 Fifty prophets followed at a distance as Elijah and Elisha stood by the Jordan River.

8 Elijah took off his mantle (cloak), rolled it up, struck the water, and the river parted so both men walked across on dry ground.

9 After they crossed, Elijah said, “Tell me what I can do for you before I’m taken away.”

Elisha answered, “Please, let me receive a double portion of your spirit.”

10 Elijah said, “You’ve asked a difficult thing. If you see me when I’m taken, it will be yours. If not, it won’t be.”

11 As they walked and talked, a chariot of fire with horses of fire suddenly appeared and separated them, and Elijah was taken up to heaven in a whirlwind.

12 Elisha saw it and cried out,

“My father, my father! The chariots and horsemen of Israel!”
Then he tore his clothes in sorrow.

Elisha’s Ministry Begins

(Verses 13–18)

13 Elisha picked up Elijah’s mantle that had fallen and returned to the Jordan.

14 He struck the water with it and said,

“Where is the Lord, the God of Elijah?”
The waters parted, and Elisha crossed over.

15 The prophets who had been watching said, “The spirit of Elijah now rests on Elisha.” They came and bowed before him.

16 They said, “Let us send 50 strong men to search for Elijah. Maybe the Spirit of the Lord dropped him on a mountain or valley.”

Elisha said, “Don’t send them.”

17 But they insisted until he was embarrassed. So he said, “Fine, send them.”

They searched for three days and found nothing.

18 When they returned, Elisha said, “Didn’t I tell you not to go?”

Elisha Heals the Water

(Verses 19–22)

19 The people of the city said to Elisha, “This town is nice, but the water is bad and the land is unproductive.”

20 Elisha said, “Bring me a new bowl with salt in it.” They brought it to him.

21 He went to the spring and threw in the salt, saying,

“This is what the Lord says: ‘I have healed this water. It will no longer cause death or unfruitfulness.’”

22 And the waters have remained pure to this day, just as Elisha said.

Mocking Elisha Brings Judgment

(Verses 23–25)

23 As Elisha was going up to Bethel, some young boys came out of the city and mocked him, shouting,

“Go up, you baldhead! Go up, you baldhead!”

24 Elisha turned around, looked at them, and cursed them in the name of the Lord. Then two bears came out of the woods and mauled 42 of the boys.

25 From there, Elisha went to Mount Carmel, and then returned to Samaria.

Key Lessons from 2 Kings 2

1. God chooses successors and passes on His Spirit

→ Elisha received Elijah’s mantle and his prophetic calling.

→ 1 Kings 19:16; Acts 1:8

2. Persistence in following God brings reward

→ Elisha refused to leave Elijah’s side and received a double portion.

→ Luke 9:62; Hebrews 10:36

3. God still performs miracles through His servants

→ The Jordan River parted again, and the bitter waters were healed.

→ Mark 16:17–18

4. Mocking God’s servant is a serious offense

→ Disrespect toward Elisha was judged severely by the Lord.

→ Galatians 6:7; 2 Chronicles 36:16

2 Kings Chapter 3 — Crawford Standard Bible

Victory Over Moab by God's Power

Jehoram Reigns Over Israel

(Verses 1–3)

1 Jehoram, son of Ahab, became king of Israel in Samaria during the eighteenth year of King Jehoshaphat of Judah. He ruled for twelve years.

2 He did evil in the Lord's sight, but not as bad as his father and mother. He got rid of the Baal idol his father had made.

3 Still, he followed the sins of Jeroboam, who led Israel into idolatry, and he never turned away from them.

Moab Rebels After Ahab's Death

(Verses 4–8)

4 Mesha, the king of Moab, raised sheep and had paid tribute to Israel with 100,000 lambs and 100,000 rams' wool every year.

5 But after Ahab died, Moab rebelled against Israel.

6 So King Jehoram left Samaria and gathered all Israel's army.

7 He sent a message to King Jehoshaphat of Judah:

“The king of Moab has rebelled. Will you go to war with me against him?”

Jehoshaphat replied,

“Yes, I'm with you. My people and horses are like yours.”

8 Jehoram asked, “Which way should we go?”

Jehoshaphat said, “Through the wilderness of Edom.”

A Desperate March and a Prophetic Word

(Verses 9–20)

9 So the kings of Israel, Judah, and Edom marched for seven days, but there was no water for the army or the animals.

10 The king of Israel cried out,

“Has the Lord brought us here just to hand us over to Moab?”

11 But Jehoshaphat said,

“Isn't there a prophet of the Lord we can ask?”

One of Jehoram's servants said,

“Elisha, the son of Shaphat, is here. He used to serve Elijah.”

12 Jehoshaphat said,

“The word of the Lord is with him.”
So all three kings went to see Elisha.

13 Elisha said to the king of Israel,

“Why come to me? Go ask your parents’ false prophets.”

Jehoram replied,

“No, the Lord brought us here to defeat us.”

14 Elisha said,

“If it weren’t for King Jehoshaphat, I wouldn’t even look at you.

15 Now bring me a musician.”

As the musician played, the Lord’s hand came upon Elisha, and he said:

16 “This is what the Lord says:

‘Dig ditches all over this valley.

17 You won’t see wind or rain, but this valley will be filled with water—enough for you, your animals, and your army.’

18 This is an easy thing for the Lord. He will also hand Moab over to you.

19 Destroy every fortified city, cut down good trees, block up springs, and ruin every good field with stones.”

20 The next morning, during the offering of the morning sacrifice, water flowed in from Edom—filling the land.

God Delivers Moab Into Their Hands

(Verses 21–25)

21 When the Moabites heard the kings were coming to fight them, every man who could carry a weapon gathered at the border.

22 The next morning, the sun shone on the water, making it look red like blood.

23 They said,

“That’s blood! The kings must have fought and killed each other. Let’s go plunder them!”

24 But when they entered the Israelite camp, Israel attacked and defeated them.

25 They destroyed the cities, threw stones into every good field, blocked up the springs, and cut down trees—just as Elisha said. Only Kir Hareseth remained, and even it was attacked by slingers.

A Shocking Sacrifice and Israel’s Withdrawal

(Verses 26–27)

26 When the king of Moab saw he was losing, he tried to break through to the king of Edom with 700 swordsmen, but failed.

27 Then, in desperation, he took his oldest son, who was to be king after him, and sacrificed him as a burnt offering on the city wall.

This act stirred great anger against Israel, so the Israelite army withdrew and returned home.

2 Kings Chapter 4 — Crawford Standard Bible

Miracles of Elisha: Provision, Resurrection, Healing, and Multiplication

A Widow's Oil Multiplied

(Verses 1–7)

1 One day, the widow of a man from the group of prophets came to Elisha and cried out,

“My husband is dead, and you know he feared the Lord. Now a creditor is coming to take my two sons as slaves!”

2 Elisha asked her,

“What can I do to help you? Tell me—what do you have in your house?”

She replied,

“Nothing at all, except a small jar of olive oil.”

3 Elisha said,

“Go around and borrow empty jars from all your neighbors. Don't just get a few—get as many as you can.

4 Then go into your house with your sons and shut the door. Pour oil from your jar into the other jars, setting each full one aside.”

5 So she obeyed, shut the door behind her and her sons, and began pouring. Her sons brought the jars, and she filled them.

6 When every jar was full, she said,
“Bring me another.”

But they replied,

“There are no more.”

Then the oil stopped flowing.

7 She went and told Elisha what happened. He said,

“Now sell the oil, pay your debt, and you and your sons can live on what’s left.”

A Room for the Prophet

(Verses 8–17)

8 One day Elisha traveled to the town of Shunem. A wealthy woman urged him to stop for a meal, and from then on, he stopped by whenever he was in the area.

9 She said to her husband,

“I know this man who stops here is a holy man of God.

10 Let’s build a small room on the roof for him and furnish it with a bed, a table, a chair, and a lamp.”

11 One day when Elisha came by, he went up to the room to rest.

12 He told his servant Gehazi,

“Call the Shunammite woman.”

13 Elisha said,

“You’ve gone to all this trouble for us. What can we do for you? Can we speak to the king or the commander on your behalf?”

She answered,

“I’m fine. I live among my own people.”

14 Later, Elisha asked Gehazi,

“What can we do for her?”

Gehazi replied,

“She has no son, and her husband is old.”

15 Elisha said, “Call her.” When she stood in the doorway,

16 Elisha said,

“By this time next year, you’ll hold a son in your arms.”

She cried out,

“Please, man of God, don’t get my hopes up!”

17 But she did become pregnant and had a son, just as Elisha had said.

The Shunammite’s Son Dies and Lives Again

(Verses 18–37)

18 When the child grew older, he went out to the fields one day.

19 Suddenly he cried to his father,

“My head! My head!”

His father told a servant to carry him to his mother.

20 The boy sat on her lap until noon—and then he died.

21 She carried him up to Elisha’s room, laid him on the bed, shut the door, and left.

22 She told her husband,

“Send me a servant and a donkey. I need to go to the man of God.”

23 He said,

“Why go today? It’s not a special occasion.”

She replied,

“It will be all right.”

24 She rode quickly to Mount Carmel where Elisha was.

25 When Elisha saw her coming, he told Gehazi,

“Look, it’s the Shunammite woman.

26 Run to her and ask if everything is okay with her, her husband, and her son.”

She replied,

“Everything is fine.”

27 But when she reached Elisha, she grabbed his feet. Gehazi tried to push her away, but

Elisha said,

“Leave her alone. She’s deeply troubled, and the Lord hasn’t shown me why.”

28 She cried,

“Did I ask you for a son? Didn’t I say, ‘Don’t get my hopes up’?”

29 Elisha said to Gehazi,

“Take my staff and go! Don’t stop to talk. Lay the staff on the boy’s face.”

30 But the boy’s mother said,

“I swear by the Lord, I won’t leave you!”

So Elisha went with her.

31 Gehazi arrived first and laid the staff on the boy, but there was no sign of life.

32 When Elisha got there, he saw the child lying dead on the bed.

33 He went in, shut the door, and prayed to the Lord.

34 Then he lay on the child—mouth to mouth, eyes to eyes, hands to hands. The child’s body grew warm.

35 Elisha got up, walked around, and then repeated the act. Suddenly, the boy sneezed seven times and opened his eyes.

36 Elisha called the mother and said,

“Take your son.”

37 She fell at his feet in gratitude, then picked up her child and left.

Death in the Pot Healed

(Verses 38–41)

38 Later, Elisha returned to Gilgal during a famine. He told his servant,

“Put on the large pot and cook stew for the prophets.”

39 One of them went out to gather herbs and unknowingly picked wild gourds, which were poisonous.

40 When the stew was served, they cried out,

“Man of God, there’s death in the pot!”

41 Elisha said,
“Bring me some flour.” He threw it into the pot and said,
“Now serve it.”
And the stew was safe to eat.

Bread Multiplied for a Hundred Men

(Verses 42–44)

42 A man came from Baal-shalishah, bringing Elisha 20 loaves of barley bread and fresh grain.
Elisha said,

“Give it to the people so they can eat.”

43 But his servant said,

“How can I feed a hundred men with this?”

Elisha repeated,

“Give it to them. The Lord says: ‘They will eat and have some left over.’”

44 So he served them, and they all ate and had leftovers, just as the Lord said.

2 Kings Chapter 5 — Crawford Standard Bible

Naaman’s Healing and Gehazi’s Greed

Naaman the Leper Seeks Healing

(Verses 1–8)

1 Naaman was the commander of the Syrian army. He was highly respected by his king, for the Lord had given Syria victories through him. He was a mighty warrior—but he had leprosy.

2 During one of their raids, the Syrians had captured a young girl from Israel, and she became a servant to Naaman’s wife.

3 One day, the girl said,

“If only my master were with the prophet in Samaria! He could heal him of his leprosy.”

4 Naaman told the king what the girl had said.

5 The king of Syria replied,

“Go! I’ll send a letter to the king of Israel.”

So Naaman left, taking 750 pounds of silver, 150 pounds of gold, and 10 sets of clothes.

6 The letter said,

“I have sent my servant Naaman to you, so you can heal him of his leprosy.”

7 When the king of Israel read the letter, he tore his clothes and said,

“Am I God, with power over life and death? Why is this man asking me to heal leprosy? He’s looking for a reason to start a fight!”

8 But when Elisha the prophet heard what happened, he sent word to the king:

“Why have you torn your clothes? Send the man to me, and he will know there is a prophet in Israel.”

Naaman’s Pride, Anger, and Healing

(Verses 9–14)

9 So Naaman came with his horses and chariot and stood at Elisha’s door.

10 But Elisha didn’t come out—instead, he sent a messenger:

“Go wash yourself seven times in the Jordan River, and your skin will be restored, and you’ll be clean.”

11 Naaman was furious. He said,

“I expected him to come out and wave his hand over the leprosy and call on the name of his God to heal me!

12 Aren’t the rivers of Damascus—the Abana and Pharpar—better than any river in Israel? Why can’t I wash in them and be clean?”

He stormed off in anger.

13 But his servants said,

“If the prophet had asked you to do something difficult, wouldn’t you have done it? So why not do something simple—just wash and be clean?”

14 So Naaman went down to the Jordan River and dipped himself seven times, just as the man of God had instructed. And his skin was restored like that of a young child—he was completely healed.

Naaman Acknowledges the One True God

(Verses 15–19)

15 Naaman and his entire entourage went back to Elisha. He stood before him and said,

“Now I know there’s no God in all the world except in Israel! Please accept a gift from me.”

16 But Elisha replied,

“As surely as the Lord lives, whom I serve, I will not accept anything.”

Naaman urged him, but he refused.

17 Then Naaman said,

“Please allow me to take home two mule-loads of earth, because I will never again offer sacrifices or burnt offerings to any god except the Lord.

18 But may the Lord forgive me in this one thing—when my master leans on my arm to bow in the temple of Rimmon, I must bow too. May the Lord pardon your servant in this.”

19 Elisha told him,

“Go in peace.”

So Naaman left.

Gehazi’s Greed and Punishment

(Verses 20–27)

20 Gehazi, the servant of Elisha, thought,

“My master let that Syrian off too easily by not accepting the gift he brought. As surely as the Lord lives, I’ll run after him and get something from him.”

21 So Gehazi ran after Naaman. When Naaman saw him, he got down from his chariot and asked,

“Is everything all right?”

22 Gehazi lied and said,

“Yes. My master sent me to say that two young prophets just arrived from the hill country of Ephraim. He asks for a talent of silver and two sets of clothing for them.”

23 Naaman replied,

“Take two talents!”

He insisted and gave him two bags of silver, each with a talent inside, along with two sets of clothes. Two of Naaman’s servants carried them for Gehazi.

24 When they reached the hill, Gehazi took the items and hid them in his house, then sent the men away.

25 When he went in to see Elisha, the prophet asked,

“Where have you been, Gehazi?”

He replied,

“I haven’t been anywhere.”

26 But Elisha said,

“Didn’t my spirit go with you when Naaman stepped down from his chariot to meet you? Is this the time to take money and clothes, olive groves and vineyards, sheep and oxen, male and female servants?

27 Because of what you’ve done, Naaman’s leprosy will cling to you and your descendants forever.”

And Gehazi left Elisha’s presence covered in leprosy, white as snow.

Key Lessons from 2 Kings 5

1. God uses unlikely messengers

→ A nameless Israelite servant girl was the key to Naaman’s healing.

→ 1 Corinthians 1:27; 2 Kings 5:2–3

2. Pride can block your miracle

→ Naaman almost missed his healing because the instructions offended his pride.

→ James 4:6; Proverbs 16:18

3. God’s ways are simple, but powerful

→ Just washing in the Jordan seemed too easy—but it brought complete healing.

→ Isaiah 55:8–9; John 9:7

4. Gratitude leads to worship

→ Naaman became a true worshiper of the Lord after being healed.

→ Luke 17:15–16; Psalm 116:12–13

5. Greed corrupts and brings judgment

→ Gehazi’s lie and covetousness led to a lifelong curse.

→ 1 Timothy 6:10; Acts 5:1–11

2 Kings Chapter 6 — Crawford Standard Bible

The Floating Axe Head (Verses 1–7)

1 The sons of the prophets said to Elisha, “Look, the place where we’re staying with you is too small.

2 Let’s go to the Jordan River and each cut a beam of wood so we can build a bigger house to live in.”

Elisha said, “Go ahead.”

3 One of them asked, “Please come with your servants.” And Elisha replied, “I will go.”

4 So he went with them. When they got to the Jordan, they started cutting down trees.

5 But as one man was chopping, the iron axe head flew off and fell into the water. He cried out, “Oh no, master! It was borrowed!”

6 Elisha asked, “Where did it fall?” The man showed him the spot. So Elisha cut a stick, threw it into the water, and the iron axe head floated.

7 Elisha said, “Pick it up.” And the man reached out and took it.

Elisha Foils the Syrian Army (Verses 8–23)

8 The king of Syria was making war plans against Israel. He told his officers, “We’ll camp at this spot.”

9 But Elisha sent word to the king of Israel: “Watch out. Don’t go near that place, because the Syrians are waiting there.”

10 So the king of Israel sent men to check it out. Time and again, Elisha warned the king, and he avoided those areas.

11 The Syrian king was furious and asked, “Which one of you is betraying me to the king of Israel?”

12 One servant replied, “None of us, my lord. It’s Elisha the prophet in Israel. He tells the king of Israel everything—even what you say in your bedroom!”

13 The king ordered, “Go find out where he is so I can capture him.” Someone told him, “Elisha is in Dothan.”

14 So he sent horses, chariots, and a large army by night. They surrounded the city.

15 The next morning, Elisha’s servant got up and saw the army. He said, “Oh no, master! What will we do?”

16 Elisha answered, “Don’t be afraid. Those who are with us are more than those with them.”

17 Then Elisha prayed, “Lord, open his eyes so he can see.” The Lord opened the servant’s eyes, and he saw the hills full of horses and chariots of fire all around Elisha.

18 As the army came toward Elisha, he prayed, “Lord, strike them with blindness.” And the Lord did.

19 Elisha said, “This isn’t the right road or city. Follow me, and I’ll take you to the man you’re looking for.” But he led them to Samaria.

20 When they arrived, Elisha prayed, “Lord, open their eyes.” And the Lord did—they were inside Samaria!

21 The king of Israel saw them and asked Elisha, “Should I kill them, my father? Should I kill them?”

22 Elisha said, “No! Would you kill prisoners of war? Give them food and water so they can return to their master.”

23 So the king prepared a big feast. After they ate and drank, he sent them home. After that, the Syrian raiders stopped attacking Israel.

The Siege of Samaria (Verses 24–33)

24 Sometime later, Ben-Hadad king of Syria gathered his army and laid siege to Samaria.

25 The famine got so bad that a donkey’s head sold for 80 silver coins, and a small portion of dove droppings sold for five.

26 One day, the king of Israel was walking on the city wall when a woman cried, “Help me, my king!”

27 He replied, “If the Lord doesn’t help you, how can I? Do I have grain or wine?”

28 Then he asked, “What’s wrong?” She answered, “This woman said, ‘Give up your son so we can eat him today. Tomorrow we’ll eat mine.’”

29 So we boiled my son and ate him. The next day, I said, ‘Now give up your son,’ but she hid him!”

30 When the king heard this, he tore his clothes in grief. The people saw he was wearing sackcloth underneath.

31 He declared, “May God punish me if Elisha still has his head by the end of the day!”

32 Meanwhile, Elisha was sitting in his house with the elders. The king sent a messenger ahead. Before he arrived, Elisha said, “That murderer’s son has sent someone to kill me. When he comes, hold the door shut. His master is right behind him.”

33 While Elisha was still speaking, the messenger arrived and said, “This disaster is from the Lord. Why should I wait on God any longer?”

Key Lessons from 2 Kings Chapter 6

1. God Cares About Your Needs – Even a lost axe head mattered to Elisha and to God. He sees the small and the large problems in our lives.
2. Spiritual Eyes See Victory – Elisha’s servant saw enemies; Elisha saw God’s army. Ask God to open your eyes to the spiritual reality.
3. Kindness Over Revenge – Elisha didn’t destroy his enemies when he could have. He showed mercy—just like God shows mercy to us.
4. Fear Breeds Rash Decisions – In the famine, desperation led to horrifying choices. Turning from God during crisis always makes things worse.
5. Don’t Blame God’s Messengers – The king blamed Elisha for the siege, but the problem was the people’s disobedience. True prophets speak truth, not popular opinion.

2 Kings Chapter 7 — Crawford Standard Bible

A Prophetic Promise of Deliverance (Verses 1–2)

1 Elisha said, “Listen to the word of the Lord. This is what the Lord says: By this time tomorrow, at the gate of Samaria, a measure of fine flour will sell for one shekel, and two measures of barley for a shekel.”

2 One of the king’s officers, on whom the king leaned, responded to the man of God, “Even if the Lord opened the windows of heaven, could this really happen?” Elisha replied, “You will see it with your own eyes, but you won’t eat any of it.”

Four Lepers Discover a Miracle (Verses 3–8)

3 Meanwhile, four men with leprosy were sitting at the entrance of the city gate. They said to each other, “Why should we stay here until we die?”

4 If we go into the city, there’s famine and we’ll die. If we stay here, we’ll die. So let’s go to the camp of the Syrians. If they spare us, we live. If they kill us, we die.”

5 At twilight, they set out for the Syrian camp. But when they reached the edge of it, no one was there.

6 For the Lord had caused the Syrians to hear the sound of chariots, horses, and a great army. They thought Israel had hired the Hittite and Egyptian kings to attack them.

7 So they ran away in the twilight, abandoning their tents, horses, donkeys—everything. They fled for their lives.

8 When the lepers reached the edge of the camp, they entered a tent, ate and drank, and carried away silver, gold, and clothes, and hid them. Then they went into another tent, took more things, and hid them too.

Good News Shared and Verified (Verses 9–15)

9 Then they said to each other, “We’re not doing the right thing. This is a day of good news, and we’re keeping it to ourselves. If we wait until morning, punishment will come. Let’s go and tell the palace.”
10 So they went and called to the gatekeepers of the city, “We went to the Syrian camp, and no one was there—not a sound! The horses and donkeys are still tied up, and the tents are left just as they were.”
11 The gatekeepers shouted the news, and it was reported to the palace.
12 The king got up in the night and said to his officials, “I know what the Syrians are doing. They know we’re starving, so they left the camp to ambush us when we come out.”
13 One of his servants suggested, “Let’s send out some men with five of the remaining horses. We’ve got nothing to lose—they’re going to die anyway. Let’s send them to see what’s happened.”
14 So they took two chariots with horses, and the king sent them after the Syrian army to investigate.
15 They followed the trail all the way to the Jordan River. The road was littered with clothes and equipment the Syrians had thrown away in their panic. The messengers returned and reported all of this to the king.

Prophecy Fulfilled and Doubt Punished (Verses 16–20)

16 Then the people rushed out of the city and looted the Syrian camp. So a measure of fine flour sold for a shekel, and two measures of barley for a shekel—just as the Lord had promised.
17 Now the king had put the same officer—who had doubted Elisha—in charge of the city gate. But when the people stormed out, they trampled him to death, just as Elisha had said.
18 Everything happened exactly as Elisha had told the king: “Tomorrow at this time at the gate of Samaria, two measures of barley will sell for a shekel, and a measure of fine flour for a shekel.”
19 The officer had said, “Even if the Lord opened the windows of heaven, could this happen?” Elisha replied, “You’ll see it with your own eyes, but you won’t eat any of it.”
20 And that’s exactly what happened—he was trampled at the gate and died.

Key Lessons from 2 Kings Chapter 7

1. God’s Word Always Comes True — What Elisha prophesied seemed impossible, but it happened exactly as God said. Never underestimate the power of His promise.
2. Faith Brings Life; Doubt Brings Death — The officer mocked God's word and died without tasting the blessing. Those who trust in God experience His provision.
3. Desperation Can Lead to Discovery — The lepers were outcasts, yet God used them to deliver the message of salvation. Sometimes, God works through the least expected people.

4. Blessings Aren't Meant to Be Hoarded — The lepers said, “We do not well” when they kept the good news to themselves. When God blesses us, we are called to share it.
5. God Can Turn the Tide Instantly — In just one night, a starving city was flooded with food. God can reverse any situation when He moves.

2 Kings Chapter 8 — Crawford Standard Bible

A Mother's Land Restored (Verses 1–6)

1 Elisha said to the woman whose son he had brought back to life, “Get up and leave with your family. Go live wherever you can, for the Lord has called for a famine, and it will last seven years.”

2 So the woman did what the man of God said. She left with her family and lived in the land of the Philistines for seven years.

3 After the seven years, she returned from Philistia and went to appeal to the king for her house and land.

4 Now the king had been talking with Gehazi, Elisha's servant, and asked, “Tell me about the great things Elisha has done.”

5 As Gehazi was telling the king how Elisha had raised a boy from the dead, the woman whose son was restored to life came in to appeal for her property. Gehazi said, “My lord the king, this is the woman! And this is her son, the one Elisha brought back to life!”

6 The king questioned her, and she confirmed the story. So he appointed an official to help her, saying, “Give her everything that belonged to her and all the income from her land since the day she left the country until now.”

Elisha Foretells Hazael's Rise and Violence (Verses 7–15)

7 Elisha traveled to Damascus. Ben-Hadad, king of Syria, was sick, and when he heard that Elisha was in town,

8 he told Hazael, “Take a gift and go meet the man of God. Ask him, ‘Will I recover from this illness?’”

9 So Hazael went to Elisha, taking with him forty camels loaded with gifts. He stood before Elisha and said, “Your son Ben-Hadad, king of Syria, has sent me to ask, ‘Will I recover?’”

10 Elisha replied, “Tell him, ‘Yes, you will recover.’ But the Lord has shown me that he will certainly die.”

11 Elisha stared at Hazael until he felt awkward, then Elisha began to weep.

12 Hazael asked, “Why are you crying, my lord?” Elisha answered, “Because I know the evil you will do to Israel—you will set their fortresses on fire, kill their young men with the sword, dash their little ones to the ground, and rip open pregnant women.”

13 Hazael said, “How could your servant, just a dog, do such horrible things?” Elisha answered, “The Lord has shown me that you will become king of Syria.”

14 When Hazael returned to Ben-Hadad, the king asked, “What did Elisha say?” Hazael replied, “He told me you would recover.”

15 But the next day, Hazael took a thick cloth, soaked it in water, and smothered the king to death. Then Hazael became king in his place.

Jehoram and Ahaziah Reign in Judah (Verses 16–29)

16 In the fifth year of Joram son of Ahab, king of Israel—while Jehoshaphat was still king of Judah—Jehoram son of Jehoshaphat became king of Judah.

17 He was 32 years old when he began to reign, and he ruled eight years in Jerusalem.

18 He followed the ways of the kings of Israel, just as Ahab’s family did, because he had married Ahab’s daughter. He did evil in the Lord’s sight.

19 But the Lord didn’t destroy Judah, because of His promise to David to maintain a lamp for him and his descendants forever.

20 During Jehoram’s reign, Edom rebelled against Judah and appointed their own king.

21 So Jehoram went with his chariots to Zair. At night, he attacked the Edomites who had surrounded him and his commanders. The Edomite army fled, 22 but Edom remained in rebellion against Judah to this day. Around that same time, Libnah also revolted.

23 The rest of Jehoram’s deeds are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah.

24 Jehoram died and was buried with his ancestors in the city of David. His son Ahaziah became king in his place.

25 In the twelfth year of Joram son of Ahab, king of Israel, Ahaziah son of Jehoram became king of Judah.

26 Ahaziah was 22 years old when he became king, and he ruled in Jerusalem for one year. His mother’s name was Athaliah, granddaughter of Omri, king of Israel.

27 He followed the ways of Ahab’s family and did evil in the Lord’s sight, for he was related by marriage to Ahab’s household.

28 He went with Joram son of Ahab to fight against Hazael, king of Syria, at Ramoth-Gilead. But Joram was wounded in battle.

29 So King Joram returned to Jezreel to recover from his wounds, and King Ahaziah of Judah went down to see him.

Key Lessons from 2 Kings Chapter 8

1. God’s Warnings Are Meant to Protect – Elisha warned the woman about the famine, and because she obeyed, she was preserved and later restored.
2. God Restores What Was Lost – Not only did the woman get her land back, but she also received all the income it produced in her absence.
3. God Knows the Heart and Future of Leaders – Elisha saw that Hazael would bring great destruction. God’s prophets are given insight not only into what is but into what will be.

4. Spiritual Compromise Leads to National Decline – Judah’s kings, by aligning with Ahab’s family, led their people away from God, even though God remained faithful to His promise to David.
5. Even Evil Men Can Be Instruments of God’s Judgment – Though Hazael was cruel, God allowed him to rise as part of divine justice.

2 Kings Chapter 9 — Crawford Standard Bible

Jehu Is Secretly Anointed King (Verses 1–10)

- 1 Then Elisha the prophet called one of the young prophets and said, “Get ready, take this flask of oil, and go to Ramoth-gilead.
 - 2 When you arrive, find Jehu son of Jehoshaphat, son of Nimshi. Take him aside from his fellow officers and bring him into a private room.
 - 3 Then pour the oil on his head and say, ‘This is what the Lord says: I anoint you king over Israel.’ Then open the door and run—don’t wait around.”
 - 4 So the young prophet went to Ramoth-gilead.
 - 5 When he arrived, the army commanders were sitting together. He said, “Captain, I have a message for you.” Jehu asked, “For which one of us?” The young man replied, “For you, Captain.”
 - 6 Jehu got up and went into the house. The prophet poured the oil on his head and said, “This is what the Lord, the God of Israel, says: I anoint you king over the people of the Lord, over Israel.
 - 7 You are to strike down the house of your master Ahab. I will avenge the blood of my servants the prophets and of all the Lord’s servants shed by Jezebel.
 - 8 The whole family of Ahab will perish. Every last male—slave or free—will be cut off from Israel.
 - 9 I will make Ahab’s house like the house of Jeroboam son of Nebat and like the house of Baasha son of Ahijah.
 - 10 Dogs will eat Jezebel in Jezreel, and no one will bury her.” Then the prophet opened the door and fled.

Jehu Declared King (Verses 11–13)

- 11 Jehu returned to his officers, and one of them asked, “Is everything all right? What did that crazy man want with you?” Jehu replied, “You know how they talk.”
 - 12 “You’re lying,” they said. “Tell us what he said!” So Jehu told them, “He said, ‘This is what the Lord says: I anoint you king over Israel.’”
 - 13 Immediately they hurried to take off their cloaks and laid them at his feet on the steps. Then they blew the trumpet and shouted, “Jehu is king!”

Jehu's Conspiracy Against Joram (Verses 14–26)

14 So Jehu plotted against King Joram. Now Joram had been defending Ramoth-gilead against King Hazael of Syria,

15 but he had returned to Jezreel to recover from wounds received in battle. Jehu said, "If you are on my side, don't let anyone escape to report this in Jezreel."

16 Then Jehu rode in his chariot to Jezreel, where Joram was resting. King Ahaziah of Judah had also gone to visit him.

17 A watchman on the tower in Jezreel saw Jehu's company coming. He said, "I see a company of men." Joram ordered, "Send a horseman to ask if they come in peace."

18 So the horseman rode out and said, "The king asks, 'Do you come in peace?'" Jehu replied, "What do you know about peace? Fall in behind me." The watchman reported, "He reached them but isn't returning."

19 Then a second horseman was sent out. He asked the same, and Jehu gave the same reply.

20 The watchman reported again, "He reached them, but he isn't coming back either. The driving looks like Jehu son of Nimshi—it's furious!"

21 "Get my chariot ready!" Joram ordered. He and King Ahaziah rode out and met Jehu in the field of Naboth the Jezreelite.

22 When Joram saw Jehu, he asked, "Do you come in peace, Jehu?" Jehu answered, "How can there be peace as long as your mother Jezebel continues her idolatry and witchcraft?"

23 Joram turned to flee and shouted to Ahaziah, "Treachery, Ahaziah!"

24 But Jehu drew his bow and shot Joram between the shoulders. The arrow pierced his heart, and he collapsed in his chariot.

25 Jehu said to Bidkar, his officer, "Pick him up and throw him on the field that belonged to Naboth. Remember how you and I were riding with Ahab when the Lord gave this prophecy:

26 'I saw yesterday the blood of Naboth and his sons,' says the Lord, 'and I will repay you on this plot of land.' Throw him there as the Lord has said."

Ahaziah and Jezebel Are Killed (Verses 27–37)

27 When King Ahaziah of Judah saw this, he fled by the road to Beth-haggan. Jehu followed, shouting, "Kill him too!" They shot him in his chariot at the ascent of Gur near Ibleam, but he escaped to Megiddo and died there.

28 His servants took him to Jerusalem, where he was buried with his ancestors in the city of David.

29 Ahaziah had begun to reign in Judah in the eleventh year of Joram son of Ahab.

30 When Jehu arrived in Jezreel, Jezebel heard about it. She painted her eyes, fixed her hair, and looked out the window.

31 As Jehu entered the gate, she called out, "Have you come in peace, Zimri, you murderer of your master?"

32 Jehu looked up at the window and said, "Who is on my side?" Two or three eunuchs looked down at him.

33 "Throw her down!" he shouted. So they threw her down. Her blood splattered on the wall and on the horses, and Jehu trampled her underfoot.

34 Then he went inside, ate and drank, and said, “Go and take care of that cursed woman. She was a king’s daughter.”

35 But when they went to bury her, they found only her skull, her feet, and the palms of her hands.

36 They came back and told Jehu, and he said, “This is the word of the Lord spoken through His servant Elijah the Tishbite: ‘In the plot of land at Jezreel, dogs will eat Jezebel’s flesh.

37 Her body will be like manure spread out on the ground in Jezreel, so that no one can say, ‘This was Jezebel.’””

Key Lessons from 2 Kings Chapter 9

1. God’s Word Always Comes True – Every detail of Elijah’s prophecy about Jezebel and Ahab’s house was fulfilled exactly as God said.
2. Jehu’s Zeal Was Divinely Ordained – Though violent, Jehu’s mission was to execute judgment on the wicked leadership that had corrupted Israel.
3. Sin Has Consequences – Ahab and Jezebel’s crimes were not forgotten by God, even years later.
4. God Raises Up Unexpected Instruments – Jehu, a military officer, became king not by royal succession but by divine appointment.
5. Justice Is Sometimes Swift and Severe – Jehu’s swift actions demonstrate how decisively God can act when His patience runs out.

2 Kings Chapter 10 — Crawford Standard Bible

Jehu Executes Ahab’s Descendants (Verses 1–11)

1 Ahab had seventy sons living in Samaria. Jehu wrote letters and sent them to the officials of Jezreel, to the elders, and to the guardians of Ahab’s sons. He said,

2 “As soon as this letter reaches you—since you have your master’s sons, chariots, horses, fortified cities, and weapons—

3 choose the best and most qualified of his sons, put him on his father’s throne, and fight for your master’s house.”

4 But they were terrified and said, “Two kings couldn’t stand against him. How can we?”

5 So the palace administrator, the city governor, the elders, and the guardians sent this reply to Jehu: “We are your servants. We’ll do whatever you say. We won’t make anyone king. Do what seems right to you.”

6 Jehu sent another letter: “If you are really loyal to me and willing to obey, then kill the sons of your master and bring me their heads to Jezreel by this time tomorrow.” The seventy sons of Ahab were being raised by the city’s leading men.

7 When the letter arrived, they slaughtered all seventy of the king’s sons. They put their heads in baskets and sent them to Jehu at Jezreel.

8 A messenger reported to Jehu, “They’ve brought the heads of the king’s sons.” Jehu said, “Pile them in two heaps at the city gate until morning.”

9 The next morning, he stood before the people and said, “You are innocent. I plotted against my master and killed him. But who killed all these?”

10 Understand this: not a single word the Lord spoke against the house of Ahab will fail. The Lord has done what He promised through His servant Elijah.”

11 Then Jehu killed everyone who remained in Ahab’s family in Jezreel, including his leaders, close friends, and priests—leaving no survivor.

Jehu Slaughters Ahaziah’s Relatives (Verses 12–14)

12 Jehu then set out for Samaria. On the way, at a place called Beth-eked of the Shepherds,

13 he met some relatives of King Ahaziah of Judah. He asked, “Who are you?” They replied, “We’re relatives of Ahaziah. We’re here to visit the royal family.”

14 Jehu ordered, “Capture them alive.” His men captured all forty-two and killed them at the well near Beth-eked. None were left alive.

Jehu Joins with Jehonadab (Verses 15–17)

15 As Jehu traveled on, he met Jehonadab son of Rechab coming to meet him. Jehu greeted him and said, “Are you with me as I am with you?” Jehonadab answered, “Yes, I am.” Jehu said, “Then give me your hand.” He helped him into his chariot.

16 Jehu said, “Come with me and see my zeal for the Lord.” And they rode together.

17 When they reached Samaria, Jehu killed everyone who remained from Ahab’s family there, just as the Lord had said through Elijah.

The Destruction of Baal Worship (Verses 18–28)

18 Then Jehu gathered the people and said, “Ahab served Baal a little; Jehu will serve him much.

19 So call together all the prophets, priests, and worshipers of Baal. Don’t leave anyone out. I’m preparing a great sacrifice for Baal, and anyone who doesn’t come will die.” (But Jehu was deceiving them to destroy the worshipers of Baal.)

20 He said, “Proclaim a special assembly for Baal.” And it was announced.

21 Jehu sent messengers all throughout Israel, and every Baal worshiper came. The temple was packed from one end to the other.

22 Jehu said to the person in charge of the robes, “Bring out garments for all the Baal worshipers.” So he did.

23 Then Jehu and Jehonadab son of Rechab entered the temple of Baal. Jehu said to the worshipers, “Check to make sure no one who serves the Lord is here—only worshipers of Baal.”

24 Then they went inside to offer sacrifices and burnt offerings. Meanwhile, Jehu had stationed eighty men outside. He warned them, “If you let any of them escape, you’ll pay with your own life.”

25 As soon as the offering was done, Jehu ordered the guards and officers, “Go in and kill them. Let no one escape!” So they killed them with the sword. The guards and officers dragged out the bodies and went into the inner room of the temple.

26 They brought out the sacred pillars from the temple and burned them.

27 They smashed the pillar of Baal, tore down the temple, and turned it into a public latrine—used to this very day.

28 This is how Jehu wiped out Baal worship in Israel.

Jehu’s Partial Obedience and Decline (Verses 29–36)

29 However, Jehu did not turn away from the sins of Jeroboam son of Nebat, who led Israel to worship the golden calves in Bethel and Dan.

30 The Lord said to Jehu, “Because you have done well in carrying out what was right in My sight and have carried out My judgment against Ahab’s house, your descendants will sit on the throne of Israel to the fourth generation.”

31 But Jehu was not careful to follow the law of the Lord God of Israel with all his heart. He did not turn away from the sins of Jeroboam.

32 During Jehu’s reign, the Lord began to reduce the size of Israel. King Hazael of Syria defeated them throughout their borders—

33 east of the Jordan, in all the land of Gilead, the territory of Gad, Reuben, and Manasse—from Aroer by the Arnon River to Gilead and Bashan.

34 The rest of Jehu’s deeds, everything he accomplished, and his military power, are recorded in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel.

35 When Jehu died, he was buried in Samaria. His son Jehoahaz succeeded him as king.

36 Jehu reigned over Israel in Samaria for twenty-eight years.

Key Lessons from 2 Kings Chapter 10

1. God Keeps His Promises, Even in Judgment – Every word God spoke through Elijah about Ahab’s house came true, down to the detail.
2. Jehu’s Zeal Was Effective—but Incomplete – He destroyed Baal worship and executed judgment on Ahab’s house, but failed to turn fully from Jeroboam’s idolatry.
3. Partial Obedience Isn’t Enough – Though Jehu obeyed part of God’s will, his failure to fully follow the Lord led to long-term consequences.
4. Religious Hypocrisy Can Be Weaponized – Jehu used deception to eliminate idolaters, showing how even evil can be turned against itself.
5. God Rewards Faithfulness—but Desires the Heart – Jehu was rewarded for doing what was right, but he missed God’s deeper desire for wholehearted devotion.

2 Kings Chapter 11 — Crawford Standard Bible

Athaliah Seizes the Throne (Verses 1–3)

1 When Athaliah, the mother of King Ahaziah, saw that her son was dead, she arose and killed all the royal heirs.

2 But Jehosheba, the daughter of King Joram and sister of Ahaziah, took Ahaziah's infant son Joash and secretly rescued him from among the king's sons who were being killed. She hid him and his nurse in a bedroom so that Athaliah would not find him and kill him.

3 Joash remained hidden in the Temple of the Lord for six years while Athaliah ruled over the land.

Jehoiada's Plan to Restore the King (Verses 4–8)

4 In the seventh year, Jehoiada the priest summoned the commanders of the army, the Carite mercenaries, and the palace guards. He brought them to the Temple of the Lord, made a covenant with them, put them under oath, and showed them the king's son.

5 He gave them instructions, saying, "This is what you are to do: a third of you who come on duty on the Sabbath are to guard the royal palace.

6 Another third will stand at the Sur Gate, and the final third will guard the gate behind the palace guard. You are to stand watch over the palace and protect it.

7 The two companies who are off duty on the Sabbath must guard the king in the Lord's Temple.

8 Surround the king with weapons in hand. Anyone who tries to breach your ranks must be killed. Stay close to the king wherever he goes."

Joash Is Crowned King (Verses 9–12)

9 The commanders carried out everything Jehoiada the priest ordered. They brought their men—those coming on duty and those going off duty on the Sabbath—and all assembled before Jehoiada.

10 Jehoiada gave the commanders the spears and shields that had once belonged to King David and were kept in the Temple.

11 The guards stood with weapons in hand, surrounding the king from the south to the north side of the Temple, in front of the altar and by the sanctuary.

12 Then Jehoiada brought out the king's son, placed the crown on his head, gave him a copy of the covenant law, anointed him, and proclaimed him king. Everyone clapped their hands and shouted, "Long live the king!"

Athaliah Is Executed (Verses 13–16)

13 When Athaliah heard the shouting of the guards and the people, she came to the Temple of the Lord.

14 She looked and saw the young king standing by the pillar, as was customary, with the commanders and trumpeters beside him. All the people were celebrating and blowing trumpets. Athaliah tore her clothes and cried, “Treason! Treason!”

15 Jehoiada the priest ordered the commanders, “Take her outside between the ranks, and anyone who follows her must be killed with the sword.” For the priest had said, “Do not kill her in the Lord’s Temple.”

16 So they seized her and took her by the horse gate on the palace grounds, and there she was executed.

The Nation Returns to God (Verses 17–21)

17 Then Jehoiada made a covenant between the Lord, the king, and the people: they would be the Lord’s people. He also made a covenant between the king and the people.

18 All the people of the land went to the temple of Baal and tore it down. They smashed its altars and idols and killed Mattan, the priest of Baal, in front of the altars. Then Jehoiada appointed priests to serve in the Lord’s Temple.

19 He gathered the commanders, the guards, and all the people, and together they escorted the king from the Temple to the palace through the Guard’s Gate. The king sat on the royal throne.

20 So all the people of the land rejoiced, and the city was peaceful because Athaliah had been killed with the sword near the palace.

21 Joash was seven years old when he became king.

Key Lessons from 2 Kings Chapter 11

1. God Preserves His Promises – Though the royal line of David was nearly wiped out, God preserved Joash to fulfill His covenant with David.
2. Courageous Faith Can Change History – Jehosheba’s bold act of hiding Joash saved a generation and turned the course of the kingdom.
3. True Worship Must Replace False Worship – After Joash was crowned, the people tore down the temple of Baal and returned to worshiping the Lord.
4. Leadership Requires Covenant Commitment – Jehoiada led not only by restoring the king but by restoring the people’s covenant with God.
5. Young People Can Lead with God’s Help – Joash was only seven years old when he began to reign, reminding us that age does not limit God's ability to use someone.

2 Kings Chapter 12 — Crawford Standard Bible

Jehoash’s Reign Begins (Verses 1–3)

1 In the seventh year of King Jehu, Jehoash began to reign. He ruled in Jerusalem for forty years. His mother’s name was Zibiah, from Beersheba.

2 Jehoash did what was right in the eyes of the Lord for as long as Jehoiada the priest instructed him.
3 However, the high places were not removed. The people still sacrificed and burned incense there.

Jehoash Orders Temple Repairs (Verses 4–8)

4 Jehoash said to the priests, “All the money brought into the house of the Lord—whether from the census tax, personal vows, or voluntary offerings—
5 let the priests collect it from the people they know and use it to repair any damage found in the Temple.”
6 But by the twenty-third year of Jehoash’s reign, the priests still had not repaired the Temple.
7 So King Jehoash summoned Jehoiada the priest and the other priests and asked, “Why haven’t you repaired the Temple? Stop collecting money from the people for yourselves. Use it only for the Temple repairs.”
8 The priests agreed to no longer collect money directly from the people and to let others take care of the repairs.

A New System for Collecting and Using Funds (Verses 9–16)

9 Jehoiada the priest took a chest, drilled a hole in its lid, and placed it beside the altar on the right as one entered the Temple. The priests guarding the entrance put all the money brought into the Temple into this chest.
10 Whenever the chest was full, the king’s scribe and the high priest would come, count the money, and bag it up.
11 Then they would give it to those overseeing the Temple work. These men paid the carpenters, builders,
12 masons, and stonecutters. They also purchased timber and dressed stone to repair the damage to the Temple and paid for all other repair costs.
13 However, none of this money was used to make silver bowls, snuffers, basins, trumpets, or gold or silver items for the Temple.
14 Instead, all the money was given directly to the workers to complete the Temple repairs.
15 No accounting was required from the men who received the money, because they acted with complete honesty.
16 The money from guilt offerings and sin offerings was not placed in the chest—it belonged to the priests.

Jehoash Pays Off Syria (Verses 17–18)

17 Then King Hazael of Syria attacked and captured Gath. He then turned to attack Jerusalem.
18 Jehoash, king of Judah, took all the sacred items that had been dedicated by his forefathers—Jehoshaphat, Jehoram, and Ahaziah—as well as his own offerings and all the gold in the Temple and royal palace, and sent it to King Hazael of Syria. So Hazael withdrew from Jerusalem.

The Assassination of Jehoash (Verses 19–21)

19 The rest of the acts of Jehoash and all he did are recorded in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah.

20 Jehoash's servants plotted against him and assassinated him at the house of Millo on the road to Silla.

21 The men who killed him were Jozachar son of Shimeath and Jehozabad son of Shomer. They buried him in the City of David, and his son Amaziah succeeded him as king.

Key Lessons from 2 Kings Chapter 12

1. Godly Leadership Requires Ongoing Accountability

Jehoash followed the Lord while Jehoiada the priest guided him, but long-term obedience depends on continuing spiritual accountability.

2. Neglecting God's House Brings Consequences

The delay in repairing the Temple revealed a lack of urgency in honoring God. Worship and the upkeep of God's house should never be an afterthought.

3. Integrity in Stewardship Matters to God

The Temple repair workers were trustworthy, and no oversight was needed. Their faithfulness is a model for how we should handle God's resources.

4. Compromise with the Enemy Isn't Victory

Instead of trusting in God for deliverance, Jehoash gave away holy treasures to appease Hazael. This act of fear weakened the nation spiritually and politically.

5. Ungodliness and Disobedience Lead to Betrayal

Despite early faithfulness, Jehoash's later actions brought about internal rebellion. A king once faithful to God was slain by his own servants.

2 Kings Chapter 13 — Crawford Standard Bible

Jehoahaz Reigns Over Israel (Verses 1–9)

1 In the twenty-third year of Joash, son of Ahaziah, king of Judah, Jehoahaz, the son of Jehu, became king of Israel in Samaria. He ruled for seventeen years.

2 He did what was evil in the sight of the Lord. He followed the sins of Jeroboam son of Nebat, who had led Israel into sin. He never turned away from them.

3 So the Lord's anger burned against Israel, and He allowed them to fall under the power of King Hazael of Syria and his son Ben-Hadad for many years.

4 But Jehoahaz pleaded with the Lord for help, and the Lord listened. He saw how severely the king of Syria was oppressing Israel.

5 So the Lord gave Israel a deliverer, and they were able to escape from Syrian rule and live in peace, as they had before.

6 However, they still did not turn away from the sins of Jeroboam. The people continued in them, and the Asherah pole remained in Samaria.

7 Jehoahaz was left with only fifty horsemen, ten chariots, and ten thousand foot soldiers, for the king of Syria had destroyed the rest—crushing them like dust under threshing wheels.

8 The rest of Jehoahaz's reign, everything he did and his military might, is recorded in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel.

9 Jehoahaz died and was buried in Samaria, and his son Jehoash (also called Joash) succeeded him as king.

Jehoash (Joash) Becomes King of Israel (Verses 10–13)

10 In the thirty-seventh year of Joash, king of Judah, Jehoash the son of Jehoahaz became king over Israel in Samaria. He ruled for sixteen years.

11 He did evil in the sight of the Lord and followed the sins of Jeroboam son of Nebat, never turning away from them.

12 The rest of Jehoash's reign and his battles, including his war with Amaziah, king of Judah, are recorded in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel.

13 Jehoash died and was buried in Samaria with the kings of Israel. His son Jeroboam II became king after him.

Elisha's Final Prophecy and Death (Verses 14–21)

14 Elisha became sick with the illness that would lead to his death. King Jehoash of Israel came down to visit him. He wept over Elisha and cried out, "My father, my father! The chariots and horsemen of Israel!"

15 Elisha told him, "Take a bow and some arrows." So he did.

16 Then Elisha said, "Put your hand on the bow." As the king did so, Elisha placed his hands over the king's hands.

17 "Open the east window," he said. The king opened it. "Now shoot," Elisha commanded. As he did, Elisha declared, "This is the Lord's arrow of victory over Syria. You will defeat them at Aphek until they are completely destroyed."

18 Then Elisha said, "Take the arrows and strike the ground." Jehoash struck the ground three times and then stopped.

19 The man of God became angry and said, "You should have struck five or six times! Then you would have completely defeated Syria. Now you will only defeat them three times."

20 Elisha died and was buried. Later that year, Moabite raiders invaded the land.

21 As some Israelites were burying a man, they saw a band of raiders coming. So they quickly threw the dead man's body into Elisha's tomb. When the body touched Elisha's bones, the man came back to life and stood on his feet.

Israel Delivered Again by God’s Mercy (Verses 22–25)

22 Throughout the reign of Jehoahaz, Hazael king of Syria continued to oppress Israel.

23 But the Lord was gracious to them. He had compassion and showed them mercy because of His covenant with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. He refused to destroy them or cast them from His presence—at least not yet.

24 When Hazael died, his son Ben-Hadad became king in his place.

25 Then Jehoash, son of Jehoahaz, recaptured the cities Ben-Hadad had taken from his father. Three times Jehoash defeated Ben-Hadad and recovered the cities of Israel.

Key Lessons from 2 Kings Chapter 13

1. Disobedience Brings Oppression

Repeated sin, especially following in the ways of Jeroboam, brought God’s judgment through Syrian domination.

2. God Hears the Humble

Despite Jehoahaz’s evil, his humble cry moved God’s heart. God’s mercy can still flow even in dark times.

3. Incomplete Obedience Limits Blessing

Jehoash’s half-hearted obedience—striking the ground only three times—symbolized his lack of full commitment, limiting Israel’s victory.

4. God’s Power Outlives His Servants

Even after Elisha’s death, God’s power was so strong that it raised the dead—a reminder that God’s Word endures beyond the grave.

5. God Remembers His Covenant

Though Israel was rebellious, God did not reject them completely because of His promises to the patriarchs. His faithfulness is greater than our failures.

2 Kings Chapter 14 — Crawford Standard Bible

Amaziah Begins His Reign in Judah (Verses 1–6)

1 In the second year of Joash, son of Jehoahaz, king of Israel, Amaziah the son of Joash became king of Judah.

2 He was 25 years old when he began to reign and ruled in Jerusalem for 29 years. His mother’s name was Jehoaddan of Jerusalem.

3 He did what was right in the Lord’s sight, though not like his ancestor David. He followed the example of his father Joash.

4 But the high places were not removed; the people still offered sacrifices and burned incense on them.

5 Once his kingdom was secure, Amaziah executed the servants who had assassinated his father, the king.

6 However, he did not kill their children, following what is written in the Law of Moses, where the Lord commanded, “Parents must not be put to death for their children, nor children for their parents. Each person must die for their own sin.”

Victory Over Edom and Challenge to Israel (Verses 7–14)

7 Amaziah defeated ten thousand Edomites in the Valley of Salt and captured the city of Selah, renaming it Joktheel, a name it still holds today.

8 After that, Amaziah sent messengers to King Jehoash of Israel (the son of Jehoahaz, grandson of Jehu), saying, “Come and face me in battle.”

9 But King Jehoash of Israel replied with a parable: “The thistle in Lebanon sent a message to the cedar in Lebanon, saying, ‘Give your daughter in marriage to my son.’ But a wild beast passed by and trampled the thistle.

10 You have defeated Edom, and now you’re arrogant. Be proud of your victory, but stay home. Why stir up trouble that will lead to your downfall—and Judah’s with you?”

11 But Amaziah refused to listen. So King Jehoash of Israel went to battle. He and Amaziah faced each other at Beth-shemesh in Judah.

12 Judah was defeated, and its army fled to their homes.

13 Jehoash captured Amaziah and then went to Jerusalem. He tore down part of Jerusalem’s wall—about 600 feet—from the Ephraim Gate to the Corner Gate.

14 He took all the gold and silver from the Temple and palace treasuries, along with some hostages, and returned to Samaria.

The Deaths of Jehoash and Amaziah (Verses 15–22)

15 The rest of the acts of Jehoash, including his strength and his battle with Amaziah, are recorded in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel.

16 Jehoash died and was buried in Samaria with the other kings of Israel. His son Jeroboam succeeded him.

17 Amaziah, son of Joash, lived 15 years after the death of Jehoash.

18 The rest of Amaziah’s deeds are also recorded in the chronicles of the kings of Judah.

19 A conspiracy formed against Amaziah in Jerusalem, and he fled to Lachish. But they sent assassins after him and killed him there.

20 His body was brought back on horseback and buried in Jerusalem, in the City of David.

21 Then all the people of Judah made Azariah (also known as Uzziah), Amaziah’s 16-year-old son, king in his place.

22 Azariah rebuilt the city of Elath and restored it to Judah after his father died.

Jeroboam II Reigns Over Israel (Verses 23–29)

23 In the fifteenth year of Amaziah king of Judah, Jeroboam the son of Joash became king of Israel in Samaria. He ruled for 41 years.

24 He did what was evil in the Lord's sight. He did not turn away from the sins of Jeroboam son of Nebat, who had caused Israel to sin.

25 He restored Israel's borders from Lebo-hamath to the Dead Sea, just as the Lord had spoken through His servant Jonah son of Amittai, the prophet from Gath-hepher.

26 The Lord saw how bitterly Israel was suffering—there was no one to help, not even a slave or free man left.

27 Still, the Lord had not said He would blot out the name of Israel, so He used Jeroboam to rescue them.

28 The rest of Jeroboam's acts, including his military successes and how he recovered Damascus and Hamath for Israel, are written in the chronicles of the kings of Israel.

29 Jeroboam died and was buried with the kings of Israel. His son Zechariah became king after him.

Key Lessons from 2 Kings Chapter 14

1. Partial Obedience Is Not Full Faithfulness

Amaziah did what was right in God's sight—but only to a point. Like many kings before him, he failed to remove the high places, allowing compromise in worship.

2. Personal Responsibility in Judgment

Amaziah obeyed God's law by not punishing the children of those who murdered his father—highlighting God's justice: each person is responsible for their own actions.

3. Pride Comes Before a Fall

Amaziah's pride after defeating Edom led him into a foolish war with Israel—and Judah suffered for it. Pride blinds even the godly to danger.

4. God's Mercy Despite Rebellion

Even though Israel continued in sin, God used Jeroboam II to rescue them—demonstrating God's compassion in the midst of judgment.

5. The Word of the Lord Stands Forever

Jonah's prophecy was fulfilled in Jeroboam II's reign, reminding us that God keeps His promises through unexpected vessels—even flawed ones.

2 Kings Chapter 15 — Crawford Standard Bible

Azariah (Uzziah) Reigns in Judah (Verses 1–7)

1 In the 27th year of Jeroboam king of Israel, Azariah son of Amaziah became king over Judah.

2 He was 16 years old when he began to reign and ruled 52 years in Jerusalem. His mother was Jecholiah of Jerusalem.

3 He did what was right in the Lord's eyes, just as his father Amaziah had done.

4 However, the high places were not removed; the people continued sacrificing and burning incense there.

5 The Lord struck the king with leprosy, and he lived in a separate house until his death. His son Jotham governed the land in his place.

6 The rest of Azariah's deeds are recorded in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Judah.

7 Azariah died and was buried in the City of David. His son Jotham became king after him.

Zechariah's Short Reign in Israel (Verses 8–12)

8 In Azariah's 38th year as king of Judah, Zechariah son of Jeroboam became king over Israel. He ruled for six months.

9 He did what was evil in the Lord's sight, just like his ancestors. He didn't turn away from the sins of Jeroboam son of Nebat.

10 Shallum son of Jabesh conspired against him and killed him in public. Shallum then became king.

11 The rest of Zechariah's actions are written in the chronicles of Israel's kings.

12 This fulfilled the Lord's word to Jehu: "Your sons will sit on Israel's throne to the fourth generation." And so it happened.

Shallum and Menahem (Verses 13–22)

13 Shallum began his rule in the 39th year of Uzziah (Azariah) king of Judah. He reigned only one month in Samaria.

14 Menahem son of Gadi went up from Tirzah to Samaria, killed Shallum, and took the throne.

15 The rest of Shallum's deeds and the conspiracy he led are recorded in Israel's chronicles.

16 Menahem then attacked Tiphshah and its surrounding regions, because they refused to surrender. He struck the city and brutally ripped open all the pregnant women.

17 Menahem began to reign in the 39th year of Azariah king of Judah and ruled ten years in Samaria.

18 He did evil in the Lord's sight and never turned from Jeroboam's sins.

19 Pul king of Assyria invaded Israel. Menahem gave him 1,000 talents of silver to gain his support and keep his reign secure.

20 Menahem collected the money by taxing Israel's wealthy—fifty shekels of silver per man. So Pul withdrew and did not stay in the land.

21 The rest of Menahem's actions are written in the chronicles of Israel's kings.

22 When Menahem died, his son Pekahiah became king.

Pekahiah and Pekah (Verses 23–31)

23 In Azariah's 50th year, Pekahiah son of Menahem became king of Israel in Samaria. He ruled for two years.

24 He did what was evil in the Lord's sight, continuing in Jeroboam's sinful path.

25 His officer Pekah son of Remaliah conspired against him. With 50 Gileadite men, Pekah killed Pekahiah in the palace at Samaria and took the throne.

26 The rest of Pekahiah's deeds are recorded in the chronicles of Israel's kings.

27 In Azariah's 52nd year, Pekah son of Remaliah began to reign over Israel and ruled 20 years.

28 He did what was evil in the Lord's sight and did not turn from Jeroboam's sins.

29 During Pekah's reign, Tiglath-pileser king of Assyria invaded and captured Ijon, Abel-beth-maacah, Janoah, Kedesh, Hazor, Gilead, Galilee, and all the land of Naphtali. He carried the people away to Assyria.

30 Hoshea son of Elah conspired against Pekah, killed him, and took the throne in Jotham's 20th year.

31 The rest of Pekah's deeds are written in the book of the chronicles of Israel's kings.

Jotham Reigns in Judah (Verses 32–38)

32 In the second year of Pekah king of Israel, Jotham son of Uzziah began to reign in Judah.

33 He was 25 years old and ruled for 16 years in Jerusalem. His mother was Jerusha, daughter of Zadok.

34 He did what was right in the Lord's sight, following his father Uzziah's example.

35 However, the high places were not removed, and the people continued sacrificing there. He did rebuild the Upper Gate of the Temple.

36 The rest of his deeds are written in the chronicles of Judah's kings.

37 In those days the Lord began sending enemies against Judah: Rezin king of Syria and Pekah of Israel.

38 Jotham died and was buried with his ancestors in the City of David. His son Ahaz became king after him.

Key Lessons from 2 Kings Chapter 15

1. Even Good Kings Can Have Flaws

Azariah (Uzziah) did what was right, but his pride and disobedience led to leprosy (see 2 Chronicles 26). Righteousness requires humility and consistency.

2. God Fulfills His Word

The prophecy to Jehu about four generations on Israel's throne came true exactly. God's promises—both for blessing and judgment—stand firm.

3. Cycles of Sin Bring Down Nations

Despite leader after leader rising in Israel, most followed the sins of Jeroboam. It led to civil unrest, assassinations, and ultimately, foreign captivity.

4. External Threats Reflect Internal Weakness

The invasions by Assyria under Pul and Tiglath-pileser show that moral decay often precedes national vulnerability.

5. Leaders Set the Tone

Judah experienced relative peace and blessing under righteous kings, while Israel suffered because its rulers consistently chose evil.

2 Kings Chapter 16 — Crawford Standard Bible

Ahaz Becomes King of Judah (Verses 1–4)

1 In the seventeenth year of Pekah son of Remaliah, Ahaz son of Jotham became king of Judah.

2 He was twenty years old when he began to reign, and he ruled sixteen years in Jerusalem. But he did not do what was right in the sight of the Lord his God, as David his ancestor had.

3 Instead, he followed the wicked practices of the kings of Israel. He even sacrificed his own son in fire, following the detestable customs of the pagan nations that the Lord had driven out before the Israelites.

4 Ahaz offered sacrifices and burned incense on the high places, on the hills, and under every green tree.

Judah Attacked and Ahaz Turns to Assyria (Verses 5–9)

5 Then Rezin king of Syria and Pekah son of Remaliah, king of Israel, came up to fight against Jerusalem. They besieged Ahaz but were unable to defeat him.

6 At that time Rezin king of Syria recovered the city of Elath for Syria and drove out the Jews. The Syrians settled in Elath, and they remain there to this day.

7 So Ahaz sent messengers to Tiglath-pileser, king of Assyria, saying, “I am your servant and your son. Come up and save me from the kings of Syria and Israel who are attacking me.”

8 Ahaz took silver and gold from the Temple of the Lord and from the royal treasury and sent it as a gift to the king of Assyria.

9 The king of Assyria responded by marching against Damascus. He captured it, took its people away to Kir, and killed Rezin.

Ahaz Copies a Pagan Altar (Verses 10–16)

10 King Ahaz went to Damascus to meet Tiglath-pileser. While there, he saw a pagan altar. He sent a detailed sketch and description of its design to Urijah the priest.

11 Urijah built the altar just as Ahaz had described, and it was ready by the time the king returned.

12 When Ahaz returned from Damascus, he approached the new altar and offered sacrifices on it.

13 He presented his burnt offerings, grain offerings, and drink offerings, and sprinkled the blood of his peace offerings on this new altar.

14 He then moved the bronze altar, which stood before the Lord, from its position in front of the Temple and placed it on the north side of the new altar.

15 King Ahaz commanded Urijah, “Use the great new altar for the morning and evening offerings, the king’s offerings, and the offerings of the people. Sprinkle all the blood on it. The bronze altar will be used only for me to seek guidance.”

16 So Urijah did everything as the king instructed.

Ahaz Defiles the Temple (Verses 17–20)

17 King Ahaz then dismantled the bronze bases and removed the washbasin from them. He also removed the bronze Sea from the oxen that held it and placed it directly on a stone foundation.

18 He even took away the covered walkway used on the Sabbath and closed off the royal entrance to the Temple to appease the king of Assyria.

19 The rest of Ahaz’s actions are recorded in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah.

20 When Ahaz died, he was buried with his ancestors in the City of David. His son Hezekiah became king after him.

Key Lessons from 2 Kings Chapter 16

1. Rejecting God Leads to Desperation

Instead of trusting in the Lord during times of war, King Ahaz turned to a foreign power (Assyria) and sacrificed sacred treasures to gain their favor. Relying on man over God brings long-term ruin.

2. Pagan Influence Corrupts Worship

Ahaz saw a pagan altar in Damascus and brought its design back to Jerusalem, replacing true worship with imitation. Compromising God’s standards to copy the world leads to defiled worship.

3. God’s Temple Must Not Be Defiled

Ahaz reordered, repurposed, and removed sacred furnishings from the Temple—all to please a foreign king. Holy things should be treated with reverence, not rearranged to suit politics or trends.

4. Even Evil Kings Shape a Nation

Ahaz’s reign was marked by idolatry, human sacrifice, and political compromise. His choices brought spiritual and national decline. Leaders have far-reaching influence—for good or for evil.

5. Hope Rises in the Next Generation

Though Ahaz was wicked, his son Hezekiah would bring revival and reform. God’s mercy often shines brightest after the darkest reigns.

2 Kings Chapter 17 — Crawford Standard Bible

Hoshea Reigns Over Israel and Rebels Against Assyria (Verses 1–6)

1 In the twelfth year of King Ahaz of Judah, Hoshea son of Elah began to reign in Samaria over Israel. He ruled for nine years.

2 He did evil in the eyes of the Lord, though not as badly as the kings of Israel who came before him.

3 King Shalmaneser of Assyria marched against Hoshea. Hoshea became his vassal and paid him tribute.

4 But the king of Assyria discovered Hoshea's conspiracy, for Hoshea had sent envoys to So king of Egypt and stopped paying his annual tribute to Assyria. So the Assyrian king arrested him and threw him in prison.

5 Then the king of Assyria invaded all of Israel and laid siege to Samaria for three years.

6 In the ninth year of Hoshea's reign, the Assyrians captured Samaria. They deported the people of Israel to Assyria and resettled them in Halah, Habor, near the Gozan River, and in the cities of the Medes.

Why Israel Was Exiled (Verses 7–23)

7 This happened because the people of Israel had sinned against the Lord their God, who brought them out of slavery in Egypt. They began to worship other gods

8 and followed the customs of the pagan nations the Lord had driven out, as well as the practices established by the kings of Israel.

9 The Israelites secretly committed sins against the Lord their God. They built high places in all their towns, from watchtower to fortified city.

10 They set up pagan images and Asherah poles on every high hill and under every green tree.

11 There they burned incense like the nations the Lord had destroyed. They did evil to provoke the Lord to anger.

12 They worshiped idols, though the Lord had commanded, "You must not do this."

13 Yet the Lord sent His prophets and seers again and again, warning them, "Turn from your evil ways. Obey My commandments and statutes—the laws I gave your ancestors through My servants the prophets."

14 But the people would not listen. They were stubborn as their ancestors who refused to believe in the Lord.

15 They rejected God's laws and covenant, and followed worthless idols, becoming worthless themselves. They imitated the surrounding nations, even though the Lord had warned them not to.

16 They abandoned all the commands of the Lord. They made two golden calves, set up an Asherah pole, worshiped the stars, and served Baal.

17 They sacrificed their sons and daughters in fire, practiced divination, and sold themselves to do evil. They provoked the Lord's fierce anger.

18 So the Lord became very angry with Israel and removed them from His presence. Only the tribe of Judah remained.

19 But even Judah did not obey the commandments of the Lord. They followed the same evil practices that Israel had introduced.

20 So the Lord rejected all of Israel's descendants, allowing them to be plundered and eventually exiled.

21 From the time the kingdom split and Jeroboam was made king, Israel was led into sin and never turned back.

22 They continued walking in Jeroboam's sins, and 23 the Lord finally cast them out, just as He had warned through His prophets. Israel was exiled to Assyria, where they remain to this day.

Foreigners Resettle in Samaria (Verses 24–33)

24 The king of Assyria brought people from Babylon, Cuthah, Ava, Hamath, and Sepharvaim, and settled them in the cities of Samaria in place of the exiled Israelites.

25 When they first lived there, they did not honor the Lord. So He sent lions among them, which killed some of them.

26 The settlers sent word to the king of Assyria: “The people you resettled don't know how to worship the God of this land. That's why He sent lions to attack us.”

27 So the king ordered: “Send back one of the Israelite priests we took captive. Let him live there and teach them how to honor the God of the land.”

28 So a priest returned and settled in Bethel, teaching the new inhabitants how to worship the Lord.

29 However, each nation still made its own gods and placed them in the high places the Samaritans had made.

30 The Babylonians worshiped Succoth-benoth, the men of Cuth worshiped Nergal, the people of Hamath worshiped Ashima, 31 and the Avites worshiped Nibhaz and Tartak. The Sepharvites burned their children in fire as sacrifices to Adrammelech and Anammelech.

32 So they worshiped the Lord, but also appointed their own low-born priests to offer sacrifices at the high places.

33 They feared the Lord, but also served their own gods, just as they had before being resettled.

Mixed Worship Continues (Verses 34–41)

34 To this day, these people continue their former practices. They neither truly fear the Lord nor obey His statutes, decrees, and commands given to Jacob—whom He named Israel.

35 The Lord had made a covenant with them, saying:

“You must not fear or serve other gods.

36 I, the Lord, who brought you out of Egypt with great power and an outstretched arm—worship Me only.

37 Obey the laws I wrote for you.

38 Don't forget the covenant I made with you.

39 Fear Me, the Lord your God, and I will deliver you from your enemies.”

40 But they did not listen. They continued practicing their old religions.

41 So the new settlers feared the Lord, but also served their idols—and so did their descendants, even to this day.

Key Lessons from 2 Kings Chapter 17

1. God is Patient, But Judgment Comes

Despite generations of rebellion, God sent prophets warning Israel to repent. When they refused, judgment finally came through exile.

2. Idolatry Brings National Ruin

Worshipping other gods led Israel to moral decay and divine judgment. No nation can defy God's commandments and stand secure.

3. Superficial Worship Is Not Enough

The resettled nations “feared the Lord” outwardly, but continued to serve false gods. God desires wholehearted devotion, not a blend of truth and lies.

4. God's Covenant Must Be Honored

Israel broke the covenant repeatedly, ignoring both law and grace. God keeps His promises, but also His warnings.

5. Faith Cannot Be Compromised

God is not one of many; He is the only One. Divided worship is ultimately disobedience.

2 Kings Chapter 18 — Crawford Standard Bible

Hezekiah Reigns with Righteousness and Trust in God

Hezekiah's Righteous Reign Begins (Verses 1–8)

1 In the third year of Hoshea son of Elah, king of Israel, Hezekiah son of Ahaz began to reign in Judah.

2 He was twenty-five years old when he became king, and he reigned twenty-nine years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Abi, daughter of Zechariah.

3 He did what was right in the eyes of the Lord, just as his ancestor David had done.

4 He removed the high places, smashed the sacred pillars, cut down the Asherah poles, and broke into pieces the bronze serpent that Moses had made, because the Israelites had been burning incense to it. He called it Nehushtan ("a piece of bronze").

5 Hezekiah trusted in the Lord, the God of Israel. There was no king like him among all the kings of Judah, either before or after.

6 He remained faithful to the Lord and did not turn from Him. He obeyed the commands the Lord had given Moses.

7 The Lord was with him, and he was successful in everything he did. He even rebelled against the king of Assyria and refused to serve him.

8 He conquered the Philistines, all the way to Gaza, from watchtower outposts to fortified cities.

Assyria Captures Samaria and Deports Israel (Verses 9–12)

9 In the fourth year of Hezekiah's reign (which was the seventh year of Hoshea king of Israel), Shalmaneser king of Assyria came to attack Samaria and laid siege to it.

10 After three years, in Hezekiah's sixth year and Hoshea's ninth, Samaria fell.

11 The king of Assyria deported the Israelites to Assyria and settled them in Halah, Habor by the Gozan River, and in cities of the Medes.

12 This happened because they disobeyed the Lord, violated His covenant, and refused to listen or obey His laws given through Moses.

Sennacherib Invades Judah and Threatens Jerusalem (Verses 13–16)

13 In Hezekiah's fourteenth year, Sennacherib king of Assyria attacked all the fortified cities of Judah and captured them.

14 Hezekiah sent a message to the king of Assyria at Lachish, saying, "I have done wrong. Withdraw from me, and I will pay whatever you demand." So the king of Assyria demanded 300 talents of silver and 30 talents of gold.

15 Hezekiah gave him all the silver found in the temple of the Lord and in the royal treasuries.

16 He even stripped the gold from the doors and pillars of the temple that he had overlaid and gave it to the king of Assyria.

Assyrian Threats and Blasphemy (Verses 17–37)

17 Then the king of Assyria sent three officials—Tartan, Rabsaris, and Rabshakeh—with a large army from Lachish to King Hezekiah in Jerusalem. They came and stood by the aqueduct of the upper pool, along the road to the Fuller's Field.

18 They called for the king, and Eliakim son of Hilkiah, who was in charge of the palace, along with Shebna the scribe and Joah son of Asaph the recorder, came out to meet them.

19 Rabshakeh said to them, "Give this message to Hezekiah: 'This is what the great king, the king of Assyria, says: What are you trusting in?'"

20 You speak of having plans and strength for war, but they are just empty words. Who are you relying on, that you dare rebel against me?"

21 If it's Egypt, you're trusting a broken reed—it'll pierce your hand if you lean on it. That's exactly what Pharaoh does to everyone who trusts in him.

22 If you say, "We trust in the Lord our God," isn't that the one whose high places and altars Hezekiah removed? Didn't he say you had to worship only at this altar in Jerusalem?"

23 “Now make a deal with my master, the king of Assyria. I’ll give you 2,000 horses, if you can even find riders for them!

24 How can you defeat even one of my master’s junior officers when you’re depending on Egypt for chariots and horsemen?

25 Do you think I came up here without the Lord? The Lord Himself told me, ‘Go up and destroy this land.’”

26 Then Eliakim, Shebna, and Joah said to Rabshakeh, “Please speak to us in Aramaic, not in Hebrew. We understand it. Don’t speak in Hebrew so the people on the wall can hear.”

27 But Rabshakeh replied, “My orders are for everyone—your king, your leaders, and the people who will be eating their own dung and drinking their own urine when the siege comes.”

28 Then Rabshakeh stood up and shouted in Hebrew to the people on the wall: “Listen to the great king, the king of Assyria!

29 Don’t let Hezekiah deceive you! He can’t save you!

30 Don’t let him make you trust in the Lord, saying, ‘The Lord will rescue us.’ This city will not escape his hand.

31 Don’t listen to Hezekiah! Make peace with me and come out. Then each of you can eat from your own vine and fig tree and drink from your own well—

32 until I come to take you to a land just like yours: a land of grain, wine, bread, vineyards, olives, and honey. You’ll live, not die! Don’t let Hezekiah mislead you with promises of the Lord’s deliverance.”

33 “Have any of the gods of other nations ever rescued them from the king of Assyria?

34 Where are the gods of Hamath, Arpad, Sepharvaim, Hena, and Ivah? Did they rescue Samaria?

35 What god has ever saved his land from my hand? Do you think the Lord can rescue Jerusalem?”

36 But the people remained silent and didn’t answer a word, for the king had commanded, “Do not answer him.”

37 Then Eliakim, Shebna, and Joah returned to Hezekiah with torn clothes and told him everything Rabshakeh had said.

Key Lessons from 2 Kings Chapter 18

1. True Leadership Requires Godly Trust

Hezekiah didn’t just do what was right—he trusted deeply in the Lord. Real leadership is anchored in unwavering faith, not politics or military might.

2. Idols Must Be Torn Down

Hezekiah didn’t just start fresh—he destroyed false religion, even relics like the bronze serpent that had become idols. Revival begins with radical obedience.

3. God’s Presence Brings Victory

Because Hezekiah clung to the Lord, the Lord was with him and made him prosper. God honors loyalty with His favor.

4. The Enemy Will Try to Intimidate You

Assyria used fear, lies, and confusion to shake Judah's confidence. Satan does the same today—questioning our trust in God and offering false promises.

5. God is Greater than the Strongest Enemy

Though Rabshakeh mocked the Lord, God's power would soon be revealed. Never underestimate what God can do, no matter how loud the enemy shouts.

2 Kings Chapter 19 — Crawford Standard Bible

The Lord Delivers Jerusalem

Hezekiah Seeks God's Help (Verses 1–7)

1 When King Hezekiah heard what had been said, he tore his clothes, put on sackcloth, and went into the Temple of the Lord.

2 He sent Eliakim (the palace administrator), Shebna the scribe, and the senior priests—also wearing sackcloth—to the prophet Isaiah son of Amoz.

3 They said to him, “This is what Hezekiah says: Today is a day of trouble, rebuke, and disgrace. It's like a woman trying to give birth, but there's no strength left to deliver the child.

4 Perhaps the Lord your God has heard all the blasphemous words of Rabshakeh, whom the king of Assyria sent to insult the living God. Maybe He will punish him for what He's heard. So please pray for the few of us who are left.”

5 When Hezekiah's officials arrived,

6 Isaiah told them, “Give this message to your master: This is what the Lord says—Do not be afraid of the words you've heard, the insults the Assyrian king's servants have spoken against Me.

7 I will make him return to his own country after hearing a rumor, and there he will be killed with a sword.”

Assyria Tries Again to Intimidate Hezekiah (Verses 8–13)

8 Rabshakeh returned to his king and found him fighting against Libnah, because he had left Lachish.

9 Then he heard that Tirhakah, king of Ethiopia, was marching out to fight him. So he sent messengers back to Hezekiah with this message:

10 “Tell Hezekiah king of Judah: Don't let the God you trust fool you into thinking Jerusalem won't fall to the king of Assyria.

11 You've heard what the kings of Assyria have done to all the nations—completely destroying them. Do you think you'll escape?

12 Were the gods of Gozan, Haran, Rezeph, and the people of Eden in Thelasar able to rescue them?

13 What happened to the kings of Hamath, Arpad, Sepharvaim, Hena, and Ivah?”

Hezekiah's Prayer (Verses 14–19)

14 Hezekiah received the letter from the messengers, read it, and went up to the Temple. He spread the letter out before the Lord

15 and prayed: “O Lord, God of Israel, You sit enthroned between the cherubim. You alone are God of all the kingdoms of the earth. You made heaven and earth.

16 Lord, bend down and listen! Open Your eyes and see! Listen to how Sennacherib has insulted the living God.

17 It's true, Lord, that the kings of Assyria have destroyed many nations.

18 They have thrown their gods into the fire, but they were not gods at all—just man-made statues of wood and stone. That's why they were destroyed.

19 Now, Lord our God, rescue us from his power so that all the kingdoms of the earth will know that You alone are the Lord.”

God Responds Through Isaiah (Verses 20–34)

20 Then Isaiah sent a message to Hezekiah: “This is what the Lord, the God of Israel, says: I have heard your prayer about Sennacherib king of Assyria.

21 Here's what the Lord has spoken against him:

‘The virgin daughter of Zion laughs at you.

Jerusalem shakes her head in scorn.

22 Who have you insulted and blasphemed?

You've lifted your voice against the Holy One of Israel!

23 You sent messengers to mock Me, boasting,

“I came with my chariots to the mountaintops of Lebanon.

I cut down the best cedar and cypress trees.

I entered the deepest forests.

24 I dug wells and drank foreign waters.

I dried up all Egypt's rivers with the soles of my feet!”

25 But haven't you heard?

I planned all this long ago.

Now I've brought it to pass.

You were meant to destroy fortified cities into ruins.

26 That's why their people had no strength.

They were like plants in the field—

like green shoots, scorched before they grew up.

27 I know where you live,

when you come and go,

and how you rage against Me.

28 Because of your rage and arrogance,
I will put My hook in your nose
and My bridle in your mouth, and I will make you go back
the same way you came.’

29 “Here’s a sign for you, Hezekiah:
This year you’ll eat what grows by itself.
Next year, you’ll eat what grows from that.
But in the third year, you’ll plant and harvest, plant vineyards, and eat their fruit.

30 And the remnant of Judah will take root below and bear fruit above.

31 For a remnant will go out from Jerusalem, and survivors from Mount Zion.
The zeal of the Lord Almighty will accomplish this.

32 “This is what the Lord says about the king of Assyria:

*He will not enter this city,
shoot an arrow,
march with a shield,
or build siege ramps against it.*

33 He will return the way he came.
He will not enter this city.

34 I will defend and save this city for My own sake
and for My servant David’s sake.”

The Lord Destroys the Assyrian Army (Verses 35–37)

35 That night, the angel of the Lord went out and killed 185,000 Assyrian soldiers in their camp.
When the people got up the next morning, they saw the bodies—all of them dead.

36 So Sennacherib king of Assyria broke camp and returned to Nineveh.

37 One day, while he was worshiping in the temple of his god Nisroch, his sons Adrammelech and Sharezer assassinated him with the sword. They escaped to the land of Armenia, and Esarhaddon his son became king in his place.

Key Lessons from 2 Kings Chapter 19

1. God Listens to the Humble and the Faithful

Hezekiah's deep humility and prayer moved God to act. When we feel helpless, the best thing we can do is fall on our knees and seek the Lord.

2. The Enemy's Threats Are Not Greater Than God's Promises

Assyria came with intimidation and blasphemy, but God responded with a mighty word. Never let fear override your faith in God's power to deliver.

3. God is Jealous for His Name

The Lord defended Jerusalem not because of their strength, but for the honor of His own name and the promise He made to David.

4. Divine Deliverance Comes in God's Timing

God gave a three-year sign for recovery. Sometimes He saves immediately, sometimes He works through process—but His victory is certain.

5. The Weapons of God Are Supernatural

In one night, one angel destroyed 185,000 enemy troops. No enemy is ever too strong for God's hand.

2 Kings Chapter 20 — Crawford Standard Bible

Hezekiah's Illness, Recovery, and Babylonian Visitors

Hezekiah's Sickness and Prayer (Verses 1–3)

1 Around that time, Hezekiah became critically ill. The prophet Isaiah son of Amoz came to him and said, "This is what the Lord says: Set your affairs in order, because you are going to die. You will not recover."

2 Hezekiah turned his face toward the wall and prayed to the Lord,

3 saying, "O Lord, I beg You, remember how I've walked before You in truth and with a loyal heart, and how I've done what is good in Your sight." And Hezekiah wept bitterly.

God Heals Hezekiah and Extends His Life (Verses 4–7)

4 Before Isaiah had left the middle courtyard, the word of the Lord came to him:

5 "Go back and tell Hezekiah, the leader of My people, This is what the Lord, the God of your ancestor David, says: I have heard your prayer and seen your tears. Look, I will heal you. In three days, you will go up to the Temple of the Lord.

6 I will add fifteen years to your life. I will also rescue you and this city from the king of Assyria. I will defend this city for My sake and for My servant David's sake."

7 Then Isaiah said, “Make a poultice of figs.” So they took it and applied it to the infected boil, and Hezekiah recovered.

The Miraculous Sign of the Shadow (Verses 8–11)

8 Hezekiah asked Isaiah, “What sign will the Lord give to prove that I’ll go up to His house on the third day?”

9 Isaiah replied, “Here’s your sign from the Lord that He will do what He promised: Should the shadow on the sundial move forward ten steps, or backward ten steps?”

10 Hezekiah answered, “It’s easy for the shadow to go forward. Instead, let it go back ten steps.”

11 So Isaiah prayed, and the Lord made the shadow on the sundial of Ahaz move backward ten steps.

Hezekiah’s Pride Before Babylon (Verses 12–15)

12 At that time Berodach-baladan, son of Baladan and king of Babylon, sent letters and a gift to Hezekiah, because he had heard that he had been sick.

13 Hezekiah welcomed the envoys and showed them everything in his treasure houses—the silver, the gold, the spices, the fine oil, his armory—everything in his palace. There was nothing in his kingdom that he didn’t show them.

14 Then Isaiah the prophet came to King Hezekiah and asked, “What did those men say, and where did they come from?” Hezekiah answered, “They came from a distant land—Babylon.”

15 “What did they see in your palace?” Isaiah asked. “They saw everything,” Hezekiah replied. “There is nothing among my treasures that I didn’t show them.”

Prophecy of Babylonian Captivity (Verses 16–19)

16 Then Isaiah said to Hezekiah, “Listen to the word of the Lord:

17 The day is coming when everything in your palace—and all that your ancestors have stored up—will be carried off to Babylon. Nothing will be left, says the Lord.

18 And some of your very own sons, your descendants, will be taken away. They will become eunuchs in the palace of the king of Babylon.”

19 Hezekiah said to Isaiah, “This message from the Lord is good.” Then he added, “At least there will be peace and truth during my lifetime.”

Summary of Hezekiah’s Reign (Verses 20–21)

20 The rest of Hezekiah’s deeds—his strength and how he built a pool and tunnel to bring water into the city—are recorded in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah.

21 Hezekiah died, and his son Manasseh became king after him.

Key Lessons from 2 Kings Chapter 20

1. God Listens to Honest Prayer

Hezekiah's heartfelt plea and tears moved the heart of God. Our sincere prayers still reach the throne of grace.

2. God is Merciful, but His Mercy Comes with Responsibility

Hezekiah received 15 more years of life. But those years included choices that would impact future generations. Time is a gift meant to be used wisely.

3. Signs Confirm God's Word, but Faith Pleases Him Most

The miraculous reversal of the shadow was an incredible sign—but Hezekiah's trust in God's promise was what truly mattered.

4. Spiritual Pride Can Lead to Future Ruin

Hezekiah showed off his wealth to Babylon out of pride or flattery. His actions opened the door to Babylonian interest, which would eventually lead to Judah's downfall.

5. Short-Term Thinking is Not Kingdom Thinking

Hezekiah was content with peace during his lifetime, even knowing judgment would fall on his children. God's people must think generationally.

6. Legacy is More Than Projects—It's About Faithfulness

Hezekiah built great things, but his spiritual choices also shaped his legacy. What we pass on spiritually matters more than what we construct materially.

2 Kings Chapter 21 — Crawford Standard Bible

Manasseh and Amon: Kings Who Led Judah into Darkness

The Reign of Manasseh (Verses 1–9)

1 Manasseh was twelve years old when he became king, and he ruled in Jerusalem for fifty-five years. His mother's name was Hephzibah.

2 He did what was evil in the eyes of the Lord, following the detestable practices of the nations that the Lord had driven out before the people of Israel.

3 He rebuilt the pagan high places that his father Hezekiah had destroyed. He built altars to Baal and made an Asherah pole, just like King Ahab of Israel had done. He also bowed down to all the stars in the sky and worshiped them.

4 He even built altars in the Temple of the Lord, the place the Lord had said, "In Jerusalem I will put My name."

5 In both courtyards of the Lord's Temple, he built altars to all the stars in the sky.

6 He sacrificed his own son in the fire, practiced fortune-telling and witchcraft, and consulted with mediums and spiritists. Manasseh did great evil in the sight of the Lord, provoking Him to anger.

7 He even placed a carved idol—an Asherah image—that he had made in the Temple, the very place the Lord had spoken of to David and Solomon, saying: “I will put My name in this Temple and in Jerusalem, the city I have chosen from all the tribes of Israel.”

8 “If My people will obey all My commands, the entire law I gave through My servant Moses, I will never again make them leave the land I gave their ancestors.”

9 But the people refused to listen. Manasseh led them to do more evil than the nations the Lord had destroyed before Israel.

God’s Judgment Announced (Verses 10–16)

10 Then the Lord spoke through His servants the prophets, saying,

11 “Manasseh king of Judah has committed detestable sins, more evil than even the Amorites who lived here before Israel. He has caused Judah to sin with his idols.

12 So this is what the Lord, the God of Israel, says: I will bring such disaster on Jerusalem and Judah that everyone who hears about it will be shocked and horrified.

13 I will judge Jerusalem with the same standard I used for Samaria and the house of Ahab. I will wipe Jerusalem like someone wipes a dirty dish—wiping it and turning it upside down.

14 I will abandon the remnant of My inheritance and hand them over to their enemies. They will be plundered and taken as spoils by all their enemies,

15 because they have done what is evil in My sight and have provoked My anger from the day their ancestors came out of Egypt until now.”

16 Manasseh also shed so much innocent blood that he filled Jerusalem from one end to the other—besides the sin he caused Judah to commit by doing what was evil in the Lord’s sight.

The Death of Manasseh (Verses 17–18)

17 The rest of the events of Manasseh’s reign, all he did, and the sins he committed, are recorded in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah.

18 Manasseh died and was buried in the garden of his own palace, the Garden of Uzza. His son Amon succeeded him as king.

The Reign and Assassination of Amon (Verses 19–26)

19 Amon was twenty-two years old when he became king, and he reigned in Jerusalem for two years. His mother’s name was Meshullemeth, the daughter of Haruz from Jotbah.

20 He did what was evil in the Lord’s sight, just as his father Manasseh had done.

21 He followed the example of his father and worshiped the idols his father had worshiped.

22 He abandoned the Lord, the God of his ancestors, and refused to follow the Lord’s ways.

23 Then Amon’s own officials plotted against him and assassinated him in his palace.

24 But the people of the land killed the conspirators and made Amon’s son Josiah king in his place.

25 The rest of Amon’s actions are recorded in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah.

26 He was buried in his tomb in the Garden of Uzza. Then Josiah his son became king.

Key Lessons from 2 Kings Chapter 21

1. Spiritual Leadership Shapes a Nation

Manasseh's wicked leadership led Judah into greater idolatry than the pagan nations God once destroyed. Leaders influence destinies.

2. Disregard for God's Word Leads to Judgment

God warned repeatedly through prophets, but Judah ignored His commands. Persistent sin brought irreversible consequences.

3. Idolatry Invites God's Wrath

Manasseh built altars in God's house, worshiped the stars, consulted demons, and sacrificed his child. These extreme sins stirred divine anger.

4. Innocent Blood Cries Out

Manasseh's violent reign was marked by the shedding of innocent blood. God does not overlook injustice or cruelty.

5. Rebellion Breeds Instability

Amon followed in his father's wicked ways and was assassinated by his own servants. Sinful leadership often leads to chaos and destruction.

6. Hope Still Rises from Ruin

Despite Manasseh and Amon's evil, Josiah would follow. God can raise up righteous leaders even from broken family lines.

2 Kings Chapter 22 — Crawford Standard Bible

Josiah's Reform and the Rediscovery of God's Word

Josiah Begins to Reign (Verses 1–2)

1 Josiah was only eight years old when he became king, and he ruled in Jerusalem for thirty-one years. His mother's name was Jedidah, the daughter of Adaiah from the town of Bozkath.

2 He did what was right in the eyes of the Lord and followed the example of his ancestor David. He did not turn aside to the right or to the left.

The Temple Repairs Ordered (Verses 3–7)

3 In the eighteenth year of Josiah's reign, he sent Shaphan, the son of Azaliah and grandson of Meshullam—the court secretary—to the Temple of the Lord.

4 He said, "Go up to Hilkiah the high priest, so he can collect all the money that has been brought into the Lord's Temple. The gatekeepers have gathered this money from the people."

5 “Have the money handed over to the construction supervisors who are in charge of the Lord’s Temple. Let them give it to the workers repairing the Temple—

6 to the carpenters, builders, and stonemasons. Also, use it to buy timber and cut stone to repair the building.”

7 There was no need to audit the workers who received the money, because they acted with complete honesty.

The Book of the Law Is Found (Verses 8–10)

8 Then Hilkiyah the high priest told Shaphan the court secretary, “I have found the Book of the Law in the Lord’s Temple!” He gave the scroll to Shaphan, who read it.

9 Shaphan returned to the king and reported, “Your officials have collected the money found in the Temple and have handed it over to the supervisors and workers.”

10 Then Shaphan told the king, “Hilkiyah the priest has given me a book.” And Shaphan read it aloud to the king.

Josiah’s Response to God’s Word (Verses 11–13)

11 When the king heard the words of the Book of the Law, he tore his clothes in sorrow.

12 Then he gave this order to Hilkiyah the priest, Ahikam son of Shaphan, Achbor son of Micaiah, Shaphan the court secretary, and Asaiah the king’s attendant:

13 “Go and ask the Lord for me, and for the people, and for all Judah, about the words in this book that has been found. The Lord’s great anger is burning against us, because our ancestors did not obey the words of this book. They have not done everything written in it about us.”

Huldah the Prophetess Delivers a Word from the Lord (Verses 14–20)

14 So Hilkiyah the priest, Ahikam, Achbor, Shaphan, and Asaiah went to speak to the prophetess Huldah. She was the wife of Shallum son of Tikvah, son of Harhas, keeper of the Temple wardrobe. She lived in the Second District of Jerusalem.

15 She said to them, “This is what the Lord, the God of Israel, says: Tell the man who sent you—

16 this is what the Lord says: I will bring disaster on this city and its people, just as written in the scroll that the king of Judah has read.

17 Because they have abandoned Me and burned incense to other gods, provoking Me to anger with everything they’ve done, My wrath will be poured out on this place and it will not be quenched.”

18 “But go to the king of Judah who sent you to ask the Lord and tell him: This is what the Lord, the God of Israel, says concerning the message you have heard—

19 Because your heart was tender and you humbled yourself before the Lord when you heard what I said against this city and its people—that they would become desolate and cursed—and because you tore your clothes and wept before Me, I have heard you,” declares the Lord.

20 “Therefore, I will allow you to die in peace. You will not see the disaster I am going to bring on this city.” So they brought the king this message.

Key Lessons from 2 Kings Chapter 22

1. God Honors a Tender Heart

Josiah’s humility and repentance upon hearing the Book of the Law moved God’s heart. A soft heart before God invites mercy even in times of judgment.

2. The Word of God Awakens Revival

The rediscovery of Scripture ignited spiritual reform. God’s Word has the power to reveal truth, convict hearts, and lead to transformation.

3. Leadership Matters

Josiah’s personal commitment to righteousness shaped the entire nation’s direction. A godly leader can bring renewal to an entire people.

4. Judgment May Be Delayed But Not Always Canceled

Though Josiah would not live to see the disaster, judgment was still coming due to generations of rebellion. God’s patience has a limit.

5. True Repentance Requires Action

Josiah didn’t just weep—he sought God’s guidance, inquired of His prophets, and took steps to reform the people. Genuine repentance moves us to obey.

6. God Sees the Individual Amid National Sin

Even when a nation is under judgment, God notices and responds to those who personally honor Him. Josiah was spared because of his personal walk.

2 Kings Chapter 23 — Crawford Standard Bible

Josiah’s Covenant and Reforms

The King Renews the Covenant (Verses 1–3)

1 Then the king summoned all the elders of Judah and Jerusalem.

2 He went up to the Temple of the Lord, accompanied by all the people of Judah and Jerusalem—along with the priests, the prophets, and everyone from the least to the greatest. There in their presence, he read aloud all the words from the Book of the Covenant that had been found in the Lord’s Temple.

3 The king stood beside the pillar and made a covenant before the Lord. He pledged to follow the Lord, to obey His commands, regulations, and decrees with all his heart and soul. He vowed to carry out all the terms of the covenant that were written in the scroll. And all the people pledged themselves to the covenant.

Cleansing the Temple and Destroying Idols (Verses 4–7)

4 Then the king ordered Hilkiah the high priest, the priests of the second rank, and the temple gatekeepers to bring out of the Lord’s Temple all the articles made for Baal, Asherah, and all the stars of the heavens. He burned them outside Jerusalem in the fields of the Kidron Valley, and he carried the ashes to Bethel.

5 He removed the idolatrous priests whom the kings of Judah had appointed to burn incense at the pagan shrines throughout Judah and even in Jerusalem. He also removed those who burned incense to Baal, and to the sun, the moon, the constellations, and all the stars in the heavens.

6 He removed the Asherah pole from the Lord's Temple and took it outside Jerusalem to the Kidron Valley, where he burned it. He ground it to dust and threw the dust on the graves of the common people.

7 He tore down the living quarters of the male shrine prostitutes that were inside the Temple of the Lord, where the women wove coverings for the Asherah pole.

Purging Pagan Worship Across Judah (Verses 8–14)

8 Josiah brought all the priests out of the towns of Judah and defiled the pagan shrines where they had burned incense—from Geba to Beersheba. He also destroyed the shrines at the entrance of the gate of Joshua, the governor of Jerusalem, located to the left of the city gate.

9 The priests who had served at the pagan shrines were not allowed to serve at the Lord's altar in Jerusalem, but they were allowed to eat unleavened bread with the other priests.

10 Then the king desecrated Topheth, which is in the valley of Ben-Hinnom, so that no one could ever again sacrifice a son or daughter in the fire to Molech.

11 He removed from the entrance of the Lord's Temple the horses that the kings of Judah had dedicated to the sun. They were near the room of an official named Nathan-melech, located in the courtyard. Josiah then burned the chariots dedicated to the sun.

12 He tore down the altars that the kings of Judah had built on the roof of Ahaz's upper room, as well as the altars that Manasseh had built in the two courtyards of the Lord's Temple. He smashed them into bits and threw the rubble into the Kidron Valley.

13 The king also desecrated the pagan shrines east of Jerusalem, south of the Mount of Corruption, where King Solomon of Israel had built shrines for Ashtoreth, Chemosh, and Milcom—the detestable gods of the Sidonians, Moabites, and Ammonites.

14 He smashed the sacred pillars and cut down the Asherah poles. Then he desecrated these places by scattering human bones over them.

Destroying Jeroboam's Altar at Bethel (Verses 15–20)

15 The king also tore down the altar at Bethel—the pagan shrine that Jeroboam son of Nebat had made when he caused Israel to sin. He burned down the shrine and ground it to dust, and he burned the Asherah pole.

16 As Josiah turned, he noticed several tombs in the hillside. He ordered that the bones be removed from these tombs, and he burned them on the altar at Bethel to desecrate it. This happened in accordance with the word of the Lord proclaimed by the man of God who had foretold these events.

17 Then Josiah asked, "What is that monument I see over there?" The people of the town replied, "It's the tomb of the man of God who came from Judah and predicted what you have just done to the altar at Bethel!"

18 Josiah replied, "Leave it alone. Don't disturb his bones." So they did not burn his bones or those of the prophet from Samaria.

19 Josiah then removed all the shrines at the pagan high places in the towns of Samaria, just as he had done at Bethel. These shrines had been built by the kings of Israel and had made the Lord very angry. 20 He executed the priests of the pagan shrines on their own altars, and he burned human bones on the altars to desecrate them. Then he returned to Jerusalem.

Celebrating the Passover (Verses 21–23)

21 Then the king gave this order to all the people: “Celebrate the Passover to the Lord your God, as it is written in the Book of the Covenant.”

22 There had not been a Passover celebration like that since the time when the judges ruled in Israel, nor throughout all the years of the kings of Israel and Judah.

23 But in the eighteenth year of King Josiah’s reign, this Passover was celebrated to the Lord in Jerusalem.

Further Reforms and Devotion (Verses 24–27)

24 Josiah also removed the mediums and psychics, the household gods, idols, and every other detestable practice, both in Jerusalem and throughout the land of Judah. He did this in order to fulfill the requirements of the law written in the scroll that Hilkiah the priest had found in the Lord’s Temple.

25 Never before had there been a king like Josiah, who turned to the Lord with all his heart and soul and strength, obeying all the laws of Moses. And there has never been a king like him since.

26 But the Lord did not turn from the fierceness of His great anger, which had been aroused against Judah because of all the sins that Manasseh had committed.

27 For the Lord had said, “I will also banish Judah from My presence, just as I have banished Israel. I will reject My chosen city of Jerusalem and the Temple where I said My name would be honored.”

The Death of Josiah and Reign of Jehoiakim (Verses 28–37)

28 The rest of the events in Josiah’s reign and all his deeds are written in the Book of the History of the Kings of Judah.

29 While Josiah was king, Pharaoh Neco, king of Egypt, marched toward the Euphrates River to help the king of Assyria. King Josiah went out to fight him, but Neco killed him at Megiddo when they met in battle.

30 Josiah’s officers brought his body in a chariot from Megiddo to Jerusalem and buried him in his own tomb. Then the people of the land anointed Josiah’s son Jehoahaz and made him the next king.

31 Jehoahaz was twenty-three years old when he became king, and he reigned in Jerusalem three months. His mother was Hamutal, the daughter of Jeremiah from Libnah.

32 He did what was evil in the Lord’s sight, just as his ancestors had done.

33 Pharaoh Neco put Jehoahaz in prison at Riblah in the land of Hamath to prevent him from ruling in Jerusalem. He also demanded that Judah pay 7,500 pounds of silver and 75 pounds of gold as tribute.

34 Then Pharaoh Neco installed Eliakim, another of Josiah’s sons, to reign in place of his father. He changed Eliakim’s name to Jehoiakim. Neco took Jehoahaz to Egypt as a prisoner, where he died.

35 Jehoiakim taxed the people in order to pay the silver and gold demanded by Pharaoh Neco. He required each person to pay a tax in proportion to his wealth so that he could deliver the money to Pharaoh.

36 Jehoiakim was twenty-five years old when he became king, and he reigned in Jerusalem eleven years. His mother was Zebidah, the daughter of Pedaiiah from Rumah.

37 He did what was evil in the Lord’s sight, just as his ancestors had done.

Key Lessons from 2 Kings Chapter 23

1. True Revival Requires Action

Josiah didn't just listen to the Word—he acted on it. Real change came through cleansing, reforming, and re-establishing God's law.

2. Sin Has a Long Memory

Even though Josiah was righteous, Judah still faced judgment for the accumulated sins of its past. Personal faithfulness doesn't always erase national consequences.

3. Leadership Shapes Legacy

Josiah's bold reforms and integrity stood out in the history of Judah. His legacy was marked by obedience, courage, and a return to God's Word.

4. God's Mercy Is Extended but Not Endless

God saw Josiah's heart and spared him from witnessing the nation's downfall. But the nation still reaped what had been sown for generations.

5. Spiritual Reformation Demands Total Cleansing

Josiah left no idol or altar untouched. Restoration with God requires a complete break from all forms of idolatry and compromise.

6. The Influence of Scripture Is Transformative

Everything Josiah did flowed from hearing the Word of God. Scripture has the power to awaken, convict, and direct a nation or individual back to truth.

2 Kings Chapter 24 — Crawford Standard Bible

The Fall of Judah Begins

Jehoiakim Rebels Against Babylon (Verses 1–4)

1 During Jehoiakim's reign, King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon came against Judah, and Jehoiakim became his servant for three years. But then he turned and rebelled against Babylon.

2 Then the Lord sent enemy raiders against Judah—bands of Chaldeans, Arameans, Moabites, and Ammonites. He sent them to destroy Judah, just as He had warned through His prophets.

3 All of this happened to Judah because the Lord had commanded it. He had decided to remove them from His presence because of all the sins committed by Manasseh.

4 This included the innocent blood that Manasseh had shed—he had filled Jerusalem with it. The Lord would not forgive this.

The Death of Jehoiakim and Rise of Jehoiachin (Verses 5–7)

5 The rest of the events of Jehoiakim's reign and all that he did are recorded in the Book of the Chronicles of the Kings of Judah.

6 When Jehoiakim died, his son Jehoiachin became king in his place.

7 The king of Egypt did not come out of his land again, because the king of Babylon had conquered everything from the Brook of Egypt to the Euphrates River that once belonged to Egypt.

Jehoiachin Surrenders to Babylon (Verses 8–12)

8 Jehoiachin was eighteen years old when he became king, and he ruled in Jerusalem for three months. His mother's name was Nehushta. She was the daughter of Elnathan from Jerusalem.

9 He did what was evil in the eyes of the Lord, just as his father had done.

10 During his short reign, King Nebuchadnezzar's army laid siege to Jerusalem.

11 Then Nebuchadnezzar himself came to the city while his servants were still besieging it.

12 King Jehoiachin surrendered to the king of Babylon, along with his mother, his officials, his commanders, and palace attendants. Nebuchadnezzar took him prisoner in the eighth year of his reign.

The Exile to Babylon Begins (Verses 13–16)

13 Nebuchadnezzar took all the treasures from the Temple of the Lord and from the royal palace. He also cut in pieces all the gold items that King Solomon of Israel had made for the Temple—just as the Lord had said would happen.

14 He carried off all the people of Jerusalem into exile—including the commanders, the wealthy, the skilled craftsmen, and metal workers—ten thousand people in all. Only the poorest people were left in the land.

15 He took Jehoiachin captive to Babylon, along with the king's mother, wives, officials, and other important leaders.

16 The army also deported seven thousand strong warriors and one thousand craftsmen and metal workers—all who were capable of fighting. He brought them all to Babylon.

Zedekiah Made King (Verses 17–20)

17 The king of Babylon appointed Mattaniah, Jehoiachin's uncle, as the new king in his place and changed his name to Zedekiah.

18 Zedekiah was twenty-one years old when he became king, and he ruled in Jerusalem for eleven years. His mother's name was Hamutal. She was the daughter of Jeremiah from Libnah.

19 Zedekiah did what was evil in the eyes of the Lord, just as Jehoiakim had done.

20 All of this happened in Jerusalem and Judah because of the Lord's anger. Eventually, He banished them from His presence. And Zedekiah rebelled against the king of Babylon.

Key Lessons from 2 Kings Chapter 24

Rebellion Against God Has Consequences

Judah's kings continually rejected God's warnings. Their defiance led to judgment, exile, and destruction.

The Word of the Lord Always Comes to Pass

Everything that happened—sieges, exile, and loss—was foretold by the prophets. God’s Word is trustworthy, whether it brings comfort or conviction.

God Remembers Innocent Blood

The Lord would not overlook the violent sins of Manasseh. God values justice and holds nations accountable for shedding innocent blood.

Even Powerful Kings Must Bow

Both Jehoiakim and Jehoiachin were brought low. Earthly power cannot protect anyone from divine judgment.

Mercy Can Still Be Found

Though the nation fell under judgment, God’s hand remained at work. The story of the exiles wasn’t the end—but the beginning of a new chapter in His redemptive plan.

2 Kings Chapter 25 — Crawford Standard Bible

The Fall of Jerusalem and the End of the Kingdom of Judah

Babylon Besieges Jerusalem (Verses 1–3)

1 In the ninth year of King Zedekiah’s reign, on the tenth day of the tenth month, King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon came with his entire army to attack Jerusalem. They camped around the city and built siege works all around it.

2 The city remained under siege until the eleventh year of King Zedekiah’s reign.

3 By the ninth day of the fourth month, the famine in the city had become severe, and there was no food for the people.

Zedekiah Is Captured (Verses 4–7)

4 Then the city wall was broken through. That night, all the soldiers fled through the gate between two walls near the king’s garden, even though the Babylonians had surrounded the city. They headed toward the Jordan Valley.

5 But the Babylonian army chased King Zedekiah and caught up with him on the plains of Jericho. His entire army had scattered and left him.

6 The Babylonians captured the king and took him to King Nebuchadnezzar at Riblah, where he was sentenced.

7 They killed Zedekiah’s sons before his eyes, then gouged out his eyes and bound him with bronze chains and took him to Babylon.

The Destruction of Jerusalem (Verses 8–12)

8 On the seventh day of the fifth month, in the nineteenth year of King Nebuchadnezzar's reign, Nebuzaradan, the captain of the guard and official of the Babylonian king, came to Jerusalem.

9 He burned down the Temple of the Lord, the royal palace, and all the houses in Jerusalem. Every important building was set on fire.

10 Then the Babylonian army, under the captain of the guard, tore down the walls surrounding Jerusalem.

11 Nebuzaradan took captive the people who were still in the city, including those who had surrendered and the remaining population.

12 But he left some of the poorest people in the land to work the vineyards and fields.

The Treasures of the Temple Taken (Verses 13–17)

13 The Babylonians broke apart the bronze pillars in the Lord's Temple, along with the movable stands and the bronze basin (called the Sea). They took all the bronze to Babylon.

14 They also took the pots, shovels, wick trimmers, dishes, and all the bronze items used in the Temple.

15 The captain of the guard took away the firepans and basins—everything made of gold or silver.

16 The two pillars, the Sea, and the movable stands that Solomon had made for the Lord's Temple were too heavy to be weighed.

17 Each pillar was 27 feet tall with a bronze capital 4½ feet high, decorated with bronze latticework and pomegranates. The second pillar was the same.

The Leaders Are Executed (Verses 18–21)

18 Nebuzaradan took Seraiah the chief priest, Zephaniah the assistant priest, and the three temple gatekeepers.

19 From the city he took a military commander, five of the king's advisers, the chief army registrar, and sixty other citizens.

20 He brought them all to the king of Babylon at Riblah.

21 There, in the land of Hamath, the king of Babylon had them executed. So the people of Judah were exiled from their land.

Gedaliah Made Governor (Verses 22–24)

22 King Nebuchadnezzar appointed Gedaliah son of Ahikam as governor over the people who remained in Judah.

23 When the commanders of the Judean armies and their men heard about this, they came to Gedaliah at Mizpah. They included Ishmael son of Nethaniah, Johanan son of Kareah, Seraiah son of Tanhumeth, and Jaazaniah son of the Maacathite.

24 Gedaliah swore an oath to them and their men, saying, "Don't be afraid to serve the Babylonians. Stay here in the land and serve the king of Babylon, and everything will go well for you."

Gedaliah Assassinated (Verses 25–26)

25 But in the seventh month, Ishmael son of Nethaniah, who was of royal blood, came with ten men and assassinated Gedaliah. They also killed the Judeans and Babylonians who were with him at Mizpah.

26 Then all the people, from the least to the greatest, along with the army officers, fled to Egypt because they were afraid of the Babylonians.

Jehoiachin Released from Prison (Verses 27–30)

27 In the thirty-seventh year of Jehoiachin's exile, on the twenty-seventh day of the twelfth month, Evil-merodach became king of Babylon. He released Jehoiachin from prison.

28 He spoke kindly to him and gave him a seat of honor higher than those of the other captive kings in Babylon.

29 Jehoiachin changed out of his prison clothes and ate regularly at the king's table for the rest of his life.

30 The king gave him a daily allowance for food as long as he lived.

Key Lessons from 2 Kings Chapter 25

Sin Leads to National Collapse

Generations of rebellion finally led to the fall of Jerusalem. God's patience ran out, and judgment came as foretold.

God Judges Leaders and Nations

Zedekiah's rebellion and the sins of Judah's leaders brought shame and ruin. God holds leaders accountable for the people they lead.

Even in Judgment, God Leaves a Remnant

Though many were taken captive, some poor people were left behind. God always preserves a remnant for His purposes.

Violence and Vengeance Lead to Chaos

Gedaliah's assassination triggered fear and flight. Human vengeance only worsens broken situations.

Hope Remains in Exile

Even in Babylon, God showed mercy. Jehoiachin was lifted from prison and honored. Restoration always follows judgment in God's story.

Introduction to the Book of 1 Chronicles Crawford Bible Commentary

Title and Meaning The book is called 1 Chronicles because it begins a detailed record of the history of Israel from a genealogical perspective, with a strong emphasis on the Davidic monarchy and the temple. The Hebrew title, Divre Hayyamim, means “The Events of the Days” or “The Chronicles.” When the Old Testament was translated into Greek (the Septuagint), it was given the name Paralipomenon, meaning “Things Omitted,” because it supplements the narratives found in the books of Samuel and Kings.

Historical Context 1 and 2 Chronicles were originally a single work, traditionally attributed to Ezra the priest. The book was written for the post-exilic community in Jerusalem, likely between 450 and 400 B.C. The people had returned from Babylonian captivity to a land and city that were a shadow of their former glory. The temple had been rebuilt, but the nation lacked a king and was under foreign rule. This historical record was compiled to give the people a sense of their national and spiritual identity, reminding them of God’s faithfulness to His covenant promises.

Purpose of the Book The primary purpose of 1 Chronicles is to provide a theological history for the newly restored people of Israel. It emphasizes the legitimacy of the Davidic line of kings and the importance of the temple, the priesthood, and proper worship. By tracing the lineage from Adam to David and detailing David’s preparations for the temple, the book encouraged the disheartened community to have hope in God’s enduring promises, despite their current political weakness.

Major Themes

- The Davidic Covenant: The promises God made to King David regarding an eternal dynasty are the central theological focus.
- The Temple and Worship: The book highlights the central role of the temple in Israel’s life, detailing David’s elaborate plans and organization of the priests and Levites for worship.
- Genealogy: Extensive genealogies are used to establish the identity and legitimacy of the people of Israel, their tribes, and the priesthood.
- Hope for the Future: By focusing on God’s faithfulness to His past promises, the book instills hope in the post-exilic community for a future restoration.
- The Importance of Obedience: The account of King Saul’s death and King David’s life is presented to show the blessings of obedience and the consequences of disobedience.

Key Figures

- David – The central hero of the book, presented as a model king of Israel who prepared everything for the building of the temple.
- Solomon – David’s son and successor, who would ultimately build the temple.
- The Levites – The book provides a detailed account of the Levites’ organization for temple service, highlighting their crucial role in worship.

- Saul – David’s predecessor, whose tragic failure is contrasted with David’s righteous reign.

Spiritual Significance 1 Chronicles serves as a powerful reminder that God's covenant promises are eternal and that our spiritual heritage is foundational to our identity. It shows that even after great failure and national judgment (the exile), God remains faithful. The book teaches that true restoration and hope for the future are found in returning to God's ordained worship and remembering His promises.

Christ in the Book of 1 Chronicles The Davidic covenant is a direct foreshadowing of Jesus Christ. The promise of a king from David’s line whose throne would be established forever finds its ultimate fulfillment in Jesus. The physical temple and its worship practices prefigure Christ, who is the true temple and the perfect high priest through whom all people can access God.

Outline of the Book of 1 Chronicles

- Genealogies from Adam to Saul – Chapters 1–9
- The Death of Saul and the Rise of David – Chapters 10–12
- The Reign of King David – Chapters 13–29
 - David brings the Ark to Jerusalem.
 - God establishes the Davidic Covenant.
 - David prepares for the temple’s construction.
 - David's final instructions, prayer, and death.

Key Verse 1 Chronicles 17:14 (CSB) – “I will appoint him over My house and My kingdom forever, and his throne will be established forever.”

Key Lesson When we are confronted with hardship, we must look back to our spiritual heritage and remember God's faithfulness. Our hope for the future is not in our present circumstances, but in the enduring and eternal promises God has made to His people.

These names and lines show that every life has a place in God’s unfolding plan, even those outside the main biblical spotlight.

20 Hur was the father of Uri, and Uri was the father of Bezalel.

Hezron's Sons Through Another Marriage

21 Later, when Hezron was 60 years old, he married the daughter of Makir, the father of Gilead. She gave birth to Segub.

22 Segub was the father of Jair, who ruled 23 towns in the land of Gilead.

23 But Geshur and Aram captured the towns of Jair along with Kenath and its nearby villages—60 towns total. All these were descendants of Makir, the father of Gilead.

More from Caleb's Extended Family

50 These were descendants of Caleb: the sons of Hur (firstborn of Ephrathah): Shobal (father of Kiriath-jearim),

51 Salma (father of Bethlehem), and Hareph (father of Beth-gader).

52 Shobal (father of Kiriath-jearim) had sons: Haroeh and half of the Manahathites.

53 The families from Kiriath-jearim were the Ithrites, Puthites, Shumathites, and Mishraites. From them came the Zorathites and Eshtaolites.

Salma's Line and the Scribes of Judah

Key Lessons from 1 Chronicles Chapter 3

1. God Keeps Lineage for a Purpose

This chapter isn't just about names—it's about God's faithfulness to His covenant with David. The line from David to Zerubbabel shows how God preserves His promise, even through exile.

2. God Uses Imperfect People

Many in this list (like Solomon, Rehoboam, and even Jeconiah) had personal failures. But God still worked through their lineage to fulfill His redemptive plan.

3. Jesus Came Through This Line

Though not stated here, Matthew 1 traces Jesus' genealogy through this same line—through David, Solomon, and Zerubbabel. God's plan of salvation was unfolding even in exile.

4. Every Generation Matters

God records each generation, showing that every life has value in His eyes. No name is meaningless in His plan.

5. Faithfulness in Hard Times Bears Fruit

Zerubbabel helped rebuild the temple after the exile. His faithfulness echoes the hope of restoration that this chapter symbolizes.

1 Chronicles Chapter 4 — Crawford Standard Bible

Judah's Line Continues

1 The sons of Judah were: Perez, Hezron, Carmi, Hur, and Shobal.

2 Shobal's son Reaiah had a son named Jahath. Jahath was the father of Ahumai and Lahad. These became the founding families of the Zorathites.

3 The descendants of Etam were Jezreel, Ishma, and Idbash. Their sister was named Hazelelponi.

4 Penuel was the founder of Gedor, and Ezer founded Hushah. These were all descendants of Hur, the firstborn son of Ephrathah and the ancestor of Bethlehem.

The Line of Ashhur and His Wives

5 Ashhur, the father of Tekoa, had two wives—Helah and Naarah.

6 Naarah gave birth to Ahuzam, Hephher, Temeni, and Haahashtari. These were the sons of Naarah.

7 Helah's sons were Zereth, Jezoar, and Ethnan.

The Line of Coz and the Prayer of Jabez

8 Coz was the father of Anub and Zobebah, and he was also related to the families of Aharhel, the son of Harum.

9 Jabez was more respected than his brothers. His mother named him Jabez, saying, "I gave birth to him in pain."

10 Jabez prayed to the God of Israel and said, "Oh Lord, bless me greatly and expand my territory! Let Your hand be with me, and keep me from harm so that I may be free from pain." And God gave him what he asked for.

Other Descendants of Judah

11 Chelub, the brother of Shuhah, had a son named Mehir, who was the father of Eshton.

12 Eshton was the father of Bethrapha, Paseah, and Tehinnah (the founder of Ir-Nahash). These were the men of Rechah.

13 The sons of Kenaz were Othniel and Seraiah. Othniel's son was Hathath.

14 Meonothai was the father of Ophrah. Seraiah was the father of Joab, the founder of the Valley of Craftsmen—so called because many craftsmen lived there.

More Descendants from Judah's Line

15 The sons of Caleb (the son of Jephunneh) were Iru, Elah, and Naam. Elah's son was Kenaz.

16 The sons of Jehaleleel were Ziph, Ziphah, Tiria, and Asarel.

18 His other wife, a woman from Judah named Jehudijah, gave birth to Jered (founder of Gedor), Heber (founder of Soco), and Jekuthiel (founder of Zanoah). These were the sons of Bithiah, daughter of Pharaoh, whom Mered had married.

19 The sons of his wife Hodiah (sister of Naham) included the founder of Keilah the Garmite and Eshtemoa the Maacathite.

Family Lines of Shimon, Ishi, and Shelah

20 The sons of Shimon were Amnon, Rinnah, Ben-Hanan, and Tilon.

The sons of Ishi were Zoheth and Ben-Zoheth.

21 Shelah, son of Judah, had sons named Er (founder of Lecah), Laadah (founder of Mareshah), and the clans of linen workers at Beth-Ashbea.

22 He also had sons Jokim, the men of Cozeba, and Joash and Saraph, who ruled over Moab and returned to Bethlehem. These events are ancient history.

23 These men were potters and lived in areas surrounded by hedges and gardens. They lived there and worked for the king.

The Tribe of Simeon

24 The sons of Simeon were Nemuel, Jamin, Jarib, Zerah, and Shaul.

25 Shaul's son was Shallum, then Mibsam, then Mishma.

26 Mishma's son was Hamuel, then Zacchur, then Shimei.

27 Shimei had sixteen sons and six daughters, but his relatives didn't have many children, and their clans didn't grow as large as those of Judah.

Settlements of Simeon's People

28 They lived in Beersheba, Moladah, Hazar-shual,

29 Bilhah, Ezem, Tolad,

30 Bethuel, Hormah, Ziklag,

31 Beth-marcaboth, Hazar-susim, Beth-birei, and Shaaraim. These cities belonged to them until the time of King David.

32 Their villages included Etam, Ain, Rimmon, Tochen, and Ashan—five towns—

33 along with all the nearby villages as far as Baal. This was where they lived, according to their family records.

Leaders and Warriors of Simeon

34 The leaders of these clans were: Meshobab, Jamlech, Joshah (son of Amaziah),

35 Joel, Jehu (son of Josibiah, son of Seraiah, son of Asiel),

36 Elioenai, Jaakobah, Jeshohaiah, Asaiah, Adiel, Jesimiel, and Benaiah,

37 along with Ziza (son of Shiphi, son of Allon, son of Jedaiah, son of Shimri, son of Shemaiah).

38 These were the heads of their clans, and their families grew greatly in number.

Simeon Expands and Defeats Enemies

39 They traveled to the region of Gedor, to the east side of the valley, looking for good pasture for their flocks.

40 They found lush, rich pasture and a spacious, peaceful land. The people who had lived there before were descendants of Ham.

41 During the reign of King Hezekiah of Judah, these Simeonites attacked and destroyed the people living there. They wiped them out completely and settled in their place because there was pasture for their animals.

42 Five hundred of them from the tribe of Simeon went to Mount Seir. Their leaders were Pelatiah, Neariah, Rephaiah, and Uzziel—sons of Ishi.

43 They defeated the remaining Amalekites who had survived and have lived there to this day.

Key Lessons from 1 Chronicles Chapter 4

1. God Honors Sincere Prayer

The story of Jabez shows us that God listens to heartfelt, humble prayers. His request was simple, yet powerful—and God answered.

2. Even Ordinary Names Have a Place

Though many names in this chapter seem obscure, every person listed mattered in God's plan. Your name, your story, and your place in God's family matter too.

3. Faith Can Bring Expansion

Jabez asked for his territory to be enlarged. God still responds to people who believe big and trust Him for more—not just physically, but spiritually.

4. Legacy Is Recorded by Faithfulness

The record of Simeon's tribes and their conquests shows how obedience and unity can bring increase, even when others fade from history.

5. God Provides for His People

The Simeonites found fertile and peaceful land, reminding us that God can lead us to rest and provision—especially when we walk by faith.

1 Chronicles Chapter 5 — Crawford Standard Bible

Reuben's Lost Birthright

1 Reuben was Israel's firstborn son, but because he dishonored his father by sleeping with his concubine, his birthright was given to the sons of Joseph, son of Israel. So the genealogy doesn't list Reuben as having the birthright.

2 Though Judah became the leading tribe and a ruler came from him, the actual birthright belonged to Joseph.

3 Reuben's sons were Hanoah, Pallu, Hezron, and Carmi.

The Line of Joel and the Captivity of Beerah

4 Reuben's descendant Joel had a son named Shemaiah. Shemaiah's son was Gog, then came Shimei,
5 followed by Micah, Reaiah, Baal,

6 and Beerah. Beerah was a leader of the Reubenites, but he was taken as a captive by Tiglath-Pileser, king of Assyria.

7 Reuben's relatives, based on family lines, included leaders like Jeiel and Zechariah,

8 and Bela, the son of Azaz, son of Shema, son of Joel. Bela lived in Aroer and extended his territory all the way to Nebo and Baal-meon.

The Reubenites and the War with the Hagarites

9 To the east, Reuben's descendants lived as far as the edge of the wilderness near the Euphrates River, because they had many livestock in the land of Gilead.

10 During the time of King Saul, they fought against the Hagarites and defeated them. Afterward, they settled in their tents throughout the eastern region of Gilead.

The Tribe of Gad

11 The tribe of Gad lived next to them in the land of Bashan, reaching as far as Salcah.

12 Their leaders were Joel (the chief), followed by Shapham, then Jaanai, and Shaphat in Bashan.

13 Their relatives from their families included Michael, Meshullam, Sheba, Jorai, Jachan, Zia, and Heber—seven men in total.

14 These were descendants of Abihail, son of Huri, son of Jaroah, son of Gilead, son of Michael, son of Jeshishai, son of Jahdo, son of Buz.

15 Ahi, the son of Abdiel and grandson of Guni, was a leader of their family.

The Settlements of Gad and Manasseh

16 They lived in Gilead, in Bashan, and in the towns around it, as well as in the open country of Sharon.

17 All these names were recorded in genealogical records during the reigns of King Jotham of Judah and King Jeroboam of Israel.

The Eastern Tribes Go to War

18 The tribes of Reuben, Gad, and the eastern half of Manasseh had 44,760 skilled warriors—men trained to carry shields and swords, skilled with bows, and experienced in battle.

19 They went to war against the Hagarites and their allies: Jetur, Naphish, and Nodab.

20 God helped them in the battle. The Hagarites and all their allies were defeated, because the tribes cried out to God for help during the battle. He answered their prayer because they trusted Him.

21 They took a huge amount of livestock: 50,000 camels, 250,000 sheep, 2,000 donkeys, and 100,000 captives.

22 Many of their enemies were killed, because the battle was God's doing. The Israelites lived in their place until the time of the exile.

The Half-Tribe of Manasseh and Their Downfall

23 The eastern half-tribe of Manasseh lived in the land and multiplied from Bashan to Baal-hermon, Senir, and Mount Hermon.

24 These were their family leaders: Ephraim, Ishi, Eliel, Azriel, Jeremiah, Hodaviah, and Jahdiel. They were brave warriors, famous men, and respected leaders of their clans.

25 But they were unfaithful to the God of their ancestors. They began worshiping the gods of the nations that God had driven out before them.

Assyrian Exile of the Eastern Tribes

26 So the God of Israel stirred the spirit of Pul (also known as Tiglath-Pileser), king of Assyria. He invaded and took away the tribes of Reuben, Gad, and the half-tribe of Manasseh. He deported them to Halah, Habor, Hara, and the Gozan River, where they remain to this day.

Key Lessons from 1 Chronicles Chapter 5

1. Honor Matters to God

Reuben lost his birthright because of dishonor. Choices rooted in sin can have lasting consequences—even across generations.

2. Leadership and Blessing Are Separate

Judah was given leadership, but the birthright went to Joseph. God can assign different roles to different tribes or people—according to His purposes.

3. Victory Comes Through Trust in God

The eastern tribes won their battles not through strength alone but because they trusted God and cried out to Him. God responds to humble, believing hearts.

4. Faithfulness Determines Legacy

Though these tribes were once mighty and blessed, they were later removed from the land because they turned to idols. Faithfulness to God is essential for lasting blessing.

5. God Judges His People Justly

Even God's chosen people are not above discipline. When they forsook Him, He allowed Assyria to take them into captivity—a sobering reminder that God expects loyalty.

Genealogy of the Priests

50 These were the descendants of Aaron: Eleazar, Phinehas, Abishua,

51 Bukki, Uzzi, Zerahiah,

57 To the sons of Aaron they gave cities of refuge—Hebron, Libnah, Jattir, Eshtemoa,

58 Hilen, Debir,

Key Lessons from 1 Chronicles Chapter 6

1. God Values Worship and Order

The Levites had different assignments—some for worship, some for priestly work, and others for support roles. Every task mattered in God's house.

2. Faithfulness Spans Generations

The lineage from Aaron to the exile shows how God's calling can continue across centuries—if we remain faithful.

3. Music and Ministry Go Together

David's appointment of singers and musicians reminds us that worship through music is a vital part of ministering before the Lord.

4. Obedience Leads to Provision

The Levites received cities and lands as God had promised—not for conquest, but because of their obedience and dedication to serving in His house.

5. God Honors Legacy in His Presence

From Heman to Asaph to Ethan, the worship leaders had deep spiritual roots. God honors those who dedicate their families and talents to Him.

1 The sons of Issachar were Tola, Puah, Jashub, and Shimron—four in total.

2 The sons of Tola were Uzzi, Rephaiah, Jeriel, Jahmai, Jibsam, and Shemuel. These were family leaders from the line of Tola—strong warriors in their generations. During the time of King David, their numbers totaled 22,600.

3 Uzzi's son was Izrahiah, and his sons were Michael, Obadiah, Joel, and Ishiah. All five were prominent leaders.

4 These men and their families formed military units totaling 36,000 soldiers, because they had many wives and children.

The Tribe of Manasseh

14 The sons of Manasseh were: Ashriel (born by his wife), and Machir (born by his Aramean concubine), who was the father of Gilead.

15 Machir married a sister of Shuppim and Huppim. Her name was Maacah. Their second son was Zelophehad, who had only daughters.

16 Maacah, wife of Machir, gave birth to Peresh, and his brother was Sheresh. Sheresh's sons were Ulam and Rakem.

17 Ulam's son was Bedan. These were descendants of Gilead, son of Machir, son of Manasseh.

18 Gilead's sister Hammoleketh gave birth to Ishod, Abiezer, and Mahalah.

19 Shemidah's sons were Ahian, Shechem, Likhi, and Aniam.

The Tribe of Ephraim

20 The sons of Ephraim were Shuthelah, Bered, Tahath, Eladah, and Tahath again,

21 followed by Zabad and another Shuthelah. Ephraim also had sons Ezer and Elead, who were killed by men of Gath when they tried to steal livestock.

22 Ephraim mourned for many days, and his brothers came to comfort him.

23 Then Ephraim had another son with his wife, and he named him Beriah, meaning "trouble," because his house had suffered loss.

24 His daughter was Sheerah, who built the towns of Lower and Upper Beth-horon and Uzzensheerah.

25 Beriah's line continued through Rephah, Resheph, Telah, and Tahan,

26 then Laadan, Ammihud, Elishama,

27 Non, and finally Joshua (Jehoshua).

Settlements of the Tribes of Joseph

28 The land they lived in included Bethel and its nearby towns, Naaran to the east, Gezer to the west, and Shechem and Gaza with their surrounding towns.

Key Lessons from 1 Chronicles Chapter 7

1. God Honors Generational Strength and Courage

The chapter highlights thousands of warriors from various tribes, emphasizing that strength, bravery, and leadership were passed down through generations.

2. Legacy Isn't Just Numbers—It's Purpose

Many are counted, but only some stories stand out—like Ephraim's sorrow and the building efforts of his daughter Sheerah. Our impact isn't measured by number alone, but by faith, character, and action.

3. Women Had Influence Too

Sheerah, daughter of Ephraim, built cities—showing that even in a male-dominated record, God honored the legacy and achievements of women.

4. Faithfulness Leads to Readiness

The 26,000 men of Asher and the large armies from Issachar, Benjamin, and others weren't just physically strong—they were prepared. God honors preparation.

5. Grief and Hope Can Coexist

Ephraim's mourning over lost sons didn't stop God's purpose—He gave him another son, Beriah, and through him came a continued legacy, eventually leading to Joshua.

Key Lessons from 1 Chronicles Chapter 8

1. God Values Family History

Though the list of names is long, it shows how every generation matters. God records families because each one plays a part in His larger story.

2. From Ordinary to Royal

Saul, Israel's first king, came from a tribe not originally favored with kingship. God can raise anyone into leadership, regardless of background.

3. Legacy Is Not Just About You

Men like Ulam and Azel left behind a legacy of strength and influence. The next generation carried on what they built.

4. God Remembers the Unremembered

Even those whose stories we know little about—like Sheariah or Antothijah—were still important enough to be named in Scripture. God sees every person.

5. Strength in Generations

The Benjamites were known for being warriors, archers, and leaders. A pattern of strength and courage ran through their line, showing how character can be passed down.

1 Chronicles Chapter 9 — Crawford Standard Bible

Genealogies Preserved Through Exile

1 All the people of Israel were recorded in genealogies. These records were written in the Book of the Kings of Israel. But the people of Judah were taken captive to Babylon because of their unfaithfulness to God.

2 The first people to return and live again in their towns were Israelites, priests, Levites, and temple servants (the Nethinim).

The First Residents of Jerusalem After the Exile

3 In Jerusalem lived people from the tribes of Judah, Benjamin, Ephraim, and Manasseh.

4 Among them was Uthai, son of Ammihud, son of Omri, son of Imri, son of Bani—a descendant of Perez (son of Judah).

5 From the Shilonites: Asaiah, the firstborn, and his sons.

6 From the sons of Zerah: Jeuel and 690 of their relatives.

7 From the tribe of Benjamin: Sallu son of Meshullam, son of Hodaviah, son of Hassenuah;

8 Ibneiah son of Jeroham; Elah son of Uzzi, son of Michri; and Meshullam son of Shephatiah, son of Reuel, son of Ibnijah.

9 Their relatives, according to their family records, totaled 956. All were leaders of their families.

The Gatekeepers and Their Roles

17 The gatekeepers were Shallum, Akkub, Talmon, Ahiman, and their relatives. Shallum was the chief.

18 They guarded the king's gate on the east side and had served as gatekeepers for the Levites.

19 Shallum, son of Kore, son of Ebiasaph, son of Korah, and his relatives (the Korahites), were in charge of guarding the entrances to the sanctuary. Their ancestors had also been responsible for guarding the entrance to the camp of the Lord.

20 Phinehas, son of Eleazar, had been their leader in the past, and the Lord was with him.

21 Zechariah son of Meshelemiah was the gatekeeper at the entrance of the Tent of Meeting.

Porter Assignments and Legacy

22 In all, 212 men were chosen as gatekeepers. They were listed by family in their villages. David and the prophet Samuel had appointed them to this trustworthy role.

23 They and their descendants guarded the gates of the Lord's house—the tabernacle.

24 Gatekeepers were posted on all four sides: east, west, north, and south.

25 Their relatives would come from their towns every seven days to join them for duty.

26 These four main gatekeepers were Levites, and they had full responsibility for the rooms and treasuries in the house of God.

Other Temple Responsibilities

27 They stayed around the house of God because they were responsible for guarding it and opening it every morning.

28 Some of them were in charge of the temple's sacred utensils—they counted them when they were brought in and taken out.

29 Others were assigned to care for the furniture and all the other supplies in the sanctuary, including the flour, wine, oil, incense, and spices.

30 Certain priests were responsible for preparing the holy anointing oil.

31 Mattithiah, the firstborn of Shallum the Korahite, was assigned to oversee the baking of offerings in the pans.

32 Other Levites (from the Kohathites) were responsible for preparing the showbread every Sabbath.

The Musicians

33 These were the singers—leaders of the Levite families—who lived in temple rooms. They were exempt from other duties because they were responsible for music day and night.

34 These leaders of the Levite families lived in Jerusalem and were prominent through all generations.

Genealogy of King Saul

35 In Gibeon lived Jeiel (the father of Gibeon), and his wife's name was Maacah.

36 His first son was Abdon, followed by Zur, Kish, Baal, Ner, Nadab, 37 Gedor, Ahio, Zechariah, and Mikloth.

38 Mikloth was the father of Shimeam. They lived in Jerusalem near their relatives.

39 Ner was the father of Kish; Kish was the father of Saul; and Saul was the father of Jonathan, Malchishua, Abinadab, and Eshbaal.

40 Jonathan's son was Meribbaal, and Meribbaal was the father of Micah.

41 Micah's sons were Pithon, Melech, Tahrea, and Ahaz.

43 Moza was the father of Binea; Binea's son was Rephaiah; his son was Eleasah; and his son was Azel.

44 Azel had six sons: Azrikam, Bocheru, Ishmael, Sheariah, Obadiah, and Hanan. These were Azel's sons.

Key Lessons from 1 Chronicles Chapter 9

1. Faithfulness Is Remembered

Even after exile, God preserved the names and duties of the faithful—priests, Levites, singers, and gatekeepers. God never forgets those who serve Him.

2. Everyone Has a Role in God's House

From priests to porters, from singers to bakers—each task in the temple mattered. Your role, no matter how unseen, contributes to God's work.

3. Worship Requires Order

The detailed organization of the Levites, singers, and gatekeepers shows that worship isn't random—it's holy, structured, and intentional.

4. The Line of Saul Continues

The closing genealogy highlights Saul's descendants, including Jonathan and Micah, pointing to the continued relevance of his family—even after his fall.

5. God Restores What Was Lost

Though Israel fell and went into exile, the return of families to Jerusalem and temple service shows God's faithfulness to restore His people and purpose.

1 Chronicles Chapter 10 — Crawford Standard Bible

The Battle of Mount Gilboa

1 The Philistines went to war against Israel, and the men of Israel fled before them. Many Israelites were killed on Mount Gilboa.

2 The Philistines pressed hard after Saul and his sons, and they killed Jonathan, Abinadab, and Malchishua—Saul's sons.

The Death of King Saul

3 The battle turned fiercely against Saul. The enemy archers spotted him, and he was seriously wounded by their arrows.

4 Saul said to his armor-bearer, "Draw your sword and kill me before these uncircumcised Philistines come and torture me." But his armor-bearer was too afraid and refused. So Saul took his own sword and fell on it.

5 When the armor-bearer saw that Saul was dead, he also fell on his sword and died with him.

6 So Saul, his three sons, and his entire house died that day.

The Aftermath and Philistine Triumph

7 When the Israelites living in the valley saw the army retreat and heard that Saul and his sons had died, they abandoned their towns and fled. The Philistines came and settled in those towns.

8 The next day, the Philistines came to strip the dead and found Saul and his sons lying on Mount Gilboa.

9 They stripped off Saul's armor, cut off his head, and sent messengers throughout the land of the Philistines to spread the news to their idols and their people.

10 They placed his armor in the temple of their gods and hung his head in the temple of Dagon.

The Valor of Jabesh-Gilead

11 When the people of Jabesh-gilead heard what the Philistines had done to Saul,

12 all the brave men of the town rose up, retrieved the bodies of Saul and his sons, and brought them back to Jabesh. They buried their bones under the oak tree in Jabesh and fasted for seven days.

The Reason for Saul's Downfall

13 Saul died because he was unfaithful to the Lord. He disobeyed the word of the Lord and even consulted a medium to get guidance, 14 instead of seeking the Lord. So the Lord took his life and handed the kingdom over to David, the son of Jesse.

Key Lessons from 1 Chronicles Chapter 10

1. Disobedience Has Consequences

Saul's fall wasn't just a military loss—it was a spiritual collapse. His failure to obey God and his reliance on forbidden spiritual practices led to his death and the end of his dynasty.

2. God Requires Faithfulness

The contrast between Saul and David is foreshadowed here. Saul turned away from God; David, though imperfect, would be a man after God's own heart. God honors those who seek Him.

3. Even Heroes Can Fall

Saul was once chosen by God and anointed king, but even the mighty can fall if they reject God's ways. No one is above accountability.

4. Honor Amid Defeat

The men of Jabesh-gilead displayed great courage and loyalty by rescuing and honoring Saul's body, reminding us that even in loss, valor and respect still matter.

5. God Is Sovereign Over Nations

The chapter ends with a reminder that God removed Saul and gave the kingdom to David. Earthly kings rise and fall, but God's will always prevails.

1 Chronicles Chapter 11 — Crawford Standard Bible

David Is Anointed King of Israel

1 Then all the people of Israel came together to David at Hebron and said, "Look, we are your own flesh and blood.

2 Even when Saul was king, you were the one who led Israel in and out. And the Lord your God said to you, 'You will shepherd My people Israel, and you will be their ruler.'"

3 So all the elders of Israel came to David at Hebron, and he made a covenant with them there before the Lord. Then they anointed David king over Israel, just as the Lord had spoken through Samuel.

David Captures Jerusalem

4 David and all Israel went to Jerusalem (called Jebus at the time). The Jebusites were living there.

5 The people of Jebus said to David, "You will never get in here." But David captured the fortress of Zion, which is now called the City of David.

6 David said, "Whoever attacks the Jebusites first will become the commander of my army." Joab, son of Zeruiah, went up first—so he became the commander.

7 David made the fortress his home, and that’s why they called it the City of David.

8 He built up the city around it, from the Millo and onward. Joab rebuilt the rest of the city.

9 David kept growing stronger and stronger, because the Lord of Heaven’s Armies was with him.

David’s Mighty Men: Heroes of Valor

10 These are the leaders of David’s mighty warriors. They joined him in strengthening his kingdom, along with all Israel, to make him king—just as the Lord had promised concerning Israel.

The First Three Mighty Warriors

11 Here is the list of David’s mighty men:

- Jashobeam, a Hachmonite, was the chief of the officers. He raised his spear and killed 300 men in a single battle.

12 Next was Eleazar, son of Dodo the Ahohite, one of the top three warriors.

13 He was with David at Pas-Dammim when the Philistines assembled there for battle. The Israelite army fled, but Eleazar stood his ground in a field full of barley.

14 He and David defended it and struck down the Philistines. The Lord gave them a great victory.

The Brave Act at Bethlehem’s Well

15 Three of the thirty leaders went to David at the rock near the cave of Adullam, while the Philistine army camped in the valley of Rephaim.

16 David was in the stronghold, and the Philistine garrison was stationed in Bethlehem.

17 David longed for water and said, “If only someone would give me a drink from the well near the gate of Bethlehem!”

18 So the three broke through the Philistine lines, drew water from the well near Bethlehem’s gate, and brought it back to David. But he refused to drink it. Instead, he poured it out to the Lord

19 and said, “God forbid I drink this! This is like the blood of the men who risked their lives.” So he didn’t drink it. These were the kinds of heroic deeds these three warriors performed.

Abishai and Benaiah

20 Abishai, Joab’s brother, was the leader of the next group of three. He raised his spear against 300 men and killed them, making him as famous as the top three.

21 He was more honored than the other two and became their commander, though he was not one of the original three.

22 Benaiah son of Jehoiada, a valiant warrior from Kabzeel, performed many great feats. He struck down two of Moab's mightiest men. He also went into a pit on a snowy day and killed a lion.

23 He killed a huge Egyptian who was over seven feet tall and armed with a spear like a weaver's beam. Benaiah went against him with only a staff, grabbed the spear from the Egyptian's hand, and killed him with it.

24 These were the exploits of Benaiah son of Jehoiada, and he was famous among the three mighty men.

25 He was held in greater honor than the Thirty, but he was not one of the Three. David put him in charge of his personal bodyguard.

The Thirty Valiant Warriors

26 Other valiant warriors were:

- Asahel, Joab's brother; Elhanan, son of Dodo from Bethlehem,
27 Shammoth the Harorite, Helez the Pelonite,
28 Ira son of Ikkesh the Tekoite, Abiezer the Anathothite,
29 Sibbecai the Hushathite, Ilai the Ahohite,
30 Maharai the Netophathite, Heled son of Baanah the Netophathite,
31 Ithai son of Ribai from Gibeah in Benjamin, Benaiah the Pirathonite,
32 Hurai from the brooks of Gaash, Abiel the Arbathite,
33 Azmaveth the Baharumite, Eliabba the Shaalbonite,
34 the sons of Hashem the Gizonite, Jonathan son of Shage the Hararite,
35 Ahiam son of Sacar the Hararite, Eliphal son of Ur,
36 Hepher the Mecherathite, Ahijah the Pelonite,
37 Hezro the Carmelite, Naarai son of Ezbai,
38 Joel, brother of Nathan, Mibhar son of Hagri,
39 Zeleg the Ammonite, Naharai the Berothite (armorbearer of Joab),
40 Ira the Ithrite, Gareb the Ithrite,
41 Uriah the Hittite, Zabad son of Ahlai,
42 Adina son of Shiza the Reubenite (a leader of the Reubenites), and 30 men with him,
43 Hanan son of Maacah, Joshaphat the Mithnite,
44 Uzzia the Ashterathite, Shama and Jehiel sons of Hothan the Aroerite,
45 Jediael son of Shimri and his brother Joha the Tizite,
46 Eliel the Mahavite, Jeribai and Joshaviah sons of Elnaam, Ithmah the Moabite,
47 Eliel, Obed, and Jasiel the Mesobaite.

Key Lessons from 1 Chronicles Chapter 11

1. God Honors Covenant and Calling

David's rise to kingship wasn't just political—it was the fulfillment of God's promise. When people submit to God's will, His plan unfolds.

2. True Leadership Is Earned Through Service

David led Israel even before he wore the crown. He earned their trust long before he held their allegiance.

3. Victory Comes from God's Presence

David grew stronger because “the Lord of Heaven's Armies was with him.” Our success flows from God's favor, not just personal strength.

4. Loyalty and Courage Matter

The mighty men risked their lives for David. Their faithfulness and valor are honored in Scripture—proof that bravery and loyalty don't go unnoticed by God.

5. Leadership Recognizes the Sacrifice of Others

David refused to drink the water his men risked their lives to get. True leaders don't exploit the sacrifice of others—they honor it.

1 Chronicles Chapter 12 — Crawford Standard Bible

Mighty Warriors Join David at Ziklag

1 These are the men who came to David at Ziklag while he was hiding from Saul, son of Kish. They were among the warriors who helped him in battle.

2 They were skilled archers who could shoot arrows or sling stones with either their right or left hands. They were relatives of Saul from the tribe of Benjamin.

3 Their leaders were Ahiezer and Joash, sons of Shemaah from Gibeah; also Jeziel and Pelet, sons of Azmaveth; Beracah; and Jehu from Anathoth;

4 Ishmaiah the Gibeonite, a mighty man among the Thirty and their leader; Jeremiah, Jahaziel, Johanan, and Josabad from Gederah;

5 Eluzai, Jerimoth, Bealiah, Shemariah, and Shephatiah from Haruph;

6 Elkanah, Isshiah, Azarel, Joezer, and Jashobeam, the Korahites;

7 Joelah and Zebadiah, sons of Jeroham from Gedor.

The Fearless Gadite Warriors

8 From the tribe of Gad, brave warriors joined David in his stronghold in the wilderness. These were experienced soldiers trained for battle. They carried shields and spears, and their faces were like lions. They were as swift as gazelles on the mountains.

9 Ezer was the leader, Obadiah was second, Eliab third,
10 Mishmannah fourth, Jeremiah fifth,
11 Attai sixth, Eliel seventh,
12 Johanan eighth, Elzabad ninth,
13 Jeremiah tenth, and Machbannai eleventh.

14 These Gadites were commanders in the army. The weakest among them could take on a hundred men, and the strongest, a thousand.

15 They were the ones who crossed the Jordan River in the first month when it was flooding its banks. They drove out all those in the valleys, both to the east and west.

Loyal Men from Benjamin and Judah

16 Men from the tribes of Benjamin and Judah also came to David in his stronghold.

17 David went out to meet them and said, “If you’ve come in peace to help me, I will gladly welcome you. But if you’ve come to betray me to my enemies—even though I’ve done no wrong—may the God of our ancestors see it and punish you.”

18 Then the Spirit of God came upon Amasai, the leader of the Thirty, and he said, “We are yours, David! We are with you, son of Jesse! Peace to you, and peace to those who help you, for your God is with you.” So David accepted them and made them leaders in his army.

More Warriors Join David

19 Some men from Manasseh also joined David when he went with the Philistines to fight against Saul. But the Philistine leaders didn’t trust David and sent him away, thinking he might turn against them in the battle.

20 When David returned to Ziklag, these men from Manasseh joined him: Adnah, Jozabad, Jediael, Michael, Jozabad, Elihu, and Zillethai—each a commander over a thousand troops in Manasseh.

21 They helped David defeat raiding bands, for they were all brave and experienced warriors and became commanders in his army.

22 Day after day, more men joined David until he had a great army—like an army of God.

The Army That Made David King

23 Here is the list of the warriors who came to David at Hebron to help turn Saul’s kingdom over to him, just as the Lord had promised:

24 From Judah: 6,800 armed with shields and spears.

25 From Simeon: 7,100 brave warriors.

26 From Levi: 4,600.

27 Jehoiada led 3,700 of the Aaronite priests.

28 Zadok, a young warrior, brought 22 leaders from his own family.

29 From Benjamin, Saul’s tribe: 3,000 men (most had remained loyal to Saul until then).

30 From Ephraim: 20,800 brave and famous warriors.

31 From half the tribe of Manasseh: 18,000 specially chosen to make David king.

32 From Issachar: 200 leaders who understood the times and knew what Israel should do. All their relatives followed their lead.

33 From Zebulun: 50,000 seasoned troops prepared for battle with every kind of weapon. They were fully loyal.

34 From Naphtali: 1,000 officers and 37,000 soldiers with shields and spears.

35 From Dan: 28,600 battle-ready men.

36 From Asher: 40,000 trained for war.

37 From the east side of the Jordan—Reuben, Gad, and the other half of Manasseh: 120,000 fully equipped for battle.

Unity and Celebration at Hebron

38 All these warriors came to Hebron fully united in purpose—to make David king over all Israel. And all the rest of Israel agreed wholeheartedly.

39 They stayed with David for three days, eating and drinking, because their relatives had made preparations for them.

40 Neighbors from as far as Issachar, Zebulun, and Naphtali brought food on donkeys, camels, mules, and oxen—plenty of flour, fig cakes, raisin cakes, wine, oil, cattle, and sheep. There was great joy in Israel.

Key Lessons from 1 Chronicles Chapter 12

1. God Provides Loyal Help When You're in Hiding

While David was on the run, God sent skilled warriors to support him. Even in our low seasons, God raises up the right people.

2. True Strength Is Found in Unity of Heart

The warriors came from many tribes, but they were all united in purpose—to establish David as king. Unity is powerful when it's rooted in God's plan.

3. Discernment and Courage Go Together

The men of Issachar “understood the times and knew what Israel should do.” Spiritual insight combined with bold action brings clarity to uncertain situations.

4. Service and Sacrifice Matter

Those who couldn't fight still served—they brought food, supplies, and support. Everyone had a role, and all were part of the joy.

5. Victory Is a Community Celebration

When David was made king, it wasn't just a coronation—it was a feast, a symbol of restoration. When God's will prevails, the whole community rejoices.

1 Chronicles Chapter 13 — Crawford Standard Bible

David Proposes to Bring Back the Ark

1 David consulted with all his commanders—those over thousands and hundreds—and with every leader.

2 He said to the entire assembly of Israel, “If you agree, and if it is the will of the Lord our God, let’s send word to the rest of our people throughout all Israel, including the priests and Levites in their towns and nearby lands, asking them to join us.

3 Let’s bring back the Ark of our God, for we didn’t seek it during the reign of Saul.”

4 The whole assembly agreed, because everyone saw that it was the right thing to do.

The Ark Is Moved from Kirjath-Jearim

5 So David gathered all Israel, from the border of Egypt at the Shihor River to the entrance of Hamath, to bring the Ark of God from Kiriath-jearim.

6 David and all Israel went up to Baalah (that is, Kiriath-jearim in Judah) to bring up the Ark of God, the Lord who is enthroned between the cherubim—where His name is called upon.

7 They placed the Ark of God on a new cart and brought it from the house of Abinadab, with Uzzah and Ahio guiding the cart.

8 David and all Israel were celebrating before God with all their strength—singing songs and playing harps, lyres, tambourines, cymbals, and trumpets.

Uzzah Dies for Touching the Ark

9 But when they arrived at the threshing floor of Chidon, the oxen stumbled, and Uzzah reached out his hand to steady the Ark.

10 The Lord’s anger burned against Uzzah, and He struck him down for touching the Ark. Uzzah died there in the presence of God.

11 David was upset because the Lord had broken out in anger against Uzzah, so that place is still called Perez-uzzah (which means “the outbreak against Uzzah”).

12 That day David was afraid of God and said, “How can I ever bring the Ark of God home to me?”

13 So David did not take the Ark to the City of David but instead took it to the house of Obed-edom the Gittite.

14 The Ark of God stayed with the family of Obed-edom in his house for three months, and the Lord blessed him and everything he owned.

Key Lessons from 1 Chronicles Chapter 13

1. God's Presence Must Be Revered, Not Handled Casually

Uzzah's death reminds us that God's holiness is not something to be taken lightly—even good intentions must align with God's instructions.

2. Worship Must Flow from Obedience

Though the celebration was joyful, the transportation of the Ark wasn't done the way God prescribed (see Numbers 4:15). Reverence and obedience matter more than excitement.

3. Spiritual Leadership Includes Wise Counsel and Humility

David first consulted the leaders and the people—he led with collaboration. But after Uzzah's death, David paused and sought God more carefully.

4. God's Presence Brings Blessing When Received Rightly

While David paused in fear, Obed-edom welcomed the Ark into his home—and God blessed everything he had. The presence of God blesses those who honor it properly.

5. Fear of the Lord Is the Beginning of Wisdom

David learned to treat the things of God with deep reverence. Sometimes, holy fear draws us back into right relationship with the Lord's holiness.

1 Chronicles Chapter 14 — Crawford Standard Bible

Hiram Sends Materials to Build David a Palace

1 King Hiram of Tyre sent messengers to David, along with cedar wood, stonemasons, and carpenters to build him a palace.

2 David realized that the Lord had established him as king over Israel and had made his kingdom strong for the sake of His people Israel.

David's Family Grows in Jerusalem

3 David took more wives in Jerusalem, and he had more sons and daughters.

4 These are the names of his children born there: Shammua, Shobab, Nathan, and Solomon,

5 Ibhar, Elishua, and Elpelet,

6 Nogah, Nepheg, and Japhia,

7 Elishama, Beeliada, and Eliphelet.

David Defeats the Philistines with God's Help

8 When the Philistines heard that David had been anointed king over all Israel, they came out in force to find him. David heard about it and went out to face them.

9 The Philistines came and spread out across the Valley of Rephaim.

10 David asked God, “Should I go out and fight the Philistines? Will You hand them over to me?”

The Lord replied, “Yes, go. I will hand them over to you.”

11 So David and his men went to Baal-perazim, and there he defeated them. David said, “God has broken through my enemies by my hand like a raging flood.” So they named that place Baal-perazim (meaning “The Lord of Breakthroughs”).

12 The Philistines abandoned their idols there, and David gave the command that they be burned.

A New Strategy: Listening for God's Timing

13 Once again, the Philistines spread out across the valley.

14 David again asked God what to do, and God said, “Don’t attack them directly. Circle around behind them and come at them near the mulberry trees.

15 When you hear the sound of marching in the tops of the trees, move quickly. That will be the signal that God has gone out ahead of you to strike down the Philistine army.”

16 So David did exactly what God commanded. He and his men struck down the Philistine army all the way from Gibeon to Gezer.

17 David’s fame spread everywhere, and the Lord caused all the nations to fear him.

Key Lessons from 1 Chronicles Chapter 14

1. God Confirms His Calling in Time

David recognized that God had truly established his reign. When God calls someone, He also brings affirmation and provision to carry out that calling.

2. Victory Comes Through Seeking God's Direction

David didn’t rely on past strategies—he sought God each time. One victory doesn’t guarantee the same path next time. God’s guidance is fresh and specific.

3. Spiritual Discernment Requires Patience

David waited to hear the sound in the trees before moving. Obedience to God's timing is as important as obedience to His instruction.

4. Burn the Idols—Don’t Tolerate Them

When the Philistines left their idols behind, David didn’t keep or reuse them—he destroyed them. We are to cast off and destroy what opposes the holiness of God.

5. God Fights for His People

The Lord of Breakthroughs (Baal-perazim) went ahead of David and gave the victory. God is not just watching—He’s actively working for those who trust Him.

1 Chronicles Chapter 15 — Crawford Standard Bible

David Prepares a Tent for the Ark

1 David built himself houses in the City of David. He also prepared a place for the Ark of God and set up a tent for it.

2 Then David said, “Only the Levites may carry the Ark of God, because the Lord chose them to carry it and serve Him forever.”

3 David assembled all Israel in Jerusalem to bring the Ark of the Lord to the place he had prepared for it.

David Organizes the Levites

4 David gathered the descendants of Aaron and the Levites:

5 From the Kohathites: Uriel the leader and 120 relatives.

6 From the Merarites: Asaiah the leader and 220 relatives.

7 From the Gershonites: Joel the leader and 130 relatives.

8 From the Elizaphanites: Shemaiah the leader and 200 relatives.

9 From the Hebronites: Eliel the leader and 80 relatives.

10 From the Uzzielites: Amminadab the leader and 112 relatives.

11 Then David summoned the priests Zadok and Abiathar, along with the Levite leaders: Uriel, Asaiah, Joel, Shemaiah, Eliel, and Amminadab.

12 He said to them, “You are the heads of the Levite families. Purify yourselves, you and your fellow Levites, so you can bring the Ark of the Lord, the God of Israel, to the place I’ve prepared for it.

13 The first time, the Lord our God broke out in anger against us because we didn’t seek Him the proper way.”

14 So the priests and Levites purified themselves in order to carry the Ark of the Lord, the God of Israel.

15 The Levites carried the Ark of God on their shoulders using the poles, just as Moses had commanded based on the word of the Lord.

Worship Leaders and Musicians Appointed

16 David instructed the leaders of the Levites to appoint singers to lead the people in joyful songs, accompanied by musical instruments—harps, lyres, and cymbals.

17 So the Levites appointed Heman son of Joel, along with Asaph son of Berechiah, and Ethan son of Kushaiah from the Merarite clan.

18 Along with them were their second-rank relatives: Zechariah, Ben, Jaaziel, Shemiramoth, Jehiel, Unni, Eliab, Benaiah, Maaseiah, Mattithiah, Elipheleh, Mikneiah, and the gatekeepers Obed-edom and Jeiel.

19 The singers Heman, Asaph, and Ethan were to sound the bronze cymbals.

20 Zechariah, Aziel, Shemiramoth, Jehiel, Unni, Eliab, Maaseiah, and Benaiah played lyres tuned to Alamoth.

21 Mattithiah, Elipheleh, Mikneiah, Obed-edom, Jeiel, and Azaziah played harps tuned to the Sheminith.

22 Chenaniah, a skilled musician, was put in charge of the singing.

23 Berechiah and Elkanah served as gatekeepers for the Ark.

24 The priests Shebaniah, Jehoshaphat, Nethanel, Amasai, Zechariah, Benaiah, and Eliezer blew trumpets in front of the Ark of God. Obed-edom and Jehiah were also gatekeepers for the Ark.

The Ark Brought to Jerusalem with Celebration

25 Then David, the elders of Israel, and the army commanders joyfully brought up the Ark of the covenant of the Lord from the house of Obed-edom.

26 Because God was helping the Levites who carried the Ark of the covenant, they offered seven bulls and seven rams as sacrifices.

27 David was dressed in a fine linen robe, just like all the Levites who carried the Ark, the singers, and Chenaniah the choir director. David also wore a linen ephod.

28 So all Israel brought up the Ark of the covenant of the Lord with shouts of joy, blowing of ram's horns and trumpets, and the clash of cymbals and music played on harps and lyres.

29 As the Ark of the covenant of the Lord was entering the City of David, Michal the daughter of Saul looked out the window. When she saw King David dancing and celebrating, she was filled with contempt for him in her heart.

Key Lessons from 1 Chronicles Chapter 15

1. God Deserves Our Obedience in Worship

The first attempt to move the Ark failed because God's order was not followed. This time, David ensured it was done properly—according to God's command. Reverence matters.

2. Worship Is a Community Event

David involved priests, Levites, musicians, singers, and even gatekeepers. Worship wasn't a one-man show—it was a sacred act of national unity.

3. Joy Should Accompany God's Presence

The return of the Ark was celebrated with singing, dancing, and rejoicing. When God is honored, celebration is appropriate.

4. Leaders Must Lead in Holiness

David called the priests and Levites to purify themselves first. Those who serve in God's presence must be clean—set apart for His purpose.

5. Some Will Misunderstand Your Worship

Michal despised David for his passionate praise. True worship may be misunderstood by others, but we worship for an audience of One.

1 Chronicles Chapter 16 — Crawford Standard Bible

The Ark Is Placed in the Tent

1 They brought the Ark of God and placed it in the center of the tent David had set up for it. Then they offered burnt offerings and peace offerings before God.

2 When David had finished offering the sacrifices, he blessed the people in the name of the Lord.

3 He gave a loaf of bread, a portion of meat, and a cake of raisins to every man and woman in Israel.

Levites Appointed for Worship

4 David appointed some of the Levites to serve before the Ark of the Lord by offering praise and thanks to the Lord, the God of Israel.

5 Asaph was the chief, with Zechariah next, followed by Jeiel, Shemiramoth, Jehiel, Mattithiah, Eliab, Benaiah, and Obed-edom. Jeiel played harps and lyres, while Asaph sounded the cymbals.

6 Benaiah and Jahaziel, who were priests, blew trumpets regularly before the Ark of the covenant of God.

David's Psalm of Thanks

7 On that day David first gave this psalm of thanks to the Lord through Asaph and his fellow Levites:

8 Give thanks to the Lord and proclaim His name; make His deeds known among the nations.

9 Sing to Him; sing praises to Him; tell about all His wonderful acts.

10 Take pride in His holy name; let the hearts of those who seek the Lord rejoice.

11 Search for the Lord and His strength; seek His face always.

12 Remember the wonders He has performed, His miracles, and the judgments He has spoken.

13 You descendants of His servant Israel, you children of Jacob, His chosen ones.

14 He is the Lord our God; His judgments are seen throughout the earth.

15 Always remember His covenant—the promise He made to a thousand generations—

16 the covenant He made with Abraham, the oath He swore to Isaac.

17 He confirmed it to Jacob as a decree, and to Israel as a permanent covenant:

18 “To you I will give the land of Canaan as your portion of inheritance.”

19 When they were few in number, very few, and strangers in the land,

20 they wandered from nation to nation, from one kingdom to another.

21 He allowed no one to oppress them; He rebuked kings for their sake,

22 saying, “Do not touch My anointed ones, and do My prophets no harm.”

23 Let the whole earth sing to the Lord! Each day proclaim the good news that He saves.

24 Declare His glory among the nations, His wonders among all peoples.

25 For the Lord is great and greatly to be praised; He is to be feared above all gods.

26 The gods of other nations are mere idols, but the Lord made the heavens.

27 Honor and majesty surround Him; strength and joy fill His dwelling.
28 O families of the nations, give to the Lord—give Him glory and strength.
29 Give to the Lord the glory due His name! Bring an offering and come before Him. Worship the Lord in the splendor of His holiness.
30 Let all the earth tremble before Him; the world is firmly established, it cannot be shaken.
31 Let the heavens be glad, and the earth rejoice! Let them say among the nations, “The Lord reigns!”
32 Let the sea roar and everything in it; let the fields rejoice and everything in them.
33 Let the trees of the forest sing for joy before the Lord, for He is coming to judge the earth.
34 Give thanks to the Lord, for He is good! His faithful love endures forever.
35 Cry out, “Save us, O God of our salvation! Gather us and rescue us from the nations, so we can give thanks to Your holy name and glory in Your praise.”
36 Blessed be the Lord, the God of Israel, forever and ever. Then all the people said, “Amen!” and praised the Lord.

Ongoing Worship Before the Ark

37 David left Asaph and his brothers there before the Ark of the covenant of the Lord to minister before it regularly, according to each day's responsibilities.
38 Obed-edom and sixty-eight of his relatives also served there. Obed-edom son of Jeduthun and Hosah were appointed as gatekeepers.
39 Meanwhile, Zadok the priest and his fellow priests served before the tabernacle of the Lord at the high place in Gibeon.
40 They presented burnt offerings to the Lord on the altar regularly, morning and evening, as the Law of the Lord commanded Israel.
41 With them were Heman, Jeduthun, and the rest who had been chosen and named to give thanks to the Lord—“His faithful love endures forever.”
42 Heman and Jeduthun also had with them trumpets and cymbals for those who played and praised God, as well as other instruments for sacred music. The sons of Jeduthun were assigned as gatekeepers.

David Returns Home

43 Then all the people returned to their homes, and David went home to bless his own household.

Key Lessons from 1 Chronicles Chapter 16

1. Worship Must Be Organized and Intentional

David appointed Levites, musicians, and priests with specific roles. Worship isn't haphazard—it involves preparation, order, and reverence.

2. Praise Is a Response to God’s Presence

When the Ark arrived, the people didn’t just observe—they offered sacrifices, sang, and celebrated with thanksgiving and joy.

3. Public Thanksgiving Has Power

David’s psalm reminds the people to tell others about God’s works and declare His glory among all nations. Worship is meant to be a witness.

4. God’s Covenant Is Worth Remembering

David’s song praises God’s promises to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. Recalling God’s faithfulness builds faith for the future.

5. The Lord Reigns Over All

Despite the presence of many false gods in the world, the psalm boldly proclaims: “The Lord reigns!”—a truth worth shouting across the nations.

6. True Worship Involves Giving

The people brought offerings, and David gave food and drink to all. Worship is not just singing—it’s generosity, sacrifice, and celebration.

1 Chronicles Chapter 17 — Crawford Standard Bible

David Desires to Build a House for God

1 After David had settled into his palace, he said to Nathan the prophet, “Look, I’m living in a house made of cedar, but the Ark of the covenant of the Lord is under a tent.”

2 Nathan replied, “Do whatever is in your heart, for God is with you.”

God’s Message to David

3 But that night, the word of God came to Nathan:

4 “Go and tell my servant David, ‘This is what the Lord says: You are not the one to build a house for me to live in.

5 From the day I brought Israel out of Egypt until now, I have never lived in a house. I have moved from tent to tent, and from one dwelling to another.

6 Wherever I went with all Israel, did I ever ask any of Israel’s judges, whom I appointed to shepherd my people, ‘Why haven’t you built me a house of cedar?’”

God’s Covenant with David

7 “Now then, tell my servant David, ‘This is what the Lord of Heaven’s Armies says: I took you from the pasture, from tending sheep, and made you ruler over my people Israel.

8 I have been with you wherever you went. I destroyed all your enemies before you and made your name as great as the names of the greatest men on earth.

9 I will provide a place for my people Israel and plant them there to live in peace. They will never be disturbed again, and violent people will no longer oppress them as they once did.

10 From the time I appointed judges to lead my people Israel, I will also subdue all your enemies. Furthermore, I declare to you that I, the Lord, will build a house for you!

11 When your days are complete and you go to be with your ancestors, I will raise up one of your sons to succeed you, and I will establish his kingdom.

12 He is the one who will build a house for me, and I will establish his throne forever.

13 I will be his Father, and he will be my son. I will never take my love away from him as I took it from the one before you.

14 I will place him in my house and my kingdom forever, and his throne will be established forever.”

15 Nathan reported all these words and this vision to David.

David’s Prayer of Gratitude

16 Then King David went in and sat before the Lord. He said, “Who am I, O Lord God, and what is my family, that you have brought me this far?

17 And now, God, you have spoken about the future of my house as though I were someone of great importance, O Lord God.

18 What more can I say to you for honoring your servant? You know your servant completely.

19 Lord, because of your promise and according to your will, you have done all these great things and made them known to your servant.

20 O Lord, there is no one like you. We have never even heard of another god besides you.

21 What other nation on earth is like your people Israel—whom God went out to redeem as His own people? You made yourself a name by performing great and awesome miracles and driving out nations before your people whom you redeemed from Egypt.

22 You made Israel your people forever, and you, Lord, became their God.

David Asks for the Promise to Be Fulfilled

23 “And now, Lord, let the promise you have made about your servant and his house be established forever. Do exactly what you have said.

24 Then your name will be honored forever, and people will say, ‘The Lord of Heaven’s Armies is the God over Israel!’ And the house of your servant David will be established before you.

25 You, my God, have revealed to your servant that you will build a house for him. That is why your servant has found the courage to pray this prayer to you.

26 O Lord, you are God! You have promised these good things to your servant.

27 Now please bless your servant’s household so that it may continue forever in your presence. For you, O Lord, have spoken, and when you bless, it is blessed forever.”

Key Lessons from 1 Chronicles Chapter 17

1. God's Plans Are Greater Than Ours

David wanted to build a house for God, but God had a bigger plan—to build an everlasting kingdom through David's line.

2. God Honors Humility and Faithfulness

David's heart to honor God with a temple was noble, and God rewarded him not with a building project—but with an eternal covenant.

3. God's Covenant Points to Christ

The promise of a throne established forever finds ultimate fulfillment in Jesus Christ, the Son of David.

4. God Keeps His Word

From leading Israel out of Egypt to establishing David's kingdom, every step shows that God is faithful to His promises.

5. Gratitude Deepens Our Relationship with God

David didn't just receive the promise—he sat before the Lord in humble gratitude and praised Him for His goodness and mercy.

6. God's Blessings Are Meant to Glorify His Name

David asked for the promise to be fulfilled so that God's name would be exalted—not merely for his own benefit.

1 Chronicles Chapter 18 — Crawford Standard Bible

David's Victories Over His Enemies

1 After this, David defeated the Philistines and brought them under his control. He captured Gath and its surrounding towns from their hands.

2 He also defeated Moab, and the Moabites became his subjects and brought him tribute.

3 David then defeated King Hadadezer of Zobah as far as Hamath, when Hadadezer went to restore his power at the Euphrates River.

4 David captured 1,000 chariots, 7,000 charioteers, and 20,000 foot soldiers from him. He crippled all the chariot horses, but spared enough for 100 chariots.

5 When the Arameans of Damascus came to help Hadadezer, David struck down 22,000 of them.

6 Then David set up garrisons in Aramean Damascus, and the Arameans became his subjects and brought him tribute. The Lord gave David victory wherever he went.

Wealth Dedicated to the Lord

7 David took the gold shields carried by Hadadezer's officers and brought them to Jerusalem.
8 He also took a large amount of bronze from Tibhath and Cun, cities that belonged to Hadadezer. Solomon later used that bronze to make the bronze basin, the pillars, and other bronze items for the Temple.

David Honored by Other Nations

9 When King Tou of Hamath heard that David had defeated the army of Hadadezer king of Zobah,
10 he sent his son Hadoram to greet King David and bless him for defeating Hadadezer, who had often been at war with Tou. Hadoram brought with him all kinds of gold, silver, and bronze items.
11 King David dedicated these gifts to the Lord, along with the silver and gold he had taken from all the nations: Edom, Moab, Ammon, the Philistines, and Amalek.

David's Control Over Edom

12 Abishai son of Zeruiah killed 18,000 Edomites in the Valley of Salt.
13 David then stationed garrisons in Edom, and all the Edomites became his subjects. The Lord gave David victory wherever he went.

David's Government Officials

14 So David reigned over all Israel, doing what was just and right for all his people.
15 Joab son of Zeruiah was in charge of the army. Jehoshaphat son of Ahilud was the royal historian.
16 Zadok son of Ahitub and Ahimelek son of Abiathar were the priests. Shavsha was the court secretary.
17 Benaiah son of Jehoiada was over the Cherethites and Pelethites (David's elite guards), and David's sons were his chief officials.

Key Lessons from 1 Chronicles Chapter 18

1. Victory Comes from the Lord

David's military success wasn't due to strategy alone—Scripture repeats that "the Lord preserved David wherever he went."

2. Use Success to Honor God

David didn't hoard the wealth he gained in battle. He dedicated the gold, silver, and bronze to the Lord as an act of worship and devotion.

3. God Fulfills His Promises

In the previous chapter, God promised to establish David's kingdom and give him rest from his enemies. Chapter 18 shows the unfolding of that promise.

4. Good Leadership Establishes Justice

David reigned with justice and righteousness over Israel. True godly leadership always seeks the good of the people.

5. Surround Yourself with Faithful People

David's administration included trusted leaders—Joab, Jehoshaphat, Zadok, Benaiah—each fulfilling essential roles. Wise rulers appoint capable and loyal people.

1 Chronicles Chapter 19 — Crawford Standard Bible

David's Kindness Misinterpreted

1 After this, Nahash, king of the Ammonites, died, and his son Hanun succeeded him.

2 David said, "I will show kindness to Hanun, son of Nahash, because his father showed kindness to me." So David sent messengers to express sympathy concerning his father. When David's men arrived in Ammonite territory to offer condolences to Hanun,

3 the Ammonite officials said to Hanun, "Do you really think David is honoring your father by sending comforters? Isn't it more likely that his men have come to spy out the land, overthrow it, and gather intelligence?"

4 So Hanun seized David's men, shaved them, cut off their robes at the hips—exposing them—and sent them away in disgrace.

David's Men Shamed

5 When David heard what had happened, he sent messengers to meet his men, for they were deeply humiliated. The king told them, "Stay at Jericho until your beards grow back, then return."

The Ammonites Hire Mercenaries

6 Realizing they had made themselves offensive to David, Hanun and the Ammonites sent 1,000 talents of silver to hire chariots and horsemen from Mesopotamia, Aram-Maacah, and Zobah.

7 They hired 32,000 chariots and the king of Maacah with his army. These forces came and camped near Medeba, while the Ammonites themselves gathered from their towns and prepared for war.

8 When David heard this, he sent Joab and the entire army of mighty warriors.

The Battle Plan: Unity in the Face of Danger

9 The Ammonites came and arranged themselves for battle at the city gate, while the allied kings positioned themselves in the open field.

10 When Joab saw they were surrounded—by enemies both in front and behind—he chose Israel’s elite warriors and lined them up against the Syrians.

11 The rest of the troops he placed under the command of his brother Abishai to face the Ammonites.

12 Joab said, “If the Syrians are too strong for me, you come help me. If the Ammonites are too strong for you, I’ll come help you.

13 Be strong and courageous! Let’s fight bravely for our people and the cities of our God. May the Lord do what seems good to Him.”

Victory Over the Ammonites and Syrians

14 Then Joab and his troops advanced to fight the Syrians, and the Syrians fled.

15 When the Ammonites saw that the Syrians had retreated, they too fled from Abishai and retreated into the city. Joab then returned to Jerusalem.

The Syrians Regroup and Are Defeated Again

16 The Syrians, humiliated by their defeat, gathered reinforcements from across the Euphrates. Shophach, the commander of Hadadezer’s army, led them.

17 David was told of this, and he gathered all Israel, crossed the Jordan River, and arranged his troops against them. When the battle began,

18 the Syrians fled from Israel. David’s forces killed 7,000 charioteers and 40,000 foot soldiers. They also killed Shophach, the commander of the army.

19 When Hadadezer’s officials saw their defeat, they made peace with David and became his subjects. After that, the Syrians refused to help the Ammonites again.

Key Lessons from 1 Chronicles Chapter 19

1. Good Intentions Can Be Misjudged

David tried to honor Nahash’s son, but Hanun listened to poor advice and turned an act of kindness into a cause for war. We should be careful whom we listen to and not assume evil where none exists.

2. Disgrace Can Wound Deeply

David respected the dignity of his men when they were humiliated by Hanun. True leaders care not only about victory but also about personal honor and healing.

3. Godly Courage Works Together

Joab and Abishai exemplified unity under pressure. They made a plan and supported one another, trusting God with the outcome. Spiritual battles are best fought side by side.

4. God Fights for His People

Both military victories—against the Ammonites and the Syrians—were made possible because God gave David success. When we walk in God’s will, He defends us.

5. Your Enemies Will Think Twice

After this chapter’s defeat, the Syrians never helped the Ammonites again. God has a way of silencing the forces aligned against His people.

1 Chronicles Chapter 20 — Crawford Standard Bible

David Captures Rabbah

1 In the spring of the year, when kings typically go out to war, Joab led out the army and devastated the land of the Ammonites. He went and besieged Rabbah, while David stayed behind in Jerusalem. Joab attacked and destroyed Rabbah.

2 David took the crown from the head of their king. It weighed a talent of gold and was adorned with precious stones. It was placed on David’s head. He also carried off great amounts of plunder from the city.

3 He brought out the people who were in the city and put them to work with saws, iron picks, and axes. David did the same to all the Ammonite cities. Then he and all the people returned to Jerusalem.

War Against the Philistines and the Giants

4 After this, there was a battle with the Philistines at Gezer. During the fight, Sibbecai the Hushathite killed Sippai, one of the descendants of the giants, and the Philistines were defeated.

5 Again there was war with the Philistines, and Elhanan son of Jair killed Lahmi, the brother of Goliath the Gittite. Lahmi’s spear had a shaft as thick as a weaver’s beam.

6 Once more there was war at Gath, where there was a huge man with six fingers on each hand and six toes on each foot—twenty-four in all. He too was descended from the giant.

7 When he taunted Israel, Jonathan son of Shimea, David’s brother, struck him down.

8 These descendants of the giant in Gath were all defeated by David and his warriors.

Key Lessons from 1 Chronicles Chapter 20

1. Even Great Leaders Can Stay Behind

While Joab went to war, David remained in Jerusalem. This detail echoes a critical moment in David's life (expanded in 2 Samuel 11), reminding us that spiritual idleness can open the door to temptation.

2. God Grants Victory Over Every Enemy

The Israelites conquered Rabbah and subdued powerful Philistine warriors—even descendants of giants. God's strength, not human might, ultimately secures the victory.

3. Faithful Servants Share in the Triumph

Though David is the king, the chapter highlights the victories of his loyal men—Joab, Sibbecai, Elhanan, and Jonathan. God uses a team of the faithful to accomplish His purposes.

4. The Giants Still Fall

The giants of Gath, descendants of the same stock as Goliath, continued to rise—but each one fell. No matter how big the opposition seems, those who defy God will fall before those who trust Him.

5. Honor Comes Through Obedience

David wore a crown of gold, but true honor wasn't in the crown—it was in the obedience to God's calling to protect Israel and lead his people with courage.

1 Chronicles Chapter 21 — Crawford Standard Bible

David's Sin in Numbering Israel

1 Satan rose up against Israel and provoked David to take a census of the people.

2 So David said to Joab and the commanders of the army, "Go and count all the people of Israel from Beersheba in the south to Dan in the north. Bring me a report so I may know how many there are."

3 But Joab replied, "May the Lord make His people a hundred times more numerous than they are! But, my lord the king, aren't they all your servants? Why do you want to do this? Why bring guilt on Israel?"

4 But the king's command overruled Joab. So Joab left and went throughout all Israel. Then he returned to Jerusalem.

5 Joab gave David the results of the census: there were 1,100,000 men who could handle a sword in Israel, and 470,000 in Judah.

6 But Joab did not include the tribes of Levi and Benjamin in the count because the king's command was so offensive to him.

7 God was displeased with what had been done, so He struck Israel with a plague.

David Repents and Is Given a Choice

8 Then David said to God, "I have sinned greatly by doing this. Please forgive me for this foolish act."

9 Then the Lord spoke to Gad, David's prophet:

10 "Go and tell David, 'This is what the Lord says: I offer you three choices. Choose one, and I will carry it out against you.”

11 So Gad came to David and said, “This is what the Lord says:

12 You must choose one of these: three years of famine, three months of fleeing from your enemies, or three days of the sword of the Lord—a plague throughout the land, with the angel of the Lord bringing destruction to every corner of Israel. Decide what answer I should take back to the One who sent me.”

13 David said, “I’m in great distress. Let me fall into the hands of the Lord, for His mercy is very great. But do not let me fall into the hands of man.”

The Plague and the Angel of the Lord

14 So the Lord sent a plague on Israel, and 70,000 people died.

15 God sent an angel to destroy Jerusalem. But just as the angel was doing so, the Lord looked and relented concerning the disaster and said to the angel, “Enough! Withdraw your hand.” The angel of the Lord was standing by the threshing floor of Ornan the Jebusite.

16 David looked up and saw the angel of the Lord standing between heaven and earth with a drawn sword in his hand stretched out over Jerusalem. David and the elders, dressed in sackcloth, fell facedown.

17 David cried out to God, “Wasn’t it I who ordered the census? I am the one who has sinned and done wrong. But these people are like sheep—what have they done? Lord my God, let Your hand fall upon me and my family, but do not let this plague remain on Your people.”

David Builds an Altar

18 Then the angel of the Lord told Gad to instruct David to build an altar to the Lord on the threshing floor of Ornan the Jebusite.

19 So David went to do what Gad had told him in the name of the Lord.

20 When Ornan turned and saw the angel, he and his four sons who were with him hid themselves. Ornan was threshing wheat at the time.

21 As David approached, Ornan looked and saw him and came out from the threshing floor and bowed with his face to the ground.

22 David said, “Sell me your threshing floor so I can build an altar to the Lord on it. Sell it to me for the full price, so the plague may be stopped.”

23 Ornan replied, “Take it! Let my lord the king do what seems best to him. I give you the oxen for burnt offerings, the threshing tools for firewood, and the wheat for the grain offering—I give it all.”

24 But King David replied, “No, I insist on paying the full price. I will not take what is yours and give it to the Lord. I will not offer burnt offerings that cost me nothing.”

25 So David paid Ornan 600 shekels of gold for the site.

26 David built an altar to the Lord there and offered burnt offerings and peace offerings. He called on the Lord, and the Lord answered him with fire from heaven on the altar.

27 Then the Lord commanded the angel, and he put his sword back into its sheath.

The Future Site of the Temple

28 When David saw that the Lord had answered him at the threshing floor of Ornan the Jebusite, he offered sacrifices there.

29 At that time, the Tabernacle of the Lord, which Moses had built in the wilderness, and the altar of burnt offering were at the high place in Gibeon.

30 But David could not go there to ask the Lord for guidance, because he was afraid of the sword of the angel of the Lord.

Key Lessons from 1 Chronicles Chapter 21

1. Even the Great Can Stumble

David, a man after God's own heart, was provoked and made a prideful decision—counting the people out of insecurity or vanity. Even spiritual leaders are not immune to temptation.

2. True Repentance Takes Responsibility

David didn't shift blame. He acknowledged his sin, confessed it, and sought mercy—not just for himself, but for the people under his care.

3. God's Mercy Triumphs Over Judgment

Though judgment came, God's mercy was visible. He stopped the angel and accepted David's sacrifice, showing that even in wrath, He remembers mercy (Habakkuk 3:2).

4. Worship Must Cost Something

David refused to offer God something that cost him nothing. True worship involves sacrifice—of pride, resources, and sometimes comfort.

5. God Turns Judgment into Redemption

The very place of punishment became the place of worship and blessing. That threshing floor would eventually become the site of Solomon's Temple—a holy place born out of repentance.

1 Chronicles Chapter 22 — Crawford Standard Bible

David Declares the Temple Site

1 Then David said, "This is the site for the house of the Lord God, and this is the altar for Israel's burnt offerings."

David Prepares for the Temple Construction

2 David ordered all the foreigners living in Israel to be gathered together. He assigned stonecutters to shape large blocks of stone to build the Temple of God.

3 He also prepared an abundance of iron for nails and fittings for the gates and doors, and an immeasurable amount of bronze.

4 He gathered a great supply of cedar logs as well, for the people of Sidon and Tyre had brought many cedar logs to David.

5 David said, “My son Solomon is young and inexperienced, and the Temple to be built for the Lord must be magnificent—famous and glorious in every land. So I will begin making preparations for it.” So David prepared materials in large quantities before his death.

David Charges Solomon to Build the Temple

6 Then he called for his son Solomon and gave him the assignment to build a house for the Lord, the God of Israel.

7 David said to Solomon, “My son, I wanted to build a Temple to honor the name of the Lord my God.

8 But the word of the Lord came to me: ‘You have shed much blood and fought many wars. You are not to build a house for My name, because you have spilled so much blood on the earth in My sight.

9 But you will have a son who will be a man of peace. I will give him peace with his enemies on every side. His name will be Solomon, and during his reign I will grant peace and quiet to Israel.

10 He is the one who will build a house to honor My name. He will be My son, and I will be his Father. And I will establish the throne of his kingdom over Israel forever.’

11 Now, my son, may the Lord be with you and give you success as you build the house of the Lord your God, just as He promised.

12 May the Lord give you wisdom and understanding as He puts you in charge of Israel so you may keep the Law of the Lord your God.

13 Then you will succeed if you carefully obey the decrees and regulations the Lord gave to Moses for Israel. Be strong and courageous. Don’t be afraid or discouraged.

Resources and Workers Provided for Solomon

14 “Now look, with great effort I have provided for the construction of the Lord’s Temple: 100,000 talents of gold, 1,000,000 talents of silver, and so much bronze and iron that it cannot even be weighed. I have also gathered wood and stone, and you may add to them.

15 You have a large number of skilled craftsmen—stonecutters, masons, carpenters, and people skilled in every kind of work.

16 The gold, silver, bronze, and iron are beyond measure. So get to work, and may the Lord be with you!”

David Commands the Leaders to Support Solomon

17 Then David ordered all the leaders of Israel to support his son Solomon.

18 He said, “Isn’t the Lord your God with you? Hasn’t He given you peace on every side? He has handed over the people of the land to me, and the land is now subject to the Lord and His people.

19 So now, devote your heart and soul to seek the Lord your God. Start building the sanctuary of the Lord God so that the Ark of the Covenant and the holy items of God may be brought into the Temple built to honor the Lord's name.”

Key Lessons from 1 Chronicles Chapter 22

1. Preparation Is a Form of Worship

David couldn't build the Temple himself, but he did all he could to prepare the way for Solomon. Even when we can't fulfill a task directly, we can still honor God by preparing others to succeed.

2. God's Call Is Specific and Sovereign

Though David desired to build the Temple, God made it clear that it would be Solomon's task. God chooses the right person for the right season—David was the warrior, Solomon would be the builder.

3. Leadership Means Empowering the Next Generation

David not only passed the torch to Solomon but also rallied the nation's leaders to support him. Wise leaders prepare successors and build support around them.

4. Success Depends on Obedience

David's charge to Solomon was centered on obedience to God's Word. Strength, courage, and wisdom are only effective when grounded in faithfulness to God.

5. Every Heart Should Seek to Build God's House

David urged everyone to set their heart on seeking God and building His house. Our lives today should be centered around God's presence, purpose, and praise.

1 Chronicles Chapter 23 — Crawford Standard Bible

David Appoints Solomon as King

1 When David was old and full of years, he made his son Solomon king over Israel.

2 He gathered together all the leaders of Israel, along with the priests and the Levites.

Levites Counted and Assigned Duties

3 The Levites were registered—every man thirty years old and older—and the total number of men was 38,000.

4 From this number, David assigned 24,000 to oversee the work on the Temple of the Lord, 6,000 to serve as officials and judges,

5 4,000 as gatekeepers, and another 4,000 to praise the Lord with musical instruments that David had made for this purpose.

6 Then David divided them into groups based on the three sons of Levi: Gershon, Kohath, and Merari.

The Descendants of Gershon

7 The sons of Gershon were Laadan and Shimei.

8 Laadan's sons were Jehiel (the chief), Zetham, and Joel—three in all.

9 Shimei's sons were Shelomith, Haziël, and Haran—also three. These were the leaders of Laadan's families.

10 The sons of Shimei were Jahath, Zina, Jeush, and Beriah—four in total.

11 Jahath was the first, and Zizah was second. But Jeush and Beriah didn't have many sons, so they were counted as one family.

The Descendants of Kohath

12 The sons of Kohath were Amram, Izhar, Hebron, and Uzziel—four in all.

13 The sons of Amram were Aaron and Moses. Aaron and his descendants were set apart to dedicate the most holy things, to offer incense before the Lord, to serve Him, and to bless in His name forever.

14 The sons of Moses, the man of God, were counted as part of the tribe of Levi.

15 Moses had two sons: Gershom and Eliezer.

16 The chief son of Gershom was Shebuel.

17 Eliezer's only son was Rehabiah, and Rehabiah's descendants were many.

Other Kohathite Families

18 The chief of Izhar's descendants was Shelomith.

19 The sons of Hebron were Jeriah the first, Amariah the second, Jahaziel the third, and Jekameam the fourth.

20 The sons of Uzziel were Micah the first and Jesiah the second.

The Descendants of Merari

21 The sons of Merari were Mahli and Mushi. Mahli's sons were Eleazar and Kish.

22 Eleazar died without having sons—only daughters. Their cousins, the sons of Kish, married them.

23 Mushi's sons were Mahli, Eder, and Jeremoth—three in total.

Levites Assigned to Temple Duties

24 These were the descendants of Levi listed by their family heads. All were counted by name and assigned duties for service in the house of the Lord. This count included those twenty years old and older.

25 David said, “The Lord God of Israel has given His people peace so they can live in Jerusalem forever,

26 and the Levites will no longer need to carry the Tabernacle and its furnishings.”

27 So according to David’s final instructions, the Levites were registered starting from twenty years old and up.

28 Their duty was to assist the descendants of Aaron with the service of the Lord’s Temple—in the courtyards, the rooms, and in the purification of all sacred items and other duties required in the Temple.

29 They were responsible for the sacred bread, the fine flour for grain offerings, the unleavened wafers, what was baked on griddles, what was fried, and all measurements and quantities.

30 Each morning and evening they were to stand and give thanks and praise to the Lord.

31 They also presented burnt offerings to the Lord on the Sabbaths, at the new moon festivals, and on appointed feast days, as prescribed and continually performed before the Lord.

32 In this way they carried out their duties for the Tent of Meeting and the Holy Place, and helped their fellow Levites, the descendants of Aaron, in serving at the house of the Lord.

Key Lessons from 1 Chronicles Chapter 23

1. God Uses Every Generation

Though David was old, he continued to lead by preparing the next generation—Solomon and the Levites—to serve in God’s house. Age doesn’t disqualify us from impacting the future.

2. Organized Service Reflects God’s Order

David assigned duties to thousands of Levites with specific roles. Worship, administration, and service in God’s house require structure, accountability, and excellence.

3. Praising God Is a Sacred Duty

The Levites weren’t just workers—they were worshipers. 4,000 were assigned to praise the Lord daily with instruments. Worship should be central to our lives and ministries.

4. Generational Legacy Matters

Even descendants of Moses were carefully counted and honored. Our service and legacy can extend well beyond our own lifetime when we live faithfully before God.

5. Every Role in God’s House Has Value

Whether preparing food, guarding gates, or leading worship, each Levite had a specific and sacred duty. In the body of Christ, every part matters and contributes to His glory.

1 Chronicles Chapter 24 — Crawford Standard Bible

The Divisions of the Priests

1 These are the divisions of the sons of Aaron: Nadab, Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar.

2 But Nadab and Abihu died before their father and had no children, so only Eleazar and Ithamar served as priests.

3 David, with the help of Zadok from the descendants of Eleazar and Ahimelech from the descendants of Ithamar, organized them according to their assigned duties in the Temple.

Dividing the Priestly Families by Lot

4 More leaders were found among the descendants of Eleazar than among those of Ithamar, so they were divided accordingly. Sixteen family leaders came from the line of Eleazar and eight from Ithamar.

5 They were assigned duties by casting lots, all considered equal, because both Eleazar's and Ithamar's descendants were officers over the sanctuary and officers of God.

6 Shemaiah son of Nethanel, a Levite and scribe, recorded their names in front of King David, the leaders, Zadok the priest, Ahimelech son of Abiathar, and the family leaders of the priests and the Levites. One family was chosen from Eleazar, then one from Ithamar, in alternating order.

The 24 Priestly Divisions

7 The first lot fell to Jehoiarib, the second to Jedaiah,

8 the third to Harim, the fourth to Seorim,

9 the fifth to Malchijah, the sixth to Mijamin,

10 the seventh to Hakkoz, the eighth to Abijah,

11 the ninth to Jeshua, the tenth to Shecaniah,

12 the eleventh to Eliashib, the twelfth to Jakim,

13 the thirteenth to Huppah, the fourteenth to Jeshebeab,

14 the fifteenth to Bilgah, the sixteenth to Immer,

15 the seventeenth to Hezir, the eighteenth to Happizzesz,

16 the nineteenth to Pethahiah, the twentieth to Jehezkel,

17 the twenty-first to Jachin, the twenty-second to Gamul,

18 the twenty-third to Delaiah, and the twenty-fourth to Maaziah.

Their Temple Duties

19 These were the schedules of the priestly families, assigned to enter the Temple of the Lord according to the regulations given to them by Aaron their ancestor, as the Lord God of Israel had commanded.

More Levite Assignments

20 These were the other descendants of Levi:

From the descendants of Amram: Shubael, and from Shubael, Jehdeiah.

21 From Rehabiah: the first was Isshiah.

22 From the Izharites: Shelomoth; from Shelomoth, Jahath.

23 From the sons of Hebron: Jeriah the first, Amariah the second, Jahaziel the third, and Jekameam the fourth.

24 From the sons of Uzziel: Micah; from Micah, Shamir.

25 The brother of Micah was Isshiah, and from Isshiah came Zechariah.

26 From Merari: Mahli and Mushi; and from Jaaziah: Beno.

27 The sons of Merari through Jaaziah were Beno, Shoham, Zaccur, and Ibri.

28 Mahli's descendant was Eleazar, who had no sons.

29 Kish's descendant was Jerahmeel.

30 The sons of Mushi were Mahli, Eder, and Jerimoth. These were the Levites, listed by their ancestral families.

Casting Lots for Levite Duties

31 These Levite families also cast lots, just as their relatives the descendants of Aaron did, in the presence of King David, Zadok, Ahimelech, and the family leaders of the priests and Levites. The families of the oldest sons were treated the same as the youngest.

Key Lessons from 1 Chronicles Chapter 24

1. God Values Order in Worship

David organized the priesthood into 24 divisions to ensure worship and service in the Temple was done decently and in order. Structure enables consistent and faithful service to God.

2. Faithfulness Continues Through Generations

Although Nadab and Abihu died without children, the priesthood continued through Eleazar and Ithamar. God's work is not stopped by individual failures—it endures through obedient successors.

3. Leadership Is a Shared Responsibility

David involved multiple leaders—priests, scribes, Levites, and princes—in distributing roles. Ministry is best sustained through collaborative leadership.

4. Every Role, Great or Small, Is Recorded Before God

Even lesser-known Levites and families were counted and assigned work. God values every person who serves Him, no matter how public or private the role.

5. No Favoritism in God’s House

Lots were cast to assign duties, ensuring fairness. Whether a family was large or small, elder or younger, each had equal access to serve in the presence of God.

1 Chronicles Chapter 25 — Crawford Standard Bible

Musicians Appointed for Prophetic Worship

1 David and the army commanders set apart the sons of Asaph, Heman, and Jeduthun for the ministry of music. These men were to prophesy with lyres, harps, and cymbals. The list of men assigned to this service is as follows:

2 From the sons of Asaph: Zaccur, Joseph, Nethaniah, and Asarelah. These sons of Asaph served under their father’s direction and prophesied under the authority of the king.

3 From the sons of Jeduthun: Gedaliah, Zeri, Jeshaiiah, Hashabiah, Mattithiah, and Shimei—six in all. They served under their father Jeduthun, who prophesied using the harp to thank and praise the Lord.

4 From the sons of Heman: Bukkiah, Mattaniah, Uzziel, Shebuel, Jerimoth, Hananiah, Hanani, Eliathah, Giddalti, Romantiezzer, Joshbekashah, Mallothi, Hothir, and Mahazioth.

5 These were all sons of Heman, who was the king’s seer. Heman spoke the words of God and was given the responsibility to sound the trumpet (“lift the horn”). God blessed him with fourteen sons and three daughters.

The Musicians and Their Duties

6 All these men served under the authority of their fathers—Asaph, Jeduthun, and Heman—playing cymbals, harps, and lyres in the house of the Lord, following the king’s instructions.

7 Together with their relatives, all of them trained and skilled in music for the Lord, they numbered 288.

8 Young and old alike, teachers and students, cast lots for their duties—each family group assigned by lot.

The 24 Divisions of Musicians

9 The first lot fell to Joseph (of Asaph), with his sons and relatives—12 in total.

10 The second to Gedaliah, with his sons and relatives—12 in total.

- 11 The third to Zaccur—12.
 - 12 The fourth to Izri—12.
 - 13 The fifth to Nethaniah—12.
 - 14 The sixth to Bukkiah—12.
 - 15 The seventh to Jesharelah—12.
 - 16 The eighth to Jeshaiiah—12.
 - 17 The ninth to Mattaniah—12.
 - 18 The tenth to Shimei—12.
 - 19 The eleventh to Azareel—12.
 - 20 The twelfth to Hashabiah—12.
 - 21 The thirteenth to Shubael—12.
 - 22 The fourteenth to Mattithiah—12.
 - 23 The fifteenth to Jeremoth—12.
 - 24 The sixteenth to Hananiah—12.
 - 25 The seventeenth to Joshbekashah—12.
 - 26 The eighteenth to Hanani—12.
 - 27 The nineteenth to Mallothi—12.
 - 28 The twentieth to Eliathah—12.
 - 29 The twenty-first to Hothir—12.
 - 30 The twenty-second to Giddalti—12.
 - 31 The twenty-third to Mahazioth—12.
 - 32 The twenty-fourth to Romamtiezer—12.

Key Lessons from 1 Chronicles Chapter 25

1. Worship Is Prophetic and Powerful

Music in God's house was more than entertainment—it was a form of prophecy. These musicians sang and played under the inspiration of the Spirit.

2. Everyone Has a Role, Regardless of Status

Young and old, teacher and student, were equally included. God uses the seasoned and the new to glorify Him.

3. God Desires Skillful and Ordered Praise

David appointed the most gifted and well-trained to minister in music. Worship should be heartfelt and excellent.

4. Praise Was Central to Israel's Identity

With 288 skilled musicians, Israel didn't treat worship as a side ministry—it was central. Praise was organized, prioritized, and prophetic.

5. Family Legacy in Ministry Matters

Asaph, Heman, and Jeduthun passed on their gifts and calling to their sons and even daughters. God honors generational faithfulness.

1 Chronicles Chapter 26 — Crawford Standard Bible

Gatekeepers and Their Assignments

1 These are the divisions of the gatekeepers: From the Korahite clan, there was Meshelemiah son of Kore, from the family of Asaph.

2 The sons of Meshelemiah were: Zechariah the firstborn, Jediael the second, Zebadiah the third, Jathniel the fourth,

3 Elam the fifth, Jehohanan the sixth, and Elioenai the seventh.

4 The sons of Obed-edom were: Shemaiah the firstborn, Jehozabad the second, Joah the third, Sacar the fourth, Nethanel the fifth,

5 Ammiel the sixth, Issachar the seventh, and Peulthai the eighth—for God had blessed Obed-edom.

6 His son Shemaiah also had sons who were leaders in their family because they were strong and capable men.

7 The sons of Shemaiah were: Othni, Rephael, Obed, and Elzabad. His relatives Elihu and Semachiah were also strong and able men.

8 All these were descendants of Obed-edom—they and their sons and relatives were strong men, capable for the work—62 in total.

9 Meshelemiah had 18 strong sons and relatives.

10 Another gatekeeper was Hosah, from the Merari clan. He had sons: though Simri was not the firstborn, his father made him the chief.

11 The other sons of Hosah were Hilkiah the second, Tebaliah the third, and Zechariah the fourth. In total, Hosah had thirteen sons and relatives.

Gate Assignments by Lot

12 These gatekeepers were organized into divisions, just like the leaders, to serve in the house of the Lord.

13 Lots were cast for each gate, by family, whether large or small.

14 The lot for the East Gate fell to Shelemiah. Then for his wise son Zechariah, they cast lots, and the North Gate was assigned to him.

15 The South Gate went to Obed-edom, and his sons were given responsibility for the storerooms.

16 Shuppim and Hosah were assigned the West Gate and the Shallecheth Gate on the upper road. Guards were placed opposite one another.

17 Each day there were six guards at the East Gate, four at the North Gate, four at the South Gate, and two each for the storerooms.

18 At the Western complex (Parbar), there were four guards at the road and two at Parbar itself.

19 These were the gatekeeping divisions from the families of the Korahites and the Merarites.

Temple Treasuries and Officials

20 Of the Levites: Ahijah was in charge of the treasuries of the house of God and the dedicated gifts.

21 The sons of Laadan (from the Gershonite clan of Laadan) included the family leaders Jehieli,
22 and his sons Zetham and Joel. They were responsible for the treasuries of the house of the Lord.

23 Other clans included the descendants of Amram, Izhar, Hebron, and Uzziel.

24 Shebuel, a descendant of Moses' son Gershom, was the chief officer over the treasuries.

25 His relatives through Eliezer were: Rehabiah his son, Jeshaiiah, Joram, Zichri, and Shelomith.

26 This Shelomith and his relatives were in charge of all the dedicated gifts made by King David, the family leaders, commanders of thousands and hundreds, and other army leaders.

27 They had dedicated part of the war plunder to maintain the house of the Lord.

28 Everything dedicated by Samuel the seer, Saul son of Kish, Abner son of Ner, Joab son of Zeruah, and others was under the authority of Shelomith and his relatives.

Judges and Regional Leaders

29 From the Izharites: Chenaniah and his sons were assigned to external duties for Israel—as officials and judges.

30 From the Hebronites: Hashabiah and 1,700 capable men were officials responsible for Israel west of the Jordan—for both the Lord's work and the king's affairs.

31 Among the Hebronites was Jeriah, the leader of his family. In the fortieth year of David's reign, a genealogical search was conducted, and they found strong and capable men at Jazer in Gilead.

32 Jeriah's relatives numbered 2,700 capable family leaders. King David appointed them as officials over the Reubenites, the Gadites, and the half-tribe of Manasseh, handling all matters related to God and the king.

Key Lessons from 1 Chronicles Chapter 26

- 1. Faithful Service Includes Guarding the House of God
Gatekeepers weren't just guards—they had spiritual significance. God honors those who protect sacred spaces.
- 2. Every Role Matters in God's House
Whether guarding a gate, managing treasuries, or handling civic affairs, each task was essential to the functioning of God's work.
- 3. Legacy and Strength in Families
Obed-edom and his descendants were known for strength and faithfulness. God's blessings can ripple across generations.
- 4. Accountability and Stewardship
Men like Shelomith were trusted with resources dedicated to the Lord. God expects those in leadership to manage resources with integrity.
- 5. Civic and Spiritual Leadership Go Together
The Levites not only served in the temple—they also served as judges and administrators for the people. God's kingdom covers both worship and justice.

1 Chronicles Chapter 27 — Crawford Standard Bible

Army Divisions Serving the King

1 This is the list of the Israelites by their family leaders, military commanders over thousands and hundreds, and officers who served the king. They took turns in monthly shifts, coming in and going out throughout the year. Each shift had 24,000 men.

2 The commander of the first division for the first month was Jashobeam son of Zabdiel. His division had 24,000 men.

3 He was a descendant of Perez and led all the commanders of the army for the first month.

4 Over the second division, for the second month, was Dodai the Ahohite, with Mikloth as second in command. His division also had 24,000 men.

5 The third commander, for the third month, was Benaiah son of Jehoiada the high priest. His division had 24,000 men.

6 This was the same Benaiah who was a mighty warrior among the thirty and more famous than the thirty. His son Ammizabad took command over his division.

7 The fourth commander, for the fourth month, was Asahel, Joab's brother; after him came his son Zebadiah. Their division had 24,000 men.

8 The fifth, for the fifth month, was Shamhuth the Izrahite. His division had 24,000 men.

9 The sixth, for the sixth month, was Ira son of Ikkesh from Tekoa. His division had 24,000 men.

10 The seventh, for the seventh month, was Helez the Pelonite, from the tribe of Ephraim. His division had 24,000 men.

11 The eighth, for the eighth month, was Sibbecai the Hushathite, from the family of Zerah. His division had 24,000 men.

12 The ninth, for the ninth month, was Abiezer the Anetothite, from the tribe of Benjamin. His division had 24,000 men.

13 The tenth, for the tenth month, was Maharai the Netophathite, also of the Zerahites. His division had 24,000 men.

14 The eleventh, for the eleventh month, was Benaiah the Pirathonite, from the tribe of Ephraim. His division had 24,000 men.

15 The twelfth, for the twelfth month, was Heldai the Netophathite, from the family of Othniel. His division had 24,000 men.

Tribal Leaders of Israel

16 These were the leaders over the tribes of Israel:

- Over Reuben: Eliezer son of Zichri.
- Over Simeon: Shephatiah son of Maacah.
17 Over Levi: Hashabiah son of Kemuel.
- Over Aaron: Zadok.
18 Over Judah: Elihu, one of David's brothers.
- Over Issachar: Omri son of Michael.
19 Over Zebulun: Ishmaiah son of Obadiah.
- Over Naphtali: Jerimoth son of Azriel.
20 Over Ephraim: Hoshea son of Azaziah.
- Over the half-tribe of Manasseh (west): Joel son of Pedaiah.
21 Over the half-tribe of Manasseh in Gilead: Iddo son of Zechariah.

- Over Benjamin: Jaasiel son of Abner.
22 Over Dan: Azarel son of Jeroham.
These were the tribal officials of Israel.

David's Census and Its Limits

23 David did not count those under twenty years old, because the Lord had promised to increase Israel like the stars in the sky.

24 Joab son of Zeruiah began the census but didn't finish it, because God's anger fell on Israel for it. As a result, the final count was never recorded in King David's official chronicles.

Officials Over the King's Possessions

25 Azmaveth son of Adiel was in charge of the king's treasuries.

Jehonathan son of Uzziah was over the storehouses in the countryside, in cities, villages, and fortresses.

26 Ezri son of Chelub managed the field workers who farmed the land.

27 Shimei the Ramathite managed the vineyards. Zabdi the Shiphmite oversaw the wine produced from the vineyards.

28 Baal-hanan the Gederite was in charge of the olive and sycamore trees in the lowlands. Joash managed the stores of olive oil.

29 Shitrai the Sharonite was over the cattle in the region of Sharon. Shaphat son of Adlai managed cattle in the valleys.

30 Obil the Ishmaelite was in charge of the camels. Jehdeiah the Meronothite managed the donkeys.

31 Jaziz the Hagrite was over the flocks. All these officials were responsible for managing King David's property.

Royal Advisors and Counselors

32 Jonathan, David's uncle, was a wise counselor and scribe. Jehiel son of Hachmoni was responsible for educating the king's sons.

33 Ahithophel was the king's chief counselor. Hushai the Archite was the king's companion.

34 After Ahithophel came Jehoiada son of Benaiah, and also Abiathar.

Joab was the commander of the king's army.

Key Lessons from 1 Chronicles Chapter 27

1. God is a God of Order

David's military and administrative structures reflect the importance of organization and planning in God's kingdom.

2. Every Role Has Value

From commanders of armies to keepers of vineyards and flocks, every position had its place in serving the nation and the king.

3. God’s Promises Surpass Human Calculation

David refrained from counting those under 20 because he trusted God's promise to multiply Israel “like the stars.”

4. Be Careful with Ambition and Pride

The unfinished census reminds us that when leaders act in pride or outside of God’s instruction, consequences follow.

5. Surround Yourself with the Wise

David benefited from counselors like Jonathan, Ahithophel, and Hushai. Godly leaders seek wisdom from others.

1 Chronicles Chapter 28 — Crawford Standard Bible

David Assembles Israel’s Leaders

1 David summoned all the officials of Israel to Jerusalem—the tribal leaders, the commanders of the divisions that served the king, the commanders over thousands and hundreds, the stewards of the king’s and his sons’ property, the officers, the mighty warriors, and all the brave fighting men.

2 Then King David stood to his feet and said, “My brothers and my people, listen to me. I had it in my heart to build a house of rest for the Ark of the Covenant of the Lord and for the footstool of our God. I had made preparations to build it.

3 But God said to me, ‘You must not build a house for My name, because you are a man of war and have shed much blood.’

God Chooses Solomon

4 “Yet the Lord God of Israel chose me from my whole family to be king over Israel forever. He chose the tribe of Judah to rule, and from the house of Judah, He chose my father’s family. From among my father’s sons, it pleased Him to make me king over all Israel.

5 And out of all my sons—for the Lord has given me many—He chose Solomon to sit on the throne of the kingdom of the Lord over Israel.

6 He said to me, ‘Your son Solomon will build My house and My courts, for I have chosen him to be My son, and I will be his Father.

7 I will establish his kingdom forever if he remains faithful to obey My commands and laws, as he is doing now.’

A Charge to Israel and Solomon

8 “So now, in the presence of all Israel, the assembly of the Lord, and with God listening, I charge you: carefully obey all the commands of the Lord your God. Then you will continue to possess this good land and pass it on to your descendants forever.

9 And you, my son Solomon, get to know the God of your father. Serve Him with a whole heart and a willing mind. For the Lord searches every heart and understands every motive behind our thoughts. If you seek Him, you will find Him; but if you abandon Him, He will reject you forever.

10 So take this seriously. The Lord has chosen you to build a house for His sanctuary. Be strong and do it.”

David Gives Solomon the Temple Plans

11 Then David gave Solomon the plans for the temple’s porch, buildings, storerooms, upper rooms, inner rooms, and the Most Holy Place—

12 as well as the plans for all he had received by the Spirit concerning the courtyards, the surrounding rooms, the treasuries of God’s house, and the treasuries for the sacred things.

13 He also gave him instructions for the divisions of the priests and Levites, and for all the work related to the temple of the Lord, and for all the items to be used in worship.

14 He specified the weight of gold for each item used in service and the weight of silver for all the silver items used in service.

15 This included the weight of gold for the gold lampstands and their lamps, and the weight of silver for the silver lampstands and their lamps, according to the use of each lampstand.

16 He gave instructions for the weight of gold for each table used for the Bread of the Presence, and for the silver tables.

17 He specified the weight of pure gold for the meat hooks, bowls, and cups, and the weight of gold for each gold basin, and silver for each silver basin.

18 He also gave the weight of refined gold for the altar of incense and for the gold chariot—that is, the cherubim that spread their wings and overshadowed the Ark of the Covenant of the Lord.

19 David said, “All of this was made clear to me in writing from the hand of the Lord. He enabled me to understand all the details of the plan.”

David's Final Encouragement

20 Then David said to his son Solomon, "Be strong and courageous, and do the work. Do not be afraid or discouraged, for the Lord God, my God, is with you. He will not fail you or abandon you until all the work for the service of the house of the Lord is finished.

21 The divisions of the priests and Levites are ready to help you with all the work on God's house. Every skilled worker will help you in every kind of task. The officials and all the people will fully support you."

Key Lessons from 1 Chronicles Chapter 28

1. God Chooses According to His Purpose

David wanted to build the temple, but God chose Solomon instead. God's plans are not always the same as ours—but His purposes are perfect.

2. Obedience Secures God's Promises

Solomon's future success depended on obeying God's commands. God's blessings often flow through faithful obedience.

3. Worship Requires Preparation

David didn't just have a vision—he made preparations. He gathered materials, organized people, and passed on clear instructions. True worship involves intention and diligence.

4. God Searches the Heart

David's words to Solomon highlight an eternal truth: God knows our hearts and thoughts. Sincere worship and service must come from a willing and devoted heart.

5. God Equips Those He Calls

David reminded Solomon that God would not abandon him. When God assigns a task, He also provides the strength, people, and skill to complete it.

1 Chronicles Chapter 29 — Crawford Standard Bible

David's Personal Offering and Call to Give

1 Then King David said to the entire assembly, "My son Solomon—the one whom God has chosen—is still young and inexperienced. The task is great, because this structure is not for a man, but for the Lord God Himself.

2 So I have done my best to provide for the house of my God: gold for the gold items, silver for the silver, bronze for the bronze, iron for the iron, and wood for the wood, along with onyx stones, inlaid stones of various colors, all kinds of precious stones, and large quantities of marble.

3 And because of my devotion to the temple of my God, I am giving from my own private treasury of gold and silver in addition to everything I've already provided for the holy house.

4 This includes 3,000 talents of gold from Ophir and 7,000 talents of refined silver to overlay the walls of the buildings.

5 I am donating gold for gold things, and silver for silver items, and for every kind of work done by craftsmen. Now, who else is willing to consecrate themselves to the Lord today?"

The People Respond Generously

6 Then the family leaders, the tribal leaders of Israel, the commanders of thousands and hundreds, and the officials in charge of the king's work gave willingly.

7 They donated 5,000 talents and 10,000 darics of gold, 10,000 talents of silver, 18,000 talents of bronze, and 100,000 talents of iron.

8 Those who had precious stones gave them to the treasury of the house of the Lord, under the care of Jehiel the Gershonite.

9 The people rejoiced at the willing response of their leaders, for they had given freely and wholeheartedly to the Lord. King David also rejoiced greatly.

David Praises the Lord

10 Then David praised the Lord in front of the entire assembly. He said:
"Blessed are You, Lord, the God of Israel, our Father, forever and ever.

11 Yours, O Lord, is the greatness, the power, the glory, the victory, and the majesty. Everything in the heavens and on earth belongs to You. Yours is the kingdom, O Lord, and You are exalted as head over all.

12 Riches and honor come from You alone, and You rule over everything. Power and might are in Your hand, and it is by Your hand that people are made great and receive strength.

13 Now, our God, we thank You and praise Your glorious name.

David Acknowledges God's Provision

14 "But who am I, and who are my people, that we should be able to give this generously? Everything we have has come from You, and we have given You only what comes from Your hand.

15 We are foreigners and strangers in Your sight, as were all our ancestors. Our days on earth are like a passing shadow, without hope of permanence.

16 O Lord our God, all this abundance that we have provided for building You a temple for Your holy name comes from Your hand—it all belongs to You!

17 I know, my God, that You examine the heart and delight in integrity. With an upright heart I have willingly given all these things. And now I've seen with joy how Your people who are gathered here have also given to You freely.

18 O Lord, the God of our ancestors Abraham, Isaac, and Israel, keep this desire and thought in the hearts of Your people forever, and keep their hearts loyal to You.

19 And give my son Solomon a wholehearted devotion to obey Your commands, laws, and decrees, and to carry out the building of this magnificent structure I've made preparations for.”

Solomon Anointed King Again

20 Then David said to the entire assembly, “Now bless the Lord your God.” So all the people praised the Lord, the God of their ancestors, and they bowed low and worshiped the Lord and the king.

21 The next day they offered sacrifices to the Lord and presented burnt offerings: a thousand bulls, a thousand rams, and a thousand lambs, along with their drink offerings and many other sacrifices for all Israel.

22 They feasted and celebrated joyfully before the Lord that day. And for a second time, they proclaimed Solomon son of David king. They anointed him before the Lord to be the ruler and Zadok to be the priest.

Solomon's Reign Begins, David's Life Ends

23 Then Solomon sat on the throne of the Lord as king in place of his father David. He prospered, and all Israel obeyed him.

24 All the officials and mighty warriors, as well as all of King David's sons, pledged their loyalty to King Solomon.

25 The Lord greatly exalted Solomon in the sight of all Israel and gave him royal splendor unlike any king before him in Israel.

26 So David son of Jesse reigned over all Israel.

27 He reigned for forty years in total—seven years in Hebron and thirty-three years in Jerusalem.

28 He died at a ripe old age, having lived a long and rich life full of honor. Then his son Solomon became king in his place.

Final Records of David's Life

29 The events of King David's reign, from beginning to end, are recorded in the writings of Samuel the seer, Nathan the prophet, and Gad the seer.

30 These include everything about his reign, his power, and all the circumstances that surrounded him, Israel, and the kingdoms of the surrounding nations.

Key Lessons from 1 Chronicles Chapter 29

1. Generosity Flows from Devotion

David's and the people's offerings came from hearts full of love for God. True generosity is a spiritual act of worship.

2. Everything Belongs to God

David humbly recognized that all their wealth and possessions came from God. Giving to God is simply returning what is already His.

3. Praise and Worship Are Central

David led the people not only in giving but in worshiping and thanking God together. Praise was foundational to their dedication.

4. God Examines the Heart

It's not just the gift, but the heart behind the gift that God values. David's upright heart pleased the Lord.

5. Leadership Transition Requires God's Help

David prayed for Solomon to be loyal and obedient. Leaders need more than wisdom—they need wholehearted devotion to God.

Introduction to the Book of 2 Chronicles

The Rise and Fall of God's Chosen Dynasty

Title and Authorship

The book is titled "Chronicles," a word derived from the Latin chronicon, meaning "annals" or "a record of events in the order of time." While the books of 1 and 2 Chronicles were originally a single work, they were later divided into two parts in the Septuagint and subsequent translations. Second Chronicles focuses on the history of the southern kingdom of Judah, from the reign of Solomon to the Babylonian exile.

Jewish tradition attributes the authorship to Ezra the scribe, a priest who was instrumental in the post-exilic community's return to Jerusalem. While this is not certain, the book's emphasis on the temple, the priesthood, and the restoration of worship aligns well with Ezra's known priorities. The final redaction was likely completed during or after the Babylonian exile, drawing from royal annals, prophetic writings, and other historical records.

Historical Setting

Second Chronicles picks up the historical narrative where 1 Chronicles concludes, beginning with the reign of King Solomon (circa 970 B.C.) and his construction of the temple in Jerusalem. It spans a period of approximately 425 years, chronicling the reigns of the kings of Judah from the division of the kingdom to the decree of Cyrus the Great, which allowed the exiled Jews to return to Jerusalem (circa 538 B.C.). The book focuses exclusively on the kings of the Davidic line, tracing the covenant God made with David.

Purpose and Themes

The primary purpose of 2 Chronicles is to provide a theological history of the southern kingdom of Judah for the post-exilic community. It emphasizes the importance of faithful worship at the temple in Jerusalem and the consequences of disobedience to God's law. The author seeks to encourage the returning exiles by reminding them of their rich heritage, the covenant promises God made to David, and the hope of restoration that comes from repentance and obedience.

Key Themes:

- The Centrality of the Temple and Proper Worship
- The Davidic Covenant and God's Faithfulness to His Promises
- The Consequences of Obedience and Disobedience
- The Importance of Righteous Kingship
- The Role of Repentance and Revival in the Life of God's People
- God's Sovereignty and His Use of Foreign Nations for Judgment

Structure of the Book

- Chapters 1–9: The Reign of Solomon
 - Solomon's wisdom and wealth
 - The building and dedication of the temple
 - Solomon's prayer and God's covenant with him
 - The Queen of Sheba and Solomon's glory
- Chapters 10–36: The Kings of Judah
 - The division of the kingdom under Rehoboam
 - A series of kings, both good and evil
 - Emphasis on the reforming kings (e.g., Asa, Jehoshaphat, Joash, Hezekiah, Josiah)

- The decline and eventual destruction of Jerusalem and the temple
- The Babylonian exile and the promise of return under Cyrus

Spiritual Lessons

- True prosperity and security for a nation depend on its faithfulness to God.
- The temple and corporate worship are vital for the spiritual health of God's people.
- God is a God of both justice and mercy, punishing sin but also offering forgiveness to those who repent.
- Faithful leaders can lead their people to revival and restoration.
- The book demonstrates that God's covenant with David remains intact, providing hope for the future of God's people.

Jesus in 2 Chronicles

The book's unwavering focus on the Davidic dynasty and God's promise to establish a king from this line forever points directly to Jesus Christ. The righteous kings (Hezekiah and Josiah) serve as types of the ultimate King who would perfectly lead His people. The temple, which is central to the book, finds its ultimate fulfillment in Jesus, who declared Himself to be greater than the temple and who, through His body, became the dwelling place of God. The constant cycle of sin, judgment, and repentance highlights the need for a final and perfect sacrifice that would permanently atone for sin, a role fulfilled by Jesus on the cross.

Key Verse

“The Lord will be with you as long as you are with him! If you seek him, you will find him. But if you abandon him, he will abandon you.” —2 Chronicles 15:2

2 Chronicles Chapter 1 — Crawford Standard Bible

Solomon Begins His Reign

1 Solomon, son of David, firmly established his rule over his kingdom, and the Lord his God was with him and made him exceedingly powerful.

2 Solomon then spoke to all Israel—to the commanders of thousands and hundreds, to the judges, and to all the leaders in Israel, the heads of the families.

3 He and the entire assembly went to the high place at Gibeon, because that's where the tabernacle of meeting with God was located—the one Moses, the Lord's servant, had made in the wilderness.

4 But the Ark of God had already been brought by David from Kiriath-jearim to the place he had prepared for it, because he had pitched a special tent for it in Jerusalem.

5 The bronze altar that Bezalel son of Uri, the son of Hur, had made was still in front of the tabernacle of the Lord. So Solomon and the assembly sought the Lord there.

Solomon's Lavish Offering and Divine Encounter

6 Solomon went up to the bronze altar before the Lord at the tent of meeting and offered a thousand burnt offerings on it.

7 That night, God appeared to Solomon and said, "Ask for whatever you want me to give you."

8 Solomon said to God, "You showed great love and kindness to my father David, and now You have made me king in his place.

9 Lord God, let Your promise to David my father come true. For You have made me king over a people as numerous as the dust of the earth.

10 So now, please give me wisdom and understanding so I can lead this people properly. For who is able to govern this great people of Yours?"

God Grants Solomon Wisdom—and More

11 God said to Solomon, "Because your heart desired this—and you didn't ask for wealth, riches, honor, the death of your enemies, or even a long life—but instead asked for wisdom and knowledge to lead My people over whom I've made you king,

12 I will give you the wisdom and knowledge you asked for. And I will also give you wealth, riches, and honor—more than any king before or after you will ever have."

Solomon's Growing Wealth and Power

13 Then Solomon left the high place at Gibeon, from in front of the tent of meeting, and returned to Jerusalem. And he ruled over Israel.

14 Solomon built up an army of chariots and horsemen. He had 1,400 chariots and 12,000 horsemen. He stationed them in the chariot cities and with himself in Jerusalem.

15 The king made silver and gold as common in Jerusalem as stones. He made cedar wood as plentiful as sycamore trees in the foothills.

16 Solomon's horses were imported from Egypt and Kue. The king's merchants purchased them at the prevailing price.

17 A chariot from Egypt cost six hundred shekels of silver, and a horse cost one hundred and fifty. These were also exported to all the kings of the Hittites and the kings of Aram through Solomon's merchants.

Key Lessons from 2 Chronicles Chapter 1

1. God Honors Humble Requests

Solomon could've asked for wealth or power but chose wisdom to serve others. God honored that selfless desire.

2. Worship Prepares the Way for Revelation

Solomon's night of divine encounter followed a day of sacrificial worship. Worship opens the door to God's voice.

3. God Can Do More Than We Ask

Solomon asked for wisdom—and God gave him that and more. When our hearts are aligned with God's will, He blesses abundantly.

4. Wealth and Influence Are Tools, Not Goals

Solomon's riches were a byproduct of his walk with God, not the end goal. Prosperity should serve God's kingdom.

5. Leadership Requires Dependence on God

Solomon acknowledged his need for divine wisdom. True leadership begins with surrender, not self-reliance.

2 Chronicles Chapter 2 — Crawford Standard Bible

Solomon Prepares to Build the Temple

1 Solomon made plans to build a house to honor the name of the Lord and also a royal palace for himself.

2 He assigned 70,000 laborers to carry loads, 80,000 stonecutters to work in the mountains, and 3,600 supervisors to oversee the work.

Solomon Requests Help from King Hiram of Tyre

3 Solomon sent word to Hiram king of Tyre:

“You dealt graciously with my father David by sending him cedar wood to build his palace. Please do the same for me.

4 I am about to build a temple to honor the name of the Lord my God. It will be dedicated to Him for burning fragrant incense, presenting the bread of the Presence continually, and offering burnt sacrifices every morning and evening, on Sabbaths, new moons, and the appointed festivals of the Lord our God. This is a permanent ordinance for Israel.

5 The temple I am building must be magnificent, because our God is greater than all other gods.

6 But who can really build a house for Him? Even the highest heavens cannot contain Him! And who am I to build Him a house—except as a place to burn sacrifices before Him?

A Call for Skilled Craftsmen and Timber

7 “Now, please send me a skilled craftsman who is experienced in working with gold, silver, bronze, and iron, and with purple, crimson, and blue fabrics. He must also be capable of engraving and working alongside the craftsmen my father David provided in Judah and Jerusalem.

8 Also, send me cedar, juniper, and algum logs from Lebanon. I know your servants are skilled at cutting timber there. My workers will assist them,

9 because the temple I am going to build will be large and spectacular.

10 I will provide your lumberjacks with 20,000 cors of crushed wheat, 20,000 cors of barley, 20,000 baths of wine, and 20,000 baths of olive oil.”

Huram’s Response and Praise to God

11 Then King Hiram of Tyre responded in a letter to Solomon:
“Because the Lord loves His people, He has made you their king.”

12 Hiram also said, “Blessed be the Lord, the God of Israel, who made the heavens and the earth. He has given King David a wise son, full of understanding and insight, who will build a temple for the Lord and a royal palace for himself.

Hiram Sends a Skilled Craftsman

13 I am sending you a master craftsman, Hiram-Abi.

14 He is the son of a woman from the tribe of Dan, and his father was a man from Tyre. He is skilled in working with gold, silver, bronze, iron, stone, and wood, and also with purple, blue, fine linen, and crimson fabrics. He is an expert engraver and designer and can execute any project assigned to him. He will work with your craftsmen and with those appointed by your father David.

15 Now then, please send the wheat, barley, olive oil, and wine you mentioned to your servants.

16 We will cut all the timber you need from Lebanon and float it in rafts down the coast to Joppa. From there, you can transport it up to Jerusalem.”

The Labor Force for the Construction

17 Solomon counted all the foreigners living in Israel, just as his father David had done, and found there were 153,600.

18 He assigned 70,000 of them to carry loads, 80,000 to quarry stone in the mountains, and 3,600 to supervise the workers.

Key Lessons from 2 Chronicles Chapter 2

1. God's Work Deserves Excellence

Solomon didn't cut corners—he called for the best materials and the most skilled workers. When serving God, nothing less than our best will do.

2. Worship Is the Heart of the Temple

Solomon's priority for the temple was not grandeur, but that it would be a place for constant worship—offering, incense, and presence.

3. God Uses People from All Backgrounds

Foreigners like Hiram's craftsmen were used by God in building the temple. God's purposes often involve those outside our circles.

4. God Honors Humility

Solomon recognized that he was unworthy to build a house for the God who cannot be contained by heaven itself. God blesses such reverence.

5. Unity in Purpose Creates Strength

Israel, Tyre, and thousands of laborers worked together toward one goal—God's glory. When people unite for God's purpose, the results are extraordinary.

2 Chronicles Chapter 3 — Crawford Standard Bible

Solomon Begins Construction of the Temple

1 Solomon began building the Lord's temple in Jerusalem on Mount Moriah, where the Lord had appeared to his father David. It was on the site David had chosen—the threshing floor of Ornan the Jebusite.

2 Construction started on the second day of the second month, in the fourth year of Solomon's reign.

Dimensions and Design of the Temple

3 These are the measurements Solomon used for the temple of God, based on the old standard of cubits: The building was 60 cubits long and 20 cubits wide.

4 The porch in front of the temple was 20 cubits wide, matching the width of the building. It stood 120 cubits high and was overlaid on the inside with pure gold.

5 The main hall was paneled with cedar and overlaid with fine gold. He decorated it with carved palm trees and chains.

6 He adorned the temple with precious stones for beauty, and the gold used was from Parvaim.

7 He overlaid the entire building—including the beams, doorframes, walls, and doors—with gold and carved cherubim into the walls.

The Most Holy Place and Its Glory

8 He built the Most Holy Place, 20 cubits long and 20 cubits wide, matching the width of the temple. He overlaid it with 600 talents of fine gold.

9 The gold nails used weighed 50 shekels, and even the upper rooms were covered in gold.

10 Inside the Most Holy Place, he made two sculpted cherubim and overlaid them with gold.

11 The combined wingspan of the cherubim was 20 cubits. One wing of the first cherub was 5 cubits and reached the wall; the other wing stretched 5 cubits toward the second cherub.

12 The second cherub's wings were also 5 cubits each, one touching the opposite wall and one touching the first cherub's wing.

13 Together, their wings spanned 20 cubits. They stood upright, facing toward the inner room.

14 He made the veil of blue, purple, crimson, and fine linen, and embroidered cherubim on it.

The Front Pillars of the Temple

15 In front of the temple, Solomon erected two pillars that were 35 cubits tall each. The capitals on top of the pillars were 5 cubits high.

16 He made interwoven chains for the tops of the pillars and placed 100 decorative pomegranates on them.

17 He placed the pillars in front of the temple—one on the right and the other on the left. He named the one on the right Jachin ("He will establish") and the one on the left Boaz ("In Him is strength").

Key Lessons from 2 Chronicles Chapter 3

1. God's Presence Is Worthy of Our Best

Solomon spared no expense—gold, jewels, intricate carvings—because God's dwelling place deserved the highest honor.

2. God's Promises Are Built on History

The temple stood on Mount Moriah, the very place where God met with Abraham and David. God builds on His faithful history with His people.

3. Beauty Has Purpose in Worship

The details—cherubim, gold, palm trees, pomegranates—pointed to glory, holiness, and fruitfulness, helping Israel grasp the majesty of God.

4. God's Holiness Requires Separation

The veil reminded Israel that access to God's presence was limited. Only through sacrifice and purity could one draw near.

5. Symbolism Strengthens Identity

The names of the two pillars—Jachin and Boaz—declared that God establishes and strengthens His people. These truths stood literally at the entrance of worship.

2 Chronicles Chapter 4 — Crawford Standard Bible

The Bronze Altar and the Sea

1 Solomon made a large bronze altar that was 20 cubits long, 20 cubits wide, and 10 cubits high.

2 He also made a huge round basin, called the Sea. It measured 10 cubits across from rim to rim and stood 5 cubits high. A line measuring 30 cubits circled around it.

3 Beneath the rim, it was decorated with figures of oxen encircling the basin—ten per cubit. They were cast in two rows as part of the basin itself.

4 The basin stood on twelve oxen statues. Three faced north, three west, three south, and three east. The Sea rested on top of them, and all their hindquarters faced inward.

5 The walls of the basin were about a handbreadth thick. Its rim was shaped like the rim of a cup or like a lily blossom. It could hold about three thousand baths of water.

6 He also made ten smaller washbasins. He placed five on the south side and five on the north side. These were used to rinse the offerings for the burnt sacrifices. But the large basin—the Sea—was for the priests to wash themselves.

Golden Furnishings and Utensils

7 Solomon made ten gold lampstands, according to the prescribed pattern. He placed five on the right side of the Holy Place and five on the left.

8 He made ten tables and placed them the same way—five on the right and five on the left. He also made one hundred gold basins.

9 He built the priests' courtyard, the large outer courtyard, and doors for the courtyard. He overlaid the doors with bronze.

10 He placed the Sea on the southeast side of the Temple.

Huram's Finishing Work

11 Hiram also made the pots, shovels, and basins. In this way, he completed the work he was doing for King Solomon for the house of God.

12 This included the two pillars, the two bowl-shaped capitals on top of the pillars, the two networks of chains to cover the bowl-shaped capitals,

13 and the four hundred pomegranates arranged in two rows on each network to decorate the capitals on the top of the pillars.

14 He also made the stands and the washbasins placed on each stand,

15 the large basin (the Sea) and the twelve oxen beneath it,

16 and the pots, shovels, meat forks, and all the other bronze items Hiram-abi made for King Solomon for the Lord's Temple. Everything was made of polished bronze.

17 The king had them cast in clay molds in the plain of the Jordan River between Succoth and Zeredah.

18 Solomon made all these things in such great quantities that the weight of the bronze could not be calculated.

The Golden Items for Worship

19 Solomon also made all the items for the house of God: the golden altar, the tables for the bread of the Presence,

20 the lampstands and their lamps of pure gold, to burn in front of the inner sanctuary according to the regulations,

21 and the decorative flowers, lamps, and tongs—all made of pure gold.

22 He also made the wick trimmers, basins, spoons, and censers—all of pure gold. He made the doors for the entrance to the inner sanctuary (the Most Holy Place), as well as the main doors of the temple—all of gold.

Key Lessons from 2 Chronicles Chapter 4

1. God Deserves Excellence in Worship

The sheer scale, beauty, and quantity of the temple furnishings show that Solomon spared nothing in glorifying God through craftsmanship and design.

2. Symbolism Reflects Holiness

The twelve oxen under the Sea represented Israel's twelve tribes, and the gold and bronze reflected purity, glory, and durability—all qualities of God's nature.

3. Teamwork Builds God's House

Solomon worked with Hiram and thousands of skilled workers. God's work involves many people with different gifts coming together.

4. Holiness Requires Preparation

The Sea and the lavers reminded the priests that cleansing was necessary before offering worship. Our own spiritual preparation is vital when coming before God.

5. God's Glory Is Worthy of Sacrifice

Solomon's use of the finest materials—gold, bronze, precious stones—was an act of reverence. Our worship today should reflect a heart willing to give God our best.

2 Chronicles Chapter 5 — Crawford Standard Bible

The Temple Is Completed

1 So Solomon completed all the work for the Lord's Temple. Then he brought in the items that his father David had dedicated—the silver, the gold, and all the furnishings—and stored them in the treasuries of the house of God.

The Ark Brought into the Temple

2 Solomon called together the elders of Israel, all the tribal leaders, and the heads of the ancestral families of the Israelites. They were summoned to Jerusalem to bring the Ark of the Lord's Covenant from the City of David, also known as Zion.

3 So all the men of Israel assembled before the king at the annual Festival in the seventh month.

4 When all the elders of Israel arrived, the Levites lifted up the Ark.

5 The priests and Levites brought up the Ark of the Lord, along with the Tabernacle and all the sacred items that were in it.

6 King Solomon and the entire assembly of Israel gathered before the Ark and offered so many sheep and oxen in sacrifice that no one could count or record the number.

7 Then the priests carried the Ark of the Lord's Covenant into the inner sanctuary of the Temple—the Most Holy Place—and placed it beneath the wings of the cherubim.

8 The cherubim spread their wings over the Ark and its carrying poles, shielding them.

9 The poles were so long that their ends could be seen from the Holy Place in front of the inner sanctuary, but not from outside the Holy Place. And they are still there to this day.

10 Inside the Ark were only the two stone tablets that Moses had placed in it at Mount Horeb, where the Lord had made a covenant with the Israelites after they came out of Egypt.

God's Glory Fills the Temple

11 When the priests came out of the Holy Place (all the priests who were present had purified themselves, regardless of their assigned divisions),

12 the Levite musicians—Asaph, Heman, and Jeduthun—and all their sons and relatives stood on the east side of the altar, dressed in fine white linen and playing cymbals, harps, and lyres. They were joined by 120 priests sounding trumpets.

13 The trumpeters and singers performed together in unison to praise and give thanks to the Lord. Accompanied by trumpets, cymbals, and other instruments, they raised their voices and sang:

“The Lord is good;

His faithful love endures forever!”

At that moment, a thick cloud filled the Temple of the Lord.

14 The priests could not continue their service because of the cloud, for the glorious presence of the Lord filled the house of God.

Key Lessons from 2 Chronicles Chapter 5

1. God Keeps His Promises

The completion of the Temple and the placing of the Ark signify that God's covenant with Israel was still alive and active.

2. Worship Unites God's People

The unity of the singers, trumpeters, and worshippers shows that corporate worship brings powerful spiritual moments when God's people are of one heart and mind.

3. True Worship Invites God's Presence

The cloud of God's glory filled the Temple when His people sincerely praised Him. God responds to heartfelt worship with His manifest presence.

4. Preparation Leads to Revelation

The priests sanctified themselves before ministering, and it was after this preparation that God revealed His glory in the Temple. Holiness precedes encounter.

5. God Desires Our Best in Worship

Lavish sacrifices, skillful music, and unified hearts remind us to offer God our absolute best in everything we do for Him.

2 Chronicles Chapter 6 — Crawford Standard Bible

Solomon Declares the Lord's Faithfulness

1 Then Solomon said, "The Lord has said He would dwell in a dark cloud.

2 But I have built You a magnificent temple, a place for You to live forever."

3 Then the king turned and blessed the whole assembly of Israel, while they all stood.

4 He said: "Blessed be the Lord, the God of Israel, who with His hands has fulfilled what He promised with His mouth to my father David, saying:

5 'Since the day I brought My people out of Egypt, I haven't chosen a city from among the tribes of Israel to build a temple for My name to be there, nor have I chosen a man to rule over My people Israel.

6 But now I have chosen Jerusalem for My name to be there, and I have chosen David to rule over My people Israel.'

7 My father David wanted to build a temple to honor the name of the Lord, the God of Israel.

8 But the Lord said to him, 'You did well to want to build a house for My name.

9 But you are not the one to build it. Instead, your son, your own flesh and blood, will build the house for My name.'

10 And now the Lord has fulfilled His promise. I have succeeded my father David and now sit on the throne of Israel, just as the Lord promised. I have built the Temple to honor the name of the Lord, the God of Israel.

11 I have placed the Ark there, which contains the covenant the Lord made with the people of Israel."

Solomon's Prayer of Dedication

12 Then Solomon stood before the altar of the Lord in front of the entire assembly of Israel, and spread out his hands.

13 For he had made a bronze platform, five cubits square and three cubits high, and had placed it in the center of the courtyard. He stood on it, knelt down in front of the entire assembly of Israel, spread out his hands toward heaven,

14 and prayed: "O Lord, God of Israel, there is no God like You in heaven or on earth. You keep Your covenant and show unfailing love to those who walk before You with all their heart.

15 You have kept Your promise to Your servant David, my father; with Your mouth You made a promise, and with Your hand You have fulfilled it today.

16 Now, Lord, God of Israel, keep what You promised to Your servant David: ‘You will never fail to have a man sit before Me on the throne of Israel, if your descendants are careful to walk in My ways as you have.’

17 Now, O Lord, God of Israel, confirm the word You gave to Your servant David.

18 But will God really dwell on earth with humans? Even the highest heavens cannot contain You. How much less this temple I have built!

19 Yet, Lord my God, give attention to Your servant’s prayer and plea. Listen to the cry and the prayer Your servant is praying before You.

20 May Your eyes be open toward this Temple day and night—this place where You have said You would put Your name. May You hear the prayer Your servant prays toward this place.

21 Hear the prayers of Your servant and Your people Israel when they pray toward this place. Hear from heaven, Your dwelling place. And when You hear, forgive.

Petitions for Justice, Restoration, and Mercy

22 If someone wrongs another and is required to swear an oath before Your altar in this temple,

23 then hear from heaven and judge between Your servants. Condemn the guilty and declare the innocent righteous.

24 If Your people Israel are defeated by their enemies because they have sinned against You, and if they turn back and confess Your name, and pray and plead before You in this Temple,

25 then hear from heaven and forgive the sin of Your people Israel. Bring them back to the land You gave to them and their ancestors.

26 When the skies are shut up and there is no rain because of their sin, and if they pray toward this place and confess Your name and turn from their sin because You afflicted them,

27 then hear from heaven and forgive. Teach them the right way to live, and send rain on the land You have given to Your people as an inheritance.

28 If there is famine in the land, pestilence, blight, mildew, locusts or grasshoppers, or if enemies besiege them in their cities—whatever disaster or disease may come—

29 and when anyone or all Your people Israel spread out their hands in prayer, knowing their own guilt and pain,

30 then hear from heaven, Your dwelling place. Forgive and act. Deal with everyone according to all they do, since You know each heart (for You alone know the hearts of all mankind),

31 so they may fear You and walk in Your ways all the days they live in the land You gave our ancestors.

Prayer for the Foreigners and for Exiles

32 As for the foreigner who does not belong to Your people Israel but comes from a distant land because of Your great name and mighty power and outstretched arm, and prays toward this Temple,

33 then hear from heaven, and do whatever the foreigner asks of You. This way, all peoples of the earth will know Your name and fear You, just as Your people Israel do, and they'll know that this Temple I built bears Your name.

34 If Your people go out to fight their enemies wherever You send them, and they pray to You in the direction of this city and this Temple I built for Your name, 35 then hear from heaven their prayer and plea and uphold their cause.

36 When they sin against You—for there is no one who does not sin—and You become angry and hand them over to their enemies, and they are taken captive to a distant or nearby land,

37 and if in that land of captivity they reflect, turn back to You, and plead, saying, 'We have sinned, we have done wrong, we have acted wickedly,'

38 and if they turn to You with all their heart and soul and pray toward the land You gave their ancestors, toward this city, and toward the Temple I built for Your name,

39 then hear from heaven, Your dwelling place. Forgive Your people who have sinned against You, and uphold their cause.

Final Plea and Blessing

40 Now, my God, I pray, may Your eyes be open and Your ears attentive to the prayers offered in this place.

41 Now arise, Lord God, and enter Your resting place—you and the ark of Your strength. Let Your priests be clothed with salvation, and let Your faithful people rejoice in Your goodness.

42 O Lord God, do not reject Your anointed one. Remember Your unfailing love promised to David Your servant.”

Key Lessons from 2 Chronicles Chapter 6

1. God Fulfills His Promises

Everything Solomon experienced in the Temple was a fulfillment of God's word to David.

2. God's Presence Cannot Be Contained

Even the highest heavens cannot contain God, yet He chooses to dwell with His people when they humbly call on Him.

3. Prayer Is Powerful and Personal

Solomon intercedes not just for national sin but for individual burdens, foreign seekers, and exiled hearts—showing God's openness to all sincere prayer.

4. Repentance Leads to Restoration

Over and over, the prayer emphasizes that when God's people repent and turn back, He hears and restores.

5. God Judges Justly and Knows Every Heart

The prayer repeatedly appeals to God's perfect justice, because only He truly knows the hearts of people.

2 Chronicles Chapter 7 — Crawford Standard Bible

Fire from Heaven and the Glory of the Lord

1 When Solomon finished praying, fire came down from heaven and consumed the burnt offering and the sacrifices, and the glory of the Lord filled the temple.

2 The priests couldn't even enter the Lord's Temple because the glory of the Lord had filled it.

3 When all the Israelites saw the fire come down and the glory of the Lord over the Temple, they bowed down with their faces to the ground on the pavement. They worshiped and praised the Lord, saying,

“He is good; His faithful love endures forever.”

The Dedication of the Temple

4 Then the king and all the people offered sacrifices to the Lord.

5 King Solomon offered a sacrifice of 22,000 cattle and 120,000 sheep. So the king and all the people dedicated the house of God.

6 The priests performed their duties, and the Levites played the instruments the Lord had given them through King David for the purpose of praising the Lord. They sang, as David had directed. The priests blew their trumpets while all Israel stood.

“His faithful love endures forever,”

7 Solomon also set apart the central courtyard in front of the Lord's Temple, because there he offered the burnt offerings and the fat from the peace offerings. The bronze altar he had built was too small to hold all the offerings.

The Seven-Day Festival and Assembly

8 At that time Solomon and all Israel celebrated the festival for seven days. A huge crowd had come from as far north as Hamath and as far south as the brook of Egypt.

9 On the eighth day they held a solemn assembly, because they had celebrated the dedication of the altar for seven days and the festival for seven more days.

10 On the twenty-third day of the seventh month, Solomon sent the people home. They went away joyful and glad in heart for the goodness the Lord had shown to David, to Solomon, and to His people Israel.

God Appears to Solomon

11 So Solomon completed the Temple of the Lord and the royal palace. Everything he had planned to do in the Temple of the Lord and in his own palace, he accomplished successfully.

12 Then the Lord appeared to Solomon at night and said:

“I have heard your prayer and have chosen this Temple as the place for sacrifices.

13 When I shut up the heavens so there is no rain, or command locusts to devour the land, or send a plague among My people,

14 if My people who are called by My name will humble themselves, and pray, and seek My face, and turn from their wicked ways, then I will hear from heaven, and I will forgive their sins and heal their land.

15 My eyes will be open and My ears attentive to the prayers offered in this place.

16 I have now chosen and consecrated this Temple so that My name may be there forever. My eyes and My heart will always be there.

Blessing for Obedience, Judgment for Rebellion

17 As for you, if you walk before Me as your father David did, doing everything I command and keeping My laws and decrees,

18 then I will establish your royal throne, just as I promised your father David:

‘You will never fail to have a man to rule over Israel.’

19 But if you or your descendants turn away and abandon My commands and statutes that I have given you, and if you go and worship other gods and serve them,

20 then I will uproot Israel from My land, which I have given them. And I will reject this Temple I have sanctified for My name. I will make it a mockery and an example among all nations.

21 And though this Temple is majestic now, all who pass by it will be appalled. They will ask, ‘Why has the Lord done such a thing to this land and to this Temple?’

22 The answer will be: ‘Because they abandoned the Lord, the God of their ancestors, who brought them out of Egypt. They embraced other gods, worshiped them, and served them. That is why He has brought all this disaster upon them.’”

Key Lessons from 2 Chronicles Chapter 7

1. God Confirms His Presence with Fire and Glory

God responded visibly to Solomon’s prayer, showing His approval with fire from heaven and filling the temple with His glory.

2. True Worship Leads to Humility and Unity

The people bowed in awe and unity, giving glory to God for His goodness and mercy.

3. God Listens to Humble, Repentant Prayer

Verse 14 shows the timeless power of repentance, prayer, and humility to bring healing and restoration to a nation.

4. Obedience Brings Blessing; Rebellion Brings Ruin

God clearly lays out a choice—if Solomon and Israel remain faithful, they’ll be blessed. If they turn to idols, destruction will follow.

5. God’s Promises Are Conditional on Faithfulness

The covenant with David continues through Solomon, but only if they walk in God’s ways.

2 Chronicles Chapter 8 — Crawford Standard Bible

Solomon’s Expansion Projects

1 After twenty years, during which Solomon had built the Lord’s Temple and his own royal palace,

2 he rebuilt the towns that Hiram had given him and settled Israelites there.

3 Solomon also went to Hamath Zobah and conquered it.

4 He rebuilt Tadmor in the wilderness and all the storage cities he had built in Hamath.

5 He also built Upper Beth-horon and Lower Beth-horon as fortified cities with walls, gates, and bars.

6 He built Baalath, and all the cities used for storing supplies, along with the cities for his chariots and horsemen, and anything else he desired to build in Jerusalem, Lebanon, and throughout his entire kingdom.

Foreign Labor and Israelite Officials

7 All the people who remained from the Hittites, Amorites, Perizzites, Hivites, and Jebusites—those who were not Israelites—

8 their descendants who were still in the land—Solomon drafted them for forced labor, and they remain in that role to this day.

9 But Solomon did not make the Israelites his slaves for his work. They served as soldiers, officers, commanders, chariot captains, and horsemen.

10 King Solomon had 250 chief officers who ruled over the people and supervised the work.

Solomon's Foreign Wife and Continued Worship

11 Solomon moved Pharaoh's daughter from the city of David to the palace he had built for her. He said, "My wife must not live in King David's palace, because the places where the ark of the Lord has come are holy."

12 Then Solomon offered burnt offerings to the Lord on the altar he had built in front of the Temple porch.

13 He offered sacrifices daily according to the law of Moses—on the Sabbaths, new moons, and the three annual festivals: the Festival of Unleavened Bread, the Festival of Weeks, and the Festival of Tabernacles.

Solomon Follows David's Instructions for Temple Service

14 In accordance with the directions given by his father David, Solomon appointed the divisions of the priests for their service, and the Levites for their duties—praising and assisting the priests as required each day. He also appointed the gatekeepers by division at each gate, just as David, the man of God, had commanded.

15 All these duties were carried out exactly as the king had instructed the priests and the Levites, including the oversight of the Temple treasures.

16 So all the work of Solomon was completed from the day the foundation of the Lord's Temple was laid until it was finished. The Temple of the Lord was completed.

Solomon's Trade Fleet

17 Then Solomon traveled to Ezion-geber and Eloth on the Red Sea coast in the land of Edom.

18 Hiram sent him ships commanded by seasoned sailors. They went with Solomon's servants to Ophir and brought back 450 talents of gold, which they delivered to King Solomon.

Key Lessons from 2 Chronicles Chapter 8

1. Solomon Continued to Build and Expand

Solomon wasn't only a temple builder but also a planner of cities, infrastructure, and military outposts throughout his kingdom.

2. Foreigners Were Enslaved, Israelites Were Empowered

Solomon reserved positions of labor for foreigners, but honored the Israelites with military and administrative roles—this reflects political structure and national distinction.

3. Solomon Respected the Holiness of God's Presence

Even in his personal life, Solomon recognized that God's presence made a place holy and treated it accordingly, as seen with Pharaoh's daughter.

4. Faithful Worship Continued According to God's Law

The daily offerings, festivals, and priestly duties were all carried out in accordance with the law of Moses and the instructions of David.

5. Solomon Honored His Father's Legacy

David's organization of worship was preserved, showing that legacy and obedience are crucial in sustaining worship for future generations.

6. Partnerships Bring Provision

Through cooperation with Hiram, Solomon gained skilled labor and wealth—partnerships aligned with God's purpose can yield great return.

2 Chronicles Chapter 9 — Crawford Standard Bible

The Queen of Sheba Visits Solomon

1 When the queen of Sheba heard about Solomon's fame, she came to Jerusalem to test him with hard questions. She arrived with a very large caravan, including camels loaded with spices, great quantities of gold, and precious stones. When she came to Solomon, she spoke with him about everything that was on her heart.

2 Solomon answered all her questions. There was nothing too difficult for him to explain.

3 When the queen of Sheba saw Solomon's wisdom, the palace he had built,

4 the food on his table, the seating of his officials, the service and attire of his attendants, his cupbearers and their uniforms, and the stairway by which he went up to the Lord's Temple, she was overwhelmed.

5 She said to the king, "Everything I heard in my country about your wisdom and your achievements is true.

6 I didn't believe it until I came and saw it with my own eyes. In fact, I wasn't told even half of your greatness. You far exceed the report I heard.

7 How happy your people must be! What a privilege for your officials to stand before you and hear your wisdom daily!

8 Blessed be the Lord your God, who has delighted in you and placed you on His throne as king for the Lord your God. Because your God loves Israel and desires to establish them forever, He has made you king to govern with justice and righteousness.”

9 Then she gave the king 120 talents of gold, a large quantity of spices, and precious stones. There had never been spices like those the queen of Sheba gave to Solomon.

10 The servants of Hiram and Solomon, who brought gold from Ophir, also brought alnum wood and precious stones.

11 The king used the alnum wood to make terraces for the Temple of the Lord and the royal palace, and to make harps and lyres for the musicians. Nothing like them had been seen before in Judah.

12 King Solomon gave the queen of Sheba everything she desired—whatever she asked for—besides what he had already given her out of his royal bounty. Then she returned with her servants to her own land.

Solomon's Wealth and Splendor

13 The weight of gold that came to Solomon in one year was 666 talents of gold,

14 not counting what the merchants and traders brought. All the kings of Arabia and the governors of the land also brought gold and silver to Solomon.

15 King Solomon made 200 large shields of hammered gold—each containing 600 shekels of gold.

16 He also made 300 smaller shields of hammered gold, each with 300 shekels of gold. He placed them in the Palace of the Forest of Lebanon.

17 The king also made a great throne of ivory and overlaid it with pure gold.

18 The throne had six steps, with a golden footstool attached. It had armrests on each side, and two lions stood beside the armrests.

19 Twelve lions stood on the six steps, one on each side. Nothing like it had ever been made in any other kingdom.

20 All King Solomon's drinking vessels were made of gold, and all the utensils in the Palace of the Forest of Lebanon were pure gold. Silver was considered of little value in Solomon's day.

21 The king's ships sailed to Tarshish with Hiram's servants. Every three years they returned, bringing gold, silver, ivory, apes, and peacocks.

22 King Solomon was greater in riches and wisdom than all the other kings of the earth.

23 All the kings of the world sought an audience with Solomon to hear the wisdom God had put in his heart.

24 Year after year, everyone brought him gifts—articles of silver and gold, clothing, weapons, spices, horses, and mules.

Solomon's Military Power and Legacy

25 Solomon had 4,000 stalls for horses and chariots, and 12,000 horsemen. He stationed them in the chariot cities and also with him in Jerusalem.

26 He ruled over all the kings from the Euphrates River to the land of the Philistines and the border of Egypt.

27 The king made silver as common in Jerusalem as stones. Cedar wood was as abundant as sycamore-fig trees in the foothills.

28 Horses were imported for Solomon from Egypt and from every other land.

29 The rest of the acts of Solomon, from beginning to end, are written in the records of the prophet Nathan, the prophecy of Ahijah the Shilonite, and the visions of the seer Iddo concerning Jeroboam son of Nebat.

30 Solomon ruled in Jerusalem over all Israel for forty years.

31 Then Solomon died and was buried in the city of his father David. His son Rehoboam succeeded him as king.

Key Lessons from 2 Chronicles Chapter 9

1. God's Wisdom Draws the Nations

The queen of Sheba's journey shows how divine wisdom can impact people across the world. God-given insight is powerful and compelling.

2. Faith Confirmed by Experience

The queen didn't believe until she saw for herself—and then admitted God's greatness. Personal encounters with God's truth confirm faith.

3. Prosperity Should Reflect God's Glory

Solomon's wealth wasn't just luxury—it symbolized God's blessing and Solomon's obedience. Our resources should point others to God.

4. Generosity Attracts Favor

Both Solomon and the queen of Sheba exchanged gifts generously. God often blesses those who freely give.

5. True Legacy Is Faith and Wisdom, Not Just Wealth

Solomon's wisdom, not his gold, is what kings came to hear. Wisdom and faith leave a greater legacy than material success.

6. Every Reign Has an End

Despite all his splendor, Solomon died like every other man. Earthly kingdoms are temporary; God's kingdom endures forever.

2 Chronicles Chapter 10 — Crawford Standard Bible

Rehoboam Becomes King at Shechem

1 Rehoboam went to Shechem, where all Israel had gathered to make him king.

2 When Jeroboam son of Nebat heard what was happening—he was still in Egypt, where he had fled from King Solomon—he returned from Egypt.

3 The people sent for Jeroboam, and he came with the assembly of Israel to speak with Rehoboam.

4 They said, "Your father made our burden heavy. If you'll ease the harsh labor and heavy load he placed on us, we will serve you."

5 Rehoboam replied, "Come back to me in three days." So the people left.

Two Sets of Counsel: Old Wisdom vs. Young Pride

6 Then King Rehoboam consulted the elders who had advised his father Solomon while he was alive. He asked, "What advice do you give me? How should I answer these people?"

7 They replied, "If you are kind to these people and try to please them by speaking gently, they will be your loyal servants forever."

8 But Rehoboam ignored the advice of the elders and asked the young men who had grown up with him and now served him.

9 "What do you advise?" he asked them. "These people say, 'Lighten the burden your father put on us.' What should I tell them?"

10 The young men replied, "Tell them this: 'My little finger is thicker than my father's waist!

11 My father laid a heavy burden on you, but I will make it heavier. He whipped you with cords; I will whip you with scorpions!'"

A Kingdom Divided

12 On the third day, Jeroboam and all the people came back to Rehoboam, as he had instructed.

13 But the king answered them harshly. He rejected the advice of the elders

14 and followed the counsel of the young men. He said, “My father made your yoke heavy; I’ll make it even heavier. He disciplined you with whips; I’ll discipline you with scorpions!”

15 So the king did not listen to the people. This turn of events was from God, so that the Lord could carry out the word He had spoken through Ahijah the Shilonite to Jeroboam son of Nebat.

Rebellion Against the House of David

16 When the people of Israel realized the king had rejected their request, they said, “What share do we have in David?

We have no inheritance in Jesse’s son.

Everyone to your tents, Israel!

Look after your own house, David!”

So all Israel returned to their homes.

17 But Rehoboam still reigned over the Israelites who lived in the cities of Judah.

18 Then King Rehoboam sent out Hadoram, who was in charge of forced labor, but the Israelites stoned him to death. King Rehoboam quickly jumped into his chariot and fled to Jerusalem.

19 So Israel has been in rebellion against the house of David to this day.

Key Lessons from 2 Chronicles Chapter 10

1. Wise Leadership Listens

Rehoboam’s downfall began with ignoring wise counsel. Godly leaders must value experienced, humble voices over prideful peers.

2. Words Matter

The way leaders speak to the people—gentle or harsh—can determine whether they inspire loyalty or rebellion.

3. God’s Sovereignty in Human Choices

Even Rehoboam’s poor decision was part of God’s plan to fulfill a prophecy. God uses even mistakes to accomplish His will.

4. Pride Divides

The division of the kingdom was fueled by arrogance and insensitivity. Pride can split families, churches, and nations.

5. Rejection of Mercy Leads to Loss

The people offered loyalty in exchange for mercy. Rehoboam’s rejection of that offer cost him ten tribes.

6. Spiritual Rebellion Has Lasting Effects

The rebellion of Israel against the house of David became a long-term division—showing how disobedience can leave deep scars.

2 Chronicles Chapter 11 — Crawford Standard Bible

God Stops a Civil War

1 When Rehoboam returned to Jerusalem, he gathered 180,000 select warriors from the tribes of Judah and Benjamin. His goal was to fight against Israel and restore the kingdom to himself.

2 But the word of the Lord came to Shemaiah, the man of God:

3 “Say to Rehoboam son of Solomon, king of Judah, and to all Israel living in Judah and Benjamin,

4 ‘This is what the Lord says: Do not go to war against your brothers. Go back home, every one of you, because this division is from Me.’” So they obeyed the Lord’s command and did not march against Jeroboam.

Rehoboam Fortifies the Kingdom of Judah

5 Rehoboam lived in Jerusalem and began strengthening the cities of Judah for defense.

6 He rebuilt and fortified Bethlehem, Etam, and Tekoa;

7 Beth-zur, Soco, and Adullam;

8 Gath, Mareshah, and Ziph;

9 Adoraim, Lachish, and Azekah;

10 Zorah, Aijalon, and Hebron—these were fortified cities in Judah and Benjamin.

11 He reinforced the fortresses, stationed commanders in them, and stocked them with supplies of food, oil, and wine.

12 He also put shields and spears in every city, making them extremely strong. Judah and Benjamin remained under his control.

The Faithful Flock to Judah

13 The priests and Levites throughout Israel sided with Rehoboam and moved to Jerusalem from their lands.

14 Jeroboam and his sons had removed them from serving as priests of the Lord.

15 Instead, Jeroboam appointed his own priests for the pagan shrines, for the goat idols, and for the golden calves he had made.

16 Then people from every tribe of Israel who were determined to seek the Lord, the God of Israel, came to Jerusalem to worship and offer sacrifices to the God of their ancestors.

17 These faithful people strengthened the kingdom of Judah and supported Rehoboam, son of Solomon, for three years. During those three years, they followed the ways of David and Solomon.

Rehoboam's Family and Political Strategy

18 Rehoboam married Mahalath, daughter of Jerimoth (a son of David), and Abihail, daughter of Eliab (a son of Jesse).

19 They had three sons: Jeush, Shemariah, and Zaham.

20 Later, he married Maacah, daughter of Absalom. She bore him Abijah, Attai, Ziza, and Shelomith.

21 Rehoboam loved Maacah more than all his other wives and concubines. He had eighteen wives and sixty concubines, and he fathered twenty-eight sons and sixty daughters.

22 Rehoboam appointed Abijah, son of Maacah, to be chief among his brothers, intending to make him the next king.

23 He acted wisely by distributing his other sons throughout the fortified cities in Judah and Benjamin. He gave them plenty of food and found many wives for them.

Key Lessons from 2 Chronicles Chapter 11

1. Obedience to God's Word Prevents Conflict

Rehoboam's decision to not go to war, following God's command through Shemaiah, prevented a civil war and showed God's sovereign hand in division.

2. God Ordains and Allows Kingdom Divides

The split between Judah and Israel was not accidental—it was God-ordained. Sometimes divisions happen for God's greater purpose.

3. True Worshipers Seek God Above Politics

The faithful left their homes in the north and came to Judah to worship God properly, showing that loyalty to God surpasses national boundaries.

4. Leadership Requires Strategic Defense

Rehoboam wisely fortified cities, stocked provisions, and spread out his family to secure the kingdom—a practical example of leadership and foresight.

5. Pagan Substitutes Never Replace God's Way

Jeroboam's man-made priesthood and idol worship drove the faithful away and revealed the danger of spiritual compromise.

6. God Blesses Those Who Seek Him First

Those who turned their hearts toward God in Jerusalem were part of the strengthening of Judah's kingdom. God's people build God's kingdom.

2 Chronicles Chapter 12 — Crawford Standard Bible

Rehoboam and Israel Abandon the Lord

1 Once Rehoboam had established his authority and secured his kingdom, he and all Israel abandoned the law of the Lord.

2 In the fifth year of King Rehoboam's reign, Shishak king of Egypt attacked Jerusalem because the people had been unfaithful to the Lord.

3 Shishak came with 1,200 chariots, 60,000 horsemen, and an uncountable horde of foot soldiers from Egypt—along with the Libyans, the Sukkites, and the Ethiopians.

4 He conquered the fortified cities of Judah and came all the way to Jerusalem.

The Lord's Rebuke and Mercy

5 Then the prophet Shemaiah came to Rehoboam and the leaders of Judah, who had gathered in Jerusalem to prepare for the attack. Shemaiah said, "This is what the Lord says: You have abandoned Me, so now I have abandoned you to Shishak."

6 The leaders of Israel and King Rehoboam humbled themselves and said, "The Lord is right."

7 When the Lord saw their humility, He gave this word to Shemaiah: "Because they have humbled themselves, I will not completely destroy them. I will give them some deliverance. My anger will not be poured out on Jerusalem through Shishak.

8 But they will become his subjects. This will teach them the difference between serving Me and serving foreign kings."

The Plundering of Jerusalem

9 So King Shishak of Egypt attacked Jerusalem. He took away the treasures of the Lord's Temple and the royal palace. He took everything—including all the gold shields Solomon had made.

10 Rehoboam replaced them with bronze shields and entrusted them to the captains of the guard who protected the entrance of the royal palace.

11 Whenever the king went to the Lord's temple, the guards would carry the shields and then return them to the guardroom afterward.

The End of Rehoboam's Reign

12 Because Rehoboam humbled himself, the Lord's anger turned away from him, and he was not completely destroyed. Indeed, some good remained in Judah.

13 King Rehoboam firmly established his rule in Jerusalem. He was 41 years old when he became king, and he reigned for 17 years in Jerusalem—the city the Lord had chosen from all the tribes of Israel to put His name. His mother's name was Naamah, the Ammonite.

14 But he did evil, because he did not make it a priority to seek the Lord.

15 The rest of Rehoboam's story, from beginning to end, is written in the records of the prophet Shemaiah and the seer Iddo, which include genealogies. Rehoboam and Jeroboam were constantly at war.

16 When Rehoboam died, he was buried in the City of David. His son Abijah succeeded him as king.

Key Lessons from 2 Chronicles Chapter 12

1. Pride Leads to Spiritual Decline

Rehoboam's downfall began when he turned away from the Lord after gaining strength and security—a warning against pride and complacency.

2. God Sometimes Uses Enemies as Discipline

Shishak's invasion was not just a political event; it was a divine judgment meant to bring Judah to repentance.

3. Humility Softens God's Judgment

When the leaders and the king humbled themselves, God relented from total destruction. Repentance can delay or even reverse consequences.

4. Superficial Replacements Cannot Compare to God's Glory

Rehoboam replaced Solomon's gold shields with bronze ones. It symbolized a kingdom that had lost its spiritual wealth—settling for less.

5. Partial Obedience Is Not Enough

Rehoboam did not fully devote his heart to the Lord. He did some good, but his legacy is marked by spiritual failure.

6. It's Not How You Start—It's How You Finish

Though he began with God's blessing and the legacy of Solomon, Rehoboam's failure to remain faithful brought sorrow and decline.

2 Chronicles Chapter 13 — Crawford Standard Bible

Abijah Begins His Reign over Judah

1 In the eighteenth year of King Jeroboam's reign, Abijah became king over Judah.

2 He ruled in Jerusalem for three years. His mother's name was Michaiah, daughter of Uriel from Gibeah. There was constant war between Abijah and Jeroboam.

Abijah's Bold Challenge

3 Abijah went to battle with an army of 400,000 elite warriors. Jeroboam responded with 800,000 strong, courageous fighters.

4 Abijah stood on Mount Zemaraim, in the hill country of Ephraim, and shouted, "Listen to me, Jeroboam and all Israel!

5 Don't you know that the Lord God of Israel gave the kingdom of Israel to David and his descendants forever, by a covenant confirmed with salt?

6 But Jeroboam son of Nebat, a servant of Solomon son of David, rebelled against his master.

7 Then worthless and reckless men joined him and overpowered Rehoboam, Solomon's son, who was young and inexperienced and couldn't stand up to them.

8 Now you're trying to resist the kingdom of the Lord, which is in the hands of David's descendants. You have a huge army, and you've brought along those golden calves Jeroboam made as your gods.

9 Haven't you driven out the priests of the Lord, the sons of Aaron and the Levites? You've appointed your own priests, just like the pagan nations do. Anyone who brings a young bull and seven rams can become a priest of these so-called gods.

10 But as for us, the Lord is our God, and we have not abandoned Him. The priests who serve the Lord are descendants of Aaron, and the Levites assist them.

11 Every morning and evening they offer burnt offerings and fragrant incense to the Lord. They also arrange the bread of the Presence on the pure table, and they light the gold lampstand with its lamps every evening. We are following the instructions of the Lord our God—but you have abandoned Him.

12 Look, God is with us! He is our leader. His priests sound the battle trumpets to call us to war. People of Israel, don't fight against the Lord, the God of your ancestors—for you will not succeed!"

God Delivers Judah in Battle

13 But Jeroboam had set a trap to ambush them from behind, so the army of Judah was surrounded, front and back.

14 When Judah turned around and saw that they were under attack from both sides, they cried out to the Lord. Then the priests blew the trumpets.

15 The men of Judah shouted their battle cry, and as they shouted, God struck down Jeroboam and all Israel before Abijah and the army of Judah.

16 The Israelites fled from Judah, and God handed them over.

17 Abijah and his troops inflicted a massive defeat—500,000 of Israel’s best soldiers were killed.

18 So the people of Israel were defeated at that time, and the people of Judah were victorious because they relied on the Lord, the God of their ancestors.

Abijah’s Legacy

19 Abijah pursued Jeroboam and captured the cities of Bethel, Jeshanah, and Ephron, along with their surrounding towns.

20 Jeroboam never regained his strength during Abijah’s lifetime. The Lord struck him, and he died.

21 But Abijah grew powerful. He had 14 wives and fathered 22 sons and 16 daughters.

22 The rest of Abijah’s story—his actions and speeches—are recorded in the writings of the prophet Iddo.

Key Lessons from 2 Chronicles Chapter 13

1. God Keeps His Covenant

Abijah reminds Israel that God gave the throne to David’s line forever. God honors His promises, even when people forget them.

2. False Religion Leads to Ruin

Jeroboam replaced the true priests and the worship of the Lord with man-made religion and idols, leading to Israel’s defeat.

3. God Honors Those Who Depend on Him

Judah's victory came not from superior numbers, but from their dependence on God and obedience to His ways.

4. Faithful Worship Matters

Abijah’s emphasis on faithful sacrifices, priesthood, and temple practices shows that true worship must be grounded in God’s instructions.

5. Even in Political Chaos, God Rules

Though Judah was the smaller kingdom, their reliance on the Lord turned the tide of battle. God is sovereign even when things seem stacked against us.

6. You Can't Fight Against God and Win

Abijah's final warning is timeless: no one who fights against the Lord will prosper. This chapter is a vivid reminder of that truth.

2 Chronicles Chapter 14 — Crawford Standard Bible

Asa Becomes King and Brings Reform

1 When Abijah died, he was buried in the City of David. His son Asa became king after him. During Asa's reign, the land had peace for ten years.

2 Asa did what was right and good in the eyes of the Lord his God.

3 He removed the pagan altars and high places. He smashed the sacred stone pillars and cut down the Asherah poles.

4 He commanded the people of Judah to seek the Lord, the God of their ancestors, and to obey His laws and commandments.

5 Asa also removed the high places and incense altars from every city in Judah. Because of this, the kingdom was at peace under his rule.

A Time of Peace and Preparation

6 Asa built fortified cities in Judah during this time of peace, since there was no war in those years. The Lord had given him rest.

7 Asa said to the people of Judah, "Let's build up these towns and surround them with walls, towers, gates, and bars while we still have peace in the land. We have sought the Lord our God, and because we sought Him, He has given us peace on every side." So they built and prospered.

8 Asa had an army of 300,000 men from Judah who carried large shields and spears. From Benjamin, he had 280,000 men who carried small shields and bows. All of them were brave warriors.

Victory over the Ethiopian Invasion

9 Then Zerah the Ethiopian came to attack with an army of one million men and 300 chariots. They advanced as far as Mareshah.

10 Asa went out to meet him, and they took up battle positions in the Valley of Zephathah at Mareshah.

11 Asa cried out to the Lord his God:

"Lord, You can help whether we have many or few. Help us, Lord our God, for we depend on You, and in Your name we have come against this great army. Lord, You are our God—don't let mere men defeat You!"

12 So the Lord struck down the Ethiopians before Asa and the army of Judah, and the Ethiopians fled.

13 Asa and his troops chased them as far as Gerar, and the entire Ethiopian army was crushed—they could not recover. They were destroyed by the Lord and His army, and Asa's forces took a great amount of loot.

14 They also attacked all the towns around Gerar, because the fear of the Lord had fallen on them. They plundered all the towns, which held a tremendous amount of wealth.

15 They also raided the camps where the herders kept their livestock, and they took away many sheep and camels. Then they returned to Jerusalem.

Key Lessons from 2 Chronicles Chapter 14

1. True Reformation Requires Action

Asa didn't just speak of faith—he removed idols, destroyed pagan altars, and called the people to obey God's commands. Faith leads to change.

2. Peace Comes from Seeking God

The nation had rest and prosperity because Asa led Judah to seek the Lord wholeheartedly.

3. Prepare in Times of Peace

Asa wisely built up defenses during peaceful times, showing that wisdom plans ahead—not in fear, but in faith.

4. God Responds to Humble Dependence

Asa's prayer before battle was a beautiful picture of full dependence on the Lord: "We rest on You."

5. Victory Belongs to the Lord

Judah's massive enemy was defeated not by superior power, but because they trusted in God.

6. Fear of the Lord Opens the Way for Blessing

Even enemy cities fell and yielded wealth, not because of Judah's power, but because the fear of the Lord spread ahead of them.

2 Chronicles Chapter 15 — Crawford Standard Bible

Azariah's Prophetic Warning and Encouragement

1 Then the Spirit of God came upon Azariah son of Oded.

2 He went out to meet Asa and said, "Listen to me, Asa, and all Judah and Benjamin: The Lord is with you while you are with Him. If you seek Him, you will find Him. But if you abandon Him, He will abandon you.

3 For a long time, Israel was without the true God, without teaching priests, and without the law.

4 But whenever they turned back to the Lord, the God of Israel, in their distress and sincerely searched for Him, they found Him.

5 In those times, it wasn't safe to travel—there was chaos everywhere, and great turmoil afflicted all the nations.

6 One nation crushed another, one city clashed with another, because God troubled them with every kind of hardship.

7 But you, be strong! Don't give up, for your efforts will be rewarded.”

Asa's Renewed Reforms

8 When Asa heard these words and the prophecy of Azariah, he took courage. He removed the detestable idols from all of Judah and Benjamin and from the towns he had captured in the hill country of Ephraim. Then he repaired the altar of the Lord that was in front of the temple entrance.

9 He gathered together all the people of Judah and Benjamin, along with many from the tribes of Ephraim, Manasseh, and Simeon who had come to live with them. These people had left Israel to join Asa when they saw that the Lord his God was with him.

10 So they all assembled in Jerusalem in the third month of Asa's fifteenth year as king.

11 On that day, they sacrificed to the Lord 700 cattle and 7,000 sheep from the plunder they had taken.

12 Then they entered into a covenant to seek the Lord, the God of their ancestors, with all their heart and soul.

13 They even vowed that anyone who refused to seek the Lord God of Israel would be put to death, whether young or old, man or woman.

14 They shouted out their oath to the Lord with loud voices, trumpets, and ram's horns.

15 Everyone in Judah rejoiced at the oath because they had sworn it with all their hearts. They sought God eagerly and He allowed them to find Him. So the Lord gave them peace on every side.

Asa's Zeal for the Lord

16 King Asa also removed his grandmother Maacah from her position as queen mother because she had made a shameful Asherah pole idol. Asa cut it down, crushed it, and burned it in the Kidron Valley.

17 Although the high places of idol worship were not removed from Israel, Asa's heart was fully committed to the Lord all his life.

18 He brought into God's temple the silver, gold, and articles that he and his father had dedicated.

19 And there was no more war until the thirty-fifth year of Asa's reign.

Key Lessons from 2 Chronicles Chapter 15

1. God Honors Those Who Seek Him

Azariah's message is timeless: if you seek God sincerely, you will find Him. But if you walk away from Him, He will let you go.

2. Revival Starts with Repentance and Courage

Asa responded to God’s word with boldness—removing idols, rebuilding worship, and gathering the people back to God.

3. Unity Comes Through Devotion

People from multiple tribes joined Asa, not for politics, but because they saw God was with him. Spiritual leadership attracts faithful followers.

4. A Covenant with God Requires the Whole Heart

The people didn’t make empty promises—they swore an oath, rejoiced in it, and sought God with their whole desire.

5. Spiritual Zeal Doesn’t Play Favorites

Asa didn’t excuse his grandmother’s idolatry—he removed her from her royal position to honor God above family ties.

6. Wholehearted Faith Is Long-Term

Asa’s heart remained loyal to the Lord all his life, even though not every idol was torn down. God honors enduring faith.

2 Chronicles Chapter 16 — Crawford Standard Bible

Asa’s Treaty with Syria

1 In the thirty-sixth year of Asa’s reign, King Baasha of Israel came up against Judah and began to fortify Ramah so that no one could enter or leave the territory of King Asa of Judah.

2 Asa responded by taking silver and gold from the treasuries of the Lord’s Temple and the royal palace. He sent it to Ben-Hadad, king of Syria, who ruled in Damascus, with this message:

3 “Let there be a treaty between us, just as there was between my father and your father. I am sending you silver and gold. Break your treaty with King Baasha of Israel so that he will withdraw from me.”

4 Ben-Hadad agreed with King Asa and sent the commanders of his armies against the cities of Israel. They attacked Ijon, Dan, Abel-maim, and all the store cities of Naphtali.

5 When Baasha heard what was happening, he stopped fortifying Ramah and abandoned the project.

6 Then King Asa and all Judah took the building materials from Ramah—its stones and timber—and used them to fortify the towns of Geba and Mizpah.

The Prophet’s Rebuke

7 At that time Hanani the seer came to King Asa and said, “Because you relied on the king of Syria and not on the Lord your God, you missed your chance to defeat the Syrian army.

8 Don’t you remember the vast army of Ethiopians and Libyans, with all their chariots and horsemen? But because you relied on the Lord, He handed them over to you.

9 The eyes of the Lord search the whole earth to strengthen those whose hearts are fully committed to Him. What you've done is foolish. From now on, you will face wars."

10 Asa was furious with the seer and put him in prison because of this message. Asa also began to oppress some of the people at that time.

Asa's Final Years

11 The rest of Asa's reign—from beginning to end—is recorded in the Book of the Kings of Judah and Israel.

12 In the thirty-ninth year of his reign, Asa developed a serious disease in his feet. Yet even in his illness, he did not seek the Lord but only consulted the physicians.

13 Asa died in the forty-first year of his reign.

14 They buried him in his own tomb, which he had prepared for himself in the City of David. They laid him on a bed filled with spices and various fragrant perfumes, and they burned a huge funeral fire in his honor.

Key Lessons from 2 Chronicles Chapter 16

1. Trust in God Over Political Alliances

Asa leaned on a human alliance with Syria instead of trusting in the Lord—and it cost him. God seeks those who depend fully on Him.

2. Past Victories Don't Excuse Present Disobedience

Asa had trusted God in earlier battles, but his faith faltered later in life. Finishing strong in faith is as important as starting well.

3. God Sees Hearts and Rewards Loyalty

"The eyes of the Lord search the whole earth..." (v.9) reminds us that God is actively looking for people whose hearts are fully His.

4. Rejecting Correction Brings Further Consequences

Asa imprisoned the prophet for speaking truth and began oppressing his own people. A hardened heart invites further downfall.

5. Seek God in Every Crisis—Even in Sickness

Asa's failure to seek God during his disease shows that physical problems can reveal spiritual needs. Our first response should always be prayer.

6. A Legacy Is Shaped by Daily Trust

Asa started strong but stumbled late in life. A person's legacy is defined by consistent faith, not just early success.

2 Chronicles Chapter 17 — Crawford Standard Bible

Jehoshaphat Strengthens the Kingdom

1 Jehoshaphat, Asa's son, became king after him, and he strengthened Judah's defenses against Israel.

2 He stationed troops in all the fortified cities of Judah and set up military outposts in the towns of Ephraim that his father Asa had previously captured.

3 The Lord was with Jehoshaphat because he followed the early example of his ancestor David. He did not worship the Baals,

4 but instead sought the God of his father and followed His commands, rather than following the practices of Israel.

5 Therefore, the Lord firmly established the kingdom in Jehoshaphat's hand. All Judah brought him gifts, and he became very wealthy and honored.

6 He was deeply committed to the ways of the Lord. He even removed the high places and Asherah poles from Judah.

Teaching the Law Throughout Judah

7 In the third year of his reign, Jehoshaphat sent out his officials—Ben-Hail, Obadiah, Zechariah, Nethanel, and Micaiah—to teach in the cities of Judah.

8 Along with them were Levites: Shemaiah, Nethaniah, Zebadiah, Asahel, Shemiramoth, Jehonathan, Adonijah, Tobijah, and Tob-adonijah. The priests Elishama and Jehoram also accompanied them.

9 They taught throughout Judah, carrying the Book of the Law of the Lord. They went through all the cities of Judah and taught the people.

Jehoshaphat's Reputation and Army

10 Because of this, the fear of the Lord fell on all the surrounding kingdoms. None of them dared make war against Jehoshaphat.

11 Even the Philistines brought him gifts and silver as tribute. The Arabians brought him 7,700 rams and 7,700 male goats.

12 Jehoshaphat grew more and more powerful. He built fortresses and supply cities throughout Judah.

13 He had many enterprises throughout the cities of Judah, and a strong army stationed in Jerusalem.

The Mighty Men of Valor

14 This is the number of troops by families and clans:

From Judah, the commanders of units of 1,000 were: Adnah the commander, with 300,000 brave warriors;

15 Next to him was Jehohanan, with 280,000 men;

16 Then came Amasiah son of Zichri, who volunteered himself for the service of the Lord, with 200,000 mighty warriors.

17 From Benjamin: Eliada, a brave warrior, led 200,000 armed men with bows and shields;

18 Next to him was Jehozabad with 180,000 prepared for battle.

19 These men served the king in Jerusalem. Additional forces were stationed in all the fortified cities throughout Judah.

Key Lessons from 2 Chronicles Chapter 17

1. Obedience Attracts God's Favor

Jehoshaphat prospered because he followed the ways of the Lord and did not adopt the corrupt religious practices of Israel.

2. Teach the Word of God

One of Jehoshaphat's greatest acts was sending out teachers with the Law of the Lord to educate the people—an act of national revival.

3. Fear of the Lord Brings Peace

Because Judah feared the Lord and lived according to His ways, surrounding nations were afraid to attack. Righteousness leads to security.

4. True Leadership Is Rooted in Commitment to God

Jehoshaphat removed idols and invested in spiritual reform, showing that godly leadership starts with a heart set on honoring God.

5. God Rewards Faithful Servants

Men like Amasiah “offered themselves willingly unto the Lord,” showing that God honors voluntary service and commitment.

6. Spiritual Strength Leads to Military Strength

Jehoshaphat's spiritual reforms preceded his military success. The foundation of lasting national strength is spiritual obedience.

2 Chronicles Chapter 18 — Crawford Standard Bible

Jehoshaphat's Alliance with Ahab

1 Jehoshaphat had great riches and honor, and he formed an alliance through marriage with Ahab.

2 Some years later, he went to visit Ahab in Samaria. Ahab slaughtered many sheep and oxen to welcome him and the people with him. Then he persuaded Jehoshaphat to join him in attacking

Ramoth-gilead.

3 Ahab king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat king of Judah, “Will you go with me to Ramoth-gilead?”
Jehoshaphat replied, “I am as you are, and my people as your people; we will join you in the war.”

Seeking God’s Word

4 But Jehoshaphat said to the king of Israel, “Please, seek the word of the Lord first.”

5 So the king of Israel gathered four hundred prophets and asked them, “Should we go to war against Ramoth-gilead, or not?” They answered, “Go up, for God will give it into the king’s hand.”

6 But Jehoshaphat asked, “Isn’t there another prophet of the Lord we can consult?”

7 The king of Israel said, “There is still one man—Micaiah son of Imla—but I hate him. He never prophesies anything good about me, only bad.” Jehoshaphat replied, “You shouldn’t say that.”

The True Prophet: Micaiah

8 So the king of Israel called one of his officers and said, “Bring Micaiah son of Imla quickly.”

9 The kings of Israel and Judah were each sitting on their thrones, dressed in royal robes, at the gate of Samaria. All the prophets were prophesying before them.

10 Zedekiah son of Chenaanah made iron horns and declared, “This is what the Lord says: With these you will gore the Arameans until they are destroyed!”

11 All the other prophets agreed, saying, “Go up and succeed! The Lord will give the city into the king’s hand.”

12 The messenger who went to get Micaiah told him, “Look, all the other prophets are saying good things to the king. Let your word be like theirs—speak favorably.”

13 But Micaiah replied, “As surely as the Lord lives, I will say only what my God tells me to say.”

14 When Micaiah arrived, the king asked him, “Micaiah, shall we go to war against Ramoth-gilead, or not?” He answered sarcastically, “Sure, go and succeed! They’ll be given into your hand!”

15 But the king said, “How many times must I make you swear to tell me nothing but the truth in the name of the Lord?”

16 Then Micaiah said, “I saw all Israel scattered on the hills like sheep without a shepherd. And the Lord said, ‘They have no master; let them go home in peace.’”

17 The king of Israel said to Jehoshaphat, “Didn’t I tell you? He never prophesies anything good about me—only evil!”

Heaven’s Council Room

18 Micaiah continued, “Therefore, hear the word of the Lord: I saw the Lord sitting on His throne, with all the armies of heaven around Him.

19 The Lord said, ‘Who will entice Ahab king of Israel to go to battle at Ramoth-gilead so he can be killed?’ Some gave one suggestion, and others gave another.

20 Then a spirit came forward and said, ‘I will entice him.’

21 ‘How?’ the Lord asked. The spirit replied, ‘I will go out and be a lying spirit in the mouths of all his prophets.’ The Lord said, ‘You will succeed; go and do it.’

22 So now, the Lord has put a lying spirit in the mouths of these prophets, and He has declared disaster against you.”

Micaiah Is Imprisoned

23 Then Zedekiah son of Chenaanah came up and slapped Micaiah in the face. He said, “Which way did the Spirit of the Lord go from me to speak to you?”

24 Micaiah replied, “You will find out on the day you go into a room to hide.”

25 The king of Israel ordered, “Take Micaiah back to Amon the governor of the city and to Joash, my son.

26 Tell them, ‘This is what the king says: Put this man in prison and feed him nothing but bread and water until I return safely.’”

27 Micaiah said, “If you return safely, then the Lord has not spoken through me.” And he added, “Listen, all you people!”

The Death of Ahab

28 So the king of Israel and King Jehoshaphat of Judah went up to Ramoth-gilead.

29 Ahab said to Jehoshaphat, “I’ll disguise myself when I go into battle, but you wear your royal robes.” So the king of Israel disguised himself and went to war.

30 Now the king of Aram had ordered his chariot commanders, “Don’t fight anyone—great or small—except the king of Israel.”

31 When the commanders saw Jehoshaphat, they thought, “This must be the king of Israel,” and they surrounded him. But Jehoshaphat cried out, and the Lord helped him. God drew them away from him.

32 When the chariot commanders realized he was not the king of Israel, they turned away from him.

33 Then a soldier shot an arrow randomly, and it struck the king of Israel between the joints of his armor. He told his chariot driver, “Turn around and get me out of the battle—I’m badly wounded!”

34 The fighting raged all day. Ahab propped himself up in his chariot, facing the Arameans until evening. At sunset, he died.

Key Lessons from 2 Chronicles Chapter 18

1. Be Careful Who You Align With

Jehoshaphat’s alliance with Ahab, a wicked king, brought him into a dangerous war.

Partnerships should be rooted in shared faith and purpose.

2. False Prophets Are Many, but Truth Is Singular

Four hundred prophets said what Ahab wanted to hear, but only Micaiah spoke God's truth. Truth is not determined by majority opinion.

3. Speak God's Word—No Matter the Cost

Micaiah courageously spoke the truth even when it meant imprisonment. Faithfulness to God means speaking what He says, not what people want to hear.

4. God Sees Behind the Curtain

The vision of heaven's court reminds us that God is sovereign over all plans, decisions, and outcomes—even when people reject His warnings.

5. Disguises Can't Hide You from Judgment

Ahab thought disguising himself would save him, but a “random” arrow struck him. God's judgment cannot be escaped by human schemes.

6. God Rescues Those Who Cry Out to Him

When Jehoshaphat cried out in danger, the Lord intervened. He hears and delivers those who call on Him sincerely.

2 Chronicles Chapter 19 — Crawford Standard Bible

Jehoshaphat Rebuked for Helping Ahab

1 King Jehoshaphat of Judah returned safely to his home in Jerusalem.

2 But the prophet Jehu, son of Hanani, went out to meet him. He said to the king, “Should you help the wicked and love those who hate the Lord? Because of this, the Lord's anger is upon you.

3 Even so, there is some good in you, for you removed the Asherah poles from the land and have committed yourself to seek God.”

Jehoshaphat Leads the People to Repentance

4 Jehoshaphat lived in Jerusalem, but he went out among the people again—from Beersheba to the hill country of Ephraim—and turned them back to the Lord, the God of their ancestors.

Righteous Judges Appointed Throughout Judah

5 He appointed judges throughout the land in all the fortified cities of Judah.

6 He instructed them, saying, “Be careful what you do, because you are not judging for people, but for the Lord, who is with you when you give judgment.

7 So let the fear of the Lord be upon you. Be careful in what you do, for the Lord our God does not tolerate injustice, partiality, or the taking of bribes.”

Justice Established in Jerusalem

8 In Jerusalem, Jehoshaphat also appointed some of the Levites, priests, and heads of Israelite families to administer the Lord's law and to settle disputes. These officials served when cases were brought back to Jerusalem.

9 He gave them these instructions: "You must always act in the fear of the Lord, with honesty and a heart fully committed to Him.

10 Whenever a case comes to you from fellow citizens who live in other cities—whether it's a matter of murder or civil law, commandment or regulation—you must warn them not to sin against the Lord. If you do this, you will not bring guilt upon yourselves and your fellow citizens."

Chief Leaders of Church and State

11 "Amariah the high priest will have authority over all matters concerning the Lord. Zebadiah son of Ishmael, the ruler of Judah, will handle all matters relating to the king. The Levites will serve as officials assisting you.

Be strong and do your duty, and may the Lord be with those who do what is right."

Key Lessons from 2 Chronicles Chapter 19

1. Don't Partner with the Ungodly

Jehoshaphat's alliance with Ahab brought God's displeasure. Helping those who hate the Lord invites correction, even if your intentions seem honorable.

2. Faithfulness Does Not Cancel Accountability

Although Jehoshaphat had done much good, he was still rebuked. God judges with fairness and expects accountability from all leaders.

3. Leaders Must Lead the People Back to God

Jehoshaphat didn't just stay in Jerusalem—he went among the people to lead them in revival. True leadership involves shepherding others spiritually.

4. Justice Belongs to the Lord

Judges were reminded that they rule on God's behalf. Godly leadership should be free of favoritism, bribes, and corruption.

5. Fear of the Lord Is the Foundation of Justice

When leaders fear God and remain faithful, their decisions bring peace and righteousness to the people they serve.

6. Structure Matters in God's Kingdom

Jehoshaphat established a clear system of leadership with spiritual and civic branches, showing that God values order and accountability in both religious and civil life.

2 Chronicles Chapter 20 — Crawford Standard Bible

A Massive Army Threatens Judah

1 After this, the people of Moab and Ammon, along with others from the region of Mount Seir, came to wage war against Jehoshaphat.

2 Messengers came and told Jehoshaphat, “A vast army is coming against you from Edom, from across the Dead Sea. They are already at Hazazon-tamar” (also called En-gedi).

Jehoshaphat Seeks the Lord

3 Jehoshaphat was terrified and sought the Lord for guidance. He also declared a fast throughout all Judah.

4 So the people of Judah came together from every town to seek help from the Lord.

Jehoshaphat's Prayer

5 Jehoshaphat stood before the community of Judah and Jerusalem in front of the new courtyard at the temple of the Lord.

6 He prayed, “O Lord, God of our ancestors, You are the God who is in heaven. You rule over all the kingdoms of the earth. You are powerful and mighty; no one can stand against You.

7 O our God, didn't You drive out the inhabitants of this land before Your people Israel, and give it forever to the descendants of Your friend Abraham?

8 Your people settled here and built this temple to honor Your name.

9 They said, ‘Whenever we are faced with any calamity—whether war, plague, or famine—we can come to stand in Your presence before this temple where Your name is honored. We can cry out to You in our distress, and You will hear us and save us.’

The Crisis Described

10 “And now see what the armies of Ammon, Moab, and Mount Seir are doing. You wouldn't let our ancestors invade those nations when Israel left Egypt, so they went around them and didn't destroy them.

11 Now see how they reward us—for they have come to throw us out of Your land, which You gave us as an inheritance.

12 O our God, won't You judge them? We are powerless against this vast army that is attacking us. We don't know what to do, but our eyes are on You."

13 All the people of Judah stood before the Lord with their little ones, wives, and children.

God Speaks Through Jahaziel

14 Then the Spirit of the Lord came upon Jahaziel son of Zechariah (a Levite of the sons of Asaph) as he stood in the assembly.

15 He said, "Listen, all of you people of Judah and Jerusalem! Listen, King Jehoshaphat! This is what the Lord says: Do not be afraid or discouraged by this mighty army, for the battle is not yours, but God's.

16 Tomorrow, march out against them. You will find them coming up through the ascent of Ziz at the end of the valley that opens into the wilderness of Jeruel.

17 But you won't even need to fight. Take your positions; stand still and watch the Lord's victory. He is with you, O people of Judah and Jerusalem! Do not be afraid or discouraged. Go out tomorrow, for the Lord is with you!"

Worship and Praise Before the Battle

18 Then King Jehoshaphat bowed low with his face to the ground. And all the people of Judah and Jerusalem did the same, worshiping the Lord.

19 Then the Levites from the clans of Kohath and Korah stood to praise the Lord, the God of Israel, with a very loud shout.

Victory Through Worship

20 Early the next morning, the army of Judah went out into the wilderness of Tekoa. On the way, Jehoshaphat stopped and said, "Listen to me, people of Judah and Jerusalem! Believe in the Lord your God, and you will be established. Believe in His prophets, and you will succeed."

21 After consulting the people, the king appointed singers to walk ahead of the army, singing to the Lord and praising Him for His holy splendor. This is what they sang:

"Give thanks to the Lord; His faithful love endures forever!"

Enemies Destroy Themselves

22 At the very moment they began to sing and give praise, the Lord caused the armies of Ammon, Moab, and Mount Seir to start fighting among themselves.

23 The Ammonites and Moabites turned against their allies from Mount Seir and completely destroyed them. Then they attacked each other.

24 So when the army of Judah arrived at the lookout point in the wilderness, all they saw were dead bodies lying on the ground—as far as they could see. Not a single enemy had escaped.

Great Spoils and Celebration

25 King Jehoshaphat and his men went out to gather the plunder. They found vast amounts of equipment, clothing, and valuables—more than they could carry. There was so much plunder it took them three days to collect it all.

26 On the fourth day they gathered in the Valley of Berakah (which means “blessing”) and praised the Lord. That is why the valley is called the Valley of Berakah to this day.

Return to Jerusalem

27 Then all the men of Judah and Jerusalem, with Jehoshaphat leading them, returned joyfully to Jerusalem, for the Lord had given them reason to rejoice over their enemies.

28 They marched into Jerusalem to the music of harps, lyres, and trumpets, and went to the Temple of the Lord.

29 When all the surrounding kingdoms heard that the Lord Himself had fought against the enemies of Israel, the fear of God came upon them.

30 So Jehoshaphat’s kingdom was at peace, for his God had given him rest on every side.

Jehoshaphat’s Reign Summarized

31 Jehoshaphat was thirty-five years old when he became king, and he reigned in Jerusalem for twenty-five years. His mother’s name was Azubah, the daughter of Shilhi.

32 He followed the example of his father Asa and did what was right in the Lord’s eyes.

33 However, the high places were not removed, and the people still had not wholeheartedly committed themselves to the God of their ancestors.

A Costly Alliance

34 The rest of the events of Jehoshaphat’s reign, from beginning to end, are recorded in the writings of Jehu son of Hanani, which are part of the book of the kings of Israel.

35 After this, King Jehoshaphat of Judah made an alliance with King Ahaziah of Israel, who was very wicked.

36 They agreed to build a fleet of trading ships at Ezion-geber to sail to Tarshish.

37 But Eliezer son of Dodavahu from Mareshah prophesied against Jehoshaphat, saying, “Because you have allied yourself with Ahaziah, the Lord will destroy what you have made.” So the ships were wrecked and were never able to set sail.

Key Lessons from 2 Chronicles Chapter 20

1. Seek God First in Crisis

Jehoshaphat's first reaction to trouble was fear—but he turned that fear into faith by seeking the Lord and calling the nation to pray.

2. God Fights for His People

“The battle is not yours, but God’s.” When we trust God and stand in faith, He brings supernatural victory beyond our ability.

3. Worship Is a Weapon

Praise led the way in battle—literally. As they sang, God set ambushes and confused their enemies. Worship invites divine intervention.

4. Stand Still and Watch God Work

Sometimes, God calls us not to fight, but to stand firm in trust. Our posture of surrender becomes our position of victory.

5. There Is Blessing After the Battle

The Valley of Beracah—meaning “blessing”—was a place of victory and abundance. What began as a threat ended in praise and prosperity.

6. Unequal Partnerships Bring Loss

Jehoshaphat's alliance with wicked King Ahaziah led to ruined plans. God's people should not align themselves with those who oppose Him.

2 Chronicles Chapter 21 — Crawford Standard Bible

Jehoram Becomes King

1 Jehoshaphat died and was buried with his ancestors in the City of David. His son Jehoram became king after him.

2 Jehoram had several brothers—sons of Jehoshaphat—named Azariah, Jehiel, Zechariah, another Azariah, Michael, and Shephatiah. All were sons of King Jehoshaphat of Israel.

3 Their father gave them valuable gifts of silver, gold, and other treasures, and assigned them fortified cities throughout Judah. But because Jehoram was the oldest, he gave him the kingdom.

Jehoram Kills His Brothers

4 When Jehoram secured control over the kingdom, he strengthened his rule by murdering all of his brothers with a sword, along with some of the leading officials of Israel.

5 Jehoram was thirty-two years old when he began to reign, and he ruled in Jerusalem for eight years.

6 But he followed the evil ways of the kings of Israel, just like Ahab's family had done, because he had married one of Ahab's daughters. He did what was evil in the Lord's sight.

God's Covenant with David Preserves the Line

7 Even so, the Lord didn't destroy David's dynasty because of the covenant He had made with David. He had promised to preserve a lamp for David and his descendants forever.

Edom and Libnah Rebel

8 During Jehoram's reign, the nation of Edom revolted against Judah's control and appointed their own king.

9 Jehoram responded by marching out with his army and chariots. He launched a surprise nighttime attack and defeated the Edomite troops who had surrounded him and his chariot commanders.

10 Even so, Edom has been independent from Judah to this day. Around the same time, the town of Libnah also rebelled against Jehoram's rule because he had abandoned the Lord, the God of his ancestors.

Wickedness in Judah

11 Jehoram built pagan shrines in the hill country of Judah. He led the people of Jerusalem into idolatry and caused Judah to turn away from God.

A Letter from Elijah the Prophet

12 Then Elijah the prophet sent Jehoram a letter that said:

“This is what the Lord, the God of your ancestor David, says:

Because you have not followed the ways of your father Jehoshaphat or your grandfather Asa,

13 But instead have followed the ways of the kings of Israel, and have led Judah and Jerusalem into idolatry—just like the house of Ahab did—and because you have murdered your own brothers, who were better men than you,

14 The Lord is going to strike your people, your children, your wives, and all your possessions with a terrible blow.

15 And you yourself will suffer with a painful intestinal disease that will grow worse each day until your bowels eventually fall out.”

Jehoram's Defeat and Death

16 Then the Lord stirred up the Philistines and the Arabians who lived near the Ethiopians to come against Jehoram.

17 They invaded Judah and ransacked the royal palace. They carried off everything of value, including Jehoram's sons and wives. Only his youngest son, Jehoahaz, was left.

18 After this, the Lord struck Jehoram with an incurable disease in his bowels.

19 After two years of suffering, his intestines came out due to the disease, and he died in excruciating pain. His people did not light a funeral fire in his honor, as they had for his ancestors.

No One Mourns the Wicked King

20 Jehoram was thirty-two years old when he began to reign, and he ruled in Jerusalem for eight years. No one regretted his death. Though they buried him in the City of David, he was not buried in the royal tombs of the kings.

Key Lessons from 2 Chronicles Chapter 21

1. God Honors His Covenant Even When Leaders Fail

Though Jehoram was wicked, God didn't destroy the Davidic line because of His covenant with David. God keeps His promises.

2. Sinful Leadership Brings National Suffering

Jehoram's rebellion against God led to political revolt, national instability, and eventually invasion and loss.

3. Idolatry Is Contagious

By building pagan shrines and leading people into sin, Jehoram multiplied wickedness throughout Judah. Leadership carries influence.

4. Divine Warnings Should Be Taken Seriously

God sent a direct warning through the prophet Elijah. Jehoram ignored it and faced the full consequences of his choices.

5. A Life Without God Leaves No Legacy

Jehoram died in misery, unloved, unmourned, and dishonored. His life was remembered only for wickedness and pain.

2 Chronicles Chapter 22 — Crawford Standard Bible

Ahaziah Becomes King of Judah

1 After the death of Jehoram, the people of Jerusalem made his youngest son, Ahaziah, king in his place. The older sons had been killed by the raiders who came with the Arabians to the camp. So Ahaziah, the son of Jehoram, became king of Judah.

2 Ahaziah was twenty-two years old when he began to reign, and he ruled in Jerusalem for one year. His mother's name was Athaliah, the granddaughter of Omri.

A Wicked Influence

3 Ahaziah followed the wicked example of Ahab's family, for his mother was his advisor and encouraged him to do wrong.

4 He did what was evil in the Lord's sight, just like Ahab's house, for after his father died, they became his counselors—and their advice led to his ruin.

A Fatal Alliance with Ahab's Son

5 Following their counsel, Ahaziah joined Jehoram, the son of Ahab, king of Israel, in a war against King Hazael of Syria at Ramoth-gilead. The Syrians wounded Jehoram.

6 Jehoram returned to Jezreel to recover from the wounds he had received at Ramah in the battle against Hazael. Then King Ahaziah of Judah went down to Jezreel to visit him because he was sick.

Ahaziah's Death Foretold by God

7 God had decided to bring about Ahaziah's downfall through this visit to Jehoram. When Ahaziah arrived, he went with Jehoram to confront Jehu, son of Nimshi, whom the Lord had appointed to destroy Ahab's dynasty.

8 While Jehu was executing judgment on Ahab's family, he found the princes of Judah and Ahaziah's nephews, who were serving him, and killed them all.

9 Then Jehu searched for Ahaziah, who was hiding in Samaria. They found him and brought him to Jehu, and he was executed. But they gave him a proper burial, for they said, "He was the grandson of Jehoshaphat, who sincerely sought the Lord with all his heart." So there was no one left in Ahaziah's family with the strength to rule the kingdom.

Athaliah's Evil Reign Begins

10 When Athaliah, Ahaziah's mother, realized her son was dead, she seized power by killing all the remaining royal heirs of the house of Judah.

11 But Jehoshabeath, daughter of King Jehoram and sister of Ahaziah, took Ahaziah's infant son Joash and hid him away from the rest of the king's sons who were being killed. She placed him and his nurse in a spare bedroom. Because Jehoshabeath was married to Jehoiada the priest, she safely hid Joash in the Temple of God, and Athaliah did not find him.

12 Joash remained hidden with them in God's Temple for six years while Athaliah ruled the land.

Key Lessons from 2 Chronicles Chapter 22

1. Evil Counsel Leads to Destruction

Ahaziah listened to wicked advisors, especially his mother Athaliah and the house of Ahab, which ultimately led to his death. Whose voice we follow shapes our destiny.

2. Bad Alliances Bring Ruin

Ahaziah's alliance with Ahab's family brought him into judgment alongside them. Aligning with ungodly people often leads to shared consequences.

3. God's Judgment Is Certain

The downfall of Ahaziah was not random—it was divinely ordained as part of God's judgment on Ahab's house and those who aligned with it.

4. The Preservation of God's Promise

Though Athaliah tried to wipe out the royal line of David, God protected the baby Joash through faithful people like Jehoshabeath and Jehoiada. God's promises cannot be thwarted.

5. Even in Darkness, God Raises Up Hope

While Athaliah ruled in wickedness, God was preparing a righteous king in secret. His redemptive work often begins quietly and grows with time.

2 Chronicles Chapter 23 — Crawford Standard Bible

Jehoiada's Secret Plan to Restore the True King

1 In the seventh year of Athaliah's reign, Jehoiada the priest took courage and made a covenant with the commanders of the army—Azariah son of Jeroham, Ishmael son of Jehohanan, Azariah son of Obed, Maaseiah son of Adaiah, and Elishaphat son of Zichri.

2 They traveled throughout Judah and gathered the Levites and leaders from all the towns. Then they came together to Jerusalem.

3 There in God's Temple, the whole assembly made a covenant with the king. Jehoiada said, "Here is the king's son! He must reign, just as the Lord promised concerning the descendants of David."

The Restoration Plan Is Set in Motion

4 "Here's what you must do," Jehoiada told them. "A third of you priests and Levites who are on duty this Sabbath are to guard the doorways.

5 Another third will stand guard at the king's palace, and the final third will be at the Foundation Gate. All the rest of the people will gather in the courtyards of the Lord's Temple.

6 Only the priests and Levites who are on duty may enter the Temple itself, for they are holy. All the others must stay outside and guard the Lord's presence.

7 The Levites must surround the king with weapons in hand. Anyone who tries to enter the Temple must be killed. Stay close to the king wherever he goes.”

The King Is Crowned in the House of God

8 So the Levites and all the people of Judah followed Jehoiada’s instructions. The priests didn’t release their shifts, so the incoming and outgoing groups served together that Sabbath.

9 Jehoiada gave the commanders the spears, shields, and small shields that had belonged to King David and were kept in God’s Temple.

10 He positioned the men with weapons from the south side to the north side of the Temple, standing by the altar and around the king.

11 Then they brought out the king’s son, placed the crown on his head, gave him a copy of the law, and anointed him as king. And they shouted, “Long live the king!”

Athaliah Is Executed

12 When Athaliah heard the noise of celebration and the people running to see what was happening, she came to the Lord’s Temple.

13 There she saw the new king standing at his pillar of authority at the entrance, surrounded by the commanders, the trumpeters, and a crowd rejoicing with music and singers leading praises. Athaliah tore her clothes and shouted, “Treason! Treason!”

14 Jehoiada the priest ordered the commanders, “Take her out of the Temple grounds and kill anyone who tries to defend her. Don’t kill her in the Lord’s Temple.”

15 So they seized her, and when she reached the Horse Gate by the king’s palace, they killed her there.

The Nation Returns to the Lord

16 Then Jehoiada made a covenant between himself, the king, and all the people that they would be the Lord’s people.

17 All the people went to the temple of Baal and tore it down. They smashed its altars and images and killed Mattan, the priest of Baal, in front of the altars.

18 Jehoiada assigned the priests and Levites to their proper roles, as David had instructed, to offer burnt offerings in the Lord’s Temple with songs of praise and joy, just as Moses had written and David had arranged.

19 He stationed gatekeepers at all the entrances to ensure no one who was ceremonially unclean could enter.

Joash Begins His Reign in Peace

20 Then Jehoiada took the commanders, the nobles, the leaders of the people, and the entire population, and together they escorted the king from the Temple to the royal palace. They entered through the Upper Gate and placed the king on the throne.

21 So all the people rejoiced, and the city remained calm because Athaliah had been killed with the sword.

Key Lessons from 2 Chronicles Chapter 23

1. God Always Preserves His Promises

Though Athaliah tried to destroy the royal line, God's promise to David remained intact. Joash, the rightful heir, was protected and restored at the right time.

2. Righteous Leadership Requires Boldness

Jehoiada risked his life to stand for righteousness. Courageous leaders are needed to confront evil and lead people back to God.

3. Revival Begins with Covenant Renewal

Jehoiada led the people in renewing their commitment to the Lord. Revival often starts with a return to God's Word and a fresh dedication to His ways.

4. True Worship Replaces False Idols

The people tore down the temple of Baal and restored the worship of the one true God. Genuine revival leads to removing idols and restoring holy worship.

5. Peace Follows Obedience

After Joash was crowned and Athaliah was removed, the land was filled with joy and peace. God's blessing rests on those who walk in His ways.

2 Chronicles Chapter 24 — Crawford Standard Bible

Joash Reigns Under Jehoiada's Guidance

1 Joash was seven years old when he became king, and he reigned in Jerusalem for forty years. His mother's name was Zibiah, from Beersheba.

2 Joash did what was right in the sight of the Lord as long as Jehoiada the priest was alive.

3 Jehoiada arranged two wives for him, and he had sons and daughters.

The Temple of the Lord Is Repaired

4 Some time later, Joash decided to restore the Temple of the Lord.

5 He gathered the priests and Levites and told them, "Go to all the towns of Judah and collect the money required each year by the law of Moses to repair the Temple of your God. Move quickly on this matter.” But the Levites did not act immediately.

6 So the king summoned Jehoiada the chief priest and asked, “Why haven’t you required the Levites to bring in from Judah and Jerusalem the collection Moses commanded for the Tabernacle of the Covenant?”

7 For the sons of Athaliah—that wicked woman—had broken into God’s Temple and had even used the sacred things for the worship of Baal.

A Chest for Offerings and a Joyful Response

8 At the king’s command, a large chest was made and placed outside the gate of the Temple of the Lord.

9 Then a proclamation was sent throughout Judah and Jerusalem, instructing the people to bring to the Lord the tax that Moses had required in the wilderness.

10 All the leaders and people gladly brought their contributions and dropped them into the chest until it was full.

11 Whenever the chest was brought to the king’s officials by the Levites and they saw that a lot of money had been collected, the king’s secretary and the high priest’s official would come and empty the chest, then return it to its place. This was done day after day, and a great amount of money was collected.

12 The king and Jehoiada gave the funds to those who supervised the work on the Temple. They hired masons and carpenters to restore the Lord’s Temple, as well as workers skilled in iron and bronze.

13 The men worked faithfully, and the repairs progressed well under their supervision. They restored the Temple of God to its original form and strengthened it.

14 When the work was completed, the remaining money was used to make articles for the Temple—tools for worship, utensils, and vessels of gold and silver. Burnt offerings were offered in the Temple continually as long as Jehoiada lived.

Jehoiada’s Death and Joash’s Rebellion

15 Jehoiada lived a long life and died at the age of 130.

16 He was buried among the kings in the City of David because of the good he had done for Israel, for God, and for the Temple.

17 But after Jehoiada’s death, the leaders of Judah came and bowed before King Joash, and he listened to them.

18 They abandoned the Temple of the Lord, the God of their ancestors, and began worshipping Asherah poles and idols. Because of this sin, God’s anger fell upon Judah and Jerusalem.

19 The Lord sent prophets to warn them and call them back, but the people refused to listen.

The Martyrdom of Zechariah and God's Judgment

20 Then the Spirit of God came upon Zechariah son of Jehoiada the priest. He stood before the people and said, “This is what God says: Why do you disobey the Lord’s commands and bring disaster on yourselves? Because you have abandoned the Lord, He has also abandoned you.”

21 But they conspired against Zechariah and stoned him to death at the king’s command right in the courtyard of the Lord’s Temple.

22 King Joash showed no gratitude for the kindness Jehoiada had shown him, and he killed Jehoiada’s son. As Zechariah died, he said, “May the Lord see this and bring judgment.”

Joash Is Defeated and Assassinated

23 At the end of the year, the Aramean army came to Judah and Jerusalem. They killed all the leaders of the people and sent the loot to the king of Damascus.

24 Although the Aramean army was small, the Lord allowed them to defeat a much larger army because the people of Judah had abandoned Him, the God of their ancestors. So He used the Arameans to bring judgment against Joash.

25 After the Arameans withdrew, Joash was severely wounded. His own officials conspired against him for murdering Zechariah son of Jehoiada, and they killed him on his bed. He died and was buried in the City of David, but not in the royal tombs.

26 The conspirators were Zabad son of Shimeath, an Ammonite woman, and Jehozabad son of Shimrith, a Moabite woman.

27 The account of Joash’s sons, the many prophecies about him, and his restoration of the Temple of God are recorded in the Book of the Kings. His son Amaziah succeeded him as king.

Key Lessons from 2 Chronicles Chapter 24

1. Godly Influence Is Powerful but Temporary

Joash served the Lord while Jehoiada was alive, but his faith collapsed without that spiritual support. We must cultivate our own lasting relationship with God, not depend solely on others.

2. Willing Hearts Fuel God’s Work

When Joash challenged the people to give toward the Temple, they responded joyfully. God’s people thrive when generosity is paired with purpose.

3. Ungratefulness Is a Dangerous Sin

Joash forgot the kindness of Jehoiada and murdered his son Zechariah. Ingratitude can lead to terrible betrayal and spiritual blindness.

4. God Sees and Judges All Things

Zechariah’s final cry was, “May the Lord see and repay.” God’s justice is never out of reach—even when it seems delayed.

5. Rebellion Brings Ruin

Judah's return to idolatry after Jehoiada's death brought destruction. Forsaking the Lord removes His hand of protection and invites consequences.

2 Chronicles Chapter 25 — Crawford Standard Bible

Amaziah Begins His Reign

1 Amaziah was twenty-five years old when he became king, and he reigned in Jerusalem for twenty-nine years. His mother's name was Jehoaddan, from Jerusalem.

2 He did what was right in the eyes of the Lord, but not wholeheartedly.

3 After his authority as king was firmly established, he executed the officials who had assassinated his father the king.

4 However, he did not kill their children, as it is written in the Law of Moses, where the Lord commanded: "Parents must not be put to death for their children, nor children for their parents; each person must die for their own sin."

Preparing for Battle — But Not with Israel's Help

5 Amaziah assembled the people of Judah and assigned them commanders of thousands and of hundreds, according to their family divisions, across all Judah and Benjamin. He counted all the men twenty years and older and found there were 300,000 capable warriors trained with spear and shield.

6 He also hired 100,000 experienced fighters from Israel for 100 talents of silver.

7 But a man of God came to him and said, "King, do not let the army of Israel go with you. The Lord is not with Israel—He is not with the people of Ephraim.

8 If you insist on going with them into battle, be prepared to lose. God has the power to help you or to bring you down."

9 Amaziah asked the man of God, "But what about the silver I already paid the Israelite troops?" The man of God replied, "The Lord can give you much more than that."

Victory and Consequences

10 So Amaziah dismissed the troops from Ephraim and sent them home. They were furious with Judah and left in great anger.

11 Then Amaziah boldly led his own people to the Valley of Salt, where they defeated 10,000 men from Seir.

12 They captured another 10,000 alive, took them to the top of a cliff, and threw them down, shattering them on the rocks below.

13 Meanwhile, the Israelite soldiers who had been dismissed raided cities in Judah between Samaria and Beth Horon. They killed 3,000 people and took much plunder.

Amaziah's Idolatry and Warning

14 After defeating the Edomites, Amaziah brought back their gods, set them up as his own, bowed before them, and burned incense to them.

15 This made the Lord very angry, so He sent a prophet to say, "Why are you worshiping the gods of a nation that couldn't even protect its own people from you?"

16 While the prophet was still speaking, the king interrupted and said, "Who made you the king's advisor? Stop talking before I have you killed!"

The prophet replied, "I know that God has decided to destroy you, because you have done this and won't listen to correction."

Amaziah Challenges Israel and Is Defeated

17 After this, Amaziah consulted his advisors and sent a challenge to King Joash of Israel, son of Jehoahaz and grandson of Jehu, saying, "Come and face me in battle."

18 Joash responded with a parable: "A thistle in Lebanon sent a message to a cedar, asking for its daughter's hand in marriage for his son. Then a wild animal came by and trampled the thistle.

19 You've defeated Edom, and now you're proud. But stay at home! Why bring trouble on yourself and Judah?"

20 But Amaziah refused to listen, for God had determined to hand him over to his enemies, because he had turned to the gods of Edom.

Israel Defeats Judah and Plunders Jerusalem

21 So King Joash of Israel went to battle. He and King Amaziah of Judah met at Beth Shemesh, in Judah.

22 Judah was defeated, and the soldiers fled to their homes.

23 Joash captured Amaziah and marched to Jerusalem. He broke down 600 feet of the city wall—from the Ephraim Gate to the Corner Gate.

24 He looted all the gold, silver, and sacred articles in the Temple, which had been cared for by Obed-Edom, along with treasures from the royal palace and hostages. Then he returned to Samaria.

The End of Amaziah

25 Amaziah, son of Joash, king of Judah, lived fifteen years after the death of King Joash of Israel.

26 The rest of Amaziah's deeds, from beginning to end, are written in the Book of the Kings of Judah and Israel.

27 After Amaziah turned away from the Lord, a conspiracy formed against him in Jerusalem. He fled to Lachish, but assassins were sent after him and killed him there.

28 His body was brought back on horseback and buried in the City of Judah alongside his ancestors.

Key Lessons from 2 Chronicles Chapter 25

1. Partial Obedience Is Not Enough

Amaziah did what was right—but not wholeheartedly. God desires our complete devotion, not half-hearted loyalty.

2. Obeying God May Require Sacrifice

Amaziah was willing to lose silver to obey God's word. Faith sometimes means giving up personal investments for obedience.

3. Idolatry Is Irrational and Offensive to God

Amaziah worshiped the gods of the people he defeated. This foolish act led to his downfall. We must not give our hearts to anything but God.

4. Pride Leads to Destruction

After his victory over Edom, Amaziah's pride pushed him to challenge Israel unnecessarily, resulting in disaster. Humility guards us from foolish conflict.

5. Refusing Correction Invites Ruin

Amaziah rejected the prophet's rebuke, sealing his judgment. God warns us through others so we might turn and live.

6. Falling Away Brings Consequences

After Amaziah turned from the Lord, conspiracy, defeat, and assassination followed. Drifting from God never ends well.

2 Chronicles Chapter 26 — Crawford Standard Bible

Uzziah Becomes King at Sixteen

1 Then all the people of Judah took Uzziah, who was only sixteen years old, and made him king in place of his father Amaziah.

2 He rebuilt the town of Eloth and restored it to Judah after his father's death.

3 Uzziah was sixteen when he began to reign, and he ruled in Jerusalem for fifty-two years. His mother's name was Jecoliah of Jerusalem.

4 He did what was right in the Lord's eyes, just as his father Amaziah had done.

5 Uzziah sought God during the days of Zechariah, who had insight in the visions of God. As long as Uzziah sought the Lord, God caused him to succeed.

Military Strength and Prosperity

6 Uzziah went to war against the Philistines. He tore down the walls of Gath, Jabneh, and Ashdod and built cities in their territory.

7 God helped him against the Philistines, the Arabians living in Gurbaal, and the Mehunites.

8 The Ammonites paid tribute to Uzziah, and his fame spread all the way to the borders of Egypt because he had become very powerful.

9 He built towers in Jerusalem at the Corner Gate, the Valley Gate, and the angle in the wall, and fortified them.

10 He also built towers in the wilderness and dug many wells, for he had large herds in the lowlands and plains. He had farmers and vineyard workers in the hills and fertile fields, for he loved agriculture.

A Mighty Army and Military Innovations

11 Uzziah had a well-organized army ready for battle. Jeiel the scribe and Maaseiah the officer kept records under Hananiah, one of the king's commanders.

12 There were 2,600 clan leaders who led the army.

13 Under their command was a powerful force of 307,500 trained soldiers who could help the king defeat his enemies.

14 Uzziah provided them with shields, spears, helmets, armor, bows, and slings for throwing stones.

15 In Jerusalem he invented machines designed by skilled men for use on the towers and walls to shoot arrows and large stones. His fame spread far and wide, for he was marvelously helped until he became powerful.

Uzziah's Pride and His Punishment

16 But after Uzziah became strong, pride led to his downfall. He was unfaithful to the Lord his God. He entered the Temple of the Lord to burn incense on the altar, something only the priests were allowed to do.

17 Azariah the priest, along with eighty other courageous priests, followed him into the Temple.

18 They confronted King Uzziah and said, "It is not your place to burn incense to the Lord, Uzziah. That job belongs to the priests, the descendants of Aaron, who have been consecrated for this task. Leave the sanctuary! You've sinned, and the Lord God will not honor you for this."

19 Uzziah, holding a censer in his hand, became angry. While he raged at the priests, leprosy broke out on his forehead right there beside the altar of incense.

20 When Azariah and the other priests saw the leprosy, they rushed him out. Uzziah himself hurried to leave because the Lord had afflicted him.

21 King Uzziah had leprosy until the day he died. He lived in a separate house, excluded from the Temple of the Lord. His son Jotham took charge of the palace and governed the people of the land.

The End of Uzziah's Life

22 The rest of Uzziah's deeds, from beginning to end, were written down by the prophet Isaiah, son of Amoz.

23 Uzziah died and was buried near his ancestors in a field reserved for kings, though not in the royal tombs, because people said, "He was a leper." And his son Jotham became king in his place.

Key Lessons from 2 Chronicles Chapter 26

1. God Blesses Those Who Seek Him

Uzziah prospered as long as he sought the Lord under godly guidance. Divine favor follows those who pursue God with humility and purpose.

2. Success Can Lead to Pride

Uzziah's fame, power, and accomplishments made him proud. Pride blinded him to God's boundaries, leading to his downfall. Strength without humility is dangerous.

3. Respect God's Order and Holiness

Uzziah's attempt to take over priestly duties violated God's laws. Spiritual leadership is not something to seize but to be called into. Reverence and obedience are always required.

4. Leaders Are Not Above Accountability

Even a king was not exempt from correction. The courage of the priests shows the importance of standing for righteousness, even when it's hard.

5. Sin Has Consequences That Can't Be Undone by Power

Uzziah's leprosy isolated him from society and from the Temple. No position or accomplishment can shield us from the discipline of God.

6. God Uses Prophets to Record and Warn

Isaiah recorded Uzziah's reign as both a testimony and a warning. God provides clear records so His people can learn and grow.

2 Chronicles Chapter 27 — Crawford Standard Bible

Jotham's Reign Begins

1 Jotham was twenty-five years old when he became king, and he ruled in Jerusalem for sixteen years. His mother was Jerushah, the daughter of Zadok.

2 He did what was right in the eyes of the Lord, just as his father Uzziah had done, but he did not enter the Temple of the Lord. However, the people continued to live corruptly.

Construction and Expansion

3 Jotham rebuilt the Upper Gate of the Lord's Temple and did extensive work on the wall at the hill of Ophel.

4 He also built towns in the hill country of Judah and constructed fortresses and towers in the forest regions.

Victory Over Ammon and Tribute Received

5 Jotham went to war against the king of the Ammonites and defeated them. That year, the Ammonites paid him a tribute of 7,500 pounds of silver, 62,000 bushels of wheat, and 62,000 bushels of barley.

They continued to pay him this same amount in the second and third years as well.

His Strength and Legacy

6 So Jotham grew powerful because he was intentional about ordering his ways before the Lord his God.

7 The rest of Jotham's actions, including his wars and accomplishments, are recorded in the Book of the Kings of Israel and Judah.

8 He was twenty-five years old when he became king, and he ruled for sixteen years in Jerusalem.

9 Jotham died and was buried in the City of David. His son Ahaz became king in his place.

Key Lessons from 2 Chronicles Chapter 27

1. Faithfulness Brings Strength

Jotham grew strong not because of military might alone, but because he aligned his ways with the Lord. Spiritual integrity leads to lasting success.

2. A Good Leader Can't Always Change a Corrupt People

Even though Jotham ruled righteously, the people remained corrupt. This reminds us that personal faithfulness does not always result in national repentance—but it is still essential.

3. Building God's House Matters

Jotham invested in the Temple and the infrastructure of Judah. God-honoring leadership includes investing in what brings people closer to God.

4. Obedience Can Lead to Peace and Prosperity

Because of his obedience, Jotham not only prospered but even received tribute from foreign nations. God honors those who honor Him.

5. Wisdom Includes Knowing Your Boundaries

Jotham did not repeat his father Uzziah's mistake of entering the Temple unlawfully. He respected God's boundaries and maintained order.

2 Chronicles Chapter 28 — Crawford Standard Bible

Ahaz Turns from the Lord

1 Ahaz was twenty years old when he became king, and he ruled in Jerusalem for sixteen years. But he did not do what was right in the eyes of the Lord, as his ancestor David had done.

2 Instead, he followed the example of the kings of Israel and made cast images to worship the Baals.

3 He even burned incense in the Valley of Hinnom and sacrificed his own children in fire—imitating the detestable practices of the nations that the Lord had driven out ahead of Israel.

4 He offered sacrifices and burned incense at the high places, on the hills, and under every green tree.

Defeat and Captivity

5 So the Lord his God handed him over to the king of Syria. The Syrians defeated him, took many people captive, and brought them to Damascus. He was also handed over to the king of Israel, who inflicted a heavy defeat.

6 Pekah, son of Remaliah, killed 120,000 warriors in Judah in one day because they had abandoned the Lord, the God of their ancestors.

7 Zichri, a powerful warrior from Ephraim, killed Maaseiah the king's son, Azrikam the palace administrator, and Elkanah, who was next in authority to the king.

8 The people of Israel captured 200,000 from their own brothers and sisters in Judah—including women and children. They also took much plunder and brought it all to Samaria.

Oded the Prophet Intervenes

9 But a prophet of the Lord named Oded was there. He went out to meet the army as they arrived in Samaria and said, "Because the Lord, the God of your ancestors, was angry with Judah, He let you defeat them. But you have slaughtered them in a rage that has reached up to heaven.

10 And now you plan to make the people of Judah and Jerusalem your slaves. But aren't you just as guilty of sinning against the Lord your God?

11 Now listen to me. Send back these captives, for the Lord's fierce anger is upon you!"

12 Then some of the leaders of Ephraim—Azariah son of Johanan, Berekiah son of Meshillemoth, Jehizkiah son of Shallum, and Amasa son of Hadlai—stood up against the men returning from battle.

13 They said, "You must not bring those captives here! We are already guilty before the Lord, and you are trying to add to our sins. Our guilt is great, and His anger is already burning against Israel."

14 So the soldiers released the prisoners and the plunder before the leaders and the entire assembly.

15 The men whose names were listed took charge of the captives. They clothed the naked, gave them sandals, food, and drink, and treated their wounds. Then they put the weak ones on donkeys and escorted them back to their families in Jericho, the city of palm trees. Then they returned to Samaria.

Ahaz's Alliance with Assyria

16 At that time King Ahaz asked the king of Assyria for help.

17 The Edomites had once again attacked Judah and carried away prisoners.

18 Meanwhile, the Philistines had invaded towns in the foothills and the Negev of Judah, capturing cities like Beth-shemesh, Aijalon, Gederoth, Soco and its villages, Timnah and its villages, and Gimzo and its villages, and they settled there.

19 The Lord humbled Judah because of King Ahaz of Israel, for he had encouraged sin in Judah and was utterly unfaithful to the Lord.

20 King Tiglath-pileser of Assyria came against him and gave him trouble instead of helping him.

21 Even though Ahaz took treasures from the Lord's Temple, the royal palace, and the homes of the officials and gave them to the king of Assyria, it did no good.

Ahaz Deepens His Rebellion

22 During his time of distress, King Ahaz became even more unfaithful to the Lord.

23 He sacrificed to the gods of Damascus, who had defeated him. He said, "Since the gods of the kings of Syria helped them, I will sacrifice to them so they will help me." But instead, they led to his ruin and the downfall of all Israel.

24 Ahaz collected the sacred items from the Temple of God, cut them into pieces, locked the doors of the Temple, and set up altars on every street corner in Jerusalem.

25 He also built pagan shrines in every town in Judah to burn incense to other gods. In doing this, he made the Lord, the God of his ancestors, very angry.

Ahaz's Death and Legacy

26 The rest of the events of Ahaz's reign, from beginning to end, are recorded in the Book of the Kings of Judah and Israel.

27 When he died, he was buried in Jerusalem, but not in the royal tombs of the kings of Israel. His son Hezekiah succeeded him as king.

Key Lessons from 2 Chronicles Chapter 28

1. Turning from God Leads to Collapse

Ahaz's rejection of the Lord opened the door to destruction, defeat, and foreign oppression.

Spiritual rebellion always invites ruin.

2. God's Mercy Speaks Through Prophets

Even in judgment, God sent Oded to plead for mercy and justice. God always raises voices of warning before executing judgment.

3. Unfaithfulness Cannot Be Bought Off

Ahaz tried to solve spiritual problems with political alliances and money. But no bribe can replace obedience to God.

4. Idolatry Always Destroys

Ahaz turned to the gods of those who had defeated him—an act of desperation and foolishness. False gods never bring peace, only ruin.

5. Compassion in the Midst of War

The people of Israel, though initially in the wrong, listened to God's word through Oded and showed mercy to their brothers. Obedience to God includes how we treat others—even enemies.

2 Chronicles Chapter 29 — Crawford Standard Bible

Hezekiah Begins to Restore the Temple

1 Hezekiah was twenty-five years old when he became king, and he ruled in Jerusalem for twenty-nine years. His mother's name was Abijah, daughter of Zechariah.

2 He did what was right in the eyes of the Lord, just as his ancestor David had done.

3 In the very first month of the first year of his reign, he reopened the doors of the Temple of the Lord and repaired them.

Purification of the Temple Begins

4 He summoned the priests and Levites and assembled them in the eastern square of the Temple.

5 He said, "Listen to me, you Levites! Set yourselves apart for the Lord and purify the Temple of the Lord, the God of your ancestors. Remove all the defilement from the holy place.

6 Our ancestors were unfaithful and did what was evil in the sight of the Lord our God. They abandoned Him, turned their backs on His dwelling place, and walked away from Him.

7 They shut the doors to the entrance hall, extinguished the lamps, and stopped burning incense and offering burnt sacrifices at the holy place to the God of Israel.

8 Because of this, the Lord's anger fell on Judah and Jerusalem. He made them an object of horror, ridicule, and scorn, just as you see with your own eyes.

9 Because of this, our fathers were killed in battle, and our sons, daughters, and wives were taken captive.

10 Now I am determined to make a covenant with the Lord, the God of Israel, so that His fierce anger will turn away from us.

11 My sons, don't be negligent now! The Lord has chosen you to stand before Him and serve Him, to minister and burn incense.”

The Levites Purify the Temple

12 Then the Levites stood up to serve. From the Kohathites: Mahath son of Amasai and Joel son of Azariah. From the Merarites: Kish son of Abdi and Azariah son of Jehallelel. From the Gershonites: Joah son of Zimmah and Eden son of Joah.

13 From the descendants of Elizaphan: Shimri and Jeiel. From Asaph's descendants: Zechariah and Mattaniah.

14 From Heman's family: Jehiel and Shimei. From Jeduthun's family: Shemaiah and Uzziel.

15 These men gathered their fellow Levites, purified themselves, and began to clean the Temple of the Lord, just as the king had commanded, following the word of the Lord.

16 The priests went into the inner sanctuary to purify it. They brought out all the unclean things they found in the Lord's Temple into the courtyard. Then the Levites took them and carried them out to the Kidron Valley.

17 They began the work of purification on the first day of the first month. By the eighth day they reached the porch of the Lord. They completed the purification of the Temple by the sixteenth day of the first month.

Temple Cleansing Report and Sacrifices

18 Then they went to King Hezekiah and said, “We've cleansed the entire Temple of the Lord—the altar of burnt offerings with all its utensils, the table of the Bread of the Presence with all its utensils, 19 and all the things King Ahaz discarded during his reign when he was unfaithful. We have prepared and sanctified them. They are now in front of the Lord's altar.”

20 Early the next morning, King Hezekiah gathered the city officials and went to the Temple of the Lord.

21 They brought seven bulls, seven rams, seven male lambs, and seven male goats as a sin offering for the kingdom, the sanctuary, and Judah. He ordered the priests, the descendants of Aaron, to offer them on the Lord's altar.

22 They slaughtered the bulls, collected the blood, and sprinkled it on the altar. They did the same with the rams and lambs.

23 Then the goats for the sin offering were brought before the king and the assembly. They laid their hands on them, 24 and the priests slaughtered them and presented their blood on the altar to atone for all Israel. The king had ordered the burnt offering and the sin offering for all Israel.

Worship Is Restored

25 Hezekiah stationed the Levites in the Temple of the Lord with cymbals, harps, and lyres, as commanded by David, Gad the king's seer, and the prophet Nathan. This was a command from the Lord through His prophets.

26 The Levites stood with David's instruments, and the priests stood with trumpets.

27 Hezekiah ordered the burnt offering to begin. As the offering started, songs of praise to the Lord began, accompanied by trumpets and instruments set up by David, king of Israel.

28 The entire assembly worshiped. The singers sang, the trumpets sounded, and all this continued until the burnt offering was completed.

29 When the offerings were finished, the king and everyone present bowed down and worshiped.

30 Then King Hezekiah and the officials told the Levites to sing praise to the Lord with the words of David and Asaph the seer. They sang joyfully and bowed in worship.

A Joyful Response and Overflowing Worship

31 Hezekiah said, "Now that you have consecrated yourselves to the Lord, bring your sacrifices and thanksgiving offerings into the Temple." So the assembly brought sacrifices and thanksgiving offerings, and all whose hearts were willing brought burnt offerings.

32 The number of burnt offerings brought by the assembly was seventy bulls, one hundred rams, and two hundred lambs—all as burnt offerings to the Lord.

33 They also brought six hundred bulls and three thousand sheep as sacrifices dedicated to the Lord.

34 There weren't enough priests to skin all the burnt offerings, so their Levite brothers helped them until the work was finished and the priests had consecrated themselves. The Levites were more conscientious about purifying themselves than the priests.

35 There was a large number of burnt offerings, along with the fat of the peace offerings and the drink offerings for each burnt offering. In this way, the Temple service of the Lord was restored.

36 Hezekiah and all the people rejoiced because God had prepared the people, and everything had been accomplished so quickly.

Key Lessons from 2 Chronicles Chapter 29

1. Revival Begins with Leadership

Hezekiah didn't wait—he led immediate reforms, reopening the Temple and calling the priests and Levites to holiness.

2. Personal and Corporate Cleansing Are Essential

Before worship could resume, the house of the Lord—and the hearts of the people—had to be purified.

3. God Honors Diligent Obedience

The Levites took their calling seriously and became examples of faithful service, even surpassing the priests in preparation.

4. Worship Must Be Rooted in the Word

Hezekiah followed the commands of the Lord through David, Gad, and Nathan. True worship aligns with Scripture, not personal preference.

5. Restoration Can Be Swift When Hearts Are Willing

God moved mightily when the people obeyed—restoring worship, peace, and joy in just sixteen days.

2 Chronicles Chapter 30 — Crawford Standard Bible

Hezekiah Invites All Israel to Celebrate the Passover

1 Hezekiah sent word to all Israel and Judah, and he also wrote letters to the tribes of Ephraim and Manasseh, inviting them to come to the Temple of the Lord in Jerusalem to celebrate the Passover to the Lord, the God of Israel.

2 The king and his officials, along with the entire assembly in Jerusalem, had decided to celebrate the Passover in the second month,

3 because they had not been able to celebrate it at the regular time. The priests had not yet purified themselves in sufficient numbers, and the people had not yet gathered in Jerusalem.

4 The plan pleased the king and all the assembly.

5 So they decided to send a proclamation throughout all Israel, from Beersheba to Dan, inviting everyone to come to Jerusalem and keep the Passover to the Lord, the God of Israel. The people had not celebrated it as prescribed for a long time.

6 Messengers went out with letters from the king and his officials, spreading throughout all Israel and Judah. The message read:

“People of Israel, return to the Lord, the God of Abraham, Isaac, and Israel, so He will return to the remnant of you who have survived the hand of the kings of Assyria.

7 Don’t be like your ancestors and relatives who were unfaithful to the Lord, the God of their ancestors, so He made them objects of horror, as you can see.

8 Don’t be stubborn like they were. Yield yourselves to the Lord and come to His Temple, which He has made holy forever. Worship the Lord your God, so His fierce anger will turn away from you.

9 If you return to the Lord, your relatives and children will be shown compassion by those who took them captive, and they will return to this land. For the Lord your God is gracious and merciful. He will not turn His face away from you if you return to Him.”

Mixed Response from Israel, but Unity in Judah

10 The messengers traveled from city to city throughout Ephraim and Manasseh and as far as Zebulun, but most of the people laughed at them and mocked them.

11 However, some people from Asher, Manasseh, and Zebulun humbled themselves and came to Jerusalem.

12 In Judah, the hand of God moved the people to act with unity and obey the command of the king and the leaders, as spoken by the word of the Lord.

The Passover Is Celebrated with Great Joy

13 A very large crowd assembled in Jerusalem to celebrate the Festival of Unleavened Bread in the second month.

14 They removed the pagan altars in Jerusalem and got rid of all the incense altars, throwing them into the Kidron Valley.

15 They slaughtered the Passover lambs on the fourteenth day of the second month. The priests and Levites were ashamed of their previous neglect, so they purified themselves and brought burnt offerings into the Temple.

16 They stood at their posts as prescribed in the Law of Moses, the man of God. The priests sprinkled the blood handed to them by the Levites.

17 Since many in the assembly had not purified themselves, the Levites had to slaughter the Passover lambs for everyone who was not clean, to dedicate them to the Lord.

18 A large number of the people—many from Ephraim, Manasseh, Issachar, and Zebulun—had not purified themselves, yet they still ate the Passover meal, which was against what was written in the Law. But Hezekiah prayed for them, saying,

19 “May the Lord, who is good, pardon everyone who prepares their heart to seek God, the Lord, the God of their ancestors, even if they are not ceremonially clean.”

20 And the Lord listened to Hezekiah’s prayer and healed the people.

Worship Continues with Praise and Celebration

21 The Israelites who were present in Jerusalem celebrated the Festival of Unleavened Bread for seven days with great joy. The Levites and priests praised the Lord day after day, singing loudly with musical instruments.

22 Hezekiah encouraged all the Levites who had shown good understanding in the worship of the Lord. They ate together during the festival for seven days, offering peace offerings and making confession to the Lord, the God of their ancestors.

23 Then the whole assembly agreed to continue the celebration for another seven days, so they celebrated joyfully for another week.

24 King Hezekiah gave the assembly one thousand bulls and seven thousand sheep, and the leaders gave them one thousand bulls and ten thousand sheep. Many priests also purified themselves.

25 All the people of Judah rejoiced, along with the priests and Levites, and everyone who had come from Israel, including the foreigners who lived in Israel and Judah.

An Unmatched Joy in Jerusalem

26 So there was great joy in Jerusalem. Nothing like this had happened in the city since the time of Solomon son of David, king of Israel.

27 Then the priests and Levites stood up and blessed the people. Their voice was heard, and their prayer reached God's holy dwelling place in heaven.

Key Lessons from 2 Chronicles Chapter 30

1. God Welcomes a Humble Return

Despite their past sins and ceremonial uncleanness, God accepted those who came with hearts prepared to seek Him.

2. Unity in Worship Brings Great Joy

When God's people—regardless of tribe or background—gather to honor Him, the result is unity, joy, and blessing.

3. Hezekiah Led with Compassion and Conviction

The king didn't just issue orders—he prayed, encouraged, provided, and helped restore true worship.

4. Obedience Can Lead to Restoration

Even after years of neglect, proper worship and national healing can happen quickly when leaders and people align with God's will.

5. God Listens to Sincere Prayer

Hezekiah's intercession for the people showed God's mercy and grace. The Lord healed them, proving He responds to those who genuinely seek Him.

2 Chronicles Chapter 31 — Crawford Standard Bible

Nationwide Cleansing of Idolatry

1 When all of this was completed, the Israelites who had gathered went out to the cities of Judah. They smashed the pagan idols, cut down the Asherah poles, and tore down the pagan shrines and altars. They did this throughout all Judah and Benjamin, as well as in Ephraim and Manasseh, until everything was completely destroyed. Then all the Israelites returned to their own towns and homes.

Hezekiah Restores Temple Worship and Priesthood

2 Hezekiah reorganized the priests and Levites into their proper divisions, assigning each one his specific task, whether for burnt offerings or peace offerings, to serve, give thanks, or offer praise at the gates of the Temple.

3 The king personally contributed from his own possessions for the morning and evening burnt offerings, as well as for those on Sabbaths, new moon festivals, and other appointed feasts, as prescribed in the Law of the Lord.

4 He also commanded the people living in Jerusalem to give the required portions to the priests and Levites so they could fully devote themselves to studying and teaching the Law of the Lord.

Abundance from the People

5 As soon as the order was issued, the people responded generously. They brought the firstfruits of their grain, new wine, olive oil, honey, and all their crops. They also brought a tenth of everything—the tithe—in great abundance.

6 Those Israelites and people of Judah who lived in the towns of Judah brought a tithe of their cattle and sheep and a tenth of all items dedicated to the Lord their God. They stacked them in large heaps.

7 They began piling the contributions in the third month and finished in the seventh month.

8 When Hezekiah and his officials came and saw the heaps, they praised the Lord and His people Israel.

The Blessing and Distribution of the Tithes

9 Hezekiah asked the priests and Levites about the heaps.

10 Azariah, the chief priest from the family of Zadok, replied, “Ever since the people began bringing their gifts to the Lord’s Temple, we’ve had more than enough to eat with plenty left over. The Lord has blessed His people, and this great surplus is what remains.”

11 Hezekiah then ordered storerooms to be prepared in the house of the Lord, and they were faithfully set up.

12 The people brought their tithes, offerings, and other dedicated gifts into the storerooms. Cononiah the Levite was in charge, and his brother Shimei was second in command.

13 Supervisors under them included Jehiel, Azaziah, Nahath, Asahel, Jerimoth, Jozabad, Eliel, Ismachiah, Mahath, and Benaiah. They all served under Cononiah and Shimei, following orders from King Hezekiah and Azariah, the high priest.

14 Kore son of Imnah, the gatekeeper at the East Gate, was in charge of distributing the freewill offerings of God and the most holy gifts.

15 He was assisted by Eden, Miniamin, Jeshua, Shemaiah, Amariah, and Shecaniah. These men faithfully distributed the portions to their fellow priests in the towns where they lived, assigning the portions by group and by rank.

16 They distributed the daily portions to every male three years and older who entered the Temple for their duties according to their divisions.

17 They also distributed to the priests listed by family and to the Levites twenty years old and up according to their assigned tasks.

18 They included the entire families—wives, sons, and daughters—of those on duty, for they had been faithful in purifying themselves.

19 And for the descendants of Aaron, the priests, who lived in the outskirts of the towns, men were designated by name to distribute the shares to every male among the priests and to every Levite recorded in the genealogies.

Hezekiah's Righteous Leadership

20 This is what Hezekiah did throughout all Judah. He did what was good, right, and faithful before the Lord his God.

21 In everything he undertook for the service of God's Temple, and in obedience to God's laws and commands, he sought his God wholeheartedly. So he prospered.

Key Lessons from 2 Chronicles Chapter 31

1. True Revival Brings Lasting Reform

After worship was restored, the people went out and removed idolatry from their cities—revival is not just emotional, it's transformational.

2. Leadership Invests Personally

Hezekiah didn't just instruct others—he gave from his own resources and led by example in worship, stewardship, and generosity.

3. Faithful Giving Produces Overflow

When the people gave in obedience to God, the blessings were so abundant that they had surplus left over. God honors sacrificial giving.

4. Organization Matters in Ministry

Hezekiah appointed leaders, established systems, and ensured every person had their proper role. Order and faithfulness work together in God's house.

5. Prosperity Follows Wholehearted Devotion

Hezekiah prospered because he sought the Lord with all his heart—not for gain, but out of love and reverence. The result was both spiritual and material blessing.

2 Chronicles Chapter 32 — Crawford Standard Bible

Sennacherib Threatens Judah

1 After all that Hezekiah had done to establish the nation, Sennacherib king of Assyria invaded Judah. He camped against the fortified cities and planned to capture them for himself.

2 When Hezekiah realized that Sennacherib intended to attack Jerusalem,

3 he consulted with his officials and military leaders about stopping the water from the springs outside the city—and they agreed to help.

4 A large group gathered and stopped all the springs and the stream that flowed through the land. “Why should the kings of Assyria come and find plenty of water?” they said.

Hezekiah Fortifies Jerusalem

5 Hezekiah took courage and rebuilt the entire broken wall, adding towers and a second wall outside it. He strengthened the supporting structure at the City of David and made large quantities of weapons and shields.

6 He appointed military officers over the people and assembled them in the square by the city gate. There he encouraged them, saying,

7 “Be strong and courageous! Don’t be afraid or discouraged because of the king of Assyria and his vast army. There is a greater power with us than with him.

8 He only has human strength, but we have the Lord our God to help us and fight our battles!” And the people were encouraged by the words of Hezekiah, king of Judah.

Sennacherib Insults God

9 Later, while Sennacherib was attacking Lachish with his entire army, he sent his officers to Jerusalem with this message for Hezekiah and all the people there:

10 “This is what Sennacherib king of Assyria says: What makes you so confident as you sit under siege in Jerusalem?

11 Hezekiah is misleading you! He’s telling you that the Lord your God will save you from my hand. He’s trying to get you to starve and thirst to death!

12 Didn’t Hezekiah remove your high places and altars, saying you could only worship at one altar in Jerusalem?

13 Don’t you know what I and my ancestors have done to all the peoples of other lands? Were their gods able to save them?

14 Which of all those gods was able to rescue their people from me? Why would your God be any different?

15 Don’t let Hezekiah deceive you. Don’t believe him! No god of any nation or kingdom has ever been able to rescue their people from me or my ancestors. How much less will your God deliver you!”

Blasphemy and Terror Tactics

16 His officials said even more against the Lord God and against His servant Hezekiah.

17 Sennacherib also wrote letters insulting the Lord, the God of Israel, claiming He was no different from the powerless gods of the other nations.

18 Then they shouted in Hebrew to the people standing on the wall, trying to terrify them and take the city.

19 They spoke of the God of Jerusalem as if He were just another man-made god like the idols of the nations.

The Lord Fights for Judah

20 Because of this, King Hezekiah and the prophet Isaiah son of Amoz cried out in prayer to heaven.

21 And the Lord sent an angel who destroyed all the mighty warriors, leaders, and commanders in the Assyrian camp. Sennacherib was forced to return to his own land in disgrace. When he entered the temple of his god, his own sons murdered him with the sword.

22 So the Lord saved Hezekiah and the people of Jerusalem from Sennacherib and all others, and He protected them on every side.

23 Many brought gifts to the Lord in Jerusalem and valuable presents to King Hezekiah, and from then on he was highly respected by all nations.

Hezekiah's Illness, Pride, and Humility

24 Around that time Hezekiah became deathly ill. He prayed to the Lord, and the Lord answered him and gave him a miraculous sign.

25 But Hezekiah did not respond appropriately to the kindness shown him—his heart became proud. As a result, God's anger came upon him, and also on Judah and Jerusalem.

26 But Hezekiah humbled himself for the pride of his heart, along with the people of Jerusalem. So the Lord's anger did not fall on them during Hezekiah's lifetime.

Hezekiah's Wealth and Achievements

27 Hezekiah had vast riches and honor. He built treasuries to hold his silver, gold, precious stones, spices, shields, and all kinds of valuable items.

28 He also made storehouses for grain, wine, and oil, as well as stalls for cattle and pens for flocks.

29 He built towns and acquired many flocks and herds, for God had richly blessed him with possessions.

30 He also built a tunnel to bring water from the Gihon Spring to the west side of the City of David. Everything Hezekiah did succeeded.

God Tests Hezekiah

31 However, when the ambassadors from Babylon came to learn about the miraculous sign, God withdrew from Hezekiah to test him and reveal what was in his heart.

The Death of Hezekiah

32 The rest of Hezekiah's deeds and his faithful works are recorded in the vision of Isaiah the prophet and in the Book of the Kings of Judah and Israel.

33 When Hezekiah died, he was buried with honor among the descendants of David. All Judah and the people of Jerusalem honored him at his death. Then his son Manasseh became king in his place.

Key Lessons from 2 Chronicles Chapter 32

1. Trust God in the Face of Intimidation

Hezekiah encouraged the people with faith—not fear. The Lord fought their battle when the enemy mocked and threatened.

2. Blasphemy Invites Judgment

Sennacherib's pride and insults against the true God led directly to divine intervention and his eventual downfall.

3. Prayer is Powerful in Crisis

Hezekiah and Isaiah cried out to God—and God answered with miraculous deliverance. Never underestimate the power of prayer.

4. Pride Can Follow Blessing

Even after great victories, Hezekiah's pride brought danger. God tests the heart—not just the deeds—of His people.

5. God Desires Humility

When Hezekiah humbled himself, God delayed His judgment. Humility can turn wrath into mercy.

6. God Prospers Those Who Seek Him

Hezekiah's prosperity and success were a result of seeking God wholeheartedly—even through trials and threats.

2 Chronicles Chapter 33 — Crawford Standard Bible

Manasseh's Wicked Reign

1 Manasseh was twelve years old when he became king, and he reigned in Jerusalem for fifty-five years.

2 But he did what was evil in the sight of the Lord, imitating the detestable practices of the nations that the Lord had driven out before the people of Israel.

3 He rebuilt the pagan shrines his father Hezekiah had torn down. He set up altars for Baal and made Asherah poles. He also bowed down to all the stars of heaven and worshiped them.

4 He built pagan altars in the Lord's Temple, the place where the Lord had said, "My name will remain in Jerusalem forever."

5 He built altars for all the stars of heaven in both courtyards of the Lord's Temple.

6 Manasseh also sacrificed his own children in the fire in the Valley of Ben-Hinnom. He practiced sorcery, divination, and witchcraft, and consulted mediums and psychics. He did much that was evil in the Lord's sight, provoking His anger.

7 He even set up a carved idol—the one he had made—in God's Temple, about which God had said to David and his son Solomon, "In this Temple and in Jerusalem, which I have chosen from all the tribes of Israel, I will put My name forever.

8 If the people will obey all My commands—the whole law, statutes, and regulations given through Moses—I will not again remove them from this land I gave to their ancestors."

9 But Manasseh led the people of Judah and Jerusalem to do even more evil than the pagan nations the Lord had destroyed when Israel entered the land.

Manasseh's Humbling and Restoration

10 The Lord spoke to Manasseh and his people, but they ignored Him.

11 So the Lord sent the army commanders of the king of Assyria, who captured Manasseh with hooks, bound him in bronze chains, and took him away to Babylon.

12 While in deep distress, Manasseh sought the Lord his God and humbled himself greatly before the God of his ancestors.

13 When he prayed, the Lord listened to him and was moved by his request. He brought Manasseh back to Jerusalem and restored him to the throne. Then Manasseh finally realized that the Lord alone is God.

Manasseh's Reforms

14 After this, Manasseh rebuilt the outer wall of the City of David, from west of the Gihon Spring in the valley to the entrance of the Fish Gate, continuing around the hill of Ophel. He made it much higher and stationed military officers in all the fortified cities of Judah.

15 He removed the foreign gods and the idol from the Lord's Temple. He tore down all the altars he had built on the hill where the Temple stood and throughout Jerusalem, and he threw them out of the city.

16 Then he restored the altar of the Lord and offered peace offerings and thank offerings on it. He also commanded the people of Judah to worship the Lord, the God of Israel.

17 However, the people still sacrificed at the high places, but only to the Lord their God.

The End of Manasseh and Amon's Short Reign

18 The rest of Manasseh's deeds, his prayer to God, and the messages from the seers who spoke in the name of the Lord, the God of Israel, are recorded in the Book of the Kings of Israel.

19 His prayer and how God answered him, as well as all his sins, unfaithfulness, and the sites where he built pagan shrines and set up Asherah poles and idols before he humbled himself, are written in the records of the seers.

20 When Manasseh died, he was buried in his own palace, and his son Amon became king in his place.

Amon's Evil and Death

21 Amon was twenty-two years old when he became king, and he reigned in Jerusalem for two years.

22 But he did what was evil in the sight of the Lord, just as his father Manasseh had done. Amon worshiped and sacrificed to all the idols his father had made.

23 But unlike his father, Amon did not humble himself before the Lord. Instead, he became even more guilty.

24 Then his own officials conspired against him and assassinated him in his palace.

25 But the people of the land killed all those who had conspired against King Amon, and they made his son Josiah king in his place.

Key Lessons from 2 Chronicles Chapter 33

1. No One is Too Far Gone for God's Mercy

Manasseh was among the most wicked kings, yet when he humbled himself, God heard his prayer and restored him.

2. Sin Has Consequences—Even for Leaders

Manasseh's sin led to national idolatry and judgment. Leadership influences many, for good or for evil.

3. Genuine Repentance Brings Restoration

God didn't just forgive Manasseh—He restored him to his throne, proving His mercy and power to redeem.

4. Spiritual Reforms Require Persistence

Though Manasseh removed idols and restored worship, the people still clung to the high places. Reforming a nation requires more than external change—it needs heart change.

5. Pride and Rebellion End in Ruin

Amon refused to learn from his father's mistakes or his repentance. His brief reign ended violently due to his stubborn pride.

2 Chronicles Chapter 34 — Crawford Standard Bible

Josiah Begins to Reign

1 Josiah was eight years old when he became king, and he reigned in Jerusalem for thirty-one years.

2 He did what was right in the eyes of the Lord and followed the ways of his ancestor David, not turning aside to the right or to the left.

Josiah's Early Reforms

3 In the eighth year of his reign, while he was still young, he began to seek the God of his ancestor David. Then, in the twelfth year, he began to purify Judah and Jerusalem by removing the high places, Asherah poles, carved idols, and cast images.

4 They tore down the altars of Baal in his presence, and the incense altars that stood above them he smashed. He also crushed the Asherah poles and the carved and cast images, turning them into dust. He scattered the dust over the graves of those who had sacrificed to them.

5 He burned the bones of the pagan priests on their own altars. So he purified Judah and Jerusalem.

6 He did the same in the towns of Manasseh, Ephraim, and Simeon, as far as Naphtali, and in the ruins all around them.

7 He broke down the altars and Asherah poles, crushed the idols to powder, and cut down all the incense altars throughout the land of Israel. Then he returned to Jerusalem.

Restoration of the Temple

8 In the eighteenth year of his reign, after purifying the land and the Temple, Josiah sent Shaphan son of Azaliah, Maaseiah the governor of the city, and Joah son of Joahaz the royal historian to repair the Temple of the Lord his God.

9 They went to Hilkiyah the high priest and gave him the money that had been collected at the Temple of God by the Levites, the gatekeepers. This money had been gathered from Manasseh, Ephraim, and the remaining people of Israel, as well as from Judah, Benjamin, and the people of Jerusalem.

10 They handed the money over to the foremen supervising the Lord's Temple. These men paid the workers repairing and restoring the Temple.

11 They also gave money to the carpenters and builders to buy cut stone, timber for framing, and wood for making beams for the buildings the kings of Judah had allowed to fall into ruin.

12 The workers were faithful in their work. The overseers were Jahath and Obadiah (Levites descended from Merari), and Zechariah and Meshullam (descendants of Kohath). Other Levites—all skilled musicians—

13 supervised the laborers of every kind. Some were scribes, some officials, and some gatekeepers.

Discovery of the Book of the Law

14 While they were bringing out the money that had been stored in the Lord's Temple, Hilkiyah the priest found the Book of the Law of the Lord written by Moses.

15 Hilkiyah said to Shaphan the scribe, "I have found the Book of the Law in the Lord's Temple." Then he gave the book to Shaphan.

16 Shaphan took the book to the king and reported, "Everything assigned to your servants is being done.

17 They have gathered the money found in the Lord's Temple and have handed it over to the overseers and workmen."

18 Then Shaphan the scribe added, "Hilkiyah the priest has given me a book." And Shaphan read from it in the king's presence.

19 When the king heard the words of the Law, he tore his clothes in despair.

20 Then he gave orders to Hilkiyah, Ahikam son of Shaphan, Abdon son of Micah, Shaphan the scribe, and Asaiah the king's attendant:

21 "Go and inquire of the Lord for me and for all those who remain in Israel and Judah. Ask about the words written in this book that was found. Great is the Lord's anger poured out on us because our ancestors have not obeyed the words of the Lord. They have not acted according to all that is written in this scroll."

Huldah the Prophetess Speaks

22 So Hilkiyah and those the king sent went to the prophetess Huldah, the wife of Shallum son of Tikvath, son of Hasrah, the keeper of the wardrobe. She lived in Jerusalem, in the Second District. They spoke with her.

23 She said, "This is what the Lord, the God of Israel, says: Tell the man who sent you,

24 'This is what the Lord says: I am going to bring disaster upon this place and its people—all the curses written in the book that was read to the king of Judah.

25 For they have abandoned Me and offered sacrifices to other gods, provoking My anger with everything they have done. My wrath will be poured out on this place and it will not be quenched.'

26 But go to the king of Judah who sent you to inquire of the Lord and tell him this is what the Lord, the God of Israel, says about the message you have heard:

27 ‘Because your heart was tender and you humbled yourself before God when you heard His words against this place and its people, and because you tore your clothes in grief and wept before Me—I have heard you,’ declares the Lord.

28 ‘So I will gather you to your ancestors, and you will be buried in peace. You will not see the disaster I am going to bring on this place and its people.’” So they took her answer back to the king.

Renewing the Covenant

29 Then the king summoned all the elders of Judah and Jerusalem.

30 He went up to the Temple of the Lord with the people of Judah, the residents of Jerusalem, the priests, and the Levites—all the people from the greatest to the least. He read aloud to them all the words of the Book of the Covenant that had been found in the Temple of the Lord.

31 Then the king stood by his pillar and made a covenant before the Lord to follow the Lord and to keep His commands, statutes, and decrees with all his heart and soul. He promised to obey all the terms of the covenant written in the book.

32 He required everyone in Jerusalem and Benjamin to make a similar pledge. So the people of Jerusalem did according to the covenant of God, the God of their ancestors.

33 Josiah removed all the detestable idols from the entire territory of Israel and required everyone to worship the Lord their God. And throughout the rest of his life, they did not turn away from the Lord, the God of their ancestors.

Key Lessons from 2 Chronicles Chapter 34

1. Spiritual Renewal Begins with the Heart

Josiah began seeking God while he was still a youth, showing that age is no barrier to spiritual leadership.

2. True Revival Demands Action

Josiah didn’t just feel sorrow for Israel’s sin—he took bold action to tear down idols and restore worship.

3. God’s Word Still Convicts

When the Book of the Law was read, it pierced Josiah’s heart. God’s Word reveals sin and leads to repentance.

4. God Responds to Humility

Because Josiah humbled himself, God withheld judgment during his lifetime. A tender heart moves the heart of God.

5. Covenant Renewal is a Corporate and Personal Commitment

Josiah led the nation in renewing their covenant with God—true reformation involves both leadership and community.

2 Chronicles Chapter 35 — Crawford Standard Bible

Josiah Celebrates the Passover

1 Josiah celebrated the Passover to honor the Lord in Jerusalem. The lambs for the Passover were killed on the fourteenth day of the first month.

2 He assigned the priests to their duties and encouraged them in their service in the Temple of the Lord.

3 He told the Levites, who taught all Israel and had been set apart for the Lord, “Put the holy Ark in the Temple that Solomon son of David, king of Israel, built. Don’t carry it around on your shoulders anymore. Now serve the Lord your God and His people Israel.

4 Prepare yourselves by your family divisions, as directed by David king of Israel and Solomon his son.

5 Stand in your designated places in the sanctuary with the families of your fellow Israelites, arranged by division, and do the same for the families of the Levites.

6 Kill the Passover lambs and purify yourselves, and get everything ready for your fellow Israelites to carry out the word of the Lord given through Moses.”

Provisions for the Passover

7 Josiah gave the people thirty thousand lambs and young goats for Passover sacrifices, and three thousand cattle—all from the king’s personal flocks and herds.

8 His officials also gave offerings willingly to the people, the priests, and the Levites. Hilkiah, Zechariah, and Jehiel, officials in charge of the Temple of God, gave the priests 2,600 lambs and 300 cattle for Passover sacrifices.

9 Also, Conaniah, along with Shemaiah and Nethanel his brothers, plus Hashabiah, Jeiel, and Jozabad, who were leaders of the Levites, gave the Levites 5,000 lambs and 500 cattle for the offerings.

The Passover Is Celebrated

10 So everything was prepared. The priests took their positions, and the Levites stood in their divisions as the king had commanded.

11 The Passover lambs were killed. The priests sprinkled the blood handed to them, and the Levites skinned the animals.

12 They set aside the burnt offerings to be given to the different family groups, so they could offer them to the Lord as written in the Book of Moses. They did the same with the cattle.

13 The Passover lambs were roasted over fire as the Law prescribed. Other holy offerings were cooked in pots, kettles, and pans, and quickly distributed to all the people.

14 Afterward, the Levites prepared portions for themselves and the priests, because the priests—the descendants of Aaron—were busy offering burnt offerings and the fat until nightfall. So the Levites prepared food for themselves and for the priests.

15 The musicians, the descendants of Asaph, were in their assigned places according to the commands of David, Asaph, Heman, and Jeduthun the king's seer. The gatekeepers were at each gate and did not leave their posts, because the Levites prepared everything for them.

16 So the entire service of the Lord was arranged that day to celebrate the Passover and to offer burnt offerings on the altar of the Lord, as commanded by King Josiah.

17 All the Israelites who were present kept the Passover at that time and celebrated the Festival of Unleavened Bread for seven days.

A Passover Unlike Any Other

18 No Passover like this had been celebrated in Israel since the days of the prophet Samuel. None of the kings of Israel had ever celebrated a Passover like Josiah did—with the priests, Levites, all of Judah and Israel who were present, and the people of Jerusalem.

19 This Passover was celebrated in the eighteenth year of Josiah's reign.

Josiah's Final Battle and Death

20 After all this, when Josiah had completed restoring the Temple, King Necho of Egypt came to fight at Carchemish by the Euphrates River. Josiah went out to confront him.

21 But Necho sent messengers to Josiah, saying, "What do you want with me, king of Judah? I'm not attacking you today, but another nation with whom I am at war. God has told me to hurry. Don't oppose God, who is with me, or He will destroy you."

22 But Josiah wouldn't turn away. He disguised himself so he could fight against Necho and did not listen to what God had spoken through Necho. He went to battle in the valley of Megiddo.

23 During the battle, archers shot King Josiah. He told his servants, "Take me away—I've been badly wounded!"

24 They lifted him out of his chariot and put him in a second one he had and brought him to Jerusalem. He died and was buried in the tombs of his ancestors. All Judah and Jerusalem mourned for Josiah.

25 The prophet Jeremiah composed laments for Josiah. To this day, all the male and female singers still sing about Josiah in their lamentations. These became a tradition in Israel and are recorded in the Book of Laments.

Summary of Josiah's Reign

26 The rest of the events of Josiah's reign and his acts of devotion, in full obedience to the Law of the Lord,

27 and everything he did, from beginning to end, are written in the Book of the Kings of Israel and Judah.

Key Lessons from 2 Chronicles Chapter 35

1. Worship Done Right Honors God Deeply

Josiah's Passover was celebrated with order, generosity, and purity, reflecting the beauty of obedience.

2. Leadership Inspires Revival

Josiah not only led the people by example, he also empowered the priests, Levites, and officials to restore true worship.

3. God Honors Prepared Hearts

The great participation and careful preparation reveal how much God values intentional worship.

4. Disobedience Has Consequences, Even for the Righteous

Though Josiah was a godly king, his refusal to listen to God's warning through Necho led to his death.

5. A Legacy of Righteousness Is Remembered

Josiah's righteousness was so impactful that even the prophet Jeremiah and the people of Israel mourned deeply for him.

2 Chronicles Chapter 36 — Crawford Standard Bible

The Fall of Judah Begins

1 The people of the land took Jehoahaz, the son of Josiah, and made him king in his father's place in Jerusalem.

2 Jehoahaz was twenty-three years old when he began to reign, and he ruled in Jerusalem for three months.

3 But the king of Egypt removed him from power in Jerusalem and demanded a tribute from Judah of a hundred talents of silver and one talent of gold.

4 Then the king of Egypt appointed Eliakim, Jehoahaz's brother, as king over Judah and Jerusalem, and changed his name to Jehoiakim. Necho took Jehoahaz to Egypt as a prisoner.

The Reigns of Jehoiakim, Jehoiachin, and Zedekiah

5 Jehoiakim was twenty-five years old when he became king. He ruled in Jerusalem for eleven years and did what was evil in the sight of the Lord his God.

6 Then King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon came against him and bound him in chains to take him to Babylon.

7 Nebuchadnezzar also took some of the treasures from the Temple of the Lord and carried them to Babylon, placing them in his own temple there.

8 The rest of Jehoiakim's actions and the terrible things he did are recorded in the Book of the Kings of Israel and Judah. His son Jehoiachin became king after him.

9 Jehoiachin was eighteen years old when he became king, and he ruled in Jerusalem for three months and ten days. He also did what was evil in the sight of the Lord.

10 In the spring, King Nebuchadnezzar sent for him and brought him to Babylon, along with valuable items from the Lord's Temple. Then Nebuchadnezzar appointed Jehoiachin's relative Zedekiah as king over Judah and Jerusalem.

Zedekiah's Rebellion and Judah's Downfall

11 Zedekiah was twenty-one years old when he became king, and he ruled in Jerusalem for eleven years.

12 He did what was evil in the sight of the Lord his God and refused to humble himself before the prophet Jeremiah, who spoke for the Lord.

13 Zedekiah also rebelled against King Nebuchadnezzar, who had made him swear loyalty in God's name. He became stubborn and refused to turn back to the Lord, the God of Israel.

14 All the leaders of the priests and the people became more and more unfaithful, copying the detestable practices of the surrounding nations. They defiled the Temple of the Lord, which He had made holy in Jerusalem.

God's Warning Rejected

15 The Lord, the God of their ancestors, repeatedly sent His messengers to warn them, because He had compassion on His people and His Temple.

16 But they mocked God's messengers, despised His words, and scoffed at His prophets until the Lord's anger could no longer be restrained, and there was no remedy left.

Jerusalem Destroyed and Exiled

17 So the Lord brought the king of Babylon against them. The Babylonians killed Judah's young men, even inside the Temple. They had no pity on anyone—young men, young women, the elderly, or the sick. God handed them all over to Nebuchadnezzar.

18 He took all the treasures from the Temple of God, as well as the treasures of the king and his officials, and brought everything to Babylon.

19 They burned the Temple of God, tore down the walls of Jerusalem, burned all the palaces, and destroyed all the valuable items.

20 The few who survived the sword were taken away to Babylon, where they became servants to the king and his descendants until the kingdom of Persia rose to power.

21 All this happened to fulfill the word of the Lord spoken through Jeremiah. The land enjoyed its Sabbath rests—all the time it lay desolate—until seventy years were completed.

Hope Through Cyrus' Decree

22 In the first year of King Cyrus of Persia, to fulfill the prophecy the Lord had given through Jeremiah, the Lord stirred the heart of Cyrus to send out this proclamation throughout his kingdom. He also put it in writing:

23 “This is what King Cyrus of Persia says: ‘The Lord, the God of heaven, has given me all the kingdoms of the earth. He has appointed me to build a Temple for Him at Jerusalem in Judah. Any of His people among you may go up to Jerusalem, and may the Lord his God be with him.’”

Key Lessons from 2 Chronicles Chapter 36

1. Rebellion Against God Leads to Destruction

Judah repeatedly ignored God's warnings through His prophets, leading to the complete collapse of the kingdom.

2. Even Leaders Are Accountable

Kings like Jehoiakim, Jehoiachin, and Zedekiah did evil in God's eyes and faced judgment for their disobedience and pride.

3. God Is Patient—But His Patience Has Limits

Though God sent many messengers with compassion, Judah's persistent sin brought inevitable consequences.

4. God Keeps His Promises, Both in Judgment and in Restoration

The seventy years of exile fulfilled Jeremiah's prophecy, and God began restoration through Cyrus—showing that hope follows repentance.

5. God Uses Unexpected People to Fulfill His Will

A pagan king, Cyrus of Persia, was moved by God to begin the process of restoring Jerusalem and the Temple.

Introduction to the Book of Ezra

The Restoration of God's People Title and Authorship The book is titled “Ezra,” named after the central figure in the latter half of the book, Ezra the scribe. Originally, the books of Ezra and Nehemiah were considered a single work in Jewish tradition, often referred to as "Ezra-Nehemiah." This single work was later divided into two separate books in the Christian tradition. The book of Ezra recounts the first two waves of Jewish exiles returning to Jerusalem from Babylon.

Jewish tradition, and the internal evidence of the book itself, attributes the authorship to Ezra the scribe. As a priest and a descendant of Aaron, Ezra was deeply committed to the law of Moses and the restoration of proper worship. While Ezra is the primary author, he likely utilized various sources, including official decrees from Persian kings, lists of returning exiles, and personal memoirs. The book was written sometime in the late 5th or early 4th century B.C., likely in Jerusalem, to document the initial phases of the restoration.

Historical Setting The book of Ezra begins where 2 Chronicles ends, with the decree of Cyrus the Great in 538 B.C., which allowed the exiled Jews to return to their homeland. This marks the end of the 70-year Babylonian captivity prophesied by Jeremiah. The narrative spans a period of approximately 80 years, covering the return under Zerubbabel and Joshua (the first wave) and the later return under Ezra (the second wave). The historical context is crucial, as the book is set against the backdrop of the powerful Persian Empire, which ruled the ancient Near East. The Jews were no longer a sovereign nation but a small province within a vast empire.

Purpose and Themes The primary purpose of the book of Ezra is to document the faithfulness of God in fulfilling His promises to His people and to record the re-establishment of the Jewish community in Jerusalem. The author seeks to provide a historical and theological record of the post-exilic community's return, the rebuilding of the temple, and the restoration of proper worship. The book serves to encourage the community to remain faithful to God's law and to avoid the sins of their ancestors that led to the exile.

Spiritual Lessons

- God is faithful to His promises and will fulfill His prophetic word.
- The spiritual health of God's people is directly tied to their obedience to His law.
- Repentance and confession are necessary for the restoration of God's favor.
- Leaders play a crucial role in guiding God's people toward holiness.
- The community of faith must guard against compromise with the world to preserve its identity and purity.

Jesus in Ezra The book of Ezra points to Jesus in several ways. The rebuilding of the temple, a central theme, foreshadows Jesus as the ultimate Temple, the place where God dwells and where true worship is offered. The return of the exiles and the re-establishment of the community prefigure the new covenant community of believers gathered under Christ. Ezra's passion for the law and his mission to restore God's people to a right relationship with God anticipate Jesus, the ultimate teacher and scribe, who perfectly fulfilled the law and came to seek and save the lost. The book's emphasis on holiness and the need to separate from sin finds its ultimate solution in Jesus, who, through His sacrifice, makes a permanent way for His people to be made holy before God.

Key Verse "For Ezra had set his heart to study the Law of the Lord, and to do it and to teach His statutes and rules in Israel." —Ezra 7:10

Ezra Chapter 1 — Crawford Standard Bible

Cyrus Issues a Decree to Rebuild the Temple

1 In the first year of King Cyrus of Persia, the Lord fulfilled the prophecy He had given through Jeremiah. He stirred the heart of King Cyrus to make a public proclamation throughout his kingdom and to put it in writing:

2 “This is what King Cyrus of Persia says: ‘The Lord, the God of heaven, has given me all the kingdoms of the earth. He has appointed me to build a temple for Him at Jerusalem in Judah.
3 Any of His people among you may go to Jerusalem in Judah to rebuild this Temple of the Lord, the God of Israel, who lives in Jerusalem. And may their God be with them.
4 And wherever this remnant of God’s people are living, let their neighbors help them with gifts of silver and gold, supplies for the journey, and livestock, in addition to the freewill offerings for the Temple of God in Jerusalem.’”

The People Prepare to Return

5 Then the family leaders of the tribes of Judah and Benjamin, along with the priests and Levites—everyone whose heart God had stirred—got ready to go up and rebuild the Temple of the Lord in Jerusalem.

6 And all their neighbors helped them with gifts of silver and gold, supplies, livestock, and valuable items, in addition to all the voluntary offerings they brought.

Cyrus Returns the Temple Treasures

7 King Cyrus also brought out the articles that belonged to the Temple of the Lord, which King Nebuchadnezzar had taken from Jerusalem and placed in the temple of his own gods.

8 Cyrus had them brought out by Mithredath, the royal treasurer, and he counted them and handed them over to Sheshbazzar, the prince of Judah.

The Inventory of Returned Items

9 This was the inventory: thirty gold trays, one thousand silver trays, twenty-nine silver knives,
10 thirty gold bowls, four hundred ten silver bowls of a second type, and one thousand other articles.
11 In all, there were 5,400 gold and silver items. Sheshbazzar brought all these along when the exiles were brought back from Babylon to Jerusalem.

Key Lessons from Ezra Chapter 1

1. God Keeps His Promises Through History

The Lord fulfilled Jeremiah’s prophecy by moving the heart of a pagan king—Cyrus—to initiate the return of His people and the rebuilding of His house.

2. God Can Use Anyone to Accomplish His Will

Even a foreign ruler like Cyrus was stirred by God to issue a decree in favor of His people. No one is outside God’s sovereign control.

3. Revival Begins with Stirred Hearts

Only those “whose spirit God had stirred” were willing to make the journey and take part in the rebuilding of the Temple. Spiritual restoration begins in the heart.

4. Restoration Requires Community Participation

Those who didn’t return still played a part by giving offerings and supplies. Everyone had a role in God’s redemptive plan.

5. God Restores What Was Lost

The sacred articles taken by Nebuchadnezzar were not forgotten—God preserved them, and Cyrus restored them for their proper use in worship.

Those Without Genealogical Records

59 The following came from Tel-melah, Tel-harsha, Kerub, Addan, and Immer but could not prove their family lineage or heritage as Israelites:

60 The descendants of Delaiah, Tobiah, and Nekoda — 652

61 From the priestly families:

Habaiah, Hakkoz, and Barzillai (who married a woman from Barzillai of Gilead and adopted her family name)

62 These searched for their names in the genealogical records, but they were not found. So they were excluded from the priesthood as unclean.

63 The governor told them not to eat the most sacred offerings until a priest could consult the Lord using the Urim and Thummim.

Total Number of the Exiles Who Returned

64 The whole assembly totaled 42,360 people,

65 not including 7,337 male and female servants. They also had 200 male and female singers.

66 They brought with them 736 horses, 245 mules,

67 435 camels, and 6,720 donkeys.

Offerings for the Temple

68 When they arrived at the Temple of the Lord in Jerusalem, some of the family leaders gave freewill offerings toward the rebuilding of God's house on its original site.

69 They gave according to their ability: 61,000 gold coins, 5,000 silver minas, and 100 priestly garments for the treasury of the work.

Settling in Their Towns

70 So the priests, Levites, singers, gatekeepers, temple servants, and some of the people settled in their towns. All the rest of Israel settled in their ancestral towns.

Key Lessons from Ezra Chapter 2

1. God Remembers Every Name

Though this chapter may seem like just a long list, it reminds us that God values individuals, families, and their faithfulness. Every person who returned played a part in His redemptive plan.

2. Spiritual Heritage Matters

Those unable to prove their lineage were excluded from certain roles. This emphasizes the importance of spiritual identity and record.

3. Willing Hearts Fuel God's Work

Many gave freely and sacrificially toward rebuilding the Temple. Revival depends not only on calling but also on generosity.

4. God Restores in Detail

The return from exile wasn't vague or general. God restored whole families, towns, and priestly roles with intentional order.

5. Unity is Found in Obedience

Despite their many tribes and roles, the people united in obedience to God's call—returning together, rebuilding together, and worshipping together.

Ezra Chapter 3 — Crawford Standard Bible

The Altar Rebuilt and Worship Restored

1 When the seventh month arrived and the Israelites were settled in their towns, the people came together as one in Jerusalem.

2 Then Jeshua son of Jozadak and his fellow priests, along with Zerubbabel son of Shealtiel and his associates, rose up and built the altar of the God of Israel to offer burnt offerings on it—just as it is written in the law of Moses, the man of God.

3 Even though they were afraid of the people around them, they set the altar on its foundation and offered burnt offerings on it to the Lord—both morning and evening sacrifices.

4 They also celebrated the Festival of Tabernacles, as prescribed, and offered the daily burnt offerings in the proper numbers, according to the requirement for each day.

5 After that, they continued with the regular burnt offerings, the offerings at the new moons and all the appointed sacred festivals of the Lord, as well as all the freewill offerings that people brought to the Lord.

6 From the first day of the seventh month they began to offer burnt offerings to the Lord, even though the foundation of the Lord's temple had not yet been laid.

Preparations for Rebuilding the Temple

7 They gave money to the stonecutters and carpenters, and food, drink, and oil to the people of Sidon and Tyre so they would bring cedar logs by sea from Lebanon to the port of Joppa, just as King Cyrus of Persia had authorized.

Laying the Temple's Foundation

8 In the second year after they arrived at the house of God in Jerusalem, in the second month, Zerubbabel son of Shealtiel, Jeshua son of Jozadak, and the rest of their brothers—the priests, Levites, and all who had returned from captivity to Jerusalem—began the work. They appointed Levites twenty years old and older to supervise the building of the Lord's house.

9 Jeshua and his sons and relatives, along with Kadmiel and his sons (descendants of Judah), worked together to supervise those working on the house of God. The sons of Henadad, along with their sons and relatives (all Levites), also joined in the supervision.

Worship and Weeping at the Temple's Foundation

10 When the builders completed the foundation of the Lord's temple, the priests—dressed in their ceremonial robes and holding trumpets—and the Levites (descendants of Asaph) with cymbals, took their places to praise the Lord, following the pattern established by King David of Israel.

11 With antiphonal singing they gave praise and thanks to the Lord:

“He is good;

His faithful love for Israel endures forever.”

Then all the people shouted with a mighty shout, praising the Lord because the foundation of the temple had been laid.

12 But many of the older priests, Levites, and family leaders—those who had seen the former temple—cried out loud when they saw the foundation of this new house being laid. Others shouted with joy.

13 The people couldn't distinguish the sound of the joyful shouts from the sound of the weeping, because the noise was so loud that it was heard far away.

Key Lessons from Ezra Chapter 3

1. Unity Leads to Renewal

The people came together “as one” to rebuild worship. True revival begins when God's people unite in purpose and faith.

2. Worship Comes Before Walls

Even though the temple wasn't yet rebuilt, they didn't wait to restore their relationship with God. They built the altar first and began offering sacrifices in obedience.

3. Courage Despite Fear

The altar was set up in the face of surrounding threats. Faith presses forward even when danger looms.

4. Foundation-Laying Requires Celebration and Tears

For some, the new beginning was cause for joyful praise. For others, it stirred memories and grief. Both emotions were part of God's sacred work.

5. God's Mercy Endures Forever

The people praised God not for what was fully built, but because His mercy never ends. Gratitude shouldn't wait for completion—it rises at the first sign of progress.

Ezra Chapter 4 — Crawford Standard Bible

Opposition to the Rebuilding Begins

1 When the enemies of Judah and Benjamin heard that the returned exiles were rebuilding the temple of the Lord, the God of Israel,

2 they came to Zerubbabel and the family leaders and said, "Let us build with you, for we seek your God just as you do. We've been sacrificing to Him since the time of Esarhaddon king of Assyria, who brought us here."

3 But Zerubbabel, Jeshua, and the rest of the family leaders of Israel replied, "You have no part with us in building a temple to our God. We alone will rebuild it for the Lord, the God of Israel, as King Cyrus of Persia has commanded us."

Ongoing Harassment and Political Sabotage

4 Then the local people began discouraging the people of Judah and tried to intimidate them to stop the work.

5 They bribed officials to work against them and frustrate their plans. This went on throughout the reign of Cyrus king of Persia until the reign of Darius king of Persia.

6 During the reign of Xerxes (Ahasuerus), early in his reign, an accusation was written against the people of Judah and Jerusalem.

7 And in the days of Artaxerxes, Bishlam, Mithredath, Tabeel, and the rest of their associates wrote to him. The letter was written in the Aramaic script and translated into Aramaic.

The Accusation Against Jerusalem

8 Rehum the chief officer and Shimshai the court secretary wrote a letter against Jerusalem to King Artaxerxes.

9 It was sent by Rehum, Shimshai, and their colleagues—the judges, officials, administrators, and people of various nations whom the great and noble Ashurbanipal had deported and settled in the cities of Samaria and elsewhere across the province west of the Euphrates River.

10 (They were from nations brought to the region by Ashurbanipal, who had settled them in Samaria and other cities.)

11 This is the copy of the letter they sent:

“To King Artaxerxes, from your servants in the region west of the Euphrates River.

12 Let it be known to the king that the Jews who came up from you to us have arrived in Jerusalem and are rebuilding that rebellious and wicked city. They are restoring its walls and have already laid the foundations.

13 Be advised that if this city is rebuilt and its walls are completed, they will no longer pay taxes, tribute, or customs duties, and the royal revenue will suffer.

14 Since we are supported by the king’s palace and do not wish to see dishonor come to the king, we feel it our duty to report this.

15 If you search the historical records, you will find that this city has been a source of rebellion and trouble to kings and provinces. That is why it was destroyed in the first place.

16 We declare to the king that if this city is rebuilt and its walls restored, you will lose control of the territory west of the Euphrates.”

The King’s Response: Work Ordered to Stop

17 Then the king sent this reply:

“To Rehum the chief officer, Shimshai the scribe, and your colleagues living in Samaria and elsewhere west of the Euphrates: Greetings.

18 The letter you sent has been read to me word for word.

19 I ordered a search, and it was indeed discovered that this city has a long history of rebellion against kings and has been a center of uprisings and revolt.

20 Powerful kings once ruled over Jerusalem and controlled the entire region west of the Euphrates, and taxes, tribute, and duties were paid to them.

21 Therefore, issue an order that these men stop their work. The city is not to be rebuilt until I give further instruction.

22 Be diligent in carrying out this order so that there is no damage to the interests of the kings.”

The Work Ceases

23 As soon as the copy of King Artaxerxes’ letter was read to Rehum, Shimshai the scribe, and their associates, they hurried to Jerusalem and forced the Jews to stop by power and might.

24 So the work on the temple of God in Jerusalem came to a halt and remained stopped until the second year of the reign of Darius king of Persia.

Key Lessons from Ezra Chapter 4

1. Not All Who Offer Help Are Friends

The enemies of God's people claimed to worship the same God, but their motives were to hinder the work, not support it. Discernment is essential in partnership.

2. Opposition Often Comes During Progress

As soon as the people began rebuilding, resistance arose. Revival and restoration often attract attack.

3. Intimidation, Accusation, and Delay Are Tools of the Enemy
